The Rangers will have the same major problem that besets their foes, who to start at quarterback? All-district Roger Wright played the position 85 per cent of the time last year, leaving little chance for junior understudy Mike Sanders to gain experience. Sanders has apparently been nosed out for the starting berth in practice, with Bob Callahan running the first team and Sanders the second. the disarmament question is emer- coming in December. ging in Washington.

"General and complete disarmament" is still the ultimate goal. But the idea of trying to get a comprehensive treaty spelling out in detail every step of threephase "G and CD" as it's called, has been abandoned.

The reason is that such a treaty is impossible to attain in the pres- phase-out on the arsenal of nuent state of world tensions and U.S.-U.S.S.R. relations. The last draft of the general disarmament treaty so carefully prepared by the United States and submitted to the 17-nation Disarmament Conference at Geneva will therefore remain tabled before that body for a long time to come. In its place it is hoped to accumulate a series of relatively simple, tight, one-point agreements. If enough of these one-stepat-a-time agreements can be prehensive G and CD treaty.

But that may be way in the future - nobody even guesses when This new approach to disarmaover the past year. When the U.S. all treaty on disarmament was tabled at Geneva last August, a er with him at the time of the ac-

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst Back in 1952 when Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro took office the first time it was with the support of Bolivia's turbulent tin miners whose Trotskyite leadership had aligned itself with Paz's national revolutionary movement.

A first step of the Paz government was to nationalize the country's tin mines, upon which most of its wealth depended, and give the miners unprecedented veto powers over the mine manage-

Back of this was the burly figure of a man named Juan Lechin, son of an Arab father and a Bolivian mother, said to have first been hired by the Patino mining interests for his ability as a football player.

With this as a start, Lechin had advanced swiftly from executive secretary of the mine union in 1945, to senator in 1947 and to successful revolutionary leader in ,952. His was a powerful voice in calling Paz Estenssoro from Argentine exile to assume the presidency.

In Bolivia's present crisis. Faz and Lechin once more are cen-

Paz is serving his second term as president and Lechin has risen to vice president, but the two are in bitter conflict and the outcome could determine whether the moderate left-of-center government of Paz is to continue or whether Bolivia is to become the first Communist-controlled nation on the South American continent.

Paz, long-since disenchanted with his former Communist supporters, now relies upon the Bolivian peasants who have benefitted from his land reform pro-

For Paz, as for Hernan Siles Zuazo, the in-between presidential office holder, the job has been to stabilize the Bolivian economy and by development of its other rich mineral and agricultural resources to rescue it from its onesided reliance upon tin.

It has been uphill going.
