Springtank History Will Live Again At Homecoming June 7

Fourth Annual Reunion Of Alanreed Pioneers Will Be Held At Alanreed School Gymnasium With "Visiting" As Feature Of The Event

Fourth and concluding article in a series of special stories on Alanreed is published today. Stories on towns in the Top O' Texas area are being printed in connection with the 1939 Top O' Texas Fiesta to be held in Pampa on June 13 and 14.

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

ALANREED, May 13—A thousand incidents similar to the ones narrated in this series on "Springtank" will probably be heard on June 7 at the Alanreed gymnasium when Alanreed's old timers gather for the fourth annual Alanreed homecoming.

The affair is especially given for those who were once residents of Alanreed but have moved away.

During the morning an interesting program will be presented. Complete details of the program have not been arranged but will be announced later. Lunch will be served during the noon hour. In the afternoon there will be a brief business session and other entertainment, including a softball game between Alanreed citizens and Gray county officials.

The plot of the play deals with a boy, Eddie, played by Jerry Smith, who if he is to inherit a fortune, must be to bed propped each night. They move his bed into the living room to see that he does it. The Lubbock Poster company will post the sign on its billboard on the highway between Amarillo and Lubbock.

Other posters will be displayed on U. S. Highway 60, one in the middle of a group of three billboards of the LaNora theater. Just across the railroad tracks at the Hobart street intersection.

Another poster will be displayed on the Friendly Men's Wear billboard, near the intersection of Highway 152 and Highway 60, west of Pampa.

Pageant To Be Held In Canyon North Of Borger Tonight

A union vesper Mothers' Day program, sponsored by Borger and Phillips pastors and civic organizations, will be held at 7 o'clock tonight at an amphitheater located in a canyon five miles north of Borger on the Borger-Stinnett road.

Pampano desiring to motor to the program were advised by the local office of the Texas Highway department to go west of Pampa on U. S. 60 to Panhandle, thence north on Texas highway 117 to Borger, and out on the same highway north of the Canadian river bridge where the canyon is located.

A pageant depicting the seven groups of motherhood will follow the address of Mr. Stinson.

Barricades on the Pampa-Borger road are up and the road closed from a point one mile west of the county line to the west side of Skellywood.

Reno Stinson of Pampa will be the principal speaker on the program, which opens with a band concert by Phillips, Stinnett, and Borger bands. This will be followed by a song service by a men's massed chorus and congregational singing, invocation by Rabbi Alex Wiesel, Amarillo, dedicatory prayer by Dr. C. C. Grimes, Amarillo, greetings by Borger Mayor L. M. Davis, Fritz Ostrom of Phillips, and J. N. Hunt of Borger.

Postmaster And Assistant Slain

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 13 (AP)—Postmaster Gilbert McGloin and A. E. Dittmer, his assistant, were shot to death today in the postmaster's office in the federal building here.

There were no witnesses to the shooting. Dittmer, shot in the temple, died almost instantly. McGloin was shot in the back of the head. He died shortly thereafter and one-half hour after the shooting.

One gun was found in the room. The men were found by W. William Prewett, Tyler, Texas, attorney. He summoned postoffice employees working on the first floor of the building. The postmaster's office is on the second floor. Prewett had entered the building to ask postal information.

McGloin was 50 years old. Dittmer, 54. Both were members of prominent families here. McGloin had resided here all his life, and Dittmer came here from Russia 23 years ago to work in the postoffice.

Sales Campaign To Feature Clothing Stores This Week

Clothing stores, dry goods stores, shoe stores, and allied retail lines will have their week in Pampa's Parade of Progress this week.

E. M. Behrman, chairman of the group, announced Saturday that display windows of merchants in the unit would be veiled Tuesday morning, then unveiled at 2 o'clock that afternoon.

In addition to the special display, a surprise attraction is contemplated for the latter part of the week.

Mother Park Of Texas Will Be Dedicated

WACO, May 13 (AP)—The mother park of Texas' vast state park system will be dedicated tomorrow in a Mother's Day ceremony. Mrs. Isabella Neff's gift of a seven-acre picnic ground to the state "for park purposes now and forever" while her son, Pat, was governor was the beginning of Texas' 500,000-acre recreation area.

Members of the Graduate Nurses club of Pampa acted as guides, taking groups through the hospital, showing them exhibits and explaining equipment. Oxygen therapy, X-ray, burn tents and operating rooms were of particular interest to the visitors.

A troop of Girl Scouts and representatives of school classes went through the hospital.

Julia Dean Stueben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stueben of Skellytown, the first baby born in a hospital Friday, was showered with presents by Pampa merchants. She was born six minutes after midnight at Worley hospital.

Leahy Appointed Island Governor

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt's selection of Admiral William D. Leahy to be governor of Puerto Rico was followed today by the disclosure that the army and navy were ready to spend more than $30,000,000 to convert the Caribbean island into an air base fortress.

Without undertaking costly coast defense works, the administration was reported authoritatively to plan creation in Puerto Rico of a defense outpost for the Atlantic corresponding to Hawaii's importance to the Pacific.

Arrangements Upset, But Prime Minister Solves Delicate Problems Royalty Delayed 24 Hours By Heavy Fog

By FRANK H. KING
QUEBEC, Que., May 13 (AP)—Precussions for the safety of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth on the Empress of Australia as the liner crawled through drifting ice and heavy fog 250 miles off Cape Race today delayed the royal arrival at Quebec 24 hours.

The delay upset the intricate arrangements of the ceremonial program in Eastern Canada and threatened Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie-King with a political problem which he solved quickly.

Originally due to reach Quebec at 8:30 a. m. (CST) Monday, the vessel now is not due until Tuesday morning.

Canadian naval authorities declared the liner was in no danger, although the destroyer Saguenay and other Canadian naval units may not rendezvous with the royal ship until tomorrow night off Gaspe/Peninsula.

British cruisers continued to convoy the liner throughout this day. The blanket of fog raised and drowned with the winds, as booming fog sirens unceasingly sounded warnings and by reverbation helped the ship's navigators locate dangerous ice.

The Empress of Australia will be out of the danger zone as soon as she reaches protected waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence but must make full use of her top speed of 18 knots for 50 hours even to reach Quebec in time for the ceremonies which have been set back 24 hours.

Faces Unusual Problem
At Ottawa Prime Minister King faced one of the most unusual problems in his long political career in handling the delay in the epochal tour for which all Canada has been preparing for months.

The first suggestion, involving elimination of the night their majesties were to spend at the ancient Citadel at Quebec. Roused the feeling of French-Canadians who take pride in being the first to welcome the king and queen of Canada.

Quebec is crowded with Canadian officials, and the French-Canadians are beginning to pour into the ancient city for the celebrations next week. Seventy-nine elder statesmen of Canada, all privy councillors, are gathering to be presented to their sovereigns.

Rather than face the ire of Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec province over major changes in the arrangements, the Canadian government quickly decided and Prime Minister Mackenzie King made the announcement to Parliament, that the welcoming ceremonies at Quebec would be carried out in every detail despite the delay of the arrival of the king and queen.

The royal visit to Ottawa, the Canadian capital, will be cut from four days to three, to make up for

'Windy' Hayes, Maybe Cabot, To Attend Fiesta

George "Windy" Hayes, the bewhiskered one of the compuncher trio in the Hopalong Cassidy series of western films, will be in Pampa for the Top O' Texas Fiesta June 13-14. Carl Benefiel, general chairman, announced Saturday upon return from Hollywood.

Mr. Benefiel said that he was to be informed Monday whether Roy Rogers or Bruce Cabot would come to Pampa at the same time as "Windy."

Under the terms of the contract, two of the three motion picture stars are to appear as requested by Fiesta officials.

They are to be in the parade, lead the grand entry at the rodeo, and appear at the dances, on both days of the Fiesta.

Mr. Benefiel arrived by plane in Amarillo about 6:15 o'clock Saturday night, then came home to Pampa, arriving here shortly afterwards. It was a rough trip from California to Amarillo, Mr. Benefiel said.

Members of the Graduate Nurses club of Pampa acted as guides, taking groups through the hospital, showing them exhibits and explaining equipment. Oxygen therapy, X-ray, burn tents and operating rooms were of particular interest to the visitors.

The general chairman of the Fiesta left Amarillo by plane at 7:25 o'clock Wednesday night, arriving in Los Angeles at 11:30 the same night.

300 Visit Two Hospitals Here

Despite cold and rain, nearly 300 persons visited Pampa's two hospitals on Friday afternoon during National Hospital Day. Both the Worley and Pampa-Jarratt hospitals were beautifully decorated with flowers from the Pampa Garden club, floral shops, drug stores, mortuaries and from citizens.

Members of the Graduate Nurses club of Pampa acted as guides, taking groups through the hospital, showing them exhibits and explaining equipment. Oxygen therapy, X-ray, burn tents and operating rooms were of particular interest to the visitors.

A troop of Girl Scouts and representatives of school classes went through the hospital.

Interest In Derby Running High Here And Out Of Town

Interest was running high Saturday in communities and towns of the Pampa area where boys between the ages of 10 and 15 years are beginning to build coast-cars for entry in The Pampa News Soap Box Derby which will be run-off here in July to pick a winner to send to the national Soap Box Derby finals in Akron, Ohio, Aug. 13.

Committeemen from the Pampa Lions club, co-sponsor of the big event, visited a number of towns Friday and Saturday and will continue the visits Monday and Tuesday of this week to arrange for registry stations where the boys may enter the derby and obtain rule books.

140 New Enrolled.
Luther Wagon at the Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet Co. in Pampa said Saturday night that 140 boys already have been entered in the event and that by the end of next week this figure is expected to be increased greatly by entries from surrounding towns and communities.

Merchant and individual sponsors also are being sought for a number of boys in the race. Anyone wishing to sponsor a boy in the race is asked to list his name by calling phone 1460 Pampa. Nearly a dozen sponsors already have been signed by Harry Kelley, chairman of the sponsor committee at the high school.

Top prize, of course, for the winner of the Pampa derby will be the all-expense trip to Akron. There will be many other valuable prizes for local winners, heat winners, and for the best designed cars.

The winner of the national Soap Box Derby in Akron will receive a four-year university scholarship, and there will be scores of prizes for other national winners, too.

The Pampa News Soap Box Derby is the biggest sports event ever staged for boys in the Panhandle of Texas. It is attracting more interest here than ever.

Annual Picnic At Groom To Be Saturday

GROOM, May 14—Groom will hold its annual barbecue at the school grounds here Saturday, one day after the Groom schools end their 1939-40 session.

There will be a double purpose in the event this year, as the barbecue will mark not only the end of the school term but also as a means of honoring those that have been in the community for many years.

To pay for the expense of the annual barbecue, every family in the community has been paying a dollar or so to the barbecue fund, to be used in buying meat, pickles, plates, and other supplies.

The same rule will be followed this year and Groom citizens are asked to pay their money to Jeff Gray at the postoffice or to Mr. Culver at the Groom bank.

A program is being arranged that will interest everyone present. Following a thirty minute band concert at 11 the program will be used as an "Old-Timers" program. A string band will play while those that have lived in the community for a long time will

Pampa Youth, Ill, Flown To Hospital

DALLAS, TEX., May 13 (AP)—Dallas doctors said George B. Cree, Jr., 18, was in a critical condition after being flown from Roswell, N. M., to receive treatment for an intestinal ailment.

Reg Robbins, former co-holder of an aviation endurance record, flew through threatening weather with the youth and his father, a Pampa, Tex., drilling contractor.

The boy was stricken last week at New Mexico Military Institute where he is a student. Cree contacted Robbins, a personal friend, after an earlier flight was cancelled when the pilot, Ed Ritchey of Fort Worth, was grounded by bad weather en route to Roswell.

Young Cree said as he rode to the hospital from the airport there were "several moments up there when I thought every minute would be my last."

Publisher Claims He Was Kidnaped By German Couple

LOS ANGELES, May 13 (AP)—Southern California peace officers conducted a widespread search today for two men declared by George Palmer Putnam, 52, book publisher, to have kidnaped him from his North Hollywood home late last night and left him, bound and gagged, in an unfinished house in Bakersfield a few hours later.

The former husband of the late Amelia Earhart, woman flier, said his kidnapers demanded the name of the author of the anonymous novel, "The Man Who Killed Hitler," published by Putnam recently. He declared they did not hurt him but suggested it would be "healthier" if he withdrew it from circulation.

"They were just two shadows to me," Putnam said. "One was short and one was tall. One spoke English fluently. The other did not address me but spoke only to his companion. Both were German and talked with each other in German."

First Hopeful Forecast In Months Made

Washington Events Basis For General Improvement

By HENRY FAINTER.
NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—Some industrial and financial leaders today professed to see in recent domestic and foreign developments the ground work for general business recovery.

Those who held optimistic opinions were decidedly in the minority, but even a partial change of sentiment may be important in view of the fact that in regular canvassing of the opinion of outstanding leaders of the Wall Street community, this is the first hopeful forecast in more than two months.

The qualified optimism of those who see possibilities of improvement is based upon these factors:

1. The reputed determination of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Senator Harrison, democrat, Miss. to fight to remove "tax deterrents to business recovery has apparently led President Roosevelt to decide not to oppose moderate tax revision.

2. The return this week to his desk of Secretary of Commerce Hopkins after nine weeks absence due to serious illness has renewed hope of business leaders close to him that he will use his influence to further legislation designed by business.

3. Some of those leaders summoned to testify in Washington next week in the monopoly investigation say that they have received specific assurances from Peter R. Neuhemk, who will question them, that the Securities and Exchange commission's presentation of Wall Street testimony will not be conducted in the "crusading" tone of the 1933 Puffo and 1933 Pecora inquiries in which Morgan partners and other leaders were sharply dealt with.

4. The resignation of Gen. Robert E. Wood as "business ambassador to Washington" on the day of Hopkins' return was said by friends to be at least in part due to the assigned reason, an unexpected pickup in business of Sears, Roebuck & Co. of which he is chairman.

5. This anticipated pickup, which would be shared by others, in turn was said to be partly due to large appropriations for farm aid, the effect of which may be felt in many industries.

6. The foreign situation is not now exerting the depressing effect on Wall Street that it was only a few weeks ago.

7. Price strength in many leading commodities is considered a most favorable business omen.

However, a majority of those interviewed had opinions to offset all these conclusions, save that on the foreign situation, which is generally shared.

Prayer For All Mothers

OUR FATHER GOD, may the altar flowers be theirs today. Thou has let them share with Thee in the mysterious labor of creation and entrusted them with an indestructible love resembling Thine. Throughout all time Thou has taught them to bear the dread agony of their life-giving task without complaint. Thou hast endowed them with divine sympathy to understand childhood's foolish fears, flaming rages, disarming creeds and careless responses to costly devotion. At Thy feet they have interpreted the mounting insubordination of their liberty-seeking sons and the smiling condescensions of their flowering daughters, aware that each passing generation must quickly yield its scepter to another in the cause of progress.

We thank Thee for the valor displayed by mothers in the bewildered eras when the keepers of the house tremble. We rejoice in the presence with which they discern new duties in new occasions. Hearthen them, we beseech Thee, in this troubled time. With faith-empowered poise may they soothe their children's unrest. Grant them the greatness of heart to glimpse a rousing justice in the impending redistribution of human privileges. Enable them to teach their ambitious sons that comfort for many is better than luxury for some. At this hour when, indignant over age-old hypocrisies and long sanctioned shams, the new generation clamors for truth and candor, make all mothers keenly sensitive to the embarrassing demands of integrity. Strengthen their passionate cries for peace. Reassure them that all things work together for good in the lives of those who love Thee. And make their calmness ours. Amen.

The Mexican 'Fourth'

There is one thing the two Americas which no European country can hope to duplicate.

They all celebrate, on different days, one anniversary which marks the victory that freed them from European domination. Just as we celebrate Independence Day on the Fourth of July, Mexico has just finished celebrating the Cinco de Mayo, or Fifth of May. That date in Mexican minds connotes the victory over the French at Puebla 77 years ago, when Mexico frustrated an effort of a foreign country to dominate it.

That is a strong common bond between the United States and all Latin-American countries, whatever their present government. A won in desperate battles their freedom from Europe. None proposes to give up that freedom.

ORANGE GROWERS, WAKE UP!

Recently a small dummy called "William Allen White," was ducked in a tub of orange juice at Riverside, Cal. This was by way of answer to his recent complaint that real orange juice is hard to get and too expensive in this state. The answer is not adequate. And Mr. White's accusation is true. A nationally known columnist was visiting the World's Fair at San Francisco lately and his chief complaint concerned the quality and price of orange juice. All that a local columnist could say in reply was that one could put enough gin in the orange juice to disguise the taste!

The California orange growers have done pretty well in pushing their product in the frozen wastes of Kamchatka and Kalamazoo, but they have not done right by the home folks. The standard price for orange juice is ten cents, and the quality is none too good. The most convenient place for a writer charges sixteen cents, including sales tax.

On the other hand, we are informed that the orange growers of Florida made a systematic tour of the state last fall and received a pledge from every soft-drink vendor in it to sell a good-sized glass of juice for five cents. Think of what that means in promoting popular interest in citrus fruits and in establishing tourist good will!

It would be much better for the California growers to do the same than to continue "dumping" carloads of fruit where it is of no value to anybody. If the soft-drink parlors should prove refractory, it should be remembered that over half of the population of California lives in cities of 50,000 population and over one third of it is in the three cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland. It would be a simple thing to instill in those cities kiosks like the Nedick drink-places in New York City where orange juice of good quality might be obtained at a suitable price. The prospect of this would make the retailers amenable to reason.

A satisfying life and a sturdy commonwealth are much more likely to result from an emphasis on orange juice than from current magnification of wines and horse racing.

STRANGE DEMAND

More than 2000 educators and publicists have signed a manifesto, made public very recently, in which a threat to democracy is seen in several activities, among them attacks on the Bill of Rights, gag law, censorship of teachers and journalists and racial and religious intolerance. These are things which most everybody deprecates, but the manifesto also sees a threat to democracy in "demands for retrenchment in education." Signing the manifesto were 158 college presidents, nine State commissioners of education, 142 college deans and 55 headmasters of private schools, representing in all 429 institutions. How they figure demands for retrenchment in education as a threat is not quite understandable to the average person. Perhaps they think there should be no limit to spending on education. Doubtless, they do not think that such demands by special groups is a threat to democracy.

Sharing The Comforts

Of Life --- By R. C. Hoiles

HOW TO CURE COMMUNISM?

The May issue of the Atlantic Monthly has an article on "How to Tell a Communist and How to Beat Him," by William F. Russell, Dean of the Teachers College, Columbia University. It was an address delivered before the American Legion at New York.

Because Mr. Russell was in Russia, he seems to think he understands the nature and cure of Communism. His principal remedy it seems is to have the government eliminate poverty. He seems to think the W.P.A., the C.C.C. camps and the Youth Administration have been helping the poor and distressed. He says, that what these organizations have done for the poor, has been the most powerful blow against Communism; good Americans who wish to fight Communism must lend every effort to clean up slums; to assist the unlucky, to cure the sick, to care for the widow and the orphan.

This idea that we as a government must eliminate misery in order to prevent Communism, is the very thing that is bound to bring on the dictator, or Communism. The very minute people think they can live in relative comfort without producing these comforts, then that very minute you have millions more who have to be assisted. This idea is a great breeder of Communism. It is the way Communism or dictators invariably spread. When people come to believe that they will not be permitted to suffer no matter how unproductive they are, then sooner or later the load will become so heavy that the whole structure eventually crumbles.

Poverty Reduced Like Happiness Is Found

Poverty is reduced not by trying to eliminate poverty but by trying to make conditions so everyone can produce more for a given amount of work. This comes about by establishing a free market and attempting to see that every man has a right to the fruits of his own work; that he has a right to sell his services to the world's highest bidder without interference by any group, and to keep the fruits of his efforts. This is the best way to eliminate poverty. Poverty is like happiness—if you seek to eliminate it, it spreads. If one seeks happiness, it will flee from him; if one seeks an opportunity to be of service, happiness will be his constant companion. The idea that slums must be eliminated by the state that those who do not produce must live like those who do produce, is Communism and nothing else.

So the William F. Russell address to the American Legion, instead of telling how to beat Communism, is telling how to promote Communism. Mr. Russell is an educator and a theorist and has had no practical experience as to the results in trying to get people to produce wealth by rewarding the inefficient so that they can live in comfort. And if the government is to take from those who do produce to make those who do not produce comfortable, sooner or later those who produce will slacken their efforts and poverty will so prevail that the people will seek some man as dictator who will attempt to bring about conditions that will permit those who produce to get what they produce and those who will not produce to suffer the consequences. The most fertile cause of fascism or communism is not the lower paid groups or those who have lost their honest jobs. It is those groups who have received more than they produce by labor monopolies. Men will fight harder to retain the position they have become accustomed to than to improve their condition. Animals that have tasted blood are more dangerous than those who never taste it. Workers who have for a while received artificial wages or assistance are much more dangerous than those who have earned what they get no matter how low their condition.

GIVE WARNING AS TO CAUSE OF CONTINUED UNEMPLOYMENT

Fortune Round-Table, as reported in the May issue of Fortune, sums up the report of the fifteen participants with the following sentence: "We wish to reiterate that excessive taxation upon the rich levied in the name of social justice may have the effect of continuing unemployment." This report was a part that was signed and acquiesced to by all of the fifteen members of the Round Table representing labor, farmers, economic editors, industrialists and bankers.

Behind The News Of The Day

WASHINGTON—Just now House members are having their first real fun with the federal writers and theatre projects after dealing very gingerly with them for three years or more.

These arty projects have had House members down wind for a number of seasons. House members for the most part as a country-grown variety and the easiest way to make them feel completely uncomfortable is to insist that they don't understand the later art movements.

Whether the federal writers understand the movements is still another matter, but they have been sort of on a pedestal, free from more than half-hearted interference.

But when the WPA appropriation request came forward, a House sub-committee got busy. It sent an investigator to New York to gather all witnesses and evidence. The investigator, H. Ralph Burton, did something more than a casual job, although at the time he appeared before the committee his testimony was decidedly on the incomplete side.

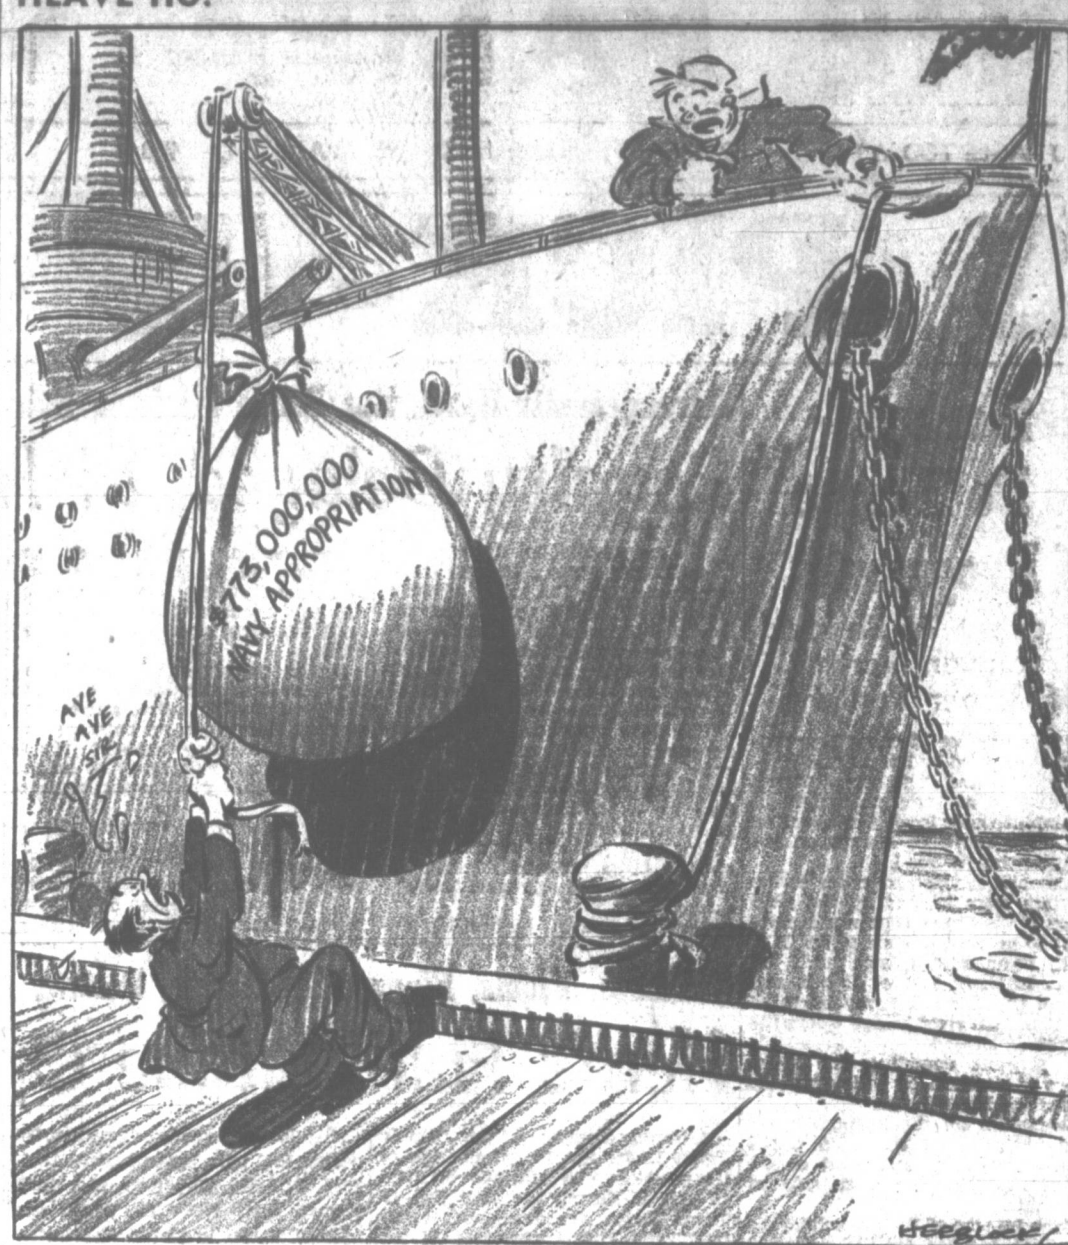

High Costs—Low Talk?

But he had exhibits and material costs of producing "Prologue to Glory" was $250,208. He had cost data on a half dozen other theater project productions, "Haiti," for instance, cost $186,000 and others were in similar brackets.

Moreover, the rehearsal time of some of the plays ran well on toward a year, which the congressman considered an extraordinary length of time to put a play in order. And committee members suspected $200,000 items looked too big for just one play.

Mr. Burton said, moreover, that some of the lines in "Song For Your Supper" were a bit bewdy. Instantly the congressional ears pricked up. But Mr. Burton, perhaps something of a Victorian, looked hastily around the room, saw several women present, and decided it would be just as well to put the items

'HEAVE HO!'

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Charley Grapevin stands before the dresser, adjusting his tie and humming an old college tune. He's putting on his tuxedo coat when the knock comes, and there's Anita, Louise, a blonde dream walking in a white lace, billowing gown with a black lace jacket. "Ready, uncle" she says.

"Turn around!" cries old Charley. "Turn around! Why, you're beautiful!" Anita beams, cries affectionately. "And so are you!" 't's a scene from "Old Grad," and while it isn't the pretentious picture I've a deal more respect for it than I had before I tackled Grapevin in his dressing room and heard how he feels about pictures.

Charley Grapevin is 67. Fifteen years ago, Charley retired to California to play golf. He had a fine house in Los Angeles, he golfed and gardened and practiced his woodworking hobby, he fished and he wrote novels and stories. But he was through working. He had had a long, hard career on the stage, in vaudeville. He had begun as a circus performer, a trapeze artist. And at 52 he was finished, he and his wife, Anna Chance—and he had $2,000,000 put away.

"I lost it all in one night," he says. "Paper profits, sure—but I was broke again. Had to start over from scratch, and I'm glad of it." That was nearly nine years ago, when a lot of fortunes were gone the same way. Charley Grapevin had $200, a golf club membership, the sale of which brought in $800, and his home. He got to work.

The old servants had to go, and the Grapevins took their places in the kitchen. Charley gave up the idea of accumulating another fortune.

"I made up my mind to make a fortune, all right—but this kind of fortune. If I could save $1,000 for every year of my age," he said, "I'd be satisfied."

He got a part in a stage play in Los Angeles, followed with another, that put him into pictures, where he has been ever since. He also took his thousand in cash, found safe stocks to buy, and made up a scheme. In pictures he has clicked in many big features, including notably "The Good Earth"—and his $67,000 is safely stowed away, with some to spare.

"But I'm not out after millions any more. I don't have to work in pictures, and I don't believe in taking every part that comes along just for the check it brings. I've got enough to afford to pick the parts that mean something and give a chance to create a characterization—and that's luxury." Charley Grapevin is a keen-eyed, active 67. And he's also something of a gambler. You may have read how he picked up a two-acre lake front site for his new home in a stud poker game, betting his own Los Angeles home against it and won. With a straight heart flush over his opponent's four aces. You may not have heard how he ran up his $1,000 after the crash to several thousands more—and Mrs. Grapevin hadn't heard it, either, until after it was done.

"We've been married 42 years," Charley chuckles, "and we've been through a lot, together. Mrs. Grapevin always says whatever I do is right, and—well—" in the record without embarrassing himself by reading them. We asked him what the lines were. One was a jingle rhyming "intellectual" with "sexual." Another was a bit more earthy, in a sea-going way. Nudes Unexcusing Mr. Burton's prize exhibit was two large albums of photographs of models in the nude. Again, we were an inquiring person, but came to the conclusion that it takes an awful lot of hunting to find a model who would truly inspire a man to his best painting. The subjects were on the lumpy side and not at all the sort of thing you see in the lingerie advertisements. There came a whole cluster of witnesses to testify to the presence of Communism among the writers in the New York writers' projects, which is, of course the principal one of its kind in the country. The committee particularly enjoyed hearing one Ralph De Soia report on the new trend of Communism. This, he said, is to class Communism as the lineal descendant of Jefferson and Payne. "It is the Trojan horse approach," he said. De Soia was a Communist until he attempted to resign in 1936. The party refused to let him resign, he said, but instead expelled him as a "Fascist enemy of the working class," a transformation which amused him as much as the committee members. De Soia once ran a zoological garden in Florida, but the depression broke him. Now he is head of a section of the writers' project doing a natural history of the country.

The old servants have been back these many years now.

The Family Doctor

By Morris Fishbein

(This is the first of three articles in which Dr. Fishbein discusses advances reported at the American Medical Association convention.)

Two new advances in medicine accept themselves among the more than 300 discoveries announced by doctors gathered in St. Louis this week at the annual convention of the American Medical Association. They are:

A new treatment for sudden hemorrhage caused by ulcers of the stomach. Revelation of the beneficial effect of sulfapyridine in treating pneumonia.

The method for treating the hemorrhage involves administration of small feedings of gelatin, transfusion of blood directly into the veins and repeated light feeding a few days after the hemorrhage has stopped. The effect of sulfapyridine, a derivative of the sulfanilamide "wonder drug," is hardly short of amazing in treating pneumonia. Uniformly it was reported that this drug produces a prompt fall in the fever and that patients feel better. If patients are in fairly good condition and if they are given prompt treatment, the recoveries from pneumonia under this new method of treatment are remarkably numerous.

Sulfanilamide appeared in many papers. As in all remedies, which have great value, there is also the possibility of its harming people who are oversensitive to the drug and whom it affects adversely.

Many people have mild symptoms like weakness, headache or nausea after taking the drug. These milder symptoms are not a matter of great worry to the doctor but, the severe symptoms cause him concern. If patients turn blue because of the effects of the drug on the blood, if they have severe vomiting or diarrhea, if there are changes in the blood cells or mental disturbances following the administration of the drug, the doctor will probably stop administration immediately.

Therefore, whenever a patient is receiving large doses of sulfanilamide or its derivatives, the doctor examines the patient every day, makes frequent studies of the blood, avoids other drugs which may form dangerous combinations with the sulfanilamide and may give large doses to overcome any acid effects of sulfanilamide.

Striking were the announcements about oxygen which is developing increased uses in medicine, particularly for shock and for the relief of headache after any of the procedures affecting the brain.

Specialists in diseases of the eye are now greatly concerned with glaucoma, an insidious condition in which the drainage of fluid through the eye is block with increased tension and eventual loss of sight.

Nowadays, we know that early detection is of the utmost importance in glaucoma. Eye surgery specialists have developed new operations which can be applied with little danger.

In over 90 per cent of cases the progress of the disease was stopped by such operative procedures and in 60 per cent of cases the condition of the eye was restored to normal after the operation. In one operation narrow strips of magnesium, an unusual metal, were implanted in the course of the operation in order to arrange a drainage canal within the eye.

Strange cases in which human beings turned blue after the use of preparations containing silver which is light is to be saved. Eye surgery specialists have developed new operations which can be applied with little danger.

This problem of the care of the aged received special attention when Dr. E. L. Touhy pointed out that the diet of older people needs even more vitamins than the diets of younger people. He cited, too, that the fields, the gardens or the grocery stores are still the correct place for supplying the foods that contain the vitamins.

For normal people these foods are better than vitamin tablets purchased either from the drug store, the grocery store or the barber shop. There is no need for people to de-

Tex's Topics

THIS IS MOTHER'S Day—the day of the year set aside to honor that grandest of all persons—in Pampa and over the nation she will be honored today in carmons, songs and pagantry in . . . Probably one of the biggest programs ever held to honor Mother in this area will be the all-Panhandle program which is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock this evening in an outdoor amphitheater, five miles north of Borger on the highway from Borger to Stinet.

Thousands of persons from Panhandle cities are expected to attend this program which will be high-lighted by a massed male chorus, and a pageant depicting the seven cycles of motherhood. . . . Mrs. Stinet of Pampa will give the principal address. . . . The program tonight is being sponsored by the Pastors' Association of Borger, Stinet and Phillips as well as the religious and civic organizations of the three communities. . . . It's an opportunity to attend one of the finest programs ever arranged to honor your mother. . . . Many Pampans are expected to attend the outdoor pageant.

ANOTHER MIGHTY INTERESTING event coming up this week is the Old Timers Celebration that is to be held next Saturday at Groon. A fine program has been arranged for the day, and everybody in this section of the Panhandle is invited to go to Groon for the day. . . . Pampa, no doubt, will have a good delegation there.

Something that has worried me since it was shown under my nose by one of the linotype operators Saturday afternoon, is this problem which bobbed up in Charlie Guy's column in The Lubbock Journal:

"A brakeman, a fireman, and an engineer are employed on a train. Their names are Robinson, Smith and Jones, but not necessarily respectively. . . . On this train are three passengers with the same names, Robinson, Smith, and Jones, hereinafter referred to as Mr. to distinguish them from the three trainmen mentioned.

1. Mr. Robinson lives in Detroit. 2. The brakeman lives half way between Detroit and Chicago. 3. Mr. Jones earns exactly $2,000 a year. 4. Smith beat the brakeman at billiards. 5. The brakeman's nearest neighbor, who is one of the passengers mentioned, earns exactly three times as much as the brakeman. 6. The passenger living in Chicago has the same name as the brakeman. 7. What is the engineer's name?"

It's easy to find out the brakeman's name and the names of the three passengers, but you'll go nuts trying to figure out who is the fireman and who is the engineer. . . . If somebody gets the answer, will they please notify me? . . . I can't stand it much longer.

Forty Attend Anniversary Program Here

A radio program Saturday morning, following a recreation night meeting at the Lamar school building on the Pampa High school campus, marked the 25th anniversary of the passage of the Smith-Lever bill.

The Smith-Lever bill was the act that set up the work of county agents and county home demonstration agents.

At 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, talks on farm activities in Gray county were made over KPON by Doris Smith, member of the County-wide Home Demonstration club, Mrs. Gene Shackleton, Kingsmill club, Ruby Mashburn of College Station, district extension agent, and Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, Gray county home demonstration agent.

This group presented the women's part in the program. The work of the county farm agent was represented in talks made by W. H. Roberts, of Laketon, terracing expert, C. W. Bowers, Laketon, chairman of the Gray County Conservation committee, and Conrad Miller, 4-H club boy from Alameda.

Present plans call for a continuance of these programs, with the home demonstration and girls 4-H clubs giving the programs on the second Saturday of each month and the county farm agent directing the program on the fourth Saturdays, the home demonstration agent's office announced.

Recreation Night Held Despite the rain a crowd of 40 persons attended the program. They were entertained with table and amusement games of various kinds. The program was sponsored by the Gray County Home Demonstration council.

The two most successful players, Mrs. H. H. Keahey and Lowell Osborne, each received a cellophane wrapped gift containing pinto beans. Low score was awarded to Mrs. Lowell Osborne and Billy Taylor. These prizes were large, melon grapefruit one of which was also awarded W. B. Weathered, champion marble player.

The younger people enjoyed competitive and other amusement games under the leadership of Mrs. Chester Nicholson and Leona Lewis.

At the close of the evening lemonade and cookies were served to Messrs. and Mrs. Billy Taylor, Chester Nicholson, H. B. Taylor, Lowell Osborne, Garnet Reeves and family.

Mrs. F. C. Quarles, H. H. Keahey, Iva Wilson, Julia E. Kelley, Messrs. W. B. Weathered, Irvin Cole, Ralph Thomas, Misses Ruby Mashburn of College Station, and Leona Lewis.

Dora Taylor, Doris Taylor, Mary Fern Lewis, Rosemary Hamilton, Virgie Mae Myers, Mianie Bell Williams, Jacquelyn Wilson, Maryde Faye Taylor, Ida Ruth Taylor, Rebecca Nicholson, and Leon Taylor.

Tech Professor Will Speak At Credit Banquet

Merchants of Pampa will gather in the Schneider hotel dining room at 8 o'clock Monday night for the fourth annual banquet of the Pampa Credit association at which Dr. T. C. Root of Texas Tech, Lubbock, will be the principal speaker.

A minimum of business will be transacted and an interesting program will be presented before the address of Dr. Root, who is head of the department of economics and business administration at the Lubbock school.

A man who teaches what some call a "dry" subject like Dr. Root would expect him to be a "dry" speaker but instead, Dr. Root is known as the Will Rogers of the Texas Tech faculty. He has made an extensive study on the effect of various taxes on business and is the author of several treatises on taxes and related matters.

An interesting play entitled "Who Said My Credit Wasn't Good?" will be presented. Characters will be Mr. Credit, Mrs. Slow Pay, and Miss Stenographer. Actors in the drama are being kept a secret by the entertainment committee.

Up to last night 130 persons had made reservations at the Pampa Credit association and the number was expected to reach 150 before the deadline at midnight.

President Travis Lively will be toastmaster. Only business will be the secretary's report and election of four new directors.

Texas Cotton Farmers Plan Yearly Fight

By ERNEST G. FISCHER.

The Texas farmer guiding his plow across the cotton field must begin to plan the yearly fight to save his crop. While futures traders scan prospects of probable yield and the effect of world economy and politics upon consumption, the grower grids himself to repel the summer invasion of fleas, bollworms, weevils and grasshoppers. If he is successful, his only worries are rain, drought, hail and sandstorms.

Even the aborigines must have had their troubles. Christopher Columbus wrote that natives of San Salvador swam to the ship's side "bringing cotton thread in balls." Certainly it was something to write home about. But then, as now, the tendency was to dramatize the harvest season, not the six-months struggle which preceded it.

Motor-driven planters have simplified one of the first steps in the production process.

A Captain Plack, whose business was to hunt wild cattle and game for cotton planters "to feed the Negroes," pictured the pioneer methods of cotton cultivation in the Brazos bottoms:

"A plow with a share called a 'bull tongue' from its shape, to which is attached a single mule, opens a long shallow furrow from one side of the field to the other. A woman with her apron full of cottonseed follows the 'bull tongue' and drops in the seed pretty thickly. Each furrow is from six to seven feet distant from the next, the seed being upon the kind of seed sowed; but, for ordinary 'uplands' this will be quite sufficient, although 'sea island' requires at least another foot, as is 'weeds,' i. e. bush, grows more luxuriantly."

The record of cotton in Texas is somewhat sketchy. The first systematic effort at culture, around the Spanish missions, were made about 200 years ago.

Long after the fables of gold had been exploded, the so-called "silver fleece" claimed some attention.

Abbe E. Domeniech of Lyon, France, who crossed Texas in 1842 on the way to his missionary post in the Uvalde area, mentioned "the region of the cotton plantations" in the Brazos river bottoms.

Scattered plots of the staple were found even in the brush country of Southwest Texas. Thomas Bangs Thorpe, with Zachary Taylor's army in 1845, reported that as they approached the Rio Grande the troops saw "occasionally a small cotton field, hedged in by thorn bushes, strengthened by trunks of trees set in the ground." Across the river, at Matamoras, Thorpe observed "a small cotton field with thorn-bush fence."

Another soldier, George B. McClellan, wrote cotton appears to grow quite plentifully on the banks (of the Rio Grande), but it is not cultivated at all.

Writing in 1840, Bonnell said "cotton planted in San Patricio (an Irish colony on the Nueces river) in 1833 is growing very well when planted, the short-staple green seed and is now the finest quality of sea island cotton."

That area, tributary to Corpus Christi, ranks high in the state's yield of cotton. But they have to plant each spring and fight bugs every summer.

Landowners Set Meeting Time, Places

Resignation of time and place for precinct meetings of Gray county landowners to be held Monday in each of the four precincts of Gray county was made at a meeting of the county commissioners held Saturday.

Purpose of the meetings is to select a member from each precinct to serve on the Gray County Soil Conservation committee. The county committee will meet sometime this week, probably Tuesday or Wednesday at the courthouse.

Landowners of precinct 1 will meet Monday at the Laketon school; 2, Pampa, district court room; 3, Grandview, school; 4, McLean, Odd Fellows hall. Each of these meetings is to be held at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Formation of the Gray County Soil Conservation committee will come, County Judge Sherman White said, as the result of compliance with house bill 20, passed at this session of the legislature that will require this setup.

At the meeting of the county committee, one member will be elected as a delegate to attend the district 1 meeting at Plainview on May 21, another delegate, in turn, will be named at the district meeting to attend the state meeting at Temple a week later.

Pampans To Attend WTCC Convention

Pampa will be represented at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Abilene Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by Garnet Reeves, manager of the Board of City Development, and Mrs. Reeves, John Ketter, and Miss Jerry Smith.

Miss Smith will be "Miss Pampa" in the contest for selection of "Miss West Texas" on Monday night and will also take part in the "My Home Town" contest, an annual event.

Miss Smith is the only entrant in the contests from the north Panhandle, according to a bulletin received from Abilene yesterday.

Other Pampans may attend the convention, leaving Monday or Tuesday.

Concessions To Russia Planned By Chamberlain

LONDON, May 13 (AP)—Great Britain was believed today to be ready to offer important concessions to Soviet Russia in an effort to add her to the British-French line-up.

The front's gain yesterday of strategic Turkey left Russia as the most vital link still missing.

It was taken for granted in virtually all British political quarters that an agreement would be reached with Russia even in face of caustic Russian criticism of Britain's counterproposal to the Soviet proposal of a mutual assistance pact among Britain, France, the Soviet Union and possibly Poland.

As the British government awaited an official reply to its counterproposal, political demands that nothing be spared to get an agreement gained such strength that Prime Minister Chamberlain was reported today ready to offer further concessions.

So vital was Russia regarded in the efforts to extend the British-French front that most informed observers believed failure to gain her cooperation would jeopardize Chamberlain's political position seriously.

Because of Turkey's close relations with Russia, yesterday's announcement of a British-Turkish agreement was taken generally as a sign that Russia's ultimate cooperation definitely was counted on.

New Tax Bill Predicted By House Solons

AUSTIN, May 13 (AP)—Whether the Senate will accept a tax bill of some kind in place of the sales-natural resource tax constitutional amendment repeatedly rejected by the House was the chief week-end debate subject in the capital.

The lower chamber long ago sent the Senate a gross receipts tax bill it never has been able to get out of the committee. Nevertheless many House members voiced the opinion the other branch would approve new taxes in statutory form when and if a majority of the Senators become convinced the proposed constitutional amendment was absolutely dead.

The Senate could substitute for the gross receipts levy any sort of plan it desires. Opposition to any statutory tax raises continued strong, however, on grounds there would be a demand for still bigger taxes two years hence.

Although the session already was 124 days older, members had given up hope of adjournment next week. Regardless of future moves on the issue, the final draft of any tax program probably will be written by a conference committee, which would require several days. The House was far from the end of floor debate on the departmental appropriations bill, one of the most controversial of the six major spending measures.

The new tax development in the House probably will be an attempt to pass another bill. Many opponents of a general sales tax were pushing an omnibus bill recommended Friday night by the education committee. It would boost the cigarette tax one cent, place a one per cent tax on automobile sales, increase natural resource levies substantially and otherwise provide a wide tax spread.

Sponsors of the sales-natural resource tax constitutional amendment were not yet ready to admit it was beaten finally.

Rain Cuts Down On Issuing Poison

Rainy weather has cut down on the issuing of grasshopper poison compound from the mixing station in South Pampa. The station opening on May 6, and only 3,000 pounds has been taken by farmers to date.

Poisoning is starting three weeks earlier this year than it did in 1938. Although grasshoppers have been halting out, little damage has yet been reported to crops, the county farm agent, Ralph E. Thomas, said Saturday.

The poison is most effective when spread on bright, sunny days, when the temperature ranges from 60 to 90 degrees. Thus far, on account of frequent showers, this situation has not prevailed to the extent of causing a great demand for the compound.

Hartley, Sherman, Moore, and Dallam counties were the worst infested counties in the Panhandle last year.

Rate Reductions To Be Subjects Of C-C Convention

Horse Races To Feature Polo Game Today

Gaited Horses Will Perform In Exhibition

Polo, saddle horse races and a gaited show will be the entertainment for residents of Pampa and this section of the Panhandle this afternoon. The program will be presented by the Pampa Polo club at Recreation park, beginning at 2 o'clock sharp. Admission will be 25 cents per person.

The program will begin with two matched horse races, a polo horse race and a paint horse race. Then will come the polo game between Pampa and Beaver, Okla. Between the third and fourth chukker there will be a gaited horse show presented by horses belonging to Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Jones, Mrs. Don Donovan, John Herrington and Roy McMurray and possibly others.

One of the match races will be between horses belonging to Hub Burrow and Dick Schaefer. Burrow will be astride Shanghai, his pet horse, while Schaefer will enter Hearts. The distance will be 300 yards.

Bud Mooney will ride in another race against Otto Barby of Beaver. It will be over 200 yards.

An open paint horse race, 150 yards, will be staged. A polo pony race open to members of the two teams will be presented. The riders will start at the center of the field, ride to the end and return to the center.

The Pampa polo team has won one and lost one game this season. The players have been working for more than a month and today will meet what is expected to be their toughest opposition of the season. The Beaver club is rated high in the southwest. Three Barbys brothers are members of the team with Dr. John Hogarth the fourth member. The Pampa club is composed of Hub Burrow, Art Dwyer, Bud Mooney, Jack Patton, Travis Ledley, Jr., and George Garrett.

Skeet Club Will Stage Shoot Today

The Pampa skeet club will stage another shoot at 1 o'clock this afternoon on the Gunn-Hinerman range at the north end of LeFors street, northwest of the Pampa Airport. Several visiting shot artists are expected to join the Pampans this afternoon. Near the Pampa shooters will enter a tournament in Amarillo. Last Sunday Tommy Templeton of Amarillo led all shooters with a score of 90 out of a possible 100. He beat Jerry Rogers of Pampa by one bird. Jack Kirsh of Shamrock broke 65 out of 75.

Junior High Track Meet Postponed

The track and field meet between athletes of Pampa, Amarillo, and Berger Junior high schools scheduled for Friday afternoon in Amarillo had to be postponed because of cold, wet weather. No new date for the event has been set but it is expected the meet will be staged this week, possibly Friday afternoon. The Amarillo school sponsors will announce a new date.

Archer Wilhelm Makes William Tell Look Like Green Hand

By JERRY BRONFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer
CLEVELAND, May 13—Ken Wilhelm makes William Tell look like a green hand. Wilhelm shoots an apple off a boy's head with a bow and arrow while lying on his back. "And some day, mister, I'm going to bag me an elephant. Yes sir, first chance I get I'm heading for Africa, and I won't come back till I get an elephant."

The bow is only a primitive weapon at best, but handled by this slight, 135-pound man from Barstow, Calif., it becomes one of the most deadly instruments imaginable. A pleasant, sandy-haired outdoorsman, Wilhelm has no peer at sending an arrow for amazing distances. And he probably has few equals when it comes to unerring accuracy. Until a year ago he used his bow merely for hunting. But his skill was too uncanny to remain in obscurity. In a year's time he became the world record holder for distance. He made a movie short. The Cleveland sportsmen's show was his first.

Ken Wilhelm was the first white child born at Mackey, Idaho. That was 35 years ago. Mackey then was in the heart of a Blackfoot Indian reservation. It was only natural that he came to know the bow and arrow. He took a foot bow with a 250-pound pull and shot an arrow 736 yards, or 100 yards farther than ever attained by the Turks of the middle ages, who were considered the greatest bowmen. He next amazed experts with an 846-yard effort, and a short time later released an arrow that traveled 903 yards—more than half a mile. "It isn't so much strength that counts," he says. "I'm not as strong as a lot of experts, but I guess I've discovered the perfect way to release the arrow."

Wilhelm has bagged deer, elk, bear, wild boar, lynx and coyotes with his bow. As far as anyone knows he is the only white man ever to have bagged a mountain goat the same way. "I'm going to use my 250-pound foot bow on the elephant," he explains. "I'm going to be hidden—maybe in a tree, or on a platform, or in a ground layout of some sort. "I'm going to have Mr. Elephant stalked until he's mebbe 60 feet

Wolcott Leads Rice To Second Track Title

COLLEGE STATION, May 13 (AP)—Cat-like Freddie Wolcott, America's Olympic hurdle hope, breezed his Rice Institute Owls to their second straight Southwest Conference track and field title today, comfortably in front from start to finish. Wolcott, secured a triple with going-away triumphs in the 120-yard high and 220-yard low hurdles and the 100 yard sprint, riding a tailwind to a new 9.5 second record in preliminaries yesterday. The Owls wound up with eight first places out of a possible 16 and counted 56 points. Second, with 45 1/2 points, was the University of Texas while the Texas Aggies finished third with 36 points. Far behind limped in Southern Methodist with 14, Baylor and Arkansas with 8 1/2 and Texas Christian, 6 1/2. Muscled Doc O'Neill of Southern Methodist set up the only new mark of the meet, using a good wind to advantage in hurling the javelin an astonishing 216 feet, 8 1/2 inches, a prodigious throw that wiped out his own record of 208 feet 1/2 inch set up in 1937. Bushy-haired Gilliam Graham of the University of Texas, bothered by a sore arm but, nevertheless, in a record-breaking mood himself, was second in the event with 212 feet, five inches.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

The league-leading Gunn-Hinerman bowling team won two out of three games from E & M Cafe Friday night to stay ahead of Faulkner's by two games and each team with six more games to roll. Humble Oilers, coming to the front late in the season, won a pair from the Texas company, the wins by five pins in each game. Ends of the tirmen rolled high game, 213 pins or one more than Myers, his teammate. It was Prince of the same team, however, who rolled high series with 587 pins.

Frank Guernsey Wins Tennis Title

HOUSTON, May 13 (AP)—Shy Frank Guernsey, the intercollegiate tennis champion, won the Southwest Conference singles crown for the second time in his life today by defeating Bobby Kamrath of the University of Texas, 6-5, 6-5, 6-4, 6-2. The tall Kamrath started like a house afire and his cannonball shots slipped past the 125 pound Florida racketeer with regularity in the first set. Then Guernsey found himself and began to pound the ball back as the former conference champion in a cool demonstration of form. From the beginning of the second set Guernsey was the master of the match. His net game was near perfect.

Kamrath came near to extending the Rice title in the third set when the Longhorn star made his most serious bid for the match, but Guernsey withstood the assault and sailed on to victory in the final match. The Southwest Conference tournament apparently failed to extend Guernsey at any time. He had little trouble with early round opponents.

Arizonans From Tempe Will Play Buffs, Sept. 30

Special To The NEWS
CANYON, May 14—Coach Al Baggett has announced the addition of Arizona State College at Tempe to the Buffaloes' 1939 football schedule. The Arizonans, ordinarily a strong senior college outfit, will play in Canyon Sept. 30. The Buffaloes will play in Tempe in 1940. It will be the first meeting of the two teams. Coach Baggett is trying to line up two more games with well-known teams to complete the schedule. Meanwhile, the Buffaloes are pounding hard in spring training. Most members of the squad are in good condition. Eddon Davis, junior guard from Amherst, is benched temporarily by a thumb infection. Flipplin Foster Watkins is running the ball a bit now but has not entirely recovered from an injury to his left shoulder. He is completing passes with the accuracy which thrilled the Southwest last season. Coaches Baggett and Curtice are especially well pleased with the development of two blocking backs, Roy Lee Jones of Pampa and Pete Meneghin of Clifton, N. J. Big Willie Ollivers of Canyon, 230-pound tackle; has suddenly brought smiles to the faces of the Buffalo coaches. In fact the problem of filling the gap of tackle appears not as serious as first reported. Big Elwin Ricketts of Amarillo is still exhibiting erratic form in his passes from center, but his other play is an inspiration to his fellows. He needs experience.

Managers Of All Softball Teams Called To Meet

Formation of a softball league or leagues will be started Tuesday night when managers and sponsors of teams are invited to meet at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce room in the city hall. Several teams have already been organized and have been working out for some time. Known teams are Gulf of Pampa, Pampa Jaycees, Skelly-Schafer Gasoline plant, Phillips-Pampa plant. The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce has volunteered to sponsor the leagues this year and J. C. Christopher, chairman of the Jaycee softball committee, has called the meeting for Tuesday night. Jack Back is Panhandle softball commissioner succeeding Alton Hale who has moved to Lubbock.

Outdoor Sportsman Club Here Sought

An invitation for Pampa to form an Outdoor Sportsman's club to be affiliated with the Panhandle Outdoor Sportsman's club with headquarters in Amarillo has been extended by Alton Reeder, president. Four or five Amarillo sportsmen have tendered their services in helping to organize the Pampa club. The Pampa News will call a meeting of Pampa sportsmen if someone will volunteer to act as temporary chairman of the meeting. The Amarillo group is doing a great job of beautifying the Amarillo city lake. The organization has grown from a nucleus of 10 members to 328 at the present time. It's not all work for the group, they have outings and meetings and enjoy themselves. —Check The Want Ads.

East Texas Wins Lone Star Meet
SAN MARCO, May 13 (AP)—East Texas State Teachers College trackmen piled up 75 and three-quarters points here today to win the Lone Star conference track and field meet, doubling the 37-point score of second place North Texas Teachers. Southwest Texas Teachers were third with 36 points; Stephen F. Austin had 10 and three-quarters points, and Sam Houston Teachers two.

Despite a track slowed by rain Blaine Rideout, North Texas star, turned in a 4:15 mile to lower his own record of 4:16.5 for the distance; Hunt of East Texas broke the conference broad jump record with a leap of 23 feet 7 and three-fourths inches, and the Southwest Teachers team which won the mile relay at the Drake relays, nosed out East Texas in that event.

WAR INFLUENCE SEEN IN MAHARAJAH'S HOME.
SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A home built much like a fortress is under construction here for Sir Yeshwant Rao Holkar, maharajah of Indore, at a cost of $50,000. Local information is that in the event of a world war he intends it as a haven for his 5-year-old daughter, Princess Usha; and possibly for himself and his wife, the former Marguerite Lawler Branyan of the United States.

Promoter Cliff B. Chambers will present three newcomers to Panhandle wrestling fans on Monday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Pampa Athletic arena. The opening match will begin 15 minutes later than usual because of the long evenings during summer months. The main event, two best falls out of three or a two-hour limit affair, will be the match fans have been demanding for some time—Mickey Durazo of Buenos Aires, Argentine, vs Ernie Peterson, San Francisco. The pair rate as tops in scientific wrestling circles but because of ungovernable tempers one never knows what might happen when they get in the ring together. The two have promised to wrestle clean and scientific and if they do it will be the match of the year declare the rail birds. But if one thinks he has been fooled, there is liable to be fireworks. Both know plenty about Ju-Jitsu wrestling and in the past have resorted to that style of grappling to break holds. In fact, that might be the cause of a flareup. One of the newcomers will appear in the semi-final against Sugi Hayakawa, popular Japanese flash. He is Sergeant Rich, present lightweight champion of the army. According to advance information Rich is clean and scientific as is Hayakawa. Thunder and lightning is scheduled for the preliminary between Gil LaCross, famous French-Canadian mauler, and Nick Tripodas, Greek sensation. LaCross is the Canadian champion and rated as one of the wildest maulers in the world. The Greek also has a reputation for rough and tough mauling. Women will again be admitted for 10 cents and men at the regular price of 40 cents with ringside reserve seats 65 cents.

Texas Tech Again Denied Conference Membership

COLLEGE STATION, May 13 (AP)—One vote shy of unanimity on a proposal to pledge its football champion to a post-season classic, the Southwest Conference today virtually abandoned the idea.

A committee that had been appointed to work out details that would have delivered the grid kings to a group controlled by the conference, was dissolved. Dr. Henry Trantham of Baylor, president of the faculty committee said the action had the practical effect of killing the matter.

That action, and denial again of Texas Tech's admittance into the seven school conference, highlighted the meeting.

Dr. Trantham, speaking for the committee, said:

"The committee that has been working on the post-season game has been dissolved, and while there is a possibility that something may be worked out before the end of the summer between the University of Texas and the conference association, headed by Dan D. Rogers of Dallas, the chance is small."

The University of Texas was the dissenter in the voting.

"I would say," Dr. Trantham continued, "that unless Texas alters its position before the end of the summer, the ideal will be abandoned, and left exactly where it has been—that is to say, wide open for any school which wins the championship to consider any invitations."

Opposition to post-season football games by the University of Texas was the stumbling point. The University faculty long has opposed such games, and sources said, were not wavering in their stand on the present proposal.

It would take an affirmative vote of the Texas faculty representatives to enable its conference faculty committee member to give approval to the classic.

One member of the conference faculty committee said it was "quite possible" that the other six schools would go ahead with present plans to pledge the conference-winner to the game, "taking the word of the University of Texas that is opposed to all post-season games and would not accept an invitation from any other source."

J. Curtis Sanford, Tyler oil man who has promoted the three Cotton Bowl games, twice-using Southwest Conference teams in his New Year's Day attraction, has said that he would stage his annual game, regardless of conference action.

He holds a state charter on the name, "Cotton Bowl Athletics Association," and has the Cotton Bowl stadium under lease for the two weeks before and after New Year's Day for the next five years.

Tech Plea 'Settled'

The committee's terse statement on the Texas Tech application, filed by board member L. L. Steele, of Mexico as an individual, and not as the joint request of the Tech board, said:

"It is the settled policy of the Southwest Athletic Conference to maintain membership at seven institutions."

The action was unanimous.

Tech's undefeated season last year, which led them into the Cotton Bowl against St. Mary's Gaels of California, had caused some observers to believe the West Texas school, third largest state institution, stood a fair chance of being accepted.

President Trantham did not amplify the written statement released to newsmen.

The committee passed a rule that would prevent any member from scheduling a football game for its freshman team on any date prior to two weeks after classes have started.

'Nelly' Leads Oilers In Batting With Cross Second

Big Gordon Nell, Pampa Oiler rightfielder, continued to lead his team at the plate in games through Thursday night. The former Road Runner slugger had a batting average of .375. Next in line was the new Oiler shortstop, "Red" Cross, who has played in six games. He was hitting .300 at the latest figuring date.

Nell's seven home runs was the best in the league and his 12 doubles were enough to put him on top in that department.

The entire Oiler lineup hiked batting averages during the five home games, especially Cross, Swift, Pietras and Gyrcusan.

Frank Grabek and Milbert Vannoy led the Oiler mound staff as they left on the road, each registering three wins against no losses.

Hack Harrison of Clovis continued his strong batting last week to grab the West Texas-New Mexico League batting lead away from Billy Capps of Big Spring.

The Pioneer cloutier lost 25 points but ended the week with a .518 average, ten points ahead of Sam Malvica of Midland. Both Harrison and Malvica have hit safely in 14 straight games.

Ed Guynes of Lamesa and Gordon Nell of Pampa led in runs batted in with 21 each. The Big Oiler outfielder led both in doubles and home runs. His 11 two-baggers is a fourth of the total with which Hack Derby hit the league last year with Lubbock. He had seven roundtrip blows.

Pat Stacey of Big Spring and Bill Garbe of Pampa each has hit three triples.

Pitching lead went to Jodie Marek, Baron righthander, who had four wins without a setback. Stud Raines got his fourth victory before he dropped a decision. George Anthon of Lubbock, Red Hay, Rames' teammate at Lamesa and Frank Grabek of Pampa each had three wins and no losses.

Challdon Wins Preakness As Johnstown Runs Fifth

By SID FEDER

PIMLICO RACE COURSE, Baltimore, Md., May 13 (AP)—The mud and a great mud-runner caught up with Johnstown today.

W. L. Bramm's bay colt, Challdon, a mudder from way back, came on in the last three eighths of a mile on a track soaked by a day-long rain to win the 49th running of the rich Preakness Stakes, as William Woodward's top-heavy favorite, the horse that had taken the Kentucky Derby six lengths only a week ago, ran fifth in the field of six.

For three quarters of a mile in this mile and three-sixteenth gallop, it was all Johnstown. The big son of Jamestown, winner of four straight previous three-year-old outings by a total of 25 lengths, looked like a shoo-in.

But as they went into the stretch turn, the rest of the "gang" started to close in. Jockey Jimmy Stout went to the bat for the first time since Johnstown came of age, and it did no good. First Gilded Knight passed him. Then there was a rush, as all but Clencia went by.

Heading into the stretch, Challdon poked himself in front—and there he stayed.

At the finish, this gallant son of Challenger 2nd, who ran six lengths back of Johnstown in the Derby a week ago, was a length and a half to the good, with Gilded Knight, entry-mate of "Big John," taking the place by three from George Bull's Volitant. Then came Alfred Owynne Vanderbilt's impound, four lengths on top of Johnstown, and Clencia in the rear.

Running on soft-top footing, Challdon went the route in 1 minute, 59 4-5 seconds—only 1 3-8 seconds away from the Preakness mark High Queen set five years ago.

To owner Bramm went $53,710 as the winner's net share of the gross purse of $71,345.

It was the third largest winner's "take" in this historic race, surprisingly large despite the smallest field in 24 years.

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, who sent Gallant Fox and Omaha to victory in past Preaknesses, had no excuse to offer, other than his horse came back from Louisville "fired."

"But I guess he just can't win in the mud," he added. "He'll catch 'em again on a fast track."

Texas U. Dissents

The University of Texas was the dissenter in the voting.

"I would say," Dr. Trantham continued, "that unless Texas alters its position before the end of the summer, the ideal will be abandoned, and left exactly where it has been—that is to say, wide open for any school which wins the championship to consider any invitations."

Opposition to post-season football games by the University of Texas was the stumbling point. The University faculty long has

10 Players Change Hands In Big Deal

ST. LOUIS, May 13 (AP)—One of the biggest baseball trades of recent years, involving ten players, was completed here tonight between the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns.

The deal, announced by General Manager Jack Zeller of the Tigers, centered around Louis (Buck) Newsom, big right-handed St. Louis pitcher whom the Bengals have sought for some time. In addition to Newsom, Detroit also gets outfielder Roy Bell, infielder Ralph Kress and pitcher James Walkup.

In exchange the "Bengals" gave the following players: Pitcher Vermin Kennedy, Roxie Wilson, George Gill and Bob Harris; outfielder Chester Laabs, and infielder Mark Christman.

The trade was not unexpected, the Detroit management having openly admitted it was after Newsom when the team went into a tailspin that saw it flop from the top to the bottom of the American League standings. Zeller accompanied the Tigers on their trip to St. Louis and had been conferring with President Donald A. Barnes and General Manager William O. De Witt of the Browns for two days.

At Detroit—Owner Walter O. Briggs of the Tigers disclosed that no cash was involved in the transaction.

Newsom, 31, who has seen service with a number of major league clubs won 20 games and lost 16 for St. Louis last season. He defeated the Tigers 5 to 3 today for his third victory in the current campaign.

Gill came to Detroit from the Texas League in 1937 and pitched very well. Last season he won 12 games and lost nine.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—Stock market indications were generally steady today, but the market departments today but the out centrally edged out of the week without any particular direction.

Developments at home and abroad were without any great stimulating properties. Fractional advances were plentiful at the close, as were minor declines, and numerous issues were unchanged. Many stocks failed to appear on the dramatic ticker tape.

Dealings again were among the smallest for nearly two transfers for the session totaling 189,140 shares against 176,760 a week ago. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks finished the day unchanged at 48.8, but for the week was up .3 of a point.

Prospect that soft coal would start moving next week, after a six weeks' tie-up in this industry, provided a little cheer.

A handful of farm implement and meat order shares attracted a little interest following the Senate's vote on a record appropriation for agriculture and the favorable profits showing of Montgomery Ward, International Harvester and Oliver Farm.

Douglas Aircraft, with the best net for the fiscal quarter ended Feb. 28, in the country's history, was ahead in the Brooklyn Union Gas Stock and Bonds made another push into new "high territory" for the year on favorable profits forecasts.

In front were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Great Lakes, Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Allis-Chemical, Standard Oil of N. J., and Union Carbide.

Behind were U. S. Steel, Santa Fe, U. S. Rubber, Amsonia, American Can, Johns-Manville, Public Service of New Jersey, United Aircraft and Air Reduction.

Bonds were uneven.

Deputy Threatens To Arrest Pickets

HOUSTON, May 13 (AP)—Stern measures will follow removal of violence on Houston's waterfront, Deputy Sheriff W. O. Davis, leader of a sheriff's strike patrol, warned National Maritime Union pickets at Baytown today.

A few minutes earlier pickets had chased the mate of a picketed tanker into a drug store. Deputy sheriff's dispersed the seamen as they gathered around the store.

"This rough stuff has got to stop," Davis said. "If there is any more violence I will arrest every picket on the waterfront for being an accessory to a mob."

Bandits bombarded a waterfront store with bricks and escaped in a sedan as police rushed to the scene.

Police Chief L. C. Brown, granted authority yesterday to work the force 24 hours a day if necessary and employ extra policemen, said he had not found it necessary to increase the force.

BEFORE IT WAS 3 MONTHS OLD!

... a New Record for a Brand New Car

IN less than three months after its introduction the Ford-built Mercury 8 climbed from scratch to ninth place in the number of new cars registered for use on the nation's highways.

And that, according to the best available figures, is a record! For never before in modern times has a new car met with such instant and complete approval of the motoring public.

And here's why: The new Mercury 8 is the car all America has been asking for.

For instance, compare these Mercury 8 features with your idea of motor car value: Style leadership—smart streamlines and luxurious interior appointments that whet your zest for the open road. . . . Big, wide roomy bodies—added inches of elbow room and extra-large concealed luggage compartment. . . . New 95-hp. engine—8-cylinder, V-type, powerful, economical. . . . Easy riding—116-inch wheelbase, with passengers cradled between soft transverse springs actually 127 inches apart! . . . Unusually easy steering and gear shifting. . . . Powerful hydraulic brakes!

Small wonder, then, that new owners insist on taking their friends for a whirl around the block in the new Mercury 8, and want them to drive it. Your Mercury dealer will be glad to arrange a longer ride for you.

Officers Of Farm Group Elected Here

Organization of a co-ordinating committee to serve as an advisory group in making recommendations on farm practices in Gray county was perfected at a meeting held Saturday in the county courtroom.

The meeting opened at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and was concluded at 3 that afternoon. Gray county farmers, farm women, area extension agents, the SCS, BAE, FSA, and U. S. Forest Service, were represented at the meeting.

County Farm Agent Ralph R. Thomas said the purpose of the committee would be to make recommendations on practices that should be instituted on Gray county farms and that drafting of such plans would issue from this committee.

Edwin G. Nelson of Grandview was elected chairman, and R. M. Olson of Alnared was named vice-chairman. Next meeting of the committee will be held on June 3.

Committee members, in addition to the two officers, are: Mrs. H. Keasbey, Bell; P. F. Farley, Schaffer; John Turcotte, Farrington; E. S. Carr, Pampa, in charge of range conservation practices; T. H. Andrews, McLean; L. R. Taylor, Pampa; J. L. Lester, agriculture teacher, Pampa high school.

Whiskers No Longer Unusual Here; Pampans To Go 'Western' Tomorrow

Beginning Monday, a preview of Pampa's 1939 Top O' Texas Fiesta will be seen when employees of eight Pampa firms start wearing Western garb.

Women employees will wear cowgirl skirts, leather boleros, boots, and big hats, while the men will be attired in true cowboy style, plus the addition of unshaven chins. Firms "going Western" are Friendly Men's Wear, Modern Beauty Shop, Cretney Drug Store, KPND, LaNora, Rex and State theaters.

Keeping in step with the movement, Shelby Gantz, member of the steering committee, has asked that all Pampa stores start using a Western theme in the window decorations and display.

Keynoting the approach of the Fiesta is the 50 Pampa men who are bragging about the length of whiskers they have grown since the Top O' Texas Whisker club was born Saturday morning, with Jimmie Bryant, chief engineer at Cretney restaurant as Head Whisker-grower and Clarence Kennedy of the Kennedy Wholesale company as Vice Head Whisker-grower.

Members have signed a register, on display at Cretney Drug store, whereby they agree to let them grow "to whatever length I am man enough to produce between now and Fiesta days on June 12 and 14."

ALAN REED

charges being filed against him.

Another battle Alnared citizens tell about is the one in which five men participated. Within a few minutes three of the men had been killed. The fight was the result of a drunken brawl, according to old timers.

Two Bank Robberies

Alnared once had a bank, reorganized one, and later merged with a bank at McLean. The bank there was robbed twice, thereby being one up on Pampa's First National, which can claim but one robbery.

The first robbery was by two boys who lived near Goldston, near Clarendon in Donley county. They took $3,000, but were apprehended near R. Kledge, six miles west of Alnared, after they had left their car and hidden in the canyons. Pursuers did not have much trouble catching the pair and all of the money, except $500, was recovered about three hours after the robbery.

Improved Technique

More finesse was shown in the second bank robbery, although with equally as woeful results for the robbers. It happened back in the first days of the oil boom. Two men, said to have been from the fields near Pampa, came into the bank, held up the cashier, E. B. Hedrick, and the assistant cashier, Miss Jeannie Sherrod. The amount taken this time was also $3,000.

Jim Bryant came into the bank at the time of the holdup and was told to open his hands. He did so, the men before and thought they were playing a joke, and did not obey. A shot in the abdomen convinced Bryant the men weren't foolin'. The wound was not fatal.

However, the robbers did not have any luck, as they were caught that night and all but $300 of the $3,000 recovered. The missing $300 was accounted for by a letter in the pockets of one of the robbers from a girl who told him she had to have $300 at once.

In the other robbery the missing $500 was never accounted for. It could have been transferred to another car, hidden in the canyons or thrown away.

Two Fires

Two fires nearly wiped out Alnared one time. In the early days the street that extends south of the Will Rogers highway was Alnared's Broadway, as the highway was not then a part of the national road system. The main part of the stores, then situated around the street, now abandoned, further south up the street, and to the east.

Alnared once had a hotel and a newspaper, known as the Alnared Herald. In March, 1929, C. C. Warford purchased the paper, later moving it to Lefors, where he started the Lefors News. An ideal hand press, once used in printing the Alnared Herald, is a part of the equipment of the Lefors News. Mr. Warford says the hand cylinder press can print 200 copies a day—if two men work hard, all day operating it.

Permanent Settlers

Nearly all who live in Alnared today are old-timers. For example there's Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Castleberry who came to Alnared in the early '00s. Mr. Castleberry, a real estate agent, has sold a lot of Gray county land. He was on the school board for years and was one of the boosters for the brick building Alnared now has for its school.

The Castleberrys live on a farm three miles northeast of Alnared, where they have a good orchard and grow bountiful crops of tomatoes each year.

S. T. Greenwood, pastor of the Alnared Baptist church grew up in Alnared. He was ordained to preach in the Baptist church, here, and later became its pastor.

Gibson Built Houses

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gibson moved to Alnared from Mangum, Okla., in 1913. Mr. Gibson, business manager of the Alnared Independent School district, was a school board member for 17 years. In 1938 he was elected business manager of the school district and also secretary-treasurer of the Alnared National Loan association.

Mr. Gibson is a carpenter and helped construct several houses in Alnared.

He has served as clerk of the W. O. W. lodge for 25 years.

J. P. Elms Leaving

Another old-timer, who is leaving Alnared Monday, is J. P. Elms. Mr. Elms has been manager of the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber company at Alnared for nine years, but is considered an old timer in this country, having lived the greater part of his life in Gray, and in Alnared, where he graduated from school, and worked at Blakney's store.

Later he was employed as a bookkeeper at the company's office in Amarillo, thence transferred to Hartley, and then back to Alnared.

Mr. Elms is to be employed by the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber company in their office at Lubbock, where he will assume his new duties on June 1. Succeeding Mr. Elms in Alnared is Frank Smith, who arrived in Alnared last week.

They'll Be At Homecoming

In common with other writers of these special stories, time did not permit the writer of the Alnared series to call on all those he would have liked to interview. Among these are S. L. Ball, postmaster, tourist court and store owner, E. R. Sherrod, farmer, W. J. Ball, W. H. Blakney, A. H. Moreman, merchants, E. B. Reeves, real estate dealer, Mrs. S. R. Loftin, widow of the man who was murdered in an early-day lumberyard, Rev. Cole, pastor of the Methodist church, R. D. Massey, justice of the peace.

All of these persons and hundreds of others will gather for the fourth annual homecoming, an event started upon the suggestion of W. E. James, county treasurer, in 1936, at the time of the dedication of the Alnared gymnasium.

The program will then be turned over to Mr. Knopp, who will pay tribute to those old settlers that have "gone on" and introduce the speaker of the day. No definite arrangement for a speaker has been made, but efforts are being made to get one of importance in this area.

The dinner will be served differently than before. The children will be served separately from the adults. The adults will be served according to the length of time that they have lived in the community. It is hoped that the crowd can be fed more quickly in this manner and that the food will serve more.

For those that like to play games, there will be horse-shoes, playground ball and base ball. A ball game will be played by the grade school boys at 10:30 a. m. At 1 p. m. the high school boys will play a team from the men of the town. Following this, a hard ball game will be played with Price. Other means of recreation will be provided for those that wish to play.

Man's Purse And Money At Station

Where is W. C. Wilkerson? Employees at the Gulf filling station 2 on South Cuyler would like for him to come to the station and recover a billfold containing some money and a driver's license bearing his name.

W. C. Wilkerson is listed in the city directory, according to Pampa police, to whom filling station employees reported the finding of the billfold, found at the filling station.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

May days suggest salad luncheons. However, if a salad is to be the main course, it must contain enough proteins to keep the inner man not only cool but also nourished. And to make these salad luncheons even more satisfying, serve with a hot clear soup or hot muffins. No meal, at any time of the year, should be entirely cold.

Cabbage, Pepper and Pineapple Salad

(Serves 4 to 6)
Two cups finely shredded cabbage, 1-2 green pepper finely shredded, 4 slices canned pineapple diced, 1/2 cup sour cream dressing, 6 sliced fresh dates. Use a large bowl for mixing. Rub first 3 ingredients with your cream dressing, about the consistency of whipped cream. Serve on salad plates garnished with fresh dates stuffed with cream cheese.

Garden Salad With Pineapple Curry Dressing

Chicory, leed and sliced carrot strips, unpeeled and sliced cucumber slices, hard cooked egg sliced, 1 cup fresh asparagus tips lightly cooked.

Fruit Curry Dressing

One and one-half tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup canned unsweetened pineapple juice, 3-4 teaspoon curry powder, 1 teaspoon cold water, mayonnaise.

Cheese and Pimiento Salad

(Serves 5 to 8)
Two packages (8 oz. each), 2 teaspoons minced chives, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon chopped mint, 1 tablespoon finely chopped nuts, 1 can (4 ounces) pimientos, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, salt to taste.

SERIAL STORY DATE WITH DANGER BY HELEN WORDEN

Yesterday Mary Franklin, society editor, drops in at Duke's party, asks where Janice French is. He denies knowing. Mary phones her office and as she calls Duke puts in a call too, but there is no answer.

CHAPTER III

The sleet, whipped by a strong wind, shrouded Lower New York. Empty office buildings loomed like gigantic tombstones in the half-dusk of early night, their blackness strengthened by the thousand lights which twinkled from the New York Morning Gazette. An occasional late worker hurried toward the building, his head bent low to save himself from the sharp prickle of the sleet as it blew in his face. Otherwise the streets were deserted.

The howling darkness made the hustle and bustle of the big newspaper seem doubly cheerful. People stood about in the lobby talking. Elevators shot up and down the shafts. Messenger boys stalked back and forth, their rubber ponchos gleaming with melting sleet and from the lower floors of the paper came the rumbling of the presses. On the 12th floor the click of typewriters proclaimed the location of the editorial offices. At intervals the pounding of keys was punctuated by cries of "Copy!" as this reporter or that one hurried to make a deadline. The first edition was going to press in 10 minutes.

"Give me all the ad you've got on Janice French." Tom Ladd stuck his head out from the managing editor's office and then drew it back just as suddenly.

He could do more things at the same time than any juggler who'd ever spun plates at a circus side-show. Here was a queer man with a singular career. It was inevitable that he would eventually land on a newspaper. In his late 30s with something of the hawk in his handsome face, he had been managing editor of the Gazette five years. Before that he'd been city editor and before that cable editor. He seldom talked about his early life, but it was known that he'd gone to Harvard and that he'd shipped as a sailor to the Orient the year he left college. He'd written for pulps, edited a housewife's magazine (he never mentioned this) and once, when he was broke, composed menus for a physical culture restaurant. He'd also slept on park benches and stood in bread lines.

Now he lived in a bachelor apartment on Lower Fifth avenue, drove a low-slung black roadster, and smoked a pipe. The newspaper game suited his adventurous philosophy. He interested himself in its functioning. He never tired of listening to the fellows talk on the city desk. He admired their irresponsible sentimentality and he envied their gambling spirit. He liked their good humor, their generosity, and their sudden mania for causes. He knew by instinct exactly how to treat them. He had a real tenderness for them. He could smell news. He also had a healthy temper and a strong voice. Good-looking in a dramatic way, he could be hard-boiled one moment and Chesterfieldian the next. Everybody in the office but himself knew he was in love with Mary, that is everybody except Mary. This evening, returning to his swivel chair, he pressed a telephone to his ear and mouth with his left hand, okayed copy with his right and shoved a desk drawer shut with his right foot, the while bellowing into the receiver, "What do these fool society girls mean by playing around with venerable hoodlums like Duke Martin? Understand this, Mary! Janice French's family have asked the police to make a secret search for her. Maybe the Duke knows where she is. Maybe he doesn't. Somebody knows. Half the town may know, but the Gazette doesn't know. Get the story!"

The voice on the line stopped suddenly, terminated by a shriek. Ladd heard the receiver crash to the floor.

Jamming up the receiver, Ladd began pounding the desk. "Bring me the clips on Janice French, Pete," he yelled to a scurrying office boy, "and make it snappy." Then he settled back in his chair. Half an hour later, Ladd, still excitedly puffing his pipe, pressed a buzzer marked "City Editor." "Come in, Crossie," he called. As Padraic Crosswell, the city editor, looked inquiringly through the door. "I want to talk to you about Janice French."

Crossie was thin with a long, sawlow face, prominent nose, large and bony, and great shaggy, sandy eyebrows. When he first appeared in the editorial rooms of the Gazette 15 years before, it had been rumored that he was an Irish radical. There were few in the office even now who remembered his coming, but they knew that he did speak Gaelic and that he had an amazing knowledge of the stars. Aside from this he had proved himself a good newspaper man, which was all that really mattered. "Janice is still missing," said Crossie briefly, draping his lanky form over the edge of Tom's desk. "That's why I want to talk to you. A grand story here if we can get at the bottom of it. Where's that office boy with those clips?"

Pete ducked in, dropped an envelope marked "Janice French" on the desk and sidled out. He'd worked on the Gazette long enough to know when to steer clear of the boss. "Now here's a society girl who's fallen for a killer," continued Tom, forgetting, in his frenzy over the story, the sarcastic remark he was about to fling at Pete. "She's easy to look at. She's rich and she's out for thrills. A natural for a familiarity than most women handle their knitting. "It's a top experience to be in on a case when it breaks," she said. The feminine officer still hopes to get into the National Police Academy in Washington, for further study in law enforcement. Her appli-

Woman Excels As Deputy Sheriff

SAN ANGELO, May 13 (AP)—Auburn-haired Frances Van Court wears the badge of a deputy sheriff of Tom Green county. She has a commission, pistol and other identifying possessions of a deputy but her job is not a plaything. Definitely it is a career and a fascinating study to her. The scientific phase of law enforcement today is the adulthood of the star, six-shooter and galloping horse of the early-day "law" and it is this aspect that fascinated Miss Van Court, daughter of a former sheriff here. Her duties go beyond the role of deputy because she is fingerprint expert in the sheriff's department, signer of bonds and citations, and keeps up with everything touching upon law violation in this sector. She serves as a bureau of general information and when authorities in neighboring counties or states want aid in capturing fugitives or information about those in durance, they phone Frances. "It's my life," she says. Knowledge of fingerprinting is not required of the office deputy but she wanted to learn it so she could be more helpful. Someone told her it was necessary to go to school to learn fingerprinting, but she bought books and began studying the science and now has an excellent knowledge of prints. She always takes prints of the hardened criminals as she likes to study them. So excellent, in fact, has she learned fingerprinting that a fugitive from Atlanta, Ga., was apprehended through her ability to read prints. She speaks of whorls and loops and reads them with more

Panhandle Oil Field On Drilling Spree

13 Locations In Hutchinson County Filed

The Panhandle oil field went on a drilling spree last week with 20 new locations filed with the local office of the Texas Railroad Commission. Hutchinson county was the hot-spot with 13 new locations. Gray and Carson counties recorded one each with Roberts county getting a wildcat test.

Ten new oil wells were gauged and given a total open flow potential of 3,600 barrels. Two gas wells were tested for 43,220,000 cubic feet.

Many of the new wells will be direct offsets to recent producers while others will be drilled by companies believing the field activities are scheduled to pick up during the summer months.

Four of the new locations were staked by the Phillips Petroleum company, all in Hutchinson county. Stanolind Oil & Gas company, Magnolia Petroleum company and McIlroy Oil company and Herrmann Brothers announced two tests each. Only one of the locations was staked in gas territory.

The Panhandle's newest wildcat test will be the E. J. Dunigan, jr., Trustee, No. 1 P. C. Ledrick in section 34, Block C. G&M survey, in Roberts county. The test will be drilled about 25 miles northeast of Pampa and 3-4 miles northwest of a former attempt for oil by the Big Bend Oil company which had a heavy showing of oil at 5,300 feet but which could not be made a producer because of a small hole.

Hutchinson county had five of the new wells, capable of producing 2,978 barrels, open flow. Three gray county wells were gauged at 570 barrels with the Wheeler county tests able to produce 455 barrels.

The Smith Brothers Refining company's No. 1 R. K. Ribble, section 46, block A-5, H&GN survey, Wheeler county, was shut down at 2,515 feet. It is the No. 1 wildcat of the field at the present time, being a half mile from Old Mobeetie.

Completions by counties follow:

In Gray County
C. N. Ochiltree No. 4 Saunders, section 64, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 213 barrels with lime pay between 3,214 and 3,248 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum company, No. B-2 Morse, section 68, block 25, H&GN survey, tested 224 barrels. Pay was from 1,892 to 2,730 feet in granite wash pay.

Sinclair-Prairie Oil company, No. B-2 Merten, section 83, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 139 barrels with pay between 3,207 and 3,278 feet in lime.

In Hutchinson County
Cree and Hoover No. 4 Halle, section 5, block M-21, TC&RR survey, was the best well gauged during the week having an open flow potential of 903 barrels. Lime formation was from 3,010 to 3,040 feet.

Stansylvania Oil company, No. 6, Belle Wisdom, section 35, block M-23, TC&RR survey, gauged 446 barrels with lime pay between 3,020 and 3,126 feet.

The same company's No. 7 Belle Wisdom in the same section was tested at 457 barrels with pay in lime from 3,030 to 3,125 feet.

The same company's No. 8 Belle Wisdom, same section, tested 454 barrels with lime pay from 3,000 to 3,140 feet.

The Texas company No. 6 Cooper, section 8, block 9, I&GN survey, gauged 318 barrels. Pay was between 3,142 and 3,220 feet in lime.

In Wheeler County
Christie-Hickman Drilling company No. 1 Perkins-Cullum, section 54, block 24, H&GN survey, tested 155 barrels with granite wash pay between 2,450 and 2,484 feet.

Fendleton and Vaughn No. 1 Krey, section 4, block A-5, H&GN survey, tested 300 barrels. Pay was in granite wash between 2,223 and 2,239 feet.

In Carson County
Texoma Natural Gas company, No. 1 Crutchfield, section 30, block 4, I&GN survey, gauged 27,504,000 cubic feet.

In Hutchinson County
Whittington and Rubin No. 3 Whittenburg, section 5, block X-02, HOB survey, tested 15,716,000 cubic feet.

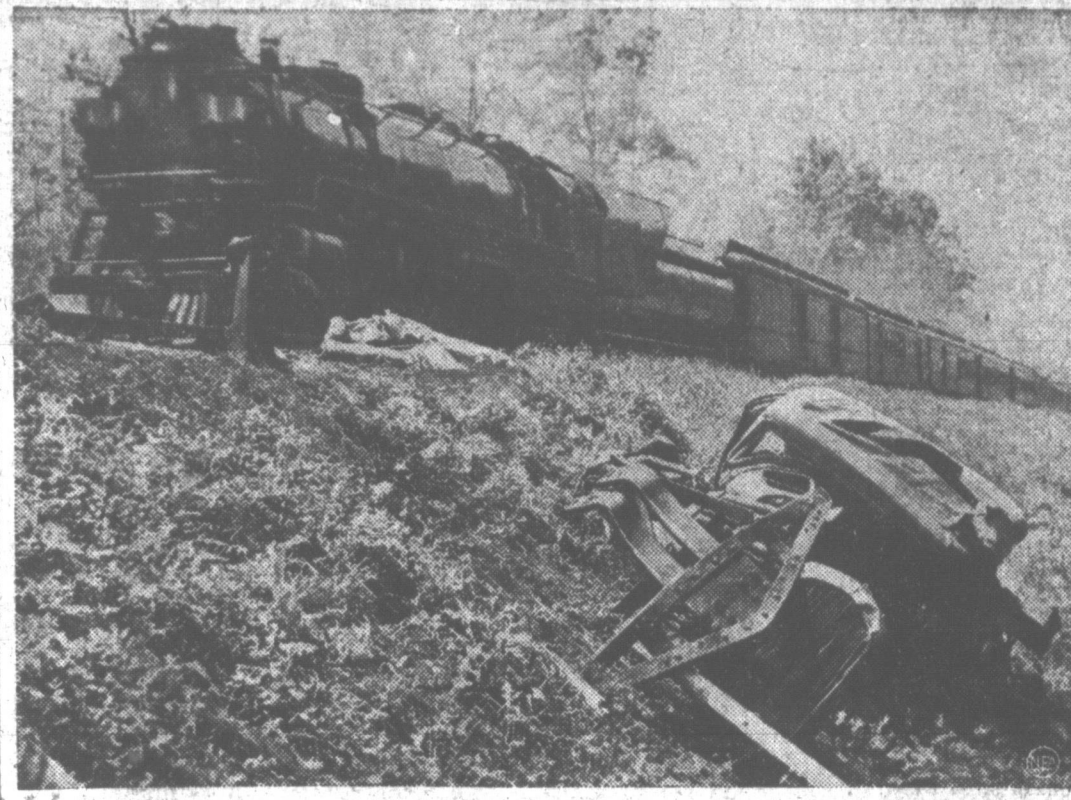

Intentions to drill:
Hagy, Harrington & Marsh, A. Gordselk et al No. 1, 2310' from the north and 1650' from the east of NE lines of Sec. 21, Blk. 7, I&GN, Carson county.

Magnolia Petroleum company, Fee 244 No. 56, 330' from the south and east lines of NE-4 of Sec. 109, Blk. 4, I&GN, Carson county.

Mortals-Immortals Will Be Subject

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 14.

The golden text is: "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life" (II Corinthians 5:4).

Among the citations which compromise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God" (Colossians 3:1).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is the principle of man, and man is the idea of God. Hence man is not mortal nor material."
