Catholic Church Bell Is Removed

By PHIL DUNCAN
 Daily News Photographer

On November 3, 1935 a 5,000 pound bell was rung at the Holy Souls Catholic Church at 612 W. Browning for the first time by Bishop Robert E. Lucey of Amarillo who now serves as the Archbishop in San Antonio.

The bell, taken out of the Holy Souls Church Friday, was installed November 2, 1935 by H. A. Blymiller and Son Trucking Co., who donated the cost of installation to the church.

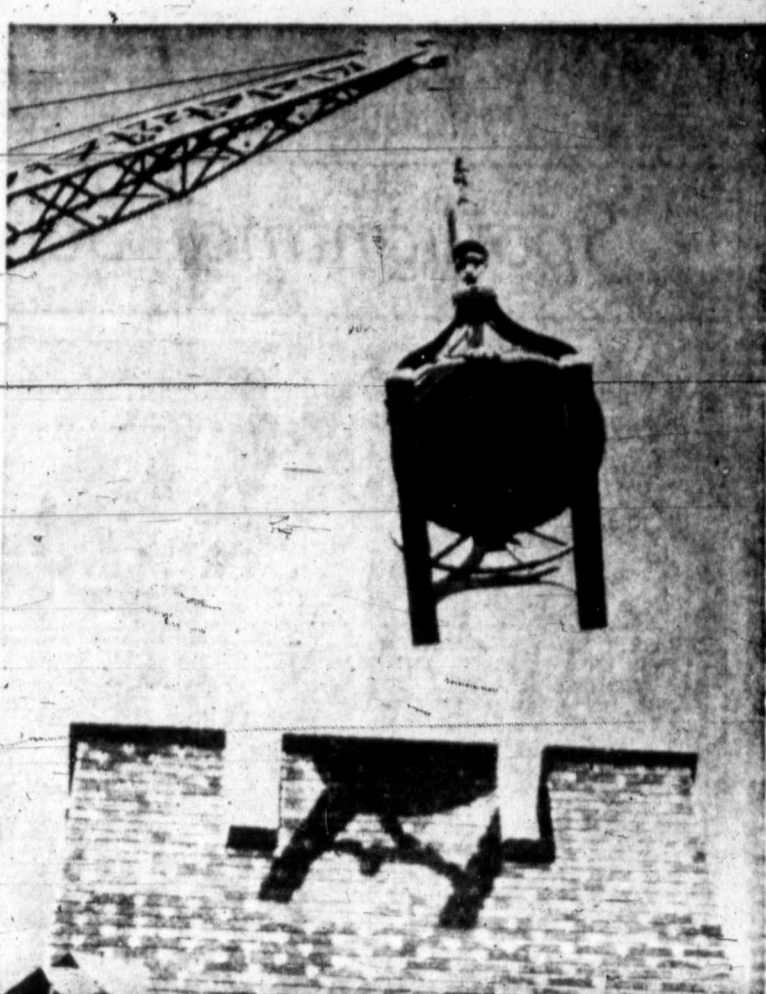

According to the diary of Blymiller's son, C. M. Blymiller, 413 N. Ward, the bell was picked up in Canadian, as a donation of the Canadian Methodist Church and installed in six hours in the uncompleted belfry.

The photograph on the left shows the bell as it was lifted by the 60 foot winch of the J. E. Carlson Inc. of Pampa as Bill Cole is watching to make sure the bell clears the belfry. The photograph on the right shows the 5,000 pound bell as it clears the belfry and is lowered to the ground.

The huge bell is the only rope-type carillon of that type remaining in Pampa. It was rung only at special and regular masses held at the church.

The pastor at the church at the time of installation, Father Wanderley, asked Blymiller, now deceased, and his son to pick up the bell and install it as a donation which they did.

Father Cashman, present pastor of the church, said that the bell will be installed at the entrance of the new church and school which was opened in August of 1962.

'Lifesaving' Cancer Drug Proven Useless in Animals

Main Ingredient Is Common Chemical

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
 United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government announced Saturday that the key ingredient in the controversial drug Krebiozen, hailed by its promoters as a lifesaver for hopeless cancer victims, is really a cheap, common laboratory chemical called Creatine which has proved ineffective against cancers in animals.

A ranking federal scientist said he found it "impossible to conceive" how Creatine could have any value in treating cancer in humans.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) held out the prospect of legal action in the Krebiozen case, particularly to determine whether the claims for the serum are actually true and whether its distribution conforms to federal law.

Crebiozen's chief sponsor, Dr. Andrew C. Ivy of Chicago, called the government's ruling an apparent "smear." He denied that Krebiozen, which he has called simply an "anti-cancer substance" extracted from the blood of horses, is Creatine.

The American Medical Association (AMA) condemned Krebiozen 12 years ago as worthless in treating human cancer.

After the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) reported the results of two years of elaborate tests to identify Krebiozen, Dr. T. Philip Waalkes, associate director of the National Cancer Institute, cast doubt on its effectiveness.

Even in very high doses, Waalkes said, Creatine has been proved ineffective in treating animal cancers. He said he could not recall any tests of Creatine for treatment of human cancer.

Denies Value

But, he added, it is "impossible to conceive how the minute doses of Creatine (in the Krebiozen sample tested) could be of any value in treating cancer in view of the large amounts of Creatine already in the body."

Waalkes said that every human has up to 120 grams of Creatine in his body. It is amino acid derivative found in the blood and muscle tissues of humans and certain animals, including horses.

It is possible, Wiley added, to get one gram of Creatine from a pound of hamburger if the right chemicals are employed.

Cancer patients have been charged $9.30 an injection for Krebiozen, although its backers have said they only receive voluntary donations for the treatment.

Stunning Shock

The government's report was a stunning shock to hundreds of cancer patients treated with Krebiozen who fear they will suffer untold agony and die if they are deprived of the serum.

More than 200 of them picketed the White House in July in a somber "death march" to try to persuade President Kennedy to assure them an uninterrupted supply.

Kennedy Plans Treaty Meeting With Senate

BYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — The White House announced Saturday that President Kennedy will hold an important round of foreign policy meetings Monday, including a discussion of the nuclear of the nuclear test ban treaty with Senate Democratic and Republican leaders.

The President will meet at 11 a.m. EDT Monday with Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana, and GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois. The Senate begins debate on the test ban pact next week.

Kennedy returned early from a family outing this afternoon aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz to prepare for Saturday night's big party honoring his ailing father, former ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, who celebrated his 75th birthday Friday.

Kennedy, his wife, and daughter, Caroline, had lunch on board the Honey Fitz off Great Island. Also on board were friends of the family K. Le Moyne Billings and columnist Charles Bartlett and his wife.

Not Related

Acting Press Secretary Malcolm Kiddiff told newsmen the President's meeting with Dirksen and Mansfield had been in the works for several days. He said it was not related to the announcement by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and two other Southern Democrats that they would oppose the treaty between the U. S., Soviet Union and Great Britain.

The President will fly back to Washington Monday for the heavy schedule of meetings.

At 11:30 a.m. he was to receive a report from Under Secretary of State George Ball on his trouble-shooting mission to Pakistan and Portugal. Secretary of State Dean Rusk also will attend the meeting.

Kennedy will meet at 4 p.m. with Rusk and U. N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson in a discussion of the forthcoming session of the United National General Assembly.

To Sit In

Harlan Cleveland, assistant secretary of state for international organizations, and roving Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, former envoy to the Soviet Union, will sit in on the meeting.

In N. Y. Teacher Dispute Arbitration Panel Meets to Avert Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — A three-member mediation panel began meetings with union officials and the Board of Education Saturday afternoon, less than 48 hours before the city's 43,000 public school teachers were set to begin an illegal strike.

Salary increases at all levels head the list of demands of the United Federation of Teachers (UFT), bargaining agent for the teachers.

More than 1,000,000 youngsters in 443 schools would be kept from classes if the teachers walk out as scheduled when the fall term begins Monday.

The city mediators, appointed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, met Saturday with school Supt. Dr. Calvin Gross, then huddled with UFT President Charles Cogen and other officials.

Both Gross and Cogen said they were "optimistic" a strike could be averted and both were prepared for around the clock talks. The meetings were taking place in a mid-town hotel.

If the teachers strike as scheduled they would be defying both a state Supreme Court restraining order and the state's controversial Condon-Wadlin law, which bars strikes by civil service workers.

"I think we will be at it for a long time," said Wagner's chief.

Mobile Home, Campers Damaged as Twister Strikes Pampa Area

A sudden "twister" swooped into Pampa yesterday afternoon and completely demolished a trailer house belonging to Randy Slavick. The trailer was sitting in the 1200 block of W. McCullough.

Apparently few people saw the "twister" coming but it completely rolled the trailer one time and left it right side up.

"The trailer hit on a boat," a barbecue pit and couple of trees when it landed," Dr. N. L. Nicholl said.

"I came along about an hour after it happened," H. E. McCarty, 1300 S. Hobart, said. "People standing around the trailer said the 'twister' tore the trailer house to pieces."

This "twister" or "whirlwind," as "Pronto" Poston of Pampa called it, dropped hail from pea size to marble size in North Crest.

The 20-minute drastic weather shift blew in 1.36 inch of driving hard rain and dropped the temperature 31 degrees in one hour. At 3 p.m. the temperature was 68.

The rain gauge at the News showed .28 of an inch.

Winds blew from 45 to 55 miles an hour steadily for 20 minutes with sudden gusts reaching a maximum velocity of 74 miles an hour, according to William Bowen, member of the Pampa Amateur Weather Network.

"If this was a 'twister,' it was a freakish nature for it came from the northwest. Generally they travel from southwest to northeast," Bowen said.

"Pronto" Poston, 1518 Evergreen, was returning home from Berger this afternoon and reported he saw the "biggest whirlwind I ever saw, one mile north of Robert E. Lee junior high."

The hard winds were responsible for turning over a camping trailer belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson of Erie, Kans., according to police.

"Mr. and Mrs. Olson were driving south on the Perryton Parkway on their way to visit their nephew," Lieut. Robert E. Crouch, investigating officer, said. "The wind just laid the two-wheel trailer gently on its left side. Because it was still hitched to the vehicle, damage was negligible and no one was hurt."

Vandalism, Thefts Keep Police Busy

Over the week end, Pampa police were investigating one case of vandalism, two incidents of billboards and two of purse thefts.

O. W. Burnett, 101 N. Sumner, told officers someone sprayed his green car three different times with red paint between 11 p.m. Thursday and 1:30 a.m. Friday.

According to his report, the first time was around 11 p.m. Thursday. He heard someone in a car and went out, but they drove away. When Mrs. Burnett returned home at 1:30 a.m., the car had been sprayed again.

Their daughter drove the car to school Friday. Between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, someone sprayed it again.

Barbara Totty, 1112 Neal Rd., told police someone took her purse containing $2, pictures and a gold chain and rhinestone necklace valued at $20 out of her car while it was parked at the high school between 8:30 a.m. and 9 p.m. Friday.

John B. Bangus of Dallas reported the theft of his billfold containing $68, his drivers license, social security and credit cards while he was staying at the Frontier Motel Thursday night.

A. L. Brummett, 237 Henry, reported while he was practicing football Friday afternoon, someone took his billfold out of the dressing room at the high school. It contained $11 and his drivers license.

Betty Roy, 821 E. Brunow, reported the theft of her purse containing a billfold, makeup kit and drivers license. It was taken out of her car while she was attending a party at the high school between 8:30 and 9 p.m. Friday.

Second Week Of First Aid Classes Is Announced

The second television standard first aid class will be taught from 6:30 to 7 a.m. Monday through Friday of this week over Channel 10, Amarillo, according to Roscoe Mounce, chairman of the Gray County first aid division of Red Cross.

Mrs. Helen Buell, first aid instructor, Indianapolis, Ind., will instruct the classes. The television class is offered with no charge. Work books may be picked up at the local Red Cross office in the basement of City Hall.

Following the televised classes, a three-hour session under an authorized instructor will be held in the Red Cross office to test those who participated in the instruction.

"TORNADO" BLOWS OVER MOBILE HOME — A possible "tornado" blew over the mobile home shown in the photograph yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 p.m. at the 1200 block of W. McCullough. Professional Boy Scout Leaders Hold Conference

Thirty-six hundred professional leaders of the Boy Scouts of America met for a week-long conference at the University of Illinois in Champaign, Ill., last week to determine how they can meet the changing demands of today's youth. The theme of the conference was "Facing the Challenge of the Changing Times."

Scout executives, including John Brewer, Pampa scout executive of the Adobe Walls Council, their wives and families from all 50 states, filled the huge assembly hall of the university each night to hear prominent men from business, government, religion, and industry projects, how the changing times affect the youth of the world. There was a marked emphasis by all speakers on the important contribution Scouting has made to world brotherhood. The speakers agreed that Scouting should be made available to more boys in minority groups and in congested and rural areas.

The emphasis of the conference was on building the competence of the individual Scout executive. Men attended morning discussion groups and elective classes in the afternoon. One hundred seventy-six subjects were offered on how to make Scouting available to more boys. Colorful displays and exhibits provided the latest information on office and camping equipment, literature, uniforms, visual education material, and newest techniques in office administration, programming, finance, and public relations.

The training conference which ended Sept. 4 was under the leadership of Chief Scout Executive Joseph A. Brunton Jr. As to the purpose of the conference, Brunton said, "The ultimate purpose of this conference is to bring Scouting in its best form, under the best leadership, to boys. Boys are our reason for being here, the reason for this conference; the reason for improving our professional competence; indeed, the reason behind all that we do."

Surplus Food Is Sent to India

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Billions of pounds of U. S. surplus foodstuffs, valued at billions of dollars, have been shipped or scheduled for shipment to India during the last seven years. These shipments have been and are being made under the Surplus Disposal Act known as Public Law 480. Formerly, this law is known as the "Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954." Immediately after enactment the name was shortened into "PL 480." And for the last couple of years or so, PL 480 has been known as the "Food For Peace" program. Whenever the name, the government-financed disposal of U. S. surplus farm products has been of immense benefit to India. India didn't sign a PL 480 agreement with the United States until August, 1956, two years after the act came into being. But once under way, India soon became the largest recipient of U. S. surplus farm commodities.

Since Aug. 29, 1956, the date of the first PL 480 agreement between the United States and India, U. S. foodstuffs valued at more than $1.7 billion have arrived at Indian ports. Existing agreements call for additional shipments which will bring the total value of U. S. foodstuffs to India to a whopping $2.4 billion.

Since PL 480 began operating, the United States has financed sales of surplus farm products totaling about $10 billion. Besides India, big volume customers have been Pakistan, Yugoslavia, Spain, Poland, United Arab Republic, Turkey, Brazil and Indonesia.

Disposal of surplus under PL 480 has been made chiefly under Title I of the act. Title I permits sales for local currencies. Title II provides for surplus disposal through emergency relief and economic development. Under Title III, private charities and governmental organizations are eligible to buy and distribute U. S. surplus goods for donation to needy persons both at home and abroad.

Most of the sales are made for foreign currencies. Roughly, here is how Title I works: The United States and a foreign country enter into a trade agreement for sale of U. S. farm commodities.

Underwriters To Hear Hamner In Noon Meet

L. Raeburn Hamner Jr., Vice President and Trust Officer of the Amarillo National Bank, formerly associated with the Republic National Bank of Dallas as Trust Officer and Tax Consultant for over 7 years, will be guest speaker tomorrow, Sept. 9 at noon for the Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters luncheon to be held at Pooles Steak House.

Hamner has been a resident of Amarillo since 1958. He is a native of Morganfield, Ky. where he attended grade and high school, before enrolling in the University of Kentucky, later transferring to Southern Methodist University, Dallas where he received a degree in professional accounting.

He was a captain in the Marine Corps for four and one-half years, during World War II, with combat service in the Pacific Theatre. Hamner is a member of the Polk Street Methodist Church, for which he also serves as treasurer, and Treasurer of the United Fund, Amarillo, Vice President of the Amarillo Club, and past President of the Coronada P.T.A.

Before coming to Amarillo Mr. Hamner was President of the Tax Executives Institute, Inc., a national organization of tax men for large corporations.

John McCaugland, President of the association, stated that the association expects to host many of the attorneys and accountants from Pampa and other local towns for the occasion.

Try Writing A Letter With Homemade Ink

1. Two materials are necessary to make a good iron permanent ink, iron sulfate and tannic acid. If commercial materials are not available, an iron compound can be made by first soaking some iron nails in carbon tetrachloride to remove the grease coating on them. Avoid breathing carbon tetrachloride vapor by doing this outside. Put the nails in white vinegar and let them stand for two days. You now have a solution of iron acetate. To make a concentration solution of tannic acid, boil three tablespoons of tea leaves in a half cup of water.

This is ink. It is too thin to write with so mix a small amount of water soluble glue into it to make the solution thicker.

2. Combine equal amounts of the iron acetate and tannic acid.

3. What color is the solution? Write a letter. Let it stand for a day. Now what color is the ink? Commercial ink has soluble dyes added to it so you can see what you write.

Party to Honor Dr. L. F. Sheffy

Travis Lively Sr of Pampa, will review the third book in the M. K. Brown Range Life Series during a reception and autographing party in honor of the book's author, Dr. Lester Fields Sheffy, from 4 to 5 p.m. tomorrow in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

Dr. Sheffy is a retired history professor at West Texas State University in Canyon. His book, entitled "The Franklyn Land and Cattle Company, a Panhandle Enterprise, 1882-1957," was financed and edited by M. K. Brown.

"The public is invited to the autographing," Brown said. "In addition to Lively, Sheffy and myself, Frank H. Wardlaw of Austin the director of the publishing company, The University of Texas Press, will be present."

The book is a history of the founders and development of the White Deer Lands in the Texas Panhandle. An observation of the financial aspects of a giant cattle operation from 1882 to 1957, it is based on the firsthand experiences of the men who established the "extensive cattle ranch in a wild, relatively isolated, semi-desert country," now known as part of Gray, Carson, Roberts and Hutchinson counties.

TALKINGEST SATELLITE—Syncom II, the first successful "synchronous satellite," has accumulated more message time than all other communications satellites combined. Since its launching on July 26, it has averaged more than 15 hours a day of receiving and transmitting signals. Syncom II is called synchronous because its speed in orbit 22,300 miles high is just enough to keep it above one point on the equator (see NewsGraphic above). It actually wanders in a figure-eight pattern above the same area of Brazil and the Atlantic Ocean. Small jets, which have enough fuel for two years, are periodically fired to maintain and correct Syncom's position.

'Sad Ending' Rates Honorable Mention

Pat Ludeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. Ludeman, 806 N. Frost, is a teenage author of a "sad story" that rated honorable mention in Seventeen magazine's annual short story contest.

"My story seemed suitable for the type of story Seventeen usually prints," she said. "Most of them have a sad ending and I think mine does too. It may change as the girl in the story gets older, but at the time, her decision to choose the ways of the crowd leaves her with regret, a feeling she will be missing something."

Entitled "Losers, Weepers," the story is one of a teenage girl's struggle to keep her covered and hard-earned position as "one of the crowd" and, at the same time, keep the friendship and respect of a boy who is not one of the group.

"Mother suggested the title from the old saying, 'Funders, keepers, losers, weepers,'" Pat said.

Pat was awarded $10 and will be recognized as an honorable mention winner in the magazine's January, 1968, Readers Issue.

All of the 2,000 entries in the national contest were based on literary worth, validity of situation, plot development and convincing characterization.

But weather, shearing and other factors have caused a marked increase in infestation from early September through October.

This expected increase must be prevented, the officials said, if the screwworm is to be eradicated in the near future.

Officials urged stockmen to watch closely for screwworms in the wounds of animals and to report a discovery at once to their county agent or veterinarian.

Eradication workers will quickly move into any area where screwworms are reported. They will release sterile flies near areas where infestations are discovered. They will spray livestock in the area and intensify livestock inspection in an effort to find other infestations.

WHAT AND WHERE? A news quiz game for readers

In each of the numbered spots marked on this map a newsworthy event occurred recently. As a newspaper reader, check your memory and your knowledge by identifying the event through the location. The accompanying box will help you do it.

MATCH 'EM UP

<input type="checkbox"/> Miraculous rescue	<input type="checkbox"/> Holiday highway horror
<input type="checkbox"/> A strong left arm	<input type="checkbox"/> Underground disaster
<input type="checkbox"/> Emancipation rally	<input type="checkbox"/> First O.K. on A-pact
<input type="checkbox"/> K-to-K link	<input type="checkbox"/> Rein on rails dispute
<input type="checkbox"/> Asian hotbed	<input type="checkbox"/> Jailed in tax case

What occurred where? Look at the map and match up the numbers with the events listed in the box at the left. Then turn to the answers on this page and see how well you did. Score yourself 10 points for each correct answer. A score of 20 or less indicates you'd better start reading the papers a bit more. A score of 50—you're fairly hep. A score of 75—you're pretty sharp. A score of 90 or more—congratulations to a real news hawk!

Underwater Storage Tank Is Designed

A 50,000-gallon underwater storage tank for fuel and oil is being designed and tested. The problems of design and the methods of approaching the problems will be described in a paper by Fares J. Hanna, of Hanna Construction Company in Houston, Hanna will present the paper at the 50th Anniversary Fall Meeting of the Society of Petroleum Engineers in New Orleans, October 6-9.

The two basic approaches to the design of the tank utilize a rigid steel tank and a flexible tank with a steel frame. The large size presents problems not previously encountered in the construction of smaller tanks.

The paper, "Underwater Fuel and Oil Storage," outlines the requirements for designing the tank and possible solutions.

The Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE) is an international professional society for engineers engaged in the drilling and production of oil and gas. It is a constituent society of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers (AIME) which was created in 1871 as one of the five Founder Societies in America.

NAME

HOUSTON (UPI) — Have you ever wondered how "Project Mohole" the attempt to dig through the earth's crust, got its name? From a Yugoslavian who discovered the change in the earth's surface between the crust and the mantle.

He was Andrija Mohorovicic. This was abbreviated to "Moho" and when scientists decided to try to drill holes into the crust of the earth to find out what the skin of the earth is made of, they decided to call the drilling a "mo-hole" and the operation "Project Mohole."

STILL BURNING

NEW YORK (UPI) — The old gas light was not like the dodo bird. It was never to become extinct. The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association reports that gas light did go into eclipse in 1914 after attaining a peak of 250,000 but today, GAMA says, more than 825,000 gas lights are in use.

SUPERMOUSE

CHICAGO (UPI) — Super Multi-Mouse would strike terror into the heart of the toughest alley cat. It's a gun that fires a number of bazooka-like charges with velocities up to 25,000 feet a second. The Pan Geo Atlas Corp. unit is lowered into oil wells to perforate casings and rock formations to allow trapped oil to flow freely.

TEXAS OUTDOORS

By JOHN KNAGGS

United Press International Dove hunting reports to the Parks and Wildlife Department indicate drought over much of the state has forced field hunters to move near water.

Many areas in the north zone are short on grain, leaving field prospects stable to poor. Hunters with access to ponds and tanks are bringing in the good bags.

North Zone hunting opened Sept. 1 to run through Oct. 30. South Zone will run from Sept. 21 to Nov. 13 and unless general rains fall, a similar hunting pattern is predicted for the South Zone.

Curtis Carpenter, who assembles warden and biologist reports at the department, said recent rains have improved overall game prospects in parts of West Texas and around the Red River.

Good Hunting Restricted

In dry Central Texas good dove hunting has been restricted mostly to tanks and ponds. Dove reports have been anything but encouraging along the line that divides the zones around San Antonio.

"Hunting, in general, is going to be Okay this year," Carpenter said. Despite the drought, deer and quail populations have shown marked improvement and turkey have held up well thus far, he said.

Carpenter said the screwworm eradication program has contributed to the deer population increase by protecting the fawn crop.

The western fringe of the Edwards Plateau reports a 40 per cent increase in deer due to the heavily increased fawn crop.

A deer die-off scared many hunters away from Hill Country last year, but Carpenter says a big crop is expected this winter, drought or not.

Better Deer Hunting

"Antelope are down as much as 25 per cent, but deer hunting should be as good or better in Texas than last year," Carpenter said.

PRECISION

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — The Boring Co. has developed a machine which can weld wires half the thickness of a human hair to surfaces only a few thousandths of an inch thick. The new machine solves problems which emerged with the growth of microminiaturized electronics and it took nearly a year to perfect.

IRON RECORD

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (UPI) — A new record for iron production was set by Bethlehem Steel Co.'s blast furnace "D" during August, John E. Jacobs, vice president, reported.

Jacobs said the Bethlehem furnace produced 100,631 tons of iron in August, topping the previous known record 95,820 tons set by the No. 4 furnace of Broken Hill Proprietary Co. of Australia in Oct. 1962.

Help Your Senator

With the Treaty of Moscow successfully rammed through the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for the consideration of the Senate as a whole, Chairman Fulbright has said: "There is no disposition to rush this."
We hope the Chairman is right and that all 100 Senators — which includes those who moved it out of the committee room onto the floor — will deliberate the points on which it is most suspect.
1. That the Reds (who have no Constitutional obligation to respect treaties and a record of violating 59 out of 52 U. S. agreements) are eager for it.
2. That our top military advisors are not.
3. That its language is so foggy that the Secretary of State has had to explain to the Committee that it does so permit us to defend ourselves with our nuclear weapons.
4. That it clearly and specifically constitutes step one of stage one of the three-stage program for general and complete disarmament in a peaceful world — as spelled out in Department of State Publication 7277 (presented to the 16th General Assembly of the UN and released September 1961) and which calls for the abandonment of our army, navy and air force to a "UN Peace Force."

5. That, contrary to tradition, and with scant respect for representative government, the signatures of some 70 nations were affixed to this document — obviously to give it fraudulent weight — before being presented to the Senate by whose "advice and consent" alone it can become an instrument of state.
Nor should the Senators forget the words of President Kennedy in November 1961 on our betrayal by the Russians in the first agreement to stop nuclear testing. He said "if they fooled us once, it is their fault, and if they fool us twice, it is our fault."
But the Senators themselves need and desperately want advice and consent — from their constituents; collectively, from the Nation. And those who withhold it now, in these final fateful hours, must feel the added pang of conscience if they are called upon to share the consequences of a "dreadful and tragic mistake" that Dr. Edward Teller has warned us of.

Big Men
Big men and bigoted conduct are incompatible. It is the small man who fancies that he will appear taller thru intolerance.

A Lively Ghost

"Gershwin playing? Yes, it was," headlined the New York Herald Tribune on the morning after the recent Gershwin concert conducted by Andre Kostelanetz at Lincoln Center.
"From out of the past," explained the H-T's critic, "a player-piano was rolled onto the stage, a spotlight picked it out in the darkened hall and it began to play."
"The music was 'That Certain Feeling' from Gershwin's 'Tapestry' — and the performer was George Gershwin — or rather a piano roll that Gershwin had made himself in 1926. No, it was Gershwin himself. The style, the inimitable propulsion of the music, couldn't be mistaken by anyone."
Equally notable, the player-piano itself was not "out of the past," but a brand new 1963 model Pianola and this top-drawer musical event-highlighted the startling re-emergence of this do-it-yourself instrument from the silence of 30 years.
During the past year, we have learned, American families bought more players than in any year since the heyday (or perhaps the hey-heh-day) of the "roaring twenties" when players outdressed standard pianos. Today, with more and more manufacturers joining in this return to old-fashioned family fun, sales continue to climb with the choice of eight different modernized player-pianos.
While the new players bring back the nostalgic charm, electric power supplies a modernistic touch and many of the leading makes provide foot-power as well for optional use by old-timers who recognize pumping as a vital part of the fun. All of today's players, however, can be played manually by the more gifted of us in the same way as the standard piano. And today's players are stylish, too, a far cry from the bulky uprights of yesteryear.
Looking backward, it is doubtful that any other invention ever gave more pleasure to more people. And looking forward, it looks as if people are going to have more fun than anybody!

Steel Yourself Against Thirst

Thirst — according to our dictionary — is "A distressful feeling of dryness in the throat and mouth, accompanied by an increasingly urgent desire for liquids."
And another thing about thirst is the fact that just thinking about it usually brings it on. Thus, it is not a suitable subject for contemplation when far removed from potable liquids. Some people get thirsty when working, others when they're not doing a thing. And everybody, it seems, gets extra thirsty all year round when having fun — whether fishing, climbing a mountain, sailing a boat, playing golf or just talking with friends.
Pondering this universal phenomenon, and the further fact that among young and old the most popular vehicle for the relief of thirst is soda pop, our imaginative producers of steel, and their customers the can manufacturers, had an idea: Why, instead of the goatskin bag of the Sahara or the keg of the St. Bernard, they asked, could not durable, economical steel replace the less resilient, if traditional, container?
No sooner thought than done, we are told by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. Mills began rolling and coating special tin plate for the thirsty from Everest to the Dry Tortugas, and before long, soft drinks in cans — hermetically sealed against all vicissitudes, including being dropped on the edge of a swimming pool or off a ski slope — were rolling off the production lines in practically all colors and flavors.
But still, while cans produced from Jones & Laughlin and others' steel have now made it safe to be thirsty practically everywhere, we would like to point out that one "pocket of resistance," as the military men call it, remains. We note that in the speaking trade (after-dinner, a fete luncheon, political, etc.) the water pitcher remains on the lectern.
Something must be done!

In 1265, the first permanent settlement of Europeans in what is now continental United States was founded at St. Augustine, Fla.
In 1855, the Crimean War ended.
In 1909, some 6,000 persons were killed when a tornado and tidal wave struck Galveston, Tex.
In 1934, the U.S. liner Morro Castle burned off Asbury Park, N. J., taking 137 lives.

Pull Up A Chair

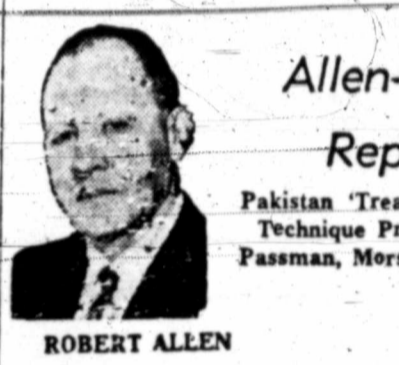

By Frank J. Markey

We were never good at mathematics so we'll take the word of Eugene Parker, University of Chicago physicist, that the Sun loses weight at the rate of 2 million tons a second. He estimates that 5 billion years from now, which shouldn't bother any of us, it will have lost 200 sextillion tons, which will have been blown into outer space where the energy will be dispersed. He says this "solar wind" pushed the Echo balloon satellite off course. We'll take his word for it.

Just in case you're wondering, 200 sextillion spelled out in digits reads like this: 200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000. That's right, 200 and seven units of three zeros trailing after it. We can't contemplate it either, but we told you we were not very good at math.
The New York Stock Exchange will continue to emphasize the right from the wrong way of investing in its ads. Advertising budgets for the year run to $1,085,000 as compared with $1,170,000 last year. The campaign uses 700 newspapers, 11 national magazines, and five financial publications. Offers no hot tips on the market; simply advocates investing wisely.
Country Editor speaking: "Even if men would understand women they still wouldn't believe it." . . . Authorities estimate that if the $7 million taken in that British train robbery were in one pound note ($2.80) and they were stacked atop one another they would make a pile 950 feet high. . . . Nearly 3 million persons visited Oklahoma's state parks in 1962, which is almost three and one-half times the population of the state. . . . Officialdom's prat falls: A Wisconsin judge soaked a dog catcher $10 for letting his own dog run loose. Gold: . . . The new world's record for speed on land was set recently by 26-year-old Craig Breedlove, one-time Los Angeles hot rodder, who rolled over the salt flats of Utah in his specially-built car at 407.45 mph. We won't ride with that guy. . . . The first official British polo team to come here in 20 years will play in New York. The game was brought to England by British army officers from India in 1869, and James Gordon Bennett eminent sportsman and journalist, brought it to this country seven years later. A rich man's sport. . . . The European Common Market topped the tariff on U.S. poultry imports, which could cost the American breeders $46 million a year. High time we slapped a few tariffs too. . . . We haven't been invited there lately, but we learned the solid gold table service at Buckingham Palace is worth $2000 a plate.
Memory Lane: Remember when lads and lassies of the 20's thought they were not dressed properly if they didn't have a raccoon coat to wear to a football game? . . . We wonder what kind of answers that British girl will get from the 170 personal and intimate questions she submitted to a computer regarding her plans for marriage next Spring. Skopje, Yugoslavian city ruined by an earthquake, is to be rebuilt on a different site, according to Tito's government, which failed to mention the U.S. help for the 270,000 devastated.
An average New York bus driver earns $5824, but pays $568 in federal income taxes and $603 in other taxes, totalling 20 per cent of his pay. London bus drivers average $2080 annually; pay an income tax of only $535, and other taxes total $289. Moneywise, which one is better off?
Today's smile: We heard about the young doctor, who had been called "Big Bill" in college and now resented it. He said: "After all, I'm now a doctor and you know how those nicknames stick."

Allen-Scott Report
Pakistan 'Treat 'em Rough' Technique Profitable, But Passman, Morse on Warpath

WASHINGTON — Foreign countries desirous of being cut in on U.S. aid will find it very useful to study Pakistan's highly successful technique.
It has proved extremely profitable — to the tune of more than $5 billion.
Pakistan's effective formula is relatively simple and direct. It can be succinctly summed up as "treat 'em rough and make 'em like it." For Pakistan, this policy has been an unflinching "open sesame" to U.S. aid coffers.
Although a member of the SEATO alliance, and the recipient of billions in military and economic aid from this country, Pakistan is busily establishing close commercial and military ties with Red China. The latest is an agreement on a civil air line between the two nations.
The Kennedy administration has reacted with characteristic "vigilance."
Privately, it is pouring out more juicy economic aid to Pakistan, while publicly the President rushed a personal representative to appeal to President Ayub Khan. What this mission of Undersecretary of State George Ball is accomplishing, if anything, is not known.
The odds are against any favorable results — for the U.S.
For Pakistan, the pay-off already is under way in the form of a so-called "sale" of 100,000 tons (approximately 3.5 million bushels) of surplus wheat under Title I of Public Law 480.
Under this provision, Pakistan pays for the grain with its own currency, which the U.S. in turn gives back to Pakistan in grants and loans for projects there. In effect, Title I transactions amount to give-aways. This is the latest of many Pakistan has gotten.
Cost to U.S. taxpayers of this huge wheat shipment is more than $10 million. Of that total, some $2.4 million is for shipping charges.
The grain is being transported on the SS Manhattan, largest tanker in the world. Loaded at a Gulf port, the wheat is destined for the Pakistan port of Chalna-Chittagong, where Liberty-sized vessels will lighten the ashore.
UNCLE SANTA CLAUS — The $3 billion in military and economic aid to Pakistan is only part of the story.
Latest available official figures, including 1962, show Pakistan has received a total of $1,854 billion in economic aid. Of that, $1,062 billion was in grants, $791.5 million in long-term loans. The amount of military aid is classified. It can be definitely stated, however, that it is in excess of $2.5 billion.
In addition to these immense sums, Pakistan also has received well over $1.5 billion in surplus commodities under the various titles of Public Law 480.
Under Title I, between July 1, 1954, and December 31, 1962, Pakistan got surplus commodities that cost U.S. taxpayers $1,497 billion. Included in this amount was $738.8 million for shipping charges. Under Title 2, $48.8 million in surplus commodities was shipped there as

The Doctor Says:

Regular X-Ray Is Surest Alert for Lung Cancer
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Q—What are the symptoms of lung cancer?

A—If you have lung cancer there is no standard way it will affect you. In some people it acts like a pneumonia that hangs on longer than it should. In others the first sign may be the spitting up of a little blood. An unexplained loss of weight may be the only symptom or there may be a persistent pain in the chest.
Why don't you have your doctor get an X-ray of your chest? This is the surest way to find out before the disease has progressed too far.
Q—My doctor has prescribed Aralen for my lupus erythematosus. Is it habit forming? What are the side effects?
A—Your doctor is giving you a drug that usually helps persons with lupus erythematosus. Chloroquine (Aralen) is not habit forming. It is well-tolerated in the doses ordinarily prescribed. Large doses may cause you to have a mild headache, itching, blurred vision or nausea but none of these would be a reason to stop taking the drug. These symptoms clear up when the dose is reduced and then later, if you need a larger dose, your system will have adjusted to the drug and the dose can be increased without a return of the undesirable side effects.
Q—Are X-ray effects due to radiation? Is it possible for a person to be affected by radiation from being around a patient who is getting X-ray treatments?
A—Yes, X-ray treatments are based on so-called ionizing radiations but they are not catching.
Q—Does the taking of calcium cause hardening of the arteries?
My doctor is giving me calcium for osteoporosis.
A—You have a smart doctor. Calcium will harden your bones but not your arteries. Although hardening of the arteries does involve some deposition of calcium in the arterial walls, the chief offenders are fats. According to recent reports the so-called saturated fats are especially to blame. Taking calcium in tablets or as part of the diet has been completely exonerated as a cause of arteriosclerosis.
Q—I am a housewife. My doctor says that my hemoglobin is 8 grams. Is that very much too low? Should I restrict my activity until the hemoglobin is normal?
A—Your hemoglobin level should not be lower than 12 and preferably 15 or 16 grams (14 to 18) grams for men). A low level indicates some form of anemia but, since there are many forms, your doctor is your best guide to treatment. I would say in general that since any form of anemia may cause you to tire easily, you should try to be as active as you can without becoming overly tired.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Edson In Washington Waves of JFK Proposals Have Congress Foundering

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Kennedy has sent more than 20 major messages and letters to the Capitol so far this year—one for every five days that Congress has been in session.
It is a tremendous work load. Each message has contained from one to more than 30 legislative recommendations. The total, according to government sources, is close to 400.
Now going into the ninth month of its current session, Congress has passed and the President has signed into law more than 100 bills. But not one of the approved measures has anything to do with a presidential recommendation.
A Senate Republican Policy Committee staff report finds that the whole program is stalled because the President has made more than 200 requests for money to finance new or enlarged programs and 70 requests for more power.
As a fundamental reason for the lack of action on Capitol Hill that explanation may be an oversimplification. Most of the President's recommendations admittedly are controversial.
From a Democratic administration point of view, the President's program recognizes that the United States and the whole world are changing. New solutions are said to be needed to meet new problems.
Congress and the country have not adjusted to this need for change. So the whole program is slowed down.
Whatever the cause may be, some of the pessimists now are saying that not more than half a dozen of the President's major recommendations will be acted on by Congress this year.
It is further predicted that all of the original requests considered will be changed materially—some almost beyond recognition.
This list includes tax cuts, a limited civil rights program, some additional aid for depressed areas and manpower retraining, new powers over the stock markets for Securities and Exchange Commission, a resolution to deal with the railroad labor crisis if management and the brotherhoods do not settle it themselves and, finally, ratification of the nuclear test ban.
Given much lower prospects for passage this year are several consumer protection measures, aid for mass transit in metropolitan areas, further changes in labor standards and unemployment insurance legislation, aids to grade and college education, new wheat, cotton and dairy programs—all of which were recommended to Congress by the President last year.
The score on the president's major special messages to Congress for this session therefore stands about like this:
Tax reduction—House Ways and Means Committee just completing first draft of bill still to be acted on by Congress.
Health—Hospitalization for the aged under Social Security in Senate committee; House hearings may begin soon. Aid for mental retardation passed by Senate, in House committee.
Development of recreation facilities—Still in Senate and House committees. Wilderness bill passed by Senate but still before House committee.
Youth programs—Youth Conservation Corps passed by Senate, reported out by House committee. National Service Corps reported out by Senate committee but still in House committee.

No action at all has been taken on the President's recommendations on tax benefits for political contributions, revision of national origins quota system and other immigration laws, measures for reducing U.S. balance of payments deficit.
Investigations—all under Democratic chairmen—drag on endlessly, probing Department of Defense contracts on the TFX fighter, the space program, civil rights, foreign agents lobbying, foreign aid, economic policy and fiscal policies.
It's small wonder congressmen don't have time to legislate. They're working like dogs, chasing their tails.
The only thing that can remedy all this is reorganization of Congress itself—which all but a few of the lawmakers refuse even to consider.

Editor:

In a recent meeting of the council of The John Birch Society, Mr. Robert Welch stated that in regard to the Test Ban Treaty, The John Birch Society takes the position that it is both immoral and stupid to enter into any treaty with criminals who have no respect for treaties.
The Communists say that promises, like pie crusts, are made to be broken; that they enter into treaties only for the advantages to themselves, and with no expectation of abiding by such treaties. And they have proved by their actions, in violating dozens of solemn treaties before the ink was hardly dry, that they are just as unscrupulous as they claim to be.
Amid the infinite confusion around us today, the only safe guide is the moral standard. The important question about a proposed action, by a man or by a nation, is not "Is it smart?" but "Is it right?" Entering into the test-ban treaty with the Soviet murderers is morally wrong. And for that very reason it is assuredly unwise.

ONE SIDE OF THE WALL—Sitting in the shadow of the Communist-built wall dividing East and West Berlin, these West Berlin children are unconcerned about the political implications of the concrete blocks and barbed wire towering over them. Built two years ago, the wall has become the symbol of a divided world. No one can predict how many more years it will stay up. For growing children, it seems as if the wall has always been there.

Joke Causes Youth to Change Mind About Army

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — An AWOL Ft. Hood, Tex. soldier's practical joke has made Tom Doles, 16, of Wichita cancel his plans to enlist in the Army.
The practical joke put Doles in the Ft. Riley, Kan., stockade for eight days. This, he said, gave him a taste of service life and he has decided not to enlist after he becomes 17 on Sept. 21.
Larry Arvis, 18, of Wichita was AWOL in Kansas City with Doles. Arvis decided to surrender and as a joke told military police that Doles also went over the hill with him.
Doles protested, but was sent to the stockade to await transfer back to Ft. Hood. After eight days of constant protests, Army officials finally checked with Ft. Hood and learned Doles was not wanted.

Giants Drop LA, Cards Move Up

Drysdale Beaten By Frisco Homers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants blasted Don Drysdale for three home runs Saturday while handing the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-3 defeat that cut their National League lead over St. Louis to 4½ games.

Juan Marichal, who never has lost to the Dodgers in Candlestick Park, rode to his 21st win on homers by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey.

The high-kicking righthander also struck out eight for a season total of 205 and became the first Giant to pass the double century mark since Sam Jones fanned 209 in 1959.

Mays gave the Giants a two-run lead with his 34th homer of the season in the first inning, bringing across McCovey who had singled.

Cepeda then powered his 27th over the right field barrier in the fourth and McCovey followed in the sixth with his 37th.

Flood Leads SL Past Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Curt Flood singled home Bob Gibson in the ninth inning Saturday with the run that gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The win was the 10th in the last 11 games for the second place Cardinals.

Stan Musial opened the ninth by drawing a walk as a pinch-hitter. Gibson ran for Musial and took second when first baseman Don Clendenen dropped the throw on a pick-off attempt by Elroy Face. Flood followed with his single.

The Cardinals had tied the score at 5-all with two runs in the eighth inning on singles by Bill White, Ken Boyer, Charlie James, and a sacrifice fly by Tim McCarver.

Minnesota Downs Chicago Sox, 4-2

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rich Rollins singled home two runs in the 12th inning Saturday to give the Minnesota Twins a 4-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The win increased Minnesota's edge over Chicago to one and a half games in their battle for second place in the American League.

Rollins, who hit safely in four of five official trips to the plate, fared better than Howard after Zoilo Versalles had doubled and Bernie Allen had walked. Johnny Goril's sacrifice bunt advanced both to scoring positions.

Yankees Roll On As Maris Hits

NEW YORK (UPI) — The pennant-bound New York Yankees staged their biggest inning of the season Saturday when they scored eight runs in the fifth frame — four of them driven in by Roger Maris — to beat the Detroit Tigers, 11-6.

The Yankees, who notched their fourth straight victory, were trailing, 6-3, at the time of the explosion, thanks to a five-run rally by the Tigers in the fourth inning.

But after Mickey Mantle singled to open the New York fifth to knock out Tiger starter Don Mossi, Maris greeted reliever and loser Mickey Lolich with his 21st homer of the year. Later Maris stroked a two-run single to conclude the scoring in the inning, in which 12 Yankees went to bat.

Hal Reniff, who relieved in the sixth inning and shut out Detroit the rest of the way, was credited with his fourth victory of the year.

Ramos Leads Tribe In Win Over Sens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pedro Ramos contributed a two-run homer to his own cause Saturday night while pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 5-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

The Cuban righthander's sixth-inning smash came after Woody Held had hit a three-run homer in the fourth to move the Tribe in front. For Ramos, who won his eighth against seven losses, it was his third homer of the year.

Giants Down Eagles, 34-10

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — Fullback Alex Webster scored on a 22-yard screen pass and then completed a 74-yard touchdown toss to Del Shofner for the first pass of 10 exhibition victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

A crowd of 45,007 at Princeton's Palmer Stadium watched the Giants roll up a 24-19 halftime lead and coast to their second victory in five pre-season games. The Eagles also ended the exhibition season with a 2-3 record.

After Don Chandler of the Giants had opened the scoring with a 12-yard field goal, quarterback Y. A. Tittle completed his first touchdown pass of this year's exhibition schedule. It was a screen pass which Webster carried 22 yards.

Webster who had been listed as a doubtful starter because of a leg injury, threw his surprise touchdown pass to Shofner in the second period and then Tittle carried over on a bootleg play from three yards out to give the Giants, a 24-3 lead.

SPORTS

Jacobs' 8-Under Heads Utah Open

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Young Tommy Jacobs, an up and down performer on the tour, rode a succession of birdies Saturday for an amazing eight under par 62 that vaulted him into the third round lead in the $40,000 Utah Open golf tournament.

The 28-year-old swinger from Bermuda Dunes, Calif., set a course record for the Salt Lake Country Club layout as he overtook second round leader Don January. Jacobs' sensational round included nine birdies and gave him a 54 hole total of 202.

January dropped into a second place tie with South African Gary Player, both with 205. January faltered to a two over par 72, while Player came in with a 70.

Six strokes off Jacobs' blistering pace were Billy Maxwell, Bob Goalby and Bill Eggers with 208. Next came Jack Rule, Paul Bondson and Billy Casper at 209.

"Got Fairly Close"

Jacobs, who fired his best round this year, said "I got the ball fairly close to the hole and was lucky on my putting."

The young Californian, absent from the victor's stand in a year and a half, started Saturday's round by dropping an 18 foot putt on the first hole for his initial birdie. He followed with another on the second and after bogeying the third came up with his third bird on the fourth hole.

His next bird came on the 515-yard ninth where he dropped a five-footer to make the turn in 32. He resumed his birdie barrage on the 13th and the string continued through the 17th hole.

Jack Nicklaus Ties In Golf World Series

AKRON, OHIO (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus three-putted the final green Saturday for a double bogey which dropped him into a halfway tie at even-par 70 with British Open champion Bob Charles in the $75,000 World Series of Golf.

Nicklaus, who outdove his rivals on every hole, at times by as much as 50 yards, missed his second putt from less than four feet on the 18th green of the Firestone Country Club course to drop into a tie with Charles. Their par 70's gave them a one-stroke lead over ailing Arnold Palmer and two strokes over U.S. Open champion Julius Boros.

The pressure of shooting for the $50,000 first money — with "only" $15,000 for second place and $5,000 for each of the other finishers — told on the 23-year-old Buckeye better as Charles birdied the final hole with a 12-foot putt for a 36-34-70.

Saved By Putter

Palmer, full of pain-killing pills because of a right shoulder aching from possible bursitis, was saved by his putter on the front nine where he had six one-putt greens in firing a 35-36-71.

Boros, the dead-panned Hungarian, plodded along to a two-over-par 36-36-72 on the long 7,165-yard par-70 Firestone course.

Nicklaus' collapse on the final hole was surprising because he was playing with rock-like steadiness to that point, bombing the middle of the fairways with his driver and playing almost faultless golf.

But that three-putt final green, the only three-putt green of the day, brought him home with a 34-36-70, and left all four of them solidly in the running for Sunday's final 18 holes.

Jumped Into Lead

Nicklaus, hitting those long, booming drives, jumped into the lead with birdies on the first two holes and seemed impossible to collar as he played with that placid steadiness.

Nicklaus, called "Ohio Fats" by his fellow pros; outslugged the others consistently off the tees and seldom wavered in his rush to the front.

Charles, the lanky, 27-year-old New Zealander who was the first lefthander ever to win a major tournament, had a tough battle with par because he is a short hitter.

But despite this, he was the only one to birdie the 625-yard, par-five 16th — the "monster" of the course — and the only player to get a birdie three on that final hole to grab a share of the lead.

Palmer, who has been suffering from an aching shoulder for 12 days and almost withdrew from one of the practice rounds, scrambled mightily to match par on the front nine. He bogeyed the fourth hole, sank a putt of 40 feet and two of 10 feet to save pars, and knocked in a 40-foot birdie putt on the ninth.

Palmer matched par all the way on the back nine except on the short 15th where he trapped his two-iron tee shot for a bogey.

Boros bogeyed the sixth when he caught a trap with his approach and bogeyed the 13th in the same manner. He holed an 11-foot birdie putt on the 14th but then trapped his two-iron tee shot on the 23rd yard, par-three 15th for a bogey.

Charles, as expected, grabbed a share of the lead with his putter. He had 27 putts for the round while Palmer and Boros each had 29 and Nicklaus, because of those three putts on the final hole, had 30.

Froehling Rockets Into Finals Osuna Ousts Chuck McKinley

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — Lank Frank Froehling of San Antonio, Tex., a flop in every major tournament this year, rocketed into the finals of the U.S. Tennis Championships Saturday by routing Ron Barnes of Brazil and became the last American survivor when Mexico's Rafael Osuna trounced Wimbledon champ Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., in straight sets.

The 21-year old six-foot three-inch Froehling played his way out of the doghouse erected by U.S. Davis Cup selectors with a 6-3, 6-1, 6-1, victory over the stylish Brazilian.

Sunday, with a chance to become the first American champion since Tony Trabert in 1955, Froehling will meet the panther-like Osuna who flattened top-seeded McKinley with a service break in the last game of each set, 6-4, 6-4, 10-8.

Defending champion Margaret Smith of Australia, the Wimbledon queen, breezed in the women's final with a 6-2, 6-0, victory over tiny Deirdre Catt of England and will meet 1959 champion Maria Bueno of Brazil.

Miss Bueno finally broke down lefthander Ann Haydon-Jones of England, a 1961 finalist, 1-6, 6-2, 9-7.

Forty-nine year-old Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., won his fifty-fifth seniors championship by downing Robert Galloway of La Jolla, Cal., 9-7, 6-4.

McKinley, who had stormed through at Wimbledon this year without losing a set, gave everything he had to stave off a defeat that may have cost him a $100,000 pro contract but he conceded later his week-old back injury had nothing to do with his downfall.

"I felt fine," he said. "Osuna was just too good."

Dupas Knocked Out, Loses Title

MILAN, Italy (UPI) — Releasless young Sandro Mazzinghi of Italy Saturday night wrestled the world junior middleweight championship from veteran Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, La., on a ninth-round upset knockout.

Ex-shoemaker Mazzinghi, a 2-1 underdog, gave Dupas a terrific hammering in every round and caused the 28-year-old American to resort to butting, holding and other questionable tactics in order to save himself from the challenger's attack.

Foldberg Pleased With Aggie Work

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — The Texas Aggies ripped through a pair of workouts Saturday and coach Hank Foldberg said he was well pleased with the team's work after a week.

"This squad's progress is twice as far ahead of this time last year," Foldberg said. "We have our entire offense in already."

"The splendid physical condition and enthusiasm of the players has put us ahead of our planned schedule."

Amarillo Puts One On Stars

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — The El Paso Sun Kings won four berths, including the entire outfield, on the Texas League All-Star team announced Saturday.

Austin won three spots, San Antonio and Albuquerque two each and Tulsa and Amarillo one each on the mythical team picked by a vote of the managers.

The only unanimous choices were El Paso's Dick Dietz, the league's leading hitter with a .355 average; Tulsa's Jim Beauchamp, a .340 hitter who was voted the league's most valuable player, and Santos Alomar of Austin, a .292 hitter.

Rounding out the outfield with Dietz and Beauchamp were El Paso's Arlo Engel, who led the league in home runs (38) and runs batted in (124), and Jose Cardenal (.307) and Austin's Rico Carty (.332). The last two tied for the fourth outfield spot. Engel hit .321.

On the field with shortstop Alomar were first baseman George Kopacz of Austin (.328), second baseman Mike White of San Antonio (.323) and third baseman Daryl Griffith of Albuquerque (.285). Utility infielder was Ron Campbell of Amarillo (.311).

Randy Hundley (.328) was El Paso's fourth member as the catcher, while Camillo Estevis of Albuquerque, the league's strike-out leader with 187 and a 15-12 record, was named the right-handed pitcher and Joe Hoerner of San Antonio (11-7) was voted the south-paw spot.

Mrs. James V. Franks

Wedding Vows Solemnized in Mary Ellen-Harvester Church of Christ

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Miss Judith Kay McKernan became the bride of James V. Franks with double ring vows said on August 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Mary Ellen Church of Christ in Pampa.

Guy Caskey, pastor of the church, officiated for the exchange of vows, which were repeated before a setting of palms and fall flowers.

Mrs. Franks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKernan, Skellytown.

Mr. Franks' parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Franks, also of Skellytown.

RECEPTION
A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Franks on North Christy St. in Pampa, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride's serving table was covered with a lace cloth. The wedding cake was decorated with blue and white wedding bells. Miss Sandra Biggers presided at the punch service and Miss Linda Snapp served the cake.

For a wedding trip, the bride wore a blue dress with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Franks will make their home in Elkhart, Kans.

The bride attended White Deer High School. The bridegroom was graduated from the Hobbs High School in Hobbs, N.M. with the class of 1961. At present he is employed with Cabot Carbon Co. at Elkhart, Kans.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bell, Tyrone, Okla.; Mrs. James Carter and children of Vienna, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Franks and children of Hobbs, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Moore and Jim McKernan of Liberal, Kans.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a blue and white knitted three piece suit with a blue flower petal hat and a matching finger tip veil.

Miss Sandra Sue Biggers attended the bride as maid of honor. Pat McKernan, brother of the bride, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McKernan chose a rose-beige silk one-piece dress with black accessories. Mr. Franks' mother chose a brown and white dress with matching accessories.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. James P. Phillips of Warrers, New York, sister of the bride. She wore a light blue dress with a scooped neckline, short sleeves and a pleated skirt. Her bouquet was one long stemmed white rose.

In attire identical to that of the matron of honor, Miss Mayrene Le Noie of Dallas; Mrs. Ken Kuykendall of Dallas; and Mrs. Don Adams of Lubbock served as bridesmaids.

Raymond H. McGee of Amarillo, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsman were Beauford McGee of Skellytown, brother of the bridegroom, and Alex Cortese of Bryan and Lt. James R. Norwood of Albuquerque, N. M. Ushers were Jerry Howard, brother of the bride, and Alex Cortese. Candlelighter was Cary Don Howard, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Gordon Stevens of Vernon provided the traditional organ music for the wedding, and Jeff Bearden of Lubbock, vocalist, presented the selections "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The mother of the bride wore a beige suit with rose accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a beige dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony in the parlor of the church. The net covered table was centered with a floral arrangement and accented by candles. Miss Kay Eagle of Dallas

Lou Ellen Howard, Jesse T. McGee Marry In White Deer Methodist Church

WHITE DEER (Sp)—Miss Lou Ellen Howard and Jesse Thomas McGee were united in marriage at the First Methodist Church, Saturday evening, August 17, with the Rev. Alvis Cooley, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Pampa handling the double ring service before a background of palms and candelabra. Baskets of white gladioli completed the wedding scene.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Howard of White Deer and Mr. and Mrs. B. H. McGee of Skellytown.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white bridal lace gown. The gown was fashioned with a full length straight skirt, designed with a square, scalloped neckline, three quarter length sleeves and a bouffant taffeta skirt forming a train. Her bridal veil of illusion fell waist-length and was secured by a white pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible and for something old she carried inside the Bible a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. James P. Phillips of Warrers, New York, sister of the bride. She wore a light blue dress with a scooped neckline, short sleeves and a pleated skirt. Her bouquet was one long stemmed white rose.

In attire identical to that of the matron of honor, Miss Mayrene Le Noie of Dallas; Mrs. Ken Kuykendall of Dallas; and Mrs. Don Adams of Lubbock served as bridesmaids.

Raymond H. McGee of Amarillo, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsman were Beauford McGee of Skellytown, brother of the bridegroom, and Alex Cortese of Bryan and Lt. James R. Norwood of Albuquerque, N. M. Ushers were Jerry Howard, brother of the bride, and Alex Cortese. Candlelighter was Cary Don Howard, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Gordon Stevens of Vernon provided the traditional organ music for the wedding, and Jeff Bearden of Lubbock, vocalist, presented the selections "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The mother of the bride wore a beige suit with rose accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a beige dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony in the parlor of the church. The net covered table was centered with a floral arrangement and accented by candles. Miss Kay Eagle of Dallas

Wedding Read Saturday Evening

Miss Leona Sue Barnett and John Howard Carlson were united in marriage last evening in the First Baptist Church with Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor, reading the double ring vows before a background of candelabra entwined with huckleberry leaves and a floral arrangement of white gladioli.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Barnett, 2416 Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Carlson, 2211 Charles.

Mrs. Jearl Nichols, organist, presented the pre-nuptial selections and traditional wedding march. Jearl Nichols, vocalist, sang "Because," "Wherever Thou Goest," and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza and chantilly lace. The bodice was fashioned of chantilly lace over satin and featured a scalloped neckline that was accented by a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full skirt was decorated by lace applique around the bottom and ended in a short train. Her elbow-length veil of French illusion was held by a pearlized Queen's crown. She carried a white orchid arrangement of a Bible.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Dale Taylor, matron of honor, wore a red lace over cotton satin dress and a pillbox hat covered in red satin and carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

Jack Carlson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Jerry E. Carlson, Ralph Barnett Jr. and Cleo Meaker served as ushers. Ring bearer was Tommy Baker, son of Mrs. Katy Baker. Flowergirl was Janis Johnson, cousin of the bride, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Johnson. She wore a dress of red lace over satin and carried a white basket filled with rose petals. Candle lighters were Gene Carlson, brother of the bridegroom and Miss Cynthia McDonald, cousin of the bridegroom. She wore a matching dress of red lace over satin.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barnett wore an apricot lace dress with matching accessories, and a gardenia corsage. Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Carlson, wore a green wool knit suit accented by beige accessories and a gardenia corsage.

RECEPTION
A reception was held immediately following the wedding ceremony in the church parlor. Miss Shirley Barnett, cousin of the bride, served at the register. A five branched candelabra with an arrangement of white roses and carnations was placed on the white satin covered table, accented with wedding bells.

Miss Carletta Jo Johnson, cousin of the bride, served the punch. The seven-tiered wedding cake was made by Mrs. Ralph McDonald and served by Miss Kaye Bolander, cousin of the bride.

groom. For travel, the bride chose a baby blue knit suit with matching accessories and the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock following a wedding trip to points of interest in Colorado. Mrs. Carlson is a graduate of Pampa High School and attended Texas Tech. She has been an employee of Cabot Corporation. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pampa High School and will resume studies at Texas Tech as a junior student, majoring in mechanical engineering.

PRE-NUPITAL COURTESIES
A rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Carlson Friday evening in the dining room of the Black Gold Restaurant.

Vows Exchanged In Formal Rite

Miss Elizabeth Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Graham, 800 Lefors, and Russell W. Herdman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Herdman, Lakewood, Ohio, were married during a double ring ceremony read at the First Methodist Church by Dr. Hubert Bratcher September 1.

Mrs. Harlen Yoder, organist, played the traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Mary Alice Coombs as she sang "I Love You Truly" as a pre-nuptial selection, and "Wedding Prayer" as the benediction. Grecian urns of bronze mums flanked the altar. A spiral candelabra with amber votive cups entwined with ivy was placed on either side of the cross, and a tree candelabra with amber votive cups formed the background for the wedding scene.

BRIDE
The bride, given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" avowal, wore a formal gown of white silk peau de soie fashioned with an empire waistline and tapered sleeves that ended in petal points over the hands. Re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls enhanced the bodice and the front of the full cut skirt which ended in a chapel train. A crown of seed pearls and imported crystals held the finger tip veil of silk illusion. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a Bible crested with green orchids surrounded by feathered chrysanthemums.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Mary Nell Graham, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Elaine White of Santa Anna, Tex., former roommate of the bride. They wore jade green street-length dresses with matching pillbox hats and champagne accessories. They carried cascade bouquets of bronze mums.

Glenda Miller And Joseph D. Kale Are Wed In Holy Trinity Church

WHITE DEER—Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Glenda Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller of McKinney, and Joseph Dempsey Kale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Kale, 19 Allinsell, Phillips, in a double ring service at 10 a.m. August 10. The Rev. William Stack, C. M., united the couple in marriage at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Dallas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Miller chose a dress of coffee-colored lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Mrs. Kale, mother of the bridegroom, wore a beige silk dress with blue accessories. Both wore cymbidium corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Embassy Room of the Statler Hilton Hotel, Dallas. The three tiered wedding cake and champagne were served from a white satin-covered table centered with a white floral arrangement flanked by two five-branch candelabra with lighted tapers.

To travel to the Western Hills Lodge in Oklahoma for her wedding trip, the new Mrs. Kale wore a suit of yellow-irish linen with matching shoes and white hat and gloves. Her corsage was the orchid of her bridal bouquet.

The couple, both graduates of North Texas State University, will reside in White Deer, where Mrs. Kale will teach language arts in elementary grades and Mr. Kale is a high school faculty member. At college, the bride was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and Mr. Kale was affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity.

Prenuptial courtesies included a miscellaneous shower in the Gold Room, a china shower in McKinney and a linen shower in Dallas. An announcement tea held in McKinney honored the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Kale, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at the rehearsal dinner on the eve of the wedding in the Gold Room of the Statler Hilton Hotel, Dallas.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Wilbur Hill, Spearman, as matron of honor; Miss Helen Beth-Kale, Phillips, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Steven Simmons, Arlington, bridesmaids. Costumed identically, the attendants wore floor length dresses of royal blue peau de soie, styled with short jackets over the fitted bodices, and skirts that tapered from a bouffant waistline into slimmest. Their headpieces were matching royal blue peau de soie cabbage roses and blue tulle. They wore long white gloves and carried cascade arrangements of rose-colored asters.

Holman-Gray Say Promises

Miss Jean Holman and Ronald Gray were married August 30 in the Church of the Nazarene in a double ring ceremony read by Rev. A. T. Moore of Fort Worth. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Holman west of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. Garland Gray, 737 Lefors.

The church was decorated with white gladioli. White candelabra formed the archway over the white satin prie dieu. Ronnie Love and Rickie Land lighted the candles. Mrs. Ruth Land presented the traditional wedding marches. Vocalist, Miss Judy Pemberton sang "Because" and "How Do I Love Thee" while the couple knelt, the benediction, "Wedding Prayer".

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" avowal, the bride chose a dress of embossed nylon organdy over taffeta featuring a scooped neckline and long sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. The bodice was accented at the front/waistline by a fabric bow, and a point was formed at the back waistline which was accented by tiny covered buttons. The bouffant floor-length skirt ended in a full chapel train. Her veil of nylon tulle, edged with applied rosebuds, fell elbow-length from a garland of miniature roses. She carried a dozen white roses on a white Bible.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. The serving table was laid with a hand embroidered linen cloth with the bridal attendants' bouquets and candelabra of amber votive cups forming the centerpiece. In the house party were Miss Celia Fowler serving the cake; Miss Linda Belmont, serving punch and Mrs. Tom Graham, aunt of the bride, registering guests. Others were Mrs. Marion Osborne, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Miss Suzanne Paden, Miss Sally Paden and Miss Anna Jo Watson.

For a wedding trip to Chicago and Lakewood, Ohio, the bride chose as a traveling costume, a brown linen with ivory embroidery trim ensemble accented by ivory accessories, and the orchids from her bridal bouquet as a corsage.

Mrs. Herdman is a graduate of Pampa High School and is a sophomore student at McMurry College. She will continue her studies there this fall.

The bridegroom is a missile electrician with the United States Air Force, stationed at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene where the couple will make their home, after September 15.

The bride followed the tradition of something old, a tiny gold four leaf clover pin which her mother wore at her wedding, was worn; something new, her strand of pearls; something borrowed, her white Bible; something blue, a blue garter; and a six pence in her shoe which was a gift from family friends.

The theme of something, old, borrowed, new and blue was carried out by the bride in that she wore her mother's wedding band on her right hand; a new bridal gown, a family friend's basket was used by the flowergirl, and she wore a blue garter.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Dorothy Staus, maid of honor, wore a dress of mint green organdy over taffeta with a matching pill box hat. She carried a single long-stemmed white rose. Best man was Ray Dee White and ushers were Jerry Trolinger and Jerry Hildenbrand. Miss Debbie Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Moore, wore a mint green organdy frock. Ring bearer was Kerry Ammons, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Ammons.

Mrs. Holman wore a turquoise sheath of pure silk with bone and beige patent accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a beige pure silk sheath with a lace over-bodice, and nude patent and turquoise accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Tarpley, grandparents of the bridegroom from Altus, Okla.; George Gray Jr. of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. John Triplett and Johnny of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Green of Bosque; and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Daniels and children of Amarillo.

RECEPTION

The reception following the ceremony was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Miss Carol Jeanne McBroom registered the guests.

The bride's table was covered in lace over mint green and was centered with a miniature bride and bridegroom under an archway. Globular vases holding white roses and flanked by green candelabra were set on each side of the centerpiece. Mrs. A. L. Daniels and Miss Jo Beverly Snow assisted at the punch bowl. Mrs. Gayle Trolinger served the cake. Others in the house party were Mrs. Cecil Trolinger, Mrs. L. O. Thornton and Mrs. Tom Ammons.

For a brief wedding trip, the bride chose to travel in a three piece knit suit of deep rose with black patent accessories. Her rose corsage was lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and is a Music Education major at West Texas State University where she received a music scholarship. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pampa High School and is majoring in Industrial Arts at West Texas State University. He presently is employed at White's Auto Stores.

PRE-NUP TIAL COURTESIES

The couple was honored with a couples' wedding shower August 9 in the Hospitality Room of Citizens Bank. About 100 guests attended or sent gifts. Hostesses were Mmes. Gayle Trolinger, Al Ferguson, Howard Anderson, Wayne Franks, and J. D. Futch.

An ice cream supper followed the wedding rehearsal in the home of the bride's parents.

Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Families with two or more children often have special problems. The parents are faced with jealousy, competition and comparisons between the children. Although these probably cannot be eliminated completely, understanding the problems will help reduce them. Each child must realize he is loved for his own self, abilities and accomplishments regardless of what his brother or sister might do. The following questions from concerned parents are problems which can be helped with a proper attitude.

Question: I have two children, Jane, 11, and Frances, 8. In the past they have played together very nicely. During recent months I have noticed an unusual increase in antagonism. Jane seems to get pleasure out of teasing Frances.

Frances gets upset and cries. Should I keep out of this situation or should I do some things which might improve the relationship?

Answer: You are facing a common, and natural occurrence. The girls are growing up. During the coming years the age difference will have an increasing effect upon their interests and relationship. They probably will not be close in the way they have been, and Jane will become more of an older sister. Perhaps the time has come for you to provide opportunities for the girls to have separate activities more suitable for their own ages. You are correct in questioning the advisability of interfering in the actual relationship. The girls will do much to work this out by themselves. The main problem is impatience with each other's interests. If you can arrange different activities you will find an improved situation.

Question: My son, Jim, 9, constantly is trying to compete with his older brother, Ed, 13. They are good students with excellent ability. Jim becomes quite frustrated when he cannot perform as well as Ed. Is there a way in which the pressure on Jim can be reduced so that he will be more relaxed?

Answer: This competition between brothers is quite normal and is not necessarily all bad. The greatest problems are when the younger brother does not realize his limitations or feels that he is expected to meet the same standards as his older brother. In the situation which you describe there is the basis for a problem. The answer lies in your attitudes.

Wedding Vows Are Solemnized For Carolyn Milligan, Glen Hostutler

CANADIAN (Spl) — Wedding vows were solemnized for Miss Carolyn Joyce Milligan and Glen Harley Hostutler Jr. August 17 in the First Baptist Church of Quannah. The Rev. Johnny Tims, pastor of Kirkland Baptist Church, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lee Milligan of Quannah and Glen Harley Hostutler of Canadian. The bride is a 1962 graduate of Quannah High School and attended West Texas State University, and the bridegroom is a 1961 graduate of Canadian High School and attended West Texas State University.

The bride was given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated with emerald palms and smilax, with baskets of white gladioli and lighted tapers in candle-labra.

Miss Judy McGuire, soloist, presented "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Miss Charlotte Smith, who also presented traditional wedding music.

Attending the bride were Miss Sarah Jane Streit of Wichita Falls, maid of honor; Mrs. Barbara Hamm of Irvin, Texas, a cousin of the bride, matron of honor; Miss Kahra Dake of Canadian, and Miss Charlene Hostutler of Canadian, sister of the groom, and Miss Judy Coburn of Medecias Mound, bridesmaids.

Jim Cook of Canyon, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jim Ramp; Bill Meek; Bill Fuller and David Cook; cousin of the groom; all of Canadian. Ushers were Charles Griffin and Richard Hargreaves of Quannah, cousins of the bride and Charles Morehead and Bill Grist of Canadian.

The bride was gowned in floor-length white bridal satin overlaid with imported Chantilly lace. The gown, designed and made by the bride, was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves extending to points over the hands with seed pearls outlining the points. The skirt was styled with thick pleats caught up at intervals with diamond shaped seed pearls. She carried a book of common prayer belonging to her sister which was topped by a cascade bouquet of a large white orchid and stephanotis. Her mantilla veil of elbow length was outlined in hand embroidered lace. She carried a white lace handkerchief belonging to her mother and wore pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaids dresses were of turquoise Merry Moments fashioned with bell skirts and scoop necklines. They carried stylized hand bouquets of miniature white carnations and white pom mums.

A reception was held in the annex of the church following the ceremony. Arrangements of white miniature carnations and white pom mums in crystal containers were displayed about the party room. The refreshment table was laid with white nylon net over turquoise taffeta and adorned with the bride's bouquet.

The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and double hearts outlined with nylon tulle and inscribed in frosting with "Joyce and Glen. Wedding bells nestled about the top layer of the cake.

A rehearsal dinner was given at Dutch's cafe, Friday night by the father of the groom, Glen Hostutler. Members of the wedding party were invited guests.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Red River, New Mexico. For traveling the bride wore a pale blue sheath and matching coat with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Hostutler will make their home in Midland, South Dakota where he is engaged in ranching.

Avocado-Potato Salad

By GAYNOR MADDOX
From California, Mrs. D. F. of El Centro writes that her combination salad of potatoes and avocado is always popular at church suppers. We tried it last night at home. Now we know why it is popular.

AVOCADO POTATO SALAD
(6 to 8 servings)
4 slices crisp bacon, crumbled

1 cup sliced celery (and a few minced leaves)
1/4 cup chopped onion
3 cups cubed cooked potatoes
1 can (2 oz.) sliced pimiento
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 to 3 teaspoons vinegar
1 California avocado
1/2 cup Italian or French dressing

Combine all ingredients except avocado and dressing. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Slice enough avocado for garnish; dip into dressing, then drain. Cube remaining avocado; add to salad with remaining dressing. Toss lightly. Garnish with avocado slices. Chill and serve.

Dear Abby....

Make The Whole Bed, Honey - It's Much Easier!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old girl and I have a big, fat, 14-year-old lazy slob for a sister. I try hard to keep our bedroom looking neat, but it always looks like a pig pen because of my sister. We share this bedroom which has only one large double bed in it. My mother tells me to clean up my half, and to let my sister's half go, but, Abby, have you ever tried to make HALF a bed? It looks just awful! I hang up all my clothes but she leaves hers piled up on a chair so high you can't use the chair for sitting. Her shoes are all over the floor. How can I keep a tidy room with a slob like her for a sister?

LIKES IT NEAT
DEAR LIKES: You've given me a problem that should be solved by your mother. No child should be permitted to let his room look like a "pig pen." Because your sister is sharing a room with you, your mother should insist that she keep her half neat. A suggestion: Make the WHOLE bed, Honey. It's much easier than making half a bed.

DEAR ABBY: After reading about the plight of Lefty, the gas station attendant, I had to write. I am in somewhat the same fix. I operate a restaurant.

How about the carload of people who come in, order coffee all the way around; and then they bring out their own sandwiches and ask you for ketchup and mustard? If you have cherry pie, they want lemon. If you have lemon, they want apple. Whatever you don't have, they want. They order the coffee black, and when you don't bring the cream, they ask you where it is. So you bring it and one of the kids drinks the whole pitcher. When they leave they take along your silverware to, maybe, eat a melon in the car. They also take your salt shakers and two-dozen paper napkins to clean off the windshield. After they're gone, you discover one of the kids left a wallet on the chair. It's got one dollar in it, but the identification is plainly printed on a card. So you have to wrap it up and take it to the post office and mail it back. And that's the last you ever hear from them. Thank heavens!

CAFE OWNER ON ROUTE NO. 66

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you THINK you have heard everything. Well, listen to this. I just received an invitation to attend a shower for a bride. "TOYS" are requested — for "the baby." This is no joke, Abby. The two women who are giving this shower live in Worthington, Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Dyer
(Photo, Kenneth Butler)

Hobart Street Baptist Church
Scene Of Candlelight Wedding

Miss Gail Brewer and John C. Dyer were married Aug. 23 in a candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. John Dyer, father of the bridegroom, at the Hobart Street Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Brewer, 526 N. Zimmers and Rev. John Dyer, 1044 S. Sumner.

Gandies for the double ring ceremony were lighted by Judy and Joy Dyer, sisters of the bridegroom, dressed in pale blue matching lace dresses.

Two baskets of greenery decorated the altar which was flanked by nine branch candle trees. Mrs. H. C. Malone provided traditional music and vocalist, Mrs. Boyd Stevens, sang "Beacuse" and "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt at the altar.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father with "her mother, and I" avowal the bride wore a gown of imported silk organza. The bodice was fitted and featured a scoop neckline trimmed with seed pearls and long sleeves tapering at the wrist. The formal floor-length bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a pearl tiara. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white mums on a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Herbert Bell, aunt of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a pale blue street-length dress of lace and carried a bouquet of white mums. Miss Janie Dyer, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She was dressed in an ensemble identical to that of the matron of honor. Miss Mellonee Lyon, flower girl wore a blue lace dress. Monty Potter was ring bearer.

Uncle of the groom, Herbert Bell, served as best man. David Hale and Terry Rowan were groomsmen. Groomsman was Jackie Pryor of Granite, Okla.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brewer wore a royal blue silk dress with a matching jacket and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Dyer, mother of the bridegroom, wore a green colored two-piece suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

RECEPTION
Over 200 guests attended the reception which was held in Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. Mrs. Elaine Taylor of Perryton, sister of the bride, registered the guests. Miss Diane Ammons presided at the punch bowl and Miss Gayle Gist served the cake. The brides' table was covered in white over-blue cloth. Others in the house party were Meses Ed Foran, Arnold Hale and Warren Thomas.

For a short wedding trip, the bride wore a blue and white two-piece suit with white accessories. Her corsage was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple now is at home at 402 E. Browning.

The bride attended Robert E. Lee Junior High School. The bridegroom attended Pampa High School and is presently employed by Joe Hawkins Appliances.

McGee
presided at the punch bowl. Miss Yvonne Turner of Houston served the wedding cake. Others assisting with the reception were Mrs. Alvin Williams, Mrs. Clifton Williams, Mrs. Horace Williams, Mrs. Loyd Collis, Mrs. Conner, O'Neal, Mrs. Paul Buchanan, Mrs. Olur Bertrand, Mrs. Virgil Moore and Mrs. Howard Cavett.

Mrs. Courtney White of Amarillo registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to Dallas the bride wore a blue silk two piece dress with black accessories and a corsage of white rose buds taken from the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. McGee is a graduate of White Deer High School and the University of Texas. The groom is a graduate of White Deer High School and is attending Texas A&M College where he will graduate in January 1964. At present he is employed by Fritz W. Glitsch & Sons of Dallas.

It's lucky things aren't as bad as they are painted—especially the girls.

Nuptial Vows Read

CANADIAN (Spl) — In a double ring ceremony held August 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the North Main and Gay Street Church of Christ in Gladewater, Miss Flora Lee Mohon became the bride of Marvin R. Longhofer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mohon of Gladewater. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Longhofer of Canadian.

Truman Smith, minister of the church, read the wedding vows before an arch of smilax flanked by bouquets of white stock. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Dee Mackey, who sang "Always," "I Love Thee" and Lohengrin's Wedding March, and Mrs. Pat Bowen, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Ushers were Bubba and Jimmy

Mohon of Gladewater, brothers of the bride; and Johnny Riddles of Dallas and Richard Norman of Sugarland.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Don Longhofer of Amarillo. Groomsmen were Neal Nichols of Jan Augustine, James Clark and Leonard Keeton of Canadian.

Miss Dorothy Jean Sybert of Gladewater was flowergirl. Ring bearer was Carl Dorough of Gladewater, cousin of the bride.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Martha Brimmon of Greenville, matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Akin of Greggton, Miss Linda Hollowell of Athens, and Mrs. Janette Brown of Gladewater were bridesmaids. All were attired in street-length dresses of yellow brocade styled with scoop necklines and full skirts. They carried bouquets of yellow roses and wore small heart shaped yellow hats with veils.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a street-length dress of white satin and lace. The bodice featured a scoop neckline and long lace sleeves coming to points at the hands. Back interest was provided by a satin bustle. Her white tulle veil fell from a halo-type headpiece of satin. She carried a bouquet of white feathered mums and wore a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Mohon was attired in a beige and white silk dress with white and beige accessories. Mrs. Longhofer chose a dress of aqua silk for her son's wedding, with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Wedding guests were registered in the bride's book by Miss Karen Longhofer, sister of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception for the family and wedding party was held in the home of the bride's parents.

For a short wedding trip to Amarillo, the bride chose for travel a yellow polka dot arnel dress with a yellow linen duster and white accessories.

Ladies Auxiliary Accepts Member

An application was read and approved by members of the Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 1657, Pampa, in a recent meeting held at the VFW Hall. The new member welcomed into the auxiliary was Mrs. Bessie Poe, whose daughter served as a military nurse in Europe during World War II.

Mrs. Dale Kreimeyer, president was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Carl M. Wright gave the Chaplain's Prayer following the pledge to the Flag. General Orders from State President were read and minutes from the previous meeting were given by Mrs. Emmett Gee, secretary. Honor Roll requirements for August and September were met as follows; a program was held on Americanism and underprivileged child of a Veteran will be provided school lunches during the year.

A school of instruction will be held the next meeting. A report was given on the purchase of groceries for two needy veterans' families in the amount of $28.74, and clothing from a rummage sale that was given to one of the families. A letter of appreciation from them was read during the meeting.

Report of the Council of Women's Clubs meeting which was held Thursday, was made. A check to pay Council dues was approved. Members present for the meeting were Mmes. Elma Bailey, Josephine Blalock, Jesse Beard, Ronald Beard, Emmett Gee, Cleo Goff, Leslie Henderson, O. F. Kreimeyer, E. Savage, Joe Slater, A. L. Smiley, Vernon Stuckey, Mack Taylor, A. L. Walling, Chester Williams and Frank Yates.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall with social plans to be announced later.

Easy-care cottons will look better if taken out of the dryer while still slightly damp, then hung to finish drying.

Manners Make Friends

Dislike sports, but forced to sit through a game? Don't pout. Cheer the rival team. Participation could prove fun.

adoches. She is now teaching school in the Amarillo school system. The bridegroom is a graduate of Canadian High School and attended Stephen F. Austin. He will continue studies this fall at West Texas State University in Canyon. The couple will be at home in Amarillo.

PRE-NUPTIAL COURTESIES
Pre-nuptial courtesies for Mrs. Longhofer included a miscellaneous shower July 26 in the home of Mrs. J. C. McKeen.

A rehearsal dinner was given August 15 by Mr. and Mrs. Longhofer in the home of Mrs. A. F. Shepard.

Those present other than the honoree couple were Mr. and Mrs. James Mohon, Bubba and Jimmy Mohon, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dorough and Carl; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sybert and Dorothy Lane; Mr. and Mrs. Don Longhofer, James Clark, Leonard Keeton, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bowen, Mrs. Charles Akin, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brimmon; Mrs. Dee Mackey, Mrs. A. Yugoslavia Former Kingdom Is Now a Communist Republic

Here is another in the series of dispatches on nations of the world written by United Press International correspondents living and working in them.

United Press International BELGRADE (UPI) — Yugoslavia is the picturesque home of the "southern Slavs." Until 1941 it was a kingdom but now it is a Communist republic under the lifelong presidency of Josip Tito Broz who rose to power as a resistance leader against the Nazi invaders in World War II.

It is a Balkan land of 98,766 square miles, or slightly larger than the state of Wyoming, and has a population of nearly 19 million of whom about 13 million are peasants.

Yugoslavia's northern neighbors in a west to east semi-circle are Italy, Austria, Hungary and Romania. To its east lies Bulgaria, with Albania on its southern borders. Western Yugoslavia coasts on the Adriatic Sea.

The country was put together as a kingdom in 1918 by the union of formerly Turkish-ruled Serbia with seven provinces which mostly formed part of the crumbled Austro-Hungarian empire.

Marshal Tito made Yugoslavia a socialist federal republic and became its first (and only) chief of state on Jan. 31, 1946, after driving out the Germans who invaded in 1941 and liquidating his political opposition at home.

In a country which is still 60 per cent agricultural and whose surface is covered with 19 million acres of beech, oak and fir forest, the peasants still dress in the costumes of old feudal Europe.

Even in the capital of Belgrade, which has 700,000 inhabitants, thatched cottages still stand among the Communist-style modernity and characteristic Balkan peasants can be seen on the streets.

Because of the notoriously checkered history of the Balkan Peninsula, Yugoslavia is a melting pot of many nationalities and minorities. Serbs (41.6 per cent), Croats (23.4 per cent) and Slovenes (8.8 per cent) form the bulk of the population, but minorities include Montenegrans, Shiptars (Albanians), Hungarians, Turks, Slovaks, Gypsies, Germans, Bulgarians, Romanians, and others.

Minorities enjoy full cultural freedom and there are 3,404 national minority schools teaching in different languages or dialects. But the main languages are the Slavic Serbo-Croat and Slovenian and Macedonian.

Yugoslavia still is a poor land, struggling to take its place in the industrialized 20th Century. Although economic conditions are improving, even skilled workers earn very low wages by Western standards — roughly 45,000 dinars or $59 a month. To this is added 3,500 dinars or $4.60 a month for each child.

Marshal Tito's current 1961-65 five-year plan calls for a 70 per cent increase in industrial production, on top of great increases registered since pre-war 1939.

Since 1939, there has been a 430 per cent increase in Yugoslavia's production of electrical energy alone. Mining of coal, lignite, iron, lead and copper have shown big strides. Metallurgy, including lead refinement which gives Yugoslavia its biggest dollar earner, also is booming.

Yugoslavia's minerals include coal, iron, copper, chrome ore, antimony, manganese, lead, pyrites, mercury, salt and bauxite.

All industry is state owned and private enterprise is limited to small-scale production. A central state plan guides the economy and free play of the market is kept within certain limits.

Management of industrial enterprises is handled by 220,000 members of workers councils — an issue on which Tito's communism is at odds with that of the Soviet Union and other Communist states.

Other benefits of the socialist state include free education — now compulsory up to the age of 14 — and cradle-to-grave social security.

Yugoslavia has universities in Belgrade, Zagreb, Ljubljana, earthquake-ruined Skopje, and Sarajevo and most of the students enjoy scholarship grants.

Under the constitution all religions are recognized. Yugoslavia's heterogeneous population is 42 per cent Greek Orthodox, 32 per cent Roman Catholic and 12 per cent Moslem — a relic of the long Turkish occupation of Serbia. The rest are mainly other Christian denominations.

Largely because of Marshal Tito's strong stand against Moscow domination which caused the Cominform to expel Yugoslavia in 1948, the country has received substantial economic and military aid from the United States and other aid from Britain and France. Recently, largely through the "co-existence" policy of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Belgrade and Moscow have ended their feuding and are establishing new economic cooperation.

During 1962, nearly 10 million Americans spent $23 billion touring their own country.

GETS GLASSES BACK
WILMINGTON, Calif. (UPI) — Longshoreman Eugene Walker lost his glasses when they fell three locks into the hold of the cargo ship Teide he was unloading here Aug. 13.

A longshoreman in Costa Rica who was loading the ship found the glasses and sent them to the ship's point of departure and the longshoremen's union office in Wilmington. Walker had thought his glasses were gone forever.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For Jawaharlal Nehru, inheritor of the mantle of Gandhi and the only prime minister India has known in its 16 years of independence, it has been a year of shock and disillusionment.

First there was the massive attack on India's border by the Red Chinese, blowing into smithereens Nehru's cherished concept of the five principles of co-existence and severely testing his policy of neutrality and non-alignment.

Then there was the motion of censure which his opponents in the Indian parliament were able to muster for the first time in all the 16 years.

In the early weeks of the Chinese aggression, the Indian people rallied behind Nehru as never before.

Indian women contributed their jewelry to the fund to build India's military strength.

Indian Army Defeated

Then came the defeat of the Indian army and the revelation of its true state of unpreparedness. The disgrace and ultimate ouster of V. K. Krishna Menon, Nehru's right-hand man and defense minister followed.

But perhaps worst of all for Nehru was the fact that for help he had to turn to the United States and Britain, the very powers of whose world policies he had been most critical.

Nehru still clung to non-alignment because if he gave up that, he gave up the cornerstone of his whole philosophy.

But his tired voice as he defended himself in parliament reflected both his shock and disappointment and the weariness that went with it.

All these also were evident as he defended himself against his critics in the debate over the motion of censure.

It was a political hodge-podge arrayed against him, and against the heavy majority of Nehru's Congress party it had no chance of success.

But it gave voice to the rising discontent against him and it was given further expression by demonstrators outside the parliament gates, shouting "Nehru get out!"

Among Nehru's opponents, an immediate source of dissatisfaction were the new taxes imposed after the Chinese aggression and the lack of tangible evidence that the country was in much better shape than before.

There were other challenges. There was the poverty which after 16 years of independence remained India's greatest internal problem. There were charges of corruption and now also the failure of a policy which had given Nehru voice as the world's greatest neutral.

Nehru touched briefly on them all.

The country, he said, was losing its vision and the government was tied up with humdrum affairs.

In the end the debate settled nothing.

General elections are not necessary until 1967 but Nehru already is sending Congress party leaders into the field in an attempt to revitalize support.

Nehru will be 74 this year. He is tired and out of fresh ideas. But if the censure debate demonstrated anything it was that there is no one now to take his place.

MEETING TRAGEDY HEAD-ON—Homeward-bound from a fishing expedition, Robert Zana, 14, was hurled head-first into the windshield, above, when car and his bicycle collided head-on. The boy, suffering from multiple injuries, was admitted to a Cleveland, Ohio, hospital.

PHONE EXTRAS

Viennese telephone subscribers can dial a number and have a baby sitter recite fairy tales and sing children's songs. Other services include medical hints, help in doing crossword puzzles, film program information, snow, and skiing reports, dictation for shorthand practice and help with a child's homework.

AIRCRAFT

The aircraft industry estimates that 1962 spacecraft production was about 13 per cent of total production. One half of the industry's production was concerned with aircraft and components and the rest with missiles, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

CROSSING TOLL

CHICAGO (UPI) — More than 1,100 persons were killed and another 10,000 injured last year at railroad grade crossings, according to the Chicago Motor Club. Matthew C. Sielski, director of the club's safety and traffic engineering department, said most grade crossings provide warning lights, bells, wig-wag signals or portable gates. He said a majority of grade crossing accidents are the result of inattention or excessive speed.

POOREST CANDIDATE

John Quincy Adams was the most badly defeated candidate of a major U.S. political party. In the 1820 election, he received one electoral vote while the winner, James Monroe, received 231 of the 232 electoral ballots.

BOY SCOUTS AT FAIR

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 5,000 Boy Scouts from across the nation have made plans to visit the New York 1964-65 World's Fair, drawn by their own demonstration and exhibit area in the Industrial section of the Fair. The Fair Corporation has designated July 17-23, 1964, during the Fair's first season, as "Boy Scout Week" to tie in with the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., which will be held during this period. Plans call for large groups of Scouts to visit the Fair both before and after their attendance at the Jamboree.

BIG TRACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Not content with having outstripped New York in population, California now is planning to out-Indy Indianapolis—the famous Speedway, that is. According to Car and Driver magazine, a $17 million auto race track will be built conveniently close to Los Angeles and its 13 million auto-oriented residents. Scheduled to be completed in 1965, California's answer to Indianapolis will sprawl over a 731-acre site, will accommodate 250,000 spectators and have parking space for 60,000 cars.

Milt Kamen Likes To Take It Slow

By DOC QUINN
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Milt Kamen, who is being spread like sharp cheddar over all the toothsome array of Goodson-Todman panel shows this coming season, is not a comedy talent who is just not in a hurry to make it great big.

"I don't want to rush," he said. "Some guys go right for the golden ring. They think, 'I want to be a star, and they race for it. I want to be in this business the rest of my life. Really stay in the business. I worked for Sid Caesar for three years, and I've done so many kinds of things, and at the same time I just looked. That way, you're constantly learning — improving. Maybe in the long run I can contribute to comedy."

"In doing the panel shows this year I'll get a chance to move around, alternate. I like that. The audience gets to know me, in an easy way. And I like the informality."

Turned Down Shows
"Two things I had to turn down. I got a call from the Lucy show. That would have been comedy, and fun. Another one was one of the 'Twilight Zone' shows. I told them both I'm dying to come out and work for them, but I'm tied up."

"Every once in a while I like to make an excursion into serious stuff. But mainly I want to stick to comedy. I'll be doing Park sometime this season."

"Yes, I've thought of other things. But I turned down two series this fall. They weren't good. I guess you make a choice. In a series you work night and day, and to do this on something that you feel in your bones is no good — that's not for me."

"I do have a dramatic part on the opening segment of 'The Nurses' this fall. It's the part of a dope pusher — a cameo, playing the part like a warm garment center man."

Maybe you caught Kamen's movie review of 'Irma La Douce' on the 'Tonight' show recently. Watchers of the late, daytime 'Merv Griffin Show' will recall that Kamen brought movie reviewing to a fine comedic art there — an extemporaneous sort of personal 'letter home' presentation in which there is a good deal of straight reporting.

Raised in Tough Section
Kamen was brought up in a very tough New York neighborhood where, he says, "You absorb the gangster mentality by the time you're six years old." A photographic memory enabled him to get good marks in school and a natural talent for music enabled him eventually to hold down the French horn spot in a symphony orchestra. He got the itch for comedy in 1955 while watching Ray Bolger star in the Broadway hit "Where's Charley?" Kamen was in the show's orchestra.

With a wild glint in his eye, he will tell you that one of the main ingredients to being a comedian is having experienced failure.

"When I was a kid in Brownsville, we always stole. But I was always caught. Run... and get caught. Run... and get caught. I had to go straight outta weakness."

As for his straight dramatic roles, he's had no formal training, except that "Acting in any comedian comes shamefully easy."

THIS FAMOUS CAPSULE, which carried Oklahoma astronaut Gordon Cooper around the earth 22 times, will make its first public appearance at the 1963 State Fair of Oklahoma, September 21-29, in Oklahoma City. In this historic photograph, Cooper is helped from the capsule after his flight. NASA and the State Fair are preparing many thousands of reproductions of Cooper's picture and the blast-off of his flight, with his signature, to give fair visitors, and particularly youngsters, as long as they last.

'Blue Velvet' Is Listed As Number One in the Nation

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bobby Vinton's recording of "Blue Velvet" was in the pink this week as it moved up to first place in the ratings of the nation's top 20 tunes.

The United Press International survey had the Angels' "My Boy Friend's Back," first last week, in second place this time, followed by "If I Had A Hammer" by Trini Lopez in third, up two positions from a week ago.

As summer continued to fade so did Alan Sherman's "Hello Muddah, Hello Fadduh," the rendition of the cute things kids write home from camp. "Hello" lost two positions and slipped to fourth.

Martha and the Vandellas' recording of "Heat Wave" continued to warm up and moved to the fifth spot. "Surfer Girl" by the Beachboys advanced from 11th to sixth, and Kai Winding's "More" dropped to seventh.

"Mockingbird" by Inez Foxx was in eighth this week. Then He Kissed Me" by the Crystals ninth, and The Miracles' "Mickey's Monkey" 10th.

This week's top 20 tunes with positions last week and number of weeks in top 20:

- (3-3) Blue Velvet. Bobby Vinton. Epic.
- (1-6) My Boy Friends Back. Angels. Smash.
- (5-5) If I Had A Hammer. Trini Lopez. Reprise.
- (2-5) Hello Muddah. Hello Fadduh. Alan Sherman. Warner.
- (7-5) Heat Wave. Martha and the Vandellas. Gordy.
- (11-4) Surfer Girl. Beachboys. Capitol.
- (4-8) More. Kai Winding. Verve.
- (8-10-7) Mockingbird. Inez Foxx. Symbol.
- (12-2) Then He Kissed Me. Crystals. Philips.
- (6-1) Mickey's Monkey. Miracles. Tamla.
- (13-2) The Monkey Time. Major Lance. Okeh.
- (10-1) Sally Go Round. Jaynetts. Tuff.
- (9-2) Denise. Randy and the Rainbows. Rust.
- (11-1) Martin Hop. Ran-Dells. Chairman.
- (10-1) Be My Baby. Ronettes. Philips.
- (14-4) Little Deuce Coup. Beachboys. Capitol.
- (17-1) The Kind of Boy You Can't Forget. Raindrops. Jubilee.
- (13-13) Wipe Out. Surfaris. Dot.
- (18-2) Cry. Baby. Garnett Simms. United Artists.
- (20-1) Abilene. George Hamilton. Victor.

Noel Coward Starts 52nd Year With Renewed Vigor

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Tanned, slim and voluble, Noel Coward faces his 52nd year in the theater as enthusiastic as an inventor with a new gadget.

The one-time child actor turned master of all theatrical trades is booked in various capacities for two big musicals back-to-back and couldn't be happier.

"Oh, I'll get December off to go to my place in Jamaica to rest up between shows," he commented. "Maybe while there I'll be able to finish work on a book of long short stories my publisher is awaiting for. Can't write here. Too much going on, too many interruptions."

It was at his Jamaican retreat that Coward finished the score of approximately 30 songs for "The Girl Who Came to Supper," which went into rehearsal last week for a Boston opening Sept. 28. After additional visits to Toronto and Philadelphia, the show is due here at the Broadway Theater on Nov. 28.

Starts Another Show
"I'm due back from Jamaica on Jan. 2 to start rehearsals as director of 'High Spirits,' which is scheduled to open in New York March 31 after New Haven, Boston and Philadelphia tryouts," said Coward, succinctly rounding out his season.

In Argentina American Oil Companies Worried About Investments

WASHINGTON (UPI) - American oil companies operating in Argentina are literally holding their breath waiting to see what happens to their investments when President-elect Arturo Illia takes office next month. Their leaseholds are worth millions though few have been profitable. The companies include Esso (Standard Oil, New Jersey), Tennessee Gas Transmission, Union Oil of California, Pan American (Standard of Indiana), Kerr-McGee, Cities Service, Ohio, and Continental. In the same boat Royal Dutch Shell and Italian and French companies. The State department also is holding its breath but, as of now it thinks everything will turn out all right.

DR. M. KING HUBBERT ... guest speaker

Petroleum Engineers To Hear Hubbert

A member of the National Academy of Sciences, Dr. M. King Hubbert, will speak to the Panhandle Section of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME at its meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 11 in Pampa. The meeting will be held at the Coronado Inn at 7 p.m. Dr. Hubbert, who is chief geological consultant for Shell Development Co., Houston, has worked in such diverse fields as geophysical exploration, petroleum geology, structural geology, groundwater hydrology and mineral economics. In 1954 he received the Arthur L. Day Medal of the Geological Society of America. The subject of his lecture will be "The Physical Basis of Darcy's Law and Its Significance for Reservoir Engineering." Dr. Hubbert is one of six Distinguished Lecturers of the Society of Petroleum Engineers appointed for the 1963-64 season. This is the fourth year of the Society's Distinguished Lecturer program, which was established to assist local sections and to recognize the professional contributions of the men selected as lecturers. There are 51 sections of the Society of Petroleum Engineers in the United States, Venezuela, Canada, and The Netherlands and Saudi Arabia. Reservations for the meeting may be made by contacting N. E. Turnbo, MO 4-3253, Pampa; R. J. Keene, Drake 6-5151, Amarillo; Jim Hamilton, BR 4-1331, Borger.

Oil Shale Is Bonanza In the High Country

By JACK BACON
 United Press International
 DENVER (UPI)—Add 12 zeros to the number 1. It spells trillion and it means bonanza, a treasure trove of earthbound riches in the high country of the West. The problem is getting it. For this bonanza is oil shale, and something like a trillion barrels of oil is fused in it under the bleak Rocky Mountain landscape of northwest Colorado, southwest Wyoming and northeast Utah. It is the Green River Basin. Some experts are calling the oil shale reserves the basis for an economic millennium just around the corner in the Rockies. But the people of the region have heard all before. For years there have been predictions of the wonderful things to be wrought by this wrongly named mineral deposit. In some ways, the shale has been a casualty of the peace that followed World War II. Increasingly frequent reports indicate the old problem of refining either has been or soon will be solved. But another, more complex problem of land and lease rights remains. It is typical of the whole history of oil shale, the orphan of the oil industry. No Oil In Shale Actually there is no oil as such in shale. Instead the shale deposits are laced with a solid organic substance known as kerogen. Under heat and pressure, kerogen releases a vapor that can be condensed into a liquid similar to crude petroleum. Oil shale was mined for heating fuel in Europe early in the 19th century. It was virtually forgotten with the sudden development of the petroleum industry later in the century, although there was some experimenting with extraction methods in the 1920s. In 1962, Congress passed a law providing a formula for reopening the Rifle Plant and the talk of the western slope's economic millennium began again. The law cleared the way for the Department of Interior to act on behalf of the Navy in working out a cooperative agreement with private industry to renew experimental extraction of oil from shale. Humble Oil and Refining Co., Shell Oil Co. and Socony Mobil Oil Co. Inc., submitted proposals. After the 1962 law was passed to pave the way for reactivation of the Rifle Plant, the Interior Department set up a five-man board headed by Bureau of Mines Director Marling J. Apley to receive and evaluate research proposals from private industry. The Shell, Socony and Humble proposals, along with a letter of intent from Continental Oil Co., were among those submitted. Colleges Submit Plans Other included plans by several colleges and universities in the region that would couple the pilot plant operation with graduate and undergraduate engineering and laboratory projects. Each of the major company proposals hinged on one factor—acquisition of suitable leases on oil shale lands. Humble asked for 5,108 acres, Continental wanted 5,120 acres and Shell wanted 50,000. The mineral leasing laws restrict one firm to a maximum of 5,120. These proposals by giants of the industry spurred new hope among prophets of an oil shale boom, although all are highly experimental and involve years of research. Oddly enough, none of the private industry plans involved use of the government pilot plant at Rifle. The methods proposed for getting the oil out of the rock can be reduced roughly to two—conventional mining followed by "retort" processes of vaporization and condensation, and "in place" combustion to withdraw the oil without mining the kerogen.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The economy is not on the eve of a drastic decline," says International Statistical Bureau, Inc. "This is not another 1927 or 1937. There is no relationship to those periods. We expect new highs to be reached, now and most likely to the end of 1964. We are forecasting higher prices because general business is tending higher and most important earnings and dividends continue favorable," the bureau adds. Investment advisers Edwards & Hanly believe that there is still a tremendous reservoir of uncommitted funds that will likely provide the main impetus to considerably higher stock prices. "Investors became extremely passive and cautious after the severe 1962 decline. However, once they are convinced that the market now is on a firm footing and headed higher, they can be expected to resume aggressive buying. Strong advances do not usually end until after the average investor has reentered the market with an optimistic attitude," the advisers say. Robert T. Allen of Shearson, Hammett & Co. warns that investors can not count on being bailed out of poorly situated issues by a general market rise. Allen suggests new commitments primarily in carefully researched, reasonably priced common stock.

Road Map Celebrates Its 50th Anniversary

By TRAVIS HUGHES
 United Press International
 TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — This is the 50th anniversary of the familiar road map, an innovation that may have helped increase travel heavily as much as smooth highways and modern automobiles. The first road map was turned out in 1913 by an oil company. It was a crude effort by modern standards. An estimated billion highway maps have been published in the last 50 years by the oil industry. These modern maps represent the ultimate in mapmaking. One U.S. oil firm's map of Mexico is so good, the American embassy in Mexico, City distributes it to tourists seeking an official map of the country. Published in 1923 The prototype of the modern

Beef Cattle Research Facts Highlights Meet

A beef cattle research facts roundup will highlight the quarterly Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association Board of Directors meeting in College Station, Sept. 20-21. The meeting opens at 8:30 a.m., Sept. 20, with registration in the Student Memorial Center of Texas A&M University. The cattlemen will be welcomed by A&M president Earl Rudder at 9:30 a.m. The comprehensive program includes a beef carcass evaluation, discussions on the economics of beef production, reports on range and grazing studies, a tour of the Physiology of Reproduction Laboratory, and a talk on Feedlot Gains and Carcass Characteristics of Steers Fed Alike at Widely Varying Texas Locations. The TSCRA Board of Directors' general session is scheduled at 9 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 21, according to TSCRA secretary-general manager Joe Fletcher. It is open to the public. Special programs for the ladies have been arranged for both days of the meeting.

Girl's Life Saved By Little Brother

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — The little boy ran up and tugged at the workman's shirt.

"Hey, mister, have you got a knife?" he gasped.

David Strickler, 46, was busy talking to a truck driver Wednesday when the boy appeared. He told the lad he was too young to play with a knife.

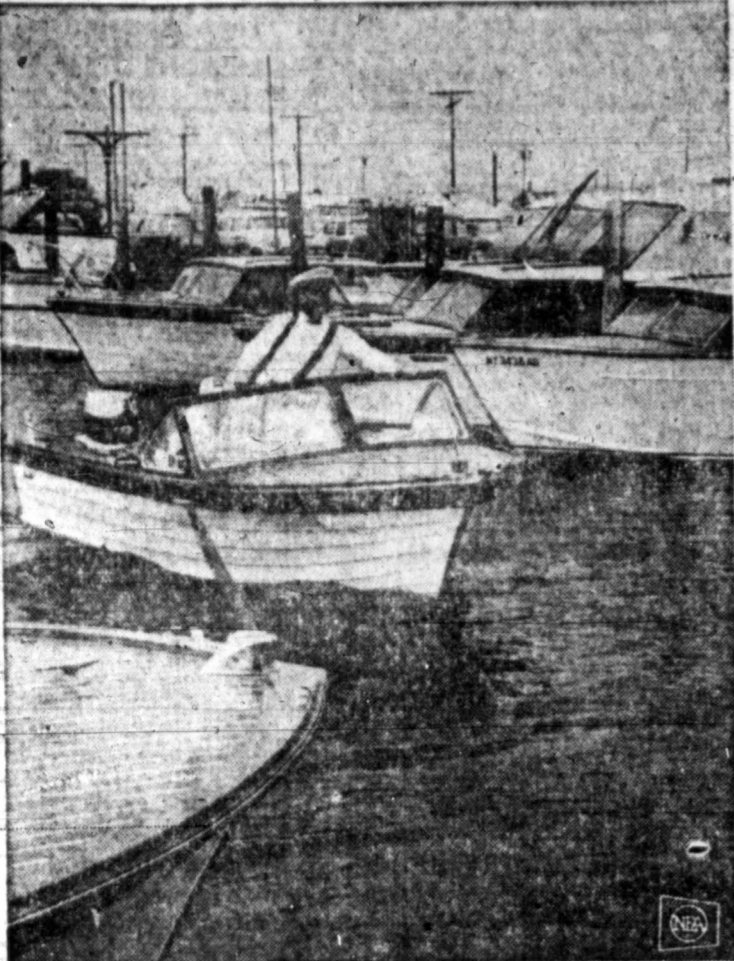

But the boy kept tugging at his shirt and staring up at the two men and asking for a knife.

Finally, little Bobby Smith stopped their conversation. "But I have to cut my sister down," he said.

The two shocked men looked across the way to a playground where Bobby pointed.

In the middle of a group of boys and girls running around and playing, two-year-old Michelle Hoepfner was hanging from a clothesline tied to a playground slide.

Strickler and the truck driver ran to the playground, leaped over a five-foot fence, and cut the girl down. Strickler put her on the ground and applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while the trucker called the police.

THOSE HORRID AGE SPOTS

FADE THEM OUT
Weathered brown spots on the surface of your hands and face tell the world you're getting old—perhaps before you really are. Fade them away with new ESOTERICA, that medicated cream that breaks up masses of pigment on the skin, makes hands look white and young again. Equally effective on the face, neck and arms. Not a cover-up. Acts in the skin—not on it. Fragrant, greaseless base for softening, lubricating skin as it clears up those blemishes. At leading drug and toiletry counters $2 plus tax. If you have these age-revealing brown spots, blotches, or if you want clearer, lighter skin, use ESOTERICA.

NON FICTION
The Temth Fleet by Landis Farago: the untold story of the U. S. submarine Operations in World War II.
Forty Miles Day on Beans and Hay by Don Rickey Jr.: the first documented account of mass personality of the rank and file during the Indian Wars.
The Wonderful West by Stewart Holbrook: a beautifully illustrated, dramatic book on the War West from Vancouver to Arizona.
Alone No Longer by Stanley Stein: the story of a man who refused to be one of the "Living Dead" and of the problems faced by the millions of victims of Hansen's disease.
Minority Report by Elmer Rice: a candid and richly anecdotal autobiography of the successful playwright.
Rice and Salt by Brig. Gen. John McGee: a history of the defense and occupation of Mindanao during World War II.
FICTION
The Artist by Jan de Hartog
PYRAMID'S AREA
The base of the Great Pyramid of Giza, Egypt, covers about 13 acres and its top point stands about 451 feet above the ground, having been reduced by 30 feet during the centuries.
CITY SQUARE
The ten-acre block comprising Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah, is surrounded by a wall ordered by Brigham Young as a "Make Work" project to keep the unemployed Mormons busy.

beneath the apparently simple surface of this short novel the author leads us into the deep waters of the human soul.
Penelope by William Anderson: a novel of rollicking fantasy and rare humor based on the new frontier of science today.
John Goldfarb, Please Come Home by William Blatty: a hilarious novel that is a biting satire of international diplomacy, the Cold War and the American political scene among others; full of Harold Lloydish situations.
The Beadle by Pauline Smith: a tender, delicate story of South Africa written with poignancy and passion.
Wyoming Summer by Mary O'Hara: a documentary novel based on the journal the author kept while living on the Goose Bar Ranch in Wyoming.
The Grand and the Glorious by Dan Cushman: a delightfully nostalgic Fourth of July in 1916; a celebration that unknowingly marked the end of the good old days.
Powers of Attorney by Louis Auchincloss: an authoritative account of the internal workings of a big New York law office.
OLDEST AGENCY
Created by the Congress of the United States in 1887, the Interstate Commerce Commission is the oldest of the federal regulatory agencies according to the Britannica Book of the Year.
INSURANCE
More than 75 per cent of the U.S. population in 14 states now is covered by health insurance, with New York State topping the list with 90.7 per cent coverage.
