The door slammed at last and Dohoyeghem, thinking it was a customer, looked up. The leader of the robbers was looking down.

"It's a good thing you stayed there," the robber said. "I just came back to check up."

Business Gains Here

Simultaneously with the rising summer temperatures, Pampa business activity showed a corresponding rise during the past month. A study of the basic commercial index, building permits, postal receipts, and new utility meters, showed an appreciable gain over the preceding month and over last year.

The southwestern Public Service company and the city water department reported gains in new meters installed over the previous month. The Central States Power and Light corporation and the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, which always show a reduction in meters

Reporter 'Helps' 'Dutch' Archer Drill From Four Till Midnight

By THE ROVING REPORTER. The Roving Reporter Friday night went out on tower from four o'clock to midnight with Roy (Dutch) Archer, hoping to find out just what drillers do at a well.

And now the R. R. feels about like the little boy Dutch told about. The lad was watching the driller and the tool dresser change a bit. Reported the lad when he got home "Well, them two guys fought over a long time, finally one of them gave up and let the other have it." You may not appreciate that joke but the drillers do. You ought to go out and watch them and you'd appreciate it.

Friday afternoon, the R. R. went up to the K. C. Waffle House which is driller's corner in Pampa, and began propositioning the drillers to take him out on tower. No luck. A

Loyalty In Time Of War Promised King In Saskatoon

By FRANK H. KING. SASKATOON, June 3 (AP)—Hardy farm families from Saskatchewan's rolling wheatlands joined their city cousins today in welcoming King George VI and Queen Elizabeth with the greatest demonstration ever witnessed in this agricultural center.

The royal train arrived at 2:19 p. m. (3:19 p. m. CST) a crowd of 100,000—more than twice Saskatoon's population—thronged the city and sent up wave upon wave of cheers as the king and queen rode slowly over an 11-mile route.

The royal visitors looked refreshed after a night's sleep aboard their train and appeared to enjoy immensely the greetings from the prairie folk who have gone through hard times in recent years but didn't show it today.

The two-hour visit to Saskatoon was limited to the motor ride, the reading of an address by Mayor C. Niderost and the usual inspection of a guard of honor by the king.

Faces Prison Sentence And Heavy Fine

Manton Charged With Conspiracy To Block Justice

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Former Federal Circuit Court Judge Martin T. Manton was convicted by a federal court jury tonight of conspiracy to obstruct justice and to deprive the United States of his impartial services.

He faces a maximum penalty of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine. George M. Spector, former confidential agent for the late promoter, Archie M. Andrews, was convicted of the same charges.

Three other original co-defendants pleaded guilty at the start of the trial. The jury, ten men and two women, received the case at 5:15 p. m. (C. S. T.) after a trial of 11 days and returned their verdict about four hours later, after taking an hour cut for dinner.

Benjamin Golder, of Manton's counsel, asked that bail be continued for Manton, pending the filing of a motion for a new trial or modification of intention to take an appeal to a higher court.

Manton's bail is $10,000. His co-defendant Spector is held in $17,000 bail. The continuance of bail was granted and a hearing on a motion for a new trial was set for June 30.

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut of Maryland, who presided at the trial, remarked significantly that if the motion were denied, sentencing would follow immediately.

Manton's case was one of the jury's decision was announced. His eyes, which seemed dimmed, blinked rapidly several times and he leaned forward pressing two fingers against a fleshy cheek.

Manton, who was appointed to the federal bench by President Wilson, and presided over 2,500 cases, resigned last January after District Attorney Thomas Dewey accused him, in a letter to the House Judiciary Committee, of accepting $400,000 in loans from litigants.

Manton, who was appointed to Portland or controlling interests in a half dozen corporations, ranging from real estate to rayon. A Department of Justice investigation produced the present charge.

At the trial it was brought out that in one year Manton bettered his financial status $1,500,000—from debts of $750,000 to a credit of $750,000. He averred that the transactions were legitimate business deals which did not influence his decisions—favorable to many persons involved in the deals.

Judge Acquitted Of Abortion Charges

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Kings County Court Judge George W. Martin was acquitted by a Supreme Court jury tonight of charges of accepting a $1,000 bribe to dismiss a Brooklyn abortion case.

Speakers in the courtroom broke into a frenzy of shouts as the jury announced its verdict. The jury deliberated three hours before freeing the natty 63-year-old jurist.

drilling line may sound alike to you all of the time, but it doesn't to a driller. Why? They drill more by feeling and by the way things sound than anything else. The jar of a bit as it sets down on the bottom of the hole tells them everything, but the jar to you, if you finally detect it in the clamp that holds the drilling line, wouldn't mean a thing.
But the R. R. learned some things that he's always wanted to know. For instance, that in a salt formation you ball out every 15 feet, and you ball out about a half-dozen times every tower; you learn that the sand reel pulls the bailer; that there are six pulleys on the crown block at the top of the derrick.
Dutch Don't Taste Mud!
You probably know that they have to drill through several formations before they strike oil, but maybe you don't know that they don't have to taste the mud on the bit to know they're in a salt formation as the R. R. did. Do you know why and how they ball out?
This May Sound Screwey
Well, they ball out to get the mud out of the hole because the bit can't keep on drilling when there's too much mud. They ball out by pulling up the drilling line and the tool on the ball-wheel (is that right, Dutch?). Then they manipulate a stick called the swing lever, take off the bit, and put on a bailer, a long pipe that looks like a well-bucker and works the same way, and run that back down into the hole where it fills with mud. They do that twice. The third time they send it back down it's full of water—because they have to have water in the hole to drill and make mud which they gotta bail out again. Sounds screwey, don't it? By the way, you ought to see the contraption Dutch invented to turn the water off and on into the bailer.
The R. R. made a pretty good hand helping push that bit back over the hole after they tied up the bailer to one side. That big bear, you see going up and down is the walking beam. The end of it moves up and down right over a pole near the hole called the head-ache beam. You'd have a head-ache, too, if that beam was above your head.
Call, He Explained
Now, there's two kinds of bits, each about five feet long. They screw into a drilling stem about 25 feet long (Wrong, Dutch?), and the wire drilling line is cemented into the stem. When Dutch gets into the cave he'll put on an eight-inch bit. He'll drill into the dolomite formation where the oil is with a six-inch bit. As long as he's in the salt he'll drill with an open hole, with no pipe, but they'll run pipe when they get into the cave. They use the bit called wheel to run the pipe.
The four casing sleeves or pulleys at the top pull the casing which is operated by the Calf wheel.
Well, Dutch, guess we asked too many questions to remember all the answers, because we've forgotten the significance of the things you called a 16-inch slip socket, the circle (except it takes the bit off), the straight reamer, the long stroke grubs, the three-prong grubs: how-

Oxygen Bars For Hangovers Expected Soon

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor
CHICAGO, June 3 (AP)—A former army doctor thinks that drug stores may soon be selling "oxygen bars" to cure hangovers.
Pure oxygen and exercise, his preliminary studies show, can do more than anything else to rid the system of the after-effects of imbibing too freely. His findings are buttressed by similar ones at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.
Dr. Arnold D. Tuttle, former commander of the school of aviation medicine at Randolph Field, Texas, started out to determine the exact results of alcoholism (oxygen-want) on the human body.
As head of the medical department of a commercial air transport company (United Air Lines), Dr. Tuttle suggested to the lines' stewardesses that they administer pure oxygen—instead of doses diluted with air—to passengers suffering discomfort at high altitude.
Because passengers with hangovers suffered the most, they were treated more frequently than the others. The reports on recovery were so startling that Dr. Tuttle got in touch with the Mayo Clinic, which replied that it too had experimented in that field.
The clinic, in addition, had its subjects walk briskly on a treadmill while breathing pure oxygen to speed up the circulation.
"This opens the way to drug stores establishing 'oxygen bars' for the treatment of hangovers," said Dr. Tuttle.

Cardenas May Be Making Peace With Business

By BEN F. MEYER
MEXICO CITY, June 3 (AP)—The Dove of Peace is fluttering over the battle-line in the long war between President Lázaro Cardenas and business interests of Mexico.
Everybody is wondering whether the Mexican president and the merchants and industrialists actually are going to get together, or whether the breach will widen.
While touring northern Mexico, Cardenas said in Saltillo the government was anxious to cooperate with the nation's business men, and appreciated their efforts to aid the national economy.
Business interests promptly took the cue, sent representatives of their trade and commercial organizations to Chihuahua, the president's next stop, and got their first presidential interview since March, 1936.
To show he was not joking about cooperation, Cardenas gave them two of the things they asked for: promised a careful study and a written reply to their other proposals and complaints. The president granted business and industry a monthly interview; cancelled fines imposed on merchants for violating rules of the national committee to regulate food-stuffs.

Details of the interview reveal it was a gloves-off affair. Cardenas took over the coal "some business men who still lack comprehension of the needs of the people." The business men fired back their volley at the government. The exchange was polite, but the business men said they considered "inescapable the obligation to talk" with "utter frankness characteristic of business men."

British Critical Of Thetis Sinking

LIVERPOOL, Eng., June 3 (AP)—Britain's man-in-the-street, stunned by the Thetis disaster, was sharply critical today, along with newspapers, of the failure to rescue apparently the trapped men. The Sunday Express in London in front-page headlines asked "could these men have been saved?"
The Sunday Pictorial headlined this demand: "Who Was To Blame?"
Marine circles, however, generally withheld judgment until all facts were known. They pointed out that the Layman has little knowledge of the extent of technical problems involved in submarine operation.

Typical of the immediate reaction by the man-in-the-street was the comment of one man:
"Look what the Yanks did when the Squibus sank. Why should they be any more efficient than we are? Their boat was deeper down than ours."

This Truck Driver Smarter Than Cop

SUPERIOR, Neb., June 3 (AP)—Nebraska Highway Patrolman Leo Knudsen was quite upset when he saw a gasoline truck speed over the Rock Island railroad crossing, where state law requires a full stop.
He hastened after the driver and shouted, "Why didn't you stop at that railroad crossing?"
"What railroad crossing?" the driver asked. "I didn't see any tracks. Let's walk back there and look it over."
They walked back, and lo—there were no tracks!
Knudsen hadn't known that service had been discontinued on the line and the tracks taken up the day before.

Dominican Nation Offers Jews Home

HAVANA, June 3 (AP)—Efforts were made today to keep in the New World 907 refugee German Jews who had been forbidden to land in Havana and were being retained in Hamburg on the German liner St. Louis.
The liner, which had left Hamburg with the refugees May 15, sailed back for Hamburg at 10:30 a. m. C. S. T. Friday under orders of President Federico Laredo Bru.
Custom authorities had held that the refugees did not have proper landing papers.
Today, there came an offer of haven from the Dominican republic's government on condition that each refugee pay a $500 tax to reside permanently in the country.
It was understood that most of the refugees were penniless, and it was reported, although without confirmation, that no final answer was being given to this offer pending outcome of new negotiations with the Cuban government.
Meanwhile, another refugee vessel, the steamer Flandre, carrying 98 of 104 Jews who were denied permission to land in Cuba, sailed from Vera Cruz, Mexico, today. Six of those originally on board were allowed to disembark and the others understood that there might be a possibility of landing at some undetermined United States port.

Garner To Seek Nomination Even If Roosevelt Wants It

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY, WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Close friends of Vice President Garner disclosed today he has decided to seek the presidential nomination at the 1940 democratic convention even if President Roosevelt should be a candidate.

Garner was said to be convinced that his name should go before the convention, regardless of the strength of any opposing aspirants for the nomination, and that consequently he had approved efforts of supporters to line up convention delegates in his behalf.

Headed by E. B. Germany, Texas democratic state chairman, a Garner-for-President organization has been formed and has mailed about 30,000 letters to democratic voters urging support of Garner for the presidential nomination. Recently, Garner himself has had several off-the-record talks with state political leaders.

Some of the vice president's political advisers were said to be urging him to participate actively in state primaries and conventions which will choose convention delegates next year.

His friends feel, congressional insiders said, that he would have an excellent chance for the presidential nomination if he exerted his influence to win delegates.

Reports were that Garner has listened attentively to that suggestion, but has given no sign what course he will take.

Figuring also in current political talk on Capitol Hill are reports that some senators, looking forward to 1940, now are seeking actively to heal differences between democratic factions.

Well-advised legislators said one harmony effort was a senate luncheon this week for Thomas G. Corcoran, New Deal adviser. Given by Senator Ashurst, democrat, Ariz., the luncheon was attended by such administration followers as Senators Barkley, democrat, Ky., and Schwelmbach, democrat, Wash., and such non-New Deal senators as Harrison, democrat, Miss., and Byrnes, democrat, S. C.

Sharing attention with democratic political developments, there was capital talk about Senator Vandenberg's, republican, Mich., recent statement indicating his availability for the GOP presidential nomination.

Vandenberg said today he had received numerous letters from all sections of the country saying his was a "good statement." Asserting he would have nothing more to say about the GOP nomination at present, he reiterated that he was primarily concerned with his duties as a senator and his projected race for re-election.

Calf Riders Requested To Register Now

Boys who want to register for the junior calf riding contest of the Top O' Texas Fiesta rodeos, can do so now. It was announced today by Otis Pumphrey, rodeo committee chairman. Previously, it had been announced that the registration for the junior calf riding contest would take place at the same time as that of the regular rodeo contestants with the deadline set for midnight, June 12. Boys from 10 to 14 are eligible to compete, but must have their parents sign a waiver, a copy of which is published in today's News. To register for the contest all that a boy within the specified ages has to do is to personally appear at The Pampa News and bring a signed copy of the waiver to Ed Tracey, who has been designated to receive entries. The printed copy in this newspaper will serve the purpose, and it will not be necessary to fill out any other form. Registration in the junior calf riding contest makes a boy eligible for each of the following: a free pass to all four rodeo performances, (afternoons and evenings of June 13-14 at Recreation park); 50 cents to mount one of the Brahma bulls used in the contest; and $1 if the bull is successfully ridden. The registration form: STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray. We, _____ mother and father of _____ hereby agree and consent that our son may enter the rodeo at Pampa, Texas, sponsored by the Top of Texas Fiesta committee, and we hereby waive any right of damage to our son that might be occasioned by injuries he might receive and we hereby waive the right of all damage of any nature and especially the loss of his services if he might be injured and also for any and all actual and exemplary. We fully understand that he enters the contest for the love of the sport and for the hope of reward that he may receive certain prize money if he should be adjudged a winner.

New Ice Plant Will Open Here

Pampa will have a new ice plant after July 5, when the Broadway Ice company, 401 East Brown, starts business here. The new company plans to be a retail and wholesale ice distributor for Pampa and surrounding towns. Machinery for the plant will arrive in Pampa by the middle of reinforced today by a group of seamen from Houston, 30 miles up the ship channel. "We are going to picket peacefully," Vesey said. "We do not propose to be driven out of town, however, by anyone flashing side arms in our faces." Vesey charged armed guards had taunted the seamen and "broke our picket line the night of May 31."

He said the seamen from Houston came to this oil port, site of the big Humble Company refinery, "to let them know we are still holding the fort and will call every seaman on the Gulf coast if we need them."

this week and 16 men will be employed in its installation. When the business is opened, nine persons in all will be employed, five of whom will be used at the plant. In charge of the business here will be Otis Nicholas, manager. Mr. Nicholas' wife and their three children will join Mr. Nicholas in making their home in Pampa on June 15, coming from Little Rock, Ark., their former home.

The local company will be a part of the organization that has plants at San Antonio and Houston, with headquarters in the latter city.

YOUR FORD V8 HAS WHAT IT TAKES!

PROVED IN OPEN COMPETITION!

IT HAS THE SPEED

Through all the speed ranges from lowest to highest, the Ford V-8 gives you the economical, well-balanced performance of a soundly engineered car. You can see what it does on the roads you know. Now read what happened in the three great competitive tests of this year!

And remember that the things which made these Fords winners, all Fords have. The same fine materials, the same precision workmanship, the same economy!

IT HAS THE ENDURANCE

• FLORIDA—March—In the tough going of the Daytona Beach Race, over 150 miles of sand and road, a Ford-built Mercury 8 finished first with a Ford V-8 only 200 yards behind it. Ford-built V-8 cylinder cars made a clean sweep of all prizes. The average speed of the winning car was 70.30 miles per hour.

• BUENOS AIRES—April—The Argentinians held a race that was a race—the South American Grand Prize. 4515 miles, much of it over steep and tortuous Andean mountain roads. 69 cars were entered, including all leading low-price American makes. The race was won by a Ford V-8 and 10 of the 28 cars which finished were Fords.

IT HAS THE ECONOMY

• CALIFORNIA—January—The annual Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run was conducted under the worst conditions in years. 314 miles over two mountain ranges (4000 and 6000 feet elevation) with rain all the way and snow the last 40 miles! Nearly half the entries, including the leading low-price cars, failed to finish within the time limit. But performance figures recorded by Motor Age show that the 85-hp. Ford V-8 delivered the best gasoline mileage in its class! The Mercury 8 was also best in its class.

Roche Serial Basis Of RKO Mystery Film

A glamorous mystery romance of modern New York which appeared in serial form in Redbook Magazine is the basis for the screen mystery drama, "Star of Midnight," in which William Powell and Ginger Rogers are co-starring. The picture opens a three-day run at the Crown today.

Written by the late Arthur Somers Roche, the story has a background of social and night life in the gay metropolis. William Powell is a brilliant young lawyer who falls strangely into a Sherlock Holmes part and then tries to fight desperately for his own safety. Ginger Rogers is a youthful society girl whose interest in the mystery is largely due to her romantic interest in the suave Powell.

Other characters involved in the swift-moving events that stir society, the stage and the police headquarters are a scandal-monger columnist, a shot to death early in the action, a butler who is wise in the ways of the "Four Hundred," police inspectors, a lawyer and his wife, a gangster chief and a young society man who is in love with a girl who has disappeared under strange circumstances.

Directed by Stephen Roberts, "Star of Midnight," adapted for the screen by Howard J. Green, Anthony Veiller and Edward Kaufman.

Showing at the Crown Wednesday and Thursday is the RKO Radio picture, "The Saint Strikes Back," directed by John Farrow.

Excellent characterization of "the saint" by George Sanders. An adventurous modern Robin Hood, a reformed international jewel thief, assists the police in recovering a valuable manuscript and unmasks a murderer.

SUBMARINE

The entombed men, a telegram from the admiralty was placed in the window of Cammell Laird, Ltd., builders of the Thetis. It read: "Regret that your diving victims in Thetis must now be abandoned."

The Thetis, her nose buried in 65 feet of mud in wreck-littered Liverpool bay, carried 102 men bound with her in her drive. Four men escaped with Davis breathing "hugs." Three others were said to have died in vain attempts.

The catastrophe had all the elements of a major mystery. The Thetis had had several minor accidents in previous trials but there was still no official explanation of why she suddenly plunged into the mud.

Neither was there any explanation of why four men managed to get through the aft escape hatch within an hour Friday morning and then no more escaped.

Those four were Capt. H. P. Gram, Lieut. G. F. Woods, Chief Stoker W. C. Arnold and Frank Shaw but none of them was allowed for the present to make any official statement of what happened at the time of the accident or what plight the others were in when they left the submarine.

Car Reported Stolen
J. Andy Smith, of LeFors called the Gray county sheriff's department at 12:10 last night that his 1938 Chevrolet coupe had been stolen sometime between 10 p. m. and that hour. License numbers on the car were 461-187.

Peccary, Or Wild Hog, Now Big Game Animal In Texas

The Peccary, the only native North American wild hog, has finally attained the official status of a big game animal in Texas.

The ranks of the Colored Peccary, a Kentucky cavalryman reported the Peccary, rushes adversary with the ferociousness of a tiger.

Peccaries, unlike most hoofed animals, sleep in some sort of den and take refuge, head out, in holes. The nests of the young, of which there almost always are two in every litter, are found in hollow logs and holes.

Peccaries now range over 22 Southwest Texas counties, Robert Maeremann, assistant game manager for the Texas Game, Fish and Cyster commission, has found.

Their range includes the following counties: Bandera, Edwards, Real, Uvalde, Dimmitt, Frio, Webb, La Salle, Starr, Maverick, Medina, Live Oak, Jim Wells, Brooks, Kleberg, Kennedy, Wilbrey, Cameron, Hidalgo, Zavala, Zapata and Jim Hogg.

Wild hogs, now found in only 23 counties of Texas, formerly ranged over most of the state. Many references are found in the writings of early-day naturalists, hunters and explorers to the ferociousness of the Peccary when it is cornered.

Short-legged, but fleet, the Peccary boasts long tusks and it is with these and its sharp hoofs that it does considerable damage to its natural enemies.

H. P. Atwater, Texas naturalist, for whom the Atwater prairie chicken is named, related in his writings in 1896 that "the Peccary was widely hunted for its hide and as food, but that sportsmen also sought them."

Since that time the hides have been exported, mostly to France, where they were made into ladies' gloves. The bristles are converted into brushes.

General Chairman Carl Benedict had an admission to Pampa today: "Go West, you young folks! There's plenty of big hats, boots, and cowboy shirts worn on Pampa streets. Decorations have already been put up on Cuyler, some stores have added western effect store fronts and the Fiesta chief wants Pampans attuned to that setting."

They Don't Want Bergdoll Barred

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—The stock market today ended a rather spotty week with a notably cheerful note. While price changes were small throughout the brief session, metals, motors, small stocks, rubbers and specialties generally pointed upward. Many issues, however, closed virtually even or a shade in arrears.

Johnstown Wins Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Tall, dark and handsome Johnstown just about cleared up any lingering doubt to his right as champion of the three-year-olds today by galloping home a five-length winner in the seventy-first running of the classic Belmont Stakes.

Adding this mile-and-a-half test of endurance and speed to his previous conquests in the Withers mile, the Kentucky derby, the Wood Memorial and the Pumonok, William Woodward's whirlwind ran away from a field of five others.

Starting from the rail, he broke on top, and made every pole a winning one as he covered the long run in two minutes, 29 3/5 seconds, just one second off the track record, set by War Admiral in winning this stake two years ago.

"Big John" was the whole show. Jockey Jimmy Stout had to do little more than hold on.

2 Arrested For Drunken Driving

Second week of the May term of 31st district court and the first criminal-jury week of the term will open at 10 o'clock Monday morning with District Judge W. R. Ewing sounding the criminal docket.

No information was available at the courthouse Saturday as to whether any particular case had been set for hearing tomorrow.

Members of the grand jury adjourned at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, without adding any more indictments to the six made Thursday. The grand jury is to reconvene on June 12.

Service has been made on five of the six indictments. L. E. Casada and Leona Bowling, each indicted on charges of drunken driving, each posted bond of $1,000. The offense with which Casada is charged is alleged to have occurred on March 29, that of Leona Bowling on May 26, according to the indictments.

Sales Tax Leaders Plan New Campaign

AUSTIN, June 3 (AP)—Battlers for the sales-natural resource tax constitutional amendment espoused by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel carefully pondered strategy today for a fifth attempt to push it through the house of representatives.

Indications were that the long-waited controversy would come Tuesday or Wednesday. Opponents of the measure admitted they might have lost a little strength but insisted the enemy would continue several votes short of the needed 100.

Aside from that of how the tax measure will fare, the burning question was when the lawmakers will go home. They already have been here 145 days, which is longer than any previous session. The opinion seemed to be growing that proceedings would not end until the week of June 12 although many members still named next Saturday as the probable adjournment date.

Rate Hearing To Be Held On June 19

DALLAS, June 3 (AP)—D. A. Bandeen of Abilene, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, said here today the Texas business council had set a rate hearing in Austin June 19 as its first activity.

The council was organized at Austin by representatives of East, West, and South Texas Chambers of Commerce and of the Texas Manufacturers Association.

F. D. Perkins of McKinney, president of the East Texas Chamber, was named head of the council and Bandeen was elected secretary.

Bandeen said he had arranged for two rate experts to attend the hearing, which will be on rate discriminations against Texas.

The council will not concern itself with any regional or sectional problems Bandeen said, but will work strictly on things of state-wide interest.

FDR Threatened With NLRB Probe

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt has been told by some of his closest congressional friends that unless congress gets a chance to vote on Wagner labor act amendment this session, a house investigation of the national labor relations board is inevitable.

This became known today as influential house members started a quiet campaign to obtain support for an investigation resolution which Representative Cox, democrat, Ga., has introduced.

Cox said he would ask the rules committee to approve his resolution unless the labor committee reports amendments "in time for action this session."

Some democrats expressed the opinion privately that the house would certainly adopt, if brought to the floor, a resolution to create a special committee to inquire into the board's activities during the summer and fall and report back January 1.

The inquiry would look into qualifications of the three board members and all regional directors and trial examiners and the arguments that the law should be amended. Representative Anderson, democrat, Mo., already has introduced legislation for such an investigation and informed persons said a similar one was being drafted by other legislators.

Council of Church Women Has World Friendship Lunch Friday

More than 100 women attended the World Friendship luncheon and program of the Pampa Council of Church Women Friday afternoon at the First Christian church.

Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless presided over the program on "Can Christianity Bind the World Together?" which was opened with several acclamation numbers by Mary Dean Wilkinson as the group assembled in the church auditorium.

Following the devotional on prayer by Mrs. R. W. Tucker and a prayer by Mrs. W. Purviance, Mrs. Sam Ford sang a vocal selection. In discussing "America's Part in World Peace," Mrs. Geneva Bogg stated that America is a melting pot which has failed to melt persons coming to America to become rich and failing, become dissatisfied and form organizations to undermine our government. There must be a better understanding, schools for tourists might aid; 30,000,000 protestants of the United States acting together can do a lot to promote peace. We already have a youth crusade in this country with 700,000,000 in the world today who call themselves Christian and with youth taking the lead, why can't we have peace?" Mrs. Bogg concluded.

Mrs. DeLea Vicars, whose topic was "The Hammers of Hate" in the "World of Today—Particularly in Europe," gave a number of examples of European activities now promoting war. She pointed out the expense created by these things and cited the merciful deeds that could be accomplished with the same amount.

In the open discussion of what we expect to do to promote peace Mrs. W. A. Breining stressed American Women's failure to vote and Mrs. Fred Roberts told of the greatness of giving up one's life for some great enterprise as compared with the utter uselessness of giving up one's life in war. Mrs. H. B. Landrum spoke briefly on the message of peace brought by the angels at the birth of Christ after which Mrs. Bogg asked that we remember that some people in all countries are praying to God, Mrs. A. B. Goldston showed a small map of Hungary as it was before and after the World war and explained that Europe in reality does not want war. Mrs. Vicars gave the golden rule as a certain way to evade war.

A short business session closed the meeting. Officers of the local council are Mrs. Fred Roberts, president; Mrs. A. L. Burge, first vice president; Mrs. W. A. Breining, second vice president; Mrs. E. N. Franklin, secretary; Mrs. Perry Gant, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. C. P. Buckler, treasurer.

Wheeler Plans Nearly Complete For Annual Fete

Special To The NEWS
WHEELER, June 3.—Arrangements are being completed here for Wheeler's annual mid-summer Pioneer Picnic and Celebration to be held during the week of June 19-24, Friday and Saturday, June 23 and 24, have been designated as the most important days of the week.

Saturday night brings probably the most outstanding entertainment feature of the week, when a monster free fireworks display will be presented.

Another important feature of the celebration will be the presence here all week of the D. S. Dudley Shows. Representatives of the carnival aggregation visited Wheeler this week and distributed publicity material, including window cards, announcing its coming on June 19.

Sponsors of the celebration believe that cash prizes offered in nearly a dozen contests will prove a big attraction.

Among these events are the old fiddlers' contest and a song contest. Others are prizes to the oldest couple attending the picnic on Saturday, June 24; youngest couple in attendance that day; couple of longest residence in the county; couple traveling greatest distance to the celebration, and the youngest baby present.

special qualifications as a teacher. The club is educational in purpose and is designed to give grades and junior high school children a combination course in speech, dramatics and story-telling based on the works of the famous bard, in simplified form and in such a way that it will appear like play to them. At the same time it prepares them for their high school English studies.

Until the number of members enrolled is ascertained, the plan is to have one club. If, however, there is sufficient number, the children will be divided by ages or grades. An appropriate Shakespearean name will be given each chapter or club.

Prizes will be offered at various stages and diplomas in elementary dramatic arts will be awarded each child who has finished the prescribed course.

The grand finale will be a Shakespearean play in simplified form or pageant having the children port-

Kiwanians Hear Selves Entertain On Mystery Radio

A mystery radio broadcast in which members sat in the audience and listened to themselves, featured the weekly luncheon meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis club Friday in Hotel Schneider. The program, with Joe Gordon, program chairman, as master of ceremonies, consisted of an accordion number by Judge Newton P. Willis, vocal selection by the Rev. Robert Boshen, violin solo by Shelby Gantz, saxophone solo by R. B. Saxe, and a swing version of "Flat-foot Floogie," by the Kiwanis club quartet composed of W. V. Jarrett, Dr. V. E. von Brunon, the Rev. Joseph Wondert, and J. B. Mass. The radio program was conducted by a classification talk on "A Newspaper's Relationship to its Community," by Tex DeWeese, editor of The News, who listened to his own address. The complete half-hour program was recorded a week ago and was presented Friday as an actual radio broadcast through the assistance of Herman Krieger, chief engineer of Radio Station KPDN. Realization by club members of what was taking place did not come until Mr. Gordon and Mr. DeWeese walked into the dining room at the same time the former was introducing the latter on the radio. The recording was made by Mr. Krieger, assisted by Ray Monday and Gene Moser, of the KPDN staff and was presented Friday from the radio station's Borger studios by remote control. Irvin Ochsmar of Amarillo, lieutenant-governor of the fifth division of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis district, was present on an official visit to the Pampa club. He conferred after the meeting with officers and directors of the club and a plan for club assistance in Pampa's juvenile delinquency program was outlined. —News Want Ads Get Results— Eyes Examined — Glasses Fitted DR. BY HELEN WORDEN

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Mary Franklin was Duke Martin's...

CHAPTER XX THAT NIGHT Clem Shirley was standing at the bar...

Instead of speaking to them, the Duke silently pulled out a chair at a table in a far corner...

Clem was drinking a highball. Her black hair was tumbling in careless curls about a defiant face...

Her voice was high-pitched and reckless as she replied to Jack's pleading tones...

His face was flushed, his hair rumpled, and his dinner coat wrinkled. Half-drunk, he was making a desperate effort to hold her attention...

"You don't care a damn!" Jack's words, tense and deep, suddenly penetrated the haze of barroom chatter...

A woman laughed shrilly. "He's off again. Why doesn't he come over here? She isn't the only girl in the world..."

Another woman sitting at the same table giggled. "The idiot was going to marry her. She's thrown him over for Duke Martin. Caught in the mesh, I'll say..."

The first woman smiled. "She's more scatterbrained than I thought. Look where Janice French landed..."

A fresh lot of people came in and their conversation was lost again in the babble of noisy tongues...

JACK steeled himself at the bar as he ordered another drink. His handsome face was drawn and in his blood-shot eyes was a harassed, desperate look...

"You're a silly little fool heading straight for the devil," he said. Then reaching for the glass the bartender handed him, he added, "And I'm going with you!"

"Don't talk rot," she said sulkily. "I don't want you pulling me. You don't own me." Her voice grew hysterical. "I don't see what I ever saw in you—such a prig!"

"A prig because I object to your going with Martin when you know he's a crook. A prig because I don't like the pretty drinks he concocts for little girls..."

As Jack's words rang out through the room, Martin left his table and walked slowly across to the bar...

"Sorry to interrupt," he drawled, "but I thought we had a date tonight, Clem."

"Like a little slave, Clem put down her drink and turned to go with him."

Jack, white with anger, faced Martin. "You can't take my girl." There was a flicker of amusement in the Duke's eyes. "She wants to go."

Jack's right fist clenched convulsively, then trembled. "Perhaps you would like my money as well!" He reached in his pocket. "I'll buy her back. How much is she worth?" He hung a roll of bills on the bar.

"You're acting like a fool, Burden. Put that money back in your pocket."

Jack's right fist clenched convulsively, then trembled. "Perhaps you would like my money as well!" He reached in his pocket. "I'll buy her back. How much is she worth?" He hung a roll of bills on the bar.

"You're acting like a fool, Burden. Put that money back in your pocket."

Spluttering with rage, Jack struck out at Martin, fanning the air as the Duke side-stepped his fist.

Clem stepped between the two men, her eyes were cold and hostile. "I never want to see you again, Jack Burden," she cried. "You're—your're unspeakable!"

Martin caught her by the arm, his lowering face red and dark. "Come on, Clem." But before he could turn, Jack had swung again and this time he landed a neat one on Martin's chin. The owner of the Dove reeled slightly. "Don't be such a sap," he warned, shoving Jack into a chair. "Clear out and come back when you're sober."

"I'll clear out when I damned well get ready," shouted Jack.

The little group at the bar had everybody's attention. The head waiter rushed excitedly forward, a couple sitting near Martin and Jack moved to a far table and Nick came hurrying through the door.

"You loose," he cried, grabbing Jack by the shoulder. "So you thought you could strong arm the boss?"

With cold brutality Martin walked out. Clem followed him. People returned to their tables. The tap room again hummed with chatter.

"Take a drink to clear your head," Nick advised, nodding to the bartender to pour Jack a stiff one.

Feigning to reach for the drink, Jack swung at Nick's head instead, sending him spinning like a billiard ball among the tables. Before the crowd could grasp exactly what had happened, or before Nick could recover, Jack had drained the glass of whisky, hurled it at the head of an advancing and menacing waiter and bolted for the door.

Still running, he bumped hard into Mary Franklin, just as she was stepping into the main entrance.

When he didn't stop to apologize she stared after him. He stood on the curb in front of his automobile, swaying unsteadily as he tried to unlock the car door.

Mary rushed toward him as he stumbled in.

"Jack, she cried, attempting to grab the car door. 'What is the trouble?' He banged the car door shut. Mary was thrown backward on the pavement. His only reply was a screeching of the tires as he swung the car out into the middle of the street and careened wildly off.

QUICKLY picking herself up, Mary shouted at a taxi whirling by. Climbing excitedly in she called to the driver, "Follow that blue coupe."

The taxi man nodded. Jack's car was already turning up Third Avenue.

A shifting of the brakes threw Mary forward as her taxi jerked to a stop.

"Go on," she cried, "can't you see we're already losing track of that blue car?"

But the driver didn't answer. A policeman had thrust a grim face into the front of the taxi. "Where's the fire? Let's see your license."

"You can't stop this cab," Mary spoke sharply. "I'm on the Gazette." She reached in her bag. "Here is my police card."

"Just a minute, sister, just a minute." The officer held up a warning hand. "I ain't got no quarrel with you, but I will have if you keep this up. Show your police card to the commissioner, not me. This bozo was breaking the traffic laws and he's going to get a ticket or worse."

"You fool," cried Mary. "I'm on a story that the commissioner carries a lot about."

"Another word, young lady, and you'll go to the houseguy with this guy."

A crowd was gathering, attracted by the argument. The cab driver maintained a discreet silence.

"Here, take this." Desperately Mary flung a five dollar bill at the driver and jumped out of the car. "That'll cover your fine," she called and started running up Third Avenue looking frantically for another cab.
