NOW WHAT DOES THAT MEAN? — Scott Davis, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy F. Davis of 1130 S. Finley, is probably wondering what the 62-N-30 on the sign means. After much consideration he figured out that this was the goal of the United Fund Drive — $62,000 in 30 days. (Daily News Photo)

4 County Officials Attending Law Enforcement Conference

Sheriff R. H. Rufe Jordan, District Attorney Bill Waters, County Attorney Don Cain and County Judge William J. Craig will attend the 13th annual attorney general's law enforcement conference in Austin today through Saturday.

During the session tomorrow for district attorneys, criminal district attorneys and county attorneys, Waters will give an address on "Preparation and Prosecution of a Criminal Case."

About 700 people are expected to attend. This will include district and county attorneys, criminal district attorneys, county judges and sheriffs.

The law enforcement conference was instituted by the then attorney general Price Daniel and has been continued by attorney generals Ben Sheppard, Bill Wilson and Waggoner Carr, Waters said.

Ex-Lt. Governor Dies in Lubbock

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Former Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith died today. He was 89.

Smith, who was lieutenant governor for two terms from 1943 to 1947, died at a Lubbock hospital after a long illness.

From President Kennedy Eisenhower's Electric Power Policies Are Under Attack

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UPI)—President Kennedy today attacked the electric power policies of the Eisenhower administration.

The touring Democratic Chief Executive seemed to show new zest in his contacts with western voters.

Until today, Kennedy's criticism of the Republicans had been somewhat muted. He devoted himself largely to praise for Democrats and what they had done to preserve and advance conservation and reclamation, and protect natural resources, particularly in the upper Plains States.

His speech prepared for delivery here today took a different and stronger tack, however. Kennedy was specific in his criticism of Eisenhower administration power policies and practices.

He did not call the former President by name, but he did name one of the Eisenhower Cabinet officers — the late Interior Secretary Douglas McKay.

He reported proudly how the current interior secretary, Stewart L. Udell, had replaced McKay's policies to the public's benefit.

War Is Waged On Mosquitoes

The city's public works department is waging war day and night on the hordes of "man-eating" mosquitoes which moved into Pampa after the recent rains.

R. B. Cooke, public works director, said today the city's lone mosquito-killing fog machine is operating 16 hours daily covering all sections of town.

The death-dealing insecticide fog is fatal only to mosquitoes and other pesky insects, Cooke said.

Tax Bill Passes House

Former Cabinet Official Dislikes Stockpile Report

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A former Eisenhower cabinet official charged today that Senate stockpile investigators "virtually ignored" their colleagues in drafting a highly critical report on Republican stockpile policies.

The statement was issued by Dr. Arthur S. Flemming following release of a disputed report charging cabinet-level favoritism and "excessive profits" in the vast program during the Eisenhower administration.

Flemming defended his role in purchases and sales of strategic metals and materials for the $8.9 billion stockpiles while he was head of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Flemming, who figured prominently in the report made public Wednesday, headed ODM from 1953-57, and later was Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare under former President Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Propelled by a 271-155 House vote, the biggest tax cut in history reached the Senate today with President Kennedy pressing for final enactment before Christmas.

To Surplus Grain 'Deal'

Wheat Belt Gives Guarded Approval

By WESLEY G. PIPPETT, United Press International
The wheat belt gave guarded approval today to suggestions the United States sell surplus grain to Russia.

Whether the sale would really shrink this country's huge pile of grain.

Fertilizers, increased acreage and "farm automation" have caused a tremendous boost in agricultural production in the United States since World War II began, and have left this country with one of its biggest headaches.

Both Republicans and Democrats tried — but were largely faulted for their farm programs. And yards of huge government granaries continue to dot the countryside throughout the Middle West.

On the other hand, it has been reported the Russians have been having serious agricultural problems of the opposite kind: Production is low and food prices are sky-high.

250 Attend Sales Clinics

Being courteous and knowing your product will improve any salesman's ability to sell, Fred A. Palmer, sales training consultant of Columbus, Ohio, told the 250 people attending the One Great Day of Selling sales clinics in the Pampa Junior High auditorium yesterday.

Bosch's Fate Is An Uncertainty

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—The military seizure of power in the Dominican Republic created uncertainty today about the fate of ousted ex-President Juan Bosch, accused by the victorious generals of putting the country in a "chaotic state."

Out Of Order

EXETER, England (UPI)—Bookmaker Jack Dollar-Beer was ruled out of order Wednesday when he asked for whisky instead of wine at a contest to find the fastest-serving barmaid at a local hotel.

Hispaniola In Edith's Path

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Hurricane Edith aimed 100 mile an hour winds at the island of Hispaniola today and Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands were warned against floods from the storm's fringes.

LENDERS HELPING HAND

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The police force had help Wednesday from the consul of Bolivia, Duke C. Banks. He directed traffic at a busy intersection for one hour.

WEATHER FORECAST

Pampa and Vicinity — Generally fair through tomorrow with little change in temperature. Low tonight lower 50's. High tomorrow mid 80's.

Relief Spread Out

The House bill would parcel out tax relief to virtually every taxpayer — individual or corporation. The relief would start in January, with two-thirds effective in 1964 incomes. When fully effective in 1965, the tax cut would average 18.8 per cent for the nation's 50 million individual taxpayers.

JFK's Draft Order Pleases The Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department is well pleased with the results of President Kennedy's recent order deferring married men from the draft.

Seeks Spending Brake

The Republican amendment rejected by the House would have prevented any of the tax cuts from taking effect unless Kennedy in his budget message next

Seek Solution

Both Republicans and Democrats tried — but were largely faulted for their farm programs. And yards of huge government granaries continue to dot the countryside throughout the Middle West.

Motorists Good Samaritans? TV Traffic Survey Says So

By JAMES STICKFORD
UPI Automotive Editor
DETROIT (UPI) — The American motorist is basically a good Samaritan.

That was one of the facts learned in a two-year experiment conducted to determine the feasibility of freeway traffic control by television.

The project measured traffic flow on 3.2 miles of busy Detroit freeway by remote control television cameras.

The cameras flashed pictures of traffic conditions to 14 monitoring sets and trained observers made command decisions concerning speed and flow of traffic.

Traffic signs were posted over the lanes of the John Lodge Expressway that indicated the best speed, which lanes were blocked and which were open.

"We have proven through overhead control that we can increase freeway capacity and move more traffic at a steady rate," State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said.

Mackie said the television control system has been a tremendous research tool in such areas as driver behavior and shoulder usage.

"Contrary to common belief," he said, "the American driver is a good Samaritan. When cars stall or pull to the shoulder it doesn't take too long until another motorist stops to offer help."

The project is financed through September and negotiations are in progress with the Bureau of Public Roads to extend the period of the experiment.

The government paid about 80 per cent of the original $400,000 outlay. The Michigan Highway Department and the Detroit Street and Traffic Department contributed money and personnel.

Operation of the system was simple. The 14 cameras were fixed at strategic points along the expressway. The traffic expert at the monitor was able to determine conditions the length of the route and he controlled the overhead signs.

The signs consisted of arrows lighted green for "go," X's lighted red for "stop" and numbers that indicated the best speed for the lanes.

If an accident were to occur, the director could close one lane and slow down traffic in others to allow the orderly shift from lane-to-lane by drivers. He also could notify police, ambulances and wreckers so that the trouble could be remedied quickly.

Traffic engineer George Basmdjian of the Detroit Street and Traffic Department did much work on the project.

The key to the television control, he said, is how well the motorists obey the signals.

"In general, when we do have blockage and put up a red light it is observed quite well," he said. "The speed signs are not always fully satisfied and this is an area in which we want to do more extensive research."

"We've had some objections when we closed the ramps but this was to be expected to some extent. It hasn't been too great as long as there is good reason for closing the ramps and there always is."

During the week-long ramp control portion of the experiment, a spokesman for the Detroit Traffic Association said, the accident rate on the expressway fell sharply, more than 80 per cent.

Police Inspector Arthur Sonnenberg, head of the traffic department, said he thought the system was doing the job it is supposed to. "I have no records to substantiate it but if they say there is something (an accident) ahead you can always get off. . . it is a convenience," he said.

Delegates Elected To Attend Cancer Meeting

Seven delegates were elected to attend the district meeting of the Cancer Association during a meeting of the Gray County Cancer Association in the Coronado Inn yesterday.

The district meeting is scheduled for Oct. 1 in Dumas. Pampa representatives are Dr. Royce Laycock, president of the Gray County chapter; Mrs. Roy McKernan, Mrs. Ida Salee, Mrs. Kermit Lawson, Don Lane and Roy Bourland.

Tom Williams, field representative from Amarillo, presented the program on aims and purposes of the American Cancer Society.

During the meeting, in which 18 board members were present, Mrs. Jack Foster, district director, presented Mrs. Lawson, campaign chairman for 1963, with a recognition citation for working in the campaign, helping to place Gray County on the state's honor roll and for exceeding the assessed quota and additional volunteer goal. This chapter was the only unit to achieve this recognition in District III North.

President Laycock announced two benefit bridge tournaments have been held and another is being planned for later this year.

Don Lane, campaign chairman, announced E. E. Shelhamer would lead the advance gift division and additional chairmen were being contacted.

Mrs. McKernan, service chairman, reported the supplying of 35 dozen bandages to cancer patients this summer.

The board voted to increase its monthly meetings from five to seven each year.

Missing Girl Was Joy-Riding

A 12-year-old Pampa girl drove a car off the lot at the Auto Purchasing Service, 738 W. Brown, yesterday afternoon and took a fling at joy-riding.

The girl, who had been reported missing, turned up at 3 o'clock around 8:30 o'clock last night and told her mother she had taken the car about noon and gone for a ride to Bowers City and back. After that she said she "just drove around town."

Her mother called police and reported the incident. The girl had abandoned the car about two and a half miles south of Pampa on SH 70. It was recovered there about 9-10 p.m. by Highway Patrolman Vernon Cawthon.

Police said the girl, who claimed she was alone all the time, walked back to town after abandoning the 1955 Oldsmobile.

Chief Jim Conner said the same girl was reported missing Monday night and was not located until 1:45 a.m. Tuesday.

A thought for the day — The French novelist and playwright, Alexandre Dumas the Elder, said: "Nothing succeeds like success."

Quints Are On Bottle Feeding

ABERDEEN, S. D. (UPI) — Two of the 12-day-old Fischer quintuplets — James Andrew and Mary Magdalene — were on bottle feeding today.

Dr. James Berbos, the general practitioner who delivered them and has been tending them since, said he did not know when the three others would begin feeding by bottle.

James Andrew took a couple tugs at the bottle Saturday. But late Wednesday was the first time that Berbos switched them to bottle feeding.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Danny Kaye, the noted Los Angeles Dodger fan, opened his own season on CBS-TV Wednesday night, and like his baseball confreres he was all form and no punch.

It's a funny thing, though: When Jerry Lewis' new ABC-TV series laid an egg last Saturday, I resented it because he seemed to think he was doing everybody a favor just by being there. But when Kaye's one-hour premiere turned out mediocre in its first weekly effort, it was hard to get annoyed because how can anyone get angry at Danny Kaye?

I guess that's what CBS is counting on in the long run, why it shelled out all that money. It's no secret what the prospect of a weekly grind does to performers, but it was really awesome in a way and depressing too to see how the boob tube can level even the greatest entertainers who sign for a full season.

Kaye has such immense personal style and showmanship that at times he made the hour seem as if it was a very routine variety outing, with little music or comedy of distinction. Kaye seemed to realize this, and he radiated the confidence of a man who doesn't see the sense of hurrying things because he's sized up the competition and knows there's not much to worry about. Maybe he should be rooting for the New York Yankees, at that.

What was good was that he appeared to be feeling out the television medium for the long run, like a boxer in the first round who plans to go the full 15. What was bad, very bad, was the nonsense of the comedy writer who knows him best and brilliantly, his wife, Sylvia Fine.

On hand for the hour was a young woman singer called Lovelady Powell, who had an interesting face to go with her name, but I'm afraid not much else. The showstoppers were two young fellows named Joe and Eddie, who sang an exciting syncopated song. Kaye's best moments were at the end when he recalled his recent Russian trip in personal concert style, telling stories, singing a little, displaying his flair for the sound of foreign languages. That is the real Danny Kaye, the great one, and for my dough that's all he needs to do for an hour.

Miss Glynis Johns, a lovely thing, turned up Wednesday night in "Glynis," a ghastly thing, but which is described by CBS-TV as a half-hour situation comedy about a scatterbrained wife of a lawyer who gives him headaches by looking for material for her mystery stories. In the premiere, a homicidal butler almost bumped her off, but, in keeping with the show, was incompetent.

The stars' address may be CBS, but in the fall of 1964 you can start forwarding Jack Benny's mail to the rival NBC television network. It became known Wednesday that Benny has switched his allegiance back to NBC, from which he led an exodus of stars years ago to make the CBS the kingpin.

According to informants on both coasts, here, apparently, is what happened: Sources close to CBS say the network elected not to exercise its option because they felt Benny's increasing age—he is about 70—might impair his ability to deliver the goods. The other side is this: Benny has long been upset at losing his traditional spot following Red Skelton to the new "Petticoat Junction" series, and when CBS gave him the runaround, he made himself available to the other networks.

'Phony' Oil Dealings Being Investigated

NEW YORK (UPI)—Financial promoter James Lofland, 35, was questioned for four hours Monday at the offices of the state attorney general in connection with his allegedly phony western oil dealings, it was disclosed yesterday.

Lofland, a native of Liberal, Kan., was reported to have been told to return Oct. 23 for further examination.

Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz has alleged that Lofland's oil lease operation costs New York investors $3 million. He had been questioned previously by Lefkowitz' aides following disclosure of the scheme several months ago.

Barred in New York
The State Supreme Court issued an order in June requiring Lofland and 10 other persons to testify under oath as to what they knew of the scheme. The court barred Lofland from selling securities in New York.

promised to have federal legislation passed which would allow them to share the royalties.

Lefkowitz claimed Lofland then divided the rights interests into 100 units priced at $30,000 per unit and had planned to sell the $3 million total to the public, starting in 1960. In 1961 he registered in Washington as a federal lobbyist. Last year he came to New York.

Names ex-Cabinet Man
Named in the court order were Lofland's Washington attorneys, former Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman, former Massachusetts Rep. Joseph E. Casey, Dennis Chavez Jr., and James E. Murray Jr.

Chavez' father, a former senator from New Mexico, introduced a bill unsuccessfully in 1959 and 1961 "to authorize the granting of mineral rights to certain homestead patentees who were wrongfully deprived of such rights. Murray's father is the son of the late senator from Montana.

Making A Fire Extinguisher

Materials: A pop bottle, soda straw, soda, vinegar, and clay.

1. Form the clay around the end of the straw into a plug which can be used to cap the bottle. Fill the pop bottle half full of vinegar. Drop a tablespoon of baking soda into the bottle and immediately cap it with the clay-straw plug.

2. Have a small paper fire burning on a cookie sheet. Tilt the bottle, aiming the straw at the flames. What happened to the fire?

releases carbon dioxide. This gas is heavier than air, does not support combustion, and will smother the blaze.

3. When vinegar and soda are combined a chemical change

Walter Rogers Reports: Landmark Tax Legislation Is Possible This Year

The most important legislation of the year — the "Revenue Act of 1963" will be before the House of Representatives as most of you read this newsletter. Known to most citizens simply as "the tax bill," this measure's major provisions include an across-the-board cut in individual and corporate income tax rates. Because of its impact on virtually every American citizen and business firm, the tax bill has brought Congressional attention than any other piece of pending legislation.

You've probably read of the bill's provisions in your newspapers and heard them discussed at length in television and radio reports. Perhaps you've determined by how much your own taxes would be reduced and the effects other provisions in the bill would have on you or your business. Perhaps you've found things in the bill with which you disagree; few persons could agree with every item in a bill 310 pages in length, although they might feel that "on balance" the bill is a good one.

The most significant thing about the tax bill is that it represents a strong reaffirmation of the nation's faith in the free enterprise system. At conflict in recent years have been two theories concerning the way in which government can help bolster the country's economy. On one hand have been those who advocate higher government spending in programs and projects which tie a larger proportion of the labor force and industrial production directly to the government. On the other hand have been those who believe, as I do, that a relaxation of governmental controls and a reduction of the tax burden will encourage the free enterprise system to provide goods, services — and jobs — in ever-increasing abundance.

This bill represents the first effort in history to stimulate economic development by freeing capital, through a reduction in taxes, for higher consumer spending and business investment. Congressman Wilbur Mills, my colleague from Arkansas whose House Ways and Means Committee worked steadily for nine months to write the legislation, stated the philosophy underlying it in these words: "This bill reflects an effort by the Federal government to reduce and remove — not to impose — tax constraints on the economy, to give the private sector of the economy greater wherewithal to do what comes naturally to it and which increases the well-being of all of us."

I am convinced that most Americans are anticipating a tax cut. The current strength of the economy reflects, in part, the conviction of many citizens that a tax cut is coming. The high rate of consumer spending, an increase in business investment, the booming stock market, a drop in the rate of unemployment — this good news is not entirely due to the anticipation of a tax cut, but I believe that the prospect of lowered taxes is part of it.

The tax bill has wide bipartisan support of business and labor, support of citizens rich and poor.

The main argument being raised against the bill concerns the wisdom of reducing taxes when the certain result would be an at least temporary greater imbalance between the government's receipts and expenditures — in other words, additional budget deficits. As one who has worked long for reduced government spending, I believe that enactment of this legislation will actually help achieve this goal. More Americans than ever will be writing their representatives to say, in effect: "We are glad to have a tax cut — now redouble your efforts to cut spending and balance the budget." Congress, I believe, will become much more conscious of the need for economy with taxes substantially reduced.

The objective of tax reduction is to stimulate the growth of the economy to such an extent that the resultant higher levels of personal and corporate income will thus produce MORE — not less — tax revenue. Section I of the bill, which was authored by Committee Chairman Mills, spells out that objective in these words: "To further the objective of obtaining balanced budgets in the near future, Congress by this action, recognizes the importance of taking all reasonable means to restrain Government spending and urges the President to declare his accord with this objective."

Tax reduction and revision provided for in this bill will help hasten the day when our budgets are balanced in a growing economy, providing adequate employment and investment opportunities — and giving full play to the initiative of our free enterprise system.

The infant conservative party of New York hopes to throw another scare into Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Co. Thursday with a new show of political muscle.

The occasion will be the party's first birthday celebration, the first annual banquet of the Conservative party of New York. The principal speaker will be New York Senate Republican Leader Walter J. Mahoney.

The slightest hint in Mahoney's speech that the new party is here to stay and deserves to be so accepted probably would be regarded by Rocky's managers as a calamity. The conservative party's prime objective is to prevent Rocky's nomination for president. After that, the objectives are to get rid of Rocky altogether and to put conservative brakes on the New York State Republican party's left of center drift.

Conservatives Back Goldwater The Conservative party also wants to help nominate Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for president. But getting rid of Rockefeller is the main target. The Conservative party was born in the 1962 New York state election when it put up against Rockefeller for governor the able but unknown David H. Jacquith of Syracuse.

Rockefeller's Democratic opponent was Robert Morgenthau, a U.S. district attorney almost as little known politically as Jacquith. Rocky should have mowed 'em down. In fact, some of his handlers considered Rockefeller's 1962 re-election bid merely a step up to the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. The strategy was for Rockefeller, in fact, to enjoy a spectacular victory. He was elected to a first term in 1958 by a plurality of 573,000. His handlers talked of a bulge of 800,000 or more votes in 1962.

Rebel Candidate Presented

The Conservative party undertook to prevent just that by fielding a candidate. To get on the ballot, the upstart Conservatives needed 12,000 signatures on petitions representing every county in the state. That is almost but not quite an impossible task. Impossible? The Conservatives got 45,000 signatures, most of them Republican but many from Democrats rebelling against the leftward drift of their own leaders.

Jacquith, the conservative unknown, polled 141,000 votes in 1962 nearly three times the minimum needed to keep the party on the ballot next year. Most of those votes were filched from Rockefeller. His 1962 margin was 578,000, considerably fewer than his first time out.

That is how the Conservatives plan to operate. They don't expect to elect anyone for a good long time. But they hope to be able to help lick some left-of-center Republicans in New York state for both local and national office.

The lefty Liberal party in New York state for years has been putting the muscles on New York Democrats to move to the left. The Liberals can whump up 300,000 to 400,000 votes. So the Democrats pattern their platforms and pick their candidates, more often than not, to keep the Liberals happy.

The Conservatives are planning the same kind of whipsaw tactics against the Republicans. Their 141,000 votes could elect or defeat a Republican candidate in any close contest.

Loose Lids On Canned Foods Pose As A Potential Hazard

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — Sometimes I find that some jars of baby food in my store have loosely screwed tops. Are they safe to buy for my little daughter?

A — No. Don't buy them if the tops are loose. Screw caps on baby food jars may present a potential health hazard, the American Academy of Pediatrics' Committee on Nutrition warned. "Experience shows," the committee states, "that some people — unaware of, or indifferent to — the dangers of bacterial contamination, open jars of baby food in the store, sometimes taste them, and return them to the shelves. Contaminated jars then present a hazard."

The committee urged pediatricians to "assume the responsibility of teaching mothers the importance of observing the warning instructions on caps of baby food jars."

Pears Star In Tasty Dessert

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Westerners are outgoing people as a rule. They usually have a zest for living. That, of course, means they enjoy good eating and are masters of using their own products, their Bartlett pears in this case, in really delicious ways.

An old friend in Palo Alto, wife of a professor at Stanford University, sent us this bright recipe:

PEAR MELBA CHEESE PIE
(6 servings)

3 fresh California Bartlett pears
1 1/4 cups water
2-3 cup sugar
1 envelope plain gelatin
1 package (10 oz.) frozen red raspberries
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
3/4 cup milk
1 baked, cooled 9-inch pie shell
Pare, halve and core pears. In a large shallow pan, combine water and 1-3 cup sugar; bring to a boil. Add pear halves; cover and cook until pears are fork-tender.

PEARS, RASPBERRIES and cream cheese make this California dessert unusually delicious.

Meanwhile, sprinkle gelatin over 1/4 cup syrup from raspberries to moisten. Remove pears from pan and cool. Stir 3/4 cup boiling pear liquid into gelatin. Add 1-3 cup sugar, lemon juice and salt; stir until dissolved. Blend in raspberries and their syrup. Chill until mixture mounds on spoon. Combine

Teach Nutrition, Erase Diet Fears

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — I am a 16-year-old high school girl. I want to lose weight. Should I cut out breakfast?

A — No. Follow this sound advice from "Slim Down, Shape Up Diets for Teen-agers," a highly recommended paperback written exclusively for teen-agers like yourself:

"A lot of overweight teen-agers believe that by skipping breakfast, or drinking only a cup of black coffee, they can speed up their loss of pounds. All experienced doctors and nutrition scientists and dietitians warn against it, including Dr. W. H. Sebrell Jr., director of the Institute of Nutrition Sciences at Columbia University. He says that fruit or fruit juice, cereal with milk, two slices of bread and a glass of milk provides a nutritious teen-age breakfast, especially when an egg or a slice of ham is added. No matter how overweight a teen-ager is, he must eat a breakfast that amounts to from one-third to one-fourth of his total daily food. He says that the importance of a good breakfast for growing boys and girls cannot be overstressed. The tendency to skip breakfast by fat teens is dangerous to their health and is not the way to help them lose weight."

Q — I am very worried about my daughter. She won't eat decent meals because she wants to stay thin. I scold her, but she won't listen. What should I do?

A — "Whatever you do, don't scold or preach good nutrition," warns Dr. Evelyn Spindler, nutrition, U.S. Department of Agriculture Extension Service, active in 4-H Club nutrition counseling. She adds, "Most teen-age girls are afraid they are or might be fat."

That's one reason why a good many of them are not eating adequately.

Serve Savory Soup For Breakfast And Encourage Lagging Appetites

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Soup for breakfast? Why not, if it encourages youngsters to eat a nutritious meal before school? Mrs. C. L., mother of sub-teen twin girls writes, "I just couldn't get them to sit long enough to eat a decent breakfast. A friend suggested hot soup in mugs. It worked. Now they are getting the habit of enjoying breakfast. Their favorite combination is creamy vegetable soup and peanut butter and banana spread, plus some stewed fruit."

Mrs. E. L.'s twins are getting lots of nutrition in that combination — actually, at least one-fourth of the day's needs. In the milk and cheese they are getting top quality protein and calcium. In the peanut butter more top protein. Vitamins and minerals in the vegetable soup, and carbohydrates and vitamins and minerals and some protein in the bread. So what if their breakfast menu seems offbeat? It's for real.

PEANUT BUTTER-AND-BANANA SPREAD
(1 1/2 cups)
3/4 cup chunk-style peanut butter
2 mediumsize ripe bananas, mashed (about 1 cup)
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
Combine all ingredients; beat with spoon until fluffy and smooth. Chill, if desired. Use as a spread on crackers or bread.

CREAMY VEGETABLE SOUP
(2 to 3 servings)
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed vegetable soup
1 soup can milk
3 tablespoons creamy processed cheese spread
2 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled

In saucepan, combine soup, milk and cheese spread. Heat, stirring now and then, until cheese is melted, soup is hot. Garnish with bacon.

WORKING WIVES
NEW YORK (UPI) — One out of every three American wives works, according to a survey taken by Equitable Life Assurance Society. The survey also showed that children of working mothers are not more likely than others to be emotionally disturbed or delinquent. It also concluded that the annual number of marriages is expected to exceed 2 million by 1970 compared with the present 1.5

TIMBER!
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Timber cut from national forests set a record of 10 billion board feet in the year ended June 30, government figures show. This compares with the previous peak of 9.4 billion in 1959-60.

Over 11,000 Die in German Highway Mishaps

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press International
BONN (UPI) — German drivers seem to consider their cars to be chargers and the highways tourney places where they mount their steeds to joust with one another. As a result, 11,123 persons died in car crashes last year.

The courts finally are making an effort to do something about death on the highways.

The convictions of two drivers for "attempting to coerce others on the highways" were recently upheld by the Federal Court.

West Germany is justly proud of its fine four-lane autobahns. There are 2,920 kilometers (2,125 miles) of them.

Bicycles and horses are banned from the autobahns, but any other kind of vehicles can and do use them, ranging from 12 horsepower midgets through trucks and trailers hauling 12 tons of cargo to race sports cars that reach 100 miles per hour.

Slow lanes have been built on some of the steepest slopes in recent years. But for most of the length of the autobahn, all this conglomeration of vehicles shares two lanes in each direction.

Drivers of slow cars seem jealous of the bigger ones and refuse to make room. Big car drivers follow a smaller or slower vehicle.

The two recent Federal Court verdicts concerned typical auto-bahn maneuvers.

One involved a young man from Frankfurt, driving along a section of the autobahn which has a 100 kph (62 mph) speed limit.

Moving in the left lane, the fellow drove to within 30 feet of another car driven by a woman who was going just the allowed speed and slowly overtaking a pair of trucks. The man honked his horn and flashed his lights. He saw the woman ahead glance at him in her rear vision mirror but she remained in the left lane, slowly gaining on the trucks.

The man grew impatient. Still honking, he gunned his motor until he was within six or eight feet of the woman. She saw him close in, decided he was trying to ram her and cut hard right. But she was too close to the truck in that lane, and had to brake hard. She lost control, went off the road, and flipped over. Miraculously, she was only slightly hurt.

In the other case, a car driver in the Ruhr found himself behind a bus in the left lane slowly overhauling a line of trucks. The effort of the bus driver trying to pass trucks made the car driver so furious that as soon as he could get around the bus he cut sharply in front of it and slowed down. For many miles, everytime the bus attempted to pass, he maneuvered to block it. He was sentenced to 30 days in prison for coercion causing danger to life.

FFA Officers At Spearman Are Elected

SPEARMAN (Sp) — Fred Vandenberg Jr., south of city, was elected secretary of the Top of Texas District of Future Farmers of America at a meeting in the Spearman High School yesterday.

Gene Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Ferguson, 324 S. Tignor was elected sentinel and Rickey Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Jones, 1117 S. Clark, was elected parliamentarian.

Other officers elected were Glenn Keim of Spearman, president; Randall Alexander, White Deer, vice president; David Bowers of Miami, treasurer and Colie Donaldson of Allison, reporter.

David B. Laurie, Spearman High school vocational agriculture teacher, is the advisor.

Gruver and Follett chapters were also represented at the district meeting.

EVERYONE LOVES HIM—Everyone loves a fat man, so they say, and especially Jackie Gleason, who looks resplendent in a tailored sun-tan army uniform for his role in "Soldier in the Rain."

Backfield Injuries Hurt Palo Duro, Says Coach

AMARILLO (Sp) — Palo Duro football coach John Reddell rated the Pampa Harvesters as one of the top football teams in District 3-AAAA, despite their two-game losing streak, and insisted that the Harvesters should be favored in the district opener between the two teams here, tomorrow night.

Midland Second, Borger Sixth in Schoolboy Rating

DALLAS (UPI) — Port Arthur, Dumas, Denver City and Albany ruled their respective divisions in the first United Press International weekly Texas high school football ratings.

There appeared to be little argument with their selections on the basis of performances in the early days of what promises to be a rigorous campaign in which a steady shuffling of rankings seems certain.

In fact, changes may be the order of the day this week and when the schedule pits rated teams against each other in Classes AAAA and AA and another game sends a rated AA team against one in A.

Below the No. 1 teams, the positions are so closely-contested that there is little to choose between them.

BRIDGING SPACE AND TIME—Just as America is engaged in a massive highway building program—the 41,000-mile Interstate System—so has Europe embarked on a similar effort. As economic barriers between nations come down, superhighways, tunnels and bridges conquer physical barriers. An example is the giant Europa Bridge over the Sill Valley in Austria, shown above as the last gap in its 2,700-foot length was being closed. The bridge is 625 feet high at this point. It will provide a faster link between Innsbruck and the Brenner Pass.

TEXAS BOATING

By KENNETH CARR
United Press International
If you haven't noticed a calendar lately it's 1964—as far as the outboard industry is concerned, anyway, since the four major motor manufacturers have introduced next year's line.
The new models feature lower silhouettes on smaller engines, new horsepower ratings and the usual engineering refinements.
Johnson Motors is adding three motors.

Evinrude has a horsepower line-up similar to Johnson for 1964, also bringing out new '60, '60 and 9.5 horsepower models. The Starflite 90-5 weighs 242 pounds, has electric starting and push-button controls. The Sportfour 60 is a V-4 engine and the 9.5 is a low silhouette unit weighing 59 pounds and is less than three feet in length.
The McCulloch Corp. has expanded its line to 11 models, including four for competition. The regular sizes are the 3.5, 7.5, 14, 28, 30, 75 and the new 9.5 low-silhouette model. A major development from McCulloch is a new compact configuration of the cylinder head combustion chamber in its 75 and 50 HP models.

Reports from Austin indicate that the recent rains in Central Texas have not greatly affected the 50-foot-below normal level of Lake Travis. The lake, however, is still full enough for good boating. With the lakes above Travis benefiting from the rainfall, it is likely that Travis will begin raising its level. The Bridge Harbor Marina at Freeport held a Hootenanny Saturday to keep the boaters coming out despite the traditional Labor Day end of the season. Show directors at the fifth annual International Marine Industry Trade Show in Dallas last week said that a lot of interest was being shown in the in-board-outboard at 100-horsepower. The show was for dealers only.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

LAWYER'S JOB REQUIRES RESEARCH
Perhaps you have been in a courtroom and heard your attorney argue forcefully to the court that such and such a case clearly governs the case at hand. But did you ever wonder about the intricate processes that have been directed toward finding that case which is often referred to as "controlling precedent?"
The lawyer's training received in law school enables him to recognize and analyze problems. In most law schools he will have studied what is known as the "case method." In the standard three-year course usually following his graduation from a four-year general college education, the law student will read hundreds and sometimes thousands of cases especially selected to illustrate the various phases of the law.
The case method of study enables the lawyer to recognize and classify problems created by the relationship of real persons to each other. It also emphasizes that the outcome of each case depends upon the application of principles of law to its own peculiar facts.
When a client seeks legal advice from his lawyer, the lawyer's mind immediately classifies the problem. Sometimes the problem is such that he may be able to give an immediate specific answer. However, more often the problem will have ramifications that will cause resort, as the lawyer says, to "the books." This means that research is in order.
It may take hours, and in many instances, days, of research to unravel a knotty legal problem. The process is involved. Cases must be found, analyzed, compared, and checked to determine whether they have been overruled by later decisions, before counsel can stand before the court and say, "Your Honor, we believe that our case is controlled by the case of such and such."
(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

The Lighter Side
Writer Remembers First Newspaper Assignment

By DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was in 1942 that I got my first job as a newspaper reporter, but I can remember it as clearly as if it had happened in 1943.

One day the city editor sent me out to interview a citizen who was celebrating his 89th birthday. And that almost wrecked my career before it even started.

As everyone knows, when you interview an octogenarian you always ask him the secret of his longevity. He replies that he owes his long life to the fact that he chewed tobacco, or chased after girls, or slept with his shoes on, or something equally scientific.

But when I asked this old geezer how he had managed to live so long, he crossed me up. "I haven't the faintest idea," he said.

Gets Off Easy

That evening at sunset the paper suspended my pastepot privileges for a week. And I got off easy. The maximum penalty for booting an assignment of that sort is being fed feet first through a web press.

Since then, if I do say so myself, my reportorial technique has vastly improved. Earlier this month, for instance, I exclusively disclosed how Marlene Dietrich managers to keep looking so youthful.

At a cocktail party in her honor, I discovered that Miss Dietrich grows younger looking by the drink.

And now, heaping scoop upon scoop, I am prepared to reveal Cary Grant's secret of eternal youth.

Grant was in the capital recently to help publicize a fund raising drive to aid children who are forced for economic reasons to drop out of school.

A feature of the campaign will be a benefit preview of his latest movie, called "Charade."

Tours High School

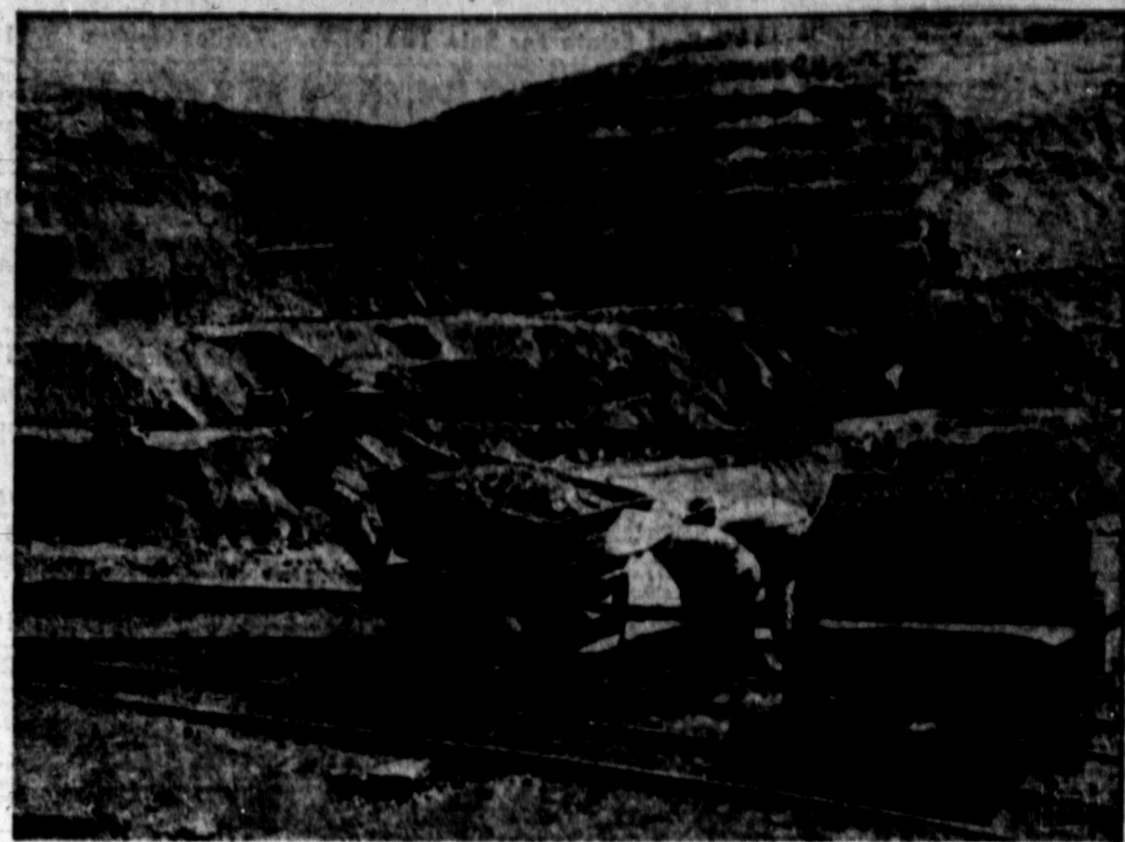

In the course of his visit, Grant and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy toured a junior high school where drop-outs have been a problem.

He was somewhat surprised to find that the students were great fans of his. In their view, he was almost as "cool" as this week's teen-age folk singer.

Sensing that I had stumbled upon something big, I asked my own 13-year-old daughter if she had ever heard of Cary Grant. She almost blew a fuse at the mention of his name.

"But Cary Grant was my dreamboat when I was her age," my wife said. "How can this be?"

It's simple, really. Modern science has turned the fabled fountain of youth into an actuality. Better known as "old movies on television."

MINE IN NORTH VIET NAM: Efforts to industrialize Communist Viet Nam have been slow and unavailing. Here, workers bulldoze carts onto tracks in an open pit coal mine near the far northern coastal town of Hon Gay.

Rotary Governor Speaks at Meet

Addressing the Pampa Rotary club at their luncheon meeting yesterday in the Coronado Inn, J. M. 'Jimmy' Willson, Jr. Rotary governor of this area, linked local Rotarians with more than a half million other business and professional men who belong to Rotary clubs in communities around the world.

"Rotary clubs are functioning in more than 11,500 communities in 129 countries," he said, "and despite the diversity of their languages, customs, and political and religious beliefs, they are working toward such mutually desired goals as community betterment, the promotion of high standards in business, and the advancement of world understanding."

Mr. Willson, a building supply merchant in Floydada was in Pampa, making his official visit to the local Rotary club, one of the 45 in his district.

Referring to the program of Carl P. Miller, president of Rotary International for 1963-64, Mr. Willson said, "This district has been 'matched' with district 125 located in Sweden as a means of furthering better understanding and friendlier relations between Rotarians of the two countries. All Rotary districts have been similarly matched. Our contacts with our 'sister' districts are taking shape in a manner which will promote understanding on a person to person, club to club and district to district basis.

In the field of youth, Mr. Willson spoke of the new club for boys that is now a part of the Rotary program. Called INTERACT, it is for boys in the upper three years of high school. "It is a club for international action," he said

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investment adviser Robert T. Allen of Shearson, Hammill & Co. says that he is not suggesting that caution should be thrown to the wind or that indiscriminate buying be done.

"However," he adds, "I do feel that the odds in favor of investment success are much better now than they will be some months from now. There is currently no real shortage of genuinely attractive situations."

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks & Co. feels that a 20-25 point market correction in the Dow-Jones industrial average "could well be witnessed."

The Dow Theory Trader says that certain technical indicators are strong enough to suggest a period of rising prices and profits between now and the early months of 1964.

According to Standard & Poor's "Allowances should be made for the possibility of an irregular performance, and perhaps reaction before the list again shows sustained forward progress."

United Business Service believes that any hesitation now would be more in the nature of rest and digestion of recent gains than the prelude to a serious setback.

"and is designed to turn the attention of young men to service and international understanding."

We have done it! 113 has gone! Some little lady got it, but she wasn't sure it was hers because the clothes belonged to her daddy. When we hit 711 twice . . . let's see, that's 1422, we're going to give two. When we hit 711 4 times, holy Moses it's 9. Must get there on time.
