NEW HOSPITAL AT BORGER BURNS GRAF ZEPPELIN MANEUVERS TO AVOID STORM THREAT BISHOP JAMES CANNON LIKELY TO BE SPARED CHURCH TRIAL

CONTRITION IS CITED AS ONE MAIN FACTOR

Official Admits That He Had "Made Mistake"

TELLS ORALLY OF HIS REGRET

Report Is Attacked
As Irregular and Illegal

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—The contrition of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., plus the publicity given his case, saved him from a church trial on charges of stock market speculation, it was disclosed today in the report of the committee on episcopacy to the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The bishop's contrition was shown as he made an oral statement to the conference after the committee's exonerating report was submitted. Tears in his eyes, he hobbled back to his seat after he had publicly admitted that he "made a mistake."

Years of another sort welled into the eyes of another member of the conference, Judge G. T. Fitzgibbon of Memphis, the principal accuser of the bishop. His face red with anger, he gained the attention of the chair just after the report was read, and protested against the report, which he charged was irregular and illegal. A few hisses and many cheers greeted the Memphis attorney as he returned to his seat.

Rescinded Action

The committee report disclosed that a previous action had ordered a trial for Cannon, but that this action had been rescinded.

"Your committee decided," the report said, "that if by a trial the bishop's 'improper conduct' could be established, such a finding would be tempered by his avowal that his actions were committed without that he was doing something unworthy of ministerial character and hurtful to the church that the expressed contrition of spirit and mind and his actions brought pain and embarrassment to the church would not be ignored by Christian believers and that his definite statement of purpose never again to engage in such practice could not be disregarded. Therefore your committee agreed that the development of this case as stated, together with the publicity here given, would accomplish in fact as much a defense of the church's position as would be accomplished by a trial committee."

The report included the letter of Bishop Cannon, sent after the committee already had voted to bring him to trial, and which persuaded the committee to rescind its action. "I now realize the impropriety of such transactions," the bishop wrote, "and am sorely grieved that they have brought pain and embarrassment to the church."

Action Hurt Church

These statements were repeated by Bishop Cannon orally today. "I desire," he said, "in the presence of the members of this body to reiterate face to face the statements in my letter to the committee. I did make a mistake in the transaction in question; I sincerely regret that mistake, especially since I have learned that my actions have injured the church."

In the first paragraph of its report the committee told how it had about faced on the matter of trying him.

"These complaints (touching upon his stock market transactions) were presented to us in detail and supported by exhibits. The bishop was given all the time he desired to make a full statement. After hearing the statement the committee decided to invite the bishop to the general conference for trial, and a subcommittee was appointed to photograph clouds and landscapes.

Well Known Amateur Photographer and Salon Judge of New York Here Vacationing and Meeting Friends

William A. Alcock Is Attorney for White Deer Land Firm, But Chief Hobby Is Making Pictures

One of the foremost amateur photographers of the world, William A. Alcock, attorney for the Foster interests which embrace the White Deer Land company, arrived in Pampa this week to spend part of a vacation. Today he was greeting old friends at the White Deer Land office.

Mr. Alcock who has been coming to Pampa off and on for 26 years said that he will not leave here "until the spirit moves me." For the last week he was touring New Mexico with Charles Tignor. They returned to Pampa yesterday. Mr. Alcock is well-known to oldtimers here.

Pampa's history has been intimately connected with Mr. Alcock's activities, although he has lived in New York during that time. To him goes the distinction of drawing the original map of Pampa. Those plans were drawn by Mr. Alcock 26 years ago on a visit here.

Ten years ago, Mr. Alcock was reading a book on roses which was profusely illustrated with roses in bloom. He decided that he had finer and lovelier roses than those exhibited in the book, and he bought a camera to prove to the public what he had privately decided. His first photographs were of his own roses. He was not satisfied with his first pictures and he made more. After that the hobby grew on him and he quickly developed his talent.

Today Mr. Alcock is known wherever fine photography is appreciated. He has exhibited photographs in almost every cultured city of the world—from New Zealand to England. He is known to practically every photographer of the United States, England, Canada, Ireland and most western nations, who takes his art seriously. Photography with him is purely a hobby and he has sold only one of his photographs. He said yesterday that he will never sell another one. "It brought $25 at an exhibition in Toronto, Canada, but it was one of my favorites. I have always regretted selling it."

Mr. Alcock is one of the 14 fellows of the Royal Photographic Society of London living in the United States. He has contributed many articles to the leading photography magazines of the United States and England, and he has acted as judge in some of the most important photography exhibits of the U. S. He is now a member of the Pictorial Photographers of America, the Pittsburgh Salon, the Los Angeles Salon, International Circle of Pictorial Photographers of Liverpool, England, Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, Salamagundi Club of New York, Newark Camera club, and the Photographic Society of Philadelphia.

In every day of the year, some of Mr. Alcock's photographs are being exhibited in some part of the world. They have been seen and admired in the leading capitals of Europe and principal cities of Australia. In the 10 years, Mr. Alcock has studied and practiced his art he has mastered every known printing and developing process.

Portraiture is his special hobby. The favorite photograph that he has done is a snow scene at the general post office in New York City. One of his famous characterizations is "Bill," a tramp sitting on the beach. He says that his photographs only that which pleases him to photograph. He has practiced his hobby in many countries in Europe and in the United States and Canada. He likes best to photograph people because a person is the best medium for the expression of his art, he says. Living in New York, he has had few opportunities to photograph clouds and landscapes.

Occurrence

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, May 20. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, reporting her position about 400 miles southwest of Cadix, this afternoon wirelessly her home port that she was proceeding in the direction of Madeira to avoid a storm threat near the Canaries and to pick up favorable trade winds.

The Graf reported that contrary winds were slightly slowing down her progress. The island of Madeira is about 200 miles due north of the Canaries.

SEVILLE, Spain, May 20. (AP)—Retracing the course of the Spanish Conquistadores of four centuries ago, the Graf Zeppelin, giant German dirigible, left the airport here at 8:30 a. m. (3:30 a. m. E. S. T.) today on a 3,750-mile journey to Pernambuco and Rio Janeiro, Brazil.

The dirigible circled the airport twice, and then headed due west toward the Atlantic coast for its sixth trans-Atlantic crossing.

Aboard it were nineteen passengers, including an American woman, Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York, Prince Alfonso of Orleans, a cousin of the King of Spain, and Colonel Emilio Herrera, one of the heads of the Spanish military air service.

Passengers arrived at the Tablada airport, where the Zeppelin was moored to a specially constructed mast, early from their hotels where they had gone directly after the craft's arrival at 5:40 p. m. (12:40 p. m. E. S. T.) yesterday from Friedrichshafen. Six of the 22 passengers who came here from Germany were left behind today, three new passengers being taken instead.

Ahead of the Graf Zeppelin lay a course of 3,750 miles to Pernambuco, or Recife, Brazil, the next stop on its trip which is its first south of the equator.

Plans were to fly over the four islands groups which lie between the Iberian peninsula and Brazil, although weather conditions might cause alteration of the route. It was expected to drop a bag of mail at Tenerife, Canary Islands, 760 miles from here, and at Sao Vincente Cape Verde Islands, 845 miles further southwest.

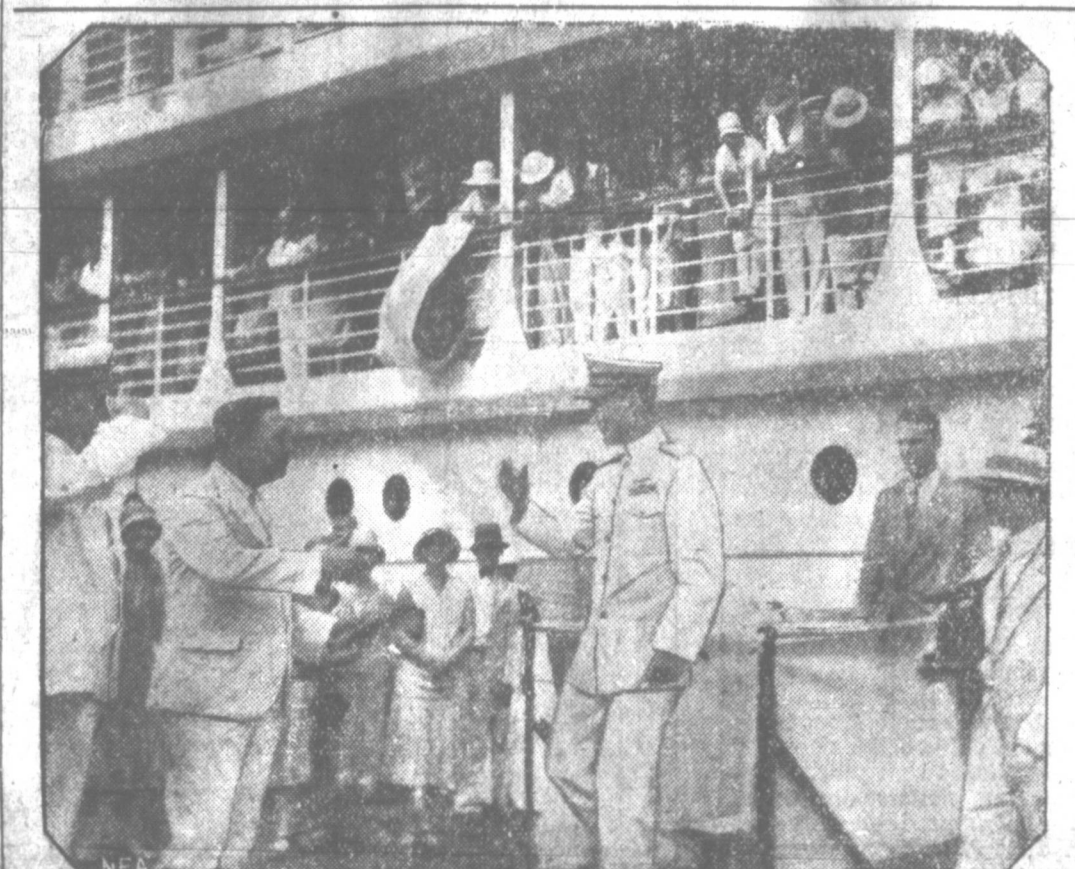

Between the Cape Verde Islands and Pernambuco there are two small islands, Saint Paul, and Fernando do Noronha, both near the Brazilian coast. It was expected that the Graf would pass over both, depending upon the weather, between here and Pernambuco. From Pernambuco south to Rio Janeiro is another 1,250 miles.

The motors were inspected thoroughly and other apparatus tested prior to beginning the long flight south of the equator. Considerable edibles such as ice cream, oranges, lemons, and other warm weather foods were loaded into the ship's larders in replacement of some of the heavier German foods which might not be so suitable for the equatorial trip.

"I expect to make Pernambuco in 48 or fifty hours," Dr. Hugo Eckener said. "I shall take a direct line to the city, passing over Tenerife, Canary Islands, and the Cape Verde Islands."

BORGER, May 20. (Special)—Mrs. L. H. Martin, Borger, and Miss Lady George Ransome, Fort Worth, jumped to safety from the second floor of the new Head hospital last night when the building was destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Martin is the wife of Dr. L. H. Martin, one of the owners of the hospital. The Martins lived on the second floor of the building. Miss Ransome, not a patient, was visiting Mrs. Martin.

Six patients were carried to safety by physicians and nurses. Loss of the hospital was estimated at $30,000. The hospital carried insurance amounting to $18,500 on building and furnishings.

The fire, of undetermined origin, started in the clinic room of the two-story brick structure about 3:30 a. m., and was discovered by a nurse Miss Amy Jo Allen, who reported it to the Martins. Before they could descend to the first floor, the lobby was a mass of flames, and the two ladies were compelled to jump. Neither was injured.

For a time fire threatened the block in which the hospital was located, but efforts of the fire department gradually lessened the menace. A few beds and other items of equipment were saved by hospital attendants.

Dr. Head announced this morning that a one-story building will be erected to replace the structure. Temporary quarters will be provided in a local hotel.

"Liquor Line" Charges Filed on Borger Citizens

AMARILLO, May 20. (AP)—Former Mayor Glen Pace of Borger and three former deputy sheriffs of Hutchinson county, Sam Jones, Burlin Millholland, and Cal Baird, today faced federal indictments charging conspiracy to violate national prohibition laws.

They were indicted yesterday along with six others, the heaviest indictment alleging 14 overt acts. The others named were Louis Grim, Johnny Jones, C. A. Mitchell, E. O. Taylor, John Ware and Mrs. Ethel Ware.

The former public officials were charged with organizing a "liquor line" for the purpose of selling and distributing liquor to retail dealers in Hutchinson county, with arranging protection for such retail dealers on condition that they deal only in liquors furnished by persons named in the indictment, and with having an understanding that a considerable portion of this liquor would be distributed to various officials.

The defendants, already under bond when they were arraigned several months ago, will be brought into court again this week to enter pleas, Alex Mood, prosecuting attorney, said. Their trials were set for the present term of court.

Baptist Preacher Held in Slaying

MOUNT VERNON, May 20. (AP)—The Rev. J. T. Smith, 70, Baptist minister of the Rock Springs community, faced examining trial today on murder charges in the slaying of W. C. Lammons, 52.

Lammons, his fellow-member on the Rock Springs school district's board of trustees, died after being struck on the head by a shotgun, allegedly wielded by Smith. Lammons' neck was broken.

The elderly minister has been married 12 years and was the father of 24 children. He claimed he learned that neighbors had been talking about him in uncomplimentary terms.

School Play to Be Repeated at Central Tonight

Bayard Veiller's popular mystery play, "The Thirteenth Chair," will be presented at Central auditorium this evening by a high school cast which gave a successful performance of it several days ago to a crowded house.

Miss VeLora Reed is director of the play. Heavy roles have appeared many times in high school dramatics and others who are making their first bow in the difficult murder mystery, with almost equal success of performance. The majority of the cast is from the graduating class, and will be seen for the last time this evening in high school dramatics.

Proceeds from the play will be used in paying for the 1930 "Harvester" year-book. The curtain will rise at 8 o'clock. Between-scene novelties will add much to the entertainment.

TULSA, Okla., May 20. (AP)—The Daily average production of light and heavy crude oil in the United States during the week ending May 17 increased 9,800 and 4,042 barrels, respectively, for a total increase of 14,442 barrels according to the Oil and Gas Journal. West Texas declined slightly.

Youth Confesses To Slaying Girl

CHICAGO, May 20. (AP)—Police, quite unexpectedly, stumbled last night upon the man they believe to be the "ribbon slayer" of Mrs. Mildred Helmsing.

William H. Putscher, 19, confessed the crime. He was under arrest for burglary and was questioned by Deputy Police Commissioner Stege. During the questioning Stege accused him of the Helmsing murder. To Stege's surprise, Putscher began making a detailed statement of how he had slain the 26-year-old bride April 1 in her Oak Park home.

Mrs. Helmsing, the youth said, returned home as he was burglarizing the place. To silence her, he snatched a hair ribbon from a dresser drawer and drew it about her neck. Then he fled.

Sanity of New York Slayer Is Under Doubt

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—James "Texas Jim" Baker, confessed slayer of Henry Gaw, laboratory night watchman, pleaded guilty to second degree murder at his trial today.

Gaw, 25, and like Baker, a former sailor, was poisoned a year ago last December in the Guggenheim laboratory in The Bronx. Baker, a former employe of the laboratory, was listed among the suspects. He was arrested recently in Detroit, returned here and indicted, but his readiness to confess to the Gaw murder, and eight others believed mythical, led police to doubt his sanity.

THINKING YOUR WAY TO HAPPINESS

Old Ed Howe, famous Kansas sage, had a birthday May 8, and the fact moved William Allen White to write as follows in the Emporia Gazette:

"Today is Ed Howe's birthday. He is 77 years old. He is a wise man in his day and generation and should be happy. That is the equation of life. Man is as happy as he is wise. Our sorrows mostly are our follies. The circumstances of life are incidental. The way we meet it make our happiness. Happiness has no relation to success or failure. It is the reflex of our philosophy of life. So Ed Howe should be happy today. Anyway, Kansas, being proud of him, is happy for him and with him."

The happiness White writes about is denied most persons to a large extent. Few have philosophy of life which makes circumstances from day to day incidental. The happiness of the wise is usually the heritage of those who have lived fully and well. The young tug at the leash of circumstances, and unless they achieve a workable philosophy they go to their graves struggling for the values of life they seek but that are denied them.

And happy are they whose sense of values escape the materialism with which most of the world is chiefly concerned.

TAX ON PROPERTY VALUE OR INCOME?

It has always seemed unfair to us that the farmer must pay a set property tax regardless of whether he makes a profit.

In other words, the farmer has no escape from taxes if he has a crop failure, although the value of his property in terms of income is greatly depreciated that year. Farm leaders have long contended for tax plans under which real estate would be taxed for its productive value. The question will be the principal topic at a conference in Chicago June 25.

Any tax reform is complicated because of the necessity of breaking away from a system already in effect. Admittedly unequal and unjust, the ad valorem plan is preserved because people are afraid of something worse. Complete change of the tax system would be extremely dangerous, of course. The plan under consideration would affect the present tax structure to a large degree. The farmer gives his share to the support of his government with little regard for his "ability to pay." In fact, the farmer's taxes often are not high in proportion to the value placed upon his property, but very high in proportion to his net income. It is this fact which causes the farmer to shy at tax plans, even those intended to help him.

The proposed plan would have to have amendments and property classification. Much land is not productive or is being used for speculative purposes, and therefore would have to be taxed in proportion to its estimated value, compared with the average productivity of neighboring farms.

Taxation based on "ability to pay" or on the productivity of the soil would benefit the farmer, and would be more equitable.

Parents want temptations removed from sight of their lively children and they blame everyone but themselves if things go wrong. The good gardener breeds stronger plants for rigorous conditions, adapting the plant to the climate in which it is to grow. Building fences around plants and humans does not breed a stronger race.

A horseman is an enthusiast one had better not meet unless he wants to har about horses. As an ex-cow-puncher, our idea of horses is not that of the average Kentucky derby fan. The average cowboy likes his horse, but not in the same way that the jockey worships his mount. The spirit of the derby is still a long way from the ranch.

Kansas City, with a half million people, is putting on a campaign to "act and be as big as it is." Yeah, when you become a city it is time to put aside smallish town ways. Let's act out ten thousand and more.

Collect Twenty Millions

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 20. (AP)—Rhode Island has a population of 685,017, an increase of 80,620 or 13.3 per cent, an unofficial computation showed today.

Newport lost 2,825 in the last 10 years. The present population is 27,430. The decrease is due in part to the difference in the personnel at the naval training station.

Mrs. Gladys Way and Mrs. Jack Griffith, Parhandle, were among yesterday's visitors here.

Mothers of Pupils Holding Attendance Records Rewarded

Recognition of the service of those mothers whose children made perfect attendance records in the grade schools of the city was given this year in the presentation of certificates of award at the close of school. Small, leather folders containing the certificates were distributed by Supt. R. B. Fisher to a surprisingly large group at each school. Similar certificates were given the pupils themselves.

Baker school led the list with 34 mothers and 40 children receiving certificates. The mothers who had two children making perfect records were: Mrs. Jesse Edge, Mrs. Earl Bates, Mrs. A. P. Gray, Mrs. M. V. Watkins, Mrs. J. W. McGee, Mrs. O. L. Bell, Mrs. S. C. Organ.

TODAY, AS FOR YEARS

BUICK

DEDICATES ITSELF TO THIS BASIC SERVICE POLICY.

"Satisfy the customer." This has been the service policy of the Buick Motor Company throughout the twenty-seven years of its history. And so faithfully has Buick followed this policy that today the familiar emblem of Authorized Buick Service means prompt, efficient and courteous maintenance to more than 1,500,000 Buick owners. Buick has twice as many owners as any other company selling cars priced above $1200.

Here are a few of the many important points of Buick's Service Policy:

More than 4,000 factory-supervised Service Stations assure all Buick owners the same fine standard of skilled Buick service. A written Warranty, covering the first 4,000 miles or the first 90 days of ownership, whichever shall accrue first, guarantees every new Buick car to be free from defects in material or workmanship.

Should parts or workmanship prove defective at any time during the Warranty period, Buick dealers will supply the parts and perform the necessary labor free of charge.

In addition to careful pre-delivery tests, the Buick owner receives two major inspections without cost—one after 500 miles and another after 1500 miles of driving. These include a thorough road test of all elements of performance.

The "Tourist" and "Change of Residence" clauses permit the Buick owner to change his residence as frequently as he desires or to tour any part of the U. S. or Canada and still receive the full Warranty benefits from the nearest authorized Buick dealer.

ALL BUICK dealers fulfill these provisions of BUICK'S service policy. All dedicate themselves to the task of serving promptly, efficiently and courteously.

TIGERS CAN'T PLAY BROWNS CONTINUALLY

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Detroit Tigers could play the St. Louis Browns all the time, they might be champions of the American League. But as it is, they are perched in seventh position after stretching their winning streak to four straight games with a double header victory over the Browns yesterday in either of the major leagues. Rain and cold weather wiped out other scheduled contests.

The 5 to 4 victory in ten innings and the 4 to 2 triumph in the nightcap marked three high spots in Detroit's 1930 campaign. By taking the twin bill, the Tigers not only made it five out of eight starts against the Browns but bettered their season's consecutive winning record by two games. The double triumph also served to lift the Tigers into seventh place in the standings and shove St. Louis into the cellar.

The second division of the baseball circuit today had the aspect of a separate permanent race, only two games separating Detroit from the Chicago White Sox, who head the quartet. While ranking seventh in the percentage column, the Tigers actually trail the Browns by one-half game, having played five more times and won only two more.

As rain and cold weather took their toll of National League games, the closeness of the race remained unchanged. Pittsburgh, holding down fifth place, is only one game out of first position, occupied by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Sport Slants

by ALAN J. GOULD

It has been a long time since major league baseball got away to as hilarious a start as it has for the year 10 A. B., marking the end of the decade of clout. AFTER the BABE began hitting home runs in record quantities.

The pre-season dope has been kicked all over the premises by the performances of such teams as Washington's Senators and New York's Giants. These two clubs were world's series rivals six years ago but neither received much of a fumble in the advance figuring, especially the Senators. Neither may be 1-2 when September rolls around but a good start is a large part of the battle. Games won in April count just as much as those won in May, June, July, August and September.

The pitchers took the upper hand for the getting away, but the slugging of campaigning. Since then we've found the range before a fortnight has been terrific, with one day alone witnessing an average of nearly 18 runs, 29 hits and six pitchers for each of seven games played.

The attendance and gate receipts boomed in spite of bad early season weather. The Yankees and A's, in the only two games they were able to play in April drew $100,000. The Giants played to capacity houses in Philadelphia and Brooklyn, where it was necessary to jock the gates before game time. And 18,000 turned out in a snowstorm at Pittsburgh for an attempted inaugural that lasted less than three innings.

Earl Harry (Dutch) Clark, about whose athletic exploits around the Rocky Mountain area considerable has been written, will be graduated this June from Colorado college

17-Year-Old Gander Defies Golfers

Golfers on a new country club links just opened near Wichita, Kan., may not like it but they'll have to put up with the presence of Johnnie, 17-year-old pet gander who is privileged to wander around the greens as he chooses. When James Driscoll, Johnnie's owner, sold his farm to the golf club and moved into the city recently it was written in the $70,000 deal that Johnnie should remain on the old home place as long as he lived. Johnnie and Mr. Driscoll are shown above.

SPUDDERS IN FINE STRIDE THIS SEASON

BY GAYLE TLABOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The belief in certain quarters that the Wichita Falls Spudders lacked a capable mound staff and that their "Tulsa" infield would wilt as soon as warm weather set in is fast becoming the prize fallacy of the current Texas League race.

Anyway, the Spudders were back in full possession of the top rung today with more than a month of the campaign behind them, which is a powerful argument in any league. They got there by virtue of a 5 to 0 victory over the Dallas Steers, their second of the series, and the fact that Hank Thormahlen of the Waco Cubs hung a 3 to 1 licking on the Houston Buffs, who previously had shared the pinnacle.

Hal White, the blonde southpaw who is invincible when his sharp-breaking curves are under control, was chiefly responsible for the Spudders' triumph over the Steers. He permitted the Atzmen just two hits, one of them a single by Jones, a pinch hitter, in the eighth. The other was a rousing double by Eddie Brown, lanky Dallas gardener, who thus ran the number of consecutive games in which he had hit safely to thirty.

The Buffs dropped back a notch before Thormahlen's superb flinging. The Cub star, registering his seventh win in eight starts, held the Steers to three blows, one of them of the scratch variety. Mis-mates bunched their hits off Lingrell in the early innings to earn the verdict.

Taking advantage of Beaumont's idleness as rain pervaded the San Antonio park, Shreveport moved up into third place with a 9 to 4 win

Clingman Appeals for Bigger and Better Men to Try Kimona on Him

If there's anyone in town, the bigger he is the better, who would like to learn some of the fine points of wrestling in exchange for working out with Otis Clingman, he is asked to report at the Pla-Mor at 3 o'clock each afternoon through Thursday. Clingman made a strong appeal for sparring partners yesterday.

There are hundreds of youngsters in Pampa who want to work out with him, but Otis pines for men of beef and brawn who can wrap the kimona around his neck in such a way they'll make him struggle to get it loose. Clingman declared that his training for the match with Iota Shima Thursday night has been unsatisfactory thus far.

However, Clingman has a good chance to win at least one fall, as either the first or second fall will be wrestled as catch-as-catch-can style. Shima is famed for hurling his opponents against the ceiling in the jiu-jitsu matches. He choked Joe Kopecky into submission in two falls at Amarillo recently in a Japanese match.

All the bitterness that has grown up between wrestlers and boxers here in the last six months will likely come to a head in the mixed

Starting Blocks Not in Favor

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—If the United States wants to get a "nine-two" century into the record books, it apparently will have to nominate Frank Wykoff for the honor rather than George Simpson.

Using starting blocks, Simpson, the Ohio State speedster, amazed the track when he ran the 100 yards in 9 2-5 seconds at Chicago last June, a fifth of a second better than the listed world's record.

When the amateur Athletic Union met in annual session, Simpson's astonishing performance was approved with the proviso, however, that the use of starting blocks be sanctioned by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, which passes on all world's track and field records.

The sanction apparently will not be forthcoming. Yesterday in Berlin the records committee of the International Federation recommended rejection of the American proposal that records made with the use of starting blocks be recognized universally.

with high honors in scholarship as well as a collection of 12 varsity letters. One of the greatest all-around stars ever developed in the Far West, Clark has three letters in football, one in baseball, four each in track and basketball to show for his activities. He has turned down a number of flattering offers from other institutions to return to his alma mater as a coach next season, assisting W. T. (Bully) Van de Graaf in football and taking full charge of the basketball squad.

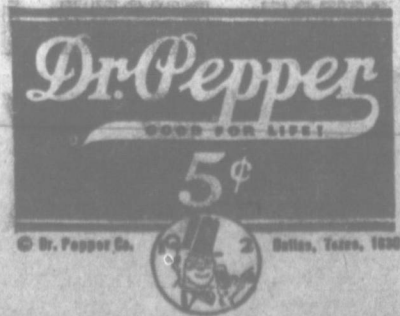

One of the most remarkable features of Clark's career is that he scaled extraordinary heights of accomplishment in spite of poor eyesight. Clark was reluctant to admit it and the fact was not generally known that it almost cut short his career. Bill Mulligan, former sports editor of the Colorado Springs Gazette-Telegraph, told me that after one basketball game, early in college, Dutch did a lot of dodging and quibbling that seemed unnecessary. When it was mentioned to him afterward, he admitted it was due to the fact that every opposing player looked like two or three men to him!

After watching the athletes perform at Franklin Field, Tommy Loughran has decided it is a good place in which to train for his fields. He has persuaded Lawson Robertson, Pennsylvania head track coach, to condition him for his ring work. For his heavyweight work, Loughran might get a few tips from Barney Berlinger, Penn's all-around strong man.

SMOKERS THE WORLD OVER stick to Chesterfield because of its thorough dependability of quality, its unchanging good taste.

GOOD TASTE!—What smoker would trade it for any number of cigarette claims? No Chesterfield smoker would. For here choice tobaccos are blended and cross-blended to a finer aroma and a richer, milder flavor to give you the utmost a cigarette can offer—

"TASTE above everything".

We state in our literature that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.

The Husband Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Natalie Converse tries to conquer her jealousy when other women admire her handsome husband Alan. When he receives a call to the home of Bernadine Lamont, a popular night club hostess, she demands that he refuse to go and that he give up a business of "that Lamer!" woman!

Bernadine is the widow of a war buddy who had saved his life, but Natalie is scornful. After a quarrel in which he taunts her for refusing to bear him children, Alan leaves and Natalie spends a miserable evening—never dreaming that he is listening to a doctor tell him that Bernadine's recovery is doubtful.

CHAPTER VII

Alan had a faint hope that Natalie would apologize for her behavior. He wanted her to come to him and tell him she was sorry, ask him to forgive her.

He decided he'd have to give her the chance to apologize. That's why he was going home. He knew it wasn't because he wanted a hot bath. Only he wasn't going to humble himself any more.

What satisfaction it had given her once, the moonlight quality of it, and her orchid-fine skin. How little it seemed to mean now.

Yet she was glad she was beautiful. It somehow gave her moral support when she went down ahead of Alan and waited in the softly lighted living room for him to finish dressing.

know we must," he said. "You wouldn't miss it for the world." Natalie's eyes widened, then narrowed in reaction to her quick anger.

Instantly, his own intentions changed. He was weary of trying to handle the situation diplomatically. Why shouldn't he be allowed to eat his dinner in a pleasant atmosphere?

Natalie toyed with the canape before her. He swallowed his in two bites. Then his rebellion burst forth in a flood.

Fitzhugh gave formal notice that the additional evidence, obtained after the sealing of the records of Kable and company, the bishop's brokers, would be filed, and declared the committee's action was "irregular, illegal and indefensible." He said a formal statement would be issued this afternoon.

Clue Is Found in Houston Case
 HOUSTON, May 20. (AP)—A serial number on the battery in a blood-stained partly burned automobile found on the Market street road and believed by police to be the W. L. Edwards "death car," loomed today as the principal clue by which officers hope to trace the occupants of the car in which the former Houston airport manager is believed to have been killed Sunday night.

The aviator's death followed a week spent in fear of his life. He told many friends and several officials he knew that gunmen had been imported to "put him on the spot."

Many Present At Revival Meeting
 A large crowd attended the revival at the Church of Christ last evening. "The Funeral of an Old Preacher" was the lesson that was used by the evangelist.

The speaker reminded the hearers of the life of the great Apostle Paul, before and after conversion. Before Paul's conversion he wasted the church of God, but when he learned that his religion was not the right kind, he turned as honestly and as humbly as he could and began to serve Christ, the preacher declared.

Next, the audience was reminded of Paul's preaching, how that he kept back nothing that was profitable. The speaker asserted that Paul was not like many of the preachers of today, for many of them preach to please men rather than God.

"Walking With God" is the subject for this evening. Come and learn how to walk with God, and then begin your journey to heaven. JESSE F. WISEMAN, Minister
