Gene Worley Favors Sales Tax Proposal

AUSTIN, June 9 (AP)—The smoke of battle cleared from legislative halls today, disclosing a battered and bleeding sales tax constitutional amendment.

The fifth attempt came yesterday. It mustered 91 yeas to 56 noes, with 100 required for adoption.

After voting down the amendment, the House refused by 56 to 47 to adopt a sine die adjournment resolution, but quickly decided to quit work until Monday. The Senate followed suit.

Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock, member of the House from this legislative district, announced before the vote yesterday that he would vote for the amendment and that he favored submission of the sales tax proposal to the voters.

The stage was dramatically set for the battle over the amendment. Lines had been drawn for weeks. Proponents had worked feverishly the past two days and Rep. E. H. Thornton, Jr., Galveston, leader, said he had pledged 104 votes for it Wednesday night. He shrugged his shoulders when asked where they were when the test came.

Opponents confident "We will bring it up next week and pass it," Thornton asserted. "We will have the necessary votes. It's a cinch now."

Equally as confident, however, were opponents. "They'll never in the world pass it," said Rep. Albert Denton of Swarth, opponent. "Our lines are solid."

No. 1 Wildcaters To Drill For Oil In Arctic Circle

PITTSBURGH, June 9 (AP)—America's No. 1 wildcaters are embarked on what may be one of their greatest oil hunts.

The eve of their 70th birthday finds Michael L. Benedict and Joe C. Trees inaugurating a quest for black gold in Northern Canada 600 miles below the Arctic circle.

Trucks and teams already are trailing northward from railroad on the Peace river to the Peace Coulee in the Peace River, Southern club manager, to the fiesta organization to help pay fiesta expenses.

Carl Benefiel, fiesta general chairman, today expressed appreciation for Mr. Walters co-operation.

New Hours Announced At Swimming Pool

New hours for the Pampa Municipal swimming pool were announced today by Manager Wilmer Postma. From now on, beginning today, the pool will be open from 10 until 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night. Previous hours were 9 until 9.

Last night, many swimmers, including persons from White Deer and several nearby towns, flocked to the pool to be refreshed by a plunge in the clear, clean blue water. Many swimmers are also renting the new streamlined suits which arrived this week. The men's and boys suits are trunks of abbreviated cut in all colors, and the women's and girls suits are also in all colors. There is not an old-fashioned suit in the bunch. They also come in all sizes.

Rental price of the suits is 20 cents. Season swimming tickets to the pool are $8 for adults and $4 for children. Single tickets are 25 cents for adults if you have your own suit and are not yet 16, and 10 cents for children below eight years old.

Water was changed in the pool day before yesterday. The filtration system has been working perfectly, Mr. Postma said, and this means that the water is changed and purified 10 times a day. The heating system is also working. The water is heated until noon each day, and that is all that is necessary. Swimmers report that the water is perfect.

Dances Will Be Held At Southern And Schneider

Arrangements have been completed for two more modern dances on the program of the Top O' Texas Fiesta to be held here Tuesday and Wednesday, Carl Benefiel, general chairman, said today.

This will make a total of seven dances in all to be held here during the annual celebration, three old fashioned dances, all to be held at the high school gymnasium, and four modern dances.

Modern dances will be held at 10 o'clock on Tuesday and Wednesday at the Schneider hotel, with music by Gordon Creamer and his orchestra.

For the Southern club dances, to start at the same time and dates, music will be by Al Skovall and his orchestra. A part of the proceeds of the Southern club dance will be given by Ed Walters, Southern club manager, to the fiesta organization to help pay fiesta expenses.

Carl Benefiel, fiesta general chairman, today expressed appreciation for Mr. Walters co-operation.

Big Hats For Band Musicians Asked

Members of the Pampa High school band and junior high bands will wear big hats in the Top O' Texas Fiesta parade providing members can buy or borrow hats, Director A. C. Cox revealed today.

Director Cox today issued a call for all band members to get big hats to wear Tuesday when they march in the parade. Any person having a big hat or hats they won't be using are asked to lend them to band members.

Garden Party Like Missouri Church Social

By BETH CAMPBELL. WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The British king and queen brought a bit of Buckingham palace to the British embassy garden party, but they didn't seem to mind the definitely American touches.

New to the 1,400 guests, but old for their majesties, were the formal entry to "God Save the King," the opening of wide lanes for the royal couple to pass through, and escorts of ladies-in-waiting, squarries and Scotland Yard operatives.

But the gathering of Americans with big names and official rank on four acres of British soil under a hot sun and threatening clouds was not quite in the Buckingham palace manner.

In fact, Representative Beel, democrat, Mo., said afterwards: "It was sort of like our church socials in Missouri."

And the slim, youthful-looking king who so readily extended his hand to a Vanderbilt, a Lodge, a Rockefeller and a score of congressmen in quick succession, did not seem to notice that some men wore business suits instead of oxford gray cutaways like his own.

Or that Senator Bulow, democrat, S. D., carried a white ten-gallon hat with his formal gear instead of a gray topper like the king's.

Conversation frequently was informal. At one point, Vice President Garner was observed slapping the king on the back.

The queen, carrying a dainty ruffled parasol which matched her bouffant white dress and picture hat, put out her white-gloved hand without her ankles to a woman whom she greeted with a "Hello."

She even remarked that Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, republican, Mass., was "lucky" to have a complete raincoat in one hand ready to dress in case of rain.

While the king sat with J. P. Morgan on the terrace for a spot of tea, Queen Elizabeth was hearing some of the whimsical, homespun conversation for which Mrs. John Garner, wife the vice president, is famous.

France Emphasizes Unreserved Promise To Fight For Poland

PARIS, June 9 (AP)—Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet emphasized today France's unreserved promise to fight for Poland after conferring privately with Julius Lukasiewicz, Polish ambassador to Paris.

Bonnet, speaking at a luncheon of a group of deputies interested in French-Polish relations, underlined the assurances already given Poland by Britain and France.

PREVIEW SCENE OF FIESTA RODEOS

In four more days scenes like the one shown above will be viewed by thousands who will attend the rodeos of the annual Top O' Texas Fiesta at Recreation park. Stock for the rodeo is due to start arriving in Pampa Sunday, Lynn Beutler of Elk City, Okla., says 101 head of steers, calves, broncs and saddle horses will be shipped here for the four rodeo performances to be given on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Vet Drillers To Get Free Rodeo Tickets

By THE ROVING REPORTER. Veteran oil field workers will be given free tickets to the Top O' Texas Fiesta rodeo which this year with its elvans, high school horses, trick riders and dynamic rodeo horses, will be more than a rodeo.

The Top O' Texas Fiesta committee of which Carl Benefiel is chairman, today announced that veteran oil field workers who have been in the business at least 15 years will be given tickets to one rodeo performance.

Plans for a party were recently dismissed after a canvass was taken and it was learned that more than half of the drillers, tooldressers and roughnecks would have been unable to attend on account of being out on leave. Then, an attempt was made to find a place to hold a party where refreshments would be served and entertainment provided proved futile.

Most workers, when interviewed, expressed preference for the rodeo over such a party as had been planned. Cost of rodeo tickets for the oil field veterans at 75 cents each, will far exceed cost of the proposed party.

The free tickets will be given to workers who register, that is those who have filled out or will fill out between now and Tuesday, the blank at the end of this article. Rodeo tickets will be mailed to those who have already filled out the blanks and sent them in, and tickets will be given to those vet-

Nazis Distrust Halifax Speech

BERLIN, June 9 (AP)—Germany "distrusts" the conciliatory speeches made yesterday by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax as "a diplomatic maneuver connected with the hard sledding apparent in British negotiations with Russia," it was said today in official quarters.

There were no indications at the foreign office that Germany would treat the parliamentary statement by Lord Halifax as "a diplomatic maneuver connected with the hard sledding apparent in British negotiations with Russia," it was said today in official quarters.

Couple In Court Over Remains In Iron Casket

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 9 (AP)—A withered corpse—there are those who will tell you it once was the explorer, Hernando DeSoto—lay in no so regal state at a Memphis storage company today while Chancellor John E. Swepston turned Solomon to decide its ownership.

Disputants laid their claims to the iron casket and the bones it contained, decreed yesterday that to Mrs. Joanne Bauer belongs a two-thirds share of the remains, to Mrs. Denison, the remaining third.

Like the mothers who came before King Solomon, the claimants would not want to hack to pieces the object of their dispute—all that remains of one who might have been the discoverer of the mighty Mississippi. The chancellor thought of that, too, so he ordered the corpse sold at public auction, the proceeds to be divided in the proportion of the ownership he set.

The successful bidder at the auction—the date was not set—goes full title to and possession of the remains.

Mrs. Bauer claimed she purchased the find from two men who were with Denison when he dug the skeleton from an Indian mound across the Mississippi from Memphis almost three years ago. Denison countered with the assertion the two had previously transferred their rights in the discovery to him.

Value of the relic? "Problematical," says counsel for one of the claimants.

Sandie Band Will Head Amarillo's Fiesta Delegation

Amarillo's Golden Sandie band will lead the Amarillo delegation to the Top O' Texas Fiesta here Tuesday. The Amarillos will leave their city for Pampa at 8:45 o'clock Tuesday morning and will be in the parade which begins at 11 o'clock.

Bruce Autry, Milton Cox and Mason King will be the range bosses of the Amarillo goodwill cowboys.

Trail bosses, Ray Minner, Joe Omler, Sam Page, Howard Borwell, Sid Elkins, Galen Battey, Bill Beecher and Bill Gilstrap will organize the caravan.

Borah First To Shake Hand Of King George

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Britain's youthful sovereign exchanged cordial greetings with American legislators today in a brilliant capitol reception demonstrating anew close bonds of friendship between two great English-speaking peoples.

Standing in the huge, high-domed capitol rotunda, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth had a smile and royal handshake for the 400-odd senators and representatives crowded into the chamber.

The monarchs stood less than 100 yards from the spot where victorious British troops held a mock legislative session in the house chamber headed by Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, chairman of the foreign relations committee.

The king and queen first were greeted at the door of the rotunda by Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead.

King George chatted with Pittman until the reception began. At the British embassy a few minutes earlier, American war veterans who once fought for the British empire won special greeting from their English majesties. The king stopped and chatted with A. E. Gram of Washington, formerly of Indianapolis, who lost a leg to Canadian troops at Amiens in 1918.

Barred by historic tradition as they are from the "mother of parliaments" in London, the royal pair was stationed to greet lawmakers in the capitol.

Corrected report states that on that date he was minus 108,460 shares.

Various reports filed in the intervening period showed he held substantial amounts, the commission stated, "while corrected reports showed he was minus substantial amounts."

The commission asserted further the original report for Feb. 29, 1939, showed holdings of 73,394, while the corrected amount was "minus 25,542."

In response to inquiries the commission stated it has undertaken to determine the facts and circumstances involved in these discrepancies, the SEC announcement said.

Best Beards To Be Picked Monday At 7

All bewildered gentlemen and women with western or old-time costumes are requested to be at Fletcher's studio Monday evening at 7 o'clock for a session of picture-taking by Foster Fletcher. The pictures will be published in the News.

Regardless of whether you are a member of the Jaycees, the Fiesta committees or what-so-ever, you are urged to come," announced Vernon Stuckey, the only barber in town wearing a full beard that extends even to the neck. Mr. Stuckey, no member of the Jaycees, said that the best whiskers in town are being grown by people not officially connected with the Fiesta.

"Everybody with whiskers should come," he said. "The more the merrier. If the place is not big enough to hold all the men and gals, Fletcher has said he'll find a place."

At that time a secret committee of whisker-growers will pick the best hirsute adornment of the lot. Most Jaycees and fiesta committees who started out to grow whiskers have since shaved off their beards, but scores of men who do not belong to those organizations have left theirs on to grow.

Du Pont To Be Probed In SEC Checkup

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The securities commission announced today it had started to investigate the "facts and circumstances" involved in alleged "discrepancies" reported in transactions in Du Pont common stock by Pierre S. Du Pont, chairman of the company's board.

The commission said these "discrepancies" had come to light in corrections of Du Pont common stock transactions submitted to the SEC by Du Pont.

The commission's announcement said: "The official summary of transactions and holdings of officers, directors and principal company stockholders published today includes corrections submitted by Pierre S. Du Pont, chairman of the board of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours and Company, of 20 previous reports of his direct holdings in the common stock of that company since November, 1934."

The commission said that whereas the original report showed substantial net long positions, the corrected reports showed that "throughout the period he owed substantially more shares than he owned."

As of Dec. 31, 1934, he reported he held 33,252 shares, the commission said.

Corrected report states that on that date he was minus 108,460 shares.

Various reports filed in the intervening period showed he held substantial amounts, the commission stated, "while corrected reports showed he was minus substantial amounts."

The commission asserted further the original report for Feb. 29, 1939, showed holdings of 73,394, while the corrected amount was "minus 25,542."

In response to inquiries the commission stated it has undertaken to determine the facts and circumstances involved in these discrepancies, the SEC announcement said.

Bomber To Carry Sarabia's Body To Mexico City

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Senora Agripina de Sarabia, widow of a Mexican aviator killed in a crash here Wednesday, arranged to leave for Mexico City aboard an airplane from the war department, who accompanied by her three children and her sister, she planned to leave at 9 p. m. (EST) and was scheduled to reach Mexico City at 1:35 p. m. tomorrow.

The Air Safety Board of the Civil Aeronautics Authority meanwhile continued an investigation into the cause of the accident in which Francisco Sarabia was killed.

Army officials were preparing the world's largest military plane the B-15, weighing 40 tons, to return to the body of Sarabia to Mexico City.

The plane was scheduled to take off at 3:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Among those aboard will be Santiago Sarabia, brother of the pilot; Lt. Com. Manuel Cermeño, Mexican naval attaché, and Lt. Jesse Auton, of the war department, who will carry a special message from President Roosevelt to President Cardenas.

The super "flying fortress" will be piloted by Colonel Caleb Haynes. The route it will take had not yet been decided.

U. S. Woman Has Served 15 Months Term

Disappearance Of Her Husband Still Mystery

MOSCOW, June 9 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Marie Rubens, American woman whose long detention in Russia has caused extended United States diplomatic intervention, was sentenced to 15 months' imprisonment in court today but was told she would be free tomorrow because she had served all but one day of the sentence.

The sentence was passed in the Moscow city court on a charge that Mrs. Rubens entered Soviet Russia on a false passport.

She had disappeared from a Moscow hotel with her husband, known also as Donald Robinson, in December, 1937, and a month later United States embassy officials were permitted to see her in prison.

Her husband's whereabouts never has been established.

There was no immediate explanation of how Soviet authorities computed the length of time which Mrs. Rubens was considered to have served.

Whether she will be turned over to United States authorities immediately after liberation could not be learned.

Theoretically she might be prosecuted by United States authorities for falsification of an American passport.

Mrs. Rubens freely admitted coming to Russia with false documents but denied "criminal intent."

Her main concern in court was to learn what had happened to her husband. After sentence had been pronounced she asked the court for information concerning him but her request was turned down.

She said her husband had suggested they travel in France and Italy "because of my delicate health." She quoted him as saying "it would be a good idea to visit modern Russia" after their arrival in Europe.

Taxis Shun Fares At Hotel After Cops Arrest Ten

HOUSTON, June 9 (AP)—Taxicab drivers today snubbed fares standing in front of the town's largest hotel (Rice).

The drivers, members of the American Federation of Labor's Chauffeurs, Taxicabmen, Stabmen and Helpers Union, said it was not a boycott.

It appeared, police said, to be a slap at the cops.

Ten drivers were arrested last night at the hotel entrance for blocking traffic as they discharged passengers. The drivers appeared miffed at the cops today.

"We are just not stopping there today," explained Driver C. M. Winters, "that's all."

Mayer Oscar F. Holcombe ordered Police Chief L. C. Brown to investigate.

Cab company officials could not explain it.

Neither Albert Winn, president of the union, or W. L. Allison, union business agent, said they knew what it was all about. They stood in front of the hotel and watched the cabs go by along with fares clustered and clamoring for a ride.

Allison walked two blocks from the hotel to where a dozen or more cabbies were gathered, and said: "Toti guys have got to break this up. I told you last night it wouldn't work."

Then he went into a huddle with the cab drivers, who drove away and passed up more fares standing in front of the hotel.

R. Bruce Carter, manager of the hotel, denied he had asked police to arrest the drivers last night as they stopped at the hotel entrance.

DALLAS, June 9 (AP)—H. H. Mueller, San Antonio, today was awarded a contract for construction of the Farm Security Administration's first Texas camp for migratory laborers at Raymondville at a cost of approximately $300,000.

Sites have been purchased for three similar camps in southwest Texas, bids on one at Sinton to be received June 13, and for camps at Weslaco and Rowlett June 23 and 26, respectively.

Girl Kidnaps Boy - Would Do It Again

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 (AP)—A pretty 19-year-old governess was charged with kidnaping today after police moved swiftly to solve what they said was San Francisco's first kidnaping for ransom in 45 years.

While the press maintained a self-imposed silence, San Francisco police feverishly and successfully traced clues to the whereabouts of the governess who disappeared Wednesday afternoon with 5-year-old Krehe Geborn after asserting leaving a note demanding $1,600 from the child's mother, Mrs. Mable Osborn, for his safe return.

Twenty-seven hours after the girl, booked as Miss Graham Timms Gaylord, and her 5-year-old charge vanished, police arrested the girl in a San Jose hotel, 50 miles south of here. They said the boy was with her and unharmed.

Miss Gaylord was charged with kidnaping for ransom, an offense which carries a possible life sentence. Authorities set her arraignment for today.

That motive impelled the attractive brunette to risk her future on the amateurish adventure officers could not learn.

Pressed for an explanation, she said she sought the money for "some nice near and dear to me." She revealed she wanted it for a relative, but steadfastly refused to give names.

Only clue found in her effects were pawn tickets issued by a Chicago firm (U. S. Loan Bank) which were the name "Ruhama Timms."

She was quoted by Inspector Geo. Page as saying "I would do it all over again if I had the chance."

Page said the girl furnished her real name was not Gaylord, but police had no other name save the signature "G. Lord" on the San Jose hotel register. She said her home was in Chicago until she came here several weeks ago.

The child's mother discovered the pair's disappearance and found the asserted ransom note about 1:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Queen Elizabeth Charms Washington

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth could have had almost any movable object in Washington today for the asking.

"She seems to have overcome the fact she's a queen. In a twinkling she has persons thinking of her as an extremely feminine and pretty person. But there is an aura of royalty about her that is hard to explain."

She's a slight figure, much more than her pictures look. Only her face looks plump. She's shorter than the king, but she stands very erect.

Committee Seeks Persons To Wear Parade Uniforms

Members of three Pampa organizations—the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and the Pampa Young Fellows club, were working with a Top O' Texas Fiesta committee today in seeking persons to wear the uniforms of the pageant "Top O' Texas Under Six Flags" in the Fiesta parade Tuesday morning.

Don Smith, committee member, said that some of the members of each of these three organizations have volunteered to participate in the parade pageant.

With the time of the annual celebration only four days distant, the committee are energetically soliciting Pampans to volunteer to wear costumes in the parade.

There are 64 costumes, all for men, received here this week. The costumes are stored in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce offices in the city hall building. Those who will agree to wear the costumes should register at once with Dan Smith at the Blossom shop, or see Clark Weaver, of the Pampa Young Fellows club, after 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

U. S. Envoy Denies Sabotage Of Plane

MEXICO CITY, June 9 (AP)—Foreign Minister Eduardo Ruy has made public a declaration that there was "utter lack of justification" for anti-United States manifestations following the death of Francisco Sarabia, the Mexican flier.

The federal department of press and publicity issued the three hours overtime last night to distribute Hay's 500-word statement. It followed the signing of the American school and assignment of a police guard to the United States embassy.

Sarabia was killed Wednesday when his plane plunged into the Potomac river at the start of a projected non-stop flight from Washington to his home in Mexico. Hay's statement said it was "stupid" to think sabotage could have had anything to do with Sarabia's accident.

The American people, he said, had demonstrated a "positive affection" for the flier and he had received the "full cooperation" of United States authorities.

Hay instructed the Mexican ambassador to Washington to convey to President Roosevelt and other officials the "feeling of gratitude of the government and the people of Mexico for the cooperation they rendered our glorious aviator Sarabia" and for sympathy and assistance given following his death.

Appeal Made For Saddles, Bridles

An appeal for saddles and bridles was issued today by J. D. Holland, member of the Fiesta parade committee. Mr. Holland said only a few saddles had been obtained to date and many more were needed for the horses that will be ridden in the Top O' Texas Fiesta parade here Tuesday morning.

Persons who have saddles and bridles to loan are asked to bring them to P. O. Gurley at Gurley's Leather Shop, 110 North Russell street, or to notify either Mr. Gurley, or Mr. Holland, at the Diamond Shop, 103 N. Cuyler, that they would be willing to loan these articles and the committee will send for them.

The saddles and bridles will be kept under lock and key at the Gurley store, Mr. Holland said, and donors need not fear any loss of their property, which will be properly marked and will be available for return shortly after the parade.

howing with a slight, graceful nod of the head.

Here salute when the cheering crowds get especially noisy is an individual gesture. She brings up her right hand gracefully from the side, palm turned in, until her hand is on a level with her head, and then she moves the hand back and forth three or four times.

She turns a frankly affectionate smile on her husband when he speaks and he returns the attention with a glimmer, shy glance.

Her clothes add much to the regal impression. Their pastel shades make her stand out in the crowds. Her high off-the-face hats and the very high heels of her dainty pumps add to her height.

King Places Wreaths On Famed Tombs

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.
WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—A new, swift round of ceremonies piled up today for King George and Queen Elizabeth, in token of the international friendship which the British sovereign and President Roosevelt pledged at a magnificent White House banquet.

It was another typically crowded program for the shy, smiling monarch and his vivacious queen—a reception for 1,000 British subjects, presentation of members of congress, and the placing of wreaths on the tombs of George Washington and America's Unknown Soldier.

The prospect of more thunder-showers, which held off yesterday until after the elaborate garden party at the British embassy, created the only possibility of subduing the brilliant pageantry.

Said Mr. Roosevelt, rising at his place beside Queen Elizabeth, whose gleaming coronet of diamonds and rubies reflected the lights of the huge chandeliers:

"I am persuaded that the greatest single contribution our two countries have been enabled to make to civilization, and to the welfare of peoples throughout the world, is the example we have jointly set by our manner of conducting relations between our two nations."

The sun-tanned king replied: "I trust and believe that in years to come the history of the United States will continue to be marked by that order progress and by that prosperity which have been theirs in the past."

"And I pray that our great nations may ever in the future walk together along the path of friendship in a world of peace."

The 22 distinguished guests—members of the monarch's party, high government officials and their wives, and the Roosevelt family—drained their glasses.

planned with a view to showing the extent and depth of that friendship.

The visit of the king and queen to the capitol rotunda was in the nature of recognition of the legislative branch of the government.

The President, reserving the morning for official duties, arranged to meet the visiting rulers and Mrs. Roosevelt at noon at the Washington navy yard for a yacht trip down the Potomac to Mount Vernon, George Washington's estate.

There on a wooded hillside below the old white mansion, King George planned to place a wreath on the tomb of the first President, whose generalship in the Revolutionary war ended Colonial America's subjugation to Britain.

Two stops punctuated the 18-mile trip back to the capital—a brief visit to Fort Hunt, a GOC camp near Mount Vernon, and ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery, one at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier and the other at the Canadian Cross, monument to Canada's World war dead.

On returning to the White House in late afternoon, the king and queen were allotted a brief respite from their ceremonial rounds to prepare for their turn as dinner hosts. At 8 p. m. they will entertain the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the British embassy. Shortly before midnight the visitors will leave for New York.

The royal couple, having taken a more lengthy sightseeing tour than they had planned after yesterday's dazzling parade of welcome, were 15 minutes late at the embassy garden party, but to the delight of the 1,400 guests they remained an hour.

First to be greeted by them after the British ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, and Lady Lindsay, were Vice President and Mrs. Garner. Later the queen had tea with Mrs. Garner, while King George chatted with J. P. Morgan.

The long debated question among Washington women—to curtsy or not to curtsy—ended about 10 a. m. Some did; others bowed slightly and grasped her hand while she smiled a friendly greeting.

He Wanted An Education— And He Got It

Forty-one years ago—that was the year the boys of '98 sailed for Cuba—there was a young farm boy in Pennsylvania who was in the midst of his high school studies.

Ivar Stuejerd was his name, and Ivar had ambitions. Suddenly came one of those catastrophic things that come to every man soon or late. Ivar was in an accident, and was badly injured. He had to leave high school.

Gradually he recovered his health, and went to work as a farm hand. The disappointment of not getting that high school diploma was keen at first. Then it passed into the background as day succeeded day, and season followed season with the round of each year's work on the farm.

But Ivar never forgot that uncompleted high school course. Something inside him kept repeating, "There are things you would want to know, Ivar. It is a big world, a wonderful world. Beyond this farm, beyond this county, beyond this nation, and beyond our time, there are things, wonderful things that would make all life look different if you knew them. You want to know something about them, Ivar."

So Ivar Stuejerd never quite forgot about that lost education, though the years passed, and the spring sowing and summer cultivation and the fall harvest and the winter chores succeeded each other with monotonous regularity.

Somebody told Ivar, then, about a way in which he could study at home and learn something about the world from which he had been shut out so many years before. And Ivar resolved to go ahead.

He was getting on into middle age. The habit of study had been pretty well obliterated by the long years behind plow and harrow. But the dream of understanding his world was strong within him, and Ivar plunged into evenings of study, minutes snatched between chores, Sunday afternoons unattended by the other boys.

The other day he finished the work. The studies begun 41 years before were completed. He had broken the bars which had closed him off from that other world—he had achieved the desire that had smoldered so long within him.

To what end? Not, perhaps that Ivar will ever leave the farm, now. Not that he will ever "get a better job" or perhaps, make any practical application of the things he has learned. But a zeal for understanding which 41 years of grinding farm toil cannot kill contains its own reward.

To understand, for the sake of our own peace of mind, as much as we can of the wonderful and mysterious world about us—that is in itself something worth all the years and all the dreaming of Ivar Stuejerd, or of any other man.

ROOSEVELT ASKS WHY CREDIT IS NOT USED

Roosevelt has sent a letter to Chairman O'Mahoney of the Monopoly committee, asking him why the credit that has been made available is not being used to furnish employment.

It is very easy to answer this question. It has been answered many times that Roosevelt continues to ask the same question. Credit is not the cause of men going to work. It is the belief that the man who employs labor will benefit, either materially or spiritually, by employing labor. When the employer does not believe he will benefit materially or spiritually, he does not employ labor, no matter how abundant the credit available.

It does no good for the government to make credit available if the real factor that causes employment is lacking. They have instituted a system of reprisals against the man who borrows labor and things and makes them grow. They have done this by taxation. This greatly interferes with the use of labor, natural resources and production equipment.

Now the government has done several very serious things that have interfered with this credit being used. In the first place, let it be understood that money does not work, as so often is claimed by careless theorists. Money is never really borrowed. Men borrow money or credit to exchange it for labor or material things. So, in reality, men borrow credit and trade it for labor only when there is prospect of being rewarded for borrowing things and labor.

One of the things the government has done is that it has destroyed the yardstick of measuring values. It has done this by giving the President the authority to change the gold content of the dollar, to issue greenbacks and to permit the banks to pyramid long-time credit by buying government bonds. It has prostituted the banking system by making the banks absorb long-time bonds, when they were intended to be learners of a short-time credit rather than creators of long-time credit.

The government has greatly interfered with employment of labor because it has set minimum wages. All people who cannot earn the minimum are, consequently, idle. It has also set up laws that make politicians the judge as to what a day's work constitutes so that the employer is not using his own judgment but is really gambling that the politicians will permit him to use this labor that he buys to advantage.

These are the primary reasons why men who have in the past borrowed labor and capital do not want to borrow it now. Men with foresight were sure that men could not be employed if these laws were enacted but the President paid no attention to anyone who has actually accomplished things in the line of employment and had these laws passed. He always calls in theorists, emotionalists and dreamers because they are in the majority. They have more votes than the practical people have.

These are the very definite reasons that nine people out of ten who buy labor will agree are the causes of there not being more jobs. So it is idle for the President to ask a politician why capital is not being borrowed. The politician will give him the answer that will make votes and not furnish employment. If the President wants to raise a crop of corn, let him go to a man who has raised corn to ask him how to raise it, rather than go to a theorist who has never raised corn. Just so, in employing labor, let him ask a man who has employed labor and there will be a very definite answer.

THE WAY TO RESUME IS TO RESUME

Years ago, when federal officials were talking about redeeming paper money in gold, John Sherman made the famous statement, "The way to resume, is to resume."

In Roosevelt's speech to the retailers, he said, "I would not have you believe that the conservative attitude of the administration plans, as any permanent part of our American system, an indefinite continuation of excess of outgo over cash receipts."

Roosevelt, in the first part of his administration promised each year that he would balance the budget next year. And now he does not even make any definite claim as to when it can be balanced.

The way to balance the budget is to balance it. Just as John Sherman said, "the way to resume specie payment is to resume." It never can be done in any other way than by cutting the costs of government.

WHOO—COME BACK! FOUL BALL!

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Fifteen years ago a survey made by the U. S. Public Health Service indicated to the expert that there were between 110,000 and 150,000 people in the United States who were addicted to forms of opium.

It is believed that women became addicted in the earlier days because they led a more secluded and sedentary life and that they treated themselves with drug preparations containing opium or opium for all sorts of real or imaginary ills. Once, however, the use of such remedies was brought under control, it was not possible for women to obtain drugs, naturally women are much more law-abiding than men and are not as likely to get into bad environment as are men.

Investigators of the U. S. Public Health Service point out that women were treated and cured in great numbers following the passing of the narcotic laws and that thereafter women avoided illegal contacts with opium. Men were still able to make such contacts and thus became addicted to the drugs.

The person who takes drugs and becomes addicted to them does so because he is emotionally unstable and is unable to adjust himself to his environment. He feels restless, discontented and inferior. The taking of a drug which breaks down his mental processes gives him a sense of ease, contentment and confidence. This, of course, gives him pleasure.

Some people still become narcotic addicts because they develop serious and painful chronic illnesses in which they obtain relief from pain only through the use of strong drugs. The addiction to narcotic drugs is harmful because it breaks down character.

When the Harrison Narcotic Act was passed, it became apparent that people who were addicted to drugs had to be cared for. In 1929 a law was passed creating two narcotic hospitals, one at Baltimore, Md., and Fort Worth, Texas. In these places physicians are investigating the nature of narcotic addiction and are undertaking work to rehabilitate narcotic addicts who are admitted to the hospitals.

The method of treatment usually followed is to withdraw the drug rapidly from the patient, taking care of his physical health in the meantime. The addict will not suffer unduly or seriously. This process requires from ten days to two weeks, after which measures are begun leading to the rehabilitation of the patient from both the mental and physical points of view.

It is recognized also that there are additions to the habit of narcotic addiction, but these additions are believed to be more of a police problem than addiction to opium.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Well, here's a romance for you—the kind you read about or see in the movies. It was a secret until a friend told a friend who told a friend in Murfee's, who told Dr. J. B. Johnson who is a sort of lobbyist if not a lobbyist in the affair. This is the story of the nurse and her patient who were married. The nurse was Miss Alleta Slusher of Pampa.

Jarratt hospital and the patient was Cosier English who got as far as Pampa on his way to his home in Ventura, Calif. and was taken to the hospital, ill of pneumonia. He was ill when he left Oklahoma City. He had never been in Pampa before, and he had never heard of his future wife. Miss Slusher became a nurse. Mr. English doesn't know the exact moment he fell in love with the nurse—whether it was when he was very ill or when he was convalescing. The marriage took place at Arnett, Okla., May 27. Mr. English has not yet recovered from the effects of the pneumonia, and he is staying at the home of Dr. Johnson, whose good friend he has become. "It was the first time in my 30 years that I wanted to get married," the groom said.

Well, here's to you, Mr. English, you seemed like a pretty swell guy over the telephone. narcotic addiction and are undertaking work to rehabilitate narcotic addicts who are admitted to the hospitals. The narcotic addict who may be committed to one of these farms is, of course, not free to go as he will, but he is treated as a patient and not as a prisoner.

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 9.—Behind the scenes: Paramount has just had a labor riot, complete with five-alarm fire at night, and a killing. But all for the cameras, of course.

It took quite a bit of fixing. They built platforms 50 feet high for the photographers. They fire-proofed a big sound stage, sheathed it in corrugated metal and then made it look like a factory building with hidden gas jets and charges of lacopodium to make it appear to be blazing. They hired extra firemen and policemen and ambulance crews, and hundreds of extras and some stunt men.

A loyal employe of the factory (Charles Kolb) was supposed to climb a ladder to fight the fire and to be shot off the roof by the rioters below. This was to be done by showing Kolb on the ladder and then, in a long shot, having the ladder completed by a double, Jimmy Dundee.

The latter was sulking as final preparations were being made. "I got a good idea about this," he said, "but Al Santell (the director) won't let me do it. See—I want to go up the ladder about 50 feet, then have the mob pull it sideways so it slides over to that tin roof. I'd let go of the ladder and bounce off the sloping roof and fall on that pile of tin cans and broken glass. That'd really be a stunt, but I've gotta do the easy way."

Santell was standing nearby and heard the complaint. He warned: "Listen, my good man, don't you go getting yourself hurt or I'll break your neck!"

Pretty soon there were yells of "All right—we'll shoot it!" The gas flames roared, the lacopodium burned fiercely, police struggled with the crowd as firemen turned hoses on the blaze. A large smokestack crumbled and crashed. The stunt man climbed the ladder, and as a shot rang out he stiffened and fell with an awful thud. "Cut!" called Santell. "You all right, Jimmy?" "Yeah," said Dundee. "But I need a dry shirt!"

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWeese

LUBBOCK, June 9.—Attending a state press convention and writing a column for home consumption is a little like the theater man who went to a show on his day off. Nevertheless, here we are in the Hub of the Plains mingling with newspaper folk from all directions in Texas. One of the nicest things about this state-wide convention is that it was put into high gear yesterday by a Panhandle man—Deakins Wells, editor and publisher of the Wellington Leader, who is president of the Texas Press Association, and who has been a mighty good president, too. Mr. Wells' days are numbered, however, and by this time tomorrow he will be an ex-president, and the association will have a new prey.

What we started out to say, is that the convention was called to order in the ballroom of the Hotel Lubbock here at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning and after the president's opening address and the usual messages of welcome from the mayor and other bigwigs of the town and responses thereto by Jimmie Donahoe, publisher of the Courier-Times at Tyler, the meeting was turned over to that oratorical master of ceremonies, Editor Ray Nichols of Vernon.

TOP TALK OF the opening session, of course, was the very fine message of Lynn Landrum, who writes the "Thinking Out Loud" column for The Dallas News. The afternoon was taken up with "Newspaper Clinic," conducted by Clyde Warwick, of Canyon, secretary of the Panhandle Press Association. This was a round-table affair in which all delegates had a chance to participate. Last night everybody put on the feed bag at the Hilton as guests of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and listened to addresses by Austin's J. C. Kellam, N.Y.A. state director, and by Harry Hines, Dallas, member of the state highway commission. This was followed by a dance in the Hilton ballroom where almost everybody relaxed until the wee small hours.

SIDE GLANCES

"We consider them both mighty poor material on which to build, but once we get hold of them we'll fix 'em over to suit ourselves. Each party needs repair, you know, and patching up."

Since he is looking ahead to the time when he will control one of the dominant political parties in the United States, Dr. Townsend naturally realizes that he will eventually have to formulate a platform dealing with many other matters than old age pensions. He isn't ready yet to go into details as to what that platform will be like.

"This is a preliminary step toward an entire revolution in American politics," he says. "The profound effect our policy would have would inevitably lead to a new type of civilization. What that would be like, I will leave to your own conjecture. I have my own dreams."

Have Congressmen Got The Jitters? Meanwhile, the doctor is amused by reports that the congressmen are still talking about the Townsend bill vote and are wondering what the results of it are going to be when they get back home.

"They're actually jittery over there," he says. "They've got their heads together, whispering, wondering what the devil they did."

He got his biggest kick out of a cartoon published in a Washington paper the day after the vote. It showed the ghost of the Townsend bill fading away before the eyes of a disturbed congressman, wagging an admonitory finger and saying, "I'll be back!"

"That expresses it perfectly," he says. "We'll be back."

King, Queen 'Knocked Daid' By Carolinians

WASHINGTON, June 9. (AP)—The petite queen of England, wearing a diamond and ruby coronet, sat forward in her chair to watch 5000 Gap square dancers from North Carolina do the "water wheel."

Britain's king-emperor, resplendent in evening attire and glittering decorations, sat by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to hear the Coon Creek girls from Kentucky "knock 'em daid" with fiddle and song.

The unusual scene was the climax of a state dinner and reception at the White House last night in honor of the visiting monarchs—a program in which American folk singers and dancers appeared with such eminent vocalists as Lawrence Tibbett and Marian Anderson, the negro contralto.

Angry Nazis Threaten To Jail Czechs

PRAGUE, June 9. (AP)—Germans reported today mass arrests would be carried out if Czechs failed to produce the slayer of a German police sergeant in Kladno by 8 p. m. (1 p. m. CST) tonight.

They said the arrests would continue until the person or persons responsible for the first German fatality since Reichsbuehrer Hitler absorbed Bohemia and Moravia into Greater Germany were found.

Kladno already is under strict regulations which may be widened into martial law tonight if the deadline passes without the ultimatum being heeded. The mayor, the chief of police and many others already are in custody.

The policeman, Wilhelm Kniest, was killed last Wednesday night or early Thursday morning in front of the Technical school at Kladno, industrial town 15 miles from Prague.

Behind the stern measures, informed Nazis said, was a threat to abolish the last semblance of Czech self-government.

They said the German action was intended to set an example to discourage possible further slayings and perhaps to avoid the necessity of abolishing the protection which responsible sources predicted would follow if the Czechs cannot rule themselves.

Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the rector protector, (governor of Bohemia and Moravia, formerly part of Czecho-Slovakia) after consulting Chancellor Hitler removed the Kladno mayor, appointed a new official, disarmed the Czech state police, closed public places and several schools, forbade outdoor assemblies, and ordered windows and doors locked at 10 p. m. with the warning guards would shoot into open windows.

The Governor Rows Again

Pulling a non-political oar, Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts goes into action at 25th reunion of Harvard's junior varsity crew of 1914 on Charles river. The governor was captain and bow man as an undergraduate.

Speaker Bankhead and House Democratic Leader Rayburn, democrat, Texas, joined in a rehearsal for photographers.

The smiling young couple arose refreshed at the White House after long hours of festivities yesterday, when Washington hospitality opened its heart in buoyant acclaim.

They were up until past midnight, listening and watching singers and folk dancers who performed after a state dinner in which the British sovereign and President Roosevelt joined in solemn pledges of international friendship.

They need six more votes and they will never get them from us," Gov. O'Daniel, who had given the Senate-approved proposal his blessing repeatedly over the radio and who had lashed out in opposition to two statutory tax bills passed by the House, refused to comment. The two tax bills were killed in the Senate committee.

Already the longest in history, the session will be 154 days old when adjournment is resumed Monday. Many members who previously had forecast adjournment by the middle or last of next week now were reluctant to guess at a date. Some placed the time two weeks hence.

There was much speculation over the exact parliamentary status of the amendment.

The royal guests left the White House at 10:30 a. m. to start the second day of their 36-hour visit.

The Governor Rows Again

Embassy aides said about 250 ex-servicemen were on hand and that they were in Pampa for the review of these former soldiers numbered around 800.

Before leaving for the embassy, the king and queen met newspaper-woman who had assembled for a press conference with Mrs. Roosevelt.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, June 9. (AP)—Financial markets stepped out of the fog today and one of the spiritless trading performances of the past two weeks.

Following a hesitant start, bidding for stocks revived on a broad scale and led to an upsurge in the market.

Activity in the stock list was about double that of the previous session, with transfers approximating 800,000 shares.

Dealers were fabled in the forenoon, tending to flatten out in the final hour.

Brokers suggested the return of buyers to the lately apathetic share department was due partially to the obvious timidity of selling forces.

A prime influence also, it was believed, were signs business activity was better than expected.

Speculative commitments were unable to work up much interest in foreign affairs.

Pampa And Midland To Play Here Tonight

Oilers Whip Midland 5-3 In Eleventh

Manager Grover Seitz and his Pampa Oilers will return home tonight from one of their most successful road trips of the season. The Oilers will take the field at 8:30 tonight against the Midland Cowboys.

After a bad opening at Lubbock, during which they dropped three straight, the Oilers hit the win column with a bang by taking five straight from Abilene and two out of three from Midland. The Oilers downed Midland 5 to 3 in 11 innings last night, coming from behind in the ninth to tie the score.

The Oilers and Cowboys will clash again tomorrow night at 9:15 o'clock and women will be admitted free again. At the last home appearance of the Oilers, about 2,500 witnessed the Saturday night game and an even larger crowd is expected tomorrow night.

On Sunday the Oilers and Cowboys will play a doubleheader, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The first game will be scheduled for nine innings and the second game seven innings. Admission to the two games will be the same as to a single game, 40 cents.

Going into the first half of the ninth inning last night, the Oilers were trailing by a score of 3 to 1. Up to then Harvey Hutton had pitched nice ball but Manager Grover Seitz gambled and put Ed Beavers in as a pinch-hitter and Beavers delivered with a double which tied the score.

Frank Grabek, leading Oiler pitcher, went to the mound and handcuffed the Cowboys the rest of the way or until his teammates pushed two runs across in the first half of the eleventh when Bob Bailey homered with one on base.

Reeves, new Oiler outfielder secured from Lamesa, led the Oilers at the plate with three singles. Manager Seitz bagged a pair of singles and Bob Bailey hit for the circuit.

Last night's win didn't gain the Oilers any points because the other three first division clubs also won their games.

MIDLAND, June 9 (AP)—Field Manager Charley Smith and Business Manager Charley Wilson of the Midland, West Texas-New Mexico league club, resigned yesterday.

Smith, a catcher, returned to the Dallas Rebels of the Texas league for a five-day look.

Joe Piet, pitcher and utility player, took over temporary management. The club dropped an 11-inning game last night 5-3 to Pampa.

LaCross And Ludwig To Wrestle Monday Night

Roughhouse Gil LaCross, the mauler who has replaced Buck Lipscomb as king of the roughsters, has been matched with a toughie of about the same calibre for next Monday night at the Pampa Athletic arena, when he tackles Count Otto von Ludwig, big and ugly German of Herr Hitler's army, in the main event of Promoter Cliff Chambers' first open air match of the summer.

The roof is being taken from the Pampa Athletic arena, four blocks east and one south of the post office, and there'll be no limit to how high the maulers can throw each other on Monday night beginning at 8:30 o'clock with no extra admission charge for the fresh air.

Another top hand at the rough game will be in the semi-final when Gentleman Dale Haddock of Detroit takes on Sugi Hayamaka, the little Jap speedster.

Sam, with a fine 68 scored in yesterday's opening round, stood one jump ahead of a trio who exactly matched the layout's strict par of 69. They were Lawson Little, former amateur king; Bud Ward of Seattle, Walker cup star, and Matt Kowal, an assistant professional in this vicinity.

But between Snead and the championship stand 54 holes of back-breaking golf under constantly increasing pressure, and behind Snead looms the ever-towering figure of Ralph Guldhall. It will be a record for modern U. S. Golf Association history if Guldhall makes this the occasion for his third straight triumph. Yet it would be fool-hardy to bet against the ambling Scandinavian with the ice-water nerves.

Big Ralph finished three shots off Snead's hot opening pace with a 71. Out of eight putts that should have dropped for birdies, only two found their way to the cup. Even so there was a wrinkle in the Guldhall brow and there wasn't a man in the field of 160-odd pros and amateurs who felt any lessening of the strain that the champion's terrific consistency has imposed on the best of them.

Snead himself, despite the fact he was the only one to crack par, wasn't laying any untimely advance claims on the title. The amiable young hill-billy, like all his top-flight rivals, still is of the opinion that a score of 284, eight over par for the 72 holes, will be good enough to take down the $1,000 first prize.

Sheep Turns Tide
One big shock turned the tide in Snuggly Sammy's favor yesterday. Already three over par, he appeared to be sunk when his second shot on the 490-yard twelfth, the stiffest hole on the course, caught a green-guarding bunker. But Snead went after that ball with his sand wedge and boosted it up, out and into the cup for a birdie 3 where he'd stood a good chance of taking a 5 or worse.

From there on Sam was on fire. The old guard still is in the battle. Tommy Armour, Olin Dutra and Craig Wood who among them represent in age and almost half that many in top-flight competition, were three of the six to post 70's and Gene Sarazen, who claims all he wants is to finish in the top 30 so he'll qualify for next year's championship, staged a typical finish. The doughy little Connecticut gentleman farmer ripped off an incoming 34 after appearing to be out of the picture with a bad 40 for his first nine.

Snead Leads Entire Field By A Stroke

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 (AP)—Samuel Snead, the limber young West Virginian who paid income tax on more than $30,000 of golf earnings last year, led the field in the National Open golf championship by a stroke today as play resumed on a Spring Mill course in the nearby hills.

Sam, with a fine 68 scored in yesterday's opening round, stood one jump ahead of a trio who exactly matched the layout's strict par of 69. They were Lawson Little, former amateur king; Bud Ward of Seattle, Walker cup star, and Matt Kowal, an assistant professional in this vicinity.

DALE HADDOCK.
Haddock appeared here last Monday night and he was rougher and tougher than when he left a year ago and at that time he was a close second to the toughest of them all. Hayamaka doesn't mind them tough. He downed Stanley Buresh, a mighty tough customer, last Monday night so he's not worrying much about Haddock.

Opening the battle of Latties will be a couple of newcomers, Saller Jack Adams and Pete Belcastro. Advance information reveals them as a couple of hot numbers.

Henderson Mauls Texarkana 15-5
(By The Associated Press)
Henderson's Oilers increased their East Texas league lead last night (Thursday) by mauling second-place Texarkana 15-5 in a series opener.

Bryan Stephens limited the Liners to seven hits.

Gerald Delion pitched a no-hit game to give Palestine a 2-1 victory over Tyler. The lone Tyler run was from a base on balls, an infield error and a wild pitch in the fifth.

Kilgore, scoring in the second and fifth innings, coasted to a 12-5 win over Longview and Ben Melton, Jacksonville fastballer, turned back Marshall with a lone single as his mates won 8-0.

New Duck Stamp Will Be Available July 1
The new duck stamp to be issued on July 1 for the year 1939-1940, sixth in a series chosen each year from the board of a well known artist, will be from a drawing by Lynn Borge Hunt, the U. S. Biologist. Survey has announced. The subject chosen for the federal stamp is a male and female green-winged teal standing at a marsh edge. In the background five teal are descending for a landing. The federal duck stamp will be available at all first and second class post offices. Every migratory bird hunter must have one of these attached to his state hunting license. The duck stamp series was inaugurated in 1934 and has become familiar to all migratory bird hunters, philatelists and conservationists throughout the country. Nearly twice the size of a special delivery stamp, it costs $1 and must be purchased by all hunters over the age of 16.

The money realized from duck stamps is used by the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey to supplement other funds for the purchase and maintenance of waterfowl refuges throughout the country. According to word received by the Texas Game department, it is likely that three new refuges will be established on the gulf coast within the next few months. In 1934-35, the first year of issuance, 635,000 stamps were sold. Last year the total was 785,000 and already in the current year more than 800,000 stamps have been purchased by hunters, bird lovers and stamp collectors throughout the country. Since 1935 more than $3,000,000 has been obtained through the sale of these stamps.

Missions Win 13th Straight To Lead Loop

San Antonio's Missions, whipping Oklahoma City by identical scores of 5-4 in a doubleheader last night (Thursday) ran their winning streak to 13 and jumped from fourth to first place in the heated Texas league race.

Credit for both victories went to Art McDougall, ace relief hurler. He entered at the ninth inning of the first game with the score tied, held Oklahoma City scoreless, and batted in the winning run in the tenth with a single.

In the three innings McDougall worked in the second game he permitted no hits.

Fort Worth's Cats defeated Houston's Buffs 6-2, while Dallas was winning 2-0 from Shreveport and Beaumont beat Tulsa 4-1.

Ray Starr of Fort Worth stretched his string of successive scoreless innings to 34 as he blanked the Buffs for the first four frames, tying the modern Texas league mark Morton Cooper, now with the St. Louis Cards, set with Houston last year. Starr struck out 11, and spaced out nine hits.

Three-hit pitching by Bob Uhle beat Hurler Bobby Combs of Shreveport and gave the Rebels their win. Quinn Lee, pitching for Beaumont, held strong throughout. He permitted eight hits but it was only in the sixth, when they scored, that the Oilers were able to put any of them together.

Pampa Girls And White Deer To Play
Edmondson's Musketeers, a new Pampa girls' softball team, will meet the first White Deer aggregation at 8:15 o'clock tonight under the lights at the Skelly-Schafer gasoline plant 10 miles northwest of Pampa.

The Pampa sluggers have defeated the White Deer ten three times and have taken two games from Berger for an undefeated season to date.

Smart and Avis Heiskell have been the winning battery for the Pampa lassies. They will be opposed by Powers and Freeman for White Deer tonight.

New suits have been ordered for the Musketeers and they will be here in a few days.

Reds Leading Cardinals By 4 Full Games Now
By JUDSON BAILEY.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Somebody is always taking the joy out of living by calling attention to the walkaway New York Yankees are making of the American league, so some similar clamor ought to be raised, as a counter irritant, against the Cincinnati Reds.

Their 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies last night increased the Reds' margin over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals to four full games and extended the gap between first and last place in the National league to 17 1/2 games.

A few days ago any reference to the campaign in the senior circuit included some such descriptive as "a blanket would cover all eight clubs," but it now appears the Reds have become uncovered.

Their lampight struggle with the Phillies was a pitcher's duel between Paul Derringer of the Reds and Hugh Mulcahy—and like most such pitching duels involving Cincinnati, the Reds not only produced the better pitching, but the more timely hitting.

Both twirlers were touched for seven hits, but Mulcahy was wild in addition.

In the two other National league games Lou Pette pitched three-hit ball to give the Boston Red Sox a 2-0 shutout over the Pittsburgh Pirates and Harry Danning and Zeke Bonura hit homers for the New York Giants' 5-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

The Yankees' second consecutive victory over the Chicago White Sox, 7-2, kept their lead over the second-place Boston Red Sox at nine games and increased it to 23 games over the last-place St. Louis Browns.

Joe Di Maggio hit a homer, a double and a single to place the champions' 12-hit attack on the Sox and Rookie Adley Donald moved into the league's pitching lead with his sixth straight victory.

Boston had to do some heroic hitting to hold its position with an 8-7 triumph at St. Louis. Jimmy Foy hit two home runs and Lou Pinney came through with a pinch homer with one on in the eighth to tie the score. The winning run came on a double and two sacrifices in the ninth.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout pitched the Detroit Tigers to an 8-4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics, striking out seven and allowing only six.

Public Invited To Calcutta Pool Here Saturday Night

The public will be welcomed to the Calcutta Pool to be staged in connection with the City Championship Golf tournament at the Pampa Country club. The Calcutta Pool will take place at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the clubhouse and play in the tournament, all flights, will begin Sunday morning.

The 16 players who qualify for the championship flight will be in the Calcutta event and all of them have been spoken for according to M. A. Graham, chairman of the tournament committee. Entries and qualifiers in the tournament have been rushing this week and about 100 golfers are expected to tee off in play Sunday.

Qualifying will end this evening and pairings, excepting in the championship flight, will be made tomorrow morning. Pairings in the championship flight will not be made until after the pool tomorrow night which will be over in plenty of time for those present to see the Pampa Oilers and Midland Cowboys play baseball at 9:15 o'clock at Road Runner park.

Winter Olympics Taken Away From Swiss Officials
LONDON, June 9 (AP)—The international Olympic committee took the 1940 winter games away from St. Moritz, Switzerland, today because Swiss Olympic officials refused to obey the international committee's instructions.

Delegates will meet this afternoon to choose another site.

Swiss officials originally accepted the program laid down for the 1940 winter games but later refused to run the game unless the skiing program was changed from an exhibition to a regular competitive event.

The I. O. C. refused to do this because of a dispute with the International Ski Federation over the definition of an amateur.

Yesterday Count Baillet-Latour, president of the I. O. C., cabled Swiss authorities to comply with the I. O. C. program by noon today or forfeit the games. The Swiss cabled their flat refusal this morning.

The sites of the 1944 winter and summer Olympics also will be chosen in this afternoon's final business session.

Canada, Germany, Italy and the United States are interested in taking over the 1940 winter games.

Babson Names Twelve Vocations With Best Outlook For Grads

BY ROGER W. BABSON WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9-This month the supply of workers in the United States and Canada will be swelled by a huge wave of over 2,000,000 school and college graduates.

Opportunities for today's graduates may be divided into six groups: (1) Agricultural, (2) Professional, (3) Building, (4) Manufacturing, (5) Selling, (6) Finance.

Many readers have written me asking for advice as to the best fields for their newly-graduated children to enter at this time.

Another Suggestion- Instead of waiting until war comes and then have your children unemployed for cannon fodder, it is not much sacrifice now and train for home defense now.

(1) AIR-CONDITIONING- I especially have in mind air-conditioning new small houses and selling individual air-conditioning units.

(2) CHEMICALS-Most chemical companies are already prosperous, while the future offers untold possibilities.

(3) ALLOYS AND PLASTICS-Great developments are taking place in the sale and use of alloys, while the plastic industry offers tremendous opportunities.

(4) AUTOMATIC MACHINERY-The mistaken attitude of labor leaders, plus the new Wage and Hour Act, is forcing manufacturers to purchase more automatic machinery.

(5) MERCHANDISING-This includes stores, mail-order, advertising, and other features of selling.

(6) ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT-All divisions of the heavy industries, except building, are dull at the present time.

(7) HOUSEHOLD EQUIPMENT-There are many other new forms of household equipment which should come into general use.

(8) INVESTMENT BANKING-With the large amount of money now piling up, the floodgate-coming time must break through.

(9) GASOLINE AND TIRES-Whether one has an old car or a new car, he must buy gasoline and tires.

(10) AUTOMOBILES-Although the automobile has come to stay, the market may temporarily be over-saturated.

(11) AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES-The above criticism does not apply to auto accessories, that is, manufacturers specializing in parts and gadgets for automobiles.

Kamrath Reaches Quarter-Finals

DALLAS, June 9 (AP)-Bobby Kamrath, the favorite, clashed with Jack Rogers of Dallas as men's singles entered quarter-final rounds today in the Texas state tennis tournament here.

Kamrath, University of Texas star, maintained his consistent play yesterday with an easy 6-1, 6-0 victory over Bob Billings of Dallas.

The Texas high school champion, Glenn Hewitt of Houston, winner 6-4, 7-5 over Heuben Riekind, University of Texas player, met Fred Barnes of Denton, who beat George Pappas of Laredo, 6-2, 6-2.

Bobby Curtis of Houston was pitted against Henry Batjer of San Angelo in the other singles match. The Houston youth advanced over Jess Sanders of Dallas 6-1, 6-1, and Batjer beat Fred Higginbotham of Dallas, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4.

The surprise in the doubles division yesterday was provided by Jimmy Hereford and Dub Boyer, Dallas contenders who beat Randolph Scott and Fred Barnes of Denton, 10-8, 8-10, and 6-4.

Jim Jeffries Won Title 44 Years Ago

BURBANK, Calif., June 9 (AP)-Forty years ago today James J. Jeffries won the heavyweight championship of the world by knocking out Bob Fitzsimmons.

Under blazing arc lights in the old Seaside Sporting club at Coney Island, New York, the California boilermaker stopped Ruby Robert in the 11th round and ascended the heavyweight throne as the last of the old line of champions.

Today Jim Jeffries paused but briefly to look back on the event. Ceremoniously? Celebration? "Now, I don't guess so."

Nazis Open Drive Against All Jews

BERLIN, June 9 (AP)-Between 10,000 and 15,000 Jews were reported today to have been rounded up and headed toward the Polish border for deportation or given definite notice to get out of Germany across other borders.

Reports of threatened retaliation by the Polish government-in-the-way of wholesale deportation of German living in Poland-continued with the opening of a new drive to hasten the exodus of all Jews from Germany.

BRIDE ON A BUDGET

BY JANET DORAN

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Iris buys a suit and...

CHAPTER II

His attractive, weather-browned face was so serious...

"What you'll save on your clothes alone, will be a big start, honey," Bart said...

"And eating at home, to say nothing of good home cooking," Bart added fervently...

"You'll take me out to dinner now and then, Bart Whitaker, or I'll step out with the professor of natural history!"

He grasped her slender wrists in warm strong fingers and pulled her down close.

"Dear," he said humbly, "I want you to be happy. I don't want you ever to have to worry and scrimp and do without the way other wives do. It's because I love you so, Iris, that I've been afraid. Afraid it would be selfishness to ask you to marry me, knowing the hard road we'd have ahead."

"If you love me," Iris whispered softly. With a smothered endearment he crushed her to him.

"Dear, dearest dear," he whispered unsteadily, "You know that you know I love you, I'm half crazy with loving you. Why wait any longer? Why not be married now—we can have a honeymoon after school closes, and we have our vacations. Now we've waited too long as it is, dear."

"Of course," Iris agreed practically.

"And you won't mind waiting till summer for our honeymoon, dear?" Bart urged tenderly. Against the rough wool of his coat, Iris shook her head.

"Mind? She'd a hundred times rather wait until summer for a honeymoon. By then, she'd have to have new summer clothes; by then she'd have Bart persuaded out of his queer obsession against clothes money expenditure. It was just a matter of time."

They were ten minutes late to the movie, and had to stay over because, as Iris said, she didn't care about new clothes, but she did love Myrna Loy.

"She has the best clothes sense of any star in Hollywood, Bart," Iris explained, "nobody else can touch her."

"Good sound sense, too—Bart agreed, still in the rosy glow of a man newly engaged, newly pledged to marry within five days, if the law approved their license application. "Wears plain gowns. Suits—like that one you've got on, honey. Plain little things that don't cost much."

Iris was glad of the friendly darkness of the theater as they sat down. Not that Bart would guess how much her suit cost, or any of her clothes for that matter, from her face. Only—well, she was glad it was dark in the theater. Some cattv woman might smile sarcastically, and warn Bart; someone might titter, after looking at the obviously expensive tailored suit.

In the days that followed, Iris was beset with a hundred issues. She had to buy new lingerie, new pajamas and a chenille robe, and blouse, and some pumps and a mules. She had to have another hat. And she had to insist gently but firmly on gardenias, instead of the violets Bart wanted to give her to wear to the wedding.

He gulped and tried not to show the dean this made in his careful budget. Gardenias were costly, Bart found.

"You must remember a small gift for your best man, too, Bart," she reminded him, "Some nice studs, or a cigaret box, or something."

"I never thought of that, Iris," reproachfully—as it were quite her fault, instead of being a custom she merely reminded him of.

They were married at 4 o'clock on a Saturday afternoon, before a few friends and the dean, while the dean's wife wept sentimentally all through the solemn little ceremony in the gray stone church at the end of Sorority Row. And instead of returning home to the little apartment they had prepared, hastily, out of Iris's rooms, and an additional room, adjoining, plus the furnishings Bart brought from his rooms, there was the wedding supper at the Tivoli.

Bart was tired from a rushed hectic day at the shop, and if he thought, fleetingly, of the cozy Saturday night suppers of steak, French fried-potatoes, salad and shortcake, or baked beans and fixings that was their usual Saturday night feast, he said nothing. This was his wedding day, his and Iris's. And whatever Iris wanted, he wanted her to have.

At the supper, Johnny Keelin, his best man, and a reporter on a small daily paper 40 miles from Linwood, had a cocktail too many and grew maudlin over Iris.

darlin' he admonished her owlishly, "but a devil with the woman."

Iris was startled. Of all the faults she knew men to possess, this was one she hadn't found in Bart. He seemed peculiarly impatient to lovely damsels, and turned disinterested eyes to their best efforts to snag his interest.

"nother thing," Johnny continued solemnly, "never waste a penny in Bart's sight. Makes him ill. Can't bear to see money wasted. Noble virtue and all that, but blight on romance."

Bart wasn't listening to any of this. As she studied her new husband, the length of the table away, talking seriously with Dean Somers on the business outlook at the moment, Iris realized that Johnny had spoken a fear that was buried deep in her subconscious mind. That was why she never let him know how much she paid for anything, or how much she spent, or what she did with her money! It was the secret reason for a dozen little reticences that had sprung up between them over the months they had known each other. Secrets she was determined he should never know.

"Don't look so scared, bride," Johnny continued cheerfully, "though you're as lovely as Red Riding Hood, I'm no wolf. I was just charting your course for a happy sail over the seas of matrimony. It's the first year that counts, Iris. On it, you lay the foundation of your future, be it happiness or misery."

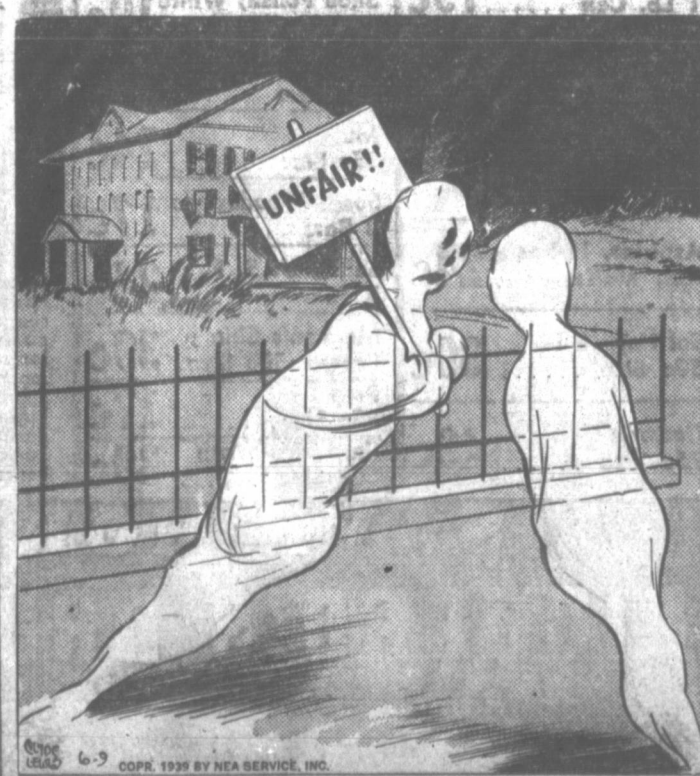

"Johnny, don't!" she said sharply, and when Bart looked up, startled, and gave her a questioning look she managed a set little smile and passed it off gracefully.

"He was teasing me about something that is—sacred," she said to Bart, not realizing that she laid the first paving stone with that small bit.

That out of that small lie were to grow a thousand more, a mighty network of them, choking off their happiness, destroying their faith, their trust and love. That by its very glibness, that first small lie betrayed her complete unwillingness ever to let Bart know—how completely apart were their lines of thought.

man, with the assistance of Miss Fay Lockhart, county health nurse, has completed the summer round-up health program. Twenty-five home visits were made, and the parents urged to have the pre-school children who will enter school next year inoculated against diphtheria,

Panhandle WMS Holds Minister Relief Program

Special to The News.
PANHANDLE, June 9.—Women of the Baptist W. M. S. combined the business and social meeting with an Old Ministers Relief program at a meeting in the home of Mrs. R. M. Chastain Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. O. C. Weakley gave the devotional on "Patience from the 37th Psalm." "When David wrote this Psalm he was speaking from years of experience and wisdom, when he admonished us to be patient and wait for the Lord," said Mrs. Weakley.

Mrs. S. G. Bobbitt told a beautiful story of a minister from the time he entered the ministry until the sunset of his life, in the story "The Old Shepherd at Sunset." Mrs. Bobbitt outlined the sunrise, midday and sunset of a minister's life, and of his sublime trust in the Lord as the sunset shadows closed about his life. Mrs. O. Z. Light led a round table discussion on relief for old ministers.

Members are asked to bring huck towels size 18 x 36 to the next meeting for the Memorial hospital in Houston.

Roll call was answered by a visitor Mrs. L. G. Robbins, and the following members: Mrs. S. P. Benge, F. W. Nickel, S. G. Bobbitt, Oscar Watts, O. Z. Light, W. W. Evans, V. D. Biggs, O. C. Weakley and the hostess, Mrs. R. M. Chastain.

Church School To Be Concluded Friday Evening

Vacation Church School at the First Methodist church enrolled 91 children in the beginners, primary, and junior departments during the two-week period which will be concluded Friday night.

The beginners department has had for its unit of study "Our Happy World" and Mrs. L. L. Broadbooks, superintendent, has an interesting exhibit of posters of "How We Make Polka Happy." The main scrap books which the children made will be presented to the nursery. Each day the children are given a lunch which is donated by the teachers and parents of this department.

Primary department, under the direction of Mrs. E. G. Wright, has for its unit "Our Daily Bread." This has proved to be interesting for the pupils as they have visited the wheat fields, churned butter, and made light bread, which was served for lunch. A study of the Bible story of Boah and Ruth has been conducted and booklets are being made.

In the Junior department with Mrs. Dan Leitch as superintendent, the pupils are making Biblical wall maps, scripture posters, Bible ornaments, and for recreation they are playing Bible lotto.

The following children have enrolled: Beginners, Tommie Cox, Marilyn Sue Reeves, Martha Sue Allen, Gene Grovland, Harold Ward, Brunley, Junior Horn, Gordon Yoder, Sammie Dunn, Pat Dunn, Marilyn Estelle Grimesley, Teresa Sanders, Donna Rae Gunney, Gilbert Berry, Warren Creney, Ronald Hollingshead, Doreen Ford, Deane Smith, L. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Text: I Corinthians 1:1-3, 10, 11; 4:14-21; I Thessalonians 5:12-15.

We are accustomed to think of the early church as a church of pure and undefiled religion, and we are apt to think that if we could only get back to the days of primitive Christianity, all the defects and abuses in the church of today would disappear. The fact is that the more carefully we look into the records of the New Testament, the more conscious we are of the fact that even in the church of the generation immediately succeeding the apostles, things were by no means ideal. We have seen how, even in the days of the Master Himself and in His very presence, dissension arose among the disciples and disputes as to who among them should be the greater and concerning other matters.

Laketon Club Plans Exhibit For Fiesta

Following a roll call on wild flower legends, the program on wild flower arrangements, vases, and mountings was given by Mrs. Mabel Welch, Spurgeon Moore, and Arthur Corse. Mrs. Arthur Corse was elected as the delegate from the club to the short course at A. & M. college, while Mrs. Walter Ehman was chosen as the alternate.

Preserver Of Man To Be Discussed

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 11.

The Golden Text is: "Thy righteousness is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep; O Lord, thou preservest man and beast" (Psalms 36:6).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord; And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might" (Deut. 6:4, 5).

It is interesting to see the way in which Paul met these situations of moral slackness and trouble in the churches that he had founded. He did not in any respect lower the ideal. He held these early Christians up to the full will and purpose of God as manifest in the church; but he was no rigorous disciplinarian, utterly lacking in any consciousness of human frailty or in sympathy for the erring and fallen. There is a note of tenderness and compassion even in his severest reproofs, and better than all this, in their selfish bickerings, he called upon these early Christians to witness the usefulness of his own life.

When those who favored him indicated conflict with those who preferred the more eloquent Apollus, Paul reminded them that they were not his disciples, but disciples of Christ. He was that Christ should be preached and that the Christian life should be lived.

The Gospel is a great deal more than its ministers or preachers. All this it is very necessary to remember if we would have a wholesome, high-minded ministry and if we would have likewise a membership in our churches that is earnestly devoted to the Gospel and to witnessing it in life as well as in word.
