TROOPS QUELL TEXAS RIOTING

JUST A WEEK AND YOU'LL BE SEEING THIS

Full of pep and vinegar after a winter on the open range, this sun-fishing Top O' Texas bronc is giving his rider a taste of some bad medicine to start out the spring rodeo season. With all four feet off the ground, hooves flying, body twisted in a devilish spin, the horse has disengaged the rider from the saddle and tossed him in the air.

his boots still tangled in the stirrups. The unusual action picture was taken during trial rides preliminary to the 1939 Top O' Texas Fiesta to be held here next Wednesday and Thursday.

Senate Gets Rid Of House Lobby Probe

AUSTIN, June 6 (AP)—The Senate by a big majority today shunted to committee a House concurrent resolution proposing a blanket investigation of lobbying in connection with the controversial sales-natural resource constitutional amendment.

Without debate, the upper chamber refused to suspend its rules and immediately considered the resolution. The vote was 9 to 19.

The measure now automatically goes to a committee for study and recommendation.

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson made the motion for reconsideration. He recently introduced a similar proposal in the Senate, declaring lobbyists had assembled in Austin in unprecedented numbers and had used improper means to influence passing the constitutional amendment.

The House yesterday approved the investigation resolution, 99 to 26.

Officials' Wives Will Not Curtsy Before King, Queen

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Three official wives, whose opinions count for more just now than all the advice in the etiquette books, agreed today Americans should be their natural selves in meeting the British king and queen.

"I don't think they expect us to curtsy," said Mrs. John Garner, wife of the vice president. "I think they expect us to follow our American customs."

When she meets the royal couple, she said, she will say "whatever the moment prompts."

"We're Americans, and I think we should be our natural selves," observed Mrs. Cordell Hull, wife of the secretary of state, who has entertained and been feted by many royal personages, presidents and prime ministers.

"I think it's too silly," laughed Mrs. William E. Borah, wife of the senator, speaking of curtsies and stiff bows. "This is America and Americans don't do that."

Worker Held For Firing At Kent's Wife

Fires Shotgun At Car Of Sister-In-Law Of King

LONDON, June 6 (AP)—Police held Ledwidge Vincent Lawlor, a 45-year-old steel worker, for further investigation today for firing a shotgun near the automobile of the Duchess of Kent.

Lawlor was said by police to have sought to excuse his action by producing a gun permit. He was given a quick hearing before a magistrate and bound over for a week.

His story gave no hint as to whether he deliberately aimed his weapon at the car of the duchess, near her fashionable town house last night.

Lawlor, who gave his address in a lower middle-class London residential section, was formally charged in broad legal language with illegal possession of a loaded firearm "with intent to endanger life or property" in connection with the firing of a shotgun last night at the automobile of the Duchess of Kent.

Ledwidge Vincent Lawlor, described as a welder's assistant, was charged after all night questioning at a police station.

In formal language, the charge read "that he did on June 5 at Belgrave Square (residence of the duchess) have in his possession a firearm and ammunition with intent by means thereof to endanger life or property, in violation of the provisions of the Firearms Act of 1937."

The shooting in Belgrave Square and the almost simultaneous breaking of a window pane at the home of the princess royal, Countess of Harewood, sister of King George VI, were the subjects of a Scotland Yard investigation to determine if

The first loss was reported by Bert Wilbreath, one of the community's most ardent wrestling fans, who told police that when he left the arena last night he found the rear of his car jacked up and both rear wheels and tires gone. Looking in the rear of his car he discovered that a 30-30 Winchester and saddle scabbard and tools valued at about $40 had also been taken.

The Smith Brothers Refining Co. reported to police the loss of a welding torch, cutting torch, 75 feet of hose and an air regulator from their Castleberry lease, a half-mile north of the Talley addition.

Members of home demonstration clubs are expected to enter exhibits in the contest, Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, Gray county home demonstration agent, was to give information on this matter to Mr. Gilliland, following a meeting of club women this afternoon.

The letter mailed today to newspapers contains all the essential facts concerning the contest, and reads:

We are very anxious that every town in the Top O' Texas area be represented in our celebration with an exhibit of some kind.

The merchants here have donated window space for these exhibits and will be glad to reserve a space for the one from your town or community.

In order to obtain immediate results and assist the chairman of the exhibit committee in your town, whose name appears at the bottom of this letter and whom we have appointed to see that your town is represented either through a community club or individual display, we will sincerely appreciate your running a story in your paper as per information in this letter, so that both your chairman and our committee will have something definite.

Another Sales Tax Bill Before House

AUSTIN, June 6 (AP)—After sharp debate, the House of Representatives today placed on the calendar from where it could be called any time a bill levying a 2 per cent gross receipts tax to finance old age pensions.

Tabled subject to call by a vote of 70 to 57, the bill was estimated to yield $17,000,000 annually for social security purposes.

Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio, author of a "luxury" tax bill for which the proposal under consideration had been substituted, pleaded with his colleagues to send the bill to the Senate "and, for heaven's sake, do something for the old people."

Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso, leading opponent of a proposed constitutional amendment levying a 2 per cent sales tax, argued just as earnestly in an attempt to kill the proposal, asserting it was "beneath the dignity of this House to plead further with the Senate and Gov. W.

Lee O'Daniel to pass a statutory tax measure.

Already in session longer than any in history, the legislature still is faced with the problem of how to finance expanded old age pensions.

2 German Seamen Face Deportation

LOS ANGELES, June 6 (AP)—Two German seamen faced deportation today to their native land, where they say death or life imprisonment awaits them.

"Generous though one might feel toward the oppressed, U. S. District Judge Leon Yankwich commented, "I cannot declare a right which Congress has denied."

The men, Hans Kurth and Gunther Haberman, deserted a steamer Sept. 3, 1938. Arrested eight days later they told immigration inspectors they signed on in Germany to escape political persecution.

Their attorney, A. L. Wirin, counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, said efforts to find a country which would admit them had proved unsuccessful. Under the deportation order, they may leave this country for any other land not contiguous to the United States or adjacent islands.

Franco Asked For Help, Says Hitler

BERLIN, June 6 (AP)—Adolf Hitler disclosed today in an address to 18,000 German fighters back from Spain that Generalissimo Franco had asked him for help in the first month of the Spanish civil war and "I decided to aid him."

A parade of the veterans before Hitler and his No. 1 aide, Field Marshal Herman Wilhelm Goering, was the first concrete indication of the extent of German help to the Spanish Nationalist cause.

After the review Hitler spoke to them for 12 minutes.

Refugees Reported En Route To Hamburg

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—The Hamburg-American liner St. Louis with more than 900 Jewish refugees from Germany aboard was reported by officials of the line today to be en route back to Hamburg.

The vessel was ordered out of Havana harbor after Cuban officials denied the passengers admission. Later she cruised aimlessly in Caribbean waters and it subsequently was reported the refugees would be landed at the Isle of Pines off the Cuban coast.

E. H. Dedrick, passenger traffic manager of the ship line, said, however, the St. Louis had been on its way back to Germany since Sunday.

"We had a radio from Capt. William Schroeder, of the St. Louis yesterday, telling us he had turned around and was on his way back to Hamburg," Dedrick said, "and this morning we have a cable from the main office in Hamburg confirming that statement."

Dedrick said the St. Louis, a motor ship, had refueled and re-provisioned at Havana, and there was no danger of a food shortage on the return voyage. Asked what

Mother And Aunt Contest For Baby In Court Here

A motion to change and modify a judgment awarding custody of a sixteen-month-old girl to the mother was filed in 31st district court today.

Filing of the motion is the latest development in this case, in which the mother of the baby and the aunt of the mother are contesting for custody of the infant. The baby, according to papers filed in the case, is alleged to have been born out of wedlock.

Immediately after judgment had been given in the suit, styled Dixie Lee Chambers vs. J. B. Barrett et al., defendants gave notice of appeal to the seventh district judicial district court of civil appeals at Amarillo.

In the motion filed yesterday it is alleged that plaintiff attempted to remove the child from the state and away from the jurisdiction of Texas courts, and the jurisdiction of Oklahoma courts.

Vile Language Charged The motion further alleges that plaintiff when halted in the attempt "used vile and obscene" language to Sheriff Cal Rose.

Mrs. J. B. Barrett is an aunt of Dixie Lee Chambers, styled the relator, according to plaintiff's petition, and a sister of Mrs. C. A. Chambers, mother of the relator. Relator lives with her parents in Sand Springs, Okla., and respondents in Gray county.

It is alleged that respondents on March 1, 1938, obtained custody of the child in Oklahoma City, where the child was born on February 12, 1938, and that the infant, Patsy Ann Chambers, was brought to Gray county by them.

On March 9, 1938, the mother of the child came to Gray county and sought to recover possession of the baby, who had been left in the care of the mother's aunt, it was alleged.

Care of the baby by relator's aunt, it is alleged, was only a temporary arrangement, and did not mean that the mother was permanently into the care of anyone else, it is claimed.

Gov. Phillips Not On Dam Business

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma said yesterday he was here for the "sole purpose" of attending the unveiling of the Will Rogers statue and did not expect to confer with government officials about the Denison dam hydro-electric project.

In discussing his opposition to the project he said he had "always favored the Grand river dam project in Oklahoma and other similar projects where I thought there was a greater return than there would be a loss."

He said he would take no offense at reports about his attitude toward the Denison dam unless he decided they were "malicious rather than misinformation."

Rocks Hurlled In Texarkana Union Strike

Rangers, Guards Quell Fighting In Parts Of City

TEXARKANA, June 6 (AP)—Early-morning fighting kept police hopping today as Texas Rangers supplemented national guardsmen in patrolling the strike-begged plant of the Two-State Fruit Package Manufacturing Company.

The battling raged out in various parts of the city, with participants using stones, bricks and other weapons. G. H. Brown, about 35, was treated at the Texarkana hospital for a fractured skull, suffered in a brick fight.

Police Chief Jack Runnels said he broke up a battle in which "10 to 15 people" on each side were using stones.

The Rangers dispersed small groups after a barrage of stones struck the plant.

In an effort to calm the situation at the company, troops were moved out to sentry posts two blocks away from the plant, patrolling with fixed bayonets.

The fights broke out shortly after most of the crowd near the basket factory had been dispersed by Ollie Logan, president of the striking basketmakers' union.

Logan entered the gate about 7:30 a. m. (CST) for a conference with Mayor William V. Brown. "I said for Mr. Logan and asked him to disperse the crowd," Mayor Brown said. "I told him there was a lawful way to settle this matter—a labor relations board—and for him to pursue that method."

Logan called the crowd about him and said:

"Regardless of whether you think this (stationing of guardsmen) is right, they represent the law. Whether you are connected with the strike or not, I am going to ask you to break away from here and let them have peace."

The guardsmen, including four officers and 44 enlisted men, comprise Company 1, 144th Infantry, from Clarksville, under command of Capt. C. R. Dinwiddie. Texas Rangers on duty are Capt. H. B. Purvis, E. G. Goss and Stewart Stanley.

The armed aid was sent at the request of the Texarkanan, Texas, city council.

At 5 p. m. as automobiles loaded with non-strikers rolled toward the gates a barrage of stones from a waiting crowd stopped them. The windshield of one car was smashed and the driver struck on the head. Sporadic shots were reported from inside the plant, but apparently no one was hit.

Telephone Teamwork in Texas

Some people are surprised to learn that there are 396 telephone companies serving Texas. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is the largest, it is true. But there are others—395 of them—which have the important job of providing telephone service in about 830 Texas towns and cities.

The Southwestern Bell is glad its lines connect with the lines of these other Texas telephone companies, blanketing the state with a vast network of wires—so that boundaries between companies are not barriers to quick, statewide telephone service.

Through teamwork and friendly co-operation, 396 Texas telephone companies work together to furnish Texas with telephone service that is fast, accurate, and dependable.

Long Distance in Texas is cheap. You can telephone 100 miles for 60 cents (3 minute conversation, day rate, station-to-station).

Film Actors Will Appear At Premiere

"Man of Conquest," a motion picture full of the romance, color, and achievements of America's great soldier-statesman, Sam Houston, will be the picture shown at the representation of a Hollywood premiere at the LaNora theater, at 8:30 p. m., June 13.

The premiere is a part of the program of the Top O' Texas Fiesta. In true Hollywood fashion there will be a radio introduction of the celebrities, and impressions taken in concrete of the hand and footprints of these three fiesta guests from Hollywood, all under 150,000-watt lighting effects.

George (Windy) Hayes, who has the role of Linnie Ouchurch in "Man of Conquest," will be one of the three who will be at the premiere. The other two are Mary Black, 18-year-old El Pasano and new Republic picture star, and Walter Mattox, agent for Smiley Burnette and Gene Autry.

These three will be in the fiesta parade on June 13, attend the rodeo, appear at fiesta dances, and make a stage appearance on the LaNora stage at the premiere.

Carl Benefield, general chairman of the Top O' Texas Fiesta, said "Man of Conquest" was chosen instead of one of three other films because of the theme fitting so well with the fiesta.

Story Of Jackson And Houston "Man of Conquest," a Republic picture, shows the picturesque life of the colorful Sam Houston, whom the Indians called the "Ravah" and prominently interweaves the historic, consequential friendship of Houston and Andrew Jackson, who is portrayed by Edward Ellis.

Flier Rescued Just Before Plane Sank

CHATHAM, Mass., June 6 (AP)—Apparently lost 250 miles at sea, Chester Fishman, student flier of Carlisle, Pa., was rescued today after bringing his two-place, high-wing monoplane down on the Georges fishing banks within sight of at least three Boston fishing trawlers.

Fishermen aboard trawler, Villanova, hauled him to safety just before the plane sank in water 40 fathoms deep.

Fishman left Camden, N. J., airport last night with only sufficient gasoline for 475 miles of flying. His plane was sighted at 4 a. m. (CST) by the trawler, Storm. Shortly thereafter the pilot dropped a message asking the direction of the nearest land.

The rescue was reported by the trawler, Triton, which said her crew was dragging for the ship.

Christian Scientists Hold Annual Meet

BOSTON, Mass., June 6—Thousands of Christian Scientists, meeting in this city yesterday, challenged a troubled world to change its perspective from a material to a spiritual basis in its search for release from pressing economic and political problems.

Announcement of new officers constituted the main business of the meeting. George Shaw Cook, C. S. B., of Brookline, Mass., was named president for the ensuing year to succeed Ralph H. Knapp of Needham, Edward L. Ripley of Brookline and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield were re-elected treasurer and clerk, respectively.

Various reports heard during the afternoon cited specific instances of work among the nations today. One revealed that Europe, seething center of turbulent political upheavals, is also a field for spiritual growth, indicated in the formation of 21 new branch church organizations abroad, 12 of them being in England.

Changes in Social Security Act Urged

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—House leaders rebuffed in a drive to push through wage-hour amendments quickly, tried their hands today at winning approval for proposed changes in the social security act.

The social security amendments, however, were called up under procedure more favorable to passage than the stringent rules by which the house refused yesterday even to consider the wage-hour revisions.

The latter could have been accepted or rejected only in their entirety, while the social security amendments may be rewritten if the house sees fit.

The principal objection expressed to the wage-hour legislation was its redefinition of farm exemptions, to which some farm organizations were opposed. Included among the amendments shelved at least for the time being, was one exempting from the act white collar workers making $200 or more a month.

In general, the proposals to revise the social security act give its benefits to additional classes of workers and freeze or lower the taxes financing the program.

Ferrell Lets Bees Sting His Sore Arm

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 6 (AP)—Wes Ferrell, veteran big league hurler, recently released by the Yankees, has resorted to a drastic remedy in the hope of regaining the effectiveness of his pitching arm.

Ferrell Tinsley of the Charlotte Country club said today that during a round of golf with Ferrell yesterday he noticed the 31-year-old right hander caught honey bees from flowers held them against his arm until they stung him.

"When Ferrell finished the round his arm was swollen to almost twice normal size, Tinsley said.

"It's the only way that you can get that arthritis out of your arm when it's sore," Ferrell replied when asked for an explanation.

WALLACE

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Reports spread on Capitol Hill today that Secretary Wallace of the agriculture department is about to become an avowed candidate for the democratic presidential nomination.

Congressional friends of the agriculture department chief, who said they had talked to him about the 1940 race, expressed belief, however, that he would not permit entry of his name unless it was certain President Roosevelt would not seek a third term.

Other members of congress said Wallace might seek pledged delegates who would swing to a third term movement for the President.

Talk of the secretary's candidacy echoed a recent visit to his native state of Iowa and other midwestern points by Paul H. Appleby, Wallace's assistant.

Wallace May Be Candidate For 1940 Nomination

Appleby was reported to have sounded out democratic leaders about Wallace-for-President delegations.

The 50-year-old secretary came to the cabinet in 1933 as a republican who had supported Mr. Roosevelt for the presidency. At the time Wallace was editor of a farm magazine in Des Moines. His father, the late Henry C. Wallace, had been President Harding's secretary of agriculture.

Former Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel of Iowa, after a recent White House visit, told reporters that Iowans were "great admirers of Henry Wallace." He declared the state would "never be satisfied" with any candidate except the President or someone in harmony with his views.

Will Rogers Bust Placed In Rotunda

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—The great and small of the capital paid eloquent tribute today to Will Rogers—a man who endeared himself to the world by being himself.

Midway between the marble likenesses of George Washington and Alexander Hamilton in the capitol's famed rotunda, friends of the cowboy-humorist unveiled a striking bronze statue executed by Jo Davidson.

The statue shows Rogers in one of his characteristic poses—hands in his pockets and his eyes squinting. His tie is hanging from his collar, and his double-breasted coat is fastened on the lowest button.

The ceremony came 22 years after Oklahoma's first nominee to Statuary Hall—Sequoyah—was presented

60 Attending Bible School At Miami

MIAMI, June 6—The daily vacation Bible school at the First Baptist church in its second week, meeting from 8 to 11 each morning. Rev. Harold Cornhill, general director, reports an average daily attendance of 60 pupils. Mrs. Dan Graham, Mrs. Lee Newman, and Mrs. C. T. Locke are assisting as superintendents of the various departments.

More than a fourth of the farms in the United States produce an average of less than $50 worth of products annually—and 15 per cent of this number produce less than $100 worth of commodities.

Oklahoma thus becomes the first state to have statues in the capitol of two men whose blood was that of the original Americans.

Mrs. Rogers, widow of the humorist, and other members of his family came here for the unveiling.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma made the presentation speech, with Senator Barkley, democrat, Ky., chairman of the senate library committee, accepting it for the government.

Mrs. Sally McSpadden, Rogers' sister, unveiled the statue.

The Old Dream Of Zionism Fades

Still one more of the problems which men hopefully believed were settled at Versailles now proves to be, 20 years later, far from solution.

It is that of the age-old Jewish dream of a homeland in Palestine. Under British mandate, the beginnings of such a homeland have been made.

Thousands of Jews have returned there from many countries of the world. They have worked hard, invested capital, created the beginnings of a Jewish state.

Now Britain, exasperated at years of friction which it has had to interpose troops between factional fighting of Jews and Arabs, apparently wishes to liquidate the whole thing so far as she is concerned.

The Empire would withdraw its mandate, withdraw its troops, and leave behind an Arab state in which no more than a third of the population might be Jews.

Thus the world is presented with a new problem which is almost certain to become acute. Jews in many lands have actively supported the building of a homeland in Palestine; immigrants have gone there from many lands as to a refuge.

Will they stand helpless and see these immigrants become a mere minority in an Arab state? It is not likely.

Already in Eastern Europe plans are on foot to recruit a military force from Jews of many countries, a sort of Foreign Legion, for service in Palestine in case the Jews there find it necessary to defend themselves and the gains they have already won.

The Palestine problem is a complicated one, on which even all Jews are not completely united. It is a subject on which most Americans are not widely informed, yet none can stifle an involuntary sympathy for a brave effort which has suffered so rude a check.

Certain facts are pretty clear as regards British policy: with immense interests in the Far East, with millions of Oriental subjects, the British are evidently unwilling to risk offending the Arabs, who were allies during the World War, and are now closely knit to Turkey, newest British ally of today.

Thus it is clear that the fate of Palestine as a Jewish homeland is deeply affected by the great streams of international politics, and is not a problem that can be considered in a vacuum, or as an abstraction. The gallant effort of the Jewish people to establish a refuge and a homeland has been caught up in the vast tides. Today it floats like a chip upon the angry waters of the world.

The Nation's Press

WORTH SAVING? (Charleston, (W. Va.) Gazette) Europe just simply is none of our business.

For hundreds of years it has been an armed, bloody battlefield and there is nothing that we can, or should, do about it because Europe seems to prefer to remain what it has always been.

The royal visit, of course, is only the coarsest and most brazen sort of propaganda to attempt to excite sympathy for Great Britain in this country.

The propaganda for letting Britain have further credit in this country is already under full steam. It does not matter that Britain is the nation which called us "Uncle Shylock" when we asked payment of the war debts.

Britain is in trouble now and needs money and she goes out in the highways and byways of the world to beg or wheedle it wherever she can.

But the contempt underlying that "Uncle Shylock" will still be present in the British mind even if repressed temporarily.

By R. C. Hoiles ROOSEVELT'S PURPOSES

Roosevelt inquires as to whether the retailers approve of the purposes of the administration and object to the methods.

If his purpose, as his actions seem to indicate, is to compel two-thirds of the people, who are the largest producers, to sacrifice their own welfare in order to promote the general welfare of the one-third who now have the least to consume, because of their own inefficiency, certainly every student of social problems would oppose this purpose; because experience has shown this purpose can only lead eventually to even lowering the standard of living of those the plan intends to help.

If, however, the purpose is to raise the standard of living of those deprived of what they have produced by monopolies, and, at the same time, raise the standard of living of all the people and of posterity, then his purpose is a worthy aspiration and everyone should support it.

But there is a great deal of confusion on this very point and therefore needs frank discussion. The one raising the standard of living of ALL the people, and especially those not getting a free market value for what they produce, is an aspiration that can be accomplished and will do a great deal of good, judging from the laws sponsored by Roosevelt--helping those who themselves produce little at the expense of the larger producers--seems to be his purpose. And this means that the whole structure will collapse.

As Herbert Spencer says, "The higher the state of civilization, the more different, the more heterogeneous the people become. The lower the state of civilization, the more alike, the more homogeneous, they become."

Roosevelt and the New Dealers, it seems, do not understand this law of nature.

LIBERTY BY AN ALLIANCE WITH TYRANNY

It is an old statement that politics make strange bed-fellows. There probably never was a stronger example of this statement than the so-called democracies of England and France making a military alliance with Russia in order to preserve liberty.

Sir Philip Gibbon, author of "Now It Can Be Told," has just issued a book, "Across the Frontier." In this, he explains the conditions that brought about the World War. He cannot understand how England, or any other government that seeks to preserve liberty can align themselves with communist Russia. Following are Sir Philip Gibbon's comments:

"They include Russia among the democracies when envisaging this holy war. They are allying themselves with the most autocratic power today. For the defense of free speech they are allying themselves with those who deny it. For the sake of liberty they look for aid to a new tyranny of iron discipline. It is this association with Communism which has been one of the causes of abdication of intelligence, the death of liberal ideals and the resurrection of violence. Through a twisted logic they include Russia among the democracies. Let us keep our sense of proportion. The very people who are stirred to passionate anger by arrests in Germany are coldly indifferent to the death and starvation of more than 2,000,000 peasants in the Ukraine because they dared resist the orders of Stalin."

It would seem that people who are really fighting for liberty have a strange conception of how it can be preserved to align themselves with Russia, the very antithesis of liberty. Truly, consistency thou art a jewel.

PUTTING GERMANY AND ITALY IN TEXAS AND NEW MEXICO

Samuel Pettengill, in his syndicated articles, points out the difficulties Germany and Italy have to support themselves with their limited territory and natural resources.

He uses this illustration. Put the people of Italy and Germany in the states of Texas and New Mexico. He points out that the area of Germany and Italy together are just about equivalent to the area of Texas and New Mexico; that the population of Germany, together with Austria and Czechoslovakia is about 85,000,000 people, while the population of Italy is about 45,000,000. So, a population approximately equal to the United States would have to be supported in an area of Texas and New Mexico.

Then, Mr. Pettengill asks whether the people would be satisfied to attempt to make a living in this territory if they were restricted from exchanging their products with other parts of the world. When it is looked at from this standpoint, it is rather hard to see how the Germans and Italians can live as well as they do.

The same authority says a friend of his told him that when they go to visit a host in Germany, they take along their own butter because it is regarded as impolite to eat the butter of your host, it being such a scarcity.

It is hard to conceive how we can expect people, under these conditions, not to fight, if they are restricted by tariffs and immigration laws.

Behind The News Of The Day

WASHINGTON--The bloc on the hill pushing for legislation to tear apart the financial structure of railroads and put it together again will have an inside aide in a high place in the person of Jerome Frank, newly chosen chairman of the Security and Exchange Commission.

Reforms in financing advocated by Senator Wheeler of Montana and other members of Congress have been documented with philosophic speeches and SEC opinions by Frank.

Frank looks like a Spanish don--dark, oval-faced; and he plays with words with the facility of a torador flicking a bull. He was a high priced attorney in New York before he joined the New Deal in 1933 and during a two year recess between New Deal jobs he became the high-priced attorney again. Washington, currently at odds over $23 a week salaries for WPA white collar hands, had a whale of a good time over a dispute between Frank and the Interstate Commerce Commission as to whether he should be paid $10 an hour or $13 an hour as counsel for two years in reorganization of the Missouri Pacific Railroad. As attorney's pay goes in the upper brackets it was fairly low, but what a contrast.

A Top-Flighter The fact is that in these parts Frank is considered one of the really top flight figures in government, although he is not one of President Roosevelt's inner circle. His ideas are so challenging that in spite of his calm presentation of them he is frequently tilting with people both outside and inside the New Deal.

AS THE ROYAL PARTY GOES INTO THE HOME STRETCH

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 6.--Short takes: Metro has a special dining room for top executives where all the food is on the house. The studio figures it saves money on this arrangement because its dollar-a-minute geniuses don't have to waste time waiting for checks and change.

A newcomer marvels: "This is the only company in the business that can afford to pay $5,000 a week and board."

Margaret Lockwood, who's as British as they come, unmercifully ribs the broad-A American, Doug Fairbanks Jr. for his Mayfair ways. He has to have hisiffin and muffins every afternoon on the "Ruler of the Seas" set and consumes more than all the authentic Britishers in the cast.

In the new scripts are several threats of the revival of slapstick comedy. Edna May Oliver must kick Lyle Talbot in the pants for the last scene of "Second Fiddle." In "Stronger Than Desire," Walter Pidgeon paddles Rita Johnson in the orthodox way. Alice Faye takes a custard pie, full-face, in "Fallen Star," and it will be tossed by Buster Keaton. In "A Day at the Circus," Harpo Marx doesn't get to chase any blonds, but a blond will chase Harpo. Incidentally, Harpo will do some trap-drumming in this film, and Chico will go to town on a calopoe.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," now in production, almost certainly will be Frank Capra's last picture for Columbia. There is no other studio in Hollywood where he can work with so little executive meddling and interference, but the director is listening to bids and may sign Samuel Goldwyn.

Washing Faces. Sigrid Gurie (remember Norway's "Flower of Plutosh?") has been almost forgotten by Hollywood since "Marco Polo" and "Algers." Now she's working in a little picture called "Forgotten Woman."

Dorothy Frank, who's 19 years old and married, works as Linda Ware's stand-in and looks so like a child of 14 that she was reported a truant by a representative of the Board of Education.

The Dead End Kids, whose tough characterizations have been protested by parent organizations, will be cleaned up in a new film--"The Angels Wash Their Faces."

The owner of a local undertaking establishment has taken out a license as an actor's agent and will win either way. "Front Page," which was too sizzling for identical revival under modern censorship, is to be revamped with a gal reported (Irene Dunne) as the central figure.

There the smooth-shaved men were tagged like traffic violators with labels of four varieties, as follows: 1. My wife won't let me. 2. My sweetheart won't let me. 3. I ain't able. 4. I'm just plain ornery.

But censors blue-painted the line. Stage-door crowds in New York, says Irving Hoffman, testify to the big fan following still held by Nancy Carroll, who's clicking in "I Must Love Someone." And now some of the studios are trying to lure her back. . . . Metro is expected to buy the screen rights to Billy Rose's "Aqueduct," and several of the non-bidding studios already are planning bathing-beauty flickers.

What Do You Know About FISHING? This is the ninth in a series of 12 quizzes prepared by NEA Service writers and columnists; who are regular contributors to this newspaper.

By JIMMY DONAHUE NEA Service Outdoor Writer Come on, folks, we'll put your angling knowledge to the test--and you won't have to move from your easy chair!

In this game, let's suppose each one of our questions is a fish, swimming about in a pool. These fish are of various weights and sizes, depending on how difficult they are to hook.

It's possible to end the expedition with 15 pounds of fish--if you answer all questions correctly. But, if you total 10 pounds or better, you are doing O. K.

Let's go a'ir that first one--a little fellow, worth 2 pounds:

1. From what nation did the brown trout come? Now for a big baby--a four-pounder:

2. What fly is most often associated with salmon fishing? Well, if you missed him, you missed him. How about casting for this three-pound fish:

3. To what "pan-fish" family does the black bass belong. Now to two small ones, each one worth a half-pound:

4. Who is the "Patron Saint" of anglers. What great book did he write? Just one left. But it's the one that can make your fishing trip a success. He's valued at five pounds:

5. What is the true name of the fish variously known as wall-eyed pike, dore, jack salmon, blue pike, and erroneously, pickerel? Let's look on the Classified Page to see how your catch stacks up.

Wake! Arouse! Give heed that you may hear; Top O' Texas Fiesta time draws near. Sweet cowgirls, re-de-s, Top in all, sweetest show--Attend this one, again another year.

When an auto with a Texas license comes to a stop in most Eastern cities it immediately becomes an object of curiosity. . . . Whoops. . . . Nice work if you can get it. Junior Chamber of Commerce Fiesta sponsors will take no chance on the rain. . . . They'll be insured against losing money on their rodeo because of any ideas the weatherman might get to put a wet blanket on any of the four performances. . . . But, the weatherman has already promised the grand, sunny weather for the Fiesta. . . . Reckon you can depend on it?

PRETTY GIRLS, more than ever this year, will have prominent roles in the Fiesta program and particularly in the parade on Tuesday. . . . They're going to lend plenty of color and beauty to the splendid celebration.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein The two diseases in which modern psychiatry has made the most definite advance are paresis and dementia praecox. In Europe paresis was called the "officers' disease" because it afflicted the army at the expiration of their enlistment, but the officers continued until they became much older and eventually developed paresis from untreated syphilis.

The fact that many a soldier came back from the tropics and seemed to escape the disease caused Prof. Wagner von Jauregg to assume that some of the tropical diseases were antagonistic to syphilis. This led him to try the inoculation of patients with paresis with the organisms of malaria. Apparently the fever produced by the malaria was significant in opposing the disease called general paresis.

Today artificial fever, or heat treatment, seems to be bringing about remarkable results in the control of this disease. The two great epochs in this regard are the discovery by the Japanese investigator, Noguchi, that the disease is caused by the spirochetes of syphilis which get into the brain, and the application of the heat method to the control of the disease.

Most recent in the work of psychiatry is the attack of dementia praecox, or schizophrenic insanity, now responsible for at least 60,000 patients in institutions and perhaps another 30,000 in early stages of the disease. Some experts say there are more people, including noted statesmen, poets and financiers, who have this disease in a mild stage outside the institutions than are inside.

The new methods of treatment include the use of insulin to produce a form of shock, and the use of metrazol to produce convulsions. Apparently the use of either of these drugs sets up fundamental changes in the constitution of the person concerned--perhaps in the brain, and physical changes thus developed tend to react on the disease.

Apparently considerable numbers of patients who formerly would have spent all their lives in sanitariums and hospitals are now being released and are able to carry on the usual work of the day.

Both methods are serious in their application and should never be

Editor: What National Policy Will Best Promote Peace?

The best policy is for our national government to create a spirit of friendship among all nations instead of creating an atmosphere of hatred such as is going on today against the Rome-Berlin axis. . . . Rome goes by without the President or some member of his cabinet making a bitter attack on the totalitarian powers of Europe, of course as much as we disagree with their form of government, after all it is their own choosing and not any of our affair.

We should let the nations of Europe settle their disputes the best way they can, we should show no favoritism to either side, we should teach the American people that the Germans and Italians have much more difficult problems than we in America have, with much less resources to combat them with, therefore we in America should look on in a friendly manner and not meddle in European affairs.

Had this policy been pursued the recent peace message would have been received in a much more friendly manner, and would have had a much better bearing on the negotiations involved to a peaceable understanding, as it was it was received with cold, sarcastic remarks and only angered the two powers it was addressed to, because it pointed out only two powers as being the cause of all the trouble in Europe.

This only goes to show how the administration is trying to make the American people see only two trouble-makers in Europe and that creates a hatred against the German and Italian people.

This policy continued will lead us into a war in Europe much sooner than we entered the last one. Now then the best policy to promote peace is for all the citizens in every walk of life to let your congressman know that you desire peace, and that you are not in favor of entering into an alliance with any European power, do this now don't wait until war breaks out for it will be too late then.

Surely no one would want to risk the New Deal leading them into war after seeing them make such a blundering failure combating the depression, if they used the same tactics conducting a war they used on the depression it would probably go on forever.

World peace will come when the people work for it. Put men to work and you will have peace. Busy, prosperous nations do not want war. It is only when men are idle and nations poor that their thoughts turn to war.

(Signed) J. WALLACE, Route 2, Alameda, Texas. Editor: The News "What National Policy Will Best Promote Peace?"

In these fearful times the question that is foremost in my mind is this: What causes war? "Suppression of the press" is the real cause of any war. Regardless of what you think or say this is true. Everybody knows that the dictators of Europe control their press. And whether you believe it or not the democracies control their too to a certain extent. If you remember we entered the World War to make the world safe for democracy. After all the smoke of battle had cleared away we heard that some capitalists in their greed for more money were plotting to plunge this country into that bloody conflict. Just suppose the press had been given the right to tell what was really happening behind closed doors before the war. You can judge for yourself whether there would have been a war or no.

Then another thing that causes war is that men and nations forsake the only true and living God to follow after false gods such as power, money, hate, selfishness and others. Men and nations that leave the only true and living God out of their lives are bound for destruction. History proves this over and over again. If the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," were followed wars would come to a sudden end.

Wars are often caused by nations not attending to their own business. Meddling where they have no business to meddle. Finally becoming so involved that they couldn't keep out of war; if they wanted to.

So what national policy, other than that of the peace, God-fearing and attend to your own business, could more successfully promote peace?

Mrs. O. D. McEllian, Friona, Texas used except in a hospital under controlled conditions. In fact the convulsions induced by the metrazol are in some instances so severe as to cause slight breaking of the bones of the spine which are pulled on when the muscles and ligaments contract. All over the country today experts are combining these methods with mental treatment and with the use of other remedies to bring about improvement in patients with dementia praecox or the insanity of adolescence. If this condition can be brought under control, the saving in lives and money will be well high indeed.

In a survey of his life and work just before he died, Dr. William Anson White, one of the most noted psychiatrists ever developed in America, condemned that tendency in medicine which tended to make the specialist a glorified technician and caused him to forget that every patient must be considered as a whole human being, including his personality and psychological attributes as well as the physical changes that have taken place in his body. This new emphasis on the consideration of every sick human being as a whole is one of the greatest triumphs of modern psychiatry.

Vannoy Hurts As Oilers Win Two Games

Nell Smacks Four Hits In Second Game

Milbert Vannoy and Gordon Nell got their heads together last night in Abilene and the outcome was the Pampa Oilers won two more games from the Abilene Apaches, making it four in a row which put the Oilers in third place in the league race, two games ahead of the Amarillo Gold Sox.

The Oilers won the first game 6 to 0 when Vannoy pitched two-hit ball and his teammates fielded faultlessly behind him and the second game 14 to 5. Lefty Tye started the second game but was wild and ineffective, so Mr. Vannoy went to the mound in the second inning and hurled six innings of three-hit ball while his teammates fielded faultlessly. Vannoy was credited with both victories.

Gordon Nell and his big bat came into the picture in both games. In the opening attraction Nell batted a double but it wasn't until the nightcap that he got going to hit a home run, two doubles and a single on his five trips to the plate.

The Oilers got seven hits in the opening game, two each by Manager Grover Seitz and Jack Cross, and one, a double, by Bailey. Thirteen hits rang off the Oiler bats in the second game. Nell leading with four, followed by Swift with two.

Vannoy Comes Through.

Vannoy fanned two and walked two in the first game and also let up only two hits, singles by Loken, former Amarillo shortstop now with Abilene, and Hillin, leftfielder. Lefty Tye, being given a thorough tryout by the Oilers, allowed two hits and walked three in the first inning of the nightcap. Vannoy immediately offered to go back and he allowed only one run and three hits in the six innings he worked. Vannoy fanned four and walked three.

With Vannoy going back last night, it left the Oiler pitching staff in good shape for a seven-game series with Midland, three in Midland starting tonight and four with Abilene here, starting Friday night, and ending with a doubleheader on Sunday afternoon.

Manager Seitz will now have Grady Verringa and Hutson ready to work with Tye a possible starter. That will mean Vannoy can take a four-day rest if the pitching staff comes through without being knocked from the mound by the cellarsites.

Last night's victories put the Oilers in third place with 23 wins and 18 losses or two full games ahead of the Amarillo Gold Sox, who dropped their first night game in Amarillo 6 to 6 to Lamesa. Lubbock clung to first place with a win over Midland while Big Spring defeated the Clovis Pioneers.

Bob Britton Hopes To Win Middleweight

CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—The son Jack Britton never intended raising to become a fighter aspired to win the middleweight championship of the world.

The youngster is Bobby Britton, 21-year-old welterweight. His dad twice won the welterweight championship and fought with amazing success for 26 years.

Old Jack Britton's intentions for his son were the best but the youngster decided, at the tender age of 13, to fight for the fun of it just as his dad in starting as an alley fighter in Chicago more than 35 years ago.

The ring career of his son started in Miami, Fla., now the home of the Britton family, while his dad was absent from the city.

Young Britton was presented before a critical crowd of his dad's admirers at the Marigold Garden last night and dropped a close round decision to Mill Aron, fighting son of a Dubuque, Iowa, rabbi. Young Britton was floored by a right-hand smash to the chin in the second round for a count of nine but gamely got up, just as his father had done many a time, carried the fight to his opponent and won the praise of the crowd. The old timers nodded his head, declaring the youngster has all of his dad's fighting skill, his crafty left hand, his ability to roll with punches and the all-important courage.

Old Jack, teaching his son the tricks of the game, doesn't boast that he has hopes. He says the youngster is a fairly good puncher, a capable boxer and is game to the core.

The youngster is a dead ringer for his dad, in features and build. He scales 146 pounds and is growing rapidly.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Scopapade: Alabama is bigger and better this year and really has got the stuff . . . Old Nap Lajoie, wanted for the baseball centennial celebration, finally was located at Mentor, Ohio, through a newspaper want ad . . . Long distance guess on the National Open finish: Nelson, Picard, Cooper, Guidahl, Snead, Metz, Hogan, and Wood . . . Forget those stories that Tennessee already has signed for next year's Orange Bowl game. Tennessee is shooting for a $80,000 date Jan. 1 and you can guess where.

You can laugh at the Dodgers and their midnight triple plays, but they're the first big league team to pass the 300,000 mark in home attendance . . . Spud Chandler told Atlanta papers he'll be taking his regular runs with the Yankees in two weeks . . . Bob Henrich, ace pitcher and captain of the U. of Wisconsin nine, passed up offers from five other major league clubs to sign with the Giants.

Today's Guest Star.

Bob Ray, pitcher released by the Yankees, is known in baseball and ice cream circles as the "bad humor man."

Monty Stratton, who still insists he'll pitch again, is tossing 'em up in lifting practice.

Russo, a 16-year-old high schooler, will portray the role of Al Schacht in the Cavalcade of Baseball at Cooperstown next Monday . . . The grapevine says John Myrt, Brooklyn trainer, got the air for neglecting to report several absences from the reservation of Baron Boots Poffenberger.

Today's Best Story.

Walter Misiak, catcher for Lima in the Ohio State league, was called out on strikes . . . He thought the last pitch was a ball and went back to the dugout to change bats . . . He returned to the plate and was fanned for a second time before the umpire, official scorer and rival manager realized what was going on . . . What hurt was the second whiff retired the side.

One Minute Interview.

Oscar Vitti: "Ben Chapman's base running in the White Sox series reminds me of a Newark rookie who was caught trying for a long shot extra base . . . Coming into the bench, he apologized, 'I guess I overhustled.'"

As a climax to the three-day celebration observing the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, President Roosevelt kindled the "Flame of Eternal Peace," a natural gas flame, atop Gettysburg memorial.

Missions Beat Cats In Seventh 5 To 1

(By The Associated Press.)

San Antonio's Missions woke up suddenly in the seventh inning last night to end a pitchers' battle and defeat the Fort Worth Cats, 5-1.

By winning the Missions went into a tie for fourth place in Texas league standings with the Cats, ran up a winning string to nine and snapped the Fort Worth team's string of victories at seven.

Ed Cole of the Missions and Stan Corbett of the Cats tied up in a mound battle for the first six innings.

Dallas, going down before Beaumont, 4-1, in the opener of the series, slipped into a tie with Shreveport for first place as rain kept the Sports and Tulsa and Houston and Oklahoma City idle.

Manager Al Vincent led his Exporters to victory with four singles in four trips.

Longview May Lose Baseball Franchise

JACKSONVILLE, June 6 (AP)—President C. P. Mosley of the East Texas league said yesterday a tentative poll had been taken to determine sentiment in event it became necessary to move the franchise from Longview.

No efforts were being made to move the franchise and Longview would be given every chance to remain it, he said.

Earlier at Marshall President C. J. Demmer of the Marshall club had said he had been asked whether his club would approve a plan for removal of the Longview franchise to Lufkin.

Nine Home Runs Knocked In Game

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 6 (AP)—Scorer Frank Weirn was still a bit sassy today from the job of tabulating hits and runs in the game between Springfield and Decatur in the Three-Eye baseball league.

His score book showed the following statistics for the nine-inning game which decatur won 15 to 10: nine home runs, two triples, seven doubles, and 15 singles—a total of 71 bases hammered off the six pitchers used in the slugfest.

Cochet Praises Budapest Star

BUDAPEST—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—A lad who made his first racket from a ball of twine and an old wooden box is carrying the tennis hopes of Hungary to Wimbledon this summer.

He's a rank newcomer—this 19-year-old Joseph Asboth—and too much shouldn't be expected of him when he faces the world's great stars on English turf. But next year . . . well, you can take the word of the old tennis musketeer, Henry Cochet, that "Josie-Boy" will crash his way into the international first ten.

Cochet, who used to battle for the Davis cup under the tricolor of France, has been clucking like a hen with one chick ever since he discovered Asboth a few months ago. "Josie-Boy" was just a government clerk at $5 a week, but last year he had won the Budapest singles title and there was a fiery zip to his service, machine precision to his volleys.

Cochet took him under his wing. He gave him a chance on Hungary's 1939 Davis cup team. And Asboth made good.

In the first round against Rumania Asboth vanquished two singles foes. Then came the second round against Yugoslavia—and Asboth threw Budapest into ecstasy by trouncing the internationally-rated Franjo Puncce in four sets. Next day he lost to Dimitri Mitic, also in four sets, but home-town folks accepted the "reversal" philosophically. They said, "Wait until our slender boy grows older and stronger."

Hungarians proudly draw a comparison between Don Budge, the son of an Oakland, Calif., laundry truck driver, and Asboth, whose father is a railroad crossing guard at Sombathely in the provinces.

Including last Sunday's doubleheader, the club had drawn 316,094 spectators for 23 games—or an average of 13,741.

If the present average is maintained for the season the total for the year would exceed one million paid admissions.

Standifer Will Be 3rd Man On Field

Three umpires probably will work some of the baseball games here this summer. One of them will be J. W. Standifer, who will be the third man on the field.

President Milton Price has assigned the veteran arbiter, Zeb Howell, to work with Buster Capps. Standifer will be an extra hand. He will go from town to town working with first one pair of officials and then another.

Then in case of emergency President Price will have an available extra man at all times.

Capps and Standifer worked 11 consecutive days with the Pampa Oilers before they left here on the present road trip.

Brooklyn Doing Nicely At Gate

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Though they are not exactly locked in a life and death struggle for first place in the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers are doing very nicely at the gate.

Including last Sunday's doubleheader, the club had drawn 316,094 spectators for 23 games—or an average of 13,741.

If the present average is maintained for the season the total for the year would exceed one million paid admissions.

LOS ANGELES, June 6 (AP)—Chalmers (Bill) Cisell, Hollywood infielder, was out $200 today, and President W. C. Tuttle of the Pacific Coast League was satisfied. Tuttle fined Cisell for criticism of league policies as reported in an interview by an Oakland columnist.

Increase Shown In May Car Licenses

Motor vehicle licenses issued in Gray county for May 1939, showed an increase of 100 above the figure for the corresponding month last year.

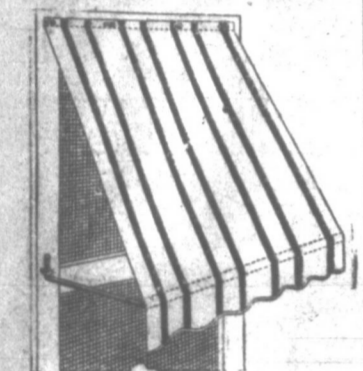

In May, 1938, there were 309 licenses issued as compared with 400 for the past month.

April, being the month when new licenses are to be obtained, was naturally the month with the greatest number. On April this year there was a total of 668 motor vehicle licenses granted here.

This figure does not include the total for the week ending April 1, included in the March report, which amounted to 2,701 licenses for that week alone.

Money received by the office of the county tax assessor-collector on motor vehicle licenses, which includes passenger trucks and commercial cars, in May this year totaled $5,441.50 as compared with $3,965.18 for Panhandle field, stationed at Pampa since 1924. He has also worked for the Texas company ever since he has been here. Most of his work is confined to cleaning out.

The World War interfered slightly with Mr. Fish's oil well drilling activities. He was in the A. E. F. for a year, and was over there three months.

Mr. Fish's Philosophy Mr. Fish has made a lot of tough wells and worked on a lot of following the oil fields he sums up his career briefly and modestly by saying that he's done a "lot of hard work and had a lot of easy days." The vice conditions in an oil field never impressed Mr. Fish very much. "If you don't want to associate with the rough element you can leave them alone," he said.

Other long-time drillers with the Texas company are V. Taylor and Harvey Landrum, drilling superintendents.

Mr. Brantley who came to Pampa in 1929, worked in the old Spindletop boom in 1903. Later he worked in Humble, Caddo, Colorado, Wyoming, fields. Also at Burk, Tonkawa, Bakerfield (1911), and the East Texas field. He lived at 115 South Wynne. He drilled his first well in the Panhandle near LeFors.

REFUGEES

would become of the refugees once the ship reached Hamburg, Dedrick said.

"They will be put ashore. They are not our problem."

Bernard H. Sandler, an attorney representing groups interested in the refugees, said Dedrick had assured him if he would put up a $50,000 bond the ship could be brought back. He said $60,000 had been pledged.

"If nobody will take these refugees," Sandler said, "we will appeal to President Roosevelt to send an emergency message to Congress to suspend the immigration law until the status of these unfortunate can be determined. I believe Congress will give them temporary asylum here when it is made plain they are returning to certain death in Germany."

they were linked with a terrorist campaign.

Shooting Mysterious Depest mystery surrounded the shooting and the motive behind it. The only authorized statement of Scotland Yard said:

"The duchess, sister-in-law of King George VI, went on to the theater despite the shooting. With her was Lady Portarlington. They saw 'Withering Heights.' The duchess, the former Princess Marina of Greece, is 32 years old and known for her beauty and chic.

Her automobile was untouched by the shotgun blast.

Lawlor was brought before Magistrate Clyde Wilson in Westminster police court shortly before noon with Detective Inspector Henry Hayward as prosecution witness.

The officer offered in evidence a shotgun, its barrel sawed off at about 12 inches.

Hayward testified Lawlor insisted he had a certificate of ownership for the weapon. The witness added that Lawlor acknowledged having had the weapon in Belgrave Square.

Duchess Unaware The duchess was not aware exactly what happened until her return from the movie last night.

The Duke of Kent, youngest brother of the king, had left the house a short time before his wife to keep a speaking engagement and he also was advised upon his return to Belgrave Square.

The Earl of Harewood, husband of the princess royal, himself called Scotland Yard about the window in their Green street home. There was a tiny hole in the pane, and glass around the hole was splintered.

The police found no immediate connection between the two incidents. They had under consideration, however, the possibility that sympathizers with the outlawed Irish Republican army, king-hating advocates of Irish independence, were responsible.

Three policemen in place of the customary one were assigned to the Kent home but only one was on guard this morning at the Harewood house.

Both the Duke and Duchess of Kent and the Harewoods had had previous experiences for which the I. R. A. was blamed.

The duke, who leaves for Australia in October to be governor general, and his duchess postponed a visit to Ulster April 17 because of threats attributed to the Irish extremists.

Beneficial Foresees Successful Fiesta

A large attendance at the regular weekly luncheon of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Schneider hotel at noon today was presided over by Carl Benefiel to indicate a successful celebration here on June 13-14, when the Top O' Texas Fiesta is held.

Mr. Benefiel, general chairman of the fiesta, said there "was a lot of enthusiasm shown" and he believed the fiesta would be presented in good style.

At a general meeting of committee chairmen Monday night, Mr. Benefiel said reports from each committee showed nearly all of their work had been completed.

The Jaycees, sponsors of the fiesta, will handle the soft drink concessions at the old time dances in the high school gymnasium and at Recreation park grandstand.

Jimmie Dodge is in charge of the concessions and is now ready to receive concessions for the sale of popcorn and peanuts. Bids must be in by Thursday, Mr. Benefiel said.

SALES TAX

ational amendment levy, said he thought the House was "wasting time" considering the Dwyer proposal.

His motion to table the bill lost by 52 ayes to 47 noes.

"I want to register my opposition to pleading further with the Senate to pass a tax bill," Isaacs said. "We have performed our duty in sending the Senate two bills, both of which a committee turned down."

"They have said to us, in effect, 'Gentlemen, we don't want to finance social security!'"

The governor said, in effect, he did not want the legislature to pass a tax bill. He advocated the constitutional amendment and denounced the omnibus bill we sent the Senate, even before it reached him.

"When you go home, you can tell the people you did all you could to help the old folks. Had the Senate performed its duty (in passing a tax bill) this house, I'm sure, would have concurred."

Rep. Roy Baker of Sherman interrupted Isaacs to say:

"The people of Texas won't be interested in alibis, Mr. Isaacs. They are going to say 'You didn't get the job done.'"

The El Paso member declared he was ready to adjourn and go home and that if the Senate wished to help the old folks, it could reconsider the bills we've sent them and we need not vote out another."

He said, the greatest advocate of liberalized old age pension besides Townsend, the governor, has never asked us to levy a tax for pensions."

tain congressional support for the Lewis proposal for labor legislation against what he termed anti-union employers.

To broaden its application, he suggested loans, contracts and subsidies also be denied violators of the Wagner labor act.

The proposal was contained in a statement for the Senate labor committee in support of a bill by Senator LaFollette (Prog., Wis.) to outlaw use of spies, guards and munitions in industrial disputes.

The bill's provision to impose economic sanctions against corporation violators was termed by Lewis as the "essential part of the bill."

"Outlawing the labor spy, the professional strikebreaker, the oppressive armed guard, the corruption of police and the private arsenal is not enough," he said.

"It is necessary to make all these measures evasion proof by putting economic as well as statutory teeth into the bill."
