Nixon Keeps Agnew For Vice President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon disclosed Saturday that Spiro T. Agnew is to be his running mate again this fall, and the vice president set out immediately on a Republican campaign sweep that ultimately will lead him into all 50 states.

At an airport news conference before taking off for some speeches in Oregon, Alaska and Washington, Agnew said "I am not going into the campaign with any complacent attitude. I am going out as if this were a last-ditch fight."

Asked about Nixon's selection of himself for re-election, Agnew said, "Everybody has his moments of insecurity, but I never felt I was ever in deep trouble."

He declined comment on the possibility that he would seek the presidency in 1976, saying "It's a little premature."

Nixon informed Agnew of his decision Friday during a one-hour White House meeting with him and then told Republican officials who will play major roles in the GOP National Convention next month in Miami Beach and in the presidential campaign.

Ronald L. Ziegler, White House press secretary, made the announcement of Nixon's decision at a hastily called news briefing Saturday morning just prior to the President's return to Washington to attend a private wedding of a close friend of his two daughters, Tricia and Julie.

Ziegler said choice of Sens. George McGovern and Thomas Eagleton as the Democratic party's presidential and vice presidential candidates had nothing to do with Nixon's selection of Agnew.

When asked at the wedding about his decision, Nixon gave newsmen his line that "you just don't break up a winning team."

McGovern told reporters in South Dakota that the President's decision came as no surprise and said "I don't think it makes a lot of difference."

The press secretary, in answer to questions, referred to Nixon's comments in Jan. 2 and June 29 television appearances as to the reason the President chose Agnew to be his running mate again.

In the January interview, Nixon said: "My view is that one should not break up a winning combination."

Nixon again referred to the winning team during a June television news conference and said: "I think he has done a fine job as vice president. I have very high confidence in him."

Agnew, a former Maryland governor plucked by Nixon out of national obscurity to be his running mate in 1968, said in a recent interview that if he decided to seek re-election as vice president it will mean he is keeping open his options for an eventual bid for the presidency.

Passengers Don't Mind Inconvenience

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I'm glad to be a little inconvenienced," a passenger said as he waited to have his briefcase searched before boarding a Pacific Southwest Airlines commuter flight at Los Angeles International Airport.

PSA employees at the boarding gate were carrying out President Nixon's order for inspection of all passengers and their carry-on baggage on commuter flights such as those operated by PSA in California and Eastern Air Lines between New York, Washington and Boston.

It was the latest move to curb hijacking of airliners, and came on the heels of two skyjackings of PSA planes on July 5 and 6. Four PSA planes have been hijacked this year.

The passenger expressing approval of the tightened security measures was Perry A. Johnson, a San Francisco sales executive for Chevron Oil Latin America Inc.

He was one of 137 passengers waiting in line to board a flight from Los Angeles to Oakland.

Each was required to present personal identification, submit hand luggage for search and undergo a body scanning by a metal-detecting device called an "electronic squealer."

The passengers accepted the scrutiny without apparent grumbling.

"If they didn't do this, I would say something," said Earl Olsen, an Oakland business man.

"Of course there have been some complaints about the searches and delays. They don't like someone digging through their dirty laundry, but over-all we've been surprised at how good the reactions have been," said Gary Kissel, PSA's public relations director.

"We checked around this last week to see what the public relations impact was and it seems people would rather have a 20-minute delay at the gate than a 20-hour delay in flight. Any incidents of complaints have been isolated," he said.

Russia Lands Ship On Venus Surface

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet space probe Venus 8 parachuted safely onto the planet Venus Saturday, and transmitted information back to earth for 50 minutes before going silent, the news agency Tass reported.

The signals apparently stopped because the capsule was incinerated or crushed by the intense heat and pressure on the planet's surface.

"Carried out for the first time were experiments to determine brightness, pressure and temperature in the atmosphere and on the surface of the planet on its day side," Tass said.

This was the second successful Soviet landing on the torrid surface of the bright planet. Venus 7 landed softly on the planet Dec. 15, 1970, and sent radio signals for 23 minutes before it was burned up or crushed in the heavy atmosphere.

Venus 8 was launched March 27 and by Russian calculations traveled more than 186 million miles before reaching the planet.

Tass said the Venus 8 probe had obtained data "on the nature of the rocks of the planet's surface layer" and results of the measurement are being processed.

MOMMY, I WANT THIS ONE—After viewing all the dogs up for auction at the dog pound Friday, David Day, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Day, 2600 Rosewood, decided on a German shepherd puppy. Another auction will be held again Monday at 1:30 p.m. If owners do not claim the dogs or they are not sold, their fate is death in the dog pound gas chamber.

Britain Starts Offensive Against 'Fanatical' IRA

Decision Comes After Bloodbath

BELFAST (AP)—Britain's administrator for Northern Ireland signaled the start of a new offensive against the Irish Republican Army on Saturday. He told British soldiers to "Go after the killers, the bomb makers and the fanatics who mastermind them."

Even before William Whitelaw issued his declaration, troops swept into known IRA hideouts and seized 76 guerrilla suspects in the aftermath of Friday's bombing bloodbath in Belfast that killed 18 persons and wounded another 130.

Whitelaw said the IRA bombers "showed by their cruel and callous actions yesterday that, quite without warning, they were prepared to kill, maim and destroy to get their own way."

Speaking on television to the people of Northern Ireland, Whitelaw said the guerrillas have proved they are determined to wreck Northern Ireland in order to gain their objective.

"They must fail. On behalf of Her Majesty's government, I tell you now, they will fail." Whitelaw's statement came while the British army was reported preparing to take the toughest measures so far in putting down the terrorists.

Shootings throughout the night raised the death toll to 18 since a score of bombs hit Belfast on Friday afternoon.

Seven of the victims were killed in gun battles that followed the bombings. Some of the shootings apparently were the work of reorganizing assassination squads.

The fatalities from the bombings and subsequent shootings raised to 461 the death count in the three years of Ulster's sectarian turmoil. Of the total, 102 were British soldiers.

An IRA source discounted the army's widespread search operation as a failure.

"The troops were tough but they have no chance of the sort of success they had in the first internment swoops last year. We are on our guard," the source said.

"He is standing by me now," the source said.

Whitelaw also conferred Saturday with leaders of the Unionist party, the Protestant-based group which controlled Ulster's Parliament until it was dissolved in March.

The British administrator told them, according to former Deputy Prime Minister John Andrews, that Britain would increase its troop strength in Ulster—already a record 17,000 men—and would step up recruiting for the 8,000-man Ulster Defense Regiment, a national guard outfit, and the police.

Belfast's center was bleak, as rain dampened empty streets, sealed off while army experts examined a suspected bomb-laden vehicle near a Woolworth store. There was no explosion.

Bill Aims To Lessen Monopolies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate antitrust chairman Philip A. Hart announced legislation Saturday aimed at breaking up U.S. monopoly power which he said costs consumers $55 billion to $60 billion a year.

Titled the "Industrial Reorganization Act," the bill would outlaw monopoly power and order reorganization plans for seven major U.S. industries including automobiles, chemicals, electronics, power and metals.

Hart said the bill is to be introduced Monday after 12 years of study by the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee under himself and the late Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

He said it is aimed not at conglomerates as such but at monopolies and oligopolies which he said inflate prices, reduce jobs and freeze out competitors.

Hart contended the bill would restore competition and free enterprise which he said are not being encouraged by President Nixon's price controls.

Besides outlawing monopoly power, the bill would create an Industrial Reorganization Commission to recommend restructuring of companies or industries with monopoly power.

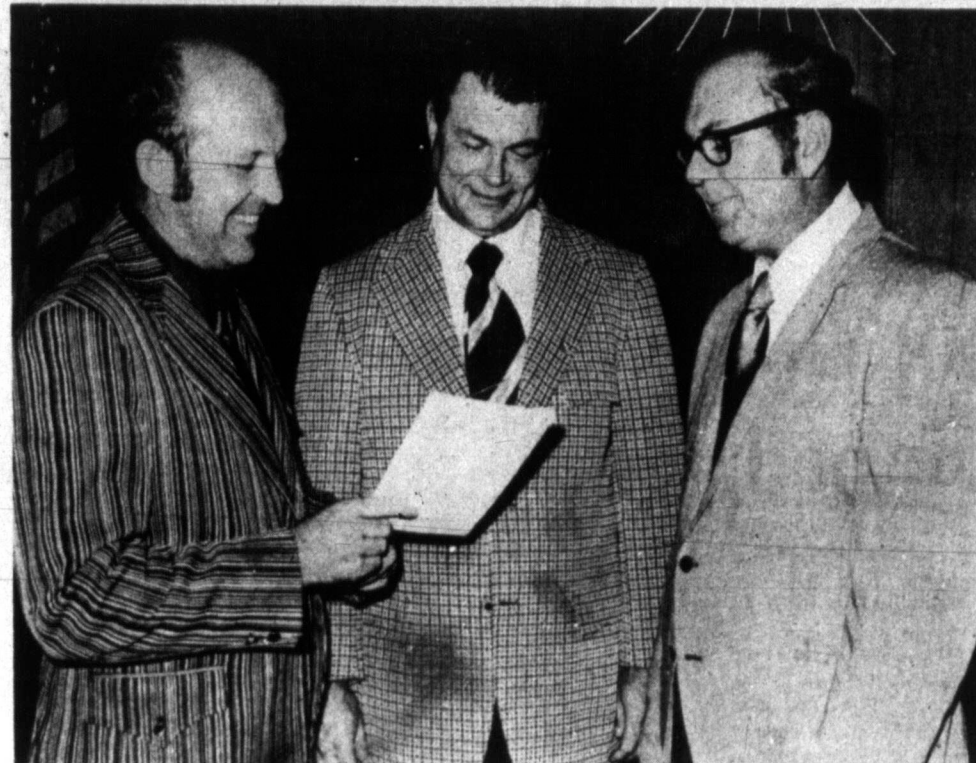

A separate new 15-judge Industrial Reorganization Court would be created to rule on the plans with broad powers to order corporations to break up into smaller companies, share technical information with competitors, modify contracts or take any other action the court rules necessary "to restore effective competition."

The commission would be directed to start with reorganization plans for the seven U.S. industries which Hart said research shows "have the greatest impact on the persistent inflation eating away at the nation and contribute most to the unemployment problem."

They are listed in the bill as chemicals and drugs, electronic computing and communication equipment, electrical machinery and equipment, energy, iron and steel, motor vehicles and nonferrous metals.

CANADIAN RIVER AT FLOOD STAGE

High And Low Bring More Moisture To Pampa Vicinity

By RAY BAXTER

"East was high, west was low, and where they met the rain was sweet!"

This paraphrase of an old saying explains the weather system that dumped nearly two inches of rain in Pampa area this week; even more in neighboring sections of Texas and New Mexico.

The rare system that made its last appearance some ten years ago was caused by that eastern high and the western low meeting over the High Plains pulling moisture up off the Gulf which turned to rain as it tried to surmount the hanging high.

The swollen Canadian River, rare running water marking its course across the Panhandle, was a foot above flood stage and was expected to raise the level in Lake Meredith by two feet even before it began to feel the runoff from Eastern New Mexico.

This predicted rise at the lake was 12 hours before the rushing waters spilling from Ute Lake at Logan, N.M. were due in the Canadian's banks.

Added to that, forecasters were standing by predictions of further heavy rains over the Eastern New Mexico Canadian River watershed through Sunday.

For most of the area neighboring Pampa, rains started last Sunday and continued intermittently through the week with some areas in the vicinity getting rainfall every day. This led to measurements from four to seven inches in most areas around Pampa and Amarillo.

With heavy rain still the program for watersheds to the west, the official forecast for Pampa calls for only a 20 per cent chance of rainfall in the immediate Pampa area through Monday. Despite the prospect of cloudy skies temperatures will be in the upper eighties both days sinking to the mid-sixties at night.

This does not preclude further rise of rivers and lakes in the High Plains area.

McGovern Challenges President To Debate

CUSTER, S.D. (AP)—Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern challenged President Nixon Saturday to a series of broadcast debates so the voters "can better decide on the direction to choose for the next four years."

"He's an old debater," McGovern said of Nixon. "He understands the importance of the voters having the chance to evaluate the candidate in face-to-face discussion."

McGovern said he hopes the President accepts the challenge "in the interest of an open and wholesome and vigorous campaign."

McGovern's challenge to the President, however, is widely expected to be rejected by the White House. Political debates are believed to be more helpful to challengers than to incumbents who are already well known.

Pollution Danger Decreases In East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heat continued to hang over much of the eastern portion of the country Saturday, but the normal weekend slackening of industrial activity eased the danger of air pollution emergencies and power shortages.

Temperatures were still in the high 80s and 90s in many places, but storms and decreased humidity in the Northeast made for movement in the hot air that had stagnated over the region for a week.

WTCC Nixes Inflationary Hike

By JANE KADINGO

A minimum wage of $2.20 an hour would be inflationary and increase unemployment, J. Pike Godfrey, executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said at a press conference Friday explaining the group's position on the issue presently before Congress.

He explained the WTCC feels such an increase in the minimum wage law would cause employers to feel some jobs are dispensable, working a hardship on those who need help the most, especially the agricultural and domestic workers. In the area of agriculture, he said, the immediate result would be a rise in food prices.

When the WTCC speaks on an issue, it is the result of a consensus of the membership, an "agreed upon stand," representing the entire spectrum of the economy, from the one-man business to the largest corporation.

This was explained by Claude W. Brown of McCamey, WTCC president, a banker and vice-president of the Board of Regents of McMurry College.

The press conference followed a quarterly meeting of the WTCC executive committee at the Coronado Inn. Brown explained the organization covered 132 counties, the largest area covered by any Chamber of Commerce in the United States. It contains one-third of the populations of the state, but two-thirds of the area.

Water is the number one concern of the 11-district chamber Brown pointed out, with mineral resources and tourist development following closely.

The WTCC has not taken a position on the lowering of all import tax on beef, Godfrey explained. The group is presently conducting a poll of its membership on that and other national issues, as well as the 14 amendments to the state constitution that will appear on the November ballot. Action will be taken by the WTCC at the mid-year meeting in Lubbock, Oct. 19-20.

Highlight of the mid-year meeting will be the conferring of cultural achievement awards to individuals or groups who have made a material contribution to area culture, he added.

A pre-legislature conference is planned for Dec. 1 and 2, at Wichita Falls. All "old and new" legislators, the governor-elect and others holding state office will be invited to give Chamber members a "look at what to expect from the legislature this next year," Godfrey stated.

A series of WTCC economic seminars will begin Aug. 24, at Sweetwater, with the first to deal with the textile industry. Godfrey explained the seminars investigate and study the industry from the farm to the market as an aid to Texans to take full economic advantage of what is produced in Texas.

"Our success is dependent on our ability to develop new job opportunities, solve rural decay and deal with urban problems," stated Godfrey, adding one aim of the WTCC is to hold inflation to a minimum "so our people can enjoy a quality of living."

He explained the Chamber's efforts on attracting new industry is toward creating jobs in a "managed and progressive manner to keep from getting in a mess," pointing out West Texas has four advantages in this area: space, natural gas, ample electricity and an excellent labor pool.

Brown said the WTCC budget for 1972-73 of $139,533.62, approved at the Pampa meeting, represents only one-tenth of what is expended since officers, chairmen, committee members and directors "pay their own way" in the volunteer organization.

"We feel we give the citizens of our 132 counties a service it would take a million dollars to duplicate under any other organization," Brown stated, adding the WTCC works with, not against, local Chambers.

A strong local Chamber is necessary," he said. "It does what is necessary locally; we do what is necessary for the area; and together we do more than either can do alone."

Local Youth Selected No.2 FFA

Charles W. Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Bowers, Pampa, is the number two Future Farmer in Texas.

A member of the Pampa chapter of the Future Farmers of America, young Bowers was runner-up for the Star rank of Lone Star Farmer—the highest honor FFA gives at the state level.

At the state meeting in Dallas July 12-14, he was selected from a field of 919 candidates. Lynn Upham, Olney, was named to the coveted number one spot.

In determining the recipient of the award and the runner-up, leadership, livestock and crop programs, judging and major shows are considered.

Frederick McClure, San Augustine, was elected state FFA president at the convocation. Phyllis Anne Rouse, Weimar, was named state FFA Sweetheart.

Also attending the forty-fourth annual FFA Convention were Bubba Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stevens, Merton Lease and Bob Skaggs, local FFA advisor.

Charles is in Alpine this week for an Area One and Two officers training school. He will serve as vice president of Area One Association of FFA for the coming year.

Price's Aide To Visit Area

Congressman Bob Price of Pampa announced Saturday his assistant, Charles Lanehart, will be at the American National Bank in McLean from 12 noon to 2:30 p.m. and at Carpenter's Cafe in Lefors from 3:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. August 4, to assist Gray County residents who may have problems with the Federal Government.

Everyone is welcome to visit with Lanehart at non-partisan, open to the public meeting. Congressman Price emphasized that the visits are arranged in an effort to bring the services of his office closer to the people of Northwest Texas.

Man Killed Near Car, Wife Kidnaped, Shot

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—State Police said they found Saturday the body of a woman reported kidnaped after her husband was shot to death early Friday while sleeping next to his car alongside Interstate 25. Police said Kathleen Sue Markle, 20, who had been living in Redondo Beach, Calif., had been shot several times.

The body was found about 1:45 p.m. by an area resident, Martin W. Heinsen, next to a fence along a dirt road near a dairy farm near the New Mexico 528-44 intersection just west of the Rio Grande. Officers said there were tire tracks near the body but they had been mostly obscured by Friday night rain.

Europe Unites Further

BRUSSELS (AP)—Nearly all of non-Communist Europe will fuse into a single commercial bloc—the biggest and most powerful in history—under a series of treaties signed Saturday by the Common Market and six West European countries.

They are Sweden, Austria, Iceland, Portugal, Switzerland and its little neighbor Liechtenstein. Finland is expected to sign as soon as a new government is organized.

The powerful bloc will become a major challenge to such nations as the United States, Japan and Canada.

Only Spain is omitted, but it too has special trading relations with the group. These are likely to be expanded when Gen. Francisco Franco relinquishes power.

Next Jan. 1, the 16 countries involved—17 if Liechtenstein is included separately—will begin lowering their tariffs against one another's manufacturers. By July 1, 1977 most of these have disappeared, creating a free trade zone of 300 million West Europeans who do 43 per cent of the world's export trade.

A car built in Italy, for example, no longer will be subject to duty in Sweden, and vice versa. But a U.S. car or one built in Canada or Japan, still will be subject to a tariff in any of the 17 countries.

Duties will be abolished not only on cars, but on nearly all industrial goods, including those that go into the making of the Italian car—a battery perhaps, or a set of tires. Since they will be cheaper, the car itself will be cheaper and a more formidable competitor in the rest of the world against cars from America or Japan.

Geoffrey Rippon, Britain's minister for European affairs, Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann of France and other Common Market leaders attended the brief but elaborate signature in Egmont Palace.

The action was taken Friday at a meeting of the State Welfare Board, which also approved a statewide food stamp program with test programs beginning Oct. 1 in Nueces County and Dec. 1 in Hidalgo County.

Board members were told that a proposed new regulation of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare says Texas must add illegal immigrants to its welfare rolls, or be subject to a cutoff of federal money.

This would be "a considerable drain" on state welfare funds, said State Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell. "This literally means that the entire assistance and medical assistance programs of the state of Texas will be in jeopardy as we do not believe that we can legally pay illegal aliens."

Vowell said an appeal to the proposed regulation has been made to federal officials and the Texas attorney general has been asked for legal guidance.
Under the food stamp program Texans who are considered eligible will present a special card to the post office in their community for food stamps, which may be exchanged at the grocery store.

Murder Case Charges Filed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Austin officers said Saturday night they have filed murder charges against a 19-year-old Ruston, La., youth in last Sunday's torch slaying of a young Massachusetts couple.

The complaint filed before Austin Municipal Judge Ronnie Earle accused David Matthews, 19, of Ruston, in the gun-torch slaying of Kathleen Matzilevich, 19, and her 21-year-old husband, Thomas, in Austin's City Park.

Matthews has not been arrested and a nationwide search is under way, officers said.

Group Wants Wallace

DALLAS (AP)—Hub Horton of Odessa, a leader in the American Party's Texas wing, said Saturday the party has almost half the signatures needed to put George Wallace's name on the November general election ballot.

The party needs 23,000 signatures on a petition asking that Wallace be placed on the ballot. Horton said, "I guess we have about 12,000 signatures. I just came from Fort Worth—where we are organizing a big petition push—and we are stepping up our efforts in the Dallas area, too."

The deadline may already have passed for acceptance of such petitions. The original deadline was June 30. This was extended by a Midland judge to Sept. 1, but the judge said that current court action could nullify his action.

Horton said, "We feel that there's a 90 per cent chance that Gov. George Wallace will be our presidential candidate."

Wallace aides have indicated that he does not at this moment plan to run anywhere as an American party candidate but has not absolutely closed the door to such action.

Horton pointed out that in a three-way race, the person getting anything above 33-3 per cent of the votes takes all the state's electoral college votes.

Vandalism Reported

Vandalism still held the most prominent spot on the police blotter as the weekend got in full swing.

A resident on Francis St. reported a bullet hole through a storm window; damage, $6. Residents in another section of the city returned last night to find their patio spotted with white obscene painting.

Police are investigating both incidents.

Running vandalism a close second for the past several days is a flurry of domestic difficulties ranging from the anxiety of neighbors to actual blows between mates.

A flurry of minor accidents resulted in considerable trauma to metal; none to people.

'Wine Revolution' Could Deplete World Stock

DALLAS (AP)—Wine expert Frederick S. Wildman Jr. predicts that if the current "Wine Revolution" keeps up, the world could run out of wine in nine years.

"It's not just American, you know," he said, "the craze for wine is growing in England, in Canada, everywhere people are turning to more sophisticated leisure experiences."

Wildman, whose family is in the wine-importing business, and who is a wine critic and authority himself, would be the last one to try and stop the trend.

"The wine industry will just have to modernize. It will have to engage in more efficient management techniques to prepare years in advance for a wallowing increase in consumption," he said.

Wildman, 43, speaks with a continental accent that reflects schooling in America and abroad, half a life in the United States, half a life as an emigre to Malaga, Spain. He has been the wine correspondent for "Gourmet" magazine for 10 years and has just authored a book called "A Wine Tour Through France."

Wildman on a recent stop in Dallas said his career is booming because the wine business is booming.

"Everyone wants to know more about wine, because it is sophisticated, it's civilized. American Express says so many people have expressed interest that they want to develop a tour of French vineyards around my book."

"Look at the boom of the mini-wines—anyone can get fruit wines and half-wines for a dollar at the grocery store now. They decide they like it and they try something a little more expensive. Then they're reading about wines. Then they're buying a wine kit and making their own," he said.

Referring to a recent wine auction which brought $9,200 for one jeroboam of 1929 Chateau Mouton Rothschild, he said, "That's P. T. Barnum stuff. But it shows the prestige people are willing to attach to wine."

"Certain levels of affluence go in for conspicuous ways of displaying it," he explained. "It comes to the point of having enough money to not go in for quantity but for quality."

Wildman insists the wine revolution is a healthy movement.

"It was the pressure of the worth ethic, speed and effort for its sake alone, that caused alcoholism, tension, ulcers. Perhaps it will help our culture to spend more time under some tree, contemplating the world with a tranquil sip of wine."

"It is a civilizing experience. Learning about wine is like developing a taste for music and art. We're just beginning to look for things of beauty with our new leisure time, not just rushing pell-mell into recreation," he said.

Wildman pulled at his moustache for emphasis and said, "Really, we've ignored our palates for much too long."

He noted that there are "several very nice California vineyards producing some interesting wines." He said the Spanish and Italian wines also are shaping up as very good buys for the budget wine sampler.

"One they learn what they like, it's a whole new experience."

Children's Sleepwear Offered In Catalogue

The broadest selection of flame-retardant sleepwear for infants and children yet offered is featured in JC Penney's fall and winter 1972 catalog. Copies of the book are available at the catalog sales desk in the JC Penney store here, according to Harvey Leiker, local manager.

Inclusion of seven pages of flame-retardant sleepwear in the catalog is a reflection of the Penney Company's overall goal of compliance with the flammability standard issued by the Department of Commerce in July 1971.

In line with the company's goal, Leiker said, "We are offering for the fall and winter 1972 line of infants' and children's sleepwear only merchandise that complies with the flammability standard. In addition, we are going as far as practical for the new line in providing flame-retardant children's sizes above 6X even though they are not covered by the standard."

Money is still coming in for the Eastern and Rapid City disasters. Thanks to all of you for helping Red Cross complete making our goal of $815.00. Work will continue in many places, rebuilding homes and furnishing them so that people can again be in their homes. This will be a gift of the American people. There is no repayment of disaster funds given to people.

Watch for the swim meet Friday evening and come to the city pool. Children of all ages may enter the swim meet and compete with children in their age bracket. Mrs. Carl Williams will be in charge of the meet and all of it is free. Come and let us have a good time and see how your child has improved his swimming this year.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Sunday, July 23, the 209th day of 1972. There are 161 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1914, Austria issued an ultimatum to Serbia after the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand. The dispute preceded the outbreak of World War I.

On this date: In 1828, William A. Burt of Mount Vernon, Mich., received a patent for his "typographer," which may have been the world's first typewriter.

In 1886, a New York saloon keeper, Steve Brodie, claimed he had jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge.

In 1889, in Richburg, Miss., John L. Sullivan beat Jake Kilrain in a 75-round bare knuckle fight for the world's heavyweight championship.

In 1945, Marshal Henri Petain was put on trial, charged with betraying France in World War II.

Sadat Affirms Russian Friendship

CAIRO (AP) — A confidant of President Anwar Sadat affirmed the importance of Soviet friendship to Egypt Friday but said the Arabs must focus their efforts on the United States in order to end the current state of no-war, no-peace in the Middle East.

Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, chief editor of semi-official newspaper Al Ahras, suggested that the Arabs can do this by imposing restrictions on the production of their petroleum at a time of growing American reliance on Middle East oil.

Heikal's remarks, made in his weekly editorial, came three days after Sadat announced he was sending home the Soviet military advisers to Egypt's armed forces.

Heikal reiterated his view that the only possible solution for the Middle East is "a political one which would include the use of military force at a certain point and at calculated risks." But he warned the Arabs not to expect the Russians to back them militarily at the risk of confrontation with the United States.

Shriners Live It Up

DALLAS (AP) — Tens of thousands of Shriners held their week-long 100th birthday celebration here this week and Dallas may never be the same again.

During their stay, mischievous Nobles of the Mystic Shrine —

— Strung a line of women's underwear across busy Commerce Street.

— Rode a big English tricycle through a hotel lobby, giving away Florida oranges.

— Startled waitresses at a motel by marching in for a "black tie" dinner wearing only the ties, their fezzes and bathing trunks.

— Booby-trapped North Park Shopping Center with a very thin string, roping together any shoppers who became entangled in it.

— Ordered a drink called Beautiful Ohio. Asked what it was, they said: champagne, beer and brandy. After two, you start singing Beautiful Ohio.

— "Sure, it's silly, but everyone should act like a kid once in a while," said Allen Gable from Florida.

— "We're here to have a good time," explained James Carpenter, an obstetrician from Michigan, as he fired his toy gun which shot out a flag reading: "Kiss me, I'm a dirty old man."

Police Seek Okay For Machine Guns

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Gary's chief of police is seeking permission to arm 60 of his men with machine guns because he says armed gangs battling for control of the illegal drug market pose grave threats to his men.

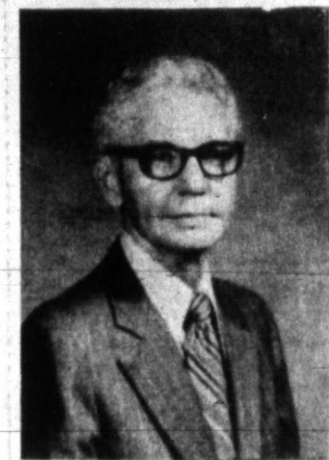

Thirteen persons have been killed in the drug war since December. Chief Charles Boone said, adding that policemen have received threats on their lives.

He said police have substantial evidence of a conspiracy to kill the chief of detectives, and to cripple a narcotics investigator.

Boone criticized courts for releasing under low bonds pushers and others involved and using what he said were technicalities in the law to reinstate fixed policemen.

Boone said he believes a few officers are involved with the gangs and one may have tipped off a gang about location of a rival who was gunned down recently as he walked from the Gary police station.

D&D Club To Hear Landman

"A Petroleum Landman" will be the subject when John F. Hopkins, Cabot Land Department manager, addresses the Desk and Derrick Club.

The meeting is set for 7 p.m. Monday at the Coronado Inn.

Hopkins' first exposure to the oil and gas business was a part-time junior clerk in the geological department of a major company during summer vacations and while attending high school in his native Oklahoma.

Later he worked as an oil scout prior to entering landwork in 1949. He joined Cabot at Pampa in June, 1954 as a landman. Two years later he was named district landman and in May, 1970, he was appointed to his present position.

Hopkins is a member of the Panhandle Association of Petroleum Landmen and a charter member of the American Association.

Youth Center Wrap-Up

SCHOOL SWIM LESSONS—Although all the summer swim lessons are filled up except the Jr. and Sr. lifesaving, we have now finalized the new swim lessons schedule for the 1972-73 school year. This schedule is complete now for August thru December.

As usual the swim classes will meet in the afternoons after school is out either from 4-5 or 5-6 p.m. Instruction in each class will last for 10 meeting dates which will consist of a time period of 2½ weeks. Mrs. Ruth Carter, our own resident instructor, will teach the lessons.

Class can be enrolled in right now so parents should check the schedule below and come and register. All classes are free to Center members or $4.00 per class for non-members. You do not have to be a member to take the swim lessons, but memberships are always available.

WOMEN'S EXERCISE CLASS—Many of our women have been asking when the exercise and swim class will resume. The first scheduled meeting of the new school year will be on Aug. 21 at 9:30 a.m. At this time an exercise class will be held for approximately 40 minutes, during which time you will exercise to recording routines. At 9:40 a.m. the pool is open to all women who wish to participate in an open swim time. This swim period lasts until 11:30 a.m. Classes meet each Monday and Friday.

Any woman who is interested in this type of activity should make plans to start on Aug. 21. Each person must be a Youth Center member, which costs $5.00 for six months. We do have a baby sitting service available, so bring the children and for a nominal fee, we will take care of them.

SUMMER SWIM LESSONS—Although almost all of our classes are full in enrollment, we are still taking alternates. If someone goes on vacation or becomes ill during that time, we call the alternates in order to refill the classes.

You may call in to have your name put on an alternate list at 665-2012 from 1-5 or 7-10 p.m.

We do have some openings left in the Jr. and Sr. lifesaving course which will be taught by Mrs. Leota Cox on July 31-Aug. 11. Mrs. Cox is our former resident water safety instructor. Lifesaving for juniors is open to those who are 11 years of age and senior lifesaving for 15 years olds and up.

The full schedule for the summer months is as follows:

MEMBERSHIPS
Participation at the Center can be arranged through a daily fee or a membership plan. The best situation is the membership plan which allows you full use of all the facilities excluding the health facility and lets you take free swim lessons throughout the year. However, if you do not want to become a member you may pay 50 cents for students or 75 cents for adults with children paying 35 cents.

The two membership plans available are the individual one and family. The individual plan is sold to persons 3 years of age or older and costs only $5.00 for six months or $8.00 per year. The family membership which includes all members of the immediate family costs only $12.00 for six months or $20.00 a year.

Ecological Eagerness Could Curtail Electrical Energy

Ecological groups must not go too far in their anti-pollution campaigns or the curtailment of electrical energy will halt the nation's progress. W.T. Seitz of Amarillo, division operating engineer for Southwestern Public Service Co., told Pampa Kiwanians Friday at their noon luncheon.

While Texas and the Panhandle area have not been hit and have plenty of electric power, Seitz said, the present energy supply nationwide is far short of demand.

Nuclear power generation, he added, seems to be the only solution to power generation without pollution.

Seitz was critical of the federal government approach to regulations relating to power plant location and design.

"We need only one government agency, not nineteen, to approve locations and design," Seitz said. "He added that all future indications point to a need for more power, not less, to take care of our social responsibilities."

Friday was wedding anniversary guests day. Mrs.

Harold Barrett and Mrs. Tex DeWeese were special guests of the club.

Other guests included Dean Herring, a former Division VI lieutenant governor, and Bartley Dowell, incoming lieutenant governor.

Ford Wants Price Hike On Vehicles

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co., like its competitors, has asked the government to approve price hikes to offset costs of extra safety and emissions items required by federal law.

The company estimated its price boost on the forthcoming 1973 models at an average of $92, or 2.2 per cent over its car and truck line.

As conditions stand now, General Motors has asked for $90, or 1.9 per cent to recover the costs of the government-ordered items.

Chrysler originally asked for a $180 increase, but later modified its request to $110 a vehicle.

American Motors, smallest of the Big Four, asked for $78 for emissions and safety items and an additional 2.5 per cent to cover increased production and materials costs.

AMC put no dollar figure on its package, but industry sources said it would run about $150, or 5 per cent per car.

Thus, the Ford, GM and Chrysler requests before the Price Commission deal only with costs which the firms say they acquired in putting additional safety and emissions items on the 1973 cars which will be coming to the marketplace in a few weeks.

Court Clears Busing Appeal

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An appeals court has cleared the way for appeal of a desegregation plan which could result in the busing of 40,000 children in Detroit schools this fall.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, meeting in extraordinary summer session, also rejected a challenge to the busing of school children in Pontiac, Mich.

It delivered both decisions this week.

A two-judge panel ordered a stay in a U.S. District Court order that would have forced Detroit schools to purchase 295 buses by 5 p.m. Thursday. The decision followed a 95-minute hearing on the issues.

Judges Harry Phillips and George Edwards set Aug. 24 as the date for hearing an appeal of a desegregation plan issued by U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth in Flint, Mich.

The buses Roth ordered bought would have been used for implementing the first phase of an integration plan he ordered for Detroit and 52 suburban school districts.

An appeal of the plan was made possible Thursday when Roth issued certificates defining appealable questions. The circuit court had refused to consider an appeal pending definition of such issues.

Among appealable questions Roth listed were, "That a Detroit-only desegregation plan would be inadequate," and "That a metropolitan area cross-busing remedy is necessary."

The Circuit Court, in a three-page order, said there is an appealable question in the case "which never has been decided by this court or the Supreme Court." It did not specify the legal question.

RECOVERY ROOM NURSE—Mrs. Helena Stubbs, above, is one of the Registered Nurses who serve in the Recovery Room at Highland General Hospital. Patients are taken to the room immediately following surgery.

Surgery Patients Rest In Recovery

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in the series of weekly articles, prepared by the public relations department of Highland General Hospital, to acquaint the public with hospital officials, employees, department procedures and the many services offered to the people of Gray County.

By JUDITH KITTO

Use of the Recovery Room is an effective way to give the best possible care to patients immediately following surgery while the patient is waking up from the anesthesia.

Equipped to handle six patients, the Recovery Room is located near the operating room so the patients need not be moved a great distance while still under the anesthetic.

The anesthetist goes with the patient into the Recovery Room where he informs the Registered Nurse on duty as to the operative reactions that are to be looked for in the patient while he is waking. One objective of the Recovery Room is to strengthen the moral of the patients and relatives by assuring them that the patient will be under the constant care of Registered Nurses with all the necessary supplies and equipment at hand.

The Recovery Room provides the patients with better immediate post-operative care as well as lessens the confusion in the general nursing areas.

The Registered Nurse on duty watches each patient closely, checking his vital signs, blood pressure, pulse, etc., and making sure that the patient has a clear airway at all times. The R.N. encourages the patient to wake up by rubbing his neck and shoulders or by exercising his legs. It is her job to give the patient competent care and to make him as comfortable as possible.

Charts are kept on all patients in the Recovery Room with all pertinent information such as doctor's orders, medications given, pulse rate of the patient, his blood pressure, respiration, etc.

AND PROUD OF IT

'Banacek' Is Polish

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television has come up with an antidote to all those Polish jokes: "Banacek."

T. Banacek, as portrayed by George Peppard in this new NBC television series, is Polish and proud of it.

People mispronounce his name so often—it's Ban-a-check—that his chauffeur suggests he change it. The driver says, "You don't look Polish. Nobody'd know it." Banacek answers: "I would."

Banacek is a Boston-based modern day bounty hunter, a man who specializes in "restorations." He recovers people and things that are lost for a cut of the insurance money. He lives in a Beacon Hill townhouse, collects antiques and drives a 1941 Packard Darrin.

At the Los Angeles Coliseum, where a football sequence was being filmed, Peppard said, "The Poles are a minority and when you do something on a minority you represent all minorities in a way. I don't think we should forget we're a land of immigrants."

"Banacek" is a twist upon the traditional whodunit. The essence of each episode is how did-it-happen. In the football episode a pro ball carrier disappears on the field under a pile of tacklers. When they get up only the carrier's helmet and the ball are in sight.

"We give no clues because if we gave just one you could figure out the solution," he said. "It can be figured out. It's absolutely logical and feasible."

"The thing that pleases me most is the individualism Banacek displays," he said. "The fact that he likes older things rather than new things. The objects we surround ourselves with reveal a great deal about a man."

"Banacek is an individual. Call him a loner, a bounty hunter, he's still individual and independent and distinct. He's warm and humorous. I'm drawn to that because of all the cold-eyed men of steel I've played."

"Producers tend to typecast an actor," he said. They go looking for someone they think is most like the role they want to cast. Most people don't re-

Miss Judy Brown Becomes Bride Of Joe Ross Rogers

Miss Judy Brown became the bride of Joe Ross Rogers of Amarillo in a double-ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 22, in the Central Baptist Church, Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Brown, north of Pampa, are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Rogers of Amarillo.

THE CEREMONY
 Dr. J. P. Dane of the Portland Avenue Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, Okla., uncle of the bridegroom, officiated at the candlelight service.

Mrs. A. C. Malone, organist, played "Joy" by Bach and traditional wedding music. "Bridal Chorus" was used for the processional, and "All Hail The Power of Jesus Name" as the recessional.

Miss Jan Autry sang "Speak Softly, Love" and "His Way, Mine."

Setting for the ceremony included rainbow-arched candelabra with white tapers and greenery, and urn arrangements of white gladioli and pink mums.

Family pews were marked with large bows.

THE BRIDE
 The bride was given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I" vowal. She wore formal gown styled with a fitted bodice, Victorian neckline and full sheer bishop sleeves. The floor-length skirt fell from an empire waistline and swept into a chapel train. The collar, sleeves, cuffs and bodice were accented with lace appliques embroidered with seed pearls. Wide lace and pearls edged the dress and train. The gown was designed by the bride and her mother.

Her fingertip veil of illusion, also made by her mother, was edged with lace and pearls, and she carried a Colonial nosegay of pink roses, daisies and baby's breath.

ATTENDANTS
 Mrs. Sam Thompson of Hartley served as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Janie Rogers of Houston, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Kim Harris of Canyon.

All wore identical gowns of pink organza, fashioned with empire waists, low necklines, short puffed sleeves and large bows at the back of the gowns. They wore pink veils and pearl chokers and fresh flowers in their hair. They carried baskets filled with pink and white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Terri Brown of Arlington, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a gown identical to those of the bridal attendants and carried a nosegay of daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Kim Brown of Arlington, niece of the bride, and Mark Brown of Arlington, nephew of the bride, were candlelighters. Miss Brown wore a gown identical to those of the bridesmaids.

Joe C. Rogers of Amarillo served as his son's best man. Jerry Bigham of Canyon and Tim Bundy of Amarillo were groomsmen. Ushers were Jimmie Brown of Arlington and Rickey Brown of Pampa, both brothers of the bride. Austin Dane of Oklahoma City, Okla., cousin of the bridegroom, and Tom Collins of Amarillo.

RECEPTION
 For the reception in the church parlor, the serving table was decorated with crystal candelabra with pink tapers and baskets of pink and white daisies. The four-tiered pedestal cake, decorated with pink roses, was topped with a white satin bell and pink flowers.

Mrs. Jerry Bigham of Canyon and Mrs. Eddie South of Pampa presided at the punch bowl and coffee service. Cake was served by Mrs. Sharron Brown of Pampa and Mrs. Jimmie Brown of Arlington, and Miss Beth Watson of Pampa registered the guests. Others in the houseparty were Mmes. Margie Turner, Rubye Ruddick, Clara Jane Setton, Delora Mackie and A. H. McPeak.

For the wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride wore a pink knit crepe dress with gold accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and white daisies.

The couple will be at home at 2607-6th Avenue, Canyon.

AFFILIATIONS
 The bride is a senior student at West Texas State University, Canyon, where she is majoring in elementary education and serving as a student secretary. She is a member of Chi Omega social sorority, and Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority.

The bridegroom, a junior student at WTSU, is majoring in psychology and business. He is a member of Psi Chi, honorary psychology fraternity, and is employed by an Amarillo clothing store.

Elizabeth Anderson Wed To Richard Eugene Cree

Miss Elizabeth Marie Anderson of Lexington, Ky., and Richard Eugene Cree of Portland, Ore., were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, July 22, in the Park Methodist Church of Lexington, Ky.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Anderson of Lexington, and Mr. and Mrs. George Benson Cree, 1912 Charles, Pampa, are the bridegroom's parents. The bridegroom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Thetford of Dallas and the late Mr. and Mrs. G.B. Cree Sr. of Pampa.

THE CEREMONY
 Rev. Thomas Ditto, Methodist minister, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Martin Click was organist, and Miss Esther Rupert sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candelabra with white tapers and arrangements of white gladioli, Fuji mums and white Killian daisies provided the setting for the service. Completing the decor were woodwardia fern, emerald leaves and jade leaves.

THE BRIDE
 Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory imported organza, fashioned with an empire silhouette, high Duchess neckline and Victorian sleeves, embroidered with Alencon lace appliques. Panels of lace extended from the shoulders down the A-line skirt, designed with a full chapel train.

Her lace-bordered chapel-length mantilla fell from a lace shell, crested with lace appliques and accented with a petite satin bow. She carried a white Bible, topped with a cascade arrangement of white sweetheart roses, phalaenopsis, orchids, stephanotis, white miniature carnations, baby's breath, and ivy, accented with white streamers.

ATTENDANTS
 Miss Kim McCourt of Pittsburgh, Pa., served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Paula Wisenbaker and Miss Becky Sorrels, both of Dallas, and Miss Kay Wathew of Lexington, Ky., cousin of the bride.

The maid of honor wore a gown of rosy-pink linen, styled with a scoop neckline and short sleeves highlighted by double ruffles and edged with white Venice lace. The raised waistline was encircled with lace and the A-line skirt was floor length.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns in hues of aqua, mint and lilac. All carried white wicker baskets filled with Marguerite daisies, miniature carnations, sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

George B. Cree III served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Harold Adair Cree, the bridegroom's twin brother, R. Lawrence Franklin of Dallas, James H. Anderson Jr. of Lexington, Ky., brother of the bride, and John L. Kuhn of Austin.

MOTHERS
 The bride's mother wore a blue chiffon floor-length dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pink print gown of silk chiffon with hot pink accessories.

Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION
 For the reception in Spindletop Hall, Lexington, the three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue rosettes. The bridegroom's cake was chocolate.

Mrs. Leslie Green and Miss Darilynn Roan, cousin of the

Lockridge-Franklin Vows Exchanged In White Deer

Vows were exchanged at 8 p.m. Friday, July 21, in the White Deer United Methodist Church by Rebecca Melanie Lockridge and Jerry Dale Franklin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Royce Lockridge of White Deer, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Orville Franklin also of White Deer.

THE CEREMONY
 Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Marvin Roark. Mrs. Jerry O'Neal, organist, played traditional wedding music. Miss Janice Ryals sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Color My World."

Decorations for the wedding included two seven-branched candelabra and a large arrangement of pink and white flowers.

THE BRIDE
 Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of miramist over satin. The fitted bodice, trimmed with lace, was styled with a Victorian neckline of Venice lace embroidered with seed pearls. The leg-of-mutton sleeves, trimmed with lace, ended at the wrists with a wide band of the same lace and a wide ruffle. The waistline was trimmed with lace appliques, Venice lace and seed pearls.

The floor-length skirt that formed a sweep at the back was fashioned with a 12-inch ruffle at the bottom. The gown was made by the bride's maternal grandmother.

Her two-tiered veil of illusion, edged with lace, and accented with lace appliques, fell from a lace crown, embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Quotable Quotes

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week.

"Only a female chauvinist would say that no matter how good a man's record—on peace, on women—women must support a female opponent just because she is a woman." Women's lib leader Betty Friedan.

"Once again Betty Friedan is exercising her right to be wrong. I never asked anyone to vote for me solely on the ground that I am a woman." Rep. Bella Abzug.

"We will all, male and female alike, be able to look back and perceive the female chauvinist pig of 1972 for what she really was—all bristle and pigskin on the outside, mostly hogwash on the inside." Writer Shana Alexander.

"Being the wife of an elected official was a diminishing position. You get a tremendous amount of acclaim and accolade without doing much of anything yourself." Mary Scranton, wife of former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton.

"I smile but I don't answer. You are not a private individual once your family is in politics." Carolyn Barrow, wife of Prime Minister Errol Barrow of Barbados, on how to answer a tough question.

The serving table was covered by a pink cloth with a floor-length overlay of pink nylon net accented with tiny pink satin bows and pink rosebuds. The centerpiece was a bouquet of several shades of pink flowers in a white milkglass bowl. Refreshments of cookies, nuts and homemade pink mints, shaped like rosebuds and hearts, were served.

Miss Vicki Maddox presided at the crystal punch bowl. Hostesses were Mmes. Leroy Allen, Irvin Brown, Clarence Kaiser, Elmer Nichols, Neal McBroom, John Chaney Sr., W. Barnett, Walt Shair, Bill Thompson, H.M. Coday, Ralph Fox Jr., Clyde Horner, Lee Parks, J.C. Jarvis, Gary Gortmaker, Bill Moreland, Roy Paul Thurmond, Ethel Mae Thurmond, Clyde Tidwell, Homer Lester, Jackie Cooper, Bill Price and Vernon Baker.

I do admire those who have all the answers. I know women who even have answers to questions children ask.

That isn't so difficult, frankly, as most questions from children can be put off with stock phrases. There is almost nothing that can't be handled with:

1—"Yes, you may—when you're 21."

2—"Of course, you can buy it—as soon as you can change this 10-dollar-bill into a 50."

3—"NOT while I'm eating!"

self-styled revolutionists have to look so revolting?

Shouldn't Arthur Koestler's excellent book, "The Case of the Midwife Toad," be required reading for almost everybody over the age of 12? (Surely nobody believes this is just another mystery story?)

Are we ever going to rid ourselves of cliches and stereotype thinking? (Such as Mexicans wear big straw hats and take siestas. Latin Americans do only one thing well—overthrow governments.)

Will the majority of drivers ever understand that possessing a license is a privilege and not a right?

Does anyone remember what children put on bedroom walls before Peace and Love posters were printed?

Why do most women lose only a left earring?

Isn't there anybody else old enough to remember when fried chicken was available only during the summer months?

Is there ever going to be a Maria Montez film festival? Now that vests are once again fashionable, why will the paunchy men buy them first? Is there a rule that the

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Turner, Sam Thompson

Marriage vows were repeated at 7 p.m. Friday, July 14, in the Central Baptist Church by Jeanne Elaine Turner and Sam Bernard Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Turner, 1921 Evergreen, Pampa, are the bride's parents. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of Hartley.

THE CEREMONY

A musical prelude of "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "Air" from Handel's "Water Music," was played by Mrs. Charles Parr, organist. "Trumpet Voluntary" by Clark was used as the processional and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach was used for the recessional.

Don L. Turner Jr., accompanied by Mark Turner on the guitar, sang "Wedding Song." Mark Turner, accompanying himself on the guitar, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The Rev. Bryan Halliburton, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring service, with the rings designed and made by the bride.

The church was decorated with large arched candelabra, entwined with salal foliage, and seven-branched candelabra also decorated with salal foliage. Flanking the candelabra were large Grecian urns filled with arrangements of white mums and white gladioli. Floor arrangements of white gladioli completed the setting.

THE BRIDE

The bride was given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I" vowal. She was attired in a gown of white eyelet embroidery over satin, which she designed and made. The fitted bodice was styled with a square neckline, edged in lace embroidered with seed pearls, and the long full sleeves ended at her wrists in wide cuffs. Her full, gathered, floor-length skirt was styled with a deep flounce. The waistline was accented with a lace-trimmed satin sash, embroidered with seed pearls, that ended in the back with a large bow and streamers.

Her headpiece was a white satin bow with satin rolled-ribbon streamers, entwined with satin roses. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, white daisies and baby's breath.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Denise Beard of Tulsa, Okla., served as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Molly Malone of Canyon, Miss Judy Brown of Pampa and Miss Debbie Harris of Pampa. Miss Pamela Thompson of Canyon was junior bridesmaid.

All wore identical floor-length gowns designed with yellow-checked gingham skirts, accented with a wide bias ruffle—a self-sash encircling the empire waistlines, and bodices of white eyelet embroidery, featuring low round necklines and short puffed sleeves.

Baptist Women Meet For Study

SKELLYTOWN (Spl.)—The Ladies Missionary group of the First Baptist Church met in Fellowship Hall. The meeting opened with Mrs. Walt Shair reading the prayer calendar and giving a special prayer.

Mrs. Ethel Mae Thurmond taught the lesson, "Mission of the Church," assisted by Mrs. M.L. Mills and Mrs. Myrtle Thompson.

Mrs. J.C. Jarvis, president, led the business meeting. The ladies made new curtains for the Baptist Cabin at Panfork, near Wellington.

white daisies and yellow-checked gingham flowers made by the bride, highlighted with avocado streamers. Their headpieces were fashioned to match the nosegays.

Johanna Thompson and John David Thompson, both of Hartley, were ringbearers. Johanna Thompson wore a gown like that of the bridal attendants and carried similar nosegay.

Andy Sherrod of Canyon served as best man, and groomsmen were Hank Gill of Happy, Clarke Shrauner of Hartley and James Tucker of Wheeler. Jeff Thompson of Amarillo was junior groomsmen.

Serving as ushers were Bobby Thompson of Amarillo, Allen Thompson of Dalhart and Bruce Thompson of Hartley, all brothers of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the church parlor, Johnny Beard of Tulsa, Okla., provided guitar music. The serving table was decorated with candelabra holding four yellow tapers, entwined with an arrangement of fresh yellow daisies and avocado trim.

The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow roses, was topped with satin wedding bells. Jamie and Millie Beard of Tulsa, Okla., cousins of the bride, presided at the silver punch bowl. Lodema Cole served the cake, and guests were registered by Sherry Fulcher. Others in the houseparty were Mmes. L.E. Harris, Paul Baker, Ralph Baxter and Hal Brown.

For the wedding trip to Lake Kemp at Vernon, the bride wore a blue and white pants ensemble. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live at Hartley, where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride, a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School, is a senior student at West Texas State University, Canyon, where she is majoring in elementary education. She is a member of Chi Omega, social sorority, and Kappa Pi, national art fraternity.

The bridegroom, a 1968 graduate of Hartley High School, is a senior student at WTSU, majoring in business agriculture. He is a member of Kappa Alpha, social fraternity. He will graduate in December.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial events included a lingerie shower in canyon, hosted by Jody Beavers, Janis Sims, Debbie Harris, Beth Watson and Kim Harris, all sorority sisters of the bride.

Hostesses for a miscellaneous shower in Hartley were Mmes. W.L. Bryant, R.G. Shrauner, P.G. Bryant, Leroy Hughes, Milton Peden, Galen Cooksey, H.E. Baker, John R. Frantz and Harold Hughes.

A shower in Pampa was hosted by Mmes. Hal Brown, Paul Baker, W.C. Bass, J.B. Fife, Ralph Baxter, Nolan Cole, Austin Riddick, A.H. McPeak, Bill Fulcher, Bryan Halliburton, R.C. Narron, Dan Johnson, Bill Ellis, L.E. Harris, J.E. Flynt, Earl Murphy and L.B. Paden.

Mrs. L.E. Harris and Miss Debbie Harris honored the bride and her attendants with a luncheon.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Special guests were Mrs. Mildred Beard of Tulsa, Okla., grandmother of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wiseman of Hartley, grandparents of the bridegroom.

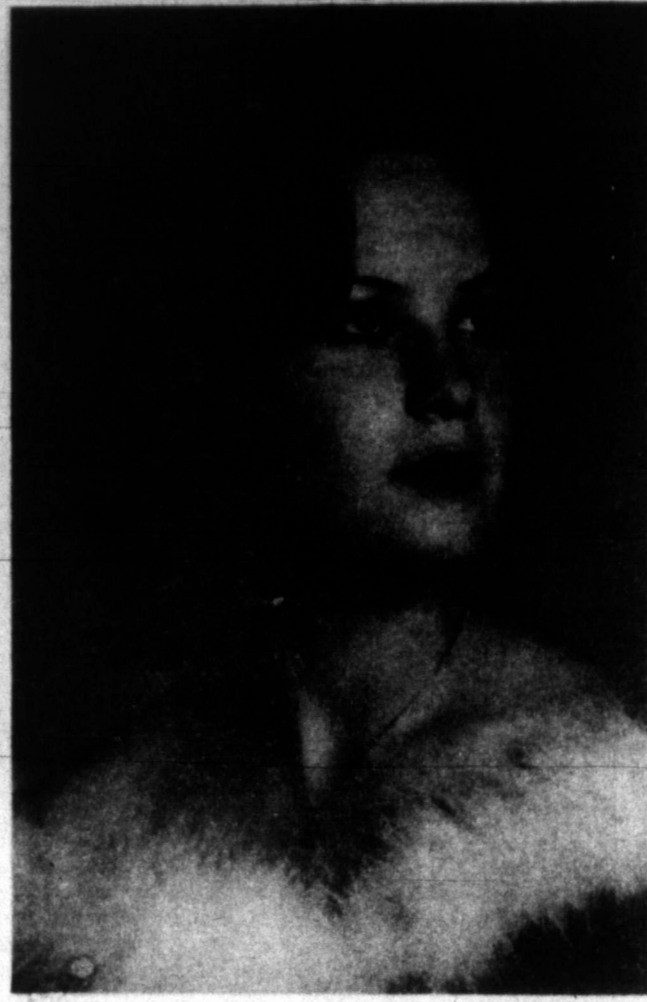

Other out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. B.L.

MRS. SAM BERNARD THOMPSON
...nee Jeanne Elaine Turner

Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Allen Thompson of Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ryan and Jason of Houston; Col and Mrs. Jack R. Wallace of Wichita Falls; Miss Deborah Shook of Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Sherrod of Canyon; and Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Buzbee of Mineral Wells.

Engaged

Mrs. Roberta Watson, 1231 S. Finley, and H.G. Watson, 2118 N. Banks, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathy Lynnett, to Bruce Lee Lusher, son of Mr. and Mrs. D.J. Lusher, 1821 Fir. The wedding is planned for Aug. 26, in the First Presbyterian Church. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Pampa High School. The prospective bridegroom, a 1972 honor graduate of Pampa High School, is employed by Fish Construction Company of Phillips. He plans to attend the University of Tulsa, Tulsa, Okla., in the Fall.

Shower Given In Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN (Spl.)—Mrs. T.L. Gorton, the former Betty Jo Knutson, was honored with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Bob Fender. Hostesses were the women's department of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints. Guests attending or sending gifts were Mmes. T.L. Gorton, Y.A. Knutson, Evelyn Ruby, P.H. Renfro, Richard White, Roy Lynn McClendon, L.E. Thomas, Le Roi Ogden, Jack Hill, Stan Friend, Bob Fender, Tom Veal, Tommy Owens, Tom Schultz, Orion Hulsey, Judy Hulsey, Jimmy Fox, Twila Nunn, J.D. A summer alphabet:
A is for Apple. Give one to your husband with a note saying, "I love you to the core."
B is for Boys, Bicycles, Bottlecaps, Beach and Bedlam.
C is for Cushy—what a mother's job is not when surrounded by B's.
D is for Doldrums and I hope you're not in them.
E is for Effort, as in, "With Effort you can stay out of the Doldrums."
F is for Food. It flows in a constant stream out the back door now that school is out.
G is not much different than B. G is for Girls, Gritty floors, Grass stains, Granola.
H is for HELP! A sound made frequently by parents.
I is for I. The pronoun most used by summertime mothers. As in "I can't stand it any more!"
J is for June, July and Joy at the thought that September and School is only one month away.
K is for Kids. Kids are small people who wander through the house looking for mislaid pockpicks.
L is for Lots of Kids. By July 10 even one kid is Lots.
M is for Miracle and you might as well keep praying for one.

N is for Nothing—the answer kids give when asked what they're doing.
P, Q, R and S: Peace, Quiet, Relaxation, Serenity. Lots of luck.
T and U: Tight and Upright. Ask your friendly neighborhood teen-ager for definitions.
V is for Valiant. Valiant is a woman with a station wagon filled with kids and doughnuts.
W stands for Water, Wow, Watch out!
X is for Xochimilco, a resort in Mexico. (Why don't we plan a mother's convention?)
Y is for Yogurt. Yes, I wish I'd eaten more last winter so I'd look better in this bathing suit.
Z is for Zombi. What a woman resembles after making all that potato salad for the family reunion.

Women should have equal rights, but I think there's a think men should do. Women should not lose our place as women." Mary Hedrick, sheriff of Tucker County, W. Va.

Kadingo Lingo

By Jane Kadingo

THIS HAS BEEN A WEEK of disillusionment and value evaluation...disillusionment that the back-biting, half-truths and what I call "hate campaigning" of young girls be given credence and defended by those in charge, be aided and abetted, in my opinion, by at least two adults, and sanctioned by the silence of the sponsoring organization. It has raised in my mind the question of the worth of adult-sponsored youth activities if the purpose is only to keep the children busy or give them pleasure, without regard to teaching moral values. There has been much printed in the last few years about the "decay of morality" in our society, most of it aimed at sexual morality. I am as much, if not more so, concerned with the "decay of morality" in our society, most of it aimed at sexual morality. I am as much, if not more so, concerned with the "decay of morality" in regard to the teaching and upholding of the values of honesty, integrity, fair play and concern for the dignity and rights of other people. I bristle at those who say ours is a "sick" society, but I can't help but believe there is something wrong with a society that can show such great concern for equal rights for all, yet socially (I do not mean legally) do so little to uphold the moral right of a person to face his accusers. By sanctioning back-biting-- by our actions, or lack of action--are we not saying to our children: "The way to get what you want is to rundown, belittle and attack the character of another?" I have seen this happen time and time again and have found that when the accuser is made to face the accused, he will not say "eyeball to eyeball" what he has been saying behind the accused's back. If the moral values of adults are but spoken words, not backed by actions, what can we expect of our children?

OUR NEWSPAPER PHOTOGRAPHER, John Ebling, is always experimenting. Before doing his picture story on Father's Day, he experimented with my 10-year-old daughter, Nickita, to see what kind of response he would get from young children. He asked her to say what her father meant to her, then left the room so she would be free to record on tape her true and undirected opinion. Here is Nickita's tribute to her father: "My daddy is awfully sweet. He fixes my bicycle when it is broken. He practices baseball with me. He is sweet, kind and gentle. He likes our dog, Turk, and our kittens and cat. I love my daddy so. He's a good fella. He means everything to me." Without the other, I think the words that any father would feel are pretty special are: "He's a good fella. He means everything to me."

WHEN ANNE AND I returned from Dallas last week, Anne, with sisterly concern, asked, "How is your hand, John?" (It had been injured prior to our departure.) "Oh, it's welled up," was John's casual reply. (I had to do a double-take on that one!)

DUE TO BEING INVOLVED in other matters, and due to being in and out of town...and, I might as well admit, because I'm not the most well-organized person in this world, I forgot to give the answer to the Puzzler, printed July 2. The Puzzler was: "What five figures, add up to 14?" It was one of those tricky ones again. Please note that it does not say five numbers; it says five figures, and how the figures are used is the trick. The answer: five ones, used as eleven, one, one, one.

MATERIAL ON THE EQUAL RIGHTS amendment has been arriving, and I have been trying to digest it, and figuring how to present it. I believe I will start with information on an excerpt from the Congressional Record, March 26, 1970, which is a "memorandum" to the House of Representatives by the Honorable Martha W. Griffiths of Michigan. It gives history and background which may interest you.

I plan to present, in the coming weeks, as much as I can of the material I have received. I plan to write the leading opponent in Congress and the leading proponent in Congress for a list of and the reasons for, their views, with which to conclude the series. I do hope that those who are interested in learning about the amendment in order to vote intelligently in November will clip these articles to review at the end. It is impossible to present in a one-column, condensed version, the major issues at stake.

The Business and Professional Women, locally and nationally, are supporting the amendment. Mrs. H. M. Tobolowsky of Dallas, one of the leading proponents in Texas, has been asked by the Pampa club to appear here. It is my understanding that she will hold an open forum on the amendment, in Pampa, Sept. 28 and 29. I do hope both men and women will take the opportunity of attending this meeting.

AS YOU READ THIS, the Kadingo clan will be in Florida, where we plan, as a family, to visit friends and Disney World. This will be the first flight for the children, an exciting occasion.

LATE LATE SHOW
JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — It was after 10 o'clock one morning when police were called by a movie patron who said he was locked inside a theatre.

The man told police he had gone to the movies at 8:30 and had fallen asleep. Police directed the man, who had phoned from the ticket booth inside the theatre, to a door which could easily be opened from the inside.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

SUNDAY, JULY 23
Your birthday today: Consolidation, increase of resources run in alternate phases during this busy year. Intuition leads the way thru midyear reorganization and changes in your daily living. Today's natives somehow manage to please those of the opposite sex more than their own.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: There's nothing to be gained by scattering time and money by traveling just to be on the move. Stay near home and make yourself useful.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: A Sunday in an old pattern promises nostalgia. Not much is new in the sphere of romance and sentimental concerns.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Gather scattered friends and loved ones—make this a reunion Sunday for healing old differences. Correspondence is favored.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Smooth away yesterday's stresses by keeping busy with Sunday routines. Social contact may, possibly include romance.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Many of the temptations at hand are beyond your budget. You are better off around reasonable people who accept you for yourself.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Relax this Sunday and build your inner strength with serene prayer. Family get-togethers bring many pleasant benefits.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Those near and familiar produce surprises, enough to make a most interesting interval without ranging far afield seeking marvels.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Let others pursue their pet projects—they may have more enthusiasm than you. It's all right to follow the simplest, easiest path now.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Be patient while early complexities run their course. There will be time to review your resources, plan future rearrangements.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: By afternoon you'll be glad you held your temper in the morning. Do your full share in community work.

Find or give a party in the evening.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Make this a low-key day with only minimum activity: Study, meditation, prayer, bring slow-growing, profound spiritualism.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Being gentle and friendly comes as naturally as any other approach now. You have everything to gain by simple acceptance of people.

$96 MILLION PROJECT
SYDNEY (AP) — The state government has before it a plan to build an 11-mile private railway through a string of northern seaside suburbs between Pittwater and Manly.

The scheme estimated to cost $96 million provides for a major transport terminal at Manly.

Manly, which extends from the ocean to Sydney Harbor, already has a steamer harbor ferry service to the city.

The railway, mainly underground, would take commuters to and from the Manly ferry. The area at present is served by bus.

Cook frozen asparagus spears, drain and chill. Serve as a salad with French dressing made from olive oil, tarragon vinegar, salt, pepper and prepared mustard.

Pink And Blue Shower Given

SKEELYTOWN (Sp.)—Mrs. Bob Lawrence was honored with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Bob Heaton. Her corsage was fashioned of white net, baby rattle and safety pins.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a white stork. Favors were white cradles filled with pink and blue mints. The white sheetcake was decorated with pink and blue.

To Be Married

Mr and Mrs Ernest C Pulse, 2721 Comanche, announce the engagement of their daughter, Diana Lynn, to Michael Norman Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Conley of Odessa. Vows will be exchanged Aug. 26, in a garden ceremony at the Pulse home. The bride-elect, a 1971 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Odessa College and is employed by the National Bank of Odessa. She was a member of LaSenorita precision drill team at Odessa College, performing at the Sun Carnival Parade in El Paso and other special events. The prospective bridegroom graduated in 1970 from Permian High School, Odessa, where he was a member of the National Honor Society, ranking in the top 10 per cent of the graduating class. He attended Odessa College and is employed by Armor's Supply Company of Odessa.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, JULY 24
YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: A year of challenge and opportunity for growth. Your reaction time shortens—learn to pause for a second thought. Emotional ties work into strong links or break abruptly. Today's natives are alert to new ideas, blend them readily with their own, and are willing to promote them.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Any error made now brings permanent complications. Nothing is what appears at first glance, so look twice before making suggestions.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Circumstances bring tension which yields to simple explanations. Fresh ventures are off to a heavy start. Favor one-time-only deals.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Your temper is more even than most—you have a duty to help others bridge over this busy day's stresses. Routine is preferred.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Early hours tend to proud achievement, strong results, after which details can be filled in. Avoid rushing important people.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Unexpected breaks inspire or provoke, give you an opening for a long-planned test. Care with all things mechanical is strongly urged.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Connections formed today are temporary at best. An old error is discovered, along with a rush to do something about its consequences.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Friends, relatives tangle themselves in schemes meant for others. Where you move to restore balance, stop a little short of your full capacity.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Deliberation should prevail over your impulses. Tact and patience eventually swings nearly everybody into helping your ventures.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Your money will be wasted on things of no lasting use. Definite, perhaps harsh statements needn't be taken too seriously.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: New ideas aren't for immediate trial. Begin planning early, there's a lot that has to go on despite your divided attention.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Neglected loose ends need urgent action. Don't add any new issues. It's quicker to do it yourself than to show others how.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Sudden changes of circumstances keep you alert. Personal relationships change. Leave business out of friendships and vice-versa.

B. F. Dorman Family Holds Pampa Reunion

The B. F. Dorman family held a reunion in the 100F Hall, with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dorman and family of Kenai, Alaska, traveling the greatest distance to attend the event.

Next year the reunion will be held in California. Ninety-three persons attended this year's gathering. Attending from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dorman.

Mrs. Bessie Malone, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Malone and Lisa, Mollie Butts and Mrs. Charlena Crow.

Walker and family of Sayre, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Key of Morton; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Dorman and family of Lindsay, Okla.; Carl Dorman and sons of McAllen.

Distance Romance

ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP)—Through the medium of a film canister, a long-range romance has culminated in marriage for a Wyoming girl and a Michigan man.

The romance spanned half the country, nearly five years and lots of letter writing. But it ended recently with the wedding of Dennis Misner, 21, of Allegan in southwestern Michigan, and Barbara Merchant, 20, Cody, Wyo.

On a June day in 1966, the Raymond Misner family of Allegan was vacationing in Wyoming, headed for Yellowstone National Park.

The family arrived at the park's East Gate before it opened, so they had a picnic breakfast at a roadside park on the banks of the Shoshone River.

The Misner sons, Dennis and David, looked around for something to do. No one recalls whose idea it was, but the boys decided to write notes, put them inside 35mm film canisters and drop them in the river.

The family returned home and the film canisters were forgotten. But in February of 1971, a letter arrived from Barbara, saying she found one of the canisters while fishing on the Buffalo Bill Dam Reservoir, some 50 miles downstream from where it had been placed in the river.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR Kiwanians

By BILL DOWNS

The Kiwanis Club is essentially a service organization. And it serves our community faithfully without bombast or balmy. These fine men with their weekly luncheon meetings, do a tremendous amount of good. You may hear little about their work among charitable institutions, but it goes on without interruption, and represents, here and throughout the world, one of the greatest combined good-will forces man has ever undertaken. Our Kiwanians are of the highest calibre. They are devoted to the cause of their widespread organization. They deserve the plaudits of every man and woman in this community!

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years in the MONROE, LA. NEWS-STAR. Yesterday I found a yellowed clipping in a box of things. I can't even tell you how many years ago I put it away, but it applies even more today with so many old folks in rest homes today. I hope you'll reprint it.
MRS. WINNIE BRAINS

DEAR MRS. B.: With pleasure. And here it is:
"DEAR ABBY: Years ago, when my widowed mother came to live with me and my husband, she made our lives so miserable that I determined that I would never bring such misery to my children if I ever had to live with them. One day I sat down and wrote myself a letter. In it were some pertinent rules, and on the outside of the envelope I wrote, 'To be opened on the day I go to live with my daughter, heaven forbid.' I tucked it away in an old book and forgot about it. I've been widowed and self-sufficient for 6 years, but now I was recently forced to give up my job and go live with my oldest daughter. I've opened that letter and I think your older readers might benefit from it, as I intend to. Here are the rules:

1. Give what you can toward your keep. Any budget will stretch just so far.
2. Keep yourself clean and neat.
3. Remember, it is THEIR home. Be especially considerate of HIM. He allowed her to bring you here.
4. Give them privacy at every opportunity.
5. If they want to go away on a vacation, but are hesitant because of you, offer to visit another relative or friend so they will be free to go.
6. Don't offer any advice or express any opinions unless asked.
7. Volunteer information that they might be too embarrassed to ask for, such as arrangements for your burial, hospitalization, etc.

These rules were written over 20 years ago! I read them often and am determined to keep them."

DEAR ABBY: I am very happily married to Bill who has a full beard. Many of my married friends ask me how I can stand to make love to a man with all that hair on his face. Well, to tell you the truth, I love it!

When Bill and I were first married, he was clean shaven. His hair is dark and very coarse and it grows so fast that he would have to shave again in the evening if we were going out. In those days when we made love, my poor sensitive face was rubbed practically raw by his prickling bristle-type whiskers. Now that he has let his beard grow, it's soft and silky. I hope he never shaves it off.
BILL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It's refreshing to hear a good word about beards because I'm sure many are hair to stay.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has suggested that I learn to play bridge [her favorite daytime hobby] so that we can socialize with her bridge-playing friends in the evening.

I have explained to her that I am not really very fond of card playing and I don't care to get involved.

She contends that I am being very selfish and inconsiderate by not learning to play bridge simply to please her. Conversely, I say that she is selfish and inconsiderate to insist that I engage in an activity which doesn't appeal to me in the least. [I would never ask that of her.]
What do you think?
NO CARD PLAYER

DEAR NO: You won that hand.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6700, L. A., CALIF. 90008 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

To Be Wed

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Keith, 2124 N. Wells, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Debra, to John M. Meeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Meeks, 901 E. Browning. The bride-elect attended Pampa High School and was graduated from Pampa College of Hairdressing. The prospective bridegroom, a 1968 graduate of Pampa High School, has served in the Navy and is employed by a construction company at Roosevelt, Utah. The wedding is scheduled for Aug. 5, in the Westside Church of Christ, Pampa.

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Miss Kathy Dean Summers, 803 E. Scott, to Alan David Duck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvis H. Duck, 1005 S. Dwight, is being made by her parents, Mrs. Dean Williams, 609 N. Christy, and M-Sgt. B.F. Summers of San Antonio. An early September wedding is planned at Lamar Gull Gospel Assembly of God Church. The prospective bridegroom, a graduate of Pampa High School, is serving in the Air Force.

District Garden Club Youth Projects Told

The youth communication projects of District I, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., was explained to the Pampa Garden Club by Mrs. James Malone, District I director, following a supper meeting at the First United Methodist Church.

The three-fold program, Mrs. Malone said, includes the purchasing and placing in Public school classrooms of the book series, "People and Their Environment"; a sustaining scholarship fund at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, for use by a student majoring in horticulture or floriculture; and scholarships to allow young people to take part in the Student Conservation Program at Sanford Recreation area, in cooperation with the National Park Service.

Mrs. Malone announced that District I garden clubs, including those in Pampa, donated this year a $200 scholarship to the Student Conservation Program at Sanford, which was awarded to Miss Susan Kilkuskie of Phillips.

Taking part in the program, also, were Craig Wilcox, Dirk Schmidt and Becky Sharp, who explained their work in the Student Conservation program to Pampa Garden Club members.

During the business session, it was announced the next meeting will be at 9:15 a.m. Aug. 21, in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas building. Presenting the program will be Bill Binion, landscape designer from Westhaven Garden Center, Amarillo, whose topic will be "Improving the Home Grounds With Landscape Design". Hostesses for the picnic-type supper were Mmes. W.E. Abernathy, N.C. Jordan, Almo Wright, James Malone Joe Weaver and Wallace Birkes.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures
Q.—Several months ago I bought an old house that had no gutters to carry off rainfall. Recent rains made it clear to me that gutters are needed. I have just finished putting out wood gutters, but have put no finish on them. Can you recommend a good wood preservative?

A.—There are a number of good wood preservatives on the market. You can also use either linseed oil or paint, both of which will do a good job. However, once you select either, you must continue to use the same thing when renewing the coating. Linseed oil must be reapplied about twice a year. Paint — get the kind made especially for use on gutters — must be reapplied once every two years at the least, preferably, once a year. No wood preservative will last indefinitely. If you haven't already done so, use debris traps at the points where the gutters are attached to the downspouts. The gutters should be cleaned of leaves and other matter twice a year.

SILENT IN ANTICIPATION—Scene of so much exhilaration during the fall, the Harvester Field Stadium has remained fairly silent during the summer months. Silhouetted against the sky, the field seems to be awaiting the crowds and cheers of the not-too-distant football season at Pampa High School.

Things Not To Hear On Return From Vacation

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks people get tired of hearing when they come back from a vacation:

"Have you been away?"

"You didn't get much of a tan, did you?"

"You missed the best weather of the year while you were away."

"I'd like to hear all about your vacation, but I guess it'll have to wait until I get back. I'm leaving on my own vacation in half an hour."

Tallahatchie Bridge To Be Rebuilt

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Billy Joe McAllister is gone, but his Tallahatchie bridge will soon return.

The 741-foot span, immortalized in Bobbie Gentry's "Ode to Billy Joe" recording, will be rebuilt at federal government expense. The structure, across the Tallahatchie River north of here in Leflore County, collapsed several weeks ago.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said this week he had been notified by officials of the highway administration that emergency funds would pay for the rebuilding.

Eastland noted the bridge carried about 350 vehicles daily, including mail and school bus traffic, while also being the only route for cotton on the other side of the river to reach a gin.

"You put on a few pounds, didn't you?"

"Oh, is that where you went? We stayed there year before last. Is it still as terrible as ever?"

"It's a good thing you came back so soon, George. That guy who filled in for you did a great job."

"Think of all the things you could buy now if you'd just stayed home and saved your money."

"Your children behaved like perfect little angels, but I'm glad you're back. Your daughter has the mumps and your son broke his collar bone yesterday, and right now he's getting pretty fretful."

"I knew I'd left one of the gas jets on the stove burning. It has been burning for two whole weeks. Heaven knows what our gas bill will be this month."

"We missed you, George. But that new guy who filled in for you is an awful nice guy, too."

"I didn't even notice you'd gone until yesterday."

Average Gray Income Reaches Near $9,000

Average family income was $8,986 in Gray County, Tex. in 1969, compared with $8,490 for the State, according to a report on the 1970 census by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce. Per capita income for the county amounted to $3,049, the report shows.

The 1970 census counted 26,949 residents in the county; 0.3 percent were foreign born and 1.7 percent native born with one or both parents of foreign birth.

Among the county's 24,893 inhabitants age 5 and over in 1970, 3,106 were living in a different county within the State in 1965, and 1,843 in a different State.

In the population age 16 and over, 80.5 percent of the men and 40.6 percent of the women were in the labor force. Among the employed, 40.6 percent were holding white collar jobs, and 12.5 percent were government workers.

About 38.6 percent of the married women with husband present were in the labor force, and 22.4 percent of these wives had children under six.

There were 6,366 persons 3 to 34 years old enrolled in school. In the 25-and-older population, 51.1 percent of the men and 54.4 percent of the women were high school graduates.

The 1970 Census of Housing counted 10,617 housing units in County, and 8,988 households had at least one television set (2,263 UHF-equipped), the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, announced today. The figures are from the first report for Texas which presents detailed statistics on housing for each county.

The report shows that in the county:

There were 4,264 housing units with air conditioning (3,077 with room units and 1,187 with a central system); 6,955 units with a clothes washing machine, 4,804 with a clothes dryer, and 2,551 with a dish washer.

The 1970 population was 26,949 with an average of 2.9 persons per housing unit.

A total of 5,777 housing units were built before 1949, 3,252 during the 1950's, 970 during 1960-64, and 586 within the five years preceding the April 1970 census.

Utility gas was used to cook the meals in 6,438 households, electricity in another 2,772, and bottled, tank, or LP gas in yet another 1,243.

There were 10,400 housing units with complete kitchen facilities and 10,408 with complete bathrooms, both for the exclusive use of the households. The number of bedrooms in all housing units ranged from none (in 47 units) and one (in 1,231 units) to four or more (in 556 units).

Owners occupied 6,982 units, renters 2,374 units, and a total of 1,229 units were vacant year round with 238 for sale and 532 for rent.

Mayor's Wife Goes For Nixon

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mrs. Henry W. Maier, wife of the city's Democratic mayor, says the party has gone "down the drain," and she and her two daughters are going to vote for President Nixon in November, the Milwaukee Sentinel reported.

Mrs. Maier also was quoted as criticizing many of the young people who attended the Democratic National Convention and as disagreeing with the convention's ouster of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and his 58 Illinois delegates.

"I'm disillusioned," Mrs. Maier was quoted as saying in an interview. "Sometimes you have to say things that you believe very strongly. I'm getting out. I'm telling you what I think."

"I'm for him (Nixon) all the way. He's going to win by a landslide."

Maier, mayor of Milwaukee for 12 years and a former president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, spoke at the convention in Miami Beach in behalf of the cities.

Mrs. Maier said she and her daughters had to "fight" to get tickets to attend the speech, and that her daughters in the end could not get into the convention hall to hear it.

As harassed Americans look at the myriad of economic indicators which purport to portray either the economic recovery of the United States of America or its retrogression, they must feel like nineteenth century author Sidney Smith who noted that nothing is "so fallacious as facts, except figures."

Education's Hidden Cost

One of the high costs of higher education you don't hear mentioned much is the high cost in losing good craftsmen. The "everybody-goes-to-college" philosophy puts vast numbers of high school graduates with no definite aims in, for instance, college business administration courses.

The Doorbell That Keeps On Ringing

By PAUL HARVEY President Nixon is accused by critics of spending too much time away from Washington, D. C. Almost any place else is a better place for him to be.

Of course I am aware of some of the rumors of four years ago, one to the effect that George Wallace and Paul Harvey were seeking to overthrow the U. S. government.

But I could not more comfortably be identified with some of those fellows who call themselves Republicans than with some of those fellows who call themselves Democrats.

I do have an old-fashioned respect for the office of the Presidency. To me an invitation to the White House—except for some purely social event—is virtually a command performance.

Angel and I have been invited to the White House a couple of times this year and each time we come away thankful that the Chief Executive has some place else to which he can retreat—away from that camouflaged front-line command post where the doorbell never stops ringing.

Somebody has added up President Nixon's days away from the White House the first half of this year and protests that he was gone twice as much as he was there.

There he slept in the White House only one-third of the time. The other two-thirds he was elsewhere.

There were the long trips to Peking and Moscow and there were the long weekends at the California and Florida and Camp David retreats.

The fact is, of course, that when the President is away from the Washington White House he is likely tending to substantive business more than when he is there.

A Page Out Of The Past: Old Steam Threshing Bee

Three days of "history" will unfold on a farm outside of Waukomis, in north central Oklahoma, July 28-30 as the Waukomis Steam Threshing Association stages its eighteenth annual Threshing Bee.

The three day event will be 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., July 28, 29 and 30, on the Harry Landwehr farm three miles west of Waukomis at U.S. 81.

Among events on the program are a daily grand parade of mammoth antique steam engines, a steam engine race, a Baker fan test, steam wood sawing and other events designed to put the engines through their paces. The giant machines are run up steep inclines and balanced delicately on a "teeter totter" of timbers.

Added to the events this year is a "swap shop" where farm machinery, utensils and other items from the farm homes of yesteryear are traded.

The daily grand finale is actual threshing of 30 acres of grain (barley or wheat), followed by an old-time farm meal in an old cook shack.

The Waukomis Bee is typical of many similar events staged in various parts of the wheat belt and is one of the older shows featuring the "Iron Men." Begun in 1954 as a one-man show by the late Harry Landwehr, it has been sponsored since 1966 by the nonprofit Waukomis Steam Threshing Association.

The Association charges a one dollar admission fee for adults. To cover such expenses as show attendants, fuel, insurance, and maintenance of the rare machines. Children under 12 are admitted free.

The annual show draws hundreds of visitors from Oklahoma and surrounding states.

The Waukomis Steam Threshing Association itself includes 22 members from Oklahoma and Kansas and is one of hundreds of similar associations around the country helping to preserve a significant era in American rural history.

Antique equipment demonstrated at the Waukomis Threshing Bee includes several types of steam and gas engines, tractors and plows, stacker separators, a horse-drawn water wagon and other relics of the past.

Steam threshing differs in many ways from today's wheat threshing operations, in which a combine cuts and threshes the wheat in the field in a single operation.

In steam threshing, the grain is first cut and shocked in the field, then hauled to the thresher. Threshing crews of 12 to 25 men feed the shocks into the machine with their pitchforks. The huge steam engine huffs and puffs, belts and gears whir, and grain pours out of a chute at one end of the conveyor belt while straw and chaff whirl out of a pipe at the other end.

For children (and adults) unfamiliar with how work was performed on the farm half a century ago, the Waukomis Steam Threshing Bee is an interesting and educational outing. For oldsters, it's a chance to reminisce about an era of American history they remember with affection.

CONSUMER EDUCATION—These and other bright young shoppers are learning to plan, budget, compare prices and evaluate quality in the 4-H consumer education program sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service. The firm will then present $700 scholarships to each of the national winners selected by the CES.

The first case of screwworms in almost a decade was confirmed in Gray County on July 17.

The specimen was collected by Bill Caswell, owner of the steer. The cattle were located 4 miles west of Pampa. This means it will be necessary to go back to methods used in the 1950s to control the screwworm. All wounds should be treated with a suitable insecticide to insure that animals will not become infected. We should inspect cattle daily to insure they don't become infected.

Rains averaged from 1.5 to 2.0 inches over the entire county. This is one of the nicest summer rains I've ever seen. The cloudy, cool weather that followed made the rain even more effective.

4-H Horse Show Starts Wednesday

SAN ANTONIO—About 500 of the state's premier junior horsemen will be competing in the 10th annual State 4-H Horse Show July 19-22 in the Joe Freeman Coliseum in San Antonio, announce B. F. Yeates and Dr. Gary Potter, horse specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The 4-H boys and girls will be representing the 13 Extension Service districts. Included will be the top 20 individuals in each district who will compete in the regular events as well as other 4-Hers who will compete in open invitational events. To be eligible, a 4-H member must be enrolled in a horse project. There are presently about 14,000 boys and girls in Texas enrolled in the 4-H horse program.

Open events will feature cutting horse and drill team competition. English competition, which includes English pleasure, working hunter, hunter hack and open jumper, and two roping events, times breakaway roping and calf roping.

Regular show events include halter classes, showmanship, western pleasure, reining, pole bending, and barrel racing, according to the Texas A&M University specialists. The state show will get underway Wednesday afternoon, July 19, with preliminaries in cutting, calf roping and breakaway roping. The schedule for the following day includes the second go-round of cutting, drill team competition, and preliminaries in the four English events. Finals in English competition and in calf roping, breakaway roping and cutting will be run Thursday evening.

Regular show events begin Friday morning with halter classes. Finals in the four performance classes will be run Saturday evening at 7:30. An awards program will follow.

Purcell Seeks End Of Hides Controls

Congressman Graham Purcell announced this week that he plans to promote legislation to terminate the U.S. Commerce Department's authority to impose export controls on cattle hides.

Purcell explained that the legislation would be in the form of an amendment to a Congressional resolution needed to continue the Export Administration Act of 1969, now due to expire Aug. 1.

The Commerce Department announced last week that it plans to impose export controls on cattle hides effective Sept. 1, even though it currently does not have the legal authority to put such a program into effect on that date. Purcell noted.

He pointed out that the Export Administration Act, extended for one month by a resolution signed into law on April 29, provides the Commerce Department with authority to place export controls on cattle hides. "The Administration has made the claim that imposing controls on cattle hides will lower shoe prices, but that is simply not true," Purcell said. "The hide accounts for only a small fraction of the retail cost of a shoe and when hide prices went down, shoe prices were not reduced. Also, eliminating competition from imports would increase the prices of shoes."

"What the hide export control program will do, if it goes into effect, is raise meat prices or push down livestock prices or both and cause further economic distress in rural areas," Purcell added. "If a hide brings less money from an overseas customer, the packer must get more money for the meat from U.S. consumers in order to offset the reduced return from the hide, or cut back on the amount of money he is paying for cattle."

"Also, it makes no sense at all to place curbs on U.S. exports when this country has experienced a deficit in its balance of trade for the first time in this century and needs markets abroad," he said.

'Agri-Banking' Is New A&M Degree

COLLEGE STATION — Two dissimilar subjects, finance and agriculture, are being blended together at Texas A&M University into a new master's degree called Agri-banking.

The degree combines agricultural production and marketing, economics, management and finance, according to Dr. John A. Hopkin of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

Current and upcoming vacancies in commercial banks, Federal Land Banks, production credit associations, credit or finance departments of farm supply and marketing firms and other agricultural institutions created the need for such a degree.

The program is sufficiently flexible to fit the needs of the individual student. Students are expected to achieve competence in agricultural finance, accounting, farm management, computer science and electronic data processing, and other fields. Agriculture courses in such fields as animal

Compared to a year earlier every category and class of cattle showed a marked increase in numbers of cattle on feed in a report that was released July 18. There were 30 percent more steers on feed, weighing over 1100 pounds, 24 percent more weighing from 900 to 1100 pounds, and 7 percent more weighing from 700 to 900 pounds.

Increase of numbers of heifers also showed a marked increase. There were 31 percent more heifers on feed weighing 900 to 1100 pounds, 6 percent more heifers weighing 700 to 900; 16 percent more weighing from 500 to 700 pounds and an astounding 45 percent more heifers weighing under 500 pounds. This was a 23-State report.

Export pens progressing... Fresh vegetables in abundance... Crop prospects good...

CONSTRUCTION of new livestock export facilities at Houston, Del Rio and Eagle Pass is underway, and an appropriation for possibly two more was in the 1972-73 budget adopted in the recent special session of the Texas Legislature.

The appropriation for $450,000 is believed adequate for two more of the sheltered facilities which may be built at El Paso and Brownsville. The new facilities will replace the present facilities which have been condemned as inadequate by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and which have brought a threat from the Mexican government to halt export of Texas livestock through border cities.

If exports through Mexican border towns were halted, livestock exports would have to be re-routed through Miami, Florida facilities which would cost livestock men considerably more in transportation costs. Texas livestock exports have been averaging over $12 million annually.

The new facilities, which Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has said will far exceed standards set by the USDA and Mexican authorities, will be operated by the Texas Department of Agriculture. The USDA will furnish inspection services.

The new facilities will have concrete floors throughout, covered pens, specially-designed loading and inspection chutes, a new hydraulic-type multivac for dipping animals, offices and laboratory space. USDA requires sufficient pens at export departing points to hold all of the animals in a shipment so that the entire lot may be given a clinical veterinary inspection while at rest. Each pen will be separated by curbing that will permit flushing and disinfecting of individual pens.

TEXAS GARDEN—fresh vegetables are in abundance now, and most consumers agree that these Texas agricultural products are first in quantity and quality. There are 105 counties in 13 areas of the state growing vegetables in commercial quantities on a total of 214,140 acres. The State ranks third in the nation, behind California and Florida, in production of fresh market vegetables; and is first among the states in production of watermelons, spinach and cabbage.

The state is a major producer of 17 vegetable crops, including the three named above and tomatoes, strawberries, cucumbers, honeydew melons, lettuce, beans, potatoes, cauliflower, broccoli, sweet corn, cantaloupe, carrots, onions, and green pepper.

CROP PROSPECTS over Texas are good, according to the regular reports put out by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Grain sorghum prospects are good and wheat yields are higher than were expected earlier. Rice harvest is getting underway, and yields have been cut some by rains and high winds in a few places. A few bales of cotton have been picked in the Rio Grande Valley, and soybeans are making good progress on the Gulf Coast.

In the Rio Grande Valley where cotton harvest is beginning and grain sorghum harvest is nearing completion, land preparation for the fall vegetable crops is well along and next year's citrus crop is making satisfactory progress.

Rains and scattered showers during the past 10 days provided moisture to finish planting peanuts, sorghums and soybeans in the northern parts of the state. Corn is making good growth on the High Plains, and little insect damage has been noted.

Cholera Spreads

WASHINGTON (AP) — New outbreaks of hog cholera in New Jersey, Texas and Nebraska are providing stumbling blocks in federal-state disease eradication programs, the Agriculture Department says.

Texas has had stubborn problems with hog cholera since last December, and two cases in Nebraska—the first in that state in 20 months—were traced to hogs shipped from Texas, officials said.

In all, 62 hog cholera outbreaks have been reported thus far in 1972, compared with only 18 the last half of 1971, the department said.

Open events will feature cutting horse and drill team competition. English competition, which includes English pleasure, working hunter, hunter hack and open jumper, and two roping events, times breakaway roping and calf roping.

Regular show events include halter classes, showmanship, western pleasure, reining, pole bending, and barrel racing, according to the Texas A&M University specialists. The state show will get underway Wednesday

Screwworms Attack Pets

Gray County has its first case of screwworms in almost 10 years, according to Gray County Agriculture Agent Foster Whaley.

Whaley felt pet owners should be aware that their favored animals can get this infection too.

The adult female screwworm fly lays eggs on or near a raw spot or wound. Hatching eggs form a larvae that burrows into the raw area eating live tissue. If this is not stopped and the area treated, it could end in death for your pet. Whaley warns.

Your veterinarian should be called immediately upon spotting such a lesion. If damage is not too severe, he may be able to clean up the wound and suture the lesion.

Whaley added another strong word of caution: special care and observation of pets will be necessary as long as the screwworm problem exists.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
During the recent Democratic convention, one of the candidates, in an effort to garner delegate votes, made repeated attacks on corporate commercial farming and its effect on the individual farmer and the effect on the consumer. One of these studies reveals that more than 50 percent of the farm land in commercial farms today is owned by part owners. This is an increase of 10 percent during the past two decades.

During this period of time, there has been a decline in the percentage of full owners. Along with this decline there has also been a larger decline in the over-all share of the land operated by renters or tenants. Why is this? For example, let us take a look at a complicated piece of machinery called a combine. The individual farmer must pay, or will have paid, about $75,000.00 by the time he has paid the cost of the machine plus interest.

By the time he has cut enough with the combine to net $25,000.00 it is worn out. The individual farmer of necessity must have the purchase price of the combine financed. Financing thus greatly inflates the total payment.

Another example is the tractor. This is a must item. A good tractor sold by one of the tractor manufacturers in the 1939-1942 period sold for around $1,500.00. The good tractor today from the same company sells for about $15,000.00.

We can thus see that economic conditions dictate expansion of farms to maintain income levels. Along with the inflated cost of machinery has come the steady rise in land values. This situation faces all individual farmers. With land now being the most valuable natural resource, the farmer must acquire more land. He has two alternatives. He must buy more land or rent more land. The farmer must look for some guidelines to assist him in arriving at a decision. In looking for answers, he finds that there are no easy or hard and fast rules to govern the decision he must ultimately make. Studies have been made and are available that give certain reliable facts he may use as a guideline.

An almost continuous rise in the value of good farm land makes acquisition of land to any operator who can manage to finance it. These long term capital gains are attractive to farmers and to others in higher income brackets.

The farmer who has low equity is in need of immediate income, and thus cannot afford an investment of such proportions that he must wait for a long period of time for the payoff. The young farmer just starting out faces the same situation. Finding full ownership an impossibility, renting then becomes the only practical way of acquiring farm land.

The County Agricultural Agent and the Extension Service offer free booklets and leaflets that may be obtained without cost that lists equitable leasing agreements. Should a farmer lease land, it is very important to him that the lease be fair to both parties. The lease agreement must also insure equity and long life of the agreement.

There are important advantages of both owning and renting. The owner-operator has the freedom to operate independently. He has flexibility in accepting or rejecting government programs. He also gains from any increase in land values. There is the advantage of estate planning. He may also initiate soil conservation programs and other long term improvement practices. Ownership does appeal to the banker.

A renter does have some advantages. He has no taxes to pay on the land and can make more capital available for other investments. He is able to restrict his liability, cut overhead in lean years, and keep his net worth intact should land values decrease. He is not bound to changing situations in market patterns. In recent years a lot of attention has been focused on the flight of potential future farmers to jobs in the city.

Statistics show that agriculture is the nation's largest industry. It employs more people than the auto industry, the steel industry, the transportation industry, and the utilities combined. It is a fifty-five billion dollar customer in the American economy.

Egg-laying Mammals
Only two types of mammals lay eggs: the duckbill and the spiny anteater. The duckbill, also called platypus, is found in Australia and Tasmania; the spiny anteater occurs in Australia, Tasmania and New Guinea.

Bert Yancey Grabs Lead In American Golf Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Bert Yancey ambled through sweltering heat to a three-under-par 67 Saturday and established a three-stroke lead after the third round of the $150,000 American Golf Classic.

The 33-year-old Yancey had it four under par until he bogeyed the final hole on the 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course. Still he posted a 54-hole total of 204—six under.

Rookie Lanny Wadkins, who matched the course record with a 64 a few hours after his car was stolen, and Kermit Zarley were tied for second at 207.

Zarley shot a 68. Arnold Palmer recovered from a double-bogey six to match par 70 in the 90-degree heat and was one of three at 208, four strokes back.

The 42-year-old Palmer was tied with George Knudson, the Canadian veteran, who shot a 66, and Tom Ulozas, a tall tour sophomore who closed with a 69. Defending champion Jerry Heard, Mike Hill and Hale Irwin followed at 209. Hill and Irwin matched 70s and Heard moved into contention with a 68.

Steve Melnyk and Ray Floyd, who shared the lead with Yancey starting play on the hot and humid day, fell back. Melnyk had a 73 for 210 and Floyd 74—211.

Yancey, who scored the last of his six tour titles more than 1½ years ago in the 1970 Bing Crosby, shook his head when asked if he thought he could win in Sunday's final round.

"I don't know," the former West Point cadet said. "I just don't know. It's something you don't talk about. You just try to do it."

"I ruined a real good round there," Yancey said of his final hole bogey, which came when he hit his second shot over the green into deep rough. He said, "I'd stepped off the yardage as 175, but for some reason I don't understand, I was thinking I had 185 yards and that's what I hit."

"I've got a good run at it now," Wadkins said after his brilliant 64, his best as a pro. "I'm right back in the middle of it now."

He had a remarkable effort on the course that most of the touring pros call "The Monster." He missed only one fairway and two greens.

Palmer scrambled all day. He had five birdies, but added three bogeys and the costly double bogey on the ninth hole that knocked him out of a share of the lead.

"One thing's for sure," Palmer said. "I can't play any worse. All I can do is score worse."

40th Annual School Opens Next Sunday

HOUSTON (AP) — The 40th coaching school of the Texas High School Coaches Associations opens next Sunday with registration expected to approach a record 6,000.

Highlights include the Aug. 2 annual all-star basketball game at Hofheinz Pavilion on the University of Houston campus and the Aug. 3 all-star football game in the Astrodome.

A record registration of 5,964 was recorded a year ago at Fort Worth, compared with only 251 in 1935 when the first school was held in Dallas.

nessee, Eddie Crowder of Colorado, Tony Mason of Purdue, and Jim Carlen of Texas Tech.

Guy Lewis of the University of Houston and Gerald Myers of Texas Tech are to start basketball lectures the next day.

Ronnie Truitt of Cypress-Fairbanks and Bill Phillips of Plainview will be the opposing head coaches for the North-South basketball game.

Head coaches of the South-North football teams are Jack Hays of West Columbia and Tommy Watkins of Andrews.

Lloyd Parker of Texas City is president of the Association. When held in Houston in 1970, the all-star football game drew 21,305 fans while the all-star basketball game drew a record 10,826 fans.

Sr. Tourney Begins

The 38th annual Tri-State Seniors Golf Tournament begins tomorrow at Pampa Country Club with practice rounds and registration being conducted.

Seniors who have arrived in Pampa early for the tourney may register between 4-6:30 p.m. today at the Country Club.

Harold L. DeLong of Shawnee, Okla., is the defending champion and Raymond Marshall of Lubbock was last year's recipient of the Colonel Bogey award.

After the practice rounds Monday, Hart Warren, Pampa Country Club pro, will conduct a golf clinic for those entered in the tourney. The clinic will run from 6-6:30 p.m.

Thirty-two players will make-up the championship flight and 16 golfers will comprise all of the other flights. The official qualifying round will be played Tuesday and the tourney proper will begin Wednesday with 18 holes of match play scheduled.

Match play continues Thursday and all flights will compete in medal play Friday, the final day of the tournament.

The eight quarter-finalists in the championship flight and the four semi-finalists in the other flights will qualify for the final day's medal play.

Losers in the first round Wednesday will play again Thursday and the winners of those matches will play medal Friday to determine the consolation winners and runners-up in each flight.

The annual Tri-State team match will be conducted during Tuesday's qualifying round. The best total score of the five lowest scores from Tex., Okla. and N. M. will be determined and the five men from the winning state will receive four golf balls.

The winner, runner-up and consolation winner in each flight will receive a trophy. The consolation runners-up will receive gift certificates.

A hole-in-one contest will be conducted and any golfer who wishes to participate in it must make that known when he registers for the tourney.

The Tri-State Senior Golf Association's annual banquet will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday night for all members and their wives.

A putting tournament, bingo session, hospitality hour, brunch, luncheon, hamburger buffet and golf clinic are on the agenda for contestant's wives.

Official starters for the tournament are Mrs. Ralph J. Moore and Mrs. J. R. Brown.

Tee-Off Tid-Bits

By HART WARREN

We would like to take a portion of this week's column to spread the word on one of our up-coming junior golfers—Wiley/McIntire.

Wiley has had one of the most successful summers of any junior I can ever remember.

In the Junior Tour Program sponsored by the West Texas Chapter, P.G.A., Wiley has played in 14 tourneys and placed in 10 of them. He has taken two first places, once in Amarillo and once at Muleshoe.

These firsts enable him to compete in the Tournament of Champions in Odessa Aug. 16 and 17.

Wiley's eight second place finishes were all behind one boy, Amarillo's Brian Garner. Four of the eight second place finishes were by one shot and one loss was at the hands of Brian in sudden-death after both boys had tied at the end of regulation play.

I think Wiley has Garner fever but, W.B. Wiley's dad, just calls him his second place son.

Wiley traveled to Amarillo Friday and placed third in the regional qualifying for the AAU Junior Championship to be played in Edinburg, Tex., Aug. 4-6.

Wiley promises to be one of the better players in the area—if his dedication to the game and good attitude survive.

We saw preparations this past week for the Tri-State Seniors Tournament which begins Monday and lasts through Friday. So come out and watch how the older men hits the ball.

Sorry! But the course will be closed for club play until Saturday.

The Top O' Texas field is closing fast. We already have 115 places out of 206 already spoken for.

Golf Tip: A firm left arm on the backswing will insure a more solid contact with the ball. See you in the rough!

Twenty-eight yearlings bought at Saratoga won 50 stake races in the United States and Canada in 1971.

Portraits of Frustration
THE LAST COUPLE of years have not exactly been the most successful of Arnold Palmer's golf career and he has noticed it.

Pampa Red Wins Again

Pampa Red trounced Canyon 11-5 in last night's first game in the 13 year-old Babe Ruth tourney. Gary Balch was the winning pitcher and James Walling the loser.

Pampa had nine hits and two errors in the game and Canyon got four hits and committed three errors.

Randy Britton and Brian Bailey each got two hits in three trips to lead Pampa at the plate.

The winner of the late game between Top-O-Texas Blue and Dumas National will play Canyon at 3:30 this afternoon at Optimist Park. The winner of that game will play Pampa at 6:30 tomorrow night.

If Pampa should lose that game a later game will be necessary to determine the tournament winner.

Pearson Favored

HAMPTON, Ga. (AP) — Benny Parsons of Ellerbe, N.C., believes he is getting a little closer to his goal—running at the finish with stock car racing's glamor boys such as Richard Petty, David Pearson, Bobby Isaac and Bobby Allison.

"After all, that is what it's all about," Parsons said Friday after winning the No. 16 starting position in Sunday's Dixie 500 at Atlanta International Raceway. "It's the reason me and my crew are beating our brains out each week on the NASCAR (National Association for Stock Car Racing) circuit."

Parsons did not attempt to qualify Thursday when the first 15 cars in the 40-car field were determined, but his speed of 155.899 miles per hour Friday was the sixth fastest recorded in all qualifying runs.

Pearson, favored to win his fifth race in seven starts in the powerful Wood Brothers Mercury, captured the pole position Thursday with a track record speed of 156.353 m.p.h.

Ferraris Sweep First Places In New York

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Italian Ferraris swept the first two positions in the Watkins Glen six-hour race Saturday, with Mario Andretti and Belgian Jacky Ickx sharing the winning car.

With Ickx at the wheel, the lead Ferrari flashed across the finish line 14 seconds ahead of Ron Peterson of Sweden and Tim Schenken of Australia, who had kept their dusty red machine in the lead without challenge for the first five hours of the race.

Third place went to a Gulf-Mirage driven by Derek Bell of England and Carlos Pace of Brazil. So dominant were the Ferraris, however, that Bell and Pace were more than 30 miles back.

A four-year-old Porsche wheeled by Britisher Tony Dean and Bob Brown of Sysset, N.Y., came in fourth. Fifth place went to a similar outdated machine driven by Reinhold Jost of Germany and Mario Hughes led Pampa tennis players this past week at the Lakeview Tennis Tournament by winning three singles matches and teaming with his brother Doug to take a doubles match.

In singles action Don beat Adam Rodriguez (6-0, 6-0), Kelly Clark (6-3, 4-6, 6-4) and Brad Baerde (6-0, 6-0). He and Doug beat Milly and Williams 7-6, 6-2.

Jack Scott won his match with Rodriguez 6-4, 6-1 and Gretchen Wells beat Starla Jones 5-7, 6-2, 7-6.

Doug Hughes lost his singles match against Greg Clark 7-5, 1-6, 0-6. Tony Hoertin lost to Greg Clark 0-6, 0-6.

Peggy Wilson was beaten by Karen Collier 1-6, 1-6.

In a doubles match Peggy Wilson and Gretchen Wells were beaten by Tina Watson 3-6, 6-4, 4-6.

American Legion Win Causes Second Game

Pampa's American Legion team beat Borger last night and precipitated a second game to determine the District 18 champion.

Pampa got into the finals of the tourney by slamming Hereford Friday night in a game of the once-beaten in the double elimination tournament.

Larry Knutson was the winning pitcher in the game against Hereford.

Pampa's loss came at the hands of Borger's Dennis Parks Thursday night in a game which saw the Rebels use four pitchers. The score was 14-3.

Mike Edgar started the game.

Giants 2, Mets 1
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chris Speier scored the winning run in the last of the ninth inning on Danny Frisella's wild pitch with the bases loaded as the San Francisco Giants defeated the New York Mets 2-1 Saturday in National League action.

Frisella, 35, pitching the last inning after starter Jon Matlack worked eight strong innings for the Mets, got into a jam immediately by loading the bases on a walk to Speier. Ed Goodson's single and an intentional pass to Tito Fuentes,

Sluggers Abound In Tuesday's All-Star Game

ATLANTA (AP) — A host of impressive sluggers will be teeing off in one of baseball's best parks for home runs Tuesday night when the American League and National League All Stars stage the 43rd renewal of their annual mid-season clash.

Homers dominated this game last year with each team connecting three times at Tiger Stadium in Detroit as the Americans ended an eight-game losing streak by beating the Nationals 6-4.

That reduced the National League's over-all lead in the series to 23-18. One game ended in a tie.

This year, the sluggers will be taking aim at Atlanta Stadium's cozy fences. In 31 games played by the Braves there this season, 78 homers have been hit and there were 186 homers hit there last year—most for any park in the major leagues.

The dimensions are delightful for long ball hitters—330 feet down each foul line and 400 feet in straightaway center field. And waiting beyond the fence is the Braves' home run mascot, Chief Noc-a-homa, who goes into a war dance salute every time a ball sails over the wall.

He figures to do his share of high stepping with sluggers Dick Allen, Reggie Jackson, Carl Yastrzemski, Bobby Murcer and Bill Freehan dotting the starting American League lineup and Lee May, Joe Torre, Henry Aaron, Roberto Clemente, Willie Stargell and Johnny Bench for the Nationals.

It was Jackson's towering two-run pinch homer that started an American League comeback in last year's game after early homers by Bench and Aaron had staked the Nationals to a 3-0 lead.

Ironically, the American League's other two home run hitters in last year's game won't be around for this one. Frank Robinson was traded to Los Angeles of the National League and did not make the team. Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota's veteran slugger, was not selected for the AL team.

The American League will have only three starters from last year's team in the opening lineup. They are second baseman Rod Carew of Minnesota, third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore and left fielder Yastrzemski of Boston. A fourth repeater, Luis Aparicio of Boston was elected to the starting shortstop job but will not play because of an injury. Oakland's Bert Campaneris replaced him on the AL squad.

Jackson, a reserve last year, will start in right field with New York's Murcer in center and Freehan of Detroit catching.

Allen, traded to Chicago over the winter, was the top AL vote getter with 1,092,758 of the record 3,171,556 votes cast in the nation-wide fan poll.

Yanks 7, Angels 1
NEW YORK (AP) — Rob Gardner pitched a six-hitter that carried the New York Yankees to a 7-1 triumph over the California Angels and a split of their Saturday doubleheader.

The Angels scored their first run off New York pitching in 38 innings on Andy Kosco's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning and beat the Yankees 1-0 in the opener.

Devaney Praises Newhouse

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — "He's built like a fireplug with good speed and great balance," said Bob Devaney in his evaluation of Bob Newhouse, the College All-Star full back from Houston.

Devaney, who will coach the All-Stars against the Dallas Cowboys in Chicago's Soldier Field next Friday night, was high in his praise of Newhouse.

Nevertheless, Devaney rated Newhouse a step behind full-back Franco Harris of Penn State.

"Harris is a big character," said Newhouse. "and Penn State has a similar offense to Nebraska. So he figures to be ahead of me. But I'm just happy to be with the All-Stars. It's a great experience."

Newhouse evaluated his situation and said "Everything is working out just fine. It's quite an honor to be out here with all those great athletes."

Newhouse is a great athlete in his own right. He gained 1,757 yards and scored 12 touchdowns last season with Houston and has a career total of 2,969 yards.

"They've got me doing more blocking than I did at Houston," said Newhouse "but otherwise things are the same. Maybe it's a good thing I'm doing more blocking. You know, I'm going to play pro ball with Dallas and the Cowboys might want me to do some blocking."

"The object here is to learn as much as you can," continued Newhouse "and everything I learn here will help me in my pro career with Dallas."

Newhouse is 5-10 and 198 pounds and these statistics might go against him in pro ball.

"I don't think so," said Newhouse. "My size was against me when I went into college football and I made out okay."

68—Return to Address Position

Often we get so caught up in the dozens of mechanical positions that make up a golf swing that we do nothing but confuse ourselves. A single, simple thought is often the best to play with.

Try this one. Assuming that your stance, grip and address position are O.K., concentrate solely on being in the same position at impact you were in at address.

In theory, you can do anything you want in between. Make figure-eights with your backswing. If you can return to the ball in the same position from which you started, you are going to get acceptable results.

It's logical. Better than that, it works.

Blackburn Triumphs In Jr. Golf

HOUSTON (AP) — Dale Blackburn of Conroe, Tex., outlasted all 280 entries here Friday to take the championship of the fourth annual Junior All-America Golf Tournament with a total 72-hole score of 289.

Blackburn shot a two-over-par 74 on the final fourth round at the Forest Cove Country Club but still managed to wind up with a four stroke lead over Monte Schauer, who led the tournament through the first two days but ended with a 293 total.

Mark McConnel of Tampa, Fla. was third with a 295, followed by Perry Arthur of Bryan, Tex., in fourth with a 296.

Top O' Texas Rodeo Set For August 2-5

DENVER, Colo. — Pro rodeo cowboys will return to Pampa for the Top O' Texas rodeo Aug. 2-5, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Performances, set for 8 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, will feature bareback, saddle bronc, bull riding, calf roping and steer wrestling, said Holly Gray, president of Pampa rodeo.

Cowboys will add their entry fees to a $3,500 purse for the total prize money. The last rodeo held in Pampa, in 1969, had the same amount of prize money, and 125 entries, prize money topped $7,000.

The following year, a tornado flattened the rodeo grounds, and in 1971, the VEE epidemic forced cancellation again.

"We wish the Pampa rodeo all the success in the world this year," said Dave Stout, secretary-treasurer of the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Tommy Steiner, Austin, Texas, will produce the rodeo this year. Steiner is known throughout the rodeo world for his excellence in bucking stock. Entries for the rodeo close at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 1.

Tourney Announced

AMARILLO — The first annual Big Brothers of Amarillo Golf Tournament will be held here Saturday, Aug. 12, at Ross Rogers Golf Club.

The tournament is sponsored by Big Brothers of Amarillo and hosted by the West Texas State University Athletic Department. Prizes include trophies, merchandise, and several WTSU football season tickets. Value of flight champions prizes will total approximately $700. Entry fee is $20. Flights will be limited to 15.

In addition to the WTSU coaching staff, many other area leaders, sports personalities, and political figures are scheduled to participate.

Registration forms can be obtained by calling Big Brothers of Amarillo at 373-8181, or 373-8152, or writing to them at 900 S. Lincoln, Amarillo, 79101. Additional information may be obtained by calling assistant WTSU Coach Mike Zoffuto in Canyon, at 656-2223, or 655-9357.

"Getting Someone's Goat"

The expression, "getting someone's goat," stems from horse racing. Spirited racers, when provided with a small stablemate, such as a goat. In order to upset a horse, rival trainers would sometimes "get" (steal) his goat the day before a big race.

Nagging Injury Causes Bart Starr's Retirement

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Bart Starr, who made victory and the Green Bay Packers synonymous in a happier era, has finally conceded defeat to five years of injuries which eroded his once consummate passing skills.

The quarterback, 38, whose 57.4 lifetime pass-completion percentage is a National Football League record, decided Thursday night to retire as a result of nagging pain in his right arm and shoulder brought yet another sleepless night.

Flanked by his wife, Cherry, and Coach Dan Devine, Starr announced his decision Friday.

Although he had not progressed as well as hoped after two arm operations that sidelined him for all but four games in 1971, Starr had said July 1 he planned to return for a 17th season with the Packers.

"I have exhausted every effort to recover from the pain I have experienced in my arm," he read from a prepared text. "Playing football has always been great fun for me," he said, "but because of my discomfort this is no longer an enjoyable experience."

Starr joined the Packers as a 17th-round draft choice from Alabama in 1957 and was ineffective his first few years.

He became a starter late in the 1959 season. Vince Lombardi's first as coach, and quarterbacked Green Bay to six divisional and five NFL titles in the next eight seasons. The Packers added the first two Super Bowls to their unprecedented collection of championships in 1966-67, with Starr named most-valuable player in each game.

Frank Kimbrough Really Knew How To Pick 'Em

CANYON, Tex. — The late Frank Kimbrough could sure enough pick a football player out of a crowd.

While at Hardin-Simmons, he picked up "Bulldog" Turner from Sweetwater, Tex., and that fellow was not only a standout collegiate player after having not played football in high school, but he went on to be a great pro player with the Chicago Bears.

Out of a six-man football situation at Quitaque, Tex., Kimbrough developed Gene Mayfield, the present West Texas State head football coach, into an outstanding college quarterback.

While watching a Class B regional basketball tournament in 1955, Kimbrough noticed the aggressive play of a youngster for McAdoo and picked him out of a crowd. That youngster who played basketball for a school which was too small to field a football team came to West Texas State on a one-year make-good scholarship. Not only did Tommy Joe Coffey "make good," at West Texas State, but his name is a household word among the cities in the Canadian Football League.

A split receiver, Coffey holds enough records in the CFL to fill several pages of a record book. At West Texas, under Kimbrough, Coffey earned three letters, 1956, 1957 and 1958. He is 10th among the school's all-time pass receivers with 33 receptions for 578 yards and four touchdowns.

Coffey has been named all-pro in Canada for eight consecutive years. He is now entering his 14th season as a professional football player.

Coffey, who is 6-0 and 196, has caught 623 passes for 9,888 yards and has scored 923 points both as a receiver and placement kicker. All are CFL records. His 623 passes caught is second only to the retired Raymond Berry of Baltimore among pros in any league and he is second only to Don Maynard of the New York Jets in yards gained by pass receiving.

Twice in 1964, and 1965-Coffey has caught 81 passes in a single season. His finest year was 1969. During that season he had 71 receptions for 1,100 yards and scored 148 points. His points that season came on 12 touchdowns, 30 conversions, 13 field goals and seven singles, which were on missed field goals and into the endzone.

In 1970 Coffey scored 113 points to again lead the league in that department and was runnerup for the Schenley Award which goes to the league's most valuable player. He plays for the Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Although he was slowed with a knee injury last fall, Coffey still caught 28 passes for 423 yards. He missed the first exhibition game this summer with a slight foot injury, but caught two passes in the second game and Wednesday had three receptions, good for one touchdown in the third exhibition game.

Coffey who was named several years ago as a Canadian citizen by a league rule which allowed teams to name three players on that year's team as Canadians is the office manager for Victor Office Management Company, a personnel company in the off-season.

69—The Downhill Approach

The 13th hole at Atlanta Country Club, where we play a tournament every year, is only about 120 yards, a very short par-3. But it's tricky because there's about a 75-foot dropoff from tee to green.

Club selection is critical.

Because the shot is downhill, it's only a wedge for me although my first impulse was to take an 8-iron. The ball will carry farther on the fly, so you need less club.

Conversely, on an uphill shot you need more club.

The 13th at Atlanta is an unusual dropoff. Usually we're talking about a difference of one club. But it's still a big difference to take into account.

Some State Game Laws Have Come Into Effect

AUSTIN — As a result of recent action by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, several laws concerning sportsmen go into effect July 22 in all regulatory counties except those 23 counties in which commission action is subject to approval by the commissioners courts.

The daily bag limit on largemouth, smallmouth and spotted black bass was changed to 10 in the aggregate with a possession limit of 20 in the aggregate. The fish must be at least 10 inches long. The possession limit does not include fish processed and stored at the fisherman's permanent residence.

The 11-inch minimum length for catfish was removed.

All trotlines that remain in public fresh water must be redated at the expiration of each 90-day period, and Texas Parks and Wildlife Department enforcement personnel are authorized to remove expired and undated trotlines.

"Spear" was deleted from the section on legal methods for taking fish, and "spear gun and spear, bow and arrow," was substituted.

Floating buoys 10 inches above the waterline are now required for marking crab traps.

In the Northeast Regulatory District the use of hoop, trammel and gill nets is now illegal in Toledo Bend Reservoir and the Sabine River in Panola County.

The javelina season in the Permian Basin is Sept. 1, 1972 through Jan. 31, 1973 with a bag limit of two.

The combined daily bag limit of rainbow trout and brown trout in the Possum Kingdom, Permian Basin, Edwards Plateau and Trinity Brazos Regulatory Districts is five per day with no possession limit. The fish must be at least eight inches in length.

The waters of Lake Fairfield are closed to the use of all nets, and in the above regulatory districts catfish are deleted from those species which formerly could be taken by nets.

In Atascosa County the season on javelina runs concurrent with the deer season which is Oct. 1-31 for archery and Nov. 1-31 for the regular season. Bag limit is two per season.

In the Southeast Regulatory District catfish may not legally be taken with nets, and Walker County is closed to netting.

OLYMPIC FEATS 1904

(One of a series on extraordinary happenings in each of the 16 modern Olympic Games.)

ST. LOUIS, 1904 — A momentary outburst of temper by an official was responsible for a most unusual Olympic record at St. Louis. In the final of the 200 meters, the field broke three times and had to be recalled by the starter.

Following the third false start, one of the judges, irritated by the delay—and perhaps forgetful of the fact that this was an Olympic event—punished all four finalists by ordering them to line up one meter behind the official starting line.

Thus, Archie Hahn (USA) eventually went on to win and to set an Olympic record of 21.6 seconds for 201 meters.

For swimming competition, an artificial lake was dug. It proved disastrous, however. Several swimmers got stuck in the mud and reeds of the shore line. And a raft in the middle of the lake sank when seven swimmers boarded it.

General attitude of most athletes who competed at the third Olympic Games was probably summed up by Emil Breitkreutz (USA), winner of a bronze medal behind J. D. Lightbody (USA) and H. Valentine (USA) in the 800 meters. Writing about the Games some months later, he said, "Our prime interest had been in seeing the World's Fair."

(The above was provided by ABC Sports, which will be giving full Olympic television coverage from Munich, Aug. 25 through Sept. 10.)

Is TV Showing Signs of Maturity?

Hal Holbrook Creates Role Of 'Homo' Dad

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — In the days when I Love Lucy, Milton Berle, What's My Line? and The $64,000 Question were the big things on TV, nobody would have dreamed that the home screen would ever play host to a TV movie like "That Certain Summer."

It's a story of a homosexual. It proves, depending on your point of view, that television has either come of age or else gone to the dogs.

Since it is all done with extreme good taste I think it represents a great stride forward. The problem, of course, is that it might open the door to other things done with poor taste by the inevitable exploiters who will seize on the chance to make a cheap, sensational product.

That's in the future. The networks will have to guard against that development. Meanwhile, "That Certain Summer" is here, a fait accompli.

It is a simple story of a divorced father whose 14-year-old son comes to visit, finds his father (Hal Holbrook) with a male roommate (Martin Sheen) and eventually realizes that his old man is a homosexual. Scott Jacoby plays the boy and Hope Lange is his mother.

This story, in which the word "homosexual" is only spoken once, was written by Dick Levinson and Bill Link, who do the Columbo portions of NBC's Mystery Movie. They also wrote the TV film, "My Sweet Charlie," based on David Westheimer's novel about a black man and a white girl.

Levinson and Link say that NBC had misgivings about "My Sweet Charlie" originally. After it was aired—and was a hit, winning many awards—they got a letter from an NBC vice-president. He said he was wrong and was apologizing.

Nevertheless, when they approached the network with their idea for "That Certain Summer," they were turned down flat. So they went to ABC with it and ABC said, "It took them awhile to get down to work but once started they say it was the easiest script they've ever written."

Holbrook says the same thing applies to his playing of the leading role. It was hard to get started, to think of the approach to take to the character. But once he began, he says, it has been easy. He is playing the part straight, with no overt homosexual speech patterns or gestures.

Holbrook says he knows many homosexuals and, with the majority of them, you can't tell from looking at them or talking to them that they are not perfectly normal men.

Even though the film treats its subject gingerly, everyone connected with the project is sure it will be controversial.

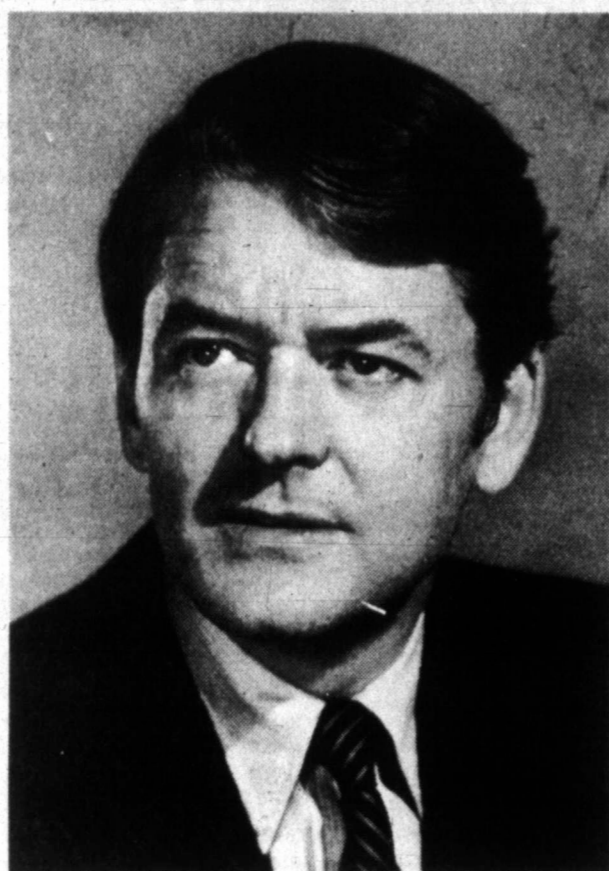

"There'll be a lot of flak, I'm sure," Levinson says. "There are people to whom the mere mention of homosexuality is a red flag."

Holbrook believes it is a good thing for the public to get to know, via TV, a representative homosexual.

"It's like being in a movie company," he says. "When I'm working in a company—such as this one—I get thrown in with all different kinds of people. People I'd never meet ordinarily. But when you get to work with them for a few weeks, you realize they're like everybody else.

"I think that same thing applies to this movie—the public will get to see a homosexual, a person they'd never ordinarily see, and hopefully will realize he's a human being just as they are."

HAL HOLBROOK

In "That Certain Summer," "...the public will get to see a homosexual, a person they'd never ordinarily see, and hopefully will realize he's a human being just as they are."

After this Holbrook does a feature film and in August begins rehearsals for his fall opening on Broadway in Arthur Miller's new play, "The Creation of the World and Other Business." He'll play Lucifer in the play, which also has God and Adam and Eve as main characters.

He says the play has some great dialogues between God and Lucifer about good and evil. They may even discuss homosexuality.

YOUTH BEAT

The National Report on What's Happening

B. B. King Is Winner And Still Champion

By ERNESTINE GUGLIELMO

STILL NO. 1—B. B. King is wallowing in praise both from critics and from other guitarists.

For the third year in a row, Downbeat magazine's annual International Critics Poll picked B. B. King as No. 1 Blues Artist of the Year.

King also kept his three-year title, "Most Popular Guitarist," in the blues field from Guitar Player magazine. This rating comes from a poll of guitarists from all over the world.

MARY MAGDALENE MARRIES—Yvonne Elliman, who created the role of Mary Magdalene in the opening road company of Jesus Christ, Superstar, will play the same role in the movie version, which is filming in Israel.

Besides her hit song, "I Don't Know How to Love Him," Yvonne has an album out and is starting to do cafe work.

Last month she secretly married British Bill Oakes, personal assistant to Peter Brown, president of the Robert Stigwood Organization, which produced Superstar.

It was an informal ceremony, with both bride and groom dressed in jeans and Mickey Mouse T-shirts.

WONDER DAY—The Third World Black Expo, which is involved with fund raising, tax report education, health information and voter registration, set a special day aside for singer Stevie Wonder.

July 20 was the official Stevie Wonder Day in Philadelphia in recognition of the work he's done with schoolchildren.

Stevie, whose sound keeps getting better, has been busy recording. He's doing a few tracks with Jeff Beck for Beck's next album, besides working on his own album, expected in October.

COOPER CONTROVERSY—Alice Cooper, whose routine has been described as "exciting, sadistic or perverted" depending on the strength of the stomach, has become the target of a campaign against "perversion and violence" in rock music.

Rod Gelkeson, a 20-year-old Pennsylvania rock performer, is going on local TV and radio as the spokesman against Alice Cooper and this type of entertainment.

Gelkeson, who regards the act, songs and even the record packaging as "very sick," is mainly concerned with the effect all this has on young record buyers.

Battle Looms On Compensation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitter battle over whether to compensate those who lost money when the government banned cyclamates, the artificial sweeteners, is shaping up on Capitol Hill.

Nixon administration forces are lined up with canners, farmers and soft drink representatives, plus a majority of the House Judiciary Committee, favoring a bill giving the Court of Claims power to determine losses sustained due to the 1969 ban.

Allied against the bill are Ralph Nader's consumer advocates and Judiciary Committee dissidents headed by Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. They claim "the ramifications that come from an effort to have the government indemnify the individual from the financial consequences of a proper exercise of federal regulatory power are almost too vast to contemplate."

The showdown is expected on the House floor Monday. A major point at issue is the cost. Proponents, headed by Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, D-Calif., estimate it would result in claims of up to $120 million. But opponents say there can "be no assurance that it may not cost several times that."

A terraspere is a container for plants with a bowl-shaped clear plastic top and a bottom with vent hole in the top section.

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS FOR A BOY

Take a boy--a normally bright lad-- your son or the boy next door-- just as he is, jeans, sneakers and all.

Add a newspaper route-- and fold in business training in buying at wholesale and selling at retail. Add a heaping measure of salesmanship and experience in handling money and making collections.

Encourage dependable and punctual delivery service to build a feeling of responsibility to his customers. Develop the ability to keep accurate financial records.

Blend in rewards for work well done with earnings that increase in proportion to his efficiency and "know-how."

Inspire with praise from Mom and Dad for good classroom work that goes hand in hand with good route work.

Let continue two or three years and behold a poised and self-reliant young man... who is well-equipped for a job or higher education... a credit to himself, his family and his community.

If you think your son or some other youngster might profit by Newspaperboy experience, why not suggest that he come in and talk to us.

Clerk Loses Faith In Employee

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County Clerk R. E. Turrentine testified here Friday he fired a clerk who wore a black arm band protesting the Vietnam War because he had "lost faith and confidence" in him.

Eloy J. Spanhel, 25, is suing Turrentine, asking for back salary and his job back after being fired last October. Spanhel said the firing occurred because he wore a black armband to the office protesting the war in Vietnam.

"I'm solely responsible for my office and I don't apologize to anyone for what I have to do to run it," Turrentine testified Friday. "You can't treat people like pet dogs and expect to get the job done," he said.

Turrentine said no single incident resulted in the loss of confidence but it was "a general conglomeration of things that all add up to one."

LUMBER USE UP
WASHINGTON (AP) — Lumber consumption in the United States in 1972 will set an all-time record of about 46 billion board feet, according to estimates for the year by the National Forest Production Assn.

"The building industry accounts for between two-thirds and three-fourths of all lumber consumption in the United States with variations depending largely on the strength of home building," said NFPA Forest economist, Dr. John Muench Jr.

Muench said that a domestic consumption level of 46 billion board feet would represent a gain of 20 per cent more than the 1970 consumption level, which was a relatively sluggish year for both housing and lumber. He attributed the bulk of the gain this year to the current housing boom.

NEW EARS
CHICAGO (AP) — Thousands of people with middle-ear deafness can now look to transplants to restore hearing, according to Northwestern University Medical School.

Northwestern University Medical School has established a middle-ear transplant program, to replace damaged ear drums and middle-ear bones for people with conductive hearing loss.

Headed by Dr. Eugene L. Derlacki, professor of otolaryngology, the Ear Homograft and Temporal Bone Research Laboratory will have headquarters in Chicago Wesley Memorial Hospital, funded by the Mid-America Hearing Research Foundation. It will be the first ear tissue bank and transplant research program in the Midwest.

MAKING PLANS—Miss Jeannine Maness, left, and Miss Cathy Collinsworth look over a world globe to locate the places they will visit while at Our Chalet, a Girl Scout international friendship house in Switzerland. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Maness, 431 N. Sumner, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Collinsworth, 112 N. Sumner. (Staff photo by John Ebling)

Two Pampa Senior Scouts Plan Trip To Switzerland

Miss Jeannine Maness, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Maness, 431 N. Sumner, and Miss Cathy Collinsworth, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Collinsworth, 112 N. Sumner, are preparing for a trip to Switzerland for a stay at Our Chalet, Girl Scout international friendship house, where girls from all over the world gather to live, work, and play together.

The young women will leave Amarillo airport at 6 a.m. Aug. 5, arriving at Zurich, Switzerland at 8:20 a.m. Aug. 6. From Zurich they will take a train to Prutigen, where they will board a bus for their final destination, Abeldoben.

Both have been active in Girl Scouting for about 11 years, and both girls have worked to earn their own money for the trip.

Miss Collinsworth, who joined Scouting in second grade, was a member of Troop 214 for eight years, and has been a member of Senior Troop 2 for three years. She has attended Day Camp and Established Camp, and has worked at Established Camp for three years as a lifeguard.

An international friendship house experience is not new to Miss Collinsworth who attend Our Cabana at Cuernavaca, Mexico last year.

Miss Maness, who also joined Girl Scouting in second grade, was, also, a member of Troop 214 for eight years, and has been a member of Senior Troop 2 for three years.

She has attended Day Camp and Established Camp, working, as a Cadette, with a Day Camp unit and, as a Senior Scout, as a lifeguard and swimming teacher for two years at Established Camp.

Policeman Of The Year Doesn't Even Carry Gun

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The "Policeman of the Year" doesn't carry a gun—and some suspects are flattered by his work. But not many get away.

Ector Garcia, the choice this year of the International Footprinters Association, is a police artist. Though he lost one eye in a 1959 shootout, his drawings based on descriptions by witnesses and victims have led to innumerable arrests.

Garcia received the policeman group's perpetual silver trophy Thursday in ceremonies at Los Angeles police headquarters. He was named "Outstanding Law Enforcement Officer of the Year" at the Footprinters' convention last month in Colorado Springs.

He says a police artist has to be "half-psychologist, half-detective."

"Everybody has something that creates an impression. A victim may remember if the guy was soft-spoken or harsh or excited. Take a guy who's excited—his eyes will be wide open."

Higher Tax Bills Cause Rumbblings In Households

NEW YORK (AP) — America's tax bill averages about $4,500 per household, or $2,000 more than 10 years ago, causing rumbblings and mutterings about a tax revolt by those hardest hit.

But that's only half the story. As many, or more, are demanding greater government expenditures, for health and welfare especially, and Congress seems willing to go along with them.

The situation is developing into a mass confrontation of opposing philosophical and practical views on what course the country is to take. One group calls it a tax problem, the other a spending problem. Both demand reform.

Few politicians care to discuss it before November, but regardless of which course is taken over the long term, the outcome of the immediate battle seems likely to be—you guessed it—a tax increase in 1973.

The reason for this conclusion, now shared by a large number of economists and researchers, is that government spending commitments already exceed revenues.

With the fiscal 1973 budget deficit likely to be near $30 billion, the three-year total 1971-1973 may exceed $80 billion, a stupendous figure when measured against any other "peacetime" period.

Whether or not spending can be better controlled after 1973 depends to some extent on the outcome of this year's election, but it is worth noting that recent deficits were run up by a President who considers himself a spending conservative.

The past also offers a suggestion: Figures supplied by the Tax Foundation demonstrate that in recent years the country has been demanding more services from its government but has been more reluctant to pay the bills.

In 1962, the foundation reports, expenditures per household by local, state and federal governments were $3.225. By 1968 the comparable figure was $4,676, and for 1972 it was more than $6,200.

By contrast, taxes per household in 1962 were about $2,500, rising to more than $3,600 in 1968 and to more than $4,500 in 1972, a percentage rise of only 77.5 per cent, compared with a spending advance of 93 per cent.

While inflation has many causes, this gap between revenues and expenditures is cited by economists as one of the underlying causes. Inflation, they point out, is really an unlegislated tax.

If a tax increase does come, what will be its form? Again, a lot depends on which party is most successful.

Present speculation puts a value added tax at the top of the list, especially if President Nixon is re-elected. Simply, this tax would be levied every time value is added to a commodity as it proceeds through the production process.

In 1971, 2.4 million foreign tourists visited the interior of Mexico.
