

Divided Reaction Given on Proposed Wheat 'Deal'

By BERNARD BRENNER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration is getting divided congressional reaction on a possible multi-million dollar wheat-to-Russia deal.

Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., said he was convinced the administration already has decided to go ahead with the plan, but Hodges and Freeman denied Derwinski's charge.

Only a "possibility" Hodges and Freeman insisted they wanted congressional advice only on the "possibility" of a deal with Russia. No offer for U.S. wheat surplus has been received as yet from the Kremlin, they said.

Canadian wheat and flour. (In Memphis the Commercial Appeal, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, in a copyright story said that Russia is currently negotiating to purchase from this country three million tons of wheat for $250 million.

According to the Commercial Appeal, the businessman said the Russians wanted the grain "as soon as possible" with the approval of the federal government.

recalled its representatives from the meeting. Cargill President E. E. Kelm protested a lack of U.S. government support for the proposed transaction. Said Cargill: "We find no less reason for competitive marketing in dealings with the Russians than in any other export commerce."

said it was not negotiating with Russia and had no intention of doing so without U.S. government approval. The next step in the formal probing of congressional sentiment was scheduled for next Monday with an appearance by Freeman and Hodges before a joint informal session of the Senate Foreign Relations and Agriculture committees.

INFORMER — Guards in Washington clear the way for Joseph Valachi, center, the underworld informer with a $100,000 price on his head, as he arrives at the Senate Caucus Room to brief the Senate Investigations subcommittee on the workings of the so-called "Cosa Nostra," an underworld crime empire. 'Turncoat' Names Genovese As Cosa Nostra's 'Big Boss'

Valachi Testifies In Public Hearing

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Underworld turncoat Joseph Valachi told Senate crime investigators today that Vito Genovese, leader of the sinister "Cosa Nostra" crime syndicate, ordered the slaying of a lieutenant from his federal prison cell.

Testifying before "live" television cameras, Valachi said Genovese was "boss" of the criminal organization to which he belonged for 30 years before he turned on leaders of the organization. He said Genovese told him that the mysterious disappearance of the "Cosa Nostra" lieutenant, Tony Bender, was "the best thing that could happen to him because he couldn't take it..."

This "meant in our (underworld) language that he (Genovese) ordered his death," Valachi told the Senate investigations subcommittee. The short, stocky ex-mobster and executioner said the conversation took place in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta after Valachi was returned to prison to serve a 20-year sentence for narcotics violations.

News Startled Him Valachi said he was startled to hear Genovese say that the disappearance of Bender was a good thing for Valachi's former crew chief in the underworld society. "I said, what do you mean?" Valachi testified.

He (Genovese) said he (Bender) was a sick man and he couldn't take 'time' serving in prison like you and me... After he gave his interpretation of Genovese's comments, Valachi asked the senators: "Got it? Clear?"

Chairman John L. McClellan, Demos Split Over Tax Bill WASHINGTON (UPI)—A split in the ranks of the liberal Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee may endanger chances for prompt hearings on the House-passed $11 billion tax cut bill.

President Kennedy has urged swift action on the measure—the largest tax reduction in the nation's history—so that it can take effect by Jan. 1. If Senate hearings take as much time as expected the measure probably will not come to a vote until next spring.

The squabble over a Senate "slowdown" on the bill burst into the open Thursday when some Democrats demanded quick finance committee action on the measure. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., triggered the exchange when he told the Senate he would offer a motion at the next meeting of the finance committee to begin hearings at once and limit them to 30 days.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., quickly notified the Senate he would resist "administration pressures for a rush job" on the bill, which he charged was riddled with loopholes favorable to big taxpayers. The ensuing debate among members of the finance committee disclosed that Gore and Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., another liberal and usually closely allied on tax issues, were split on this (See DEMOS, Page 3)

Man Is Trampled As Elephant Runs 'Amuck'

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — A 3,000-pound performing elephant ran amuck for 90 minutes Thursday, trampling a man and rampaging through a crowded department store before she was killed by police.

More than two dozen rifle shots finally felled the frightened beast in a residential neighborhood more than two miles from the store. A teen-age girl was injured when a stray shot sent wood chips flying in her home.

Rajje, property of the King Shows and Circus, was entertaining in the parking lot of the local shopping center. She balked at doing one trick. Then, according to Bert Budai, the circus ringmaster, "she just walked away and became confused."

Paul Grant, 22, an employe at Arlan's department store, saw the animal and walked outside. "When she saw me she started chasing me," Grant said. "What was I going to do? I ran right back into the store and she came right after me."

Crashes Through Store Rajje's bulk caught for a moment in the aluminum door frames. Then she burst through, shattering two windows and tripping a burglar alarm. Meyer Freidman, manager of the store, said: "Then she started down the aisles and people started running and screaming all over. We were really crowded."

"She went into the men's department, and then into the gift department, over to sporting goods and finally out a back exit. She was in here 15 minutes just smashing everything.

The damage was in the thousands. It's a miracle no one got hurt. But, soon, someone did get hurt. The elephant, now thoroughly confused and bloodied by cuts from the broken window glass, lumbered rapidly along Holmes Avenue. Two miles later it turned onto Cedar Street, a heavily traveled thoroughfare.

After visiting a parking lot and nearly causing several automobile collisions, the animal veered into a residential area. The commonality brought residents from their homes, among them Merlin Schiedel and his brother Asa, 67.

JFK Attempting To Avert Cuts In Space Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy is attempting to head off the threat of deep cuts in the $5.3 billion space budget by his recent proposal for a joint U.S.-Russian moon expedition.

In a "Dear Al" letter to Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee studying the space request, Kennedy said his suggestion, made in a speech to the United Nations General Assembly, should not be seized upon as an excuse for slashing the budget.

"This great national effort and this steadily stated readiness to cooperate with others are not in conflict," the Chief Executive said in the letter, made public Thursday.

Thomas wrote Kennedy Sept. 21—the day after his U.N. address—asking him to clarify his "position with reference to our immediate efforts in this regard." Thomas said the press and many private citizens had interpreted the speech "as a weakening of your former position of a forthright and strong effort in lunar landings."

The President vigorously denied any such intent in his reply. "In my view an energetic continuation of our strong space effort is essential and the need for this effort is, if anything, increased by our intent to work for increasing cooperation if the Soviet government proves willing," he said.

Thomas is reported to be fighting an uphill battle in his subcommittee against big reductions in the program. Asked to comment on these reports, Thomas would say only that "nothing is final."

Kennedy originally asked Congress for $5.7 billion to finance the federal space agency during the fiscal year that began July 1. Congress approved a ceiling of $5.3 billion and the House and Senate appropriations committees now are working on the legislation to provide the actual cash.

One source said Thomas' subcommittee had decided tentatively on a $5.1 billion figure. The subcommittee is expected to report its recommendations to the full committee Oct. 4, with House action set for Oct. 8. Even before the President's U.N. speech, a Republican-led economy drive threatened the space budget. Opponents saw the U.N. speech as another argument against an extensive space program.

Dedication Ceremony Is Held For 'London Bridge'

M. K. Brown, an English born Texan, gave Pampa and Gray County a bridge yesterday. His "London Bridge," was dedicated at the site with a ribbon cutting ceremony, a band concert and talks by representatives from city and county governments and the Chamber of Commerce. About 500 spectators watched the presentation and acceptance ceremony. Mayor H. R. Thompson accepted the bridge for the city and Jack Back, county tax assessor-collector, accepted it for the county. Aubrey Steele, president of the C of C, acted as master of ceremonies.

After the ribbon cutting ceremony, Brown took over the drum major's baton and led the Pampa High School band across the bridge to the Coronado Inn while the band played "London Bridge." When they reached the Inn, Brown directed the band in "Our Director."

Band members surprised Brown with a special arrangement of a song he sang as a boy in England. The song, "A Nightingale Sang in Barkley Square," was arranged by Homer Krueger, band director of Pampa Junior High. The $32,000 bridge is located on N. Sumner, between Gwendolyn and Kentucky Sts. Brown, who came to Pampa in 1903, calls it "the only London Bridge in America."

Two Men Killed In Jet Crash FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI)—A supersonic F100 jet fighter, flying a tank support mission in war games at Ft. Hood, crashed into a hill Thursday on a strafing run, killing two men.

The Air Force identified the dead as Capt. Stephen J. Wood, 29, of Wenatchee, Wash., the pilot, and Capt. James O. Beckett Jr., 34, of New York, an Army ground liaison officer.

The plane and the two men were stationed at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, N.M. The F100 and several others were taking part in "Operation Left Hook" in support of the 1st Armored Division.

Mormon Choir Sets 'Stage' For Kennedy's Utah Speech

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — The mighty Mormon Tabernacle choir of 375 voices had the ancient structure throbbing with the soaring final bars of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

A tall slender figure in a dark blue suit carefully flicked perspiration from his face as he listened, intently, twisted in his chair on the Tabernacle rostrum for a view of the singers arrayed behind him. It was President Kennedy Thursday night slightly tired but pleased with the biggest ovation of his current western tour.

More than 8,000 persons jammed the vault-roofed Tabernacle and easily double that number swarmed futilely around each of the many entrances to the huge hall, striving to squeeze at least within sight of the rostrum where Kennedy was flanked by Democratic leaders — and President David O. McKay, 90-year-old spiritual leader of two million members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

Delivered Stern Speech What made the evening take on successful, if not unusual, proportions for Kennedy was that he had delivered a rather stern indictment of many policies and ideas dear to the hearts of the radical right, the John Birch Society and such Republican conservatives as Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Such a speech runs counter to the conservatism that marks this city, seat of the Mormon church, and for that matter, much of the state. But Kennedy was applauded heavily about a half dozen times — particularly for his energetic defense of the nuclear test ban treaty and the administration foreign aid program.

Obviously fired by this peak reception of his current tour, the President again headed westward today. Before departing Salt Lake City, the President planned breakfast with President McKay (See CHAIR, Page 3)

RIBBON CUT ON "LONDON BRIDGE" — The ribbon was cut yesterday afternoon on the only "London Bridge" in the United States. The bridge located on N. Sumner between Gwendolyn and Coronado Dr., was donated to the city of Pampa and Gray County by M. K. Brown, center. The ribbon was cut for the city by Mayor Raeburn Thompson and for the county by County Tax Assessor and Collector Jack Back. (Daily News Photo)

A Racy Story

NEW GLOUCESTER, Maine (UPI) — Ten race horses escaped from a New Gloucester fairgrounds compound Thursday and cavorted along the Maine Turnpike before being recaptured. State police learned of the situation when a motorist stopped at the gray toll gate and asked the collector: "Is this the win, place or show window?" If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Dear Abby...
Nothing Up Your Sleeve? It's A Price Tag!
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 44, a bachelor, pretty good-looking, healthy, and in good shape. I've worked hard all my life and have nothing to show for it but a furnished apartment and a car. I've been in accounting for the past 17 years, and should be making a lot more than I am. What is $100 a week nowadays? I haven't had a vacation in years. I'm clean-cut, honest and respectable. Abby, I would marry any woman with plenty of money in spite of her age, her face or her figure. And I'd give her all the love and attention she wanted. Believe me, I am stating a fact. If you know of anyone, please let me know. We could start off with a trip to Europe to get acquainted. Don't print my name, but keep it on file.

NOTHING UP MY SLEEVE
DEAR "NOTHING": If I run into a woman who wants to buy a man, I'll let you know. You have nothing up your sleeve—but your price tag.

DEAR ABBY: My husband refuses to carry a picture of me in his billfold, and here is why: About three years after we were married he was still carrying pictures in his billfold of girls he had met in the service. After telling him about a hundred times that I wished he would take them out, I took them out and tore them up. To this day he has never carried MY picture, and it's been 17 years. I had pictures of our seven children made and had to BEG him to carry them. He only did it to keep me quiet. I gave him one more (myself) to carry, but he said it would be too "bulky" and he wouldn't carry it. Am I unreasonable to nag him about this?

HURT
DEAR HURT: A wife is unreasonable to "nag" her husband

about anything. What does he need a picture of you for when he can see you every day in living color?

DEAR ABBY: Please tell that little woman who is upset because her husband does the disappearing act just before dinner that is a masculine weakness. I am 86 years old and have had two husbands, one son, two brothers and one father, and every last one of them had to be tracked down for dinner. The women fussed, of course, and then capitulated. So let him eat his dinner cold and go on loving him. The love of a good man is worth more than a hot dinner.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

— REV. WILLIAM E. WEST
ST. MATTHEW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

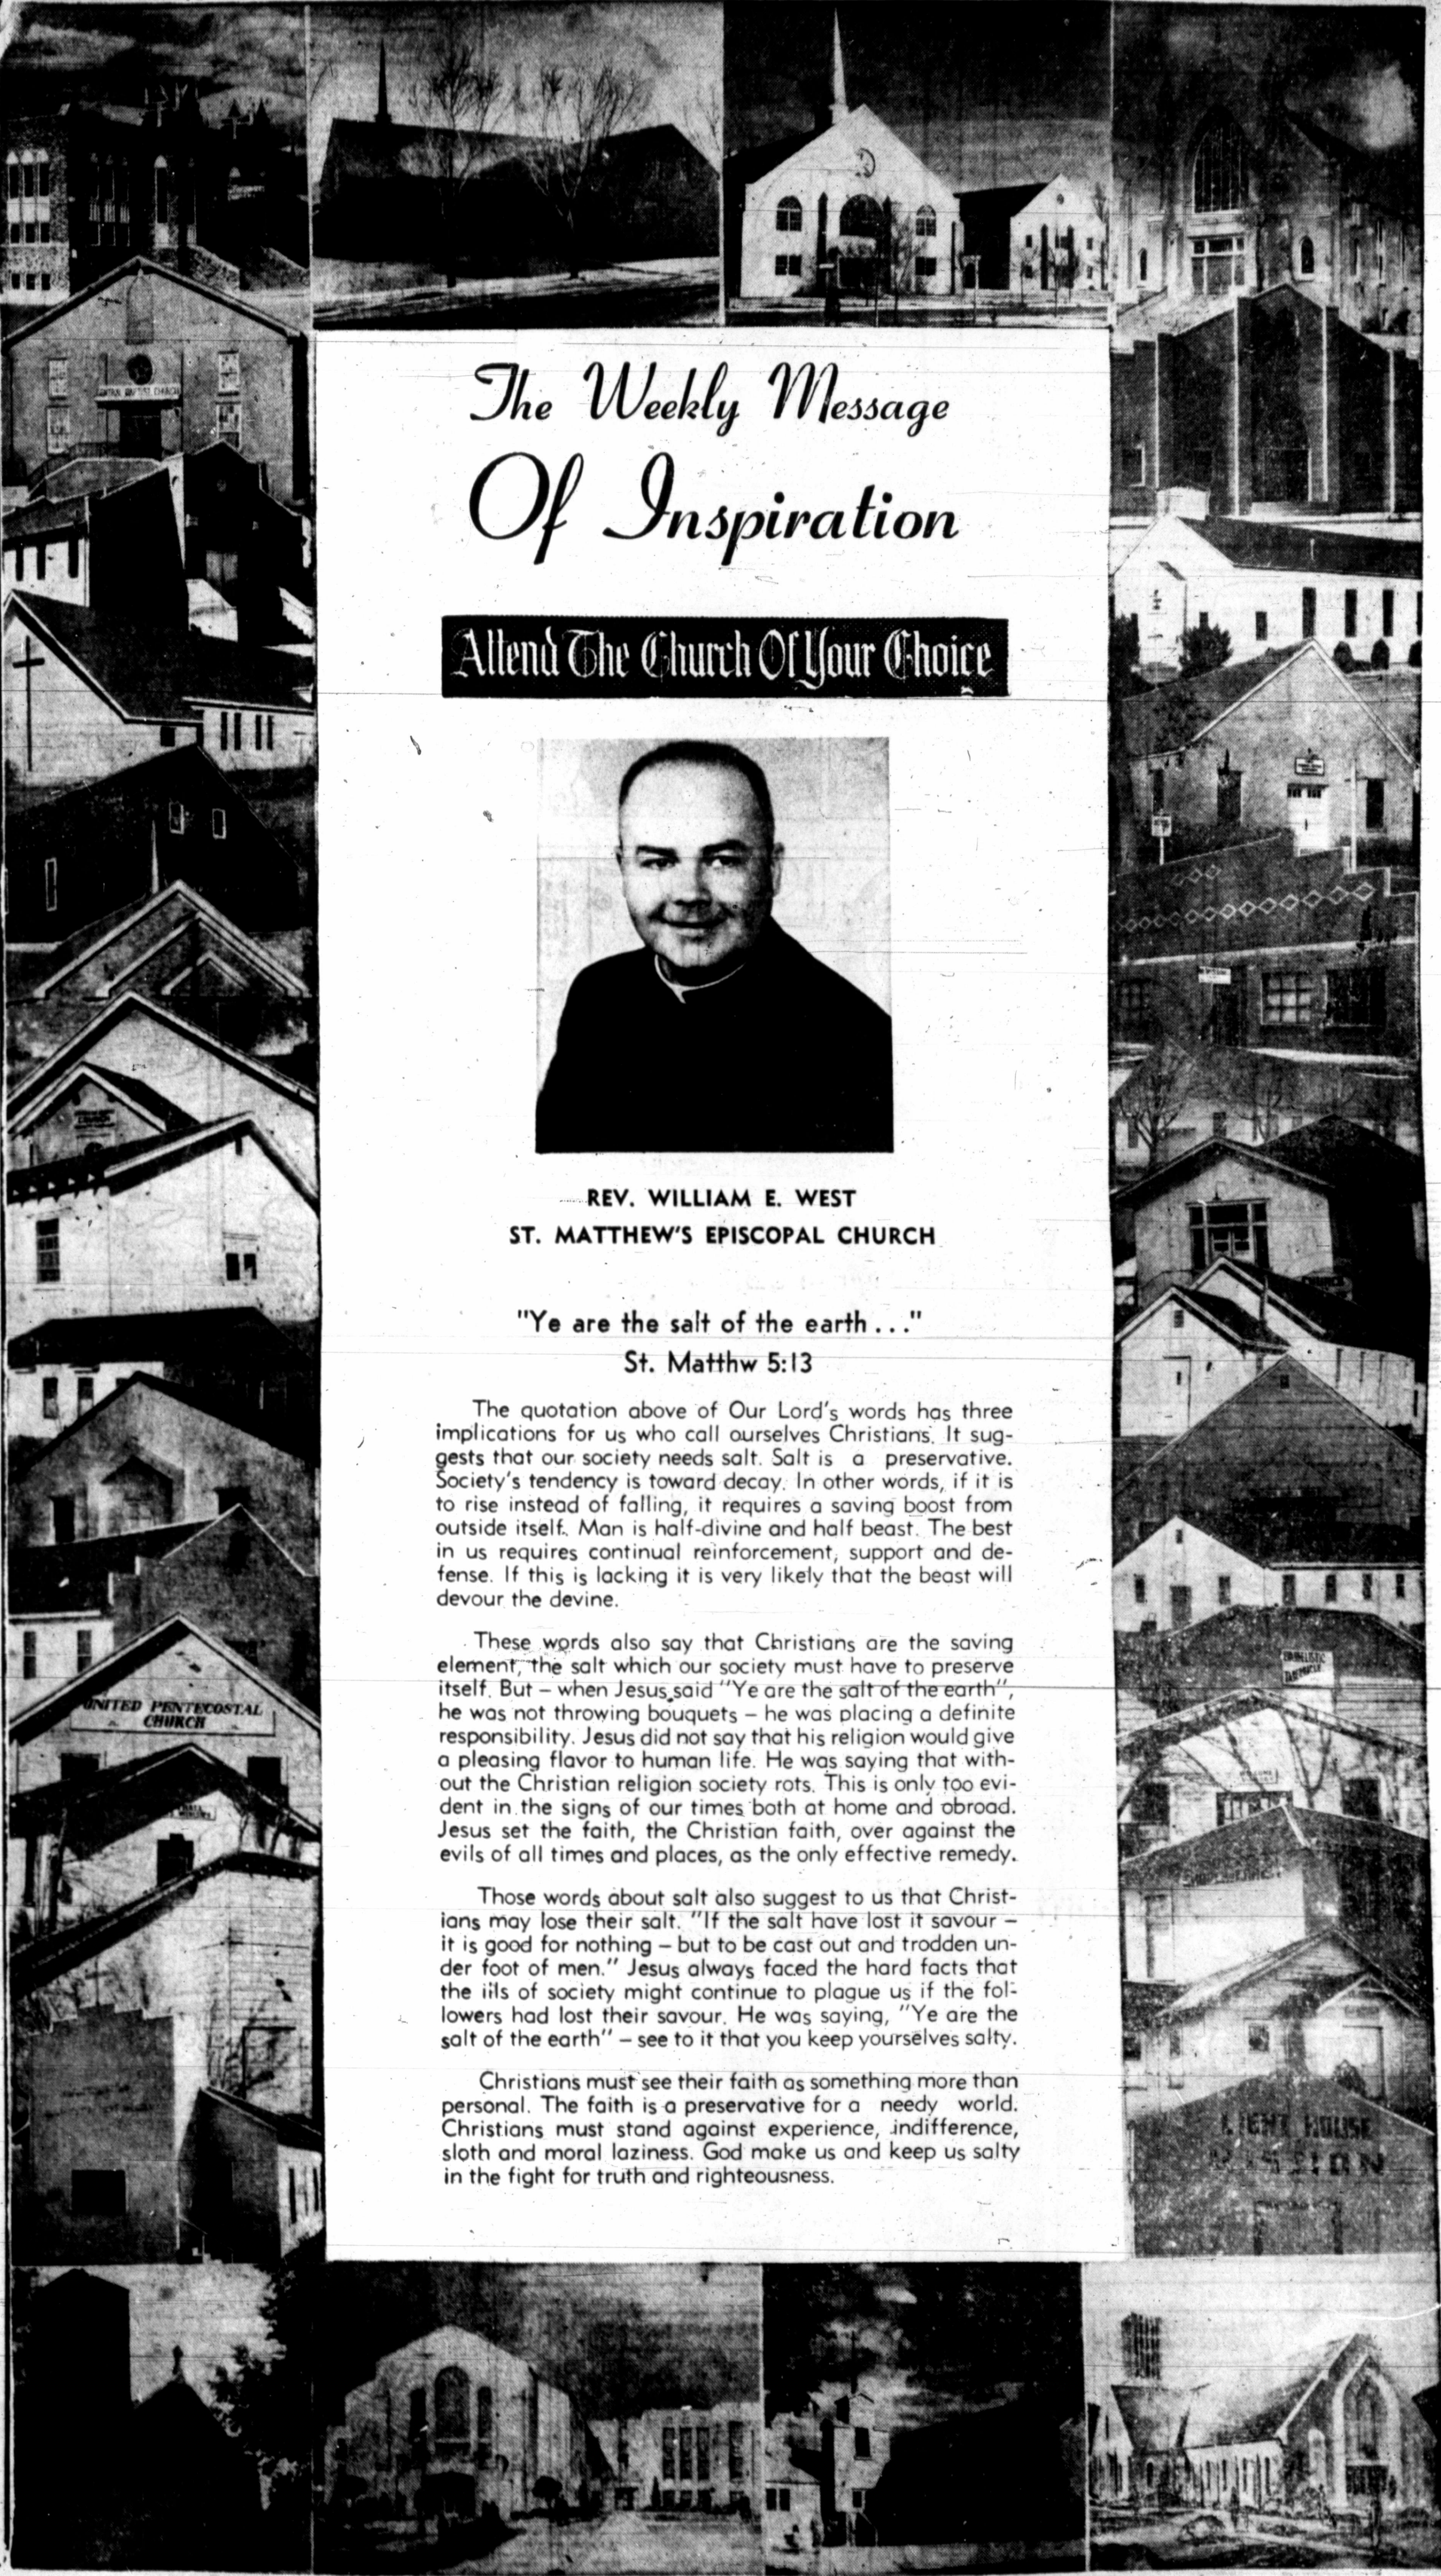

"Ye are the salt of the earth..."
St. Matthew 5:13

The quotation above of Our Lord's words has three implications for us who call ourselves Christians. It suggests that our society needs salt. Salt is a preservative. Society's tendency is toward decay. In other words, if it is to rise instead of falling, it requires a saving boost from outside itself. Man is half-divine and half beast. The best in us requires continual reinforcement, support and defense. If this is lacking it is very likely that the beast will devour the divine.

These words also say that Christians are the saving element, the salt which our society must have to preserve itself. But — when Jesus said "Ye are the salt of the earth", he was not throwing bouquets — he was placing a definite responsibility. Jesus did not say that his religion would give a pleasing flavor to human life. He was saying that without the Christian religion society rots. This is only too evident in the signs of our times both at home and abroad. Jesus set the faith, the Christian faith, over against the evils of all times and places, as the only effective remedy.

Those words about salt also suggest to us that Christians may lose their salt. "If the salt have lost its savour — it is good for nothing — but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men." Jesus always faced the hard facts that the ills of society might continue to plague us if the followers had lost their savour. He was saying, "Ye are the salt of the earth" — see to it that you keep yourselves salty.

Christians must see their faith as something more than personal. The faith is a preservative for a needy world. Christians must stand against experience, indifference, sloth and moral laziness. God make us and keep us salty in the fight for truth and righteousness.

Frank Howard Leads Dodgers To 5-4 Win

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

The word on Frank Howard is curve him low and away and if that information is as much help to the Yankees as it was to the Mets, brother, are they in trouble.

Of course, the Mets have a delightful faculty for lousing up the best baseball information.

They know how to pitch to Howard as well as Warren Spahn does, but somehow the results usually are different.

Like Thursday night, for example, when the big Dodger outfielder slugged a single, a double and then a three-run homer in the eighth inning to lead the new National League champs to a 5-4 victory over the Mets.

The Yankees discussed how to pitch to Howard during an off-day pre-World Series meeting at Yankee Stadium Thursday. The Mets, on the other hand, didn't bother. They knew all they had to do about him.

Dodgers Stormed Back
Carl Willey was sailing along with a 4-2 lead until the eighth when Galen Cisco took over and yielded Howard's 28th homer. The blow traveled 400 feet and landed in the left field bleachers at Chavez Ravine.

Larry Sherry started for the Dodgers, gave up four runs on five hits over the first five innings and departed in favor of Ken Rowe, who gained his first major league victory. Rowe blanked the Mets over the next three innings after which relief ace Ron Pezzanoski made his 69th appearance and held New York hitless in the ninth.

Dodger manager Walt Alston rested a number of his regulars in using 17 players. Lee Walls also homered for Los Angeles. Only three other games were played in the majors.

Houston beat Pittsburgh, 5-4, in 11 innings and San Francisco mauled Philadelphia, 10-0, in the National League, while Cleveland defeated Kansas City, 4-1, in 10 innings in the only American League contest.

Bob Aspromonte's single with two out in the 11th inning enabled the Colts to sweep their three-game series with the Pirates.

McMahon Won First
Aspromonte's game-winner came off one-time reliever Roy Face and enabled Don McMahon to gain his first victory of the year following five straight losses. Jim Wynn hit a two-run homer in the sixth and tied the score at 4-4 with a run-producing triple in the eighth.

Willie McCovey's 44th homer and the three-hit pitching of Billy O'Dell led the Giants to their victory over the Phillies.

The Giants kayoed Dallas Green with a six-run burst in the first inning and after McCovey connected with two on off reliever Paul Brown in the third inning, Ed Bailey hit his 20th homer with none on in the same frame.

score, but kept Groom from the goal line as well.

Stevens to Martindale opened the fourth quarter with a 25-yard scoring pass, did it again with a 40-yard heave, and then Stevens threw to Bobby Karr for the final conversion.

Coach Harold Moore expressed himself as "real proud of the downfield blocking which sprung those long runs. Standouts were Al Gomez, Billy Scribner, Gary Hyatt and Been. Don Whitney and Don Stokes did a fine job—both ways. Gary Butler recovered two fumbles. Nathan Kellough and little Jimmy Baker were defensive standouts."

SOPH STANDOUTS — Tackle Billy Quarles leads the way for fullback Lewis Meers. The two sophomores have earned their Harvesters varsity berths, with Quarles being especially outstanding as a defensive tackler. Pampa Plays Palo Duro tonight in Amarillo. (Daily News Photo)

U.S. Grabs 2-0 Lead

BOURNEMOUTH, England (UPI) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston had an opportunity to give the United States a quick victory over Great Britain today in the Davis Cup inter-zone semi-finals.

The U.S. led Britain 2-0 going into today's doubles match pitting McKinley and Ralston against Mike Sangster and Bobby Wilson. The final two singles matches

Texas Athletic Loop Formed

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — A new conference of previously independent schools met Thursday, named itself the Texas Athletic Conference and announced plans for sports competition.

Hardin-Simmons and McMurry College, both of Abilene, Midwestern University of Wichita Falls and Tarleton State College of Stephenville are members of the conference—with others to be named soon.

will be played Saturday.

"We're sitting pretty, I think. I don't like to forecast in matches such as these, but I feel we are almost there." U.S. team captain Bob Kelleher said following victories Thursday by McKinley and Frank Froehling.

McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., needed only 85 minutes to defeat Sangster, 7-5, 6-2, 7-5. Then Froehling rallied gamely and beat southpaw Billy Knight, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4, 6-4 Thursday.

The winner of the U.S.-Great Britain match will face India in the inter-zone finals.

Cleveland Browns Big Favorite To Win 3rd Straight NFL Tilt

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

The Cleveland Browns, early surprises of the National Football League season, are whopping favorites to win their third straight game Sunday, but it looks like tough going for the two other perfect-record clubs — the Chicago Bears and St. Louis Cardinals.

The Browns are a 13-point pick to send the Los Angeles Rams down to their third straight defeat, at Cleveland; the Bears are only a 2-point pick over the Lions at Detroit, while the Cardinals are 6½ point underdogs against the Steelers at Pittsburgh.

In Sunday's other games, the champion Packers are the choice by 13 points over the Baltimore Colts at Green Bay; the New York Giants are favored by 4½ over the Eagles at Philadelphia; the Minnesota Vikings are picked by 7 at home over the San Francisco Forty Niners, and the Washington Redskins are the choice by 3 in their home-opener against the Dallas Cowboys.

Dallas, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Philadelphia all will be shooting for their first win of the season, although the Eagles have played to one tie.

Bounce-Back Day

For the Lions and the Giants, this will be bounce-back Sunday. Both were humbled by big scores last Sunday.

Milt Plum is on the spot in the Lions-Bears game. His passing percentage, normally high, has fallen to .410 and some of his teammates were openly critical after last week's 31-10 beating by Green Bay.

To make matters worse, Gail Cogdill and Terry Barr, the Lions' two leading pass-catchers, are injured and may not be at peak efficiency.

The Bears' rugged defense has lost reserve tackle Fred Williams because of a shoulder separation and linebacker Joe Fortunato is doubtful because of a leg injury. The revamped Bears defense has yielded only 10 points in two games and last Sunday set up all four Chicago touchdowns against the Vikings.

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press International
 One solid reason for pressing the administration tax bill through Congress with first priority at the expense of civil rights and all else is this:

The bill would be beyond the reach of congressional economizers before President Kennedy reveals his 1965 fiscal year spending plans. If the tax bill could be held over until the next session of Congress, a big new spending figure might recruit enough opposition to defeat the project.

There is another urgency to the tax program. It is this: President Kennedy evidently expects the proposed tax reduction program to help redeem some of his 1960 campaign promises about getting the country to moving again. Kennedy believes the tax bill would provide considerable protection against a recession; that it would tend to reduce unemployment by a substantial margin; that the nation's economic ills he discovered and promised to remedy in 1960 would, indeed, be substantially remedied by his tax program.

Every week of delay diminishes the political advantages the President can expect from enactment of his tax bill. In terms of politics, Kennedy needs the tax bill now. The sooner the tax bill is enacted, the sooner will Democrats expect the political climate to clear for them.

Next year comes a presidential election. Kennedy promised in 1960 to deal effectively with many 5% ozs.
 To Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Rod. 5% ozs. boys at 12:56 a.m. weighing 10 lbs. right, 4 1/2 N. Hazel, on the birth of a boy at 4:30 a.m. weighing 9 lbs. 4 ozs.

problems, including unemployment and an economic stagnation he detected in the growth rate of the Gross National Product. Promise and performance have not kept perfectly abreast. Democrats expect the tax program to correct that situation.

With so little accomplished in the first nine months of this session of Congress, the administration now must press for much vital legislation before Christmas. If civil rights is put aside for the tax bill and finally goes over until the next session, much time will have been saved in the Senate which otherwise might be stymied by filibuster.

The filibuster would come next year, of course, because the administration is committed to a civil rights program and might lose much presidential election year support from Negroes if none were enacted. The disadvantage to Kennedy of postponing civil rights until next year is that the Senate contest will precede the presidential election by a few months, instead of by many. That would be a factor favorable to the Republicans in their effort to win electoral votes in southern states.

Likely To Protest
 Negroes would protest, of course, any postponement of civil rights legislation. But they would be expected to get their bill before election day, 1964, and that is the important thing in terms of presidential politics.

The Negroes have been patient. The 1960 Democratic platform and Kennedy's campaign promises added up to a program of instant civil rights. The President did name Negroes to high and unaccustomed office. He indicated in many other ways his interest in Negro welfare. But Kennedy could not bring himself until this year to challenge white southern voters with the civil rights program he promised the Negro voters three years ago.

EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES—Since World War II, savings and loan institutions have grown to the point where they now hold the savings of more than 35 million Americans—and they're looking for new places to invest this money. They are restricted by law to home mortgage and home improvement loans. The 6,277 associations in the 50 states account for 46 per cent of all home mortgage loans. This is three times the number made by commercial banks. Charts above, based on data from the Federal Home Loan Bank, shows the assets of savings and loan associations in 1952 and 1962. A bill now before Congress would allow them to enter new lending fields, such as buying state and municipal securities and financing appliance purchases and college educations.

Soil Fertility Course Slated

Gray County Agricultural Agent, Foster Whaley, will conduct a short course in fertilizers and soil fertility Oct. 2, 9 and 16 in the Pampa agricultural building east of city.

Sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Plant Food Education Society, authorities from colleges and the fertilizer industry will speak in the series of meetings.

The sessions are open to fertilizer dealers, agency personnel, county program committee members and any other persons who register with the county agent by Friday. The fee for the three sessions is $4.

Whaley states these night courses, which begin at 7:30, will be treated in more detail than the previous soil fertility meetings sponsored by the extension service.

Nitrogen will be the subject of the Oct. 2 meeting. Its function in plant growth, behavior of soil, history of use, manufacturing processes and characteristics of different forms will be discussed as well as time and method of application.

Participants in the Oct. 9 meeting will discuss phosphorus and potassium in a similar manner. The final program will include a dinner and presentations on soil testing and fertilizer use in soil management. Diplomas will be issued to those completing the course.

SALTY

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 17,300 ton mountain of rock is piled up in Port Newark, N. J. When it snows, it pours—on streets and highways in the New York area to keep traffic moving. Diamond Crystal Salt Co., owner of the pile, said it is large enough to fill 400 freight cars.

standing and patience. Pressures will probably increase the problem. Self-confidence is a valuable asset. It means that an individual feels pretty good about himself. He feels that he has something to offer others.

It is natural for an individual to have the greatest confidence in areas where he has the greatest ability. Therefore, you should identify these areas and build upon them. As soon as other children begin to respect the shy child he is on the way to correcting his problem.

Remember that individuals are quite different. There is room in society for all types. There is no need for a basically shy child to become an aggressive one. It is important that he respect himself.

ACTOR SETTLES SUIT

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actor George Raft and writer Dean Jennings reached an out-of-court settlement Wednesday on a suit by the writer. Jennings claimed he did not receive his share of profits from the sale of Raft's life story for use in a movie. Details of the settlement were not disclosed.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst Among President Charles de Gaulle's detractors at home, the charge most frequently voiced against him is that he has "isolated" France.

His independent nuclear policy is isolating him from the United States and his NATO allies, and is imposing upon France a heavy financial burden.

His "grand design" for France, which led him to ban Britain from the continent as a member of the European Common Market, has irritated not only Britain but also West Germany, with whom he seeks especially close ties.

In addition, the grand design is threatened by internal pressures. There is mounting unrest in labor and among French farmers. Inflationary pressures threaten the "hard franc" which helped transform France from the "sick man of Europe" to one of the healthiest.

Among aging world leaders few would admit that another man could do the job better. Least among these would be De Gaulle. And so it comes as no surprise that De Gaulle is beginning to drop hints that he will seek a second term as president of the French Fifth Republic.

Because all of the projects under attack are particularly De Gaulle's. The strongest hint of De Gaulle's intentions thus far came in his current tour of France's Rhone Valley.

He said that for a quarter of a century he had understood the wishes of the French people. And: "I am determined to continue to do so since I have the strength."

De Gaulle's present seven-year term ends at the close of 1965. On Nov. 22 of this year, he will be 73.

For some time now the question of De Gaulle's successor has been a favorite subject of speculation among French newspapers. But recently the same newspapers which had been pulling out the names of various "crown princes" suddenly erupted with reports that De Gaulle might not quit after all.

There is reason to believe the reports were planted by De Gaulle himself.

De Gaulle's nuclear program is still some eight to 10 years away from making France an effective nuclear power.

Among his possible political successors are many who gladly would welcome Britain into a united Europe, scrap De Gaulle's own grand design and willingly sacrifice some French sovereignty in exchange for that unity.

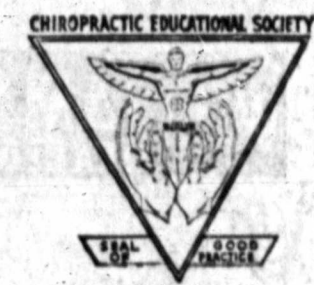

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department said Wednesday it is optimistic over chances of working out a solution that will keep funds available for a peace-keeping military force in the Congo.

The present funds will run out Dec. 31, but a State Department spokesman said a financing proposal for the Congo is expected to come before a U.N. committee in the near future.

LIKE THE HORSES PARIS (UPI)—A butchers' organization disclosed Wednesday that Parisians consumed 111,300 horses last year.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Adjustment during the early weeks of the school year is difficult for some children. The new situation may create apprehension and uneasiness.

As parents you may become aware of these developments at home. You should make an early contact with the teacher. Close cooperation between the parents and the teacher can be very helpful.

Many times the teacher can correct the problem with a few friendly remarks and a little extra attention. If this is not successful, you might have to approach this situation in a more complete manner.

Part of a child's education is learning to adjust to all kinds of events. He must learn how to make friends, work in a group and talk to new acquaintances. There are many youngsters who develop these skills quickly and easily. Those who don't know how to accomplish these things properly should be given advice and some definite instruction.

Protect Child. It is important to protect a child with these problems from embarrassing situations. One reason for shyness or fear is a lack of self-confidence. The shy child is often terrified when pushed to perform in front of a group whether it be his classmates or relatives. He becomes uneasy, forgets his lines, and may even cry. This only serves to cause a greater loss of confidence.

Work the opposite way. Start by building his confidence. Teach him the techniques for getting along with people. He should understand that other children don't like to be ignored. They like children who are relaxed and seem to enjoy themselves. Provide opportunities for the child to participate in activities with other children. These activities should be those in which the child has enthusiasm and interest.

Explain how people compromise. The answer to a disagreement is not always yes or no. It often is a center road. As individuals learn to work out their differences they become closer friends. They are also more desirable people.

Teach Speech Methods Teach the child methods for talking in front of a group. If he feels more confident, let him read his speech. He may eventually develop the confidence so that he will feel more relaxed, and willing to speak to a group. This is the type of problem which can only be solved slowly. It needs a great deal of under-
