FIESTA CAPTURES STATE PRIZE

MOBETTIE WOMAN 101 YEARS OLD TODAY

They live to a very ripe old age in the Pampa territory! Mrs. Mary Leah Wrye, above, of Mobettie, today became the second Top O' Texan within a month to celebrate her 101st birthday. J. T. Lovelace, Civil war veteran, celebrated his 101st birthday last month. Mrs. Wrye, school teacher for many years in North Texas and Wheeler county, will spend the day quietly among relatives and a few old friends. No party was planned for her at the farm home of Mrs. W. H. Ellis where she lives near Mobettie. Yesterday and today she opened gifts from relatives, friends, and former pupils. Mrs. Wrye still enjoys good but feeble health.

Last year, Mrs. Wrye was elected an honorary member of the Mobettie school faculty, and 700 people attended a party given in honor of Mrs. Wrye and Mr. Lovelace. Mrs. Wrye could not attend, but the McLean centennial was present. Grand-nephews of Mrs. Wrye living in Pampa are Hugh and N. B. (Pinkie) Ellis.

Highway Will Be Opened In Next 21 Days

Vital Portion Of Reid's Dream Near Realization

Pampa and Borger, vital cities at the Top O' Texas, will be linked by a paved road within the next 21 days, barring unfavorable weather conditions. By May 20 the local office of the Texas Highway department expects the paving to be completed, accepted by the department, and open to traffic, it was said Saturday.

Paving is now down on a two-mile strip of the road extending from Borger to Dixon creek and the laying of the prime coat of asphalt for the entire 20.37 mile strip was completed Saturday.

First designated as Highway 208 when grading started on Dec. 7, 1927, by employees of Allhands and Davis, Dallas, the road was later re-numbered 152, and is a part of Oil Field Highway that is to connect Oklahoma City with Denver, by way of Pampa, Borger, Dumas, Stinnett, Hartley and Dalhart.

Reid Started Idea
When the paving is open on the Pampa-Borger road, it will mark another step in the realization of the dream of the late J. P. Reid, one-time mayor of Pampa and pioneer good roads booster, who as early as 1917 advocated and worked for the Oil Field highway and for other roads in the Top O' Texas area.

Back of the starting of the road is the work of many citizens over a period of two decades. The Oil Field Highway association was formed in 1927. For the specific portion between Pampa and Borger a movement was started here seven years ago to have the road paved. Considerable work was done by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and its highway committees. Governor James V. Allred promised his aid shortly after his inauguration in 1934, after he had heard a delegation from Pampa who called on him in Austin.

Hines Inspected Road
On April 23, 1937, Pampans formally presented their plans to the Texas Highway department and secured sufficient attention to have the proposed road known as the Panhandle No. 1 project.

Attention had also been directed to the project by a state meeting of county judges and commissioners held at Lubbock a week prior.

2,000 Petition Government To Condemn Land

A petition with 2,000 signatures of Gray county residents will go to Congressman Marvin Jones in Washington this week urging the federal government to condemn, if necessary, approximately 900 acres of land adjacent to the McClellan Lake dam site.

The original set-up for the lake provided for the purchase of 2,000 acres of land for the dam project and park purposes. To date, county authorities say, only 1,100 acres of this has been acquired by the government.

Land needed to complete the project is held by two owners, the petition states. Difficulty in obtaining the land held by one of the owners has been encountered. If it becomes necessary, the petition asks that the government condemn the needed acreage.

Congressman Jones, one of the chief motivating factors in getting the lake project for Gray county, is asked to use his influence to present the exact status of the case to the proper authorities in Washington.

The petition has been in circulation all of the past week and Saturday night it was indicated that nearly 2,000 signatures had been obtained calling upon the government to act at once.

'Wrapper Clerks' And Spending Politicians Flayed By Carney

Evidences of dry rot in the framework of American civilization is already making its appearance, Ralph W. Carney of Wichita, Kas., vice-president in charge of sales of the Coleman Lamp company, told a crowd of 700 persons at a meeting held Friday night in the city hall auditorium.

This dry rot, the speaker said, arose from the idea now prevalent in America that a "man could squander his savings, drink and gamble, and not work, and still be entitled to a pension when he was 60 years old."

Can't Change Basis
"The lawmakers are trying to change a fundamental rule, something no one has been able to do," he declared, as he held up a copy of the Bible. He then referred to the Bible verse of how man should earn his bread by the sweat of his brow.

Politicians who believe they can change this fundamental rule were scolded by the speaker, who said that the net result of their efforts for the past six years was a national debt of 41 billion dollars and 13 million persons unemployed.

After saying that in good times the national income was 90 billion dollars, he asked, "If you took every dollar out of the national treasury—and the politicians have just about done that already—every dollar out of every bank, soda can, trunk and mattress, and piled it up into one heap, what would you have? You'd have just six and one-half billion dollars."

Circulation of money and the rapidity of its use accounts for the total amount of the national income he explained.

"When people are afraid, they stop circulating this money, and the national income drops."

Cites Circulation of Money
The uses to which a $10 bill could be put in one town were cited by Mr. Carney. Starting the bill with a purchase in a hardware store, he told how the hardware merchant bought a pair of shoes, the shoe dealer drugs and cosmetics, the druggist a new automobile tire, the tire seller an advertisement in the local paper.

From that point he traced the bill to the grocer and the dentist and finally back to the hardware store where it started, showing how the $10 bill had been worth $100 because of the rapid exchange.

"The more we exchange money with each other the more prosperity we have," Mr. Carney said.

Speech Keynotes 'Sellebration'
Mr. Carney's appearance in Pampa was in connection with the Parade of Progress "Sellebration" to be held here from May 1 to May 31. The "Sellebration" is a super-selling campaign designed to promote Pampa as a trade center. Participating are automobile dealers, clothing merchants, jewelers, hardware and furniture merchants, and food retailers.

Judged Best At Jaycees' Convention

Dick Hughes Named National Director Of Organization

Pampa's colorful Top O' Texas Fiesta was judged the best celebration in the state yesterday. Pampans, particularly Jaycees, swelled with pride when they learned that the 1939 Fiesta was acclaimed the best celebration, sponsored by Jaycees, held in the state in the class of cities from 10,000 to 50,000.

The judge that returned this pleasing verdict was the state Junior Chamber of Commerce convention at Fort Worth.

And that wasn't the only honor the Pampa Jaycees won. Dick Hughes was elected to the office of national director of the state organization. That office is ranked with the state president's in importance.

State-wide recognition of the local celebration gave the 1939 Fiesta, now in the making, a booming boost, all Pampans agreed today.

"If they think that one was good—and it was, I'll say it wasn't—wait until they see the 1939 version!" declared a Fiesta official last night.

Inspired by winning of the achievement award, Jaycees said that they "already had their coats off" and pretty soon would have their "sleeves rolled up" for the big push to make the 1939 show "bigger and better."

Today Fiesta committees will meet to draw the net of their plans closer together. Today's meeting will be followed by dozens of others and the meetings will be followed by "work, work, work," it was said.

It was announced that a feature of the parade which usually "makes or breaks" a celebration, will be a pageant of costumed characters who will portray the history of the Panhandle. The colorful costumes already have been ordered.

FORT WORTH, April 29 (AP)—W. O. Cooper, Dallas, today was elected president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and Galveston was chosen as the 1940 convention city.

In an unprecedented action the unanimous vote in Cooper came on the motion of Emmett Bauknight, Austin, and seconded by H. A. Zappe, Mineral Wells, the other two candidates for the office.

District presidents included Fred Erisman, Kilgore; Binford Arney, Amarillo and Al Brady, San Angelo. National directors selected were Dick Hughes, Pampa, and William Blythe, San Antonio.

The delegates favored immediate adjustment of alleged discriminatory railroad freight rates on all goods shipped in and out of Texas.

They also voted endorsement of a plan for national recovery drawn by Roy G. Terry, Tyler. The plan proposes to correlate the re-employment by private industry of approximately 5,000,000 persons by stimulating national demand through creating a co-operative patriotic desire in the buying public to bring about a demand not only for basic commodities but manufactures but

'Sellebration' Opens With Parade Of Cars

Pampa's Parade of Progress, a month of outstanding service by Pampa merchants, was ushered in yesterday with a parade. The unusual "Sellebration" will last through the month of May with a parade a week one of the features.

The Parade of Progress opened with automobile dealers, wholesale and retail gasoline dealers, implement dealers and others in allied lines staging a parade through downtown Pampa.

Ninety-four cars, trucks, tractors, etc., bearing Parade of Progress stickers took part in yesterday's parade, headed by trucks carrying Boy Scouts, Cubs and members of the Pampa Oilers and Lubbock Hubbers baseball teams.

Other lines of business will stage parades during the rest of May. The "Sellebration" was organized by the Retail Trade Promotion committee of the Pampa Board of City Development. More than 100 merchants attended a called meeting and unanimously endorsed the plan.

C. L. Thomas Named Layman's Governor For Church League

At a meeting of the state convention of Christian Churches of Texas in Wichita Falls last week, C. L. Thomas of Pampa was elected as one of five governors at large of the laymen's league. Harry Hines of Dallas was re-elected president.

John Mullin, pastor of the local First Christian church, was placed on the recommendations committee for the international convention to be held in the fall at Richmond, Va. Six Pampa men who attended the conference were Ray Wilson, Roy McMillen, Billie Taylor, Fred Gantz, C. L. Thomas, and John Mullen.

Officers said there were about 40 witnesses to the shooting. They said Wilson opened fire with two small caliber automatic pistols. Three bullets hit Littleton's chest, one going into the heart.

Ed Carhart At Age Of 16 Helped Found News At Clarendon In 1880

Carharts Hauled Printing Press In Wagon From Sherman To Clarendon After Printing Monthly News Paper In Oshkosh, Wisconsin

NOTE TO READERS—The second of a series of four articles painting personalities and relating incidents in the history of the Panhandle will appear Tuesday in the News, and will tell colorful happenings in the life of Charlie Wright of Panhandle, famous ranch cook of the pampans in the early days. These articles are being published in connection with the Top O' Texas Fiesta to be held in Pampa, June 13 and 14.

By ARCHER FULLINGIM
PANHANDLE, April 29—Here's one for the books. The first newspaper published in the Panhandle of Texas was written in Clarendon and printed in Oshkosh, Wis.

Furthermore, its editor, E. E. (Ed) Carhart, was 16 years old when publication began.

And that's not all. The copy for the newspaper which at first was a monthly, was written in Clarendon, mailed by stage to Sherman, a distance of 302 miles, thence to Oshkosh by train. In that Wisconsin city the newspaper which was issued monthly was printed and then sent by express to Sherman and back by overland stage to Clarendon.

But the story of that newspaper, and the contents of the four priceless copies of the Clarendon News, which Mr. Carhart lent to this reporter the other day, is another story which will be published in the Pampa News later.

This story will be concerned with the goings and comings of Mr. Carhart in the Panhandle of Texas, and the part he played in the development of Donley and Carson counties. To write the story of Mr. Carhart's life, however brief you would make it, one would of necessity also be writing a chapter in the history of the Panhandle, because his deeds were not only footnotes to his story, but sometimes the titles of chapters.

However, there must be a starting place, and the starting place in this story must be the Clarendon News. Came When 16.

When Mr. Carhart came to old Clarendon which was situated five miles north of the present town, in 1880 he was 16 years old. He came to the Panhandle with his uncle, L. H. Carhart, who was really the founder of the Clarendon News. The uncle was a Methodist minister and in 1881 was made presiding elder of the Dallas district which then included all the territory from Dallas northeast to Denison and north to the Texas line. The Rev. Carhart, travelled all over the Panhandle and North Texas visiting congregations and preaching.

In 1881, the firm of Carhart and Kimball, Charlie Kimball became the editor, and Ed Carhart had charge of the advertising. Before Mr. Carhart moved to Panhandle in 1887, he served as county clerk of Donley county and rode lins for the Quarter Circle Heart ranch, known familiarly then as the "Heart."

Meets Future Wife.
Printing of the Clarendon News in Wisconsin ceased when Rev. Carhart and his young nephew went to Chicago and bought a printing press, type and other printing equipment and shipped them to Clarendon, but that was a great deal easier said than done. The printing shop equipment was first shipped by rail to Sherman and then hauled overland by wagon to Clarendon. The Carharts were weeks on the road

Amarillo Oil Operator Dies

AMARILLO, April 29.—James O. Whittington, 64, cattleman and pioneer oil man who brought in the third well drill in the Panhandle field, died today after a heart attack. He appeared in good health yesterday when he returned by plane from Fort Worth.

He came to the Panhandle in 1887, settling in Briscoe county. His oil operations extended to Kansas, East Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana fields.

Funeral services will be held Monday. Survivors included A. G. Whittington of Houston, a brother, and Mrs. O. F. Chastain of Eastland and Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger, both sisters.

Albert, 'How Could You?'

Professor Albert Einstein used a $15000 check as a book-mark. He lost the book, couldn't remember who had sent the check; and it took Mrs. Einstein weeks to clear up the matter. Other ladies with absent-minded husbands can sympathize—perhaps rejoice that their abstracted mates haven't lost any volumes containing large checks. But if they do, chances are recovery can be effected promptly thru a News classified ad.

bringing the printing equipment to Clarendon. It was at Sherman that something happened that changed young Ed's life. He met a girl named Mary Estella Brewer who had come from Illinois where she was born to Texas with her parents. The Brewer family later moved to Clarendon, and the romance that blossomed in Sherman quickly blossomed in Clarendon, and in December of 1881 young Ed, who was then 17 years old rode to Clarendon and bought a license to be married from W. L. Dixon, county clerk. On Dec. 23, 1881, the young couple were wed. The store was located near where the Panhandle stock pens are now situated. A life-long friend of Mr. Carhart, who also worked on the Heart ranch before moving to Panhandle, was J. S. Wynne. In fact, Mr. Wynne and Mr. Carhart moved to Panhandle at the same time. That was in 1887, when everybody was figuring that the main lines of the Fort Worth & Denver and the Santa Fe would cross at Panhandle. McKinney & Huffman, business firm of Mobeetie, thought it so strongly that they sent Mr. Wynne with a stock of hardware and implements, and White & company also had the same notion and they sent Mr. Carhart to Panhandle with a general stock of goods. Each store occupied half of one building. That was the last move made by Mr. Carhart. He has lived in Panhandle since then, and he has held many positions. He was postmaster eight years and he worked in the Panhandle bank of which he was cashier for 21 years. Of late years he has been in the automobile business, and held the Buick agency in Panhandle. He was also associated with his son-in-law, George Taylor of Pampa, in an automobile agency. One of the biggest problems facing the first residents of Panhandle was how to get drinking water. When it rained you could get it out of nearby lakes, but when everything was dry you had to haul it from the Dixon creek springs, 12 miles from Panhandle. Mr. Carhart paid haulers a dollar a barrel for drinking water, and when it would be delivered at his store half of the water would be siphoned out, but he paid a dollar a barrel just the same. Father Invented Auto. Mr. Carhart has been a loyal member of the Methodist church all his life. His wife, Mrs. Carhart, who passed away several months ago at a local hospital. Mr. Carhart was born Dec. 15, 1865, at Watertown, N. Y. His father was Dr. J. W. Carhart, a physician. The J. W. Carhart family moved to Racine, Wis., when he was six or eight years old and in 1880 to Oshkosh. Dr. Carhart was recognized shortly before his death as the inventor of the automobile by the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, and adopted a set of resolutions recognizing him as the pioneer in the business. He was residing at Racine when he built the first self-propelled vehicle, it was said. Dr. Carhart was a resident of San Antonio at the time of his death. Mrs. Carhart, his brother, died in Clarendon. When Mr. Wynne and Mr. Carhart arrived in Panhandle, James E. Southwood was already there, riding patrol on ten claims sponsored by O. H. Nelson of a Kansas firm. Nelson was the first county judge of Carson county after it was organized, and Jess Wynne was the first sheriff.

Pampa's Amazing Choruses Will Give Massed Concert Thursday

Once again the voices of 350 Pampa school children will rise in song from the stage of the high school auditorium Thursday night.

The concert of all the school glee clubs, quartets, sextets, choruses, choirs and sextets, that amazed Pampans last year, will be repeated beginning at 8 o'clock. It will be the grand concert of the spring season.

As last year, the concert will be preceded by a parade in which 650 school children are expected to march. The colorful parade will be held at 6:30. Generalissimo of the parade and concert will be Miss Helen Martin, director of public school music in the Pampa school system.

Pampa, famous as a band town—it has six bands—is becoming more noted as a town of hundreds of singing children. These children will appear in their grand concert of the year Thursday night.

Last year the spectacle of 850 children, representing the combined choruses, all congregated on the stage, amazed spectators. It was said to be one of the largest singing groups ever gathered in Texas.

Represented in the concert Thursday night will be the Baker school glee club, the Baker ensemble, the Horace Mann glee club, the Horace Mann Sextet, the elementary school chorus, the Sam Houston school glee club, the Sam Houston school quartet, the Woodrow Wilson school glee club, the Woodrow Wilson ensemble, the junior and senior high school choruses, the junior high glee club and senior high school choruses, the junior high sextet, the senior high glee club, the senior high choir, the senior high sextet, and the combined choruses.

A total of 21 vocal numbers will comprise the program, ranging from simple children's songs to classical compositions—American, Italian, Scotch, English, Russian, Finnish, French, Negro folk songs will be on the program. Popular favorites the children will sing will include Stephen Foster's Beautiful Dreamer, Londonderry Air, and others.

and "salesman." "A wrapper clerk," Mr. Carney explained, "feels that he is just there to wait on people." And how they do their waiting—he said, demonstrating by sprawling against a table on the stage. Sales Defined. He defined a sale as "a sale is made when a customer goes out of the store with more goods, or better quality than he expected to buy when he went in; goods that he needed, and that he is satisfied with, after the purchase."

"Wrapper clerks" who inately ask "anything else, today?" were laughed. "Heaven help me from the retail salesman who thinks he has reached the acme of constructive selling in that pitiful 'anything else today?'"

"It doesn't get him anywhere because he puts the burden of thinking on the customer and from natural unconscious force of habit, the customer says, 'No, thank you, and walks out.'"

The salesman, instead of this method, uses an intelligent one, makes tactful suggestions and gives definite reasons for buying, Mr. Carney explained.

Sees Lack of Thought. He demonstrated the lack of thought in a "wrapper clerk" who wrapped up a can of paint for a customer, without even trying to sell the man a paint brush.

"Ye gods, how did he think he was going to put the paint on? Did he think he was going to ram his hand down into the can and dab it up with his hand?" asked Mr. Carney, illustrating his point by running across the stage and slapping his hand against the wall.

Poor Salesmanship Expensive. He declared the power of suggestion the most powerful sales influence in the world, and emphasized the importance of retail salesmen, saying they were the final link in the selling chain and that no product was sold until the product was in the hands of the consumer.

"Poor retail salesmanship is the most expensive thing in the world. Business men are in business to make a net profit. That profit is made only through sales.

"Why do merchants spend more time in buying than in selling? Why do they spend over the United States annually a billion in magazine and newspaper advertising, and fail to consider the most important thing—selling?"

Advices Knowing Goods. Know your goods was the suggestion Mr. Carney offered salesmen. He named seven things that can be learned about any article: 1. The raw materials of which it is made and how these materials are better adapted for the purpose than other materials. 2. Process of manufacture and why they are bet-

City Will Lay Water Line To Recreation Park

Authorization has been granted Pampa to proceed with the laying of a water pipeline from the city limits on the east to Recreation Park, according to a telegram received here Saturday by W. T. Williamson, city manager.

Approval of the highway department was necessary as the pipeline will be on the right of way of U. S. Highway 60. Total distance of the line will be one mile. Work on the line will start Monday morning, Mr. Williamson said.

Extension of the line for a thousand feet in the city will be included as a part of Pampa's PWA waterworks project. From this point the city will carry the line directly to the stables at the park.

City Manager Williamson was cheered by the authorization, as were members of the Top O' Texas as fiesta committees. The fiesta is sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

made a trip over the route. On May 7 both Hines, and R. L. Bobbitt, commission chairman were in Pampa, spoke here, and made a flight over the proposed route of the road.

The project eventually was placed on the list of roads eligible for federal aid, and contracts were let at Austin on November 5, 1937.

The Oil Field Highway 41 association met in Pampa one week after Allhands and Davis men had started work on grading the road. In addition to the grading of the road, construction of four major bridges at Spring, White Deer, and Bear creeks was started at the same time by the Austin Bridge company.

World's Fair Will Open In New York

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Stirred by the arrival of 28 vessels of the U. S. navy's Atlantic squadron, the biggest city in the nation prepared tonight for the opening of the biggest exposition the world has ever seen, the New York world's fair.

Completed two months earlier was the work of a Texas Highway department crew of six men in smoothing out bumps in the paving within the same limits as the Cocker & Braden job.

Workers of Allhands and Davis did a job similar to that of Cocker & Braden, on Highway 33, between Kingsmill and the Potter county line, after the Dallas contractors had finished grading work on the Pampa-Borger road.

Jaycees Hear Official Flay Freight Rates

PORT WORTH, April 29. (AP)—New industrial frontiers will be opened to the young men of Texas if existing freight rate barriers on trade with the north and east are struck down, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said here.

Addressing about 500 delegates at a luncheon session of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce convention, Thompson challenged the young men to help give Texas industries a "new lease on life" by concerted action to break down discriminatory barriers.

"If this generation of young business men can by concerted effort make possible for manufacturers in Texas to get on equal break with those in the north and east, we shall see the dawn of a new industrial era in Texas," Thompson declared.

"Nothing holds Texas and the southwest back more than this unjust condition. Nothing could give more encouragement to the youth of

Revival Will Begin Today At Church Of The Brethren

Beginning today at the Church of the Brethren, 600 North Frost street, is a revival campaign which is to continue for two weeks.

The Rev. Russell G. West of Roanoke, Va., will deliver the message. Services will be held each evening at 8 o'clock.

Young People Of Endeavor To Have Program On Hymns

"Hymns" is the theme of the program to be presented this evening at a meeting of Young People's Endeavor at the First Christian church.

Taking part on the program will be Juanita Dewey, Valerie Austin, Sylvia Goodwin, and Walter Haynes.

At a meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Avie Haiskell, the devotional on "Love That is Measureless" was presented by the hostess. C. T. Hightower conducted the business session in which plans were today than eliminating these barriers to healthy condition.

Thompson challenged that the railroads could and should promptly on a sound basis unless they reduce costs materially and provide continually improved service. He said the railroads should make the rates so low a man "couldn't afford to use his car."

"The thing that bothers me," he continued, "is that we have allowed to be built up in the southwest differential and rate differences which are militating against development of our part of the country."

"And it is my belief the Texas railroads could and should promptly remove this differential by filing with the Interstate Commerce Commission a new rate schedule showing commercial rates in line with the rates of eastern railroads."

A solution to the conditions will come, he said, by "constant hammering away at this problem." Thus, he continued, the rails would rehabilitate themselves and give the south and southwest parity rates with the east.

Thompson also condemned the freight structures that "force all development to be at some tidewater point because the freight rate structure makes impossible interior competition."

"Prompt, speedy, frequent service at cheaper rates will save the rails," he concluded. "Nobody pays for not hauling. The rails must go after the business."

T. L. Fontaine, Houston, state Jaycee president, in his keynote address, paid tribute to the founder of the Junior Chamber of Commerce movement 25 years ago, Henry Geisenbier of St. Louis. The visitors by noon numbered more than 600, with the large Houston and San Antonio delegations yet to arrive.

At a breakfast session directors appointed three committees to report at a similar meeting Saturday. They are a committee for assisting

EVANGELISTS

A revival which will continue for two weeks is to begin today at the Assembly of God church, 500 South Cuyler street, with the Rev. Morris Letkovitz, above, a converted Jew of Oklahoma City, preaching. Services will begin each evening at 7:45 o'clock with the children's services at 7:30 o'clock. Special singing in the Jewish language will be a feature of each service with Mrs. Letkovitz assisting. The evangelist's subjects will include "Hitler in God's Program," "A Court Trial," "When Jesus Rejected Christ," "From Judaism to Christianity," "Personal Testimony," and "Where Are the Dead?" The Rev. H. E. Comstock is pastor of the church.

House May Vote On Tax Proposal Next Wednesday

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The Texas legislature's usual adjournment time rapidly approaching, yeoman members agreed today it still was questionable whether the lawmakers would accept any of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's program for new aid-age pension taxes.

For the present at least, the only tax plan with any chance of passage was the O'Daniel-blessed constitutional amendment imposing a two per cent retail sales levy and boosting imports on oil, sulphur and natural gas. Some house members believed the proposed amendment would muster the needed 100 votes while others insisted it would not.

Advocates of the proposal, approved three weeks ago by the senate, lost in four moves yesterday for a special setting of it. The largest vote they were able to obtain was 91 and a two-thirds majority was needed. The house has 150 members.

The lawmakers would go home one week from Tuesday if they followed the constitutional suggestion of 120-day biennial sessions. Except for a 50 per cent pay cut, however, there is nothing to keep them from staying all year if they desire. The general opinion was that the session's end was between 14 and 21 days away.

The sales-natural resource tax amendment, probably will come up in regular order in the house Wednesday. In that event, there might be a vote on it Wednesday or Thursday. If the house should give it 100 votes, it would return to the senate for concurrence or non-concurrence in house changes.

So the Public May Know

Up in Dallam county the commissioners' court has taken a step to remove the mystery (to the average citizen) about the workings of the various courthouse offices.

The commissioners there have authorized newspaper publication of the bills paid and approved by them each month.

The statement is issued in tabulated form, shows to whom each check was issued, what was for, upon what fund it was drawn and the amount. It takes up a small space in the paper and is published at a very low cost.

In Dallam county they have found that the statement has become of great interest to both local and non-resident taxpayers. It gives the citizens a clear picture each month of what is transpiring in governmental circles. Many letters of praise and appreciation for the move have been received by the commissioners.

All cards are placed upon the table in the report, and it definitely takes county officials from "behind the eight-ball" insofar as suspicious gossip-mongers are concerned. It takes them off the spot as targets for the "political outs" and the ever present busy-bodies—because the statement appraises everybody of what is spent, and for what and to whom it is paid.

Publication of such a statement, provided by law but generally ignored by county officials because there is no penalty for not living up to it, puts the record in black and white where everyone can see it.

When every governmental unit in Texas adopts a similar practice, economical government will be a reality, the taxpayers will be pleased and every office holder will have cleared his skirts of any possible charge of unfairness and dishonesty. It appears to be cheap insurance for both citizens and conscientious public officials.

Danzig Calls Hitler's Bluff

Ever since Munich the popular cry in this country has been that someone ought to call Hitler's bluff, just as France forced Mussolini to back down on his bullying demands for territory in the Mediterranean area. The facts are that Hitler's bluff has been called in a manner most ingloriously for him in the strange case of the free city of Danzig.

The Danzigers are overwhelmingly pro-Nazi, so much so that Storm Troopers march about the streets continuously and the German-Nazi element dominates the entire city. The Danzig Nazis have been looking for a long time toward Berlin with the hope the triumphant German legions would march into their city as they did into Vienna and Prague.

There are several factors to deter Hitler from entering Danzig where he has already been made an honorary citizen. The first is the absence of good lines of communication across the Polish Corridor from the German frontier to the city. The second is the presence near Danzig of the powerful Polish army, poised strategically so that it can block a German invasion. Even if by a sudden, improbable move, the German troops should seize Danzig, the Polish artillery is situated so that it could destroy the city and its occupants easily.

In brief, Poland has called the Hitler bluff by the first showing of determined opposition against the supposedly invincible Nazi war machine. History may ultimately record the stand of Poland at Danzig, not so widely noticed when it occurred, as the turning point in aggression by the European dictators. Hitler has balked down the first time he was faced with an obstacle that was more than a mere shadow.

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 30—Being a peace lobbyist in Washington right now is not exactly the sort of job you'd pick if you were looking for a soft snap. But it hasn't got Dorothy Detzer down, even though she admits that the tide is running pretty strongly against her.

Miss Detzer runs the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom, and is one of the battle-scarred faithful in the peace lobby here. She can remember back to the time when the peace lobby could run a temperature over the addition of a couple of new cruisers to the fleet.

In number of years that, isn't so very long ago. Psychologically, though, it seems like an aeon or so.

Against The Wall

For right now the peace lobby is backed into a corner. It takes heart when it looks on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—which it does, every time that committee holds a hearing—for the committee contains stalwarts like Borah, Johnson, LaFollette and Capper. But beyond that, there is little in the atmosphere of present-day Washington to cheer it.

As a matter of fact, there are only a few full-time peace organizations on the job these days. Many groups such as the League of Women Voters have peace committees, which devote more or less time to the anti-war movement. But of regular, heart-and-soul peace groups there are probably not more than half a dozen.

Most prominent among them are Miss Detzer's group and the National Council for the Prevention of War. World Peaceviews continues active with an effective advertising campaign. Then there are the People's

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

MINIMUM WAGES If there is any one thing that is responsible for continued unemployment, it is the belief in various minimum wages; that is, that certain kinds of work must have a minimum hourly wage scale. Twenty-five years ago, we often heard the expression that "a half loaf is better than none," but now we have adopted the policy that if workers cannot get what the politicians tell the workers they are worth, or what some labor racketeer, who has no job for them, tells them they are worth, they are not supposed to work. The result of this is the greatest disparity in the history of American industry between the wages the producer of farm crops gets and the wage union workers get. This disparity, of course, is the cause of lack of purchasing power by these groups.

Unless this belief in various minimum wages, established by labor unions and by law, is corrected, we will continue to get poorer until we get so discouraged and disheartened that we will consent to give up our independence to have some Moses lead us out of the wilderness; or we will get so weak that some other nation that does not follow the fallacious theory of minimum wages will become so strong that they will take us over.

One of the primary tests between the so-called democracy and the totalitarian state is the difference in belief in minimum wages. England and France have believed in minimum wages and their production, because of their belief that a half loaf was not better than none, has been so low and they have become so weak that they have been obliged to make concession after concession to the nations that believed that a half loaf is better than no loaf.

FARM SUBSIDY AND TARIFFS

Now that the government, by its policies, has been unable to raise the price of farm products so that the farm workers are rewarded on a somewhat equal basis to what others receive, we hear much about the necessity of farm subsidy because of tariffs.

One of the leaders of the farm bloc in Washington recently made a speech attempting to justify subsidy to the farmer because of tariffs.

While we are not at all attempting to defend tariffs, it seems there is quite a difference between tariffs and subsidy, or selling farm products to foreign consumers for less than to local workers. It is true that tariffs do make exporters of farm products work for less than if there were no tariffs, but there is nothing to prevent any producer of farm products from producing those things on which there is a tariff. This would correct the lack of parity between the two and it would not do harm to any citizen.

If we give subsidy and more and more people continue in the line that is subsidized, or enter because of the lack of production of what is most needed.

So, it seems the argument that, because we have tariffs, we are under obligations to subsidize things that are over-produced, is not sound reasoning. There is no sound excuse whatever for subsidizing production of farm products. Two wrongs do not make a right. It only increases the value of natural resources and that is something we do not wish to do. Let those people, who are not being properly rewarded, go into the business in which the rewards are greater because of protective tariffs, or, better still, let's repeal tariffs on everything excepting what we might need in this country because of war blockade.

"PLENTY"

There is a great deal of confusion about the abundance of material things. Most people believe there is a limited amount of work to be done. And these same people invariably are the people who believe there is plenty—that we have everything for everybody in this country. It is largely a misunderstanding of what there is plenty of that is the cause of most of our trouble. This misunderstanding causes laws and customs to be established that prevent wealth from being produced. As long as there are human wants, and these wants are only supplied by work, there is plenty of work to be done. It is the interference with doing this work that is causing our trouble. Labor unions, laws limiting hours of work are all the result of the belief that work is scarce and has to be divided, so there will be enough to go around.

If people could come to understand that it is not plenty of the comforts of life we have, but plenty of work to be done, then we would be on the road to happiness.

Mandate, the Fellowship of Reconciliation—and, possibly, one or two more.

Miss Detzer freely admits that public sentiment seems to be veering away from the old idea that the way to stay out of war is to stay out of any relationships that might lead up to war. This, she feels, is partly due to the seriousness of the international situation and partly to the leadership being provided by the White House.

Firm Isolation

"If you have a President—who's in a position to know what's going on in the world—getting up and saying that we must meet force with force, and stirring up public feeling, the public is bound to react with the most primitive emotion, which is fear," she says.

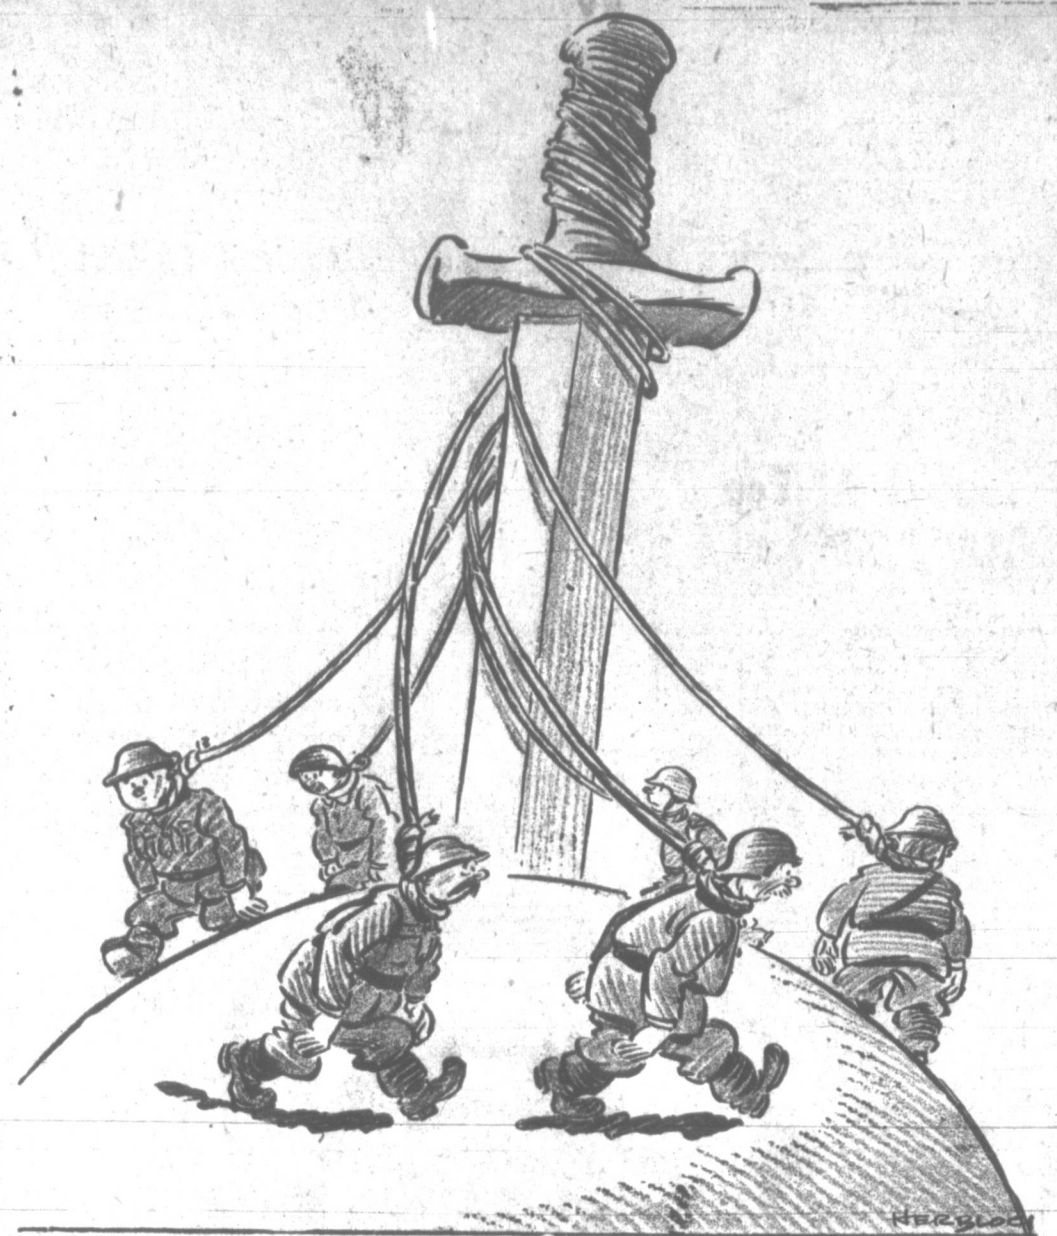

"If we had a President who wanted to have the United States serve as a negotiator or mediator, he would suppress these emotional reactions to the situation and would try to function as such. But this appeal to the nations for a conference can't have a very happy effect in Germany, coming one day after he says that we must meet force with force."

The organized peace movement as Miss Detzer sees it must cling to the old isolationist position—on the ground that by trying actively to avert a war we succeed only in entangling ourselves so that if war does come we are involved in it. And she thinks that a great deal of foggy thinking is being done these days about the moral values involved.

"If we take sides in the coming war," she says, "it will not be because we are opposed to nation which break treaties because France broke her treaty with Czechoslovakia, and all the great powers have failed to carry out their obligations under the League of Nations. No, we'd simply be taking sides between two imperialisms in a struggle for power."

"I believe the most important thing in the world is to keep democracy—somewhere. Of course, American democracy goes the minute we get into a war. Therefore if we would serve the world we must stay out of war and preserve democracy at home."

MAYPOLE

Yesteryear In The News

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY W. A. Bratton was elected president of the Pampa Hoo Hoo club, an organization of lumber men.

Plans were completed for Pampa's delegation to go to Sayre, Okla., to attend a meeting of Oilfield Highway Association No. 41.

Details of equipment useful to peace officers were kept with Judge C. E. Cary for consideration of the commissioners court.

A "full house" greeted City Police Judge W. A. Craven when he called the court to order. The city officers made 12 arrests during the week-end.

Book A Day

Alfred Bingham, radical son of conservative Senator Hiram Bingham, has been groping for social and political truth for several years. His newest diagnosis and prescription "Man's Estate" (W. W. Norton & Co., Inc., $3), involve a sort of New Deal, a radical program grounded in American needs and characteristics. This is how Bingham outlines his farewell to dogmatic radicalism:

A few years ago I liked to call myself a revolutionist. It was fashionable in many quarters to think and talk in terms of "revolution." Since it was a virtue to be "left," then the further "left" you were, the greater your virtue.

I still believe the changes we are passing through are "revolutionary" in broad historic sense. But I have too healthy a respect for human inertia and the human feelings that are hurt when it is severely disturbed. I have too much respect for the difficulty of establishing "going concerns" and for the importance of keeping them going when they perform important functions like feeding cities, I have too much respect for the value of automatic adjustments to want to see the whole job of starting up a new economic system dumped all at once in anyone's lap.

A revolution in the sense conceived, let us say by some of our extreme left-wingers, is a horribly wasteful and painful process. In addition it is a waste of automatic adjustments to want to see the whole job of starting up a new economic system dumped all at once in anyone's lap.

In view of the inertia of social habits this is likely to happen only under the most frightful dislocations, as after a disastrous war. No sane person can wish to see such dislocations occur.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim All this last week you could have had all the flowers that are blooming now, but as for me I was satisfied with C. P. Buckler's lilacs and irises which were in full bloom. The irises line the walks next to the border of rocks and back of them are massed the sweet-smelling lilacs.

But all the sweetness in life is not in lilacs. Here is the boxing ring at Stinnett, and crowded to the top is a yelling mob of fans. Fighting and dodging on the blood-spattered canvas is one of this one's favorite boxes, his black head bobbing and ducking. What matters if the other boy is four inches taller and everybody is saying that he should win? They don't know how to fight. Here is young life, manly, fighting, hurting and being hurt, inflicting and taking pain—as it always must until "Death the black over" and The Boy has won. "I could have hit him in the stomach more, but I couldn't think of it often enough. I would think, Now I'll hit him in the stomach and I would. When I hit him on the chin in the second it made me mad because he didn't go down, not mad, just surprised. Every once in a while I'd think that if he were to connect one to my chin and knock me out. . . . But I don't attach to much importance to what I was thinking, because I thought of a lot of things not even connected with the fight."

The Family Doctor

By Morris Fishbein Again and again, I have pointed out in this column the importance of rheumatic fever as a dangerous crippling disease, far more dangerous than many another condition with which people are frequently concerned, far more crippling than infantile paralysis which receives much more attention because it is a visibly crippling disease.

The people who are crippled by rheumatic fever carry their crippled organ—the heart—hidden away in the chest. Recently careful records were kept of 1,000 cases of rheumatic fever. There were 480 boys and 520 girls, varying in age from 2 to 30 years. Most of the cases appear during late winter and spring, the minimum number occurring during October and November.

The fatality rate in these 1,000 cases was very high. Fifty-nine died during the year. Of these, 17 deaths were charged directly to the disease, 34 to heart disease, and eight to other conditions which occurred coincidentally. Some of these children had infected ears; some developed meningitis; some developed disturbances of the kidneys.

There is some hope in the figures of a great insurance company which indicate that the number of cases of death from rheumatic fever and heart disease in young people is decreasing and that acute rheumatic fever is less prevalent than formerly.

News Clearing House

Editor, "Sharing Comforts" As one of your old school pupils, I have often wished for an opportunity to thank you and congratulate you on your "Sharing Comforts" column published in the Alliance Review, so I shall have to write you.

Your column should have a place in every newspaper in the U. S., as you are publishing truths that the people need to know and act on.

On reading the vapourings of your critics in the Review, one is compelled to realize, they do not know what a "humanist" is, nor what makes a Christian. Their conception of democracy is still more hazy, when they hail Roosevelt as the champion of democracy. If democracy as we have known it in our lifetime, is completely destroyed, it will be the result of ignorance and greed unrestrained. I cannot help thinking of the irony of the propaganda so industriously fed to the American people over the past twenty-five years in respect to education. Anyone who attempted to expose the nature of the education furnished through high schools and state universities was a fossil, a relegate to a Bolshevik. No sacrifice was too great, if it was labeled education. And the people fall for it. Many educators who deny any sympathy with Communism, are at the same time preaching the principles of Marxism.

The system of education that shows truth and discards experience and history as of no value, is compelling people to furnish the means to destroy—human liberty and the practice of democracy. Some of the things I think the brains at Washington cooperating with the educators, plan to set up some hybrid form of government in this country, so that democracy and Communism will be pals. If the real motives of this Administration are exposed, the mass of the people will not be convinced that their hero led them astray. One question whether people can take a lesson from their own experience and struggle for existence in these crazy days. One thing is certain—in their fatuous belief they are being helped by government, in reality, they are paying a terrific price in denial of opportunities and lowered standards of living.

So long as present policies prevail, the standard of living will naturally be progressively lower. And the large percentage of people, unwilling to recognize the true cause of their troubles, stand in the way of change leading to our former methods of government—a local administration of schools and relief.

Hard work and thrift have always brought us out of "hard times," but they will not pull the load this time. "Hard sense" is needed now along with the old prescription that will dispense with much of the government that has grown on us.

While magic, social experiments and war has the center of the stage, there can be little basis for better times. Business, industry and agriculture can save the people and the country. Will they have the opportunity?

Hoping you will continue with the writing, I am, Yours truly, L. W. RANDOLPH.

P. S. Has any country ever been beset with so many ideas of getting something for nothing? Anything to avoid the effort of work or honest thinking. So political and private rackets flourish and the confusion grows.

So They Say

If I leave this chamber it will not be because of trickery. It will be because you carry out my dead body. —ARTHUR O' SWEENEY, Oklahoma legislator, leader of one-man crusade to force utilities to pay cost of annual rate hearings.

In the U. S. race co-operation must replace hatred. Class division must be abolished. —Representative EDITH NOURSE ROGERS (R-Mass.), speaking to D. A. R.

There is better than a 50-50 chance that war will come in three months. —COL. FRANK KNOX, Chicago newspaper publisher.

The future of democracy today is so much less certain it was half century ago that we must be alert and vigilant not just some of the time, but all of the time. —U. S. ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK MURPHY.

That amendment to the Wagner Labor act—prohibiting a closed shop—is the most important of them all. It is unlikely to be accepted by Congress, at least for some time. —SENATOR EDWARD R. BURKE, Nebraska Democrat.

Picnic Held By Alnared Classes

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS ALNARED, April 29.—The freshmen and sophomore classes of the Alnared high school had a picnic recently on the Agee farm north of Alnared. The picnic was well attended and after an hour's romping and fun the lunch consisting of roasted wieners, bread, pickles, roasted marshmallows, fruit and many other goodies soon vanished. The group then went to McLean on a skating party which furnished plenty of fun with the many thrills and spills.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

MOST OF THE druggists talk around town these days has abated from Hitler's speech and the possibilities of war to baseball and the possibilities of the Pampa Oilers. They have stepped off to a splendid season's start and if only they can keep up the pace, Pampa fans will get to see that play-off series at summer's end. . . . There was a fair crowd out Saturday for the first game with Lubbock, and today it is expected the stands will be full for the second whirl with the Hubbers.

Ralph W. Carney took the floor a bit of "cold turkey" in his pep talk from the stage of a filled auditorium in City Hall Friday night. . . . Mr. Carney worked so hard that he loosened his tie and peeled off his coat in order to get his message across. . . . Without mentioning any names, he took a cut at the present administration when he described the practice of economic security to all over 65, kicking Utopian dream plans into a cocked hat, and rapped the current policy of public spending without any thought of who is going to pay the Piper, or how.

AS A RESULT, several in the audience got the idea that he was a Republican sent out to whack down the Democrats. The common sense suggestions Mr. Carney made about getting back on the path of governmental sanity and sound business were removed long ago from the category of partisan politics. . . . The fiery speaker wasn't deriding Republicans. . . . He wasn't talking Republicanism. . . . After all, policies of both Democrats and Republicans originally were intended to be patterned from democracy. . . . Democracy is Americanism. . . . Mr. Carney was talking Americanism from the word go in his Friday night remarks.

It just happens that so-called Democrats now are the ones in power advocating the unsound principle of spending like a drunken sailor. . . . If so-called Republicans were doing it, Mr. Carney would be just as vociferously against it. . . . It's the principle of the thing he had in mind—not partisan politics.

MR. CARNEY, YOU know, has a very old-fashioned remedy for curing the country's ills. . . . In fact, it's so old-fashioned and so commonplace he almost apologizes to his audience when he calls their attention to it. . . . Work, thrift and saving on the part of individual Americans always has done the job in the past and it always will in the future, he points out.

But to get back to this policy it will be necessary for educators to learn that such an idea must be instilled in the minds of children. . . . They must not get the idea that governmental security will make it unnecessary for them to work if worst comes to worst.

THE SOONER EVERY last one of us comes to the realization that without individual effort there is absolutely no reward of any kind, the better off we'll all be and the sooner we'll get back on the right path to sane and sound progress as a nation. . . . All the crack-pots politicians and misdirected educators in the world cannot change that rule of life. . . . There just isn't any sound substitute for it.

STORIES IN STAMPS

When U. S. Battleships Cost Mere Thousands THE United States navy has come a long way since the days when Oliver Hazard Perry felled trees, shazard them and built his own battleships on the shores of Lake Erie in 1813. The newest U. S. battleships cost upwards of $10,000,000 each. Perry built his staunch vessels for about $10,000 apiece.

Perry was given command of a fleet in 1813 with orders to break the British hold on the fresh water and thus pave the way for recovery of the northwest. Accordingly, he set about building his ships at Presque Isle (now Erie, Pa.), on Lake Erie. In a few months he had completed six vessels, to which three other vessels were added to comprise his entire battle squadron.

Those ships brought Perry victory in one of the most heroic naval battles in history, the battle of Lake Erie, in which Perry turned disaster into a complete rout for the British. The Lawrence and the Niagara were the two outstanding ships in that battle. When the Lawrence was wrecked, Perry changed quickly to the Niagara and turned the tide of battle.

The Lawrence and the Niagara together cost about $19,500. They were 490 tons each. The Niagara was raised, rebuilt in 1913. But today she lays a warped wreck, trussed up on the shore of the peninsula at Erie, Pa. Her commander, Perry, is shown above on a U. S. stamp of the series of 1894, $1 black, enlarged. Envoy And Cardenas To Discuss Oil Deal

SAN ANTONIO, April 29 (AP)—Mexican Ambassador Francisco Castillo Najera left here today for Torreon, Mexico, the San Antonio Evening News said, "probably to discuss with President Lazaro Cardenas some proposition which has been made in connection with dispute over Mexican expropriation of oil properties."

The envoy to the United States said he would return here Monday, the paper reported, to continue his conference with Donald Richberg, attorney for the Mexican and British oil companies involved.

Cardenas has been making a tour of northern Mexico.

The Department of Agriculture expects South Atlantic poultry producers to buy 12 per cent more hatchery chicks in 1939 than in 1938.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—News from Europe and developments on the home front provided little speculative inspiration today and the stock market ended an apathetic week in an exceptionally narrow groove.

It was one of the lightest sessions in nearly a year, transfers for the two hours totaling 172,330 shares. The volume for April amounted to 20,247,438 shares against 24,563,174 in March.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 44.2, but on the week was unchanged.

After sleeping on yesterday's speech of Hitler, answering the peace plea of President Roosevelt, most traders came to the conclusion that the cross-war puzzle was a long way from being solved.

Steels, backward at the start, were given a belated lift on hopes the soft coal tie-up, presently an influence in winding mill operations, would be settled by the start of next week. Also some buying came into this group on the thought recent prices may have discounted slackening production.

Although automotive output apparently has passed the spring peak, there was timid nibbling at motor shares on reports sales were maintaining satisfactory levels.

Among shares moderately ahead today were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, American Smelting, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Allied Chemical and Du Pont.

Crowley was fairly active and higher on announcement of plans for a new low priced car.

Behind were American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Anaconda, Westinghouse, General Electric and American Can.

Soviet Fliers Silent About Plane Crash

MISCOU ISLAND, N. B., April 29 (AP)—Two Soviet airmen, comforted by rescuers, tonight refused to talk about their ill-fated non-stop flight from Moscow to New York.

Brigadier General Vladimir Kokkinaki, pilot, and his radio operator-navigator, Major Mikhail Gordienko, refused to leave on rescue ships which flew to this sparsely settled island.

Peter Baranov, a compatriot who joined them, declined to discuss the flight. He said a report would be sent to the Russian embassy in Washington.
Baranov and Dr. Louis S. Spector of New York, planned to remain on the island until the aviators are taken off tomorrow in separate flights in a light plane.

First to arrive in mid-afternoon was a huge Royal Canadian Air Force flying boat from Halifax, N. S., which landed in icy waters about three miles from the rough farm meadow where the Russian plane crashed up last night. Little more than an hour later a light land plane from Moncton landed on the island a mile from the discarded ship.

Both parties went immediately to Brigadier General Vladimir Kokkinaki, the Russian pilot, and his radio operator-navigator, Major Mikhail Gordienko, who had remained throughout the night and day by their ship.

Two physicians—one the Russian speaking Dr. Louis S. Spector, of New York—examined General Kokkinaki, who suffered two broken ribs when the plane was forced down by engine trouble.

Seymour To Close Up For Fishing Monday

SEYMOUR, April 29 (AP)—This West Texas town of 2,700 persons will be a ghost city Monday because its angling population is so serious about the opening of fishing season they make a holiday of it.
School rooms will be empty. A skeleton crew will be on duty at the fire house. There will be enough officers on hand to protect the town's valuables. Courts will be closed.

Oilers Smash Out 22 Hits To Win 20 To 0 Stinnett Takes Own Boxing Tournament With 5 Wins

Art Verengia Gives Hubbers Only 2 Hits

Only two hits separated Art Verengia, Pampa Oiler pitcher, from baseball's hall of fame as he set the Lubbock Hubbers down with a couple of bingles here Saturday afternoon. While Verengia was hurling air tight ball, the Oilers jumped on Sandretto for 22 hits good for 33 bases and a 20 to 0 victory.

The win put the Oilers in second place in the league standing with four wins and one loss. Lamson's surprise entry in the league welcomed Midland yesterday for their fifth straight win, 13 to 10. Amarillo outlasted Clovis to win 6 to 5 while Big Spring and Abilene were scheduled to battle in a late night game.

The Oilers and Hubbers will tee off again this afternoon at 1 o'clock for the last home game until next Sunday when Midland will visit Pampa.

Second Game Today.
Manager Seitz had not decided on his starting pitcher last night but intimated that it would be either Frank Grabek, who defeated Amarillo here opening day, or Milbert Vannoy. There was a chance, however, that he might start Richard Ellis.

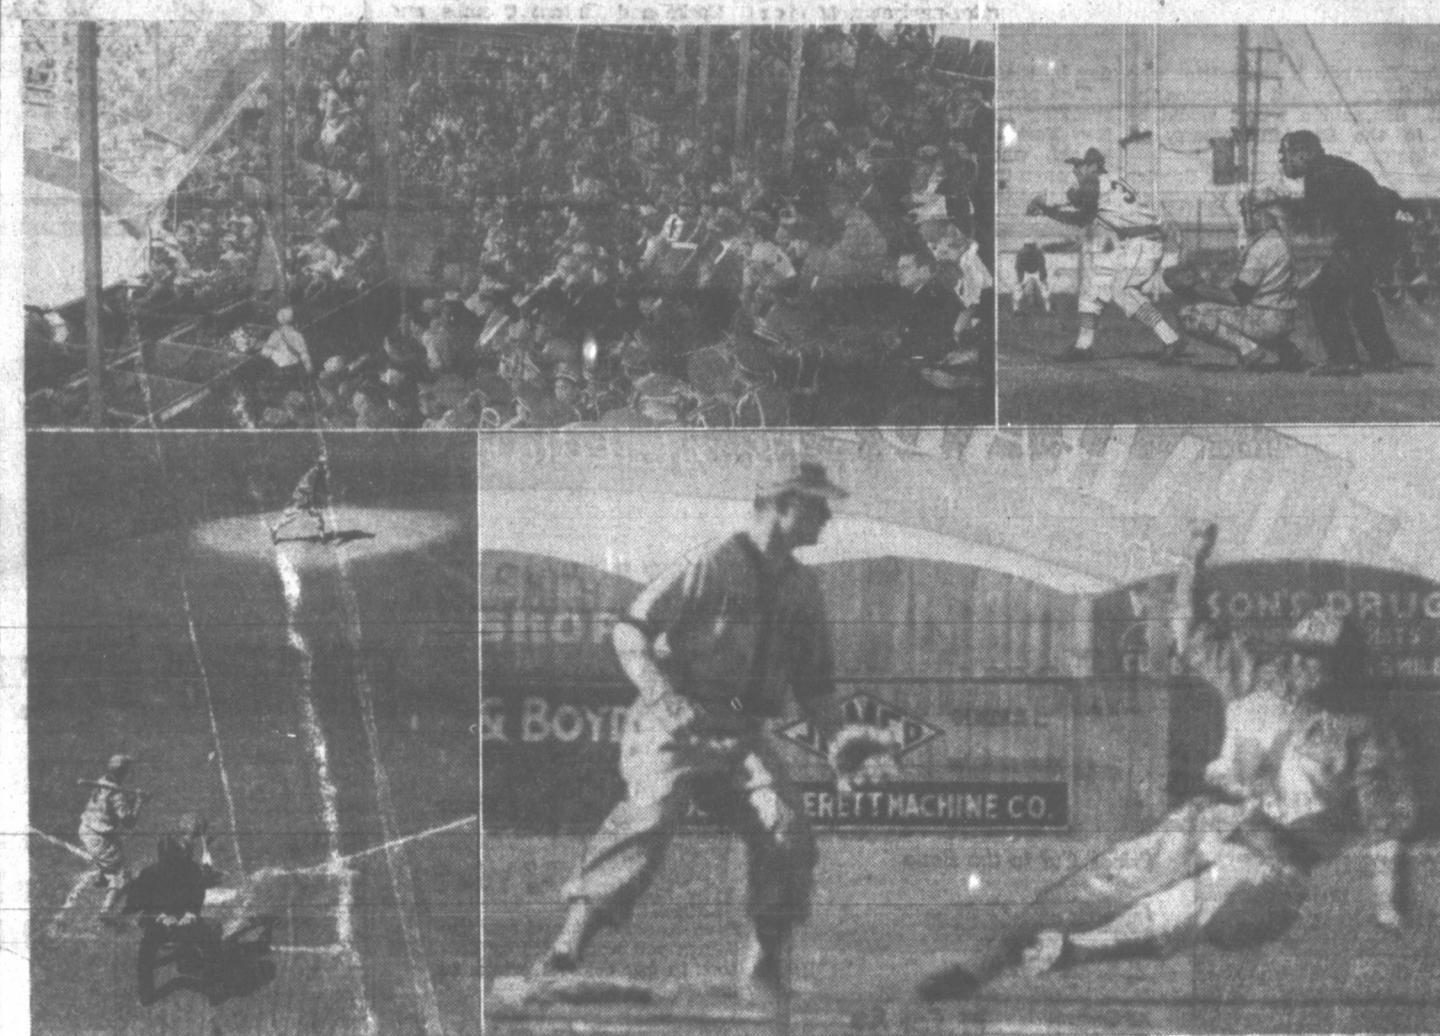

Manager Faulkner of the Hubbers would not name a chucker but said he would be the best he had.

Verengia, a frail looking right-hander who appeared to be throwing a job ball, allowed only 15 batters to face him in the first five innings. Hatcher broke the string in the sixth with a blast through the box. Verengia then settled down and it was not until the last of the ninth when Cross slipped one down the third base line that the Hubbers got their second bingle of the game.

While Verengia was moving the opposition down, ably assisted by eight hustling Oilers who gave sparkling exhibitions of baseball. Manager Faulkner left Steve Sandretto on the mound for the full distance. Sandretto didn't have a great deal of trouble getting two batters out but he just couldn't seem to get the necessary third.

Seven In Fifth.
In the fifth Sandretto had no trouble retiring Gyresan and Verengia but before he got the next batter out, seven runs had crossed the plate on six hits and three walks. Again in the eighth Sandretto got two out and then eight

AS WINNING PAMPA TEAM BEAT AMARILLO IN OPENER

Action packed the opening game of professional baseball in Pampa on Thursday as pictures above reveal. And Pampa won the game from Amarillo 9 to 4.

runs crossed the plate on seven hits, including Heiskell's home run with two on board, two walks and one error.

Manager Seitz strode to the plate six times during the game, wagged his big bat in Sandretto's direction, and then poled out four doubles and a single. Seitz batted two of his doubles in the hectic eighth.

Although Sandretto is a left-hander, he held no terror for Bill Garbe, California's pride and joy, who slugged two triples and two singles.

Pampa's Claude Heiskell, playing with a badly swollen hand, hoisted one of Sandretto's pet pitches over the left field fence in the ninth with two aboard after he had hit a single and double.

The other big hitter of the afternoon was Senor Verengia himself with two doubles and a single.

Sluggier Nell hopped on a couple for a single and double but was walked twice, once intentionally, and was hit. The Lubbock board of strategy decided to walk Nell in the fifth with two on base and two out and Leftfielder Bill Garbe coming up. But Mr. Garbe decided not to be the goat so he crashed out on a screaming single to score two runs and then executed a double steal with Nell for another Oiler run.

Sparkling plays dotted the game with Swift, new secondbaseman, showing up as a snappy fielder. His stick appeared uncertain but he may develop into a second All Summers whom he resembled in the field. Heiskell came up with another lifesaver while the three outfielders were chased to the fence to snag flies.

In Mossel, the Hubbers have a first baseman who belongs to the White Sox and he wears glasses. Stevens, second baseman, is also in Lubbock from the White Sox.

Pampa Golfers Lose At Mineral Wells

Three Pampa golfers lost first round matches in the Mineral Wells Country club golf tournament Friday, two of them in extra hole matches.

Grover Austin, Jr., Pampa ace, lost in 19 holes to Doug Jones of Big Spring, 1938 finalist in the championship flight.

In the first flight, Tommy White took Hal Collins of Big Spring the longest distance ever recorded in any tournament when he lost on the 25th hole.

Third Pampa man was Jim White who dropped a decision to Ashby Stephenville in the third flight.

Hessey And Coons First In Division

Pampa's Jack Hessey and Bill Coons won golden gloves as the Stinnett boxing team took its own tournament in the finals last night.

Hessey knocked out Baker of Phillips in the heavyweight division and Coons decided Roy Ray of Pampa in the 135-pound lightweight division.

Up to that time, McDonald had definitely out-pointed the tough Alamreed boy who has not lost a fight in school competition this season.

1,254-Barrel Well Brought In Near LeFors

Group to Present Program At Box Supper On Monday
Students of Kathryn Vincent Steels will present a program at the Phillips school Parent-Teacher association box supper Monday evening. The group will practice Monday afternoon in the studio for the entertainment which will include songs, dances, and readings.

8 Locations Filed And 9 Wells Gauged

The Texas company last week completed one of the year's best wells when its No. 16 M. B. Davis in section 9, block 1, ACH&B survey, three miles southeast of LeFors, central Gray county, was gauged at 1,254 barrels in granite wash pay.

Nine new wells were completed during the week with total potential 4,391 barrels. Four gas wells were gauged for a total of 40,731,000 cubic feet.

The field recorded eight new locations, two in Gray, Moore, and Hutchinson counties and one in Carson and Potter counties. Five of the new locations were stated in gas territory.

The new gas area in extreme southeastern Gray county will get another test. Ball and Foster staked a location for their No. 1 R. L. Harlan in the southwest corner of section 119, block 23, H&GN survey, which is a direct offset to the Lone Star Gas company's No. 2 Fowler, section 118, block 23, which was gauged last week for 5,576,000 cubic feet.

A new gas area was opened in southwestern Gray county when the Northern Natural Gas company's No. 1 Baird-Talley in section 219, block B-2, H&GN survey, was gauged at 1,132,000 cubic feet. The test is two miles south of the Cities Service Gas company's Hess, previously south edge of the gas area.

New oil production in Gray county amounted to 2,150 barrels from four wells. The four Hutchinson county producers gauged 1,903 barrels.

The Panhandle's most interesting wildcat, the Smith Brothers Refining company's No. 1 Ribble in section 46, block A-B, H&GN survey, Wheeler county, was drilled Saturday at 2,145 feet.

Completions by counties follow:
In Gray County.
S. & S. Oil company No. 4 B-n-ton, section 64, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 403 barrels with lime formation from 3,205 to 3,294 feet.
Sunray Oil company No. 4 Ferguson, section 38, block B-2, H&GN survey, tested 311 barrels. Pay was between 2,935 and 3,000 feet in lime.
Sinclair-Pratt Oil company No. 6 R. W. Harrah, section 163, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 191 barrels with lime pay between 3,169 and 3,278 feet. The hole was bottomed at 3,293 feet.

The Texas company No. 16 M. B. Davis, section 9, block 1, ACH&B survey, was given a potential of 1,254 barrels. Granite wash pay was from 2,700 to 2,750 feet.
In Hutchinson County.
Bob Murphy No. 5 Whittenburg, section 59, block 46, H&TC survey, gauged 345 barrels with pay between 2,815 and 2,896 feet.

Stansylvania Oil company No. 5 Beck, section 36, block M, TCRR survey, tested 437 barrels. Lime pay was between 2,970 and 3,060 feet. The hole was drilled to a total depth of 3,131 feet but plugged back.

Texylvania Oil company No. 7 Harvey, section 14, block M-21, TCRR survey, was gauged at 382 barrels with pay from 3,000 to 3,070 feet in lime.
Midstates Oil company No. A-25 Whittenburg, section 11, block M-21, TCRR survey, gauged 739 barrels with lime formation between 2,912 and 2,956 feet.

In Carson County.
Magnolia Petroleum company No. 53, Fee Land 244, section 109, block 4, I&GN survey, tested 338 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,075 to 3,135 feet.
Gas wells gauged and given potentials:

In Gray County.
Northern Natural Gas company No. 1 Baird-Talley, section 219, block B-2, H&GN survey, tested 9,138,000 cubic feet.

Pampans Resume Drilling On Test Well In Colorado

Casing is being moved in on the Hulme-Johnson & Allison Azar No. 1 well at Branson, Colo., and drilling ahead will be resumed Monday or Tuesday, it was announced Saturday by Frank Allison of Pampa.

The well is being watched and checked closely by several major companies as well as a number of Pampans who are holding leases in the Los Animas county test territory.

Drilling, Mr. Allison stated, has progressed to 1,300 feet and will be resumed the first of this week with three towers on duty.

In the event a successful well is brought in at Branson, oil industry observers say it would mean the opening of a new field.

History of the project shows two favorable geological reports by the late Charles T. Lupton and William L. Clark geologists, together with work having been done which gives additional information to check against the origin of gas in the wells located at Barola, Colo., not far from Branson.

This, Mr. Allison stated, coupled with the favorable formations encountered so far, the strong showing of sulphur gas which has just been touched, and the knowledge of the large area which the well virtually would prove, makes the test an interesting one.

Associated with Mr. Allison are Al Johnson and J. H. Hulme, also of Pampa.

Honor Students Among Shamrock Seniors Named

Special To The NEWS.
SHAMROCK, April 29.—Superintendent W. C. Perkins of the Shamrock schools, announced names of the honor students for the graduating class of 1939, today. Miss Jewel Willingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Willingham, was declared valedictorian and T. C. Davis, son of Mrs. T. C. Davis, was named salutatorian after a four-year average of grades was made this week.

Miss Willingham's average over the four-year period was 95 and T. C. Davis had an average of 94 1/2 which was exceptionally high for second honors. Both students have made excellent records during their high school careers and Perkins stated that Miss Willingham's record of a straight "A" card was the highest of any valedictorian award for the past five years.

Other honor students in the graduating class were Miss Virginia Waltermire, with an average of 92 1/2; Gene Caperton, 92; Hugh Lyle, 92; and Erma Lee Rabo, 90.

Miss Willingham and Davis will make the valedictory and salutatory addresses at the graduating exercises on May 19, in Clark auditorium and will receive scholarships from several colleges and the University of Texas.

Texas Has Lost Much Production

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—Jerry Sadler, member of the Texas railroad commission which regulates the state's oil industry, was on record today as stating Texas apparently had lost 10 per cent of its former oil production to other states.

"Texas is producing about 30 per cent of the nation's total," Sadler said. "Yet it was not long ago that Texas was producing 40 per cent, so it evidently has lost 10 per cent to other states."

He pointed out that on April 15 daily production in the United States averaged 3,492,057 barrels of which Texas share was 1,435,095.

California, Illinois, and Louisiana production has increased, he continued, and Illinois' legislature had looked with disfavor upon a bill proposing proration.

The commission members declared the records challenged serious thought on the part of the Texas oil industry and commission.

AMERICAN WAY REVEALED IN "STREETS OF NEW YORK"

Jackie Cooper Stars In 'Boy Lawyer' Role

Timely is the word for Monogram's "Streets of New York," which opens today at the Crown theater with Jackie Cooper in the starring role. Timely because the film deals with the American Way, demonstrating that from rags to riches is still possible in one country, that right does not depend upon might, and, even in the face of tremendous odds, we can still find inspiration from the lives of great men.

"Streets of New York" is the story of Jimmy Keenan, who believed in honesty. Jimmy supports himself and a little crippled boy by running a newsstand, goes to night school to study law, and is known as "The Abe Lincoln of 10th Avenue."

But Jimmy's big brother is Public Enemy No. 1, a New York racketeer that the police can't catch red-handed. Although "Tap" Keenan wants to help his brother, the boy won't take a cent of "blood money." The clash between these two codes of conduct, and Jimmy's efforts to inspire his little pal, "Gimp," with a belief in right and good behavior form the major themes of "Streets of New York."

In a thrilling climax, as "Tap" Keenan goes into hiding for killing a man, and Jimmy aids the law, both these problems are solved.

Ferdinand the Bull, a Walt Disney animated cartoon, is also booked for today, tomorrow, and Tuesday at the Crown.

Showing at the Crown Wednesday and Thursday is the RKO Radio farce, "Mr. Doodle Kicks Off," starring Joe Penner. June Travis and Richard Lane are the principals in the cast of this story of how a pretty girl uses her influence to arouse sufficient enthusiasm in the leader of a college orchestra to transform him into a football hero his father desires him to be.

"Ride 'Em, Cowgirl" is the title of the Crown feature showing Friday and Saturday.

Color In Rooms Discussed At Bell H. D. Club Meeting

"A room is what you make, really," Mrs. Julia E. Kelley told members of Bell Home Demonstration club this week in the home of Mrs. George Kurtz when the April program, "About the rooms with color and quality," was presented. At the beginning of a room is apt to be blank, and it is important to continue Mrs. Kelley's "A room has just four walls, but they are the color key to lovely rooms. With such a multitude of paints and wall coverings on the market, it is simple for a home to be individual and to reflect the owner's taste. Whether we have family heirlooms or modern pieces, they will be twice as pleasing if our walls have been wisely handled. Since the walls are the taking off point for all decorations, we look to them to set the pace, to suggest spaciousness, coziness, dignity or restfulness."

Mrs. Kelley showed samples of wall paper suitable for all rooms in the home and they in turn were discussed by the members. Do not be afraid of color. The law behind its use is simple. At the present, bright colors and large patterns are all to go. That is all right, but remember you tire of these more quickly unless you can afford to repaper often you should be more conservative in your choice of wall backgrounds. It was pointed out that samples of light oak and off-white woodwork were shown as the best used today. Drapes and upholstery materials were shown and discussed. Decorative panels in walls are very good as very few pictures are being used.

Miss Betty Farley, home demonstration agent of Sherman county, was a guest at the meeting. Refreshments of cake and punch were served to six members, Mmes. Jess Morris, C. McKnight, Ebert Kenney, H. H. Kenney, George Kurtz, Julia E. Kelley, Misses Betty Mae Farley, Margaret and Gertrude Kurtz.

Mrs. Roland Dauer will be hostess to the club May 3 at which time a program on every-day manners will be given by Mrs. Conner O'Neal as program leader.

Literary Club Has Lunch At Shamrock Special To The NEWS SHAMROCK, April 29.—Mrs. Earl Kromer entertained members and guests of the Thursday Literary club with a luncheon at her home on South Madden street.

Luncheon was served on card table which were centered with crystal bud vases full of sweet peas. The bud vase made a May pole from which streamers in pastel hues were unwound. Small Dresden figures held streamers from the May pole. Place cards carrying out

BOYS WHO GO WRONG

From the drama of the "Streets of New York," comes thrilling movie entertainment in the picture of that title, now at the Crown theater in which Jackie a sweet pea motif were used to mark the places. Individual cakes of pine soap were given as favors.

A three-course luncheon was served the following club members: Mmes. J. R. Benson, H. T. Fields, T. C. Davis, L. E. Davis, Charles Perry, A. M. Hilburn, R. C. Lewis, Bedford Harrison, Ben Skidmore, Charles Green, L. B. Hiner, Perry Bones, Edwin Griffin, H. B. Hill, and B. A. Zeigler; and to Mmes. Fred Holmes, W. Y. Burden, Allen I. Smith, and Earl Kromer Sr. guests.

The club presented Mrs. Kromer, club president, with a gift in appreciation of her services the past two years. Mrs. Kromer turned the gavel over to Mrs. H. B. Hill, incoming president.

Mrs. B. A. Zeigler was elected delegate to the district federation meet in Pampa May 1, 2, and 3, and Mrs. Charles Perry was elected alternate.

Mrs. Bones was leader of the program and gave a short discussion on the Life and Works of Olive Higgins Prouty. Mrs. R. C. Lewis then reviewed "Lisa Roberts," which was written by Mrs. Prouty.

Lillie Hunley Circle Has Luncheon And Study Of Bible

Lillie Hunley circle members of Central Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. J. B. Hilburn for a covered dish luncheon recently.

Following lunch, the group studied seven chapters of Job with Mrs. S. L. Anderson as teacher and Mrs. J. L. Barnard as chairman. Attending were Mmes. G. C. Stark, John R. Gray, J. L. Barnard, W. L. McAnally, H. T. Beckham, P. A. Smith, May Monroe, Ben Seibold, S. L. Anderson, Rex Watkins, D. M. Seiler, Jack Roberts, Mark Gumm, G. H. Gilstrap, C. L. Hunter, H. C. Chandler, M. A. Moore, and J. B. Hilburn.

The amateur football "business" in Texas, including colleges, is estimated to have an annual worth of $5,000,000.

SERIAL STORY BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD

Copyright, 1939, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday's narrow suspenseful... tells her to and then she is carried off by two of her... (continues to another part of the story... because resistance is useless.)

CHAPTER XX

ON the afternoon that Inspector Hope Kildare, of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service, admitted that he was in love with Betty Mary Jordan, the first coolness in all their memory came between him and Sheridan Starr.

The Kildare and Starr families had lived in another part of Texas side by side. The parents had been close friends. Young Sheridan and young Hope had enjoyed first fights as small youngsters, but only in teamwork fighting some one else. They had romped and enjoyed life through grade school, high school, thence into college. Perfect athletes, they had achieved wide fame as football players. What one had attained the other had shared, always. And now there was conflict over pretty Betty Mary Jordan.

"Well, Hope," Sheridan said that evening when they would have gone to supper together as usual, "if it's not a sin for you to love her, I guess it's not a sin for me either. I guess we can't either of us help it. You ready to go eat now?"

Hope did not look at his friend. He was staring vacantly away. "Reckon I'm not hungry," he said finally.

Sheridan went without another word. He did not depart whistling, or bantering with other officers in the headquarters offices as he was wont to do. He just walked glumly out, alone.

He didn't know how long he had walked, but when he came to himself at last it was dark. From force of habit he drifted to a favorite cafe and told the waitress there to bring him anything—just anything. She put down a good meal but he ate less than half of it. He got up and wandered out without thinking even to pay his check. The cashier saw him, but didn't disturb him; she knew he was an excellent, steady customer.

"Mr. Starr acts like he's lost his best friend," the waitress commented. "Got the blues, I guess," said the cashier. "Well, we all get 'em."

He'll snap out of it. He's young!" "Cee, he's grand!" the waitress murmured. "You said it!" Sheridan surprised his landlady by stalling into his room at 9 p. m. She even came out to inquire about him.

"Not going away or som' thing, are you, son?" She was a kindly soul who tried to mother him. "No'm, Mrs. Bascom. I—well, I'm a little weary. Thought I'd get a good night's shut-eye."

"We're proud of you and Mr. Hope, the way you boys have been breaking up narcotic smuggling lately. Your friends are all talking about it."

"Thank you ma'am."

"I'll just set a pot of coffee on the stove for you, and there's half a coconut cake on the second shelf, son. You might want a snack before you lie down."

He thanked her but he didn't eat. He went to bed and pulled out the light—and lay there thinking in circles until midnight. Then he slept until dawn.

"It's like this, Mrs. Bascom," Sheridan Starr was drawing at breakfast. "I don't aim to stop any man from loving a girl, especially a friend, but in a case like this I figure it hit us both at once and we ought to sort of draw straws to see which one steps out. Now I studied about it hard last night, and—"

Sherry was eating with Mrs. Bascom herself, on one of the rare occasions when he ate where he had a room. He was a guest, partly because she had shrewdly seen that something disturbed him. Mother-like, she soon had him telling everything; he really needed a talk.

"No, son," she inter-upted, "that wouldn't do. It might do if you boys were quarreling over money, or anything else valuable—except a girl. But you can't draw straws for a girl."

"Why can't we, ma'am? Hope's square. And I'm sure I could step out of the picture if I lost."

"No. It doesn't matter that both of you are square, as you of course are. That's not it. The loser might think he could just back off and forget it. But he couldn't. He just couldn't. It would rankle and gnaw inside him and eat his soul out, Sheridan!"

Sherry swallowed hard, laboring over his food, his handsome young face strained.

"Now I'm an old woman, son, and I've seen a lot. Let me tell you, there's only one person can decide between you boys and—" that's the girl herself. If she says she doesn't want one of you, then you can moon around a few weeks and maybe forget it all, after that, or maybe you can never forget, maybe you'll just go on loving her always, regardless. But, in that case, if she does choose the other fellow, then you'd know it was right and proper, even if you did lose. You can just bury your feelings as a bitterness and an anger, and first thing you know you just have to fight, some way. It's the man in you that does it, son. Now you and Hope go and have that understanding between yourselves, in advance."

Sheridan thought it sound advice. He had a profound respect for old Mrs. Bascom. By 8 o'clock he was downtown looking for Hope, but when they met, Hope was still so cold and so oddly formal that he couldn't bring himself to say much.

"Lordy, Hope, why'n't we go somewhere and get it off our chest," he suggested, finally. "Where we can talk. We can swap our ideas about the matter and maybe get somewhere, can't we?"

Hope still wouldn't look into his friend's eyes. "Don't see anything to talk about."

"Well, we still have to work together, don't we? Or do we? What about that, Hope?"

"I guess so. That—that hasn't anything to do with it, Betty Mary hasn't anything to do with it—well, she damn sure can't marry both of us, and—"

"She hasn't said she'd marry either of us yet," said Sherry. "Or maybe she has! Say, have you asked her?"

Hope ignored that, but put in another significant point. "More important now, it seems to me, is that her window signals are still missing."

"Good lord!" Sherry jumped up. "I plumb forgot about that! Did you look to see? This morning? My gosh, Hopey, I been mooning around all night, and—say, let's go look at her window now!"

"It isn't necessary," Hope declared, somewhat sourly. "I have just looked. In fact I looked all night. I changed out of my uniform, spent the time from 9 last evening until daybreak searching every nook and corner in Juarez. She's holding her room, but the Montezuma Hotel had no knowledge of her whereabouts and I couldn't find a trace of her anywhere."

'German Action' Blamed by Simon

LONDON, April 29 (AP)—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the Exchequer, declared today it was "the action of Germany" which was responsible for Britain's new foreign policy.

Speaking shortly after Chancellor Briting's February speech, Sir John insisted British character had not altered.

"The thing that has changed British policy and changed it with unanimous approval," he said, "is the action of Germany."

"It is no longer true that German policy is limited to bringing Germany within the British. Recent actions go further than that and if these actions portend an effort at domination over the rest of Europe, it is an effort which Britain must oppose."

Mr. John spoke as British naval quarters analyzing Hitler's cancellation of the Anglo-German naval pact, which provided that the German fleet be inferior permanently in tonnage to the British fleet, said they were "unsurprised and undisturbed" by the move.

The chancellor laid the responsibility for Britain's new policy to German action after he had said: "The German people would do well to ask themselves what is the explanation of so surprising a change. Mr. Chamberlain is still the man of peace."

The chancellor was addressing the Pamrose League, a conservative organization founded by Disraeli.
