Voters Asked To Ballot In Trustee Race

Important Issues To Come Before Board Next Term

Public minded citizens today were urging every qualified voter residing in the Pampa Independent School District to go to the polls tomorrow when one trustee will be elected for a three-year term.

The election will be held in the high school building, voting between 8 a. m. and 7 p. m. Lee Ledrick will be manager of the election with J. S. Wynne and B. W. Rose serving as election judges.

Three names will appear on the ballot—C. E. McGrew, Frank Culbertson and C. P. Buckley.

Issues in the election have not been discussed publicly by candidates. Many important issues will come before the board during the next year, it is believed, including a new high school building, new gymnasium, etc.

Who Can Vote

Eligible to vote in the election will be persons residing in the district, which includes the northwest quarter of the county, who have a poll tax or exemption receipt.

Mr. Buckley, first to file, is seeking re-election. He has been a member of the board for nearly 15 years during which time he has acted as secretary. Mr. Buckley came to Pampa in 1905. He is in charge of White Deer Land company holdings in the Panhandle. Mr. Buckley has had two daughters graduate from Pampa schools and another daughter is a student in high school now.

Next to file was Mr. Culbertson who has been a resident of Pampa for 12 years. He is with the Culbertson-Small Chevrolet company. Mr. Culbertson taught school for four years, served two years in the United States army during the World War, and was bank manager and examiner for eight years before moving to Pampa. Mr. Culbertson has four daughters attending Pampa schools at the present time, one in high school.

County Delegation Heard At Capital

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—The State Highway Commission at its regular monthly hearing today, heard pleas from numerous delegations seeking construction, widening, surfacing, relocation or other improvements on portions of highways over the state.

Speakers stressed the necessity of good traffic arteries for movement of oil, agricultural products and merchandise in certain areas and pointed out tourist travel soon will begin.

Commission members countered by pointing out limited funds and excessive costs often prohibited them from carrying out projects they felt were sorely needed.

Among delegations was a large group from Gray, Donley, and Hall counties seeking improvement of Highway 18 from Clarendon to Turkey, designation and improvements of a road from Pampa and Perryton and construction of U. S. Highway 277 from Sonora to Del Rio.

Several county and city officials, headed by County Judge Sherman White of Gray county, offered full cooperation for improvements in that area, assuring they were handicapped in trade by a lack of suitable arteries and needed better roads principally because of increasing oil developments.

Former Texas Chief Justice Succumbs

DALLAS, March 31 (AP)—Judge Nelson Phillips, former chief justice of state supreme court, died here today of heart disease.

One of the most prominent lawyers in Texas, Judge Phillips, 65, was senior member of the Dallas law firm of Phillips & Phillips.

Panhandle Allowed Favored In New Cut

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—Detailed orders of the State Railroad Commission, fixing oil production allowances for Texas fields in April, showed today East Texas, Panhandle and North Texas districts will have greater output while that of Gulf Coast, South-west and West Texas areas will be reduced.

The increased production for East Texas, Panhandle and North Texas will result from the fact that while Saturday shutdowns are lifted from all fields in the state the basic allowances were slashed only in the other areas.

Considering the removal of the Saturday closing and the continuance of the Sunday shutdown, commission engineers estimated Texas' daily production in April would be 1,255,000 barrels, a reduction of approximately 100,000 barrels from the March average and about 100,000 barrels less than the estimate of demand by the Federal Bureau of Mines.

The average daily allowable for the East Texas field will be approximately 440,000 barrels, compared with approximately 373,000 in March, an increase of about 78,000 barrels.

The latest order, dated as of March 31, substitutes for one of March 21, and was signed by only two commission members, Lon A. Smith, chairman, and Jerry Sadler. The third member, Ernest O. Thompson, who recently advocated continuance of two-day weekly shutdowns, did not sign.

In addition to that of the East Texas field, the allowable production of districts, on a seven-day basis, as of April 1 and March 15, is as follows:

Panhandle 86,625 and 86,625
West Texas 1,721 and 1,721
Gulf Coast 629 and 629
North Texas 117,654 and 117,654
South Texas 67,211 and 67,211
West Texas 168,430 and 265,554
East Central 121,437 and 121,437
Southwest Texas 229,967 and 336,592
Gulf Coast 188,568 and 253,290

A majority of the commission has said the adjustments were necessary because of inequities of the past.

The biggest field cut went to Yates in West Texas whose daily allowable, not considering shut-downs, was trimmed from 26,683 to 6,127 barrels; also in West Texas, Howard-Glasscock was cut from 19,220 to 12,928; Wasson from 11,548 to 6,734; Hendrick from 11,549 to 6,668; and North Cowden from 10,255 to 5,803.

Other large reductions included: Thompson from 5,541 to 7,570; Fairbanks, 10,265 to 5,985; Benavides 14,455 to 7,377; Aransas 11-715 to 6,843; Sackett, 19,276 to 10-495; Smet 19,000 to 7,413; Plymouth, 18,064 to 5,950; Hays, 13,611 to 7,420; Tom O'Connor, 18-

Kennedy Also Booms Garner

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Representative, Martin J. Kennedy (D., N. Y.) wrote John Boettiger, President Roosevelt's son-in-law, today that Vice President Garner is the man to save "not only our beloved party, but our beloved country in 1940."

Referring to Boettiger's correspondence with Elliott Roosevelt, the President's son-in-law, Kennedy said that since Boettiger did not know House members well, "I can't forgive the remarks concerning Vice President Garner in your open letter to Elliott."

"Those of us who served with John N. Garner in the House of Representatives recognize his capacity for leadership and his intimate knowledge of government," Kennedy wrote.

"He is one of the best informed men in public life.

"The characters in American history who were known to be 'typically American.' A 'typical American' has red blood in his veins, tells a good story, has a fine sense of humor (and is able to laugh when the joke is on him), is sympathetic with the problems of his neighbor, is intensely loyal to his friends and realizes that the other fellow is entitled to his opinion upon the questions of the hour. In addition to these human qualities Mr. Garner possesses the high character and the knowledge of government and of men that

ENGLAND WOULD HALT HITLER HERE

Above map shows why German threat to Polish Corridor and Danzig is of vital importance to Poland. Nazi seizure of Danzig would leave nation with but one outlet to Baltic—Gdynia, in the Corridor, which Poland threat as a backstop in case country's trade privileges in Danzig were terminated. Important railway freight route, indicated by heavy crossed line, reaches sea at Gdynia, which it connects with coal and oil fields in south Poland. Other railroad lines, some of which run into Danzig, are also shown.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG Poland has extensive rights in this port, at mouth of Vistula river, taken from Germany after World War. But city is largely German. Its return to Reich is imminent.

House Buries O'Daniel Plan For Sales Tax

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's plan to provide the old folks $30 monthly was black and blue today, battered by a rebellious House of Representatives and not taken too kindly by the Senate.

On last Sunday's mansion broadcast the governor said he had "hoped to call the honor roll, but there is no honor roll."

The House called the roll yesterday and buried his sales tax constitutional amendment, 70 to 67, the proponents falling 33 votes shy of the 100 needed for final passage. Only a few hours later cheering foes of the amendment, which called for a two per cent sales tax and one-third increase on natural resources, sealed the issue by whipping 69 to 68, a motion for reconsideration.

Representatives strided to the floor microphone and delivered eulogies over the fallen issue. Moved Martin F. Langston of Montague:

"House joint resolution" (the amendment) be laid to rest in a silver-lined casket and its lifeless arms be crossed on its motionless breast. I further move that it be buried with all the pomp and ceremony and all the formalities with which a bill is usually laid to rest by this august body.

This ended one of the most tumultuous floor debates in recent history. The controversial resolution started strongly, rapidly lost ground. The governor on more than one occasion, called representatives into his office, one by one, to confer with them after negative votes on the amendment to provide the aged with pension money.

No one questioned the immediate procedure of the lower House on the matter. It adjourned until Monday after the "burial" of the amendment.

Chamberlain made this fateful declaration of new British policy in a statement lasting less than five minutes.

Asked by Laborite Arthur Greenwood if an effort would be made to bring Soviet Russia into this stand by Britain and France, Chamberlain replied:

"The foreign secretary saw the Russian ambassador this morning and had a full discussion with him on this subject. The foreign secretary had no doubt that the principles upon which the British government were acting were fully understood and appreciated by the Soviet government."

Referring to the visit to London next Monday by Col. Josef Beck, the Polish foreign minister, Chamberlain added:

"There will be an opportunity of discussing with him the various measures that may be taken in order to accumulate the maximum amount of cooperation in any efforts that may be made to put an end to aggression and to substitute for the more reasonable and orderly methods of discussion."

Steady Increase Shown In Sales Of Car Licenses

A slow but steady increase in the number of applicants for 1939 automobile licenses was noted Thursday in the office of the county tax assessor collector, with 300 licenses being issued yesterday.

Bridge Tragedy Toll Reaches 14

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 31 (AP)—The death toll of Mississippi's tragic bridge without near here continued to mount today as salvage crews pulled three additional cars and two more victims from Clear creek. Fourteen bodies now have been recovered.

At least 10 cars and a truck plunged into the chasm left by the flood-swept washout Wednesday night and there may be others still covered by the muddy water. Two persons still are missing.

Hitler Dared By Prime Minister To Attack Poland

LONDON, March 31 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain in an unprecedented statement in the House of Commons today said Britain and France would go to the aid of Poland with every means in their power if that country felt it necessary to resist any aggression.

It was the first time outside the League of Nations that Britain ever gave a bilateral guarantee to any country east of the Rhine.

Chamberlain said the British government had no confirmation of rumors of any projected attack on Poland.

He made it plain, however, that while Britain was consulting with other governments, including Soviet Russia, on the question of a broad European stand against aggression, the British armed forces would go to Poland's aid if that country resisted aggression and that France would do the same.

Chamberlain, in beginning his momentous statement before the House of Commons, declared:

"The British government have constantly advocated adjustment by way of free negotiation between the parties concerned of any differences that may arise between them.

Chamberlain said:

"Certain consultations are now proceeding with other governments. In order to make perfectly clear the position of the British government in the meantime before those consultations are concluded, I have to inform the House that during that period in the event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and watch the Polish government accordingly considered it vital to resist with their national forces, his majesty's government would feel themselves bound at once to lend the Polish government all support of their power."

"The British government have given the Polish government an assurance to this effect."

The prime minister said the dominions "are being kept fully informed."

Chamberlain made this fateful declaration of new British policy in a statement lasting less than five minutes.

Asked by Laborite Arthur Greenwood if an effort would be made to bring Soviet Russia into this stand by Britain and France, Chamberlain replied:

Angry Hitler Will Answer British Blast

BERLIN, March 31 (AP)—Adolf Hitler will have "plenty to say" at Wilhelmshaven tomorrow in reply to Prime Minister Chamberlain's promise to fight for Polish independence against aggression, responsible said asserted today.

"The fuhrer will not be frightened by a British prime minister," these sources said.

Chamberlain's pronouncement was regarded as the German government that it was more than doubtful whether any official reaction would come before Hitler himself discloses what he thinks.

Men usually charged with disseminating the government viewpoint to the foreign press acknowledged frankly they must remain silent and let the fuhrer decide.

DNB (official German news agency) issued a lengthy report of the prime minister's momentous statement and the Wilhelmshaven of commons but the government radio had not mentioned it.

In government offices, especially those having anything to do with foreign policy, it was apparent, however, Hitler was believed to have been greatly angered.

The consensus was the fuhrer could not tolerate such a development.

It was believed that having erected what he considers a strong eastern and southern front of friends—Italy, Hungary, Slovakia, Yugoslavia and the Balkans—Hitler cannot afford to have Poland accepting British and French military aid.

Hitler, therefore, was expected to formulate his address at the launching of the new 35-ton battleship, the cemetery at Wilhelmshaven in such a way that Poland will realize she will make Germany her bitter enemy if she accepts British-French help.

Pampa Bird Dogs Turn Grave Diggers

Two valuable-looking bird dogs have turned grave diggers and unless owners keep them away from the cemetery they will be shot, according to Ed Foran, sexton at the cemetery.

The two dogs, one a black and white pointer, the other liver spotted, have been coming to the cemetery every afternoon about 4 o'clock and digging in graves Mr. Foran said. He has been unable to catch them but yesterday got close enough to them to see that one and maybe both wore collars.

"They seem to be valuable dogs and I hate to shoot them but unless owners do something about them running loose and causing damage I am going to have to shoot them," Mr. Foran said.

Mr. Foran suggested that owners of dogs answering the description might go to the cemetery around 4 o'clock in the afternoon and identify the dogs.

Coordinating Council To Be Sponsored Here

As a result of the crime clinic conducted by R. A. Selby Thursday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church annex, 80 people voted to petition the City Council of Parents and Teachers to sponsor a Coordinating Council for the prevention of crime.

This Council would be composed of representatives of all organizations in Pampa interested in child welfare. The clinic revealed that there had been cooperation between the schools and public officials in taking care of cases which had already arisen but that little concerted effort has been made in the way of prevention.

The clinic was part of the Parent Education Day program sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Associations, assisting Mr. Selby were Principal Ernest Cade, Captain Herman Lambrecht, the Rev. John Mullen, Joe Gordon, Superintendent L. L. Sene, and Mrs. C. T. Funkapillar.

Preceding a sack lunch Mrs. Tom Henry led a symposium on social hygiene. Various phases were discussed by Mrs. Burt Graham, Mrs. W. A. Breining, and Mrs. W. L. Campbell.

A chart on display from the National Health Bureau showed that a great many children receive their first sex impression at the age of six. Parents were urged to educate their children in sex matters early and to read a great deal of material themselves. By the time a boy reaches the age of 12, he should have full information on all phases of sex; it was pointed out.

According to statistics urgent social problems exist now among adolescents making sex education in junior high and high school imperative but only instructors for that task should be employed. It was pointed out that adults whose lives are not adjusted have a poor chance of helping their children.

Mrs. Fred Roberts, chairman arrangements announced registration follows: Junior High school, 10; high school, four; Woodrow Wilson, Sam Houston, and Horace Mann, 12 each; Baker, five; Skellytown, five; Hopkins, five; and guests, six.

PARIS TAKES OFF MAN-TAILORED SUIT AND PUTS ON FEMININE ONE

Here are the Duke and Duchess of Windsor at the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the American Legion in Paris. The Duchess is wearing one of the new and already famous platinum foxes, a present to her from Molyneux. Produced for the first time this year, there are only 60 platinum foxes in existence, each valued in Paris at about $1,500.

PARIS—While the suit with bell-top jacket and umbrella skirt was the star of the spring collections, there are, besides this, countless styles which are just as becoming—and which bear the authentic 1939 stamp.

The term suit covers a very wide field today. The inevitable classic suit, sober, man-tailored and impeccable from every point of view, is the favorite of that very small number of women who can wear it with a flourish. Otherwise, it is apt to look just a little dowdy and uninteresting.

From there on, however, you have a variety of ideas and combinations—of color as well as fabric—which cover a wide field, from the suit for spectator sports to the informal afternoon outfit, of which the skirt and jacket, plus the blouse, are its only relation to the suit proper. Not to speak of the suit made of the softest organdie lace or that fashioned of rich silk moire or exotic weaves, a mixture of tailoring and dressmaking at their best.

Strong color contrasts are the order of the day for all day-light hours. Even black and navy skirts in fantasy fabrics varying from black and pink broken checks, bright cyclamen and blue tartans or every kind of stripe.

Rainbow plaid tweeds fashion hip-length jackets with skirts in a harmonizing monotone tweed, usually light.

The contrary mode is also smart—a fantasy fabric for the skirt with plain material for the jacket.

The most fashionable colors seem to be the various shades of beige, also grise, silver gray and silver blues. Silver suits are worn with the brightest of blouses.

An almost necessary adjunct to the spring suit is the fur scarf, in singles or twills, and in every type of fox—red, crossed, silver, blue, and chinchilla.

Molyneux's superb platinum foxes have met with much success. The Duchess of Windsor recently purchased one to wear with her spring suits and coat dresses. She wore it to a reception at the Paris Town Hall with a Manbocher coat dress of navy silk.

This dress was lined with lilac taffeta and fastened down the center front of the bodice with clever shirring bringing the fullness well to the front only. The lilac taffeta slip underneath showed only when the Duchess moved and was matched by her lilac straw hat with conical crown and small brim, trimmed with a navy silk ribbon bow.

Platinum foxes are produced in Norway, the result of years of intensive study and research. Only sixty were placed on the market this year, with sixteen going to Molyneux. There is no chance of these particular foxes ever becoming too popular, as they stem from a single reproducer, an albino fox. The skins sell for something like $1,500.

The home of Mrs. Tom Rose was the scene of a colorful party this week when she was hostess to members and visitors of Dorcas class of First Baptist church.

Verne Casey, Bill Jones, and Joe Nelson, composing a German band, played several selections. Miss Maxine Holt accompanied each number.

Mrs. Tom Ross, dressed in a Mexican costume, led the group in a sing song.

Baker Kiddies Make Hit At Lions Meeting

A lively program of song, reading, and expert mimicry was presented by pupils of B. M. Baker school at the regular weekly luncheon of the Pampa Lions club at noon Thursday in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Members of the club keenly appreciated the wit in the radio broadcast sketch given by fourth grade pupils, with Virginia Symonds as announcer and Elouise Wyatt as the interviewer in a "man on the street" program.

The interviewer's prompt replies and intelligent questions to Lions who were made a part of the sketch drew praise.

Another feature of the program was the contrast of the old-fashioned school and the school of 1939, with Bill Parker, costumed as an old-fashioned school teacher, wearing glasses, carrying a huge "turnip" watch, and always having at hand a hickory switch, and Elouise Wyatt taking the role of the student of 1939.

Droning recital of the "Village Blacksmith" by the old-fashioned school students was contrasted with the modern school in which the teacher tolerantly spanked the students for not having prepared their lesson by reason of the extra-curricular activities of the week.

Music on the program was provided by Dewey Bond, who sang "Old Black Joe," accompanied by the girls' chorus; "Bobolink," by the boys' chorus; "At Sundown," "Lonely Air," and "Robin's Return" by the choral club, composed of both boys and girls; "Hunter's Horn" and "We Sail the Ocean Blue" by the boys' chorus; duet, by Gene Shaw and Elouise Wyatt.

A reading was given by Jean Hickey. W. Postma was in charge of the program. Members of the fourth grade, who presented the radio broadcast sketch, were pupils of Mrs. Annie Daniels, Miss Margaret Williams, director of music at B. M. Baker school, was in charge of musical numbers.

Students in the old-fashioned school skit were Claudine McWhorter, Eula Clemmons, Betty Jean Austin, Annie Mae Ayres, Rose Alts Randall, Agatha Ann Brown, Anita Jo Lane, Deliah Thoris Roof, Rosa Mae Zornes, Mary Frances Morris, J. F. Smith, and Eva Lee Henson.

Members of the choruses and choral club: Wayne Proper, Wila Dean Hyatt, Maryann Bennett, Viola Bass, Bonnie Dill Tucker, Jean Hickey, Marquis Cagle, Wallace Crane, Mary Lou Austin, Cecil Brown, Garnion Salder, Alexia Brown, Betty Frances Compton, Louella Ewing, B. M. Wilson, Margaret Covington, Harry Vandenburg, Lee Hutchens, Robert Crumshaw, Arnold Jones, R. F. McCallip, Chester Pendleton, Leona Bowers, Wanona Hyatt, Bonnie Roberts, Mickey Swearingen, Charles Bard, Leon Crump, Edward Jones, David Shelton, Burris Moon, Billy Jack Billton, Elva Jean Anderson, Rosamary Hamilton, Delores Valentine, Dwey Bond, C. W. Masters, Opal Moon, Albert Oglesprey, Jinnie Grace Pruitt, Melvin Yearwood, and Roy Timmons.

Attendance at the club meeting this week was 80, including four guests. A. R. King and Harry Kelley, both of Pampa, J. P. Elms of Alameda, and Rev. A. H. Carleton of Clyde.

Announcement was made of the illness of two members of the club, J. A. Meek and Ray Hagen.

45 Head Of Stock Auctioned Off Here

Forty-five head of choice stock passed through the ring at the weekly sale at the Pampa Livestock exchange yesterday afternoon. Another large crowd attended the sale. Young calves brought $6 to $9. Cows averaged $55. Steers brought an average of $32.

Several Oklahoma buyers have sent word they will be here next Thursday and J. K. McKenzie, manager, plans to have a record amount of livestock on hand.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—Heaviest selling in five months today smashed stock market prices 1 to more than 6 points as Wall Street traders apparently turned an early rallying attempt into a disorderly retreat.

Traders were heartened by a brief moment in the first hour by the declaration of Prime Minister Chamberlain before Parliament that Great Britain and France would fight to preserve Polish independence while pursuing means of stabilizing the shaky political structure abroad.

Gains ran to a point or so for leaders at the start, but the forward move soon gave way to a blast of offerings that put the ticker tape several minutes behind. There were subsequent slow-downs, but weakness again developed in the fourth and final hours and the ticker tape once more was unable to keep pace with dealers. Blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares were numerous. One trade of 23,000 shares of

Opponents Of WPA Aim For New Slash

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Bi-partisan opponents of President Roosevelt's $150,000,000 WPA request, not content with their effort to cut it a third, sought in the House today to slash it to $55,000,000.

Rep. Mages, republican, Mich., declared the smaller figure would have the support of 90 per cent of the republican members.

Rep. Cannon, democrat, Mo., predicted, however, a compromise figure of $100,000,000 would be approved. That was the sum agreed upon by the administration leadership under pressure of economy advocates, and recommended by the appropriations committee.

Meanwhile, Senator Pepper, democrat, Fla., suggested congress direct the WPA not to lay off any relief workers until the pending appropriation is disposed of.

A cut of $400,000 has been ordered for next week, but it was understood that Col. F. G. Harrington, WPA administrator, might delay this for a day or so and either modify or rescind the order when it became apparent what sum congress would approve.

Leaders said the senate would take up the appropriation bill early next week.

may have of obtaining Polish territory by threat of force.

The promise of military aid from both Britain and France came in the midst of intensive foreign office consultations preparing for Foreign Minister Joseph Beck's scheduled visit to London next week.

The London office mouthpieces had implied Poland would accept a military alliance with Britain and France if Adolf Hitler refused Poland's appeal for a pledge to respect Polish rights and frontiers.

An inspired article in the newspaper Kurjer Czerwony made it clear Poland hoped to come to an understanding with Germany without entering a bloc against Germany but that she was prepared to do so if Germany guarantees were not forthcoming.

Poland, whose traditional policy has been to strike a balance between her Soviet Russian and German neighbors, has been in informal negotiation with Germany, seeking a guarantee of her vital economic interest in the Free City of Danzig.

The government has expressed hope that an agreement be reached to save Poland from entering what Germany might consider a "provocative" bloc.

Fire Damages In Sandusky Reach Over 2 Millions

SANDUSKY, Ohio, March 31 (AP)—Fire starting in the M. R. Herb department store destroyed buildings in two city blocks in the downtown business district today with damage estimated by Fire Chief Wilson McLaughlin at "over two million dollars."

More than 100 persons living in apartments over the building were driven to the streets. No one was injured.

It was the worst fire in Sandusky's history.

In addition to destruction of buildings in the two blocks. Plate glass windows in seven stores on the south side of East Market street were broken by the intense heat. Water-ruined window stocks.

Origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

War Depends On Invasion, Says FDR

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 31 (AP)—Sources close to the White House asserted today there was a general fear in the world that Germany might extend her "domination" of other nations to other continents and that current British and French actions appeared to seek an end of that danger.

While President Roosevelt refused to discuss the foreign crisis at a roadside press conference, intimates declared Prime Minister Chamberlain's pledge to the House of Commons today that Britain would fight if Poland's independence were threatened and his statement that France would take similar action seemed to put squarely upon Germany the responsibility for any possible general war.

These sources said Britain and France were, in effect, saying to Germany that war could come only by invasion by Germany of some other country and war would be avoided if there were no such invasion.

Therefore, it was said, the world has been put on notice where the responsibility lies if there is war.

The President was here for ten days of rest and recreation.

The President was keeping in close touch with the state department and Europe. He told reporters he had talked with both by telephone and probably would talk with them two or three times again during the day.

Subway Crash Hurts 200 New Yorkers

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—A collision of two city-owned subway trains at the height of the evening rush hour, injuring more than 200 persons and sending 14 to hospitals, brought a speedy investigation by city authorities today.

The crash between the crowded four-car local trains of the City Independent System, shortly before 6 p. m. yesterday, swept men and women from their feet, crushing them against metal uprights of the sides and ends of the cars.

Three hospitals in Queens county listed 14 persons suffering from brain concussions, internal injuries or fractures of ribs, arms or legs. Police listed more than 200 others were cut by flying glass or bruised.

The accident occurred when a Forest Hills-bound train, sweeping around a wide curve, hit the rear of a train stalled by loosened couplings.

Needs of Pampa's city recreational project and its accomplishment were outlined at the Friday luncheon of the Pampa Kiwanis club by Mrs. Rosemary Roach, project director.

Musical entertainment was furnished by five high school boys and a girl, and the program was in charge of Rev. Robert Boshen.

Reports on the Pampa club's trip to Lubbock for an inter-club relations meeting was given by J. B. Massa, chairman of the inter-club committee. Ten Pampa Kiwanians made the trip, and Pampa bowlers defeated Lubbock bowlers in two out of three games, rolled following the noonday luncheon.

ALLOWABLES

688 to 13,125; Placedo 9,309 to 5,390.

There are no changes in daily field allowables except in the Southwest Texas, Gulf Coast and West Texas districts. The Panhandle, North Texas, West Central Texas and East Central Texas areas simply benefit by an extra day of production.

For example, KMA field in Wichita county, with an unchanged allowable of 27,565 daily, benefits by being permitted to produce that amount six days a week in April instead of five days as in March.

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—The policy committee of the Texas Railroad Commission today overrode its third member in formally announcing Saturday oil field shutdowns would be discontinued on April 1 for the five Saturdays of April.

The statement, issued by Chairman Lon A. Smith and Jerry Sadler, said daily allowable production would be whittled to 1,253,055 barrels.

The other member is Col. Ernest O. Thompson, former chairman who vigorously fought the lifting of Saturday shutdowns on grounds there was no sale for the crude.

Reduction from the current output, under the new order, would be approximately 100,000 barrels and 302,000 barrels less than authorized in the original order. Demand for Texas crude in April was set by the Federal Bureau of Mines at 1,412,700 barrels daily.

The East Texas field, which produced in March an average of 372,935 barrels daily, will produce approximately 448,951 barrels on a six day basis. Sadler said the Refugio district allowable would be cut from 76,815 to 49,827 and the Houston district would be slashed from 285,000 to 188,568 barrels daily. Corpus Christi's district would be cut from 219,687 barrels to 138,948 while Midland will be reduced from 265,654 to 168,030.

Paid allowable cuts will be prorated strictly on a basis of engineering data compiled by commission engineers.

The statement said certain major pipeline companies and crude purchasers had set about a "feared" campaign since the announcement of lifting of Saturday shutdowns.

"Cutting the production of the state as a whole on equitable and uniform basis will quash that fear in the minds of reasonable and patriotic persons in the oil business."

makes for a sound and successful conduct of the affairs of state.

"John Garner, in my opinion, is the man to save not only our beloved party, but our better beloved country in 1940."

Elliott Roosevelt said recently in a radio broadcast that Vice President Garner was "in the driver's seat right now" as a likely Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1940.

Boettiger, soon after, wrote an open letter to Elliott in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, saying "Tell Mr. Garner for us that we're very fond of him, but he just don't fit." He added that "Out here you can't stop people insisting that your pa has got to stand for a third term."

57 Millions Invested In Loan Associations

The heavy volume of thrift funds pouring into insured savings and loan associations in Texas during the first two months of 1939 resulted in a record total of savings invested in these institutions as of March 11 Nugent Fallon, general manager of Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, said today. On that date such private investments aggregated $67,794,000.

"Thrifty Texas people certainly are taking advantage of the protection given their savings up to $5,000 per investor in these insured institutions," Mr. Fallon said.

During February the 120 insured associations in that state reported 1,019 loans on homes for a total of $2,063,000. These loans were made on the direct reduction plan, by which easy monthly payments are applied to both principal and interest until the borrower owns his home free of debt.

As of March 1, such direct reduction loans on the books of these associations had reached a total of $62,791,000.

Included in the compilation prepared by the corporation are the figures of the Security Federal Savings Loan Association of Pampa through which this area is served.

one in Junior high school and two in grade schools.

The other candidate, C. E. McGrew, came to live in the district in 1928 as superintendent of the Magnolia Pipe Line company at Kingsmill. On April 1 of last year he completed 40 years of service with the Standard Oil company and subsidiaries and was retired.

He moved to Pampa to make his home. Mr. McGrew came to Texas in 1903 from Pennsylvania. He served three years as a member of the school board at Cleveland, Liberty county.

Election Over County Trustees also will be elected Saturday in Gray county common school system. Grandview district will elect two trustees to their board of seven members. All other county districts will elect one trustee each. There are nine common school districts and our independent districts also.

Voters in the independent districts also will join other districts in voting on candidates for two county school board posts which expire this year.

E. C. Schaffer is a candidate for re-election on Commissioners' precinct No. 3. A write-in election is expected to be held in Pct. No. 2 to select a successor to C. F. Jones, whose two-year term also expires.

W. B. Weathered, county school superintendent, said today that names of candidates for the trustee posts were not available because write-in elections always are conducted in the field trustee posts.

Lions Of 3 Districts Will Meet In El Paso

For the first time Lions from District 2-T will join Lions of two other districts, New Mexico and Mexico, in a convention to be held on May 5, 6 and 7 in El Paso. Delegates representing West Texas, New Mexico and Mexico will gather in "Lions International" assembly, which will be the theme of the convention.

Delegates named from the Pampa Lions club at their Thursday meeting were: Frank Culberson, Roy McMillen, H. G. Walters, Herman C. Lambrecht, Roy Boyland, W. E. James, Jesse Wynne, M. A. Graham, C. H. Walker, R. A. Bratton, Dude Balthorpe, R. A. Webb, Fred Roberts, Arthur M. Teed, Charlie Thut, and W. M. Craven.

Shipment Of Steel For Park Delayed

Shipment of steel for the grandstand at recreation park has been delayed. City Manager W. T. Williamson learned this morning. A telegram from the Capitol Iron and Steel Works of Oklahoma City said the first car load was to be shipped this morning.

Allowing two days for the steel to reach here, construction should begin Monday morning, the city manager said. WPA workers have been doing preliminary work on the job for two weeks. About 60 days will be required to finish the job.

ment because we feel tax changes should be made by statute.

"If a tax ever gets into the constitution 11 men can keep it there no matter how iniquitous it may prove to be."

"We don't know what the people's program is. The governor said one thing when he was running for office and says another now. I personally don't believe the people want a sales tax."

Sen. Des Hardin of Waco, advocate of extremely liberal pensions, averred he was ready to do "some horse trading" in an effort to get something to the house.

Sen. John S. Redditt of Lufkin sent up a compromise plan for study of his colleagues. It called for a two per cent tax on sales of 20 cents or more, a tax on certain services and a 25 per cent boost in the natural resources levies. His proposal would set the pension ceiling at $20,000,000 a year. There is one automobile to every six persons in the United States.

NOTE TO CHILDREN ON PARENTS' HEALTH

A breakfast-time story for the grown-ups in your family

In return for all the bed-time stories father and mother have told you, we present a breakfast-time story you can tell father and mother.

Once upon a time about fifty years ago a scientist discovered that without a certain marvelous substance found in only certain foods, good health, even life, was impossible. So for years and years scientists worked in great laboratories to learn more about it. And slowly, but surely, they did learn until today its chemical secrets have finally been revealed.

This marvelous substance is named "Thiamin" and is sometimes known as Vitamin B1. Now father and mother must have Thiamin just as you must have it for best health. In fact, everybody must have Thiamin to nourish the millions of nerves in the body. Thiamin also sharpens the appetite and promotes better digestion. Since the body cannot store up Thiamin, new supplies are continually needed. So father and mother and you should eat foods that contain Thiamin every day.

It is true that Thiamin is found in many different kinds of things to eat, but nature's richest economical source is oatmeal.

So you can tell father and mother that just as you should drink your milk and eat your spinach, they, as well as you, should eat Quaker Oats for breakfast. Because they are larger than you, they really need more Thiamin. So they should eat more Quaker Oats to get more Thiamin.

Pampa School Boys Steal Show At Meet

City Gloves Champs Rout Visitors 5-1

Three knockouts in six bouts marked the victory of a team of Pampa Golden Gloves champions over Big Spring here last night as the Pampa battlers won five out of six fights. A return engagement will be staged in Big Spring next month with Trainer Cliff Chambers taking eight boys.

It was high school boxers who almost stole the show with their leather slinging ability. It was also a high school boxer, who replaced Frankie Bills as bantamweight champion, that showed the class of the evening.

The Big Spring team was without Ynez Ynez, Mexican flyweight, who is critically ill with pneumonia, and Ellis Reed, who had influenza. Fred Barnes, replaced Ynez and made a great showing although losing to Benny Moore in a wild swinging battle. Absence of Reed kept Denver Hubert from appearing as a lightweight champion.

Hornback Opens Kayoes

First knockout of the night came when Joe Hornback of Canadian, now a welterweight, landed a left to the jaw and a right to the heart to drop Thomas McMullen for the full count in the first round. That came after Benny Moore had hammered out a decision over Fred Barnes who was wobbling at the bell.

Canadian Youth Wins

Mickey Simpson, red-headed, freckle-faced Canadian youngster, made his first appearance in a local ring by taking a decision from Earl Pace.

Then League Clay of Canyon, showing more aggressiveness than when he appeared in the local Golden Gloves tournament, landed one-two punches which dropped Hyson Smith to the canvass in the second round.

Another Knockout

When Frankie Bills of Shamrock failed to appear, Harold Smith, local high school youngster, took on Bob Dozier and won by a knockout in the second round. Smith showed exceptionally fine boxing and a left that snapped like a whip. It was a left and right cross that dropped Dozier twice in the round.

The bouts ended with Jake Bible of Alameda losing a hairline decision to Jack Childress. Bible used a deadly body attack for the first time but was unable to block Childress' snaky right. Bible was ill but went the full distance. It was Childress' six consecutive win of the spring season.

Mary Blows Struck

L. V. McDonald and W. C. Pendleton stole the exhibition picture with a two-fisted attack for three rounds. McDonald won the decision for his aggressive ness and solid blows. Jack (Cotton) Smith and Roy Ray staged another slap, bang battle for three rounds with Smith getting the nod. His unorthodox style had Ray baffled most of the way.

Little Charles Brethauer

hammered out a decision over Buddy Simmons in the 85-pound class while Doug Loveless got the nod over James Hollar in the other exhibition.

Fans were treated to more leather slinging than they had witnessed in a long time. Fans from Canadian and Shamrock followed their boys to Pampa and saw them give dazzling exhibitions.

Toby Waggoner of Canadian gave another great exhibition of officiating as he was on his toes from gong to gong and kept gloves clean and dry.

Results:

Exhibitions

85 pounds—Charlie Brethauer decisively over Buddy Simmons.

115 pounds—Douglas Loveless won on decision from James Hollar.

125 pounds—Jack Smith decisively over Roy Ray.

126 pounds—L. V. McDonald decisively over W. C. Pendleton.

Golden Gloves

112 pounds—Benny Moore, Pampa, decisively over Fred Barnes, of Big Spring.

147 pounds—Joe Hornback, Pampa, kayoed Thomas McMullen, Big Spring, first round.

160 pounds—Mickey Simpson, Pampa, won on a decision from Earl Pace, Big Spring.

175 pounds—League Clay, Pampa, won on a knockout from Hyson Smith, Big Spring, in second round.

118 pounds—Harold Smith, Pampa, kayoed Bob Dozier, Big Spring, second round.

125 pounds—Jack Childress, Big Spring, decisively over Jake Bible, Pampa.

Future Queen

Experts say pert, bare-legged Jean Cline, 14-year-old school-girl from Wilmington, Ill., soon will be one of goldfom's queens—in ability as well as looks. Jean, who is new to tournament golf, drives better than 200 yards. She shot an 85 in the Mid-South tournament at Southern Pines, N. C.

80 School Boys Entered In Shamrock Boxing Meet

SHAMROCK, March 31. — Approximately 80 boys, representing seven towns, will throw leather at each other and vie for honors in Shamrock's second annual invitation boxing tournament which will start Friday night and continue through Saturday night.

With a beautiful team trophy and individual awards of gold and bronze miniature boxing gloves as goals for eager young pugilists to fight for, there will be plenty of "mixing it" during the three sessions of ring activity. The trophy will go to the town winning the most first places in the 11 weight divisions, while the gloves will be presented first and second place winners of each weight class.

All winners of the Canadian boxing tournament, held last week-end, will be on hand fighting to retain their crowns, and to meet them will be some mighty tough youngsters, who will be trying desperately to climb to the top by "knocking off" the champions. Winners in the Canadian meet, five of whom are from Shamrock, are Callan, Shamrock, 85 pounds; Worley, Canadian, 95 pounds; Bonner, McLean, 105 pounds; Roden, Shamrock, 115 pounds; Bills, Shamrock, 125 pounds; Spurlin, Canadian, 135 pounds; Burton, Shamrock, 145 pounds; Sutterfield, Shamrock, 155 pounds; Bussell, Canadian, 165 pounds; Calloway, Canadian, 175 pounds, and Cadra, McLean, heavyweight.

With receipts of acceptance from Alameda this morning, the number of teams entered was raised to seven. Others already entered were McLean, Canadian, Turkey, Pampa, Stinnett and Shamrock.

First round bouts will begin Friday night at 8 o'clock. Quarter-finals and semifinals will be fought Saturday afternoon, with finals in all weight divisions on Saturday night.

Cliff Chambers, who has been training a group of local high school boys, will take nine of them to the tournament.

The Pampa entries will be Charles Brethauer and Buddy Simmons, 85; Everett Sparks, 95; Bob Fralley, 105; Doug Loveless, 115; Harold Smith and W. C. Pendleton, 126; Roy Ray and Jack Smith, 135.

Canadian Boxers Plan To Get Revenge At Shamrock

Special To The News

CANADIAN, March 31.—Canadian's boxing team, coached by Toby Waggoner, left today for Shamrock's boxing tournament determined to turn the tables on the Irishmen and bring back the trophy.

The tournament is scheduled to settle down to a duel between Canadian and Shamrock as it did last week at Canadian when the Irish won 5 to 4.

Approximately 80 boys on the boxing squad steamed through hard work-outs all week in an effort to erase all traces of bruises and knots acquired in the tournament here last week-end. Even the small tots that staged the carnival like royals worked hard to get revenge from Frank McHardie, the winner of the battle royal.

Canadian's recent tournament attracted about 1,500 fight fans, according to estimates. The tournament was successful from the standpoint of thrilling fights, expensive awards, sportsmanship and finances—and what more can you ask? Query the sponsors and supporters.

Canadian's boxers, Spurlin and Thrasher, are scheduled to be major attractions in Shamrock's meet as they were here last week. Spurlin won the gold medal and Thrasher the bronze in the final battle. This fight was one of the feature bouts of the tourney. There was no grudge involved, but a lot of doubt and that doubt still remains.

Gamble will be favored to win the Shamrock event if Frankie Bills, who won the gold medal in the Canadian tournament from Gamble, is not entered.

Spurlin is only 15 years old and has won five out of the five fights he has fought. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Spurlin. Thrasher has won three fights out of four. He is 17 years old and is a senior. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thrasher.

Calloway in the 175-pound weight class has won two fights out of two. He is 18 years old and is a senior. His father is E. H. Calloway. Gamble has fought six fights and won five. He is 14 years old and a freshman. He is the son of E. Gamble.

In the Canadian tournament, the runner-up fighters were awarded bronze gloves and the champions gold gloves.

Golf Masters Offer Dizzy Odds While Torrents Fall

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 31.—A rainy, blustery afternoon on the grounds of the Augusta National clubhouse, players and writers lazily watched the water cascade off the high green and wondering audibly between shouts of "Fiey, Bow-man, two more," if the rain ever would stop coming down and if it would be possible to complete the 72-hole Augusta National "Masters" tournament by Sunday night.

"Funny how it always rains for the first six days of the tournament. If it doesn't rain we get ourselves a cyclone."

"Tell you what I'll do, fellows. I'll pick four guys to win this tournament for a hundred bucks and give you the field. All I want is Goldahl, Spivey, Nelson and Picard. You can have the rest."

"That's a dizzy bet to make—against a field like this one."

"What's dizzy about it? All they've done is win the last six straight and one of 'em will take this one."

"That Goldahl's the super-golfer, fellows. He's the best there is."

"I'll say he's a super-golfer."

Member out at the last open his wife rushes up to him when he still has nine holes to play and throws her arms around him and says: "Hon'y, you've done it again. I'll say the guy who can even hit a ball after that, much less win, is a super-golfer."

"I don't think Snead can win here. He's 15 pounds underweight and he's jumpy as a cat in a thunderstorm. A fellow like that is liable to have one bad round."

"There's nobody pounds that ball like Sam when he's right. There's not any par-five hole he can't reach in two shots."

"Not to change the subject, but the man I'd like to see make a comeback in this tournament is Walter Hagen. Hain's hitting that ball as good as he ever did."

Granted a respite in the down-pour, the select field was scheduled to play 18 holes today, 18 on Saturday and the final 36 Sunday.

Fans To Name Pampa Team

Baseball fans of this section of the Panhandle will be given an opportunity to make the Pampa baseball team that will play in the Texas-New Mexico baseball league.

Contest plans and the prize to be offered will be revealed upon the return of Manager Grover Seitz from a trip through the southwest where he is seeking players.

The Amarillo team has been named the Amarillo Gold Socks and uniforms will conform with that name, according to word from the other new entry in the league.

Local boys desiring to try out for the team are urged by Manager Seitz to start limbering up. He will probably call them for workouts on Monday with the official training period to begin about April 10.

The playing field at Road Runner park will be worked over and the fence and grandstand, damaged by wind, will be rebuilt beginning early next week, according to Danciger officials.

Armstrong To Battle Davey Day Tonight

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—Henry Armstrong, the sad-eyed little negro who holds the world's light and d waterweight championships, will balance the latter crown on his brow tonight and prance out into Madison Square Garden's roped ring to meet the assault of Davey Day, a Chicagoan of undoubted ability against the second and third-raters of the sport.

The Hammer is very far from either category. So he is a 1 to 4 favorite to retain his crown in the 15-round duello and depart for England and a fight with Ernie Roderick still wearing the coronet. In fact it is 8 to 5 he will dump Day somewhere along the route.

Almost all the doglegs in the bally-hoo business have been employed to build up the fight. These, plus Armstrong's drawing power as the greatest "little" fighter of his time, will bring a crowd of about 15,000 into the Garden and a gate of $35,000 or so into Mike Jacobs' well-stuffed cash drawer.

Dodge No. 1 was the rumor, freely circulated, that Armstrong, after 10 years of fighting was close to the end of the trail and that Day had the stuff to give him a running start in that direction. This don't stand up when Henry cut loose in training. He knocked three sparring partners so groggy, Eddie Meach, his circular manager, went on a frantic safari for more guinea pigs.

Dodge No. 2 was the ancient wheeze about the title "loan." According to the lunatic fringe the title was to go to Day for keeping until Henry has discharged his duties abroad.

Day is a good journeyman with his hands. A game, smart fighter, he has won his last 15 in a row. But there doesn't seem much hope for him.

Surface Upsets 'Bitsy' Grant

HOUSTON, March 31 (AP)—Blond Hal Surface of Kansas City, conqueror of Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta yesterday in a stunning upset, ruled the co-favorite with Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., today to win the championship of the River Oaks tennis tournament.

Cooke trimmed lanky Bob Kamrath of Austin, University of Texas player, in three sets. Without becoming excited by Kamrath's smashing returns, Cooke took the match, 7-5, 6-4, 9-7.

Cooke will meet Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., today. Kovacs, a colorful performer who has not been extended in this tournament, coasted to an easy 6-0, 6-3, 6-0 victory over Jack Tidball of Los Angeles.

Yesterday saw Grant's first defeat in tournament play here since 1934. He won the championship of the meet in 1935, 1936, and 1937 and after advancing to the quarter-finals last year had to retire for a rush appendicitis operation.

Diminutive Franke Guernsey, Rice Institute's intercollegiate champion from Orlando, Fla., trimmed Ernest Suttler of New Orleans, 1938 finalist, by scores of 6-2, 6-3, 6-0.

Yesterday's results set the stage of some thrilling semi-finals matches which will be played today and tomorrow.

Today Cooke clashes with Kovacs, with the winner to play in the finals Sunday against tomorrow's Surface Guernsey victor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Texts: Acts 9:1-12, 17-19.
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance.

With this lesson we turn from studies in the life of Peter to consider the life and letters of Paul. Here we shall find the same Christian experience, taking root, developing, and bearing fruit in a very different personality and in a somewhat different environment. The differences between the two men only emphasize the power of Christianity to influence and determine the life and character of all sorts and conditions of men.

Peter was a fisherman. He does not know a great deal about his early training and background, but he was evidently a man of intelligence as well as a man of great forcefulness of character. He would undoubtedly have had the training in the Jewish schools which every Jewish boy had.

With this background it is not unusual that he should feel a deep intensity of religious conviction, and it was not surprising that he should resent the words and actions of those who, in his judgment, were perverting the truth and tending to substitute new teachings for the law and the prophets.

4-H CLUBS BUILD SQUARE FOR AMERICA'S DEMOCRACY

HEALTH CONTEST Work and Play Hard Eat Vegetal Sleep 8 to 9 Hrs. Meas. M.

Typical of the 1,300,000 youngsters enrolled in the country's 4-H clubs are these healthy, happy-looking boys and girls. Chief aim of the organization is to teach young people to be happier, more useful members of rural communities.

WASHINGTON—The woman who guides America's youth movement—which is 1,300,000 strong and takes on 50,000 new members each year—thinks there is no danger of either fascism or communism in this country as long as grown ups give young people the right kind of leadership.

The woman is Gertrude Warren, who directs the famous 4-H clubs from her desk in the Department of Agriculture. A motherly, white-haired woman who has had the 4-H clubs under her wing since they were first organized 22 years ago, she says part of her job is to "dramatize democracy," and stands for the best job there is.

The 4-H clubs—the H's stand for Head, Heart, Hand, and Health—are sponsored by state and federal governments, but do not resemble even faintly the totalitarian youth organizations in Germany, Russia or Italy.

Healthier and Happier.

Instead they try to develop young people as individuals who will be happier and more useful members of the rural communities in which they live.

Miss Warren likes young people and likes the country, and sees a lot of both. She regards today's younger generation as "a grand bunch of people."

"They're so responsive," she says. "They have so many ideas. I'm not one of those who think today's adolescents are the lost generation. I don't know anything about the lost generation as a matter of fact."

"My boys and girls are forward looking. They know it's a wonderful thing to live in this country. They know that even if they belong to a limited income group, they can improve themselves and become leaders in their communities."

It's next to impossible to get Miss Warren to talk about herself. She starts off obligingly enough, "I was brought up on a farm myself. It is nice to have to live in the city for convenience. But I have an automobile and get outside Washington every hour I can spare."

Then she gets back to her favorite subject. "Today young people in rural areas have the radio, libraries, the cinema, traveling art exhibits, good schools."

"Youth has never had more opportunities than it has here and now. I can sell this country and rural life in it to young people, because I am sold on it."

Miss Warren loves to tell stories of 4-H boys and girls who have confirmed her faith in American youth. "There's one boy, for example, who was the son of a tenant farmer in a western state. Definitely in the underprivileged class. His father was shiftless and no account. The boy didn't realize that he could amount to something."

"We got him interested in 4-H work. He was so enthusiastic that when his father picked up and moved on, the boy organized a 4-H club if he didn't find one in the new community to which he moved."

"Today he is one of the 4-H club directors. He graduated from a state agricultural college, and is one of the most respected members of his community."

Useful Training.

Miss Warren has dozens of stories about boys and girls who through the 4-H clubs have been trained in home economics, animal husbandry, gardening, canning, farm and individual accounting, dressmaking, forestry, music.

In the course of her administration, the 4-H movement has spread to northern Europe—Finland, Latvia, the Scandinavian countries,

Japan Seizes French Isles In China Sea

PARIS, March 31 (AP)—The foreign office said today it had not received notification of Japan's intention to occupy the Spratly Island.

TOKYO, March 31 (AP)—The Japanese government announced today it had assumed jurisdiction over the Spratly islands, which France claimed in 1933 and which are of possible strategic value as a seaplane and submarine base.

The islands lie dead athwart seaplanes approaching Japan from the south.

The foreign office statement said the islands previously were owned less than Kozo Sawada, vice minister of foreign affairs, summoned the French ambassador, Charles Arsene Henry, and informed him the step was taken for "the protection and regulation of lives, property and enterprises of Japanese nationals there."

The statement said in 1917 Japanese began penetrating there and investing a "considerable amount of capital, erecting various permanent establishments," it said. The government on "several occasions" sent warships there to assist settlers—but the absence of administrative jurisdiction caused not only inconvenience but was liable to cause unnecessary dispute with France.

The islands are seven in number with an area of 247 acres without great commercial value, but they surround lagoons which could afford harbor facilities for seaplanes, submarines and small naval craft.

Occupation of them by France in 1933, was the first claim to sovereignty since their discovery in 1867.

Unreality Will Be Sermon Subject

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 2.

The Golden Text is: "Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me." Proverbs 30:8.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And he answered, Fear not; for they that be with us are more than they that be with them. And Elisha prayed, and said, Lord, I pray thee, open his eyes, that he may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the young man; and he saw; and behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha." (II Kings 6:16-17.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All the evidence of physical sense, and all the knowledge obtained from physical sense must yield to science, to the immortal truth of all things" (page 493).

French Military Expert Calls Soviet Army A 'Broken Reed' After Death Purge

More vital than ever is a solution of the "Russian enigma" . . . the big question mark which is the Soviet army. Here Major George Fielding Eliot, from figures he regards as reliable, presents his opinion as an experienced soldier on the Russian army's dependability as an aggressive ally in any European "anti-Fascist bloc."

By GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT (Former Major, U. S. Military Intelligence Reserve)

NEW YORK, March 23.—Hitler marches on eastward, as this writer predicted only a short time ago. Czechoslovakia disappears from the map of Europe. And in the remaining states which lie in the path of the inexorable "Drang nach Osten"—Poland, Hungary, Rumania—fear grows, and men look at each other with the unspoken question in their eyes: "Are we next?"

One enigma remains—the vast inchoate power of Soviet Russia. Can the Red Army stop Hitler? One does not ask so much whether it can defend the soil of Russia, but one does wonder if it can act effectively to help Poland or Rumania.

Certainly the Germans appear to be calmly proceeding on their eastward way in contemptuous disregard of the possibility of such an intervention. Military observers in this country have long held the view that the "purges" which have swept away so many of the leaders of the Red Army have disqualified it from taking the offensive.

An army which does not have a thoroughly well-knit, efficient, smooth-working high command cannot undertake extensive offensive operations. Above all, it cannot take the offensive. Is this the reason for the calm German disregard of the "Russian menace" to their eastward thrust?

It has been vigorously denied in Soviet circles that the "purges" have weakened the Red Army; rather, we are told, they have strengthened it. Very opportunely, at this moment, there comes to hand an authoritative statement of the actual conditions obtaining, written for the French daily military paper, "La France Militaire," by the distinguished and well-informed French military commentator, General H. A. Nissel.

General Nissel shows that following the execution of Marshal Tukhachevsky, his successor, Marshal Jedorov, "to whom, on the occasion of his 50th birthday, Stalin and Voroshilov addressed letters couched in terms of warmest camaraderie," has also "disappeared." The commander of the Far Eastern Army, Marshal Blucher, has been relieved of his command and his whereabouts are uncertain.

As to the subordinate leaders, General Nissel's table shows the commanders of the 13 army districts in May, 1937, and the subsequent changes in command down to the present.

For a military audience, this is indeed sufficient, but the general public perhaps may require some additional comment. No army in which such conditions obtain can possibly be considered as a co-

26 division commissars, 21 have "disappeared."

"These figures," concludes General Nissel grimly, "make it unnecessary for us to offer any further remark on the state of the high command of the Red Army."

Perhaps like all privates, these Russian soldiers hope some day to become generals. But . . . the men themselves can have little confidence in generals who rise to command only to vanish . . . herent and effective fighting force for any other purpose than defensive operations.

Junior officers and the men themselves can have little confidence in generals who rise to command rank only to vanish and be replaced by others who in turn suffer the same fate.

It now seems quite clear why, despite the apparently highly favorable opportunity offered by the Japanese involvement in China, Russia has not acted decisively in the Far East. Such grim statistics resolve any lingering doubt as to the effectiveness of Russia's military power as a factor in the af-airs of either Europe or Asia outside of Russian boundaries.

The facts now for the first time revealed in full detail by General Nissel were undoubtedly known to British and French military intelligence at the time of the

Texans In Washington

By L. T. EASLEY WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Twenty years ago April 19, Fritz Garland Lanham of Fort Worth entered the House of Representatives.

He now ranks twentieth in consecutive years of service among 435 members.

It is known to comparatively few that the Texan is a playwright, author and a magician, and among other accomplishments knows shorthand and uses the typewriter.

The silver-haired, amiable Representative recently entertained his fellow Texans in Congress at a party given by Senator Connally with card, coin and handkerchief tricks.

Lanham was a professional magician long before coming to Congress. He played for a year in the early 1900's at several Texas theaters, including the old Byers opera house at Ft. Worth.

Born Jan. 3, 1880, at Weatherford, Lanham attended Weatherford College in 1897, Vanderbilt the next year and graduated from the University of Texas in 1900. Later he studied law at the state university and began practice at Weatherford in 1909.

He moved to Fort Worth in 1917 and was elected to the sixty-sixth Congress to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of James C. Wilson. Lanham's father had preceded him in the House. Samuel Willis Tucker Lanham represented a district which included not only that which now comprises his son's district, but a far greater area of West Texas as well, because of the smaller population then.

The elder Lanham served from 1883 to 1893 and from 1897 to 1903, when he resigned and served as governor, 1903 to 1907.

He died in 1908.

March 22 hearings begin on several bills which would give to the federal government all submerged coastal lands.

The measures are designed to obtain for the government valuable oil fields, at hearings last year on similar bills a delegation of Texas

Indo-China, with 21,859,000 inhabitants, is the most populous colony of France.

Texans In Washington

California at that time offered no great opposition, although one of the leading exponents of such legislation, Senator Nye (R., N. D.), said he primarily had in mind California's coastal oil fields when he introduced his bill on the subject.

That California this year will offer much opposition is evidenced by the publication of a pamphlet by Rep. Tolian (D., Cal.), containing several arguments he believes the proposed legislation is unconstitutional.

Pending before the congress are Senate joint resolution 24 by Nye; Senate joint resolution 83 by Senator Walsh (D., Mass.); House joint resolution 181 by Rep. O'Connor (D., Mont.); and House joint resolution 176 by Rep. Hobbs, (D. Ala.).

S. J. R. 24 and H. J. R. 181 assert that all submerged lands below the low water mark and within three miles under the ocean along the coast of the United States are property of the United States. The other two resolutions specifically single out California, and would turn over all petroleum reserves under submerged coastal lands to the navy for reserves in case of a national emergency.

Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States have established that the individual state owns title to its bordering submerged lands," argued Tolian. "The unreliability of the estimates of total oil reserves in the nation has been widely demonstrated; lawful means of acquiring oil reserves are open to the federal government—how can there be any justification for the present federal attack on the sovereignty and rights of the states which have voluntarily bonded themselves together to form the United States of America?"

CO-EDS SPEND MORE THAN MALE STUDENTS BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Though it's Joe College of Indiana University who pays for duds Betty Co-ed spent on an average $50 more last school year than he did.

Mary M. Crawford, economics instructor, said she found in a survey the average woman student spent $62.29 and the average man $13.07. The biggest difference came in spending for clothes.

A sophomore sorority member spent the most—a total of $2,010—and a freshman the least—$207.50.

STOKER SUES ADMIRAL PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—Sentenced to 90 days for allegedly refusing duty, a stoker filed suit for damages against his captain and against Admiral of the Fleet the Earl of Cork and Orrery who confirmed the sentence, on grounds of illegal arrest.

After the party, Mary and I took Jeanne off and asked her what was the matter. Then it all came out. . . believe it or not, no electrical refrigeration! SERIAL STORY

MRS. DOC BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictitious.

Yesterday, Emily welcomes Alan and Eric back, thanks Eric for saving Alan from the fire. She also tells Alan that Peterson has a contract and Alan says he has something to say about that later!

CHAPTER XX

ALAN hurried up the stairs, disregarding Emily's bewilderment, her half-spoken appeals.

"Yes, he told himself as he undressed, climb into bed, he would have something very definite to say about Emily's leaving. And the sooner it was said and done, the better.

Emily did love Eric. No denying that; any fool could see it. The way she had kissed Kane, the tenderness with which she had caressed his burned hands. Her relief when she found the injury was not more serious.

They would go away; she would get her divorce—and then, Alan could not bear to think of her as another man's wife, in another man's home. What would life be for him, without her?

He had chosen Summer, and his practice—and he had just that—and that was all. But he wanted—Emily!

His vision of her smile was blotted out by sheets of wind-blown rain, her eyes became as two glowing acetylene lamps . . . there was a roaring in his ears . . . shouts, screams, moans . . . "He's so young, too . . ."

A dark mass bearing down upon him, the slap of waves against the launch . . .

Sound sleep at last drove the distorted dreams from his mind. He did not hear Emily tiptoe into the room, pull down the shades, and tuck the blankets closer about him. Nor did he feel her lips, soft against his cheek. Only the walls heard her sob—and they gave no comfort.

"I guess I was pretty tired," Alan admitted. Then as the import of Eric's words struck him—"To say goodby? What do you mean?"

"Orders. Conference in St. Louis on whether we'll go on with the dam. Brass hats from Washington will all be there—to rake me over the coals.

"Farrell looked at his hands this morning, put on new dressings. He says they're coming on fine, probably won't even scar. I'm taking the noon train."

Eric leaving, Eric, carrying his broken dreams in bandaged hands, stepping out again. But it would be different this time.

"I told you yesterday I had something to say about your leaving, Emily," Alan began. "I want Eric to hear it too. It concerns both of you—all of us."

"But, Alan—I—" Emily interrupted.

St. Louis before school closes in June."

"I'm not taking the position, Dr. Peterson," Alan said.

"You're not—what!"

"I'm staying here in Summer. My work is here."

"That's the final, Doctor."

"Well . . . you know what you want to do. I had hoped though, that you'd be with us. I need you, Alan. The school needs you."

"My people need me here, more. Have a good trip, Doctor. I'll be up to see you when you return."

"Goodby, Alan. You've made your decision. Never regret it."

ALAN sang lustily in the shower, and was grinning happily as he hurried downstairs. Outdoors the sun was shining brightly. A cardinal whistled from a treetop; a few green blades of grass were pushing up through the brown bareness of the lawn. Spring almost here, Alan thought. And only a few short weeks ago, all this had been hidden by the blizzard.

Emily was waiting in the breakfast room. And Eric. Alan's grin faded.

"Hello, sleepyhead," Emily said with a laugh, as she kissed him. "Thought you'd never wake up."

"You started the clock around, and then slept on it's second trip," Eric said. "You were still dead to the world when I awoke, and left last night—and pounding your ear when I came back to say goodby."

"I guess I was pretty tired," Alan admitted. Then as the import of Eric's words struck him—"To say goodby? What do you mean?"

"Orders. Conference in St. Louis on whether we'll go on with the dam. Brass hats from Washington will all be there—to rake me over the coals.

"Farrell looked at his hands this morning, put on new dressings. He says they're coming on fine, probably won't even scar. I'm taking the noon train."

Eric leaving, Eric, carrying his broken dreams in bandaged hands, stepping out again. But it would be different this time.

"I told you yesterday I had something to say about your leaving, Emily," Alan began. "I want Eric to hear it too. It concerns both of you—all of us."

"But, Alan—I—" Emily interrupted.

"Yes, I know . . . but listen to me now. It's going to be difficult to tell you, but I have to do it. Let's get it over, get it settled."

"Alan, what are you talking about?" Eric asked, almost angrily.

"About you, about Emily, about me." Alan spoke quickly, as if trying to hurry through his unpleasant task. "You love Emily. And she loves you—"

"Alan! I don't—you don't believe—"

"You may not realize it now, but you will," Alan went on, striving to keep his voice calm and even. "It will take time, but eventually you will know what I know now—that you love Eric."

"I'm staying in Summer. It is best that I do. I might go away, go with you to St. Louis, but the break would come sometime. It might as well be now. I have my work; I'll be all right."

"Your place is not here in Summer," he went on, avoiding her eyes. Eric stood, silent and wondering. "This is not your world, Emily, and I've been a fool, I've been cruel, trying to make you stay in it. Here you have sickness, trouble, pain and death. You deserve something better than that."

"You are too young, too beautiful to give up the happiness that is rightfully yours. You need music, laughter, love—gaiety."

"Eric can give you these things. I can't."

"Eric is the man for you, Emily. He can give you the kind of a life you want—the kind of a life you should have. He's a fine man, a true friend, and I'm proud to have known him. He's brave, he's honorable. He'll make you happy. And that's more than I've been able to do."

"Be good to her, Eric. She's precious."

Eric nodded, solemnly. He said nothing.

"Alan, Alan, you don't know what you're saying!" Emily's voice was almost a scream.

"But I do—this is the way it should be. Break quickly. All friends. No tears. No hate." He turned to go. "Please go with Eric now, Emily. Have Herminia pack, send your things. Don't—don't be here when I come back!"

His voice broke. Quickly he turned, ran from the house.

"Alan—darling—don't—don't go! Come back! You're wrong!" Emily screamed after him. But he was far down the street, walking swiftly, when she reached the door. If he heard her, he did not let on.

She stood in the doorway, tears streaming down her face. Eric's arm was around her.

"He's gone—My Alan—gone!" (To Be Continued)

Brownsville Banking Family Retires After Eighty Years

BROWNVILLE, March 31 (AP)—For the first time in 80 years no member of the Fernandez family is an active banker in Brownsville. The recent retirement of Albert Fernandez as cashier of the First National bank closed the family's connection with active banking here.

The late Miguel Fernandez Sr. came to Brownsville from Spain in the early 1860's and conducted a private banking firm along with his general merchandise business. Banking in this area in those early days was operated much as today, at least insofar as checking accounts were concerned, but Mexican "hard" money was more largely used than United States currency.

Check credits and charges often were made in terms of Mexican money, as shown by a check unearthed by Albert Fernandez. It was in the form of a draft, dated Dec. 19, 1885, payable in the amount of $100 (Mexican money) to J. L. Dougherty and was signed by Max Stein of Hidalgo. Stein, a political leader of his day, was assassinated in the early 90's in Reynosa, Mexico, opposite Hidalgo. The check was drawn on the Miguel Fernandez private bank at Brownsville, and bore three endorsements when it was deposited Dec. 23, 1885.

"During those times Mexican money, including silver and gold predominated in this section, Fernandez said. "There was also in circulation some Spanish pesetas, both silver and gold. The Spanish peseta was quoted at 20 cents and each silver duro, equivalent to a peso, was worth as much as American money. Today a peseta is worth five cents.

Clarinetist From Shamrock Praised

SHAMROCK, March 31 — Eldon Sonnenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sonnenberg of this city and a student at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., won praise from musical critics on his clarinet solo at a recent Sunday afternoon musicale of the University of Kentucky band.

Sonnenberg played three movements of Mozart's Concerto for clarinet, opus 107. A review of the program in a Lexington paper commented that Sonnenberg played in excellent taste and with fine command of the instrument.

During his years in Shamrock Sonnenberg won recognition at many musical events in the Panhandle and was selected at a contest in Tulsa, Okla., to attend a national band clinic in St. Louis last year.

Why Don't Farmers Organize?

Babson Urges Return To Free Markets

MIAMI, Fla., March 31.—Eggs would sell at $2 per dozen, milk at 60 cents per quart, steak at $3 per pound if all classes of labor were paid as much as building tradesmen receive. I estimate that the cost of food would be four times higher than current prices provided everyone were taking part in its production were paid the high wages received by painters, carpenters, bricklayers, etc. I earnestly hope that farmers will never organize and ruthlessly boost prices. But giving union workers a little of their own medicine might bring labor to its senses!

America's economy is made up of two almost equal parts—agriculture and industry. These two components must be in balance if we are to have prosperity. Today the two are far out of balance. The wages of the farmer (his price) have fallen back to pre-war levels, while the wages of industry are about three times higher. Efficiency of industrial labor, through new machinery, has increased greatly. Some of this efficiency has been passed along in lower prices to the farmer. Nevertheless, prices of goods which they must buy have gone up about 20 per cent since 1913, while average prices received by farmers for their products are actually lower.

Two Sets of Rules.

This, in a nutshell, is the much publicized farm problem. On one hand, we have millions of farmers absolutely unorganized with no restriction on their hours or their pay scales (prices). On the other hand, we have groups of highly organized labor unions strictly limiting hours, unwise raising pay scales, and—in some cases—limiting even the amount of work done per hour. Stiff limitation rules by some unions create an artificial shortage of workers. Pay scales are not reduced even in the hardest times, while rules of seniority hamstring efficiency.

Farmers bear many costs, other than industrial labor, which are also fixed. Farm taxes have increased. Freight rates are the same—depression or prosperity. Insurance premiums are stable. Prices of trucks and farm tools vary only slightly, whereas wheat slumps from $1.20 per bushel to 60 cents per bushel in one season. Overalls and dresses drop only 10 per cent, while wool and cotton slide 40 per cent. The regimenting of part of our economic system keeps the prices of finished goods relatively inelastic, while a free market for commodities makes farm prices stretch and contract like a rubber band.

Farmers Getting Short End.

The farmer is thus caught in a vice. Because he is not organized, the Law of Supply and Demand dictates what he will get for his produce. But because labor is organized, the Law of Supply and Demand is temporarily set aside—particularly as to wages in the building trades and other strongly organized industries. In this respect, the farmer is greatly handicapped. If certain parts of the economic system are to be rigidly regimented, then all parts should be. If we favor the unionizing of labor and the fixing of other costs, such as freight rates, taxes, and the like, then we should favor a powerful farmers' union.

Think what a farmers' union could do! Today, farm labor makes about 20 to 25 cents an hour. This compares with $1.35 for the building trades, 83 cents for steel workers, and 50 cents for textile and shoe operators. Wages of these groups are all reflected in the price of goods the farmer must buy. So are service industries, such as trucking, gasoline, and electricity. Pay scales are not so high in the latter industries as in the building trade. Yet, if all the various types of labor, which contribute to the raising of farm products, were paid at the building trade rates, farmers would have to sell their products at about four times current prices to make a costal profit. What Farmers Unionize?

If farmers should organize they would agree not to sell any products at less than "union" prices, such as $2 per dozen for eggs, $1 per pound for butter, 32 cents per pound for cotton. They should stick to these prices regardless of the amount of eggs, butter, and cotton on hand. They would let the surplus rot if necessary, and then get on WPA, which is what building tradesmen do. It truly is tragic to think of what would happen if farmers played the same game that union labor plays. Of course, in the end both farmers and labor would be worse off than before there were any unions or price-fixing.

As the situation stands now, industrial workers are exploiting farm workers and the farm workers cannot get together and retaliate. Of course, any suggestion to unionize farmers is pure fantasy. I bring it forward merely to show what the result would be if we regimented our entire economy in the same way that half of it is now being regimented by the labor unions. I make the proposition because what wage-fixing we are now doing seems to be meeting with a lot of approval—not only from industrial workers but, peculiarly enough, from farmers themselves.

Trouble Not With System.

Frankly, I cannot understand why we are giving up the principles which made this country big and great—namely a free market for labor and commodities—including farm products. The present demand for fixed prices, pegged pay scales guaranteed security and the like will eventually ruin the United States unless it return to a free and unregulated economy. I am America's number one advocate for a return to the Ten Commandments with free markets and free enterprise. Let nature take her course. She can do a far better job in correcting our troubles than can any man-made laws or man-made unions.

Texas Today

By ERNEST G. FISHER
Associated Press Staff

The six-shooter, barbed wire, the Mustang and the longhorn had a lot to do with the making of Texas.

Therefore, plans to perpetuate the Longhorn, even symbolically, are timely. With that objective, a bill is pending in the legislature which would authorize an emblem of the Longhorns emblazoned on the 1940 automobile license plates.

An auto license plate cannot do justice to that magnificent spread of horns which blazed the trail for Texas' improved livestock industry of today, but the bills are a gesture of recognition for the part the razor back cow played.

A set of horns in the Buckhorn collection at San Antonio had a spread of eight feet one and three-eighths inch from time to time. These still are a few animals in that area that boast a spread of more than five feet. That they are becoming rare is evidenced by the fact that a longhorn was placed in the Brackenridge park zoo at San Antonio several years ago.

Amarillo recently proposed placing a longhorn in the National Zoological Park at Washington, explaining: "I am inclined to think that one of these longhorns would possibly attract as much attention in the Zoo as any animal to be found there."

When the zoological specimen and the few others of their kind go the longhorn Valhalla, they will be something to read about. In bygone days, at least they have left markers in the form of their bleaching bones, strewn on the prairie. In more recent times their bones have gone into fertilizer to feed the field crops that fatten short-horns, which unsurpassed their range. Perhaps that is a bit of irony of this life.

A few longhorns which remain should be destroyed before they are shipped to market. A sanitary commissioner for the Kansas City Livestock Exchange & Stockyards Co. said that a recent shipment of longhorns from Texas caused $1,000 damages to meat and hides.

"There was a time," said the commissioner, "when cattle needed the long horns on the range to fend off coyotes and other predatory animals, but that time long has passed and horns today are an expensive luxury."

A champion of the longhorns, J. Frank Doble, sometimes called "The cowboy professor," still is on the longhorn trail. The trail has led him from the brush country of Southwest Texas, where he punched cattle, to investigations as far west as California. Perhaps, in a forthcoming book, he will capture for posterity a bit of the spirit of the days when the longhorn, not cotton and not oil, was king.

The longhorn business, thanks to the movies, has become mostly a matter of fancy-dressed cowboys and stunts which belong primarily to the rodeos, not to the open range.

Feuds between cattlemen and sheepmen have been the favorite topics and writers have contributed to this attitude for a century. Farson Ralph Riley, who carried his sermons in a saddle bag and preached on the Texas frontier in the 90's observed "a cowboy will not drink at a saloon bar with a sheepman or a farmer, and a sheepman is an honest man if there are no other sheepmen within reach."

Perhaps more dramatic than this feuding was the clash between Longhorns and barbed-wire fence when the arborer frequently was a cowboy astride a Mustang and armed with a six-shooter. The wire-cutters' war of 1882 was the result of one of the first pinches the longhorn felt on the open range, water holes, fenced in, became the bone of contention. The legislature passed a law making it a felony to carry wire cutters concealed on a man's person or his mount. It was all right to carry a pistol, but a pair of pliers was a weapon to be dealt with summary. The law still stands.

Perhaps a good fence would have spared the burning of San Felipe, Tex., 193 years ago this month. The story goes that the inhabitants of the village saw approaching what they thought was a huge Mexican army. They gathered their buckskins and other personal effects, set fire to the town and fled. It developed that the "army" was a herd of longhorns.

FREAK RECEPTION

CAIRO (AP)—Sound side of a television broadcast from London, planned for a 30-mile range, was picked up here perfectly, nearly 1,500 miles away.

The Heaths began the habit of winning in 1924 when Opal, now Mrs. Richard Simpson, received a second place ribbon for poultry entered in the Washington county 4-H club show at Akron, Colo. Frances, another daughter, and four sons, Raymond, Robert, Eugene and Harold, have won honors for their agricultural projects each year since.

Principal winnings by the family have been with registered hogs. They have just completed their most successful year, winning $1,050.50 in cash premiums and 210 ribbons in 11 fairs in five southwestern states.

The first hogs they exhibited were registered Hampshire. That was when they lived on the farm near Odus, Colo.

In 1936, at the Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas, the Heath hogs broke into the big money and fancy awards, and repeated in 1937 and 1938 at leading fairs in the southwest.

Last fall they entered at Topeka, Hutchinson and Dodge City, Kas.; Oklahoma City and Muskogee, Okla.; Akron and Pueblo, Colo.; Albuquerque, N. Mex. and Lubbock, Amarillo and Plainview fairs. The purple grand championship awards their hogs won accounted for as many as any other color of ribbons of 210 they brought back. There were 28 top honors in the collection.

While he is preparing his herd for exhibiting in the National Swine Show in Springfield, Ill., this year, as well as several southwestern fairs, his sons are fattening club projects for entering in club boy shows in the Texas Panhandle this spring.

Texans Argue How To Know Rattler's Age

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.

AUSTIN, March 31.—Age of the Texas rattlesnake zoomed to prominence here today as Texas Memorial Museum officials went to the mat with Texas folklore.

"You can count a rattler's rattles till you're black in the face," University of Texas museum curators contend, "and you still can't tell its exact age."

"For every three rattles, add a year to the rattler's age," argues Texas tradition.

The issue came when the recently opened museum launched its first exhibit in a projected "wild-life" display, placing a live four-foot diamond back rattlesnake in a museum display case.

Carl Chelf, anthropology curator, who captured the snake in San Saba county last week, maintained that only a rough estimate of its age could result from rattle computation.

"Shortly after the snake's birth," he explained, "a horny button appears on the tip of its tail. That's followed by approximately three rattles each year."

"But the rattles and even the button itself are often knocked off in the tail's violent agitation—which produces the 'rattling.'"

If you find the button missing, as you often do, Chelf contended, then you have no gauge of the snake's age at all.

And by the way, warn museum officials, the rattlers are already out this season with the early spring.

But don't try to count their rattles.

Texas Port Only One In U. S. On Prairie

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.

FORT WORTH, March 31.—The nation's only port in the middle of a prairie, built at Brownsville, with the aid of the Public Works administration and the War department, is doing fine. Two and a half years after completion 285 ships have called at the port and brought in or taken out more than 200,000 tons of manufactured goods and raw products.

Brownsville's port is situated on the flat prairie, 17 miles inland. A canal, 25 feet deep and at present being deepened to 29, leads up to a turning basin as large as three city blocks. About the turning basin the special navigation district, which built the port, constructed warehouses, wharves, docks and other equipment with a Public Works administration allotment of $2,853,000. The port was built to provide a means of obtaining cheap water transportation for the products of the rapidly developing Rio Grande Valley as well as ores and cotton produced in nearby Mexico.

125 To Graduate From West Texas State On June 1

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.

CANYON, March 31.—About 125 students will be granted bachelors degrees in the June 1 commencement of West Texas State College at Canyon, and several will receive the masters degree.

Selection of the commencement speaker has not yet been made by Dr. J. A. Hill, president.

West Texas State College has about 1,175 students enrolled this session. The summer term begins June 4 and will enroll about 1,000. This high plains campus is said to be the coolest in the state in summer, which accounts for its heavy enrollment of downstate folk, especially teachers.

At the summer commencement August 25, about 175 students will be granted degrees. During the two sessions of last year, the college conferred a total of 292 degrees.
