Oil Schedule To Be Ready On Saturday

Shutdowns Will Be Resumed; Panhandle Allowable Raised

A new oil schedule for the Panhandle field is being prepared at the local office of the Texas Railroad commission to be released Saturday.

At a meeting of the state commission yesterday, the Panhandle allowable for the month of May was set at 89,192 barrels or an increase of 196 barrels daily to take care of new production.

The percentage factor had not been set up to early afternoon.

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP)—Texas oil fields will resume Saturday shutdowns May 1.

In a new proration order, the Railroad Commission yesterday prescribed two Saturday closings in May and two in June, these in addition to shutdowns on all Sundays and in those months.

The Saturday shutdowns had been lifted in April after a long period of Saturday and Sunday restriction, but the commission decided renewal of the double curb on production was necessary to meet consumption conditions.

The state allowable for May, not considering shutdowns, was set at 1,009,335 barrels daily, which compared with 1,008,890 on April 1 and 1,720,886 April 14.

Considering the shutdowns, the commission estimated average daily production would be 1,393,077 barrels, which would be 13,023 less than the federal bureau of mines reported would be needed for Texas in May to meet demand.

The basic daily allowable for June, after deductions for the shutdowns, was estimated at 1,402,868 barrels.

The Saturday closings will be in the first two weeks of each month. "We are confronted with the problem of limiting our production to the indicated market demand," the commission stated. "If we are to keep our production in Texas within the demand, obviously re-

Jurors To Probe Charges Of Bribery

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP)—The house of representative today took cognizance of certain charges of misconduct asserted against members and asked the Travis county grand jury to investigate them at its session opening Monday.

The resolution requesting the inquiry said a statement allegedly had been made at a Houston meeting to the effect that motor truck interests at one time paid a house member $600 and he kept the money all day before returning it.

Other charges, the resolution said, related to alleged poker playing between lobbyists and the legislators in which the latter were permitted to win large sums of money.

I Heard---

That Mack Graham, Maskell Maguire, Tom Perkins, Joe Parkinson and Lefy Cox had all the golf frightened out of them yesterday afternoon as they walked up the fairway on the 14th hole. They chilled when they heard the familiar sound of a rattle snake close to where they were walking. The sound, however, kept right on and a caddy decided to investigate. He found that the rattle came from a flag pole in the center of the fairway and was caused, apparently, by wind and static electricity.

PET GROWS UP!

Brought to America from China in 1804, the soybean was long only a horticultural pet. Henry Ford in recent years spent over $1,000,000 finding how it could be used. Last year, soybeans put $35,000,000 into U. S. farmers' pockets. They provide food for both man and pig, and are stock; among derivative products are paint, glue, grease, explosives, printers' ink, and manufactured gadgets, including many auto fittings. Yes, you have to spend money to make money! However, the cost of News Want Ads is so nominal, you hardly notice it when they harvest results.

Taxes Remitted In Harris County

AUSTIN, April 27. (AP)—The House today sent to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel a bill remitting an estimated $3,500,000 in state taxes to Harris county (Houston), Texas' most populous county, for flood control.

The vote on final passage was 82 to 53. A like bill was passed two years ago but vetoed by former Governor James V. Allred.

Sponsors' voiced confidence Governor W. Lee O'Daniel would approve it.

Another Senate bill passed by the House was one imposing rigid regulations on automobile travel bureaus.

Opponents contended it would exterminate the travel agencies, which contention was denied by proponents.

Rep. B. T. Johnson of Fort Worth handled the bill in the lower chamber.

"Johnson's sole purpose," shouted Rep. Abe Mays of Atlanta in the closing argument against the proposal, "is to exterminate travel bureaus for the benefit of the large bus companies."

The Harris county proposal would remit half of the state ad valorem taxes for the general fund collected in that county during the next ten years. Under present valuations, that would amount to about $350,000 a year.

Other bills passed by the House today included one for the state penitentiary.

FAIRFIELD, April 27. (AP)—Rafe Lee Walker, alias Ray Banks, was in the state prison at Huntsville today under a death sentence for rapping a 16-year-old school girl.

A jury returned its verdict in 15 minutes here last night after the 33-year-old man changed his plea from not guilty to guilty. Five carloads of officers escorted the prisoner to the courtroom for opening of the trial yesterday morning.

City Attorney's Father Succumbs

Peter Gordon Rogers, 62, father of City Attorney Walter Rogers, died yesterday afternoon at his Sherman home following a heart attack Wednesday night.

Mr. Rogers left early yesterday morning for the bedside of his father but arrived too late to see him alive. Mr. Rogers, Sr., had been a longtime resident of Sherman.

Survivors are the widow and three sons, Walter of Pampa, Gordon of Amarillo and Fred of Sherman.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday in Sherman, according to word received here last night.

King, Queen Will Travel In Liner, Instead Of Cruiser

LONDON, April 27. (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons today King George VI and Queen Elizabeth would travel to the United States and Canada aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia, instead of the battle cruiser Repulse.

The Repulse, Britain's only available battle cruiser, will be kept in European waters because of the tension in international affairs, the prime minister said.

The Empress of Australia, German-built and formerly named the Tirpitz in honor of the German World War leader, is scheduled to sail May 6.

Elliot Opens Famed Gainesville Circus

GAINESVILLE, April 27. (AP)—The most colossal community undertaking in the land—and the folks down here are fair about it and take in the New York and San Francisco tent shows—opened near the banks of lazy Red River last night.

The Gainesville community circus, the all-amateur three-ring spectacle which lists bankers and physicians as clowns, women socialites as tight wire walkers and seven-year-old school kids as tent-top aerialists, started its tenth annual run strictly on the "bigger and better" side.

Brain child of a newspaper editor, the big show went on to the crunching of peanuts and the huzzahs of the homefolks, after Honorary Ringmaster Elliott Roosevelt, the President's son, tooted a gold whistle, cracked his whip and launched America's strangest hometown entertainment.

There's nothing "corny" about the Gainesville circus; it can play with any professional troupe, Billy Rose, the Little Barnum, gaped when he saw it and mused:

"It's the most delightful thing I have ever seen. Those people have something that has made the town famous throughout the show world."

It's the biggest thing since

Judge Locke, Texas Ranger Of 1877 And Real Pioneer, Dies

MIAMI, The NEWS. MIAMI, April 27.—Judge Newton Locke, 86, Panhandle pioneer, former Texas Ranger, and the second elected county and district clerk of Wheeler county died at 10:45 o'clock Wednesday night at the family home here.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the First Baptist church, with the pastor, Rev. H. B. Cornielison, in charge.

Newton Franklin Locke was born near Selma, Ala., January 13, 1853, with a heritage of American pioneers, dating back to the Revolution. His father was killed in the Battle of Tippecanoe, and four of his brothers were killed in the Civil War.

At the age of 21 Mr. Locke came to Texas where for 65 years he has centered his activities. He worked in Dallas and Jacksboro for about two years.

Joined Texas Rangers

As the '70s were still seeing a period of Indian trouble and depredation on the Texas frontier along which Jack and Young counties lay at that time, the Texas Rangers were kept busy. Major John B. Jones was in command of the battalion stationed at Fort Belknap at this time. He became interested in young Locke and influenced him to join that famous body of state troops of whom Texas history will never cease to speak. Later, when the battalion was broken up into eight companies, Mr. Locke was in Company B under Lt. Hamilton.

Lived At Hobectie

In the spring of 1879, resigning from the Rangers after more than two years arduous service, Mr. Locke came out to the Panhandle, locating at Mobeetie or old Ft. Elliott. Wheeler county was organized that year and Mobeetie became the county seat and judicial center for an area that now includes eighteen counties. Mr. Locke was the second elected county and district clerk, serving in this capacity for eight years.

In 1881 he went back to Fort Belknap and married Miss Dora Barton. Their honeymoon trip was the eight day return drive in a double-seated carriage to Mobeetie.

Establishes Store

In 1884 he went into the mercantile business with John Long, another pioneer. Two years later they dissolved partnership with Mr. Long

In '87 Folks Figured Panhandle Would Be Metropolis Of Plains

But Main Lines Of Railroads Didn't Cross There—Reporter Talks To First Resident, First Editor, And Famed Ranch Cook

NOTE TO READERS—This is the first of a series of four fact-finding articles dealing with personalities and incidents in the history of the Panhandle. The second article will appear Sunday in the News and will relate experiences of E. E. Carhart and his part in the development of the Panhandle. These articles are being published in connection with the Top O' Texas Fiesta to be held in Pampa, June 13 and 14.

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

PANHANDLE, April 27.—This is the town that in 1887 everybody said would be the metropolis of the Panhandle; this is the town that has had two feverish booms, one caused by a railroad that was never built and the other due to lack of a railroad.

This town is the home of three men and one woman who could tell you all anyone would need to know about the early days in this part of the country. So when I came to Panhandle the other day in search of interesting incidents and personalities, I looked up those four people.

The only way you could get a clearer picture of life here in the early days would be to have lived in the Panhandle when there wasn't a clod of plowed ground between Henrietta, Tex., and Dodge City, Kans.

But so remarkably clear and simple, yet thrilling, was their story that you could just listen to them talk and relive the most glamorous period in Panhandle history—because if you could go back if you could relive any period of history is there any doubt but that you would come to the Panhandle in the '70s and '80s? No—after you had heard their story.

First thing, then I hunted up E. E. (Ed) Carhart, the Panhandle's first editor, and Uncle Charlie Wright was with him. That was to be expected. They were down at Roy Carhart's elevator. Roy is E. E.'s son. The only surprising thing about it was that Judge J. E. Southwood was summing up an attitude toward him.

A few minutes later the judge was summing up an attitude toward him. "I can't complain about anything," he said. "I'm in good health. I like my friends and they like me. I'm pretty well satisfied with the way

Judge Southwood said.

Well, we had to have Judge Southwood. "I'll go get him," I said. Now the judge lives on highway 33

Business Men Urged To Hear Super-Salesman

Every merchant, service institution owner or manager, and other Pampa business and professional men and women interested in making business in Pampa better is urged to attend a luncheon at the First Methodist church basement Friday noon, when Ralph W. Carney will speak.

The meeting is sponsored by the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce.

It will give Pampa business men a chance to hear the visiting speaker in time to go back to their places of business and arrange for every clerk and employe to attend the evening meeting, tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the city auditorium in the City Hall when Mr. Carney will speak on the subject "Welding the Weakest Link."

This talk will appeal directly to the salesperson who is the principal connecting link between the producer and the manufacturer of goods and the consumer who comes into the retail establishments to secure the goods.

Price of the luncheon is 50 cents. It will be appreciated if those planning to attend will telephone 384 as early Friday morning as possible.

Texas Day At N. Y. World Fair May 22

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Paul Wakefield, executive secretary of the Texas New York world's fair commission, announced today Texas day at the fair has been moved up from October 22 to May 22.

Thus, he said, the official ceremonies honoring the state would coincide with the arrival here of a special train bringing Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel and the members of the Texas Press Association to New York after a tour of 20 industrial cities in the east—a tour during which the governor will speak out in behalf of his plan to industrialize the state.

Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and head of the state's fair commission, has been here for several days to make final plans for the change in date with the world's fair officials.

The Texas exhibit, to be shown in a theater in the corridor of states, will be a five-reel color film.

Subjects for a sequence just completed in Washington included Jones, Vice President John N. Garner, and members of the Texas congressional delegation. The film will be titled "The March of Texas."

Last Meeting Of Credit School To Be Held Tonight

The twelfth and last meeting of the Pampa Credit school will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the study hall of Pampa High school.

Speakers on tonight's program will be Arthur Teed, local lawyer, who will speak on "Legal Problems in the Credit Field," City Attorney Walter Rogers was scheduled to make a talk but he was called to Sherman yesterday by the death of his father.

Following the talk a round table discussion will be conducted.

At yesterday's meeting of the Pampa Credit Grantors Association, sponsor of the city school, 20 members discussed delinquent accounts under letters A, B and C. On next Wednesday accounts D, E and F will be discussed.

New System Of Regional Roads Urged

New Principle In Acquiring Right-Of-Way Outlined

WASHINGTON, April 27. (AP)—President Roosevelt recommended to Congress today that it provide a system of highways "to meet the requirements of the national defense and the needs of a growing peace time traffic of longer range."

The President transmitted a letter from Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, concurred in by Secretary of War Woodring, to which was attached a report of the Bureau of Public Roads on "feasibility of a system of trans-continental toll roads and a master plan for free highway development."

The Bureau said it believed a proposed toll system of six transcontinental superhighways would be neither financially feasible nor adequate to meet traffic needs. It suggested instead a system of inter-regional highways designed to meet requirements of national defense and the needs of a growing motor traffic.

"It emphasizes the need of a special system of direct inter-regional highways, with all necessary connections through and around cities," Mr. Roosevelt said of the bureau report.

The President added that the report showed there was need for some superhighways but added that the need exists only where there is congestion on the existing roads, mainly in metropolitan areas. Mr. Roosevelt said improved facilities to solve city street congestion occupied a fundamental place in the general replanning of cities.

Discussing the report, which was prepared at the request of Congress, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"It points definitely to the corrective measures of greatest urgency and shows that existing improvements may be fully utilized in meeting ultimate highway needs."

Saying the difficulty of right-of-way acquisition was an obstacle in developing highways and city streets, the President called the special act

De Valera Cancels His Trip To U. S.

DUBLIN, April 27. (AP)—Prime Minister Eamon De Valera announced in the Dail today that he had canceled his trip to the United States on which he was to have left Saturday.

De Valera said his reason for cancellation of the trip was "yesterday's grave event"—an apparent reference to Britain's adoption of conscription.

An American-born Irish premier was to have opened the Irish pavilion at the New York World's Fair and was expected also to visit President Roosevelt in Washington.

Helium Discussed By Guest At 20th Century Program

Husbands' night was observed at the meeting of Twentieth Century club in the home of Mrs. Ivy Duncan this week with Mrs. Clifton High and Mrs. F. L. Stallings as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Roy McKernan was leader of the program which included numbers by Bill Haley's accordion band preceding the main address of the evening by Dr. C. W. Seibel, director of the United States Government helium plant and supervisor for two other plants in Kansas and Colorado, who gave a demonstration of liquid air.

Dr. Seibel stated that the great majority of people were more interested in the queer and strange things that happened when liquid air was exposed to the atmosphere than they were in the helium. Later he told the story of development of the helium industry from the time of its discovery in 1868 to the present time. First isolated in the latter part of the nineteenth century, the element lay dormant until the discovery of a well in Dexter, Kansas, which a few years later dispelled the hopes of the citizenry of that thriving community by putting out a fire

Beta Sigma Phi Dance Set For Saturday Night

Another outstanding event in the activities of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority is a spring dance which will be given Saturday evening in the Pampa Young Fellow's hall.

The hall is to be decorated in tall palms, varicolored flowers and a black and gold shield of the sorority.

Dancing to the music of Roy Diven and his orchestra of Amarillo will continue from 10 until 1 o'clock.

On Sunday afternoon the chapter will observe Founders' Day with a formal tea in the city club rooms and the Ritual of Jewels initiation will be conducted at this time also.

Mrs. Charles Vaughn will be hostess to the members at a regular meeting in her home Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Miss Velda Richards as program leader.

Young People To Have Banquet At Church Tuesday

Young People's Christian Endeavor of First Christian church held open house in the church basement this evening.

The evening was spent in playing games and the feature was a man on the street quiz conducted by C. T. Hightower. Next Monday the group will spend the open house period in decorating the church basement for the annual banquet to be given May 2.

Refreshments of ice tea and cake were served to Fern Black, Anita Summers, Lia Lee Southard, Valerie Forter, Avis Heiskell, Juanita Dewey, Minnie Lee Dittmeier, Sylvia Goodwin, Dorothy Southard, Helen Madeira, Bob Wentworth, Charles Madeira, Bill Garbe, Fred Pietras, C. T. Hightower and Roy Goodwin.

The society is to meet this evening in the home of Miss Avis Heiskell, 725 East Kingsmill, at 7:45 o'clock for the weekly business session.

Mrs. Leudders Named President Of Golf Group

Officers for the coming year were elected at a meeting of Ladies Golf Association of the Pampa Country club Wednesday afternoon.

New leaders are Mrs. Carl Leudders, president; Mrs. George French, vice president; Mrs. Gus Howard, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. A. J. Beagle, who will work with the secretary and Pete Nossent, golf professor, in making out the programs.

All ladies interested in playing in the association are invited to attend next Wednesday morning when play will begin at 9 o'clock and a luncheon is to follow. Reservations should be called in to Mrs. Marvin Harris and Mrs. William Miskimins not later than Tuesday noon.

Study Course Of Forum Completed At Club Meeting

A study of "The Psychology of Personality" was concluded at the meeting of Twentieth Century Forum in the home of Mrs. Frank Perry.

Mrs. E. H. Turner read a paper on "The Emotions" after which Mrs. Perry summarized the course of the year.

In the business meeting plans were made to be given May 1 for the Federation convention to be held in Pampa.

Attending were Mmes. C. N. Barrett, Roy Bourland, Frank Carter, Gene Fathere, Siler Faulkner, Jr., William T. Frantz, George Frisvold, W. Howard, O. C. Mitchell, M. C. Overton, Jr., W. C. Stack, E. H. Turner and the hostess.

Supervisor Assists Farm Families In Planning Needs

Every business man realizes the importance of considering the future needs of his business and how these may be met, and the farm home is no exception to this rule, according to Vera Martin, home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Gray county.

At this time of the year, Mrs. Martin and George C. Jones, rural rehabilitation supervisor for this agency, are busily engaged in helping farm families plan their needs and devising ways to meet them. Each farm family cooperating with the FSA is assisted after determining its needs for the next year, which includes the needs for crops, food for the family, clothing, medical attention, school recreation and similar requirements, not forgetting the amount of money necessary from month to month. After the needs are estimated a budget is outlined and the family is encouraged to live within the budget which is based on thrift.

Farmers are taught the value of balanced rations for their livestock. They are encouraged to improve the care and breeding of livestock to insure maximum production. They are advised to plant their field crops in accordance with approved for the locality in which they live, not forgetting the importance of soil conservation methods. Another important phase of the FSA's planning program is the storage of surplus funds in good years for use in years when production is below normal. It is here that trench silos prove their usefulness.

Home management supervisors work with the farm wife in home improvement, family health, production of poultry flocks and gardens to meet the needs of the family's balanced diet and also add to the family's income through food preservation and sales of surplus commodities.

In setting up a farm and home plan the rehabilitation supervisor and the home management supervisor for the Department of Agriculture agency know that in order to develop properly balanced plans the family must fully recognize the need for keeping expenditures well within their income. This is why the budgets are necessary, and this phase of the program is given careful attention by voluntary county committees working with this federal agency.

The farm security administration makes loans to needy and worthy farm families in order to help them get started on a balanced, live-at-home program. Full details of this rural rehabilitation plan can be obtained from either Mr. Jones or Miss Martin who maintain offices in McLean, Texas, on Thursday of each week and in Pampa, Texas, on Tuesday afternoon of each week.

Kidnaped Hotel Clerk Gets To Work On Time

INDIANAPOLIS, April 27 (AP)—Clemens Greshamp, 19, didn't let a kidnapping, and a holiday, ruin his record of punctuality. Two men in an automobile kidnaped him late at night, took him 15 miles to Greenwood, robbed him of $10 and let him go. Due to work in a hotel stockroom here at 7 a. m., Clemens tried unsuccessfully to flag a ride. Then he set out on foot. The trip took all night but he checked in on work on time, then telephoned police to report the robbery.

Scholarship, Watch Offered As Prizes In Essay Contest

A $1,000 scholarship to any college or university in the United States, or the equivalent in cash, is waiting for some high school student this spring. If you want to be that student, an entry blank in the Gruen contest for students can be obtained at McCarty's Jewelry store in Pampa. Fill out the registration form carefully, and then write a 50-word essay on "I'm Proud To Be An American Because...". The essays will be judged more on the basis of originality and sincerity than on literary style, and any fresh, vital idea on the required subject may be the winner.

The Pampa student who writes the best essay in his own city will receive a handsome Gruen wrist watch and a chance at the national prizes. Five hundred dollars will be given to the school attended by the national winner. The second place winner nationally will receive $500 and $250 will go to his school. The third national prize is $250 for the student and $125 for his school.

The closing date for the contest is April 30. Entry application will be made at McCarty's. All the essays will be read by a group of contest-judging experts. Your chance is as good as the next fellow's to win $1,000 for yourself and $500 for your alma mater.

Policeman Told To Serve Paper On Himself

Mann Upholds Regulation Of Travel Bureaus

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann in an opinion requested by the House committee on highway and motor traffic ruled today the legislature could reasonably regulate travel bureaus.

A regulatory bill pending in the committee was held constitutional as amended after Mann recently objected to certain features of an original draft.

The opinion pointed out that under the amended bill: The operator of a travel bureau is not prohibited from dealing with persons and corporations other than motor carriers holding certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by the Railroad Commission.

Private individuals are not prohibited from entering into share-expense arrangements for travel with other private persons even though a licensed broker brings such persons together.

Provision is made for notice and breach of the peach case, to learn where he could locate Geon. "You're it," said Parmelee. "That is Rees, Geo. N. Just serve it yourself, Lieutenant."

hearings before any rules affecting bureaus are promulgated by the commission.

No person or corporation can be regulated as a broker unless the commission first finds such person or corporation is conducting business in continuous competition with regularly licensed motor carriers for hire who have certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by the commission.

Referring to various court decisions, the attorney general said the legislature had power to make reasonable regulations concerning operation of travel bureaus.

THE PAMPA NEWS

Published every evening, except Saturday, and Sunday morning by the Pampa News, 212 West Foster Avenue, Pampa, Texas.

Entered as second class matter March 15, 1927, at the postoffice at Pampa, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription Rates: BY CARRIER to Pampa, 15c per week; BY MAIL, payable in advance.

Public Improvements: Perhaps you read in The News a couple of days ago about Pampa's half-million dollar public improvement program.

When the job is finished Pampa will have a half-million blocks of additional paved streets and a waterworks system second to none in the Panhandle of Texas.

While there has been plenty to argue about with PWA, and WPA, there appears to be little room for criticism of the program which the City of Pampa has worked out under the system.

As long as it is a national policy and the money is there to aid cities, there can be few pains of the conscience over projects that have been wisely planned so as to benefit the people as a whole.

Taking streets out of the mud-hole category and placing them into the paved class is a splendid step forward. Constructing a water system that will give all sections of the city plenty of water and an adequate pressure likewise is good business.

For the last few years there has been a hue and cry each summer that water pressure was not sufficient to meet the demand, and at times a complete severance of service was threatened in the hot months of the year.

Many cities have attempted to take advantage of federal aid funds with ill-planned projects—projects that were not needed. This is not true in Pampa.

WPA officials in San Antonio report that Pampa's all around program is one of the best in the Southwest.

A bond issue was floated here to pay the city's portion of the waterworks program. From the City Manager's office comes word that the increased efficiency of the new waterworks will bring enough additional revenue to offset the bond payments even before maturity dates.

On top of this, officials state, the increased efficiency of the system and anticipated increased revenues made possible by having an adequate supply will enable the city to reduce Pampa's water rates.

Taken in a nut-shell, it appears that Pampa as a whole are to be greatly benefitted by the federal aid program which now is in its last lap toward completion.

The Nation's Press

TALENT FOR INTERFERENCE (Detroit Free Press)

The question of neutrality now being debated in Washington narrows down to this: Shall the President be given the power, as Mr. Roosevelt desires, to name the "aggressor" in future foreign wars and throw the economic weight of the United States on the side of his "victims"?

Col. Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State in the Hoover Administration, wants the President given this power. Col. Stimson professes to think that this power can be exercised without danger to the United States becoming involved in war.

Senator Borah, veteran member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board in the Great War, are only two of the thoughtful Americans who are convinced that the exercise of the power Mr. Roosevelt seeks, against a nation like Germany, would lead to reprisals that would force us into the war.

A country cannot act as commissary and quartermaster for one belligerent without the other belligerent hitting back.

Col. Stimson, whose "talent for interference" was amply displayed in connection with Japan's invasion of Manchuria and with the embargo on arms shipments to Spain, would make it possible for the President to precipitate this country into every first-class foreign war that occurs from now on.

The only way to stay out of war is to stay out of it.

And that means treating all belligerents alike and leaving the question of aggression to future historians to settle.

NEUTRALITY AT DISCRETION (Philadelphia Evening Bulletin)

Whatever the outcome of the controversy over the neutrality law, it seems safe to predict that the extreme of presidential discretion favored by former Secretary Stimson will not be granted.

Bernard Baruch points out the objection against economic sanctions that will occur to many; that, as he puts it, "if our economic war fails, we will be in military war." Not many in these days of aggression and perhaps impending conflict in Europe would insist, as Woodrow Wilson did at the start of the world war, that American people should be neutral even in thought.

But to proceed from condemnation of aggression to favoritism in the treatment of contending states would be hazardous. Even though the methods used be "short of war," they would constitute in effect American intervention in a foreign quarrel.

There is every evidence that the great majority of the American people while approving strengthening of American defenses, would restrict their use to the repelling of actual armed aggression directly menacing this country, or the freedom and independence of new world nations.

The present neutrality act may have obvious defects. If a revision that would make it a better statute is practicable, it would be desirable, but the perils in discretionary provisions that might commit the country to fateful action without full consultation of majority opinion and the deliberate assent of congress are evident.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

JAPAN'S INFLUENCE IN EVENT OF WAR

In a very enlightening article under the heading of "The Military Position of the United States in the Event of War," Walter Lippmann contrasts the condition in which the United States would be, in event of war compared, with what it was in the World War.

He points out that in the World War, Japan was an ally of the Western powers; in the coming war, if it breaks out, Japan will be the enemy of the Western powers; that this would mean the United States would be obliged to keep its navy on the Pacific; that it could not, therefore, transport an army and supplies to Europe in its own vessels; that the only way they could be transported would be in English and French ships; that no American President and no American Congress who were in their right minds could think of placing an American army in Europe, and then of relying upon any other nation to maintain it and to make certain that the army was able to come back home.

To do that would be to make the American Army a hostage in a war in which it could not decide the result; that if we do not stand guard in the Pacific, the risks would be much too great. If we let the Army and Navy become thoroughly involved in Europe, then not only all American interests in the Pacific, but the American defenses from Alaska to Hawaii to Panama and the Pacific Coast of North and South America would be wide open to attack.

With Japan in Singapore, and in control of the rubber, tin and oil of the Southern Pacific Islands, the striking power of Japan would be so great that nothing less than the full power of the United States would be sufficient to hold Japan within bounds.

Thus, it is evident that a European War with Japan an ally of Germany and Italy, would make a condition that might have a far-reaching effect on every citizen in the United States. It is little wonder that thoughtful people are interested in the outcome of Europe.

ASTOUNDING, IF TRUE: Boake Carter, in his syndicated articles, reports some statements purported to have been made by Roosevelt recently in the South and before the famous Conference with the Senate Military Affairs Committee. L. quote:

"Irresponsible, dangerous and uncalculated for, were he of another mind, were the President's remarks in the South: 'I'll be back if we don't have a war.' Did he but make that observation once it might just possibly be dismissed as a typical Roosevelt quip. But it was a repetition of a similar remark he had made several days previously. There can be little doubt that it was studied and deliberate, aimed to fit the pattern conceived by the President to create a war psychosis in the public mind.

"One cannot forget the famous conference with the Senate military affairs committee. There he revealed himself as a man who believes he has been chosen to save the peoples of Europe and lead Americans to a higher destiny.

"The Senators who attended were so shocked that they agreed that many of the things he said to them ought not to be repeated aloud lest the public become alarmed. Yet it was at that conference that Mr. Roosevelt intimated that the best thing that could happen to the world would be for someone to assassinate both Hitler and Mussolini.

"Regardless of whether assassination of these two dictators would or would not produce the hoped-for results in the world's relations, the fact that the head of any nation, let alone one miles from Europe, would make such a suggestion, however covert, is shocking. It is an episode which of itself indicates a distorted frame of mind. For the American people that frame of mind is as dangerous to their own lives and welfare as is Hitler's for the German people and all Europe."

WHAT KIND OF LEISURE? Benjamin de Casseres has the following to say as to his beliefs in the existence of a leisure class: "I believe in the existence of a leisure class. A country without a cultured, leisure class will eventually sink to the level of Soviet Russia, the lowest type of society on earth today.

The great danger to us lies in our taxing our real leisure and spending classes into poverty and raising up a leisure class among millions who have no money to spend and no way to occupy themselves.

That's the danger of "Relief," "Security" and an idle old-age army. It breeds, not culture, but revolution."

Behind The News Of The Day

By BRUCE CATTON

Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, April 26—Now that the smoke of battle over the WPA deficiency appropriation has died away, it is possible to get a rough idea of the things that are apt to happen to WPA rolls in the immediate future.

No estimate of the number of workers who will have to be dropped because Congress cut $50,000,000 from the requested deficiency appropriation has yet been made by the WPA authorities. However, it is fairly simple to make a rough estimate.

When he first called for the $150,000,000 deficiency appropriation, President Roosevelt said that, if the money were not voted, WPA would have to cut 400,000 people off its rolls in April; 600,000 in May; 200,000 in June.

At the same time, the WPA schedule of reductions that would be made if the full $150,000,000 were voted called for a 100,000 slash in each of the months of April, May and June.

TWO-THIRDS MAY STAY Thus, the fate of 900,000 WPA workers rested on the deficiency bill. If it failed, all would go out. If it went through intact, all would stay on.

Since it went through with two-thirds of the requested sum, it is a fair deduction that two-thirds of the 900,000 will stay on the rolls, and that 300,000 will be dropped—which, added to the 300,000 scheduled to be dropped anyway, indicates that around 600,000 people will have left the WPA rolls between April 1 and the end of June.

That would put WPA into the beginning of the 1939 fiscal year with something like 2,400,000 people on its rolls.

This compares with approximately 3,000,000 in mid-

HOLLYWOOD—Movie material has come from almost everywhere, but Helen Gilbert is the first 'cellist to turn actress I've heard of. . . . Helen, blue-eyed, blonde, 23 on July 4, has been in studio orchestras for two years, turning down offers of tests. . . . Took one at Metro when promised a period of coaching before the ordeal, and passed. . . . Now is dead-end on being an actress, but won't give up music—except her orchestra work, which is "just business."

Rowland V. Lee, directing "The Sun Never Sets," chose Virginia Field for the lead because "she's perfect for it." . . . But the reason she's perfect—which Lee may not know—is that W. P. Lipscomb, the screenplaywright, and a close friend of Virginia who was a schoolmate of his daughter's, wrote her right into the picture.

Betty Fields, the New York actress from "What a Life!" is playing the high school girl heroine in the picture version opposite Jackie Cooper—and she looks more like a high school girl than any of the real high school girls recruited hereabouts for the extra roles!

Torture de luxe: Preston Foster and William Henry are spread-eagled on the synthetic sound-stage earth, getting the knife-and-fire-works from the Apaches headed by Chief Thunder. . . . "Geronimo" in the film of that title. . . . The camera is shooting down on the victims' faces. . . . A prop-man puts a soft pad under Foster's head—for the camera angle. . . . Another squirts "perspiration" from a dainty atomizer. . . . Make-up "wounds" Henry's chest with fake blood. . . . And Thunder Cloud—a full-blooded Cherokee with a degree from the University of Arizona—calls for more fire while the victims squirm.

Elizabeth Patterson's Sunday afternoon party was like a reunion of Stuart Walker's stock players from the Cincinnati days. . . . "Patty" herself, and Spring Byington, and Etienne Girardot, and Esther Dale among others, including Walker himself, now a Paramount producer. . . . The Patterson parties are different from most Hollywood affairs. . . . The difference being pointed out to me by a mutual friend as follows: "Patty is so punctilious—she invites only people she knows!" . . . Which is the nearest commentary on Hollywood parties in general I've ever heard.

The Dillinger picture is off the winter. It is worth while, by the way, to note that the latest figures show 850,000 people as certified in need of work relief and awaiting places on the rolls.

ALTERATIONS DUE What will happen during the next fiscal year is anybody's guess right now, as the whole work relief program is up for drastic overhaul in Congress and far-reaching changes may be made.

The President recently said that he would ask an appropriation of $1,500,000,000 for the 1939 fiscal year, however—$250,000,000 less than the tentative budget estimate made in January, and approximately $750,000,000 less than the sum WPA will have spent when the current fiscal year ends.

On that basis, WPA Administrator Harrington figured that, during the 1939 fiscal year, WPA would carry an average load of 2,500,000. Since it would begin the year substantially over that mark, it would have to end the year substantially under it—down around 1,800,000, or thereabouts—to meet the average.

Incidentally, WPA's "overhead"—its administrative employment list—went up pretty substantially this spring, and all as an economy measure.

In the middle of the winter, Congress instructed WPA to examine its rolls carefully to make sure that no one who was not actually in need was being given

GRAFFLE WITH GEOGRAPHY

Geography is your opponent in this bout. For each correct answer, you get a "fall." It takes at least three "falls" to win the match and show you're a master of the subject.

1. Ramburg is a (small principality) of southwest India; a major German city; a major East Prussian city; a port of Poland.

2. There are more camels than people in Tunisia. True or false?

relief work. This was quite a job, as it meant checking the entire list, case by case, all over the country.

So the administrative employment list went up 6,000 from February to March, and stayed up well into April. In other words, it took 6,000 people well over a month to go through the whole roster and weed out all of those workers who didn't really need relief jobs any longer.

WILL THERE BE JOBS ENOUGH? To get back to the 600,000-odd who will have been dropped by the end of June. Aside from the unemployed, who will have to subsist on one form or another of direct relief, the supposition is that these people will eventually be absorbed by private industry.

There is a very crude yardstick—possibly quite inaccurate—by which you may figure the speed at which this will happen. Relief workers have recently constituted about 30 per cent of the total "reservoir" of unemployed workers.

If, when industry hangs out its "men wanted" signs, they get re-employed at a rate proportionate to their percentage of the total number unemployed, then re-absorption of 100,000 men by private industry would mean the return of 30,000 relief workers to regular jobs. So, if 600,000 relief workers are going to have to find jobs by the end of June—

Well, maybe that yardstick isn't accurate.

New Member Of Labor Board Gets Support

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Several Senators expressed belief today in the appointment of William H. Leiserson to the Labor Relations Board might lessen demands for revision of the Wagner act.

Leiserson, chairman of the National Mediation Board, will replace Donald Wakefield Smith, who has been the target of criticism by the AFL. Well-informed persons said Mr. Roosevelt had become convinced the senate would not confirm Smith.

Senator Holt (D-W. Va.), a member of the labor committee, said of Leiserson's appointment: "It is a gesture to stave off amendments, and it may have some success with a large number of people who feel there has been a mistake in administration rather than in the law itself."

Holt said he believed amendments should be adopted anyway, but that Leiserson would be "certainly an improvement over Smith."

Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the committee said he believed the amendment would have a "constructive" effect on sentiment to amend the act but would not be a major factor in any decision by Congress.

The Family Doctor

By Morris Fishbein

(This is the second of two columns in which Dr. Fishbein advises what to do in case of dog bite.)

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health has issued instructions what to do when persons are bitten by dogs. This is a case in which intelligence is of the utmost importance in preventing disease and death.

The instructions: 1. Do not kill the dog. If you are the owner, tie it up until your local animal inspector has pronounced it safe to be released. He will keep it under observation for two weeks to make sure that it is not developing rabies.

If the dog is owned by someone else, obtain the name of the owner and notify the local board of health. Health officers will keep the animal inspector who will keep the dog under observation.

If the dog is a stray and its owner is unknown, notify the local board of health, giving as complete a description of the animal as possible so that they may take steps to find it.

2. After learning the identity of the dog, go at once to your family physician. He will cauterize the wound to help prevent the development of rabies in case the dog proves to be rabid. Cauterization helps but it cannot be relied upon. Mercuriochrome or iodine does not cauterize.

3. If you have been bitten about the face, head or neck, or if you have received many severe lacerations, you should begin anti-rabic treatment immediately. It is with such bites that rabies is most likely to occur in a comparatively short time, and the earliest possible treatment is therefore indicated.

4. If it is impossible to locate the dog which did the biting, you will never know whether it was rabid. In this case the only safe course to follow is to take anti-rabic treatment.

5. If the dog is located, it must be kept under observation. Should it become sick, the animal inspector will arrange to have its head examined in the state laboratory.

It is possible to tell by such examination whether the dog had rabies, but if the dog was killed immediately, such examination often shows nothing. The disease may not have progressed far enough to be detected under the microscope, or the virus may contain the virus.

6. If it is necessary to shoot an animal for the protection of others, it should not be shot through the head, since this may interfere with laboratory examination of the brain.

7. If the biting animal has been killed without being held for observation and without subsequent laboratory examination of the head, you will never know whether the animal had rabies. The safest procedure then is to take the preventive.

8. If laboratory examination shows the dog was rabid, you will be notified by the State Department of Public Health, and you will be notified, you and other persons bitten or intimately exposed to this animal will be urged to take the anti-rabic vaccine. It does not pay to take a chance, for if rabies develops, there is no treatment for it.

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—A wide upturn in Eastman Kodak and a rise in Vogue shares set the stock market strong today for a mild rally.

Most shares regained losses in an early decline. The market was buoyed by a point or more. Eastman Kodak, conspicuous for its wide fluctuations recently, rose about 6 points from the day's lowest price.

Trading was more active on the rally but many speculators preferred to stay on the sidelines until Chancellor Hiler's speech Friday. Generally stocks continued in the narrow path marked out last week.

U. S. government loans, still inclined to advance, illustrated the buoying effect of a huge surplus of tide funds on better-grade loans. A further rise in world sugar prices and a markup in the domestic price of copper diverted more attention to commodities.

Sixth Graders Visit Points Of Interest Here

Sixth grade pupils of Mrs. L. K. Stout, at Sam Houston school, had a better idea of what makes their city tick when they took a tour of the city this afternoon.

They spent a greater portion of the day visiting interesting spots around town, escorted by their teacher and A. L. Patrick, school principal.

During the tour of the city they visited the post office, city hall, police department, courthouse, Southwestern Public Service company power plant, Western Union Telegraph company, and the offices and plant of The Pampa News.

At the News the pupils were conducted through the plant and a photograph was made of the group in the pressroom.

One of the highlights of the trip, Principal Patrick said, was the interesting tour of the city's waterworks system which was conducted for the sight-seeing pupils by City Manager William T. Williamson.

The Sam Houston sixth graders made their trip in a school bus. It is a part of the Sam Houston program to acquaint pupils with their own city.

Pupils in the party were: Donald Anderson, Dudley Baggett, A. L. Batts, Brent Blankvist, Doye Raye Bridges, Harding Lee Cacy, Clyde Coble, Des Dickerson Jr., Billy Dixon, Marvin Haney, Clifford Howard, Gene Lane, John Roberts, Ernest Seale, Rudolph Taylor, Billy Thompson, Bill White, Pauline Adams.

Mr. Carney is one of the best known sales producers and sales managers in the United States. He is regarded generally as the best single salesman in the entire hardware industry and he has a larger acquaintance among retail dealers and wholesalers than any other man in the entire hardware and house furnishings field.

For 26 years he has spent more than two-thirds of every year in the field, right in the stores so that his observations are first hand and cover not only every state but every city of any consequence, along with hundreds of smaller towns and crossroads stores. He averages about 75,000 miles a year and has covered more than one and a half million miles in the service of his company.

He is probably in greater demand than any other business speaker living today. In a year's time he will talk to the largest collective audience of any speaker in the United States on business subjects, and he talks entirely from the viewpoint of a business man and not from the viewpoint of a politician.

Mr. Carney, vice-president and sales manager of the Coleman Lamp Company, is being brought to Pampa to help the serving committee make special arrangements.

Several special groups will eat together at the luncheon, the major group being the Kiwanis club which will hold its regular luncheon at the time rather than at the Schneider Hotel.

Alleged Rental On Tools Asked In Suit Filed

Priority of a lien and an issuance for a writ of injunction restraining the Bridgeport Machine company from selling or moving 136 joints of 7-inch oil well casing is asked in a suit styled F. A. Denson et al vs. H. C. Robinson et al, filed Wednesday afternoon in 31st district court.

Plaintiff alleges C. B. Jones and H. C. Robinson were indebted to him for $1,680, for rental on drilling tools from January 1 to April 22, 1938, at a rate of $13 a day, based on a contract dated September 17, 1938.

These tools, plaintiffs allege, were used in the drilling of a well in Donley county and plaintiffs state they had a materialman's lien and a contract lien upon the lease.

The casing, plaintiffs say, was removed from Donley county by the defendants to the Bridgeport Machine company in Pampa, without plaintiff's knowledge. Plaintiffs allege the company is holding the casing, valued at $4,000, as a lien for a balance of $800 due.

Appointment of a receiver to take over the assets of Jones and Robinson, and interest at the legal rate from April 23, 1939, are asked by the plaintiffs.

In the succeeding years Mr. Locke took time off from his own interests in store and ranch to serve his friends in Roberts county as county treasurer for the term, and county judge for two terms.

Church Organized

Judge Locke was baptized into the Baptist church when only a lad in his boyhood Alabama home. Later he and his companion helped to organize a church, and became charter members of the First Baptist churches in both Mobeetie and Miami. Fraternally he was a Mason and an Odd Fellow.

He is survived by his widow and four sons, Claude of Albuquerque, N. M., Newton of Dallas, William and Clarence of Miami, ten grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The pallbearers will be the grandsons of the deceased, Ellis Locke, C. B. Locke, Jr., John T. Locke, Lewis Locke, and Wallace Locke, all of Miami, and Douglas Stone of Fortales, N. M.

Honorary pallbearers will be E. F. Jackson, H. E. Baird, J. A. Mead, Dan Kivelehen, M. W. O'Loughlin and C. S. Selber.

Interment will be in the family lot near Miami, with Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home of Pampa in charge of funeral arrangements.

Tubbs Funeral Will Be Friday

Special To The News

CANADIAN, April 27—Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Tubbs, 88, of this city, who died in an Amarillo hospital at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the First Baptist church in Canadian.

Rev. W. A. Fite, pastor, will officiate. Burial will occur in the Canadian cemetery, beside her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs and their children came to the Panhandle in March, 1887, from Kansas, on a prospecting trip. Mrs. Tubbs had a brother, Robert Moody, prominent rancher and founder of the First National Bank at Canadian, living in this section.

The family settled on a tract of land not far from the present site of Canadian, before Hemphill county was organized. A tent was their home the first year, but the following year they built a picket and sod house.

During the first years in the Panhandle, Mrs. Tubbs sometimes went for months without seeing another white woman.

Mrs. Tubbs was born in Morehead, Yorkshire county, England, April 20, 1851. She was married to G. C. L. Tubbs, Sept. 3, 1867. They lived in England until 1881, and seven of their ten children were born there. After moving to the United States, the family lived in Kansas six years before moving to the Panhandle.

Mr. Tubbs, stocky farmer, died at Canadian July 8, 1899. Mrs. Tubbs spent her last years in Amarillo with a daughter, Mrs. H. C. Dolcater, 1906 Lincoln Street.

Survivors are seven children, Mrs. J. L. Pundt of Canadian, Charles Tubbs of Canadian, George Tubbs of Canadian; Mrs. H. C. Dolcater of Amarillo; Earl F. Tubbs of White Deer; Mrs. Ralph D. Rhea of Sayre, Mont.; and Mrs. W. Truitt Walton of Ranger; and a sister, Mrs. Kate Rust of Woodward, Okla.

Oilers Guests Of Pampa Lions Club

Members of the Pampa baseball team were guests of the Pampa Lions club at their regular weekly luncheon at noon today, in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Dr. H. H. Hicks, president. The club extended its welcome to the team.

Lions were notified of an announcement by Ralph Randle of Panhandle that the Panhandle Lions club would give a dance on the night of May 3 at the Legion hall in Panhandle. Proceeds are for the underprivileged children's fund.

Attendance at the luncheon was 65.

Pampa Store Tops 120 In District

Montgomery Ward store of Pampa recorded the highest sales in its history, and is leading the 120 stores of the company in eight states comprising the southwestern region, in the semi-annual Ward week now in progress over the nation, according to figures released today.

The local store is now leading all other stores in the region by a wide margin in sales. The observance of Ward week started last Wednesday and will end this Saturday.

WHEN WE SHOOK THE 4 BIG JOBS

YOU say we're acting pretty frisky for a couple of folks going on fifty? Well—we haven't got the 4 big jobs to keep us tied down to our house like we used to.

Those four big jobs almost had us worn out. Then one day I found out how easy and inexpensive it was to let GAS do them automatically. Now—housekeeping's a cinch! Why don't you learn the good news about Gas appliances?

1. GAS FOR COOKING. 2. GAS FOR REFRIGERATION. 3. GAS FOR HOME HEATING. 4. GAS FOR WATER HEATING.

The new Gas Ranges have revolutionized cooking. They make the cook's job easier, faster—cleaner. See the new smokeless broilers, simmer burners, high-speed ovens, non-rust top burners. They save gas, too.

Not a peep out of a silent Gas Refrigerator. There are no moving parts to rattle and wear. Here's automatic refrigeration at low cost.

Plethora of hot water all the time with an Automatic Gas Water Heater. It's an easy, economical way to enjoy the luxury which makes household work so simple.

Frankie Hill And 'Ref' He Hates Will Wrestle

Not a bit chastened over being disqualified and fined last Monday night, Frankie Hill is raving about what he's going to do to Count Antonio Moreno when they meet in the main event at the Pampa Athletic arena on Monday night.

Moreno, by the way, was the referee who disqualified Hill last Monday night because Hill hung his head in the ropes and the assaulted him after Mickey Durano had been given the second and deciding fall of the night.

"I hate all foreigners and Cliff

Chambers knows it," Hill yelled yesterday when he signed a contract to meet Moreno. "But I'll just keep on beating them to death and then we'll get some good American maulers in the country for a change. Last week it was a greaser and now it's a dago. Bah."

Stylish Count Moreno, who wears a cut Van Dyke beard, admitted that he asked Promoter Chambers to match him with Hill. "I didn't want to get into a brawl with the big sissy while I was a referee but let me get my hands on him as a wrestler," the count told Chambers, who immediately smelled a feud and matched the pair for a finish match.

Ernie Peterson, who showed more stuff last week than at any time since his first appearance, has promised to keep up the good work against Mickey Durano, in the semi-final. That, folks, should be the scientific match fans who like clean wrestling have been hollering for.

Opening the card at 8:15 o'clock sharp will be Willard Walker and Sugi Hayakama. In that battle anything could happen.

Indians Score Eight Runs In Eighth Inning

(By The Associated Press)

Oklahoma City's Indians had a 1 to 0 lead on the Rebels through seven innings yesterday. Right there they must have gone into a war council and decided that wasn't enough margin in view of what consideration ninth inning rallies often cause because they dined seven men across the plate in the eighth frame.

Their 8-0 victory was the second Texas league whitewashing of the day. Shreveport's Sports bunched three singles in the fourth for their

Shamrock Has 24 Boys Out For Football

(Special To The News)

SHAMROCK, April 27.—Coach G. B. Rush and 24 candidates for the Irish football team are now working out daily in spring practice. Preparations for next season and for a spring training game with the exes are uppermost in the minds of these aspiring athletes.

Coach Rush will direct the spring training until the first week in May, when Forrest Cline, coach-elect for the 1939 season, will take over for a week's drill. Rush will have charge of the exes for the week before and during the spring training game.

T. C. U. formations are being given the boys this week, since that is the formation to be used next season. This system is almost identical with the double wingback used by Rush for the past four years. A slight difference is that the T. C. U. formation uses two tall backs or a spinner man where the double wing system uses only one tall back.

Included in next season's roster are Letterman Johnnie Howell, tackle; Boyd Blount and Coy Isaacs, guards; Roy Holmes, center; D. H. Wilson and R. O. Hale, ends, and Earl Fuest and Captain Charles Allen, backs; squaddies returning are Jack Anderson, end; Vaughan Lister, tackle; James Chance, guard, and Gene Lanford and E. M. Rives, backs.

New boys reporting for spring training include Pimis Roden, Bill Jo Roden, Howard Lanford, J. T. Patterson, Carlton Gilmore, Robert Johnson, Hiram Prince, Clyde Medkief, and Max Galbreath.

Most of the new boys reporting have had some experience either on the junior high squad or on the B squad last season.

Gold Sox Beat Oilers 8 To 3 In Slugging Match

AMARILLO, April 27.—Unable to get their bats in front of the offerings of 200-pound Donald Thomas, the Pampa Oilers lost an 8 to 3 decision to the Amarillo Gold Sox yesterday to even up the count as the two teams moved to Pampa for a two-game series.

Amarillo will meet the Oilers Thursday and Friday afternoons at Road Runner park and then the mighty Lubbock Hubbers, who have scored 41 runs in two games against the potent Oiler's Pioneers, will be in Pampa for games on Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

The Gold Sox staged an uprising in the second inning yesterday when Mickey, big catcher, punched one of Verregnia's heaves out of the park to score Bolton, who had walked, and Jordan, who had gotten a life on Heiskell's misgoue.

Heiskell singled for the Oilers in the first inning but was a double play victim with Seitz. Heiskell got all the way around in the third on an error and Seitz singled. Gyurson scored on Pietras' single in the fifth and the Oilers started a ninth inning rally when Craddock, second Oiler catcher, hit his second single in a row and scored on Keyser's single and Heiskell's long fly. Keyser went in as a pinch-hitter and delivered nicely.

Nursing their run margin after the second inning, the Sox drove Verregnia, new California hurler, from the mound in the fourth and got to Elias, another newcomer from Lubbock, for eight hits but only three runs as the Oilers pulled three snappy double plays.

Both teams played sparkling ball most of the way after their erratic opener Tuesday.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

The Humble Oilers rose up and took two games out of three from the third place Weir Barbers last night while Gunn-Hinerman, league leader, swept their series with the American Legion team.

Weeks of the tremenolous high game of 206 pins with Prince having high series of 563 pins.

Class C teams roll tonight.

final spring training game of the season will be played between the Harvesters and all ex-Harvesters.

Although not giving out his probable starting lineup for tomorrow, rail birds who have been following the practice sessions closely believe coaches may try Foosy Green in the backfield and Glen Nichols at end. The two changed places in a recent practice and immediately clicked in the new slots.

One or two other changes may be tried although the coaches have not released the information.

Cubs Give Pirates 6th Straight Loss Of Year

By JUDSON BAILEY, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Pipe the life boats, mates, the Pittsburgh Pirates brig is sinking again.

If now develops the Buccaneers' craft didn't quite touch bottom last September when it resigned the National league pennant by dropping six of its last seven games.

The team has lost six successive contests since winning this season's inaugural from Cincinnati and, with invariably fast starters like the Pirates' that's more than a trifle upsetting. In 1938 the club won its first seven in a row and the year before monopolized first place until June 5, winning 10 games in one unbroken stretch.

Although they outdid the Chicago Cubs by one yesterday in losing, 3-1, the Pirates are battling like they were all pitchers. Rookie Fern Bell has a fancy .444 figure, but the best mark among the regulars is Johnny's Rizzo's .304.

These figures would explain a lot of beatings, but the Pirates never fold in halves. In seven games not one pitcher has lasted the route and the defensive play hasn't been up to par.

Skipper Pie Traynor has grasped at every straw in sight but all plans have gone awry.

Third Baseman Lee Handley, sparkplug of the team last year, was mopped unconsciously by a pitched ball just before the season opened and hasn't played a game. Traynor wanted to use Bell regularly in right field but the Pacific Coast recruit hasn't measured up as a fielder.

The aged Heinie Manush was obtained last September as a pinch-hitter and has been used five times in that capacity this spring without getting a hit.

The Pirates' place in the cellar isn't the only cock-eyed angle to the present National league race, because the Philadelphia Phillies are in second and got three yesterday without even playing. Their game with the New York Giants was rained out along with the contest between the Boston Bees and Brooklyn Dodgers. So the 1-0 shutout the St. Louis Cardinals administered to Cincinnati on the five-hit flinging of Curt Davis was just sufficient to move the Phillies past the Reds in the standings.

Eastern games in the American league also were rained out, but the western clubs put on a good show. The Detroit Tigers nosed out the St. Louis Browns, 7-6, in 10 innings in a game featured by seven home runs, of which two came from Hank Greenberg's big bat. Bill Eickhardt today got a shutout as the Chicago White Sox beat the Cleveland Indians, 5-1, but a single and a double in the last of the ninth gave the Tribe a tally.

1 to 0 conquest of the Houston Buffs, ending a hurling duel between Bivin of Shreveport and Van Slate of Houston.

George Meyer, former Dallas player, sparked the Redskin uprising by gathering a triple, double, home run and single. His homer, together with Corbett's double and two of the errors marked up against Left Fielder Ernie Bulik, were major factors in the Oklahoma's big inning.

The Fort Worth Cats knocked out the veteran Max Thomas and took advantage of Stefan's wildness to score all their runs in the first five innings as they vanquished the Tulsa Oilers, 8 to 2.

Tony Criscola batted in seven runs on two hits and two sacrifices as he and his San Antonio Mission mates subdued the Beaumont Exporters 2 to 5. The Padres built up a 6 to 2 lead on five hits by the end of the third inning, during which frame Bill Strickland rescued Bill Miller when the Shipper starter had difficulty finding the plate.

Drake Relays Open Tomorrow

DES MOINES, Ia., April 27 (AP)—Des Moines wore its festive attire today as Drake relays guests and participants moved in for the opening of the thirtieth annual track and field classic tomorrow.

Franklin Johnson, who directs the relays, said advance ticket sales indicated a capacity crowd of 18,000 for Saturday's main show.

One of the chief attractions tomorrow afternoon will be the two-mile run in which Walter Mehl of Wisconsin, Greg Rice of Notre Dame, Forrest Efav of Oklahoma A. & M., Gilbert Dodds of Ashland, O., college and Bill Baker of Drake are the leading contestants.

Interest also will center on the sprint medley invitation race which has Rice, Oklahoma A. & M., Oklahoma University, Ohio State and Iowa as certain starters.

Finals in two field events, the broad jump and the discus, will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Billy Brown, the busy young man from Louisiana State, will appear in the broad jump. Youngest member of the 1936 United States Olympic team, Brown also will go into action in the preliminaries of the 100-yard dash and will be a member of a couple of Louisiana State sprint relay teams.

Fred Wolcott of Rice Institute, rated with Brown as an outstanding individual competitor, will be in the dash and hurdle preliminaries besides doing service on Rice sprint teams. He holds the Drake mark of 14.2 and expects to take a bit off that record last year.

As a feature attraction Saturday afternoon relays officials have matched John Borican, the negro flash from New York; Chuck Penske, former Wisconsin ace; Calvin Bell of Rice and George Gahan of Oklahoma in a special 1,000-yard race.

Henderson And Palestine Hold First-Place Tie

(By The Associated Press)

Palestine and Henderson held their first-place tie in the East Texas League today.

Henderson splurged with three runs in the eighth to overcome Texas' 3-2 lead and win 7-3 last night.

J. Knight, Lou Wysock and Carl Fiore hit homers for Tyler but they were for the losing side. Palestine won 13 to 2.

Jacksonville scored six runs in the first inning and defeated Marshall 9 to 6.

Nowak of Kilgore fanned 12 batters as Kilgore defeated Longview, 6 to 1.

Tod's games: Tyler at Jacksonville; Longview at Palestine; Henderson at Marshall; Texarkana at Kilgore.

Phillies Have Confidence Says Dentist Prothro

PHILADELPHIA, April 27. (AP)—The man behind the surprising Phillies—a dentist who has ranked 1938's most downtrodden team into second place in the National league— isn't promising they'll stay there but, he says, "it can be done."

Such is the faith Manager James Thompson "Doc" Prothro has in the club that has won four straight from the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers and has not lost in five games. One was an 11-inning tie with Brooklyn.

"I'm not a doctor, you know; just a dentist," said Prothro today, "but I know something about medicine and I think I have discovered a serum for that last-place poison baseball experts and writers have been injecting into my boys for the past two years.

"I'll tell you what it is—confidence in themselves. For the first time since most of them came up from the minor leagues, they believe they can win and are sure that they will not finish last.

"Those boys are no collection of bums. They're good and just as likely to move up three places as one in this league."

Prothro, who succeeded Jimmy Wilson, served notice during spring training he would not tolerate players who did not hustle. He be-

Galento Boed In Exhibition Bout

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27 (AP)—Heavyweight challenger Tony Galento's fistic debut here was a decided failure last night, as 3,000 fans loudly booed his work in an exhibition with a spar-mate, but the customers went home in a good humor as newsboy Millich, Sacramento, Calif., light heavy, scored an upset win in the main event of a boxing card.

SERIAL STORY BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday's "Takin' 'Detention House, Betty goes to her ranch. There she will try to find out who he will associate over his life.

CHAPTER XVIII

THE ranch home of Luis Barro was in the vicinity of Juarez. It was like other ranches in Chihuahua, save that this one was reputed to be rather luxuriously furnished and maintained. From time to time cattle appeared on the hundred or so acres behind it, but the information seemed vaguely to be that Don Luis made his money mostly by buying and selling cattle rather than raising them. That is, to those persons who knew only superficially about him.

The entrance was a long curving driveway to the house proper. And the house was indeed striking. It was once owned by a member of the historic Terrazas family, wealthy folk of another decade. Octobillo and maguays and yuccas and many bizarre cactus plants adorned the yard. Barred and gridded windows, graceful arches that were shadowed and deep, balconies here and there, a cool patio, all were part of it. The rooms of the building seemed to ramble indefinitely. The main entrance was labeled with a painted sign after the manner of so many old Spanish or Mexican homes. This one, Don Luis had caused to be named "Casa Hermosa"—beautiful home.

"Oh, the lovely old carreta!" Betty Mary saw it with an artist's eye, a genuine old ox cart with two immense wooden wheels standing near the entryway. Several people were out front too. They appeared merely to be loitering there in the sunshine, enjoying the lovely desert and mountain view. Juarez and El Paso were plainly visible five miles in the distance, and between them the silvery Rio Grande snaked off across the far plains. The elevation of Casa Hermosa added immensely to the view. Betty Mary noted the hall or mountain that rose abruptly immediately behind the house, too.

"Senorita to see Don Luis," the taxi driver told a man servant who appeared in the arched entryway.

BETTY MARY got out, paid the driver generously and told him not to wait. She wanted an excuse to be here as long as necessary, now that she had dared to come. She gripped her sketching pad hard to avoid showing nervousness, and followed the servant inside. He opened a ponderous, hand-hewn door and motioned her through. It led to a great living room which held 15 or 20 people, mostly men. Luis Barro was sitting at a table with several persons around him. "Senorita!" He jumped up in high surprise. "Hello—hello, Don Luis!" she began her artist manner again. "I just couldn't resist calling on you in so lovely a place! So picturesque and all! It just must be painted! I should think—"

"Miss Jordan! How you come here? How you know this place? Here—you—what you do here?" "Oh, I just took a taxicab. It was a lovely drive. Really it was! The hotel or somebody, I forget who, showed me where you lived. I have always wanted to visit a real Mexican rancho, dear me! So nice of you to welcome me. Aren't you going to introduce me to all these interesting people?"

Her chattering had given Barro time to collect his own wits. He made a pretense of introducing his companions, mentioning them as business callers from Chihuahua City. "And let me present Senorita Bettie Marie Jordan," he bowed to her and to them.

Now, in all truth, Luis Barro had been highly impressed by Betty Mary's beauty. When he was in lighter mood, feeling romantic and a trifle devilish in the Juarez cafe that day, he had maneuvered to become acquainted with her and impress her, as he thought, with his own good manners. It was a social contact he fully meant to follow up. So utterly charming a girl was not to be taken lightly.

And in truth also, he would have followed up that meeting at once if circumstances had permitted. He did shower her with every courtesy he could in the first few days he knew her. He took her to dinner twice, to lunch twice, to a theater once. He sent her an exquisite bracelet in Mexican silver filigree work, so delicately beautiful that Betty Mary loved it instantly and felt like a hypocrite for accepting it. But meanwhile, too, his private business had been experiencing some very definite ups and downs. Black anger had suffused him when his avenues for smuggling cocaine had suddenly been detected.

"I have been so sorry not to have seen you as much as I hoped," he purred at Betty Mary now, as if in apology for his first lack of hospitality. "It is honor to have you call, senorita!"

That was more like it, thought Betty Mary! She breathed a little silent sigh of relief, wondering just what tack she ought to take now. She fell back on her sketching pad again, deciding to move slowly and begin to pump the servants when she could. She talked gaily as Don Luis himself showed her to a beautiful sun room and introduced her to a duenna—the companioned woman servant and chaplain who so often is a blessing in Mexican homes. He promised to join her soon, then went back to his business callers.

At 2 p. m. that same day, Hope Kildare went to a florist in El Paso and ordered $5 worth of roses sent to Miss Betty Mary Jordan, Hotel Montezuma, Juarez. "And give them to her in person, or else where you can take them to her," he commanded the delivery boy. "Say they are from Oscar Smith in El Paso, if anybody asks. Here's a dollar for yourself."

"Yes, sir, Mr. Smith! Gee!" In an hour—a long long hour for Hope—the boy was back. Hope had kept an eye on the florist shop, watching for him. "Sorry, Mr. Smith," he apologized. "But she wasn't in, and hadn't been in several hours. They didn't know where she went, but I left the flowers in water in her room."

"In her room? Was she—were the shades—the windows—?" Hope didn't want to talk too much, but—

"Oh, the shades were pulled," the boy assured him. "They won't wait."

Hope didn't ask any more. But he didn't like it. This was the first time in days that the two white cloths had been missing. He hoped that perhaps Betty Mary was in El Paso again, and so hastened back to headquarters to be there if she should telephone. "She hasn't called here, and her window's blank," Sheridan Starr informed him, looking exceedingly glum. "It's been nearly six hours now. What'll we do?"

"Let's go over there," Hope suggested, glumly.

"She'll skin us. Anyhow—if Barro was back of that submarine business, and I'm sure he was—"

"You seem to go," Hope glared at his buddy.

"Course not! But—all right, let's go!"

Sheridan left his chair and started toward the door, but Hope himself retraced his challenge.

"Wait. You're right. No use being foolish. Regardless of Barro, we can't mess up her plans now. She may have something else good in mind. It's still daylight. But tonight—"

"Right, Hopey." He was eyeing his pal closely, though. Suddenly Sheridan lowered his voice perceptibly. "Listen, son, you're in love with that little trick, aren't you?"

Hope ignored him, his face stern. He took out his pocket knife, and began slowly to trim his finger nails. Finally he muttered an answer, "Well, aren't you in love with her, too?"

Senate Makes Morse Lawyer As Hill Rails

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—In the face of a charge it was creating "a diploma mill lawyer," the Senate yesterday approved with amendments a bill making Speaker of the House Bennett Morse eligible to take the state bar examinations.

The opposition came from Senator Joe Hill of Henderson who verbally flayed his colleagues for the manner in which the measure was passed.

Complaining bitterly against invocation of what he termed the "gas rule," Hill asserted: "You can pass legislation for the benefit of several men but how are you going to explain to 6,000,000 people how you perpetuated this outrage?"

The measure as amended would permit any person who has served 12 consecutive years in the legislature to apply for the regular state bar examination, provided he satisfied the Supreme Court as to his moral character.

Hill had sought to send up further amendments before his colleagues invoked a rule prohibiting consideration of additional alterations and debate, shouted:

"You are riding for a fall as sure as God made little goats."

Hill made the statement the Senate's action was a "trade out" for political favor, adding:

"I hope the time will never come when I'll be a puppet."

The East Texas senator said he supposed that in the future when he wanted to retire, the Senate would have to send up a "golden headed card with an R. S. V. attached."

As the bill came from the House it would have affected only Speaker Morse, a non-lawyer, but the amendments broadened it to include several House members and some former members of the House and Senate.

Senator Clint Small of Amarillo who had expressed opposition to the measure's original form but supported after the scope was broadened said he would understand how anyone could object to it.

"If a man is returned to the legislature for 12 years by his constituency, he is bound to receive as much law training as he could acquire in any state institution teaching law," he said.

things are going. Now that rounds conceited, doesn't it? Maybe I ought not to have said that but I feel like it."

When we reached the elevator we went inside the little scales office and seated ourselves in Roy's straight-bottomed chairs. As soon as a long freight roared by, I began asking questions and listening. We sat there for an hour before lunch and until four o'clock that afternoon.

Southwood First.
Now The News is not going to put down here the conversation as it took place that day, because that'd take up all the space in this paper, and besides I couldn't remember all that was said anyway.

What The News is going to do is to tell the story of those three men,

Mr. Carhart, Judge Southwood, and Uncle Charlie Wright as he heard them tell it. Then he's going to tell the story of the woman, Mrs. F. H. Hill.

First on the list is going to be Judge James Edward Southwood, who was the first resident of Panhandle. We're going to tell the Judge's story first because he's the oldest. Having been born March 4, 1854, at Martinsburg, Va., he is now 85 years old, but he doesn't look nearly that old. A good age for the judge would be 70 at the most. Many people 65 look older than the judge.

Judge One Term.
First thing, let's dispose of a matter that's likely to worry you. Well, the reason they call him judge is because he served as county judge of Carson county for one term "way back about 1906."

"I didn't stand for reelection because I got a hold of something, I didn't know much about and didn't want to know much about. I don't want to hold any office I can't run myself and have to turn it over to some shyster lawyer instead," explained the judge.

But Jim Southwood got a nickname out of it. Everybody but his close friends call him judge. They call him Jim.

Now Judge Southwood is a plain-spoken man, very direct, very sensible. He has always been that way, and he's likely to underestimate the importance of an event especially if it concerns himself.

Case In 1887.

For instance, he says that he came to the Panhandle "way back in 1887 as a "stock-raiser," and you begin to think that he's going to tell you something "off the record" until he explains that he came to the Panhandle as an overseer in a peculiar but in those days not uncommon land deal.

At that time it was believed that the main line of the Fort Worth & Denver railway would cross the main line of the Santa Fe at the site where Panhandle is now located. Most everybody held this belief for the very good reason that The Denver line had entered into a contract with the Santa Fe to cross each other's lines at Panhandle.

It was believed that a great city would spring up at the intersection of those two lines, and that the people who were on the ground floor, so to speak, would become rich, or that land values would rise and money invested in land could be doubled, trebled, and sold for large profits.

One who believed this was O. H. Nelson, a member of a large investment firm in Kansas. Mr. Nelson then conceived the idea that started the town of Panhandle. He knew that if the two railroad lines crossed at Panhandle and that if he owned a big block of the land it could be sold for a big profit. So he sent ten men to the Panhandle community and had them file on 10 sections of land with the site on which is now located Panhandle as the center of the block. In charge of these men was Jim Southwood.

Filed On Land.
Well, the men, filed on the land and on each section was built a sort of shack or shanty to comply with the law. After a few weeks, men were transferred to the Nelson ranch below the cap rock where pure-bred Herefords were being raised. This was the first pure-bred cattle ranch in the Panhandle. Jim Southwood was left in charge of the claims. He stayed there all summer.

It was his job to visit the claims and warn any settlers that the land had been filed on. He lived in a tent and did his own cooking that summer. He had plenty of visitors because he had more food than anybody in the country. The company he worked for had left him plenty of canned goods, all kinds of staple and some fancy groceries. Two of his most frequent visitors were J. S. Wynne now of Pampa and E. E. Carhart of Panhandle.

Plenty To Eat.
"We'd come just at dinner time or supper time," laughed Mr. Carhart. "Right when we knew he'd have to be eating. We'd take time about coming. Boy, did Jim have plenty to eat!"

Thus, Judge Southwood was the first resident of Panhandle. He had come to the Panhandle the year before in the summer of 1886. He and several other cowboys had brought a herd of pure-bred cattle to the Nelson ranch in the Clarendon country. The cattle were all stall-fed and fat and besides, they were tame. Driving them was not like driving range cattle. All you had to do in taking range cattle up the trail was to herd them in the right direction. It took about a month to take a herd to Dodge from the Panhandle.

It took Southwood and the boys three months to a day to drive those cattle from Dodge City to the Nelson ranch in the Panhandle. He went back to Kansas in 1886 and the next year he was sent to the Panhandle to oversee the filing on the claims. In the summer of 1887, shortly after Mr. Southwood arrived at Panhandle, Ed Carhart and Jess Wynne arrived there with a stock of hardware goods, farm implements, groceries, clothing, etc.

Story Not Told Yet.
The Nelson get-rich scheme would probably have worked to everybody's satisfaction if the two railroads had crossed at Panhandle, but as everybody knows they didn't. Various reasons as to why they failed to cross at Panhandle have been advanced. One is that an employee of one of the railroads came to Panhandle and announced that if he did not get his share of the proceeds of the sales of townsites, his railroad would never cross there. However, the real story has never been told—that is, the story that is taken off the railway records, the authentic story that must be gleaned from yellowed and faded correspondence. Some day this dramatic story of the building of the railroads into the Panhandle will be told.

The result of the Denver's failure to cross at Panhandle was Amarillo, and Panhandle might have been the city that Amarillo is today if the original plan to cross at Panhandle had been carried out. The Denver, though, fulfilled its part of the contract. It built a spur line from Washburn to Panhandle, and for a year or so a train ran back and forth between Panhandle and Washburn. After a few years, this track was taken up. By that time both the Denver and the Santa Fe had reached the spot where Amarillo is now located and the building of the plains metropolis had begun.

Judge Sells Claim.
But back to the Nelson holdings and Judge Southwood. The 10 men and Judge Southwood who filed on the land were to get half of the proceeds and the rest would go back to the Kansas company which financed filing on the claims. After the expected railway junction boom had blown up, some of the men sold their holdings, and the claims reverted back to the state. Judge Southwood sold his for $400 cash. A note for the rest and other holdings.

"I'll say this for Jim Southwood. He was the only one of that bunch that sent Nelson what he was supposed to send him," Mrs. F. H. Hill said. The judge sent half of the $400 to Nelson, and he never again saw nor heard of the man to whom he sold his claim.

On last April 9, Judge Southwood had been in the Panhandle 52 years. "I came because I was broke," he declared in his frank manner. "I hooked up with Nelson because there was nothing else for me to do at the time." He was 33 years old at the time.

Sells Beer, Ice.
After the original land-filing episode was over, Jim Southwood worked for a fellow named Stein, or Stine, who had a retail business, selling beer, liquor, ice, coal, groceries. The owner would go off for months and leave Southwood to run the business. "I didn't want to take it over," he explained, "because I didn't know anything about bookkeeping, but he told me that he could teach me all I needed to know about bookkeeping in 10 minutes and he did. I got along very well. He gave me some pretty good advice about drinking, too. He advised me to never open a case of beer when the boys were around, and I just went him one further and never opened any at all for myself."

In 1889 Jim Southwood helped ship out 60,000 head of two-year-old steers from Panhandle. That was when Panhandle was the terminus of the rail line. For three years, Panhandle boomed like a modern oil town while the terminus was at the Carson county seat. And that's another thing. The original name of Panhandle was Carson City. It was changed to Panhandle later.

First Train Arrives.
The first train came into Panhandle Jan. 16, 1888, and Jim Southwood, Jess Wynne and Ed Carhart were on hand to see it pull in. It was a gala day for Panhandle.

Along about that time, Jim Southwood had another job. He would load a herd at Panhandle and accompany the shipment of cattle to its destination. He would be paid a flat fee for taking a herd to Wyoming or some other place.

Lives On Farm Now.
All his life Judge Southwood has dealt in cattle. He insists that his ventures into the cattle business have been in a small way. He was always interested in the buying and selling of cattle. He was also in the feed and grain business at one time. When Jim Southwood first staked his claim at Panhandle for O. H. Nelson, the state allowed a man to file on only one section. Two or three years later the law permitted a man to file on two sections. Then Mr. Southwood filed on two sections and proved his claims. His present farm lies southeast of Panhandle two miles.

Judge Southwood and Miss Dena Held, who came from Illinois, were married in 1911. Several years later, Judge Southwood became a director in Panhandle's historic bank, the Panhandle bank, founded by Judge J. C. Paul. The bank started out with a capital of $3,000 and then in a year or so increased it to $10,000, and later to $25,000, $50,000 at a time. Mr. Carhart was cashier of the bank for 21 years.

Judge Southwood likes to remember the Panhandle when he came here in 1887. It rained a lot that summer and the country was as green as an emerald. Mesquite grass was actually ankle-high and higher. The country had a whole lot more wood in it than it has now, especially along all the creeks.

Blames Plow.
It was truly a land where "the deer and the antelope played," "where seldom was heard a discouraging word and the skies are not cloudy all day." It was truly a land of virgin beauty.

"And I believe," said Judge Southwood, "that this country would be a lot better off if they never had gashed her verdant side with a plow. It doesn't look like the same country now. You should have seen it then. Why, you could cut hay every year in all these lakes. It was more beautiful than anything I ever saw. Yes, I think if we'd kept the plow out of the Panhandle, we'd have been better off!"

Judge Southwood was christened James Edward. He was born in Martinsburg, Va., on the West Virginia-Virginia line, March 4, 1854. At the age of two years, he moved with his parents to Lexington, Mo. At the age of 19, he moved to Central Kansas. His next move was to the Panhandle.

Judge and Mrs. Southwood still run their household according to the old-time tradition of hospitality. They dislike the hurry and confusion of modern life.

"If you weren't in that car you'd have time to stop. You always had time to stop when you were riding on horseback or driving a buckboard," he said.

The first time he went to Clarendon he followed the stakes of a railroad that had not been built. "I went down there to get a tooth pulled," he said.

Bishop Moore Hails Union Of Methodists

KANSAS CITY, April 27 (AP)—Heads of three American Methodist churches said today the Methodist uniting conference here, creating one 8,000,000-member church, sets before the religious forces of Christendom an example which is both appealing and challenging.

The 61 bishops of the Methodist Episcopal and M. E. churches and the president of the Protestant Methodist church presented an "Episcopal address" for delivery by Bishop John M. Moore, Dallas, of the Southern church.

"Methodism," the address said, "proclaims to the world today, with great joy, the culmination of one of the most outstanding and far-reaching union movements which the Church of Christ has ever witnessed. Christendom for a quarter of a century has deplored its divisions and bewailed its rivalries and has cried aloud for peace and a new Christian and Ecumenical unity.

Regarding the effect the union will have on local churches, the bishops said:

"Union of the three denominations puts all local churches under the same family but it does not require any local mergers.

"These are left entirely to the will, judgment and action of the memberships of the local churches involved.

"Great loyalties and holy sentiments cluster about many altars and they should be respected. Sacred memories attach to the very aisles. These should not be sacrificed without due consideration."

The conference finds the churches' foreign missionary work "in great need of special inspiration and encouragement," the bishops said.

The bishops saw Methodist union as "not really a Methodist problem, but an American problem."

"While Methodists have been distressingly divided," they said, "Methodism has continued inherently one. Its faith, its policy, its thought, its life, whatever the realm, never failed the founders."
