SENATORS 'UNTRUTHFUL,' SAYS FDR

Do U. S. Senators have the right to name federal judges or is that the duty of the President of the United States? Senators Glass and Byrd of Virginia, above, declaring that Floyd Roberts, 111, was "personally offensive" to them persuaded the Senate to reject President Roosevelt's nomination. The President declared that qualifications of Roberts, which the Senators admitted were not questioned in rejecting him, should have been the only issue. The president said that Byrd and Glass were ignoring the Constitution which, Roosevelt said, gives the President the right to name U. S. judges, and does not give U. S. Senators the right to reject such nominations except on grounds of qualifications.

Witnesses For Negro Called In Murder Trial

Defense witnesses were still being called this morning in 31st district court, as the trial of State of Texas vs. Irvin Maxey, Pampa negro charged with murder, went into its third day. The State rested at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after which defense witnesses were called until court adjourned at 5:30 o'clock. The trial was resumed at 9 o'clock this morning. Three witnesses for the defense had testified up to noon today: Esther Harris, John L. Gibson, and Rosalie McGee. Esther Harris testified to having heard threats of the deceased Odessa Lintzy against Mary Will Johnson, John L. Gibson testified that after Odessa had been stabbed and had fallen he had gone to pick her up off the floor, but had been stopped by a cousin of the girl. He said he saw a pearl handled knife on the floor beside Odessa that did not belong to the defendant. Rosalie McGee's testimony was to the effect that shortly before the stabbing occurred Odessa Lintzy had made several passes with a knife toward the defendant but had been pulled back. The case is the second murder trial to be heard in this term of court. In this case, Irvin (Junior) Maxey, young Pampa negro, is under a grand jury indictment of January 5 for murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of Odessa Lintzy, negro, at a negro dance held at the Southern Club, at midnight December 11, Willis & Via represent the defendant, while District Attorney Clifford Braly and Aaron Sturgeon are attorneys for the State.

Gene Worley Loses Gavel From 'Last' Plains Tree

AUSTIN, Feb. 8 (AP)—The governor's new gavel has disappeared. Will the finder please return it to Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock and receive suitable reward "with no questions asked?" Worley told the House the gavel had been sent him by a constituent who made it "from the last remaining tree in the Panhandle." He was instructed to present it to Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel. But before he could carry out instructions, the gavel vanished from his desk, Worley said. "I would like it returned and offer a suitable reward with no questions asked," he said.

FFA Calves To Be Shown Here Feb. 25

Showing of calves raised by Future Farmers of America of Pampa high school will be February 25, it was announced by J. L. Lester, sponsor of the club. Following the show, an auction will be held. The showing will be at the Panhandle Lumber Company yard on West Foster Avenue. Competent judges will make decisions and prizes will be given by the Pampa Board of City Development. A committee composed of Mack Grabam, Roger McConnell, Mel B. Davis, and T. F. Smalling has been named by President Farris Oden to secure prizes. All of the 18 Hereford calves to be shown will be under one year old. They were carefully selected for type and feeding ability when the club was organized last March and have been on full feed ever since. The owners expect them to bring premiums at the sale. Boys will also show 27 pigs and several chickens. Members of the F. F. A. organization will present a radio program over Station KPDM between 2:45 and 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. On February 18 teams from 11 schools will come to Pampa for the annual judging contest. F. F. A. boys who will show calves will be: Ralph Burnett 1; Blaine Goad 2; Robert Hogan 2; Leonard Hollis 1; Claude Helton 1; H. J. Johnson 1; Cecil Lewis 1; Fred Sloan 1; Billy Stockstill 2. Showing boys will be Paul Barrett, Jack Morris, Herndon Sloan, Ralph Burnett, M. D. Simmons, 2 each; Billy Stockstill, Floyd Johnson, Jack Stevens 3 each; Ed Riley, Kenneth Mullins, Blaine Goad, Jim Rogers, Junior Chesler, Jerry Stroupe, Jack Stroupe, Ed Counts, Clarence Mathews, Robert Howell, Carl Sexton, Oscar Stanford, E. C. King, one each; Bertie Vaughn, one sow, nine pigs, 2 barrows.

Pampans Invited To Hear Bishop Here Thursday

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, presiding bishop of the North Texas, Central Texas, Northwest Texas, and New Mexico Methodist conferences will make his first visit in Pampa Thursday. Bishop Holt will preach a sermon at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the First Methodist church. The public is invited. The services Thursday will be the same as for Sunday, with music by the choir, directed by Lester Aldrich. Bishop Holt was a member of the first faculty of Southern Methodist University, Dallas, as professor of Old Testament literature and chaplain. For the past 20 years he has been pastor of St. John's Methodist church, St. Louis. Tonight in Shamrock, Bishop Holt will speak in an open meeting as the climax of a four-day seminar, attended by 45 Methodist pastors, including Rev. W. M. Pearce and Rev. H. H. Bratcher, both of Pampa; Rev. Russell Pike of LeFors; Rev. W. B. Swain of McLean, and Rev. Dwight McCree, Canadian.

Fire Destroys House On Lease Near City

Fire completely destroyed a four room frame house on the Smith Brothers Refining company W. M. Castleberry lease a mile north of the Talley addition early last night. Firemen answered a call but were unable to save the building because of inability to reach water. The cause was occupied by Charles Dyer but no one was at home when the fire broke out. Fire Chief Ben White said he was unable to determine cause of the fire. The fire had gained much headway before being discovered and when firemen arrived, water from the truck booster tank failed to check the blaze and suction hose available was not sufficient to reach the water tank. Firemen answered a false alarm call to 1208 North Barnes street yesterday afternoon.

Andrews County Sheriff Held In Youth's Slaying

ANDREWS, Feb. 8 (AP)—Sheriff Dillard of Andrews county, arrested yesterday on a complaint charging him with the slaying of Norman Kenney, 20, who died of a pistol bullet wound Sunday night. Texas Ranger Manny Gauld signed the complaint against Sheriff Dillard.

Upward of 100 ringside seats were still available this morning by purchasing seats for three nights the price is $2.50. Otherwise ringside seats are 40c per night for adults and 25c for children under 12 years. The Pampa Athletic arena doors will be thrown open at 7:15 o'clock and ringside tickets will be available then. On Friday night eight champions will be crowned. On next Wednesday the eight will leave for Fort Worth to participate in the state tournament, all expenses paid. Boys will be given until 5 o'clock to weigh in. Then pairings will be made for tonight's card. That is why the bouts for tonight cannot be announced in advance. Tomorrow, however, bouts scheduled for tomorrow night will be released. Fans can attend the tournament in perfect comfort tonight as fires at the arena have been burning all day and the place will be warm for the opening bouts.

Cruiser May Halt Seizure Of Balearics

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)—A British cruiser arrived today at Minorca, disputed island in the Spanish Balearics, while the London cabinet considered measures to prevent Italy and Germany from obtaining control of the island. At the same time officials acknowledged Britain had asked Spanish insurgent Generalissimo Franco to agree to a truce in the thirty-months old civil war. But they did not disclose whether Franco had replied or, if he had, what his answer was. It was officially announced the 9,750-ton cruiser Devonshire had dropped anchor in Port Mahon, strategic and well fortified harbor of Minorca, only island of the Balearics which the Spanish government has held since early in the war. Neither the admiralty nor the foreign office would discuss the Devonshire's mission at Minorca. However, there have been reports Britain was willing to cooperate with Franco in measures to occupy the island provided it was taken over exclusively by Spanish soldiers. The Devonshire's move aroused speculation here as to whether she might not have gone to Minorca to make sure any insurgent attempt to seize the island was not sponsored by Germany or Italy. Britain and France have been worried for some time over Italy's foothold on Mallorca, largest of the Balearic group, which has thwarted France's communications with her African possessions. (It has been known Italian planes aiding the insurgents were based on Mallorca, which, together with Ibiza, third principal island of the group, was seized by the insurgents early in the war.)

Chaplin Will Begin Filming 'Dictators' About March 15

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 8 (AP)—Charles Chaplin's first political satire, in which a tramp gets mistaken for a dictator, will be ready for filming March 15, he hopes. At least that is the starting date announced by Murray Silverstein, head of United Artists Studio, for the long-delayed comedy, "The Dictators." Chaplin, whose screen mustache has often been compared to Adolf Hitler's real-life adornment, intends to play a dual role in the story which he has been writing nearly a year. His brother, Sydney Chaplin, Pauline Goddard, Fanny Brice, and Henry Daniell have been mentioned as possible supporting players.

Old Maid May Steal Show In Junior Play Here Tomorrow Night

Carolyn Sue Surratt, who plays the role of a sentimental, 50-year-old spinster who is engaged to a 16-year-old boy, is expected to "steal the show" in the junior play which will be presented tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Even other members of the cast, disparaging their own performances, almost continuously brag about how good Carolyn Sue is. Aubrey C. Green Jr., otherwise known as "Junior," "Fuzzy," and "Poopy," plays the role of Mr. Jones—the title of the play is "What Happened to Jones." As Mr. Jones, Fuzzy first enters the action of the play as a prize-fighting fighter from the prize. Then he steals the bishop's clothes and poses as a churchman. He flits constantly and each fib gets him into hotter water. Mr. Jones is enamored with Cissy (Bonnie Lee Rose), a friend of the spinster. She's on to his game, but she doesn't care. Scenes which are calculated to evoke a sizeable bit of laughter deal with the initial and subsequent meetings of Miss Alvina Starlight (Carolyn Sue) and Jones who for the time acts as if he will marry her. Jones sicks the cops on the real bishop (Hugh Anderson), who has come to the U. S. to wed Alvina—after writing her 542 letters, all numbered. Proceeds of the play will be used.

JERRY USED TO LOOK LIKE THIS

Jerry Smith, above, member of the cast of "What Happened to Jones?" Junior play to be presented at the high school auditorium tomorrow and Friday nights, has not had her picture made since she was in ward school, and the above photograph was the only one available when the Evening Reporter began snooping around for one. My, my how Jerry has changed since then! Being a junior in high school she is quite a grown-up young lady—and pretty, too. When Jerry looked as she did above she used to win declamation contests. She was also a member of last year's one-act play cast.

FDR Denies Right Of Senators To Select United States Judge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Senator Glass, Democrat, Va., drafted a sharp reply today to a presidential letter criticizing Senate rejection of Floyd H. Roberts for a federal judgeship in Virginia. Friends said Glass was incensed over the letter, which Mr. Roosevelt wrote Roberts yesterday. It termed statements of Glass untruthful and declared the constitution does not give veto power to one or two senators. Acting on objections by the two Virginia Senators, the Senate voted 72 to 9 Monday to reject Roberts' nomination. Glass and Byrd, continuing their recommendations for his appointment had been ignored, argued Roberts' nomination was "personally offensive" to them. In his letter to Roberts, Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that no question had been raised of the judgeship's validity.

Late News

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Cross-examination of J. Richard "Dive" Davis, former gang lawyer, was blak-d time and again today by state objections in James J. Hines' retrial on battery conspiracy charges. Hines' defense counsel to retreat from the line of questioning adopted at the Tammany district led to first trial last summer. Davis, attorney for the Dutch Schultz Harlan policy racket in his $20,000,000-a-year heyday, swore yesterday he forces Hines' thousands of dollars for protecting the mob. WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The House overwhelmingly defeated a Republican attempt today to cripple the National Labor Relations Board by eliminating its $2,069,000 appropriation for the next fiscal year. The standing vote, announced as 186 to 5, came after House Majority Leader R. Lyman had taken the floor and applied to the membership not to "assassinate" the board in such a manner. LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8 (AP)—Another postponement delayed today the 1939 debut of Seabiscuit, leading thoroughbred of 1938. Charles S. Howard, owner of the handicap champion, announced the action was due to overnight rains that made the Santa Anita park track sloppy. Webb Everitt, racing secretary, immediately scrubbed out the race, which attracted only two other starters. THOMASTON, Me., Feb. 8 (AP)—Mackey radio reported today it had intercepted an S. O. S. from the freighter Maria de Larranga, declaring she was "sinking" 1,200 miles east of New York.

Col. Thompson Will Be Freight Witness

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Representative Garrett (D. Texas) said Texas would be permitted to furnish a witness at a freight rate equalization hearing scheduled to begin February 28 before the House interstate and foreign commerce committee. He made the announcement after a conference with Chairman Lea (D. Calif.), who said probably only two witnesses would be permitted to testify. Each side in the freight rate differential controversy would be allowed four. Members of the Texas congressional delegation generally have favored Col. Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, might represent the State, Garrett added. He sent a telegram to D. A. Barden of Abilene, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, informing him the State would be allowed to supply one witness, and suggesting Thompson be contacted to see if he could testify. Garrett and other Texans have been leaders in a West-South bloc of congressmen headed by Representative Ramspeck (D. Ga.) fighting to remove freight rate differentials, which they claim are discriminatory against their sections of the country.

Yukon's Cold Wave Rushes Toward Texas

(By The Associated Press) A cold wave, hustling southward from the Yukon territory, was expected to strike North Texas tonight, with an accompanying slump in temperatures as far south as the upper coastal region near Galveston. The mercury was expected to dip to 6 above zero in the Panhandle and extreme North Texas. The Dallas territory forecast was for "20 to 12," but the weatherman said he expected a temperature well below 20. There was a slight possibility, he said, the wave may be pushed eastward of northward, bringing the higher figure. The freezing weather would extend to the upper coast, he said. Light snow was in prospect for the Amarillo area, where the temperature dropped to 13 this morning. Borger reported a minimum of 14. At Wichita Falls the mercury plummeted 52 degrees overnight to a low of 22.

Court Holds Strip Cannot Be Filed On

AUSTIN, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Supreme Court today rejected suit of Gus S. Wortham to have a huge block of land now a part of the Texas Panhandle and formerly in Oklahoma declared public grazing land. His application for a writ of mandamus against J. H. Walker, formerly general land commissioner of Texas, was refused. It takes to approximately 28,000 acres in Lipscomb, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Hemphill and Childress counties were involved. The area at one time lay in Oklahoma, but under a decision of the United States Supreme Court several years ago, relocating the 700th meridian which forms the boundary at that point between Texas and Oklahoma it was thrown into Texas. Before the re-location John L. Wortham, father of Gus S. Wortham, filed in Texas on the land, and the son, after the relocation, pressed the claim. If Wortham's claim had been sustained, he could have had prior right to the lands. The opinion was by Sidney Samuels of Fort Worth, who served as special chief justice of the Supreme Court. The suit also was directed against J. E. Anderson, Charles Williams, and E. C. Gray, who had claimed the lands through grants from the United States government. The opinion was about 12,000 words. Samuels said the court was without power to convert a writ of mandamus into "an adjudication of a doubtful claim." He termed the suit an effort to "compel an officer of the state to grant with a vast quantity of public domain and to classify it so as to make its price sacrificial and inimical to the public welfare." The plaintiff should have made an "unambiguous showing," the opinion said. The litigation was initiated in 1930.

Roosevelts Will Dine With Garners

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—President and Mrs. Roosevelt attended their only official dinner outside the White House this season last night as guests of Vice President and Mrs. John N. Garner. Radio performers and a magician were on hand to entertain the 50 guests at the annual dinner. Guests included leaders of Congressional and army and navy circles as well as several persons from out-of-town. Texas present included Mr. and Mrs. Jess J. Jones of Houston; E. B. Germany of Dallas, chairman of the Texas Democratic executive committee, and Mrs. Germany; Mrs. Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, and Genevieve Garner, young granddaughter of the vice-president from Amarillo who is attending school in Virginia.

Nye Prepares Gill To Keep Arms Secrets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Senator Nye (R-ND) disclosed today he was preparing legislation to keep for the United States alone military secrets involved in producing and equipping war plans by private manufacturers.

Nye said his bill would follow general outlines of a regulation issued last August by Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, and Admiral William D. Leahy, imposing secrecy on the production of any aircraft in which the army or navy had an interest.

That regulation forbade demonstration of planes to foreign representatives before the army had put them into use and had released them for general sale. It was obtained in the recent case of a French mission, through an order some Senators have asserted was sponsored by President Roosevelt.

Nye's proposal followed disclosure by Mr. Roosevelt that this country is permitting sale of outmoded anti-aircraft gun directors to Great Britain, but has declined to allow a new improvement perfected by the army to be included.

The President took occasion at his press conference yesterday to deny that military secrets were involved in these sales, explaining that the basic patents had been developed by a British firm and had been used by an American firm to make the directors.

Saved $250,000
Mr. Roosevelt said the United States army had effected a $250,000 saving in the recent purchase of 93 directors from the Sperry Gyroscope concern. This was possible, he said, because the foreign orders had enabled the Sperry company to increase its production from one month to one day. The question of including the army's secret improvement on export models was decidedly negatively January 7, he said.

The President made it plain that he was discussing anti-aircraft gun directors and not detectors by which the approach of planes is made known. He said if his government had such a detector, it was a secret and was going to remain so.

Mr. Roosevelt sharply criticized what he called the known source (presumably on Capitol Hill) of recent published reports that the administration was letting military secrets be divulged to other countries.

It is a real deal for the press and the public, he declared, when someone gives a reporter misinformation. He made this statement in calling a fake one report that up-to-date anti-aircraft gunfire directors were being sold to Britain. He blamed the source of the information and said there was no question of the patriotism of the reporter who wrote the story.

Coogan Flies To Bedside Of Betty Grable

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 8 (AP)—The story of the life, love and troubles of Jackie Coogan, moved closer today to the traditional Hollywood "happy ending."

Separated by finances and the long miles between here and Texas, "the kid" of the silent screen and his beautiful, blond actress wife, Betty Grable, planned a reunion in a hospital in nearby Glendale where last night she underwent a successful operation for appendicitis.

Coogan was flying to her bedside and Betty, who wouldn't submit to the surgery unless he said the word, was waiting for him happily.

Thus, with his much-invoiced financial affairs near a settlement, the youth who made a fortune as a juvenile delinquent to charge that it had been taken from him, was on the verge of straightening out his marital affairs, too.

A little over five weeks ago, word leaked out that Betty had moved out of their Beverly Hills home with her mother. It wasn't long until the furnishings were up for auction. Both said the separation was only temporary, but Hollywood gossipers freely predicted divorce.

They had parted three weeks when Betty went dancing with a young man, and announced "I'd go back to him in a minute—if he'd ask me." Jackie left a few days later for a personal appearance tour of Texas, seeking to bolster his bank account. Ten days ago, his announcement in El Paso that everything was all right again between him and the shapely Grable brought from her confirmation that "everything's hunky-dory" and "we're going to find another love nest."

Their reunion was scheduled for the completion of his tour. But her operation hastened matters. Her physician, Dr. H. C. Westphal, said Betty was "doing very nicely" and indications were Jackie would be able to fly back to continue his tour in Wichita Falls, Texas, tomorrow. Betty was stricken while at work in Jack Benny's "Man About Town."

While he's here, Jackie may learn from his attorneys the progress of efforts to settle his suit against his mother and stepfather, the Arthur L. Bernsteins, for an accounting of his film earnings, which he estimated at $4,000,000. A week's postponement of the trial was granted last Monday as counsel indicated an approaching out-of-court agreement.

DALLAS, Feb. 8 (AP)—Thanks to Captain P. E. Davis, a New York airplane pilot, Jackie Coogan didn't have to wait five hours on a plane to Glendale, Calif., to be at the bedside of his actress wife, Betty Grable, who underwent an appendicitis operation.

Coogan last night received word that his wife had undergone the operation. He was at Brewster, on a personal appearance tour which has kept him in Texas for several weeks.

Coogan, "the kid" of the silent screen, raced by automobile to Dallas, arriving about an hour before an Eastern airliner was due to leave early today.

At the landing field Coogan attempted to secure passage on the plane but officials told him it had a capacity load of 14 persons and could take on no more. Coogan turned to the passengers, trying to get one of them to let him take his place.

Finally, when he was about to give up he came across Capt. Davis. The latter agreed to relinquish his seater and sub Coogan for him, and announced to Port Worth to catch an 8:55 a. m. plane. The New York pilot is on his way to Los Angeles to bring an airliner back with him.

Coogan paid his fare with pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and dollar bills—his pay for appearances at Brownwood. He hadn't had time to put the change into bills.

The 1938 fall pig crop in the United States was estimated to be 18 per cent larger than 1937.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Steel and motor shares displayed some climbing activity in a sluggish stock market today. While the market barely managed to get ahead, gains in Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler and U. S. Steel amounted to a point or more as the cautious buying continued in late trading. Air-crafts also got in on the rise for better prices than the market.

Standing out in the advance were Safeway Stores, Douglas Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Commonwealth & Southern Preferred, Corro De Paaco, Chesapeake & Ohio and American Woolen preferred.

Wiles Overland common and preferred turned unusually active as the motor shares came into the limelight, the common rising fractionally.

In the curb, Air-crafts led the way up, with Lockheed and Grumman a point or more higher at one time.

Utilities and rails continued to attract demand in the bond market. Commodities held a narrow course.

City Grants PWA Payment Of $43,449

Pampa's city commission spent $43,449.48 in two hours Tuesday afternoon—but it was only the regular January payment on two contracts for Pampa's PWA waterworks project, of which 45 per cent of the total cost is from federal funds.

The commission voted approval of payment of 2 of contract 3 to the Sherman Machine & Iron Works of Oklahoma City of $31,814.73 and also approved partial payment 3 on contract 1 to D. L. McDonald of Amarillo. Period covered by the payments is from January 1 to January 31.

Work of the Oklahoma City firm has been in connection with the laying of water lines, and with other work specified in their contract, of which they have completed 22.3 per cent to date.

D. L. McDonald is 85.2 per cent complete on his contract for the drilling of two water wells and construction of well houses. Well 1 has been drilled but not yet developed, while a test is to be run on well 2 today. Both wells are located within the 17 1/2-acre tract on West Brown street, in the southwestern part of the city.

With the exception of approval of these two payments, no other orders were passed by the commission at its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Mayor E. S. Carr and City Attorney Walter Rogers were not present at the meeting, both being out of town. Mayor Carr to Sherman and Attorney Rogers to Fort Worth.

Present at the meeting were Commissioners Lynn Boyd and D. W. Osborne, City Manager W. T. Williamson, and W. M. Craven, city secretary.

Barn And Truck Destroyed By Fire

WHITE DEER, Feb. 8.—Fire, early Tuesday morning, destroyed a barn and a truck belonging to J. H. Skaggs, local grocer.

Mr. Skaggs had been burning grass and trash about the place in the afternoon, and it is believed that the fire caught from some unextinguished sparks in the trash.

The barn was valued at $500 and the truck at $450. Both were insured. The only other loss was about two tons of headed feed belonging to J. W. Everly, which was stored in the barn. Mr. Skaggs' automobile, which was kept with the truck in the barn, was saved.

The fire was discovered about 4:30 o'clock by Jim Powers, who was hauling water for an oil well being drilled east of town. The fire truck arrived in a few minutes, but the flames were already beyond control.

You Can't Take Freedom For Granted

This year's observance of Brotherhood Week, the annual programs sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, comes at a specially fortunate time.

First, the week Feb. 19-26, falls within the period when the present Constitution was being ratified by the states 150 years ago. And almost at this exact time, Massachusetts was ratifying with the distinct reservation that the new Constitution must contain a "Bill of Rights." This was later embodied in the first 10 amendments to the Constitution, and is the national charter of religious liberty.

It is entirely clear that the Constitution could not have been adopted without the promise of such guarantees by later amendments. Hence the first 10 amendments are properly regarded as an integral part of the Constitution itself, though adopted a couple of years later after being submitted to the states by the First Congress.

So 150 years after this Constitution Protestant, Catholic and Jewish leaders throughout the country are urging "a new study of the Bill of Rights and its implications for a free America." That is timely and proper.

It was the first clause of the first of those precious ten amendments that read "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

What that meant was that Congress shall not establish a state church, with special privileges and relations to the government, as in England with which the American colonists had been most familiar. And the second phrase means just what it says, that Congress shall pass no law prohibiting people from worshipping God as seems to them good.

For years those simple things have been taken for granted. We have said, "Of course, those were progressive steps when they were taken, 150 years ago, but they are elemental now."

So they were, until recently. Now even those elemental principles have been challenged. It is good to see Protestants, Catholics and Jews rising together to defend them. Such co-operative action brings about a mutual understanding, which lies even deeper than Constitutional guarantees. And it is grounded on the solid foundation that loss of freedom for any is the end of freedom for all.

TVA—AND RECOVERY

(New York Times)

Without ruling directly on the constitutionality of the TVA law, the Supreme Court has held that the fourteen private companies which challenged the Government's power program had "no right to be free of competition" and no "standing to maintain the suit."

So much for the legal aspects of the question. But once more it is necessary to guard ourselves against confusing the mere legality of a law or policy with its wisdom. The policies of the TVA could be constitutional beyond the possibility of dispute, and still be not merely unfair but gravely damaging to the economic welfare of the country. The Supreme Court decision does not mean, therefore, that the question of TVA policy should be allowed to rest where it is. It is of the first importance that it be re-examined.

Our major economic problems have still not been solved. On the contrary, the greatest problem of all, our 10,000,000 unemployed, remains precisely where it was five years ago. The causes contributing to this unemployment are numerous, but we need have no doubt regarding some of the more important. We know that proportionately much the heaviest unemployment since the present Administration took office has been in the capital-goods industry. We know that one of the greatest potential contributors to the capital-goods industry is the utilities industry. We know that TVA has not only undermined the private utilities in its neighborhood by subsidized competition but that the Administration has refused to give any definite assurances against the extension of this practice to other territory. We know that the inevitable effect of this policy has been to prevent the utilities from making long-term plans on any but the most restricted scale. We know that private investors would consider it foolhardy to risk their money for new construction under such circumstances. We know that their refusal to do so has paralyzed private utility expansion and helped to perpetuate our huge unemployment.

This chain of causation is economic, not legal. The courts do not pass upon the wisdom of governmental policies. The Federal District Court in Chattanooga in its decision a year ago put the matter bluntly when it declared, "If the operation of the TVA is legal, the complainants have no legal rights not to be subjected to such competition even if it curtail or destroy their business." It may not be the concern of the courts if such competition destroys business, but it is certainly the concern of the Administration, of Congress, of business men everywhere, and of the 10,000,000 men and women who still cannot find work. It is particularly their concern if the business of the private utilities is being destroyed in some sections and threatened in the rest, not because this Government competition is more efficient, but because, by the absence of candid bookkeeping or an honest yardstick, the Government is selling power below cost—in other words, because it is selling part of the public an essential service at less than its actual cost and letting the rest of the public foot the bill. Unless private industry is protected from this sort of competition, the stagnation in the capital-goods industries, and the great pool of unemployment caused by it, must continue.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ---

By R. C. Hoiles

A WISE WAGE SYSTEM For the next character building contest, I will give $100, divided in ten prizes to two groups for the best article of 500 words on "What is a wise method of arriving at a wise or fair wage," or "By what method should the amount of wages each worker should receive be arrived at?" so that the people as a whole, over a long period of time will reap the greatest reward both materially and spiritually.

There was some very splendid essays presented on the question of a reasonable profit. The judges are working on these and the reports will be announced and checks mailed to the winners in a few days.

The prizes for the next contest will be awarded as follows: There will be two distinct competitive groups—those 25 years of age or under and those 26 years of age, or over. This, in reality, gives the younger group a much better chance of winning the prizes than the older group for the reason that there are many less people 25 years of age or less, and yet old enough to understand the principles, than there are 26 years of age or over. But inasmuch as I am intensely interested in having younger people interested, I have decided on the division as above stated. In the last contest some of the presentations for the younger group were not very good.

The prizes will be awarded on the same basis as the last contest, namely, $20 for the first prize in each group; $10 for the second; $8 for the third; $7 for the fourth and $5 for the fifth. The contest will close on Friday, February 24. All answers should be in the office of the newspaper running this column before that date.

Do not forget to state when submitting an article in which group you are entering.

ESTIMATING OUR OWN VALUE

So many of us in attempting to estimate what we should receive for the work we do, invariably think of the accomplishments we have performed the good decisions we have made which had created quite a lot of wealth. When we think of this, we are inclined to believe that we are not properly rewarded.

Where most of us make the mistake, however, is that we forget to subtract or deduct from this production the many errors in decisions, the many mistakes that we have made that has greatly reduced what would have been, produced if decisions were made by others that were more productive than ours would have been.

Therefore, when one is figuring as to what his compensation should be, it is always well to remember that these errors that have retarded production must be deducted from the total production before an accurate estimate can be made of the true value of enterpriser or the worker.

HOOVER'S PEACE SPEECH

Hoover certainly pointed out some very timely causes of war and seemed to realize that economic pressures always have resulted in war.

It is strange, however, that a man who held the position Hoover held cannot see that the high tariff law passed under his administration over the protest of a thousand economists, was one of the things that helped bring on the dangers of war we are now facing.

It is all right for a man to criticize others, but his criticisms will be more effective if he confesses his own errors. We do not hear Mr. Hoover making any confession of his errors, when he was in office, that were very germane to the subjects he is now discussing. Consistency thou art a jewel.

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Congressman Wright Patman of Texas is going ahead with his fight against the chain stores—in spite of everything.

"That 'in spite of everything' covers a lot of ground; for Congressman Patman woke up the other day to discover himself enrolled in the growing army of those who mistook the notorious Coster-Musica, of McKesson and Robbins, for a gentleman, a scholar and an honest man.

This looked like a body blow at his campaign to get through Congress a bill restricting the operations of chain stores. Mr. Patman has made speeches here and there about the country for pay; McKesson and Robbins had sponsored some of those speeches; the implication was that the anti-chain store bill, far from being a blow against "the interests" in behalf of the plain people, was a scheme to relieve big manufacturers from the necessity of making huge discounts to chain store buyers.

Mr. Patman discussed all of this in detail on the floor of the House the other day. He says the McKesson-backed speeches concerned a bill relating to price discriminations in wholesale and retail trade, passed long before his chain store bill was introduced. Anyways, he is still fighting for the chain store bill and he says he thinks it will be adopted at this session of Congress.

BILL WAS NO BUILD-UP Congressman Patman is a strapping chap with a beaming smile, a receding line of rather curly hair, and the general appearance of a silver-tongued statesman. He remarks rather sorrowfully that to accomplish anything in Congress you have to make enemies, and says that certain members are exceedingly jealous.

"You know," he says, "when I first came to Congress, in 1929, I introduced my veterans' bill"—the bill to pay 50 per cent of the soldiers' bonuses immediately—"and some of the older fellows in Congress came around to me and talked like this: 'They said: Now, son, you've got a good bill there—an awfully good bill. You nurse it along and play with it, but don't push it too hard or you might get it passed. If you don't get it passed, why can you stay in Congress 20 years on that one bill.'"

"That sort of thing happens, you know. A fellow will introduce a bill and won't really try to get it passed. It makes good stuff to talk about back home. Each campaign he can go back and talk about his bill, and tell how he must be returned to Congress so he can fight for it. That way he gets re-elected. 'But I got my veterans' bill through. I secured passage of a bill involving millions of men and billions of dollars. Then I got Andy Mellon out of the way, and—"

Your correspondent interrupted to say "Huh?" Mr. Patman pointed out that in December of 1931

WOULDN'T THIS BE MORE PRACTICAL?

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—It's half-calling time on:

Racetrack pictures in which the hero's horse wins because somebody or other rides around the track playing or singing the nag's favorite son, such as "Jeepers Creepers" in "Going Places."

Titles capitalizing on Mr. Deeds Goes to Town, such as "Mr. Boggs Buys a Barrel," etc. Latest is "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," which is excusable, however, as it's to be made by Capra, who did "Deeds" and maybe with Gary Cooper, who was Deeds.

The excessive bad manners of such as the Dead End Kids, Little Tough Guys, et al., which are supposed to indicate how tough and cute the smug-and-hit boys are. (The Dead Ends are toning themselves down in "Hell's Kitchen" which indicates the producers have heeded the parental protests.)

Those embarrassing scenes in which movie moppets pray out loud, palms joined, beside their invariably tiny trundle beds. (But maybe you like 'em, huh?)

Scenes in which hero and heroine argue about going, say, to the opera, with hero firmly declining in the fade-out, with the fade-in showing hero and heroine at the opera. (This was great stuff when Lubitsch, I believe, first used it.)

Scenes in which hero (or heroine) says, "But-darling-don't-you-understand?" (Especially aggravating when if person addressed were anything but a first-class dope he'd have understood all the time—and just as clearly as the audience which is five reels ahead of the plot.)

Humor which springs from the alleged affinity between canines and trees. (Oh, yes, this still crops up occasionally.)

Those postscripting eulogies in which an oratorical actor tells the audience just why Jesse James or Whoever will live forever in the hearts of his countrymen. (They liked it so well as a tag to "Kentucky" that they did it again in "Jesse James," which should be funny when they get on the same doublebill.)

"Historical" dramas in which fiction, less gripping than fact, but more easily formulated into boy-meets-girl grooves, runs wild with occasional dashes into what really happened. Jesse's granddaughter, Jo Francis James, was in the hospital last week—but I'm sure it wasn't directly a result of seeing "Jesse James.")

Scenes (in hospital pictures) wherein surgeons and assistants hover over operating tables and mutter in code about Temperature, Pulse, Anesthetics, etc., while their faces register alarm over the invisible patient. (And I don't mean they should make the patient's wound visible, either, which is the next step if they keep it up.)

Sudden storms to keep hero and heroine together in the mountain cabin, thus compromising them. Last time this one showed its white-whiskered face, in my recollection, was in "Road to Reno," but you can't tell when it'll bob up again.)

And what are your nominations? Buckwheat production in the United States dropped from an annual 1927-36 average of 8,569,999 bushels to 6,682,000 bushels in 1938.

he brought impeachment charges against Secretary Mellon in the House of Representatives. The charges were referred to the House Judiciary Committee, and Mr. Patman spent a week bringing in evidence to prove that Mr. Mellon had violated the law by continuing to own a business or businesses while serving as head of the Treasury Department. In January of 1932, he said, just when it was time

How's Your Health?

FOOD AS A TONIC

In a significant article on "Tonics and Sedatives in Neurologic Practice," Dr. Hubert S. Howe of New York makes some very pertinent observations.

"The most important of all tonics," he states, "is a well-balanced diet. Of all animals man has probably the poorest diet. The food he consumes depends almost entirely upon the caprices of his appetite. Barring accidents, longevity is principally a matter of nutrition."

A study of the average diet both in America and England reveals that calcium deficiency is one of the most common dietary defects. One of the best calcium-containing foods is milk. Contrary to the common impression, milk is no more fattening than most foods. The individual who is overweight may use skimmed milk or buttermilk.

Continuous hunger and fatigue may be felt by those whose fat intake is low compared to the amount of carbohydrates consumed. This type of unbalanced diet is found in many women trying to reduce their weight.

Weight reduction is attained by lowering the total caloric intake. The restricted diet, however, should be balanced so that it is composed approximately of 53 per cent of carbohydrates, 35 per cent of fat, and 12 per cent of protein.

The following is a sample balanced diet, that allows 1,400 to 1,500 calories:

Breakfast: Fruit or fruit juice, unsweetened. One or two eggs. 1 slice whole wheat or brown bread (no butter). Glass of milk. Coffee (no cream or sugar).

Luncheon: Clear broth, one or two crackers. Broiled fish or steak. Cooked leafy vegetable no butter. Turnips, carrots or a small potato.

Dinner: 1 small pat of butter. Raw fruit, or lettuce, or celery. Fruit cocktail (no sugar) or raw oysters or clams. 1 ordinary serving of lean meat. Cooked green vegetable, no butter. Potato or bread. 1 small pat of butter. Crackers and cheese or raw fruit. Milk.

Stork Awaiting Arrival Of Twin

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Old Doc Stork and hospital attendants played a waiting game today at the bedside of Mrs. Milo C. McDonnell, to whom a son was born Sunday and who expects his twin any time now.

James Charles McDonnell, four pounds, two ounces and healthy, was born at 3:26 a. m. Sunday. Attendees said it is still uncertain when his twin will arrive. Such spacing between the births of twins is not unprecedented, although the longest recorded here.

The attending physician was thankful for the delay. He said Mrs. McConnell suffers from a heart difficulty and the rest would benefit her.

Mr. Mellon's representatives at the hearing to present the secretary's side, Mr. Mellon resigned. Anyway, getting back to the chain store bill: Mr. Patman says that he knows of upwards of 100 members of the House who will vote for the bill. There will be more, he says, and the Senate will follow the House's lead. The bill is now before the Ways and Means Committee. Date for hearings on it has not yet been set.

Oklahoma Governor Thinks Publisher Should Quit Board

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Gov. Leon C. Phillips, returning briefly to the torrid topic of the Red River dam, said today he considered it a "snappy suggestion" that G. W. Archibald, Durant publisher, resign from the state planning and resources board.

Archibald, a staunch advocate of the $56,000,000 flood control project at Denison, Texas, was reported to be ready to quit because of Phillips' strong opposition to the undertaking. "I haven't asked for his resignation," Phillips said, "but I believe any appointive officer when he knows he is antagonistic to the new administration should tender it."

The governor said he had not concerned himself with the question of planning and resources board appointments "because I hope the legislature will abolish it and save the state $100,000."

The board, he declared, had not "done any good lately." But he spoke a good word for W. C. Austin, board member from Altus, who he said "tried to have us our right to protect the use of our own water" on the Red river.

The governor now has representatives in the valley checking into the possible damage to the state from inundation.

Huge Stocks Of Gasoline Cause Fears

By ALFRED WALL

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 8 (AP)—Reports of continued piling up of stocks of refined products, particularly gasoline, gave the oil industry its greatest concern at the end of the first week of February.

"Many an oil economist called for a holding down of runs to stills. 'Unless the flow of gasoline to storage is shut down sharply, said one market observer here, 'this business is going to find itself in the same position as last year. Big stocks at that time kept down wholesale and retail prices the whole year, causing losses to refiners and producers alike.'

"There's really nothing to be worried about if gasoline stocks can be held in hand. At the moment, though, there's nothing to crow about, either."

He noted estimates that a sound level of gasoline stocks on March 31 would be $1 to $2 million barrels. With the Jan. 28 figure set at 77,279,000 barrels it would not take long at the present rate of refinery operation, to store up top-heavy stocks, he said.

In other branches the picture was clouded but there were many reports of a more optimistic feeling. It might have been the psychological influence of the approach of spring and the advent of the period of heavy gasoline and tractor fuel consumption.

Marketing reports were that some pickup in general trade lines was helping industrial fuels, that a northern cold snap had livened up domestic heating oils and that natural gasoline was increasingly weak in the Mid-continent.

Minor fluctuations of crude prices in some areas were regarded as hopeful but there was no disposition to feel that a general increase in the price of crude could be expected before long.

For instance, the Phillips Petroleum Company's posted increase of eight cents for sweet and sour crude in the Texas Panhandle was regarded merely as an adjustment to bring prices in line with those of other companies in the area.

In Oklahoma the small but rich Ramsey pool of Payne county showed after a year of life it still has untapped productive areas. The eighteenth producer in the area was completed Monday.

News Writers In China Threatened

SHANGHAI, Feb. 8 (AP)—International Settlement police are investigating a letter threatening death to nine prominent foreign newspapermen who have been considered by Shanghai residents to be pro-Chinese.

Police admitted possibility of a hoax but because of the recent series of political assassinations they were making a careful check.

The letter was signed by the "Society of Honorable and Righteous True Chinese," which authorities charge is a terrorist corps, and informed Carroll Alcott, American radio announcer and feature writer for the Shanghai China press, that he and the following were marked for death.

J. B. Powell, publisher of the China Weekly Review; Randall Gould, editor of the Shanghai Evening Post and correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor; Agnes Smedley, Communist author now with the Fourth Chinese Army; M. C. Ford, news editor of the Shanghai Evening Post and correspondent for International News Service; Edgar Snow, author of "Red Star Over China"; H. G. Timperly, former correspondent of the Manchester Guardian and now in the United States; A. Vespene, author of a volume on Japanese activities in Manchuria; Joseph Sanders Bates, British publisher of two Chinese newspapers.

Junior Class Will Sponsor Box Supper

WHITE DEER, Feb. 8.—The junior class of the high school is sponsoring a box supper, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the grade school auditorium.

A one-act play, "The Show-up," will be presented preceding the auction of the boxes. Members of the cast are Sevelin Kotara, Juanita Colgrove, Virgil Moore, and Donald Crumpecker.

Juanita Colgrove and Doris Staats will be hostesses and Bill Hawkins, manager. No admission charge will be made.

Telegraph Pole Ends Police Chase

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8 (AP)—Like Lot's wife, William Fricke, 32, found it didn't pay to look back. Arrested on charges of leaving the scene of an accident, he bolted from the police station and was outrunning a patrolman until he turned to see how much of a lead he had. He crashed head-on into a telegraph pole—and that ended the chase.

More Than 15 Fights Scheduled For Tonight

Pairings To Be Named At Noon

Opening gong in the 1939 Pampa News Golden Gloves boxing tournament will sound at 8 o'clock tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena four blocks east and one south of the postoffice. Fifty or more clean-cut youngsters from over the Panhandle will square off in fistful battle and from that number only eight will survive after Friday night.

It will be the final test before the state tournament and there'll be no second chance. One defeat and a boy is out. The boys are rated tougher—far tougher—than last year's crop who gave fans some of the most thrilling battles in fistful history here—including professional.

More than 15 fights are in the making for tonight but participants cannot be announced until after the boys weigh in between 12 and 5 p. m. Only heavyweights will be missing from tonight's card, there only being three entered to date. Two of them will exchange blows tomorrow night, if all three weigh in, with the finals on Friday night.

Three More Entries
The crop of light heavyweights was hiked last night by the entry of two boys from West Texas State College at Canyon from where a heavyweight also entered the picture. The heavy was Dewey Vaughn, who was margined in the Amarillo tourney Monday night. Steve Thomas and League Clay were the new light heavies.

All along the line, from the 112-pounders to the heavyweights, there is dynamic and combatsants that succeed in wading through the competition facing them will have earned their trip to the state tournament in Fort Worth next week with all expenses paid.

Formidable teams will be here from Borger and Stinnett, with smaller but hand-picked delegations from Follett, Higgins, LeFors, Canadian, Shamrock and Alameda. Included in the list will be four defending champions from last year's tournament—Benny Moore of Shamrock; Jake Bible of Alameda; Maurice Hutchinson of Pampa; LeRoy Davis of Higgins.

Visitors Potent
Curly Pendleton will be in charge of at least 10 topnotch battlers from Borger while Coy Palmer will bring that many from Stinnett. Both are confident they have at least two potential champions. J. H. Duncan can be in charge of the LeFors boys with Harrison Worsham bringing the choice of Alameda.

Holdouts Can't Be Traded, Says President Frick

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Larry MacPhail's careless offer to trade holdouts for holdouts has caused National league managers to remember there is a rule against tampering with players belonging to other clubs.

It came up for quite a discussion at yesterday's schedule meeting and ended with a warning from President Frick that it must be observed.

MacPhail admitted he was willing to trade Van Munro, his holdout pitcher, for Harry Danning, who had been balking at the terms offered by the Giants, and that he'd raise Danning's salary.

The argument wound up with MacPhail's remark, "as a cold matter of fact, no major league club has made me an offer for Munro." And then a short time later the Giants announced Danning had come to terms.

Longhorns Beat Frogs 32 to 28

FORT WORTH, Feb. 8 (AP)—With victories over downtrodden T. C. U. and conference-leading S. M. U., the University of Texas Longhorns were favored today in the basketball race.

The Longhorns defeated Texas Christian University's Horned Frogs, 32-28, last night, after a 33-27 victory over Southern Methodist University Monday night.

It was the Steers' fourth victory against two defeats. They have six games left and five of them are on their own court.

The Frogs dropped their sixth consecutive game last night.

Pro Grid Coaches, Officials To Meet

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 (AP)—Football—professional, variety—moves back into the sports spotlight tomorrow when National League of officials and coaches convene to adopt a schedule, study rules changes and dicker for each other's playing talent.

No major alterations in the playing code are anticipated.

George Halas, owner and coach of the Chicago Bears, and chairman of the rules committee, thinks most of the coaches want the rules left alone.

"Probably of most interest to fans will be trading during the convention," Halas said. "I expect quite a bit of swapping of players because we all need something the other fellow has."

Most of the coaches have expressed themselves at one time or another as needing certain replacements in rebuilding for the coming season.

The meeting will serve as the official debut into league affairs of Gus Henderson, new coach of the Lions, who replaced Dutch Clark, recently signed to Pilot Cleveland.

Amarillo Beaten

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 8 (AP)—Dick Rowell, 245, Miami, defeated Roy Dunn, 218, Amarillo, Texas, in 18 minutes of wrestling here last night.

Harvesters Beat Carey 43-30; Amarillo Next

If the Harvester-Carey game last night was a preview of what will take place in the regional meet at Canyon, then the Pampa quietest will go to the state tournament this year for the first time in history.

It's like Roney Morgan said. "I knew we would finally beat 'em if we kept on playing them," said Roney last night as a disillusioned bunch of Carey hoopers left the gym with a 43 to 30 defeat plastered on their impressive record.

In avenging past defeats at the regional meet, the Harvesters played brilliant basketball, offensively and defensively. Pete Dunaway, Pampa guard, turned in his best performance of the season. He faked the opposition, maneuvered set-ups and passed the ball in such a manner that the Cards never knew where he was going to throw it.

Others Also Star.
Andis also looked as good as he ever has. He led the scoring for both teams, and managed for most of his own shots. Carey's team was the best that has played here this season, and Heiskell, Andis and Dunaway, particularly Andis, intercepted the ball less times than usual.

In recent games here, half of the scoring was due to directly to Andis' daring interceptions of the ball.

Audis, who is improving with each game, shone especially in the last quarter when he took charge of most of the rebounds under the Cards' goal, in addition to smothering scoring attempts. Audis also hit a high spot in defensive work last night.

It's hard to believe that he is the same player who fans watched with misgivings in the first game of the season. It's a credit to Coach Ocus Mitchell's incomparable coaching ability that he has developed Audis, Miller, Heiskell, and Kyle this season, and has polished up Dunaway and Andis to the point where they are far ahead of their work last season it's hard to recognize them.

Kyle Hits Buckets.
And speaking of Kyle, that boy went to town again last night. Miller started the game, but couldn't get going, and Andis was the work last season it's hard to recognize them.

It was the Harvesters' 39th game, and their 36th win. The Cards have played more than 40 games, but not to complete until they beat the Cards, if they have the opportunity, at the regional meet. Carey's strongest opposition will be Williams high who have already trounced Carey twice, and who have taken one beating from the Cards.

Pampa Leads Three Periods.
Fans who missed the game last night will regret it. The game was close until the second quarter began. It was tied 8 and 8 at the end of the first period. Then Pampa argued ahead, and was leading 8 points at the half. Carey rallied in the third quarter and cut down a 11-point lead to four points, but they shot their way in that period, for in the next the Harvesters played some of their best ball of the season.

Carey made only two points in the fourth period while the Harvesters were piling up 10 tallies. Miller came back into the game and caught the spirit of luck, and he made up for his performance in the first quarter.

Cards' Style Cramped.
Coach Francis Smith of LeFors called a good game. Both teams played a clean, fast game, and it was regretted that McFather, Carey's fine guard, got three personal fouls in the first quarter. The Cards claimed that this cramped his style the rest of the game.

One of the Cards who certainly wasn't off was the other McFather boy who as forward looped five field goals from impossible positions. Middleton, the Carey center who played on the regional championship team last year, also hit the bucket in long distance marksmanship feats in the first half, but he was held to one basket in the last period.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Pampa bowlers entered in the recent Panhandle Open Bowling tournament in Amarillo won $20.05 in prizes. A check for the amount has been received by Joe Berry of the Berry alleys here for distribution among the winners.

The Dr. Pepper team took first place in Class C, winning $25 with Weir Barbers placing third and receiving $9. Berry alleys won fourth in Class B and got $5.

In individual and double bowling, Tom Darby won the Class B singles and Bert Howell took second. Darby won $15 and Howell $10. Buddy Bliss and Ben Myers won second in Class C doubles receiving $9 with second place and $6 going to Eddie Fritchle and Bill Heskey. Heskey also won $3.05 for the Class C all event.

Husbands and wives had a session on the Berry alleys with Pampa wives of bowlers taking three straight from Amarillo wives and Pampa husbands winning three straight from Amarillo husbands.

Mrs. Bill Murphy rolled a series of 496 pints to lead the wives while Bert Howell's 537 was high for the husbands.

A return match is scheduled in Amarillo next Sunday.

Seabiscuit Will Race In Handicap

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8 (AP)—Seabiscuit makes his 1939 debut today, provided rain doesn't muddy up the Santa Anita track, in a one-mile race that puts the Charles S. Howard star against two other eligibles for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicaps.

Marcia, the 1938 champion mare of the country, owned by T. D. Taggart, and Mrs. Emil Denmark's War Minstrel were the other two named for the event.

Seabiscuit has raced against both Marcia and War Minstrel, and lost to the latter in the mud last summer in the Stars and Stripes handicap at Chicago. After that the "Biscuit" traveled east and defeated War Admiral in their famous match race, and today's event was carded as his first appearance since that date.

Johnson Hardware Store To Hold Open House Tomorrow

The Johnson Hardware Company store on West Foster avenue will be a paradise for hunters and fishermen tomorrow when open house for sportsmen of the Panhandle will be held.

Fishermen will be able to see almost every type of fishing equipment on the market as five companies send displays here. Trophies of the hunt will be on display in the store windows and in the store.

Mounted heads, by Vernon Moore, local taxidermist, will be shown by W. M. Castleberry, Charlie Burton, Homer Taylor, Z. H. Mundy, J. E. Carlson, M. O. Carlson, J. H. Tucker, Coleman Williams, and maybe others.

Included in the display will be a Cactus Buck head, huge antelope and moose heads, etc.

Complete lines of fishing tackle and rubber footwear will be presented by Cullum & Boren, Dallas; Simmons Hardware, St. Louis; Oklahoma City Hardware, Oklahoma City; Amarillo Hardware and Morrow-Thomas Hardware, both of Amarillo; United States Rubber Company, Kansas City.

The store will remain open from 8 a. m. until 10 o'clock tomorrow

Groom Will Invade White Deer Friday

WHITE DEER, Feb. 8.—The Crown Tigers will invade the Bucks' hardwood floor Friday night at 7 o'clock, with determination to avenge their 32-14 defeat at the hands of the Bucks last week.

Plenty of action may be expected from the Tigers, who, after a gridiron defeat and a basketball defeat, have good reasons to make the fur fly.

Girl Cogers Scamper From Court As Mouse Enters Game

NEW BERN, N. C., Feb. 8 (AP)—They were basketball players—but they were girls, too. So when, during a close game, a mouse scurried across the floor, both teams fled shrieking from the court. They finished the game later.

NOTICE OF EXECUTION SALE. THE STATE OF TEXAS. County of Gray

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Justice Court of Potter County, Texas, Precinct One, Place One, on a judgment rendered in said Court on the 6th day of September, 1938, in favor of Osgood Monument Company and against B. L. Webb in Cause No. 2307 Osgood Monument Company vs. B. L. Webb in said Court, I did on the 31st day of January, 1939, at 1:30 o'clock p. m., levy upon the following described tracts of land in Gray County, Texas, as the property of B. L. Webb:

Sections 19 and 12, block A-9; sections 42, 43, 61, 62 and N 1/4 and SW 1/4 of section 59, all in the H&C N Ry. Co. survey, and on the 7th day of March, 1939, being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., on said day, at the court house door of said county, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all of the entire interest and title of the said B. L. Webb in and to the above described property.

Dated at Pampa, Texas, this 31 day of January, 1939.

Citizens Squawk Over Night Games

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8 (AP)—The zoning board pondered gravely today complaints that night baseball games in historic Shibe Park would be peep shows, baby disturbers, health hazards and a general, all-around nuisance.

Like fans and players protesting an umpire's decision, 25 irate citizens marched before the board yesterday and squawked loudly against 14 night games the Athletics and the Phillies propose to play this summer.

They said they lived near the ball park and didn't relish the prospect of listening at night to the assorted sounds of the great American game. In the daytime—that was different, they said. But summer evenings should be sacrosanct, broken only by the chirp of crickets and not by the crack of bats, yips of peanut vendors and excited fans.

Furthermore, complained Mrs. William H. Liebrich, her bedroom fronted right on the ball park and what was to keep bored spectators from staring at her in the illumination from eight floodlight towers?

The only doubt in the complainants' united front was made when a board member asked how many rented their roofs to spectators before the right field fence was raised and a court order stopped the practice. About a dozen raised their hands.

Louis Roper Bout In April Planned

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8 (AP)—Plans were launched today to bring together Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and veteran Jack Roper of Los Angeles in a 10-round title bout next April.

Promoter Tom Galley announced Mike Jacobs, New York car of things pugilistic, had agreed to the match and would share in the promotion of Los Angeles' first championship fight in the dreadnought division.

Roper plans to leave for New York early next week to wind up details of the bout.

Roper is a lefthook artist who admits to 36 years of age but who is probably the most feared heavy-weight in this section of the country.

When it was pointed out that New York and other states do not recognize 10-rounders as title contests, Galley laughed and replied, "Louis will take care of that. Tell me, who's been able to go 15 rounds, or even 10, with Louis recently?"

The Los Angeles promoter set April 24 as a tentative date for the bout, and intimated if the coliseum, which seats 10,000 people, would not be available, the fight would be staged at Wrigley Field.

Roper, returning to ring combat two years ago after a long layoff, knocked out Bob Nestell and Patsy Ferroni in a round apiece, and defeated Eddie Simms and Jorge Brescia during the past year.

Scout News

TROOP 15
N. L. Cummings of Troop 15 is a candidate for the office of Postmaster in the Boy Scout election to be held Friday night in the city hall.

He is running on his platform which may lead in the postoffice where adults are barred.

Scouts may use the telephone while he is in office.

Rewards will be paid for apprehension of loafers other than Scout.

They may bring their dogs in the office to get away from the dog catcher.

TROOP 24
Just before a luncheon of sandwiches, pie and coffee was served to men of Central Baptist Brotherhood Monday evening by the scouts of troop 24, the boys repeated the scout oath followed by offering of thanks by the pastor, Rev. John Scott.

After the meal Ray Clanton, candidate for city manager, and Duane Williams, his campaign manager; Billie J. Hargis, candidate for mayor and Harding Lee Casey, his campaign manager and Elwood Whitte, candidate for district judge, all made short campaign speeches. These city and district offices will be filled a part of Saturday by the scout receiving the most votes during National Scout Week.

Following this a number of the 35 scouts present presented a play in which an unusual incident took place while on a camping trip. The title of the drama was "Willie and the Wifepooper" in which "Willie" is upholding the scouts' traditional law of kindness to animals, used methods which were rather indirect, even though his intentions were sincere. Troop 24 has time from 5:45 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon on Feb. 11 to broadcast over K. P. D. N., at which time the play will be re-enacted.

TROOP 24
Troop 27, which came into existence Friday night, Feb. 4, will have a Scout meeting next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the Calvary Baptist church. All parents and committeemen are urged to attend the meeting.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

Yesterday, Dick had once dated Susie as a jest. Now she recalls the day "narrowly," wishes she might have been beautiful just for him.

CHAPTER IV

SUSIE went to bed, but not to sleep. Her thoughts still pursued the well-worn path of memory. She had bought an evening dress for Dick's party, bright blue moire tulle on the outside, definitely sixteen underneath. It was long and extremely backless and sported two red velvet poppies on the bosom. She bought high-heeled red sandals. Actually they made her feet appear pretty and small but they hurt terribly.

On the day of the party she had her hair done, marcelled into a frizz, the bangs swirling from left to right. The frizz made her hair shorter than ever, it left a straight fringe on her chubby neck. She had her nails manicured, very pink, very shiny. She bought hat, powder and a brilliant shade of lipstick.

By Saturday night Susie was in a dither. It took her two hours to dress. She dropped everything, upset everything. The thin silk hose were a bit short when she carefully pulled them over her well-rounded knees. The tight, backless brassiere snapped off its one hook when she leaned over and she had to undress. The dress was more snug than she had thought it in the shop, but the long skirt was beautifully slenderizing.

Susie's mirror said unflattering things concerning bright blue with her sallow skin. She airily denied the accusation and put on more rouge. Her mouth, cherry red to the far corners, was enormous. This, too, she refused to admit. It was no night for fainting.

Over the festive gown she wore her spring coat, the swagger style. Noticing its dimensions one of the waitresses had said, "Susie's coat must have been made by Omar the Tentmaker." Susie was sorry she had no evening wrap, but a budget could only be stretched so far.

NEVER would Susie forget the moment when Dick arrived. Nothing that happened afterward could quite blur the rapture of that moment. Waiting in the lower hall, tense with anticipation, she had opened the door for him. Had he looked horrified for a split second? Surely not. Smilingly he removed his hat. Oh, the cleanliness of him, the breathtaking smoothness of his hair, the splendor of his evening clothes, the whole perfection of him.

Susie always remembered what he said. "Lady, the carriage waits." She had giggled hysterically.

The carriage was a roadster, long and low and swanky. Susie tripped on her long dress and literally fell into the seat. The top was down and the night air blew some of the frizz out of her hair, leaving it a tangled mass of unmanageable strands. On the drive to the fraternity house she laughed too much, talked too much, was jumpy as a toy balloon. All at once Susie was stricken with fear. What went on at a fraternity dance? She hadn't an idea. Excitement dissolved and with it went confidence.

"I've never been to a nice party," she said to Dick. "Maybe I shouldn't have come."

"You'll get along all right," he assured her. "I'll see that you do." He sounded a bit grim. He took her to the dressing room and, as she entered, the chatter ceased. Girls everywhere in slim satins, soft chiffons, their heads coiffed smoothly, their eyebrows daintily arched. Some of the girls turned their backs as Susie, uncertainly took off the spring coat. She heard a suppressed snicker. Several of the more kindly inclined said, "Hello, Susie," and she stammered an answer. Then the girls left Susie alone, she heard the ripple of their laughter on the stairs.

Nervously powdering her nose she stopped, aghast at what she saw in the long mirror, squat bulk, overhanging eyebrows, the bulging fatness of her back. Frantically she fussed with her hair while panic seized her. She couldn't go down—she couldn't!

Then came Dick's voice from somewhere beyond the door. "Bout ready, Susie?"

AFTER that the party was a series of vague impressions, young men whom she had served with waffles being ostentatiously polite, girls who ignored her, dress too tight, shoes too tight, Dick always there. From 9:30 until one Susie danced with Dick, stumbling, losing the step, coming up with a jolt against his smoothly moving feet.

At twelve she had said, "Take me home, Dick." He looked at his wrist watch. "Just a little longer, Susie." There was a white line of fatigue around Dick's young mouth. He smiled gallantly. At one they were served with tiny sandwiches and huge black olives, sherbert and coffee. The girls were presented with favors, little silver compacts with the Delta Phi emblem embossed on one side. Susie was delighted with the trinket.

At two, descending the stairs, again enfolded in the spring coat, she saw one of the older boys talking to Dick in a low tone. Distinctly she heard the words, "kiss her" and Dick's angry exclamation. Bewildered, she saw Dick tear the pledge pin from his vest. The older boy backed away, refusing the pin, laughing, saying, "Okay—you don't need to get sore." None of it made sense to Susie.

Sitting comfortably in the roadster beside a strangely preoccupied escort, Susie pondered over the incident in the hall. Obviously the upper classman had not wanted Dick to kiss her. Her blood pounded furiously at the thought. And Dick had been angry at the interference. Tremblingly, Susie waited.

At last she glanced at him from under her heavy brows. "Why didn't he want you to kiss me?" she asked, rather ingeniously for one unversed in subtleties. Dick looked at her quickly, started. He muttered, "Those guys had better mind their own business." What Susie had answered still lay like a scorching coal in her heart after four years. She had said, "Well—if you want to—and if I don't care." Unkissed, hungry for love, flaming with it—

DICK stopped the car at Susie's shabby rooming house. "Look," he said, "I don't like fellows who kiss every girl they take out. I think it's common and not very complimentary to the girl."

"He never been kissed," she said wistfully. It wasn't like Susie to be forward. Something inside herself, or perhaps within herself, wanted to be kissed. The still, crisp night, the star bitten sky, Dick's clean, honest mouth, the urge of youth—she leaned heavily against him.

Dick still hesitated. "Would it make you feel better about tonight if I kissed you?" he asked. She gazed at him, not understanding. "If you knew I'd never take you out again would you want me to kiss you?"

Susie raised her lips and he kissed her. It was a quick, reluctant kiss, but in that instant Susie's lonely, thwarted heart gave itself into Dick's keeping without thought of consequences, without question. Little wings of ecstasy beat in her heart, the cool night whispered, life had suddenly become mysterious and sweet. Love had come to stay with Susie.

"Thank you," she said softly. "Oh, please don't—"

Dick took her to the door. He came in for a waffle the next day, but by that time Susie had learned the bitter truth. Her hurt was so deep and so wide that the bud of love might have been nipped had Dick been anyone except himself.

Kansas City Banker

Best-Dressed Man

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—William T. Kemper Jr. can't quite figure it out.

The wealthy young Kansas City banker was selected as one of America's 20 best-dressed men by the National Association of Merchant Tailors meeting in Philadelphia yesterday. Commented Kemper: "I have only five suits. "I wear what I feel like when I get up. "I shime my own shoes. "I don't try to make a splash." And as for sport clothes: "Blue jeans (overalls) and a pair of boots. I just go out and work on my farm for sport."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Suburban ref. any drug store.

Final plans for the observance were made at a chapter meeting last night. At the same time it was announced that a team captained by L. E. Franks won the membership campaign from Commander McColem's team by two points. The commander asked for a 30-day reprieve before feeding the winners. "We have to raise the money," the commander said.

The chapter voted to attend the First Baptist church on Feb. 19 when Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor, will speak on Americanism. Preliminary plans for organizing a Bicycle Safety club were discussed by the members. Initiation, via radio, of a coast-to-coast class of approximately 25,000 new members, will be one of the dramatic events of the night. Annual "Hello America" broadcast to be sponsored on Feb. 15 over the blue network of the National Broadcasting Company by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

This unique ceremony, traditional national president V. F. W. annual radio hour, will be the climax of the 1939 program, Commander L. L. McColem of post No. 1657 explained today. Post No. 1657 will be one of approximately 3,700 local units of the overseas veterans' organization which will participate in the broadcast, by tuning in, from its headquarters in the American Legion hut, on the key ceremony emanating from Boston, Mass. The local V. F. W. post expects to have a large class of new recruits to receive the oath of membership, administered by Commander-in-Chief Eugene Van Antwerp at a microphone in Boston.

ROOSEVELT

Qualifications, and referred to the 150-year-old custom of "senatorial courtesy."

Had the Constitution intended to give one or two Senators the right to veto presidential nominations, Mr. Roosevelt said, "it would have said 'Senators' Right Disputed.' " "Or put it another way," he wrote, "it would have vested the nominating power in the Senators from the state to which the vacancy existed. " "On somewhat rare occasions the Senate, relying on an unwritten rule of senatorial courtesy, which exists in no place in the Constitution, has rejected nominees on the ground of their being personally objectionable to their Senators, thus vesting in individual Senators what amounts in effect to the power of nomination. " Glass had charged Mr. Roosevelt promised Gov. Price of Virginia "the right to veto" over recommendations for appointments made by the two Virginia Senators. For this reason, Glass said, the justice department "never had the slightest idea" of considering his and Byrd's recommendations for the judgeship.

Sex Hormones To Be Discussed At Chemists' Meeting

"Recent Progress With Female Sex Hormones" will be the topic of a lecture by Dr. R. G. Gustavson of the department of chemistry of the University of Colorado, when the Panhandle-Plains section of the American Chemical society holds its regular meeting on Feb. 13 at the Amarillo hotel in Amarillo. The lecture will be preceded by a dinner at 7:15 p. m. Monday in the Amarillo hotel. Members of the medical profession and all interested laymen, as well as members of the society, are invited to attend. Reservations can be obtained from Mr. Deaton at the U. S. Hellum plant in Amarillo. Dr. Gustavson's lecture is divided into three parts: the human sex cycle, the pituitary gland, and the sex hormones in blood and urine. The lecturer's work has consisted of studies concerning the isolation and biological assay of the estrogenic hormones and the study of the human sex cycle as reflected by the excretion of these hormones.

BOBBY PRAISED

Kenneth Carman, director of the junior play is sparing with his compliments, and when he says somebody is good in a role they usually are, but he said that about Bobby Karr, above, who plays the role of a policeman in the hilarious comedy.

OLD MAID

to help finance the junior-senior banquet, the largest social affair of the school year.

In another amusing scene Ed Terrell posing as an Indian chief (his really a fugitive from a nearby sanatorium) puts the blanketed bishop (Jones stole the cleric's clothes) through the steps of a hot Indian stamp.

Other members of the cast which Director Kenneth Carman said was among the most talented he has ever coached, are Jack Johnson, Jeanne Lively, Marjory McColem, Chester Carpenter, Jerry Smith, James Foran, Heidi Schneider.

TRAINING

punctuated the hearing. The demonstrators came from a comfortably filled gallery and floor. Fetsch opened the hearing with an explanation of his bill. Prior to vote he offered an amendment which, in effect, directs the regents to request the war and navy departments to establish and maintain courses in military and naval training, and qualifying men student graduates for reserve commissions. The course would not be required as a condition for entrance to or graduation from the university.

Students Oppose Bill Arguments in favor of the proposal were made by H. W. Gully, engineering school student at the university; Col Ralph Durkee of San Antonio, an official of the reserve officers association; Dr. Anderson Fitzgerald, professor in the school of business administration; Adjutant General Harry Knox and Judge Baugh.

Opponents included Dr. Clarence E. Ayres, professor of economics at the university; Rep. W. T. McDonald of Bryan; Fred Schmidt, Jim Anderson, and Sidney Reagan, university students; Mrs. G. K. Shepard, representing a group of Austin housewives and mothers; Rev. S. Marcus Houge, pastor of the First Congregation church of Austin, and Mrs. Claude Hill of the league of women voters.

Preparedness was the keynote of most of the arguments in favor of the military unit, while opponents contended the training would interfere with the educational facilities of the university. The committee was presented a petition signed by 2,836 students opposed to the proposal. Results of campus polls were given the legislators showing about 20 per cent of the students contacted favoring R. O. T. C. It was brought out the poll was taken among only 477 of the more than 10,000 students at the school.

the law which forbids large hauls on one truck.

California Law Cited "While we're struggling under this harsh restriction," he said, "California has a 68,000-pound limit and Florida a 41,000-pound limit, based on the formula principle." He pointed out the state were Texas' greatest competitors in the citrus-producing field.

Former Governor R. S. Sterling, who signed the bill into law, said it was "evident the limit should be raised. Farmers in the valley and everywhere need all the help they can get. Since passage of the law our highways have been greatly improved. Ninety per cent of Lower East Texas wants a higher load limit, Gus Whiteman, Alto lumberman, told the committee.

Paul Vickers of McAllen termed the present regulations "ridiculous" and said the interest of fruit shippers, wheat growers, cattlemen and oil men were at stake. "Florida fruit is being sold in Texas largely because of the law," he shouted. "The Federal Bureau of Roads has declared a 36,000 pound load limit does not injure the highways and Texas has the lowest of them all."

Others Oppose Law Joe Montague of Fort Worth, attorney for a cattle raisers association, said the plight of cattlemen because of the law was not as serious as that of the fruit shipper but existed longer.

The limit should be lifted, C. H. Day, a Plainview farmer told the committee, while Byrd Harris of Corpus Christi claimed railroad facilities of Southwest Texas were inadequate and rates too high. J. H. Davenport, Wichita Falls oil refiner and steel man, asserted his business had suffered because of the law and Ray M. Keck of Cotulla, president of the Wintergarden Chamber of Commerce, spoke in favor of a boost. Christi Chamber of Commerce of 1,000 members was unanimously for repeal of the present regulations, Jeff Bell, manager, informed the committee.

Members of the 31st district court grand jury are to reconvene Thursday morning. The grand jury has been in adjournment since Friday, when it completed an investigation of the Southern club gun battle that occurred Monday night a week ago.

Jaycees Will Start Membership Drive

Members of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will start a membership drive at their meeting next Tuesday noon, when the local organization will be divided into two competing teams, it was announced at the Jaycees' regular meeting Tuesday noon in the basement of the Schneider hotel.

Earl Isley, membership committee chairman, was in charge of the program at the meeting, which consisted of two accordion songs by Ken Bennett. Attendance at the meeting was 42, including seven visitors: Ken Bennett, Wayne Smith, Harry Kelley, W. A. Rankin, R. B. Saxe, Wesley Bruce, and Rev. C. Gordon Bayless.

Mexico Resident Welcomes Investment Of Foreign Money

MEXICO, Feb. 8 (AP)—President Cardenas, in a published summary of questions he has answered for interviewers, declared today he welcomed foreign investments in mining, electric power and public works projects undertaken by his government. The president said that Mexico maintains a good neighbor policy toward the United States and exportation of British and American oil companies could not be taken as an indication to the contrary. He declared his government was not communist and that followers of communism had little chance of influencing his policies.

Fathers And Sons To Banquet At Church

A Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Brotherhood class of the First Methodist church will be served this evening at 7 o'clock in the dining room of the church. Arthur Teed will preside as toastmaster. Several musical numbers are to be presented by boys from the high school department and John Edwin McConnell will lead a sing-song. Main speaker of the evening is to be H. G. Hilburn of Plainview. The group will meet in the auditorium preceding the banquet.

Three Classes In Oil Production Meet At LeFors

A joint meeting of three classes in Petroleum Production Practices which are being sponsored by the Texas State Board of Vocational Training was held last night in the LeFors high school library. The first several speakers were presented to the classes. Dan Gribbon, superintendent of The Texas company, spoke of the changes in equipment and development and producing methods he has observed in his time. Mr. Gribbon mentioned that the heavy timbers were hewn from virgin forests near the location when he first started working in the fields. Special emphasis was applied on the trend of modern equipment and what he thought the equipment of tomorrow would be. Many practices such as mixing mud for a rotary by hand has long since been discontinued. Mr. Gribbon mentioned many modern devices outside the oil industry and predicted that the oil field equipment and operating methods of the future would be just as streamlined.

Funeral services for Danney Lee Hale, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hale of the Phillips camp near Kellerville, were to be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church, McLean, by the Rev. Troy Summerhall, pastor. Burial was to be in McLean cemetery under direction of Pampa Mortuary. The child died in a local hospital yesterday afternoon. Survivors are the parents and three sisters, Iona, Reta Pearl and Virginia. Mr. Hale has been with the Phillips Petroleum company for 10 years.

Amie Continues To Deny Communism

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Thos. R. Amie today told a Senate committee inquiring into his qualifications to be an interstate commerce commissioner that he had addressed the Congress against war and fascism in Chicago in 1934 where he may have been introduced as "Comrade Amie" but denied he was even a member of either the communist or socialist parties. At witness before the Senate interstate commerce subcommittee had called the Congress a communist-organized and directed organization. Other witnesses have said Amie himself was a radical. Amie told the committee he had allowed his name to be used by an organization called the "Friends of the Soviet Union" in advocating recognition of Russia.

Although Pennsylvania and West Virginia have been coal centers of the United States for a long time, the first coal in North America was discovered on Cape Breton island, Nova Scotia, in 1672.
