Governor Proclaims Texas Newspaper Week

Texas Governor John Connally, has proclaimed this week, the week of Oct. 13-19, as Newspaper Week in Texas in official recognition of the achievements of daily and weekly Texas newspapers.

"Newspaper Week is much more than a routine memorandum issued by various public officials to commemorate an event," Governor Connally said. "Actually it is a means of expressing appreciation and high regard for the thousands of newspaper people, past and present, who have contributed so much to Texas and the nation."

He further explained, that "we hear the term 'Freedom of the Press' so much that some consider it a cliché. But it has a deep meaning that should be understood by everyone who hates tyranny, for infringements upon this freedom would be the first step toward loss of all our freedoms."

In giving his support to Newspaper Week in Texas, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, stated: "Throughout my long career in public life there have been those newspapers which have supported me and those which have not been so friendly. But this is good—this is healthy. We may thank the good Lord that we live in a land where newspapers can and often do disagree. There is no one newspaper in the whole of America whose presses are controlled by the government."

One of the 13 Texas congressmen polled on their opinion of the Texas press, Congressman Olin E. Teague stated: "Do newspapers make a big difference in people's lives?" Just a little. The difference approximately between freedom and slavery.

"It is impossible to imagine a free press operating within a dictatorship, since despotism demands that everyone think alike. And when all people think alike, no one is thinking at all."

"On the other hand," he said, "it is impossible to imagine a democracy without a free press. Democracy demands an informed and thinking electorate. It insists upon a free exchange of ideas. It thrives only when opinions can be openly expressed and when elected leaders can be criticized or encouraged without fear of reprisal. By the same token, an informed and thinking people demand that those members of the Fourth Estate live up to their responsibility. The newspapers and other news media in our world have an obligation to the peoples of the world and should never once lose sight of this fact."

"Since history's earliest beginning, a free press has been liberty's first target. We sometimes deplore its shortcomings, but we would be hopelessly lost without it," Congressman Teague said.

Reds Back Off And U.S. Army Troops Roll On

By EDWARD J. SHIELDS
 BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviets abruptly ended their new Berlin blockade without explanation Saturday in the face of grim American determination. They allowed a 61-man U.S. Army convoy to roll into West Berlin after holding it at gunpoint for nearly 48 hours.

The Army immediately reaffirmed its Berlin access rights by sending another convoy from West Germany to West Berlin. A convoy of 30 vehicles carrying about 130 men left the Helmstedt checkpoint near the West German border at 5:02 p.m., reportedly with orders to reinforce the convoy if it had not been allowed to move.

The new convoy was cleared without difficulty in only 46 minutes.

The situation appeared so serious Friday the United States fired off three separate protests to the Soviet Union, and the British and French commanding generals in Germany also lodged vigorous protests with their Russian counterpart.

Moscow appeared to be the only capital not particularly worried over what had threatened to be a major cold war clash. The Soviet press Saturday blamed the U.S. Army for the delay, dismissed it as "much ado about nothing" and indicated it considered the matter minor, closed and finished.

Troops Cross Border
 The American troops in their 18 trucks and jeeps crossed the West Berlin border at the Dreilinden checkpoint at 12:50 p.m., four minutes after they began to roll out of the Soviet control point at Babelsberg, one mile away in East Germany.

Twenty-four minutes later, a convoy of 143 men in 25 vehicles — sent in to reinforce the halted convoy — continued its move to West Germany, reaching Marienborn safely at 3:35 p.m. By then the stopped convoy already had reached West Berlin without further trouble.

The convoy which was held by the Russians was commanded by 1st Lt. Raymond C. Fields of Pawnee, Okla., of Company A, 3rd Battalion, 6th Infantry Regiment. The support convoy which moved on to West Germany was commanded by Maj. Obel H. Wells of Indio, Calif., of Company B, 2nd Battle Group, 26th Infantry.

Demand Headcount
 The troubles began over a Soviet demand that the 61 troops in the convoy, "amount for a headcount. In the past the Army has done this with groups of more than 75 soldiers to expedite moving past the Soviet checkpoints, but contends it does not have to do this."

The East German Communist news agency ADN reported jubilantly the Americans finally gave in, but an Army spokesman said flatly: "The U.S. soldiers did not dismount from their vehicles for a head count by the Soviets."

Fields told a news conference later the delay at Marienborn was broken when he received orders "from outside" to block the Autobahn with his convoy. This was done, he said, and the convoy was passed only to be held up again at Babelsberg outside Berlin.

Army sources said the end of the blockade came with unexpected suddenness. The Babelsberg Soviet commandant appeared at the stalled convoy and called out to the American officer in charge: "I have been instructed to clear you to proceed to West Berlin."

In a matter of minutes the Soviet armored cars blocking the convoy moved away and the American troops hurriedly scooped up their sleeping bags and other equipment, put them into the trucks and started rolling towards Berlin.

During the long wait at Babelsberg the Soviets rolled up armored cars and antitank guns to reinforce their demands. U.S. soldiers and Russian soldiers faced each other with rifles and bayonets—but there was no crisis atmosphere. Witnesses said they laughed and joked with one another.

Reduction of Bond Sought in Heroin Smuggling Case
 LAREDO (UPI) — The defense lawyer for a couple accused of smuggling $35 million worth of heroin into the U. S. said today he would try next week to get a federal judge to reduce the woman's $250,000 bond.

The couple, Joseph Michel Caron, 33, and his wife, Marie Ida, 30, of Montreal, Canada, were ordered held for a federal grand jury on charges they smuggled 75 pounds of heroin into the United States. The heroin was found Thursday in the couple's car as they crossed the border into the United States from Mexico.

Gray County March of Dimes Officials Attend State Meeting

Bill Power, Gray County campaign director of the March of Dimes, and three other county delegates have returned from a two-day planning session for the January 1964 March of Dimes campaign. More than 400 volunteer workers attended the Dallas sessions.

Other Gray County delegates were Norman Henry, Mrs. R. A. Mack and her daughter Mary Ann.

According to Power, March of Dimes is the largest single national source of private support for research and care of patients with arthritis and birth defects.

March of Dimes leadership in the fight against crippling birth defects and arthritis has been achieved in less than six years after the organization first turned its attention to them," Power said.

March of Dimes sponsors 70 clinical study and special treatment centers in the United States. These centers combine research with practical application of knowledge, according to Power.

Three doctors who spoke to delegates on the medical care program were Dr. Robert Merrill, associate professor of pediatrics at Vanderbilt School of Medicine Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. James Dennis, director of March of Dimes Birth Defects Center, University of Arkansas Medical Center, Little Rock and Dr. Morris Ziff, professor of internal medicine, on arthritis, University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, Dallas.

One-Third Of United Fund Goal Achieved

Contributions to the advance gift drive of the United Fund totaled about $20,500 yesterday, according to Clyde Carruth, drive chairman.

The general drive started Thursday with a kick-off luncheon in the Coronado Inn. First check-in day for the drive will be 10 a.m. Friday in the Starlight Room of the Inn. With 29 days left before Nov. 18, the last day of the drive, about $41,500 remains to be collected, according to Carruth.

Rescuers Find Children Alive As They Dig for Alpine Dam Victims

BELLUNO, Italy (UPI) — Rescuers found two children still alive in the cellar of a wrecked house at Longarone Saturday more than 60 hours after the Piave River Valley Dam disaster virtually wiped out the Alpine town and nearby villages.

The little boy and girl, apparently brother and sister, were rescued by Italian Alpine soldiers who heard their faint cries while digging in the ruins for bodies of the estimated 3,000 to 4,000 dead.

The two children were rushed to a hospital suffering from exhaustion but otherwise apparently uninjured.

About the same time 11 persons listed as missing from the wrecked hamlet of Pineda above the lake formed by the 83-foot high dam walked into rescue headquarters and said they had been wandering in a forest since the disaster.

Three other late survivors were Lodovico Paludetti, 41, his wife, Albina, and their 4-month-old son, Orazio. They were dug out of a half destroyed house at Codizzago.

The rescues gave Italian and American teams digging in the devastated valley towns fresh hope that more lives were yet to be saved.

Meanwhile, U. S. Embassy officials were probing insistently but unconfirmed reports that seven Americans were in Longarone's Marina Hotel when it was crushed by the water. Hotel owner Marco Tovanello, 31, who lost 30 relatives was in the hospital suffering from shock and could not be questioned.

Italian police said 10 emigrants who returned from the United States had settled in the disaster area. Their U. S. addresses were not available, and only their birth dates were registered.

Missing and believed dead were Ida Fontanella, born in 1892, Vittorio Polla, 1898; Norma Teat, 1907; Gina Colotto, 1888; Giulio Mazzucco, 1888; and Giovanni de Bona, a hotel resident. Two believed to have survived were Carlo Sommariva, born in 1902 and Mario Sommariva, 1897; the fate of two others was uncertain — Marherita Oliver, 1895 and Agostino Losso, 1889.

Hundreds of weeping villagers filed slowly past 200 coffins in a cornfield outside Belluno in hopes of identifying relatives killed in the Wednesday night disaster.

Funeral services for the victims will be held Sunday at 11:30 a.m. in the cathedral of Belluno, with the Mass officiated by the bishop of Belluno and Feltre, Msgr. Giocchino Moccin. Among the mourners will be Italian President Antonio Segni.

The mountain village of Longarone, which was wiped off the map by the fury of the devastating flood, was blocked off by Italian troops and police because of the threat of disease.

So far, an estimated 1,900 bodies have been found. The final death toll is expected to run between 3,000 and 4,000.

Miss America Is Visiting in Dallas

DALLAS (UPI) — Donna Axum of El Dorado, Ark., said Saturday that she regrets ever letting herself get drawn into an argument about sex and the Miss America title.

Miss Axum, 21, is Miss America. She said she had been misquoted about sex and Miss America, but a fair statement of her sentiments is: "The image of Miss America should not be one of sex."

TV Plays As Antenna Falls

S. A. Tinsley, 424 N. Dwight, was sitting in his living room watching television about 12:30 p.m. yesterday when he "heard a racket, looked around and saw his television antenna sticking through his living room ceiling. The television. Many well-informed politician picture never stopped, but remained on the screen even while the antenna was being replaced.

"I was just sitting in the living room watching television when I heard a racket, looked around and there it was. It lacked about three feet reaching the floor," Tinsley said.

Neither Tinsley nor his wife know for sure what happened, but Tinsley offers one explanation.

"The antenna was sitting between the rafters, instead of on top of one," he said. "There was not a thing holding it up except the shingles and the tar paper under the shingles. It has been down two or three times before and we put it back, but the last time we noticed a leak near where the antenna was. The wood could have rotted out and the wind worked it loose."

No one was hurt and the damage has not been estimated yet, according to Mrs. Tinsley.

The World This Morning

BLACKPOOL — Britain's ruling Conservative party ended its crisis-ridden conference with no decision on a successor to retiring Prime Minister Harold Macmillan thought Lord Home, the foreign secretary, might be a compromise choice. Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler, favorite of the party pros, drew mild reaction from the rank-and-file with his closing speech.

BUENOS AIRES — Dr. Arturo U. Illia was sworn in as president of Argentina to end 19 unsettled months of civilian-military rule. The country physician turned politician warned of a long and hard struggle to cure Argentina's economic and political ills.

Consumer Advisory Council Endorses Kennedy Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Consumer Advisory Council yesterday endorsed President Kennedy's proposals for an income tax cut and a ban on discrimination in public accommodations. The 11-member group, created by Kennedy a year ago to give the consumer a voice in government, set forth recommendations in its first annual report to the white house. The report also came out strongly for two other administration-backed measures — the so-called "truth-in-packaging" and "truth-in-lending" bills now pending in congress. The council not only supported a tax cut but suggested that an even larger reduction than the proposed $11 billion slash might be needed along with greater benefits for small taxpayers.

Soviets Remove Berlin Blockade

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet-imposed blockade of American military traffic on the access highway to West Berlin was removed today and U.S. convoys "are moving again," informed sources reported here.

The apparent end to what appeared to be building up as a major East-West crisis ended almost as quickly as it began, the source indicated.

"It looks like the problem has been removed," said a qualified American informant.

He said one American military convoy contained 61 enlisted men and officers, which had been held up twice during a crossing of Communist East Germany territory to West Berlin, had been allowed to resume, and that a second convoy sent out to accompany it also was moving this morning.

There was no immediate indication as to what conditions caused the Soviets to withdraw armored vehicles and troops which had been blocking the highway lifeline from West Germany to West Berlin.

The United States had vigorously protested the action—which apparently started over somewhat of a technicality—a Russian insistence that American troops get out of trucks to be counted. American officers refused this demand and the Russians refused to let them pass.

The first incident in the blockade occurred Thursday at the West Germany end of the auto-

Ben Sargent, 60, of Plainview, was not injured, but his car received about $500 damage when Sargent failed to make a turn at the intersection of Highways 60 and 152 E. of Pampa, ran over a highway median and flipped his car over on its top.

According to investigating highway patrolman Lawrence Macha, Sargent said he thought "he must have fallen asleep."

"The accident happened about 4 p.m. Friday," Macha said. "Sargent wasn't hurt at all, not even bruised and didn't even go to the doctor."

George Smith Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

There is still room for children who would like to enroll in swimmers class which will start on Monday, Oct. 14. Parents or children may come by to enroll today or come Monday and be prepared to take the first lessons.

There were not enough people interested in Junior Life Saving so that class has been cancelled. The Center instead will offer a Ladies Swim Class at that time from 5-8 p.m. Ladies interested should contact the Center to enroll either today or Monday. Wednesday will be the last day you may enroll. Enrollment may be anytime during the day. Center members will receive instruction free but a non-member will pay a $2 instructional fee. There are no other charges.

The Center swim team, the Dolphins, will start their workouts Monday, October 14. An organizational meeting was held Saturday where rules and regulations were discussed. Any person interested in joining the swim team may do so by contacting George Smith or Harold Thrasher at the Center. They will in turn discuss the matter with you and explain the qualifications. In order to be a Dolphin a person must first be a Center member.

The Pampa Jaycees will hold their annual Halloween Party and Dance for the Young People of Pampa on Halloween night. This will be Oct. 31 from 7 p.m. until around 10:30 when the Halloween prelude will start. All young people and even adults are invited free of charge. There will be a band.

Let's not forget the Swim Team Rummage Sale to be held Friday and Saturday Oct. 18 and 19. The sale will be at 315 S. Cuyler with all proceeds going to the Dolphins swim team. This money will be used to finance their trips to swim meets this next summer. Be sure to go by 315 S. Cuyler. I understand they have some new clothing which was donated by a local store. Better be there first to have your choice of the new materials.

The Center's two volleyball leagues finished their fourth week of competition Thursday. At just over the halfway point La Bonita Beauty Salon (4-0) leads the women's division followed closely by the Jaycee-Ettes (3-1). In the Men's division Harrah Methodist Church (4-0) and Celanese No. 1 (4-0) lead followed in order by Cabot Office (2-2), Cabot Fab Shop (2-2), Rotary (2-2), Celanese No. 2 (2-2), Jaycees (0-4) and Kiwanis (0-4).

Results in women's competition last week was La Bonita over First National Bank 15-6, and 15-2 while Jaycee-Ettes won over Celanese 15-3 and 15-6. Men's results were Celanese No. 1 over Kiwanis 15-12 and 15-2; Cabot Fab Shop over Rotary 12-15, 15-10 and 16-14; Cabot Office over Jaycees 15-10, 7-15 and 15-7; and Harrah Methodist Church over Celanese No. 2 15-12, 7-15 and 15-4.

Games this week find La Bonita vs Jaycee-Ettes, First National vs Celanese, Celanese No. 1 vs Rotary, Harrah vs Cabot Fab Shop, Celanese No. 2 vs Cabot Office and the Jaycees vs Kiwanis in a battle for the cellar.

Grade school, Jr. High and High School students are reminded of the new pay as you go plan for memberships. Now you may pay out a half year membership at the rate of $1 per month for five months plus 25 cents. A year membership can be paid out $1 per month for eight months plus 50 cents. The fee at the end is for bookkeeping services.

For students who are not members the Center has a very attractive array of activities. Activities include swim lessons, swim team, diving, trampoline, square dancing, shuffleboard, badminton, basketball, volleyball, pool, ping pong, a reading and TV room, weights, mats for wrestling or judo, dancing plus several quiet games.

The Center is still in the process of organizing two volleyball leagues. One for boys and one for girls. This league would run through the basketball season and would be played in the early evening giving students ample time to get their home work after the games. Each team would play one time per week. Teams interested should contact the Center. Team members should be Center members.

The public is reminded that the Center is not only for young people which are of course our prime objective, but to Adults also. The Center would encourage everyone in Pampa to join the Center and enjoy its vast facilities.

Memberships per year are $8 for individuals and $20 for families. A sustaining membership which gives full family privileges starts at $25 and may be budgeted $8.25 each quarter.

The Center would like to take this opportunity to thank the Medical Arts Clinic for the lounge chairs and sofas that they recently donated to us. They are very comfortable and certainly adds to the atmosphere of the Center. Any other group having games, basketballs or equipment you don't need, the Center would be happy to pick them up if you would just give us a call. Tables of any kind are also needed.

8 THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS SUNDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1953 56TH YEAR

If the Role Is Good, Stay With It, Says Arthur Hill

By GARY P. GATES
 United Press International
 NEW YORK (UPI) — For the past year, actor Arthur Hill has been spending nearly all his nights drinking himself into a corrosive rage and engaging in what amounts to a life-or-death struggle with his wife.

Well, not Arthur Hill himself exactly who, by taste and temperament, is perfectly suited to the quiet, conservative life he leads as a suburbanite in Westchester County.

But that's only his "real life," as it's sometimes called, and if your profession is acting, "real life" is nothing more than a sideline you indulge in when you're not working.

In his other life, the one that takes him to the Billy Rose Theater six evenings a week, Hill roams the stage in an incisive, overpowering portrayal of a man trapped in a marriage between two people who need each other for the simple purpose of destroying each other.

The play is Edward Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" which this month enters its second year on Broadway.

During its first year of life, volumes of words have been written in praise of the play and all those associated with it, particularly Albee, Hill and Uta Hagen whose performance as the braying, middle-aged wife desperately clinging to some vague memory of once having been a woman rounds out the devastating picture of marital horror.

Hill and Miss Hagen still are slashing away at each other with all the intensity and vigor of an opening night. What's more, they intend to take the roles to London when Albee's first three-act play invades Britain shortly after the first of the year.

Such steadfastness and devotion to one role is a notable departure from a recent trend in the Broadway theater.

The popular pattern calls for an actor to open in a play and, regardless of how big it is, to remain in it for only a few months before moving on to some other venture. The theory is that one grows stale by sticking to one role too long.

"That's perfect nonsense," said Hill the other day over lunch at Sardi's.

"You would think we were discussing something about as interesting as mowing the lawn, and that as soon as the grass was sufficiently cut, you say to yourself, 'well that's done' and go on to some other exciting chore. Like grocery shopping.

"There's more than a casual difference between acting and mowing the lawn," said Hill, giving off brief sparks of the intensity of feeling that characterizes his performance in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

"Oh, I'm familiar with the other argument," he said. "I know that many actors will tell you that once you've interpreted a role and developed it to your satisfaction, the creative part is over and the actor becomes nothing more than a machine going over the same old tired stuff."

"Well, I'm sorry. I just can't agree with them. You see, I think it's just as great a challenge, maybe even a greater one, to work at maintaining the highest degree of excellence in the same role night after night.

"If I were tired of the play, that would be different, of course. But I'm not. Even after all these months, it still excites the hell out of me.

"I'll tell you one thing, though. If I come across a role that's better than this one, then I'll think about leaving the show. But I've been around long enough to know that a part like this comes along only once or twice in a career. And only then if you're lucky.

"So why should I be in a hurry to turn my back on it?"

Suspense Theater Premier Shows U.S. Soldier Captured, Convicted

By RICK DU BROW
 United Press International
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The last new entertainment series of the season, NBC-TV's "Suspense Theater," premiered Thursday night with a story of an American soldier captured in Korea in a Red Chinese uniform, and convicted as a traitor.

To begin with, the one-hour show was not what is normally considered a suspense story, except from the view that there is suspense in nearly all dramas. Still, it might have been a whole of a program the view that there is mystery, if a useless woman character had not been inserted to "jazz up the proceedings with melodrama extraneous to the theme of justice and military careers. The second half of the drama will be shown next Thursday. And before this review proceeds, let it be said that it is still good to have another new anthology — the fourth for NBC this fall — that does not depend on the usual running characters in serial form.

Thursday night, Lee Marvin appeared briefly as the soldier sentenced to death. He maintained he had been sent on a secret mission by a colonel, but the officer was killed during his absence, and no proof was found that he had ordered Marvin convicted (Brad Dillman) feels the defense was badly handled and has doubts.

If the story had held itself firmly to this tack, and had Dillman pursued his doubts from his own torment alone—despite the taunts of other officers and the danger to his career—it could have been a rock-solid hour. It would have had the setting for a really outstanding theme, since, in the story, American troops were in the midst of retreat, and here was a man still concerned with justice for a single human being.

No such luck. In popped Marvin's wife (Vera Miles), straight from the stars, and like many a beautiful woman, she left having in her wake, as the weather reports say, Naturally Dillman and she fall for each other, and before you know it the hour is an assortment of plot contrivances threatened by a writer. With girl in tow, Dillman defies

Columbus Came Equipped With Hebrew Translator

 European domination. And to be converted to Christianity.

The foregoing historical odds-ends are from a remarkable woman who has steeped herself in the past in recent months as producer of ABC's ambitious four-part "Saga of Western Man" color series. The first of those, "1492," which deals with the great year of discovery, goes on Wednesday night (Oct. 16).

The producer, Helen Jean Rogers, is a blue-eyed blonde, a precise, fast talking, hand gesturing former political theory instructor at Harvard who — you may remember — made history herself in 1959; she became the first woman to kiss a man in a weightless state.

United Press International
 NEW YORK (UPI) — Christopher Columbus, a great man arrived in the New World in 1492 in stylishly elegant dress. To introduce him in proper form to the folks of Cathay, he brought along the King of Spain's butler.

And, to communicate with them he had a translator. A Hebrew translator. The Europeans of that day figured that everybody in Japan and China would know how to speak Hebrew.

It's an idea they somehow got from Marco Polo. That worthy also had given Europeans the impression that the Orient — where Columbus thought he was going — was just dying to come under

Harvesters Win Over Longhorns, 14-7

Wheeler Mustangs Belt McLean Tigers, 32-7

MCCARTY MOVES OUT — McLean halfback Jim McCarty rolls out around the right side in the first quarter of the Tigers' game with Wheeler Friday night, won by the Mustangs, 32-7. (Daily News Photo)

WHEELER (Sp) — The awesome Wheeler Mustangs exploded for three first-quarter touchdowns and went on to a 32-7 victory over McLean here Friday night.

The Class B Mustangs won their fifth straight game, second over a Class A team, behind the running, quick-kicking and all-around play of Dunc Porter, a backfield full of speed demons, and a line that contained Dickie Crockett throughout most of the game. It was the first time Wheeler had ever beaten McLean, and the line contained the Tiger ground game. Johnny Fuller went to the air, but completed only five of 15 heaves as an alert Horse pass defense picked them off.

Wheeler failed to gain in the opening minutes and Porter quick-kicked deep into Tigerland. Patton booted a long one back to the Wheeler 31, but on the first play from scrimmage, Daryl Snelgrooves burst through the middle like a rocket with the fuse lit, and jetted 69 yards down the right sidelines for a touchdown.

McLean failed to gain and kicked again, and Wheeler drove back down, with Porter going 19 yards over left tackle behind Adams for the score.

Minutes later, Porter snatched up a fumble on the Tiger 45 and ran it into paydirt. A penalty called the score back, but Wheeler kept the ball, and Vanpool immediately went right behind Rogers and Sims and down the right sidelines 42 yards for the third TD of the period. Snelgrooves kicked the extra point for a 19-0 lead.

McLean, rarin' and rarin' up the pea patch, came back again and again, only to be stopped by the Mustang defense, but finally scored in the second quarter when Eddie Windom broke through to block a fourth down punt. McLean took over on the 12 and Patton moved over to an end position, taking a pass from Fuller for a touchdown. Patton kicked his own extra point.

Wheeler started a third quarter drive on the McLean 49. Porter and Mendall Hunter moved the ball goalward, with Hunter going over from 12 yards out.

Wallace spent most of the second half in the air, but was red-dogged constantly by Sims and Rogers, with some of his passes falling short, and others being dropped by his receivers. Late in the period, the pair smashed in and knocked Wallace loose from the ball, with Rogers recovering on the McLean 26. Three plays later, Adams opened a hole on the left side and Porter belted through it and 27 yards into paydirt. Snelgrooves toed the conversion for the 32-7 win.

Crockett, although running at three-quarter speed due to a still bothersome leg injury, smashed through a number of times for good yardage, but the Wheeler worst defeat ever inflicted on a Derral Davis-coached club.

The Mustangs were literally unstoppable as they ran over, around and past the slower Tigers, while Neil Rogers, Kent Sims and Jimmy Adams headed a line that met the well-regarded Bob Patton and Eddie Windom on more than even terms.

Utah State Aggies Wallop NMU, 47-14

LOGAN, Utah (UPI) — Utah State's alert Aggies turned three first quarter fumbles and a pass interception into touchdowns and went on to wallop New Mexico 47-14 Saturday to post their 16th straight home field victory.

A crowd of 9,021 in wet Romney Stadium saw the aggressive Aggie line stop the Lobos cold while a fleet of hard-running backs picked up huge chunks of yardage.

NMSU Blasts Trinity, 40-8

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — New Mexico State rolled up 550 yards total offense Saturday to crush Trinity University 40-8 in a game where all the tickets were sold to allow local telecast of the big Oklahoma-Texas game at Dallas.

The game was less than five minutes old when Utah State posted its first score: Aggie end Roger Fouk grabbed a fumble in the air and raced 14 yards for the first touchdown.

The Aggies scored almost at will against the weak Tiger defense, punched across two touchdowns in each of the first, third and fourth periods.

Halfback Larry Bryan made it 12-0 by plunging over from the two. Once again it was a New Mexico fumble that set up the Aggie score. Aggie guard Lynn Raymond jarred the ball loose from fullback Bucky Stallings' hands and grabbed it on the 24 and returned four yards before being stopped.

Trinity also racked up a lot of yardage — 419 total passing and running — but bogged down time after time inside the Aggie 20. The Tigers failed to score until the final period when fullback Dennis Eagan raked 10 yards.

Wisconsin Tops Purdue 38-20 In Big Ten Opener

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Deadly passing by junior quarterback Harold Brandt and flashy running by halfbacks Carl Silvestri and Lou Holland led defending champion Wisconsin to a 38-20 victory over Purdue Saturday in the Big Ten opener for both teams.

It was the third successive win this season for the Badgers and Purdue's second loss in three starts.

Brandt completed 14 of 22 passes for 194 yards and a touchdown on a 31-yard toss to Jim Jones. The Badgers' signal-caller also plunged two yards for Wisconsin's first TD.

Holland ran four yards for one score and passed 20 yards to Ron Smith on an option play for another.

The speedy senior halfback gained 61 yards rushing and Silvestri picked up 86 as the Badgers completely dominated the play.

Bearcats Drop Tulsa, 21-15

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Quarterback Brig Owens passed the Cincinnati Bearcats 79 yards in the last four minutes of play Saturday and scored on a one-yard run to upset Tulsa, 21-15, in a Missouri Valley Conference game.

VanRaaphorst Breaks Field Goal Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Dandy Dick VanRaaphorst broke his own Big Ten field goal record with a 49-yard kick in the waning minutes Saturday to earn Ohio State a 20-20 deadlock with plucky Illinois, which had rallied with two last period touchdowns from a 10-point deficit.

Cincinnati's drive was sparked by a 34-yard pass from Owens to end Jim Curry. The same passing combination worked earlier for a 32-yard touchdown. Tulsa, the defending conference champions, led 15-14, until Owens' winning touchdown with 40 seconds left.

VanRaaphorst came in when a last ditch drive by the Buckeyes lost steam on the Illinois 31 before a record Ohio Stadium home coming crowd of 84,712.

It was one of the most dramatic and hotly contested games in the giant horseshoe stadium in years, as the rebuilding Illini twice took the lead only to lose it through a fumble and the record-breaking field goal.

The fighting Illini shocked the Buckeyes in the first period with 237-pound linebacker Dick Butkus, a giant on defense all day, picking off a pass on the Ohio 25. The spirited invaders drove 27 yards in nine plays before sophomore swiftie Sam Price ripped over for a touchdown. Dick Plankenhorn kicked the extra point.

Ohio got a drive underway in the second period that ended with VanRaaphorst kicking his first field goal from 27 yards away with 3:29 left in the half. Ohio State 0 3 14 3-20

Texas Upsets Sooners 28-7 in Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (UPI) — Daring Duke Carlisle engineered an almost flawless offense and baffled Oklahoma's No. 1 ranked Sooners with perfect execution of the option play Saturday to spark second-ranked Texas to a 28-7 upset victory.

ranked Texas entry was ready to make an impressive bid for this year's national championship. It was Texas' fourth win in a row.

Carlisle contributed 37 yards on Texas' opening 68-yard drive all of them with the option play to the left or right, and capped it with a three-yard scoring surge.

He directed Texas 22 yards for a second period score, which Ford scored from 12 yards out, after a short Oklahoma punt and a personal foul penalty against the Sooners gave them the short-yardage opportunity.

The 6-1, 174-pound quarterback, whose starting role seems always in danger of being wrested away, drove Texas 68 yards with the opening kickoff for a 7-0 lead to set the tempo of the game and Texas' terrific defense due to Scott Appleton and Timmy Doerr saw to it personally that the Oklahoma offensive gears seldom meshed.

Carlisle got the same chance again in the opening minutes of the third period when Appleton recovered an Oklahoma fumble on the Sooner 18. This time, Ford moved it down to the three and Harris took it over from there on fourth down after the Oklahoma line stiffened momentarily.

Reserves got Texas the final touchdown with just 51 seconds on the clock when Marv Kristynik tossed a 14-yard pass to end George Sauer.

Oklahoma didn't cross midfield until midway in the third quarter after Carlisle and halfbacks Tommy Ford and Phil Harris had erected a 21-0 lead on the way to the Cotton Bowl's second major upset in less than 24 hours. Southern Methodist University beat sixth-ranked Navy on the same spot 32-28 Friday night.

The victory, the sixth in a row for Darrell Royal-coached Texas team over his alma mater, ended any doubts that last year's fourth-ranked Texas team was ready to make an impressive bid for this year's national championship. It was Texas' fourth win in a row.

Pampa Racks Up First Victory

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor
AMARILLO — A pass interception by Ricky Stewart in the final minute of play killed a Caprock threat and preserved the Pampa Harvesters' first victory, 14-7, here last night.

Carl Johnson broke through to pin a loss on the Longhorns. A fumble and a penalty moved the ball back to the Harvesters' 24. Hickman ran the ball to the Pampa 13-yard line on a double reverse. On fourth down the Longhorns went into a field-goal formation, but quarterback Rickey Smith tossed a pass that was intercepted by Terry Chris on the Pampa 4-yard line.

Pampa opened the second half of play with Hebert going over on the Caprock 15, only to have the Longhorns and the deadly aerial bombing of substitute quarterback Jim Wheeler brought the Longhorns to the verge of a tie before the Stewart save.

The Pampa offense lead by the running of Kenny Hebert, Eugene "The Bandit" Madrid, Keith Griffith and Larry "Shotgun" Gregory, threatened throughout the game, but were stopped by fumbles.

Pampa wasted no time as they moved to score after an exchange of punts following the opening kickoff. It took the Harvesters four plays to score from 44 yards out, with Madrid carrying the ball to the Longhorn 24, where Hebert bootlegged, then pitched-out to Madrid, who ran down the right sideline for the touchdown with 3:43 gone in the game. Hebert's PAT was low and the score stood at 6-0.

Hebert weaving back and forth on an attempt to run out the clock moved the ball to the Caprock 19 on three plays. Ronnie Oler then went to the Longhorn 12 - yard stripe as time ran out, before the Harvesters could score.

Caprock began a march from their own 28, after recovering a fumble late in the first quarter of play.

Ricky Hickman and Jerry Duniavan leading the ground attack the Longhorns moved the ball to the Harvesters' 27 as the period came to a close. Billy Quarles and Smith led the Harvester defense as Pampa took the ball away on their own 28. Minutes later, after an exchange of punts, a Longhorn kick hit Jesse Washington on the foot and bounced loose, only to be recovered by Caprock's Jerry Baker on the Pampa 36-yard stripe.

56TH YEAR SUNDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1963 9

Notre Dame Upsets Southern Cal. 17-14

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Notre Dame spurned the forward pass Saturday and stayed on the ground with three terrific running backs to upset ninth-rated Southern California 17-14 on Ken Iwan's 33-yard field goal in the fourth period.

Buffalos Blank Cowboys, 25-0

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — The University of Colorado exploded out of a slumberous first half Saturday and stomped by Oklahoma State, 25-0, in a Big Eight Conference football game.

The Irish, with quarterback Frank Budka directing the offense all the way, tried only five passes. They completed two for 10 yards and one was intercepted.

Limerick's winning kick, his third field goal in as many attempts this season, came on a fourth down after a 62-yard Iowa State push had stalled on the Kansas five with 1:20 remaining in the game.

But Budka, whose leg was broken against the Trojans last year, along with sophomore halfback Bill Wolski and junior fullback Joe Kantor, had the punch through the line to beat the vaunted Trojans.

Kansas, fighting from behind from the outset, tied the score at 14-14 midway through the final period on Ken Coleman's second touchdown of the day and Gary Duff's second extra point.

It was the first win of the year for the Irish and for Hugh Devore, the "interim" coach. Notre Dame had lost by five points to Wisconsin and one point to Purdue.

Kansas seemed to have the upper hand after intercepting a pass in Iowa State territory following the kickoff, but Dave Hoover got the ball back from Iowa State on the next play when he stole Steve Renko's aerial to set up the winning drive.

The Irish were keyed up for the Trojans, who haven't won on Notre Dame turf since 1939 and lost here for the 10th consecutive game.

Iowa State then took to the air. Hoover completed three passes to Limerick for a total of 31 yards and Ken Bunte passed 13 yards to Larry Hannahs in the 12-play march.

A first period break got Notre Dame off to a quick lead.

Iowa State took an early lead by marching 64 yards in 10 plays the first time it got possession of the ball. Tom Vaughn, whose bursts around end accounted for 42 yards in the drive, carried the final three yards for the touchdown and Limerick kicked the first of his extra points.

The Trojans' passing star, Pete Beathard, tried to throw to his top receiver, Hal Bedsole, but Notre Dame end Tom Goberville tipped the throw, it rolled over Bedsole's fingertips, and Tom MacDonald intercepted and ran 62 yards for a touchdown.

Iowa State took an early lead by marching 64 yards in 10 plays the first time it got possession of the ball. Tom Vaughn, whose bursts around end accounted for 42 yards in the drive, carried the final three yards for the touchdown and Limerick kicked the first of his extra points.

The Trojans got the equalizer on a ground drive of 74 in nine plays with Beathard running three yards to score. But Wolski scored on a keeper around right end.

Kansas tied the score in the second period when Coleman, who carried on the final six plays on a 16-play, 66-yard drive, battered through the line from one yard out.

Oklahoma State's sophomore left halfback, Larry Elliott, put the Cowboys in an advantageous spot in the first period when he took a Colorado punt 35 yards through a broken field to the Buffalo 34. But the drive stalled and a field goal attempt from the 22 failed.

District 3-4A Roundup

The Amarillo Sandies gave the Berger-Bulldogs the fight of their lives Friday night as they led for three quarters before folding, 13-2.

The Sandies dominated the game in the first half and took a 2-0 lead when Ronnie Edwards tackled Berger quarterback Bobby Ramsey in his end zone for a touchdown.

The lead stood until the opening minute of the fourth quarter when Neil Bearden broke loose for a 61 yard touchdown, with David Dillingham kicking the extra point.

Greg Lott led the way as the Lubbock Westerners, when asked the Palo Duro Dons, 29-0.

Lott passed for two touchdowns and ran for another, picking up 88 yards rushing on 11 carries and completing seven of nine passes for an even 100 yards.

Palo Duro took the offensive at the beginning of the game, but the Westerners held twice inside their 10 and then marched for the opening score on a pass from Lott to Ronnie Morton for six yards just before the half.

The third quarter was all Lott as he ran 13 yards for one TD and passed 19 yards to Roy Farmer for another. Lott then sat out the rest of the game as Larry Wilson went over from the one in the final stanza. Milton Montgomery kicked a 28-yard field goal with 14 seconds left in the game.

The Plainview Bulldogs broke a 24-game losing streak when they squeezed out a 20-18 win over AAA Littlefield in a non-district game.

The Bulldogs led all the way in their first victory since 1960, with Jerry Wright taking an 18-yard pass from Tom Sawyer for a first-quarter touchdown and Trent Jordan kicked the extra point.

Grover Pigum, a one-man backfield, came right back with an 84-yard touchdown run but the conversion run failed, as it did in all three attempts to give Plainview the margin of victory.

Unbeaten Claude Blanks Miami's Warriors, 30-0

CLAUDE (Spl) — The powerful Claude Mustang line stopped the Miami running game cold here Friday night, while halfback Denton Fox led the scoring parade as the Mustangs downed the Warriors 30-0, in the District 3-B opener for both schools.

Claude celebrated their Homecoming with their fifth straight win as the 180-pound Mustang defensive line held the Warrior runners to minus yardage time and again, piling up 210 yards rushing to Miami's 19.

Miami took the kickoff, got no where and punted, and Fox promptly returned the boot 45 yards for a touchdown. Ray Guerrero stopped a conversion run attempt.

In the second quarter, Jimmy McGowan intercepted a pass on the Miami 22. Seven plays later, Kenneth Jones went over from seven yards out, with Jimmy Hubbard running the conversion.

Miami took the kickoff, got no where and punted, and Fox promptly returned the boot 45 yards for a touchdown. Ray Guerrero stopped a conversion run attempt.

In the fourth quarter, Jimmy McGowan intercepted a pass on the Miami 22. Seven plays later, Kenneth Jones went over from seven yards out, with Jimmy Hubbard running the conversion.

Corcoran scored again in the second quarter, completely reversing his field on a bootleg and shaking off several tackles on a 44-yard jaunt.

The third quarter saw another tally as Brad Trout and Corcoran drove down to the six, where Big Ray took it across.

In the fourth quarter, Corcoran picked off a Lakeview pass on his own 25, and behind good blocking, went all the way for the final TD.

Eddie Ray Hodges and Joe Kelley stopped Corcoran from scoring all the points as they drove in on the Eagle quarterback in the fourth quarter and tackled him behind the goal line for a safety.

In the closing minutes, Miami moved to the Mustang 20 on the passing of Wayne Daugherty and the running of Jody Holland and Roy Bean, but the big Claude line held.

Early in the third quarter, Jackie Morrison recovered a Miami fumble on the Warrior 30. Claude chopped up the middle and drove to the seven, where Don Mitchell went around right end for the score. Fullback Bill Wood bulled over the conversion.

Miami moved out on the passing of Daugherty to Butch Thompson and Gary Lister, but Mitchell intercepted a pass on the Claude 24. Claude again ground out the yards up the middle, with the key plays a successful fourth-and-four gamble by Wood and a 15-yard penalty against the Warriors.

Fox went 35 yards for the score, but it was wiped out by a penalty, and quarterback Jerry Bartlett took to the air, hitting McGowan on the 20, Bill Hill on the five and Fox for the touchdown. Jimmy Hubbard ran the conversion with 36 seconds left in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Miami drove to the 15 on the passing of Daugherty to Lister, Thompson and Bean and the running of Jody Holland and Bean, but Claude stalled the drive on their 15-yard line to end the last scoring threat.

Leading the defense for the Warriors were Jody Holland, Lister, Hack Coffey and Ray Guerrero, with Little "Un" Holland intercepting two of Bartlett's passes.

Corcoran, switched from half back to quarterback with the injury to regular man-under Gerald Gugedel, scored with the kick return, on a long run, on a short plunge and with an intercepted pass, kicked two extra points and ran over another conversion in a one-man assault on the Eagles.

Lakeview actually out- first-downed and outgained the Hornets, but the Stinger defense held on down three times within their own 20-yard line to shut the Eagles out.

Corcoran scored again in the second quarter, completely reversing his field on a bootleg and shaking off several tackles on a 44-yard jaunt.

The third quarter saw another tally as Brad Trout and Corcoran drove down to the six, where Big Ray took it across.

The Pampa Woman's Bowling Association elected delegates at the fall meeting. Delegates to the state convention are Barbara Moore, Eileen Greer, Mary Pryor and Ina Reading. Alternates are Keitha Clifton, Evelyn Boyd, Marilyn Erickson and Joyce Epperson. Delegates to the national convention are Eileen Greer and Irma Beck with alternates Dorothy Osborne and Joy Urbanczyk.

The winners of the Garden Lanes Lights Out Sweeper were Dwight Mackie with a 877 taking first, B. J. Richardson with a 851 second, and Jim Adkins with 825 taking third. It was reported that Jim saved one good shot for the week's league play as he converted the 4-7-9-10 split.

There were some very outstanding and unusual scores posted last week. Jessie Smart converted a split, strung 6 strikes, 2 spares, and doubled for a 256 game. Wilbur Mollett rolled a 247 game. Gene Barrett strung 6 strikes for a 243 to help his team win the game by one pin. Fred Holmann rolled a 232. Ronnie Havens rolled games of 225, 219 and 196 for a 640 series. Ted Knox had two turkeys and a double in the same game for a 220. Howard Musgrave rolled a 224. Dale Haynes rolled 197, 210 and 214 for a 621 series. Dale bowled 211, 193 and 211 for a 615 in another league while teammate George Gray rolled 201, 173 and 201. Bob Gault started his series with a 233, hit four spares the second, but came back the third for a 215. Carroll Copeland had four strikes in a row twice in the same game for a 219. Don Ritter had a 215 and R. E. Smith a 214. Fred Neslage, Joe Fischer and Harold Gosnell each had a 212 game. Other good games were Travis Beck, 211; Jess Graham, 211; Charles Koenig, 206; Gene Gates, 209; R. Johnson and Allen Haltman, 203 and John Locke, a "clean" game of 202. This is Jim's exact average.

The women are posting their fair share of high scores too. Ikey Earp is still coming through with outstanding games. This week she rolled 213, 189 and 177 for a 579 series. Peg Kastein had a 209 and Sheila Rutledge a 206. Muri Tennyson had a 494 series.

James Matney and Roger Flowers were the outstanding junior bowlers this week as James had a 211 game and Roger had a 547 series. Linda Jones was high for the girls with a 124 game and 361 series. Mike Edminster had a triplicate of 103. Bantam bowler Janet Black rolled her two games alike — 57 each.

As this game often goes to extremes, some of the bowlers put the highs and lows back to back. Lloyd Willson had a 190 and a 91. Clea Black posted a 171 and a 95. Tillie Horton had a 171 and a 111. Othel Burnett dropped from a 200 to a 127. Kandy Baker rolled a 198 backed by a 107. Howard Buckingham had a 130 then a 212. Things could be worse. So sometimes the games are all low. Such was the case with Red Watson who rolled a 133 game for a 438 series. I did not clearly understand the meaning of the words of Mr. Watson, my red-headed boss, when he said, "If this appears in print in your column Sunday, there will be a new face at the desk next week."

The High Plains Travel League will bowl at Garden Lanes Sunday afternoon. Spectators are invited to attend.

Canadian Clipped By Sunray, 8-6

SUNRAY (Spl) — The Canadian Wildcats again moved out to dispute Groom for the title of "hard-luck" team of the Top O' Texas Friday night as the Sunray Bobcats squeezed out an 8-6 Homecoming victory.

A rugged Wildcat defense led by Joe Schaeff stopped the explosive Johnny Johnson from any long runs, while a good pass defense headed by David Cook, Keith Yarnold and Rattlesnake Petree allowed the vaunted Larry McRae only three completions in 16 passes, but one of the completions was for Sunray's only touchdown and one of Johnson's runs was for the crucial conversion.

The Wildcat offense, led by the passing of Bennie Eckles and the running and pass-receiving of Schaeff, outstanding player in the game, outgained and out-penetrated the Bobcats, but could push across only one score as a penalty and fumble stopped two drives and the hosts two more.

Canadian opened the game by driving to the Sunray 12 behind the running of Schaeff, Eckles, Yarnold and Cook, but Sunray took over on downs. The Bobcats pushed out and two plays later, Cannon fumbled on the 15. Johnson drove to a first down on the four and Schaeff, Don Crozier, Bill Owens and Petree held three running plays to two yards, but on fourth down McRae hit Tom Bain in the end zone. Johnson went around left end for the conversion.

The next three quarters were played in midfield as two rugged defenses battled it out, with Eckles' long punts setting Sunray back in the shadow of their goal posts time and again. Schaeff got loose in the third quarter for a 60-yard scamper to the Sunray one, but a clipping penalty killed the run.

Canadian rose to the occasion in the final frame, starting off with a 40-yard drive spearheaded by the passing of Eckles and the running of Schaeff and Yarnold, and went to a first down on the 15, fumbling away the ball on the next play.

Again Canadian marched, moving to the Bobcat 16, but Sunray held on downs.

Minutes later, Petree intercepted a pass on the Sunray 40 and ran it back behind good blocking for a touchdown. Schaeff went wide around left end for the conversion, but was stopped on the six-inch line.

With four minutes left, Sunray started eating up the clock on Johnson's running, with the over-eager Wildcats committing several penalties and being set back to their 19-yard line as time ran out.

Playing before a sun-baked crowd of more than 38,000, Isaacson got the clincher from the underdog Falcons with a 38-yard pass to end Fritz Greenlee. There were fewer than three minutes remaining when he launched the payoff pitch.

Isaacson, who out-dueled Nebraska quarterback ace Dennis Clardie, had performed a similar last-minute show to beat Washington earlier.

Lefors Explodes For 33-6 Win

LEFORS (Spl) — The Lefors Pirates exploded in the second half to hand the Gruber Greyhounds their first defeat of the season Friday night, 33-6.

Gruber had won four straight games and were rated the number one Class A team in the Panhandle while the Pirates were recuperating from two straight losses. The Greyhounds spent almost the entire first half in possession of the football and Lefors had their hands on it only five times in the first quarter.

Lefors squeezed to one score in the final minutes of the half, and then quarterback Terry Bromlow's running and passing unleashed an explosion which resulted in four more touchdowns before the highly-rated Hounds could score against Lefors' reserves in the final seconds.

The Greyhounds opened the game by driving to the Lefors 22 behind the running of Jim Cooksey and Wayne Leatherman, but the Bucs, headed by Marvin Todd and Don McCool, took the ball away on downs.

In the second quarter, Neil Cates led the way as Lefors marched from their own 30 to the Hound five before being stopped. After an exchange of punts, Bromlow took a short boot on the Gruber 35 and scooted down the left sidelines for a touchdown with 1:10 left in the half. McCool kicked the first of three extra points for a 7-0 lead.

The over-exuberant combatants managed to achieve some sort of record as they picked up a total of 58 yards in penalties before the half ended.

Lefors, which had gained only 31 yards rushing in the first half, came out like Buccaneers scuttling a kennel, with Bromlow taking the kickoff on his own 15 and fleeing to the Gruber 30, where Phil Woodring belted two tacklers into the grandstand and Terry strolled home.

Bromlow went to the air in the third quarter and connected with a 35-yarder to Woodring down to the Panhandle 14. Four plays later, Lightning Coleman slanted right behind Gene Gee and Todd from the two-yard line with 3:17 left.

As the fourth quarter opened, Lefors took a short punt on the Hound 35. A pass from Bromlow to Woodring gained 12 yards. Lefors then took the cobwebs off the ancient Statue of Liberty play and Woodring circled around behind, took the ball and went for 11 yards. Another end-around picked up four and Bromlow climaxed the drive by going over from the one with 10:40 remaining.

Gruber fumbled on their own 27 immediately afterward, and were penalized back to the 12 for piling on when Bromlow recovered. Cates went over from the seven for the score with 8:15 left.

With 1:10 left in the game, Lefors fumbled on its 10, and Gruber averted a shutout when Leatherman ran the distance.

McCool led the Buccaneer defense with nine tackles and Todd, although leaving the game in the third quarter with a recurrence of his shoulder injury, had eight.

White Deer A, Lefors Class B Next Year
AUSTIN (Spl) — White Deer drops down to Class A and Lefors to Class B for the forthcoming football season, announced the State Executive committee of the University Interscholastic League yesterday.

A tentative list of 1964-65 football assignments was released, and the White Deer Bucks, currently in District 1-AA, will drop to District 2-A. Lefors, in turn, will fall into District 5-B.

The new 2-AA district will remain otherwise with current members Canadian, Clarendon, McLean, Memphis and Wellington, with the Bucks replacing Lefors. Neighboring district 1-A will be composed of Claude, Gruber, Panhandle, Stratford and Sunray.

Lefors' new district will contain two other new members, Booker and Darrouzett, moved up from eight-man football, as well as current members Follett, Groom, Miami and Wheeler. Claude moves up to A and Texline drops out. Nearby district 6-B will contain Estelline, Matador, Rochester, Rule and Turkey.

Mobeetie's district in eight-man football will be reorganized in Region One, district four, with this year's rivals, Lakeview, Morse, plus Patton Springs (aft-on), Guthrie, Jayton and Roaring Springs.

No other changes for the Top O' Texas area are indicated. There will be 145 4-A schools, 115 3-A, 181 AA, 201 A and 183 B, as well as 52 schools playing eight-man and 69 schools playing six-man football in Texas next season.

White Deer Bucks Down Panhandle Cats, 14-8

PANHANDLE (Spl) — White Deer and Panhandle each scored a touchdown in the opening two minutes of the game, White Deer added another early in the second quarter, and then made it stick the rest of the way for a 14-8 victory over the Panhandle Panthers Friday night.

The big Bucks, again led by the running of Little Ray Armstrong and the line-smashing of Big Eddie Kleibrink, powered for 297 yards rushing. Panhandle, crippled by the loss of fullback Mike Klund and quarterback David Slagle, could manage only 171 yards offense, with Mike Roberts getting 80 of them in 10 carries.

The equally battered Buck were minus the services of starting quarterback Larry Elliott for all but a few plays, and likewise wingback Dave Clemens. Rickey Moore took the helm again and cracked the whip like a circus ringmaster, setting up Armstrong for 146 yards in 31 carries and Kleibrink for 86 yards in 24 tries.

White Deer took the kickoff and then punted out to the 49 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Bill Purvins went all the way on a perfectly-executed trap play, going over untouched with the six-pointer. Bobby Elder went around left end for the conversion with only 1:53 gone in the game.

White Deer took the kickoff and two plays and a penalty moved the ball to the 49. On the next play, Armstrong scattered around left end behind Monty Hawpe and 51 yards for a touchdown. Elliott went around left end for the tying conversion with 2:16 gone in the game.

The two teams exchanged punts the rest of the period until Hawpe booted one to the Panther 15 as the quarter drew to a close. On the last play of the frame, Joe Wheeler recovered a fumble on the 17. Kleibrink bulled for eight, for six, for a touchdown with 58 seconds gone in the second period.

Panhandle threatened in the third quarter as Ronnie Edwards went 17 yards to the Buck 47 and Mike Roberts broke loose, going deep into Buckland, where he was tackled inside the 10, fumbling when hit, with Dan Simmons recovering on the six.

White Deer then marched 37 plays before losing the ball on downs. Armstrong did the bulk of the leather-lugging down to the 32, where a Moore pass was intercepted by Terry McCormick on the 15.

White Deer took the punt on their 47 and moved back down to the 17, where the Panthers again held on downs. Panhandle moved in turn to the 42 and a 15-yard penalty put them on the WD 37, but Wes Schultz recovered a fumble on his 30 to kill the threat.

White Deer moved again in the final minute, with Kleibrink barreling down to the Panhandle 26 before the clock ran-out.

Couple Wed in Idaho

CANADIAN — In a double-ring ceremony held September 14 in Saint Mark's Episcopal Church in Moscow, Idaho, Miss Helen Claire Jones became the bride of Chester Dwayne Wootton of Canadian. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Cadwalder Jones of Moscow.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester V. Wootton of Canadian are parents of the bridegroom.

Organist, Bruce Bray, of the University of Idaho music faculty, played the processional, "Air and Variations" by Handel, a solo, Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and the recessional, Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary".

The Rev. Charles Fox of Wenatchee, Wash., assisted by the Reverend Harold Fleharty of Moscow performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and white chrysanthemums. The wedding took place at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length dress of tiered Chantilly lace with cathedral train, style with a scalloped neckline and long-bridal-point sleeves. Her veil of English silk illusion was attached to a tiny cap of Chantilly lace. A gold-throated orchid centered her bouquet of white bridal roses and ivy.

Her matron of honor and official witness was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alan C. Jones, of Moscow. Miss Kip Peterson was her maid of honor and Miss Harriet Hosack was her bridesmaid. All three attendants were attired identically in floor-length sheaths of gold satin, wore tiny gold crowns with silk illusion veiling and carried a single large long-stemmed red rose.

The flower girls, Colleen Albert and Sharon Rauch, nieces of the matron of honor, were attired in white.

Ben Langford of Gainesville, Ga., attended the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Alan and Darrell Jones, both of Moscow, brothers of the bride.

The candlelighters were Mark

Blacker of Moscow and Jack Brent of Spokane, Wash.

The bride's mother chose a suit of royal blue crepe with blue lace blouse and pale pink accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother was unable to attend the wedding.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement in a setting of white and gold. Presiding at the tea and coffee service was Mrs. G. R. Mendenhall, grandmother of the bride. Serving the punch was Mrs. Floyd Trail and serving the cake was Mrs. Donald Town. Assisting at the refreshment table were Mrs. Tracy Putman and Mrs. Leslie Lande. Miss Sharon Dobler and Miss Susie Smith were at the gift table and Miss Lola Lee Cosner registered the guests.

Mrs. Wootton is a junior at the University of Oregon School of Nursing, Portland, Ore. The bridegroom is currently serving in the USAF as a fireman in the 337th Fighter Group at the Portland International Airport.

For the wedding trip to Lake Louise and Alberta, Canada, the bride wore a going-away costume of a cranberry knit suit with white blouse, black patent accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Portland.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Sharon Gayle Carmon (Koen Studio)

Mr. and Mrs. Evert Carmon, 2132 Mary Ellen, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sharon Gayle Carmon, to Henry Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dunn of Lefors. The wedding will be performed in Pampa March 23.

Twentieth Century Club Holds First Formal Meeting of Fall

The Twentieth Century Club held its first formal fall meeting in the home of Mrs. H. R. Thompson recently. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Tom Rose, who also led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance and the Club Collect.

Mrs. Bill Roots, serving as vice-president, and Year Book chairman, projected the year's programs in a thumbnail preview. Mrs. Jack Stroup was elected to serve as a secretary for the remaining club year.

The program, entitled, "Hidden Taxes," was introduced by Mrs. Roots with a quotation by Grover Cleveland, "When more of the people's sustenance is exacted through the form of taxation than is necessary, such exaction becomes ruthless and a violation of the fundamental principles of a free government." Mrs. R. W. Stowers, program leader, presented the subject with the question, "Where does our money go?" In the material given, the speaker defined taxes as "compulsory levies imposed to pay for the expenditures of the government" and classified them as Direct and Indirect Taxes. Graphic charts were used in tracing the financial effects of hidden taxes on current commodities. Several examples were given illustrating this point. A single loaf of bread is the victim of one hundred and fifty-one separate taxes amounting to 12 cents of the purchase price. Another example cited was the taxes on a new car — "When you pay two thousand dollars for a car, one-fourth is hidden taxation. A woman's hat has one hundred and fifty hidden taxes and gasoline would sell for two cents a gallon without taxes".

In concluding her program, Mrs. Stowers stated, "The rising trend of taxation will be curtailed when the individual citizen becomes more concerned" and the following four suggestions were given: (1) keep the government as close as possible to local relations (2) insist on the federal government staying out of private business (3) contact your Congressman on the subject of taxation expressing your opinion and (4) take a more active part in your local government.

Sixteen members attended the meeting including Mmes. W. R. Campbell, J. W. Gordon, Paul Harbaugh, Raymond Harrah, V. J. Jamieson, R. E. McKernan, Fred Neslage, James O'Connell, Bill Roots, Tom Rose, R. W. Sanford, H. E. Sanfield, R. W. Stowers, Jack Stroup, H. R. Thompson, David Tucker and one associate member, Mrs. F. M. Culbertson.

Room visitation will be from 6 p.m.—6:45 p.m.

The cafeteria will be closed from 7 p.m.—7:30 p.m. during the program which will be held in the auditorium. A skit entitled, "T.V. Hot Hootenenny Hollar", will be presented by the students of Baker School.

Tickets will be sold by the fourth, fifth and sixth grade students, with a prize going to the room that sells the most tickets. Cost of tickets will be 25 cents for the cafeteria, 25 cents for the program and 15 cents for all children's tickets.

Cooked Veal, Chicken or Pork Ideal Ingredient For Sandwiches

Now that roast turkey is often used the year round for Sunday or company dinners, the demand for turkey leftover recipes is no longer confined to holiday time.

SAVORY SANDWICHES
3 cups diced cooked turkey or chicken
1½ cups diced celery
¾ cup diced green pepper
1 can (8 oz.) chopped broiled mushrooms, drained
¾ cup dairy sour cream
¾ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 teaspoon dehydrated grated lemon peel
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Dash Tabasco
Combine diced turkey or chicken, celery, green pepper and mushrooms. In another container, blend together remaining ingredients then add to turkey mixture, tossing gently to mix thoroughly. Spread mixture on 12 slices of buttered, fresh bread using about 1-3 cup sandwich filling on each slice. Top with another 12 slices, then cut sandwiches in half. Makes about 12 sandwiches.

Friendship Tea Planned By The El Progreso Club

The El Progreso Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Elmer Fisher, 2524 Mary Ellen, to make plans for a Friendship Tea which will be held in Lovett Memorial Library on Oct. 22. Also, a report was given by Mrs. Kermit Lawson on the workshop in Canyon for this district. The program, "Texas Navy" was presented by two high school students, Miss Linna Burnett and Miss Veleita Fussell, who were informative and interesting in their delivery. It was especially interesting to residents of the plains of Texas. The home of Mrs. Fisher was decorated with flowers from her garden. The next meeting will be at Lovett Memorial Library Oct. 22 at 2:30 p.m. Owners of tropical fish tanks can keep the tanks rust-free by coating metal parts with petroleum jelly before filling them with water.

Unexpected Twists Come in the Wide World of Men's Fashions and Likes

By HAROLD SHEEHAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — In the wide world of men's fashions you run across some unexpected twists now and then.

Consider these recent conversations with two men-on-the-street on the subject of leather jacket wearing.

Question: Sir, how do you feel about leather jackets?
Response: Forget the "sir." I was in the Army and I don't like officers.

My jacket? It's great. I've got five more at home. It's all I ever wear, man. A lot of squares think these steel studs are just there for yuks. But believe me, if you was ever jounced on a Harley-Davidson doing a hundred you'd be thankful you had something to slide on besides your skin.

The rubies down the arms I put on myself, and my cousin painted the death's head on the back. He was always a good drawer.

The stars on the shoulders stand for major general—which is my rank in my bike club. We don't have nobody lower than colonel.

Sir, how do you feel about leather jackets?
Response: I had mixed feelings about them before I bought one. Now I couldn't be more content with my choice.

The advantages of this three-button sport coat of Angola leather are manifold. It's quite comfortable on chummy days, and obviates the need of a topcoat. It's natty, don't you agree? And, of course, cleaning is effected simply with a damp rag.

I had a choice of several elegant colors. I selected this oat-tan model. I believe the bill I was sent came to about $50. Since the garment will be worn for more than a single season during the year, I believe it represents a sound investment.

I'm toying with the impulse to have my initials rendered ever so discreetly inside the hem. I have a cousin who is an accomplished artist and lettering man. . .

Never put poisonous substances in harmless-looking bottles. For example, caustic in a soda pop bottle is an invitation to tragedy — followed by heartbreak.

A cushion under the carpet helps lengthen the life of your rug.

Leather jackets (minus motorcycles) give a jaunty air to the clothes-conscious man. Three button sport jacket is tan. Black suburban coat affords rugged protection from autumn winds.

Chicken Can Be 'Different' Now

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Broilers and fryers are bargains, but if served the same old way, too often meals can get monotonous. That's why you'll welcome this "different" recipe from Mrs. K. L. who says, "We were all tired of fried and barbecued chicken. So one night my daughter suggested this new combination. (She had it at a girl friend's home)."

CHICKEN IN MUSHROOM SAUCE

- (4 to 8 Servings)
 - 1 broiler-fryer, about 3 pounds each
 - 2 tablespoons cooking oil
 - 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
 - 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of celery soup
 - 1 can (8 oz.) sliced broiled mushrooms drained
 - ¼ teaspoon rosemary
- Cut chicken in quarters. Place on greased broiler pan, cut side up. Brush with oil, then broil, using moderate heat, under gas or electric unit, for 10 minutes.
- Turn and brush with rest of oil and broil until well browned and slightly crisp, about 15 minutes. Place in a 3½-quart casserole. Blend together mushroom soup, celery soup, mushrooms, rosemary and drippings from chicken then pour over chicken. Bake, covered, in preheated 350-degree oven for 45 minutes until chicken is very tender. Serve with mashed potatoes or with hot quick-cooking rice cereal. Note: This makes 4 servings with a half chicken per person, or 8 servings with a quarter chicken per person.

The Clothes Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn'

Today we shop in a world of synthetics. Textile technology has advanced to the point where the "fakes" look exactly like the real thing.

Vinyl plastic jackets, purses, gloves and shoes are sometimes, even at a close glance, impossible to distinguish from leather.

There is nylon that looks silkier than silk, rayon that's the cotton image of linen and vinyl-cotton suede cloth that could fool the average consumer without half trying.

Although most of the fake furs are obviously just that, there are some that might well look like the McCoy to a shopper who had never bought a fur coat before.

All these simulations and imitations have taken on the best qualities of the fabrics they are meant to copy. They are, without doubt, a boon to the consumer. But to be sure that you aren't fooled into thinking you are getting the original fabric at a fantastic bargain, read the labels carefully on everything you buy.

You'll hear of fabrics with the "linen look," the "suede look" and the "leather look." Remember that what you will get is exactly that — the LOOK. If you read the hang tags and intelligently question the sales clerk, you will know that you are not buying linen, suede or leather.

Take advantage of the great strides the textile industry has made, by all means. The new synthetics are practical, handsome and long-wearing. As long as you know that you are on a "fake" shopping spree and don't think you're getting the real thing for a paltry sum, you're shopping wisely.

Most retailers won't try to deceive you. But for your own protection heed oft-repeated advice: read the fine print.

Chic Chat

Q — "Since I have a large family, I make many clothes for myself and for my young daughters. But I'm often too busy to stay abreast of the latest fabric trends. I like our clothes to have a fashion touch. Can you help me with my fall 'homework'?" — A. G.

A — Dear A. G.: The answer to your question could fill a small book, but here are the high lights. Popular fall colors include cranberry, russet, browns, camel grays, greens and blue-greens.

Since you have a large family, select washable fabrics whenever you can. This will benefit your budget and your time schedule.

and even the most fashionable fabrics are washable. For example, there are the popular cotton suedees and new madras plaids. Machine-washable corduroy is designed with wide wales in neutral colors. There are cottons and synthetics that feature a worsted look in new heather tones — and for the holidays, why not try one of the washable, glowing velvets?

CRITICAL BURGLAR

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A burglar took $29 worth of phonograph records, coins and a table radio from a San Francisco flat Tuesday night and left the following typewritten note for his victim:

"In all my 30 years as an honest, hardworking burglar, seldom have I cam (sic) across as-miserable a haul as this. You people ought to leave some cigarets around for guests. You ought to be ashamed of yourselves. Meditate on this, friends: Everything which I leave behind isn't even worth stealing."

"Til later, Sydney the burglar."

Discount Prices Must Discount Service

Next to the cost of drugs, a pharmacist's salary is the greatest expense. This is proper for a pharmacist studies for many years at college and like a physician passes a state examination.

Discounters must lessen service like charges, or personal attention. Their pharmacists must speed up prescription dispensing, endangering safety. Our prices are fair, with no discount on any service. Our concern is the best possible pharmacy, not the lowest price.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Dear Abby....
Keep Mum! They'll Think You're No. 3
 By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I work for an ophthalmologist. He is middle-aged, extremely handsome (the muscular, gray-at-the-temple type) and is very, very sweet. He is married and I have yet to see him give a woman any encouragement. Twice in the past month women patients have tried to attack him. You know, when an eye doctor does a refraction, he must put his face very close to the patient's, Woman Number One just suddenly threw her arms around his neck and tried desperately to kiss him. Woman Number Two backed him into a corner and started to shout all over the place that she was in love with him and didn't care who knew it. The whole office building is talking about it, and people are hinting that my doctor must have encouraged them. What can I say in his defense to save his reputation?

 HIS NURSE
 DEAR NURSE: Don't try too vigorously to defend him, or they might think you are Number Three. A professional man's reputation is seldom affected by obviously disturbed patients, or outland-ishly aggressive ones.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow in my early 60's and I would like to have your opinion on a delicate subject. I have a very kind and intelligent gentleman friend whom I admire. I have been keeping company with him for three years. I see him every day. He never mentions a word about matrimony. I am wondering how to act on the subject. I could use some sound advice.

WHAT TO DO
 DEAR WHAT: If a man does not mention matrimony, it is a good bet that he isn't thinking about it. My advice: keep listening and say nothing.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with married children. I married a widower who also had married children. Our problem is, where should we be buried? My first husband and my present husband's first wife are buried in separate cemeteries and each lies alone. Should my husband and I each buy a plot beside our first mates and be buried beside them? My husband thinks we should be buried together as we will no doubt finish our lives together. But I think, out of consideration for our children, we should be buried beside our previous spouses. But how would that look for me, since my name is no longer the same as my first husband's? However, he is the father of my children and that should count for something. Our children want no part of the decision, so we are appealing to you.

SECOND WIFE
 DEAR SECOND WIFE: In death, those who are left behind should be considered first. For the sake of your children, I think you should be buried alongside their father.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BROAD-MINDED: "Out of sight, out of mind." And you are off with yours if you let him go out with your blessings for a little fling.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Varietas Study Club Has Mrs. Morris As Guest Speaker During Home Meeting

Mrs. Otis Nance was hostess for a meeting of the Varietas Study Club when it met recently in her home at 2208 N. Christy. Mrs. R. W. Lane introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. E. W. Morris, Top O' Texas District President of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, who spoke on "The History of the Federation". Mrs. Morris is a member of the Canadian Womens Club and has been active in district club work for several years. She has recently attended the State Board meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Austin and the Top O' Texas District board meeting in Canyon.

The Federation was also instrumental in the establishment of Child Labor Laws, the Pure Food and Drug Act, the Parent Teacher Association, Home Demonstration Clubs, and, at present, hope to secure regulations giving equal pay for women for equal work done. Members present were Meses. Tilden Armstrong, John S. Barnes, S. C. Evans, Lee Harrah, D. W. King, J. E. Kirchner, R. W. Lane, C. L. McKinney, Otis Nance, Luther Pierson, J. R. Spearman, J. C. Vollmert, W. A. Waggoner, Joe Z. Weaver and Sherman White. Mrs. Ervin Crowell of Canadian was a guest of the group. The next meeting, "The World As I Saw It" will be given as the program by Mrs. S. C. Evans. The group will convene at the home of Mrs. H. Price Dosier, 2301 Duncan, Oct. 22 at 2:30 p.m.

There are Federated Clubs in fifty-three countries and in America. 11 million women belong to Federated Clubs with twenty-eight thousand of them in Texas. In reviewing the history of the Texas Federation, she recalled that it was the Wednesday Club of Fort Worth who first suggested a state organization; but that it was the Woman's Club of Waco who took the initiative in 1897 and invited club women of the state to convene and form a federation. Mrs. Edward Rotan of Waco Women's Club was elected the first president of the Texas Federation of Literary Clubs, as it was then called. Mrs. J. C. Terrell of Fort Worth, was the second president and was primarily interested in the establishment of libraries. She was successful in getting the first State Library Commission named, and was known as the "Mother of Libraries in Texas". She was also accredited with promoting the establishment of the College of Industrial Arts which is now known as Texas Woman's University. Another early president was Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, an authority on Texas History, who wrote a public school book on Texas History.

It's Widows' Right To Use Husbands' Names

Now and then I get an SOS from a woman's page editor asking me to discuss a particular problem. Today, the request is:

"Won't you please tell women that until a widow remarries she continues to use her husband's name?"

"We have a number of widows in our town who insist they should be called 'Mrs. Mary Smith' or 'Mrs. Elizabeth Brown', instead of 'Mrs. John Smith' or 'Mrs. Thomas Brown'."

"On our society pages we try to follow the rules of etiquette in such matters, but these widows protest."

"Some of them seem to think a widow has no right to continue using her husband's name. Others argue: 'But my husband has been dead for years,' as though that made a difference.

"I can't seem to make much headway in this matter, though I have been working on it for several years."

"Perhaps if you would write something about it, the widows in our town would heed what you have to say."

All I can do is to say that the editor is right—and that Mrs. John Smith doesn't become Mrs. Mary Smith when her husband dies. She remains Mrs. John Smith the rest of her life, unless she marries again and takes another man's name.

There's another side to this story, however. I receive letters frequently from widows complaining that though they have continued to use their husband's name, others don't; that most of their mail, even from friends and relatives, is addressed "Mrs. Mary Smith."

These widows feel they are having something taken from them when others assume they have no right to the name conferred on them by marriage.

They're right about that, too. So perhaps this discussion is needed; for the widows who don't know they should use their husband's name, AND for those who don't know they shouldn't deprive a widow of her rightful name. Let's hope this clears up the matter for a lot of people.

Good Men Corrupted By Power

It is presumed in the Western world that respect for law is the basis of freedom and the good life. What is meant there is respect for man-made law. The concept stems from our cultural roots of Greco-Roman origin.

In very ancient times, wise men in Greece and Rome propounded the concept that men with power were untrustworthy. Lord Acton was to provide a classic phrase to depict this problem: "All power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely." And Jefferson came forward in our halcyon days of national formation to suggest that we should have a government of law and not of men. "Bind them down," he said, "with the chains of a constitution."

Our courts today are manned with men who have been trained to revere the law. They act also to compel obedience to the law and respect for the law. In our western world, the law and justice are closely related. It is presumed that the law is always just and that justice derives finally, only from law.

In the East, other wise men propounded what is called the oriental view. Mencius suggested that the prince should "do nothing" and the people of themselves "will be correct." Confucius had it that whatever we like it or not, governments will always be governments of men and not of law.

He suggested that if we had "good" law but bad men in government, the bad men would ignore and would fail to enforce "good" law. Conversely, if we had "bad" law and good men, the good men clearly would not insist upon the letter of evil design.

He further propounded that emphasis upon man-made law is foolishness if we hope by this process to arrive at a fixed condition of goodness. For all man-made law is made by men. And men who make law are neither better nor worse than their fellows. There is merit in both the oriental and the occidental view. But both views tend to elicit the classic question: Who should rule? Alas, when this question is asked, neither the West nor the East has provided a satisfactory formula. The inheritance of power, the elective process to power, have all demonstrated repeatedly that something is lacking. There is no way of insuring by any known process that "good" men will find themselves in positions of power.

And if Lord Acton is correct, given the "good" man in office, once the mantle of power descends upon his shoulders corruption begins.

Let the mantle remain for any length of time and the employment of power becomes habitual. In process, though even the principal actor wishes it were otherwise, injury descends upon the ruled just as power is solidified in the seats of the mighty.

If those in power make the law, the law will reflect that power. If those in power neglect to make law but merely act directly without the formalities, there is no safeguard.

Perhaps, in time, someone will ask if it is not true that valid government is truly self-government, or government of the man by himself. Self-control whether it follows written rules or patterns is self upon noble and objective motives, is still self-control.

It seems to us that freedom derives from self-control rather than from man-made law, or from principles.

We are not trying to suggest that freedom is of such a consistency that it will forever be a rebel. Many men have wisdom whether they are in positions of power or not. Many laws which have been enacted are merely the common rules we would automatically elect to follow were we free to do so.

The Heart of Progress

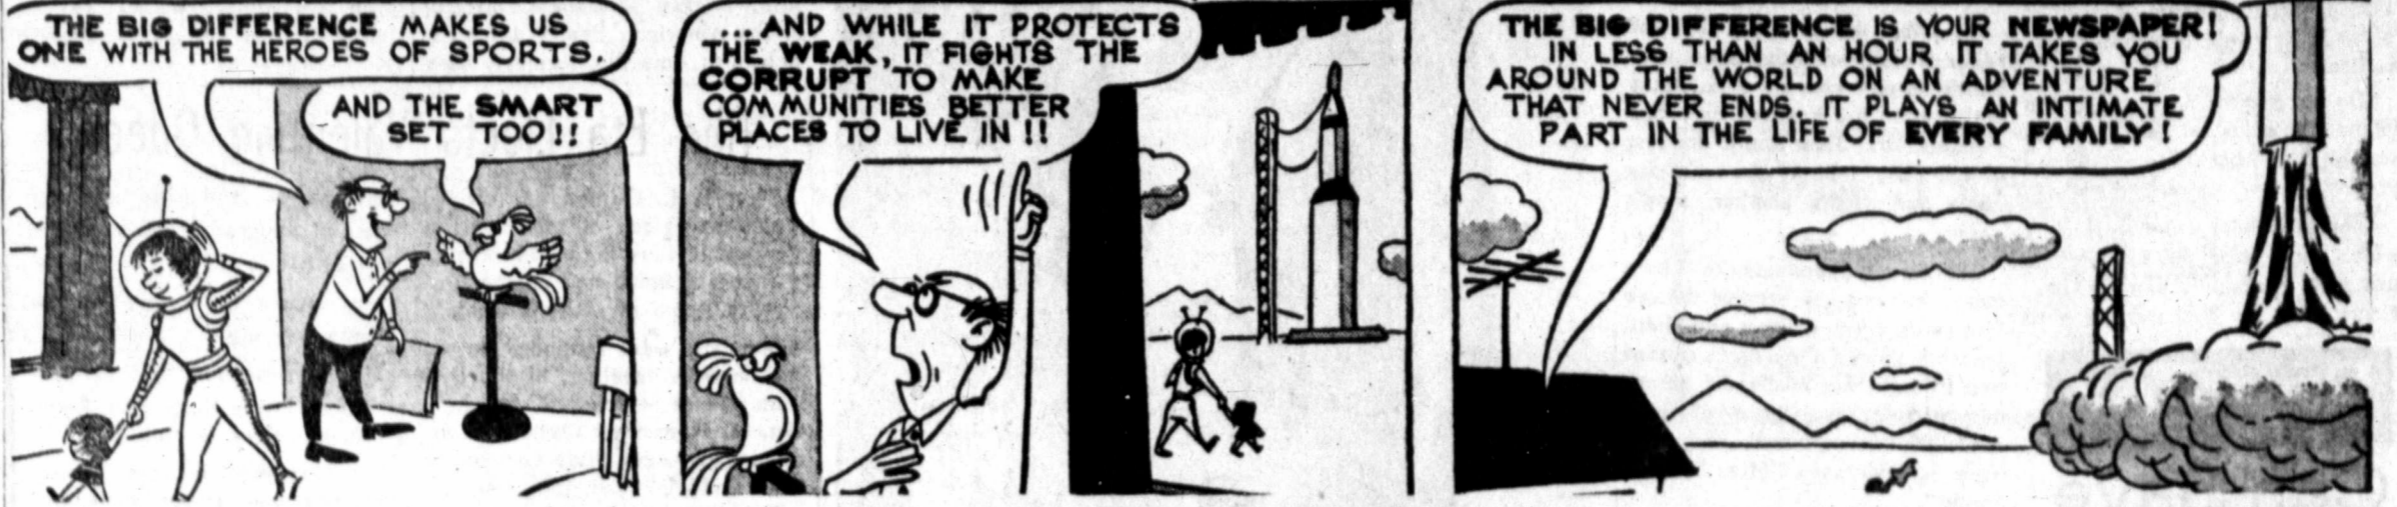

Research lies at the heart of progress in many an American industry. Oil is one of that great company.

This year the petroleum industry expects to spend some $350 million on research. By 1970, according to current projections, the figure will soar to $600 million.

Basic noncompetitive research of interest to the entire industry is conducted at universities and private laboratories under the sponsorship of the American Petroleum Institute and other trade associations. In addition, individual oil companies conduct their own highly competitive applied research. The purpose of this is to find better ways of doing things—and, if possible, to outdo the competition.

Some of the research projects border on the fantastic—but we live in a fantastic age. For instance, among them are such things as homes built of fireproof plastics which would also be termite-resistant; clothes made of petrochemical fibers which would not wear out; petroleum-based growth inhibitors which, when applied to lawns, would make mowing only a once a year chore; edible foods produced from petroleum; and special suits that would heat the wearer by his own breath.

So, the day may come when you will eat oil products, wear immortal oil-based clothes, and enjoy an oil-treated lawn that requires practically no labor! It's a far cry from the age when, to most people, the oil industry meant kerosene and lubricants. And we've only seen the beginning, apparently, of what research can produce from that black and sticky crude.

Allen-Scott Report
Cannon Committee Probing Counter-Insurgency Program, Especially Robert Kennedy's Bossing and Recent Costly Failures
ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

The next time you visit your favorite supermarket take a long look at the frozen food department and remember the name of Clarence Birdseye. He changed America's grocery-buying habits. The idea of quick freezing came to him in Labrador, where he kept cabbages frozen by placing them in a barrel of water in the sub-zero temperature. After years of experimenting he developed a commercial belt freezer in the 1920's that instantaneously froze pre-packaged foods in hard square bricks at low temperature. Today the frozen foods industry runs to $2 1/2 billion annually. It all came about because an inquisitive chemist hit upon something accidentally while working in Labrador.

Cannon decided an extensive inquiry was called for as the result of a number of disconcerting disclosures in the course of his committee's months-long closed-door hearings on the budgets of government agencies. Much of this very revealing testimony will never be published as it has been censored on the ground of being classified information.

But it can be reported that foremost among these backstage discoveries were: — Attorney General Robert Kennedy is the real boss of the Interdepartmental Committee on Counter-insurgency established by his brother, the President, to direct this program. Nominal chairman is Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson, veteran career diplomat with wide experience in Iron Curtain countries. But the real ruler of the program is Bobby Kennedy.

— Large amounts of foreign aid and Central Intelligence Agency funds are being used to finance the worldwide activities of the counter-insurgency plan. Most of this money is being spent in organizing, training, equipping and maintaining special policy (security) forces.

— The Appropriations Committee has ascertained that $3 million a year of such funds is being expended for this purpose in South Vietnam; more than $615,000 in the Dominican Republic during the seven-month regime of deposed President Bosch; and around $500,000 in Honduras, where President Villeda Morales was ousted by a military coup. In each of these government overthrows, the U. S.-financed and trained special police either did nothing or were wholly ineffectual.

— Large sums are being spent for special counter-insurgency forces in Peru, Bolivia, Colombia and Venezuela — the last three seriously threatened by Communist terrorists on one hand and military take-overs on the other.

— HOW COME AND WHY — The House investigators are particularly interested in learning the reason for Bobby Kennedy's exceptional interest in and domination of the counter-insurgency program — in view of the fact that it operates abroad and largely in the military field.

Privately, the probes deem this undercover situation another instance of the young Attorney General's active participation in virtually everything that transpires in his brother's administration.

Bobby has his hand in every important policy and decision at home and abroad — regardless of whether it has anything to do with the Justice Department or not.

The investigators propose to uncover the extent and nature of his activities in the counter-insurgency program, which proved a dismal flop in Honduras and the Dominican Republic, and is under sharp attack in South Vietnam where the U. S.-financed special forces have been used by the Diem brothers to attack and jail thousands of Buddhist priests and students, and beat up American newsmen.

Answers are being sought by the House probes to such other pertinent questions as: — Total of foreign aid and CIA funds already spent on counter-insurgency operations in foreign countries.

— Who makes these decisions and on what basis? — What reports if any have been compiled by the Interdepartmental Committee on Counter-insurgency; who gets them and what is done about them — if anything?

— Cause of the failure of the special police forces in Honduras and the Dominican Republic to avert or resist the military coups.

— A full account of the tug-of-war between the Diem brothers and State Department officials, headed by Undersecretary Averell Harriman, for control of the special force in South Vietnam, numbering some 13,000. The Diems installed their own commander, Colonel Le Quang Tung, who led the violent crackdown on the Buddhists and students. The State Department, with President Kennedy's approval, tried to replace him, but so far to no avail.

In addition to Chairman Alexis Johnson and Attorney General Robert Kennedy, other members of the Interdepartmental Counter-insurgency Committee are General Maxwell Taylor, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, CIA Director John McConne, Foreign Aid Director David Bell, and McGeorge Bundy, special foreign aid adviser to the President.

A White House memorandum, in the hands of the Appropriations Committee, describes the origin and functioning of the Interdepartmental Committee as follows: "In 1961 the President created, at the White House level, a mechanism which he called the 'Special Group (Counter - Insurgency)'. Here he brought together at the top-most echelon, the same components which composed a country team—the State Department, Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Justice Department and USAID. The purpose of this group is to ensure unity of U. S. effort in the use of all available resources with maximum effectiveness in preventing and resisting subversive insurgency and related forms of indirect aggression in friendly countries."

"The group meets weekly and considers a broad agenda which has been the subject of hard work by the staffs of the members. An agenda might comprise items as diverse as a report on operations in South Vietnam; the development of a national counter-insurgency doctrine, and a plan for civic action. The group's work crosses all departmental lines, particularly in the field of development of counter-insurgency doctrine."

Question Box
(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)
Question: "Why do so many think competition is harmful?"

Answer: Probably the reason is that they can see the benefits they get if they have a protection from competition, because the benefits are concentrated. They fail to see that if they are protected from competition others will demand protection from competition and then they will have to pay more for what they get than they would have to pay if there was a free market and complete competition, which we have never had. This extra cost is small on each item and so diffused the buyer does not see it. To the degree that we have had complete competition, however it has been a success. That is one of the reasons that the United States has been more prosperous than any other country in the world, because we have more nearly free competition than any other nation. The government interfered less with the free market than any other place in the world. There was no tariff between states, taxes were low, which is an interference with free competition, there was no monopoly of labor unions, and the federal government didn't have a monopoly on money.

Sir Ernest J. P. Benn, in his book published in 1928, "The Return To Laissez Faire," has about as clear an explanation of why people object to competition as we have run across. It is too bad that this book is out of print. Sir Ernest J. P. Benn, was an employer of 2,000 men and the publisher of various magazines. He also contributed many articles on the Capitalistic system. He founded the Society Of Individuals in London. Here is part of what Sir Ernest J. P. Benn had to say on competition:

"Competition does cause inconveniences, but so does gravity, and just as the physical world is held together by this force, which imposes odd inconveniences, so the economic world is absolutely dependent upon the force of competition.

"The modern habit of objection to competition arises from the modern political folly of thinking of only one side of trade and industry. We insist upon concentrating the whole of our attention upon the maker of an article, and forget altogether the other person or persons whose need of the article is the only excuse for the making of it or for the existence of the market. Without competition no market would ever have come into being, and if the attempt to eliminate competition succeeded every market would wither and disappear. We should thus drift into forgetting one need after another. We should live simpler and harder and shorter lives, and generation by generation we should retrace our steps to barbarism and to Eden, all the time steadily reducing our numbers until eventually we all disappeared.

"We must organize, we must amalgamate, but on no account, say the Collectivists, must we compete."

"The value of competition as a market maker is ignored; yet it is to competition that we owe every material amenity we possess. We have allowed public opinion on this question to become very seriously one-sided. In our endeavour to get rid of all that is meant by 'wage slavery' we are forging chains of slavery for ourselves as consumers. But we are all of us much more directly interested in the economic position as consumers than as producers."

NOT 'TOO MUCH'
Who's Worrying About Leisure Time?
By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

Any man or woman who becomes involved with worrying about the leisure time of other people must be a born busybody to begin with. Those who insist upon planning for others, for their own good, of course, are also impertinent to my way of thinking. Let's take a look at the thinking of one of the worriers.

"Most people can hardly handle the leisure time they've got now." This is a mighty strange statement in view of the fact that most people seem unable to even begin to handle their own responsibilities, now. If they did, they wouldn't have much leisure time to worry about.

The same man is worried for fear that more leisure time will place an unreasonable strain upon the family relationship. This is just another way of saying that people who live together are unable to get along with one another and if this happens to be true, something mighty serious has happened to the family relationship, as such.

"A man just can't spend that much time around the house. He'll get into trouble for sure. Fighting with the wife. Fighting with the kids. Too much eating, drinking and television." The expert on the leisure time of other people believes it will take a lot of counselors to help take care of the problem he confidently hopes for but it looks to me as if the expert is engaging in a little early suggestion to build up business for counselors.

For the past 16 weeks my wife and I have been living under conditions which, for us, have been a bit more restrictive than those to which we are accustomed. We haven't taken a swing at each other yet. For the past three years, we have been together most of the time, every day. We don't even have a TV set hooked up and we can't seem to get caught up with all of the things we want to do together and separately. We've had almost no opportunity to go fishing or hunting. The only people we visit are our kids when we are at home in Chloride, Arizona. We've wanted to spend at least one night camping on the shores of Lake Mohave but haven't been able to make it, although we continue to hope.

Of course, when we are at home, we eat home made bread. My wife does all of her own baking, cooking and housework. We also have six cats. We also have my motel but since we only have four rental units and renters too infrequently, this does not require a great deal of attention. I write this column and take care of the resulting mail with these two fingers. It doesn't look like I'll ever get around to finding the time to do all of the writing I want to do but I'll continue to try. What leisure time?

The idea that intelligent, reasonably bad natured people can't live together without fighting is just so much hog wash. As a matter of fact, if a man and a woman prefer not to be with each other, they made a huge mistake in marrying. If they can't live with their children without a lot of fighting and unpleasantness, they shouldn't have had children in the first place.

My profession has kept me formally occupied for about 18 hours out of each two week period for the last 16 weeks. You might call that a 9 hour week, but preparation and thinking about my work seems to occupy a great deal of time. To make all of this more confusing for the leisure time planners, my wife assists me and we discuss my work at length. She also proof reads my columns. We should have been taking lousy pokes at each other a long time ago.

I guess the leisure time planners have never heard of reading, music, drawing, painting, writing, gardening, hunting, fishing, boating, swimming or much of anything except hours at work, eating, drinking, fighting and TV and I feel a little sorry for their troubles. Most of all, it seems they've never heard of thinking. They've probably never heard of conversation and the thousands of ideas which may be exchanged between two or more people.

In any event, if you find time dragging on your hands and feet, you might keep in mind that I could keep three full time volunteer secretaries busy eight hours a day, seven days a week for the next six months, in my spare time. What leisure time? Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Today is Sunday, Oct. 13, the 286th day of 1963 with 79 to go.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1775, the Continental Congress ordered construction of a naval fleet, thus originating the U. S. Navy.

In 1792, George Washington laid the cornerstone of the president's house — the first public building to be built in Washington.

In 1937, Nazi Germany promised Great Britain and France that she would not violate Belgian neutrality in case of a European war.

In 1943 Italy declared war on Germany, her former Axis partner.

Gas Contract Dispute Again Before Court

By HARRY WILSON SHAPE
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Power Commission's disputed ban on flexible pricing provisions in interstate natural gas contracts is back before the Supreme Court, this time for final decision.
A year ago the court upheld the ban in a Sun Oil Co. challenge but left a big legal loophole. It ruled that Sun had no legitimate challenge because it could not prove its rate structures had been damaged.
Effect of the decision was to uphold the FPC's regulation, issued April 3, 1961, outlawing all types of indefinite price escalation in producer-pipeline contracts except some specifically exempted by the commission.
But other challenges were moving through the courts. Those now have come to a head through wide variance.
The 9th U. S. Circuit Court at San Francisco held, in a test filed by Superior Oil Co., that the ban was strictly within the law. But the 10th Circuit Court at Denver, ruled just the opposite in a challenge brought by Texaco Inc. and Pan American Petroleum Co. It held that the FPC had not only abused its authority in issuing "a rule of general application" but by Fiat had tried to cut off any recourse to the courts.

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon seems to be returning to the public spotlight.
He is speaking out bluntly and with increasing frequency on public issues and politics, with nearly all his barbs aimed at the man who narrowly defeated him for the White House in 1960—John F. Kennedy.
His exposure, as the nation moves toward another presidential election year, has raised the question whether he might be available for a return bout with the President.
Nixon lost in 1960 by only a handful of votes. Candidates who did much worse in presidential elections have been given a second chance. Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson, for example. And Republican Thomas E. Dewey.
But Nixon, himself, is writing himself out of the 1964 race, and he's doing it with a full awareness of the practical politics involved.
Not a Candidate
He says he is not a candidate and will not be one.
That statement, by itself, would not normally foreclose a potential nominee from becoming available. American politics, being what it is, such statements are taken with many grains of salt. But a party's nomination is not given easily to a candidate once rejected by the voters.
Stevenson could not wait in the wings for the nomination to come to him for a second time. He became an active candidate soon after the votes of his first defeat were tabulated.
The same was true of Dewey. He had to fight for renomination harder than he campaigned for the presidency.
The one-time loser cannot hope for the nomination to come to him. A true draft is practically non-existent in American politics. In fact, veteran politicians, Nixon among them, assert there is no such thing as a draft.
Rules Out Draft
And so, by ruling out any active candidacy, Nixon also is ruling out a draft, pure or synthetic.
It probably would do him little good to bide his time on the sidelines, hoping the convention deadlocks and turns to him, its titular leader, for a candidate. There is suspicion that such was the role of Stevenson in 1960. But it just didn't work. The party's front-runner by that time gets so far ahead he cannot be stopped.
Furthermore, Nixon has made a flat pledge not to join in any move to stop the Republican front-runner, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.
The political fact of life is that Nixon's disclaimer must be taken at face value. But he's not retiring from politics. He expects to bat at the GOP nominating convention next year, playing a major role. And he expects to be out campaigning for the Republican candidate, no matter who he is.

CALL TO HISTORY—“Good hits were made on Tokyo . . . That's the message this passerby hears (Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's report of his bombing raid on Japan in 1942) when she picks up a phone at one of 37 stations around the base of a new skyscraper in New York. The building is new headquarters for the Columbia Broadcasting System, and the photographic panels and recorded news events review the sights and sounds of history during the last 36 years—from Lindbergh to John Glenn.

In Soviet Wheat Deal Panhandle Farmers Will Furnish Most of the Wheat

AMARILLO (UPI)—Farmers of Texas' Panhandle, which will furnish a good part of the $250 million in U.S. wheat to be sold to the Soviet Union, indicated they favor such a transaction with a few exceptions.

Most of them said they were for selling wheat to Russia only if the U.S. is assured of getting hard cash for it.

President Kennedy Wednesday approved the sale of U.S. surplus wheat to Russia.

G. A. McWilliams of Plainview, a farmer, said he had "given a lot of thought to selling wheat to Russia and I am in favor of it. "I think it will help this country as a whole and if they (Russia) need food, I think we should sell them wheat."

Might as Well
B. M. Hughes of Finney, Tex., said, "I don't know how much wheat surplus we have, but I do know we don't have much gold surplus. Russia is going to get that wheat somewhere and we might as well sell to them."

"This movement of wheat naturally creates more favorable prices," Welton H. Jones of Lubbock, bi-district state agricultural agent, said.

"I am not greatly disturbed over the idea of our surpluses," Jones said. "And I have an idea that if Russia had our agricultural surpluses, we would have been fighting them long ago."

H. B. Horn, a Dumas, Tex. grain dealer, said he had "no objections to the sale" although "I have talked with Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex. and he is dead against it."

Dumas Farmer Agrees
Carl Troutman, Dumas farmer, said "if they can get money from the wheat and know exactly where it is going, it is all right."

Gayle Thompson, a Tulia, Tex. farmer, said, "every bushel of wheat we sell is one less in surplus for us. I hope it is the right thing to do."

"The Russians would have gotten wheat from somewhere else so we should go ahead. But we should make sure we have a good, tight contract and apparently, we have," said Howard Boyd, a Moore County farmer.

Ted Powell of Dumas said he felt the U.S. "should have gotten together with her allies and prohibited sale of wheat to Communists."

INDIGNANT THIEF JAILED
ST. HELIER, Isle of Jersey (UPI) — Bernard Miller, 23, went to the police in high indignation because somebody stole his car. The police said they didn't know anything about Miller's car, but had been looking for him in connection with a $8,400 store robbery. He was jailed for eight years Wednesday.

TEXAS BOATING

By JOHN KNAGGS
United Press International
Most key decisions made by the Texas Game and Fish Commission hinges on when and how to permit man to take game on land. The new Parks and Wildlife Commission has much the same task, with the parks system thrown into its deliberations.

But the most controversial decision facing the commission today is man vs. man, with oysters and shell their prime targets in coastal waters.

The commission has authority to grant shell dredging permits. Oyster growers and conservationists contend timeless oyster reefs may perish forever if dredging continues.

Petitions have been circulating between Galveston and Baytown demanding more airing on the issue following a heated hearing in Austin two weeks ago.

Up to 5,000 signatures were reported this week and Gov. John Connally said he was confident the commission would not rule until all available information has been studied.

Howard Dodgen, longtime Game and Fish Commission executive secretary who was replaced after the merger this year, was quoted in the Houston Press as fearing dredging effects on oysters. However, Dodgen said he was not sure what the effect on fishing might be.

The new three-man commission took over late in August after the old one had cancelled a white wing dove season. There was some protest over the dove decision, but nothing to approximate the dredging issue.

12 Are Killed In Helicopter Crash

DANANG, South Viet Nam (UPI)—All 12 men aboard two U.S. Marine Corps helicopters which crashed in Communist-held jungle highlands north of Saigon late Tuesday were killed, a U.S. military spokesman said yesterday.

The spokesman said the bodies of nine Marines and three U.S. Navy men killed in the crash of the helicopters were being ferried back to this advance air base 40 miles north of the spot where they were killed.

The Marines and Navy men died while engaged in search operations for a T28 fighter-bomber that crashed earlier, killing an American captain.

The bodies of four men were recovered Wednesday from the wreckage of an "H21" helicopter which crashed Tuesday night near the Bon River about 20 miles from the Laotian border in Viet Nam's Central Highlands.

A U.S. military spokesman said the body of a fifth American was found at the site Friday.

DON JUAN HUSBAND
MADRID (UPI) — Police reclaimed Mrs. Diego Garcia Salazar, 81, and let her go Wednesday after she belted her 83-year-old husband with an umbrella on a down-town street for "Don Juaning with a 70-year-old woman."

"I surprised him with a younger woman of some 70 autumns and I gave him some lumps," she told police.

NEW YORK — South Viet Nam's Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu in a speech at Sarah Lawrence College for Women:

"American does not seem to realize Viet Nam is winning the war."

"I will never consent to what he did and neither would any woman of dignity," she said.
