Konrad Adenauer Retires As Chancellor

Failure to Unite Germany Is Greatest Disappointment

By WELLINGTON LONG

BONN (UPI) — The "Adenauer era" came to an end at high noon today as the West German chancellor officially retired from the government and returned to his parliamentary seat as a deputy.

"Der Alte", just three months short of his 88th birthday, thanked the German people for their help, then returned to the seat he left 14 years and month ago today to become the first West German Chancellor.

"But I won't just listen," he promised the parliament. "I'll talk, too."

But the Adenauer era, one of the most remarkable and challenging periods in German history, was over, and the nation awaited the start of a new era Wednesday when Ludwig Erhard becomes chancellor.

Adenauer told a press reception Monday night the Soviets should be made to pay for Western wheat with political concessions as well as money.

He said he would have preferred to see the Berlin wall torn down before the West helped solve the Soviet grain shortage.

Symbol of Disappointment

The wall is a symbol of the greatest disappointment in Adenauer's four terms of office—the failure to reunite Germany.

Adenauer has maintained that only through Western strength and patience would reunification take place. Now he fears that this show of strength may be diminishing with the easing of cold war tensions.

He told the press reception that the Soviets are trying to make it appear that only the refusal of West Germany to strike a bargain is holding up an East-West settlement of the cold war. But this, he said, is really an attempt to end the cold war on the basis of a permanently divided Germany.

He said he believes the hold-up of a U.S. Army Berlin convoy last weekend is a direct result of Soviet attempts to exploit Western euphoria resulting from the wheat deal and other signs of cold war easing.

When a reporter suggested that the convoy blocking might have been a mistake by some minor Soviet officer, Adenauer shot back: "Nonsense!"

Sent Good Wishes

West Germany's NATO partners sent Adenauer good wishes on his retirement and praised his contribution to the alliance.

President Kennedy said Adenauer was the man who "for the first time in history banished the danger of another war among the Atlantic Allies."

Adenauer himself shares Kennedy's estimation of his role in making West Germany an ally of the West.

In 1949, when a lone vote—Adenauer's own—put him in office, Germany was still shattered by war, mistrusted by the victors of East and West, and on shaky economic and political foundations.

Adenauer, helped by Erhard's economic genius, built his nation of 50 million into one of the most prosperous in Europe. He won it a place in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and made it a keystone of the European Common Market.

The Illinois Republican would not speculate on how much of Kennedy's original $4.5 billion authorization request might ultimately be approved by Congress.

But his statement, made in an interview, supported speculation that the administration may finally get little more than the $3.5 billion voted by the House.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which went back to work on the bill at a closed session today, agreed that the program faced difficulty. But "it's always in trouble," he told reporters.

Fulbright said he would hold sessions every day this week if possible in hopes of finishing committee action and sending the long-delayed measure to the floor. But he would make no predictions as to how soon or how much the committee would finally vote.

Senate Tax Cut Hearings Open On Stormy Note

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate hearings on President Kennedy's tax cut program opened today on a stormy note with one Democratic senator charging pressure tactics had been employed in an effort to force him to support the bill.

An aroused Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., complained that a seven-page telegram sent by William Keel, director of research for the Democratic National Committee, to Tennessee communities amounted to "political intimidation."

The telegrams urged local Democratic leaders in Tennessee to support the tax program and to advise their senator—Gore—to do likewise.

"So far as I know, this is the beginning of a purge," Gore said as the Senate Finance Committee opened hearings on the tax bill. Gore is opposing the measure.

Agrees With Gore

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., chimed in that he had seen the telegram and agreed with Gore that it was designed to "bring political pressure and coercion on the veteran Tennessee senator."

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he felt Gore's suggestion that Keel appear was "reasonable" and added that the matter would be "thoroughly looked into."

Charges Pressure Tactics

Contributing to a lively start of the hearing, Byrd remarked in his opening statement that inferences that the committee is delaying action on the bill "have characteristics of pressure propaganda."

The Gore complaint and the other statements of members delayed testimony by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, who launched the administration's Senate drive for the House-passed $11 billion tax cut with a 48-page opening statement.

In his lengthy presentation, the only revision recommended by Dillon from the House bill was a reduction in tax relief which persons who profit from the sale of stocks and property would get.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he felt Gore's suggestion that Keel appear was "reasonable" and added that the matter would be "thoroughly looked into."

Mystery, Mystification Return to Canaveral

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — From the near-record string of official "no comments" to the familiar postponement, it seemed just like the good old days.

The "good old days," as applied hereabouts, generally refer to Cape Canaveral, circa 1956-58, when virtually every missile project was covered from nose to nozzle in military classification labels and the "informed source" was in his heyday as a font of wisdom.

Monday night, those days of mystery and mystification made a come back. The Air Force tried — without success — to launch a pair of nuclear detection satellites so secret that even the fact they were secret was secret.

The effort came to no avail, but the postponement that ended the night's long wait only amplified the memories of the past for Cape veterans who fondly reminisced of the days and nights of vigils punctuated by similarly frustrating delays.

What the Air Force was attempting Monday night was to use a mighty Atlas-Agena rocket to push two 485-pound satellites dubbed "Vela Hotel" or "Vela High Altitude" — the name varies with the informed source — into orbits 60,000 miles high and, moreover, to keep as quiet about it as possible.

The satellites, each five feet in diameter and each having 20 faces made up of equilateral triangles, are the forerunners of a system the United States is

'Mad Arsonist' Fires Two Lumber Yards in Monmouth

MONMOUTH, Ill. (UPI) — A "mad arsonist" set a series of fires that leveled two lumber yards and nearly destroyed a metal firm early today.

State police posted armed guards around the Monmouth Hospital and the Colonial Nursing Home when the arsonist made an anonymous telephone threat that the two institutions were "next."

Authorities also placed guards around all industrial plants and throughout the business district of this west-central Illinois community of 10,000 persons.

The Monmouth Lumber Co., occupying a quarter block on the west side of town, and the Fullerton Lumber Co., which ranged over half a block on the south side, were destroyed. Half of the Monmouth Metal Culvert Co. burned to the ground.

trying to perfect to enforce the recently signed treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere and in space.

With such a system, scientists are confident they can spot clandestine atomic tests at distance of 100 million miles or more in space.

The shot Monday night was postponed because of technical troubles back on the launching pad. It was reported a new attempt probably would not be made before Wednesday.

Controversy Expected On Nuclear Ships

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Navy Secretary Fred Korth's resignation was expected today to fire up a controversy in the Pentagon and Congress over the future of the nuclear power for naval ships.

Intentionally or otherwise, the Texas's retirement decision served to emphasize a dispute that has smoldered for many months between the Navy and the Defense Department over the speed with which the fleet should shift to atomic propulsion.

A congressional inquiry already had been planned on the basis of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's opposition to a second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. It conceivably could be hastened and almost certainly will pit Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the atomic power expert, against McNamara in a dramatic congressional controversy.

More than a decade ago, Rickover and a few congressional supporters practically forced nuclear propulsion of submarines on a hesitant Navy. But today the outspoken admiral has the support of the Navy from Korth on down, and of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) in pressing for a speedier switch to atomic surface ships.

Jaywalking Cows NATIONAL CITY, Calif. (UPI) — When an excited motorist telephoned that "a bunch of cows walked through a red light," police embarked on an impromptu cattle roundup Monday.

It took eight policemen two hours to corral 40 animals which had strolled away from a meat packing pen near this San Diego suburb.

Fighting Continues On Algeria-Morocco Border

ALGIERS (UPI) — The Algerian government said today Algerian forces have driven Moroccan troops from two disputed Sahara outposts in a two-day battle.

A bulletin, broadcast at 1 p.m. (7 a.m. CST) by the government-controlled Algiers Radio, said: "Troops of the Algerian National and Popular Army (ANP) have cleared out the Hassi Beida and Tinjoub sectors."

The announcement followed official reports in both Algiers and the Moroccan capital of Rabat that fighting had resumed today.

The posts are in a border area claimed by both nations. Radio Algiers said that "thousands of Algerians" are besieging barracks to ask for arms "to defend the threatened western frontier."

Fighting in Progress

(Earlier, National Defense Minister Manjoubi Aherdane told newsmen before flying to the front line area: "There is fighting. That's all I can tell you.")

(Aherdane returned later to Marrakesh. (Guedira said the Algerians were calling up reinforcements. "I do not think there have been any Algerian fighter planes brought into action," Guedira told newsmen, "but reconnaissance aircraft have been used.")

(He said the Algerians were using heavy artillery. "On our side we have remained with our forces that were engaged yesterday (Monday), and which are not sup-

Commission Defers Action on Gas Rate

The City Commission today deferred action on Pioneer Gas Company's request for a ten per cent rate increase in Pampa.

Commissioners, after a discussion of the request, decided to ask officials of the utility to appear at a public hearing and present more detailed figures to back up the request.

Date of the hearing was to be set after city officials have contacted the company on a time agreeable to both parties.

Meanwhile, the city indicated it would delve deeper into the matter with further study.

"I do not think we can come to a conclusion on this request until we have given it further study that will enable us to reach a solution in the best interests of the citizens of Pampa," Mayor H. R. Thompson said.

Preston Fowkes, owner of the Pampa Hotel, told commissioners he thought gas company officials should bring in figures to back up their request and answer questions of commissioners and citizens.

Bill Watson, proprietor of the Pampa Roller Rink, opposed the rate increase and said if Pioneer should carry the fight higher, the city should buy the gas company and operate it.

Commissioner L. P. Fort took issue with this statement and said the city should not move into the field of government ownership of private industry.

Commission Defers Action on Gas Rate

"This puts Pampa at a disadvantage," Fort said, "in trying to attract industry."

Fort pointed out that the gas company's rate increase request would cost Pampa consumers $60,000 a year for four years.

"The raise if granted," Fort said, "would not appease the company. As we know they will come back for another raise in four years, as was stated, and perhaps ask for a rate increase sooner than that."

In other business, Commissioner Fort reported to the commission on his visit to Snyder, Tex., last week for an inspection of that city's sanitation plant.

Fort said Snyder has a system of oxidizing settling pools to implement its sanitation plant.

Fort said he found it to be entirely efficient and practically odorless.

The commissioner said if Pampa was to adopt this method it could be done for approximately $100,000 instead of the proposed $400,000 expenditure for a new plant.

The commission passed an emergency ordinance to provide for the paving of the 1700-block of N. Sumner and the 1200-block of W. Decatur. Ninety per cent of the cost of the improvement will be charged to property owners and ten per cent to the city. A hearing on the proposed paving projects has been set for 8:30 a.m. on Nov. 12.

U.S. Officials Consider Berlin Very Serious

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A considerable number of U.S. officials believe the recent Berlin flareup has much more serious meaning than the Kennedy administration has publicly admitted.

They do not accept the administration's theory that the two-day blockade of a U.S. Army convoy on the Berlin highway last week was an innocent "misunderstanding."

They believe it was another attempt at so-called Russian "Salami tactics"—the gradual slicing away of the Western position in Berlin.

For years, these officials argue, the U.S. Army rolled convoys through Russian checkpoints on the highway, and the United States itself decided which convoys would unload passengers to be counted by Russian guards as a "courtesy" and which would not.

The United States arbitrarily decided that convoys carrying more than 30 troop-passengers, not counting the two-man crew of each vehicle, would dismount while smaller convoys would not. But it never told the Russians the critical number—30—on grounds that the Russians had "no right" to demand that any convoy dismount.

Some officials believe the most probable reason the Russians halted last week a convoy 14 hours at one end of the highway and nearly 33 hours at the other end was that they were dissatisfied with this state of affairs.

JFK's Foreign Aid in Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said today that President Kennedy's foreign aid program was in "deep, deep trouble" because of a "harsh appraisal" by Congress and the country.

The Illinois Republican would not speculate on how much of Kennedy's original $4.5 billion authorization request might ultimately be approved by Congress.

But his statement, made in an interview, supported speculation that the administration may finally get little more than the $3.5 billion voted by the House.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which went back to work on the bill at a closed session today, agreed that the program faced difficulty. But "it's always in trouble," he told reporters.

Chung Hee Takes Lead in Election

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Ex-Gov. Park Chung Hee forged into a slight lead on the basis of early returns today from elections to choose a civilian president for South Korea after nearly two and a half years of military junta rule.

Partial and unofficial returns from 9 of the 11 provinces gave Park, 46, chairman of the present military government, 80,209 votes to 74,611 for ex-President Posun Yun, 66, his chief opponent.

The United States was watching the results closely. It has spent more than $5 billion in military and economic aid here in the past 10 years and maintains 50,000 troops to guard the truce line with North Korea.

George Duke Is Charged With Murder in Borger

George Henry Duke, 21, of 536 Elm St., was charged Saturday in the 84th Judicial District Court, Hutchinson County, with murder with malice as a result of a knife fight in Borger Saturday according to Arthur A. Waight Jr., police chief. Borger Leroy Alfred Burse Jr., 21, died in North Plains Hospital, Borger, Oct. 11. Doctors list the cause of death as a "blood clot in the heart."

According to the police chief, Burse was wounded in the back and left shoulder during the knife fight in front of the Brain St. Cafe in Borger, but at the time, was not admitted to the hospital because "doctors did not think the wounds were serious."

"Burse developed complications and was admitted to the hospital about 4:30 p.m. Oct. 9," Chief Waight said. "Doctors said he died probably as a result of a blood clot in his heart."

According to the police chief, Duke was released on a $1,000 bond set by Sam Watson, justice of the peace and is awaiting action of the Grand Jury.

Canadian Man Listed 'Poor' Following Mishap

Earl Allen Thompson, 62, of Canadian, was still in poor condition today in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, according to hospital authorities. He received a spinal injury while leading cattle on a ranch five miles northwest of White Deer yesterday.

Thompson was taken to Highland General Hospital by employees on the ranch and was given emergency treatment before being transferred to Northwest Hospital in a Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance.

Sypert Speaks To TOT Kiwanis

Dr. Smith B. Sypert of Pampa urged listeners at a meeting of the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club in Coronado Inn last night to weigh carefully the glib phrases and glowing promises of political candidates and public officials.

Striking out at the Kennedy administration's policy of cutting taxes without curtailing federal expenditures, Sypert said: "It boils down to the fact that we must depend less on what politicians say and depend more on common sense in reaching our conclusions as to what is basic to our growth and prosperity."

Sypert told his audience that he failed to see how Pampa's representative in congress reconciled his statement that he had not voted for increased expenditures with the fact that he recently voted against curtailment of federal spending.

Sypert said the federal government uses the excuse expenditures cannot be reduced without impairing the national defense.

He recited a long list of federal domestic expenditures which he said could be reduced without injuring the defense setup. Dr. Sypert stated, in substance, that the defense plea doesn't hold up when given close scrutiny.

Dr. Sypert was introduced to the club and guests by Bob Price, T O T Kiwanis president. Paul Tucker, a new member, was introduced by John McCausland, past president.

Two Treated, Released After Traffic Accident

Two persons were treated and released from Highland General Hospital yesterday for injuries received in a two-car collision about 7 p.m. in the 1000 block of N. Hobart.

According to Police Chief Jim Conner, Rex Harris McAnelly, 38, 2373 Aspen, was in collision with a car driven by Larry Don Waincott, 16, of 411 N. Dwight. Both cars were going north on Hobart.

"McAnelly had stopped and was starting to turn left into Coronado Drive when Waincott ran into the back of McAnelly's car," Chief Conner said.

According to Chief Conner, Waincott was given a ticket for failure to control speed to avoid an accident. Waincott and John E. Parker, Sr., 25 of 811 E. Jordan, a passenger in Waincott's car, received slight injuries and went to the hospital for treatment.

"McAnelly's car received about $500 damage and Waincott's about $350 damage," Chief Conner said.

Canadian Streets Getting New Look

CANADIAN (SpI) — Street paving is underway on three blocks of city streets in residential areas this week.

City crews are paving one block on Elsie between 6th and 7th streets, one block on 4th street between Cheyenne and Hobart, and one block on Cedar between Conclin and 6th streets.
 These are the three blocks approved for paving under an offer made recently by the city to provide the paving if property owners would pay for concrete curb and gutter. The offer was made on a first-come first-served basis, but City Manager Jim Morgan says that the City hopes to be able to do at least two or three blocks of paving a year on this basis, in addition to patching several gaps in existing paved streets.
 The curb and gutter is being handled by the property owners under private contract, but city street department crews are doing the paving.
 Morgan said two blocks of the paving should be finished this week, and the third will be completed next week.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
"Adenauer may well be deemed the wisest German statesman since Bismarck."

It was a compliment from one great man to another. For the man who made the remark was Sir Winston Churchill, he who led Great Britain through the perilous World War II years to final victory over Adolf Hitler.

And the man of whom he was speaking was Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who rebuilt a war-wrecked Germany into one of the world's greatest financial and political powers, and which today provides the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) with every second soldier available for defense of the West.

This is the day that Adenauer's resignation from 14 years of rule becomes effective. Wednesday, Ludwig (Uncle Ludy) Erhard becomes the new chancellor of the West German republic.

It has been described as the end of an era, an ending that came sooner than Adenauer himself wished, not as soon as Erhard and others in Adenauer's increasingly rebellious Christian Democratic party have wished.

Reach Unexpected Peaks
Churchill's comparison of Adenauer to Bismarck was not just a complimentary phrase. For Adenauer, like Bismarck, had been called upon to lead a fledgling German state and both had led it to wholly unexpected peaks of power and influence.

Adenauer overcame doubts that the German people had rejected their Nazi past and won for them acceptance in the Western family of nations.

Adenauer fought for a united Germany integrated with a united Europe.

He tied West Germany's fate with the United States and his constant goal was the elimination of the old enmity between Germany and France.

Not all these goals were accomplished, and in later years he became increasingly suspicious that accord between the United States and the Soviet Union might be reached at the expense of a permanently divided Germany.

Signs French Accord
This and his continuing desire for close ties with France led him last January to sign his accord with President Charles de Gaulle which he described as a crowning moment of his life.

But within his own party there was criticism that he had become subservient to De Gaulle and that for French-German accord he had sacrificed some of his own earlier goals, including a united Europe and his close ties with the United States.

It hardened the determination that it was time for Adenauer to quit.

Part of Adenauer's reluctance to shed his robes of office arose from his doubts about the abilities of the man named to succeed him.

Adenauer, whose own interest in economics is minor, recognized the Erhard genius which had made the Germany of today the world's third largest trading nation, the second largest industrial producer and the possessor of the largest currency reserves in Europe.

But an economist, he believed, did not make a politician and in many sarcastic references he questioned that Erhard had the strength of character to stand against the pressures which fall upon the chancellor.

Actually, under Erhard, there probably will be a few changes in Germany policy.

But he opposes De Gaulle's concept of a Europe which would bar Britain.

And this may provide one of his early tests.

THE "DOWNSWEEP"—How the First Lady wears her hair is always a subject for conversation—and the current "downsweep" is a good example.

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — An appeal will be issued to football fans attending a game between Los Angeles State College and Cal Poly of Pomona in the Rose Bowl this Saturday night to donate their eyes after death so that some blind persons may see.

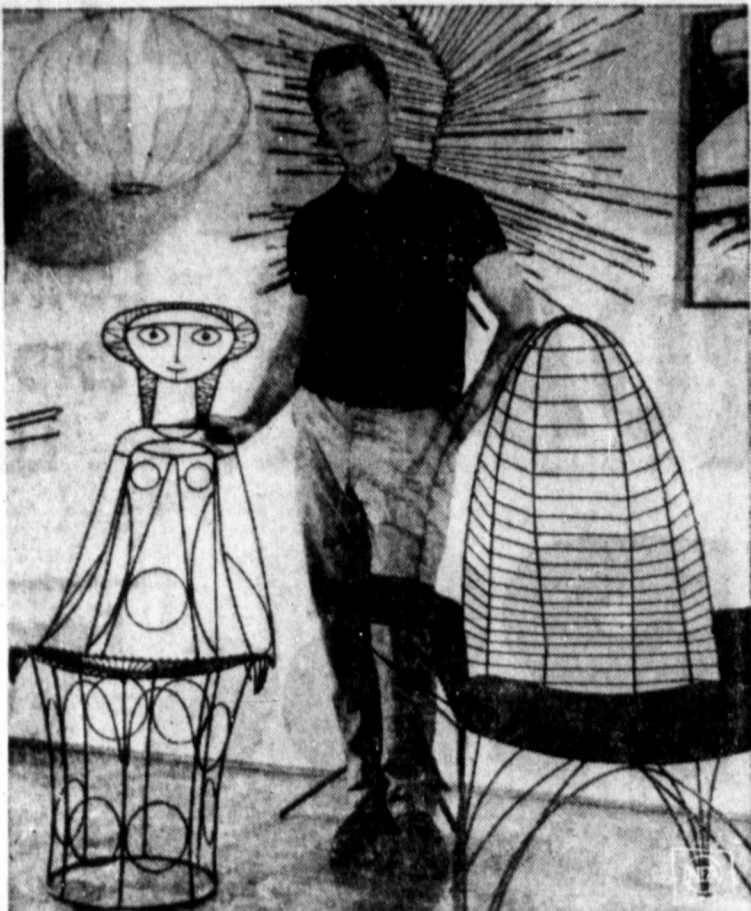

Spectators will be asked in the appeal sponsored by the Lions Eye Foundation of Southern California to sign a form authorizing removal of the corneas of their eyes in the event of death for transplanting to the eyes of blind persons.

Humphrey Expected To Emphasize 'Must' Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., was expected to reemphasize to his Senate colleagues today the Democratic leadership's intention to pass both tax legislation and civil rights measures before Congress adjourns.

Humphrey said the bills were "essential for the strength and progress of America" and "both are supported by the people."

The Democratic whip said in a statement that if Senators wanted to go home for Christmas, "they will have to complete action on those top-priority programs in Washington." "Undue delay," of either measure, he said, "will be met with firm determination by the Democratic leadership."

President Kennedy's proposed tax reform and reduction measure, already approved by the House, now is before the Senate Finance Committee which will soon hold public hearings on it.

His civil rights program is still in the judiciary committees of both Houses. The House Judiciary Committee is not expected to act on the over-all bill until late October.

Other congressional news: Civil Rights: Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is expected to ask the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday to modify a strong civil rights bill that has subcommittee approval. Based on past testimony, it was expected that Kennedy would oppose the new provisions added by the subcommittee to the administration's proposals because they might jeopardize passage of any civil rights legislation this year.

Crime: The Senate investigations subcommittee plans to question law enforcement officials Tuesday on crime syndicate activities in Tampa, Fla., Buffalo, N.Y., and Boston. Underworld informer Joseph Valachi has been temporarily excused as a witness, but Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has indicated he wants to question the mobster about gangland connections in the Las Vegas, Nev., gambling center.

Movie Fans Confused By Developments

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Gossip columnists and movie fans today had to move fast to keep up with marriages, separations and new additions in the Hollywood set.

Actress June Allyson, 39, returned to work on a television role after a one-day honeymoon with her new husband, hair stylist Glenn Maxwell, 31.

The actress widowed last January by the death of actor Dick Powell, and the barber were married in a civil ceremony at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Saturday.

Also honeymooning were actress Connie Stevens, 24, and actor James Stacy, 27, who tied the knot Saturday at the St. Francis de Sales Roman Catholic Church in suburban Sherman Oaks. It was one of Hollywood's biggest weddings in recent years.

Actress Jane Wyman, once married to actor Ronald Reagan, and her husband, musical composer Fred Karger, have separated. Karger said he saw little chance for a reconciliation.

The couple married in 1952, divorced two years later and remarried in 1961.

In New York, actress Joan Collins, the wife of actor Anthony Newley, gave birth Saturday to a 7-pound, 11-ounce girl in Mount Sinai Hospital. Both were reported in fine condition.

The Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton-Eddie Fisher triangle was status quo. The singer, said in Las Vegas that his wife informed him in a telephone conversation that she was in "no hurry" to get a divorce.

Fisher said he had telephoned Miss Taylor at the Mexican location where actor Richard Burton's new movie, "Night of the Iguana" is being filmed.

TOWERING PROGRESS—Beginning to take shape, the general post office television and radio-telephony tower gradually nears its completed height. The tower, under construction in Bloomsbury, West Central London, now stands 477 feet. It will be 619-feet-high when finished.

Show down Expected In Birmingham Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Integration leaders Martin Luther King Jr. and Fred Shuttlesworth return here today for a showdown with city officials on their demands for more desegregation.

The two Negro leaders who led the massive racial demonstrations here that exploded into violence and led to more than 2,500 arrests, issued an ultimatum last week that 25 Negro policemen must be hired by next Tuesday.

They vowed to lead the Negro community in more and bigger demonstrations if their demands are not met.

Both King and Shuttlesworth have emphasized, however, that employment of the Negro policemen is only the first step. They also demanded "face-to-face" negotiations between Negro leaders and the city council to arrange better job opportunities for Negroes in other areas of government.

To Appear ON TV

Gov. George Wallace was to appear on local television late today and was expected to discuss the racial situation and hold a news conference.

The Community Affairs Committee on Human Relations, composed of 14 whites and nine Negroes, adopted a resolution Friday urging Mayor Albert Boutwell to change the city's policy of hiring only white policemen. Many of the city's most influential business and civic leaders previously had made the same recommendation.

Earlier the mayor said he would not answer the King and Shuttlesworth demand but Saturday a spokesman announced Boutwell was considering the committee recommendation.

Elsewhere In The Nation

Clinton, La.: At least 43 pickets were arrested during the weekend while protesting segregation customs in stores. Most of the arrests came Saturday, but four members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) were arrested Sunday.

Chicago: Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told an audience in Chicago Sunday that the administration's civil rights legislation "has become an article of faith, testing whether white Americans can put aside sectional and political differences to meet racial problems. . . . He said the "whole nation will be the loser" if Congress rejects the measure.

Greensboro, N.C.: About 200 Negroes paraded before a segregated theater Sunday night. The demonstration was orderly and there were no arrests.

Charlotte, N.C.: Author-historian Harry Golden urged Negroes attending a convention of the North Carolina NAACP Sunday to use their ballots to oust Southern office holders who block their quest for better treatment.

Jackson, Miss.: Negroes attempted to attend two all-white Methodist and Episcopal churches here Sunday but were refused entry and left quietly.

27 Die in Texas Over The Weekend

by United Press International

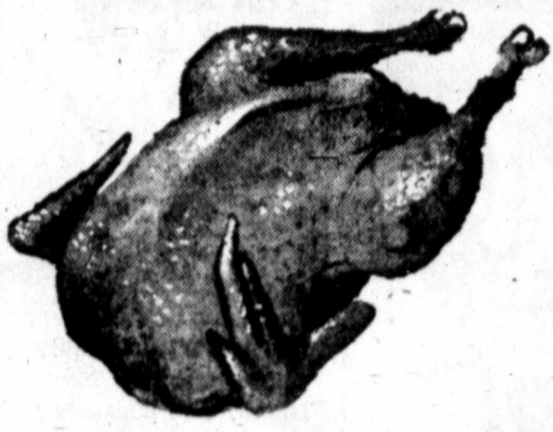

Automobile accidents—as usual—killed the most persons over the week end in Texas, but the most bizarre death occurred in a dynamite explosion along the Sabine River.

In the worst single accident, three persons died Sunday in a two car collision on a Dallas expressway.

A United Press International count for the week end period from 6 p. m. Friday through midnight Sunday showed at least 27 persons dead from violence in the state. Thirteen died in traffic.

The dynamite explosion Sunday killed John Wesley Gipson, 64 and injured another man. Police said Gipson was holding the dynamite in his hand when it went off.

The victims in the Dallas wreck were Marie Guerra, 30, Matilda Bermea, 35 and Diego Bermea, 38. Their car ran off the expressway after it hit the other vehicle.

Helicopter Crash Kills Six Persons

NEW YORK (UPI) — A New York Airways helicopter crashed and burned on takeoff at Idlewild Airport yesterday, killing six persons, police reported.

Police said four passengers and two crewmen on the 25-seat twin-blade craft were killed.

The Federal Aviation Agency control tower at the airport said the helicopter, a Boeing Vertol 107, crashed at 12:33 p.m., EDT while taking off. The helicopter was barely off the ground when it plunged to earth, eyewitnesses said.

Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze, and the bodies were removed to an open area. The area was strewn with wreckage.

A large number of airlines' employes quickly raced to the scene, a section of the sprawling airport between the cargo area and several domestic passenger terminals.

JACK AND THE TOMATO STALK—Ira D. Cripe, of Lawrence, Kans., is dwarfed by his appropriately named "Big Boy" tomato plants. Cripe, a semiretired barber, gardens as a hobby. The largest plant, on the right, is 16 feet tall and would grow taller if it had higher support. It's held up with a steel rod and produced well over 100 tomatoes during the season.

NEEDS NEW JAIL

MADRID (UPI) — When an angry spectator jumped onto the soccer field here Sunday and rushed at the referee, police grabbed him and hauled him off to the small jail under the stands. Then they went back to watch the game.

While the police were gone, the fan battered down the jail door and escaped into the crowd.

CORN(Y) PICTURE—Honoring a popular band-leader is one thing, but the Corn Palace in Mitchell, S.D., did it up right. They arranged several thousand cobs of corn to create a 10-foot likeness of Lawrence Welk, to note his musical engagement at the Palace.

Dear Abby....
Get Help But Fast!
He Is Sick!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please put this in the paper quick, as I am a wreck. My husband doesn't trust anybody—not even me. Lately he's been buying his own groceries and cooking his own meals because he thinks I'm trying to poison him. He uses vile language, and he accuses me of the filthiest things. And after 43 years of love and faithfulness! If there is a knock on the door, he goes with his pistol to answer it. He has spells and acts like his old sweet self for a day or two, then he starts in acting ugly again. I'm afraid if I ask anyone for help they will lock him up. Please tell me what to do, but don't let on where this letter came from.

FRIGHTENED WOMAN
DEAR FRIGHTENED: Get your husband to a doctor if you have to call the sheriff or police to help you. He has the symptoms of a very sick man. It is no disgrace to be sick, but it is disgraceful to delay treatment which could hasten your husband's recovery. If he must be temporarily "locked up," to prevent his harming himself and — or others, it's a kindness to lock him up.

DEAR ABBY: I am not a child. In fact, I'm a grown woman of 50, but there is a question I'd like to ask you. When robins, or other birds, lay their eggs, do these eggs grow any larger before they're hatched? I hope this doesn't sound like a silly question, but I must settle a discussion with my husband who says once eggs are laid they do not grow. I say they do.

MRS. A. G.
DEAR MRS. A. G.: Trust your husband to give you the correct information about the birds. He's right! Now, if you want to know anything about the bees, you have a honey of an authority at home.

DEAR ABBY: Why all this nonsense about displaying the flag? I am 53 years old and I have never owned a flag or flown one. I did send one son to World War I, and another to the Korean conflict. I cast my vote and raise my voice in protest when bigots and men of ill will endanger our precious heritage. I love my fellow man, and hold his right as dear as my own, regardless of his race, color or creed. Anyone can wave a flag, but what does it prove? Live your life according to God's will, and you won't need to.

ANOTHER ABIGAIL
CONFIDENTIAL TO SUE IN PINE BLUFF: Yes, I am married, and have been to the same wonderful man for 24 years. We have a daughter 21, and a son 18, and are healthy, happy, normal, LUCKY people living in southern California.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

FIGHTS THURSDAY — Benny Bennett, Pampa High sophomore, will box Larry Pacheco of Liberal on the Pampa Optimist Boxing Club's first card of the season this Thursday night.

Texas Top Team Through Nation

NEW YORK (UPI) — The last time Texas reigned as major college football's No. 1 team — a year ago this month — the Longhorns couldn't stand prosperity, and if last week's upset trend continues they may have trouble retaining their freshly won rating.

Texas received 30 first place votes from the 35-man United Press International Board of Coaches in this week's balloting. The Longhorns overpowered Oklahoma, 28-7, last Saturday, to replace the Sooners as the top major college team. Oklahoma tumbled to fifth.

Upstarts upended the top 10, leaving only three teams — Texas, Wisconsin, (No. 2), and idle Pittsburgh, (No. 3) — undefeated and untied. None of the 10 elite of last week could hold the same position this week.

Sooners Suspend Joe Don Looney

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Coach Bud Wilkinson of the fifth-ranked Oklahoma Sooners dismissed sensational power-running halfback Joe Don Looney from the squad Monday for disciplinary reasons.

The veteran Oklahoma coach declined further comment.

The action came amid rumors of dissension among team members in the wake of Oklahoma's shocking 28-7 loss to Texas Saturday in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Looney, a 6-foot-1, 224-pound speedster from Fort Worth, Tex., was not available for comment. However, a university spokesman quoted Looney as saying he probably would remain in school at Oklahoma.

The spectacular halfback, who played a key role in Oklahoma's return to national acclaim, was playing in his final year of athletic eligibility at Oklahoma. He needs about two more years of classwork for graduation.

SWC Begins Cage Practice

By United Press International

More than 100 candidates were expected to report today for Southwest Conference fall basketball drills.

The first inter-sectional games are more than a month away for the eight teams in the league.

Fifty-six lettermen were scheduled for duty including eight each at Rice, Texas Tech, Baylor and Texas Christian.

Two new coaches will step in, George Carlisle will move up to head coach at Rice following the death of coach John Frankie. Assistant Shelby Metcalf will succeed resigned Bobby Rogers at Texas A&M.

Open games for the eight teams will find Arkansas entertaining Southwest Louisiana Nov. 30. On the same date Texas Tech will host New Mexico. Defending champion Texas opens with Howard Payne at home. TCU plays Oklahoma City away, and Rice hosts Vanderbilt on Dec. 2. On Dec. 3, Baylor plays Arlington State in Waco and SMU entertains Vanderbilt, Texas A&M is the last to open playing Houston at Aggieland Dec. 5.

Monterey Plainsmen Average 188 Pounds

Real tough on runs... tough, good on sweeps... good boy, tough... good tackler... phrases like this are listed after the names of the big and powerful defensive alignment of the Monterey Rebels, this Friday night's visitor to Harvester Stadium.

Pampa scouting reports list the Plainsmen as the biggest and most talented crew the Harvesters will have met since their opening game at Wichita Falls. The Monterey starting offensive line weighs in at an average of 188 pounds, their entire starting offensive unit averages 190 pounds and their defensive lineup averages 177, despite lightweight corners and halfbacks.

Bob Schmid, rated as real tough, is a two-way left end at 204 pounds. In addition to his blocking and tackling ability, Schmid is the leading pass receiver and the team's punter. The other end is the lightest lineman on the team, speedy Jack Duncan, 168.

Tackles are Lynn Stroud, 190 and Danny Dutton, 204, on offense. Offensive guards are Mike Barrett, 176 and Larry Hastings, 182. Center is Rudy Foster, 190.

Baylor's Trull Leads Passers

DALLAS (UPI) — Don Trull, the Baylor pass-master who led the nation in his specialty last season, wings along without competition as the Southwest Conference passing and total offense pacesetter.

On the aerial front, the slender Baylor bomber, has completed nearly twice as many passes and almost doubled the yardage output of his nearest rival, Danny Thomas of Southern Methodist.

Trull's 21-of-34-for-241 yard performance in skinning the Arkansas Razorbacks 14-10 last Saturday night built his three-game season total to 51 completions out of 82 attempts for 631 yards and a 62.2 per cent completion record, also tops in the league.

Thomas has hit 26 of 49 for 389 yards and on total offense has 368 yards to Trull's 661.

Mobeetie Eager For Clash With Mustangs

MOBEETIE (Spl) — Coach Cecil Reynolds and the Mobeetie Hornets, fired up by a 29-0 district victory over Lakeview last Friday night, are eagerly awaiting a 2:30 p.m. Friday appointment at Morse.

"We're still not out of the district race," said Reynolds, "and with the way the boys looked last week, we'll be in it until our last game with Darrouzett, if Darrouzett can beat Booker for us."

Although statistics-wise, Big Ray Corcoran was "the man" for Mobeetie last week as he tallied four touchdowns, tremendous blocking and fine defense accounted for the shutout.

"Ray was getting great blocking on his runs," said Reynolds, "the sharpest blocking we've had all season, especially from Eddie Vowell and Cary Jack Johnson. Vowell played his best game of the season, as a matter of fact it was the best team game of the season, even better than against Miami B. The whole team was in on the defense, led by Vowell, Johnson and little Joe Kelley... let me tell you, that 90-pounder can tackle! Jackie Barton, Eddie Ray Hodges and Jerry Rector were outstanding too. We spent most of our time in their backfield, that's how we got a safety."

"If we can play ball like that against Morse and against Darrouzett, we've still got a darn good chance."

... best game of year

Morse, in its first year in the football wars, offers little threat to Mobeetie's hopes. The Mustangs were hurt when the season started by the unfortunate death of Allen Dixon, their best player. In Morse's last outing, Darrouzett rolled for a 36-0 win. The lone Morse TD came on a 70-yard run by quarterback Allen McCloy.

White Deer Opens Loop Play At Mighty Wolves

WHITE DEER (Spl) — The wolves are at the door of the White Deer Bucks this week... the Dalhart Wolves, that is.

As fierce as their namesakes, the state's second-ranked AA team will defend their district 1-AA title Friday night, and neither Colie Huffman nor any other district coach can see how they can be stopped.

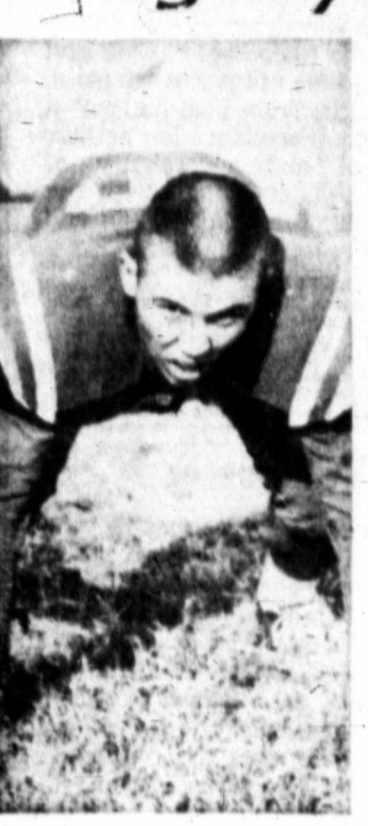

Spearheaded by the fabulous Colquitt twins, Jeff and John, who are averaging better than two touchdowns a game each, the Wolves have rolled up five straight victories, averaging better than 40 points a game. Their closest call came last Friday in a free-swinging game against Tucumcari, 59-42. The Wolves were without Jeff Colquitt, quarterback Ronnie McClendon and fullback Phillip Pirtle, so John Colquitt promptly went on a three-touchdown, 36-point scoring spree.

"I said before the season started that they were just as great a team as last year, if not greater, and I just don't know how we can beat them," said White Deer coach Colie Huffman. "They're too tough, it would be nice if those three backfield boys were missing against us, but they'll be there, they always are. They're plenty tough."

"Our boys will be in there all the way... White Deer Bucks always are... but Dalhart is just too tough."

"The boys played well against Clarendon, they deserved a win. Eddie Kleibrink, Roy Armstrong and Dan Simmons looked good on offense, and Wes Schultz headed the defense. Wes was named Most Spirited Buck. Physically we're in good shape except for Dave Clemens and Elliott. Elliott is still limping and I don't know if he or Rickey Moore will start at quarterback. Clemens is still bothered by a leg injury, and now he reports that his head is bothering him. We'll have to await doctor's reports."

Huffman's enthusiastic comment on the fact that White Deer was moving down to Class A next year was "We're glad... it'll be rough, that district we're going into is as tough a lineup as any Class A district you'll find, but at least we'll get rid of Dalhart... and Phillips moves into this district next year... can you imagine having to play both those teams in district? Nothing can be rougher than that!"

Class AA Goes Into District This Week

By United Press International

Texas schoolboy football's Class AA division turns almost wholly to district play this week with 84 of the 89 games counting in the standings and with three of the games matching undefeated teams.

Rockdale's Tigers, state finalists last year and one of the stingiest defensive teams in the state this year with only a two-point safety yielded to five foes, figure in the headline attraction against the Hearne Eagles.

Their meeting will decide which will contest unscored on Caldwell for the District 19-A title, although the latter club may have a scrap on its hands when it plays at once-beaten Navasota in another crucial tilt.

The Hearne-Rockdale battle is the only one matching perfect record teams, but two other contests involve teams with only ties on their record.

Len Dawson of Kansas City took over sole possession of the passing lead from the Chargers' Tobin Rote. Dawson has connected for 13 scores through the air. Rote still leads in percentage completed, 62 per cent.

In the other, Edcouch-Elsa is at Lyford in a battle of once-tied Lower Rio Grande Valley teams.

Several other unbeaten-untied teams may find the going considerably rougher as they head into district competition.

Job for Plano

Plano, for example, must get by once-beaten Rockwall; Little Cypress tangles with once-beaten West Orange; Cotulla bumps into once-beaten Hondo, which last week knocked Pearsall out of the unbeaten list, and Los Fresnos takes on once-beaten Donna.

Among the unbeaten-but tied teams, Olney faces troublesome Iowa Park and Paul Pewitt meets once-beaten Liberty-Eylau.

Among the state's stronger teams with one or two losses against their records this week's schedule finds such potent pairings as Olton at Dimmitt, Denver City at Sweetwater, Anson at Ballinger, Hamlin at Stamford, Haskell at Winters, Canton at Lindale, Mineola at Van, Gladewater at Gilmer and Mesa at San Saba.

Low Heads AFL Runners

NEW YORK (UPI) — Paul Lowe sat out last season with a broken arm and there was skepticism that the San Diego Chargers' speedster could regain the form that made him an All-American Football League halfback in 1960.

But today Lowe is leading the AFL in rushing, has gained 396 yards and averaged 7.4 yards per carry, according to statistics released by the AFL headquarters.

Right halfback defensively is Tommy O'Kelley, 155, rated a good tackler, although the smallest man in the lineup. Left halfback will be fullback Junior McCarty, 170.

Defensively the Plainsmen will line up in a basic 6-2, but will vary depending on the offense, reports Pampa head coach Otis Holladay. Offensively, the Plainsmen use a Delaware Winged-T offense with floaters.

Golfer Horton Smith Dies

DETROIT (UPI) — Horton Smith, 55, the first Masters champion and a member of the PGA Hall of Fame, died today of Hodgkins disease.

Smith had been suffering from the disease for the past six years.

The pro at the Detroit Golf Club since 1946, Smith was attending the Ryder Cup matches Sunday when he collapsed.

Smith returned to Detroit Monday but collapsed again in his car and was rushed to a hospital where he was reported in satisfactory condition. But he took a turn for the worse and died shortly after midnight.

Smith, a past president of the PGA, won the first Masters at Augusta in 1934 and won the title again in 1936.

Smith won numerous other golf crowns including the French Open title on his 21st birthday in 1930.

t Depends On Your Values

All human judgment is conditioned by the aims and purposes we adopt as individuals. In this regard, our various backgrounds lead us toward a scale of values which tends to cause us to move in the direction of our goals. Thus, it happens that persons who are basically peaceful and constructive often find themselves at variance with the more equally peaceful and constructive man who favors freedom. The man who favors freedom will not find himself in agreement with the man who favors a condition wherein some men have control over other men.

Speaking broadly, there are a number of goal patterns visible in this nation. The businessman, for example, has a set of values which relate to his ability to produce and to make profit. He must study the market and the product he intends to produce or distribute. He must endeavor to please his customers. He is among the most innocent of all living persons.

He desires only to please you so well that you will voluntarily purchase that which he has provided for your comfort or convenience.

Take the politician. His goal is power. He does not have to really please you. He has only to convince you that he is going to exercise power in a way that will be in harmony with a majority of those he hopes will vote for him or otherwise support him. Once in office, he must continue to carry on this pretense. This follows if he is an elected official.

Of course, the great number of persons in office are bureaucrats and as such do not need to please anyone but their bureau chiefs. Their aim is to retain power and to extend it. Their profits are not in innocent dollars, voluntarily obtained, but in satisfactions relating to political objectives. The larger their functions become, the more they can control the decision-making facility of private persons, the happier and the more secure they will be.

What of the socialist? His aim is to eradicate poverty; not by producing more but by compelling those who have produced to share what they have with others who have not produced. The socialist and the politician are ready bed-fellows. The one favors power for its own sake; the other favors power as a means to accomplish his ends.

Where does the conservative stand? His purpose is to retain those things of value he believes come to him from the past. A businessman tends to be a conservative when he has found a way to conduct his business in a profitable manner. At this point he is leery of change. He may invoke the politician to employ his power to see that no change can occur. Most businessmen understand the merit of competition and favor an open market. But, as human beings, they cannot favor competition against themselves so much as they will favor competition among those who supply them with the raw materials or other products they use.

The informed businessman knows that he cannot maintain a competitive market among his suppliers if he seeks a protected market in dealing with his customers. Even so, he will thrive to make things as rough on his competition as he can, to the point he must still favor a climate which will make things equally difficult for himself. What of the person who favors freedom? His goals are frequently misunderstood, for others, having different goals, tend to believe that the goals they have are also those of the lover of freedom. This is bound to be true since virtually everyone favors some degree of freedom, especially for himself.

But the person we call a libertarian, for want of a better term, places freedom at a very high point in his scale of values. Thus, he will favor the businessman who favors a free market. But he will oppose the businessman who does not. He will favor the conservative when the conservative seeks to preserve freedom, one of the great values we have inherited from the past. But he will break with the conservative who may decide that some of the control to come down from the past should be preserved.

Your Plan
A sound plan for your life doesn't have anything to do with the noise you can make if you start to brag.

Keep It That Way
It now appears that the federal government wants to extend its ear — and what a long ear it has become! — into the cattle industry. An Administration plan would pay subsidies to farmers who converted cropland into grazing land. It is backed by the argument that, unless some such step is taken, there will be a shortage of beef by 1970.

Pull Up A Chair

Any poor boy who wants to be a doctor now can make it if he has the brains. Scholarships are being offered to men and women for medical study, and student loans can be had for the asking. The American Medical Association Research Foundation is helping 8200 future doctors to the tune of $9 million this year, and there are a dozen other places, including your Uncle Sam's treasury, that will give anyone studying medicine a financial boost.

Memory Lane: Remember the good old days when there were no liberals and no conservatives and no far-righters and no left-wingers and only Democrats and Republicans? Life was simpler then, and you knew the players without a scorecard. Now you can't tell them with one.

A friend told us about having seen an 1896 edition of the New York Times which carried a story about the previous day's municipal election and recounted that nine aldermen had been elected, "some of them men of respectability." The Times apparently did not approve of Tammany Hall. "Close cropped haircuts won't make the hair grow coarser and darker, according to the AMA Journal. . . Buried Treasure Dept. The cops may be good at getting the culprits, but they never get the cash. The Brinks gang were convicted; the P.O. inspectors say they know the Plymouth mail robbers; and Scotland Yard is making a good pitch in solving the British mail robbery. But out of the millions grabbed in all three heists no sizeable amount of the cash has turned up anywhere. . . Speaking of heists, there was no honor among the thieves who recently clipped an Ohio high school for 130 honor pins.

And have you noticed life is getting more hazardous since more and more workmen wear helmets? . . . Boston is the only major U.S. city to cut its tax rate for three consecutive years. . . Attendance at the major fairs throughout the country ran 10 per cent ahead of last year, according to the International Association of Fairs and Expositions. They say 90 million attended the 3000 major state and county fairs. All of which proves there's still a lot of interest in the hootchy-kootchy gals.

The Almanac
By United Press International
Today is Tuesday, Oct. 15, the 288th day of 1963 with 77 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.
The morning star is Jupiter.
The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.
Those born today are under the sign of Libra.
On this day in history:
In 1917, the most famous spy of World War I, Gertrude Margarete Zelle, known as Mata Hari, was executed outside Paris.

In 1945, Pierre Laval, former French premier, was executed for betraying his country to Nazi Germany during World War II.
In 1946, Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering committed suicide by taking poison a day before he was scheduled to be executed.
In 1959, a New York art dealer bought Paul Cezanne's "Boy With a Red Vest" for the highest price then ever paid for a painting—$616,000.

A thought for the day — The Greek orator, Demosthenes, said: "To remind a man of the good turns you have done him is very much like a reproach."

I Keep Getting That Creepy Feeling

Question Box
(We invite questions on economic and proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)
QUESTION: "Why do so many continue to believe that a little initiated force — taxation — is necessary and are afraid thereof without a minimum of coercive taxation?"
ANSWER: Probably the reason most people believe it is because most everybody now believes that taxation is absolutely necessary. Most people are largely products of their environment. They do not think for themselves or start with an assumption and permit it to be challenged to see if there are any exceptions. If so it is not a principle. Therefore, they continue to believe what others believe. For example, just as in the Sixteenth century people believed that the earth rotated daily around the sun and did not revolve on its axis, and this caused night and day. Giordano Bruno, who lived from 1548 to 1600, discarded this belief and contended that the earth revolved daily on its axis and changed its position relative to the sun that caused the seasons. He contradicted the Aristotelian Astronomy and adopted the Copernicus Theory. For this belief he was put in jail in Italy in 1593. Every effort was made to get him to recant this theory, but since he wouldn't recant it, in 1600 they burned him at the stake. That shows that we today have made some progress in man's relation to man as far as having a right to think and express an opinion.

Those who believe we must have some initiated force-taxes, is because they haven't thought it through. They are putting themselves as omnipotent. They do not seem to realize what would happen if men were free to use their mental faculties and express themselves. All our progress comes from differing with other established ideas. It is irrational to contend that we have orderly financing now. We have anything but orderly financing. We have might-makes-right financing. There is no relation to justice or morality.

We have orderly financing for business when the customer determines whether to vote for this product or that product by buying it or refusing to buy it. Just so, if we didn't have coercive taxation people would voluntarily buy the services that the government rendered that they thought would be beneficial to them, just as they buy everything else because it gives them satisfaction. It would be a natural extension of the division of labor, but taxation is not a natural extension of the division of labor. It is an artificial might makes-right method of division of labor and that stands in the way of progress.

Castro. Representative Porter slipped into the White House recently for a long talk with Schlesinger after returning from Havana. While in Cuba, Porter spent all of one night talking with Castro.

Earlier this year, C. Leo De Orsey, attorney for all of the U. S. astronauts, revealed that "everyone is after Glenn — aviation, foundations, political parties."

Buttering their bread — The wheat sale to Russia is only a starter. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman has told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the Soviet has put out feelers for permission to buy surplus butter, cheese and dried milk from the U. S. at "bargain prices."

Under a government - supported price for dairy farmers, the Agriculture Department has acquired stocks of butter, cheese and dried milk at heavy costs. At present, butter stocks total 380 million pounds, for which the Commodity Credit Corporation paid 58 cents a pound. The U. S. offers this surplus butter for sale abroad, through private traders, at 26 cents a pound. Hence, the subsidy averages 32 cents a pound. Butter in Russia today costs around $1 a pound, making the highly subsidized U.S. product very attractive to the Kremlin bosses. Like the wheat deal, Freeman reports that the President is ready to approve the dairy sales. INSIDE WHITE HOUSE — Three-year-old John F. Kennedy, Jr., proved to be all boy when he met Emperor Haile Selassie at the White House recently. When His Majesty handed John Jr. a hand-carved figure of an ancient Ethiopian soldier carrying a lance and a spear, he accepted it, saying: "Does anybody have any chewing gum?" . . . Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., a White House assistant, gets his inside information on Cuba from ex - Congressman Charles O. Porter of Eugene, Ore., a close friend of Cuban Dictator

Between the Bookends

WHO'S BEHIND THE "CIVIL RIGHTS" MOVEMENT? The current "Civil rights" push has created controversy on many points. Objections to law-breaking, infringement of property rights, and other complaints have been raised. Important, too, are the charges that Communists have inspired the movement. These charges take on added meaning in light of an important book, "Color, Communism and Common Sense." First published in 1958, it has recently been re-

The Doctor Says

Bland Diet's Purpose: Soothes Problem Stomach
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Q—I had a barium X ray taken and it showed pylorospasm. Since there is no ulcer, why do I have to continue on a bland diet?
A—Since this condition is usually recognized in childhood, you have probably had it in some degree all your life. The muscular control of the outlet of your stomach is abnormally strong. As a result, your stomach is slow to empty. After a heavy meal this condition may be associated with heartburn, bringing up of sour stomach contents into your mouth, or even vomiting. If you take frequent small feedings, these symptoms will bother you less.

Your doctor wants you to take a bland diet because such a diet leaves the stomach more readily than does a diet that contains much spice and roughage. Antispasmodic drugs sometimes help. If the condition is severe, an operation to cut some of the excess muscle at the outlet of the stomach must be performed. Q—When I eat fresh tomatoes my teeth hurt at the gumline. It then takes several days of going without before this sensitive-ness disappears. Is there anything besides not eating tomatoes I can do about it?
A—As we grow older the gums begin to recede below the enamel crown. This exposes the sensitive dentin. Dentists have used many preparations to desensitize the dentin.

One of the best is a mixture that contains sodium fluoride, kaolin and glycerin, but no desensitizer will prevent continued erosion by such foods as tomatoes, citrus fruits and sugar. For this reason your dentist should search for factors that cause the erosion, in addition to the dietary factor. Prevention of further erosion combined with desensitization should help you. Q—What is a hemangioblastoma of the cerebellum? What is the cause, the symptoms and the chance of a cure?
A—You do not say that you are the one who has this disease and I sincerely hope that you are not. This is a blood vessel tumor of the lower portion of the brain. It runs in families, but no cause is known. It may cause dizziness, difficulty in walking, and headache depending on how big it is and how fast it is growing.

It is not a cancer and can be cured by removal. Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.
