Calves Go To High Bidders In FFA Sale

Auctioneer Issues Appeal For Buyers Here Tomorrow

An appeal for more bidders for the FFA calf sale to be held at the Panhandle Lumber yard tomorrow at 2 p. m., was issued today by Tom Cox, who will auctioneer the sale. "Somehow the impression has gotten out to some Pampa business men that the calves are already sold but this is not the case," Cox said this morning. "A genuine auction will be held and the highest bidder gets the calf regardless of who he is. To make the sale a success we need every merchant in town down at the yard bidding on the calves and we want them there."

It is true that a number of Pampa business men have agreed to attend and be bidders in order that the FFA boys will be assured of a reasonable price for their calves in order to encourage future feeding in the Top O' Texas area, but this does not mean that these business men will be the successful bidders. The more bidders we have, the better price we will have for the calves.

"Any additional business men who will cooperate are urged to contact the auctioneer, any member of the BCD Livestock Sale committee, or telephone the Chamber of Commerce, telephone No. 384."

Last minute details were being handled today by J. L. Lester, vice See CALVES, Page 7

You're Invited To Dam, But Please Observe The Rules

Everybody's welcome out at the McClellan Creek Dam, but everybody, likewise, must observe Uncle Sam's rules or face a charge of trespassing on federal property. Right now, they are beginning a beautification program at the lake site which means that they're trying to grow new lawn grass, shrubs, trees, and other landscaping accessories.

W. L. Bradshaw, chief engineer and supervisor at the project, reports that upwards of 2,000 persons visited the site last Sunday, and that many of them disregarded the "keep off" and "park here" signs which have been erected for the benefit of the public. The result was that damage was done to plots that have been seeded for grass. We have designated parking areas and will have plenty of "keep off" signs on hand for the week-end crowd this Sunday," Mr. Bradshaw said, "and we feel sure that they will want to cooperate with us in the beautification program."

The project superintendent emphasized that the public is welcome to visit the dam site and is invited to do so. Four watchmen will be on duty to enforce the trespassing rules Sunday. Mr. Bradshaw said there was a steady stream of visitors last Sunday and that at one time there were nearly 200 cars parked near the dam.

Bureau Sees Crude Demand Up In March

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Bureau of Mines estimated today a daily average supply of 3,340,000 barrels of domestic crude oil would be needed to meet market demand in March. This estimate was 120,000 barrels more than the estimate for February and slightly more than the actual demand for March, 1938. Improved industrial operations coupled with low prices, the bureau said, has resulted in a recovery in the demand for residual fuel oil. Because of increases in refinery runs, the bureau added, seasonal gasoline and fuel inventories are still higher than necessary and indicate the possibility of conservative refinery operations during the remainder of February and through March.

Mother, 26, Gives Birth To Third Twins In 43 Months

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 24 (AP)—A 26-year-old mother smiled at her third set of twins in 43 months and said today: "I've always wanted a big family but I didn't think they'd come in bunches."

Describing Gray county's $300,000 dam and lake as the most beautiful of its type he ever has seen, R. O. Marsh, of Washington, chief engineer of the land utilization division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, placed a final governmental stamp of approval on the federal project when he visited the dam site Thursday on an inspection tour. Chief Engineer Marsh was accompanied by President Farris Oden, of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce; Garnet Reeves, BCD manager; Reno Stinson, immediate past president of the BCD; Postmaster C. H. Walker, chairman of the BCD lake committee; Judge Ivy E. Duncan, originator of the lake idea; A. H. Doucette, BCD lake supporter; and W. L. Bradshaw, project superintendent. Also accompanying Marsh to Pampa was W. E. Flanagan, in charge of the equipment for the BAE in the district west of the Mississippi.

The chief engineer, who is responsible for more dams than any other man in history—the man who has designed or approved every one of the 3,000 dams constructed by the land utilization division of the government in the last three years—was high in his praise of the work done on the McClellan dam by W. L. Bradshaw, in charge of construction at the local dam from the very beginning. "In my opinion," Mr. Marsh said, "Mr. Bradshaw is the best engineer in any of our divisions. He has done a wonderful job here. I am sure the people of your region appreciate what he has done."

Immediately following his inspection trip at the Gray county lake site, Mr. Marsh sent a telegram of approval to W. M. Russell, head of the Soil Conservation Service in Washington. The telegram read: "Have inspected McClellan Dam. See LAKE, Page 7"

Appropriation Bill Made Public Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau has told a House committee that if Congress votes the funds recommended by the President's budget, the treasury will have to ask that the limit on public debt be raised to $50,000,000. ## Boy's Slayer Pays Penalty In Abduction

Desperate Efforts Fail To Stave Off Execution

RAIFORD, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall was put to death in the electric chair today for the fatal kidnaping of five-year-old James Bailey, Cash Jr., at Prince-James, Fla., last May. The switch was thrown at 11:08 a. m. McCall was electrocuted just four days short of nine months from the time he kidnaped the tow-headed lad.

Had Confessed Kidnaping. Admitting in open court he alone stole "the reggie" and collected $10,000 ransom from the father, McCall insisted he did not want to harm his victim and had smothered him accidentally.

The execution first was set for last Monday. Seventy minutes before the scheduled hour, L. F. Chapman, state prison farm superintendent, announced a delay until today.

The delay was given to permit McCall's attorneys to seek a stay through the United States supreme court. They were turned down by two justices in Washington late yesterday and also lost another series of last-minute moves to halt the execution. McCall's pretty young wife visited him this morning, departing dry-eyed after remaining in the cell about half an hour. Another last-minute visitor was an uncle, Amos McCall of Jasper, Fla. Sheriff D. C. Coleman of Dade county, who threw the switch, started. See SLAYER, Page 7

Jury Gets Ivey Case Late Today

Argument in the case of W. H. Ivey vs. the Liano Construction company was being heard today in 31st district court, after Judge W. R. Ewing had completed reading the 34-issue charge to the jury at 10:15 o'clock this morning.

Trial of the case started at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and the jury is expected to receive the case late this afternoon. In the suit, plaintiff is asking $31,000 damages for the loss of a leg that he alleges resulted from an accident on a bridge near LeFors on June 30, 1937, when the Liano Construction company truck which he was riding was in collision with a truck of the Texas company.

A motion for judgment and a plea of res adjudicata on the part of the Liano Construction company was argued by Judge Ewing. The Liano company was not named as a defendant in this suit, but was interested in the case because the question of whether or not plaintiff would be entitled to receive both compensation and damages was involved. The suit is styled "W. H. Ivey vs. T. D. Fitzgerald, the Texas company, and Southern Underwriters," with John V. Osborne and S. D. Stennis representing the plaintiff, R. A. Wilson of Amarillo and John F. Sturgeon of Pampa the Texas company and T. D. Fitzgerald, Sidney Benbow of Houston the Southern Underwriters, Newton P. Willis and John F. Steward of Pampa the Liano Construction company.

French Party Tries To Bar Recognition

PARIS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Remnants of the French people's front made a final effort in the Chamber of Deputies today to block recognition of the Spanish Nationalist regime by Premier Daladier's government. A "French-Spanish friendship group" of left wing deputies published a protest against any recognition of the Nationalists without Parliamentary approval.

Deputy Albert Fornal of the Socialist Republican union was instructed to demand immediate discussion of the question this afternoon. The government, seeking to head off the debate, announced it would ask the chamber to delay discussion and would make the postponement a question of confidence.

Notions About Women

Dictum by N. Y. State Bureau of Motor Vehicles: "Women are more skilled than men in driving." Sure. Particularly at home. Which reminds of a recent statement in a Tokyo daily: "American women are proud and arrogant. The men are timid before them to the point of foolishness." Looks as if some Japanese writer while in the U. S. wasn't quite timid enough. Maybe our men are foolish, but not so much so as to neglect the advantages to be had through "The Pampa News" classified want-ads. They call 686 for results at lowest cost.

Christ Jesus To Be Subject Of Lesson

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 26.

The Golden Text is: "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; . . . And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by Him" (Colossians 3:16-17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me" (John 12:44).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God" (page 271).

DEEP-FAT TRICKS

If you do much deep-fat frying, you will save time by using a frying basket. Immerse it in deep hot fat, bringing it up, add the foods, and quickly drop it back into the fat. Fry until done, then remove the basket and let the food drip to dry. Doughnuts, fritters, and croquettes can easily be fried in a basket.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PETER AT SAMARIA.
Text: Acts 8:14-25.

The general title of this lesson, "Peter in Samaria," is much less apt than the title as given in the Intermediate and Senior Topic, "Some Things Money Cannot Buy," or the topic for young people and adults, "Keeping Religion Free From Commercialism." The text of the lesson records a very painful story and one that unfortunately has been duplicated in more or less similar forms in every age and apparently among all peoples.

We have in the lesson two Simons—Simon Peter, the sincere and earnest apostle; and Simon, a false prophet, magician, or faker of the sort who appears repeatedly among men and who is ready to use even the sacred offices of religion for his own selfish and ignoble ends. Perhaps I should not use the word "magician" in this connection, and I should like to point out that its use does not apply to honorable men who have been magicians by profession and who have mystified people by sleight-of-hand and amazing performances, but who have always represented themselves honestly as what they were and who have not used their skill and profession for any misrepresentation or fraud.

When this Simon, the faker saw the marvelous things that happened under the influence of the Holy Ghost as the apostles laid their hands on Christians in Samaria, he thought of what gain there might be to himself if he could exercise similar power. It was characteristic of the man that he should put other men on as low a plane as himself, and should come and offer Peter and John money that he might secure from them this wonder-working power. But Peter was stirred to righteous wrath—"Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God with money."

But Peter's admonition was not all expressed in righteous wrath. He appealed to Simon to repent of his wickedness, and Simon either did repent or was moved by fear because of what he had done, for he asked Peter to pray for him that no punishment should come upon him. We miss almost entirely the point

Only One Out Of Six

Only one out of six crimes committed in this country is cleared up by an arrest. Sanford Bates, one of the best-known penologists in the country, formerly director of federal prisons, and now engaged in Boys' Club work, is authority for the statement, which appears in the 1938 yearbook of the National Probation Association.

Not more severe punishments, but more certain arrest, and prompter and fairer trials, are the answer to the crime question, Bates believes, and few progressively-minded people will disagree.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life --- By R. C. Hoiles

HOOPER'S INCONSISTENCY

Ex-President Hoover, in his Lincoln Day speech at the National Republican club, certainly put about as many inconsistencies in one speech as it is possible to do. He, of course, did point out a few facts but these were over-shadowed by his other contentions. In fact, about all he did was to try to out-promise the New Dealers. In face of this fact, he said that the Republican party had held aloft the light of inalienable liberties of men.

More Like Dictator Than Democracy

President Roosevelt, sometime ago, contended that our cure was more democracy. But his attempting to appoint a judge without the consent of the Senate and the recent secret hearing of "Me" Perkins begins to look as if he believes more in things that dictators do than in a democratic principle.

Magnanimous Men

What seems to be our trouble in the United States is that we do not have enough magnanimous men, a condition which Aristotle contended was necessary in order to have a prosperous nation.

SOMETIMES YOU GET in the dumps and need a good belly-laugh to get you up and out. Whenever we feel that way we go back and read that little excerpt from Donald Ogden Stewart's "Perfect Behavior"—the one that has to do with the etiquette of games and sports.

"Craps" is a game played with dice, which is often popular in the men's cloak and smoking rooms before and during formal receptions, balls, recitals, etc. It should not be imagined, however, that "craps" is a sport for men only; on the contrary, many smart women have taken up this sport in numerous localities, and many an affair which started as a dinner party or a musicale has ended in a crap game with all the guests seated in an excited circle on the floor, contributing to the hosts' efforts to make expenses for the evening.

It is in connection with these "mixed" games, however, that most of the more serious questions of "craps" etiquette arise. If, for instance, you are a young man desirous of shooting "craps" with your grandmother, the correct way of indicating your desire when you meet her in a public place is for you to remove your hat deferentially and say, "Shoot a nickel, Grandmother?"

YOU SHOULD THEN again "shoot." This time, as you have grandpa's aid, you should tell your mother what you are "throwing" and say, "Oh, boy! He fixes a three and a two—never make five—come on, you baby seven!" You should then take up the dice again and shake them in your right hand, while your grandmother cheers, "A five and a three—five and a two—die, die, die, on you SEVEN!"

IN THIS LATER case, however, it would be a customary act of courtesy towards an older person for you to offer to shoot your grandmother for her share or her side cents, thus giving her several more chances to win back the money she has lost. It should be recommended that young men never make a mistake in going a little out of their way on occasion to make life more pleasant and agreeable for their grandmothers.

SO MUCH FOR the etiquette of "craps." But, go back and read it over, and if it doesn't sound funnier the second time—and if you have been lifted a bit, give us a ring and complain that you feel worse than ever.

THE EFFICIENT performance of a useful service is the beginning of good public relations.

REPEAT of the act would have a baleful effect on the minds of the boys and girls.

Cotton Surplus Causes Worries U. S. Will Spend

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Senate Agriculture committee, worried about the large cotton surplus under government loans, called for advice today from Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The RFC and affiliated federal agencies have loaned more than $900,000,000 on cotton, and now have some $500,000,000 outstanding on more than 11,000,000 bales.

Senators from southern states have a variety of bills before the committee proposing different ways of reducing these loan stocks.

Secretary Wallace, during a two-hour session with the committee yesterday, said any legislation dealing with cotton should be passed within two weeks.

Many cotton growers already have planted their crops, he said, and considerable time was needed to accomplish administration of any changes in the present program.

Speculators Want Cotton Released

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) charged today that cotton speculators who are "short" on the market were pressuring the government to release cotton in an attempt to cash in on a price decline.

The Oklahoma senator made this charge at a hearing of the Senate Agriculture committee considering several bills dealing with the more than 11,000,000 bales now under government loans.

Thomas said he had a letter from a member of the New York Cotton Exchange showing that "shorts" with futures contracts for delivery during this year amounted to 2,200,000 bales on Feb. 21.

"It is obvious that those who are short want a lot of this cotton turned loose, to break the market for their own benefit," Thomas said. "If these short interests can get Congress to release cotton and break the market, the price from a cent a pound, that would be $5 a bale, or more than $10,000,000 on that exchange."

Chairman Smith (D-SC), author of one of the bills calling for release of loan cotton, suggested that a definite minimum amount of release could prevent any market break by which speculators might profit.

The committee asked Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the reconstruction Finance Corporation, today for advice on the big surplus.

Applications Form Credit Class Topic

Methods of obtaining applications for credit were discussed at the second meeting of the Credit Class last night, attended by 62 business men and their clerks and bookkeepers.

Classes will be conducted each Thursday night for nine more weeks, in the high school study hall.

The talk of the night was presented by Bert Curry who gave an interesting and instructive lecture on "Obtaining Applications." Mr. Curry has studied credit and credit practices for several years.

An open quiz was conducted following Mr. Curry's talk.

The school is being sponsored by the Pampa Credit Grantors association of which W. V. Jarratt is president.

Bernard Shaw Ired By Academy Award

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw today commented in wretched terms on whether he really meant it or not on what he called Hollywood's latest "insult" — the award of the motion picture academy of arts and sciences to the screen version of his "Pygmalion."

(The academy yesterday announced its selection of "Pygmalion" as 1938's best example of screen play and dialogue.)

"Of course it's a good film," the bearded playwright told the Evening Star. "It's the only film!"

"Referring to me by burning with indignation," the writer continued, "it's an insult for them to offer me any honor. They might as well send some honor to George for being the only King in England."

Stores Increase Spring Purchases

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Confidence of a substantial upturn in public buying, leading department stores throughout the country have stepped up their spring purchases from manufacturers over the 1938 levels, the National Retail Dry Goods association asserted today in a survey made by its merchandising division.

Approximately 62 per cent of the stores reporting indicated their market purchases for spring trade would exceed those of a year ago, said the survey. Nine per cent said they would be lower.

Slayer Weeps As He Dies In 'Hot Squat'

OSKING, N. Y., Feb. 24 (AP)—Tearfully protesting his innocence, "Death House" Michael Alex, who twice escaped execution, died last night in a "hot squat" for the murder of an insurance collector.

He had spent a total of 22 months in the death house, after six trials on murder charges.

In 1932, he first was sentenced to the chair for the killing of Frank Pendbury, a Long Island grocer. Although convicted twice, highest court reversals saved him. While he was out on bail, following three mistrials, Alex was arrested and convicted of the slaying of Jack Ehrlich, Manhattan insurance collector.

national teacher under whose direction the feeding program has been carried on, and other school officials. Pens for some 24 pigs to be exhibited by eight boys, and coops for some 45 chickens to be exhibited by 24 boys, have been put in place at the lumber yard. These will be judged tomorrow morning and ribbons will be awarded the winners.

Ribbons will be awarded to the winners in the calf show, along with $100 in cash prizes which will be given to the winners in the calf show.

Seats to accommodate 500 prospective bidders at the sale tomorrow at 2 p. m. will be set up early tomorrow by school officials. The general public is invited to attend the show and sale.

The calves will be weighed in at 9 a. m. at the Stark-McMillen Elevator with A. C. Husted doing the weighing and Roger McConnel, member of the BCD Livestock Sales committee supervising the weighing. A three per cent shrink will be deducted from this weight to form a basis for the sale in the afternoon.

At 11 a. m. County Agent Frank Ford of Panhandle will judge the calves. He will likewise judge the pigs following the calf judging.

At 2 p. m. Auctioneer Tom Cox will offer the grand champion calf to the highest bidder. Following this sale will come the reserve champion and then the rest of the seventeen calves in order of their rank in the judging.

Several representatives of firms signed to enter bids tomorrow met in the city hall last night and studied histories of the calves.

The arena will be open after the calves are weighed in at 9 o'clock and the public is invited to visit the show room and see the fine animals raised by boys attending Pampa high school.

police were smashing the domestic Nazi party as he arrived at the legation from the foreign office after the anti-Comintern ceremony.

(A dispatch from Hsinking said Manchukuo today also signed a protocol joining the anti-Comintern front).

The situation was more confused by the fact that in a declaration before Parliament Premier Count Paul Teley had announced an attachment to the Rome-Berlin axis and had spoken in a sympathetic manner of Adolf Hitler's peace aims.

(In Berlin, circles close to the German government asserted that Hungary's action against her Nazi party had no bearing whatsoever on German-Hungarian relations and was purely an internal affair).

Ferenc Szalasi, the Hungarian Nazi leader, has been in prison since last spring and was sentenced last July to a three-year term for "incitement."

But his chief lieutenant, Kalman Huby, a member of Parliament, was in Parliament, enjoying special immunity as a member of the Lower House.

This is the most beautiful masterpiece of dam work I have ever seen. I doubt if it is surpassed anywhere in the world. However, all of our new dams here in the Panhandle are good. It is hard to discriminate.

Following his inspection here, Mr. Marsh and Mr. Finagan left for Boggy Creek dam near Canadian and the Wolfe Creek dam. They were inspecting a new dam near Dalhart today and will return to Amarillo Saturday, before making departure for Washington.

themselves to teach first aid to persons not identified with an organization promoting first aid instruction.

Mr. Plasted will teach the special course which leads to authorization as a lay instructor, Mr. Conley said. Candidates for lay instructors' certificates will not only be given technical first aid knowledge, but will be taught successful teaching methods and practice, whereby first aid knowledge can be transmitted to those most in need of it, in a county-wide educational program under direction of the Pampa chapter.

In cases where death resulted, he pointed out, not only did tremendous shock and grief come to the family of the victim, but loss of wage-earners threatened or wiped out the ability of many families to remain self-supporting, and plants were crippled by the loss of the time of valued workers. The community as a whole, directly and indirectly, suffered the economic and social consequences that always follow an avoidable accident, where the victim died or was caused to suffer needlessly because no one was at hand who knew what to do before the doctor arrived.

Mr. Conley quoted some startling statistics on the national problems confronting first aid instructors. "Figures published by the National Safety Council this year," he said, "indicate that accidental deaths during 1937 claimed 106,000 lives. Home accidents alone were responsible for 32,500 fatalities."

Price Fixing In Texas Gets Lift And Jolt

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—Price fixing in Texas, proposed in the anti-discrimination law, got a lift and a jolt in a house public hearing that kept merchants from over the state in the gallery into early morning hours today before the measure was referred to a sub-committee.

The bill, authored by Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville, would establish equal competition on commodities and set up prices at six per cent above invoice, plus freight, cartage, and markup.

Hours of debate were concluded by Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, opponent, who said "the many objections to the legal aspects of the proposed bill make it impractical."

He said the language of the bill was loose and confusing "and apparently the author wrote it with a pair of snippers and a paste-pot." Rawlings argued the bill would fall heavily on the consumer, asserting "you can't increase prices to the merchant and save money for the consumer."

Grocer Head Speaks.

Proponent W. B. Addison of Houston, president of the Texas Retail Grocers' association, an independent, said chain stores with loss leader sales had caused the "utter destruction of 14,000 Texas merchants."

"Independent merchants oppose these leader sales because they injure all economical factors," Addison said. "These sales have built the impression in the minds of the buying public that the chains have lower prices on all articles."

The proposed anti-discrimination law, he said, would do away with "concessions, discounts, secret rebates, purchases of space in stores and other privileges granted chains not enjoyed by the independents."

Independent Grocer E. D. Williams Jr. of Austin joined the forces of the opposition and charged independents with letting their businesses go to ruin because of lack of aggressiveness.

G. H. Zimmerman of Waco, representing the lumber interests, pointed out the bill could be extended to all industries because of its price fixing clauses and said parts of the bill would paralyze the financing of homes and "be fatal to the Texas lumber industry."

Former Senator Joe Moore of Greenville, leader of the proponents, closed his argument by saying as sections the independents had favored the bill to cause a jump in prices "is a misstatement of fact and not the purpose of our bill."

Texas Police Survey Bares Many Faults

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—"A study of this volume," says O. W. Wilson, Wichita, Kan., chief of police, referring to the report of a survey on Texas crime control by the bureau of municipal research, "will reveal to police executives whether they are abreast of the changing times or bogged down in yesterday's traditions."

The report, "Municipal Police Administration in Texas," surveys these traditions at length, declaring that chiefs of police and the forces they command often are victimized by them.

Selection of Texas police chiefs lacks standardization, the report says, about 59.4 per cent of cities choosing chiefs by appointment—mayor, city manager or city council.

Although the trend is in the opposite direction, almost 50 per cent of the smaller towns still elect their police chiefs by popular vote.

Cited in the survey are "a few instances showing favorable results" where the chief's tenure has been protected by (A) governmental appointment; (B) adequate civil service protection, but the warning is posted that the problem of removing the police department from politics cannot be solved by "setting up artificial protective barriers."

Three-fifths of Texas police chiefs are between 41 and 60, almost 21 per cent are over 60 and the average age is about 50, the survey notes.

Here again is the problem of the smaller towns, for of the cities over 10,000 only 6.7 per cent of the officials have passed the age of 60.

Discussing "executive experience," the survey shows that only 26.3 per cent of the Texas departments are headed by officials who have served therein prior to becoming its head.

Length of tenure is "unfortunately brief," cited is a 20-year survey which produced the following statistics: over 100,000 population, 2.9 years in office; 40,000-100,000 population, 3.5 years in office; 10,000-40,000 population, 5.5 years in office; 3,500-10,000, 4.2 years in office; 1,000-3,500, 4.2 years; under 1,000 4.3 years; general average, 4-4 years.

The survey points to a "general lack of interest in police advancement," stating that the annual convention of International Association of Chiefs of Police attracted only one chief and three officers from the entire state.

The problem of tenure, experience, training and salaries—all of which are stumbling blocks to the efficient chief of police—are equal trouble-makers for his force.

A Mississippi native, Chapman has been inside the Texas and Arkansas penitentiaries for bank robberies, at which profession he is considered an excellent hand. Chapman escaped the Eastham farm of the Texas prison system, where incorrigibles are kept July 8, 1937.

Recently officers ambushed and wounded him in Mississippi, but he escaped. Officers have NOT said whether they have reports that he is in Texas at the moment.

A stocky thug with greying brown hair, Chapman is 41 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 152 pounds. He has blue eyes, is of medium fair complexion, and bears bullet wounds in his forearm, right shoulder, both thighs and hip. He is a former road contractor, has tended bar, and bears a scar on the side of each eye.

If you see him, call the police. They'll be interested.

Accused Louisiana Killer Is Captured

PLAIN DEALING, La., Feb. 24 (AP)—Sheriff L. H. Padgett said Clint H. Logan, 23, accused killer who escaped from the Miller county, Ark., jail, Feb. 7, was captured last night at the home of relatives 12 miles west of here.

Constable E. M. O'Daniel, who made the arrest, said Logan showed no resistance although he had been quoted as saying he would "never be taken alive."

Logan is charged with killing Veal Jackson of Texarkana on Jan. 4 in an altercation at Logan's night club near here.

Logan and three other prisoners escaped by sawing cell bars. The others were recaptured in Arkansas. Logan's wife is now serving a six-month jail term in Texarkana for smuggling saws to her husband.

Beauty Nudges Way Into Halls Of Legislature

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—Beauty—or at least the commercial aspects of it—nudged its way into the Texas legislative halls today beside taxation, pension and other major problems.

In the hands of a subgroup of the senate public health committee was a 31-page bill completely altering the present cosmetology law which seeks to control 22,000 beauty culture operators, 7,000 shops and 76 schools. The group was instructed to report March 6.

It was shunted to subcommittee for further study when the full committee—after a two-hour hearing—frankly admitted all it knew about beauty culture could be written on something the approximate size of a postage stamp.

Major features create a new board of cosmetology, prohibit the minimum educational requirements for students to two years of high school study and require that beauty school graduates be employed professionally for 18 months before managing or supervising their own shops.

More than 300 women—trim hair, dress, blossom-like complexion and a general air of chicness demonstrating they knew whereof they spoke—crowded the senate chamber for the hearing.

Mrs. W. C. King of Austin, owner of several shops, told the committee she favored the bill because the industry needed so many things to improve it.

"We're akin to doctors and dentists and would like some day to get our semi-profession up to their standards," she said.

Pampa Favored To Win Region Cage Title

Locals Play In Afternoon And Tonight

Medicine Mound Looms As Chief Basketball Foe

For the first time in history, Pampa's Harvesters basketball squad, 17 strong, are accompanied by their coach, O. Mitchell, veteran Pampa athletic mentor, went to the Interscholastic League's regional basketball tournament favorites to win over Lubbock, Medicine Mound of Hardeman county, and Dalhart of Dallam county.

There was only one dark cloud on Coach Mitchell's basketball horizon this morning, and that was the condition of A. C. Miller, regular center, who did not practice yesterday because of an infected wisdom tooth. A. C. couldn't open his mouth more than a quarter of an inch. He was not in uniform yesterday. The tooth was not much better this morning and it was extremely doubtful whether or not he would be able to play.

Medicine Mound is expected to furnish toughest opposition for the Harvesters. Medicine Mound is a small community in Hardeman county, not as large as Mobeetie, but it won the title of the hottest basketball district in the Panhandle by walloping such teams as Quail, Turkey, Carey, Williams, Crowell, it also whipped Carey, the defending regional champions. That's why Medicine Mound is rated as the team to beat.

Lubbock First
However, Pampa's first obstacle will be Lubbock's improved Westerners at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. In a game starting at one o'clock, Medicine Mound will attempt to plaster a convincing defeat on Dalhart. If Pampa wins over Lubbock, and everybody agrees the Harvesters should win—having beaten them 30 points at Lubbock—then they will play the winner of the Medicine Mound-Dalhart game at 8 o'clock tonight. If Pampa loses the first tilt the Harvesters will play in the first game tonight that will start at 7 o'clock.

Boys who made the trip to the regional follows:

First string—Andis and Heiskell, forwards; Kyle and Miller, centers; Auld and Dunaway, guards; second string—Croup and Hamilton, forwards; Candler, center; Nichols and Nelson, guards; white string—Bearden and Terrell, forwards; Carlisle, center; Cox and Johnson, guards.

If the Harvesters lose either of the two games they will play today they will have to play at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. If they win both games today they will go to the finals tomorrow night.

The durable Lamar Redskins of Houston and the fast-moving Lions of Livingston were tabbed today to furnish the fireworks as the Texas schoolboy basketball race reached its regional round.

Eight widely-separated fronts had tournaments scheduled for today and tomorrow but the spotlight rested on Huntsville, where Lamar and Livingston, long rated at the top of the heap in South Texas, were picked for the region 5 finals.

It is freely predicted the winner of this tournament will play in the state finals at Austin next week.

Lamar and Livingston, winners on the basis of non-conference victories over Livingston and Bryan, who, along with Port Arthur, make up the region 5 slate. The Livingston victory, however, was a 32-7 thriller.

Pampa was favored in region 1, Abilene in region 2, Vernon in region 3, Gilmer in region 4, Sidney Lanier of San Antonio in region 6, Kingsville in region 7 and Bowie (El Paso) in region 8. Abilene, ranked as the top team of West Texas, had Billy Hay, all-district guard, on the injury list but still held a wide margin, in the critics' opinion.

Vernon Also Favored
A free-for-all was indicated at Longview, where Gilmer faces a team it barely nosed out in early season—Bailey—and Summerfield, which holds a victory over the potent though ineligible Cushing quintet, while Hughes Springs, always a strong contender, cooked up trouble for the whole bunch.

Medicine Mound, winner over the strong Carey Cardinals, loomed as Pampa's chief opposition and Riverside of Fort Worth bobbed up to plague Vernon along with Highland Park of Dallas, conqueror of the state defending champion Woodrow Wilson outfit. Kingsville looked for all sorts of trouble from Raymondville, Laredo and Wharton.

The region 1 tournament at Canyon starts this afternoon, the region 2 tournament at Abilene, the region 3 meet at Denton and the region 7 battle at Kingsville, begin tonight. The region 4 tournament at Longview, the region 5 tournament at Huntsville, the region 6 tournament at San Marcos and the region 8 meet at Alpine are scheduled tomorrow.

Butch Herron To Face Dawson In Houston Tourney

HOUSTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Ed (Butch) Herron, who needed but 16 holes yesterday to outstroke the amateur ace, Johnny Goodman of Omaha, faced another top-ranking golfer today in Johnny Dawson of Los Angeles as the second round of the Houston invitation tourney started.

Herron, a dark horse hometown, plays his best in the tight spots and his victory over Goodman convinced his followers he was ready to take Dawson. The Californian, who barely qualified for the championship flight, found himself yesterday and shot a one under par 70 to eliminate Horace Young of Houston 3 and 2.

Another match the gallery awaited today saw Harry Todd of Dallas opposing Ed White of Houston. Todd eliminated Bill Welch of Austin yesterday, 2 and 1. White had little trouble with Bob Geekie of St. Louis, winning 7 and 5.

Other pairings today were Lieut. Ken Rogers of Mobile, Ala., against Howard Creel of Pueblo, Colo.; Don Schumacher of Dallas against Earl Berryhill of Sapulpa, Okla.; Walter Emery of Houston, defending champion, against Fred Cooper Jr. of Houston; Billy Bob Coffey of Port Wadsworth against John Barnum of Edinburg, Texas; Gus Layton of Houston against Willie Maguire Jr. of Houston; and Bobby Riegel of Houston against Gus Novotny of Chicago.

Fighting for a second-place position, now precariously held by the Rice Owls, Arkansas university Razorbacks tonight (Friday) and tomorrow night will engage the Texas A. & M. Aggies at Fayetteville in the Southwest conference basketball race.

Rice, after slipping a notch last night when the Baylor Bears defeated the Owls 53-40, tomorrow night clashes at Austin, with the Texas university Longhorns, who are firmly entrenched in first place. The loss left the Owls only an outside chance of overcoming the Steers. The Longhorns have eight wins and two losses as against six victories and three defeats for Rice.

Of secondary importance will be tomorrow night's game in Dallas between Southern Methodist university Mustangs. In fifth place, and the cellar-dwelling Texas Christian university Frogs.

Pete Casey and Gray Vaughn, a couple of Baylor sharpshooters, hoisted the Bears into third place and left the Owls a full game and a half behind the Longhorns.

Creasy and Vaughn, with 22 and 20 points, respectively, netted more goals than the entire Rice team.

The Bears, taking an 8-2 lead in the first five minutes, were halted temporarily when Frank Carswell cut the margin to three points. But four field goals by Creasy gave them an 18-5 lead midway of the opening half. Then Vaughn, chucking a series from mid-court, shot his team to a 31-14 halftime lead.

The Owls fought back desperately, but the defensive work of the same Creasy-Vaughn combination checked them.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Cabot and the Shell Gassers, Class C bowling teams, rolled Class A scores last night in league games as Shell took two out of three from the league leading carbonates. Both teams fielded Class A players for the games. Cabot rolled a total of 2359 pins to 2488 for the Gassers.

The Lions took two from the Modern Beauty Shop and Kiwanis took two out of three from Jones-Everett last night.

The Class B schedule for tonight will be:

Frankie Hill Will Battle Steve Netry

When Ernie Peterson, the admiral of the Pacific coast, meets Sterling Hill, the Wichita lad, battling Steve Netry of Miami, Fla., while Russ Riley, popular Muleshoe battler, tangles with Able Freeman from the Bronx in the preliminary at 8 o'clock sharp.

Hill has been in a bad humor for several weeks. Netry, on the other hand, has been a smiling youngster since he made his last couple of great showings. Hill thinks he should be a main event by Promoter Cliff Chambers is making him work his way up to the top after losing a decision. Netry, slightly smaller, has been having a tough time against the big fellows but he has made a hit with fans because of his stamina and ability.

The Russ Riley-Able Freeman meeting will be for keeps and not for fun. Both are in the doghouse following recent defeats and both want to get to the top of the ladder where they can dictate to the other boys.

The largest winter crowd of the year is expected to be on hand for the Davis-Peterson match. Although Peterson has appeared here only once, he made such a hit that fans immediately demanded that he be given a main event. They say Chambers was lucky enough to sign Davis for an opponent. Davis has been away from here for several months.

Galento Whips Feldman To Reinforce Louis Bid

Pneumonia Threatens Aulds, Miller Has Infected Tooth

O'd Man Bad Luck struck the Harvesters basketball team at the last minute today.

The Pampa quintet's chances of winning the regional meet were considerably lessened this morning when it was learned that not only A. C. Miller, center, but Doyle Aulds, first string guard, may not be able to play.

Miller is unable to open his jaws on account of an infected wisdom tooth. His left jaw is red and swollen and he is under the care of a doctor; he will make the trip but may not be able to play.

Physicians feared that Doyle Aulds might again contract pneumonia of which he was critically ill last winter, and started yesterday afternoon to give him "shots" for the dreaded disease. Doyle was at the point of death for several days last February, and doctors feared that his susceptibility to the disease might bring on another attack. He had pains in his chest this morning and his bronchial tubes were sore and swollen.

He will make the trip but may not be able to play.

DALLAS, Feb. 24. (AP)—Redman Hume, coach at Highland Park high school and former Southern Methodist university satellite, told his spring training football candidates to note carefully the proper way to block.

He drove into the blocking machine with all his old-time finesse. Crack:

Item: Coach Redman Hume of Highland Park is under the doctor's care with a shoulder injury suffered during practice. The patient is doing splendidly.

Two seasons ago, Corpus Christi athletic authorities began a grade-school and junior high football program, issuing some 300 uniforms to the kids. So what? So Corpus won the state championship last year... spring is here. Chester Mays of Galveston, a semi-pro pitcher, dislocated a finger playing baseball the other day... Matty Bell, S. M. U. coach, says his footballers will finish sixth next year.

That's funny. Everybody else says they'll be around the top... Houston players swept the four championships in the Texas Table Tennis association tournament at Galveston.

Pampa and Canadian boxers will meet in the squared circle at the city hall, Canadian, tonight at 8 o'clock in a dual boxing meet. At least 36 rounds of boxing will be presented.

Local youngsters who enjoy boxing have been working out under supervision of Oscar Hinger, junior high school coach, and Cliff E. Chambers, who took the sensational Pampa Golden Gloves boxing team to the Fort Worth tournament last week.

Twelve bouts have already been scheduled and several more Pampa boys will make the trip and will box if suitable opponents are available.

Coach Toby Waggoner of Canadian high school is training his boys and will letter them. He is the man who did such a great job of officiating at the Pampa Golden Gloves tournament.

Tentative bouts for tonight follow: Mathers, Canadian, vs. Winfred "Wimpy" Shaw, Pampa 70 pounds. Winkle, Canadian, vs. Charles Breadhauer, Pampa 80 pounds. Worley, Canadian, vs. Buddy Simmons, Pampa, 90 pounds. Cloyd, Canadian, vs. Richard Stephens, Pampa, 100 pounds. Swires, Canadian, vs. Bob Fralley, Pampa, 112 pounds. Gamble, Canadian, vs. Ralph Proper, Pampa, 125 pounds. Spruin, Canadian, vs. John Kidwell, Pampa, 135 pounds. Thrasher, Canadian, vs. Pug Hughes, Pampa, 135 pounds. Bill Fort, Canadian, vs. Calvin Shaw, Pampa, 135 pounds. Young, Canadian, vs. Bob Bray, Pampa, 135 pounds. Vic Fort, Canadian, vs. Albert Stokes, Pampa, 147 pounds. Boys also making the trip are Bill Coons, L. V. MacDonald, Jerry Smith, Darrel Cameron, Junior Comstock, Buddy Wilson, and Harold Smith.

The Aggies... Four thousand ninety-six coyotes trapped in Webb county the last 10 weeks. That's a lot of howls... Sad note for high schools: 150 boys reported for spring training at Corpus Christi high... Someone asks are we related to Wayne Rives, Houston golfer in the invitation tournament down there. No, but we shoot the same score. He qualified with a 96.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—In case bold Tony Galento does get that shot at Champion Joe Louis next summer, which now seems assured, the very least he ought to do is cut honest Abe Feldman in for about 10 per cent of his end of the purse.

Abe did a lot to help Tony's cause by the sort of fighting he put up here last night before Referee Dave Miller finally had to stop it early in the third round to spare him further punishment and possibly save Galento from a charge of manslaughter.

Bald Abe did his level best to make a fight of it. If he didn't, then he took a terrible beating to make it look good. The crowd of about 10,000, counting deadheads, would have understood if Feldman had stayed down any one of the biting times Tony smashed him to the canvas in the second round. They were yelling to Miller frantically to stop it when Abe sank to his knees from a terrific left to the body after 30 seconds of the third.

By sticking it so gamely, Feldman at least gave Tony a chance to land a few visible blows. The crowd and the critics saw them hit Feldman, and there was no one to say fave. It was plain that Feldman, an honest, ring-wary second-ranger, simply was no match for the Orange round man, who outweighed him 37 pounds.

Tony gets a little more savage each fight as he sees himself getting nearer a battle with the champion.

The crowd in the football stadium, encased in storm clothing against a biting wind from the sea, was mightily impressed by the portly man's display. Promoter Mike Jacobs grinned from ear to ear.

Prior to the main attraction the crowd saw a tragic example of a promising young fighter being rushed too fast. They put Ben Brown, a handsome 21-year-old Atlantan, in the ring with Solly Krieger, the National Boxing association's mid-weight champion, and the kid was given a brutal beating before the referee stopped it in the ninth round.

Fishing Bill Prepared For Introduction

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—A proposal intended to protect Texas commercial fishermen but which may precipitate a battle over determination of the boundary line between Texas and Louisiana was ready for introduction in the house of representatives today.

Rep. DeWitt Kinard of Port Arthur wrote the bill which would, he says, extend the Texas boundary into territory claimed by Louisiana in the Sabine Pass at the southeast tip of Texas.

The proposal would permit Texas commercial fishermen to fish "in the coastal waters bounded on the east by a line drawn from the Sabine Pass and extending three marine leagues (90 miles) into the Gulf of Mexico, said line cutting across the east Sabine jetty at a point 20 feet north of the present fishing pier known as the Jaycee pier and following along the coast line of Texas to the present acknowledged boundary between the state of Texas and the Republic of Mexico."

"When Texas became a state," Kinard said, "it reserved the right to extend its boundaries to the middle of the Sabine river, lake and pass. We also were permitted to take jurisdiction over submerged lands 90 miles into the gulf. This bill merely takes advantage of those provisions."

Kinard said he had been informed Louisiana recently had taken possession of the east Sabine jetties. His bill, he said, would give part of the jetties to Texas.

Observers saw the important question of mineral rights and oil production involved and hinted the bill, if passed, might bring protests from Louisiana with a dispute carried into the supreme court of the United States.

"The fact that commercial fishermen from other states are fishing in the coastal waters over which the sovereign State of Texas has jurisdiction, without licenses from this state, resulting in unfair competition and working hardships on resident commercial fishermen, creates an emergency," the bill said.

The proposal otherwise would not change the commercial fishing license of $3 and provide for reciprocal licenses in that a non-resident could purchase a commercial license for the same fee charged in his state. It provided a $100 to $500 fine for violation.

Will J. Tucker, secretary of the game commission, said there had been trouble on the east jetty in Sabine Pass last summer when Louisiana wardens collected license fees from Texas fishermen who were fishing in what they presumed was Texas territory.

Javelinas Numerous Along Nueces River

BEEVILLE, Feb. 24 (AP)—Rocky Regan, pioneer cattleman of this section, says the javelina, or wild hog, are becoming numerous in the thickets on his ranch along the Nueces river.

The animals, native to Texas, are vicious little creatures, Regan said, but only when aroused by harrying dogs or gunshot wounds.

"They'll make a man take a tree plenty quick, then," the cattleman said. "Wanton slaying of the little animals by huntsmen and their dogs a few years ago almost exterminated the javelina in this section."

Regan said the little wild hogs, which seldom attain a weight of more than 100 pounds, are harmless as far as depredations upon livestock are concerned. They prefer to root for tubers or forage upon prickly pear apples, rather than attack newly-born calves or kid goats or lambs, like domestic breeds of hogs will sometimes do when left to go wild.

"I'm glad to see the javelina coming back," Regan said. "I like to see plenty of wild animals in the woods. Also, they're good to eat. You take a fat gilt, now, and roast her over a camp fire, and you just can't beat that for good eating."

Masonic Lodge At Van Alstyne Formed February 7, 1857

VAN ALSTYNE, Feb. 24 (AP)—When old Mantus Masonic lodge No. 269, now known as the Van Alstyne Masonic lodge, was organized Feb. 7, 1857, one of the visitors was James W. Throckmorton afterward governor of Texas.

The organization meeting was on the second floor of a stoop building owned by H. N. Walcott, who was elected worshipful master. When new quarters became necessary the members joined in a movement to build a school building with quarters in the second story. This structure was finished in 1859, the lumber being hauled overland from Jefferson. The architect was John T. Echols, father of W. L. and Fred Echols of Van Alstyne. Al Echols of Fort Worth and Mayor F. M. Echols of Whitewright.

The cornerstone was laid in 1860, only to be laid some years later, presumably to obtain coins deposited in the stone. At the beginning of the Civil war, 36 of the 45 members enlisted, but after the conflict the lodge prospered several years. The coming of the Houston and Texas Central railroad brought the founding of Van Alstyne in 1873, and exodus of the lodge along with Old Mantus village to Van Alstyne. The lodge has been meeting in its present quarters since 1898.

Guam Project Defeated In 205-168 Vote

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—New senatorial criticism of the administration's foreign policy broke out today after house rejection of the controversial Guam naval base project, 205 to 168, when a sizable bloc of Democrats joined Republicans in opposition.

During the thundering debate, foes termed the proposed harbor improvements on the far-away Pacific island "a dagger at the throat of Japan."

With the Guam provision eliminated, the House yesterday quickly passed the remainder of the administration bill authorizing a $48,000,000 series of naval air bases in the Pacific, Puerto Rico, and the continental United States. Only four members rose in opposition on the final vote.

Even before the bill formally was sent to the Senate, several Senators declared the defense program should not be debated until the government's stand on foreign affairs is clarified.

At the same time, Senators Borah (R-Idaho) and Johnson (R-Calif) took the leadership in a bi-partisan movement to formulate a statement of foreign policy based on the principle of avoiding conflict.

House leaders, who pleaded for approval of the $5,000,000 Guam project on the ground it did not mean fortification of the island, later interpreted the vote as primarily one of foreign policy.

Rayburn Urges Bill Democratic leader Rayburn said, "I guess if the Guam improvement had been recommended by the Rivers and Harbors committee instead of by the Naval committee it would have gone through all right."

Previously Rayburn had told the House the improvement was needed for commercial seaplane routes as well as some naval operations.

Opponents contended that since the island was in the midst of territory under Japanese mandate, the establishment of a seaplane base would appear to be a distinctly unfriendly act.

The administration's defeat on the Guam vote had its political as well as international aspects. Republicans, who had decided on their stand at a party conference, held their lines virtually intact, but about one-fourth of the Democrats broke away from their leaders.

The Borah-Johnson effort to write a foreign policy statement apparently was headed for innumerable difficulties, due to wide differences of opinion among critics of the administration's course.

Johnson indicated these difficulties might be resolved by couching the statement in very general terms.

Rain Tests Made On Windblown Soil

DALHART, Feb. 24 (AP)—Observations completed recently by soil conservation service technicians show that grassland partly covered by windblown soil loses at least 25 per cent of its moisture because the powder-fine accumulation sheds water.

Tests were made on adjacent areas having identical soil and slope on the C. M. Peelen farm. After a two and one-third inch rain the area that was virtually free of windblown soil absorbed 25 per cent more water than the grassland partly covered with the windblown dust.

Thus, the technicians said, windblown soil not only lowers fertility of the area from which it comes and kills grass by burying it, but it retards growth of grass not killed by acting as a water repellent and depriving the land of moisture. The tests also indicated, they said, that even on cultivated areas the windblown accumulations retard entrance of rain into the soil.

Special experiments are being made for the Temple of Religion and Tower of Peace at the 1939 California World's Fair to be sure lighting will harmonize with the purpose of the building.

How To Grow Roses In Texas Told By Experts

(By The Associated Press.)

In the pre-spring days the fancy of thousands of Texans idly turns to thoughts of a rose garden. But lest the collective rose growers foot slips and his disillusionment be great the voice of experience whispers in his ear.

V. S. Hillock of Arlington, originator of rose species, counsels no manure should be used in a rosebed in the Southwest, either at the time of building or planting. After plants have stood in the bed through one summer, he says, one inch of thoroughly rotted cow manure should be spread over the bed after winter comes, but the manure should not come in contact with the plants.

This application should be repeated each winter thereafter. Manures should not come in contact with plants.

This application should be repeated each winter thereafter.

Manures should not be dug into the soil in the spring in the drought country. Cultivation should be done through the spring and summer without regard for presence of the manures, thus incorporating the manures into the soil gradually.

Cow manure is not a stimulating fertilizer. Stimulating fertilizers are high concentrates that come in cans, cartons, and bags. They positively have their uses—but not in the rose garden. In the rose garden, they invite disaster.

It is better to prune late than early, but in pruning one gambles upon the weather. In north-central Texas, from Feb. 22 to March 1 is the accepted time. A week later in northern Oklahoma, a week earlier in Austin.

In pruning, all dead wood and all soft pithy canes produced in late autumn should be removed. The canes left in pruning the year previous should be eliminated so far as possible. Three to five canes produced the preceding spring alone should be selected and shortened to from five to seven inches. Care should be taken that the upper eye on each cane remaining is on the outside to spread the growth of the plant.

The susceptibility of any rose variety to borers is measured by the ability of its foliage to withstand adverse conditions without defoliation and by the speed with which it will break into renewed growth if defoliation can not be escaped.

There is a wide difference between varieties from that angle. The City of New York (five borers) is 35 miles long, north and south, and 16 1-2 miles wide.

Advertise?

I no need to advertise!
I sell da apple without your "advertise". I tink datsa foolish!"

Talk About Advertising

to Tony and he'll say, "I no advertise!" But, of course, you know that he's doing just that perhaps in another way. He does it when he puts up that sign . . . when he paints his cart a bright red and blue so that it can be easily identified, so that it looks gay . . . when he stops at a busy corner, because Tony knows that he can sell more apples when more people see his apples . . . when he shouts "Apples!" as he pushes his cart along.

Tony Has Learned

the first principles of successful selling: bring your wares before the eyes of great numbers of people and you can sell profitably! But not everyone in Pampa is a Tony, and few businessmen specialize in apples. Moreover, Tony is satisfied with the number of apples he sells. A progressive merchant would never stop there. Tony is advertising—yes, but in a feeble, limited sort of way. If you are not like Tony—if you are not satisfied with the number of "apples" you are selling, and you want to sell more—you'll advertise in a Newspaper that has a loyal local following, one that is read by thousands of people who are able to buy your "apples". In Pampa, that paper is The Pampa News.

Babson Sees Better Times For Rail Workers And Investors Railroads Progress

BABSON PARK, Pa., Feb. 24.—One of the most interesting points in the current business picture is the steady, but unpublished, progress of the railroads. A year ago, most people thought the whole industry was headed for bankruptcy. Today, there is a lot of good news coming out about the carriers. It begins to look as though they have again weathered the storm.

I do not need to emphasize the terrific importance of this industry to every man, woman, and child in America. I can safely say that when we have prosperity in the railroad business it means more dollars and cents in the pocket of every reader. The fortunes of whole towns and cities throughout the nation depend upon the railroads. Coal and iron mines, steel plants, locomotive and car shops, lumber mills and paint factories are just a few of the businesses which prosper when the railroads prosper. Then, when they pay dividends, their investors add to the national prosperity.

Buying and Hiring.
Hence, it is significant news when press dispatches read like this: "Orders for more than 375,000 tons of steel rails and accessories have already been placed in 1939. Here is another: "The roads plan to take on 800 men now, with 5,000 additional employees in the summer." Still another: "The railroads have just made inquiries for 85 new locomotives." This all means more jobs for steel, machine shop, and rail road workers, better service for passengers and shippers, bigger earnings for railroad equipment investors. Railroad employment is still far below the 1937 peak and somewhat under a year ago, but the outlook promises many more jobs this spring.

What are behind these important news announcements? Let me list some of the most important points:
1. Studies show the railroads are not, at this time, losing additional freight traffic to trucks and other competitive means of transportation.
2. Railroad traffic is 4 per cent higher than at the low of last June, back to the level of 1935, and above 1932, 1933, and 1934.
3. The gain in traffic has boosted gross revenues 13 per cent.

4. Economics in railroad operations and curtailed maintenance expenditures are allowing the roads to turn this 13 per cent gain in gross revenues into a 100 per cent increase in net income!
5. In the latest month, most of the roads are paying their bills and taxes, meeting their payroll and interest charges, and still have some income left over.

6. Congress seems to be in a helpful frame of mind. There should be some constructive legislation from Washington this session.
7. The roads are under better management. There is evidence of less banker-lender influence.
8. Labor costs are high for a business just keeping its head above water. Labor leaders, however, are showing more cooperation.
9. Service is better. After years of "sleep-walking," the roads are taking a genuine interest in giving the best-possible service.
10. Savings in cost of operations through better materials and more efficient equipment are enormous.

Some Gloomy Problems.
Against this background of better news loom some real obstacles. Many people believe they can never be hindered short of government ownership—or, at least, by the government's buying a first mortgage 3 per cent bond issue on the roads, thus enabling them to reduce interest charges 50 per cent.

1. Taxes are enormous. No relief from this score is in sight as spending mounts day by day. Social security is a terrific burden, growing each year.
2. History shows that as soon as some cream, in the form of better earnings, rises to the surface labor grabs it.
3. Politicians are putting every obstacle in the way of lopping off losing branch lines. Pooling and consolidation of competing systems, with resultant economies, seems as far off as ever.

4. Some roads have been neglecting maintenance of way for 15 months or more. As revenues grow, this deferred maintenance will have to be met.
5. Debts must be pared down. Many roads are only half a dozen skips ahead of the sheriff or Jesse James.

Tremendous Savings Possible.
How do these obstacles balance out against the favorable items? Temporarily, the favorable factors ought to win. Over the longer term, I am not sure. I have seen many an old business modernize and make money. It is the potential economies in operating costs that interest me in the railroad outlook. But, do the possibilities of operating economies warrant overlooking the threatening tax, labor, and political difficulties in the long-term outlook? That is the real question and I doubt if anyone could give more than a guess as an answer at the present time.

Railroad Securities Over-sold.
Right now I think railroad securities are being neglected by investors. Look at the following figures. They compare freight carloadings—the best yardstick of railroad business—with the average price of 20 railroad common stocks at mid-February for the past nine years:

Year	Carloadings Weekly	Average 20 Stocks
1939	577,000	$ 30.40
1938	543,000	29.04
1937	692,000	57.37
1936	631,000	48.78
1935	582,000	32.73
1934	579,000	51.84
1933	501,000	27.38
1932	562,000	38.58
1931	721,000	110.15

Junior bonds of several railroads, which are now covering their fixed charges with some measure of safety, are selling at 50 to 60 cents on the dollar! Under such conditions, I think that investors can well afford to hang on to their railroad securities. Keep in mind, however, that they should probably be sold later on because ultimately 35 per cent of the country's railroad mileage must be scrapped and the capitalization adjusted accordingly!

Police Raid Bingo Game Attended By 1,500 Denver Women
DETROIT, Feb. 24 (AP)—Principals in a riotous scene that accompanied a police raid on bingo game involving 1,500 persons at a fraternal order temple here last night, found quiet today—in recorder's court.

An estimated 1,300 women in the game greeted the 30 raiding policemen with hisses and hoots, and a barrage of bingo cards. Some rushed for the exits, some attempted to grab a score of smoked hams offered as prizes, and others jammed the Temple stage demanding refund of their admission.

Police racket squad members won the rush for the hams. Lieut. John P. McCarthy said the squad also seized $692 in admission fees. Seven men were held on charges of operating or aiding and abetting a gambling enterprise.

Prominent in the farm belt bloc of senators fighting the New Deal crop production control program and seeking passage of new farm legislation is Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas Republican, pictured with upraised hands indicating he thinks farmers have had enough of AAA regulation.

Texans In Washington

By L. T. EASLEY
 Texas Associated Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president-designate of the University of Texas, will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by former students of the university living at Washington March 2.

Assisting him are George Wythe, chief of the Latin-American affairs in the Commerce Department; Hampson Gary, solicitor for the Export-Import bank; Clifford G. Beckham, chief of the Texas society in Washington; McCall Kerby, of the National Geographic society editorial staff; Ashley Sellers, Agriculture Department attorney; Mrs. E. O. Mather, and Bob Baldridge, assistant enrolling clerk of the Senate.

Senators Sheppard and Connally and twelve of the Texas House members in Congress are former students in the University of Texas. The representatives are Rayburn of Bonham, Dies of Orange, Beckworth of Gilmer, Patton of Crockett, Thomas of Houston, Poage of Waco, Lanham of Fort Worth, Gossett of Wichita Falls, Kleberg of Corpus Christi, Thomas of El Paso, Jones of Amarillo and Mahon of Colorado.

There are several hundred former students of the university employed in congressional offices and federal departments. Independence Day, has for years been the occasion for annual reunion of University of Texas students. Also to commemorate the date the Texas society of Washington annually holds a dance.

This year the dance will be held Feb. 25, according to the society's secretary, Elmore Whitehurst of Dallas, clerk of the House judiciary committee. Senator Connally will deliver a brief Independence Day address before dancing begins.

reinstatement was expected soon in the others.

Pending before Congress is a bill to confer the medal of honor for service in the Philippine insurrection on William O. Trafton, deceased.

The measure was introduced by Rep. Mansfield of Columbus at the request of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Texas City. A similar bill was reported favorably out of the House military affairs committee in 1930, but never came to a vote in the House.

Comaired in the committee report on the previous bill was a statement from the tenth secretary of war, Dwight F. Davis, telling of heroism of Trafton and Joseph L. Epps in an encounter at Vigan, P. I., Dec. 4, 1899. At great risk to themselves the pair captured 17 armed and uniformed insurgents in a house surrounded by a stone wall.

Children Uncover Skeleton In Sand

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 24. (AP)—Conflicting theories over discovery of a human skeleton in a Rio Grande sand bar near Belen, reopened official conjecture today over several New Mexico disappearance cases of recent years.

District Attorney John Baron Burg, clinging to a theory the skeleton may be a link to the baffling disappearance in May, 1935, of four East St. Louis, Ill., tourists, said he planned further excavations. A Federal Bureau of Investigation agent planned to accompany him.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer of East St. Louis disappeared while on a motoring trip. Some of their buried personal effects later were found, the Lorus car was found abandoned in Dallas and some of their traveling checks were cashed in Texas, but no trace of the tourists ever was found.

At Los Lunas, Undersheriff Henry Jaramillo was skeptical the bones, found by two boys near the Belen bridge, had any connection with the Lorus case.

White-Footed Mouse Discovered in Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 24. (AP)—A white-footed mouse, new to science, has been discovered as a result of work of the Texas cooperative wildlife research unit of A. & M. college in Walker county.

The new species, called the short-tailed peromyscus, was described by Dr. W. B. Davis, professor of wild game. Material collected by Dr. Walter P. Taylor, leader of the Texas cooperative wildlife research unit, and his associates, during the summer of 1935 led to the discovery. In time these activities may be expected to add materially to knowledge of the interesting birds, mammals, and other vertebrate creatures in the state. The new species was described in one of the occasional papers of the museum of zoology, Louisiana State University Press, Feb. 1.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday's Susie is beautiful. She has a new look, a new style, a new way of thinking. She is the girl of the hour.

CHAPTER XVIII

THERE were no mirrors in the room. Susie waited for the first view of herself with the still excitement of a bride awaiting the first peel of her wedding march.

Then, with the net still over her hair, she was dressed. An army of maids in waiting helped her while an army of department heads looked on critically.

Gloves, finest suede, hand stitched were slipped on Susie's hands, softly crushed at the wrists. Someone handed her a purse, suede again, like the shoes and gloves, with a huge, fanciful 'S' in burnished gold.

With every passing second Susie's nerves grew tenser. It was becoming difficult to swallow, her eyes felt stiff, too wide open.

"Ah—" sighed the milliner, "I knew it—perfection." She was crowded aside by a young woman with a knee length coat that matched Susie's dress.

"You're swell, Susie," he said. "It was the best possible line. Sympathy would have reduced her to tears, bullying would have antagonized her. Jeff's remark made her laugh."

"Well, that's something," she managed to say. "Boy how you've turned the trick. You're a knockout, a double-barreled knock-out. Forget the old Susie we both liked."

"Walk smart," he advised her, "Shoulders back, head up." Susie was laughing as she joined a nervously irate Mr. Kane. Upon seeing her he forgot to be irate. He whistled through his teeth.

"Ye gods," he muttered. "The impossible has come to pass, the age of miracles is upon us." It was a triumphal march to Mr. Harker's office, a buzz of amazed chatter followed in the wake of Susie and Mr. Kane.

Near the elevator Susie saw Jeff's mother and ran to her with both hands outstretched. "Am I all right?" she asked in the manner of a little girl.

As Kane guided Susie to the closed door of John Harker's office she said, "May I go in alone—just for a moment?" Kane, who had been mentally reviewing a presentation speech which reflected much glory upon himself, drew back in dismay.

"But Mr. Harker asked me to bring you," he objected. "Well, you've brought me," she said, smiling, the ripe temptation of her lips emphasized by the 'O'—okay," he muttered, as she opened the door.

"Look—out," Emily exclaimed, rushing forward with a soft tissue. "Look—out," Pierre repeated. "Dry those tears, girl, or you will spoil everything."

SUSIE laughed shakily and the tears were gone. The clock said 3:30 and she was to be presented to Mr. Harker at 4. The linen apron disappeared, a hat was deftly fitted to her head.

"Seventh Grade Gives American Music Pageant" PANHANDLE, Feb. 24.—One of the most outstanding grade school assembly programs of the year was presented this week when Mrs. C. R. Owens, music director, and Misses Ione Bender and Nell Rinsy, seventh grade teachers, presented both seventh grades in a "Pageant of American Music."

Our first music, Indian, was dramatized by using the song "By the Waters of Minnetonka." Early Colonial, Mozart's Minuet, was danced and Hall Columbia was dramatized.

Negro folk songs were represented by some of Stephen Foster's songs, a spiritual, Swing Low, and some novelty numbers were given. Pioneer days were represented by "Oh, Sussana" and a square dance. Cowboy music, "Home on the Range," and some novelty numbers.

"When the Work's All Done," and some novelty numbers. Patriotic music, an ensemble of those from each war and a patriotic drill. The Star Spangled Banner was used as the grand finale.

Scarborough Room Opened At Baylor WACO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Featuring the personal collection of the late Dr. Dorothy Scarborough, short story writer and alumnae of Baylor University a rare book room containing several hundred volumes of rare books and letters was opened this month at Baylor University.

Dr. W. S. Hoole, head librarian, announces. The Scarborough collection consists of approximately 1,000 books autographed by the authors, and all of her personal letters.

The autographs include those of Carl Sandburg, J. Frank Dobie, James Branch Cabell and Rachel Field. Also included are three bound volumes of famous modern ghost stories collected by Dr. Scarborough for the blind.

Miss Scarborough graduated from Baylor in 1897 and also studied at Oxford and Columbia and the University of Chicago. She taught English at Baylor for several years and then took a position on the faculty of Columbia University.

She was well known as an instructor and writer of short stories based on Negro folklore and Southern themes. Her first novel was "In the Land of Cotton," and another, "The Wind," dealing with West Texas, was dramatized for the silent screen.

Many of the books in the new room are originals and have no duplicates, Hoole said. Included are three Latin music manuscripts printed on sheep skin and valued at $1,120. Several volumes are copied from Roman and German law printed in 1624, and among others are Smith's "Historie of Virginia" printed in 1624, 17 years after the first white people settled there, and a book on the anatomy of plants dedicated to Charles II of Great Britain.

Sabine's dictionary, a complete list of all rare books, was obtained at a cost of $400, according to Hoole. The major part of the collection comprises volumes given to Baylor by individuals, but some were obtained through the McGregor Foundation, by which Baylor receives rare books.

National Basketball Title In Storage In Brooklyn Warehouse

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Service Sports Writer.

HOOP FACTORY AND FOREMAN
NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The national basketball championship, or as good a claim as can be attached to it, is stored in an old warehouse in the heart of Brooklyn.

An unattractive six-story structure not far from roaring rapid transits is the home of Long Island University, made famous by the phenomenal basketball teams of Clair Francis Bee.

Long Island University is only 12 years of age, so does not boast the dignity of antiquity. Its only link with the Ivy League is the fact that Yale locks formerly were either manufactured or packed for shipping in the building which now is home to 2,000 students.

When Bee reported to L. I. U. in 1931 from Rider College of Trenton, where he coached with the same success he has employed in Flatbush, the school had an athletic budget of $35,000. There were 11 on the athletic staff then.

But the depression struck the following year . . . leaving L. I. U. only $5,000 to spend on athletics. So the amazing Bee fired all his assistants and became the institution's one-man athletic department.

An energetic West Virginian, Bee for seven years has been more than director of the school of physical education and athletics and head coach of every sport. He also is in charge of the accounting.

BEE'S SIDE JOB GIVES HIS STARS EMPLOYMENT.

As though that were not enough, in the summer Professor Bee conducts basketball clinics and serves as director of recreation at Manhattan, Oriental, and Brighton Beaches, the largest privately-owned ocean-front playground in the world.

The latter position dovetails nicely with Bee's athletic program at L. I. U. It enables him to give a number of his better athletes summer employment.

Having scaled the heights of basketball, L. I. U. re-enters football next fall, and Bee isn't the type to aim at secondary stuff. A product of Waynesburg College of Pennsylvania and veteran of the earlier days of professional football, Bee will coach his own team. He has engaged Ken Strong, the renowned N. Y. U. and professional ball-toter and kicker, to drill his backs.

L. I. U. is one of the few self-supporting seats of learning, and basketball has played no little part. Tom Meany, New York sports writer, did more to publicize L. I. U. basketball than any other. He saw Bee's team in its small College of Pharmacy gymnasium. The gym was painted white. Bee's players loomed large in it in black uniforms.

Bee was seeking a catchy nickname for his squad. Meany supplied it: "The Blackbirds."

BLACKBIRDS PLAY BEFORE 18,000 PEOPLE IN GARDEN.

The Blackbirds soon were in Madison Square Garden, where thrice they have played to more than 18,000 persons.

Against the best collegiate competition, the Blackbirds have been beaten only 10 times in six seasons for the amazing average of .935. They made court history with a 43-game winning streak over a three-year span. They are unbeaten in 22 engagements this season . . . a string which started in Puerto Rico in September.

Although it lost the towering star, Art Hillhouse, in mid-year graduation exercises, the current L. I. U. varsity remains perhaps the most attractive collegiate basketball varsity in the game. It still has Irving Torgoff, leading scorer of the metropolitan area.

Bee teaches "The Ball in the Basket" play. His teams are celebrated for accurate shooting. Bee has been preparing for football. He doesn't have to go out of the metropolitan area for talent, and he knows how to get it.

L. I. U. will be no pushover on the gridiron. Not if Clair Francis Bee can teach blocking and tackling and such, as well as he taught the Blackbirds to shoot goals.

Single Persons Taxed

BERLIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—Unmarried men and women in Germany were hit hard by a revision of the income tax law, published today, enabling the government to take up to 55 per cent of their taxable incomes.

$200,000 Stage Pageant Glorifies 'American Way'

By GEORGE ROSS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The new mammoth spectacle, "The American Way," at the Center theater in Radio City, is Moss Hart's and George S. Kaufman's testimonial to this country's democratic institutions.

A gigantic cost, costing more than $200,000, with a cast of more than 250 people of whom Frederic March and Florence Eldridge are the stars, it dwarfs a few other pageants that have been splashed over the same stage in Rockefeller Center.

This show is, first to last, a lavish demonstration of patriotism. It begins with the strains of the Star Spangled Banner and ends with a stirring rendition of the National Anthem, as a silent audience stands stiffly at attention. A cavalcade of the last 43 years in American life is spread across a wide expanse of footlights between the prologue and finale.

It is our nation that "The American Way" is the most ambitious job undertaken by a native playwright, and is only paralleled by Noel Coward's unforgettable "Cavalcade" in London. For the authors of "The American Way," like their English fellowcraftsmen, are telling a poignant, personal story of a luckless American family against a large and intricate background.

This is the drama of a pair of German immigrants who embrace this country's ideals and institutions from the day they state, wide-eyed, at the new land from the shore of Ellis Island.

It is the story of their prosperous rise in the land of opportunity and the conflicts they must face with the outbreak of the war and the depression.

The war takes a son from these naturalized Americans. The collapse of 1929 takes all the property they have accumulated over the happy and unhappy years.

But they have embraced the American way of life for good or bad and when their other son nurtures his discontent at a Nazi Bund meeting, the father goes there to defy the brown-shirted fanatics.

He is mobbed to death by the businessmen and in the final, rousing scene, he is borne in a coffin draped in an American flag through a crowded square where he is eulogized as a true American.

That is the simple story of "The American Way" and that is the story which Frederic March and Florence Eldridge are acting with such unadorned sincerity that a few reviewers confessed to tears on watching them.

Looking Backward.
The scene at Ellis Island where hundreds of immigrants are herded into place is full of genuine excitement.

A whole small-town public square has been reproduced on the stage faithfully and here the crowd scenes make others we've seen look like intimate playlets, by comparison.

In this spectacular setting, the audiences of "The American Way" can see a stormy political rally between the Bryan and McKinley factions that develops into a free-for-all among a couple of hundred antagonists.

Here, too, march rank after rank of doughboys after the Armistice, amid a milling throng and behind a military band of 16 pieces.

The authors have faithfully re-

Frederic March as the aged bankrupt industrialist, still a 100 per cent American.

vived phases of America's past. We are reminded of the era of bustles and short skirts, of the terrifying bank runs, of such song hits as "Barney Google" and "I'm Dreaming About You," of the old July Fourth rallies, of high, wide, starched collars and abbreviated pants, of the Wright Brothers' first two minutes aloft. Besides being an affirmation of faith, "The American Way" is also a nostalgic spectacle.

Eye For Business.
Naturally, the authors of "The American Way" are not unaware that a New York World Fair is due to open shortly and that the thousands of visitors pouring into town would be ready for such a patriotic pageant.

It's our notion that "The American Way" will be one of the top exhibits of Manhattan while the fair is in progress out at Flushing Meadows.

This $200,000 enterprise, incidentally, is the joint property of an unprecedented number of "angels." Although Sam H. Harris and Max Gordon are the nominal producers, it is no state secret that Bernard Baruch, John D. Rockefeller Jr., Darryl Zanuck, Nicholas Schenck, William Paley and a few other titans are financially interested.

Some critics raved ecstatically, others found fault in some places and others objected to the undue flag-waving. But it is a grand spectacle and no doubt will still be at the Center a year from now.

Citrus Act Hearing Set For Tomorrow

EDINBURG, Feb. 24 (AP)—Judge Bryce Ferguson, 92nd district court, has set a hearing for tomorrow on an application for a temporary restraining order against enforcement of the Texas citrus marketing act.

Seven of the largest grapefruit shippers in this area filed a petition last night in which they alleged illegal enforcement of what they called unlawful regulations.

The act provides for a minimum price on grapefruit. The act is administered by the state department of agriculture.

Officials of the department of the growers industry committee were named defendants.

The plaintiffs were the Rio Grande Valley Citrus Exchange, Texas Citrus Fruit Growers, Burkhardt Fruit and Vegetable Company, C. D. Kirk & Company, Logan & Paxton, and the Mission Fruit and Vegetable Company.

SHOOTS WAY OUT OF CORNER

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—The loss of a title does strange things to a fighter. It has changed Lou Ambers from a happy-go-lucky boy into a mean, mean man stuffed to the teeth with the urge of fight his way back to lightweight title he prized so much and lost so hard.

This urge plus a new stability in his ring work has made Ambers an 8 to 5 favorite over Baby Arizmendi, the Mexican, for their 12-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Nothing in the records gives Lou that much of a edge. In previous fights he took a close decision from the hardy Hidalgo, then drew with him in a terrific brawl that was supposed to be a tune-up for his title defense against Armstrong.

The bout tonight is Lou's most important since Henry Colaredo the title after a long and bloody fight. If he wins no man can say he doesn't deserve another crack at the crown. In fact, the New York State Athletic commission already has gone on record to that effect.

Albert Arizmendi, the pride of San Francisco's Mexican colony, is "mucho hombre." He has gone 52 rounds with Armstrong and the negro never has had him on the floor. He has fought the best for six years and no one ever has knocked him down.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIEZE

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Baseballers in the South wonder if Old Sol has joined the hold-outs. Temps took a 20 degree tumble down there. Leo Durocher was all for herding his Dodgers out of Hot Springs until he read in the papers it was just a breeze in Florida. Just yell "Buckley!" at the Marquette University basketball squad and 17 members will look your way. . . . Carl Hubbell looks heavier in pictures from the South.

Somebody on the Cleveland ball club is missing signals. Jeff Heath, paid $3,500 for hitting almost 350 last year, was sent a new contract calling for more dough, but not anything like the $12,500 Heath was demanding. . . . Just about this time, Manassah Oscar Vitt broadcast a salute from California calling Heath the best hitter in the American League. . . . Bradley and Slapnicka sure like that one.

His pals say Al Singer, former lightweight champion, can't be located. . . . Bill Terry's ear is bent after a five-hour conference with Zeke Bonura. . . . The coast insists Roper and Joe Louis will gross $200,000.

Cubs Buy Infield 'Insurance' In Person Of Woody English

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Chicago's Cubs have bought back the "infield insurance" they let lapse two years ago.

The "insurance" is Elwood (Woody) English, for whom the Cubs gave the Toledo Mud Hens $50,000 in 1927, kept on the bench for a couple of seasons after four years of stardom, traded off to Brooklyn—and purchased from Cincinnati last night for an unannounced sum.

The title of "infield insurance" was given English by Charlie Grimm, then manager of the Cubs in 1936. Grimm said Woody was "the greatest piece of infield insurance in baseball."

Kidnaper-Slayer Awaits Death In Electric Chair

RAIFORD, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—All avenues of escape apparently closed to him, Franklin Pierce McCall calmly awaited today to die in the electric chair for the fatal kidnaping of a child last May.

It was the second time within the week that a day of doom has dawned for McCall. Monday his electrocution was postponed, 70 minutes before the 22-year-old minister's son was to go to the chair, by L. F. Chapman, superintendent of the prison, to allow final pleas to justices of the Supreme Court.

Attorney C. A. Averlett failed to obtain a stay. Gov. Fred Cone has indicated no intention to intervene for the admitted abductor of James Bailey Cash, Jr.

McCall's attorneys contend the youth did not have ample counsel when he pleaded guilty to the kidnaping charge and that he should not be electrocuted before he was given a jury trial, since the ransom kidnaping law provides death except when a jury recommends mercy.

Britain Issues Strong Warning To Dictators

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Great Britain put forth today one of the strongest warnings she has yet made to dictator nations.

Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, who has been mostly on the sidelines while his close friend Premier Chamberlain dictated foreign policy, used this striking phrase in a statement to the house of Lords last night:

"Halt! Major road ahead."
The statement, it was felt here, was a warning to other powers not to underestimate Chamberlain's recent pledge that in the event of war, Britain would go to the defense of France.

It was interpreted also as an obvious hint to Italy that that country's thus far undefined demands upon France for colonial territory constitute Europe's major war threat.

Lord Halifax told the upper house Britain could make no move toward mediation "unless and until both parties desire it."

British-French solidarity, he said, has no reservations.

Starting Trouble

2 WAYS TO CURE

DOES your engine merely greet you with a groan when you touch the starter button?

THE WRONG WAY to remedy the trouble is to yank the choke until a pool of gasoline gathers underneath the car . . . jump up and down on the starter until the poor battery gives up the ghost . . . burn your fingers pouring hot water into the radiator . . . and perhaps end up with bent fenders and bumper as a passing car is finally persuaded to give you "just a little push."

THE RIGHT WAY, the simple and easy way, is to keep the tank filled with Phillips 66 Poly Gas, which is extra high test without extra cost.

This high test does the trick every time, because any engine in good mechanical condition will start provided the gasoline in the tank is "hot" enough.

Phillips 66 Poly Gas is plenty "hot." Rarely exceeded in high test even by higher priced motor fuels. Packed with extra wallop and action, with extra heat units and extra miles. Yet it costs nothing extra, because Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

We sincerely believe it is this winter's best buy in cold-weather gasoline. Get a trial tankful, and then just feel that difference in starting speed, prompt warm-up, and smoother power.
