Judge Ewing Goes To Wheeler

District Judge W. R. Ewing went to Wheeler this afternoon to complete some unfinished court business in that city, no cases being on the docket for today in 31st district court here.

No other cases have been set here until Tuesday, when Judge Ewing will hear a motion for a new trial in the case of Vivian Manson et al. vs. Gibson Machine & Tool company. Misconduct of jurors is alleged in the defendant's motion for the hearing.

On Feb. 17 a verdict was returned whereby plaintiffs were to receive $19,500 as damages. The case was based on an accident that occurred on May 15, 1938, on the McLean road eight miles east of LeFors when the car in which Joe Manson, his son, and a companion of his son were riding, was in collision with a truck driven by W. C. Shipp.

The boys in the Manson car were injured and Mr. Manson died as a result of injuries received in the accident. This is the final jury week of the January term. Next week is non-jury. Members of the grand jury are to reconvene on Tuesday and the term is expected to end by Thursday. The next term of district court here will open on May 29 and continue for nine weeks.

3 Prisoners Waiting For 'Uncle Bud'

When will "Uncle" Bud Russell bring his truck to Pampa to take away prisoners who have been sentenced to the state penitentiary? That is the question Sheriff Cal Rose and his deputies have been asking for the past week, as the January term of district court nears conclusion.

Uncle Bud's visit to Pampa customarily comes at the end of the district court terms, and officers have been expecting the state penitentiary agent to be here any day now.

There are three prisoners in the county jail who have been sentenced to the state prison: Clyde McGraw, convicted on a charge of murder with malice aforethought, in the fatal shooting of W. Oscar Williams on the night of December 11, and sentenced to 99 years; Irvin (Junior) Maxey, Pampa Negro, 20 years for the fatal stabbing of Odessa Lintz, Negro woman, at a Negro dance at the Southern club at midnight December 11; and Robert White, sentenced for a term of eight years on a charge of assault with attempt to rape.

Out on bond, pending hearing of their cases by the court of criminal appeals at Austin, are Jim Hodges, sentenced to seven years for receiving and concealing stolen property, and Buford Reed, sentenced to two years on a charge of fraudulent taking of county funds.

Rainey Would Awake South Through T. U.

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president elect of the University of Texas, declared here last night that he wanted to make the university the scientific and intellectual center for the economic, social and cultural renaissance of the South.

The assertion, made in a speech at a Texas Independence Day celebration, was in explanation of three primary concepts which he believed would make the institution "one of the really great universities" of the nation.

1. Recognition that a state university must serve the needs of the people who support it by taxation.

2. Great teaching.

3. Extension service. The possibility of reaching large percentages of the total population are greatly improved through the use of modern techniques, such as the radio and talking pictures.

Rep. Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth was toastmaster. Among the 300 guests at the banquet, which was arranged by Texas students here, were Senator Connally of Texas, House majority leader Rayburn, and Dr. Walter M. W. Spahn, member of the Interstate Commerce Commission and formerly president of the university.

Fists Swing In Union Quarrel

WESTWOOD, Calif., March 3 (AP)—Scores of Westwood lumber mill workers nursed bruises and abrasions today, moments of a violent explosion of inter-union dissension. The resurgence of strife to which this town has grown accustomed in the past few months, began early yesterday afternoon with a fist fight which bred another fight, and another, until here and there throughout the length of Main Street men were swinging fists.

Last night several hundred lumber handiers stormed into the little frame building erected recently as CIO headquarters and completely demolished it.

Eighteen highway patrolmen were hurried here by Raymond Cato, chief of patrol, but they arrived after the crowd of rioters had dispersed.

Three arrests were made by Constable Al Bangle. A woman, whom Bangle described as a "CIO organizer" from Klamath Falls, Ore., was arrested on a charge of inciting a riot. Jack Scott was taken into custody, accused of using a hammer as a weapon, while his wife was detained, on a charge of resisting an officer.

It was after a justice court hearing, charges of disturbing the peace, lodged against two AFL and CIO unionists, that the trouble started.

Britain To Seek Nationalist Trade

LONDON, March 3 (AP)—Britain is expected to dispatch a trade mission shortly to Nationalist Spain in a hurried attempt to recapture commercial and political advantages now enjoyed by Italy and Germany.

Now that Britain and France have recognized the Nationalist regime as the legal government, continuation of the Spanish Civil war only embarrasses their program. Both hope for an end soon to the resistance offered by the Spanish Republicans under Premier Juan Negri.

Nationalist Generalissimo Franco needs reconstruction funds. Italy and Germany gave him soldiers, arms and munitions. Britain and France have given him recognition and money supposedly is coming up.

The principal problem for restoration of commercial relations is for British merchants to get their money out of Spain. It is estimated about $25,000,000 was owed to Britain at the outbreak of the war.

Britain expects the Nationalists to take over those obligations or arrange some sort of barter agreement to pay off its Spanish products.

Gandhi Begins New 'Fast Unto Death'

RAJKOT, India, March 3 (AP)—Mahandas K. Gandhi sipped a cup of hot 'goat's' milk today, then forewore food in a hunger strike to obtain administrative reforms for inhabitants of the tiny village state of Rajkot.

The said it would be a "fast unto death" under commercial relations. The kore Saheb Shri Dharmendrasinhji, gave the people "a voice in the government."

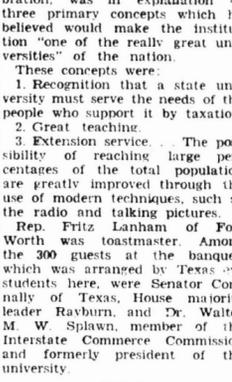

Even as the tottering Indian Nationalist leader and holy man began his fast, serious communal rioting brought death to two persons in Lucknow, 700 miles from Rajkot.

A crowd of spectators watched Gandhi's final preparation for the hunger strike, which recalled his "unconditional and irrevocable" three-week fast of May, 1933, on behalf of India's untouchables.

Reno Stinson Elected Head Of Texas Exes

RENO, Stinson was elected president of the Gray-Wheeler Association of University of Texas ex-students at the banquet and dance held at the U Drop Inn in Shamrock last night. Fifty exes and guests attended.

Thurman Adkins, Shamrock attorney, acted as toastmaster. He was introduced by Clayton Hearse, District Attorney Clifford Braly was assistant toastmaster. The program consisted of university songs and yells and a talk by Reno Stinson on the newly-elected president of the University, Dr. Homer P. Rainey.

Mr. Stinson recalled their boyhood experiences together in Ellenville, which he called "the biggest little town in Texas" because it has reared the last two presidents of our state university. He described Dr. Rainey as "a born leader" and outlined his qualifications for his new position. He said that Dr. Rainey has "enough horse sense" and education to qualify him.

The program was arranged by the retiring officers, Clayton Hearse, Shamrock president; Joe Gordon, vice-president; and Mrs. Hol Wagner, secretary. Mrs. Wagner was re-elected as secretary for the coming year and Sol Blomstein of Shamrock was named vice-president.

Decorations were in the university colors, orange and white. Favors were miniature lighthouse steers.

Eighteen persons attended from Pampa: Messrs. and Mrs. Reno Stinson, Charlie Mars, Joe Gordon, R. G. Peeler, Walter E. Rogers, and Hol Wagner; Misses Jennie Stennus and Anne Stanley; and Clifford Braly, Tom Braly, John V. Osborne and F. H. Parker.

Approximately $700, mostly in stamps, was lost when the safe was carried away. The safe was found Feb. 21 18 miles north of Goldsmith, Juvenal said.

Action Due To Senate Fight, He Explains

Road Commission Head Appointed By Leo Drops Out

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—J. C. Hunter, Abilene oil man, today asked Governor W. Lee O'Daniel to withdraw his name as the newly-nominated chairman of the state highway commission.

In a letter to O'Daniel, Hunter said action was due to sectional controversy concerning his appointment which has risen in the senate.

The appointment was made without solicitation by him, Hunter said, adding he had agreed reluctantly to have his name submitted to the senate for confirmation.

He also said he did not look on the highway department from a sectional viewpoint and did not believe it best to have the department embroiled in political controversy.

He would not care to serve as chairman of the commission he concluded, without the whole-hearted support of both the governor and the senate.

Hunter's name was the second Governor O'Daniel had submitted for the important position. The first, that of Carr P. Collins of Dallas, was rejected.

Girl's Brutal Killer Hunted

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 3 (AP)—Officers prepared to question 100 relief workers today in search of clues to the brutal garroting and bludgeoning of Hazelton Black, 13-year-old junior high school girl.

Detective Capt. Charles Ryan planned to question the relief laborers who labored in a park across the street from the brick cottage in which the girl's body, clad in pink pajamas and a blue housecoat, was found.

Ryan said the girl, who had gone home ill from school early yesterday, may have been the victim of a house party.

Ryan said he hoped to find a lead to three men neighboring housewives saw near the girl's home.

Her blood-stained hands, a bloody towel and blood on the bookcase doorknob gave evidence of a desperate attempt to fight off her attacker.

Dr. John Roddy, a city physician, said examination showed "no evidence of rape." He said the girl was struck 22 crushing blows on the head.

A bullet found imbedded in the edge of the dining room table brightened the mystery. It was only a few feet from where the girl's mother found her battered body in a pool of blood, a white cord around her throat.

The girl's father, Orrie Black, operating the cleaning plant here, learned of his daughter's death when police notified him. He and the girl's mother were divorced in 1931. Both remarried two years later.

First Reprieve Case Confronts O'Daniel

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—With the scheduled execution of Wm. Williams only 36 hours away, Chairman Bruce W. Bryant of the pardon board, said today he still did not know whether the board would recommend a brief reprieve for the Dallas county negro.

"If Governor O'Daniel requests a 24-hour stay so the execution won't fall on Sunday, I believe the board will grant it," Bryant said. "However, 24 hours will be more time than Williams gave the dairymen he murdered."

The case of Williams was the first capital punishment case to face O'Daniel, who opposes the death penalty. The Governor said in granting a 30-day reprieve he was doing so that Williams might suffer for 30 days the punishment of looking forward to certain death.

Pope Urges Peace In Broadcast To World

VATICAN CITY, March 3 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, new pontiff of the Catholic church, expressed hope for peace and concord among the nations during his pontificate in a message broadcast to the entire Christian world this morning.

The pontiff urged all men to devote themselves to "peace, faith, charity and love of Jesus Christ." So sudden and unexpected was the pontiff's decision to address the world less than 24 hours after his election yesterday that even Vatican authorities were not prepared for it, but an Italian summary was broadcast by government radio.

Freight Rate Hearing Ends

Sam Fort Will Be New Liquor Control Agent

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The house interstate commerce committee ended its hearings on railroads rate differentials abruptly today and indicated it would make no recommendations for legislative action.

Chairman Lea, democrat, Cal., announced the committee would start Tuesday on taking testimony from representatives of water carriers on the "whole transportation problem." He said testimony would embrace proposals for coordination between water and land transportation systems and their rate schedules.

"I think the hearing just concluded has accomplished the purpose of these asking for it by drawing attention to the public rate differentials," Lea said.

"Nearly all witnesses have testified any adjustments necessary could be made by the interstate commerce commission."

Witnesses appearing before the committee today urged that Congress refrain from legislation restricting commission powers and asked there be no "political pressure on the commission's future administration."

Most of those the committee has heard were southerners, with a sprinkling of men from the midwest and the southwest who said present freight rates gave the industrial east an economic advantage.

It will be recorded for phonograph records and will be sold in sheet music at music stores throughout the country.

Incidentally, Mr. Bennett now cannot play nor sing his own song without permission from the publishers.

Librarian Speaks At White Deer P-TA This Week

WHITE DEER, March 3—"From infancy, children may be taught the care and appreciation of books," Mrs. Letha Grammer, librarian of the Carson county library, said in speaking to the P-T. A. this week at the grade school library.

Mrs. Grammer went on to state that when a child first reaches for the leaves of a book, his training may begin; he may be shown how to handle books, and as he grows older, by reading to him in the home, by giving him well-bound, attractively illustrated books; he may be led to develop a love of good books that is an invaluable character trait.

To illustrate her points, the speaker displayed a number of attractive children's books that are available in the county library.

Preceding Mrs. Grammer's talk, a "pot luck" supper was served.

Bluebonnet H. D. Club Members Have Program On Linens

"Sheets and pillow slips are made of the same fabrics. When we say sheets, in a general sense we mean both," Mrs. Curtis Schaffer told members of Blue bonnet Home Demonstration club members in the home of Mrs. Guy Brown this week.

"In buying sheets select nationally known standard brand," she advised. "Certain practical qualities to seek for in buying sheets are long wear, whiteness that stays white, or fast colors, a smooth, soft, pleasant feel, easy washability and the right size for comfort and long wear, also economy to save our pocket books both now and later on. Suitable materials for pillow slips are muslin, long cloth, cambric, and percale," she said.

Mrs. Elmer Ashmead told members that dresser scarfs should be they wear longer, are more economical over a period of time, launder better, and the fabric is more beautiful. She advised making scarfs to fit top of dresser, leaving the same amount of wood showing on all sides. Avoid having scarf extend to edges, or hang over ends. Finish sides the same so that it can be used either side to the front as this way the scarf will wear more evenly.

"Types of decorating are narrow hemstitching, Italian hemstitching, Swedish fagoting, simple Swedish weaving, and simple and simple broderie designs. Avoid gaudy, vivid colors and two many colors. Linens should never be starched," she explained.

"Good table linens prove their value by wearing well and looking well when a little worn. Avoid cheap, shiny, and simple broderie designs. Avoid gaudy, vivid colors and two many colors. Linens should never be starched," she explained.

Babson Says Don't Let Another War-Scare Kill Business Stop Worrying About Europe

BABSON PARK, Fla., March 3.—The war-scare of last September pulled business up short throughout the world. Radio announcers, press dispatches, and bulletin boards all screamed war. Retail trade slowed down; business men were terrified; investors dumped securities. We had a minor panic.

As a result, the sharp business recovery which started in June 1938 and carried on through July and August was almost snuffed out. It was well into mid-October before people stopped shaking and trembling over the straw war built up by hysterical radio commentators and frenzied press dispatches. The American public was fooled into thinking that the poker game going on in Europe would end up in a real war!

If the press services and radio bulletins had played up the very optimistic and encouraging domestic news of the moment, as prominently as they played up this poker game, business would probably have gone on just as usual. In my 35 years' experience of business observing, I cannot recall a situation which was more over-played and over-emphasized than last September's war scare!

Public Getting Jittery Again.

Now, it looks like a repetition of the Czech crisis could easily be re-enacted. Today's news is filled with war rumors. Every move the dictators make is analyzed and dramatized. The columnists are all broiled up over the U. S. armament plans and foreign policy. The public is getting jittery. Business men are holding up their orders. Uncertainty is gaining the upperhand. "I'm going to see what Hitler does next before I buy anything" is the typical comment of the day.

Yet the foreign situation has not changed. Everyone knows that Hitler intends to push on toward the east and that Germany and Russia some day may struggle in a real war. Mussolini should be paid either by cash or otherwise for his work in Spain. England and France, however, are in no more danger of a conflict now than they were a year ago or three years ago.

Domestic Business Good.

Moreover, the domestic business situation has not changed. There has been no change in the basic picture since two months ago. At that time I outlined the reasons why business should be better in 1939 than in 1938. I see no reason yet to change my forecast even though business is running slightly lower than in mid-December. However, I expect that we will have a sharp improvement this spring.

Why should we worry about hostilities in Europe? As I pointed out last fall, the World War pushed American business to undreamed of heights. It is true that the first outbreak produced a sharp drop. Within a few months after hostilities started, however, all records were being smashed. If Europe again sees a real war the combatants will need billions of dollars worth of our raw materials, food stuffs, and manufactured goods. So why be scared to death because of the possibility of a war in Europe which, if we were to follow the World War pattern, would prove bullish on American business?

Play Up Our Own Troubles.

Naturally, I do not want war. There is no quicker way to get into one, however, than to talk war, eat war, and live war. That is why I hate to see our people giving such a tremendous amount of attention to the European situation. That is why I dislike the constant dramatization of Hitler and Mussolini. There are "goings-on" in this country twice as dangerous to our liberty. These could be blazoned on the front pages and over the airwaves, if we must scare ourselves to death.

I am not a "polyanna" disciple. I am not urging the press and the radio to play down European news. I am asking only that our domestic news be dramatized and given just as much human interest as the "hot" stories from Europe. There is plenty of good news coming out from industry, from laboratories, from churches—yes, even from Washington—to provide an antidote for the unpleasant dispatches from abroad.

I know Europe and I urge readers to forget it for this spring at least. Tend to your business and your job. Now a chance to make some money while the other fellow is trying to find out where "Ruthenia" is on the map! Readers will remember that I gave them the right steer last September. Now here is another opportunity for those with courage!

Democracies Oppose Electrified Fence

TIENTSIN, March 3 (AP).—United States consular authorities joined British and French officials today in representations to Japanese authorities against enclosing foreign areas of Tientsin with an electrified fence. The representations stressed that the fence endangered United States, British and French nationals in the populous foreign sections.

(A dispatch from Tientsin Feb. 23 when the live wire fence was being strung around British, French, Italian, and Japanese possessions, said the barrier was designed to cut off uncontrolled commercial shipments into Tientsin.)

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP).—The subject before the house yesterday was the $500,000,000 army appropriation bill, but in four hours it went almost unmentioned.

Instead, members talked about these subjects: Texas independence, the constitution, social security, foreign policy, new deal "mistakes,"

Harrison Asks Drastic Economy

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP).—A demand for drastic government economy brought the spending issue to the foreground today as President Roosevelt was returning from naval maneuvers to begin the seventh year of his administration.

The congressional arguments over communism, war hysteria, anthracite coal, the labor relations board, and the cotton surplus.

It's permissible, under house rules of "general debate," to discuss anything a speaker desires.

spending and foreign policies, along with the administration drive to improve business through cooperative efforts of industry, government and labor, will furnish the chief executive with his most pressing problems during the next few weeks.

He may outline his views on them when he addresses the 150th anniversary session of congress shortly after his return tomorrow.

Congressmen said the occasion, exactly six years after his first inauguration, would offer him an unprecedented forum for discussing current issues. Gathered in the house chamber will be not only senators and representatives but also virtually every high government official and 100 diplomats representing 54 countries.

The program, including addresses by Speaker Bankhead, Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, and Chief Justice Hughes will be broadcast nationally at 11 a. m. (CST).

While the general expectation was that Mr. Roosevelt would emphasize foreign issues, he also may touch on such domestic matters as his efforts to stimulate business and the end of the ALP-CIO conflict.

Senator Harrison's call last night for a "radical and substantial" cut in congressional appropriations became a factor in the business cooperation campaign, for he said a lowering of the spending level would be the best thing that could happen to improve business.

Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee, declared in his statement the alternative to stringent economy was new taxes and a substantial increase in the national debt.

Stimulating Consumption

Citrus fruit growers of Florida and California, faced with bumper crops, and with the prospect of even greater crops during the next five years, have been moving heaven and earth to find new ways to use their product. One of the most ingenious of these efforts is that of a Tampa baker who has made a 10-cent loaf of bread into which two ounces of grapefruit juice has been mixed with every pound of dough.

Trains Also Speed Up

So much attention has been centered of late on the incredible speeds attained by planes that we incline to forget that land travel is also speeding up. A study of American railroad schedules has shown that there are today 48,247 miles of daily runs timetabled at 60 miles and more an hour. That is more than half the world's mile-a-minute mileage, and an increase of 10,835 miles over 1937. There are more than 1000 miles scheduled at 75 miles an hour or better.

The Nation's Press

DAY OF RECKONING NEAR (Long Beach, Calif., Press-Telegram) President Roosevelt's statement that international tension may cause him to cut short his vacation and return to Washington is understandable on the basis of published reports from Europe. Even though he and the State Department know nothing of a more disturbing nature than latest newspaper accounts of events abroad, the President's anxiety seems fully justified.

Behind The News Of The Day

WASHINGTON—It would take high odds to get a bet that any one of the evolutionary pension plans would get through this session but no busier band of operators can be found on Capitol Hill than the pension advocates in Congress. Take Senator Sheridan Downey of California, as an instance. He was busier than a brush salesman the other day about the floor of the Senate. One minute he was on one side of the chamber talking to Senator Bankhead. Almost any one knows that Bankhead couldn't be sold on Downey's old-age pension scheme, but the Californian never gives up. Bankhead ultimately retired, with a good natured laugh, to the cloak room.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles. The only tax, of which I know, that will permit great prosperity is a use tax. By that, I mean the man who uses the wealth of the world and gets the protection from the government in his right to use the comforts of life in peace and contentment, is the man who should pay the taxes. When a man lives in a house, he is using the house. And whether he owns it or not, under the property tax, he is paying for the use of that house; when a man drinks a bottle of milk or a bottle of beer, he is using that beer and milk; when a man wears a suit of clothes, he is using that suit of clothes and when he bought it, the tax was added to the price and he paid it indirectly.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

USE TAX. The only tax, of which I know, that will permit great prosperity is a use tax. By that, I mean the man who uses the wealth of the world and gets the protection from the government in his right to use the comforts of life in peace and contentment, is the man who should pay the taxes.

When a man lives in a house, he is using the house. And whether he owns it or not, under the property tax, he is paying for the use of that house; when a man drinks a bottle of milk or a bottle of beer, he is using that beer and milk; when a man wears a suit of clothes, he is using that suit of clothes and when he bought it, the tax was added to the price and he paid it indirectly.

An income tax is not based on the principle of paying taxes on the use of an article, but it is based on the fallacious idea that a man is benefited by producing wealth or having wealth. He is never benefited until he used the wealth and the man who uses it, is the man who should pay for this right to use.

The best two methods I know of taxing people for using, is a property tax, which is in reality a use tax and a direct tax based on the amount of wealth a man uses.

If people really understood the merits of a use tax and would adopt this principle, we would have an economical government because people would then know how much the government was costing them and would insist on it not doing things for them that they could do more economically themselves.

And, in addition to having an economical government, we would produce a great deal more than we now produce, because we would not have interference with production by the government and, consequently, everybody could get, and would get, a great deal more reward for a given unit of energy.

In other words, if all our taxes were based on use and the government did not interfere, we would have a much higher standard of living than we ever had in all our history. It is simply a question of re-educating the people.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS. HOLLYWOOD—The man in black-face stood first on one foot, then the other, meaning, Did those dawgs of his ache? Had he just had a work-out with that mad Russian. The czar with the whip, Mr. Gregory Ratoff? Had he just made, under Meester Ratoff's goadings, about 12 pictures in the last two days? He had. Al Jolson was emphatic about that.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim. From Howard C. Marshall, capital correspondent of the Associated Press at Austin, comes word that 'Rep. Eugene Worley is among the wittiest members of the house.' One of quite a number of parodies on Beautiful Texas which have appeared recently follows: 'O beautiful, beautiful Texas, the cause of our misery and woe. We all feel so proud that our fathers died at the Alamo. You can pay them on plains or on mountains, or down where the sea breezes blow, but we'll still have the transaction taxes, the most damnable tax that we know.'

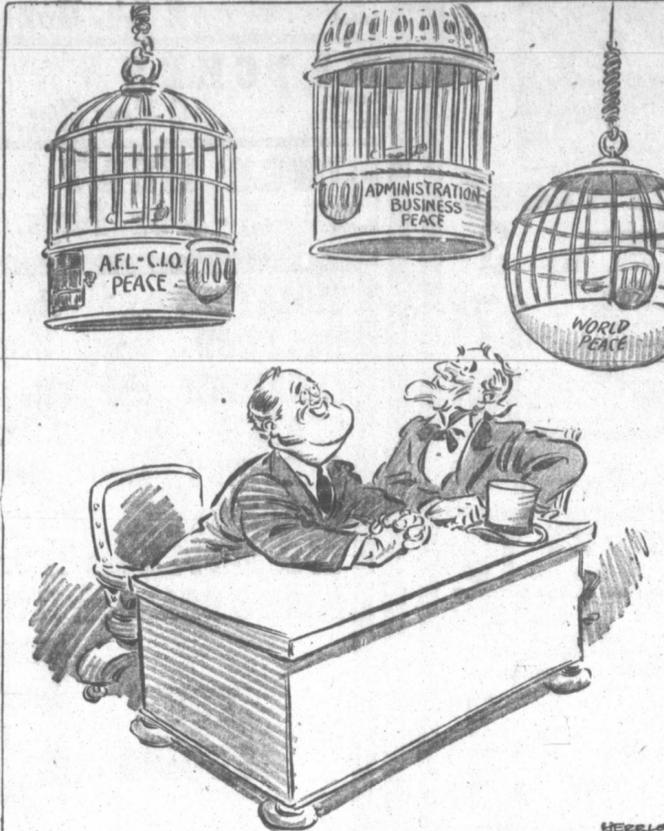

How's Your Health?

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN. The experts who list everything in terms of mathematical facts have calculated we spend one-third of our lives in sleep. Of course, for most people the figure is much higher because babies may sleep as much as 12 out of 24 hours, and some adults never get over the habit. There are, however, other persons who seem to do very well indeed with five or six hours of sleep day after day.

Cranium Crackers

The answer to this mathematical problem is 41,378. But the question is: how do we get it? Here's the key: Add the total score of 1938's Army-Navy football game to the year of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Multiply the sum by the number of electoral votes in California and subtract the age of Vice President Garner.

Yesteryear in The News

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY. LeFors, former county seat, which previously had taken her place as a corporate town, was to have an election to vote on the corporate status. The S. A. Beavers and P. J. Haulkan firm of ditching contractors was awarded the contract to fill in the approach to the bridge crossing Red River east of LeFors.

Scout News

TROOP 4. Troop No. 4 held its regular meeting Tuesday night at the Christian church in the basement of the First Methodist church. Hot base was played in the play period. After the patrol meetings, the troop assembled for a business session and program. Appreciation was expressed for the filling cabinet of the troop by the troop committee.

So They Say

In my opinion war is not imminent and the propaganda that is being so elaborately and extravagantly being used to take us into war. SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON, of California. The giving of college scholarships has become a downright racket.

My Name Is Jesse James, Says Jones

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation enjoys being confused with Jesse James, the outlaw. Records of the Senate Agriculture committee showed today that Jones opened recent testimony before the group by saying: "My name is Jesse James."

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

GERMANY, WE HEAR, is proud of a new "battleship on wheels," displayed at an auto show. The nation has had one on legs for some time... Congress argues over a naval base on Wrangel Island. An apparently nameless, grayish, The Cubs have the biggest hold-out list in the National League. Maybe those fellows are scared they'll win the pennant again.

Book A Day

To look back on achievement in one career would be satisfaction enough for most men. But Arthur Train claims success in two. In his own words: "I have enjoyed the dubious distinction of being known among lawyers as a writer and among writers as a lawyer."

Nazis Suspicious Of Pope's Policies

BERLIN, March 3 (AP)—The Nazi press accepted mostly without comment election of Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli as pope, and sources close to today German policy for the present would be one of "conciliation blended with a 'wait-and-see' attitude."

Texas University Wins Age Championship

Arkansas In 2nd Slot And Mustangs 3rd

Associated Press Staff.

Six years ago Jack Gray, a sharp-eyed lad on the University of Texas basketball team, was the spark that carried the Longhorns to the South west conference championship.

Last night the same Jack Gray, now coaching his alma mater's court performers, sat on the bench and worried and snarled, although the Steers were piling up a 66-32 point total to smother the Texas Aggies and win the title.

It represented the first time Texas had won the championship since Gray captained the 1933 team.

The conference season, as daffy as any in years, ended last night with three games, each of vast importance in determining the final standings of five of the seven teams in the loop.

Arkansas had to beat Rice to hold a chance to tie Texas for the top spot, and did, 40-35; Southern Methodist overcame Baylor, 39-33, to break a third-place deadlock, and Texas rode over the Aggies in its counter-punch against Arkansas.

The final standings found Texas safely ahead with 10 victories and 2 defeats; Arkansas in second place with nine wins and three losses, and Southern Methodist third with eight and four.

Texas and Arkansas each gained its position with a spurt of nine straight victories. The Razorbacks had lost the first three games, however, while Texas managed to win one of them.

The season finale was tinted with the brilliant play of two seniors. Youngsters grabbed a majority of the attention through the schedule but Billy Dewell of Southern Methodist and Willie Tate of Texas, the conference's finest center, concentrated on themselves in the last games of their collegiate basketball careers. Each performed both offensive and defensive chores which kept their clubs ahead.

Standings:

TEAM	W	L	Pts	Opps
Texas	10	2	510	429
Arkansas	9	3	550	465
S. M. U.	8	4	430	469
Baylor	7	5	526	434
Rice	6	6	494	496
A. & M.	2	10	399	550
T. C. U.	0	12	376	505

Japanese wrestling fans are probably the world's most rabid sports enthusiasts. More than 3,000 gathered at 1 a. m., and waited through the night in sub-zero weather for choice seats to the recent match.

Argentine Importations In Spotlight At Santa Anita

By ROBERT MYERS.

LOS ANGELES, March 3 (AP)—As a threat of rain again cropped up, the decks were cleared today for the next big step in the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap—namely entries for the mile and one-quarter class.

Weather permits predicted increasing cloudiness with showers and it was an even bet that the track would be on the "off" side for tomorrow's running.

Speculation this morning was varied over the number of entries, and the actual size of the starting field. It ranged from 13 to 20, but most observers expected about 15 to compete in the fifth running of the event.

Heading the ranks of prospective candidates were C. S. Howard's Argentine importations, Kayak II and Soricardo; the entry of Nell McCarthy's Today and Nelson Howard's Gosun; Townsend B. Martin's Cravat, Edward Friendly's Jacola, a 4-year-old filly; Major Austin C. Taylor's Whickee, A. A. Baroni's Specify Mrs. Parker Corning's Thanksgiving, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's once great Heelly.

Behind them as possible entries were Louis B. Mayer's Main Man and Quick Devil; Fred Turner Jr.'s Congressman; Raoul Walsh's French-bred Freno, Mrs. Emil Denmark's War Minstrel, the Bing Crosby-Lin Howard Argentine, Olimpo; W. E. Boeling's Panscut and the Kozinsky brothers' Amour Brujo.

Several of the latter group were distinctly doubtful entries. There were one or two more, such as Stands Alone and Emlodist, mentioned as "possible" contenders.

Kayak II and Cravat remained general favorites.

Buffaloes Lose To Missourians In Cage Finals

EL PASO, March 3.—Central State Teachers college of Warrensburg, Mo., last night won the second annual Southwestern Intercollegiate basketball tournament.

The Missourians, national intercollegiate champions, downed the West Texas State Teachers College of Canyon, 43-24.

Promoter Chambers immediately smelled a natural and he signed Davis and Peterson. While Peterson showed in his previous appearance that he prefers to wrestle, he got rough enough to let fans know that he is not the type to sit back and let the opposition rout him up.

Davis doesn't believe he does wrong when he chokes, gouges, slugs, and bites. When accused by a referee he just looks blank and says he wasn't doing a thing. "Why that's all right, isn't it?" Davis asks.

"I never did like native sons and I know one that's going back to California after tonight," Davis announced.

Major League Camp Briefs

ORLANDO, Fla.—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, disclosed today he is trying to bring the Boston Bees to Orlando for joint training next year.

BRADENTON, Fla.—The Boston Bees, who have been going through two stiff workouts a day since camp opened, cheered Manager Casey Stengel today when he told them Sunday would be a day of rest.

NEW BRAUNFELS, Texas.—Manager Doc Frothro of the Philadelphia Nationals expects each pitcher on his staff to hurl an entire game before the team breaks camp and to work two full games before the season opens.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The New York Yankees are proving such magnets to tourists and home town basketball fans that uniformed police as well as park attendants have been detailed to hold the crowds in check during the champions' practice sessions.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Everybody in the New York Giants' training camp is concerned about the sudden slugging of Pitcher Cliff Melton, who has hit five home runs here.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Flooded highways in some sections of the south were blamed today by tardy St. Louis Cardinals for late reporting. Among the late arrivals were Johnny Mize and Terry Moore.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe is hopeful of retaining his old form. He took a long turn in the pitcher's box yesterday, using both curve and speed, and came out cheered.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Donie Bush, who runs the Boston Red Sox's farm at Louisville, has assured Manager Joe Cronin Boston will not miss Ben Chapman because "Ted Williams will more than fill that outfield vacancy."

NEW ORLEANS.—The first batting and infield drill for Cleveland Indian rookies was scheduled today. Cold weather and a rain-soaked diamond has delayed work.

SAN ANTONIO.—Liniment was much in demand among the St. Louis Browns today after Manager Fred Haney sent all hands through a long drill in the sliding pit.

Amorillo Will Have Baseball This Summer

Professional baseball will return to Amorillo this summer after an absence of more than 10 years, it was announced this morning by a group of Amorillo men who have underwritten a park for Amorillo. Bob Seeds, New York Giants outfielder, has secured a franchise and will own the club. He has named Neal Rabe, well known in Panhandle baseball circles, to manage the team.

The new Amorillo baseball stadium will be erected at the Tri-State Fair Park, the men announced. More than $4,500 has been raised and only $2,000 more is needed for roof and bleacher seats. "We'll get it," said Mason King, chairman of the committee.

Amorillo will play in the Texas-New Mexico League along with Lubbock, Clovis, Big Spring and other cities in this section.

Pampa has been invited to place an entry in the league and a group of fans met earlier this week in an effort to make arrangements for park facilities. Up to this morning owners of the park had called to submit plans for purchase of a lease to the committee and as a result will probably be dropped here this year.

Meeting Sunday

The league's annual meeting will be held in Lubbock Sunday and teams may forfeit money, name a manager and prove that a park is available in order to make application for entry.

"We don't have time to build a park here but maybe we can start earlier next year and give the baseball," declared C. E. (Dan) McGrew, chairman of the local fan's committee.

From Amorillo comes the following word:

Ten per cent of the gross gate receipts will be paid to the owners of the park fund. This money will be forthcoming each season and will go to retire the debt. Like all buildings erected on the Tri-State Fair Grounds, the baseball park will become the permanent property of Potter county.

Rabe Is Manager

Neal Rabe, veteran minor league playing manager, was named by Seeds to run the Amorillo club.

President Milton E. Price of the West Texas-New Mexico League already has approved the transfer of the Hobbs, N. M., franchise to Amorillo.

In the league will be Lubbock, Abilene, Big Spring, Midland, Clovis, and Amorillo. If Pampa comes in, Lamesa is ready to enter to make the circuit an eight-club loop. Pampa citizens approached on the subject have said that if Amorillo got into the league, they would be interested.

Lubbock Holds Pennant

Getting Amorillo into the league started several weeks ago when Rabe and Jodie Tate, official contact men for the league, met with Bob Seeds who long has toyed with the idea of owning a baseball club here.

The league is a Class D unit and last year was a huge success with Lubbock winning the pennant after a merry scrap with Clovis in the play-off.

Youngsters are featured in the league, it being necessary to carry six non-class players (youths who have had no previous professional experience) on the roster of 14. The manager, if a player, is included in the limit of 14. Five three-year men are all that can be with any club, and only those who have had experience in Class C or higher.

21 New Football Teams Added To School Ranks

Anyway, Tony Convinces the Kids

Tony Galento basks in Florida sunshine and the admiring attention of a youthful audience as the little ones feel the bulging muscles which the Jersey barkeep says would make a bum of Joe Louis. Galento boxes Abe Feldman in Miami, Feb. 22.

AUSTIN, March 3.—Twenty-one new high school teams and a new state grid district will swell Texas schoolboy football ranks next fall, R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the University of Texas Intercollegiate League, said here today.

Mr. Kidd credited the League's recent reorganization "to provide more evenly-matched competition" as the cause for the record entry list. He believed more than 625 squads will compete next fall.

The university-sponsored league has just revamped its conference set-up, whereby the old A, B and C loops have been replaced by the AA, A and B leagues, the director said.

District 3, the new AA loop, will include Abilene, Big Spring, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, and Sweetwater. Midland was graduated from last year's conference B to AA to play this fall. Lamesa was transferred from District 1 and Odessa from the El Paso district.

To make room for the new circuit, districts 15 and 16 in South Texas were consolidated. Mr. Kidd declared, Mission, Mercedes, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo were dropped back to the new class A conference; and Laredo moved into the San Antonio-Austin-Kerrville conference, now classified as district 15.

The new class E teams will be Little River Academy (Bell county), Bartlett, Holland, Oenaville, Boerpy, George West, James Bowie (Stimms), Comyn, Dickinson, San Felipe, Eracketville, A. & M. Consolidated, Snook, Eastace, Kemp, Mabank, Joaquin, Shelbyville, Pleasanton, Caddo Mills and Somerville.

The consolidated valley-coast district will include Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Edinburg, Harlingen, Kingsville, McAllen, Robstown and San Benito.

Mr. Kidd pointed out that the 628 grid teams playing next fall under league sponsorship will not include the newly-established six-man football loop. There are 150 teams divided into fifteen districts awaiting the starter's gun in that division next fall, he said.

Cobb Plans Second Annual Invitation Baseball Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, March 3 (AP)—P. C. Cobb, round Dallas high school athletic director, not only knew the characters in the Frank Meriwell stories but played baseball with them.

That's why this time of the year brings memories of the old Trolley League of Maine and causes him to do things to run down a fever that is quenched only when a pennant flaps on some team's flag pole.

Cobb today was making plans for the second annual Texas high school invitation baseball tournament and he predicted 300 teams would make the race, climaxed with the play-off at Dallas May 25, 26 and 27.

He just has to do things about baseball although it's been quite a few years since he played it. While as athletic head of Dallas schools he conducts all sports, baseball is his first love. It was while playing in the Trolley League that he came to know the youngster about whom Burt L. Standish wrote his immortal books on Frank Meriwell, the player who so often pulled the game off the fire with a homer in the ninth, etc.

"Frank Meriwell was fiction," Cobb said, "but other characters of his books were real. I knew them as a bat boy and as a player in the Trolley League, made up of Gardner, Hollowell, Augusta and Winthrop. They called it the Trolley League because these Maine towns were only 16 miles apart at the most and the trips could be made by trolley."

Eight districts have been designated by elimination in the state schoolboy race this year, Cobb said. They have their centers at Lubbock, San Augustine, Hondo, Hillsboro, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, Merit, Wilmer-Hutchins and Dallas. Eight and possibly sixteen teams will come here for the state tournament. District championships will be determined the first week in May; bi-district titles, should they be necessary, the second week in May. Texas Interscholastic League eligibility rules will be used.

The state tournament was originated by Cobb.

Michigan Prexy Would Abolish 'Pro' Football

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 3 (AP)—Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, asserted in his annual report today that football should be abolished unless it is "given back" to the students for educational purposes.

The game, he said, has "degenerated to a ridiculous extent" into an "extraneous spectacle... from which no worth-while advantage will ever accrue."

"Football cannot be given back to the students... for educational purposes it had better be abolished before it contaminates other sports which up to the present have not developed the evils now so apparent in football," Dr. Ruthven said.

He also asserted that the game had developed from a "means of inculcating ideas of team play and good sportsmanship into an absurdly competitive sports about which tend to spring up all the evils characteristic of professional competition among those whose sole desire is to win."

Border Olympics Opens At Laredo

LAREDO, March 3 (AP)—More than 350 athletes, representing 29 high schools and 11 colleges, were here today for the Border Olympics, opening at 2 p. m.

Rice Institute was worrying the defending champions, the University of Texas Longhorns, who won over Rice by only a half point last year. In the high school divisions, San Antonio and Lockhart battled to retain last year's laurels.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Pampa keggers were given a new mark to shoot at yesterday afternoon when Harry Marsh of Dallas, representative of the Todd Bankers Supply company, topped 278 pins for highest score ever rolled on the local alleys. On Wednesday night Marsh dropped 258 pins. In rolling his high score, Marsh opened with a strike, followed with a spare and then bagged nine consecutive strikes. He got eight pins on his last ball. He classed the Berry alleys as very good.

Joe Berry, owner of the alleys, is walking on crutches with his foot in a plaster cast. Mr. Berry fell while walking near his building and broke his ankle.

Bowlers will have something to shoot for at the Berry alleys now. Mr. Berry will give a miniature bowling pin watch charm to each man who shoots 250 or better and to each woman who shoots 200 or better. The first pin went to Marsh yesterday afternoon.

In Class C games rolled last night Shell Gassers won two out of three from Norge Rollators, Kiwanis won two out of three from Santa Fe, and Pampa Press swept the series with Modern Beauty.

High game of the night was rolled by Slim Dillman of the Press with 224 pins. High series went to Prince of the Kiwanis club with 528 pins or two more than Dillman.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

Yesterday Dick shows increasing interest in Susie, but she wonders if her husband really has something to do with this. Meanwhile, Susie approaches her first broadcast.

CHAPTER XXIV

DICK escorted Susie to the broadcasting studio. He was attentive, encouraging, vastly excited. Brown orchids trembled on Susie's breast as she faced the microphone. Panic shook her. She couldn't say a word—sing a note—she couldn't. Suddenly her frantic eyes were drawn to the back rows of chairs in the studio. Jeff—His chin went up as he smiled.

At once Susie's panic took wings. At once everything was right with the world. And, at once, she forgot Jeff. Her senses were for Dick. Her nicely worded patter on the subject of beauty was for him. She knew her act had been successful before they crowded around her in the studio, before Mr. Jasper called from New York, before Edna and John Harker wired from Miami.

In a way, as the January days passed, Susie was content, in another way she frantically fought against time. Dick loved her, his every glance, every gesture, told her so. What then was the reserve against which she was powerless? Beyond a certain point he did not go and, totally unversed in siren wiles, Susie knew not how to break through his silence. In his presence she was confident, felt him trembling on the verge of an avowal. Away from him she was a different creature. Somehow Dick's depression seemed less important.

It was a hectic interval, not conducive to happiness, although Susie would have said she was the happiest girl in the world. Her stomach, which already seemed surmised to walnut proportions, suddenly refused food. She lost five pounds, was forced to use more rouge, felt stringy and burned out. Late hours, days of soaring hopes and black depression began to take their toll.

It was toward the last of January that Susie took a cold, a miserable, feverish cold. She managed to broadcast on Friday night and knew that something drastic must be done in preparation for Monday. Under Dick's sympathy she felt irritation and this added to her wretchedness. In swift succession she broke all engagements for the week-end and went to bed.

Emma came with her gentle massage, which could be so murderous on occasion. She advised a strengthening diet, ordered Susie not to leave the bed until Monday.

Dick did not call on Saturday, nor on Sunday. By Sunday evening Susie was a moist, depressed lump in the big bed. In desperation she called his home to learn that he had gone away for the week-end. Solvly her distracted thoughts shifted to Jeff and she wondered about him. What was he doing since Edna and Mr. Harker had gone to Florida? Was he alone in the flat? She remembered how unhappy he had been over the separation from Edna.

Comforted by the thought of Jeff she arose, bathed, brushed her tumbled hair, dabbed on a little powder, and called him. He answered at once.

"What are you doing, Jeff?" she asked, her mood lightening with the sound of his voice.

"Fasting myself to death," he answered promptly. "What are you doing?"

"I'm being sick in bed."

"Susie—!" The quick concern was a balm to her hurt sensibilities. "What's the matter? Why didn't you call me?"

"What do you call this—a radiogram?"

He laughed, his nice, heartening laugh. "What can I do to help?"

"You can come over and drag me out of the Sunday evening blues."

He hesitated. "What about—Dick Tremaine?"

"Out of town," she said lightly. Somehow Dick's depression seemed less important.

"Do you really want me to come, Susie?"

"Worse than that."

"In 15 minutes then."

She replaced the ivory instrument. The frenzy had gone out of her, peace flooded her heart. She put on a trailing, green velvet house coat, made her bed and turned on the lights.

JEFF came in, leaving the door decorously open.

"Say—you have been sick," he said.

"Just a mean sniffle." She sat down, curling a foot under her, and motioned him to a chair. "You don't look so festive yourself."

"In fine," he answered heartily, too heartily. "Been missing Edna a lot—it seems queer at the store without you—I've listened to all your broadcasts—you're all right."

"Thank you. I'm getting heaps of fan mail, have been approached by several other sponsors, but—I don't know—maybe I'm not cut out to be a career woman. It all seems so unimportant."

"Any domestic prospects?"

"I'm not sure," she told him honestly. After a hesitation she burst out, "How does a girl get about it to win a man, Jeff?"

"You've got me." He was examining the lighted end of his cigarette. "Just don't try, I'd say—if you're his weakness." He described a self-explanatory arc with the cigarette. "Look—are you fretting about Dick Tremaine? Is that what made you sick?"

"Gracious, no. He's as attentive as can be. Flowers, telephone calls, dates, he's even postponed his return to California because of me." She said this to reassure herself more than Jeff.

"I suppose you're in love with him." Jeff was not looking at her now.

"YES, if I can't have Dick all this will have been in vain." She gestured to take in the room and herself. "I don't want to live if I can't have Dick."

"Well, doesn't he feel the same way?"

"I think so—but I want him to say it." Susie went on, drawing a design on the chair arm with her pointed fingernail.

"Give him time, Susie," Jeff said. "From all the floating rumors I gather that he's gone off the deep end." He sighed, crushing out his cigarette and lighting another.

Changing the subject, Susie asked, "What do you hear from the honeymooners?"

"Very little, but everything good. They're in Havana now." Jeff's voice had lost its ring.

"How grand. When they come back you'll live with them, I suppose."

"Nope—I'm staying in the flat. Harker's my boss. I'm too grown up to have a stepfather." Leaning forward, elbows on knees, Jeff stared between at his shoes. He wasn't himself, uneasy, moody. He must miss Edna a lot, Susie thought.

"Any change in the status quo of your department at the store?" she asked.

"No. It sounds cheap and sour-grapish for me to say this, but Kane pulls some terrible boners. He gets four times the salary they pay me and, I'm telling you the truth, I earn my pay keeping Harker's out of difficulty instead of doing constructive work. Hate myself, don't I?" he concluded with a shame-faced grin.

"You make sense to me," Susie countered loyally.

They talked on, the city hummed far below. Susie forgot Dick. It was restful to forget him after the weeks of turmoil.

14 Panhandle Bands Accept Invitations To Play At Shamrock

SHAMROCK, March 3.—It's only a fortnight now, and already this Wheeler county town is resembling a bit of the "old sod" as it prepares for its second annual observance of St. Patrick's name, March 17.

Assurance that the St. Patrick's Day parade here March 17 will have plenty of music to enliven the parade and events planned for the day was given today in an announcement by E. K. Caperton, general chairman, that fourteen of the leading bands of the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma had already accepted invitations to attend. Mr. Caperton stated that others have been invited and several more are expected to accept in the next few days.

Bands and directors who have accepted the invitations are Happy, Douglas Forbus; Kellerville, J. W. Lummus; Wellington, Theo. Nichols; Memphis, O. W. Johnson; Sanderson, Ray Robbins; Perryton, Sumner Reed; McLean, C. H. Leeds; Wheeler, Frederick Forrester; Borger, Clyde Rowe; Quanah, W. H. Adams; Erick, Okla., Vernon Witcher; Elk City, Okla., Corl Flint; Canyon, W. C. E. Strain; and Shaltzack, Okla., Vernon Witcher.

Forty-eight business firms of the city and twelve communities have signified their intentions of entering floats in the parade. Many organizations and firms have not yet decided upon an entry but the number of beautiful floats is expected to pass the hundred mark before March 17.

One feature of attractions of the celebration will be an all-day amateur program given on a large sound stage erected at the corner of Main and Second streets, starting at nine o'clock in the morning lasting throughout the day.

Lewis Goodrich, chairman of the arrangements for this feature, urges all people who play instruments, Hill Billy band, hog-callers, and entertainers of all types to register for this program. They may register with him or call Bedford Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, at his office in the Johnson Hotel building.

There have already been twenty-five entries in this amateur program from various parts of the state, and surrounding towns but Harrison said this morning that the committee wanted as many as possible in order to keep the program going all day.

A large stage will be erected and equipped with loud speakers so that people several blocks away, including the number Clayton Heare, J. B. Clark, Eugene Worley and Lewis Goodrich will act as masters of ceremonies at various intervals during the day.

There will be no entrance charges and any one who wishes to perform any kind of program may have a spot on the program provided they get their names to the committee in charge in time for the day's numbers to be arranged without a break.

All types of musical numbers, instrumental or vocal, are especially desired for the sound stage, along with any other talent that may make a well-rounded program. Notables will be introduced from the stage during the day and visiting bands will appear in short concerts. This is expected to be one of the best features of the celebration.

Hopkins' Smile Invites Business

The smile worn by Commerce Secretary Harry L. Hopkins in above picture as he greeted business leaders in Des Moines seems to bear out his assurance of friendly government business relations.

Election Campaign Revolutionary But It Worked Swell

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., March 3 (AP)—A. M. Crim's plan of campaign for the office of police magistrate was mildly revolutionary, but it worked.

The 79-year-old candidate didn't solicit a single vote. He stayed in his office because he said he did not want the voters "to see too much of me," and he saved his election cards.

He received more votes than any of the 69 candidates in the municipal primary.

Class Entertained At Recent Party

DENWORTH, March 3.—Intermediate Sunday school class at Denworth was entertained with a party by the teacher, Ed Denton, at his home.

Games were played after which refreshments of sandwiches, cherry pie with whipped cream, and cocoa were served to Alice Billie Curtis, Tommy Nichols, Billie Ruth Jones, Louise Farris, Launa Michael, Fred Orville Browning, Jimmie and Jackie London, and Wayne Quarles.

Later the group attended the spelling bee at the Back school.

PETER PREACHES TO GENTILES Text: Acts 10:30-48. By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance.

Did Jesus come to the world with a message of salvation for all men, regardless of race, color or nationality? This is the question that lies back of the question whether Christianity is a world religion. In our own day, nearly 2,000 years after Jesus came to this earth, there are still many who would try to limit His salvation and His message.

Even among those who profess in theory to believe in Christianity as a world religion, and in Jesus as a Saviour of all, there are many who in actual practice seem to think of Christianity as a religion chiefly for Americans or Anglo-Saxons.

Yet in the early history of the church itself, this issue was one of the first to be met and to be settled, so far as the records and the attitude of those most truly Christian were concerned. Paul had to meet it in opposition to Jewish converts, who thought of this new religion as for themselves and not for the Gentiles.

Paul was outspoken in his championship of world-wide Christianity. He asserted most definitely that in Jesus Christ there was neither Jew nor Gentile, barbarian nor Scythian, bond nor free; but Christ was all, and in all.

But even before Paul had to meet this issue as the first great world-wide Christian missionary, Peter had had to face it in a more limited way. Peter was less prepared to meet it than Paul, because Peter had had no such revolutionary religious experience in his life as had come to Paul. Peter had come into Christian discipline with little to affect or break his Jewish associations, and he carried over into his Christian discipleship much of his Jewish outlook.

Yet Peter had overcome much prejudice within the area of his own Jewish relationships. He was lodging in the home of one Simon, the tanner. Franz Delitzsch, in his "Jewish Artisan Life in the Time of Christ," tells us that tanning was one of the trades held in very low repute among the Jews because of the filth and smells associated with the trade. Peter was not a snob or he would hardly have been stopping at the tanner's home. But religious prejudices are the hardest to overcome—harder than social prejudices—and Peter still had a very strong distinction in his mind between Jews and Gentiles.

It was under these circumstances that Cornelius, a Roman centurion who had come under the ministry of the Gospel and who was sent to Joppa in response to a vision, asked Peter to come and instruct him in the truth. Just what reply Peter might have made if it had not been for the vision on the housetop we do not know.

But Peter's vision prepared him for the request that came out of the vision of Cornelius. He perceived clearly that God is no respecter of persons, "but in every nation he that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to Him."

The rest of the lesson tells of Peter's intercourse with Cornelius, but here is the great outstanding truth for us in the lesson... God is no respecter of persons.

Would God that men might understand it and practice it in all their ways and relationships of life!

Texas Today

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT Associated Press Staff

University of Texas freshmen co-eds suffering from the "co-ed slump," or poor body posture, are offered "new figures" by the physical training department if they want them.

When she enters the university, Miss Average Freshman, 17 years old, 5 feet, four inches tall and weighing 115 pounds (considerably underweight, the instructors say), is put through a health-posture-feet examination.

The tests generally show she has no structural body defects but through faulty "body mechanics," she gets a grade B-minus on both posture and feet.

The so-called "co-ed slump," a most of S-shape, tightens her knees, curves her shoulders and throws her head forward. Her feet toe in or out and she steps in a slightly stiff manner.

If she so desires, the physical training department, guided by the examination and a "silhouetograph" posture picture, takes her in hand.

Then follows an eight-week course in "freshman fundamentals" during which she spends a few minutes each day in class exercise and the remainder working on her own posture problem.

When the course is finished a second examination and silhouetograph is taken.

They probably show she has gained a few pounds, bringing her a little nearer the 121-pound correct weight level for her age.

Usually she has straightened her shoulders, set her head more firmly and learned to walk more gracefully. The check shows she acquired a B-plus rating in both posture and feet.

Throughout the succeeding months, the physical co-ed takes the advice of her physical training teacher and concentrates on her figure problems from the point of exercise, but she finds herself joining sports clubs and intramural sports teams.

The goal is nomination for the posture parade with a chance at the title "Princess of Posture."

Ruth Spargo of Houston, Glenn Appling of Luling and Jane Loomis of El Paso shared the title at the close of the recent posture parade which occurs in February of each year.

Faculty members of the University of Texas department of architecture say a "design for living" doesn't come hard to architecture graduates if the matter of immediate employment is considered.

Department Chairman W. T. Rolfe said recently he has been unable to fill demands for architects and no graduates of recent years are unemployed.

"There is no overload of architects with talent and the willingness to work," Rolfe said.

The average annual output of 20 architects, he said, is being absorbed as designers and draftsmen; architectural engineers are finding

Goes to Divorce Wallace Beery

Incompatibility will be the grounds on which Mrs. Rita Beery, above, will seek divorce in Reno from Movie Star Wallace Beery. Beery's first wife was Gloria Swanson.

A poll of student opinion over the nation conducted by an organization at the University of Texas, shows college students want compulsory courses in sex education.

The intercollegiate check found 62 per cent of students in 84 colleges favor making "frank" courses in the subject a part of the college curriculum.

Several colleges now offer courses designed to help students pick the best kind of husband or wife.

The survey showed the largest opposition to compulsory courses among women of the South and West.

In the opinion of Registrar E. J. Mathews of the university, top-flight students among freshmen are not as numerous as they should be.

Mathews recently called attention to the fact only 116 valedictorians of accredited high schools in the state accepted university scholarships in the fall of 1938, although among these awards were available to all No. 1 graduates.

The crop, however, showed a gain of 16 per cent over the previous year.

"The increase is gratifying but the total too small," Mathews said. The Texas Memorial Museum at the university has placed on display a paper-like sheet of silver, one of the few of its kind in the United States.

Director E. H. Sellards said the delicate six-inch sheet is part of a collection of minerals mined in Peru and given the museum by H. P. Hill of Austin. The collection includes argentine and gold-bearing ore.

Byron Short, a professor of engineering, is preparing a warm reception of a cold business at the university.

Two conferences in his charge are scheduled April 13 and 14, the first on food preservation and the second on air conditioning.

Prof. Short said new strides in food preservation through "quick freezing" and "locker storage" will highlight the conferences to be sponsored by the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers and the University College of Engineering.

'Man' To Be Subject Of Lesson-Sermon

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 5.

The Golden Text is: "God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy" (Ecclesiastes 2:26).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following passage from the Bible: "What is man, that thou art mindful of him? For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour" (Psalms 8:4, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man and woman are coexistent and eternal with God forever reflect, in glorified quality, the Infinite Father-Mother God" (page 516).
