Thompson Urges Both Sides In Radio Speeches

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Striking at one-sided presentation of public questions through use of the radio, Col. Ernest Thompson of the railroad commission, told the Texas Press Association today the future course of government "rests in your hands."

The editors opened a two-day mid-winter meeting.

Thompson said the press could not wash its hands and disown responsibility when other means of popular expression turn liberty into license.

"To be specific, I speak of one-sided presentation of public questions via the radio," he asserted. "You who have nurtured and upheld the principal of free speech are now its guardians and must exert your influence toward the end at the same judicious uses of liberty be made in that medium of expression."

"We must face squarely the new problem of keeping the air waves as open to both sides of a question as are your columns."

Thompson asserted the success of a government could be measured by the enlightenment possessed by the people.

AAA Policies Guided By Supply, Demand, Dr. Slaughter Claims

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 10 (AP)—The AAA has written the economic law of supply and demand into the Constitution of American agriculture, George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservatism Committee of the AAA, told the manufacturer-farmer conference here today.

"Industry long has observed the necessity of holding production within limits of a reasonable demand for its products. . . . To agriculture, as well, this law has long been known and observed," he said.

Stating competition is keen in the international game for markets, Slaughter said "we now have an exportable supply of wheat, cotton, rice and other farm products far greater than the outer world will take."

Slaughter said if surplus acres were removed from production, those who live by the fruits of those acres would become "charges against the nation."

"So it is to the interest of manufacturers and allied industry that these people in some way or other, be allowed a better opportunity to make for themselves a living," he said.

Slaughter said the AAA sought to meet this condition by encouraging farmers to halt "this futile race" and devote the surplus acres of agriculture to crops that would rebuild the soil and fill "an undersupplied farm-home for food in the pantry and feed in the barn."

The law of supply and demand and the effect of tariffs on agriculture and manufacturing were discussed here at the conference, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Conservatism Committee and the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Farmers have to roll the dice and then wait a year to see if they won," Walter Hamann, Texas grower, told delegates yesterday.

Hammond's comment was made after Warrin H. Shonemaker, committee chairman, and vice president of a packing concern (Armour & Co.), said that when industry faced over-production it curtailed output. He intimated farmers might do likewise, or, at least alleviate their troubles, by planting diversified crops.

11-Ton Bell Tolls Death Of Pontiff

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—The deep throated "Campanone," 11-ton master of St. Peter's great bell tower, sounded the death toll by which Rome learned today that Pope Pius XI had died.

For 20 minutes the solemnly spoken notes sounded from the huge bronze throat.

"Campanone" to Romans means "great bells," the grandfather of all bells. The name fits well. Even the din of thousands of bells in almost 500 Roman churches, was unable to drown the profoundly melodious notes of the giant bass of St. Peter's at it mourned the departed Pope.

First to signal the Pope's death to the outside world, the "Campanone" spoke with authority. Its steady booming soon marshalled all the bells in Rome into a funeral tolling.

Pampans Still Chuckling Over Play--It's On Again Tonight

By THE ROVING REPORTER. The Roving Reporter, being a loud-mouthed fight fan, did not go to the junior class play last night, but he sent his Mammy who is coldly critical of most things that happen inside the church, and she came back still chuckling over the comedy, "What Happened to Jones?" which will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock.

She got up this morning and began laughing at the memory of the amusing situations and lines in the play. But she was not by herself. Various townspeople on the streets also laughed as they recalled the predicaments in which "Fozzy" Green, Carolyn Sue Surratt, Jack Johnson, Hugh Anderson, and the others found themselves. You gathered that "Fozzy" ran the gamut of all prevailing, double-crossing methods before he finally extricated himself from the role of a bishop in the last act.

This morning junior class sponsors said the play was the most successful staged here in several years from the standpoint of both attendance and reaction of the audience.

The R. R. box, however, last night was convinced, after listening to Mammy, that the play was a big success, because her reaction is usually representative.

Auditors Will File Report Here Monday

A report by the auditors who made a check of Gray county records after charges were filed last November and December against two county officials will be filed with the commissioners' court when it meets in regular session Monday.

The report, which is understood, will show financial deficiencies in three or four county offices and excesses of money in one or two others. County Judge Sherman White said today the report would not be officially filed until after it has been considered by the commissioners Monday.

Judge White repeated today that the commissioners' court, in considering the report, will seek a solution to prevent recurrence of shortages and to assist county officers set up a proper method of book-keeping.

"Our aim," Judge White said, "is to maintain the confidence of the people in their county officers and the conduct of county offices."

The county judge added that he would cling to his plan for a quarterly audit of all county records.

The recent audit came after Buford Reed, a former deputy sheriff, admitted converting funds of the sheriff's office to his own use, and after Miss Miriam Wilson, district clerk, had admitted converting funds of the district clerk's office to her use.

Reed was indicted last Nov. 3 by the grand jury on two counts of misappropriation of funds. His trial is scheduled to come up during the present term of court.

Miss Wilson was cited in a complaint filed on Dec. 9, charging embezzlement. The grand jury was reported to be investigating her case Thursday and today.

14 Of 25 In Albuquerque Trial Freed

Jury Hopelessly Deadlocked On The Remaining Eleven

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 10 (AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted 14 of 25 persons charged with political manipulations of the New Mexico WPA and Cortez, itself hopelessly deadlocked on the remaining eleven.

The jurors reported to Federal Judge Colin Nebbett at 9 a. m. (CST) after actual deliberations of about 14 hours. They received the case at 4:35 p. m. CST Wednesday.

Verdicts of acquittal were returned in the cases of Mrs. Anita Tafaya, sister of Senator Dennis Chavez—charged by the defense with being the object of "political persecution"—the Senator's nephew, Salomon Tafaya; Mrs. J. A. Werner and Mariano Werner, wife and brother of the Albuquerque postmaster, and two minor WPA supervisors.

The jury reported itself unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of Stanley W. P. Miller, son-in-law of Senator Chavez, and chief assistant U. S. district attorney.

The defendants were accused of conspiring against the government to defraud and to illegally divert WPA labor and material for political purposes.

Those acquitted were Mrs. Tafaya, Jac Barteras, Isaac Baca, Ike Bayne, Mike Bucklin, Salomon Chavez, William J. Jinks, Felix Martinez, Neil McNeerney, Fernando Perea, Dellino Romero, Salomon Tafaya, Mrs. Warner, and Mariano Werner.

Disagreements were reported on Stanley W. P. Miller, son-in-law of Senator Chavez, and chief assistant U. S. district attorney.

The jury retired at 9:45 o'clock Thursday night without reaching a verdict. At 9:55 o'clock Thursday morning the verdict was returned. L. J. Ward was foreman of the jury.

Only Legislature Can Void Truck Law, Says Mann

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Attorney General C. Mann said today the Legislature could suspend the 7,000-pound truck limit law, but it must be accomplished through passage of a bill authorizing suspension.

His opinion was at the request of Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, who sought the proper method of procedure.

Kelley and Rep. Homer Leonard of McAllen are sponsors of legislation to raise the load limit for trucks, and had sought unsuccessfully immediate action by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel to relieve what they have termed a serious situation.

Mann's opinion said: "The Legislature alone has the power to suspend existing laws in this state. The power to suspend includes the power to suspend in a perishable nature wherever they may be produced in the state of Texas."

"The opinion added the suspension must be accomplished by bill rather than by resolution or any other method of procedure resorted to in the Legislature."

Pope's Successor To Be Selected In 18 Days

LATE PICTURES OF POPE PIUS—DEAD AT 82

Ancient Customs Used To Select New Pontiff

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—There is no person whose death could inaugurate such a chain of picturesque rites as that running its course for Achille Ratti—Pope Pius XI.

From the moment the holy father died today until his body is laid to rest in three coffins in St. Peter's basilica and his successor has given the world his blessing, every action is embedded in centuries of tradition. The origins of some of these customs have crumbled into oblivion on the parchments on which they were written.

An ancient but obsolete act was the removal of the entrails from the dead pope's body for burial in an urn in a crypt under the Basilica. Embalming is a comparatively modern act. It will have only a few hundred years of tradition behind it.

One of the most spectacular ceremonies will be the procession bearing the pope's body to St. Peter's. From 50,000 to 70,000 persons can crowd into the church to watch a score or more of red robed cardinals and costumed dignitaries carry out this task. Swiss guards in medieval armor will line the corridors through which the burden must be borne.

Not less elaborate and traditional is the procedure of choosing the pope's successor. Under the chairmanship of the papal secretary of state, the sacred college of cardinals will undertake this election within eighteen days. During the election and in the interim the cardinals will follow a strict protocol.

To Name Orators. In one meeting they will elect two prelates to deliver orations at the funeral and at the election of the new pontiff. But they will not hurry through to get to other business.

Selection of barbers to shave them during their confinement in the electoral conclave, drawing of lots for cells in that conclave, appointment of a committee on cleanliness and decorum during the election, which may last many days, are some of the traditional duties to be performed now.

One of the curious tasks confronting the cardinals is the breaking of the seals of the conclave.

Peace Parley Rumors 'Absurd' Says Mañija

MADRID, Feb. 10 (AP)—Premier Juan Negrin arrived today in the central zone of Spain, all that is left in government possession, for the avowed purpose of carrying on resistance to insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Negrin was accompanied by his foreign minister, Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, and several other members of his cabinet.

His whereabouts was not immediately disclosed. Negrin left this morning from Toulouse, France, by regular air-France airplane from Alicante. While on French territory he would make no statement of his intentions.

At the same time, General Jose Mañija, appointed only last night to command of all five government armies in Central Spain, termed "absurd" reports that his general staff was negotiating for peace.

"My general staff would never think of doing such a thing," Mañija said at Valencia. "I myself, only do what the government orders."

LONDON, Feb. 10 (AP)—Great Britain dispatched proposals to insurgent Spain today in the hope of bringing a speedy end to the civil war with the best possible terms for the remaining defenders—and to the London-Paris axis.

Sir Robert Hodgson, British agent at Burgos, the insurgent capital, left to return to his post, where he is due Sunday, in London he received instructions on Britain's attitude and her proposals to Generalissimo Franco and is expected to push efforts.

Catholics Of World Mourn Pius' Death

Americans Will Go To Rome To Help Choose Pontiff

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—Scholarly, peace-loving Pope Pius XI died quietly this morning just before the church bells of Old Rome sounded morning angelus and while the closest of his churchly servants knelt in prayer at his side.

Approaching his 82nd birthday anniversary on May 31, he had been ill since Tuesday of cardiac asthma which caused death, although he had weakened gradually in general health since a severe illness in December, 1936, and another attack, November 25, last year.

The conclave of Cardinals may convene Feb. 25, though it can be called as late as Feb. 28, to choose the successor to Pius XI. Three United States Cardinals were expected to leave New York tomorrow to attend the assembly for the first time as a group.

The new Pope will be elected by a two-thirds majority of those of the sixty-two Cardinals who attend the conclave.

The time of his coronation will depend on how quickly the balloting is ended.

From the dead Pope's hand Cardinal Pacelli took the fisherman's ring, symbol of Papal authority. Its seal, in a new ring, will be given to the new Pope as a sign of his selection.

Pope Pius XI died just before the church bells of Old Rome sounded Morning Angelus.

Dr. Amintore Milani, called from a sick bed, nodded that the end had come at 5:31 a. m. for the "Pope of peace," on the fifth day of the 18th year since his election as head of the Catholic Church.

During the administration of the last rites witnesses said they saw the pope's lips move.

Some close to him thought they heard him say: "Our last rites, like those of 'all mortals, Sister Therese of the infant Jesus, art near to us. God is merciful. May His will be done." Sainthood, however, was canonized was the saint to whom he had entrusted his health.

Death came while the holy father was preparing to embark upon a new task—an extraordinary address tomorrow to all Italian bishops on the tenth anniversary of the Lateran accord with Italy—by which he became the first pope in 59 years to emerge from the Vatican walls.

He had been expected to deal with the status of the concordat. The news was given officially to See FOPE, Page 7

Father Of Seven Dies On Gallows In Mississippi

RALEIGH, Miss., Feb. 10 (AP)—Pearlie Houston Evans was hanged at 6:47 a. m. today for the murder of his father-in-law, 19-year-old K. C. Jones.

Three minutes later, at 6:50 a. m. Evans was pronounced dead.

Sheriff D. L. Lack of Smith county sent the 39-year-old slight statured Evans to his death on an improvised gallows adjoining the new concrete and steel jail in the Raleigh courtyard.

Excitement developed within the box-like gallows after Evans had been cut down. Doctors discovered a heart movement as the body rested on the ground, and momentarily it appeared that Evans might become a man who haired, and lived.

Doctors later ascribed the belated heart thudder to the after effects of a drug administered before he was removed from his jail cell to the gallows.

More than a dozen persons witnessed the hanging, but outside hundreds milled about. The crowd was silent and orderly.

Pope Gave Close Attention To U. S.

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—Pope Pius XI, the spiritual sovereign of 20,000,000 American Catholics, gave close attention to the church in the United States.

He doubled the number of American cardinals by bestowing the red hat on the late Archbishop Hayes of New York and Archbishop O'Connell of Boston and Dougherty of Philadelphia had been elevated before his reign.

He created five new ecclesiastical provinces in the United States by elevating to the rank of archdiocese and created eleven new dioceses.

He saw that conditions among the clergy never slumped, particularly in the later years of his reign, when he often remarked he wished to leave everything in good order for his successor.

The five new archdioceses created by the Pope were Newark, Louisville, Detroit, San Antonio, and Los Angeles.

Mothers Culture Club Has Annual Guest Day Tea

PANHANDLE, Feb. 10.—"We have all had our castles in Spain, mine was Italy," said Mrs. Eloise Gipson of Amarillo, when she spoke to a large audience of club women this week in the basement of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Gipson related many interesting incidents concerning her travels in Italy, describing most vividly the entire trip from the time she sailed from New York until her return to America.

The occasion of the annual guest day tea given by Mothers' Self Culture club.

Mrs. Gipson gave her lecture in a setting of home-like surroundings, as the basement was decorated with soft lighted floor lamps, divans, and rugs.

Bouquets of cut flowers placed throughout the basement lent a cheerful note.

Preceding Mrs. Gipson's lecture, the high school orchestra furnished music, and a group of the Mother Singers, composed of Mrs. A. A. Armstrong, O. R. Owens, George Crow, Jim Mecasky, and E. H. Little, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Coe Cleek, sang "Rocking Time" by Knox, and "Pirate's Dream" by Hunter.

Following the lecture-tea, opening of green and white sandwiches, cookies, and green and white mints were served from a lace-covered table, with an arrangement of white sweet peas and fern forming the centerpiece. Green and white candies in silver candelabra were placed at either end of the table. Mrs. Earl Numm presided at the tea service.

Sunshine HD Club Studies Production Problems This Week

SKELLYTOWN, Feb. 10.—"Production Problems" were studied by members of the Sunshine Home Demonstration club of Skellytown Tuesday afternoon when they met at the home of Mrs. E. F. Crawford.

Roll call was answered by naming a "Vegetable That Can Be Easily Grown," "The Market Basket" was discussed by Mrs. Arvil Williams.

"Potato Facts for the Consumer to Remember" were given by Miss Bernice Westbrook, county home demonstration agent of Carson county. By the addition of small amounts of milk and butter, potatoes can be made a well-balanced food. They should not take the place of recommended amounts of milk, fruits, other vegetables, and meat, but present average consumption should not be decreased. In fact, the type of meals chosen by many families could be improved by increasing the use of potatoes.

Mrs. Gipson gave her lecture in a setting of home-like surroundings, as the basement was decorated with soft lighted floor lamps, divans, and rugs.

Green and white candies in silver candelabra were placed at either end of the table. Mrs. Earl Numm presided at the tea service.

"Potatoes should be selected for low protein, low waste, and high cooking quality. Preparation waste can be judged to some extent by the grade and appearance of the tubers. Cooking quality is not uniform for a given variety, nor can it be judged by inspection at the market. To retain high cooking quality, it is necessary to store potatoes at about 50 degrees F. Those which are intended for use after the period of dormancy is over may be held at lower temperatures and reconditioned by holding at room temperature for a week or two before use," stated Miss Westbrook.

"Baking and steaming are methods of cooking which conserve the food value of potatoes to the greatest extent. Baking and boiling, especially if the tubers are pared before boiling, give the highest degree of meanness. Slicing and breaking up are characteristic of newly harvested tubers and disappear as storage proceeds. Baking and steaming in the skin are the best methods of cooking such tubers.

Potatoes which become dark in color during cooking can be improved by cooking them in milk or by mashing and adding milk promptly when cooking is stopped. Potatoes which are stored at temperatures below 45 degrees F. accumulate sugar. This causes an objectionable sweetness, diminishes meanness, and produces an undesirable frying color. Potatoes can be

Bride-Elect Named Honoree At Pre-Nuptial Shower

PANHANDLE, Feb. 10.—Complimenting Miss Mittle Bell Roberts, who will be the bride of Ralph Hastings on Feb. 19, Mrs. Gary Simms was hostess at a pre-nuptial shower in her home this week.

Games of "Hearts" furnished the entertainment for the evening. Winners of high and low in the heart games presented the awards of guest towels to Miss Roberts.

Following the games the many gifts were opened by the honoree. The Valentine motif was stressed in the decorations and refreshments. Sixty guests were invited to the affair. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Henry Hastings and Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath of Hereford, Mrs. Skeet Roberts of Pampa, Mrs. Harold Simms and Mrs. Knox Whitney of Amarillo.

Three Meals a Day WITH THE GREATEST OF EASE

Three meals a day, one thousand and ninety-five meals a year; that's a lot of cooking in any woman's kitchen. It takes time and effort. It cuts a big slice out of everyday. It's the house-keeper's toughest job. What can be done about it?

The NEW gas range has got what it takes. It will put Mrs. Housewife's cooking problems behind her. It will do a better job—tastier, more deliciously cooked meals—in less time, with less trouble and with LESS gas. It will take the guesswork out of cooking and will give Mrs. Housewife long, delightful hours for leisure and recreation, hours she formerly spent in the kitchen watching an uncertain oven. And because it is so simple in construction and design, it can be cleaned as quickly as a table top.

See these new gas ranges now on display at your local dealer's. You'll want one in your home.

Small Stockholders' Help Needed

Babson Urges Changes In Selecting Boards Of Directors

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 10.—This is the open season on annual reports. Readers who own a few shares of stock are now hearing about "our company during the past year, etc." These reports are so inadequate and uninteresting that few people have the patience to read them. After receiving a few myself, I have a strong feeling that in playing up the battle between capital (investors) and labor (wage earners), we are only telling half the story. We should publicize the need for better management as well. The small stockholder's lot is a difficult one. Fundamentally, if he is not willing to study the affairs of his corporation, he should not invest money in it. Too many people become stockholders because they want to buy stock that "is going up." They pay no attention to the actual running of the company. Because this is true, the management—sometimes owning little or no interest in the company—has practically a free hand. They pay themselves whatever salaries they want to; they buy and sell real estate; they enter into contracts, and they conduct the entire business to suit themselves.

Annual Reports Incomplete. Outside of showing the cash position, the accounts payable, and the net income, the ordinary annual report does not mean a thing to the average investor. There is little of fundamental value to those sincerely interested. Managements get by with these reports by paying large bonuses to the stockholders who are organized and unrepresented groups. There is a tremendous need in this country for small stockholders to take a greater interest in the affairs of their companies. Investors have been squeezed long enough by grafting politicians, by late leaders, and unscrupulous "insiders."

Chairman William Douglas of the S. E. C. is starting public thinking along this line. He recognizes that the publication of transactions of officers and directors in the securities of their companies is only one step. It has stopped a certain amount of "inside" security manipulation. But that alone will not give us better management. So he has done two important things recently:

1. He has required a new proxy form in order to make boards of directors more careful of their actions.

2. He has suggested that boards of directors be composed of management, plus "professional" directors, who are experts in their line.

New Proxy Form. Stockholders will recall the old type of annual "proxy." By signing the little card, the stockholder empowered several of the directors to vote his stock in any way they wished at the annual meeting. The new proxy requires giving information on what is to be voted upon; it lists the directors and the amount of company securities they own; and certain other interests the directors may have in the company. For instance, a director may also be the company's attorney. If so, his legal fees must be reported.) This is a big step. It will open many a stockholder's eyes! My forecast is that the corporation lawyer will cut his fee if he continues to be a director. Many board members will buy some stock in the company they are "directing" or resign in favor of others who do have a substantial financial interest in the company. Finally, the stockholder, before he gives his proxy, will know the nature of the business to be voted upon at the meeting.

"Professional Directors." Mr. Douglas' second step is still in the "talking-it-over" stage. To employ "professional" directors would be hitting at the same trouble that I wanted to correct when I recommended a stockholders' union last year. Currently, many boards of directors are composed of three or four managing officers of the company plus two or three outside directors.

It is not their fault. The directors' fees are so small they cannot afford to give time to the company's affairs. They simply okay what the management recommends. Many of these members go on the board for contact information and for the honor of being a "big shot." Chairman Douglas' directors, however, would be experts in their line. They would have nothing else to do but be directors. They would represent not only stockholders but workers and customers. They would be well-paid for their job. They would make the board of directors what it is supposed to be: A check on the officers and operating policies of the company.

I am not advocating that we should have new legislation covering this. We have enough laws, would hate to see the government get any further into business. It has made a terrible flop of most of the industries it has tried to regulate.

More Concern For Businessman

There is discernible in the 76th Congress a more favorable attitude toward the American businessman—more concern for his problems—than can be ascribed to any national legislature since the advent of the New Deal six years ago. Writes Alfred Flynn in Barron's.

This probably means that those congressmen who take pleasure in heckling business, though they may be as vocal as ever, will be less an influence when it comes to actually getting legislation passed.

The other big current issue is rearmament. The President, in special message, has said that in a world of force we must be as strong as any power; that we must, therefore, embark on greatest peacetime armament program in our history.

Fiscal policy and armament will hold the center of the Congressional stage for some time. Then will come other items on this Congress' calendar.

The Nation's Press

ROOSEVELT'S SUBVERSION OF GOVERNMENT (Chicago Tribune) Mr. Roosevelt leaves little room for doubt that he is determined to put the American government in the hands of the most radical and revolutionary men he can find in the next year.

To succeed a Taft appointee on the interstate commerce commission he has nominated Thomas R. Amle, the Wisconsin congressman who has been so far out on the left of the La Follette Progressive party that even the La Follette themselves could not find him.

Mr. Roosevelt is rallying from his setback in the primaries and the election with the determination to push his revolution ahead on every line of attack as rapidly as possible.

When it seemed politically advisable to take the heat off the WPA because of the proved scandals of political manipulation of destitution and relief funds, Mr. Hopkins, the administrator, was sent to the department of commerce.

Mr. Hopkins' assistant, Aubrey Williams, another radical who violated canons of common decency in the spending of public money, has been transferred to the National Youth administration.

The Michigan governor, Frank Murphy, who nourished the sit-down strike and coddled the communist seizure of industries, has been rewarded, marvelous to say, by being made head of the department of justice and chief federal law enforcer.

The nomination of Mr. Amle follows the line of political procedure indicated in the appointments which preceded it. Mr. Roosevelt is searching the country for the most radical men he can find and intends to place the business of government in their hands.

The nomination of Amle may cause many senators to restudy that idea as it becomes apparent that Mr. Roosevelt is setting up a government of commissars with the unspoken purpose of hastening the revolution on the country as its heritage from him, with or without the third term.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ---

By R. C. Hoiles

Hitler is thoroughly convinced that democracy cannot survive while other people are thoroughly convinced that democracy is the best form of government.

Probably Hitler is speaking about the kind of a democracy which most people in the United States believe is democracy; that is, that it is the voting majority—that the voting majority has a right to regulate the lives of the minority.

There is not much question that this kind of a democracy cannot survive long. The United States is rapidly drifting into a majority rule government and no place in history has a majority rule government ever lasted long or produced a high standard of living.

On the other hand, there are people who believe that real democracy is something that has never existed but they believe that, to the degree we approach real democracy, do we develop character and prosperity for the people.

This condition, of course, has never existed any place in the world. Profound students of history are of the opinion that we more nearly approached this condition in the United States between 1868 and 1913 than any other time in our history.

Real democracy is an ideal for which we should constantly strive. It invariably is a result of the spread of the philosophy of Christianity—that each man has a right to make decisions with the least possible coercion; and, in addition, those people with foresight use their energy largely in creating public opinion that will permit an approach to real democracy.

It is time people began to understand what is meant by democracy.

RECORD OF MADDEN, AS HEAD OF NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

In a controversy between Senator Burke and Madden, head of the National Labor Relations Board, in an open letter to Senator Burke, Madden intimated his knowledge of what constituted a true democratic government is superior to the Senator's.

In challenging this statement, the Senator said he would be judged on the record and against Madden's record he placed the responsibility for the appointment of Dr. David J. Sapos, the board's chief counsel.

Burke pointed out that Sapos was the leader of the Conference for Progressive Labor Action which he recalled stated its program in the words, "It's aim is to inspire the workers to take control of industry and government, abolish the present capitalist system and build a workers' republic, and an economic system operated for the benefit of the masses and not for the few."

And Madden is the man who selected Sapos who believes that they themselves are wise enough to determine what work should be done, what job each man should have, what price each article should be sold for, how long each man should work, what trade he should learn and, in fact, do away with all freedom of choice as to enterprise and business.

This is the character of men now at the head of our government who are so deluded as to their own wisdom that they think the combined judgment and wisdom of all the people is less than their own wisdom.

If there ever was any cause for condemning Hitler and Stalin, we have men at the head of our government who are just as conceited in their superhuman wisdom as these men in foreign lands.

Before we devote so much time and energy in criticizing other governments, it is high time we wake up to what is taking place in our own land. When we have men at the head of the legal department in the National Labor Relations Board who believe as Sapos does, we do not seem to realize what is taking place in our own country.

ARGUMENT FOR FEDERAL ASSISTANCE

About the only argument that anyone can think of for the Federal Government giving assistance to its citizens is the fact that they have been robbed by the bad laws passed by the Federal Government and if the Federal Government is the cause of people being out of employment and going broke and becoming insolvent, it only seems fair that the local subdivisions should not be asked to take care of people, when it was not their fault.

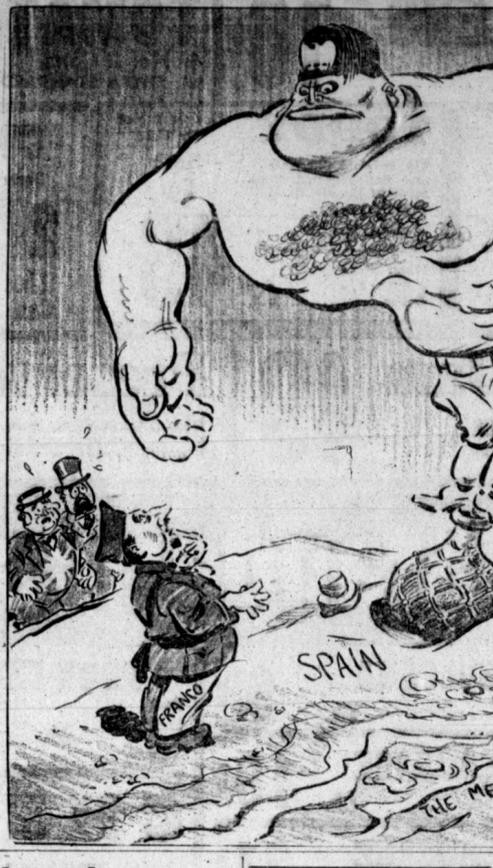

But it must be remembered that the Federal Government is all of us and we, as Congressional and Senatorial districts, are responsible collectively for the laws we have passed. So, we might as well realize that we, in each territory, who have sent the wrong kind of representatives, should do what relief work is necessary, rather than depending on the Federal Government.

HOLLYWOOD—Deep in the heart of the jungle over the studio ice rink the junior Tarzan and his screen mamma walked hand in hand down a carefully impromptu forest path to be surprised by a gang of stalwart blacks in the service of white explorers, Henry Wilcoxon and Frieda Inescort.

And on the sidelines, his foot resting on a cage wherein reposed a sixth sleeping upside down, stood the junior Tarzan's papa—Reginald Sheffield.

"I shouldn't say it, being his father, but Johnny's a mighty fine little boy," said Arthur Sheffield, who has been in plenty of pictures but is not in "Tarzan in Exile."

When I met Johnny I had to agree. He is a nice, tough little hunk, having a picnic swinging in prop trees in a loincloth and body make-up. It's in character that he shouldn't brush his hair much, which from Johnny's point of view is all to the good.

Johnny was an incubator baby, but at seven years of age he's brawnier than most. He came into his big role via one of those nation-wide talent hunts which, true to form, ended where it began—in Hollywood.

The senior Sheffield is English but Johnny, his brother, sister, and mother are American. Sheffield himself has been in this country since childhood, coming over after playing the boy "David Copperfield" in England. He came to Hollywood in 1930 to play the romantic lead in George Arliss' "Old English," which shows how time marches on in this country.

Congratulations and best wishes to J. A. Paris, whose 92nd birthday is today; Grandpa Paris is one of the oldest residents of Gray county, and all his old and new friends will be glad to know that his health is fine and his mind is good.

Mr. Paris has lived in Gray county for more than 50 years. He is the father of Leo Paris and Mrs. E. A. Shackleton. Another son, W. S. Paris, lives in California, and another daughter, Mrs. L. O. Boney, lives near Morse.

Mr. Paris lives on the Sheffield farm east of Pampa. Numerous old friends will likely call on Mr. Paris today if the weather is fit. Don't ever say that true charity has passed away. For instance, there is a woman in Pampa who does not let her right hand know what her left hand is doing when it comes to charity.

She positively forbids mention of her name in connection with charitable deeds. One of the things she does is clothe and feed the poor.

Judge Thomas Mel By U. S. Marshal

CRISTOBAL, C. Z., Feb. 10 (AP)—Met by a United States marshal and a government agent, Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the United States district court in Connecticut was reported today to be planning to return on the first available steamer ship to New York, where his appearance is wanted before a grand jury.

The judge and Mrs. Thomas arrived here this morning aboard the liner Santa Barbara from New York. It was understood the purser of the Santa Barbara was trying for reservations for them on the United Fruit steamer, Quirigua, which is scheduled to sail tomorrow night.

A subpoena was issued last Friday in New York for Judge Thomas, directing him to appear "forthwith" before the grand jury investigating the business dealings of Martin T. Manton, resigned senior judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the second circuit.

How's Your Health?

LONGER LIVES

Since the turn of the century the number of individuals in the United States 60 years of age and over increased by about 52 per cent as compared with the general increase of only 33 per cent in the total population.

Statistics predict that this "aged population" will increase much more as preventive medicine continues to develop.

The medical care of the older population has become a specialty under the name of "geriatrics." Longevity is being studied not only in terms of the duration of life but also in terms of physical and mental health of the aged.

A recent study of 25 aged persons (13 men and 12 women) 80 years of age or over, who are still active and in good health, affords us some notable facts.

These persons were driving their own automobiles, some were still working for a livelihood, and many were active in play.

Most of them were genuinely interested in a variety of hobbies and all were socially active and alert. Socially, 30 per cent of them belonged to the upper class, 50 per cent to the middle class, and 20 per cent to the working class.

In this study, as in practically all studies of longevity, it was found that heredity is the fundamental factor. Each, save one, of the 25 persons studied had immediate relatives who lived beyond 75 years of age.

Few had suffered any serious infections, though practically all had suffered the usual childhood diseases. The group had had comparatively little surgery.

None of the men had ever been overweight. Four of the women had been about 20 per cent overweight for short periods while young.

Possibly the most interesting fact brought out was that none of them had ever been in any sense reformers or faddists in their personal habits. Moderation and temperance was their guiding rule.

They did not reveal any special dietary habits. All had eaten meat once a day throughout their lives. Forty per cent of the men used alcohol in moderation, and 60 per cent used tobacco. Coffee was used by 60 per cent of the group.

These persons were versatile in their activities but moderate in all things. All of them were, or had been, married although several had no children.

They were planning to return on the first available steamer ship to New York, where his appearance is wanted before a grand jury.

The chief purpose of a profit is to become an incentive, so that the producer will be persuaded to further produce.

If a profit is reasonable, to whom must it be reasonable? It is reasonable that the producer should seek the greatest possible reward for his services, however if the reward he seeks is too great, the consumer may be inclined to do without or find someone who is willing to produce an equivalent for less.

It is also reasonable that the consumer should wish to pay only the smallest profit necessary, to induce someone to supply what he wants.

Therefore a reasonable profit is sufficiently large to inspire efforts, attract capital and insure future production. Yet it must be small enough to bring about the sufficient consumption necessary to produce the maximum NET return, and discourage competition from those less fit to serve.

Stated another way a reasonable profit CONTINUALLY procures the largest NET reward for the producer.

Area Singers Will Meet In Pampa Sunday

Continuing the custom inaugurated last August, the second Top O' Texas singing convention will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Pampa.

So successful was the convention held last year that radio station KPND, sponsor of the meeting, announced that the convention would be a regular event.

Lawrence T. Jones of LeFors, director of the convention last year, will again lead the meeting Sunday. He will be assisted by L. H. Earhman of Alameda, who was also an official at the August singing convention.

The program, which will be broadcast over KPND, will consist of old and new gospel songs. Carl Courson, Pampa; E. J. Cooper, Texola, Okla.; Newt Waldron, Claremore; J. C. Carter, Berger, William Roush and Buster Dickinson, both of LeFors, were members of the committee in charge of the convention held here Aug. 7, 1938, and will act in the same office for the convention next week.

Acceptances have been received from Austin Williams of the James D. Vaughn Music Company, Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; and from Clarence, Hedley, Amarillo, Canyon singers; Rev. Troy A. Sumral of McLean, and from singers from Wheeler, Hechinson, and Carson counties.

There will be special songs sung by members of the First Baptist church of Pampa. The program will also include short talks by Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of the Pampa First Baptist church; Rev. Troy A. Sumral of McLean, and by a representative of the Pampa Class songs and congregational singing will have a place on the program and all class directors are invited to attend the convention.

On Sunday night, a song program will be given at the Phillips Community hall. Several songs from the convention will be on the program given at the community hall, located 10 miles south of Pampa.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—With few exceptions, and for no apparently outstanding reason, leading stocks rode downward currents in today's market.

Losses of fractions to more than 2 points were well distributed at the close. A handful of merchandises, aviation and specialty issues were resistant, but even these seldom got far out in front and, in some cases, relinquished their advantage at the finish.

Brokerage quarters, searching for an explanation for the slide, offered the suggestion that trading timidity might have been the result of fresh doubts regarding settlement of European problems.

Prominent in the losing van were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, North American, Westinghouse, Douglas Aircraft, Glenn Martin and Sperry.

Contending the move were United Aircraft, Marshall Field, Sears Roebuck, N. Y. City Omnibus and Commercial Solvent.

Softness of commodities was a chilling factor for stocks.

POPE

all Rome by the deep-throated "Campanone," 11-ton master of the great bell tower on St. Peter's, which started tolling its requiem at 6:38 a. m. The bell sounded for 30 minutes.

At the order of Cardinal Selvaggiani, as the pope's vicar in the Rome diocese, proclamations of death were nailed to the doors of the city's 400 churches.

His last years were saddened by war between the peoples he loved in Spain, by troubles between the church and state in Germany, and by the racial measures of the Fascist Italian state.

Death was believed hastened by his determination to celebrate fittingly two proud anniversaries of his reign—that of the Lateran treaty Saturday and the 17th of his coronation on Sunday.

Oxygen had been administered last evening after a severe attack during which the pontiff lapsed from consciousness for 30 minutes, but at midnight he was said to be resting easily.

A change was noticed soon after 4 a. m.

Given Extreme Unction

Dr. Filippo Rocchi, who had attended since Tuesday in the absence of Dr. Milani, noted a pulse could hardly be felt and notified the papal secretary of state, Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, the end was near.

Monsignor de Romanis, the pontiff's sacristan, administered extreme unction as cardinals, Dr. Milani, and other functionaries were summoned hastily.

The pope's nephew, Count Franco Ratti, Monsignor de Romanis, Cardinal Pacelli, nurses and a few other dignitaries knelt by the bedside.

Dr. Archille Luigi Bonome, famous urologist, had been summoned last night about 9 p. m. Shortly afterward, sources close to the pope said, the pope paled and suffered an attack of asthma.

Persons nearby said they thought the pontiff finally realized the end was near, following at attack of asthma which occurred about midnight.

After that, they said, he appeared resigned to death.

The Vatican newspaper, Osservatore Romano, said the holy father "appreciated the gravity of his condition and evidenced a desire to receive the sacred sacrament."

As 5 a. m. as the pope's condition became steadily more alarming, oxygen was administered for a second time.

As the oxygen mask was applied to the pontiff's face, Monsignor Deromani began reciting prayers while those gathered around the bed knelt.

Osservatore Romano said the pope attempted to join the ritual with gestures of the head and hands.

At 5:20, the narrative continued, "the rasping became even more fatiguing and Professor Malani announced to the grave consternation of those present that the end must be considered imminent. The pius passing occurred, in fact, a few minutes later."

At 5:30 Monsignor Deromani approached the great pontiff and asked him to repeat with him the admirable Christian prayer, "Jesus, Joseph and Mary, may my soul expire in peace with you."

Kiss Pontiff's Hand

"Calmly," said the paper, "with a serenity which reflected the purity of a life devoted entirely to God, his holiness, turning his head toward the right, yielded up his fine soul to God."

After Dr. Milani pronounced the pope dead, Cardinals Pacelli and Caccia Dominioni kissed the pontiff's hand.

The traditional ceremony of the church, Cardinal Pacelli, as interim ruler, made the official pronouncement of death of the 261st pope—born Achille Ratti, the son of an Italian silk worker.

As if the pope still lived, Cardinal Pacelli approached the death bed and drew back the white veil that covered the pontiff's face. Flickers of light from dozens of candles fell upon the aged countenance.

"Achille" called the thin, ascetic cardinal who for many years had worked closely with his temporal ruler.

The call echoed through the small, plain bedroom.

No answer.

"The pope," said the cardinal, "is truly dead."

In quavering voices those in the room began the "De Profundis," the Latin prayer for the dead: "Out of the depths, O Lord, do I cry unto thee."

Cardinal Francesco Marchetti Selvaggiani, the pope's vicar to say the Rome diocese, began to say mass in the pope's private chapel a few feet from the death bed.

Cardinal Pacelli and the other cardinals removed their violet monteletras, their distinguishing mark of rank, since they now were more than cardinals—each with a chance to become the next pontiff.

Cardinal Pacelli went soon to

Judge Sentences M'Graw, White

Sentences of Clyde McGraw, convicted of murder, and of Robert W. White, convicted of assault with intent to commit rape, were read in district court this morning by W. R. Ewing, district judge.

McGraw was convicted in a verdict returned by a jury on Feb. 2 of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of W. Oscar Williams, Pampa apartment house owner, on the night of Dec. 11. He was indicted by a 31st district grand jury on Jan. 5.

McGraw was sentenced to be delivered by the Gray county sheriff to the state penitentiary, there to be confined for an indeterminate period of not less than two nor more than 99 years.

Robert W. White, convicted in a verdict returned on Jan. 13, was sentenced to be delivered by the Gray county sheriff to the state penitentiary, there to be confined for an indeterminate period of not less than two nor more than eight years.

White was indicted on Jan. 6 for assault upon a 12-year-old Pampa girl on the night of Dec. 8.

Neither White nor McGraw had any reason to advance why sentence should not be passed against them, when questioned on this point by Judge Ewing.

Motion for a new trial in White's case was overruled by the district judge.

Scouts Will Hold Offices Tomorrow

A parade of Boy Scout handicraft and activities, led by a band, will officially open Boy Scout week here tonight, starting at the corner of Brown and Cuyler streets.

The Scout displays will be mounted on trucks, each lighted by flares. The boys have been working long and hard on their displays and they invite Pampans to be downtown to see their parade.

Immediately following the parade the Scouts, their parents and anyone interested in the Boy Scout movement, will gather in the city hall where an election will be held. Boys from local troops will be elected to both county and city offices and tomorrow between the hour of 11 and noon Boy Scouts will operate both city and county.

representative of the audience's. So the R. R. after listening came to these conclusions:

That the play was even better than it was in rehearsal which the writer attended several times.

That Aubrey C. (Fozzy) Green Jr. said all of his 666 lines without forgetting, and that he was "about the best one."

That Carolyn Sue Surratt, who played the role of the old maid, was the next best, and that she might have been the best if she had had to say as many lines as "Fozzy."

That the lower floor of the auditorium was comfortably filled with some sitting in the balcony.

In the other students in the play, Jack Johnson, Jeanne Lively, Ed Terrell, Chester Carpenter, Jerry Smith, James Foran, Bobby Karr, Marjory McColm, Bonnie Lee Rose, Heidi Schneider, Hugh Anderson, were very good, indeed.

That Ed Terrell was particularly impressive as an Indian. He not only grunted and talked like one but danced like one, and Mammy thought he must be part Indian, anyway.

SLOW STARTING IS OLD-FASHIONED
Since Phillips 66 Came to Town

"WHAT A FUNNY LOOKING CAR" is the universal comment on any 1910 model. Actually, the gasoline of that era is just as funny, compared with that of today.

Progress in motor car design has been more than matched by improvements in motor fuels. And one of the leaders among modern gasolines is today's high test Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

No other gasoline will so consistently give you fast starting in freezing weather, because no other gasoline so consistently tops the list in high test quality. Yet you pay not a penny extra for this extra high test, because Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Your modern car will yield a new high in engine performance with this modern, high test, high energy, custom-tailored motor fuel.

Try a tankful... compare... see if Phillips 66 Poly Gas doesn't give you just about the fastest cold-weather starting you have ever enjoyed.

Finals Of Golden Gloves Will Be Tonight

Hubert Will Meet Romack In One Bout

Golden Gloves boxers who will wade through the barrage of leather to be thrown at the Pampa Athletic arena tonight will be crowned champions and will represent this section of the state in the tournament in Fort Worth next week from where winners will go to the Chicago national tournament.

Two exhibition bouts almost stole the show when Charles Brethauer of Pampa and Maurice Ford of Stinnett, a couple of 80-pounders, went to a slugger draw. In the other exhibition, Roland Berger of Stinnett and Delbert Ware of Borger, 100-pounders, waged almost even war with Ware getting the final nod.

Winners will also be awarded miniature gold boxing gloves, beautifully engraved, at the close of tonight's card. Expenses of the boys to Fort Worth will be paid by the Pampa News Golden Gloves Association, sponsors of the tournament. Proceeds from the tourney will be used for the advancement of amateur sports in this section.

The victory march of Jake Bible of Alamo to a second featherweight title was halted last night when R. Robertson of LeFors threw leather from all angles to win the unanimous decision of the judges. Both boys stood toe to toe and battled with Robertson getting in the most telling blows.

Hubert Wins Again. Denver Hubert, Pampa lightweight, kept up his sensational work by staging a second one-round knockout of the tournament. Leaving his corner with fists flying, Hubert never stopped until he had Orland Sheppard of Higgins on the canvass in one minute and 20 seconds. It took Hubert one minute and 40 seconds to dispose of Earl Sward of Stinnett in his first bout.

When any two boys can throw more leather than John Kidwell of Pampa and Junior Romack of Stinnett threw last night in their lightweight bout, Pampa fans want to see them. Neither backed off an inch and neither wasted a second from going to gong. Judges had a tough time but gave Romack the nod because of more stinging punches and an edge in offense.

Hornback Connects. Qualifying for a berth in the finals was Claude Robertson of Bor-

LeRoy Davis, 198

The capable-looking battler pictured above will defend his Golden Gloves title tonight when he faces Dewey Vaughn of West Texas State College in a heavyweight match. ger, a welterweight. He won his second bout of the tournament, deciding Woodrow Gates of Higgins in a slugger encounter. It was Robertson's second fight of his career.

A favorite of the tournament dropped from the picture last night when Mage Keyser of Pampa took one of Joe Hornback's looping rights on the jaw. The Canadian youth slung leather from all angles but had been outpointed by the cagey Keyser in the opening round. Early in the second, Keyser parried a flurry of rights and left, and stepped back only to have Hornback charge and drive a looping right to his jaw which sent him to the canvass for the count.

Louis Brickell of Borger and Steve Thomas of Canyon entered the finals in the light-heavyweight division, Brickell deciding League Clay of Canyon and Thomas winning by a knockout on Ogie Jones of Higgins.

Eud Yaunt of Borger won his flyweight battle and the right to meet Champion Benny Moore in the finals tonight. Frankie Bills advanced to the bantamweight finals with a win over Doug Keyser of Borger. He will meet Taylor Miller of Higgins for the title. Miller having decided Lester Aylor of Stinnett in a great battle which saw the short CCC CAMP, Chisos Mountains, Big Bend Park Area, Texas, Feb. 10 (AP)—They've bred all the bellow out of the bulls.

That is the chief regret of J. Frank Dobie, Texas folklore writer, who has run out on English classes he teaches in the University of Texas to "hole up" in the mountains here while he works on his next book, "Texas Longhorns."

"There was something about the lusty blare of the old Longhorn maverick bull that used to stalk out into a clearing in the brush and challenge the whole world," the writer said. "It got under your skin and made you aware of the wild rugged spirit of the creature behind it."

Dobie said he could remember watching old Longhorn bulls in battle when he was a boy on the Dobie ranch in Live Oak county. "They would lift sand upon their backs and hecks with their fore feet, bellowing constantly. They would kneel down to dust their shoulders in buffalo wallows, born the dirt banks, working themselves into the proper mood for battle. Then they would lower their heads and charge, and acres of brush would be trampled before one bull succeeded in going to death or whipping out the other. It was a grand spectacle."

The writer admits the purebred Hereford bull, common on West Texas ranges today, carries twice the flesh of the old Longhorn and is worth much more money. "But he can't bellow," he laments. "He sounds like a sick cow calling her calf. No power behind it."

Dobie arrived here about two weeks ago and intends to spend some six weeks working on his book, which is to be a comprehensive history of the development of the Longhorns from the time the first Spanish cattle were unloaded on the island of Santa Domingo by Columbus on his second voyage to America. One chapter will be devoted to the Longhorn bull whose passing he so regrets.

The writer "batches" in one of the cabins erected by CCC workers here in 1937.

"Bathing is easier now than it used to be," he said. "There's almost nothing you can't get out of a can."

To clear his mind between working hours, Dobie chops stove wood or explores the wild mountain peaks about him, sometimes accompanied by the only other occupant of the camp, Custodian Lloyd Wade.

Stinnett boy make a valiant fight against height and reach. Earl Brown of Adrian jumped up as welterweight contender with a technical knockout over Dobby Baugh of Borger.

Bouts tonight will begin promptly at 8 o'clock with admission $1 ring-side and 40 cents general admission. The tourney will close with the heavyweight clash between Champion LeRoy Davis of Higgins and Challenger Dewey Vaughn of Canyon.

Flyweights. Bud Yaunt, Stinnett, won on a technical knockout in the second round from Jack Sargeant, Stinnett.

Bantamweight. Taylor Miller, Higgins, decided Lester Aylor, Stinnett; Frankie Bills, Shamrock, decided Doug Keyser, Pampa.

Lightweight. Denber Hubert, Pampa, kayoed Orland Sheppard, Higgins, one round; Junior Romack, Stinnett, decided John Kidwell, Pampa.

Welterweight. Claude Robertson, Borger, decided Woodrow Gates, Higgins; Earl Brown, Adrian, won on a technical knockout from Dobby Baugh, Borger, second round.

Middleweight. Joe Hornback, Canadian, kayoed Mage Keyser, Pampa, second round.

Light Heavyweight. Louis Brickell, Borger, won on a decision from League Clay, Canyon; Steve Thomas, Canyon, kayoed Ogie Jones, Higgins, second round.

Feller Gives Sound Advice To Hutchinson

By GAYLE TALBOT.

DELRAY BEACH, Fla., Feb. 10 (AP)—Bob Feller stretched himself luxuriously in the hot sunshine and said he thought maybe he ought not try to give any advice to Fred Hutchinson, the kid pitching sensation from Seattle who is coming up to the Detroit Tigers this season under the handicap of a whopping price tag.

I had suggested to Bob, who is spending the winter here with his parents and some members of the Cleveland club, that his and Hutchinson's cases were similar. Bob also having jumped feet-first into the big time as a juvenile wonder. "I just liked to throw a baseball only a couple of years ago with, if anything, more fanfare than will attend Hutchinson's advent."

"You must have had painful experiences before you finally got so hot toward the close of last season, Bob. Aren't there maybe a few things you could advise Hutchinson not to do?"

"Well," related the pride of Van Meter, Iowa, "I guess it would be all right if I advised him not to throw the ball around too much when he's not pitching. That was my big trouble at first."

"I just liked to throw a baseball and was doing it all the time, giving myself hard warm-ups on days I wasn't pitching."

"Another thing—the fellows I had been pitching to would bite at my curve outside the plate, especially when I had two strikes on 'em. But these big league batters are mean about that. She's got to be over the plate for them."

"Another thing that Hutchinson might have to learn. The first season I would go crazy when there were runners on first and third. Just one of the dozens of little things a pitcher has to learn when he gets in the big leagues."

"Probably the biggest thing Hutchinson will have to learn is not to try too hard and not to worry."

Two Shamrock Teams Wallop LeFors Quints

SHAMROCK, Feb. 10.—Two Shamrock Irish basketball teams handed the LeFors crews a double defeat Wednesday night on the local court.

In the opening game, the Shamrock B team took the LeFors B team to a 23 to 15 cleaning and then the Irishmen turned around and let the Pirates down on the short end of a 34 to 27 count to even the series for the season.

The Pirates were off to a slight lead in the first part of the first period but the fighting Irish had knotted the count at 15-15 at half-time and scored 19 points to the Pirates 12 in the final half to put the game on ice.

Buice, Irish captain and center, was the high point man for the affray, sinking seven field goals and four free tries for a total of 18 points. Billy Ellington, Pirate forward, one of the best forwards in this section of the country, was second high in the race with 11 points. Sutterfield, Shamrock, won the eighth point and was followed closely by Wilson of the Irish and Pite of the Pirates with six points each.

In the B game Haynes of the Irish was high point man with eight points and Rives, Lanford and Clark of the Irish team and Barnett and Cooper of the Pirates each got four points.

Line-ups—B teams, Shamrock—Caperton, Rives, Clark, Haynes and Lanford; LeFors—Watkins, Cooper, Bingham, Wall and Twigg. A teams, Shamrock—Buice, Puett, Sutterfield, Allen and Wilson; LeFors—Ellington, Johnson, Pite, Caruth, and Lee. Substitutes, Shamrock—Griswold and Howell; LeFors—Bowman and Barnett.

There are approximately 20,795 Friendly societies and their branches in England.

Water supplies of more than 4,000 American cities now are chlorinated. The practice has reduced the annual typhoid fever death rate from 25 to 4 per 100,000 of population.

Biggest Name In Golf Entered In Texas Open

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Short, exacting Brackenridge Park, its big greens listed as 18 nightmares by the world's greatest band of golfers, was the battleground today for a record field of 181 in the opening round of the $5,000 Texas open.

Favorites came cheap, with every big name in American golf except Sammy Sneed, the straight shooter West Virginian, entered.

Last minute arrival was National Open Champion Ralph Guldahl, a gangling, stooped Texan came back to the course on which he turned professional in 1930.

He took his place in the favored row along with Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Boston, the man who first the 12-under-par 59 in a practice round that broke the course record by five strokes and P. G. A. records or par 71 courses; Dick Metz, Jim Demaret, Byron Nelson, Harry Cooper, and Ben Hogan, all Texas products; Gene Sarazen, Ed Dudley, Jimmy Thomson, Lawson Little, Paul Runyan, National P. G. A. champion; Horton Smith, Vic Ghezzi and a flock of others.

Smooth stroking Ed Dudley was around in the pro-amateur and four short putts bumped into the back of the hole and stayed out by inches. Johnny Revolta was low for the day with 66.

Two teams without benefit of gallery, Harold Sieg of Minot, N. D., and Dr. Edgar O'Quinn, San Antonio dentist; and Mike Murra.

Roper Signed As Joe Louis' Foe

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10 (AP)—Jack Roper, veteran Los Angeles heavyweight, newly signed as Joe Louis' ring foe in a title bout planned for April here, goes into the ring tonight for his last time until the Louis engagement in a bout with Junior Munsell, Oklahoma Indian.

Roper was an overwhelming favorite to knock out Munsell long before the expiration of the scheduled 10 rounds.

The site of the Louis-Roper affair has not been decided upon, but there is a strong possibility Los Angeles Memorial coliseum, which seats 101,000 may be obtained.

Olympic Swimmer Better Record

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—Ralph Flanagan, Olympic swimming champion, bettered his own record in the 300-yard free-style event last night at the University of Texas aquaticade. The Miami, Fla., swimmer covered the distance in three minutes, 5.5 seconds as against his own record of three minutes eight seconds. Miss Jane Dillard, Austin, negotiated 50 yards breast stroke, in 33.5 seconds, clipping 3.5 seconds off the American record.

Ohio State's record of 4:34.7 in the 400-yard breast-stroke fell by 4.7 seconds in a performance by Mike Sojka of Buffalo, N. Y.; Wally Hoffrichter, Detroit, Mich.; Dick Peller, Topeka, Kas., and Bob Tarlton, Fort Worth.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

In a Class B game rolled last night at Berry Alleys, Weir Barbers won two out of three from the Texas company and jumped into first place, sending the oilmen into a tie for second with Faulkner's and E. & M. Cafe.

Reeves of the Barbers was hitting the pins for the second consecutive night, rolling high game of 208 pins, one more than McCarthy of the oilmen, and having high series with 551 pins.

Cabot took three straight from Clint's Market, the Lions won all three from General Atlas, and Shell won two out of three from Jones-Everett in Class C games last night.

Darby of Cabot rolled high game of 220 pins and high series of 595 pins.

Only one Class B game will be played tonight, Gunn-Hiermann meeting the Kewman club.

Hubert Will Meet Romack In One Bout

Golden Gloves boxers who will wade through the barrage of leather to be thrown at the Pampa Athletic arena tonight will be crowned champions and will represent this section of the state in the tournament in Fort Worth next week from where winners will go to the Chicago national tournament.

Two exhibition bouts almost stole the show when Charles Brethauer of Pampa and Maurice Ford of Stinnett, a couple of 80-pounders, went to a slugger draw. In the other exhibition, Roland Berger of Stinnett and Delbert Ware of Borger, 100-pounders, waged almost even war with Ware getting the final nod.

Winners will also be awarded miniature gold boxing gloves, beautifully engraved, at the close of tonight's card. Expenses of the boys to Fort Worth will be paid by the Pampa News Golden Gloves Association, sponsors of the tournament. Proceeds from the tourney will be used for the advancement of amateur sports in this section.

The victory march of Jake Bible of Alamo to a second featherweight title was halted last night when R. Robertson of LeFors threw leather from all angles to win the unanimous decision of the judges. Both boys stood toe to toe and battled with Robertson getting in the most telling blows.

Hubert Wins Again. Denver Hubert, Pampa lightweight, kept up his sensational work by staging a second one-round knockout of the tournament. Leaving his corner with fists flying, Hubert never stopped until he had Orland Sheppard of Higgins on the canvass in one minute and 20 seconds. It took Hubert one minute and 40 seconds to dispose of Earl Sward of Stinnett in his first bout.

When any two boys can throw more leather than John Kidwell of Pampa and Junior Romack of Stinnett threw last night in their lightweight bout, Pampa fans want to see them. Neither backed off an inch and neither wasted a second from going to gong. Judges had a tough time but gave Romack the nod because of more stinging punches and an edge in offense.

Hornback Connects. Qualifying for a berth in the finals was Claude Robertson of Bor-

Another upstart, hey?" remarked McEwin when he learned that Plummer would be his opponent. "Huh, all time giving me kids so I'll be known as a cradle snatcher. Well, that's his hard luck because he's going to get what the rest got."

Plummer, a confident youngster who can get as rough and tough as the next one, is delighted that he can meet McEwin. "I'll get him," declared Plummer.

Bishop Speaks At Lions Club.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas, presiding bishop of the Methodist conferences of North Texas, North Texas, Central Texas, and New Mexico, was the principal speaker at the Lions club regular luncheon Thursday in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Bishop Holt, who came here from Shamrock where he presided for a four-day seminar attended by 35 Methodist pastors, preached a sermon on service held at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon at the First Methodist church. From Pampa he went to Denver and from there will go to Amarillo.

Despite all the liberals in this nation, Bishop Holt believes that war between Japan and America is bound to occur, he said in his speech to the Lions club. He told of America's stake in China and explained our relations in the Far East, the open door policy, and the Monroe Doctrine.

Frank Culberson presided at the meeting. Attendance was 80, including 13 guests, and the bishop, who was the principal speaker: Guests were F. A. Zimpher of Amarillo, Bill Cooper of Abilene, W. L. Lofland, deputy state superintendent of Pampa, Canyon; Rev. G. T. Palmer of Clarendon, Ralph Randal, Panhandle Lion; Rev. H. H. Bratcher, pastor of the McCullough-Harrah Methodist church of Pampa, Rev. W. C. House of Amarillo, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Pampa; Walter Daugherty, Pampa Rotarian; A. H. Meek, Robert Selby, George Pope, Mrs. F. E. Leech, and B. W. Rose, all of Pampa.

Indians Once Had Town Within Dallas. DALLAS, Feb. 10 (AP)—R. K. Harris of Dallas 14 years ago found an arrowhead in Palo Pinto county and since has been disproving accepted theories about Indians in the Southwest.

It was his hobby until a few days ago, but now as recorder of the Dallas Historical Museum at the Hall of State, Harris is commissioned to go ahead wrecking precedents and popular beliefs on a full time basis.

The arrowhead incident set Harris, then 12, on a course that has made him one of the most promising archeologists in this region. He has discovered 12 deposits of human culture in and adjoining Dallas county, proving Indians maintained permanent villages here, not temporary hunting sites.

The last was in a portion of Lake Dallas, normally under water but dry this year. There he found obdurate arrowheads that could have been no newer than New Mexico, pottery of the sand dune type from the Pecos region, and flint projectiles similar to those of the Panhandle, establishing that trade existed between these areas prior to the coming of white men.

Soul To Be Subject Of Lesson-Sermon. "Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 12.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord" (Isaiah 26:9).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon are the following from the Bible: "I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living" (Psalms 118:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortality, exempt from age and decay, has a glory of its own,—the radiance of soul, immortal men and women are models of spiritual sense, drawn by perfect Mind and deflected by those higher conceptions of loveliness which transcend all material sense" (page 247).

abandonment of Fort Concho, Conway served as bailiff for the United States court that will hear his case. He also was caretaker at the court-house for a number of years, served as co-jailer and a deputy sheriff for a time and otherwise represented the federal state and county governments.

PETER HEALS A LAME MAN. Text: Acts 3:1-10; 4:8-12. By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance.

"Peter and John were going up into the temple at the hour of prayer." Just think what that implies! The temple in a sense was the center of the religion and was the chief religious symbol of those who had crucified their Lord. How often, when someone in the church has mistreated an individual or done something out of harmony with the profession of religion, the individual wronged refuses to have anything more to do with the church!

How much more sensible was the attitude of Peter and John! The temple was still their temple. It was the place where Jesus had gone when He was in Jerusalem. In spite of those who practiced their religion unworthily, it was still a sacred place for them as Jews, and they did not allow the evil-doing of others to affect their attitude of faith and worship.

It is not this, however, with which our lesson deals, though it is by this means an unimportant thought. Here at the door of the temple, called the Gate Beautiful, was a lame man unable to walk whom kind hands carried and laid daily at the door that he might ask for alms of those who were entering. As Peter and John approached, the lame man asked for their charity. Peter bade him look earnestly at himself and John. The lame man was all agog, appreciating the interest and expecting some gift.

But Peter, who had neither silver nor gold to give him, gave him something out of his own pocket. The Master he commanded the lame man, in the name of Jesus, to rise up and walk.

We cannot explain the miracle or it would be no miracle. Let us leave the mystery just where it stands and seize upon the fact that in his readiness to give and act that these men had. Most of us cannot say, with Peter, that we have neither

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

Yesterday, Susie had loved Dick for four years, she recalls. Now he is gone. What would she do for money that she might hold him!

CHAPTER VI

SUSIE'S cry was a challenge and the fates must have heard. Else why did they busily begin to pull strings and paint a new backdrop for Susie? But it takes a while to rearrange the muddle of human personalities, even for the fates it takes a while to make the proper moves in the tricky game of life.

So Susie went on through the summer, adding public speaking to her course, studying far into the night because it was one way to pass the endless, meaningless hours. Her eyes became strained and bloodshot and she was fitted to spectacles, heavy, horn-rimmed affairs which were the last disastrous touch.

Not that the owlish effect of the glasses mattered to Susie. She had slumped mentally and spiritually. Her hands went uncareful for, she allowed her hair to grow, pushing it behind her ears, ignoring the ragged fringe on her neck, she bathed and dressed and let it go at that. She plodded wearily to her classes and the shop, at night she plodded back to her lonely room. She scarcely thought, simply endured.

She considered going home, back to the Wisconsin farm which she had left when the agricultural struggle was at its peak. Susie's father was on the farm, a lovable, blustering individual who had once been a power in the community. President of the rural school board, a director in two banks, proud possessor of a fertile section. Before Susie left home he had given up outside interests and become a dazed dark grubber for a livelihood. Susie adored her father, often she longed to see him.

There was also a stepmother on the farm and she was the reason why Susie decided against going home. Martha was shrill and positive and a nagger. Her disposition had not improved when prosperity went out the window. Susie could neither put up with Martha's tyranny herself, nor could she endure to be a daily witness to her father's unhappiness. So she stayed on in hopeless apathy.

IT was in the early fall, Susie had just passed her 23rd birthday, although, in her sagging maturity, it would have taken the family Bible to substantiate this fact, when the fates made their first definite move. And even then no one could have seen that the move in any way concerned Susie.

This first step took place in the office of Harker's department store, Chicago. Harker's, in the past five years, had steadily improved and was rapidly taking its place as one of the leading emporiums. John Harker, long a silent junior partner, had gained complete management of the store at the almost simultaneous deaths of his father and uncle, the staid, unimaginative senior partners. Immediately changes began to occur at Harker's. A modernistic front, all chromium and bent glass, out-dated fixtures replaced with the latest mode, practically all the stock dumped into a modern, bargain basement. New branches with imported goods, the highest paid advertising man in Chicago, the highest paid chef in the tear-room, the highest standards of merchandising in each and every department.

For two years Harker's went monthly more deeply into the red while waiting for Chicago shoppers to wake up to the fact that the new store was ultra-modern. The tide turned slowly. John Harker and Clifford Kane, his advertising head, watched each step. Now, after five years of ceaseless effort, Harker's had become the place to buy mink coats, Paris evening gowns, Irish linens, the accepted authority on hair styling and home decorating. If an article was nice, if it was exquisite and exclusive, Harker's had it and gradually profit to the owner had taken the place of loss.

PERHAPS, in looking about for strings to pull, the fates decided on John Harker because they knew he was a step ahead of his time, because he obtained results with a bulldog tenacity without counting the cost. Whatever the reason, John Harker sat at his mahogany desk one morning with several leading magazines open before him. John was a handsome man in the late forties, a big man with iron gray hair, keen eyes and an indomitable energy. John was a widower, a fact which had been carefully noted by many Chicago women, but which they seemed unable to do anything about.

After perusing the magazines for half an hour he sent for Clifford Kane, head of the advertising department, and Jeff Bowman, Kane's promising assistant. They answered the call immediately. Kane, small and quick, Jeff Bowman, big and ruddy and red-haired. A slight enmity existed between the two advertisers, Kane ignoring his subordinate, Jeff eager and frustrated.

"Boys," John Harker remarked when they were seated, "we're missing a good bet."

"What do you mean, Chief?" Kane asked, instantly on the defensive. Harker pushed the magazines across his desk. "These make-the-most-of-yourself contests for homely girls," he said. "The idea is going over big in New York. Why hasn't someone in Chicago thought to do it? Why haven't you, for instance?"

Kane glanced casually at the advertisements and articles, the letters written by unattractive girls, the before-and-after pictures. Jeff waited patiently. "The thing isn't plausible," Kane said at last. "Homely women don't want to be exploited. It's nothing but a racket for the beauticians and cosmeticians. They only choose girls with distinct possibilities. The whole thing is temporary and of small value. As I say, it's a racket."

"For a plain girl to become lovely, even temporarily, is an adventure, the most exciting adventure in the world. In this establishment we have everything under heaven to make a woman beautiful from the gym on the roof to the imported perfume on the main floor."

"Kane frowned," Harker said to Harker. "Look, Chief," he said to Harker. "We don't want to cheapen our store in the smallest way. Frankly I'm afraid of this thing. How to publicize it without humiliating the girl, how to give it a new angle or twist."

"That's what I hire you for," Harker observed mildly. Turning to the young assistant he said, "You see it, don't you, Jeff?" "You bet," Jeff replied eagerly. "I'm sure we could work out a scheme that would make pickers of New York. Let's find a homely girl, not simply a plain girl with good features—." Creative light burned in Jeff's eyes.

"Right," Harker stopped the desk with his open hand. "We'll stop at nothing—plastic surgery—braces on teeth—anything. I want our girl to be talked about, her progress watched—"

John Harker tapped the glass top of his desk with a pencil. "The thing is to get the right girl," he said. "To develop personality and charm, to bring out attractiveness that's lain hidden behind a homely face, to find spiritual perfections—it thrills me, boys. You find the girl and I'll do the rest."

Did the fates smile? Did they switch their attention to Susie, plodding home from the waffle shop?

Future Of Church Discussed By Bishop Holt In Address Today

If there were a revolution in the United States, as has occurred in Russia and Germany, would the church survive? This was the question Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, presiding bishop of the Methodist churches of the North Texas, Northwest Texas, and New Mexico conferences asked an audience of 200 persons yesterday in a sermon delivered at 10:50 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

The bishop said many persons were not so sure it would. He said it was enough to give thoughtful persons pause, when they realized how rapidly the world was changing.

Russian Church Cited He recalled a sermon of his on Easter Sunday, 1914, when he said that the orthodox church in Russia was the most influential church in the world, how its influence was felt by peasant and by noble in the farthest borders, where on Easter day, Russians greeted each other with these words: "He is risen," "He is risen, indeed."

Yet, within four years there came a revolution that swept away the Czarist regime and the church with it. "We said this could not last, that it was impossible to kill religion. Yet the new generation of Russia is scornful of God. We believed the time would come when God would punish their blasphemies—and in Leningrad, there stands today a museum that has one section devoted to showing the decadence of religion, calling it a superstition."

"One of the most pitiful sights of modern times is a group of a dozen Russian priests, who have a house in Paris. They are great scholars and they are teaching young men to become priests, in the hope that some day the church will be re-established in Russia. In Germany, the bishop said that it was a question of whether or not any Protestant church would survive. "In Germany, Hitler is the savior, and young men march in Berlin in preparation for what—another Austria, another Czechoslovakian partition, another world war?"

Radicals Rule Emphasizing how rapidly the times change, Bishop Holt told of a meeting held in Stockholm in 1910, of a group thought so radical that no other European capital would consent to their gathering.

"In that group were Ramsay MacDonald, Mussolini, Lenin and Stalin—these men have ruled Europe for more than a decade. Turning to Italy, Bishop Holt told of an address made by the Pope in December, 1936, in which the Pope urged peace among nations. "At that same time small Italian boys were training in Rome with wooden muskets, and Mussolini was sending his legions to Ethiopia."

Summarizing the situation, the bishop said that in Italy the Roman Catholic church was held in contempt, in Russia the church had been obliterated, and in Germany Hitler was regarded as a savior and it was a question if any Protestant church could survive.

Favorable Factors Named Mentioning the series of meetings held in the large cities of the United States two years ago, with 14,000 attending the meeting held in the Great Hall of the Kansas City auditorium, 5,000 in the Shrine auditorium in Los Angeles and more at the University of Southern California chapel, and in New York, where 28,000 were present at the meeting held in Madison Square garden, Bishop Holt pointed out three factors favorable to the church.

These factors were: the renewed zeal of church members, the strengthening of organizations, and the fact that "we are seeing more clearly now than ever before our goal, which is a fellowship of Christians in our Lord Jesus Christ."

He cited the example of the coming union of the three Methodist branches in the United States as a criterion of the churches advance, mentioning as an allied movement, the United Church of Canada, composed of Congregationalists, Methodists, and Presbyterians. "The new Methodist church will attain new religious interest, it shall become what it should have been all the time—a leavening influence," the Bishop stated. "Our interest shall be in doing God's will—not in keeping within the historic latitudes."

Nearly All WTSC '38 Grads Employed

CANYON, Feb. 10—Graduates of West Texas State College have few worries concerning the problem of getting jobs.

Nearly all of the 1938 spring and summer graduates are employed. About 85 per cent of them are teaching. Increasingly, students of the college are going into professions other than teaching, and the calls for graduates are coming from an increasing number of sources. Employment prospects for the more than 30 mid-term graduates are good, according to Mrs. T. V. Reeves, director of the Bureau of Public Service. Many of the recent graduates are already teaching or have other jobs.

The astronomer Herschel, before 1800, thought he saw 6 moons moving around the planet Uranus, and it was not until about 1845 that Lassell, of England, produced two large reflecting telescopes, powerful enough to show it had only four satellites.

Higgins Cattle Sale Receipts Total $12,000

HIGGINS, Feb. 10.—Approximately 600 head of cattle went through the ring at the Higgins Livestock Sales pavilion Tuesday at prices well in line with the advanced markets, with total receipts amounting to around the $12,000 mark.

A string of mixed cattle brought in by G. L. Holmes of Kingsmill was sold at exceptional prices. Although few choice milch cows were offered several head of fair quality Jerseys brought from $30 to $35 each. A most outstanding sale was that of a roan milch cow of good quality which sold for $60.00. A medium good Jersey cow sold for $49.50.

A mottled face butchering cow brought active bidding and sold at $65.00 while a roan butchering cow brought $87.50. Alex Laubhan, Higgins, one of the heaviest consigners in this division was in with a string of 90 fine whiteface calves, a number of stocker and butcher cows and a few whiteface heifers.

A string of 20 whiteface steers were consigned by H. P. Larsh of Pampa and were purchased by George Howlett of Shattuck at a fancy price. C. Walsler of Canadian was in with a load of mixed cattle which also brought very good prices. Heaviest cattle consigners other than those mentioned were Tom Scott, G. M. Reeves, C. A. Strader.

F. Shaller and J. J. Hoobler of Canadian; Bud Armstrong of Woodward, Okla.; J. M. Laurie, Darroutz; W. L. Ward, Miami; H. B. Peterson, Allis; O. E. Watts, Vici, Okla.; and Carl Seibenlist, Follett.

Buyers included T. O. Gilson, Kline & Kline and George Howlett of Ellis Co., Okla.

Western Oklahoma Treebelt Started

HIGGINS, Feb. 10.—Tree planting operations on cooperative shelterbelts in Western Oklahoma have begun recently with approximately 700 men employed and 50 trucks in use.

For the protection of soil and crops on their farms, interested farmers are cooperating with the U. S. Forest Service in planting and establishing these ten-row shelterbelts. The shelterbelts will also improve living conditions, it is believed, by harboring wild life and insect eating birds, aiding in conserving soil moisture, serving as windbreaks, etc.

Plans are being made to plant more than 7,000,000 trees over approximately 700 miles of ten-row belts of about one-half mile in length. More men and trucks will probably be used during the planting season which may last until the first of April.

Three From Gray Among WTSC Graduates

CANYON, Feb. 10.—Twenty-eight students completed work for their bachelors degrees last semester, the registrar of West Texas State College has announced following an examination of their grades.

Of these, many are already teaching, having obtained jobs for the remainder of the public school term.

The graduates include: Ralph Palmer, Frances Tidwell and Robert Earl Tidwell, all of Alameda, and Nanette M. Padgett of Panhandle. Formal presentation of degrees was delayed until the spring commencement.

Harris County Retires 14 Mules

HOUSTON, Feb. 10.—Fourteen old mules recently were turned into pasture to graze the remainder of their lives. The animals were retired, County Judge Roy Hofheinz said, because all units of the county maintenance machinery are being motorized.

Swing Turns Chimps to "Alligators"

How monkeys swing is another tale entirely, but these baby chimps in the Philadelphia Zoo learned how humans do it when swingster Tommy Dorsey gave them some hot licks on his trombone.

Hollywood Likes Panhandle Butter

AMARILLO, Feb. 10.—The Panhandle-Plains dairy cow is helping to make—or break—Hollywood figures and news.

From the Tri-State area centered at Plainview, Texas, and Portales, N. M., goes more than 2,000,000 pounds of butter yearly to the West Coast—almost the exclusive market for Panhandle-Plains butterfat.

Chances are the golden butter fat reluctantly rejected by Hollywood dieters, or the generous serving so liberally spread by moviegoers' stouter eaters, came from the Plains Co-operative, Inc., which has plants at Plainview and Portales, and ships 95 per cent of its 12,000,000 pounds of butter to West Coast markets.

In addition to these creameries, plants at Lubbock ship 300,000 to 400,000 pounds to California.

Until a year ago, the bulk of Plains butter went to eastern markets—Kansas City, Chicago and New York—but recently the trend has been to the West Coast.

"From a standpoint of geography, transportation and demand, the West Coast offers the best market for Plains' butter," G. W. Louthan, general manager of the Plains Co-operative, said.

Winter No Terror To Plains Rattlers

DALHART, Feb. 10.—Panhandle rattlesnakes seem unusually hardy. Working on a gas pipeline in Moore county, Clyde Alderman, Grady Hartley and Lee Stringer heard an angry buzz. Although the temperature was below freezing they discovered a two and one-half foot rattler, apparently as active and combative as in summer.

Last winter a Dalhart school girl was bitten by a rattlesnake that was under the edge of her home. It was believed that heat in the house had warmed the rattler into action.

Shamrock Lumberman Moves To Amarillo

SHAMROCK, Feb. 10.—Shamrock lost two valuable citizens Monday when Mr. and Mrs. R. A. (Pete) Wood left to make their home in Amarillo. In Amarillo Wood will be associated with Milton Webb, formerly of Canadian in the Wood-Webb Lumber Co., a new business enterprise. Webb was also a former resident of Shamrock.

McLean School Holds Declamation Finals

McLEAN, Feb. 10.—The final eliminations of the declamation contestants of the local high school were held Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

Thelma Smith won first place in the girls' division; Lettie Jo Wardlow and Louise McWhirter tied for second place, and Marie Hornsby, third. In the boys' division, Robert Wilson won first; Leonard Glass, second, and Glynn Ray Steadman, third. All are pupils of Miss Julia Slough.

Another elimination will be held the last of this month for those who are not in the speech class. A trio of Frances Sitter, Juanita Hancock, and Ruth Bond sang "My Little Buckaroo." Other musical numbers were given by the high school German band, directed by Hobart Moore.

Third Creek Woman Heads HD Council

LIPSCOMB, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Max Sues, Third Creek, has been chosen chairman of the Lipscomb County Home Demonstration Council recently.

Mrs. Mesner of Darroutz was named vice chairman and Mrs. Merle Cross, also of Darroutz, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Shamrock Pastor Attends Seminar

SHAMROCK, Feb. 10.—Rev. G. A. Civey of the First Christian church is in Fort Worth attending the "Texas Ministers' Institute," at Texas Christian University. The institute will conclude a five-day session today.

Seminar on timely church problems, three public addresses and a dinner and a luncheon celebrating the Silver Anniversary of Brite College of the Bible, were highlights of the weeks meeting.

Subjects for the seminar study and the lectures were "Correcting Pulpit Manners," Prof. L. D. Falls, T. C. U.; "The Church and World Relations," Dr. Church Smiley, medical missionary to India; "The Old Testament and Creative Living," Prof. Austin A. Porterfield, T. C. U.; and Rev. A. Elliott, Labor Relations Board, Fort Worth; "Religious Education," Rev. Sterling Brown, University of Oklahoma and "Church Administration," Rev. L. D. Anderson, Fort Worth.

A separate laymen's meeting was held Wednesday. It was directed by Harry Hines, Wichita Falls, lay president. No program has been planned for this group but general discussion centered around the theme "How the Laymen of the Church Can Be More Effective in Texas."

Clinton Lockhart, professor of Old Testament and Semitics at Brite College is president of the institute. Rev. C. W. Harrison, pastor of the Dixon Street Christian Church, of Gainesville, is vice president and Rev. Perry Gisham, pastor of University church, Fort Worth, is secretary.

Winter No Terror To Plains Rattlers

DALHART, Feb. 10.—Panhandle rattlesnakes seem unusually hardy. Working on a gas pipeline in Moore county, Clyde Alderman, Grady Hartley and Lee Stringer heard an angry buzz. Although the temperature was below freezing they discovered a two and one-half foot rattler, apparently as active and combative as in summer.

Last winter a Dalhart school girl was bitten by a rattlesnake that was under the edge of her home. It was believed that heat in the house had warmed the rattler into action.

McLean School Holds Declamation Finals

McLEAN, Feb. 10.—The final eliminations of the declamation contestants of the local high school were held Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

Thelma Smith won first place in the girls' division; Lettie Jo Wardlow and Louise McWhirter tied for second place, and Marie Hornsby, third. In the boys' division, Robert Wilson won first; Leonard Glass, second, and Glynn Ray Steadman, third. All are pupils of Miss Julia Slough.

Another elimination will be held the last of this month for those who are not in the speech class. A trio of Frances Sitter, Juanita Hancock, and Ruth Bond sang "My Little Buckaroo." Other musical numbers were given by the high school German band, directed by Hobart Moore.

Bar S Boys Prepare For Spring Roundup

MERTZON, Feb. 10.—Cowboys of the Bar S outfit, a 280-section ranch in this section, are inspecting equipment during the winter lull of riding range, pending orders to begin the spring roundup in March. The roundup last fall was the 122nd semi-annual working of the cattle since the ranch was established 61 years ago. Approximately 2,000 calves were branded.

Bar S ranch, established in 1877 by S. E. Sterrett and George Sherwood, was one of the first to come into existence in the section bordering the headquarters of the Middle Concho river. Today it is the largest and oldest ranch in this part of West Texas.

First cattle placed on the Bar S range were purchased from Walter Wordsworth in San Saba and driven here from Little Brady creek. In 1884, the ranch with 10,000 cattle, saddle horses, wagons and other equipment, was sold to Sawyer, McCoy and Rummy for $225,000 cash.

A few years later the owners formed the Sawyer Cattle Company. Phil Sawyer of Oshkosh, Wis., is president. Managers during the 61 years of the ranch have been Bill Butler, Lee Minor, Dave O'Keefe, Will McCoy, G. W. Tankersley, until his death in 1918; Louis L. Farr, Sr., until his death in 1930, and Louis L. Farr, Jr., who succeeded his father.

Until five years ago the ranch was an exclusive cattle outfit but 10,000 lambs have been placed on the range. These are sold in the spring following fall shearing.

Even Tightrope Walker Listed At Texas U. Employment Bureau

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—Can you use a tightrope walker, a boilermaker, a beekeeper's assistant? From one of the largest "working" student bodies in the nation, the University of Texas can supply you with a student expert who needs the job to keep him in school.

That's the current cry of the University's "Student Employment Bureau," its director, Dean Arno Nowotny, revealed here today. The bureau is faced with the problem of finding work for 55 per cent of the University's 11,000 students who earn all or part of their expenses in spare time labor.

About two thousand have already been placed at NYA work. In September of this year, the bureau expanded to go part-time job hunting with Austin merchants, and it has already placed more than one thousand students on that list.

Monthly salaries averages about $20, and director Nowotny is proud of the fact that not many of the 70 per cent of working men students have "to find jobs on their own hook."

The bureau's job applications list 35 routine services, "which we thought would cover all a student could do," according to the director. In five months, however, he has learned that the University's working students have already added 55 more fields at which they are adept.

Among the most unexpected were applicants signing as "funeral directors, gas-line workers, tool dressers, tree surgeons, cotton buyers, cheese makers, tightrope walkers, boilermakers, beekeeper's assistants, truck drivers, pneumatic hammer operators, and concrete mixers." One co-ed manufacturer and sells costume jewelry in her spare time. Two boys have cut school expenses by embalming dead cats and selling them to zoology students. Approximately one-third of the Dominion of Canada's lumber exports go to the United States.
