Jet Crashes Killing 80 in Switzerland

ZURICH, Switzerland (UPI)—A Swissair jetliner crashed and burned minutes after taking off from Zurich today, killing all 80 persons aboard in a flaming disaster. At least one of the passengers was an American.

Airline and police officials said the 74 passengers and 6 crew members apparently died instantly when the plane smashed into the ground, tearing a crater 35 feet deep in a field.

Eyewitnesses said the plane caught fire and exploded at 7:18 a.m. (2:18 a.m. EDT) which was five minutes after the twinjet Caravelle left Zurich's Kloten Airport.

Parts of the plunging wreckage struck a nearby house and burst in Duerrenesch, setting them afire. Duerrenesch is a small village 20 miles west of Zurich.

Officials conducting preliminary investigation had no immediate explanation for the crash, and they would not confirm that an explosion occurred in the air.

Identification Difficult

At least six persons of foreign nationalities were among the passengers, who were mostly Swiss, Swissair officials said. The foreigners were from Israel, Belgium, Egypt, Iran, the United States and Britain, they said. A spokesman said all names were being withheld until relatives had been notified.

The Caravelle was on a flight to Rome via Geneva.

The crash site resembled a smoking junk heap. Wreckage was strewn over a wide area, and the biggest piece of body found in the first hours of search was a severed hand.

The wings of the plane struck two farm buildings and the broken fuselage plunged into a barn. But "almost miraculously," one official said, "nobody was killed on the ground."

The crash was the first major disaster in Swissair's 32-year history. The airline's worst previous crash was in 1939 when a Junkers airliner crashed near Constance, Germany, killing four persons.

A federal air office spokesman said there was no immediate clues to the crash cause in the pilot's last words.

Pilot Sounds Emergency

"The pilot suddenly started giving an emergency signal," the spokesman said. "He was audibly upset."

The spokesman said the plane crashed into a house in this village a few minutes after takeoff. Duerrenesch is about 20 miles west of Zurich.

A Swissair statement said the cause of the crash was not immediately known.

The crash set the house afire and scattered wreckage over a large area. It was not immediately ascertained how many persons were in the house.

The spokesman said the plane was to stop at Geneva and then continue on to Rome. The craft took off at 7:13 a.m. (2:13 a.m. EDT) and crashed five minutes later.

Communications between the pilot and the airport at Kloten were cut a few minutes after takeoff, the spokesman said.

A Swissair spokesman said it would be considerable time before the wreckage could be recovered.

Stiff Winds Greet Miss America Entries

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—The 52 Miss America contestants paraded three miles along the Boardwalk Tuesday night into the teeth of a 20-mile-an-hour wind and met it tooth for tooth by smiling all the way.

The colorful kickoff parade of floats in the 37th annual Miss America pageant was marred by the stiff wind which dropped the temperature several degrees from 6 p.m. CST, reading of 73 degrees, plus thick humidity and a disappointing crowd of 150,000. Parade officials had predicted a quarter-million and blamed the lesser turnout on the weather.

But the wind had its moments, particularly when it sent the white taffeta-and-nylon ballgown of 19-year-old blonde Miss South Dakota, Heather Paterson, fluttering out behind her float like a pennant and exposing her legs to a cheering line of spectators.

Another favorite of the Boardwalk crowd was striking brunette Miss Tennessee, Martha Ellen Truett, 19, who drew the biggest hand as she perched atop the rear of a convertible dressed in a red silk gown and white fox wrap. The spectators also were enthusiastic about their home state candidate, Miss New Jersey, Janet Adams.

Despite the wind and the chill dampness, Miss Illinois waved and smiled gaily with her grey fox wrap securely draped about her throat to ward off another attack of virus. Blonde Judy Schlieper had been confined to bed since her arrival Monday with a virus condition. She was hustled back to bed immediately after the parade and was expected to compete in the bathing suit competition tonight, barring complications.

In Central America Gun-Smugglers Are Trying To Arm Anti-Castro Cubans

REYNOSA, Mexico (UPI)—Mexican officials speculated today that seven gun-smuggling expeditions stopped near the U.S.-Mexico border in the past month may have been aimed at arming anti-Castro Cubans in Central America.

The latest attempt was halted Tuesday when Mexican customs agents seized a truck carrying $20,000 worth of ammunition in Rancho, a small village near the border town of Reynosa.

There was also a report some of the arms were destined for the Mexican state of Michoacan, the center of ex-President Lazaro Cardenas' political movement to unseat the present Mexican government.

Mexican authorities said the truck seized Tuesday was Mexican-owned, but carried a Texas license plate. They said the arms were smuggled from Texas.

The seizure was the sixth case of smuggling reported by Mexican and American customs authorities in the last three weeks, and the fourth in the last two days.

Earlier Tuesday, authorities in Mexico City reported seizing 250,000 rounds of ammunition hidden in a station wagon.

Shipment Seized

A spokesman for the government said a McAllen, Tex. man tried to drive the shipment past border authorities at Nuevo Laredo, across the Rio Grande from Laredo, Tex. They seized the shipment and held the man for questioning.

Police of the Mexican state of Nava Leon seized two shipments of arms and miscellaneous equipment Monday in Rancho Grande in the heart of the state.

A station wagon containing 482 boxes of Remington ammunition of various calibers and valued at $2,500 was seized by police Monday. Driver Delias Carver was arrested.

Kennedy Offers View of 'K' Letters — But Only To Select Senate Group

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
WASHINGTON (Sp) — President Kennedy offered to let the Senate Foreign Relations Committee scrutinize his controversial correspondence with Premier Khrushchev—but with a big string attached.

His condition was that a select group of the committeemen examine the letters and report back to the full committee.

This proposition was emphatically rejected.

Secretary Rusk made the proposal at a private meeting with the committee. Senator Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, senior Republican member, asked for the correspondence contending it was necessary for a complete understanding of the background of the nuclear test ban treaty.

"These numerous letters obviously played an important role in this agreement," declared Hickenlooper, "and this committee should have the opportunity to look them over. I think that's a proper and reasonable request."

"The President directed me to inform the committee," replied Rusk, "that he is willing to make this correspondence available to a select group. It can go over the letters and report back to the full committee. But the President doesn't feel he can submit this correspondence to the committee as a whole. There are a number of precedents for his position."

"That is not acceptable to me," said Hickenlooper. "This alternative has been tried in the past, and it proved unsatisfactory. The full committee should have access to these highly important letters so all of us will have ample opportunity to study them and prepare questions based on them."

Senator George Aiken, R-Vt., fully agreed with this view. At the same time, he pointed out that the letters might not reveal very much.

"To put it frankly," said the veteran New Englander dryly, "you are not very likely to find a deal between the President and Khrushchev spelled out in this correspondence. If they did make a deal, they would hardly put it down on paper."

PLAN INDUSTRIAL WORKSHOP — J. R. Bradley of the Industrial Economics Research Division of Texas A & M College is shown here as he explained details of the Industrial Development Workshop to be held in Pampa Wednesday, Sept. 18. Bradley addressed members of the Industrial Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and other interested community leaders. Seated on the left is Frank Culbertson, chairman of the industrial committee, and Mayor H. Raeburn Thompson on the right. (Daily News Photo)

Industrial Workshop Scheduled by C of C

A six-hour industrial development workshop will be held in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room Wednesday, Sept. 18, it was announced today by E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Decision to hold the workshop under the sponsorship of the chamber's Industrial Committee was reached yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the committee in the Coronado Inn.

The workshop will be conducted by J. R. Bradley and P. J. Shepard, of the Industrial Economics Research department of the College of Engineering at Texas A & M University.

Purpose of the workshop, Bradley explained, will be to give Pampa civic, community and industrial leaders an opportunity to learn and review the many facets of modern industrial development and promotion.

Bradley and Shepard attended yesterday's committee meeting and presented their workshop plan to initiate the evaluation of Pampa's industrial and economic potential.

At the workshop scheduled for Sept. 18 the major topics to be discussed will include:—

What is Industrial Development? Why Industrial Development? Types of Manufacturing Industries. Competition of New Industry. How Industry Picks Plant Sites, and Preparing the Community for Industrial Development.

The six hour workshop will begin at 9 a.m. on Sept. 18 and will run through 4:30 p.m. with one hour and a half intermission at noon.

The workshop session will be open to the chamber's Industrial Committee and to other civic and community leaders interested in Pampa's industrial promotion and development.

Chamber officials said the workshop would be the first step in reaching a decision to accept or reject a plan to go ahead with a survey of the various facets needed for any evaluation of the city's industrial potential.

Bandits Lose In Attempt To Rob Bronx Zoo

NEW YORK (UPI)—The ice cream vendor carried a revolver under his white jacket. The street cleaner pushed a container on wheels with a shotgun inside. The taxi driver wore a bulletproof vest, and the animal keepers conferred by walkie-talkie radio.

To the casual eye, there was nothing out of the ordinary in the scene at the Bronx Zoo up until 11:05 a.m. Tuesday.

But at 11:05 the peaceful atmosphere was shattered and the zoo became a jungle setting for human violence.

In a gun battle lasting five minutes and 75 shots, three would-be bandits lost out in their attempt on a $50,000 bundle of holiday receipts. They were ambushed by the ice cream vendors, street cleaners, animal keepers—and other disguised members of a 50-man platoon of policemen.

The battle left one bandit dead and another critically wounded. A third was captured after a futile escape attempt in a getaway car.

The police trap was organized after detectives received a tip that a zoo truck carrying cash receipts would be held up.

The truck's driver, wearing a khaki zoo uniform, was Detective Kenneth Ford. Another detective, Philip Dennehy, sat next to him, and four others crouched in the back. All wore armored vests.

State Troopers Stay Away As Negroes Enter

By AL KIETTNER
United Press International

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. George C. Wallace capitulated to the federal government for the second time in three months today and white public schools in Birmingham were desegregated for the first time in Alabama.

Two Negro students slipped through a back door at an elementary school in Birmingham and two other Negroes registered for classes at Mobli's largest high school without incident.

There was a brief flareup of violence in Birmingham but police quickly restored order.

Two men were arrested in a scuffle at one school here.

The integration in the two cities thus left Mississippi as the only state without integration in secondary schools.

Through it all, Wallace remained at the executive mansion in Montgomery—80 miles away—and while the schools were opening the governor was reported still in bed.

Troopers Stay Away

Wallace had sent nearly 200 state troopers into Birmingham Tuesday night to turn away the five Negroes who were to enter three white schools today. But the troopers made no appearance at any of the schools.

Last June, Wallace defiantly tried to stop two Negroes from entering the all-white University of Alabama. He backed down, however, when President Kennedy sent troops to enforce their enrollment.

He had pledged "segregation forever" in his inauguration address but today he did not lift a hand to try to halt the integration in Birmingham or Mobile.

Helmeted Birmingham police, with carbines slung over their shoulders, surrounded all three of the schools.

But there was no sign of the state troopers Wallace sent to the city after successfully forcing a white school in Tuskegee, Ala., to remain closed rather than admit 13 Negroes.

The two Negroes, Floyd and Dwight Armstrong, slipped into the rear door at Graymont Elementary School, accompanied by four men.

Some Violence Reported

It was at Graymont where violence erupted shortly after the Armstrongs entered the four-story building.

A police barricade had been set up across the street and about 100 segregationists tried to push past it.

One ducked under a rope stretched across the street and was immediately felled by a policeman who hit him with a flying tackle.

Several more got through and were shoved back by the city policemen.

Police, who also carried rifles and shotguns, began pushing the demonstrators back with the guns held across their chests.

The Justice Department in Washington had said earlier that Birmingham schools would be integrated, leaving the implication that force would be used if necessary.

Urges Court Appeal

The governor, who persuaded Huntsville to postpone integrated school opening and forced Macon (Tuskegee) County to keep an integration—ordered high school closed, requested Birmingham Mayor Albert Boutwell, Jr., ask the federal district court to delay implementation of its order here.

Boutwell, who assumed office this summer shortly after racial rioting, asked Reid Barnes, attorney for the board of education, to file a request for "a stay of execution" in the order. Barnes declined, and there the issue stood as the time for school bells to ring approached.

Council Opposes Troopers

Appearance of Wallace's troopers—used last spring to help put down racial disturbances here—was met with strong opposition by the Birmingham City Council, which adopted a resolution asking that the troopers be kept out of town.

The City Council of Birmingham, Ala., respectfully requests that you not send state troopers into this city except at the request of Chief Jamie Moore and Sheriff Mel Bailey," the resolution said.

"We have confidence in the ability of our local law enforcement agencies to protect the lives and property of our people and to maintain law and order."

"I have told the governor himself that we can keep the peace in our city," Bailey said.

But Wallace answered a similar appeal in Tuskegee by ringing the high school with troopers to head off an integrated school opening.

Senate Group Is 'Satisfied' With Test Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today it was "entirely satisfied" that the test ban treaty would not keep the United States from using nuclear weapons in wartime. And it said advantages Russia might gain by cheating on the pact are "generally not considered to be worth the effort."

The committee made the statements in releasing a report recommending Senate ratification of the treaty as a "net advantage to the United States."

Committee members, who earlier voted 16-1 to recommend ratification, said they concluded that the treaty "poses no serious risk" to U.S. ability to make a nuclear strike. Nor, they said, would it appreciably restrict development of a defense system against enemy missiles.

The committee rejected arguments against the treaty made by Dr. Edward Teller, nuclear physicist, and stressed that the test ban first was proposed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1959. It said "now would seem to be a good time to stop" nuclear explosions in the atmosphere.

Although Russia might "slowly erode" the U.S. nuclear lead in some areas by underground tests, the only kind permitted by the treaty, the committee said the continuation of unrestricted testing might close this gap "much more rapidly."

Risks Acceptable

The 26-page report concluded that risks contained in the treaty would be acceptable because of what it said is the country's superior strike forces. The report was made public today in advance of debate on the treaty which opens Monday on the Senate floor.

Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., cautioned today in a statement against adoption of "crippling" reservations to the treaty on the Senate floor. He said such amendments could be a "kiss of death."

Williams said that after talking with State-Department legal officers he felt inclusion of reservations in the treaty would "so confuse the legal status of the treaty as to make it virtually certain that it would not come into effect at this time."

He said he looked for treaty opponents to "press for reservations which could have devastating consequences."

Rejection of such a reservation by any one of the three original parties to the pact would "kill it," Williams emphasized. (See TREATY, Page 3)

Sofa with exposed walnut frame unfolds into double bed with foam rubber mattress. It can be propped for reading.

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The sofa that turns into a bed is one magic act that gets better every year. Remember the behemoths of 10-15 years ago? Great, bulky sofas solidly planted in a room were prized possessions of many young couples and almost a lifetime investment.

practical function, new versions are a good deal better looking, trimmer and not so massive. Because our next major investment in home furnishings will be one of these combinations, I've been scouting around.
Like many another, ours will be in constant use as a sofa (in what passes for our family room) so that it must "sit" as comfortably as it "sleeps." Most of those I've looked at do, a fairly recent improvement.

I know several that are still progressing from newlywed's one-room apartment to suburban family room and still taking the bouncing of children, in-laws and guests without a creak.

Seems to me, too, that covering fabrics have improved each year, too. Although the beige-brown tweed has not vanished by a long shot, there are livelier prints, quilted florals, high-fashion color combinations.

have scarcely enough room for unfolding a double bed from a sofa. A solution to this is the sofa-bed that unfolds once forming an almost-double bed between the arms.
Good thing that sheets and blankets are available in dresser patterns than the white and pastels. I think a bed made up in what is essentially a living room needs more decorative bedding.

Dear Abby

Look Before You Sign... Might Be And Might Not Be

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We had a little damage to our roof (rain and high winds) and the insurance company man said to get an "estimate" on the cost of repairing it. I asked around, and a neighbor gave me the number of a roofing company. A man came right out, looked at the roof, and said, "It would cost $200 to fix it. I told him it sounded fair to me, but I'd talk to my husband. Then I signed something, but was in too big a hurry to read all of it. I only wanted an estimate, Abby. The next morning at eight o'clock I heard pounding and hammering on my roof. Three men were up there working. I told the head man I had only signed for an "estimate," but he showed me where I had signed a CONTRACT. They were finished in three hours and demanded their $200. I was dumbfounded. I had to go to the bank and draw out the money because the contract said CASH. My husband said, "I was a moron, Abby. I'm sick. Can people do business this way and get away with it?"

DEAR SICK: Yes, and they specialize in people who are in too big a hurry to read something, but sign it anyway. My advice to you (the little late) and to others, is to sign nothing without having first talked it over with your husband and/or a lawyer. P.S. I hope you reported the "roofing company" to the Better Business Bureau.

DEAR ABBY: Somewhere along the line I've lost control of my seven-year-old son. I've had complaints from Tommy's school teachers, the neighbors and now our dentist refuses to see him again. I had Tommy to the dentist and it took him from 1:30 until 3:30 to fill one tooth. The boy screamed so loudly the dentist clamped his hand over his mouth, and Tommy bit him. The dental assistant came out and told me to please find another dentist next time. She suggested that I give him tranquilizers (for a seven-year-old!) or take him to a psychiatrist. I admit he is hard to handle, but do you think he is a case for a psychiatrist?

HIS MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I don't know, but the only way to find out is to take him to one.

DEAR ABBY: My wife tells me that in some states there is a law stating if a couple has been married 25 years or more, they cannot get a divorce unless they both submit to mental examinations. Is this a fact? If so, in which states?

RUTH'S HUSBAND
DEAR HUSBAND: There is no such law, but I think there ought to be.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rogers Assures Radio-TV 'No Editorial Legislation'

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressional investigator assured the broadcasting industry today that his subcommittee did not plan any sweeping legislation to curb radio or television editorializing.

"In fact, said Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., he expected no legislation at all this year.

"We just don't have the time," Rogers said in an interview.

As chairman of the House Communications and Power subcommittee, Rogers has been conducting hearings on radio and television editorializing. The first sessions took place in July. They will resume Sept. 18.

The subcommittee took the position that since stations are operated under a publicly granted monopoly and have a legal obligation to serve the public interest, all sides of controversial issues should be presented in editorials.

Congressmen Complain

Complaints from various congressmen prompted the hearings. The lawmakers let it be known that they were becoming annoyed at what they felt were unfair attacks on them or their political parties.

The subcommittee heard broadcasters' representatives of the networks and representatives of independent stations testify against legislating in the field.

Area Men Get Jeweled Pins

Five Pampa area men recently received jeweled service emblems for their combined total of 140 years service with Mobil Oil Company.

Those honored were: J. C. Donnell, 1124 Sierra, 35 years; J. H. Burton, 414 N. Sumner, 23 years; H. M. Folmar, 412 Cook Ave., 39 years; A. B. Thomson, Route 1, White Deer, 30 years and C. S. Austin, Shamrock, 30 years.

Presentation of the service emblems was made by G. C. Rutherford, Mobil's production supervisor, during a luncheon at the Coronado Inn. J. M. McLaughlin, production superintendent, and H. C. Barker, employment relations advisor, from Wichita Falls, were present to help the men commemorate their service record.

Dry, Hot Weather Remains in Texas

By United Press International
United Press International

Dry, hot weather maintained its grip on Texas today and the weatherman predicted there was little chance for a change during the remainder of the week.

There were isolated cases of relief reported Tuesday with scattered showers activity lowering temperatures and dampening the dry ground. But, none of the rainfall was of consequence.

Extended five-day forecasts called for normal temperatures in central and southern sections.

A "curb-deep" rain was reported in the Mirando City area east of Laredo Tuesday, but elsewhere Alpine recorded .38 inches, College Station .28 and Laredo .02.

Overnight minimum temperatures ranged as low as 60 degrees at Alpine, 64 at Dalhart and Amarillo, 67 at Lubbock and 69 at Midland. They were in the 70s elsewhere except Dallas and Galveston where the mercury dropped no lower than a warm 82 degrees.

A few showers were reported offshore in the Gulf of Mexico this morning, but none fell inland.

Tuesday's highs ranged from 100 at Austin, Longview and Lufkin to 86 at Dalhart.

The high in Pampa yesterday was 94. Low this morning was 67.

Many Texas Public Schools Desegregated This Week

By PRESTON MCGRAW
United Press International

Many public schools in Texas opened their doors to Negroes for the first time yesterday in the biggest week of desegregation in the state's history. No incidents were reported.

Before the end of the week, a total of 57 school districts will be desegregated for the first time, making a total of 236 school districts in the state that admit both Negroes and whites to the same classes.

Tyler's public schools, the deepest penetration of desegregation into East Texas, admitted 14 Negro to the first grade in a six-step integration plan yesterday. No others applied.

But Canton, also in East Texas but west of Tyler, admitted 14 Negro to its high school Monday. Principal Liston Barger said, "everything is peaceful."

Everything Going Fine
 Edgewood, near Canton, admitted 20 Negroes to high school classes with whites yesterday. Superintendent W. R. Broyles said, "Everything is going along fine."

Edgewood football coach I. T. James said three Negro freshmen and two sophomores and one junior were working out on this team.

"They are doing all right, considering that none has had any experience," James said.

Nine Negroes were in the first grade at Denison in North Central Texas. One Negro tried to enter the senior high school and another tried to enter the junior high school yesterday. They were turned away and left without protests.

R. L. Turner High School at Carrollton in Dallas County admitted 25 Negroes to its high school, becoming the first school in Dallas hield for questioning. A passenger in the car denied any knowledge of smuggling.

Radio and television equipment valued at $3,400 was seized by police in a pickup truck near the location of the first raid. Driver Rafael Laranzola was being held for questioning.

Customs officials in Houston Tuesday confirmed reports they had confiscated two shipments of goods, including one 30 caliber carbine, four .38 caliber pistols, one .45 pistol, one 22 pistol, 1,500 rounds of ammunition, 11 television sets and several transistor radios at Roma on the Texas-Mexico border Aug. 21 and Aug. 29.

Drivers Detained Briefly
 Officials said they briefly detained drivers Fernando Benito Flores and Alejandro Flores Mata, but released them. Mata claimed to be a retired Mexican army cavalry captain.

One of the cars used for the smuggling was identified as the official car of Miguel Bravo Carpentegro, chief of the Nueyo Leon state police. Carpentegro was reportedly questioned and released.

Customs officials confiscated the goods and turned the case over to Justice Department officials for possible prosecution for violations of neutrality and customs laws. No action was taken.

Three men pleaded guilty three weeks ago to charges of attempting to smuggle 700,000 rounds of .37 caliber long rifle ammunition across the Arizona-Mexico border at Nogales a month ago.

St. Joseph Catholic parochial school in Brown County admitted two Negro boys in the first grade.

The schools in the state's major cities open today. Fort Worth's schools will admit Negroes for the first time. Eighty-nine are expected to attend 13 previously all-white schools in the first grade.

Stairstep Plan Used
 More than 100 Negroes may enter the first three grades of Dallas schools in a stairstep plan that began in 1961. Eleven schools in Dallas are expected to be integrated this year. Twenty-six Negroes attended eight Dallas schools last year.

Houston also is in the third year of a stairstep desegregation plan. The school systems of El Paso and San Antonio have been fully integrated so long no trouble is expected in those cities.

The new desegregation this week is expected to bring 750,000 Negroes into classes with whites in at least 57 districts. Most of the new integration is on the stairstep plan.

When a 11 schools that admit both Negroes and whites to the same classes are open—and a few will not be open until Thursday—a total of about 9,000 Negroes will be in schools with whites in 236 districts.

fore the names of the occupants of the plane were known. Since it was a European route, there was no passenger list.

Kloten Airport spokesmen said the weather was good and clear when the plane took off, with only slight winds.

The plane was cruising at an altitude between 4,500 feet and 6,000 feet when radio and radar contacts with the airport broke off.

The accident was Swissair's first major crash since the airline was founded 32 years ago.

New Trend Aims At Turning Down Federal Funds

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN (SpI) — There seems to be a new trend toward refusing federal aid: The Irving School Board spurned an offer of an $11,000 grant because "of the growing danger of federal control of the school curriculum."
But most school systems still accept educational assistance from the U. S. government. Texas Education Agency, looking at preliminary figures for the 1962-1963 school year, found $33,700,000 was paid to Texas schools by federal programs.
In some cases, however, acceptance is selective: Both Houston and Dallas, which have local programs geared to prevent student drop-outs, refused cash grants for a similar federal program.
Houston and Dallas also are among the Texas towns which reject federal funds for school lunch programs. Others include Odessa, Goose Creek, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Henderson, Longview, Borger and Alvin.
U. S. AID — Abilene turned down a $445,730 offer of aid for a $3,000,000 sewer treatment plant from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.
Federal grants for $3,000,000 worth of sewer treatment improvements in Texas are recommended and administered by State Health Department officials.
Funds refused by Abilene were distributed among the following towns: Fritch, Gonzales, Grand, Hidalgo, Markum, Mineral Wells, Richland Hills, Smiley, West Columbia and Windom.
TEXAS' TAX TAKE — Although the Lone Star State accepted less federal money than many other states during the fiscal year that ended on June 30, it received slightly more than it paid out, according to a survey by Congressional Quarterly.
Texans paid about 4.26 per cent of all taxes received by the federal government. It reaped 4.81 per cent of the $10,000,000 plus federal grant total, or $500,295,000.
National average of federal aid received was $56 per capita. In Texas, the assistance averaged $49 per citizen. Alaskans were high with a per capita average of $226. Low was New Jersey with $34 per capita.
Schools and sewage systems were just a few targets of federal aid. In fiscal 1962, this state received $128,734,600 for highway construction; $31,120,182 for unemployment insurance; $82,832,754 for agricultural conservation; $139,252,153 for welfare assistance; and $13,350,583 for the national guard, as well as aid in other fields.

SALES TAX RECEIPTS SOAR

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert announced that sales tax revenues for the fiscal year which ended on August 31 will exceed his expectations.
Earlier, Calvert predicted sales tax income for the state would total $177,975,013. Now he says it will be $2,141,429 more, or a total of $180,116,442.

CONSTRUCTION INCREASE

Residential construction accounted for $81,800,000, of the $142,000,000 worth of construction authorized in the state in July. It was the highest July and the third highest monthly level in 17 years.

GAS BILLS VARY

A study of records, which the Texas Railroad Commission keeps on municipal gas rate structures, reveals a wide variance in gas rates across the state.
Lowest average year's bill paid by individual consumers in 1962, among the 22 cities on the commission list was $41.50. It was paid by citizens of a Corpus Christi suburb.
Highest average annual gas bill was paid by residents of Dallas. One of the lowest average bills was that paid by Abilene residents: Their average bill for the year was $53.43.

LAWMAKERS' RETIREMENT PAY

Members of the Texas House of Representatives who have served four two-year terms and state senators who have served two four-year terms, now are eligible for retirement pay under a new law, effective September 1.
When a legislator has completed eight years of service, he receives a $100 month retirement check. It increases $10 a year as long as he remains in the Legislature.

It's The Law In Texas

ORIGIN OF THE LAW

The law is a system of rules and regulations governing the whole field of human relations. Just to name some of the fields of law, there are criminal law, tax law, the law of contracts, business associations, torts, bills and notes, property, mortgages, sales, domestic relations, labor relations, wills and the administration of estates, and many others.

Where did this law come from? At the risk of over-simplification, the law comes from two sources. One source is from the legislature of our state and from the federal Congress. This is referred to as statutory law. The second source of our law is frequently referred to as the common law. This common law started its growth in 1066 A.D. when William the Conqueror set up his judicial system in England.

Under William's system, when a person became aggrieved because of the act of another, he presented his grievance to a court duly constituted by the king. The court, after affording both parties an opportunity to be heard, then decided who was right. The judge's opinion was based upon former decisions of other judges, if any, and upon the justice of the situation and upon the customs of the people. If the king had made a law, a statute, then it controlled the situation and the other factors could be given no consideration. The opinions or decisions of the court were then written down and referred to as precedent when a similar situation arose at a later time, thereby giving a consistent pattern to the law.

As time went on the common law developed to meet the changing times. The change in the common law was somewhat slower than the progress of society with the result that occasionally the judge-made common law was (and is) sometimes out of date and worked unjust hardships. Into this gap, the king, parliament, or the legislature stepped and by the enactment of a statute, changed the common law.

When the colonies were settled by the British, they brought with them their system of common and statutory law, both of which continued to grow to meet the ever-changing times. After the revolution the states of our nation continued to follow this system of jurisprudence.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Faint Comet Discovered During Eclipse

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Belgian scientist working for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) discovered a faint comet near the sun during the total eclipse over Maine last month, NASA said yesterday.

The space agency said Dr. Francois V. Dossin of Liege, an astronomer, made seven pictures of the comet from a hilltop at Pleasant Pond, Maine, during 0 observations of the total eclipse on Aug. 17.

Observation of the comet was made possible only because of the eclipse. Faint comets never have been seen before, NASA said, because the sun's brilliance prevents observation of objects near the sun where such comets brighten sufficiently for earth observation.

Some scientists think there are many such faint comets, NASA said. If this proves to be true, it would be an important contribution to understanding comets and their role in the formation of the solar system, NASA said.

HURT IN FALL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retired Marine Corps commandant Gen. Lemuel Shepherd was reported in satisfactory condition at the Bethesda Naval Hospital today from injuries suffered in a fall from a horse.

Shepherd, 67, a World War II combat hero who served as commandant from 1951 to 1955, was thrown from his horse Monday during a fox hunt near his home at Warrenton, Va. He suffered a broken arm and head injuries, authorities said.

Remodeling of Groom Bank Is Underway

GROOM (SpI) — Work began September 1 on the remodeling of the State National Bank of Groom, which is estimated to cost approximately $80,000.

C. L. Culver, president, announced that the bank had purchased the city hall building on the south side of the bank and both structures will be remodeled into banking quarters and will feature a drive-up window in the rear of the building.

The project should be completed about January 1.

John H. Hones of Clarendon is the contractor for the job.

McLean Opens Season With Homecoming Game

McLEAN (Sp1) — The McLean Tigers kick the 1963 football season off with a bang Friday night as they host their traditional rival, Shamrock, in their opening game . . . and their Homecoming as well.

Between 2,500 and 3,000 fans are expected to be on hand when Class A McLean hosts favored Double-A Shamrock, with the Tigers gunning for the upset and vengeance for last year's 19-0 defeat.

Bengal coach Derral Davis, although admitting that McLean must be considered the underdog, has been cheered by the performance of his team in pre-season practice and in a scrimmage with Spearman.

"They're looking pretty good for this time of year. They're still pretty green and they're real slow, but we're pleased with their attitude and their hustle. They hit real good against Spearman, and I'm pleased with their effort. They're green and made a lot of mistakes, but experience will overcome these. I hope they jell real fast, but they may be a few games off," was Davis report.

The Tigers have not been plagued with any serious injuries yet, the Tiger coach attributing the good condition before scrimmaging, with no body contact the first week.

"Bob Patton, our fine tackle, looked real good in the scrimmage," said Davis. "The Spearman coaches felt they couldn't block him well at all. Fullback Dickie Crockett ran real hard too. We expected fine performances from these boys, but we were very pleasantly surprised with the performance of our green quarterback, Johnny Fuller.

"This was the first time that Fuller had ever played quarterback in any sort of a game, and he did well. He handled the ball well and threw it well also. He showed a lot of potential."

McLean's big problem will be to stop one of the outstanding aerial attacks in the Panhandle, as well as a power-running fullback, Dickie Reeves, all-district quarterback, is recognized as one of the outstanding passers in the Top O' Texas, firing 13-20 heaves a game, and completing better than half to a pair of good, fast ends and speedy halfbacks, all returning starters.

If the Irish foes spread out to cover the passing attack, Reeves starts feeding the ball to 184-pound fullback Gary Benson. The three-year starter is a horse for work and a sure thing for short yardage, as well as being a potent threat, with Reeves faking to him on the belly series and completing his tosses.

Reeves passed for two touchdowns and Benson ran for the other. I know we're underdogs, but the game will depend on how well we can contain Reeves' passing. I feel if we can't stop him, they can beat us as badly as last year or worse. If we can hold him, then it should be a very interesting ball game. . . and a very close one."

New Athletic Loop Formed

ABILENE (UPI)—Four Texas colleges will start athletic competition with the 1963-1964 basketball season.

The new conference, which includes Hardin-Simmons and McMurry at Abilene, Tarleton State at Stephenville and Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, has not been named.

Dr. B. L. Ligon, vice president of Midwestern, was elected Tuesday as first conference president. Earl Harrison and William B. Martin, professors at Hardin-Simmons and Tarleton State, respectively, were chosen vice president and secretary-treasurer.

BOXER KEEPS BUSY — Johnny Bizzarro, Erie, Pa., lightweight, will be making his third fight in less than a month when he meets Eddie Armstrong of Elizabeth, N.J., in a 10-round semifinal at the Civic Arena Sept. 14.

'No-Field' Dick Stuart May Win Hit Crowns

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer

Dick Stuart received a rousing ovation, actually it was more like a Bronx cheer . . . when he picked-up a hot-dog wrapper recently without fumbling it at Fenway Park.

Stuart, of whom it has been said his fielding really isn't so bad, it's worse, paid no attention to the "cheers."

66TH YEAR WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1963

Double-A Teams In Tough Battles

By United Press International
There's enough mettle-testing competition scheduled this inaugural weekend of play in Texas schoolboy football's Class AA to begin finding out if the advance notices are true about such heralded powers as Quannah, Sinton, Lake Highlands, Daingerfield and Denver City.

And, it might also be truth-telling time on whether defending state champion Jacksboro has been as hard hit by graduation and loss of coach Chuck Curtis as the critics have been saying.

Jacksboro, sporting the longest winning streak in the state with its perfect 15-0 season last year, squares off against Class AAA Breckenridge, a one-time terror whose power has been on the wane in recent years. The Bucks still should provide the Tigers with a good test.

Denver City, a perennial state contender which hasn't been beaten in regular season play since 1958 and had its first home game since 1956, opens at home against Class AAA Seminole. The Mustangs will be favored to keep their skein intact.

Quannah, figured as a possible state finalist in the scramble to determine a successor to Jacksboro, hits the road against always-rugged Stamford; Sinton, another finalist prospect, also opens away from home against tough Bishop, Lake Highlands, loaded with 25 lettermen, plays at Plano, and Daingerfield, a solid contender, plays at Paul Pfeiffer. A streak of a different sort also will be up for breaking this opening Friday night when Friona's Chiefs try to snap a 27-game losing string against Class A Farwell.

The schedules by districts (all games Friday unless otherwise noted):

CLASS AA
1—Dalhart at Canyon, N. M., Shamrock at McIntosh at Panhandle White Deer at Veridian

Lefors Pirates Kick Off Against Groom's Tigers

KEITH JERNIGAN stands out

LEFORS (Sp1) — It will be a long night for Lefors, I'm afraid, mourned Doleful Dannie Goode, as his Lefors Pirates prepared to open the 1963 football season at Groom Friday night.

"Injuries and lack of experience at positions have hurt us badly," said the Buc coach, whose Pirate team was picked as favorite in District 2-A this year.

"Even though we have eight starters back, we've switched them completely around to compensate for the loss of last year's backfield, and the boys just don't have the experience at the positions. They haven't looked good in practice, we expected this, and they looked poor in a scrimmage against Childress — at best they looked fair at times."

"Injuries have hurt too. Right tackle Gene Gee has a leg injury and it is doubtful whether he'll play Friday night. We switched Wayne 'Lightning' Coleman to left halfback and he has a pulled leg muscle. We hope he can play against the Tigers. Right guard Marvin Todd has a shoulder injury, but probably will play. With him and Gee both out of the right side of the line, we'd really be in a bad way."

Operation Lockup Moves Routinely For LA Dodgers

By FRED DOWN UPI Sports Writer

Operation lockup is proceeding for the Los Angeles Dodgers in orderly fashion.

Only a year ago the Dodgers were about to make a present of the National League pennant to the San Francisco Giants but this season there is no sign of a repeat performance. In fact the Dodgers may fight now be in the midst of a push that'll put them out of reach of both the pursuing St. Louis Cardinals and the Giants.

"The Dodgers won their fourth straight game and their sixth in these last seven Tuesday nights when they rallied to shade the Houston Colts, 4-3, in 10 innings.

The victory enabled them to maintain their six-game lead over the Cardinals and a nine-game bulge over the Giants.

The old pros of the club engineered the comeback — Bill Skowron starting the winning rally with a pinch single, Jim Gilliam keeping it going with a single and Wally Moon delivering the tying run with a sacrifice fly before Tommy Davis' game-winning single.

Ron Perranoski, who retired the Colts after they had taken a 3-2 lead against Larry Sherry in the top of the 10th, received credit for his 14th win against only two defeats. Dick Farrell, fourth Houston pitcher, was tagged with his 13th loss compared with 10 wins.

The Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-5, the Giants romped over the Chicago Cubs, 16-3, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 2-0, and the Cincinnati Reds downed the New York Mets, 5-0, in other NL games.

Ralston Edges To Tennis Win

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — From frying pan to fire seemed the case today with colorful Dennis Ralston.

Ralston, seeded third in the men's division of the national singles tennis championship, had to fight for his life in a five-set duel with unseeded Owen Davidson of Australia at dusk Tuesday. Southpaw Davidson is ranked only ninth in Australia.

But Ralston's opponent today is unseeded John Newcombe, rated sixth by the Aussies.

Twenty-year-old Dennis of Bakersfield, Calif., ace of our recent Davis-Cup triumph over Mexico, finally wound up with a 6-4, 6-2, 6-8, 6-4 win over Davidson in the semi-darkness before 2,000 thrilled spectators at the West Side Tennis Club.

Ralston moved into the fourth round with top-seeded Chuck McKinley of San Antonio. They are the only seeded Americans left in the tourney, following Tuesday's upset eliminations of eighth-seeded Ham Richardson of Dallas, Tex., and seventh-seeded Eugene Scott of St. James, N. Y.

Charles (Chick) Evans, who won the Amateur crown in 1916 and 1920, Charley Coe, the 1949 and 1958 winner and Deane Beman, the 1960 champion, are the other former champions entered in this year's tournament.

Harris will begin his defense against William C. Cowardin of Newport News, Va., in the first round. Evans drew a first-round bye.

Coe, from Oklahoma City, drew William P. Castleman of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., as his first-round opponent. Beman,

HARVESTER OF THE WEEK — Bill Campaigne became the first "Harvester of the Week," named at the Jaycee luncheon yesterday. Bill, 165-pound defensive guard, was chosen by coach Otis Holladay because of "hustle, desire, and outstanding play in practice despite a bruised leg." The Harvester of the Week will be named every Tuesday at the Jaycee meetings. (Daily News Photo)

Large Turnout At Opening Quarterback Club Meeting

"We have a better team right now than at any time last year," Pampa football coach Otis Holladay told the Pampa Quarterback Club last night.

Over 60 persons, the largest opening-night attendance in years, were at the initial meeting of the Q-Club as Holladay reported on the prospects of the Fighting Harvesters and gave a rundown on individual players and positions.

Holladay told the Q-Clubbers that the varsity and B team had the largest number of candidates out in history, and that a C team schedule was being made up so as to allow all the players to see game action.

Holladay was high on the chances of the Harvesters this season, and said that some 28 to 30 boys had shown outstanding varsity ability.

"We're lighter, on the whole, than most conference teams," said the Green-and-Gold coach. "but we're fast-and-we're quick. Barring injuries, we should do well. I'll promise one thing. . . the most explosive offense Pampa has ever had. These boys can score from anywhere on the field. Our hope is that the defense can keep up with the offense, and with the way they've been hitting in practice, I think they will."

Holladay said that they would know more following Saturday night's scrimmage at state championship Dumais.

Holladay introduced the high school and junior high school football coaches, and B team coach Don Myers spoke briefly on the prospects of the Shockers, who scrimmaged at Miami Friday at 4 p.m.

Junior Coffey Lost For Season

SEATTLE (UPI)—Junior Coffey, all-American candidate at the University of Washington, will probably be lost to the Huskies for 1963 because of a break in his right foot in the same place as a fracture suffered last spring.

The 215-pound Dimmit, Tex. fullback broke the foot in practice Monday.

Coffey was leading rusher in the Big Six Conference in 1962 with 581 yards, averaging 5.9 yards per carry. He was an all-Big-Six and all-Coast selection and won honorable mention as an all-American.

In Search Of Peace

The desperate longing of the American people to live in peace has led to the signing of an honorable agreement with a foe that doesn't honor agreements.

That the current test ban treaty is an unwise step is obvious—just from the disadvantages cited by the treaty's proponents. More over, the history of the Soviet Union demonstrates that the Communists fully intend to cheat as soon as it suits their purposes. The treaty can not possibly work to our advantage—and is, in fact, dangerous.

Dangerous as it is, however, its popularity is still somehow understandable. We have always preferred peace—for capitalism blesses us with benefits that no dictator could promise to bring us through war.

And now, the development of the H-Bomb has made war even less palatable, when we have so much to lose.

And so our desire to avoid war leads us to sign hopeless treaties with the Soviets, to lower our guard, and to depend upon dangerous delusions like the United Nations. None of these policies can stand unbiased examination—and each will actually lead inevitably to war or surrender.

But although these policies are futile, it is within our power to bring about peace. Two steps are required:

First, we must prove our desire for peace by ending our partnership with the world's number-one troublemaker. We should begin by withdrawing all diplomatic relations and aid from all Communist countries.

Forced to live off their own bankrupt system, there'd be no opportunity for the Soviets to conduct aggressions in Vietnam or Cuba. Instead, they'd be lucky to stay alive six months without our aid—which is in the form of subsidies, unrealistic credit terms, access to our military and productive know-how, etc.

Since the Communists are the threat to peace, a policy aimed at their elimination would appear to be a sounder step toward peace than signing appeasing agreements with the war-maker.

But a second—more permanent step is required. We must realize that it is governments—not people—who start wars. People who are free to produce for themselves without political hindrance—as was the case in America—have no desire to conquer foreign lands. It is the political tyrant who covets other lands, resources and taxes.

So we must reduce the size and power of government in America—to light a beacon of individual liberty that will inspire people everywhere to do the same in their own lands. When freedom from government becomes the "wave of the future" wars will be a thing of the past.

Then we shall see real peace, not the kind enforced at the point of a bayonet by a UN Army—which is the very opposite of peace and freedom.

The means for attaining this freedom in America has been suggested often—the proposed Liberty Amendment, which will cut the size of government in half.

Combined with the breaking of relations with the Soviets, we would provide the clearest possible contrast—between the freedom and prosperity of America and the naked poverty and slavery of the Communist system.

Yes, we are searching for peace. But let us gain in a way that will bring genuine peace—not a temporary accommodation with the very devil himself.

But although these policies are futile, it is within our power to bring about peace. Two steps are required:

First, we must prove our desire for peace by ending our partnership with the world's number-one troublemaker. We should begin by withdrawing all diplomatic relations and aid from all Communist countries.

Forced to live off their own bankrupt system, there'd be no opportunity for the Soviets to conduct aggressions in Vietnam or Cuba. Instead, they'd be lucky to

There's a newer, smaller, lighter Polaroid camera, just 16 years after Dr. Edward Land's invention revolutionized photography. This one uses film packs instead of rolls, and has a gadget that eliminates figuring exposures. There's no change in processing: 10 seconds for black and white, and 50 seconds for color. New feature, the processing is done outside the camera, which permits the photographer to shoot a series of pictures rapidly. Lighting is also reduced by a knob; simply turn more or less. And it all came about to satisfy the whim of Dr. Land's little daughter who wondered why her father couldn't take a picture and develop it immediately like the man who took tintypes on Boston Common.

The first free flight in a balloon was at Paris, France, on November 21, 1783, when Pilatre de Rozier, a young physician, floated over the city for 25 minutes. The feat rivaled that of going into outer space in one of today's rockets.

Alan J. Gould, one of the greatest of all Associated Press byliners, retired recently after 50 years of news gathering. We recall his wonderful sports stories in the 20's. He gives good advice on writing style: make it understandable to a high school senior. On a newspaper career, he advises: yes, but first look around and see if anything else appeals to you.

Frank Woolworth originated the idea for the "five and ten cent store" at Watertown, N. Y., in 1878. Few of them adhere to that policy today, and many of them now advertise their wares.

We would have guessed differently but the Telephone Company tells us 40 per cent of overseas calls are with Pan American countries, 30 per cent to the Pacific, and only 25 per cent to Europe. No one pays much attention to the "4000" anymore, but Mrs. William B. Astor originated that term for high society in 1892, when the world was different.

Much more important is the fact that Thomas A. Edison was awarded a patent on the phonograph in 1878. Consider today's record business and the pleasure it has brought to millions.

Memory Lane: Remember when street cars were supplanted by buses in most American cities? Some of the better known child prodigies were: Mozart, who composed minuets at 4; Beethoven, who performed in public at 8 and had compositions played at 12; Chopin, who performed publicly at 9; and Mendelssohn, who started composing systematically at 12. All were gifted, but like true champions spent their lives in training.

Persons accused of crimes at sea are tried under the jurisdiction of the nation whose flag is flown by the ship on which the alleged crime was committed.

With all this talk about integration it should be remembered that John R. Lynch, a Negro congressman from Mississippi, was chosen temporary chairman of the 1884 Republican Convention on the motion of Henry Cabot Lodge, the Elder, and seconded by Theodore Roosevelt. James G. Blaine was the nominee, but he lost the election to Grover Cleveland.

Radical Left Seems Worried—At Last

By Ed Delaney

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York recently proved the truth of the adage that politics make strange bed-fellows. Although ostensibly in opposing parties, Nelson and Bobby Kennedy, the juvenile Justice Dept. "führer" and trail-blazer for the New Frontiersmen, are both alarmed at the growing political strength of what they call the radical right. Something must be done to squeeze them, whippers Nelson, to which Bobby echoes angry agreement. Although camouflaging their efforts toward that end under different party labels, Nelson and Bobby feel they face a common foe in the rising tide of conservatism. A mere mention of the word Goldwater, is enough to make Nelson cringe and Bobby indicates a place hotter than Arizona as a fitting inferno for such extremists.

Having spent some millions of dollars in publicizing himself as the logical candidate for the presidency on the GOP ticket, Nelson is irked at the manner in which the proletariat of the country, especially those west of the Mississippi have spurned his offer to sacrifice himself for the party. There appears to be some sinister direction behind such an affront to a Rockefeller, reasons the scion of that name.

dating any individuals and any group that might dispute his authority. Are the New Frontiersmen to emulate Hitler?

The NKVD, of the Soviet — which was the secret police of the communists and operated under several names — did and still does cow the Russian people into abject submission to the edicts of the Kremlin elite. Does the young attorney general have something of that kind in mind when he says that we need "deliberate administration policies and programs to contain the radical right?" To "contain" may well be construed as restraint and that is what prison bars of barbed wire around concentration camps do in a very positive manner. That may be carrying the thought too far, but when both Bobby Kennedy and the snubbed governor of New York launch out against, what they delight in calling the "lunatic fringe," we have no way of knowing what policies or programs they may advocate for "containing" the common folk. Those of the radical left are worried — at last.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Every person seems to contend that they believe in a limited government. How would you limit government to improve the well-being of all mankind on this earth?"

Answer: We know of nobody who doesn't contend that they believe in a limited government, but when they are asked to define what they mean by a limited government, very few of them can define it.

What we mean by a limited government is, the government has no moral right to do anything that each and every individual doesn't have an equal moral right to do. That is, we believe in common-rights that apply equally to all people. And certainly if we believe the government derives its just power from the consent of the governed, then no individual has a moral right to give another the authority to do things that he has no moral right to do as an individual. We believe the well-being of all mankind would be improved if the government did nothing that was not a common right that belonged to all mankind. And the common right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness means, as Ayn Rand says, you have the right to take action to preserve your life and to procure and preserve your liberty. "The pursuit of happiness" expresses the right to use action to acquire happiness.

It might be summed up to say that we would limit the right of government to respecting private property as every moral individual should do. That is, respect the private property of all mankind.

Explosive Memoirs of Ambassador Joseph Kennedy Wraps While J.F. Is President or Forever

ROBERT ALLEN
PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Former Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, long-acting father of the President, has a closely-guarded secret that would cause quite a flap if it got out.

It is the completed manuscript of a book on his experiences with and opinions of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The elder Kennedy was very active in the 1932 and 1936 campaigns; was the first chairman of the Securities & Exchange Commission; headed the Maritime Commission; and was Ambassador to Britain from 1937 to November 1940, when he quit because of the differences with Roosevelt over his increasing leaning toward joining the Allies in the war.

The explosive memoirs were completed several months before Kennedy suffered a paralytic stroke in December 1961. The manuscript has been under lock and key ever since.

Before being stricken, Kennedy told intimates he intended to withhold publication of his book "until after Jack leaves the White House." But he was emphatic about his determination to eventually publish the book. He insisted this was "necessary to set the record straight."

"Much has been said and written about my relations with FDR," he told a friend, "a lot of it inaccurate, particularly regarding the period leading up to our participation in the war. I intend to tell my side of the story to set the record straight."

It's highly conjectural when that will be in view of the elder Kennedy's severely incapacitating illness. He is in no position to personally do anything about the matter.

There has been little improvement in the 75-year-old multi-millionaire's condition.

His paralysis still affects his speech and movements. He can say some words, but it is difficult to understand. He can walk a little with assistance. He swims in an enclosed heated pool in the rear of his big Hyannis home. While in the water, he undergoes therapeutic treatment with the aid of special equipment built into the pool, including hand rails and an underwater bed.

Members of the White House staff, who know about the manuscript doubt it ever will be published.

They point out that even after the President leaves the White House, his younger brothers, Attorney General Robert Kennedy and Senator "Ted" Kennedy, have burning political ambitions and many years to work at them.

The kind of book "Old Joe" has written is not likely to do these high-flown ambitions any good.

Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

Editor: For years now the south, and especially Texas, has been spoken of and written about as though they were all a bunch of "Country Bumpkins," or "Yokels," who didn't know enough to come in out of the rain. In motion pictures, and on television, a Texan is always shown wearing blue jeans and a big hat, and talking with an exaggerated drawl. A Southerner is always one who is prejudiced in his thinking and acting, and not really able to make decisions for himself. Such inflammatory statements as "Southern bigotry," and "Can the south be saved from itself," have appeared in leading magazines all over the world. But, the recent uprising in Chicago, and other northern states, has proven beyond a doubt that it happens, "Not only in Dixie."

And, as far as the stories portraying southerners as yokels is concerned, one has only to drive down our beautiful modern highways, go into one of our large modern cities, or visit one of our progressive factories, plants, or industries, to realize that such stories are merely figments of a twisted, unbalanced and biased mind.

Many of these insinuations go back to slavery. While I am not a believer in slavery of any kind, I will say that these cases of killing, flogging and other means of cruelty, as attributed to Southerners, were the exception and not the rule. For the most part, Southerners are a big hearted lot, always interested in the welfare of their families and employes; and a few isolated cases of brutality should not be allowed to mar the character of such fine citizens. Sure we have bigotry here, but so does the North; we may have brutality here, and even prejudice, but some of the large northern cities have been ruled by brutality and prejudice for years. And as for the people of the South not desiring to stay under the same roof with certain other people; look at the United States Army, or Navy. While not segregated according to race, you let an enlisted man try to move into the Officers Quarters and see what happens. You may say that's different, and it may be to a certain extent, but people are people, and whether enlisted or commissioned, according to certain theories, they should be allowed to have their places along with other people. I am not teaching against or for segregation, I'm merely trying to point out that these things happen in the north, south, east and west, as well as in the branches of our government.

The idea that these things can happen only in Dixie, and not in the so-called "Intellectual North," is preposterous. And the next time you see a country bumpkin riding in a mule, stop him and ask him. He may be from New York City.

transportation bill will not be reported by the House Rules Committee. They are stuck there until next year at least. What happens then is very conjectural.

Criticism

There are quite a few pseudo-intellectuals in our colleges today who believe that an attitude of superior snobishness is the mark of a keen mind. Ability to participate in higher criticism does entail the knack of seeing thru a pet theory. But it also entails the far more difficult faculty of committing the mind and the man to a constructive pursuit even in the face of the sneer and the jibe.

Oddities of Telephone History

While scientists like Alexander Graham Bell may have had the most to do with development of telephone service, a lot of others have had vital roles. One of the most interesting and important of these was a Dr. Moses Parker of Lowell, Mass. He invented telephone numbers.

Besides being a physician, Dr. Parker was an investor, back in 1879, in his local telephone company. recalls Tom Mahoney in an August American Legion Magazine article, "The Big Switch in Phone Numbers." Female operators not yet being on the scene, four boys ran the telephone exchange and the few subscribers called for each other by name.

When a measles epidemic threatened to knock out the four boys who knew the names and connections for the subscribers, Dr. Parker came up with the idea of giving them numbers and having them call for each other by number, so that any substitute operators could make the connections. We have had ever-lengthening telephone numbers ever since.

A Kansas City undertaker named Almon B. Strowger also has left his imprint on telephony. He found people calling him being given a wrong number, not just any wrong number, but the number of a rival undertaker whose wife happened to be an operator in the telephone exchange. So Strowger invented the automatic dial to end this sort of thing.

It may comfort you to know that anybody can have a wrong number. Queen Elizabeth of England, the Legion article notes, recently telephoned Princess Margaret at Birr Castle in Ireland where the number is Birr 23. What did Her Majesty get? Naturally, Birr 22, the telephone in Dooley's local bar!

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM,
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Brazil's President Joao Goulart observes an important anniversary on Sept. 7.

It was on that date two years ago that he took office after the sudden resignation of Janio Quadros had left Brazil leaderless on the verge of civil war.

Goulart has regained for his office the powers stripped from it two years ago by a combination of conservative politicians and military leaders. But it has been a rough two years and Brazil, torn by extremists of both left and right, continues to march toward an uncertain future.

The independent foreign policy first proclaimed by Quadros has been maintained, and Goulart and a succession of foreign ministers have continued to cultivate friendly relations with the Communist world.

Pressing Brazil to the right has been the United States, with occasional hints of a cut off of badly needed financial aid.

Meanwhile, the land and tax reforms which Goulart seeks and which were a condition of continuing U.S. aid remain stalled in congress, caught between right and left.

Despite Goulart's attempts to establish financial stability through a three-year austerity plan, both the cost of living and the treasury deficit continues to skyrocket.

In May of this year the treasury deficit was $1.8 billion and by year's end is expected to be a third again as much. The cost of living so far this year has gone up nearly 50 per cent.

Cotton, sugar and iron exports are up this year but coffee earnings are down and the first half of 1963 showed the country with a trade deficit of $90 million.

So far, Goulart successfully has walked his political tightrope. But so far also, it must be said his efforts to solve his nation's vast problems have produced unimpressive results.

Mild Smallpox Scare Sweeps East Europe

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—A mild smallpox scare swept Communist Europe Tuesday as East European governments announced measures to prevent suspected smallpox in Budapest from spreading.

Some countries announced their citizens must have smallpox vaccinations before they will be allowed to enter Hungary or return home, Western monitors of East European news reports said.

The Yugoslav Health Ministry ruled that, in addition, Hungarians will have to show official certificates of a successful smallpox vaccination before they are allowed into Yugoslavia.

According to Radio Free Europe (RFE) monitors, the Yugoslav and Czechoslovak health ministries told citizens they must be vaccinated to visit Hungary.

Radio-Zagreb also warned that Budapest has been declared an "infectious area" by the Hungarian government. In view of the lively local border traffic between the two countries, Radio Zagreb said, Yugoslav health authorities have been requested to take all measures to prevent the spread of the disease to Yugoslavia.

Reporter Recalls How WWII Came to British

EDITORS—It was just 24 years ago that Britain went to war with Hitler Germany and the full fright of World War II began to be unleashed. In this dispatch a United Press International reporter who was on duty in London that day recalls how war came to the British people.

By FRANK FISHER
United Press International
LONDON (UPI)— Britain marked the 24th anniversary of her entry into the Second World War yesterday—by all but ignoring it.

Half the nation—all those under about 33 years of age—could not remember September 3, 1939. The other half, recalling the six long years of "blood, sweat and tears" that followed, have always found little in the anniversary to rouse them. September 3 has not become a great date in the annals of British history.

On that day in 1939 it was different. Hitler had invaded Poland two days earlier. Britain and France had sent ultimatums demanding that German troops withdraw. These expired at 11 o'clock on the morning of September 3, and in those 48 hours of waiting all Britain had made up its mind that Hitler, once having tasted blood, would never draw back.

Peaceful Sunday Morning
War was inevitable, and we all knew it. September 3 fell on Sunday. People had lingered long over their breakfast, waiting for the morning broadcast by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain that was to tell them they were at war again. Millions gathered around their radios.

The streets were strangely empty. Only a few military vehicles rushing to and fro hinted of the crisis. Overhead there were blue skies and great cumulus clouds tumbling over the countryside. It was a warm pleasant day, a day for fishing, gardening, or golf, and it looked the most peaceful Sunday for years.

But shortly after 11 o'clock a

FORT BLISS, Tex. (UPI)—A mammoth Army convoy bearing nearly 500 soldiers and an undetermined number of Pershing missiles on 186 vehicles moved out of Fort Bliss, Tex., early yesterday enroute for Blanding, Utah.

The 32-foot Pershings will be fired from Blanding sometime this month back into White Sands Missile Range, N.M. Pershings also will be launched from Fort Wingate, N.M.

No date for the initial firing of the Pershing from Blanding has been set but it is anticipated in mid or late September. Two Pershings recently were fired from the Hueco Range of Fort Bliss northward into White Sands.

The convoy from Fort Bliss to Blanding will move in three separate segments at approximately 30 miles per hour. Motorists have
