O'Brien To Head McGovern Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern today appointed former Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien to head his presidential campaign.

The nominee said O'Brien will be given a role concerned with unifying the support of Democrats and other "concerned Americans."

McGovern said O'Brien will be his "national campaign chairman" and in that role "will be a foremost consultant on the over-riding goal which will be to unify the support of key Democrats across the country."

In a brief interview, just before publicly accepting McGovern's offer, O'Brien emphasized that while he will hold the title of national campaign chairman his role will be essentially separate from the existing McGovern political organization.

McGovern's announcement on appointment of O'Brien came as he prepared to hold a news conference. In advance of that session, there was no immediate word on the role to be played by Gary Hart who has been serving as McGovern's campaign manager.

The senator said O'Brien will be his liaison with Democrats in Congress, Democratic governors, mayors, and state legislative leaders.

He said O'Brien will also be his chief contact with officials of the Democratic Party and organized labor.

"Larry O'Brien will be personally and directly involved in all major campaign decisions between now and Nov. 7," McGovern said.

"He will be a principal spokesman for this campaign and I am urging him to travel to every section of the country to speak in support of my candidacy."

McGovern made the O'Brien announcement after his arrival here from South Dakota where he has been vacationing, to cast a pro-labor vote in the Senate following his rejection by top AFL-CIO leaders.

It was learned that O'Brien, whose departure from the party chairmanship last Friday occurred amidst some confusion over whether McGovern had really wanted him to stay, would appear with the Democratic nominee at a late-morning news conference to outline his plans to join the senator's campaign in a major strategy role.

Press secretary Richard Dougherty, declining comment on what role O'Brien would play in the McGovern campaign, would say only that the news conference was being scheduled to make "an important political announcement" relating to the campaign.

The major announced reason for McGovern's decision to interrupt his post-convention rest in South Dakota's Black Hills was so he could vote today on an amendment by Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., to cut back on a proposed $2.20 minimum wage measure to the $2 voted by the House.

US, North Vietnam Still Disagree On Cease-Fire

House Defeats Job Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unexpected defeat of a $5 billion emergency job-making bill may be seized by House Democrats as a campaign issue.

The bill, rushed to a vote by Democratic House leaders confident of victory, was killed Wednesday by a roll-call vote of 206-189.

It would have made available $5 billion in grants to states, communities and rural areas for public works projects, mainly water and sewage plants. Its sponsors said it would have created 500,000 construction jobs, many within 90 days of enactment.

Priority would have been given to economically depressed areas.

Teaming up to kill the bill were 148 Republicans and 58 Democrats. Voting for it were 165 Democrats and 24 Republicans.

The measure was doomed before that, however, by an amendment barring use of any of the money during a fiscal year in which the projected federal deficit exceeded $20 billion. This would have eliminated it for the current year since the projected deficit is $30 billion.

The vote on the amendment was nearly identical to the final vote. "It was a very short-sighted partisan vote," said Democratic Leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana. "Every community in the country desperately needs water and sewage facilities. How can the Republican leadership in the House say it is against pollution? How hypocritical can you get?"

Boggs and other House leaders sped the bill to the House floor confident of enough votes to pass it and perhaps override a presidential veto.

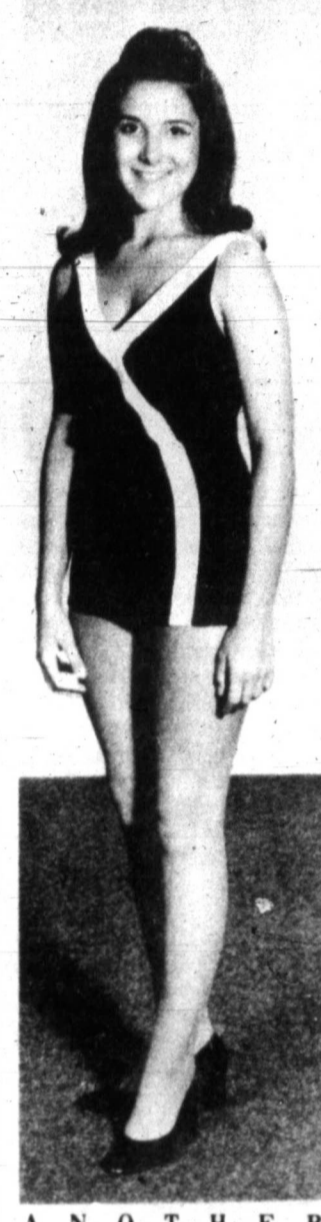

Several Democrats said privately the defeat provided them a good issue for the November congressional elections.

Republicans led by Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan claimed the bill was unnecessary and duplicated existing programs.

Some GOP legislators accused the Democrats of pushing the bill for political purposes.

BEAUTY ENTRANT—Jan Bradley, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Clawson, Gruver, is one of the contestants from neighboring towns for the Miss Top O' Texas Beauty Pageant. She is interested in swimming, handicrafts, and piano. She is sponsored by the Women's Division of the Berger Chamber of Commerce.

ANOTHER BEAUTY—Debra Clawson, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Clawson, Gruver, and a junior in Gruver High School, is another entry in the Top O' Texas Beauty Pageant. Her hobbies include singing, playing the piano, horseback riding, twirling, and sewing. She is sponsored by the Spearman Lion's Club. With the deadline for entries already past, 34 area beauties have been entered.

Secret Talks Haven't Helped

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam remained split today on the issue of a cease-fire and political settlement for Vietnam despite a new round of secret talks.

There was no indication at the 151st session of the peace conference that the secret rendezvous in Paris Wednesday between Henry A. Kissinger, presidential adviser, and North Vietnamese leaders had made progress in settling the basic issue of who should control power in Saigon.

Debate on the issue of a cease-fire marked much of the argument in the plenary session.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter asked the Communists to say "what is wrong" with President Nixon's May 8 proposal for an internationally supervised cease-fire throughout Indochina.

In another mild speech similar to his new style of last week, Porter asked the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong: "Why not tell us frankly why it is difficult for you to entertain this proposal, which would end the killing promptly?"

"We would also like to hear more from you on the subject of the four-month period we have proposed for the withdrawal of all our forces from South Vietnam once such a cease-fire has begun and the prisoners of war are released. It appears logical to us to create an atmosphere which would facilitate, not hinder, political discussions among Vietnamese."

Speaking to newsmen as he left the session, Porter said: "Today there was perhaps a slight improvement in the tone of the exchanges but nothing discernible of substance."

Xuan Thuy and Mrs. Binh both complained that the United States still has proposed nothing new to the conference.

The delegates agreed to meet again next Thursday.

The Communists held fast to their position that a political settlement must come with the cease-fire.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, leader of the Viet Cong delegation, said the political and military settlements "should be settled simultaneously," she declared.

"The U.S. side pretends to desire an end to its military 'participation' without dealing with the political aspect. This simply means that the United States still wants to maintain in South Vietnam the administration it has set up to implement the policy of 'Vietnamization' of the war. If so, the United States will never be able to put an end to its military 'participation.'"

Kissinger returned to Washington Wednesday night and reported to President Nixon on the session, the 14th he has held with North Vietnamese officials.

A further indication that agreement was not near came from Radio Havana, which reported that Mrs. Binh would arrive in Cuba this weekend for the anniversary celebration of the Castro revolution and stay six days.

Xuan Thuy, the chief of Hanoi's delegation in Paris, attended the meeting Wednesday between Kissinger and Thuy, which lasted 6 1/2 hours.

It was the first between President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser and North Vietnamese leaders since the United States suspended the weekly, semipublic peace talks in early May.

TO CANDIDATES Meany Denies Union Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany, steering the AFL-CIO to a fence-sitting position of neutrality in the presidential campaign, showed he is still firmly in command of the nation's House of Labor and a power to be reckoned with in national politics.

"He's invincible," grumbled one union opponent after the 77-year-old Meany led the 35-man AFL-CIO executive council to a 27-3 vote Wednesday against endorsing either Democratic nominee George McGovern or President Nixon.

"I will not vote for either one of them," Meany told a news conference.

"Meany was calm, cool, responsible, effective and well-prepared," said another reluctant admirer on the labor council who had urged endorsement of McGovern as the AFL-CIO has done with every previous Democratic presidential nominee.

Meany has sharply attacked Nixon on economic policies, while reportedly disagreeing with McGovern's views on the Vietnam war.

Meany, who said McGovern was not "good material" for a president, shrewdly avoided a direct vote on whether to endorse McGovern and made it clear the AFL-CIO's 117 affiliated unions and their 13.6 million members were free to do as they wished. This blunted opposition from several McGovern supporters on the labor council.

Typical was President Floyd Smith of the 900,000-member

Machinists union, who endorsed McGovern but voted with Meany's position of neutrality for the AFL-CIO.

"Let them do as they like," Meany told a news conference.

"The vote reflects personal loyalties that exist within the AFL-CIO, rather than a true index of support for the Democratic ticket by American trade unionists," said President Jerry Wurf of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. Wurf, a member of the AFL-CIO council and a McGovern supporter, was one of the three votes against the position of neutrality.

The other two were presidents Paul Jennings of the International Union of Electrical Workers and Al Grossman of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers.

But many more union presidents have endorsed or are leaning toward McGovern.

Subcommittee Okays Nixon's Busing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Education subcommittee has approved President Nixon's antibusing bill after knocking out the $2.5 billion he asked to improve the quality of ghetto schools.

As originally sent to Congress, the bill would have authorized the funds for compensatory education, most of which would have been concentrated in inner-city schools as an alternative to desegregating them.

But the subcommittee on Wednesday stripped the money from the measure by approving a substitute measure by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., which had no provision for the funds.

Then, the panel sent the stripped-down measure to the full Education and Labor Committee by a voice vote. The committee is expected to take it up next Tuesday.

The bill's main purpose now is to limit the remedies the courts can apply to overcome segregation. Busing could be used only above the elementary-school level, and then only after other remedies have been tried.

The bill would allow school districts now under court busing orders to bring them into line with the proposed remedies.

The bill contains seven remedies that must be considered by the courts in the order listed in the legislation before any busing can be required.

Senate Rejects Wage Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today rejected 47 to 46 President Nixon's proposal that the $1.60 an hour minimum wage be raised to $2 rather than the $2.20 supported by Democrats.

The defeated Republican substitute for the Democratic bill also would have eliminated provisions extending coverage of the wages and hours law to 8.4 million new workers.

Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, flew back to Washington from South Dakota to vote against the Nixon measure. His presence contributed to the one-vote margin.

Even though the substitute

City Slates Dog Auction

The fate of 38 impounded dogs rests with bidders at two police auction sales tomorrow and next Monday.

Police Chief Jim Conner has posted notice at City Hall that 13 dogs picked up by the city dog warden will be for sale Friday and 25 more will go on the auction block Monday.

Both sales are scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

If owners do not claim the dogs or they are not sold, their fate is death in the dog pound gas chamber.

Rounding Up Cuban Cattle!

Cattle streaming through a fence wash-out is not exactly a new thing to Larry Sloan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sloan Jr., 1829 N. Wells, just the Cuban version!

Larry is stationed at the U.S. base at Guantanamo, Cuba—"Gitmo"—where the situation has none of the neighborliness of West Texas since the communist landlord took over the lease.

During the recent torrential rains the fence between the base and "Castruba" was breached and Cuban cattle stampeded through to freedom.

The treaty violation was not taken lightly by the Marines. Armor was called out. Trucks and tanks made forays in and out of the cactus in a frantic effort to herd the beasts back through the broken fence.

When that failed the "horse" Marines were called out. Between tanks, trucks, horses, men, ropes and cattle calls, one cow was shunted through.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, the Navy went into action and repaired the fence! This put the Marines right out of the cow-punchin' business because they can't cut the fence to run the cows back, that would be destroying government property!

So, everybody concerned is hoping Little Boy Blue "re's up"—horn and all.

While they are waiting the rest of the cows that fled Cuba are enjoying democracy, all four of 'em.

NELSON FRENCHMAN
Funeral services were to be at 2 p.m. today in the United Pentecostal Church at Hennepin, Okla., for Nelson Frenchman, 62, of 345 Jean, Pampa. Interment was to be in the Hennepin Cemetery, under the direction of Bahner Funeral Home of Davis, Okla.

Mr. Frenchman was killed and another man critically injured Tuesday in a two-car crash, 4½ miles west of Davis, Okla., on Highway 7. The Highway Patrol said the other man's car was westbound on Highway 7 when it collided with Mr. Frenchman's auto on a curve.

Born Dec. 15, 1909, at Hennepin, Okla., he had lived in Pampa for 19 years, moving here from Borger. He was a retired employe of the Pampa Post Office and a minister of the United Pentecostal Church.

He is survived by his wife, Maudie Mae, of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Garnette Davis and Miss Arletta Frenchman, both of Houston; two stepsons, Keisler L. Horton of Stunnett and Charles Ray Horton of Phillips; one sister, Miss Beatrice Frenchman of Ardmore, Okla.; one brother, Clarence Frenchman of Oklahoma City, Okla.; and nine grandchildren.

p.m. Saturday in the Duenkel Memorial Chapel for R.R. Cable of Lefors, who died at 4:45 a.m. today at Highland General Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Rev. Peter Roberts, interim pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lefors, will officiate, and interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Born Jan. 6, 1910, at Okmulgee, Okla., he was married to Fern Duncan Nov. 24, 1936, at Sayre, Okla. He moved to Lefors in 1946 from McLean. He was an employe of Atlantic Richfield Oil Company, and a member of the First Baptist Church of Lefors.

Survivors include his wife, Fern; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Parr and Mrs. Shires Shipman, both of Pampa; one brother, Fred Cable of Borger; two sisters, Mrs. Teva Morton of Owasso, Okla., and Mrs. Ray Centers of Moore, Okla.; and four grandchildren.

H.E. BARSDALE
Funeral arrangements are pending in Ozark, Ark., for H.E. Barsdale, 86, a longtime resident of Pampa, who died at 7 a.m. today in Ozark.

A farmer, he moved from Pampa several years ago to live with relatives in Ozark.

He is survived by two sisters and one brother, all of Amarillo.

MRS. CORA MILLER
Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Friday at the First United Methodist Church of Big Spring for Mrs. Cora Miller, 88, of Big Spring. Burial will be in the Big Spring Cemetery.

She was a charter member of the First United Methodist Church of Big Spring.

She is survived by five sons, Robert L. Miller of Pampa, Joe Miller and Walter Miller Jr., both of Big Spring, Jimmy Miller of San Angelo and Paul Miller of Longview; and two grandchildren.

MRS. LUCILLE LATHUM
Funeral arrangements are pending with Minton Mortuary, Borger, for Mrs. Lucille Lathum, 74, who died Wednesday at North Plains Hospital, Borger.

Born at Cave City, Ark., she moved to Borger in 1941 from Sunray. She was a member of the Wesley Methodist Church, Borger.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Woodrow Wilkerson of Borger; one son, Charles Lathum of Houston; two sisters, Mrs. W.T. Cole of Pampa and Mrs. W.H. Bonham of Phoenix, Ariz.; one brother, James Laman of Amarillo; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Wallace Resumes Therapy

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace resumed light therapy today, 24 hours after his third operation since he was wounded by gunfire May 15 at Laurel, Md.

The specialist directing the governor's rehabilitation program, Dr. George Traugh, said Wallace probably will not return to his full scale exercises until Monday.

The surgery shortened a drainage tract from an abdominal abscess to allow it to heal more easily. Several other minor abscesses in the abdominal wall were closed during the 55-minute procedure.

The operation was performed at University Hospital and then Wallace was returned to Spain Rehabilitation Center where Traugh said the governor, prior to the operation, was making almost totally independent transfers from his bed to his wheelchair and "we were standing him in his leg braces."

World's Only Liger Dies
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The world's only know liger—half lion, half tiger—died Wednesday at the remarkable age of 120.

Shasta, the rare female felinid, apparently was a victim of kidney problems and arthritis.

"She helped build the zoo into a popular attraction because visitors would come from all parts of the United States and foreign countries to see this rare animal," said LaMar Farnsworth, director of Hogle Zoo.

He said that since lions and tigers usually live to be only 13 to 15 years old, Shasta's age was the equivalent of 120 years in humans.

Shasta had been the key attraction at the zoo since her birth May 6, 1948.

Farnsworth said the offspring of a male African lion and a Bengal tigress had been taken off display because of poor health. Shasta had weighed more than 300 pounds but was down to 90 when she died.

Former UT Regent Court Finds Frank Erwin Not Guilty Of DWI Charge

BELTON, Tex. (AP)—A Bell County Court at Law jury found Frank C. Erwin Jr. of Austin not guilty of driving while intoxicated after deliberating about 30 minutes Wednesday afternoon.

Erwin sat at the defense table for a moment, then rushed to the other side of the courtroom to shake hands with the three-man, three-woman panel.

Then, smiling broadly, the University of Texas regent sought defense attorneys, prosecutors and Judge Stan Pemberton to shake their hands.

The three-day trial went to the jury at 4:25 p.m. The panel sent word that they had a verdict shortly before 5 p.m.

The defense had ended testimony by bringing seven character witnesses to the stand after Erwin testified in his own behalf Wednesday morning. All seven witnesses said they would not hesitate to believe Erwin, either under oath or not under oath.

Erwin recounted events beginning with an early morning flight from Austin to El Paso Dec. 17, 1971. He said he conferred with UT-El Paso officials about campus student disturbances and attended the Sun Bowl game Dec. 18.

Erwin recalled catching a flight returning to Austin about 6:10 p.m. El Paso time and arriving in Austin shortly after 8 p.m. Austin time Dec. 18.

The former UT regents chairman said he drove from the Austin airport across town to the apartment of Jimmy Crouch on North Red River Avenue. He arrived at Crouch's apartment about 8:45, he said, and the two then went to the Headliners Club in downtown Austin with Erwin driving.

Erwin said he instructed the head waiter to serve Crouch and his date, who had not yet arrived, "anything they ordered" and left about 9:15 for the Tarry House.

Erwin said he arrived at the West Austin club at about 9:30 and talked with several friends that at the club's annual Christmas party, had one scotch and soda and left about 11 or 11:15 p.m.

From the Tarry House, Erwin said, he drove to the 40 Acres Club at 25th Street and Guadalupe Avenue. He estimated his arrival at 11:30 p.m.

Erwin said he was arrested in the parking lot after driving from 25th Street to 30th Street up Guadalupe. He said he heard a police siren while he was driving but he did not think the siren was for him until he got out of his car and saw a police car parked at his car's rear bumper.

Fischer's Demands Rejected

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—The Icelandic Chess Federation rejected a list of 13 demands from Bobby Fischer today, raising the possibility of a new hitch in the world chess championship match.

Fischer and Boris Spassky, the Soviet world champion, were scheduled to play their fifth game at 1 p.m. EDT today. The score is now 2½-1½ in Spassky's favor, the fourth match Tuesday having ended in a draw.

Gudmundur Thorarinsson, president of the host federation, said Fischer delivered his list of new demands Wednesday night. He said they had "not been met."

Thorarinsson said the American challenger, who is a late riser, was still asleep and had not been told of the refusal.

The Rev. William Lombardy, Fischer's second, said he could not say whether Thorarinsson's refusal would jeopardize the game today.

Salvage Yard Is Victimized

Police are investigating fingerprints and other clues at the scene of theft and vandalism at a local salvage yard on S. Barnes St.

A steering column was taken from a 1961 Chevrolet and a radio from a 1961 Ford. Windshields and windows were broken in a number of cars totaling $300 in damages.

The radio and steering gear were worth $10 each.

Paint Smears At Local Plant

Since the usual artistry of "Xenophon" was missing, police believe someone else put paint on buildings and a truck at the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 1515 N. Hobart.

An official of the company said the buildings would have to be sandblasted to remove the grey paint and a diesel truck would have to be repainted.

Police are investigating.

Aide Says George Has Credibility Gap

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern has created a credibility gap that will beat him in the November election, White House aide Herbert Klein said Wednesday.

Changes in the South Dakota senator's policy statements since the primary campaign began will be a "big issue" in the election, Klein told newsmen.

Since his nomination, Klein said, McGovern has been "developing a major credibility problem" over his changes on such matters as the economy and peace policies.

"First McGovern said he wanted to withdraw all troops from Vietnam when he was trying to get the liberal vote during the primaries," Klein said, adding:

"Now he says he would leave the naval forces in Vietnam and leave forces in Thailand. His position changed drastically during the convention and I think it's changing now. And it will be interesting to see his final position on the $1,000 giveaway program."

The latter was a reference to McGovern's welfare proposals.

Klein, director of communications for the federal executive branch, was here as President Nixon's representative Wednesday for a ceremony transferring three historic buildings and two acres from the federal government to the City of San Antonio.

Today, he was due in Waco, Tex., for ceremonies transferring federal property to the cities of Waco and Killeen for park and recreation use under the President's Legacy of Parks program.

Discussing Nixon's Southeast Asia withdrawal policy, Klein said he thinks the United States "will continue to remove troops. But the President has proclaimed he will not have the Americans leave Vietnam before we know that the prisoners of war are leaving with them. His offer differs from that of McGovern."

In the last three years under the Nixon Administration, the nation has accomplished more in such areas as environmental protection than "perhaps in all the rest of the history of the nation itself, a nation now reaching its 200th anniversary," Klein said.

Phil Cates On Nursing Committee

State Rep. Phil Cates of Pampa is a member of the Licensing of Nurses Aides and the Nursing Profession Committee which will hold its fourth public hearing at 9 a.m. Aug. 4 in the old Supreme Court Room of the state capitol in Austin to take testimony from organizations and citizens interested in the committee's authorization.

The committee comprised of Chairman Jim Clark of Pasadena, vice chairman Grant Jones of Abilene, along with Representative Cates of Pampa, Dean Cobb of Dumas, Cordell Hull of Ft. Worth, Johnny Nelms of Pasadena, and Phil Silber of San Antonio, has been authorized by HSR-451 to study:

(1) All aspects of the nursing profession to determine the need and desirability of licensing or otherwise regulating nurses aides.

(2) The feasibility of consolidating all licensing agencies into a single Nursing Examiners Board which could regulate and supervise all segments of the nursing profession, and

(3) Any other related matter which the committee shall deem significant in making a comprehensive report to the Legislature upon the problems and needs brought out in this study.

Testimony has been given by some stating that the licensing of nurses aides is not needed, while others have testified many nurses aides are required to have more personal contact with the patients than do the registered nurses or licensed vocational nurses, and for protection of the health of the people, certain minimum standards of achievement through licensing should be set up for the aides.

All interested parties will be given the opportunity to appear before the committee and make a statement, at the conclusion of the hearings the committee will make a complete report, including its findings and any recommendations or drafts of any legislation deemed necessary to the 63rd Legislature when it convenes in January of 1973.

Small Draft Call Issued

WASHINGTON (AP)—The smallest draft call since April, 4,800 men, has been announced for September by the Selective Service.

The draft will extend to men with lottery numbers no higher than 75, the same ceiling as in August.

Acting draft director Byron V. Peptone said Wednesday that sufficient men are available at number 75 and below. They include men classified as 1A and 1AO who recently lost deferments or whose initial postponements of induction expire during September.

Men with numbers through 100 are being ordered for pre-induction physical exams, although officials say the ceiling could remain at 75 through the year.

The September call raises the total for the year to 35,900. The Defense Department has put its 1972 draft needs at 50,000. The Army is inducting all draftees.

Meanwhile, the Army Recruiting Command at Hampton, Va., said June was its best month for male enlistment in nearly three years, with 18,175 signing up. It is offering a $1,500 bonus for those agreeing to go into combat units for four years. The usual enlistment period is three years while draftees serve two years.

Baylor Begins Construction Of Communications Center

WACO—The first step toward a new era in the study of communications will be taken Thursday (July 20) when Baylor University breaks ground for a $1.2 million communications center.

The two-story, red brick building, to be called the Castellaw Communications Center, will be built north of the Moody Memorial Library on South Third Street and will house the Departments of Journalism-Communication and Oral Communication.

Scheduled for completion in late 1973, the building will be the first permanent home for the two departments, which are now housed in Harrington Hall and the Old Main building near the center of the campus.

The brief groundbreaking ceremonies were held today in the lobby of Moody library, before being moved to the building site directly adjacent to the library. Baylor President Abner V. McCall presided. The center will be named for Jack Castellaw, a Baylor student who died along with nine members of the Baylor basketball team in 1927, when a bus carrying the team to Austin collided with a train near Round Rock.

The group later became known as the "Immortal Ten" and a brief ceremony honoring them has been part of Baylor homecoming activities for many years.

One of the survivors of the accident was David A. Cheavens, a journalism student, who, after becoming state editor for The Associated Press in Texas, returned to Baylor as chairman of the journalism department.

Cheavens was one of the first to work actively for the construction of a communications center at Baylor.

VA Urges Insurance Updating

The Veterans Administration this week urged all GI insurance policyholders to take a second look at the type of policy pay-off they have selected for their next of kin, Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, said today.

VA warned that too many widows of GI policyholders are penalized following the death of their husbands upon learning he had selected small monthly payments over 36 month periods. In some cases, Coker noted, veterans chose smaller payments for life more than 25 years ago, and never updated their policies.

GI policyholders who wish now to switch to lump sum payments should request Form 20-336 from VA and select option No. 1. This would allow widows to select monthly payments should they deem it necessary.

Veterans were urged to mail the form to the VA insurance center where they pay premiums.

Gov. Smith Sets Television Address

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith's statewide address on July 26 will be carried free by at least 30 Texas television stations.

Budget aides to the governor say the message will include the line veto of some items in the fiscal 1973 general appropriations bill.

But they won't rule out the possibility the governor may also discuss subjects other than the state budget.

Mainly About Groom

MRS. GEORGE BRITTEN
The first day of the 1972-73 school term will be Aug. 28. Johnny Brumley, school superintendent, has announced. Registration of all students in grades 1 through 12 will be on Friday, Aug. 25.

Five Groom High School girls were among 594 girls and boys attending Texas Tech University cheerleader school in Lubbock, June 26-30. They were Sandra Smith, Linda Anthony, Marie Wieberg, Gayla Homer and Janelle Wieberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Van Zandt and son, Brad, of Harrington Park, N. J., visited her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Britten and other relatives in Groom.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Culver spent the Fourth of July visiting former Groom residents, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Boyce and Tammy at Boise City, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Quarles and his mother, Mrs. Jean Quarles of Kenedy, visited the West families in Groom. Bobby has just completed a three-year hitch in the Marines.

Cobb Britten of Gettysburg, S. D., visited his mother, Mrs. Clara Britten, and his brother, Earl Britten.

Mrs. John Stevens and daughter, Lori, of Pleasant Hill, Calif., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fields, other relatives and friends.

Raymond Morrow of Pasco, Wash., visited his father, Clyde Morrow, a patient in Groom Memorial Hospital and other relatives.

Bridgett Jurgonski of Oklahoma City visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hermesmeier.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Anglin and children, Greg and Kathy, have returned to their home at Phoenix, Ariz., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Homer.

Coaches Rex Pryor of Skellytown and E. J. Webb of Claude have announced the roster for the Carson County All-Stars.

The team is made up of boys from Claude, Groom, Panhandle Grays, Panhandle Whites, Skellytown and White Deer.

The team consists of 14 players and 3 alternates.

Boys from Groom making the team are Steve Britten, Wayne Lee and Nathan Wieberg. Alternates are Kris Black and George Britten Jr. The All-Stars traveled to Memphis on July 17 to play the American League All-Stars from Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Kieth Black and children, Michelle and Bryon, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Black and Kris, and Mrs. Jim Britten, and family. They will remain in Groom until Aug. 1, when they will leave for Kirksville, Mo., where Kieth will study to become a doctor.

Pampan Assigned To Lowry AFB

Airman Jimmy M. Campbell, son of Mrs. Ellen P. Campbell of 121 N. Dwight, Pampa, Tex., has completed his U.S. Air Force basic training at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., for training in the munitions and weapons maintenance field.

Airman Campbell is a 1968 graduate of Pampa High School. His wife Martha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Calvert of 1909 N. Banks. The airman's father, Max L. Campbell, resides in Springfield, Mo.

Don't Try to Memorize Social Security Number

Don't try to memorize your social security number. Don't—especially—try to repeat your social security number from memory when an employer asks you for the number for his records when you start a new job.

That advice comes from Howard Weatherly, Pampa social security district manager.

"Your social security number has nine digits," Weatherly said. "If you try to memorize it, you can easily give a wrong number when you try to repeat it."

"If you furnish a wrong social security number to an employer, it may cause difficulty in crediting your earnings to your social security record. That may eventually affect your social security benefits."

An employee's earnings are credited to his social security number when they are reported by his employer. The employee's earnings determine the amount of monthly social security benefits he may collect when he retires or becomes severely disabled; also the amount of benefits his family may get if he dies prematurely.

"If all of your earnings are not credited to your social security number, your benefits may amount to less than they should," Weatherly said.

Weatherly's advice is to always carry your social security card in your purse or wallet. When starting a new job, always show your social security card to your employer and make sure he copies the number and the name from your card.

Remember, don't try to memorize your social security number. It could cost you money, says Weatherly.

Skelly Man Takes Early Retirement

SKELLYTOWN—Ralph E. Gilpen, general utility worker at Skelly Oil Company's Crawford Gasoline Plant here, retired July 1, under the Company's early retirement program, after almost 25 years of service with the firm.

Gilpen joined Skelly in November, 1947, as a general utility welder at the Schafer Gasoline Plant. In 1947 he was promoted to welder, and in 1951 transferred to the Crawford plant. He has been on an extended sick leave the past two years.

A graduate of the Tologla, Okla., High School, Gilpen was a sergeant in the Air Corps during World War II.

He and his wife, Helen, live in Skellytown and have one daughter, Anita Williams, and one son, Hubert Bruce.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, July 20, the 202nd day of 1972. There are 164 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1969, the American astronauts, Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin Jr., became the first men to land on the moon.

On this date:
In 1810, Colombia declared independence from Spain.
In 1861, the Congress of the Confederate States began holding sessions in Richmond, Va.

In 1917, the lottery draft in World War I was put into operation.

Interior Undersecretary Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of the Interior William T. Pecora died Wednesday at the George Washington University Hospital. He was 59.

Pecora, the No. 2 man in the department, was Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton's chief assistant and acting secretary in the latter's absence.

Pecora had undergone surgery for diverticulitis—an intestinal disorder—on June 26. But post-operative complications developed that required additional surgery.

Morton said in a statement that his department and the nation have lost "a singularly talented and energetic scientist and administrator."

"Few men," Morton said, "possessed the leadership qualities which Dr. Pecora showed in the quest for balance and harmony in resource development and conservation."

Eggs Florentine with ripe olive sauce makes a nutritious meal.

Eggs Florentine -- Exotic but Easy

By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA Food Editor

Eggs Florentine sound exotically appetizing and they are. Lightly poached eggs top a bed of creamed spinach and are covered with a ripe-olive cream sauce. Just before baking top with Parmesan cheese. This makes a colorful dish and may be prepared partially before serving as a late late breakfast or lunch since eggs can be poached ahead of use and kept fresh-looking and tasting. The nutlike flavor of the ripe olives and a touch of nutmeg complement the nutritious eggs. Eggs Florentine with California ripe olives may be made in individual serving portions. Make larger portions in a baking dish or iron skillet if no casserole dish is available.

RIPE-OLIVE EGGS FLORENTINE
 2 (10-oz.) packages frozen spinach
 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper

1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup flour
 2 cups milk
 1 cup half-and-half
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 12 soft-poached eggs
 1 cup canned California ripe olives, sliced
 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven at 350 degrees. Cook spinach according to package directions. Drain well; chop. Season with 1/2-teaspoon salt and pepper. Melt butter; stir in flour. Gradually stir in milk, half-and-half, remaining 1/2-teaspoon salt, nutmeg. Cook, stirring, until sauce thickens. Reduce heat; cook 2 cups of sauce with spinach. Spoon spinach into large, shallow, baking dish or six individual dishes. Top spinach with poached eggs. Add ripe olives to remaining sauce. Spoon sauce over eggs. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake for 10 to 15 minutes in preheated oven. Place under broiler to brown top. Makes 6 servings.

Chile Con Queso Is a Dip

CHILE CON QUESO — It's a savory Mexican concoction that may be used as a dunk for vegetables.

By Cecily Brownstone
 Associated Press Food Editor

Look into Mexican cookbooks and the chances are you'll come upon recipes for Chile con Queso (Green Chile with Cheese). This is a savory dip that the Mexican cookbooks suggest you serve with corn chips or tostadas (fried quartered corn tortillas) at cocktail time or with refried beans and tortillas at brunch. Offered this way, Chile con Queso is extremely popular in the American Southwest and in California. New York cooks sometimes serve the dip with vegetables raw or parboiled.

When the weather is warm Chile con Queso tastes good with iced tea. To make the tea add 8 to 10 teabags (tags removed) to a quart of cold tap water. Cover container and let stand at room temperature or in the refrigerator for at least 6 hours or overnight. Squeeze teabags as you remove them and stir the tea. Pour into ice-filled glasses. Makes 5 to 6 servings. Amounts may be doubled. Using cold water prevents the tea from clouding.

CHILE CON QUESO
 (Green Chile with Cheese)

2 medium tomatoes (peeled, seeded and chopped)
 1 can (4 ounces) whole-roasted green chilies (drained, seeds removed and chopped)

1 tablespoon instant minced onion
 1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, cubed
 1/4 cup milk
 Drained canned cut-up pimiento

In a 1-quart saucepan simmer tomatoes, chilies, onion and seasoned salt, stirring often, for 10 minutes.

Add cream cheese and milk, over very low heat stir until cream cheese has melted and mixture is warm.

Serve warm in a chafing dish over hot water as a dip, garnish with pimiento.

Any leftover dip may be refrigerated in a covered container and used as a cracker spread.

Makes 1 3/4 cups.
Accompaniments for Chile con Queso:
 Cauliflower flowerets, green pepper squares, carrot sticks, celery sticks and asparagus tips may be used for dunking in the dip. Or the vegetable combination might be broccoli flowerets with part of the stalk left on, pared zucchini sticks, carrot sticks and celery sticks. The vegetables may be served raw or parboiled; to parboil cover vegetables with boiling water and boil about 2 minutes; drain and chill.

Other accompaniments for the dip could be corn chips, potato chips or corn tortillas cut into quarters and fried until crisp.

TUNA-COTTAGE CHEESE
 1 cup butter, soft
 1/2 cup small-curd cream-style cottage cheese
 1 can (6 1/2 or 7 ounces) tuna in vegetable oil, drained
 1 tablespoon caraway seeds
 1 tablespoon drained capers
 1 tablespoon minced chives
 1 tablespoon dry mustard
 1 tablespoon paprika
 With electric mixer cream together the butter and cottage cheese; add tuna and beat until smooth. Stir in remaining ingredients. Mound mixture in center of serving plate; sprinkle lightly with extra paprika. Chill slightly before serving with crisp crackers. Makes about 1 3/4 cups.

Beef Under Biscuits
 For a speedy yet satisfying dinner, turn two cans of beef stew into a casserole and stir in a package of cooked frozen or drained canned vegetables. Top with biscuits from a refrigerator package and bake in a hot oven (425°F) 15 to 20 minutes, or until biscuits are done.

MADDOX Cooking Together Saves Families

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Into this summer of discontent comes a new hope. Maybe we can say: The family that cooks together stays together. At least that is the way one young active woman feels about it and is trying to make it a reality.

"What better way to help a family be a family than cooking and eating together," asks Barbara Wyden, women's editor of New York Times Sunday Magazine. She also writes a syndicated column on parents and children and is the author of "Cookalong," a new book on cooking with youngsters.

"It's a rare child who doesn't bask in the pride that comes from having a hand in cooking something good to eat. And that goes for boys, too. And let's face it, the attention he or she will get from the parent cook (mother and father) as they are cooking together is a wonderful bonus," she adds.

She feels that the family is abdicating from its model for the young. The job is now left to the community, the school or other youngsters.

"Call me 'square' if you like. But I do think, the social pendulum is beginning to swing back. Parents are beginning to think more intimately of their children. They strive to do something with them that will result in a sense of achievement. Which explains the purpose of my book. Parents and children — of all ages — cooking in the kitchen — for fun and something good to eat — well, that is an act of achievement, whether it be no more than making a pizza. The fact that a family — mother and daughter, father and son are making it together, gives it a great sense of excitement," states Barbara Wyden, who is married to a publisher with two sons.

In her book "Cookalong" she discusses junior and senior cooks: How old should a junior cook be? Old enough to be interested. Never rush a child into cooking. A four-year-old is probably old enough.

"A senior cook's muscular coordination and attention span must be known. Don't let them cook when they are tired. They get careless."

"For the four-year-old, at least, you must do most of the work yourself, but without letting your coworker realize it. But the senior cook can chop, slice with the correct knowledge of holding knives."

"Why should I teach my son to cook? Well, he eats, doesn't he? Also, a boy who understands the skill, the care, the thought and the energy involved in preparing meals will have greater appreciation and respect for women's work," says the author, adding:

"My two stepsons cook. One likes only fancy stuff such as hors d'oeuvres. But the other goes in for real food."

Her book is not just for children. Barbara Wyden's book is a family affair. That alone makes it unique today.

Garden Aspic Is Delight

MOLDED SALAD — It's an aspic made with beef consomme, unflavored gelatin, seasonings and garden-fresh vegetables.

By Cecily Brownstone
 Associated Press Food Editor

Webster says that an aspic is "a savory jelly made from fish or meat stock thickened with gelatin and seasoned and used cold to garnish meat or fish." Here then is a new aspic made with condensed beef consomme plus tomato juice, unflavored gelatin, seasonings and garden-fresh vegetables. We served the aspic with cold baked ham when we were entertaining guests from England and they applauded it. We felt this was an accolade because British cooks are known for the delicious aspics they make.

GARDEN ASPIC

3/4 cup tomato juice
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef consomme, undiluted
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 4 drops hot pepper sauce
 1 cup grated (medium-fine) carrot
 1/4 cup finely diced celery
 2 tablespoons minced green pepper
 2 tablespoons minced scallion (green onion)
 Salad greens or parsley sprigs

Into a 1 1/2-quart saucepan pour 1/2 cup of the tomato juice. Sprinkle gelatin over juice and allow to soften — about 5 minutes. Place over low heat and stir until gelatin dissolves.

Off heat stir in the remaining 1/4 cup tomato juice, undiluted consomme, lemon juice, Worcestershire and hot pepper sauce. Chill in saucepan until slightly thickened. Fold in carrot, celery, green pepper and scallion.

Turn into a 1-quart mold. Chill until firm; cover. At serving time unmold and garnish with salad greens.

Makes 6 servings.

CHOCOLATE PUDDING
 A reader's request.

1/3 cup sugar
 1/4 cup cornstarch
 1/8 teaspoon salt
 2 3/4 cups milk
 1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, broken into 6 pieces
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 teaspoon vanilla

In a 2-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually stir in milk, keeping smooth. Add chocolate. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until chocolate is melted and mixture comes to a boil and boils 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and vanilla. Pour into individual dessert dishes. Makes about 2 1/2 cups — 5 servings.

Dear Abby

Cozy threesomes should be foursomes

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have been married one year, but like everyone else who writes to you, I have a problem: This is my first marriage, out Edwin's second. He was a swinging bachelor for five years before he married me. Edwin keeps inviting his former girl friends over to our home for dinner. They are all friendly and attractive, but I feel so awkward entertaining my husband and a young woman he has known. None of these ladies ever brings an escort altho I've asked Edwin to please suggest it when he invites them.

They all come alone and stay late. I have even gone to bed and left my husband chatting with the lady guest. [Wouldn't you say 2 a. m. is late enough for the hostess to entertain a dinner guest?]

How do I put an end to these cozy threesome dinner parties? Or am I wrong to feel the way I do?

ONE OUT OF THREE

DEAR ONE: You're not wrong. Tell Edwin that when he invites a former girl friend to dinner, just to make sure everything is "kosher," if she doesn't know a man she can bring, you dig up a fourth.

DEAR ABBY: I am 83 years old, and here is my problem: What if I should win that million dollars on the big contest which pays you $50,000 a year for life, over a period of 20 years? I sure don't expect to live another 20 years, so if I win the money and die in the meantime, what happens to the money?

Could I will the rest of it to someone? Or could I just take the full amount right now?

I may never win, but it could happen.

CURIOUS IN MASS.

DEAR CURIOUS: Does the contest advertise "A million dollars, at the rate of $50,000 a year for 20 years"? Or does it state, "Fifty thousand a year for LIFE"? If it's the former, should the winner die, the balance of the unpaid prize money would become part of the winner's estate.

If it's the latter, only $50,000 a year would be paid to the winner as long as he [or she] lived. For the most authoritative answer, inquire of the sponsors of that contest.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon, and Abby, I am so happy, I could fly. But something is spoiling everything. He is a Catholic and I am a Baptist.

He is not at all strong in his religion, but his mother is, and she refuses to come to our wedding unless it's in a Catholic church.

To make matters worse, altho I am not strong in my religion, my mother is a very strict Baptist, and she says she won't come to my wedding if I don't get married in the Baptist church.

It doesn't make one bit of difference to me where we get married as long as it's in a church. A church is a church, and we all worship the same God, right?

Abby, I just hate to hurt my mother. And he hates to hurt his mother, but we'll do anything you say. Please help us decide.

CHURCH PROBLEMS

DEAR PROBLEMS: The decision should be yours and your fiance's. Since you obviously cannot please both your mother and his, you would probably be wise to select a compromise church, invite whomever you want, and let them either accept or decline.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Trousers Are Still "Trendy"

ROME (AP) — Two Rome designers agreed today that trousers for women still are trendy.

And the loose, comfortable look for coats was unanimously in.

The fashionable Italian woman probably will wear tweeds and subdued Prince of Wales plaids this autumn. But for evening wear, the chic choice will be between gold brocade and dark velvet.

American designer Tiziani's feminine silhouette was either narrow or free and easy. His jackets were loosely gathered at the waist or inset with ribbed knit.

Tiziani's woman need not fear the cold. Underneath her coat, sometimes buttoned tightly at the wrist, she can wear a jacket plus a leather vest and a blouse. Green was a favorite color in suede or tweed. The designer also introduced amusing shirts cuffed and waisted with ribbed knit.

Tiziani's outfits were completed by a felt hat with a central ridge like a construction worker's helmet plus a soft wide brim.

More striking if less classical—was Biki's leather hood. Starting from a little crown at the back, it enveloped the neck and shoulders like the hood of a coat of mail.

Apart from the trousers, some of which were cut short at knee length, this designer also favored pleated skirts in light brown or beige checks.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Installation Ceremony

Mrs. Lillie Fulton was installed a noble grand of Pampa Rebekah Lodge No. 355, in open ceremonies at the Lodge Hall, 800 E. Foster.

Mrs. Fulton chose as her motto for the year, "that you love one another" and her aim is to "strive to build the Lodge." Her chosen scripture is "therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the Prophet" (Matthew 7:12).

Others installed were Gladys Simmons, vice grand; Mary Dell McNeil, recording secretary; Pauline Heaton, financial secretary; Eunice Maddox, treasurer; Lora Brummett, warden; Johnnie Alexander, conductor; Martha Holt, chaplain; Etta Crisler, color bearer; Hazel Franklin, musician; Golda Bennett, inside guardian; Ona Gray, outside guardian.

Other officers are Helen Rittenhouse, lodge deputy; Ellen Kretzmeier, team captain; and Pauline Heaton, Gladys Mayo and Lillie Hollis, trustees.

FRIDAY, JULY 21
 Your birthday today: Healthy self-interest leads you to greater achievements as the year progresses. Emotional expansion brings people closer. Adjustments made now are permanent. Today's natives are inclined to get themselves into inconvenient situations.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Wind up your workweek with style. Be sure adequate information is at hand for those who need it. Guard against overconfidence.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Confusion concerning money matters is par for the course today. Calm review will show you the ways to unravel puzzles.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Emotions shouldn't be allowed to affect your goals or plans. Be willing to remain at odds with partner while matters resolve themselves.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Allow for a wide factor of error. Indecision could be a safety move to get further information and a better time in which to act.

Oswald: "One of the easiest bad habits for a player to fall into is that of not recognizing the fact that when his partner opens the bidding and he has more than 10 points it is up to him to take some aggressive action."

Jim: "They know this when they have as many as 13 since the idea that an opening bid opposite an opening bid is worth a game is well established. It is the 11 and 12 point hands that cause trouble."

Oswald: "Here is a case in point. Someone had taught North to raise partner's major suit when possible. North felt that his hand wasn't strong enough to warrant a jump raise so he raised to two with his eleven high card points."

Jim: "North has enough for a non-forcing jump to three. He does not have enough for a forcing jump. He also has enough to respond two diamonds."

Oswald: "A two-diamond response would lead to a two-spade rebid by opener. North could then raise to three spades and South would be strong enough to continue to game."

Jim: "South made five spades in the play. He simply ruffed the third heart and went after diamonds."

Formal Wear On Way Out

ROME (AP)—Italian men's designers have declared war on the classic dinner jacket.

In fact, the fall-winter collections shown here Sunday spurned any kind of dressy evening wear. The closest one designer came to it was with shantung kimono-type jackets or the military tunic of some comic strip character.

Designers appeared to have passed the word around to concentrate on sporty outfits with their tweedy jackets, plaids and fancy checks.

The couturiers widened their ties and kept their jackets narrow, though seldom marking the waist. One favored high buttoned vests that peeped out from the suit coats.

Valentini squared shoulders and gave many of his outfits an almost oblong shape. In particular, he designed suede-cloth uniform tunics, closed by a zip fastener, from which a poloneck sweater emerged.

He used the same style for an evening suit, all black except for the hand-painted gold patterns across the top. This outfit was closed under one arm giving the impression it had been molded over the model.

In many cases, the designers did away with buttons and closed jackets with a zipper. One couturier, however, not only kept buttons but covered them with the same fabric as his suits.

Ali Scores 11th Round TKO Over "Blue" Lewis

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — It won't go into the record book as another famous long count—like the one in the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney title fight in 1927—but the Muhammad Ali camp claimed today a mixup in timing saved Al "Blue" Lewis from a fifth round knockout. Ali, the former world heavyweight champion from Cherry Hill, N.J., stopped Lewis of Dundee in the 11th round Wednesday night for his seventh straight victory in his comeback campaign, but the fight had looked over in the fifth. A short right from Ali traveled no more than eight inches and laid Lewis in a twitching heap on the canvas in outdoor Croker Park. The bell sounded the end of the round when the count reached nine.

Later Ali's trainer, Angelo Dundee, claimed that the count actually had lasted for 22 seconds according to his own timepiece. Dundee made no formal protest, but indeed the timekeeper had found that two of his watches had stopped during the first round and he had to borrow another. Lending further credence to Dundee's contention was that no exact time was given when referee Lew Eskin of New York stopped the fight in the 11th. It was estimated at 1:15 of the round. It was the only knockdown of the fight before an estimated crowd of 22,000 as Ali overcame the affects of a heavy head cold that has troubled him for days for his TKO triumph in Ireland's biggest boxing show in years.

Down They Go

Top-ranked U.S. tennis star Stan Smith, above, and baseball great Willie Mays of the New York Mets both found themselves falling down on the job recently.

OLYMPIC FEATS 1896

(One of a series on extraordinary happenings in each of the 16 modern Olympic Games.)

ATHENS, 1896 — James Bernard Connolly's request for leave of absence to travel to the first of the Modern Olympic Games was turned down flatly by the Dean of Studies at Harvard University.

Connolly, however, was a headstrong young man and had his heart set on competing at Athens. He took the only course open to him. He walked out of Harvard and ended his university career.

At Athens he clinched a gold medal in the triple jump with a final effort of 44 feet 11 3/4 inches. He mounted the victory rostrum to be crowned with the traditional laurel wreath. The American flag was hoisted and massed bands played "The Stars and Stripes Forever." Thus James Bernard Connolly became the first Olympic champion of the Modern era.

Both the Olympic 100 meters and 1,200 meters swimming championships, won by Alfred Hajos (Hungary), were held in the open sea at Phaleron. In addition to the cold—the temperature of the water was 13 degrees Centigrade—the competitors had to combat waves as high as 12 feet at times.

Several competitors had, in fact, to be rescued from drowning. According to Hajos, the biggest feat during the 1,200 meters event was that he might get cramps and he is on record as saying: "My will to live completely overcame my desire to win."

Football Roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Baltimore Colts can stop worrying about signing their No. 1 pro football draft choice.

Tom Drougas, a 267-pounder who played guard for the University of Oregon, agreed to terms late Wednesday night at the Colts' training camp in Tampa, Fla.

Joe Thomas, Baltimore's new general manager, said Drougas agreed to a multi-year contract. The terms were not disclosed.

Earlier the Colts had signed Boris Shlapak, a placekicker from Michigan State; Reggie Lowe, a defensive end from Los Angeles City College; and Ken Frith, a defensive lineman from North Louisiana State who played in Canada last season.

Elsewhere, the Washington Redskins acquired return specialist Alvin Haymond from the Los Angeles Rams for a future draft choice; the St. Louis Cardinals acquired defensive end Bill Atessis from the New England Patriots, also for a future draft choice; and the Oakland Raiders traded an undisclosed future draft choice to the Rams for rookie offensive tackle Jay Anderson.

Running back Duane Thomas finally reported to the Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys, passed his physical examination and worked out in full pads.

Defensive end Rod Carpenter of the Cincinnati Bengals suffered cuts above and on the side of his eye during blocking drills. The cuts required 17 stitches and the 6-foot-5 player from North Carolina State will be sidelined for several days.

Bill Peterson of the Houston Oilers was moved from guard to tackle and the Philadelphia Eagles announced a rookie scrimmage with the Redskins in Reading, Pa. on Saturday.

And quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets was given permission to further delay his appearance at camp until Monday.

Pampa Teams Are Eliminated

Pampa's National Little League all-stars were smashed by Borger South last night in Borger to the tune of 17-2. The loss eliminates Pampa from the Area I tourney. Borger South plays Borger North tonight for the area championship.

Johnny Plumby got the win for Borger and also hit a two run homer. Grubbs also hit a two run home run and Cantrell hit a three run shot for Borger.

Kevin Cree scored both of Pampa's runs and made one of the two Pampa hits. The other Pampa batter who hit safely was Elliott Crawshaw. Plumby pitched the whole game for Borger while Pampa used four hurlers in the game which saw numerous Pampa errors destroy any chance for victory that the home team might have had.

In the 13-year-old Babe Ruth tourney last night, Dumas American beat Top-O-Texas Red 7-5 in the first game. Dumas-National edged Pampa Blue 12-11 in the nightcap. The loss eliminated both Pampa and TOT Red from the tourney.

In action tonight Top-O-Texas Blue goes against Dumas American in the opener at 6:30 and High Plains plays Dumas National in the second game. The loser of each of these games will be eliminated from further play.

And pitcher Earl Weaver bypassed Blue Wednesday in naming a nine-man staff, headed by southpaw Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers and right-hander Gaylord Perry of the Cleveland Indians.

Also chosen were left-handers Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox, Ken Holtzman of the Oakland Athletics and Dave McNally of the Baltimore Orioles, and right-handers Jim Palmer and Pat Dobson of Baltimore. Nolan Ryan of the California Angels and Jim Hunter of the A's.

Lolich, edged by Blue for top league honors last year, sports a 16-6 record in helping the Tigers in their challenge to Baltimore in the East Division race.

The group kicked off the day with breakfast at 7:30 at the Coronado Inn and then split up into teams (consisting of staff members and local businessmen) to spread out over town and sell the season ducats.

The drive has been very successful up to now and coach Mayfield expressed confidence that the group would have equal success in its efforts in Pampa. Coach Mayfield was to address the Noon Lions Club at its luncheon and then the group was going to play a round of golf at the Pampa Country Club.

Duane Bobick Advances In Olympic Boxing Trials

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Duane Bobick thinks gold every time he draws back his big right fist.

He dreams about the Olympic gold medal and the golden purses that will eventually await him in the professional heavyweight ranks.

"It seems inevitable that I will turn professional," Bobick said Wednesday night after demolishing Clifford Stephens of the U.S. Army with a crumpling right at 1:01 of the first round in the U.S. Olympic boxing trials.

Bobick said he isn't going to turn professional just for peanuts. "I'm talking about a lot of money," said the 205-pound Bobick, who has the good looks of a Hollywood movie star. "Not $100,000. I'm talking millions."

Bobick, a two-fisted bruiser from Bowls, Minn., is following in the footsteps of former American Olympic boxing champions turned professional such as George Foreman, current heavyweight champion Joe Frazier and former champion Muhammad Ali.

Bobick is currently on the cover of True Magazine and is hailed by some boxing experts as the best white amateur heavyweight in years. Richard Pettigrew, Bobick's trainer, said, "I guarantee you he is better at this stage of his career than either Frazier or Ali."

Bobick is already thinking ahead of his professional days, saying "I'd like to be under some organization like Clover-

Bobick says that only Nick Wells, the Air Force champion from Fort Worth, stands between him and the trip to the Olympics in Munich, Germany.

Wells will be my toughest competition but I'm confident I'll win," he said. Bobick knocked out Wells the last time they met. Bobby Lee Hunter, the light flyweight who is serving a manslaughter sentence in South Carolina, makes his debut tonight against unheralded Tim Dement in the feature bout.

Kapp's Suit Doesn't Worry NFL

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NOTES-WORTHY:

Reason the National Football League isn't tremulous about possible assault on its opinion clause by the pending Joe Kapp case is that when the veteran quarterback first decided to defy the NFL by not signing a standard contract, the best legal beagles advised the Rozelleleague that "this is one case we can win—if ever you're going to make a court stand, this is it."

Success draw of the Mets still astounds baseball people. And ex-Met Art Shamsky offers one clue: "The Mets are the biggest baby sitters in the world." ... meaning they make an extra effort to drag in the ultra-young (and the fans of the future) ...

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

Jerry Heard, the young touring pro from California, is having a sensational season. All of us can learn from his action.

His tempo is very nearly flawless. His swing is smooth and slow—but solid and firm.

He has a short swing, keeping the clubhead under control with great consistency. He brings the club straight back and straight through, on the same plane.

He leaves himself little margin for error. That's why he'll probably be a wealthy man before he hangs up his clubs.

Farewell Motherhood?

Twenty years from now, mothers will be a mere specialty group in the United States. That was the beginning statement of an article in the June issue of The Futurist. It was written by sociologist Jeanne Binstock and entitled "Motherhood: An Occupation Facing Decline."

Expecting to find the usual denigration of women's "slavery role," with motherhood and overcome with boring routine, we hurried along the paragraphs to find something different.

For one thing, there was some honesty. Instead of blaming women's restlessness and desire to move outside the home on a new spirit of freedom and liberation, or yea for equality, or just "to show men" their superiority, she said the real reason right out loud. Advances in medicine and effective mass contraception. "Women's lib movements," she says, "are really a consequence of technological change; they have appeared at the historical moment when a sharp reduction in the occupational group known as mothers is mandatory, and the technological capacity to achieve it is available."

The switch from motherhood as a job is mandatory, she claims, because of reduced mortality and the overproduction of people.

She paints a rather rosy picture of the modern mother who seldom is bothered with the labors faced by pioneer women whose bodies were worn out by pregnancies and follow-up ministrations to and doctoring of many children and their numerous hurts and pains. She writes, "Instead of endurance, patience, fortitude and tenderness—the traditional virtues of women in all previous historical periods—we have contraception and penicillin. Those women had an important 18-hours-a-day occupation; today's mother has a marginal three-hours-a-day activity, almost as easily done by someone else."

What she said in better sociological language is that a modern-day mother doesn't have enough to do, so becomes a buttersky in her children's lives, overcontrolling and probing their motives of trivial behaviors and attitudes. She controls her children by the use of guilt. And this is why, Jeanne Binstock says, that her children are screaming for freedom; they have been mothered to death.

Unisex, the writer predicts, will come into fashion as a consequence of free choice. Both men and women will work in all fields; their sexual characteristics will be expressed in non-sexual ways, giving each sex an edge in different fields.

Author Binstock's message was captured in her pronouncement: "We thus face the need to demand that the ancient and honorable occupation of motherhood fall into disrepute, and that women commit themselves to other occupations. Women must be 'liberated' to enjoy the fruits of other occupations, whether they want to be or not."

So much for motherhood—down the tube. How's about it, shall we try to save 'apple pie'?

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:
Liberal gospel says the quality of education which the pupil-class gets out of a school depends on how much money is spent or squandered in the process. Which is to say many prominent folks are not quality-educated because they got most of their schooling from poorly-paid teachers in cheap schoolhouses. A fact everybody knows and many deny is that the quality of education a kid gets depends on the quality of his brain and that of his teacher; which, after they get together, no amount of money can do anything about.

I see where Congress is jacking up the legal minimum wage figure still further beyond what many beginners and/or low achievers may be worth to any prospective employer. Which—great statesmanship guarantees society a plentiful supply of muggers, thieves, robbers and career welfareers. The minimum wage law is aimed to protect employees from greedy and stingy employers. And when fairness prevails, employers will be protected from lazy and inept employees with a minimum work law.

Report is that in some areas the taxpayer class is being phased out and some day may be as extinct as the dodo and the $2 shirt. Like New York City reportedly had 9.7 wage earner-taxpayers to 1 citizen on welfare in 1960 and in 1972 only 2.6 suckers per sponger. But when the taxpayer species is vastly outnumbered by welfareers and bureaucrats and we are down to the last few specimens of him, maybe his survival will get as much public concern and attention as the whooping crane.

It appears that our Republic has the battle-worthiness, morale, discipline, and leadership of our Armed Forces been as low as it is today. It was planned that way, planned by traitors in high echelons—State Department, the Presidency, the Congress and the campuses, press and networks. The mass "news" media crucifies patriots and glorifies traitors. Thousands of "Americans" are working day and night to sabotage, discourage, subvert, and destroy the discipline, morale and success of our Armed Forces. Federal Law (18 USC 2387) decrees up to ten years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both, for this crime. Neither the Johnson nor the Nixon Administration has even tried to prosecute a single one of the individual traitors or treasonous organizations making a career out of helping our enemies.

Our Sabotaged Army

Never in the history of our Republic has the battle-worthiness, morale, discipline, and leadership of our Armed Forces been as low as it is today. It was planned that way, planned by traitors in high echelons—State Department, the Presidency, the Congress and the campuses, press and networks. The mass "news" media crucifies patriots and glorifies traitors. Thousands of "Americans" are working day and night to sabotage, discourage, subvert, and destroy the discipline, morale and success of our Armed Forces. Federal Law (18 USC 2387) decrees up to ten years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both, for this crime. Neither the Johnson nor the Nixon Administration has even tried to prosecute a single one of the individual traitors or treasonous organizations making a career out of helping our enemies.

209, compared with "only" 96 the year before. Fraggings, in case you haven't heard, is the new slang term for murder, or attempted murder of unpopular or "eager beaver" officers. News of the death of officers sometimes brings cheers at troop movies. Some officers even have bounties on their heads. In Vietnam, thousands of Americans consider their own "Brass" as the real enemy.

Many traitors have gone on the banquet circuit to extol the enemy and to damn their own country. Other "pacifists" have actually defected to the Viet Cong.

Drug addiction, desertion, mutiny, permissiveness, immorality, are rampant in our Armed Forces, both around the world and here. Only the Marines have held the line at all.

Last year, a Congressional Subcommittee reported that 10 to 15 percent of our troops in Vietnam are on heroin, and that drug use among them has reached "epidemic proportions." Among young soldiers, needle hepatitis is not as great a menace as VD.

The race war in the army is possibly even worse than at home. It's always been bad in the Armed Services, but the people have never been told the truth about it. In World War II, black battalions had to be "integrated" because under fire, the blacks would invariably run the wrong way. Having whites both in front and behind them helped. One can rationalize that the Negro back then had less education and less to be patriotic about. Whatever the reason, they have, on the whole, been poor soldiers. Many officers in World War II told me that the blacks were a net liability; we'd have been better off without any—because when the chips were down, they failed. Of course, anyone who would make such a statement is automatically labeled a racist. (A racist, as I have previously remarked, is a person who believes in history, genetics, and his eyes.)

G. I. blacks now return white officers' salutes with the clenched fist—"Black Power" communist "salute."

In some units, white soldiers are now more afraid to enter barracks alone at night than they are in the front-line jungle. "Head-hunting" blacks are more dangerous than the formal enemy.

Domestic Tranquility

Just to keep matters in perspective, the rift between John and Martha Mitchell, of course, isn't the only domestic drama on the political log.

Phyllis shed Robert (Dole) last January after 23 years of marriage. He is Senator from Kansas and GOP National chairman.

Mieke filed against Jack (Tunney) in June. He is Senator from California.

Paul and Caroline (McCloskey) separated in June after 23 years.

Ellen and William (Proxmire) called it quits after 15 years.

Gene and Abigail (McCarthy) gave up after 24 years, he lately of the U.S. Senate.

John and Joan (Ashbrook) have begun proceedings. He is an Ohio Congressman.

Harrison and Nancy (Williams)—he's the Senator from New Jersey—added their names to the divorce list.

Morris and Pat (Udall) have filed in the divorce court. He's the Arizona Congressman.

We have no convenient way of comparing the congressional statistics with those of the general population. So we don't know that Capitol Hill is the particular bane of Cupid. This much appears definite: the Potomac wise men who have volunteered to solve other people's problems have yet to demonstrate 100 per cent success with their own.

Quick Quiz

Q—What was the first workshop sunk by a submarine?

A—The Union steam sloop-of-war Housatonic was torpedoed in Charleston harbor in 1864 by the Confederate submarine Hunley, which then sank.

H.L. Hunt Writes

ONE MORE INCREASE OF FEDERAL POLICY
The economic policies of the Administration fall into a consistent pattern of increasing federal control, with wage and price controls the most obvious example. The revenue sharing scheme recently approved by the House of Representatives is another way by which Washington intends to centralize power.

A bi-partisan group of Congressmen, members of the House Ways and Means Committee, have issued a strong statement pointing out the dangers inherent in revenue sharing. In their statement, they declared that revenue sharing "takes the unprecedented step of underwriting, at the federal level, the general government expenditures of state and local governments. The dependence of state and local governments on federal largess to meet their basic governmental responsibilities will result in the federal government eventually prescribing how state and local governments must meet their responsibilities." They thus pinpointed the essential problem with revenue sharing: when the money comes from Washington, control as to its use soon follows.

The statement quoted committee chairman Wilbur Mills, who termed revenue sharing "a Trojan horse from which at the appropriate time will spring new rules and strictures on the activities of those very governmental bodies who are being wooed by this gift from Troy."

The primary check on local governments is that the people can vote out of office the local officials who spend too much money or spend it for the wrong things. The decisions are made at the level closest to the people and are therefore most subject to the people's control. When the money and decisions come from Washington, our citizens will have very little to say about what is done.

Stennis' Own SALT Talks
Forebode Benefits Stiall

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — That long-pending military retirees survivors benefits bill is running into a new delay—that makes its enactment by Congress this year more uncertain than ever before.

Latest hitch is those strategic arms limitation agreements signed by President Nixon in Moscow.

There is no direct connection between the historic pacts and the survivors benefits legislation. The difficulty arises from the fact that Senate consideration of these SALT treaties will still further stall action on the measure of utmost moment to nearly one million military retirees and their families throughout the country.

That's the intention of Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, where the retirees bill has been gathering dust since way back last October when it was unanimously passed by the House.

Stennis told this column nothing will be done on the pigeon-holed measure until after the Armed Services Committee has held hearings on the arms limitation pacts. That makes the second hurdle Stennis has arbitrarily interposed.

The first was his decision not to consider the survivors benefits until after the multi-billion-dollar military procurement authorization measure had been acted on. Stennis disclosed this only after being prodded by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.—the only member of the Armed Services Committee who is trying to get action on the military retirees legislation.

Last spring, in an effort to nudge Stennis, Goldwater formally asked that hearings be held on the long-stalled bill. It took Stennis about a month to get around to answering his letter.

In substance, Stennis said he planned to hold hearings after the Armed Services Committee finished work on the then still far from complete huge military procurement authorization measure. Stennis gave no clue as to when that might be. He was as noncommittal on that as the Mississippi had been for some six months on the legislation itself.

But it was a slight gain. At least the powerful chairman of the Armed Services Committee was on written record as asserting there would be hearings on the survivors benefits bill.

More Stalling

The Armed Services Committee has finally finished the military procurement measure, but the Senate has yet to take it up.

Pending that, Sen. Goldwater expected the committee would conduct the long-promised hearings on the survivors benefits measure. That's what Stennis had said would be done. Further, there is no reason for lengthy hearings as there is no opposition to the legislation—drafted by a special bipartisan panel of the House Armed Services Committee after a year and a half of study and deliberation.

There appeared to be no reason why the Senate committee could not report out the retirees bill in short order. And once on the Senate calendar of unfinished business, it could be taken up whenever time permitted.

Not much time is needed, because it is certain of speedy passage.

But those promising hopes have been dashed by Stennis throwing another monkey-wrench into the works.

Asked by this column if hearings would be held on the survivors benefits measure now that the military procurement bill had been completed, he shook his head and said, "No, not yet. That won't be taken up until we have had hearings on the SALT treaties."

"Why the delay? There is no pressing urgency about those agreements, while the veterans bill has been pending in your committee since last October."

"The SALT agreements have to come in first," insisted Stennis. "They are very important. There is worldwide interest in them and we must act without delay."

And that's it—for the time being!

Oceans of Red Ink

Regardless of all the McGovernite rhetoric and hoopla about change, reforms and new order, one thing remains very much the same as always—campaign debts and mountains of them.

Not only is the Democratic National Committee still wallowing in millions of long-standing unpaid obligations, but all the front-runners in this year's turbulent scramble for the Presidential nomination piled up additional millions of debts. Exactly how much is unclear. Reports so far filed are obviously incomplete. But enough information is revealed to indicate the amount runs into millions.

Following is the score so far: Sen. McGovern—Five days before the national convention, the South Dakotan's national campaign committee reported being in the red $279,502.43. Insiders estimate Miami Beach convention expenses at around $250,000—a presumed total of red ink of more than $500,000.

Sen. Humphrey—The effusive Minnesotan wound up his unavailing second try for the Presidency with a pyramid of unpaid bills—$1,005,983.48.

Sen. Muskie—As best as can be made out from a maze of reports filed by his campaign committee, he owes $284,023.60.

Former Sen. Eugene McCarthy—He wound up his curious vaguely active campaign with $5,393.08 in red ink.
