IRA Strongholds Crushed; 6 Killed

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops and armor occupied barricaded strongholds of the Irish Republican Army early today and encountered almost no resistance. But the IRA struck back later with bombs that killed at least six civilians.

Striking at 4 a.m., 13,000 British soldiers smashed down IRA barricades with tanks converted to bulldozers and took possession of Catholic areas of Londonderry, Belfast, Lurgan, Armagh, Portadown, Coalisland and Dungannon.

By noon, reports were coming in of bombings in Londonderry and other towns.

In Claudy, 12 miles southeast of Londonderry, six persons were killed when bombs planted in three cars exploded in the main street.

Army officers believed most of the IRA gunmen had gone underground in the countryside or fled across the border to the Irish Republic.

Three hours after the troops breached the first barricades, William Whitelaw, the British administrator for Northern Ireland, announced: "The British army are now in occupation and control throughout Northern Ireland."

An army spokesman said the troops suffered no casualties but shot four gunmen during the night. The bodies of two men were brought to a Londonderry hospital.

It was the biggest military offensive in the three years of religious warfare in Northern Ireland.

The Catholics stayed inside their homes as the troops entered the "Free Derry" enclaves in Londonderry for the first time in more than a year. But after dawn they began to come out.

Children taunted the soldiers with cries of "Pigs!" "English bastards," and "Leave us alone."

Whitelaw said the purpose of the operation was to open up the areas previously closed to British security forces, "to enable the security forces to move freely through all areas and so protect the whole community."

The troops also went into the "no go" areas Protestant militants had established in Belfast in protest against the IRA barricades. But there the members of the Protestant Ulster Defense Association began pulling down their roadblocks as soon as the troops appeared.

The army's main target was "Free Derry"—the Bogside and Grogan districts of Londonderry, ringed by concrete and iron barricades, where the IRA has held unchallenged military sway for more than a year.

At 4 a.m. 1,500 troops with armored cars and tanks equipped as bulldozers thrust into the Bogside and began tearing down barricades.

The soldiers, their faces blackened and in full combat gear, met only slight resistance as the "Free Derry siren" sounded an invasion alert.

The army said it shot one gunman and a gasoline bomber but found no bodies.

The assault had been expected since late Sunday when Whitelaw announced the army was poised for "substantial activity" and warned civilians to keep off the streets.

U.S. Loses B-52 And 2 Phantoms

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. B52 bomber crashed Sunday night during a thunderstorm in northeast Thailand, and two Air Force F4 Phantoms went down off the coast of North Vietnam after running out of fuel, the U.S. Command announced today.

The U.S. Embassy in Bangkok said five of the six B52 crewmen were killed. It said the sixth man was picked up by a rescue helicopter today.

The command in Saigon said the four Phantom crewmen also were rescued.

The cause of the B52 crash was not known. The plane was on its way to a bombing attack in Vietnam, and the 30 tons of bombs aboard exploded in the crash, creating a huge fireball, sources in Bangkok said. But an embassy spokesman said there were no known civilian casualties or damage to property.

It was the second B52 crash in Thailand since the big bombers were first stationed there in 1967.

North Vietnam claimed that two Air Force Phantoms were shot down over Hanoi on Sunday, and two of the crewmen were captured. It did not identify the Americans but said one of them was wounded in his left leg and his temple.

The U.S. Command reported no losses in the Hanoi region. It said one of the Phantoms that crashed in the Tonkin Gulf ran out of fuel while maneuvering to avoid a MIG jet, while the second F4 that crashed had failed — for reasons not known to the command — to rendezvous with its refueling tanker.

The command reported also that American jets hit North Vietnam's Red River delta again Sunday, but it denied charges by Hanoi that flood control facilities were attacked deliberately on Saturday.

In Sunday's raids, North Vietnam claimed that American planes bombed a populated area six miles from the center of Hanoi and residential areas in Hai Phong and its outskirts.

U.S. spokesmen in Saigon, queried about the Hanoi allegations of bombing dikes, said they had nothing to add to statements by President Nixon last week and an intelligence study of North Vietnam's dike system released by the U.S. State Department.

Nixon said it has never been the policy of the United States to bomb the dikes and would not be in the future. The State Department said intelligence reports showed conclusively that there had been no intentional bombing of the dikes but that a few of them sustained minor damage from stray bombs directed at nearby military targets.

Early Trial Of Ellsberg Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government urged the Supreme Court today to overrule Justice William O. Douglas and order a resumption of the Pentagon Papers trial of Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo.

Douglas has blocked the trial, possibly for months, in a dispute over wiretapping.

The Justice Department accused him of impermissible interference and said the action could forever preclude trial of Ellsberg and Russo on the indictment.

Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold was at the court when the clerk's office opened to submit copies of the government's application for all the justices. Only Chief Justice Warren W. Burger was due in his office. The others are vacationing.

Griswold's plea could lead to a special summer session. Earlier this month the court was called back from recess to rule on the Democratic Party's credentials fight.

Ellsberg and Russo were on trial in Los Angeles on various charges stemming from public disclosure of the once-secret study of the Vietnam war when the government revealed a defense attorney had been overheard in a wire tap.

The government said the "bugging" involved a matter of foreign intelligence with no bearing on the Ellsberg and Russo trial. But the defendants said that under Supreme Court decisions they were entitled to examine the logs to make that determination themselves.

Trial Jury Of Bremer Selected

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — A jury of seven women and five men was rapidly selected today as Arthur H. Bremer went on trial for the attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

It took the judge and opposing attorneys a little more than an hour to choose the jury.

Bremer, 21, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

He appeared at ease as he sat at the defense table and listened to questioning of prospective jurors.

Every person entering the courtroom was subjected to an intensive search that included a shakedown with a metal detector.

Several of the persons called for jury duty were excused by the judge after he put a dozen questions to them concerning their knowledge of the shooting of the presidential candidate and their relationship with anyone involved in the case.

Bremer faces a total of 17 counts in connection with the volley of shots that felled Wallace and three others as the governor completed a presidential campaign speech at a shopping center in Laurel, Md., on May 15.

Bremer, a former school janitor and hotel busboy from Milwaukee, faces 12 charges of allegedly using a .38-caliber pistol in the wounding of Wallace, Secret Service Agent Nicholas Zarvos, Alabama State Police Capt. E.C. Dothard and Dora Thompson, a Wallace campaign worker from Hyattsville, Md.

Youth Injured In Cycle-Car Accident Here

Ronnie Brown, 16, was hospitalized for treatment of arm and leg injuries following a motorcycle-car accident at 9:35 this morning.

Brown, traveling west on Foster on the bike, turned north onto Cuyler and struck a car backing from a parking place in front of the bank.

There was no damage to the car but the motorcycle suffered considerable front end damage.

Eagleton Vows To Fight For His Place On Ticket

Woman Recalls Kidnaping

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Virginia Piper, the attractive socialite whose husband paid $1 million ransom to free her from kidnapers, dug at the ground with her bare hands while trying to free herself from a tree to which she had been chained in a forest.

"I wasn't actually in fear of my life until they left me on Friday," Mrs. Piper said. "Then I thought I'm chained to a tree here and they'll find me in November."

Mrs. Piper, who discussed the kidnaping at a news conference Sunday, said she then began digging in hopes of uprooting the six-inch-thick tree.

"I thought that the only way I could ever get out was to uproot the tree and fell it and lug the tree out to the highway. At least it kept me busy. I figured that by the end of the week, I would be able to dump that tree," she added.

The 49-year-old victim had some degree of mobility since the chain, which was strung around the tree from hand to hand, had a three-foot leeway.

Mrs. Piper recalled a bit of humor after she was found by FBI agents, who went to the scene after receiving an anonymous tip. The agents unlocked her handcuffs, but could not free her from the chain. So four agents bent the small tree to the ground and she was able to slip the chain over it.

"This is terribly funny, really—four of them jumped on the tree and swung it back and forth and got it down," Mrs. Piper said.

The kidnapers have not been caught.

Mrs. Piper's husband is Harry C. Piper, 54, board chairman of the investment and brokerage firm of Piper, Jaffray and Hopwood, Inc.

Piper told newsmen Sunday that the $1 million ransom in $20 bills that he delivered late Friday night was so heavy "that I could just barely lift it." The money reportedly weighed 115 pounds.

Mrs. Piper's ordeal began Thursday when two men burst into the fashionable Piper home in suburban Orono. Both wore black nylon masks over their heads and each had two pistols. Mrs. Piper said the kidnapers put tape over her eyes, threw a pillow case over her head and ordered her to lie down in the back seat of a car while they drove her to wilderness area near Duluth, about 140 miles north of here.

The FBI, which has 100 agents working on the case, said it would have no comment on whether a third man was involved.

Mrs. Piper said she was not threatened or harmed and did not fear for her life until she was abandoned in the darkness of the forest Friday night.

Philippine Exchange Student Here To Attend Pampa High

Pampa has received another foreign exchange student with the arrival Saturday of Lakan B. Mariano, 17, of Quezon City, Philippines.

Sponsored by the local chapter of American Field Services, Mariano will be a senior at Pampa High School.

While in Pampa, Mariano will be staying with the Wallace Bruce family at 1200 Williston.

Mariano is the fourth of seven children in his family in the Philippines. His father is a free-lance writer while his mother is a housewife.

Mariano will take part in school, community and family life activities while here in order to get a better understanding of the American life, while continuing his education.

A national survey, reported in the July issue of the Ripon Forum, said President Nixon holds a commanding lead for re-election and is a clear favorite to win in 35 states.

The report noted, however, that "the President has always run well in the summer... and done considerably worse in November."

It said the President's chances are subject to the "charisma of the McGovern crusade into the Promised Land, anticipated Democratic voter registration drive, the progress of the war and the economy, voter reaction to the President's stand on school busing and the proven ability of Nixon campaign organizations to reduce commanding leads."

Survey Shows Nixon Will Be Re-elected

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Republicans have an outside chance to capture the Senate majority next fall but no hopes in the House, according to the Ripon Society, a progressive GOP organization based here.

A national survey, reported in the July issue of the Ripon Forum, said President Nixon holds a commanding lead for re-election and is a clear favorite to win in 35 states.

The report noted, however, that "the President has always run well in the summer... and done considerably worse in November."

It said the President's chances are subject to the "charisma of the McGovern crusade into the Promised Land, anticipated Democratic voter registration drive, the progress of the war and the economy, voter reaction to the President's stand on school busing and the proven ability of Nixon campaign organizations to reduce commanding leads."

Man Jailed After Shot, Threat To Kill Officer

A 22-year old Pampa man was handcuffed and led off to jail after he reportedly threatened to kill a police officer, wrested the officer's gun from his holster and fired a shot through a wall.

The officer observed the man speeding on Brown St., followed at excessive speeds but only gave him a warning according to the official report. It also noted that he took off from that point at a high rate of speed, running a stop sign at Gray and Crawford Sts.

It stopped in the 300 block of Crawford and the driver fled for a building.

According to police the officer attempted to place him under arrest but he struck the officer and fled into his apartment.

Leaving the building to radio for aid; the officer encountered the man leaving by another door. This is when, police said, he shouted he would kill the policeman and grabbed at his gun firing a shot through the holster.

He then got the gun from the holster and the officer grappled with him for it, according to the police report.

At this point—other officers arrived and the man, according to his own threat, police stated, was reduced to cringing and begging officers not to shoot him.

When lodged in jail, he claimed the shot he fired struck him but examination proved it did not.

Charges are pending.

Gold Price Up By One Dollar

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold jumped one dollar an ounce to record highs in early trading in Europe's free bullion markets today but both the U.S. dollar and the British pound were firm.

The new rises took the price of free gold close to the $70 an ounce level at which President De Gaulle of France wanted to fix official gold backing world currencies more than two years ago.

In Zurich today, the price of free gold was up a full dollar to $69 an ounce during early trading. The dollar improved slightly to 3.77675 Swiss francs.

In London, gold opened at $68.85 an ounce and then was fixed at $68.90. The pound opened at $2.4490 down slightly from Friday's $2.4495. Then it moved up to 2.4502 dollars.

Bulletin

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Delta DC8 en route from Detroit to Miami, Fla., was hijacked today a few miles south of Orlando, just as the big four-jet aircraft prepared to make its approach to Miami International Airport, the Federal Aviation Administration reported here.

A spokesman for FAA said one hijacker is involved and that possibly others may be.

Details were sketchy, but FAA said the pilot was in touch with the Miami control tower and was due to land about 1:08 p.m. EDT.

Jury To Decide Penalty For John McKee Today

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A district court jury was to decide the punishment today for John McKee, former Dallas Crime Commission president, Masonic leader and Ford Motor Co. executive.

McKee was found guilty Saturday of embezzling Masonic funds. During his six-day trial, the former watch dog of Dallas' conscience, never said a word. He snarled at newsmen and cameramen Saturday night after he was found guilty and a relative was in a pushing match with a news photographer.

After years of baiting Dallas law enforcement officials,

McKee last November suddenly complimented the Dallas Police Department. But three months later, a joint announcement from Dist. Atty. Henry Wade and Police Chief Frank Dyson revealed that McKee actually was a Navy deserter named John Kell Zollinger.

McKee called the accusation "ridiculous." But he vanished for a time. He was having family troubles, too—a divorce from his wife, Fern.

Wade and Dyson's statement that McKee's "true identity" was Zollinger was confirmed when his fingerprints, taken at the time he was booked into Dallas County jail, matched up with those of the former naval deserter.

Besides his crime-busting role, McKee was the No. 2 Scottish Rite Mason in Texas, chairman of the executive council of the Dallas Scottish Rite bodies, and personal representative of Lee Lockwood of Waco, the top-ranking Scottish Rite Mason in Texas and second highest in the nation. Until December he had been regional executive in Dallas of the Ford Motor Co.

The news that McKee was Zollinger shook the Scottish Rite in Texas to its core.

The fraternal order was shaken even more when the first indictment against McKee was returned by the grand jury Feb. 17, charging that McKee had withdrawn 3,802 from the Dallas Lodge of Perfection and used it in part payment on a luxury car for his girl friend, Charlotte Weirauch.

A second indictment accused McKee of embezzling $2,920 in Scottish Rite funds and a third, returned March 6, said he swindled one of the Scottish Rite bodies of $44,968. These last two indictments are still pending. McKee has been tried only on the first.

Immediately after the indictments, McKee was ousted from his two posts in the fraternal order. Four days before the first indictments, he quit as crime commission president.

Paul Spaak, Architect Of Europe Unity, Dies

BRUSSELS (AP) — Paul Henri Spaak, Belgian Socialist leader and one of the architects of European unity and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, died early today at the age of 73. It was officially announced.

Death was attributed to a kidney deficiency.

Spaak was known as "Mr Europe" for his work for European unity and also played a leading part at the founding meeting of the United Nations in San Francisco in 1945. He became the first president of the U.N. General Assembly in 1946 and in 1970 came out of retirement to attend the 25th anniversary meeting of the world organization in New York.

Earthquake Shakes SE Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A major earthquake which rocked southeast Alaska caused no serious damage and no injuries were reported.

The quake Sunday registered 7.3 on the Richter scale, according to the National Earthquake Center in Boulder, Colo. It was the strongest earth tremor recorded in Alaska since a temblor seven years ago in the Aleutian Islands.

The earthquake which devastated Anchorage in 1965 registered 8.5 on the Richter scale.

In Sitka, a seaside community of 5,000 persons about 100 miles south of Juneau, officials said buildings swayed and cars bounced on city streets, but no serious damage or injuries were reported. Lesser tremors were felt in Ketchikan to the south and in Juneau.

One-Day Care In Hospital Increases 13.9

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Hospital Association reports that the cost of one day's care for a hospital patient increased 13.9 per cent in 1971.

The cost was $92.31, the AHA reported Sunday in its annual survey of the 7,097 registered hospitals in the United States.

The 1970 average was $81.01, which was an increase of 15.7 per cent over 1969.

Total expenses for community hospitals rose 14.5 per cent during 1971, compared with 17.7 per cent in 1970. Payroll expenses were up 14.3 per cent in 1971 compared with 16.4 per cent in 1970.

The AHA noted that the wage-price freeze and Phase II of the President's Economic Stabilization Program did not have a significant effect on the 1971 figures because the association's statistical survey period ended Sept. 1.

AP, Hsinhua Sign Accord

PEKING (AP) — An agreement was reached Sunday on the exchange of news and photos between the Associated Press and Hsinhua. China's news and photo agency.

The exchange agreement between the two news services marked the first time in 22 years that an American news organization had established a regular news and photo channel with China's People's Republic.

Direct news links ended in December 1949 with the departure of the last Associated Press correspondent, Fred Hampson.

The agreement provides both radio and mail exchanges.

The agreement was reached in negotiations between top Hsinhua officials and Wes Gallagher, president, and Paul Miller, chairman of the Associated Press, over a period of several days. The Associated Press party of five has been in Peking and other cities as the guest of Hsinhua.

A mark of 134 degrees in Death Valley, Calif., on July 10, 1913, is the record high temperature in the United States.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is honestly a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $2.00 ($2.25 for Rush Service) — Cash is O.K. to: Ski Team Diet, P.O. Box 15493, San Diego, California 92115. Don't order unless you expect to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

Price Issues Statement On Miss Fonda's Action

Pampa congressman Bob Price issued a statement today stating Jane Fonda's recent travel to Hanoi and other parts of North Vietnam during which "she made statements siding with the North Vietnamese Communists against the United States raises very serious questions, which I think need to be answered."

Loyal Americans everywhere, Price said, are shocked and outraged by Miss Fonda's conduct, which, in his opinion, clearly exceeds the limits of free speech or even irresponsible chatter.

"That Miss Fonda would by her actions give aid and comfort to an enemy of this Nation which has been largely responsible for the deaths of

Armed Men Hold Up NY Hotel

NEW YORK (AP) — Five armed men in business suits and moustaches called at the posh Plaza Hotel early today, herded 20 employees and guests into a back room and rifled 15 to 20 safe deposit boxes.

Police said they had no immediate estimate of the haul.

A similar robbery at the exclusive Hotel Pierre last New Year's weekend netted an estimated $1 million to $4 million in gems — most of which have not been recovered.

In today's heist, the bandit team pulled up at the Plaza, located on Fifth Avenue at the southern edge of Central Park, about 4 a.m. They rifled the boxes and drove off an hour later in a tan station wagon.

Edner Smith, a bellman at the Plaza, said he was standing at his post in the lobby when a tall, heavy-set man with a moustache, dressed in a suit and carrying a suitcase, walked up to him.

Smith said he asked the man if he wanted a room.

"No," the man said. "This is a holdup."

Then he showed me his gun," Smith related.

Jimmy Conway, an elevator operator with the Plaza for 44 years, said the men locked him along with other employees and guests in a back room while they rifled the boxes.

"They were real nice about it," Conway said. "They saw my gray hair and told me to sit down. They didn't even handcuff me."

LIFE OF THE PARTY!

Wurlitzer PLAYER PIANO

Play it like a regular piano or let it play itself...electronically

Fun becomes contagious and the party begins to sing the moment you plug in your Wurlitzer Player Piano and slip a music roll into the player unit. Of course, if you wish, it can be played manually like any regular piano. Either way you will appreciate the rich, full tones. Simple to operate, easy to use, the Wurlitzer Player Piano is perfect for parties, dancing or listening. It's really TWO perfect pianos housed in a beautifully wrought cabinet. Just for the fun of it, why not sit down to a Wurlitzer Player Piano.

Come in for a demonstration...See how easy it is to play even if you can't play a note.

CHAPLIN REVIVAL

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charlie Chaplin, the famed little tramp who made millions of moviegoers laugh and cry in the golden age of the "silents," soon will be greeting Americans once more — via their mailman.

Complete with derby hat, baggy pants, undersize jacket and oversize shoes, the comedian will be featured on a special series of greeting cards. Hallmark has been given authorization to reproduce scenes from many of his movies.

Chaplin's recent "Oscar" visit to the United States has touched off a nationwide revival of his films.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, July 31: the 213th day of 1972. There are 153 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1498, Christopher Columbus discovered the island of Trinidad.

On this date: In 1777, the French nobleman, Lafayette, offered his services to the Colonies in the American Revolution and was commissioned a major-general in the Continental Army.

In 1790, the first U.S. patent was issued to Samuel Hopkins of Vermont for his process in making potash.

Today In History

In 1877, Thomas A. Edison took out an early patent leading to his development of the phonograph.

In 1914, Austria ordered general mobilization as World War I began.

In 1917, the World War I Battle of Flanders began.

In 1948, President Harry S. Truman dedicated New York's Idlewild Airport, now the John F. Kennedy Airport.

Ten years ago, Indonesian and Dutch negotiators in Washington reached agreement on a formula for turning Dutch New Guinea over to Indonesia.

Dear Abby

Babies available for adoption

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-M. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Every time I read a letter in your column from parents complaining because of a problem with a child I could scream! I would give my right arm to have their problem.

I am 23, married, and have been to several doctors dealing with sterility problems, and I have been told I am sterile. We want to adopt a child, but there is a long waiting list of at least three years.

People who have "problems" with their children should thank God every day of their lives that they are able to have children—no matter what kind of problems they have with them. They are blessed and don't even appreciate it. I envy them their problems with their children, and I couldn't mean it more sincerely.

HEARTBROKEN FOR REAL

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Apparently you want to adopt a newborn, American, Caucasian baby, which is not easy to come by. Babies of mixed parentage are available. Also Korean babies. Also children in orphanages, some of them handicapped. If you are sincere, and consider "problems" a blessing, you need not remain childless.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about a man whose house is cluttered with pictures of himself? He has them in every room, framed and on the walls, and sitting around in expensive frames on every end table, and even on the window sills.

This man is now fat and bald, and most of these pictures were taken long ago when he was young and handsome and had lots of hair and a trim physique. Nobody would recognize him as the same person.

What is wrong with him?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Nothing need be "wrong" with him. Maybe he just enjoys seeing himself as others SAW him.

DEAR ABBY: Is it improper to put a return address on a card of sympathy?

A friend of mine said this should never be done.

HURON, S. DAKOTA

DEAR HURON: Your friend is mistaken. All mail should have a return address. And my sympathy goes to those frustrated postmasters and mail handlers who find millions of pieces of mail undeliverable because of insufficient, incorrect or illegible addresses, and NO return address.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "Going Crazy," the wife of a man who always starts projects, but never finishes anything.

I have a solution for your problem. When your husband starts a project—painting, papering, building a patio, putting in a garden, or whatever, and then loses interest and abandons it, that's your cue to go right to work and start to "finish" it for him.

He will come running to show you how incompetent you are, quickly pointing out that you are doing it all wrong. Then he will proceed to take over the job and "show" you how an expert does it.

Just keep telling him how smart he is, and continue to marvel at his expertise. And before you know it, the job will be finished.

BEEN THERE

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Jim: "Last Monday we discussed the 'Scotch syndrome', a disease that causes some players to refuse to play an unnecessarily high card. Here is a hand that illustrates the 'grasshopper disease'. This causes players to waste an important high card to signal their partner."

Oswald: "The grasshopper disease takes other forms, but the form you mention is the most deadly. West opens the king of clubs against South's four spades contract. South takes his ace and plays out the ace and king of trumps."

Jim: "At this point grasshopper West played his nine of diamonds. He wanted to tell his partner to lead a diamond if partner ever got in. The signal was read and when South led a heart to East's ace, the diamond was promptly played.

Unfortunately for the gallant defenders, that lost nine-spot represented a lost trick. East actually led the four. South's eight forced the queen and later on the 10 forced the ace and left South's king as a winner."

Oswald: "West could have asked for a diamond lead by simply discarding his three of clubs and playing the deuce of hearts when hearts were led."

Jim: "This might not have caused East to lead a diamond and if he didn't lead a diamond South would be able to strip the hand and make his contract, but the nine of diamonds played made things a cinch for declarer."

Chains Are Back

With the emergence of thinner belts, returns the chain belt from a few seasons back. This time chains are worn one at a time and are slightly thinner than before.

New in Pants

Wide-flaring pleated pants suits for evening wear are still seen at many formal occasions. But the suits are now popular in bright patterns and plaids instead of solid colors.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

TUESDAY, AUGUST 8

Your birthday today: Productivity characterizes your coming year. Diligence brings not only immediate reward but provides a base on which further ventures are built. Today's natives care too little about public opinion, and pursue their work in their own fashion, usually with considerable skill.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Emotional involvements exceed past expression, and very happily for most people. Business efforts prosper. Cooperation comes easier.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Deals jell suddenly, should be settled today. Property exchanges are favored. If you have something coming to you, ask for it.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Finish what you have started. People in authority are about as favorable to your ideas now as they are ever likely to be.

Wrap-around goggles or gray-tinted quality sunglasses are recommended by the Society for Visual Care as the best protection against glare. Although the eyes generally suffer no lasting damage from limited exposure to such glare, the harsh reflection of it can temporarily seriously diminish visual acuity and produce potentially dangerous conditions.

Shirt Dress News

Shirt dresses, ranging from expensive silks to inexpensive cottons, are leading the ranks of the return-to-the-dress movement. But it's the imaginative variations, Western-style cuts and dolman sleeves that are giving the traditional shirt dress some new excitement.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Bargains exist, whatever you plan to purchase. Get family or group participation in your plans, set financial questions at rest.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Imaginative projects are favored. Your persuasive abilities are high. Remember those who helped when times were not so good.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Now comes the impact of whatever excesses you and those around have been permitting. Guard your well-being by moderate habits.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Your advancement depends on your resources directed toward your goals without reference to other people's schemes.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Accept whatever help and support others going in the same direction may share with you. Alternatives prove valuable.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Take the time and effort to study yesterday's revelations, add perspective. Your evaluation of future prospects improves.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Plans and projects come together with an early start. Anything related to long-range security is strongly favored.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Bring associates along on all ventures. Their views influence matters advantageously. Share a good show tonight.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Consistency is the key to prosperity whether you feel that what you do is great or petty. You may be setting standards.

Snack Foods-Nutritious

COLLEGE STATION: Americans nibble between meals, in front of the TV set, at parties and on the run.

"This conspicuous consumption of so-called 'junk' foods costs us more than two million dollars a year," said Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The specialist said that a constant agenda of round-the-clock activities combined with the popularity of convenience snack foods leaves little time for balanced meals.

Commonly eaten snacks such as candies, chips, cakes and soft drinks are high in calories and low in other nutrients. That's why they're called 'junk' or empty-calorie foods.

"Snack foods may fill you, but provide little nutrition unless you choose your snacks in the same way as you would plan a well-balanced meal—with common sense," Miss Springer said.

Between-meal snacks can make a difference in the way you look and feel, according to the Texas A&M University employee.

"Every bite you eat becomes a part of you," she said. "Since you don't always eat all your food in three meals of the day, snacks should be a part of your food plan. By choosing your snacks in relation to foods eaten at mealtime, you get extra health insurance."

Snacks can be nutritious. If meals are low in calcium or protein, you can pick up these needed nutrients by including milk, cheese or ice cream as a snack.

For a cool, refreshing and nutritious snack, why not try milk à la mode—a tall glass of cold milk with a couple of spoons of your favorite ice cream? Or to cut down a bit on calories, try the same snack using skimmed milk and ice milk in your favorite flavor. Sherbet with fruit juice is also good.

"Thirsty, calorie-conscious individuals can try their favorite fruit and vegetable juices," Miss Springer said. "They're a lot better for you than a soft drink."

Fresh fruit is an easy and nutritious snack, according to the foods expert. Fruits in season will be low in cost.

Dry fruit offers another easy, quick snack. Raisins and dried prunes, apricots and peaches are all "eat-from-the-box" favorites. Raw vegetables make another good snack, particularly for the weight-conscious person.

Unlike most snacks, they're high in nutritional benefits but low in calories. Try carrot curls, celery sticks, radishes or raw cauliflower.

"The best way to have healthy snacks is to plan for them when you do your weekly shopping," Miss Springer suggested.

Zarley And Hiskey Win PGA Team Golf

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — "Great—just absolutely great." Kermit Zarley replied when asked how it felt for him and partner Babe Hiskey to break the Arnold Palmer-Jack Nicklaus domination of the Professional Golfers Association National Team Championship.

"But, you know," Zarley reflected, "they probably would have won again if they teed up."

The longest partners, close friends since their college days at the University of Houston a decade ago, forged a better-ball score of 66, five under par, in the final round to score an easy victory Sunday.

Their 282 total was 22 strokes under par on the 7,045-yard

Laurel Valley Golf Club, Palmer's home course where he and Nicklaus had combined to win the two previous team crowns.

Nicklaus withdrew this year because of a badly infected finger. Palmer tapped obscure Jack Lewis, 25, as a last-minute replacement and they were never a factor. They had to rally for a final round and were a distant 13 strokes back at 275.

Hiskey and Zarley moved into a share of the lead after 36 holes, took sole control at the end of the third round and weren't headed as they stroled in with a relatively unexciting triumph.

Johnny Miller and Grier Jones, a pair of 25-year-olds, made the only major challenge in the final round that began in drizzling rain and finished in cool and cloudy weather.

They combined for an eight-under-par 63 and took second alone at 265. Gibby Gilbert and Lanny Wadkins, just one stroke off the pace going into the final 18 holes, couldn't get anything

Rangers Win Two

OAKLAND (AP) — The winning pitchers had familiar faces but were wearing the wrong uniforms at the Oakland Coliseum Sunday.

Paul Lindblad and Don Stanhouse, traded away by the Oakland A's, returned to pitch the Texas Rangers to a double-header sweep, 2-1 and 4-2.

Lindblad won the first game with 3 2/3 innings of scoreless relief. Stanhouse, with ninth-inning relief help from Horatio Pina, won the nightcap.

"I tried extra hard because they were my ex-teamsmates," Stanhouse said of his victory. "I was made when they first traded me but it did get me to the major leagues sooner."

Stanhouse went to Texas along with another young pitcher in exchange for Denny McLain. The victory over Oakland was his first major league triumph.

"It couldn't be sweeter," he said.

Little Dave Nelson was a major contributor to the Texas success. He had a hand in all six Ranger runs, scoring three and driving in the other three.

"I guess you could say it was my best day in baseball," the 5-foot-9 Nelson said. "I've never had as good a day before."

Nelson had four hits and stole four bases in the doubleheader. He leads the American League in stolen bases with 33.

Auto Racing Roundup

MT. POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Joe Leonard, a grandfather from San Jose, Calif., and his old pro buddy Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., won auto races in Pennsylvania during the weekend.

For McCluskey, it was an easy victory in the Pennsylvania 500 for stock cars Sunday. For Leonard, it required a bit of waiting to be sure that he had captured the $83,530 first place check for Saturday's Schaefer 500 at Pocono International Raceway.

He didn't know for sure until Sunday morning, after timers and scorers had rifled through their lap cards more than a dozen times.

McCluskey, 37, completed his chore more than four laps ahead of second place Butch Hartman of North Zanesville, Ohio. He was paid $10,000 for his second straight triumph on the United States Auto Club stock circuit and his third of the season.

Leonard, also 37, drove one of Parnelli Jones' Viceroy Specials at an average speed of 154.781 miles per hour — McCluskey's average in the going. They finished with a 69 and third at 266.

Tommy Aaron and former Masters champion Charles Coody were next with a 64—267.

Hiskey and Zarley, both members of a Bible study group that meets weekly on the pro tour, have had long years of struggle.

Each has won only twice in 10 years. Hiskey ranked 100th on the season's money list going into this tournament with only $13,000.

But they combined almost perfectly here, each picking up $20,000 from a total purse of $200,000. They had 23 birdies in the four rounds, 16 by Hiskey, and a single bogey. In the team event the score is kept only on the team's better ball on each hole.

"It's kind of easy to win when your partner is always on the green, 15 or 20 feet from the hole," Hiskey said. "When he's in that position you can really go for the pin and try to make birdie."

Hughes And Wells Win Junior Tennis

Don Hughes and Gretchen Wells became double winners in the Jr. High tennis tournament held this weekend at the PHS courts.

Don won the boys singles and teamed with brother Doug to win the doubles. Gretchen won the girls singles and was paired with Peggy Wilson to take the doubles.

Hughes beat Jack Scott 6-3, 7-5 to win his singles match. The brothers Hughes beat Scott and Gary Steel 6-3, 6-3 in the doubles finals.

Gretchen won her singles finals match 6-1, 6-2 over JoAnne McCausland.

She and Miss Wilson beat Miss McCausland and Stacy Douglas 6-1, 6-4 in the girls doubles finals Saturday.

In the consolation bracket Tim Reddell won his match over Grant Johnson 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 and Beverly Scott beat Christa Rapstine 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

This weekend the Pampa Men and Women's Tournament will be played at the high school courts.

Pampa residents who are interested in playing in the tourney should register by Thursday night at the courts.

WINNING at weekend tennis improving your doubles game

By Tony Trabert with Joe Hyams

3. The Serving Position

I served from the center stripe when playing singles. Is this a good position for serving in doubles?

No, because when you run to your ideal position at net, you are going at an angle away from the most likely direction of the service return. It's better to serve from the center of the area which you must cover.

Where should I stand?

The basic technique of doubles is to divide responsibility for coverage of the court between you and your partner. At the same time you are trying to divide your opponent's possibilities in half.

When you are serving you should stand halfway between the singles sideline and the center of the court. That way you are in the center of the area which is your responsibility and you can rush to the net in a direct line to handle the service return.

THS Coaching School Continues In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The first full day of lectures began and registration continued today at the 40th annual Texas High School Coaches' Association Coaching School.

Registration reached 5,946 Sunday night at the close of the first day and the figure is expected to soar well above the year-old record of 5,964 which was reached at Fort Worth.

Bob Debaney, who coached the University of Nebraska football team to a national championship last fall, delivered a lecture of physical fitness to highlight first day activities.

Other lecturers during the five day meeting include Bill Battle, University of Tennessee football coach; Guy Lewis, University of Houston basketball coach; Gerald Myers, Texas Tech basketball coach; Ken Kelley, Texas A&I track coach; and Lynn Laird, West Texas State trainer.

The All-Star basketball and football squads went through workouts Sunday. The basketball game will be played Wednesday night at Hofheinz Pavilion and the football game Thursday night in the Astrodome.

Rain halted a portion of the Sunday's football workouts but coaches appeared happy with the progress of their teams.

South football coach Jack Hayes of West Columbia was particularly impressed with what he called the "exceptional moves" of Port Arthur Lincoln running back Joe Washington Jr.

South basketball coach Ronnie Truitt of Cypress-Fairbanks praised the play of Gary Brown of Chiereno and David Brown of Silsbee. Tommy Barker, the 6-11 star from Wellaco, began to shake the effects of a sprained knee and was impressive during the evening workout.

Bill Phillips of Plainview, North basketball coach, and Tommy Watkins, North football coach, were similarly pleased with the progress of their players.

Phillips said Dallas Roosevelt great Ira Terrell "had one of his better workouts" as did John Saffel of Irving MacArthur.

Joe Rust of Dallas Carter and Shae Southall of Brownwood were quarterbacking Watkins' 1-wing offense.

WE APPRECIATE THE EFFORTS OF NURSES

Some of our most favorite persons are the nurses. They never seem to feel they have done enough and are always trying to do something more. They never seem to tire or lose their cheerfulness.

In the broad category of nursing there are those with Ph.D.'s, college degrees, hospital diplomas, a greatly increasing number of licensed practical nurses and to further complicate things, more and more males are now in the nursing profession. One and all we greatly appreciate their efforts and feel privileged that a great many nurses have chosen us to be their personal pharmacy.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Chris Evert Wins Goolagong Rematch

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Australians won the inaugural Bonne Bell Cup matches over the United States over the weekend, but surrendered some of the glory when Florida's Chris Evert triumphed over Evonne Goolagong.

The seemingly nerveless teen-ager fired a butchering volley of deep court shots at Miss Goolagong to win the third set of their match 6-0 after capturing the first set 6-3 and losing the second 4-6.

Miss Evert, who had lost to Miss Goolagong in the semifinals at Wimbledon this year, said after the match she'll turn professional "whenever I can." Rules allow it on her 18th birthday on Dec. 21.

The Fort Lauderdale high school senior, who might have been one of the richest teenagers in sports history had she been able to claim prize money for some of her triumphs over the last year, doesn't see herself changing her values when she turns pro.

Her drawing power is undeniable. A crowd of 7,428 watched Sunday's final three matches in the Bonne Bell and a total of 20,936 saw the three-day event, both records for women's tennis matches in Cleveland. And, as at Forest Hills last summer and at Wimbledon this year, a great number of the fans were present just to see her.

Miss Evert, who conquered Margaret Court of Australia 6-3, 6-3 on Friday, stayed in the backcourt—and made Miss Goolagong trade shots with her until the Australian erred.

Miss Evert's victories were the only ones mustered by the United States in the best-of-seven event Mrs. Court halted Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego, Calif., 6-1, 6-1 and the doubles team of Kerry Melville and Mrs. Court whipped Miss Ziegenfuss and Wendy Overton 6-1, 6-2 in other matches Sunday.

Diving Team Small But Is Toughest Ever

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States today had its smallest women's entry in history and a strong men's squad featuring iron-man Mike Finneran headed for the diving competition in the Munich Olympics starting Aug. 26.

"We may be small, but this is the toughest all-around diving squad we've ever had," said Hobie Billingsley of Indiana University, the Olympic men's diving coach. "The trouble is, both our guys and gals are going to face just about the toughest foreign competition."

The U.S. diving team, normally composed of six men and six women for the Olympic springboard and platform events, will send only five men and three women to Munich.

A three-day final trials session ended Sunday at Oakton Pool in suburban Park Ridge with the threesome of Janet Ely, 18, Albuquerque, N.M.; Cindy Potter, 21, of Houston, Tex.; and Olympian Micki King, 28, a captain in the U.S. Air Force, sweeping all three Olympic berths in both the women's 3-meter springboard and 10-meter platform.

Finneran, 23, former Ohio State star and now a Columbus, Ohio, insurance man, also will double for the men at Munich after capturing the No. 2 Olympic berth in both the springboard and platform.

The other four masculine delegates headed for Munich and their first Olympic tries are Dick Rydze, 22, ex-Michigan ace who is now a medical student at the University of Pittsburgh; Craig Lincoln, 21, University of Minnesota stand-

Red River Stocking Rainbows

RED RIVER, N. M. — "We are stocking the Red River with 15" to 20" Rainbow Trout about 100 of them each night," Lester Red River, New Mexico Town Councilman and President of the Red River Trout Association, said last week.

The big trout, purchased by the Town of Red River, the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants of the town, weigh from 1 1/2 to 3 pounds each and are put into the river along a six mile stretch from Fawn Lake above the town to Aspen Park, down the valley. There are many stretches of the river that are easily accessible to fishermen.

"We are stocking the river at night so that everyone will have an equal opportunity to get to the big fish early every morning," Lewis continued.

The New Mexico Game and Fish Commission stocks all the lakes and streams in the state with more than six million fingerling trout each year but the largest fish they ever "plant" are about 8" long when released. "We want people who come to Red River to fish to be able to go home with a real fish story—the truth about the trout they catch! That is why we are getting out 100 of them each night," Lewis stated.

Beginning tomorrow, a "Trout Rodeo" will be sponsored by the Red River Trout Association. This is a contest where at least two of the big trout will be tagged each night and the fishermen who catch the tagged trout will be awarded prizes by the Association.

New Mexico Fishing licenses range from $2.00 for a one-day license to $10.00 for an annual license for non-residents.

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Let's See A New Agnew

The suspense was not exactly excruciating but President Nixon's recent announcement that he would not break up the winning team of 1968 has at least given a new lease on life to the several acres of forest which would have been consumed by political writers speculating on possible replacements for Spiro Agnew.

On the other hand, the President's decision to retain this household name as his vice-presidential running mate could spell doom to those same forests by inspiring other speculation.

Does it portend, for instance, an all-out attack of the kind of vice-president so relishes against the maundering moguls of misgovernment?

If so, it might be entertaining but it could be the very worst tactic for the Republicans. George McGovern, the World War II hero and preacher's son from the heartland of America, looks like anything but a menace to the nation.

It would, as well, be a waste of a sizable intellectual talent. In the 1970 off-year elections, the vice-president was assigned the task of decimating the Democrats on the issue of law and order.

The American people, however, remained unalarmed, with the result that the GOP lost a number of congressional seats it had hoped to win and many of the vice-president's sensible ideas went unreported and unnoticed because of his penchant for making alliterative allegations against his opponents.

We've seen Spiro Agnew, hatchman. Let's see Spiro Agnew, thinker and statesman, in keeping with his position as a man only a heartbeat away from the presidency.

Fletcher Versus Fonda

A Georgia congressman, Fletcher Thompson, said the other day that he wants the Justice Department to see what it can do about bringing treason charges against Jane Fonda, who just returned from a prolonged road engagement in North Vietnam.

Where was Thompson when we needed him? About four years ago Ms. Fonda appeared in "Barbarella," a movie so bad it inflicted more harm on national sensitivities than her traipsing about the North Vietnamese countryside has done. We didn't hear a peep out of Thompson then.

Now however, he is worried that Ms. Fonda's propaganda broadcast over Hanoi's propaganda radio network will do damage to American morale. His concern is misplaced.

First of all, there is more than one indication that Ms. Fonda's crusade against the war is more passionate than informed. The nature of her antiwar activities has been such that she is no threat to convince anyone but the already convinced.

Secondly, there is some question whether she is offering any aid and comfort to the enemy. More likely, they are wasting a lot of time wondering why Americans would be willing to listen to political commentary from a slightly frowsy actress.

Thirdly, letting Ms. Fonda spout on in Hanoi or Hoboken, is far less dangerous than making a big thing about keeping her quiet.

McGovern Needs Big Labor Help

By BRUCE BOSSAT WASHINGTON (NEA)—

There may be some serious slippage for Sen. George McGovern on the labor front, even if many big unions go around George Meany's opposition and help the senator.

The slippage could be in the matter of money and over-all campaign managing skills.

Obviously, many labor organizations have their own skilled political operators, their own propaganda machines, and their own money sources. A lot of them will be applying what they have to McGovern's presidential campaign.

But there is something to be said for the kind of central political guidance which COPE, the political arm of the AFL-CIO, has commonly given to labor's campaign efforts.

Right now, COPE Director Al Barkan is not about to offer such help, since he shares Meany's antipathy for McGovern. Nor will the Democratic nominee be getting the benefit of COPE's funds, which will still be ample even if many of the federation's constituent unions withhold their usual contributions.

James Rowe Jr., a seasoned old Democrat who has had a big hand in many campaigns, thinks the net of it is bad news for McGovern.

"It's going to hurt like hell," Rowe says. "Having played a key role in the late push to elect Sen. Hubert Humphrey in 1968, Rowe knows what labor's best agents can do. Looking back, he says: 'Let's face it. In 1968 we Democrats were a labor party.'"

What in fact did that mean? Barkan's figures, supplied by him to presidential chroniclers like Theodore White, are staggering in their impact.

COPE's field helpers got 4.6 million voters registered in the critical late months. They worked as no one else seemed able to, to get black voters lined up.

Across the nation, nearly 650 separate telephone banks were established to help canvass voters. They were manned by more than 24,600 union volunteers in endless rounds of checking. And they were backed up by more than 72,200 foot-canvassers who prowled the nation's precincts to flush out prospective Humphrey voters.

There is much talk these days of the McGovern organization building a grass roots force of some 100,000 people, mostly young activists of the sort who helped him win the nomination. Note, then, that labor's political manpower in 1968 was just 3,000 of that level. The McGovern prospect is not exactly unique.

Labor's political managers also saw to it that on election day nearly 95,000 volunteers were out doing every conceivable kind of political job. Clearly, labor's operatives can't be dismissed as a bunch of tired warhorses who can be easily outdistanced by the dedicated young.

One of labor's most massive 1968 activities was the grinding out of pamphlets aimed at portraying third-party nominee George Wallace as an enemy of labor. COPE produced some 55 millions of these blasts, and local unions added 60 million more.

In shaping this program, labor had precise directional skills from Barkan, from helper Mary Zon, and from AFL-CIO executive aide Lane Kirkland.

So, it isn't endorsing or not endorsing that is decisive. What McGovern needs is labor's big money (estimated at at least $10 million in 1968), and the shrewd top guidance that can give labor's political manpower and propaganda the fullest impact. And those things he still does not have.

Quick Quiz Q—How did heavy cotton trousers come to be called "dungarees"?

A—Old-time Hindu seafarers who sailed from the port of Dhungaree, wore the heavy cotton trousers which became known as dungarees.

Q—What was the title of William Allen White's most famous editorial?

A—In 1896, White wrote an editorial entitled "What's the Matter with Kansas?" This made him famous overnight.

Q—Who is the highest-ranking officer in the U.S. Navy?

A—The Chief of Naval Operations.

Q—What country claims to have the longest fence in the world?

A—The world's longest fence—3,437 miles long and 6 feet high—encloses the main sheep area in Queensland, Australia.

U.S. Mail Service Bad And It's Getting Worse

In all cities and between many cities your mail would be delivered faster by the old Pony Express.

The U.S. Postal Service, under new management for one year, is in many respects, worse than ever.

From their own figures, the U.S. Postal Service has to admit that intercity mail moves more slowly now than it did three years ago.

If you can fly from Houston to New York in less than three hours, there's no reason in the world it should take your airmail letter more than three days to get there, but it does.

You and I fly from Amarillo to Dallas in little more than one hour, yet a first-class letter with the ZIP code on it takes two-and-a-half days.

H.L. Hunt Writes

ENERGY FOR FREEDOM The fact that there is a growing energy shortage in the U.S. cannot be denied by anyone who will make an open-minded constructive study. Even some of the most virulent left-side, headline-hogging senators, congressmen and news commentators have grudgingly admitted this fact while continuing to decry the domestic oil and gas industry as being derelict in finding new reserves.

The victims (you, the citizens, of this great Republic) are entitled to have the true culprit responsible for the energy identified. The culprit has not been the highly maligned domestic oil and gas producers who are well known to be optimistic and ever willing to take the great financial risks of wildcatting for new sources of reserves and production.

Mayor Sam Yorty recently showed courage and statesmanship by vetoing an ordinance passed by a Los Angeles City Council majority which would have halted oil and gas drilling in major parts of the city. Yorty noted that California's oil industry is declining, which adversely affects both tax revenues and energy costs for the citizens of our populous state. Courage of this sort by public officials, coupled with the proven abilities of U.S. oil finders, can reverse the decline and shortage in our energy sources and bolster our domestic economy and prevent our abject dependence upon undependable foreign sources of energy for our survival.

A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver. — Proverbs 25:11

What a pleasure life would be if everybody would try to do only half of what he expects others to do.

Hot heads and cold hearts make lukewarm lives.

We are so outnumbered there's only one thing to do. We must attack. — Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham

Don't blame the guns, blame the courts; because we already have the gun laws but we don't have the courts sentencing those guilty of violating these laws.

Your Health

Milk Doesn't Cause Arthritis

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have read that milk intake should be limited by adults because the calcium will accumulate in the system and form deposits in the joints causing arthritis, and that it will cause kidney stones. I have also read that adults require more milk because as a person grows older the bones tend to dissolve, causing them to become brittle and the joints to become arthritic because of the bone deterioration.

I am 46 years old and in excellent health. I have no trouble digesting milk and have no family background of arthritis. I drink a quart of milk a day and split a quart of buttermilk with a friend at lunch, and I have which is split between breakfast and dinner. Milk is a good protein food and I enjoy drinking it, but I'm somewhat concerned about the apparent contradiction in the first sentences of my letter. From a medical point of view, considering all the factors, is a quart of milk a day too much for an adult?

Dear Reader—You have heard a lot of misinformation. That's fairly typical of what is going on with the food fads these days. I'll add to your list by saying that I have heard one popular, self-appointed expert say that nonfat milk was bad for you because you couldn't absorb Vitamin A because you needed the milk fat to absorb it. That is a lot of malarky because there is plenty of fat in all of the other foods that everybody eats.

It is true that adults need approximately a quart of milk a day. This is particularly true for women since they are more susceptible to degeneration of the bone. The common buffalo hump of the spine seen in middle-aged women is caused by degeneration or decalcification of the spine. It is about five times as common in women who don't get enough calcium in their diet. I am an enthusiastic supporter of the idea that every adult should get the equivalent of one quart of milk a day in their diet. It doesn't matter whether the calcium is from fortified skim milk, buttermilk, or nonfat dry milk powder used in cooking. Uncreamed cottage cheese is also a good calcium source.

Milk is a good protein food but whole milk also contains a lot of fat and a lot of it is saturated fat. Milk fat does not contribute to the health in any way. You can still get all of the natural goodness of milk by using fortified skim milk, or if it is not available the next best thing is fortified 1 per cent fat milk and beyond that the next best thing is 2 per cent fat milk. If there is not enough calcium in the diet, one should take calcium tablets or capsules as is often done by pregnant women. Calcium deficiency is a frequent finding because weight-conscious people unwisely restrict their milk intake.

Inside Washington

Barry's Retirees Amendment Puts Stennis on the Spot

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Senate Armed Services Committee chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., is finally being put squarely on the spot on the military retirees survivors benefits bill that he has stalled for nine months.

The legislation is being offered as an amendment to the $20.5 billion military procurement authorization measure now under consideration in the Senate.

The decision to force action on the long-stymied retirees benefits measure as an amendment to the giant military procurement bill was made by Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and J. Glenn Beall, R-Md.

"I don't intend to wait any longer," Goldwater told this column. "We're going to see this thing through now. It's long overdue."

"The unjustifiable protracted delay in the consideration of this important legislation directly affecting close to a million veterans is inexplicable to me," said Beall. "It's time we put an end to it. I have said I was going to put this measure through this year, and I mean it. It has wide bipartisan support in the Senate, as evidenced by the fact that 38 Republican and Democratic Senators joined me in sponsoring this legislation. They are in full accord with me that further delay is unwarranted and indefensible."

Putting Stennis on the spot in this manner forces him to either "fish or cut bait."

He now faces three alternatives:

(1) Accept the retirees survivors benefits bill as an amendment to the military procurement measure and allow the Senate to vote on it—thus ensuring its speedy overwhelming approval.

(2) Try to have the amendment thrown out on the ground it is not germane to the procurement bill. Sens. Beall and Goldwater are prepared to demand a rollcall vote on that, and are confident they can win hands-down.

(3) Offer to compromise with a categorical promise to bring up the retirees legislation for separate Senate consideration by a definite date in the fall.

More Foot-Dragging This last stratagem is considered the most likely by Sens. Goldwater and Beall. Their belief is based on backstage and other indications.

Lately it has become evident that Sen. Stennis is "displeased" by the vigorous prodding in and out of Congress in behalf of the survivors benefits bill which mysteriously has gathered dust in the Armed Services Committee for nine months. It is known the Mississippi got a flood of critical mail following this column's disclosure that he planned to still further delay the measure by withholding consideration until the Senate disposed of the strategic arms limitation agreements. That unannounced intention squarely contradicted an earlier promise (to Beall and Goldwater) to take up the bill after the procurement measure had been acted on.

Stennis is very touchy about his prerogatives as chairman of the powerful Armed Services Committee. Inside word is he is intimating he would consider it a personal reflection if the retirees bill, in effect, were forcibly taken away from the committee and written into the procurement measure as an amendment.

Apparently this would miff Stennis no end—irrespective of the merits and need of the retirees legislation or that it was passed last October by the House 372 to 0 after less than two hours of discussion.

That is why it's deemed probably Stennis may insist on his committee's acting on the retirees bill separately—but, bowing to necessity, will make a definite commitment to report it out by a certain date in the fall.

Whether he can get away with such a ploy is conjectural. To a considerable degree, it would depend on how much backing Beall and Goldwater could muster for the retirees bill as an amendment to the procurement measure. If they can rally sufficient votes, they can force a showdown and override Stennis—despite his being chairman of the potent Armed Services Committee.

That's happened before, and could again. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., who like Goldwater is a member of that committee, is working closely with him in pressing for enactment of the retirees bill. So is Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo.—another influential co-sponsor of the legislation.

They told this column, "There is no reason for further stalling. This bill should be disposed of now and not later. It is not generally realized, but Sen. Beall is one of the authors of the original measure as passed by the House in 1970, as a member of that chamber, he was on the special committee that drafted the legislation.

"So he knows all about it. That is the bill he introduced last December and which, for some unknown reason, has been pigeonholed in the Armed Services Committee ever since. There is no justification for that, and we propose to put an end to it. It's just as simple and straightforward as that."

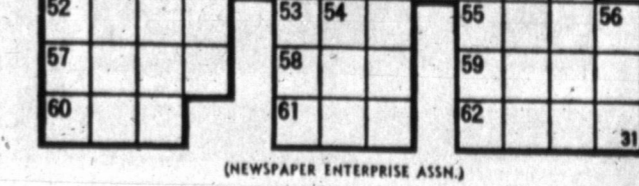

It remains to be seen what Sen. Stennis thinks and does about that.

It has been well said that our anxiety does not empty tomorrow of its sorrows, but only empties today of its strength.—Charles Spurgeon, English Baptist preacher.

U.S. Crystal Coin-Plate No. 2

Because we regretfully overlooked an announcement that the 1971 Crystal Coin-Plate would be released on a somewhat limited basis, many collectors of such pieces were not aware the plate existed. As an accommodation to readers who collect coin-glass, the manufacturer has graciously consented to extend their tentative closing date. Consequently, the 1971 Coin-Plate will continue to be available through the finer glassware and gift stores throughout the country as well as through the home office of Imperial Glass at Bellaire, Ohio 43906.

An earlier issue commemorated the last year of silver coinage with the obverse and reverse of a Lincoln cent, Jefferson nickel, Roosevelt dime, and Washington quarter centered by the obverse only of a 1964 Kennedy half-dollar.

to the Kennedy half-dollar centered by an obverse likeness only of the 1971 Eisenhower dollar.

The meticulously hand-crafted presidential portraits create an almost exact reproduction of the six coins presently considered as a type set of current United States coinage. Whether or not this series will be expanded to cover future issues is not known, but I suggest that interested readers request of the manufacturer to be placed on a preferred mailing list to be notified of new designs.

After the Flood

Rapid City Recovers . . . and Remembers

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
(First of Two Related Articles.)

RAPID CITY, S. D. — (NEA) — Ken Smith clung desperately to the sagging telephone pole after shinnying halfway up. In the mid-night darkness, he saw the building torn off its mooring and swept down rampaging Rapid Creek, gone mad like an animated nightmare. Everything he'd worked for — $20,000 worth of machinery and tools in his auto body shop — evanesced in the murk.

But that was just a speck. In its frantic plunge out of the Black Hills and down Rapid Canyon, the water also washed away 1,500 homes and left hundreds of empty hulks.

And it swept to their death Gerry and Jane Smith, Ken's parents.

They were among the 257 killed in the worst flood this region ever recorded. A half dozen are still missing.

Normal annual rainfall around Rapid City is 18 inches. In some parts of the area, on this tragic night of June 9 alone, 14 inches splattered the land in a couple of hours and made crushing walls out of rivulets.

Now, less than two months later, Rapid City has gotten itself together. Rapid Creek is again a tranquil, narrow brook winding through town. They still talk about that night, like a dream. They see the signs of it, all around them, as a reality.

In one parking lot are gathered hundreds of smashed steel torsos that on June 9 were operable automobiles. From many of them dead bodies were removed.

Young people have come in from all over the country to sweep the silt from the streets in a voluntary program. A million dollars was raised for the disaster fund. HUD trailers to house the homeless are spotted in patches throughout this rolling city which leads to a natural vacationland.

High on Hangman's Hill, or Skyline Drive, around which the city grew in a "U," Ken Smith, who was rescued from his perch on the pole at 4 a.m., strives for normalcy, too. He has taken over the curio store which his father built and ran in Dinosaur Park. With an anticipated Small Business Administration loan at 1 per cent, he hopes eventually to get his old body shop started again, too. He is 20 years old.

"You can't," he says, "mope about old things."

Alone, he's running the family business. It's down 25 per cent, Ken estimates. Just as it's down all over this western part of South Dakota, where tourism is the No. 1 industry. People from the Midwest, the main trough for the vacationland of the Black Hills, read about the floods and were scared away.

Ken Smith . . . striving for normalcy.

Mount Rushmore, the gigantic stone protrusion out of which an obsessed sculptor named Gutzon Borglum carved the heads of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt and Abraham Lincoln, is 22 miles southwest of Rapid City and normally caters to 25,000 people a day. Now 17,000 on the average filter through.

People are tremulous. They check into a motel in Keystone, at the base of the mountain, where Battle and Grizzly Creeks intersect, and if it starts raining they'll leave in the middle of the night. Twenty-six people were lost here. A scenic railway ends with twisted steel in the debris of Battle Creek.

Yet Ken Smith's future remains in the Black Hills. He has rented a house above Canyon Lake (whose dam burst) for his younger brother Paul, 17, and his sister, Susan, who's home for the summer from Arizona State University. HUD money pays the rent for a year.

The economic effects of the flood are murky. Ken has to find out how much mortgage remains, how much government relief is available. Only 20 homes in all of Rapid City carried flood insurance and in the Rapid Canyon area, where the Smiths lived, the homes ranged in price up to $100,000. (Jim and Irene Kendall had sunk their life savings into their place, which vanished. They think they're lucky. They're alive. And Jim, a schoolteacher, owes only $2,000 on it.)

Ken remembers that while the floodwaters were rising, he was out "joyriding," showing off his new pickup truck to his sister. They drove the Rim Rock highway up Rapid Canyon to look at the water—it was raining heavily—then down past their house. The folks were parked outside in their four-wheel drive Bronco. With them were Mr. Smith's brother Eldon, a state senator, his wife and daughter, visiting from central South Dakota.

"We thought they were leaving," says Ken, "but they had just returned home. They weren't worried. They invited the Magners next door over for a drink."

That's the last he saw of them. Paul came home later and got across a creek bridge 30 yards from the house but couldn't get any closer. A National Guardsman threw him a rope and pulled him to high ground. The Smiths were marooned in their house. A wall of water laden with debris crashed into it and swept all five to their deaths. The force also carried away the family's 1972 Cadillac, Susan's Mustang, his uncle's new Ford LTD, the Bronco and an International truck, all parked at the house.

All that remains on this corner is a concrete foundation, mud encrusted, and bits of rubbish. A twisted golf cart lies alongside. "That's not ours," says Ken.

He spots a leather tag a foot away. Picks it up. Reads it. "Gerald Smith."

"I guess it was dad's," he says. He throws the tag away. Ken points out where the Bronco was lodged in the stream between two trees. It was totaled, but after the insurance company settled, Ken bought it as salvage for $300. He figures he can get it in shape by fall.

The day of the funeral, Ken got some phone calls. "A lot of people were trying to get the business from us," he says. "It made me sick."

Probe Indicates Organized Political Units May Have Determined Texas Primary Course

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An investigation shows that recently organized political action committees may have determined the course of the spring primary elections in Texas, the San Antonio Express-News reported Saturday.

It said a three-man Express-News task force found that at least $339,199 was poured into the primary races by such groups.

Of this, $145,732 influenced races for the Texas Senate, the newspaper said, adding:

"No less than 16 of the 21 winners of seriously contested races for the Texas Senate received substantial financial support from political action groups. In many cases, the support was decisive.

It said professional and business groups were inspired to form such committees by the nationwide success of the AFL-CIO's Committee for Political Education—COPE—and its state and district offshoots.

Several of the new groups, financed by voluntary contributions from their members, already rival the combined forces of organized labor in their influence and success, the Express-News said.

It reported these findings:

—Such groups as the Texas Trial Lawyers Association and the Texas Medical Association "have gained what amounts to veto power over any legislation which affects their professional interests..."

—Leading in terms of contributions were: Texas Trial Lawyers Association, through Lawyers Involved For Texas—LIFT—and through local affiliates, and state and local officers: at least $99,119.

The combined committees of organized labor: at least $91,780.

Texas Medical Association through TexPac, and through local affiliates of TexPac: at least $45,356.

Political Action Committee of Texas—PACT—a group of businessmen backing conservative candidates: at least $47,100.

Trust for Agricultural Political Education—TAPE—an arm of the Associated Milk Producers, Inc.—at least $19,060.

In individual races, the Express-News found $19,550 in individual contributions from officers of the Texas Trial Lawyers to Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who lost his bid for governor. Most were in the $100 to $200 range:
