Mobile Home, 'Dog House' Ruined By Tornado; Three Are Hospitalized

Lightning Explodes Oil Tank

A tornado, with lightning and driving rain, hit Pampa and surrounding areas yesterday, leaving three men in the hospital, exploding a tank of oil and causing extensive property damage.

E. W. Jones, Borger, and Frank Barnett, 1032 S. Wells, are listed in good condition in Highland General Hospital today after they were injured when high winds blew over a mobile home eight miles south of Pampa about 5 p.m. yesterday. The home was completely demolished. The men had been drilling on an oil well near Highway 70.

Lewis Neighbors, White Deer, was also listed in good condition by Highland General Hospital authorities today. He was injured when the high winds hit a drilling rig dog house five miles south of Pampa. He had taken refuge in the house before the storm struck.

Between 3 and 3:30 p.m. a twister that hit Bowers City three and a half miles south of Pampa, picked up a three-car garage and slammed it into a house on the Phillips-Johns Lease, according to Mrs. R. E. Warren Jr.

"There are three houses out there," Mrs. Warren said. "The garage was sitting behind the middle one. No one was home. We didn't get back until about 5 p.m. A neighbor told us about what time the storm struck."

"The twister left Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stone's car undamaged in the garage, but took the garage from around the car and slammed it into the rear end of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Parks' home. They had just bought the house and had been redoing it. They were planning to move in today," Mrs. Warren said.

"The twister picked up the garage roof and wrapped it around our fence and trees. They are a what saved our house," she said. "The twister tore up a clothes line pole that was set in cement, carried it a few feet and slammed it into the ground. It broke power lines and ripped shingles off the roofs of both houses on either side of the Parks' home."

"Yesterday about 3 p.m. lightning struck a 140-barrel tank full of oil and exploded it on the Wilcox-Albert-Combs lease eight miles south east of Pampa. No one was injured. We just had to wait and let the fire burn itself out," John King, 1148 Prairie Dr., reported.

King estimated the winds between 70 and 80 m.p.h. (See STORM, Page 3)

MOBILE HOME DEMOLISHED BY TORNADO — Two men were injured yesterday shortly after 5 p.m. by a tornado which hit this mobile home near a well being drilled by Egger Drilling Co. about 8 miles south of Pampa on U.S. 70. The men, E. W. Jones, 46 of Borger and Frank Barnett, 35, of 1032 S. Wells were reported in good condition in Highland General Hospital late this forenoon. ## Dirksen Makes It Hard to Veto Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield credited his GOP counterpart today with a display of bipartisanship that should help ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty.

Mansfield paid tribute to Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who initiated discussions which led to President Kennedy's decision to submit a letter of assurances concerning future U. S. Nuclear development under the test ban pact.

The statement came as the Senate prepared for its second day of formal debate on the treaty. The Senate may not vote on ratification until the end of next week.

Mansfield and Dirksen called on the President Monday to elicit the letter. But it was Dirksen's role which, fellow senators said, will make it a bit harder for Republicans — or Democrats — to vote against the treaty.

Arm in Arm "We went into the White House arm in arm by the front door — not the side entrance — and came out the same way," Mansfield said in an interview. "It was a display of bipartisanship." But he quickly added, "There has been very little partisanship in the treaty consideration. I do not question the motives of those senators who are interested in offering reservations or understandings to the treaty. I think they are expressing some of their doubts and worries — and every senator has to decide this one for himself."

Dirksen actually gave the treaty two boosts. While announcing his own support and getting from Kennedy a declaration designed to erase senatorial "doubts," he also bluntly rejected the proposed Cuban reservation of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. Calls It Ungermane The GOP leader termed the plan of Goldwater, who now is the front-running Republican presidential contender, both "ungermane" and a "confession of weakness."

Goldwater's reservation, which is given no real chance of adoption, would postpone effectiveness of the treaty until Russia removed its military base from Cuba. Dirksen said this is "almost like saying, 'We can't deal with Castro, we'll get Uncle Nikita (Khrushchev) to tell him to be a good boy.'"

Dirksen said he believed the forthcoming Kennedy letter might contain six or seven points dealing with U. S. atomic plans under the treaty. The letter will be read to the Senate by Dirksen later this week.

Two New Members Named To City Traffic Commission

Three members of the City Traffic Commission were re-appointed today by the City Commission and two new members were added.

Chairman Jack Miller, Mrs. Viola Jordan and G. K. Reading, resigned state highway engineer, were re-appointed to Places 2, 3 and 4. Wayne Brown accepted an appointment to Place 1 and Mrs. Alpha Bradley agreed to serve in Place 5. They succeed Mrs. Lillian Jordan and Mrs. Bessie Lewis.

All five members will serve two year terms. "There are ten other members on the commission, five of whose terms expire in 1964 and five in 1965."

The City Commission, at its regular weekly session this morning, closed the public hearing on the $1,450,000 city budget for 1963-64. Mrs. Harry F. Cook, 1326 E. Kingsmill, urged the commission to get city business on the same basis used in private business.

Schools Closed By Viet Nam Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Heavily armed troops and police today shut down five Saigon high schools and sent thousands of students home in an all-out effort to block further anti-government student demonstrations.

About 100 boy and girl students suspected of being agitators were arrested and hauled off to the main police station for questioning, government sources said.

The round-up brought the total of high school students arrested since the wave of student demonstrations began Saturday to approximately 1,300, nearly half of them girls.

About 1,200 youths were arrested previously in two riots triggered by protests against the government's suppression of Buddhists and other political opponents.

House Committee Approves Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Overriding solid Republican opposition, the House Ways & Means Committee today approved an $11 billion tax cut, the biggest in the nation's history.

By a straight party-line of 15-10, the committee directed its chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., to introduce the bill it spent seven months in drafting.

The committee scheduled an afternoon meeting at which it planned to formally return the bill to the House with its approval.

House passage later this month seems assured. There is considerable doubt that the Senate will complete action this year despite strong pressure from President Kennedy and many influential business leaders.

Every individual and corporation would share in the tax relief proposed by the committee. About $7 billion of the relief would take effect on 1964 incomes and the full tax cut would apply to incomes in 1965 and thereafter.

Takes Will Power

MORTONVILLE, Kan. (UPI) — Big John Mair's New Year's resolution is paying off. Mair, 27, decided last Jan. 1 he should trim off some of his 353 pounds.

Today, after a crash diet of black coffee for breakfast, three pieces of ham for lunch and soup and hamburger patties for dinner, Mair has lost 138 pounds. He plans to lose another 15 before the new year.

"The secret is will power," he said.

FCC Investigating Increased Wire Leasing Rates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Public hearings were slated to resume today in the Federal Communications Commission's special investigation of the effects of a proposed $1.7 million annual increase in press rates for leased telegraph lines.

Edgar W. B. Fairchild, president of Fairchild Publications, was the scheduled witness at the hearings conducted by FCC Examiner Forrest L. McClenning.

The hearings are expected to last about two weeks. The hearings are limited to cross-examination and redirect testimony. All parties had earlier filed their direct testimony.

At Monday's opening session the first witness was Stanford Smith, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA). He was examined extensively by George E. Ashley, counsel for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., which with Western Union is seeking the rate increase.

Under Ashley's examination, Smith agreed the increase would amount to about one-twentieth of 1 per cent of the total cost of newspapers in this country.

K. E. Griffith, counsel for the ANPA, later tried to have Smith testify about whether this increase would have a significant impact on the ability of the nation's newspapers and news services to disseminate the news.

Ashley objected that Smith was not qualified to testify on that point and McClenning upheld the objection.

Schools Integrate; Wallace Accepts Restraining Papers

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — President Kennedy outmaneuvered a defiant Gov. George C. Wallace for the second time in three months today and racial integration came for the first time to schools in the Alabama cities of Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee.

The Alabama governor accepted service of federal papers restraining him from interfering with school integration in Alabama at 10:27 a.m.

A stormy demonstration by flag-waving white students erupted at one Birmingham school, but police kept the screaming students under control and forced back a crowd of angry adults — a block from the scene.

Angry white parents began removing their children from several other schools in Birmingham and Tuskegee.

When some of the uproar, and early morning confusion subsided, 20 Negroes were inside five white schools in the three cities.

Wallace, looking refreshed after a few hours sleep, arrived at the state Capitol shortly after 11 a.m. EDT to survey the situation.

His first reaction: "No comment."

President Kennedy jerked the rug from under Wallace about 5:15 a.m. CST (7:15 a.m. EDT) by signing two orders.

One directed the governor to "cease and desist" from interfering with the court-ordered integration.

The second order federalized the 225 battle-garbed National Guardsmen Wallace had sent into all three cities to turn away 20 Negroes from five schools.

Some Whites Withdrawn By 8:45 a.m. CST (10:45 a.m. EDT), 19 Negroes had entered three schools in Birmingham, one in Tuskegee and one in Mobile.

Several white parents in Tuskegee began removing their children from classes soon after 13 Negroes entered the town's only white school.

Five Negroes entered the three Birmingham schools and two began classes at Murphy High in Mobile.

At Ramsay High in Birmingham, one white student who identified himself as Horace Blackstock, 18, left indignantly after one Negro entered the school.

Blackstock said boys and girls inside were being seated on opposite sides of the room. Normally the students are seated alphabetically, he said.

When the two Negro girls arrived at West End a few white students shouted "Two, four, six, eight. We don't want to integrate." The angry demonstration broke out after the two girls were inside.

Wallace was awakened at his executive mansion in Montgomery and told that the President had federalized the National Guardsmen in the three cities.

They returned to their armories to await instructions after the President's order became known.

Married Men Are Exempted From the Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today, in effect, exempted married men from the draft in a move that will relieve an estimated 340,000 young husbands from military service.

His executive order provided that husbands of draft age (from 19 through 25) will be called only if the pool of eligible single men is exhausted.

Since there is an ample pool of single men, the White House said, the order actually means married men will be draft proof except in case of a national emergency.

Kennedy's decision also reflected the coming of age of those born during the World War II and postwar baby boom. For instance, in 1940, there were 1,211,684 male children born. By 1945, this had increased to 1,404,587.

The White House said the action will tend to lower the average age of a draft inductee, which is now about 23, and let single young men "know sooner whether they will be called to serve."

Fathers already had been deferred since last March.

Hit-and-Run Driver Charged On Two Counts

Dan Culbertson, 51, of White Deer, was arraigned on two felony counts before Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford this morning following a hit-and-run accident in Pampa yesterday.

Lunsford set bond of $1,000 each on counts of failure to stop and render aid to an injured person following an accident, and on driving while intoxicated, second offense, Culbertson having previously been convicted of DWI in Cárson County.

Highland Hospital authorities reported the condition of Mrs. Florence Moody, 53, 1130 1/2 Christine, as "good" today. Mrs. Moody was a passenger in the other car in the accident, and was taken to the hospital with neck and back injuries. The other car was driven by Mrs. Virgie M. Gaut, 31, 910 S. Hobart.

The accident occurred at 2:45 p.m. in the 100 block of W. Brown. Police reported the accident occurred as Culbertson's car struck Mrs. Gaut's vehicle in the rear as she was about to make a left turn.

Culbertson's car left the scene, but witnesses furnished police with the license number. He was picked up an hour later driving in the 1400 block of W. Wilks, and was charged with DWI at that time, also with failure to stop and render aid and following too closely in connection with the accident.

Estimate of damages to Mrs. Gaut's 1963 automobile was $500, to Culbertson's 1955 vehicle, $150.

Return To Armories Wallace was awakened at his executive mansion in Montgomery and told that the President had federalized the National Guardsmen in the three cities.

They returned to their armories to await instructions after the President's order became known.

None of the Guardsmen — who were to have replaced Wallace's highway patrolmen — appeared at the three Birmingham schools.

Kennedy already had signed his order taking the control of the guardsmen away from Wallace.

Sino-Soviet Relations Take A New Turn Downward

MOSCOW (UPI) — Sino-Soviet relations, already strained to the breaking point, took a new turn downward today with Russia's expulsion of more Chinese from trying to smuggle anti-Soviet literature into the country.

The Kremlin sent a strong protest note Monday to the Red Chinese Embassy regarding the expulsion, according to the official news agency Tass.

The latest incident occurred Saturday at the Naushki crossing point on the border of Mongolia when officials were inspecting the Peking-Moscow train. Tass said several Chinese "hoologans" had to be expelled.

The incident was the latest in a series of differences that have sent relations between Moscow and Peking spiraling downward over political and ideological issues.

Tass said several Chinese, including members of the train crew, brawled with Soviet officials Saturday and Sunday after the officials confiscated banned literature.

Three Chinese Embassy officials and two other Chinese were expelled from the Soviet Union in June for distributing similar documents.

Western diplomatic sources said the Naushki incident made it appear the Peking regime still is trying to goad the Kremlin. They pointed out that the incident served to focus attention on border problems once again.

The Chinese four days ago charged the Soviets carried out "large-scale subversive activities in the Ili region (of Sinkiang China), and enticed and coerced several tens of thousands of Chinese citizens' into Soviet territory in April and May, 1962.

Also postponed for another week was action on a request of the Pampa Optimist Clubs for a special rate on water for watering trees and lawns in Optimist Park.

Notes From Wall Street

NEW YORK (UPI) — International Statistical Bureau, Inc. feels investors can expect some sharp declines in the coming weeks, though the major trend continues upward.

The firm says it expects increased activity in secondary as well as some low priced speculative issues, but it does not recommend "unbridled" speculation. The firm says the "need for discrimination is 'greater than ever'."

Roger E. Spear, president of Spear & Staff feels that judicious investors, who stick to sound issues instead of dabbling in speculative shares, stand to benefit from the bullish business news background and the breakthrough to new high ground in the Dow-Jones industrial average.

Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds & Co. says that while selloffs can be expected from time to time, he continues to feel the market is heading higher and advises utilization of weak periods to accumulate favored issues.

Analyst James Dines says the market seems to be going through a shifting in leadership which normally happens just before the public "comes roaring back into the market."

BOOK OF HISTORICAL RECORD — The book's author, editor and publisher examine a copy of the history entitled "The Franklyn Land and Cattle Company, a Panhandle Enterprise from 1882 to 1957" during an autographing party in the Coronado Inn yesterday. Author Reviews Book Before Audience of 100

Travis Lively Sr. reviewed "The Franklyn Land and Cattle Company, a Panhandle Enterprise from 1882 to 1957" during a reception and autographing party in honor of the book's author, Dr. Lester Fields Sheffy, yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

Lively reviewed the book before an audience of about 100 people. Those who bought copies of the book had it autographed by Sheffy and M. K. Brown, the book's editor and financier. The book is the third in the M. K. Brown Ranch Life Series.

The development of the White Deer Lands, of which Gray County is a large part, started with a vision of "forever green pastures, giant herds of fat cattle and rivers that would never run dry," Lively said.

"This is a history of the drama, the movement of people with a vision," Lively said. "The early developers, men from Kentucky, knew how cattle should be raised in Kentucky, but they didn't know the West. They didn't count on blizzards, drought, Indians stealing their cattle and cattle prices dropping to the bottom after they hit peak."

"But they kept on, even though a year after they started in 1883, they were bankrupt. This was the Franklyn Land and Cattle Company. Its founder, Colonel B. B. Groom, a Kentucky cattleman, leased from the New York and Texas Co. in 1882, 529,320 acres situated in Gray, Carson, Hutchinson and Roberts Counties in the Texas Panhandle. This is roughly a block area 20 miles by 50 miles, according to Lively.

"With an option to buy within a year, Col. Groom went to a New York financier, Charles G. Franklyn, and transferred his lease-and option to him. Purchase price in 1883 was $1.32 an acre, or $864,000," stated Lively.

Army Doctor Is Answer To Mother's Prayer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A Mexican army doctor with a gruff bedside manner may be astonished to know that an Indianapolis mother considers him an answer to her prayers.

"Of course, I was really praying that my son wouldn't have to have an operation," Mrs. Osma Spurlock explained. "But he did have to have one. So I feel my prayers were answered in that it was a good doctor who answered our call."

The nightmare experience of having her only son become critically ill while the family was on a vacation trip in Acapulco is one that Mrs. Spurlock never will forget.

Mrs. Spurlock, deputy director of the Indiana Civil Rights Commission, and her husband, Albert Sr., and their 16-year-old son, Albert Jr., and daughter, Anita, 12, had driven to the Mexican resort and were having a wonderful time.

"But in the morning, I could see he really was in terrible pain," she recalled. "We didn't know anyone. We called the hotel and this doctor came. His name was Eduardo Varella. He thought at first it was food poisoning and gave him a shot that made Albert sleep for eight hours."

But the pain was still there in spite of the shot and his mother's prayers.

Operation Needed
"Dr. Varella said to me, I will was made manager of the White Deer Lands. He was assisted by two brash, young fellas, M. K. Brown and C. P. Buckler. Under Hobart and his assistants' direction, progress was made. People started to move in and we saw this country develop. Today, the cattle, oil, gas and kindred interests have made this county what it is, a far greater realization that its original founders ever envisioned," Lively said.

There's Plenty Of Life Left in the Old Trolley

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What has wheels, runs on tracks and can be used as a church, school, hunting lodge or even an object of international commerce? The streetcar, of course.

Threatened with the fate of horse-drawn carriages, knickers and ankle-laced shoes, the trolley is finding a new place in U.S. society, thanks to American ingenuity.

In Omaha, Neb., several old trolleys have been converted into modern hunting and fishing lodges. In Lanham, Md., a minister recently transformed a streetcar into the town's First Baptist Church, and, in Fort Worth, Tex., a department store is using streetcars to transport employees and customers through an underground tunnel from parking lots to the store.

In other cities, local transit firms may soon re-examine the potential market value of trolleys now sitting idly in company storage yards.

A local company here has been supplying the demand for unused streetcars which it sells, depending on condition and serviceability, anywhere from a few hundred dollars to $2,000.

Like most cities, Washington's streetcars recently gave way to modern, air-conditioned buses. Since then, the company has been steadily selling its stock of trolleys to individuals and groups in the United States and Europe.

The Yugoslav city of Serajevo recently purchased 75 of the company's streetcars for its municipal system. Barcelona, Spain, bought 28 trolleys and is considering buying 60, to 70 more.

From its initial stock of 405 streetcars in 1962, the company's supply has dwindled to about 75 cars.

Unserviceable streetcars, which are cheaper, are being sold for unusual and often ingenious uses.

Milton Q. Ford, a local radio personality, recently bought 200 of the less useful streetcars which he is transforming into playrooms, workshops, clubrooms, baby-sitting facilities, children's movie theaters and parking lot waiting rooms.

In redirect examination, Griffiths had Smith explain that the increase in the number of newspapers could be explained by the fact that smaller newspapers were replacing large metropolitan papers which had gone out of business.

OLDHAM, England (UPI) — Margaret Lambert, 19, Monday married lawyer John Bowyer in a white gown and high black boots — because steady rains had filled the path to the local chapel with mud.

"The first thing they gave him was cantaloup juice," Mrs. Spurlock recalled. "But it must work. Albert was up the next day and we were able to start the drive home in four days."

It was raised over 50 feet before it fell back to the ground, Hatcher said. (Daily News Photo)

Pampans Dehorn White Deer Buck

Two Pampa youths are faced with the prospect of replacing the antlers on the deer in White Deer's town square, or paying fines of $200 each for destruction of public property.

The Panhandle Sheriffs' office reported that Bill N. Tuckett, 17, of 516 Lefors, a Pampa High senior; and Robert D. Pullen, 17, 842 E. Locust, who graduated last June, accompanied by two girls from PHS, were arrested by White Deer police early Sunday morning while in the act of pulling the antlers off the white deer in the square.

The youths were taken before Judge Herman Powell, who fined them $200 each, but told them that if they could repair the deer to the satisfaction of the mayor of White Deer, the fines would be reduced.

tween 50 and 60 miles an hour and said it was "the hardest rain I've ever been in. It dropped about five inches of rain and caused flash flooding conditions on the Worley River," he said.

The winds uprooted and blew out a 400-volt power system and washed it down the river, according to King.

In Pampa a "plain old thunderstorm" dropped .31 an inch of rain yesterday and last night, according to William Bower, member of the Amateur Panhandle Weather Forecasters Network.

"The high yesterday was 95 and the low last night was 65," Bowen said. "The clouds started building up about 2 p.m. and by 4 p.m. were full grown clouds. The radar yesterday showed the trough line moving back and forth, north and south east of Amarillo.

"That's a peculiar thing about this storm. Generally, they run east to southeast," Bowen stated.

The winds were not as high in the north part of town as in the south where about an inch of rain was dropped within a hour. For about 45 minutes, power was out in the south part of town, according to public service officials.

The winds damaged eight houses, knocked down power poles and blew down trees and television antennas. At the Harvester Bowl on the south city limits it blew out a plate glass window. The wind picked up and turned over a 30-foot chicken house belonging to S. D. Winegeart, two miles south of town.

Foreign News
Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
MADRID, Spain (UPI)—On a day early this month, a trim white yacht dropped anchor in the northern Spanish port of La Coruna.

Aboard was Generalissimo Francisco Franco, who was interrupting a fishing vacation to hold his last cabinet meeting of the summer. Most important of the domestic issues to be discussed was Spain's new $8-million development program which is to go into effect next Jan. 1.

And for the next 48 flag-decked hours, La Coruna became in effect the working capital of Spain.

By tradition established under the regency of Queen Maria Cristina, the Spanish government in the summer months moves to San Sebastian, near the Pyrenees, only 35 miles from Biarritz, across the border with France.

Between San Sebastian and La Coruna the mountains hug the coastline and for 500 miles a narrow highway twists and turns its way through and over them, providing at once scenes of awesome beauty and the equally breathtaking prospect of a 1,000-foot plunge into nothingness in the case of driver error or mechanical failure.

Claims Road Worst
In San Sebastian, a cabinet minister threw up his hands in mock horror when he learned that Carlos Mendo, chief UPI correspondent for Spain, and I planned to drive it for the cabinet meeting.

"It is one of the worst roads in Spain," he said, "but at least you will see why we need a development plan."

The road may not be the worst in Spain, but it must rate high among them.

Huge trucks vie with speeding small passenger cars, and both must contend with the ever-present burros. And beyond this is the foot traffic, women headed for the nearest village, carrying upon their heads objects varying from metal containers of milk to heavy bundles of fire wood.

But it is a trip worth the effort.

Symbols of Growth
Along the way are symbols both of Spain's new and growing prosperity as well as problems it still faces.

There is Bilbao, ranking with Barcelona as one of Spain's principal industrial cities, called the Pittsburgh of Spain. In Bilbao, Santander, Oviedo and even in the nearest village new construction work seems unending.

This also is the region of the Asturian coal mines where today the government regards with a tolerant eye a strike by 14,000 miners even though strikes in Spain are outlawed. The seams of brown coal are running out and many of the mines are uneconomic.

The government is considering a plan of nationalization whereby some of these pits might be closed and the miners either be transferred to other diggings or retrained for other jobs.

Here also are the Galician farmers, a taciturn folk unlike the talkative friendliness of the south. They live as their fathers before them on small, uneconomic plots of not much more than an acre, planting their patches of corn high up the steep mountain sides.

For them also the government is seeking a solution.

But over all in the four years since stabilization of the currency, Spain's progress has been phenomenal. The growth rate has been more than 7 per cent annually and the government has more than a billion dollars in foreign exchange to work with.

36th Division Men Are Honorary Texans
NEW YORK (UPI)—Three hundred members of the New York Association of the 36th division which fought in Europe during World War II last night are new honorary citizens of Texas.

Wick Fowler represented Texas Gov. John B. Connally in making them citizens over the weekend.

Fowler, who now works for the Dallas Morning News, covered the Texas National Guard Division during its wartime fighting. The New Yorkers served in the division during the war.

New Postmaster Named by JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Wisconsin tax commissioner John S. Gronouski was named yesterday to be postmaster general in the Kennedy cabinet.

Gronouski, a 43-year-old Democrat, will succeed J. Edward Day, whose resignation took effect a month ago.

President Kennedy's choice of Gronouski was announced by the White House, which said that as far as it knew Gronouski is the first person of Polish ancestry to be named to the cabinet.

The announcement confirmed reports which had been emanating from Wisconsin since Sunday.

Gronouski has been commissioner of taxation in Wisconsin since he was appointed to that post by Gov. Gaylord Nelson in January, 1960.

Prior to that, he was research director for the State Tax Department and executive director of a special tax study set up by Nelson.

Since Day's departure from the cabinet, Sidney W. Bishop has been serving as acting postmaster general.

Gronouski, a resident of Madison since going to work for the state government, in June, 1959, was born in Dunbar, Wis., on Oct. 26, 1919. He was brought up in Oshkosh, Wis.

Clerk Takes Too Long, Diamonds Taken By Women

WESLACO, Tex. (UPI) — The two women who stole $4,000 worth of diamond rings from a Weslaco jeweler are probably hiding out in Mexico.

Police said they believe the women have crossed the border. H. W. Hollandsworth said the women took the jewelry Saturday. He said he placed a tray of about 50 rings on a counter for the women to examine until his clerk could wait on them. He then returned to his workshop.

Hollandsworth said he noticed later that the women had stolen the rings.

Minimum amount with which a U. S. postal savings account may be opened and bear interest is one dollar.

Boston Strangler Is at Work Again

SALEM, Mass. (UPI) — Police yesterday investigated the strangling of a 50-year-old divorcee, the ninth in a series of crimes which have spread a wave of fear among women who live along in the Greater Boston area.

The body of Mrs. Evelyn Corbin was found sprawled across the bed in her apartment Sunday. Two nylon stockings were knotted around her neck.

The victim was clad in a negligee, a bathrobe and white socks. Police said her garments were in disarray but it was not known whether she had been sexually attacked.

A 41-year-old man, who had dated Mrs. Corbin as recently as

Saturday night, was questioned, police said.

The strangling was similar in several respects to the eight others which began June 14, 1962. The killer used a stocking in four of the other murders.

Lt. John Donovan, chief of the Boston homicide squad which was called into the case, was asked if Mrs. Corbin's slayers could be linked with the others attributed to a "mad strangler."

"The woman's dead. There's a stocking around her neck. That's similarity enough," he said.

McAlester Coal Mine Is Ordered Closed by Owner

DALLAS (UPI)—George A. Wilson, president of Lone Star Steel Co. announced yesterday that Carbon No. 5 coal mine at McAlester, Okla., has been ordered closed for good because of potentially unsafe conditions and excessive operating costs.

Wilson said 175 miners and 25 "salaried people" have been notified that there is no possibility of the mine's reopening in the foreseeable future. The mine was temporarily closed July 30 when potentially unsafe conditions were discovered.

"After exhaustive study on the part of our own supervision as well as experts brought in from the outside," Wilson said, "it was apparent that it would be economically impractical to rebuild and improve the operation to the extent we felt required to insure the safety of our miners."

Although production costs were excessive, Wilson said, Lone Star continued to operate the mine as long as it could because of the excellence of the coal it yielded. The Carbon No. 5 coal was blended with other coal to make coke at Lone Star's big steel mill in northeast Texas.

"Miners (at Carbon No. 5) have been terminated as of their last shift," Wilson said. "Salaried employees are being terminated on a graduated scale as some of them are needed to place the mine and equipment in shape for the final closing."

"Salaried employees will receive severance pay under a program voluntarily offered by Lone Star in which length of service is recognized. There is a possibility that some of the supervisory personnel may be transferred to Lone Star's mill."

FISH RETURNS CHOP

FLEETWOOD, England (UPI)—A halibut returned a pork chop to the English fishing trawler Gavia, mate Bernard Birley reported Sunday.

Birley said the ship's cook threw the chop overboard, and 18 hours later the fish hauled aboard was found to have eaten it.

"It was definitely the same chop," Birley said. "I've never heard of anything like that happening before."

Tiny Kitchens Are No Problem

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The size limitations of moderate-priced apartments often come as a shock to the newlywed who moves from the relative spaciousness of the family home.

"You wouldn't believe how small the kitchen is," goes one typical beef. Oh, yes I would — most of us have coped with tiny kitchens at one time or another.

Clever designers dismiss the problem with a wave of the hand and insist such limitations are a spur to creative solutions.

Two examples come to mind. In Chicago, the small apartment of Jack Denst, artist and designer-craftsman, has a vest pocket kitchen. It has no windows, two doors, old-fashioned appliances and the walls are in only fair shape. To fix it up without investing in new cabinets and equipment, he slapped a brilliant blue-green, leaf-patterned vinyl wall covering (one of his own designs) on the walls and ceiling.

Vinyls are easy to clean, strong and durable covering for walls. To break the bold pattern and to camouflage a wall too shabby for any covering, he concocted a shoji screen made by nailing lathe strips together, painting them black and stretching an ordinary muslin sheet across the back. A narrow strip of lighting fixture in back of the screen (which is mounted on the wall only by nails in the corners) casts a soft light. When the sheet becomes dirty, he lifts down the screen and tacks on a new sheet (about once a year).

Two examples prove that tiny apartment kitchens need not be drab or shabby. At left, the kitchen in Jack Larsen's apartment utilizes old boards for wall covering from which pots and pans can hang. At right, a bold shoji screen is made from lathe strips and a sheet to camouflage a poor wall. Designer Jack Denst made the metal light covers.

Jack Lenor Larsen, another well-known designer, pulled his small kitchen together with his flair for color and an ingenious storage unit. At the window is a boldly patterned shade of open-weave linen in tones of orange, yellow, green and beige. The linen has been laminated to translucent shade cloth which filters harsh light.

To create a storage place, natural wood shelves were installed, braced by metal frames, painted mustard yellow. Wood shelves hold supplies and are a convenient and practical work surface. Instead of cabinet doors, a set of coarsely-woven, vinyl-impregnated shades hung reverse roll can screen off the shelves. Besides being colorful, this is an inexpensive and speedy way to shut out clutter.

POLLY'S POINTERS Saving The Purse Means Saving Money Too!

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I want to share my favorite money saver. I had a pet plastic purse that was large and roomy, just the thing for a working gal. The purse stayed in very good shape but the handle broke several times and finally was beyond repair. I decided to fix a new handle with a narrow short length of belt. I slipped it through the holders at each end and buckled it as you would around your waist. The purse wore out three belts in this way. Now I buy new purses with metal holders in the top and not on the sides. I have got belts that match about any color purse I have wanted to buy.—MRS. M. L. P.

GIRLS—With the belt slipped through the holders and buckled, the belt handle would be double. Stitch at each side 1/4 inch above the holder to hold it in place.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—This tip works well in my family. I have the children turn down a cuff on each of their socks or anklets before they put them on. This prevents the tops from stretching out of shape.—MRS. J. T.

DEAR POLLY—Here is an unusual idea for a successful children's party. Give each child the same amount of play money. Have an auction with your child's outgrown toys. This goes over big and the children are thrilled with the toys they "buy." Everyone goes home with a few things. The excitement the children enjoy is worth watching.—MRS. G. F.

DEAR POLLY — These good ideas are my mother's. A quick trip to town sometimes creates a problem when you have no change for the parking meter. Mother keeps a handful of small change in the glove compartment. She includes enough for a telephone call home, from the nearest phone booth, in an emergency. We are quite a traveling family so mother puts in our suitcases, stamped, addressed post cards. In each suitcase she fastens a five-dollar bill. In case a wallet or purse is lost or stolen, we have enough to tide us over until funds arrive from home.—M. V.

WHAT A MOM!—POLLY

Dear Abby.... Here's The Bare Facts, Ma'am!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been wanting to join a nudist colony for a long time, but I have been against it. I accompanied him on one trip to the nudist camp and I don't care to go again. I wasn't brought up to run around naked in front of strangers. I am allowed three visits to the camp before it becomes mandatory that I disrobe, too. My husband says I have an "evil mind," and that man was much happier when he went around naked and lived with nature in the trees. Should I try to forget my shame and go with him? He can't join unless I do. He is 25 and I am 23. We have a child one-year old.

NO NAME PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: There is nothing "evil" about your mind, so don't let him change it. And you can tell your nature-loving hubby that in time we all might be living "with nature" in the trees again — so he should keep his shirt on.

DEAR ABBY: You sure made a big thing out of a little kid swiping one grape. I'm in the grocery business and I wish I had a dime for every person who helped himself to something in my store. Yesterday a woman came in for some bananas. While I was weighing her bananas she was eating my grapes. I caught her in the act, but did I get excited? Certainly not, because I just finished weighing my thumb.

NICK
DEAR ABBY: I hate to go to funerals. Last week a neighbor passed away and my husband wanted me to go to the funeral with him. I refused because (1) I hardly knew the man, (2) I hate to be around grieving folks, (3) I never know what to say. My husband was very angry with me because he didn't think he ought to go without me. The deceased was a childhood friend of my husband's. My husband went alone, but I still haven't heard the end of it. Was I wrong?

HATES FUNERALS
DEAR HATES: You should have gone. No one LIKES to be "around grieving folks", but the presence of friends who care enough to come is usually a comfort to mourners. You need "say" nothing more at a funeral than, "I'm sorry."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "A DARNED FOOL": The person who is man. She received her B. A. degree in Liberal Arts at Beloit College in Beloit, Wis.

Wichita Falls Defense One Of Best In Texas

WICHITA FALLS (Sp) — "Our defense is a little weaker than last year," said Charles Wolston, sports editor of the Wichita Falls Times today, reporting on the Wichita Falls Coyotes, Pampa's first opponent of the season.

Wolston admitted however, that the Coyotes' defense would still rank among the toughest in the country. "Last year our defense was 90 percent of our game," said Wolston, "even in the game we lost to Irving, we allowed only one touchdown, and the two touchdowns we gave up to Grand Prairie in a 14-14 tie was as much as we have given up in the last three or four years. The last time we gave up three touchdowns was to Corpus Christi Ray in the playoffs four years ago."

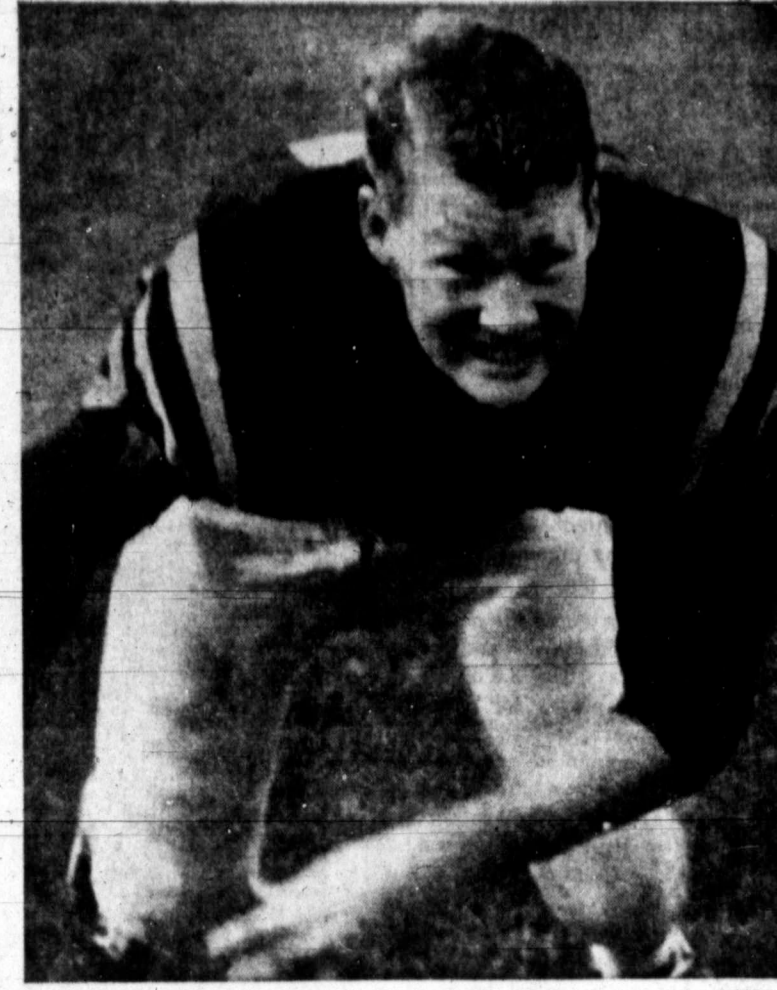

The Wichita line has tremendous size, said the WF reporter, but lacked speed. "Our coaches are worried whether we can stop Pampa's outside running. We don't have the speed to defense against Hebert going wide or those pitch-outs to his halfbacks."

Despite Wolston's gloomy predictions, the Coyotes have tremendous size and depth defensively, and according to scouting reports and spring training films observed by the Pampa coaching staff, have far more speed than Wolston will admit.

Wichita Falls returns 26 lettermen from a squad of 40, with nine of 14 backs returning. Four defensive starters return, including an all-state tackle candidate and three outstanding two-way players.

Heading up the defensive line is 215-pound tackle Jim McGrath, an all-district selection last year, and a fast man for his size despite Wolston's report. Tackle Joe Fowler, 190, is almost as potent on the other side of the line.

HARVESTER OF WEEK — Carl Johnson was named as the Pampa Harvester of the Week at the Jaycee luncheon today. Johnson, a 175-pound junior letterman guard, was chosen because of improvement, hustle, determination and outstanding play in the scrimmage against Dumas, said his coaches.

Labron Harris Leads U.S. Amateur Golf

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — They were chasing Labron Harris Jr., the mathematical genius with the geometrical putting touch, once again today as 128 hopefuls walloped their way into the second round of the U.S. Amateur golf championship.

Harris, the bespectacled defending champion from Oklahoma State, romped into the second round with as much ease as if somebody asked him whether two and two made a pair four when he dusted off Bill Cowardin, a VMI student from Newport News, Va., 8 and 6. And, two under-par, he was the only man to conquer the hilly, narrow Wakonda Club course.

A host of the favorites went with him, however, as he set himself up for a second round match against John McKey Jr., a 19-year-old University of Georgia student who was the beneficiary of a first-round bye.

They included former U.S. and British Amateur champion Deane Beman, two-time champion Charles Coe, flamboyant Billy Joe Patton, former West Virginia legislator Bill Campbell and 1962 British Amateur king Richard Davies.

Coaches Vince Lombardi of Green Bay, George Wilson of Detroit, Buddy Parker of Pittsburgh and George Halas of Chicago had bad news for the rest of the National Football League Tuesday.

All four pronounced their teams in top physical condition for this weekend's opening games of the NFL season.

Parker said his Steelers were in their best physical condition for the start of a season in years. He credited a new pre-season physical fitness program which stressed running and no contact sessions for the lack of injuries.

The Packers were sent through an unusually rough Monday workout by Lombardi, who denounced Green Bay's winning effort last Saturday night as "sloppy."

Defending Champion Jacksboro Vs. Olney

By United Press International

The Jacksboro Tigers, boasting the state's longest active winning streak, face another major stumbling block this week in what promises to be a rugged road to a successful defense of their Class AA state schoolboy football crown.

The Tigers, supposedly weakened by graduation, sounded a stiff warning in their opener last week when they beat Class AAA Breckenridge 27-20 for their 16th consecutive victory.

This week, they drop back into their own Class AA Ranks to meet the Olney Cubs, who squeezed out an 8-6 triumph over state Class A title favorite Albany to indicate they are able to match touchdowns with practically any of their scheduled foes.

The Jacksboro-Olney game, however, is just one of several headline attractions on this week's AA schedule.

Childrens and Hamlin, a couple of teams which walloped their opening opponents, get together at Hamlin in a spotlight contest. Hamlin last week polished off defending Class A champ Rotan 41-7 while Childrens battered Paducah 52-0.

Mobeetie Hornets Angry After Darrouzett Defeat

MOBEETIE (Sp) — The Mobeetie Hornets are preparing for Lakeview's visit Friday night with grim determination to avenge last week's 56-12 upset at the hands of Darrouzett.

"We really didn't expect Darrouzett to be quite as strong," reported coach Cecil Reynolds. "With the loss of their starting quarterback, we thought they might have trouble moving, but they shifted a senior end up to quarterback and he did a tremendous job. Add to that their light, fast boys and they just outran us, especially going wide around the ends. We just couldn't contain them. Our defense as a whole was poor, especially our pass protection. When we tried to cover for the halfbacks, they passed successfully on us."

"Offensively we just didn't get any blocking from the line worth mentioning. Quarterback Gerald Gudgel did a good job, considering he was smeared on almost every play. They rushed him constantly, but he did manage to complete four out of 12 passes, with end Eddie Hodges getting two and Jerry Rector and halfback Ray Corcoran one each.

"Corcoran did a good job blocking, but he couldn't run as the Longhorns keyed on him every play, having a man hit him even when he wasn't carrying the ball. He got off one 60-yard touchdown run on a bootleg reverse, behind good blocking by Brad Trout and Joe Kelley.

"I guess what really stopped us was those two quick touchdowns in the opening minute on a fumbled kick and a punt return. We spent the whole night trying to catch up."

"The boys aren't down though, they're more mad than anything and I hope they take it out on Lakeview Friday night. We need to work on everything, especially blocking and defense, and I hope we have some different results this week."

The Chiefs and the Hornets split two games last season, Lakeview winning the first game at home and Mobeetie copping the district tilt at Hornet Field, each winning by two touchdowns.

Little is known of the Chiefs, who have yet to play a game this season, but they are expected to return some heavy boys. Lakeview doesn't feature much speed, and will stick mainly to a ground attack out of their T formation.

Probable starting lineup:

UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — The amateur tennis world is in a delightful dither over the decline of the Australians.

"The rest of us now are very confident," says bawling Bobby Wilson of Britain's surprising Davis Cup team.

"The spice is back in the Davis Cup act," adds Renville McMann, former president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

The setbacks for Australians in the recent U.S. championships may be only temporary but they do make the remainder of the Davis Cup matches for 1963 and all of 1964 an event of world-wide interest.

It's no longer a routine affair in Europe, where Sweden and Italy held sway for years. It's no longer routine in the American Zone where Mexico and the U.S. are closely-matched rivals.

And way out yonder even India can't be considered a push-over since the rise of young Premjit Lal comes at a time when aging Ramanathan Krishnan still can get around in class fashion.

U.S. Plays Venezuela

The U.S. plays Venezuela at Denver this weekend without the services of Chuck McKinley, who has a commitment elsewhere. A victory there sends the Yanks to Britain.

The British, European champs for the first time in 30 years, obviously are setting a bear trap for the Yank team led by McKinley, Dennis Ralston, Frank Froehling III and Marty Riessen.

Wilson, who went five sets with Froehling in the quarter-finals, was the only major Davis Cupper the British sent over here for the national championships on grass courts at Forest Hills.

The two others who probably will handle the jingles assignments against the U.S. stayed home to practice on the hard-surfaced courts at Bournemouth, Eng., where the inter-zone matches will be played in late September. The stay-at-homes are Mike Sangster and southpaw Billy Knight.

Wilson and Sangster played both singles and doubles as Britain upset Sweden but Bobby has a hunch — since he was sent over here — that he'll be dropped from singles against the U.S.

"I think Knight might play the singles with Sangster," he admitted. "I should think I will be in only the doubles with Sangster."

By next year, the European Zone will be wide open again with Britain due for a major challenge from France and — yep — Brazil.

Quarterback Mutiny Over At Philadelphia

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of dispatches sizing up the prospects of pro football teams for the 1963 season.

By RUSS GREEN

UPI Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The quarterback mutiny is settled and coach Nick Skorich of the Philadelphia Eagles has turned to such earthy problems as winning the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League and maybe all of the marbles in the final championship game.

Whether the 24-hour revolt of quarterbacks Sonny Jurgensen and King Hill in their front office contract dispute last week will affect the team remains a matter of conjecture.

Jurgensen and Hill, who walked out of the Hershey, Pa., training camp without notification last Wednesday to compel contract signings, insisted when they signed Thursday that the action would not damage the morale of the team.

But it obviously jolted management and Skorich. Too, it came at a time when the Eagles were high on themselves, on their rookie crop, and when they felt they had a whale of a chance to bag the eastern title they believed up for grabs.

Team Improved

"We're better off than we were last year," Skorich said on the overall makeup of the club.

"We have more depth than we've had in some time, particularly with our running backs. Now if a back is hurt, we won't have the trouble we had before in replacing him."

"We have fine pass receivers, and we have bigger guards to protect the passers and to make pull-outs and block for the runners. We should be right up in what looks like a wide-open race in the East."

Many of the backs — Jurgensen, Tommy McDonald, Timmy Brown, a healthy Ted Dean, an improved Theron Sapp and an injured Clarence Peaks who might be ready for the second game —

Broyles Unhappy With Razorbacks

By United Press International

The Arkansas Razorbacks gained five players from the injured list Monday, but Coach Hank Broyles was still unhappy with two team workouts at Fayetteville.

Broyles said Monday workouts are usually poor, but he did not even see any encouraging signs. He said much of the problem was that too many team members were playing unfamiliar positions because they were moved to compensate for injuries.

Returning from the injured list were fullbacks Jerry Jones and Bobby Reynolds, wingbacks George Walker and Stan Sparks and tailback Dwayne Cox. Jones and Walker were slated to be regulars, while the others are second stringers.

Elsewhere in Southwest Conference training, coaches generally took it easy out of respect for the Texas heat.

Longhorns Stress Goal Line

Texas Coach Darrell Royal led the Longhorns through a two-hour session stressing goal-line offense and defense and put Ernie Koy in the number one fullback slot, replacing Harold Philipp.

Koy looked particularly good on offense in a scrimmage Saturday. At College Station, Texas A&M Coach Hank Foldberg expressed pleasure with the Aggie passing game, citing the play of ends Edward Breeding and James Drennan and halfback George

Mary Myatt Wins Golf

Mary Myatt dominated the Ladies City Golf Tournament held at the Pampa Country Club this weekend, taking tourney honors, medalist honors and winning the driving contest.

Miss Myatt fired an 88 Saturday to win the medalist trophy, and followed with a 90 Sunday to win the tournament with a 178 for 18 holes. Mrs. Clayton Husted was runner-up with a 180.

Mrs. Vernon Watkins won low net with 148 and Miss Shirley Austin was second with 153.

In conjunction with the tournament, a driving contest was held, won by Miss Myatt; a chipping contest won by Mrs. Donna Frazier; and a putting contest won by Mrs. Carlton Freeman.

Eighteen ladies participated in the tourney.

BRAVES RECALL TWO

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Mac Jones, an outfielder, and Dan Schneider, a left-handed pitcher, are scheduled to report to the Milwaukee Braves today.

Jones and Schneider, who spent much of the season with the Braves, were recalled Monday from Milwaukee's Toronto farm team of the International League.

are familiar.

The new mobile units among the ball carriers features Paul Dudley, picked up in a trade with the New York Giants, and rookie Tom Woodeshick from West Virginia.

Five May Start

Other rookies will be scattered through the lineup. There might be five rookie starters, including pass catching Ron Goodwin at end, 250-pound tackle Dave Graham, who is surprising five-year veteran Jim McCusker, and Jimmy Skaggs, who sat out all of last season after a camp injury, on the offensive line.

The defensive line shows Riley Gunnels, one of the league's best, as the only holdover. There's Bill Quinlan from the Packers and Frank Fuller from the Cardinals balancing with Jerry Mazzanti, a first year man from Arkansas.

The middle linebacker could be rookie Lee Roy Caffey, who the coaching staff thinks has to be regarded as one of the finest in the league.

The secondary includes the familiar Don Burroughs, Irv Cross, Jimmy Carr and Ben Scotti, with veteran linebackers Maxie Baughan and Bob Harrison. The Eagles also came up with a rookie kicker to replace the departed Bobby Walston. The new three-pointed is Mike Clark of the Texas Aggies, signed as a free agent and a ready booter from all distances.

Korich is pleased with the running prospects, the pass receiving potential of Pete Retzlaff, McDonald, Goodwin and all of the other backs, and the defense possibilities. He has his fingers crossed on the injury problem.

Peaks suffered an elbow dislocation in the first pre-season game but is expected to be ready in two weeks. What is haunting Skorich is memories of three broken arms, two broken legs, a broken toe, a broken foot, broken finger and cracked ribs suffered by front liners in 1963.

"If we stay clear of such a fracture epidemic, we'll give them a battle," Nick said.

ROSTERS READY

Team rosters and practice fields and times for the 222 Flag-A-Tag football registrants are being compiled and will be released in tomorrow's News, said Pampa athletic director Weldon Trice today. All registrants are advised to check the sport page to find their name and team.

Simmons Leads Cards To Within Three Games

By United Press International
It is almost exactly 13 years since the U. S. Army granted Pvt. Curt Simmons a special furlough designed to give the fireballing young lefty a chance to pitch for the Philadelphia Phillies in the World Series.

Simmons never did pitch in the 1950 Series as the Phillies lost four straight to the New York Yankees, but he may get his chance this year as the Cardinals keep biting into the Los Angeles Dodgers' once-imposing National League lead.

The 34-year-old Simmons, enjoying his best season since 1956, scored his second straight shut-out and his 14th victory of the season Monday night when he pitched the Cardinals to a 6-0 win over the Chicago Cubs. It was the Cardinals' 12th triumph in the last 13 games and cut the idle Dodgers' first-place lead over them to three games.

The Dodgers have 19 games left to play and the Cardinals have 17 — including a vital three-game set between the teams beginning next Monday.

With five shutouts and a 14-7 won-lost record, Simmons is a strong candidate for comeback of the year honors. His victory-total is his highest since he won 15 in 1956 and his shutout total is only one short of his personal high set in 1952.

The Cardinals backed Simmons Monday night with a 12-hit attack that included three each by Curt Flood and Bill White, plus a homer by Julian Javier.

The Milwaukee Braves continued their late drive by whipping the Cincinnati Reds, 9-2, and the New York Mets defeated the Phillies, 6-3, in the only other NL games.

Stone Johnson Dies of Pro Football Injury

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Stone Johnson captured the fancy of the Kansas City Chiefs with his smooth, fleet running. Today he fostered their grief. Johnson is dead.

The 23-year-old rookie, who once ran the 100-yard dash in a record-tying 9.3 seconds, succumbed late Sunday to a paralyzing back injury he suffered eight days earlier in an exhibition American Football League (AFL) game at Wichita, Kan.

Funeral services for the flanker back were scheduled for Wednesday at Mungler Baptist Church in Dallas, where the young athlete started a climb to sports prominence.

A paralyzing injury, somewhat like the one that killed him, played a vital role in Johnson's development. As a high school athlete he was flattened by a back injury. Recovered, he said he could run even faster.

Johnson became a hard-kicking back at Grambling (La.) College and excelled as a sprinter. He was on the U. S. Olympic track team that went to Rome in 1960. He worked out with the Chiefs last year while he was attending school and became a highly-respected rookie this summer.

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — End Jack Marrs, a Tulsa University senior letterman from Tulsa, Tex., was told Monday to give up football because of a head injury.

LA's Dick Calmus Another Koufax?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The mound. "It's great experience that couldn't get in the minors and with the help of the rest of the pitchers have been giving me. I think I've progressed faster being up here. I still have a lot to learn. I know. But I've sure got the best teachers."

The 19-year-old Calmus at the start of the season was expected to be excess baggage on the Dodger roster where he was forced to remain as a bonus baby.

But the youngster with the collar ad profile didn't buy that role and gradually worked his way upward in the Dodgers pitching ranks to the point where he now is being hailed as "another Sandy Koufax."

Aim At Title
The southpaw Koufax and the right-handed youngster both threw bullet-like fast balls. But where Koufax was a wild pitcher until about four years ago, Calmus from the start has displayed astonishing control and pitching poise.

Should Be Great
"I wish I had been gifted with Calmus' control when I came to the Dodgers," Koufax says. "The kid is a natural. Barring injury, he looks like he can't miss being a great pitcher."

Calmus had worked only four innings of mop-up relief when he recorded his first victory, defeating the San Francisco Giants May 12 by working three innings in relief of Podres.

"I wasn't scared when I was sent in and looked at all those great hitters," Calmus recalled. "I just tried to think of the backling I had behind me and did my best."

It was not until his 16th appearance that Calmus recorded his second win. Taking over for starter Pete Richert in the fifth inning, he worked all the way and gave up only one hit in five innings to get the victory.

Loses First Start
Although the youngster's debut as a starter Friday night against Milwaukee was not auspicious, the Dodgers said he was understandably nervous and got hit, leaving in the first inning when a liner smacked him below the knee. Although he gave up only two runs, he was charged with his first loss on his first start.

The youngster's pro career started last year in midseason after he was graduated from Webster High School in Tulsa.

He went to the Midwest Dodgers farm club where he compiled an 8-4 record in a half season.

"I know most people think I would learn more being in the minors," Dick Calmus says. "But I think I've picked up a lot being in the bullpen and getting into major league situations on the spot."

HOLE IN ONE
James E. "Shorry" Cantrell shot a hole-in-one at the Celanese Golf Course last week. Cantrell made the magic shot on the par-three 137-yard eighth hole, using a seven iron.

Cantrell was shooting in a four-some with Russell West, Bill Ellis and Harold Pitts. He finished with a two-over-par 37 for the front nine.

This was the third hole-in-one at Celanese this year.

Twin Rookie Equals Williams HR Mark

By FRED DOWN, UPI Sports Writer
Jimmie Hall was 18 months old when Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams hit 31 homers in 1939 and set an American League record for rookies.

Today Hall, a free-swinging lefty from Mount Holly, N.C., has equaled the great batsman's mark and has 17 games left in which to set a new standard: "And the way Hall and his Minnesota Twin teammates hit homers, there's little doubt that he'll make it."

The six-foot, 175-pound Hall hit his 30th and 31st homers of the season Monday night to pace the Twins to a 7-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Hall's homers also enabled the Twins to tie the major league record of three players on one team with 30 or more homers. With 203 homers for the season, the Twins also are likely to wind up second only to the 1961 New York Yankees, who set the major league mark of 240 homers in a season.

The Indians took a 3-0 lead on early homers by Vic Davalillo and Bob Chance but Bob Allison homered for the Twins in the fourth and Hall hit his first of the game in the sixth. Hall's second homer tied the score in the eighth inning and the Twins went on to score four more runs to give Bill Pleis his sixth win of the season.

Yanks, Dodgers, Cards Print Tix

CHICAGO (UPI) — The American League leading New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals of the National League may print 1963 World Series tickets. This was the decision Monday of a joint meeting of representatives from leading teams in both leagues.

Commissioner Ford Frick said that if any other team begins to catch the leaders in the closing weeks of the season it will be given authorization to print tickets.

Major league representatives met again today for a full day of discussion of baseball problems. Frick said the meeting would be a general "working session."

Part of the meeting probably will be devoted to expected changes in the number of teams in some minor leagues, including the Pacific Coast League and the International League.

Another topic of discussion was expected to be possible changes in franchises of some major and minor league clubs.

Wife Plays 'Trick', Then Leaves Husband

SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N. J. (UPI) — "Honey, I want to show you a trick I saw on TV the other night," a wife said Sunday as she carefully tied her husband's hand and foot, in his chair.

"You're supposed to be able to get free," she said, "so try as hard as you can."

The husband tried, then conceded he just couldn't make it. "Are you sure?"

He was. According to police, who withheld the couple's names, the wife then lifted her husband's wallet and the car keys and exclaimed:

"I'm leaving you — and taking the kids and the car with me." She still was missing today, police said.

English Discover Headlights, Don't Like What They See

Headlights are simply not sporting.

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LONDON (NEA) — The British death urge which is as mysterious as it is infuriating. Taxicabs and other wheeled vehicles, including police cars, weave in and out of dark streets, dodging pedestrians and other obstacles as though their drivers were possessed of a sixth sense. As for pedestrians, they appear to have developed the primitive radar of the bat in jumping out of the path of oncoming traffic which they cannot see.

Last winter the industrial city of Birmingham (pop. 1,112,685) decided to halt the road slaughter by urging motorists to drive at night with headlights, and to dip those headlights when they encountered motorists coming from the opposite direction.

The experiment was entirely a voluntary one, and the 60 per cent of motorists who co-operated were often rewarded by having the headlights of the remaining 40 per cent flashed angrily in their eyes.

Even so, the results were impressive. At the end of 22 weeks Birmingham had reduced road deaths at night by half, and the number of elderly persons killed was reduced by 63 per cent. The number of night accidents decreased by 16 per cent.

Projecting these percentages on a national scale the results are even more startling. Had every British motorist driven on dipped headlights last winter, 850 lives might have been saved, and 15,000 persons might have escaped injury. Most of the press found the case for a national dipped-headlight campaign to be an overwhelming one. But not so the Road Research Laboratory, which advises the British Minister of Transport.

Throwing cold water on the whole idea, laboratory experts doubt whether the reduction in Birmingham road deaths at night was due to dipped headlights. The experts argue that the abnormally severe winter kept both motorists and pedestrians off the highways.

Police radar speed checks, improved street lighting, and a road safety campaign were other factors cited by the laboratory as affecting Birmingham's accident rate.

As a result of the adverse report, the Transport Minister is now unlikely to do anything about halting the road carnage due to driving without lights.

To Americans this nation appears to be in the grip of a psychosis known as "fear of dazzle." In letters to the press motorists complain of headlights as "restless, neurotic things." Even ruby tail lights seen at a distance of 50 yards are considered "blinding" by some Britons, who liken them to "American-style juke boxes."

One reason why headlights, even when dipped, may appear to be blinding is that so many of them are badly adjusted. In Birmingham, for example, of nearly a thousand vehicles examined only 35 per cent had properly adjusted lights.

Meanwhile, despite the adverse criticism, Birmingham has decided to continue its dipped-lights campaign this coming winter. Not only that, but Glasgow, Liverpool, Newcastle, Nottingham and Bristol have agreed to follow Birmingham's example, and to inaugurate similar campaigns.

To the English, headlights may not be sporting, but evidence is growing that they are safer.

Selection of Jury Begins in 'Bunny Girl' Murder Trial

HOUSTON (UPI) — Selection of a jury began yesterday in the murder trial of Clinton W. Delespine, charged with strangling former "Bunny Girl" Christine Einkauff in the bedroom of her home March 28.

The case was set for trial in June, but postponed because Delespine's 21-year-old wife, Hope, had been placed in a hospital by relatives.

Delespine, a 23-year-old TV repairman has denied any connection with Mrs. Einkauff's death, but admitted he was at her home on the day of the slaying to fix a hi-fi set.
