SENATOR AGAIN ASSAULTS W. LEE

6-Power Conference Suggested By Russia

MOSCOW, March 21 (AP)—The Soviet Russian government announced today it had proposed to Britain a six-power conference of "the most interested states" affected by Adolf Hitler's absorption of Czechoslovakia but that "the British government found this proposal premature."

In a communique issued by the official news agency, the government said in its opinion "such a conference would afford the maximum possibilities for elucidation of the real situation and the positions of all participants in the conference."

The communique denied foreign reports that the Soviet government recently offered its help to Poland and Rumania in the event they became victims of aggression.

Neither Poland nor Rumania applied for help to the Soviet government nor informed the latter of any danger threatening them," the communique said.

What actually did take place is that on March 18 the British government informed the Soviet government of the existence of weighty reasons to fear an act of violence over Rumania and inquired about the possible position of the Soviet government in such an eventuality.

British Asks Questions. Soviet Russia has urged Britain and France to call a conference of six-most interested states to consider dangers of German expansion while Britain was said to have proposed that London, Paris, and Moscow draft a joint anti-aggressor declaration in which other states might join.

British-Russian conversations were being conducted in Moscow by Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff and British Ambassador Sir William Seeds, and in London by See CONFERENCE, Page 3

Hughes To Give Canadian Speech "Community Service" will be the theme of the 18th district monthly meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at the city hall auditorium in Canadian.

R. G. Hughes of Pampa, a regional vice-president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, will make the meeting theme the subject of an address to legionnaires and auxiliary members.

Fiesta Will Be Held Here June 13-14

Definite Plans To Be Made Today By Fiesta Committee

With members of the steering committee meeting this afternoon with the board of directors of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, plans for the annual Top O' Texas Fiesta were expected to start taking definite form.

Dates of the Fiesta have been set for June 13 and 14. June 6 and 7 had originally been selected as the fiesta dates.

Lynn Beutler of Elk City, Okla., was in Pampa today to meet with fiesta committeemen concerning a tract to provide stock for the rodeo this year.

General committee meetings are to be held by the Jaycees weekly up to the time of the fiesta. A meeting was held at 8 o'clock Monday night at the BCD committee room in the city hall building.

At the meeting last night tentative plans were made and organization of committees discussed.

R. G. Hughes was named as chairman of the old-timers committee. This committee is to arrange the old timers dances, dance contest, fiddlers contest and barbecue.

PLOT FAMILIAR, AUDIENCE COLD AT PRAGUE

Some sullenly silent, some openly jeering and a few giving the Hitler salute, residents of Prague watch Germany's motorized army swiftly take over the city.

Play Ball? Then Come To City Hall Tonight

Play ball! That call may sound from Road Runner park on the night of April 25 if Pampa fans decide to support a team in the Texas-New Mexico baseball league this summer.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall a mass meeting of fans will be held. They will be asked to make the team possible by saying they will attend home games.

The goal is $2,500. Of that amount more than $1,500 has been raised according to a check made today by L. N. Atchison, chairman of a committee raising the money.

Attend the meeting tonight and show that Pampa wants baseball, was the plea of the committee today.

Separated Twins Retain Likeness WACO, March 21. (AP)—Identical twins who were separated at the age of eight days have retained marked similarity at the age of 18.

These hands which you see in this picture have shaken the hands of kings and queens, and strangely, of one Adolf Hitler who their owner, Esther Jonsson, famous American pianist, thinks has the intuition and the thinking processes of a woman, and does not think and act like a man.

President Of France Visits British King

Europe watched apprehensively today for some hint of Adolf Hitler's next move to extend the borders of expanding Germany.

Soviet Russia announced it had proposed a conference of the six "most interested" powers but that Britain had found the suggestion "premature."

Lithuanian officials were said to be moving their families out of Memel, lending support to the belief that Baltic region was marked by Hitler for his next territorial advance.

Premier Daladier, wielding new dictatorial powers, started a reorganization of French defenses through a series of decree laws.

Rumania, fearful of the disappearance of Czechoslovakia made her next on Germany's march to the east, appeared to have at least temporarily put a brake on the German advance by persuading Britain to buy more Rumanian products.

Germany Announces Retaliation Plan BERLIN, March 21. (AP)—A veiled threat that Germany might retaliate against the United States treasury's imposition of a 25 per cent countervailing duty on most German products was made today by Doersingtung, one of Germany's leading financial organs.

Speech Says O'Daniel Has No Character

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was denounced on the senate floor today in the most blistering language possibly ever applied to a governor of Texas.

As flames of the pension-tax controversy mounted in senate and house, Senator Joe Hill arose and in a long speech described the governor as an "unscrupulous, designing, and subversive" politician "without character."

Hill's speech came shortly after the house resumed consideration of a proposed constitutional amendment to liberalize old age pensions and finance them with a sales-natural resource tax and the senate endorsed a liberalizing pension bill by Senator Ross Hardin of Waco.

Not Criticism; Just a Brainstorm

That phases of insanity can be classified seems reasonable if anything about insanity can be reasonable. There are schizophrenics, paranoics, and so on. But what seems queer is that a defendant can be a lunatic during the minute it takes to commit a crime and walk out perfectly sane and safe immediately after acquittal on the ground of insanity. And the experts for the State seems always on the losing end. Well, anyway, it is noteworthy that proof of perfect mental balance is furnished by consistent use of the thrifty Pampa News ads. # Legion Auxiliary Contest Winners Revealed Monday

Donations of groceries for a needy veteran's family were presented at the regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Monday evening in the Legion hall.

Mrs. Hoyt Allen, chairman, announced the winners of a recent essay contest conducted by the auxiliary. They are Madge Lawrence, a senior in the local high school, first prize, and Gertrude Ingram, high school sophomore, second prize. The winning essay is to be sent to the state department.

Refreshments of spiced tea and wafers were served by Mrs. Drevie Brown and Mrs. Roy Hall to Mmes. Hupp Clark, Al Lawson, G. A. Haggerty, Mary Horner, E. J. Kenney, W. L. Heskew, Charles Wilson, Hoyt Allen, J. Earl Johnson, Cora Yates, Frank Hunt, L. R. Franks, Frank Tuttle, E. E. McNutt, Frank Lard, Iva Eghern, W. C. De Cordova, Paul Hughey, and Roy Seow.

QUEEN MARIE OF RUMANIA.

AMBASSADOR OF GOOD WILL.

Rumania is a kingdom in southeast Europe, about the size of England, Scotland, and Wales, with six frontiers and a population of about 18,025,237 inhabitants. It was of this kingdom that Marie, eldest daughter of Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Queen Victoria, became queen. Marie married Prince Ferdinand on Jan. 10, 1893. Twenty-nine years later, Oct. 15, 1922, they were crowned king and queen at Alba Julia.

Queen Marie took a great interest in charity work and the Red Cross. During the World war she was a nurse. At this post she had charge of ambulances and the wounded in the hospitals. She was responsible for practically all of the charity organizations in Rumania.

Marie was also an author. She wrote during her spare time and there are some of the results of, you might say, her hobby. "The Lily of Life," 1916; "My Country," 1916; "Stealers of Light," 1916, and "Idem," 1925.

Nurse and author—these were among her minor roles as queen. Her most outstanding role was that of a diplomat who seemingly merely dealt in political affairs, but in reality she had a great deal to do with such matters in her adopted country. Marie was credited with convincing King Ferdinand, a Hohenzollern, to take sides with allies during the World war.

Marie and Ferdinand had six children. They are Prince Charles, who married Princess Helene of Greece; Elizabeth, who married ex-King George of Greece; Princess Marie, later Queen of Yugoslavia; Princess Nicholas and Mircea (d. 1916); and Princess Ileana. Though the queen herself was Protestant, the children were brought up in the Orthodox faith in accordance with the Rumanian constitution.

In 1925, Marie exited Prince Charles from the country because of his affair with Madga Lupescu. Charles was not even permitted to return home to attend his father's funeral. His son, Carol II, became king at his grandfather's death. However, Charles returned to Rumania a short time later and took charge of the political end of the government. To avoid friction between two strong wills, Marie retired from any political activity.

The United States and Canada were honored by a visit of Queen Marie and her youngest daughter in 1926. While she was visiting here, she made many speeches and wrote many articles for the American and other presses. Their visit was cut short by the serious illness of King Ferdinand; his illness resulted in his death.

The Dowager Queen died at the age of 62 of hemorrhages of the liver. She had been ill since March, 1937, but the relapse came when she was on the way from a sanatorium in Dresden to Sinaloa. At her bedside were her son, King Carol, and Crown Prince Michael. When Marie became ill, there were rumors that she had been poisoned by some of the enemies of the king. Newspapermen thought they had a scoop, but when they tried to confirm the rumor, they discovered that when a queen falls ill it is not always because of poison or other intended actions. Even queens can die of too much food and a cold. The physicians who attended Marie said that her condition was aggravated by a reducing experiment.

No royalty had ever received so much honor in Moscow yet no Communist Union of Militant Atheist even so much as lifted a finger against these proceedings; in fact, few Reds ever expected to see such a ceremony for such a personage as Queen Marie. Her heart was cut out at her own instruction and placed in a mauve lined silver casket, enshrined in the chapel at Marie's beloved country castle, Balice. She was then laid in state beside her husband, King Ferdinand, at Buch-

Natural Pearls Perfect With New Styles Of Spring

Perfect with the new "little girl" styles of Spring are natural pearls, and the jewelry designers are out-doing themselves with clever ideas utilizing these glamorous jewels.

The very newest way to wear natural pearl clips is on the shoulder of an evening dress as epaulettes. Of course, with strapless gowns this doesn't work, so the clips are worn irregularly spaced at the top of the bodice.

A new trick with a long necklace of natural pearls is to wind it once around the neck, and then once around the upper arm.

The younger crowd in New York has deserted completely the bizarre type of jewelry. At the Spring parties the girls are wearing wide-skirted dance dresses that spell innocence, and ribbons tying back long hair at each side. Practically every girl wears a natural pearl necklace if she has one, with bracelet and clips to match.

During the winter season court lady necklaces of pearls fastened at the back with velvet ribbons were very popular, and this style has been adapted to the Spring picture. This season the pearls are held by narrow velvet ribbons in pastel shades. For the right type, earrings in natural pearls with tiny matching bows of velvet are tricky.

For an older, more sophisticated woman a single strand of pearls is smart for daytime wear, with a simple gold clip brooch of Continental design in different shades of gold.

Miss Hodge Will Head Local Beta Sigma Phi Group

At a meeting of Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority in the home of Miss Burton Tolbert Monday evening, Miss Johnnie Hodge was elected president to succeed Mrs. Fred Thompson.

Other officers chosen in this annual election were Miss Josephine Lane, vice-president; Miss Velda Richards, treasurer; Miss Lois Martin, recording secretary; and Miss Burton Tolbert, corresponding secretary.

In the business session conducted by Mrs. Charles Vaughn in the absence of Mrs. Thompson, plans were presented for the spring dance which has been changed to April 29, a formal initiation and tea for the six pledges on April 30, and an area council meeting to be held in Pampa on May 7.

Continuing the study of pictures, Mrs. Bob Curry, program leader, presented Mrs. G. M. Holt who gave an interesting discourse on pastel, oil, and water color paintings and their place in the home. Mrs. Holt displayed several of her own paintings.

Attending were Mmes. J. B. Massa, Raymond Harrah, Charles Vaughn, D. C. Hartman, Roy Kay, R. M. Klingor, Bob Curry, W. G. Gaskins, Misses Lois Hinton, Josephine Lane, Ann Johnson, Lois Martin, Minnie Olive Montgomery, Johnnie Hodge, Velda Richards, Johnnie Davis, and the hostess.

Correct Grades In Music Tests Announced Here

Two outstanding Pampa pianists who played in the Spring Music Festival in Amarillo are Pauline Stewart and Ernestine Holmes.

According to a report from the Panhandle Music Teachers Association, of Amarillo, Miss Stewart received an average of 98 for playing four numbers in the contest, and Miss Holmes an average of 97 four-fifths for five numbers.

Miss Stewart's numbers and grades were: Cramer, 97; Sonata in A Minor (Hayden), 98; Nocturne in F Major (Chopin), 98; and Humoresque (Rachmaninoff), 99.

Miss Holmes played Etude (Czererny), 98; Allmand (Bach), 100; Sonata in E Major (Beethoven), 98; Prelude (Chopin), 98; and Peckanig dance (Gueon), 97. Her grades were not announced last Sunday.

Due to erroneous information received last Sunday, the News incorrectly stated that Miss Holmes' average grade was the highest among Pampa students.

Mrs. Moot Hostess At Meeting Of Kingsmill Club

"Weight, hair, or skin problems which cannot be solved are rare. The average woman, if she wants to be healthy enough, can within a reasonable amount of time improve her figure, make her hair shiny and her skin healthy," Mrs. C. W. Moot told members of the Kingsmill Home Demonstration club as she led the program in her home recently.

Mrs. Moot suggested that they first think of their diet and whether they are taking plenty of outdoor exercise.

"Keep your skin clean; this means at least one complete bath a day," Mrs. N. B. Cude said as she led the discussion on the ten commandments of beauty.

"You cannot be smart and have a careless haphazard posture," Mrs. O. G. Smith told the members as she spoke on posture. "The most expensive gowns are wasted when the posture is poor, while a woman with correct carriage can lend grace to the simplest clothing," Mrs. Smith pointed out. Five or ten minutes exercise daily will do wonders in correcting the posture caused by a neglected or misused spine.

During the business session the by-laws were read and adopted and the club voted to assist with the daily show to be held in Wheeler April 21.

Refreshments of tomato juice cake and coffee were served to Mmes. George L. Roberts, J. R. Combs, A. R. Walberg, N. B. Cude, J. C. Haynes, O. G. Smith, C. W. Moot, and one guest, Mrs. Sam Cobb.

Legion To Bring $3,500,000 To Pampa For Days Of '49 In April

Three and one-half million dollars will be brought to Pampa next month. All of it will be spent for one purpose.

The sudden influx of gold, however, will be the genuine article, but those who spend it at the Days of '49, to be held April 13, 14 and 15 in the hall used by the Pampa Young Men's club on West Kingsmill street are promised a big run for their money by sponsors of the event.

Fifty cents will get you $10,000, good only inside the hall. There'll be a roulette wheel, blackjack games, bingo, a fortune teller, and dancing. Dance tickets cost from $500 to $1,000.

Outside the dance floor, measuring 42 x 42 feet, the two rooms will contain the games and concessions.

Initial plans for the Days of '49 event were made Sunday at a meeting of local Legionnaires and members of the 40 and 8. The American Legion and its allied organization, the 40 and 8 society, is putting on the show for the purpose of getting money to carry on the American Legion's charity work and to clear the post's deficit.

It is planned to keep the Days of '49 open from 7 p. m. to midnight on each of the three dates, April 13, 14 and 15. Tickets for the bingo tables were ordered Sunday. Among the articles for the table will be such articles as a match box from which a snake will jump, a rose that will squirt water, and a salt shaker from which a mouse will jump.

W. L. Heckewelder, general chairman of the Days of '49, other committee heads include Charlie Maisel, Luther Wilson, Earl Perkins, Dan Kennedy, E. J. Dunigan, A. D. Montiegh, Joe Roche, Mike Roche, Joe Gordon, Paul Hill and I. J. Huvil.

These hands belong to a woman whose emotions seem to drain into her fingers and flow out to the keyboard. These hands, beautiful in repose as you can see, and more beautiful in action—when they are like a flame on the wings of dawn—are on intimate terms with the face of beauty because they see her face every day on the gleaming keyboard in hours of practice.

These hands have caressed the heads of bright-haired children all over the world because their owner loves children above all things, and because Esther Jonsson loves children she wants them to have a sincere and true appreciation of beauty.

Face Expresses Emotion (These hands only last Sunday night fondled the head of little Charlie Erickson and Billy Willy Mounts who sat motionless for 30 minutes while she held them spell-bound in the bondage of a torrent of sweet sounds.)

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Stocks stepped into a fast rally in the early part of today's market proceedings but stumbled on the home stretch.

Gains, running to 2 or more points in the morning, were chopped down substantially or replaced with declines at the close.

Nervousness over the Hitler march to the East and a possible war flare-up in Europe appeared to have waned somewhat, although it was noted most traders were quick to cash profits on the forenoon's run-up and adjust to the sidelines pending clarification of the outlook ahead.

Steepest, motors, aircraft and specialties were prominent in the morning recovery jaunt. A trifle chilling was weakness of American Telephone, this bellwether dropping about 3 points at 35 worst.

Inclined to last were Vestinghouse, U. S. Steel, General Motors, American Can, West Coast Paper, Kennecott and Chesapeake & Ohio.

now lives and basks in the rays of approval, Hill roared, shaking his fists, as senators listened in tense atmosphere.

"We shortly will see whose interests he's trying to service. Cites 'Hypocrisy.'" "The governor last summer told the people he was going to give all over 65 years of age $30 a month. Such rank political hypocrisy this government has never seen."

"The governor has repudiated the pledge that got him thousands of votes." In his Sunday broadcast, Gov. O'Daniel, who in his campaign opposed a retail sales tax, came out squarely for the amendment embodying a sales tax.

"The governor in effect said he believed it was the best plan that could be obtained for financing his pension program, although he long had been against a sales levy. Hill went on to say that the governor had 'proved himself to be a man without character.'"

"He has put people in the position of being opposed to all social security if they are opposed to the sales tax," he said. "He is a man who believes in the Ten Commandments when he is running for office, but cannot remember the Sabbath to keep it holy."

"The regular Sunday morning broadcasts from the governor's mansion, Hill declared were 'medicine shows,' 'Beltayed Confidence.'" "He has embelzzled thousands of votes and betrayed the confidence reposed in him," Hill said.

"He's the greatest professional politician of them all." "He said he would not bring pressure on the legislature; yet on Sunday morning he gets on the radio and urges them to pour it on the elected representatives in the legislature."

"Hill paused for breath, then continued with the declaration the governor was 'leading the people into the wilderness.'" "He stands today as the greatest enemy the state has," he said. Hill roared the governor "like a child of old" was betraying and deceiving.

Children Capitalized. "That speech Sunday, gentlemen of the senate," he shouted, "was a masterpiece. As a political maneuver, it was perfect. It was so perfect, he could hardly read it himself." He said the governor had "paraded his dead father and mother for political purposes," playing "on the finer sentiments of the people."

Here's Another Problem Bobbing Up Again

The problem of states' rights is back again. It complicated the relations of the colonies before the revolution. It almost lost the revolutionary war. It caused the failure of the confederation. It split the country once. And it is still with us, in still another guise, in 1939.

Purely political questions of states' rights have been largely solved and put behind us. But in a world whose eyes focus on economic rather than political matters, states' rights is back with a new set of problems.

The Constitution plainly meant the country to be one economic unit. Until recently no one questioned the advantages of "the largest free trade area in the world." On that we built our prosperity, our strong world position.

Today we are tearing it down. The gradually-rising trade barriers which are cropping up between states will be tellingly revealed to the National Conference on Interstate Barriers when it meets in Chicago, April 5-7, keenly alive to the menace.

And at the very time of this breaking-apart comes a proposal that would centralize and unify a different field. Senator Capper has introduced a bill (which would require a prior constitutional amendment) to give to the federal government the right to make uniform marriage, divorce, and child-care laws for the entire country.

At the moment when states are getting around the Constitution by setting up what amount to tariffs and which deeply affect the business of other states, it is proposed that they give up power to regulate personal phases of their citizens' lives which only slightly affect people of other states, and turn this power over to uniform national regulation.

This is a strange approach to states' rights in 1939. National economic unity and uniformity is a source of strength and a benefit to all. It would seem a proper field for national regulation only. Yet the states are busily engaged in tearing it down with oppressive truck regulations, port-of-entry laws, oleomargarine, liquor, and farm products regulations, use taxes, and other laws that could easily Balkanize what had been a mighty nation.

Yet at the same time it is proposed that they surrender their rights to make their highly-personal marriage and divorce laws conform to local usage and culture, and to subject them to national uniform regulation. It is hard to see how one state's laws on this subject greatly affect the people of other states. That seems to make it a natural field for state legislation.

It looks very much as though we were approaching both these states' rights problems wrong-side-to.

The Nation's Press

LEWIS HAS FUN (New York Herald-Tribune) The propensity of Mr. John L. Lewis to make sport of the President's efforts to bring peace between the warring labor factions was never better illustrated than in his sudden proposal for one big new federation of all unions, to be known as the American Congress of Labor.

Consider that he timed it to explode simultaneously with the President's exhortation to the two negotiating committees that they enter the negotiations "with open minds and with a determination to explore every aspect of the problem together." Consider, also, the terms of the proposal—for instance, that he and William Green be declared ineligible for office in the new federation, but that Mr. Green be retired on his present salary while, apparently, he, Mr. Lewis, remain head of the United Mine Workers of America; that the executive body of the congress contain as many representatives of the C. I. O. as of the A. F. of L., though in dues-paying membership the A. F. of L. is at least a third stronger than his rival.

Note, finally, that Mr. Lewis includes in his congress the four railroad brotherhoods, even suggesting that one of their executives be chosen its president, but without having consulted any of them. The scheme, obviously, was concocted in a spirit of mischief, to tease William Green, to embarrass the President; it is not even a trial balloon. Thus it warrants the prompt retort of the A. F. of L. that it "does not offer any possible solution of the problems facing us" and was "not even designed for serious consideration."

What are these problems? The chief one among them concerns the dual unionism that has grown with the feud and embittered it. In a dozen or more important fields the hostile factions have been striving for mastery, each with a union claiming jurisdiction. Beside the problem of reconciling these conflicts—of agreeing upon a method by which, for example, the United Mine Workers and the Progressive Mine Workers can come together under the same roof—the other problems, such as resolving the craft vs. industrial union issue or differences in political policy, pale into insignificance. It was on this jurisdictional rock that the peace negotiations came to grief two years ago, and the menace today is greater than ever.

CRITICIZES OUR ATTITUDE ON CHILD LABOR

A contributor takes me to task on a number of things in a series of articles to be published in this newspaper. His first criticism is on my belief that children should have the right to work. He intimates that shorter hours are a result of legislation and gives no credit at all to the shortening of hours as being due to the fact that people can produce so much more nowadays with machinery than they could years ago.

No, it is not laws that have reduced hours but it is the fact that production has been so greatly increased by the competitive system, by free exchanges and by additional tools, and not because of legislation but in spite of it that workers prefer shorter hours to the extra pay they could have by working longer.

The contributor seems to think that children should be restricted from working because they elbow out adults.

Does the contributor contend that there is a limited amount of wants? And if he will admit that there is not a limited amount of wants, then he will have to admit that there is unlimited amount of work to be done to supply these wants, as wants are only supplied by labor.

And if there is an unlimited amount of work to be done, then there is no need of a child who works elbowing out any adult, if the adult will trade his services on an equal basis with other workers.

The contributor would interpret that I would have children employed without restriction.

I admit that I would have them employed without restriction, so far as employment in itself is concerned, but I would restrict work that would injure the health of the child. There should be no restriction on work, but restriction on cruelty to children, just as we have laws to prevent cruelty to animals.

Would the contributor contend that the child is better able to learn by having some one tell him how to do a job, than by letting the child learn by doing? Does the contributor believe that it is possible to teach the child to be a recipient until he grows up and then have the child automatically, almost instantly, change his habits and be a giver, a worker, a producer, rather than a receiver?

The contributor insinuates that the low standard of living in the South and in Mexico, China, Japan, India are the result of child labor, rather than of other causes.

The contributor, like most people, is confused because he seems to think we are like animals—have limited wants—and, therefore, work must be shared so grown-ups can have jobs. But, some people are not like animals—they have unlimited wants and, thus, they know there is unlimited work to be done, and that anyone who does work and trades what he produces for a small amount of other people's production, benefits all consumers of the product. A worker, in fact, raises the wages of all consumers. This is something the contributor overlooks.

The contributor infers that people do not buy because of lack of purchasing power as a result of low wages. The reason there is unemployment is because of interference of free exchanges, because of lack of free competition, and not because of competition. History teaches us that to the degree we have free competition, do we have a constantly increasing standard of living and a reduction of hours of labor; and to the degree we eliminate competition and have it regimented by some busy-body or some government official, do we have unemployment and a lower standard of living.

Would the contributor contend that because some work is not fit for children, that a child should have his rights to learn by working and producing and serving humanity, prevented by law or custom?

We believe a discussion of this nature is very good because the contributor is thinking as the majority of people think who have not had much experience or made much of a study as to how wealth is produced and distributed.

PRACTICES WHAT HE PREACHES

Years ago, one often heard the statement that, "he does not practice what he preaches." And that was a severe condemnation of an individual.

But nowadays, one seldom hears this expression. It seems that a man needs not practice what he preaches. He is often listened to and blindly followed, whether he makes any pretense whatever of practicing what he preaches. It certainly is a sign of great moral decay when people do not measure the character of a man and the worthiness of a man by whether or not he practices what he preaches.

We seldom now hear officeholders condemned because they do not even pretend to practice what they preach. People cannot long prosper or retain liberty, when they make no pretense of practicing what they preach. It is a most dangerous sign.

Behind The News Of The Day

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—As Congress approaches debate of our neutrality policy, it becomes plain as day that the administration wants all legislative shackles removed wherever they interfere with the free exercise of diplomatic action.

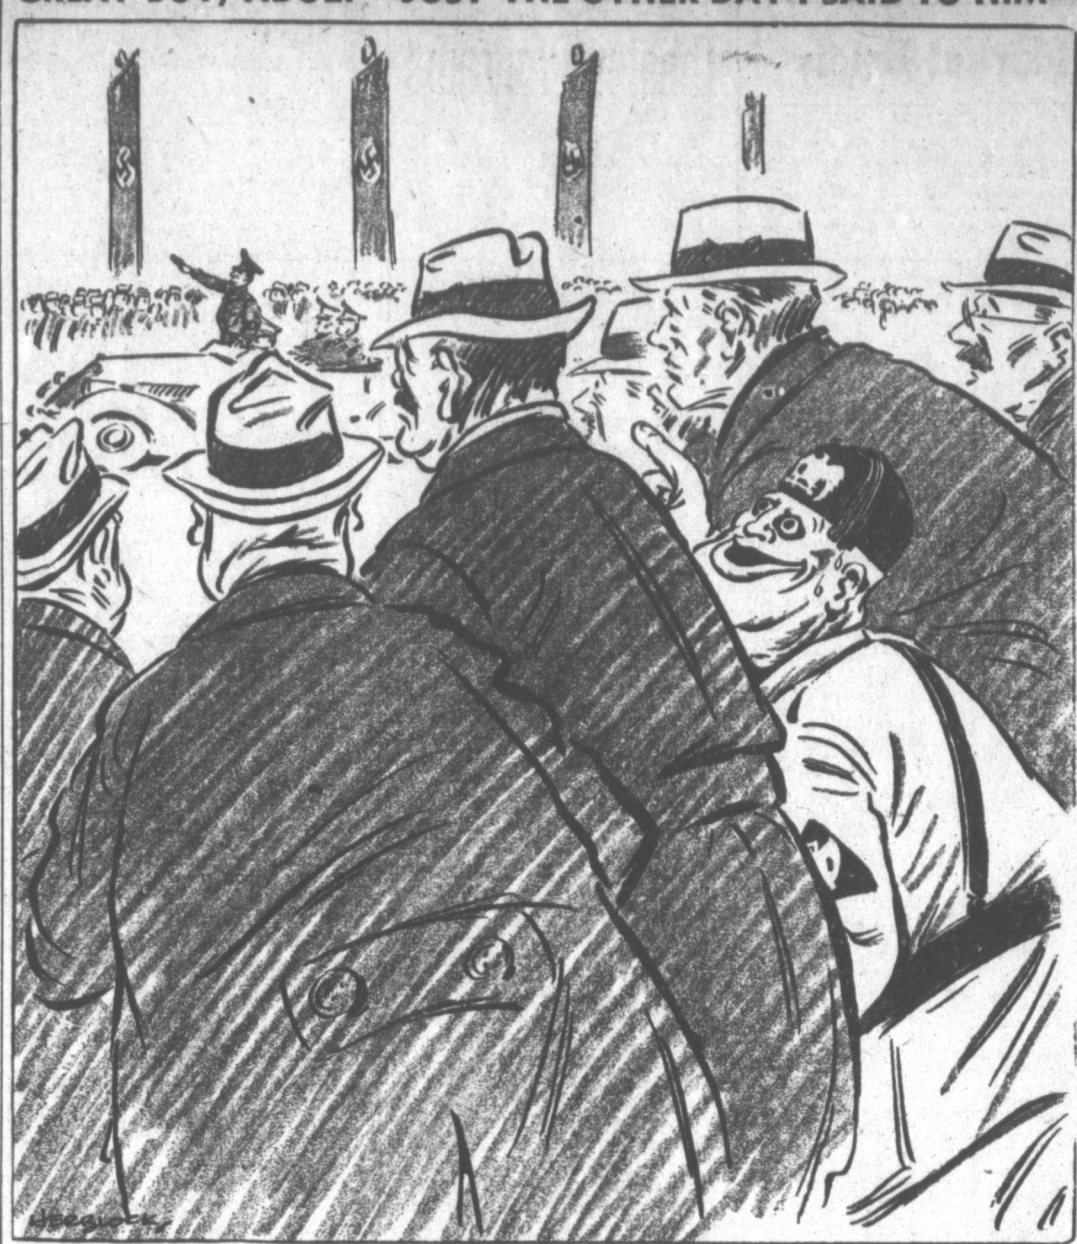

Just now it wants to be able to: 1. Refuse supplies to aggressor nations. The only active aggressor now is Japan, but likely Italy and Germany will be included if they disturb the present quiet.

2. Keep foreign diplomats from snickering up their sleeves over extraordinary legislative restraints imposed upon the Chief Executive and his foreign ambassadors when they deal in foreign affairs.

The administration considers the second as most important just now as a peace preservative. The President as much as said so in his carefully guarded statement about the Neutrality Act. That act requires the President to shut off all military supplies to nations at war, American nations excepted. He considered it certain that existence of the Neutrality Act had contributed more toward war than toward peace.

SHUTS OFF ALL HELP Why? He did not say, but his line of reasoning is plain. England and France, rightly or wrongly, count this country probably sympathetic, possibly an ally, in any affray breaking out in Europe. The Neutrality Act makes that "alliance" less cer-

GREAT BOY, ADOLF—JUST THE OTHER DAY I SAID TO HIM—

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, March 21.—Short takes: "The Return of the Thin Man" may not be filmed, after all, although all preparations have been made and the schedules of Myrna Loy and other players have been cleared. William Powell, long ill, still fears that he won't be equal to the grind.

They've decided to try to salvage the Hedy Lamarr-Spencer Tracy effort, "I Take This Woman," which will go back before the camera soon. But it probably won't be released before "Lady of the Tropics," with Miss Lamarr and Bob Taylor co-starring. This one also is having script trouble.

The colony is indignant over a Florida theater's advertising of "Ecstasy" — an airplane streamer announces: "Hedy Lamarr Bathes Here in the Nude Today." Franchot Tone not only will return to Hollywood, but to his old studio. Metro has paid $75,000 for the play, "Gentle People," in which Tone and Sylvia Sydney have the leads, and he'll repeat his hole in the film version.

"Ninotchka" is in the offing for Greta Garbo—but far off. Which reminds me that after Bob Breen's current "Way Down South" he'll make another with a South American locale. Suggested title for the latter is "Way, Way Down South." Birth of an epic: On a dull day over an imaginative press agent mullied over a lot of heroic figures in history, selected one and planted stories that his studio was to film the man's biography. The idea struck everybody's fancy and next day half a dozen executives were taking bows for having thought of it. And now the picture is actually on the schedule, with a million-dollar budget.

When "Dark Victory" was staged on Broadway, David Selznick had the screen rights, but didn't consider them worth keeping. Barbara Stanwyck was eager to appear in it, but RKO wouldn't listen to her plea to buy it.

So Warners got it for Bette Davis, and since the preview the other night you can get even money that it will win her another Academy award.

Miss Stanwyck, by the way, coveted and got the role of the girl in "Golden Boy." One of the industrial cavalcade pictures will review the history of movies from the exhibitors' side, beginning with the Kinetoscope peep show in 1894.

An oldtime actor and actress, long jobless but happily married, jokingly tell friends that they're now "co-starving."

It would look up all American arms and ammunition the very day war broke out. President Roosevelt has known that the two nations considered the act a handicap to their diplomatic position. They considered it—and so did their foes—as a factor contributing to their weakness at Munich.

It may be that this country should not give a rap whether the position of the English and French is weakened by the isolationist nature of our Neutrality Act. Opponents of the President's policy have said as much. But the present administration thinks differently. It has not said so openly but it has indicated so in more ways than one. It wants its diplomats to be able to hint, without necessarily speaking out, that if trouble comes this country is more likely to be friendly to England and France and Italy.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Acting with that rare consideration which war veterans seem to have more than their share of, the local American Legion post invited Judge F. E. Young, one of the best-loved residents of Pampa, to be among their honored guests at their 20th anniversary dinner held recently. Judge Young who is really justice of the peace, is the father of Fred E. Young, department adjutant of the state Legion organization. You know Judge Young. He is the tall, frail man on the lower floor of the courthouse, but few men in town get to the office earlier than he does, and few leave later.

Most Pampans are familiar with his white hair and white mustache and his kindly blue eyes and spectacles. Most Pampans don't know though that he, though many years beyond the age when he could serve in the army, tried to enlist in the army back in 1917 (he's 73 years old now). He failed to get in the army and he took the only thing he could get, that of being a guard at one of the munition plants in the east. He spent some months up there. So it's no wonder that Fred Young is as proud of his father as he is, and the Legion is proud of him too. So it was highly appropriate for the Legion to have had him among their honored guests at the banquet. His brand of patriotism is as old as the sort the Alamo knew and as young as a new-born babe.

Yesteryear in The News

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY Election of Principal R. B. Fisher to the superintendency of the local school system was announced by trustees of the Pampa Independent district.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shifflett of Mangum, Okla., arrived in an American Eagle biplane to begin instructing students in flying.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Pampa candidates for DeMolay degrees went with Pampa Masons of Amarillo for initiation under the auspices of the Amarillo chapter of the Order of DeMolay.

City commissioners ordered preparation of a sign ordinance to permit more rigid control of what in some instances became sidewalk obstructions and unsightly displays.

CUTS PERSUASIVE POWER

And because the administration and its diplomatic agents abroad cannot display the administration's friendliness unfettered, their persuasive weight abroad is lessened. Their warnings—temperate though they may be—carry less weight against nations looking for a chance to leap.

It is this administration attitude that forms the basis of the upcoming debate. At times the Neutrality Act itself becomes little more than a side issue. Some members of Congress who criticize the administration policy nevertheless agree with the administration that the Neutrality Act is bad legislation.

They don't like the Neutrality Act. But even more they don't like the administration's implied reasons for not liking it. They look upon England, France and the whole European scene as a sour job, out of which this country should keep its hands. Thus the fight in that respect becomes again the old battle over the League of Nations. That affair lasted many, many months, and the isolationists won, hands down.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

One of the constant readers of this column writes to say that a large number of her friends in central Illinois, whence she writes, have apparently been discussing wens because a lot of them had bumps on their heads. So she wants to know all about it.

The wen is scientifically known as a sebaceous cyst. It is due to the fact that the sebum or material excreted from these glands in the skin does not get out because of some obstruction; therefore, a black plug of sebum will be found choking the outlet of the gland.

The material is dammed back and sooner or later is reacted on by itself and by the material from the blood so that the semi-solid mass becomes semi-fluid. The material is likely to have a rancid odor.

If the wen does not become infected, it can go on swelling as the release of the material is prevented. Such bumps have been known to grow as large as a golf ball or even larger. Before the person concerned consulted a doctor and had the material let out.

Because of the inflammation that may set in, the skin over the bump may become adherent to the wen. Moreover, the clothing rubbing against a bump of this kind will irritate it.

Should these cysts become infected, they are a much more serious matter. Frequently the bumps on the scalp will be multiple and if they are allowed to grow too large, it may be necessary to remove a considerable amount of skin to get all of the material out.

When the wen becomes infected, merely cutting the opening in order to cause the material inside to flow out will not cure the wen. The difficulty is in the structure of the tissue; the lining of the cyst continues to secrete the sebaceous material which again hardens and begins to collect.

The permanent cure, therefore, involves a complete surgical dissection which will take away the lining walls of the cyst and thus prevent a repetition of the swelling.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

EVERYBODY HAS HEARD the old saw that "every dog is entitled to one bite." The phrase is so old and so common that one might have a little trouble in recalling just what it means, let alone in realizing that it is a serious and literal principle of law.

New York State defeated in the legislature a proposal by mallmen that they be allowed to sue for damages and recover even in cases when dogs not previously known to be vicious bit them.

BUT TOWSER AND RAGS and Fido and Prince emerged victorious from the legislative mill. "It is a traditional and elementary principle of the common law, a principle that has come down to us from the Middle Ages, that every dog is entitled to one bite," explained State Sen. C. Tracey Stagg.

And so, before the majesty of the law, the owners of Spot and Mickey and Ted and Sandy are not forced to consider and handle them as vicious until after they have proved it by that first nip.

PHILADELPHIA JUST WENT through a demonstration that reversed the famous Nazi meeting in New York's Madison Square Garden. In New York, Nazis met while thousands of anti-Nazis surged outside trying to get in and break up the meeting. In Philadelphia a committee for Racial and Religious Tolerance met in a Y. M. C. A., and members of an Anti-Communism association got in and tried to break it up.

In both cases the police kept a tight grip on the whole situation. That is their duty. The United States dislikes too much police supervision of their affairs. But those who bring violence to otherwise peaceful meetings must expect it.

THE FUTURE OF the United States is not to be settled by street brawling. It is to be settled by orderly discussion and debate and the free vote of majorities. When any party or faction takes to street brawling it must be met with an immediate and effective lesson: in the republic, only one element governs public order, and that is the various forces duly constituted by all the people.

A Canadian column fan writes: "If you can remember when farmers used to come to town, go to the grocery store and get a can of salmon and some cheese and crackers for their lunch at noon, with now and then a can of corned beef, the grocer furnishing the vinegar, pepper sauce, a bowl and a spoon—you look younger with your hat on."

Book A Day

You can imagine no book more timely, more important at this stage of domestic and world affairs than Frederic L. Paxson's "America at War" (Houghton Mifflin: $3.75). If you have forgotten exactly how the United States plunged into the 1917-18 conflict, and most of us have, you can do no better than go back over the whole amazing story in this study.

And amazing it is as Dr. Paxson sees it with the trained eye of the historian. Two broad conclusions evolve: first, that a democracy, even as large as the United States, can act with "speed, directness, efficiency and weight" when there is a call to a great world cause; second, that this same nation may be so regimented in its national thinking almost over night as to be swept into war scarcely knowing what it is all about.

Dr. Paxson's conclusions, therefore, might serve two distinct ends: the current situation, one as a patent warning to the dictator at this point in world events and the other as something which might well give us pause for reflection at home.

"America at War," however, makes no pretense to chart the current course. Here is no alarmist book, but instead the calm, dispassionate analysis of a leading historian. It appears to cover everything about the war years in America from the mind of the citizen to the terms of peace. It is a story, therefore, of inexhaustible energy, of good starts and of false, of erring and of wise statesmanship.

But more important, it is a story highly pertinent to examine NOW — P. G. F.

It ain't all the President's fault that people are scared to invest their money and help business expand. No sir, part of it is on account of some folks still think the profits of business should ought to belong to the owners of the business. For instance, they can't figure out what it is that makes the President of a stock corporation worth a salary of $500,000.00 a year, when the President of the biggest business in the world only gets a salary of $75,000.00.

And that's where the fish part of you comes up for the hook, line and sinker, and you sign, send and sit back comfortable, think how wonderful it is to be part owner of a business that kin pay the President what he really thinks he's worth.

Congress Wars Over Revision Of Neutrality

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Sweeping proposals to revise the neutrality act, coming in the midst of tension over Germany's eastward march, reopened today the fiery congressional controversy over American foreign policy.

Administration officials were silent pending disclosure of the text of a formal protest to Germany over its absorption of most of Czechoslovakia.

On Capitol Hill, however, legislators quickly were taking sides for or against a bill by Chairman Pittman (D., Nev.) of the Senate foreign relations committee to let warring nations buy arms in this country if they pay cash and ship them in their own vessels.

The present neutrality law bans such shipments whenever the President finds a state of war exists.

Senator Borah (R., Idaho) took issue with Pittman's proposal, advocating instead a prohibition on the sale "directly or indirectly of all instruments of war to any and all nations engaged in armed conflict."

"We will not contribute to mass murder," declared Borah, senior Republican on the foreign relations committee.

That committee will meet Wednesday to consider changes in the neutrality act, following President Roosevelt's comment that European developments showed revision of the statute was needed. Some administration advisers have pointed out that it now would stop sale of arms to European democracies as well as to the totalitarian nations in event of war.

Wallace Will Ask Murphy's Opinion On Road Bond Bill

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Secretary Wallace said today he would ask Attorney General Frank Murphy for an opinion as to whether passage of a county road bond assumption bill by the Texas legislature would result in a curtailment of federal highway aid to that state.

A request for the opinion is being prepared now by Wallace's aides and was expected to be forwarded within the next day or two. The secretary said he had decided to take the case to the attorney general after receiving protests from various highway associations in Texas against a ruling last week by Mastin G. White, solicitor of the agriculture department, that enactment of the bill would affect the federal highway aid to the state. During consideration in Texas of the measure, endorsed by the state association of county judges and commissionaires, the question was raised as to whether the use of a surplus of gasoline tax collections to retire county lateral bonds would not constitute a diversion of funds under the Hayden-Cartwright act. The diversion would make liable the state to a maximum penalty of one-third reduction in annual federal aid. Such a penalty would approximate $4,000,000.

Allison Holas Spotlight In Wichita Tourney

Wheeler Five Swamps Iowa Quint 24-12

WICHITA, Kas., March 21 (AP)—Nine streamlined girls from the cotton fields of Texas, coached by a history professor who played only four minutes of basketball in high school and none in college, held the spotlight in the national women's A. A. U. tournament today following its 24 to 12 triumph over the A. I. C., of Davenport, Iowa.

The Allison, Tex., high school team, two-time champion of the Lone Star State, doesn't even have enough players reporting to scrimmage so the girls drill under a single basket with five of their guards and four forwards. The next evening they change around.

Teams entering the A. A. U. tournament are permitted expenses for 10 players. The middle-aged Allison champion is the tenth "player."

With only 50 students in high school and the town's populace of 75 unable to send the team, the girls relied on generosity of neighboring cities for finances to enter the national tournament.

The team is so good it hasn't lost a game on its concrete floored gym in seven years and Coach John Peoples said he won't scrimmage them against his boys team for fear of the consequences.

The team's star is Oleta Jones, a little young lady of 17, who gets into condition for the cage campaigning by staying out of school during the cotton picking season and putting the male laborers to shame by "pulling" 700 pounds a day.

Oleta, the elder of two sisters, does the scoring and gets the headlines but Ruth was ranked on Texas' first all-star team as guard. Ruth is a junior as are Oleta and Ruth Garner, 16, a forward, who also made the all-state team. Oleta has held the honor three straight years.

Last To Galveston Allison, which lost in the first round of the 1938 tournament, has played the Galveston Anicos, present champions, five times during the present campaign. Allison lost all five, but most of them by meager pointage.

Other games in the first round went according to form, with the Wichita Thurstons, last year's finalists, drubbing Hoehne, Colo., 20 to 6. The Thurstons, expected to meet Galveston in the finals, showed little of the ability which carried them to the top last year.

A. I. B., of Des Moines, another seeded team, moved swiftly through the Miller Grove, Tex., high school sextet, 22 to 10.

The Anterettes from Colorado Springs, eliminated Wisconsin's first team to enter the A. A. U. classic by defeating Coleman, 26 to 20.

El Chico Amazes His Stablehands NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—It's getting so even Trainer Matt Bradley and the stablehands are becoming more and more amazed every time El Chico has a workout.

The little three-year-old redhead preparing for the Kentucky derby was undefeated as a two-year-old and is winter book favorite for the blue grass classic.

The chestnut son of John P. Grier-La Chica was asked for his first show of speed in the last couple of days, and he turned in a time that made the William Ziegler stable clockers look twice at their watches.

It was learned El Chico did three-eighths of a mile in 35 seconds a day or so ago, and he did it as easily as if he were out for a canter in Central park.

"That's what is amazing everybody here," said the informant. "He's so ambitious and natural about it that he wonders just what his limit is. He took that workout so easily, and then was clocked in 1:05 for five-eighths with no effort, that the handlers are pretty near convinced he's better than last year."

And you may recall that El Chico only took seven straight races in his '38 campaign for total money winnings of $84,100.

Notre Dame Drills Begin SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 21 (AP)—Notre Dame football candidates were scheduled to go through their paces for newspaper and newsreel photographers today in a "public" opening of spring practice. They began drills with a scrimmage yesterday.

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Service Sports Writer. CLEARWATER, Fla., March 20.—They're the same old Dodgers. Peter Coscarart launched the exhibition game season by doubling into a no-hit, no-run game...

The Yankees claimed to touch first base on the only thing that even faintly resembled a hit off Whitey Moore and Recruit Gene Thompson of the Cincinnati Reds.

Then, against the Yankees, G. Tucker Stainback pasted what appeared to be a home run over the left field bleachers with Vito Tamulis on base. The Yankees claimed a ground rule made it a double, and while they were arguing, and in the confusion, Tucker Stainback passed Tamulis as they rounded third base.

Everything continues to happen to the Daffy Dodgers, yet their comedy may turn out to be entirely too subtle for it is possible to say that this may make it possible to say that the Flatbush Purifiers are stronger in every department.

The Dodgers scarcely can be referred to as the Old Gentlemen from the banks of the Gowanus, for the average age of the regulars is only 27, with the second basing combination providing the youngest and oldest.

MacPhail made Durocher manager with an eye to getting good years out of one of the finest defensive shortstops who ever played the game, and Lippy Leo has his noble athlete's hustling like himself.

Brooklyn has a wealth of fine talent. If Van Lingle Mungo continues to throw with the same easy overhand delivery that has characterized his warmups to date, the erstwhile first-ball king will quickly regain his old salary and position as the outfit's No. 1 pitcher. He easily could be the top flinger in the business.

Mungo should be ably assisted by Luke Hamlin, J. Whitlow Wyatt, and Pat Fred Fitzsimmons.

And not one of 11 others can be counted out at this writing. Right in the middle of Russell Evans, up from the Southern Association, and Ira Hutchinson, formerly of the Boston Reds, look especially formidable.

Vito Tamulis, husky southpaw, won 12 games for the seventh-place Dodgers in 1938. Bill Posedel only has to master control. This may be Forest Pressnell's year.

PHELPS WILL HANDLE BULK OF CATCHING. Like Mungo, Wayne LaMater, Jim Winford, and Johnny LaRocco seem to have rid themselves of arm trouble.

Durocher has no idea of giving up on Kemp Wicker, a southpaw discarded by the Yankees. Bill Crouche, who reported late, was Nashville's ace in tying Red Evans and the St. Louis Cardinals in the final of the invitation tournament sponsored by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers Association in Madison Square Garden.

These two, paladins of the West and the East, won through the semifinal round and furthered their unblemished records last night in one of the fiercest doubleheaders of Madison Square Garden history.

Loyola downed St. John's of Brooklyn, 51 to 46, in an overtime period, and U. of U. whipped Bradley Tech of Peoria, Ill., 38-22.

In a special consolation game, New Mexico Aggies defeated Roanoke, 55 to 52. Each had been beaten in the first round.

Indians Will Need Luck To Finish High

NEW ORLEANS, March 21 (AP)—A two-day study of the Cleveland Indians has convinced me they will need plenty of luck to finish as high in the coming American league race as they did in the last, when they wound up third.

I'm pretty certain I saw three clubs in Florida—New York, Boston, and Detroit—that will take the Indians' measure. Their once great pitching staff is beginning to fall apart, and they still rely inadequate at second and shortstop.

The Indians for the past several seasons have been able to count upon Mel Harder, Johnny Allen, and Bob Feller to give them brilliant pitching on about three days out of four. But now it looks to me like they've lost Allen, and that's a blow they can't survive.

Allen, you might recall, hurt his arm pitching in the last all-star game at Cincinnati after having set a phenomenal record for the first half of the season. He wasn't worth a cent to the club after that.

Even if by some miracle the wing finally comes back completely, Allen won't be ready to pitch before the first of May, and then only in relief roles for a while.

Harder still is a great pitcher, and I think the coming season will be the one in which the "kid," Bobby Feller, finally establishes himself alongside the Johnsons, the Alexanders, and the Mathewson. But it takes more than two pitchers to keep a club up there nowadays.

"I've finally got Feller using a change of pace," said Manager Oscar Vitt. "That was the last thing he needed to make him a complete pitcher."

The team's veteran shortstop, Lyn Lary, a holdout, finally pulled into camp yesterday and signed his 1939 contract, but his position seems to be occupied by Jimmy "Skeeter" Webb, of Meridian, Miss.

Indian officials professed indifference to whereabouts of their hold-out outfielder, Earl Averill. They only deny most emphatically that they are trying to trade him to the St. Louis Browns for Don Heffner, though I don't see why, for they certainly could use Heffner at second base. As it is, they must depend upon Odelle Hale again.

With the Indians in the game such as Jeff Heath, Ben Chapman, Bruce Campbell, Julius Solters, and Roy Weatherly, the Indians can struggle along very nicely without Averill, even though he hit .330 last year.

Golf Pros Find It Expensive To Play In Meets

PINEHURST, N. C., March 21 (AP)—A lot of folks wonder why some of golf's professionals can wander to all corners of the United States—a rather expensive bit of wandering—without collecting much of the dough put up as prizes.

The answer can't be found easily. It seems they just manage to get by, some way or another. No names could be mentioned, but some of the old corners of the United States—a rather expensive bit of wandering—without collecting much of the dough put up as prizes.

Big Vic Ghezzi, of Deal, N. J., on hand hopeful of walking off with top prize in the $4,000 north and south open as he did here a year ago, gave an idea of how expensive this golf traveling really is.

Vic joined the professionals on the winter tour in Texas. He is a pretty fair golfer as they come and he figured his efforts this far had cost him $650 despite winnings of small amounts in four tournaments.

Gene Sarazen, farmer-golfer of Brookfield Center, Conn., thinks there are too many tournaments. "Spots could be picked out where cities would put up large purses, say $15,000 or $20,000," he said. "It would not be too expensive to play in a half dozen events and with large purses there would be opportunity for a wider distribution of the cash."

The professional brigade, nearing the end of the winter trail, squared off today in the first 18-hole round of north-south.

Kayak Will Not Run AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., March 21 (AP)—Kayak II, Charles S. Howard's South American importation, and A. A. Baroni's Speity will not compete in a match race for $10,000 here next Sunday. Track officials announced today that Baroni had withdrawn Speity from the scheduled race because the horse showed poorly in a workout at Santa Anita yesterday.

Two Yell For Chance At Hill After Arena Riots

Two wrestlers were yelling for a chance at Frankie Hill next Monday night after last night's series of fist-slugging riots at the local wrestling arena.

Ernie Peterson, beaten and humiliated last night by Hill, was yelling for a return match with Hill, but Mickey Durano, who became the Pampa favorite last night was insisting in rapid Spanish in his calm deep voice, "Yo quiero encontrar al Senor Hill!"—which means in U. S. slang, "I wanna chance to get that guy!"

The screaming, yelling fist-shaking fans who filled the house last night probably would like to see Durano tackle the villain Hill, but Peterson has promised to literally dissect Hill Monday night if he gets another chance at him.

Promoter Cliff Chambers will announce his decision tomorrow.

A woman fainted, cushions flew thick and fast, wrestlers officers, and promoter had to rush to the aid of referee and wrestler and general pandemonium reigned at the Pampa athletic arena when Hill of Wichita, Kas., sent Peterson to the showers for keeps at the end of the second fall to win the match after Peterson had won the first fall.

Rock 'em, sock 'em mauling featured every bout. Hostilities opened with John Nemanic, former referee, winning a mauling decision from Willard Walker of Houston in the preliminary.

Mickey Durano became the hero of Pampa fans when he took Alan Plummer apart to win the semifinal in 18 minutes of the wildest grappling of the night.

Hill Dropped First. Peterson subdued Hill for the first fall after 32 minutes of defensive wrestling. He let Hill get all the holds and do all the leading but suddenly he turned on the steam, connected to Hill's heart with several elbow jolts as Hill reeled off the ropes, slipped across a couple of Sonnenberg's and finished things up with his famous body slams and a jackknife.

The second fall ended in 18 minutes with Hill almost beating the entire corps of wrestlers, referee, and officers. Hill got Peterson across the ropes and when Referee Billy McEwin climbed high to break the hold Hill let go and McEwin found his foot caught in the ropes and left him dangling in mid-air.

Taking advantage of the break, Hill picked Peterson up and draped him across the ropes. Then he got a Japanese crab hold and Peterson hollered calf rop.

There was no one to give Hill the fall because the referee was still wound up in the ropes. Finally Promoter Cliff Chambers jumped in the ring and told Hill to break. He did but made the mistake of taking a swing at the promoter. Wrestlers and officers intervened and rushed Hill to his dressing room.

Peterson was shaken up so badly he was unable to return for the third fall and Hill was given the match.

Alan Plummer made the mistake of trying to rough Argentine's Mickey Durano into submission. Plummer choked, pulled hair, and finally bit Durano. And that was the big mistake because Durano nearly bit Plummer's ear off and then proceeded to manhandle him into submission.

Houston's Walker appeared to be a mighty promising grappler but he was the victim of some poor officiating when Referee McEwin counted him out while Nemanic was holding him to the mat with the help of the ropes.

On next Monday night Promoter Chambers will present Len Stricklin, the original Kentucky Hill Billy wrestler and his pet coon which seconds him from a corner post.

Frank Peterson, Golden Gate International Exposition Speakers' Bureau chief, has addressed 1,100,000 people in Northern California.

Bowser To Be Pitt's Coach

PITTSBURGH, March 21 (AP)—The mantle of two men who for two decades made the University of Pittsburgh's football teams a power on the nation's collegiate gridirons—Glenn S. (Pop) Warner and Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland—fell today to a student of both, Charles W. Bowser.

Bowser was named last night by the board of trustees that at the same session appointed a committee of seven to investigate "all phases" of the stormy situation at Pitt.

The new head coach entered Pitt in 1919 and played guard, tackle, quarterback and center under Warner.

Graduated in 1923, he went to Grove City, Pa., college, later becoming head coach, served three seasons as an assistant under Sutherland at Pitt, then went to Bowdoin as head coach. He gave up football after the 1934 season to devote full time to his (insurance) business here, but returned to the Pitt staff in 1935. He resigned as first assistant after the 1937 season, remaining out of the game last year.

In naming the committee, the board agreed to a request of Chancellor John G. Bowman of the university and C. D. Scully, himself a trustee, who in an open letter asked that the board try to remove "any cause of criticism."

Sutherland resigned because, he said, the system of athletic administration had resulted in conditions which, for me, are intolerable.

Bowser was given a three-year contract at a reputed salary of $7,500.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Bill Rogell, veteran Detroit shortstop who is fighting to keep his job, takes time off from baseball today to play host at a party for orphan children.

SEBRING, Fla.—The New York Yankees may not be so hot fielded at this stage of training, but there's some consolation in knowing that big Charley Ruffing is "right." Rufus the Red hasn't given up an earned run this spring in exhibition games.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Slugging Joe Medwick's protracted holdout is bringing frowns to the faces of the St. Louis Cardinals. Joe is a great spring hitter and every day he slays outside the tanks hammers the Cards' chances of getting a flying start.

BRADENTON, Fla.—Paul Derriinger today informed Manager Bill McKechnie that he's ready to take his turn on the mound for Cincinnati in exhibition games. The veteran right-hander has been laid up with an attack of influenza.

LOS ANGELES—Rookie: Glen Russell's fine showing at first base has given rise to unconfirmed reports the Chicago Cubs will trade Ripper Collins. Phil Cavetta apparently is set as regular first sacker with Russell a likely spare.

NEW ORLEANS—Oscar Vitt, Cleveland manager said today Johnny Allen, his ace right-hander who underwent an arm operation last winter, would be ready to hurl in an exhibition game in a week or two days. Allen has been taking light warmups daily and reports he's feeling fine.

AUSTIN—Manager Fred Haney today opined that his St. Louis Browns were getting out in very nicely without the holdout infielders, Ralph Kress and Don Heffner. General Manager Bill De Witt added he had not heard from either and didn't know where they were.

LAKE CHARLES, La.—With Pitcher Leroy Parmelee finally signed, Connie Mack today endeavored to bring into the fold the Athletics' only remaining holdout, Outfielder Dee Miles. "I've wired Miles asking exactly what his trouble is," explained Mack, who hasn't heard from Miles since camp opened.

Krist Feared Lost

HOUSTON, March 21 (AP)—Howard Krist, high right-hand pitcher optioned to the Houston Buffs by the St. Louis Cardinals, was feared lost to the club for the season today when examination revealed a growth on the elbow of his pitching arm.

Krist, awaiting orders from Cardinals headquarters, said his physician suggested an operation to remove the growth.

DALLAS, March 21 (AP)—Two years ago a frightened 15-year-old youngster, Louis Gabriel, was drafted into service with the defenders of Madrid. While General Franco's invaders pounded the city, Gabriel fed loyalist machine guns. Finally his father, who lived in Galveston, managed to get him out of the country. Today Louis is learning the America way on the firing line in the football spring training camp of the Kirwin high school Buccaneers of Galveston.

Intra-Squad Game To Be Played Friday
Illness of his son, Shields, kept Coach Odus Mitchell of the Pampa Harvesters from visiting in Norman, Okla., and Fort Worth this week and as a result the scheduled full-length intra-squad game will be played Friday afternoon at Hartman field, probably at 3:45 o'clock. Lineups will not be revealed, even to the boys, until time of the scrimmage. The entire squad will work together this week and when time comes for the opening whistle Friday afternoon Coach Mitchell will read off the names of the two starting elevens. "There will be several changes in the lineups, too," Coach Mitchell remarked today. "Some of the boys who were scheduled to be starters Friday will sit on the bench because they have been ducking practice or loafing. The teams will be made up of boys who want to play football." Most of the boys out because of illness or injuries are back at work. Herbert Maynard, however, went home yesterday while Ray Boyles' knee still bothered him.

Longhorns Whip Rice Nine 8 To 6
HOUSTON, March 21 (AP)—The powerful University of Texas Longhorns continued the chase for their twentieth Southwest Conference baseball pennant today after setting the Rice Institute Owls down 8 to 6 in the conference opener here yesterday. The teams play again here this afternoon. The Owls pecked away at Ned McDonald's offerings and drove him to cover in the seventh, but Uncle Billy Ditch's Steers had chased across seven runs in the fourth on five hits and three errors for a safe margin. Meanwhile other conference teams warmed up for their initial title tests. Baylor meets the Aggies at College Station Thursday and Friday and Rice at Houston Saturday. T. C. U. encounters S. M. U. at Dallas Friday and Saturday.

Eggs Won't Hatch, Disney Complains
DISNEY, Okla., March 21 (AP)—Eggsy-on-the-bed-springs hatched one chick. None of the other 13 eggs Justice C. S. Bivens placed so carefully on the makeshift shock absorbers hatched. He used the bedsprings in an attempt to counteract dynamic blasts on the nearby Grand River dam site. Housewives complained the shocks prevented hatching of many a set of eggs.

Large Employers Accused By Civil Liberties Group

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The senate civil liberties committee said today "the purchasing and storing of arsenals of firearms and ar and sickening gas weapons is a common practice by large employers who refuse to bargain collectively with legitimate labor unions."

The committee, headed by Senator LaFollette, progressive, Wis., recommended legislation to prevent use of machine guns and "offensive chemical weapons" in industrial disputes. It also urged that movements of armed company police and strike guards be restricted to plant property.

Any legislation should maintain employers' rights to protect their property, the committee added.

It reported that employers purchased $1,255,312 of tear and sickening gas between 1933 and June, 1937, "chiefly during or in anticipation of strikes."

"All of the largest individual purchasers are corporations," the report said, "and their total far surpass those of large law enforcement purchasers."
