M'Clellan Lake Covers 141 Acres After Rain STORMS RAKE LUBBOCK AREA

1.6 Inches Of Rain Falls In This Section

35 Feet Of Water At Dam Reported This Morning

Intermittent rains which turned into a steady night-long fall that continued until 10 a. m. today when skies cleared and the sun broke through, brought Pampa and vicinity 1.6 inches precipitation Tuesday night and today to bring the area's 1939 total to 9.06 inches.

Important news to Pampans and Gray county residents was that which came from McClellan Lake where the water had risen to 30 feet at the dam by noon today and 140 acres were under water.

When filled the lake will cover 700 acres. Heavy rains of almost cloud-burst proportions fell in the lake vicinity last night, and the water in the lake rose 13 feet from last night until noon today. Project Supervisor Earl Bradshaw in a telephone conversation from the lake at noon today, said the water at the dam was expected to rise five more feet to 35 feet by night.

The McClellan Lake dam is 65 feet in height. Figuring the 700-acre capacity for the lake, it was one-fifth filled today, and already nearly twice as large as Lake Marvin which was opened to the public near Canadian last Sunday.

Officials at the lake warned motorists not to attempt to drive to the dam site this evening, because roads are impassable due to washouts last night.

Wheat Harvest Halted By Rain

Showers in the Pampa area yesterday and today slowed the cutting of wheat, but the season is not yet sufficiently advanced to greatly effect grain receipts here. Many wheat farmers in the county have said they do not intend to start cutting wheat until tomorrow afternoon.

There was one carload of wheat shipped from Pampa Monday, another carload Tuesday. No cars had been shipped today.

One local elevator received 13 loads of wheat yesterday, and 40 loads were received at Kingsmill. Rain in the Groom vicinity halted the wheat harvest yesterday. Elevators in Groom have received 85 carloads of new wheat and the grain tested 60 to 64 pounds and the local wheat price was unchanged from yesterday at 60 cents.

WHEN M'CLELLAN LAKE HAD 13 FEET OF WATER AT DAM

McClellan creek lake today looked far different than it did when the above picture was made early this year. The lake had 13 feet of water in it when the above picture was taken. Today it had 35 feet of water in it—thanks to rains yesterday. For the first time since the dam was finished fairly heavy rains fell on the watershed.

Officials Want 800 To Attend Banquet For Commission Friday

A corps of highway-minded Pampans were at work today endeavoring to stress the importance of public attendance at the Pampa-Borger highway dedication banquet to be given here Friday night in honor of the entire Texas highway commission and the state highway director.

Chamber of Commerce officials issued an appeal again this afternoon calling attention to the fact that the affair will be a ladies' night banquet and that everybody in the Top O' Texas area is urged to attend the affair to be given in the Pampa High school gymnasium. The banquet will begin at 7 p. m. Friday.

Farris Oden, president of the Board of City Development, stated today that the banquet will be the largest civic banquet ever to be held in Pampa, and that an attendance of between 700 and 800 persons is desired.

Honor guests will be Chairman Brady P. Gentry of Tyler, chairman and members Robert Lee Bobbitt, San Antonio, and Harry Hines, Dallas, members of the highway commission, and Julian Montgomery, Austin, state highway engineer.

More than 200 guests are expected from out of town. There will include county officials, newspaper editors, radio station representatives, members of Oilfield Highway 41 association between Oklahoma City and Denver, and representatives from Highway 18 between Clarendon and Del Rio, Texas.

Reservations Necessary.—We appreciate very much the attendance of the entire state highway commission at this banquet, President Oden said today, "and we most certainly want to show our gratitude for the consideration they have given the Panhandle of Texas, by having a huge crowd out to give them a typical Top O' Texas reception."

Japs, British In Endurance Test In China

LONDON, June 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today Britain had made it clear to Japan she would take necessary steps to assure adequate food supplies for British subjects in the blockaded British concession at Tientsin.

Chamberlain said Japan also had been informed Britain did not "acquiesce" in the blockade.

The prime minister's statement was in response to a question by Anthony Eden, his former foreign secretary.

Chamberlain said there had been no new incidents at Tientsin, that the Japanese government had promised to investigate incidents already reported and that there was no serious food shortage so far.

TIENTSIN, June 21.—The eight-day-old Japanese blockade of the British and French concessions developed today into a determined test of patience between British and Japanese.

Mrs. Talley Operates 12-Section Hereford Ranch In Gray County

By OSIE BLACKWELL WILSON. Mrs. Ben F. Talley, widow of the late B. F. Talley, owns and operates a 12-section ranch in Gray county. She has the well-known high-bred line of Prince Domino Herefords.

The cattle business, says Mrs. Talley, is like many other businesses in that it is a highly specialized field, and requires information that is not easy for a woman to acquire.

In this respect she has been very fortunate in getting help from her cousin by marriage, H. A. Talley, and from her friends.

Mrs. Talley's ranch is located off the Laketon highway, one mile northeast of Philpott's elevator. Mrs. Talley has 150 registered cows. She also has 1,000 acres in farm land. And, says the lady: "I comply with the government program by planting wheat, row crop, and grain." She adds proudly: "I also have complied with the range program by building two new tanks and removing 400 acres of prickly pear."

Like the "Old Cowhand From the Rio Grande," she does most of her punching in an automobile. "If I didn't," she says, "I couldn't get around." Things are somewhat inconvenient for her in that her home is located in Miami in Roberts county where her husband formerly had several big land leases and other buildings. B. F. Talley was in the commercial cattle business on a big scale. "But," says Mrs. Talley, "I found that I couldn't spread myself out that far—to look after so many different interests. I knew I could concentrate better if we narrowed it down to one field. And so we disposed of our holdings in Roberts county."

Has Good Health.—The rigors of winter and bad weather are not small handicaps for a woman in the cow business. "In See MRS. TALLEY, Page 5

Pampa's Band Takes Prize At Amarillo

Pampa's summer band, directed by A. C. Cox, won a $25 prize as the best marching and playing band in the parade held at Amarillo at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, as a part of the 19th annual encampment of the Texas department, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The three-day encampment will close tonight with the election of officers and selection of the 1940 convention city.

In Amarillo yesterday, the 39 members of the Pampa band dressed in white trousers and shirts, played in the lobby of the Amarillo hotel preceding their march with other bands down Polk street from the Amarillo high school to the Amarillo hotel.

In the parade were other bands from Borger, Dumas, Galveston and the state metal drill team from Motor Transport Post 1533, Auxiliary, San Antonio.

At 6:15 o'clock the band was given a supper by members of the Pampa post of the V. F. W. at an Amarillo cafe. After supper, the band played in the lobby of the Amarillo hotel.

The band traveled to the encampment and returned in a Pampa Independent School bus, driven by Joe Shelton, bus superintendent, leaving Pampa at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and returning here at 9:45 o'clock last night.

Fifteen members of the Pampa V. F. W. post attended the encampment. Veterans of Foreign wars, in See BAND, Page 5

Employers Can Ask Election On Bargaining

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Charley Fahy, general counsel, said today the National Labor Board had decided to grant employers the right to petition for a collective bargaining election among their workers in certain cases.

Fahy made the statement to the House labor committee when Joseph Padway, general counsel for the American Federation of Labor, expressed the opinion the board probably would not take such a step.

Fahy said the board decided officially yesterday to make the change and would include it in a "whole set of revisions" in the board's regulations to be announced soon.

Chairman J. Warren Madden of the board had said several weeks ago that employers would be granted the right to ask for an election but told the committee such permission would have to be surrounded with safeguards to prevent employers from taking advantage of their organized employees.

Duffy Nominated As Judge By FDR

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—President Roosevelt nominated former Senator F. Ryan Duffy today to be United States judge for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

Duffy, who was a staunch administration supporter while in the Senate, will succeed Judge Ferdinand A. Geiger, who retired recently. Duffy was defeated for reelection in 1938 by Senator Wiley (R., Wis.).

House Again Votes Down Sales Levy

AUSTIN, June 21 (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel informed the senate in a message today he would see the members again "on January 10, 1941." There has been much speculation whether the chief executive would call a special session because of failure to adopt a taxing program for financial social security services.

AUSTIN, June 21 (AP)—The bitterly-contested plan to finance social security by constitutional amendment was finally killed for this session by the house of representatives today.

After Speaker Emmett Morse of Houston announced it would be the last test on the taxing issue, the house refused, 92 ayes to 54 noes, to suspend its rules so that "S. J. R. 12," constitutional resolution favored by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and approved by the senate, would be considered again.

Eight times previously the house had rejected, in one way or another, the proposal to submit to the people a constitutional amendment to pay the cost of Texas' social security program by combination sales-natural resource-service taxes.

Not a Dime Provided.—A roar of cheers and handclapping swept the great hall of the house, coming from members on the floor and the crowded galleries, as Speaker Morse announced the result.

It was the climax of months of maneuvering in the longest session of the legislature in Texas history. For months the battle had raged within the legislature and outside it with Governor O'Daniel blasting out arguments in favor of the amendment plan over the radio.

It came on the last day of the session shortly after the clock in the house had been stopped so it could not record the official adjournment time for noon.

The result meant the session would end, sometime later in the day, with the legislature having provided not a dime in new revenue, although it liberalized the old age pension law so costs of old age assistance will be greatly increased, and voted to give the counties millions in ad valorem taxes.

"H. J. R. 16" Rejected.—A little before the house turned down "S. J. R. 12" for the last time the house had decisively declined to suspend its rules so that another constitutional amendment which originated in the house was known as "H. J. R. 16" could be brought up again.

Long ago rejected by the house, this amendment was quite similar to "S. J. R. 12" providing for sales- See SALES LEVY, Page 5

New Sunset Drive Survey Filed Here

Property Owners Agree To Abide By New Record

An objective sought for more than a year was attained at the city commission meeting Tuesday, when the commission approved the filing of an amended survey of Parkhill Terrace sub-division.

Due to what had been claimed to be an improper survey, confusion had resulted in the question of land titles of property owners on Sunset Drive, in the sub-division. Loan companies would not make loans on the property because of this confusion. Some of the houses were situated where the pavement should have been, it had been claimed.

The map, prepared by Mark Denson, followed the obtaining of signatures of property owners involved to a document by which they agreed to abide by the amended survey. The proposition had been submitted to the preceding city commission, but no action was taken by them, or the present commission, until signatures of all property owners concerned had been obtained.

Stores Asked To Close July Fourth

Merchants of Pampa will be asked to close their stores on July 4 as a part of the observance of Independence day. It was announced today following a meeting of an American Legion committee Tuesday night.

Preceding Independence day observance will be a dance on Monday night, July 3, starting at 9:30 o'clock, at the Southern club.

A fireworks exhibition, especially for children, will be held on the night of July 4. Place and time of the exhibition, and other details of the July 4 program, are to be determined later by the committee.

Closing of stores here on July 4 will permit many Pampans to attend celebrations being held in neighboring cities, during the day.

Highways At Crowell Are Under Water

Quanah Has 4.22 Inches Rain And Amarillo, 3.98

LUBBOCK, June 21 (AP)—Rain still beat a dangerous water today in West Texas, a section beset by high water and tornadoes that left two dead, several injured, hundreds homeless and heavy damage.

Locked in silence by impassable highways were several communities near here, battered by twisters last night that killed W. H. Jackson as he sat in his Updyke community farm home, 25 miles west of here. His wife was critically injured.

The mighty Colorado river, which pushed down highway and railway bridges in a surge near Colorado City yesterday, receded at that point but spread out in wastelands on a down country surge after taking a man's life at Snyder.

Crowell, near the southwestern Oklahoma borderline, was practically isolated by high water. Highway 16, running north and south, was under water on both sides of the town while the swollen Pease river apped against the floor of the highway bridge between Crowell and Quanah.

Three sections of the Santa Fe railway bridge northeast of Crowell washed out and three cars were swept off the Quanah highway. But none of the occupants was injured. Quanah worried through 4.22 inches of rain last night while Amarillo, struck by 3.98 inches, reported no damage with highways still open.

Killed By Twister.—Heavy rainfall ranging up to 10 inches and gusts blocked with dead livestock and timber delayed efforts to verify that the storm struck widespread plains areas and to establish extent of damage and casualties in the known sections of the Colorado river.

One twister killed W. H. Jackson when his farm home in the Updyke community, 25 miles west of here, was demolished. Mrs. Jackson was critically injured.

Five persons were injured and at least a dozen houses leveled south of Shallowater, 12 miles northwest of here, and a third windstorm damaged numerous outbuildings and residences in the Lingo, N. M., area just over the Texas border.

Chronic Infantile Paralysis Is Lou Gehrig's Malady

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Ed Barrow, president of the New York Yankees, announced today that Lou Gehrig is suffering from chronic infantile paralysis and will never play baseball again.

Barrow's statement came after Gehrig had turned over to him the formal report made by Mayo Clinic experts. Gehrig had spent several days in the clinic in order to have a thorough check made of his physical condition.

The one-time great first baseman had been worried about his condition all year. After making a bad showing in the field and at bat during the early part of the season, Gehrig voluntarily benched himself May 3, thus ending his consecutive games streak at 2-130 games.

He sat on the bench for several weeks but could not regain his strength. Finally he decided to put himself in the hands of experts to determine just why he had lost his baseball form so suddenly. His trip to the clinic followed.

Traffic Safety Responsibility Shifts To Parents In Summer

Open Letter Sounds Appeal For Clean Vacation Slate

THEIR MOTHERS EXPECT THEM HOME!

Give your boy and girl a safety talk every day during the summer vacation. Their teachers want them back in school in September. They want them back with sound legs and strong arms. Not with a twisted leg, or legs that need braces or crutches.

They want them back with joy and laughter in their hearts, eager for another year of opening minds to the education you want them to get. Not with fear and horror that sear the mind and memory of a child who has fallen under the wheels of an automobile.

They want them back just like they are today. That was the message to Pampa parents in an open letter prepared today by the Editor of The Pampa News.

REMINDS OF ADDED RESPONSIBILITY.—In it he reminds parents of their added responsibility during the summer vacation months. There has not been a school child traffic fatality this year. Much credit for this fine record is due to co-operation of police, civic clubs and school authorities in safety work.

The open letter follows: Dear Parents: Records show that children enjoy a period of safety during the school term which they do not enjoy during vacation time. While they are at school they are being taught safe practices and habits. With the closing of school the responsibility for this teaching has fallen on you. The teaching must continue if children are to remain safe. Summer time is play time, the playing children quickly forget the safety lessons which they have been taught unless they are constantly reminded of them. Certainly this is not too great a thing to ask of the mothers and fathers of the citizens of tomorrow. Set a good example for your child to follow. You cannot reasonably expect a child to obey traffic laws and signals if you yourself ignore them. Don't let anything happen to you. What would become of your little boy or girl if you were suddenly taken away because of some needless accident? Give your child a safety talk every day during the vacation season. —THE EDITOR.

Latest Style In Smart Fashion Shows Is 'Theme Color' Luncheon

By MARIAN YOUNG
NEW YORK, June 21.—"Theme color" fashion shows are keeping luncheon guests in smart Fifth Avenue hotels and restaurants entertained these warm days. Whether ten costumes or fifty are being shown, each shop sticks to a particular color scheme throughout.

Luncheon guests in the fashionable Persian Room at the Plaza recently watched a black, white and red fashion show. At another hotel, another shop stuck to a red, white and blue theme. In a garden restaurant, summer cottons in garden colors were featured.

One of the smartest costumes in the black, white and red show was a two-piece silk suit in black and white print, shown with a fine white lingerie blouse, a huge red hat of rough straw and a red bag.

Also interesting was a beige and white striped linen frock with a beige hat with red ribbons and flat-heeled red kidskin shoes. The model carried a black bag and beige gloves.

Luncheon fashion shows have become increasingly popular during the past year. Nowadays, practically every good shop plans several per year. They use some of their own models, of course, but depend on the large model agencies to supply extra models.

The Fashion "Curtain" Rises
On the day of the show, the "theme" clothes are taken to the hotel or restaurant, placed in charge of a wardrobe mistress from the store. Fifteen minutes before the show is to begin, the models arrive, and each girl is told which costume she is to wear from the dressing room across the ramp among the tables and back to the dressing room.

When the music begins, the first model parades down the ramp, pausing and turning several times to give each diner—and, incidentally, each prospective customer—a chance to see the outfit. Then she returns to the dressing room, changes into another frock, waits her turn to parade again. During the show, an announcer describes the material and color of the clothes to the audience. When it is over, anyone who wants to buy a dress which was shown goes directly to the store. Nothing is sold while the fashion show is in progress.

Not only do luncheon fashion shows give women a chance to see what is newest and smartest in clothes but also what is happening to coiffures, what kinds of make-up look best with different types of costumes. Models have their hair done by hairdressers who create new coiffures. They are ever on the lookout for new effects to be achieved with makeup. And they are experts at applying cosmetics.

Furthermore, to watch a model walk or stand quietly while a spectator examines more closely a particular costume is to have a first-hand lesson in posture and poise. Women like New York fashion shows. And no wonder.

Prime Minister Of England As Young Man Caught Cattle Rustlers On Texas Plains

(By The Associated Press)

Texas was not on the itinerary of the visiting king and queen, but more than a half century ago there dwelt in Northwest Texas a man who subsequently wielded more power in the British Empire than four generations of royalty.

Scions of great families in England, remittance men and devil-may-care fellows from the "Tight Little Isle" seeking excitement were familiar to the landscape of the Old West. But Arthur James Balfour, scholar, author and future cabinet minister and prime minister of Great Britain, came not to escape boredom or seek adventure, but with the definite mission of clearing up cattle stealing on a Wilbarger county ranch owned by an English company. And he succeeded, oldtimers who remember his stay say, because he fraternized with the cowboys, worked with them, played with them, so readily won their goodwill and confidence he obtained the information he sought.

When Balfour arrived at Doans Store at Doans Crossing on the Red River north of Vernon one spring afternoon in 1884, he was, to those who saw him, merely another of the host of adventurous young Englishmen then drifting into the cattle country. Slender but physically strong, friendly and courteous, he began making friends almost from the moment he clambered off the rickety mail hack that had brought him from the railroad at Wichita Falls.

He gave no hint of his mission but went at once to Doans store, then the last provision station for the great cattle outfits driving up the trail from South Texas to Dodge City, Kans. From C. F. Doan he bought a complete outfit of "duck-ins," boots, Stetson, bandana and six-shooter.

Although only seven, Mrs. Bertha Doan Koss of Vernon, daughter of C. F. Doan, remembers the pleasant young Englishman. His attractive personality, friendliness and evident desire to be liked made a deep impression on her and other members of her family.

"He was not like most of the young Englishmen, especially the lords, who came to Doans," she recalled. "Most of them adopted a superior, patronizing attitude toward the cowboys, and consequently, were thoroughly disliked by them and us. For if there was one thing the Texas cowboy and cowmen could not stand it was to be patronized, and woe to the man who took him at less than his own valuation."

"As a matter of fact, about a year before Mr. Balfour arrived the same company had sent a group of Englishmen, whose families were interested in the ranch, to investigate the loss of cattle."

"They came with a retinue of servants and camped under silk tents, a thing which the cowboys could never forgive. Worse was their superior attitude toward the Texans, which climaxed when the Englishmen told their negro porter he could eat with the rest of the 'servants,' meaning the cowboys.

"When the negro, ignorant of the nature of the Texas cowboy, imparted that information things began to happen. Several grabbed their guns and, spattering bullets around his feet, suggested that the climate to the south would be more healthful. From then on the Englishmen might as well have been in London for all the information they were able to get."

Because young Balfour's attitude was so different from what had come to be associated with Englishmen, everybody at Doans "took to him like a biting shoot."

"Mother used to say that he was one of the finest young men who ever came to Doans, and we entertained everybody, from lords to tramps," Mrs. Ross said.

"It was an exciting scene on which young Balfour, now clothed in conventional cowboy garb, entered at Doans in '84. Preparations were making to take care of the great trail herds which soon would be moving up from South Texas."

Cowboys, heading for the spring roundups on the big ranches of Wilbarger county, paused at Doans to stay overnight or longer. A dance nightly, horse races, shooting contests and similar activities provided entertainment. From the "territory" not far away came bands of Indians to play monte with the cowboys and add their share to the colorful setting.

It must have been a strange and exciting spectacle to the Englishman, who preferred mental exercise to physical exertion, but he soon became a part of it. Perhaps the individualism and direct action of the men of the frontier was the mold of his future life, because Arthur Balfour definitely was an individual and throughout his long political career no one ever questioned his courage.

Like most Englishmen of good family, Balfour was an excellent horseman and his skill in the saddle won the respect and goodwill of the cowboys who taught him to handle a rope and master other tricks of their trade.

With spring roundups in the offing men were scarce and the likable Englishman had no difficulty getting a job from the foreman he had come to investigate.

Then for two weeks, the future prime minister of Britain worked as a Texas cowboy. He rode as recklessly as the others, engaged in their rough sports and refused to be "fazed" by their practical jokes. Meanwhile he gathered the information he wanted sitting around the campfires at night hearing the cowcamp gossip and also saw cattle were being taken off the ranch with no record of their removal.

At the end of two weeks Balfour disappeared from the cattle camp on Bitter Creek and reappeared at Doans. There he discarded the cowboy dress and sent a messenger for the foreman along with his credentials.

"Probably the most surprised man in Texas," Mrs. Ross said, "was that foreman when he walked into our store that day and found his erstwhile hand awaiting him."

In precise English Balfour went over the evidence he had gathered, forced the foreman to reveal where he had deposited the money for cattle taken illegally off the ranch, and obtained an order directing its transfer to the company. Then, informing the foreman that he was fired, he pointed to the road, explaining that it would be a good idea for him to make himself scarce in those parts.

Mr. Doan watched the scene.

"Well," he declared at its conclusion, "you are one of the slickest cusses I ever ran into. You sure ain't like those dudsish Englishmen the company's been sending out here the past few years."

Balfour thanked the Doans for their hospitality and, leaving his card, rode to Wichita Falls, took a train to Kansas city, and there recovered the money for his company before returning to England.

For many years Balfour's card was a treasured possession of the Doan family, but it was lost in the fire that destroyed the Doans' dobe house Dec. 24, 1922. And with the burning of the card disappeared the last physical trace of Arthur J. Balfour's visit to the cattle country of Northwest Texas 55 years ago.

W. Lee Gets Bill To Remit State Taxes

AUSTIN, June 21 (AP)—As it must to all mortal activities, death came to the longest Texas legislative session in history.

Lawmakers fittingly chose the longest day of the year for adjournment of a battle-scarred convulse strife-torn over methods of financing old age pensions from start to finish.

Wary legislators failed twice yesterday to crack the deadlock in the house of representatives where an intransigent group has refused to permit passage of the senate-born resolution which bears the unconditional approval of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

The proposal which would submit the issue to the people lacked only five votes of final passage at one point.

18 Millions In Red.

The senate sent the governor a measure which, if signed, will remit to all counties one-half of state ad valorem taxes estimated to amount to nearly $3,000,000 annually. Opponents argued the state could not afford to lose the revenue with its general fund already $18,000,000 in the red.

A rural school aid conference committee report appropriating $13,651,654 the next biennium was approved by both houses, leaving only vocational school aid yet to be acted upon.

Deeply overshadowed by the tax fight, activities of the legislature throughout the long session included:

Holding down tax money spending despite increasing demands, liberalizing pension eligibility, refusing to boost the truck load limit, passing the so-called "fair trade" act, smothering efforts to bring back legalized horse race betting, revising land laws intended to stop alleged "vacancy racketeering," approving a barbers' service price fixing bill vetoed by the governor.

Setting up a state-wide soil conservation plan, creating a department of public welfare, killing liquor sale by the drink, abolishing the office of tax commissioner and reclamation engineer, permitting the planning board to die, providing acquisition of the Big Bend state park, tightening liquor law enforcement.

Hot Check Law Passed.

Offering $10,000 reward for a new use for cotton, making it tough for "hot check" artists, prohibiting soliciting of funds from aged persons in the interest of obtaining pensions for them or others, passing a self-governing bar bill, ratifying a compact with New Mexico over division of waters of the Pecos, revising the unemployment compensation act reducing the tax for some employers, permitting refunding of relief bonds saving the state $100,000 interest, borrowing $900,000 additional for pensions, protecting brown pelicans and javelinas, standardizing tomato grading, extending Texas' boundary in Sabine Pass, approving extension of the oil proration laws and Texas participation in the Interstate Oil Compact.

The legislature rejected:

The governor's drastic transaction tax, request for a prison system investigation with business men on the committee, governmental and financial consolidation suggestions, desire for abolition of the death penalty, argument for his own budget director with the legislature choosing an auditor and a number of his appointees.

Proposals to revise the farm tenancy laws, establish new gas proration regulations in the Panhandle, teach crime prevention in schools, authorize universal hunting and fishing licenses, raise tuition at the University of Texas medical school, abolish civil appeals courts, give free text books to private school students.

Consolidate 132 state departments into 18, provide civil service for state employees, levy a state income tax, abolish the liquor control board, keep Buchanan lake half-empty to guard against floods, force beer sales out of public dance halls and issue liquor-selling permits on a population basis.

The lawmakers overrode O'Daniel's veto of a bill designed to expedite appeals in law suits and created by resolution, after the bill had been vetoed, a commission for Texas co-operation in interstate problems.

Nudists Arrested At New York Show

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Continuing their campaign to cover up nudity at the New York World's Fair, police last night arrested two showgirls, Fay Krop, 20 and Joan Vickers, 22, on charges of participating in an indecent performance.

Arthur Gayner, 31, of Paterson, N. J., manager of the "Frozen Alive" show, and David Bell, 30, manager of N. T. G.'s "Congress of Beauty" were also arrested.

Police Inspector Charles Mooney said Miss Krop, who is encased in a piece of ice in the "Frozen Alive" show, wore "a g-string and a nice smile." He said Miss Vickers was a fan dancer in the N. T. G. show.

AN APOLOGY TO OUR GRADUATES. Inasmuch as during this month there will be about 1,100,000 high school graduates and nearly 150,000 college graduates, it would seem proper to apologize to these graduates coming out of public institutions.

The institutions from which they are graduating are putting on great shows all over the country. They are eulogizing their accomplishments and using every art and every device to make the parents and the pupils believe that they have been treated fairly. Instead of being treated fairly, it seems to me that we parents owe the graduates an apology for what we have done to them.

We owe the graduates an apology for so mis-educating society that more than half of these graduates who desire jobs are not able to find places in society to use their energy.

We owe an apology to these youths because we have failed to train them on the most important thing in education; namely, as Emerson said, "The education of the will is the object of our existence."

We owe an apology to these youths because we have not taught them what democracy is.

We owe an apology to these youths because we have not taught them what reason is.

We owe an apology to these youths because we have not taught them how to serve humanity.

We owe an apology to these youths because we have not permitted them to learn by doing.

We owe an apology to these youths because we have not permitted them to practice democracy and the philosophy of Christianity, but insisted on their using the force of the majority to coerce the minority to do things that they did not believe were preservative of the human kind and naturally tended to produce real and unmixd happiness.

We owe an apology to these youths because we have not disciplined the will of the youth as to how to be of service to mankind.

We owe an apology to these youths for expecting they could be pampered, waited upon and served, and then automatically and instantaneously expect them to serve others.

We owe an apology to these youths because we have made laws that make it impossible for them in many kinds of work to learn how to serve mankind without being paid more than they could produce.

We owe an apology to these youths for claiming that we have educated them and then passing the bill to them in unpaid taxes of approximately $1200 for every worker in the land which they will have to help pay out of their production.

We owe an apology to these youths because we are not turning over to them, in spite of all the public education, nearly the liberty and the freedom that was enjoyed in this government when the most of the parents became of age.

So, instead of congratulating the graduates, every man who loves liberty and who loves his children, should bow his head in shame at the miserable mess we have made in the training of our youth.

SINCERITY OF ROOSEVELT NOT QUESTIONED

A man told the writer that he was for Roosevelt because he believed he was honest and sincere. Certainly this is no reason for approving a President. "Hell is paved with good intentions."

The question facing the American people today is whether the Roosevelt policies are getting results. The results we want are the greatest number of private jobs for each individual to receive the greatest possible reward for his services.

It makes no difference what man says or what he proclaims. The world and nature do not pay for sweat and proclamations. They pay for results. Certainly, no logical person can be for a President because he believes he is honest or his motives are good. If that be the case, we would be looking for the purity of a babe as our President, rather than a man who understands the fundamentals of human relations and of nature.

Behind The News Of The Day

WASHINGTON—One of the big things the New Deal was going to do—back in its green and promising days—was to solve the farm-tenant problem.

It diagnosed the disease, described the symptoms copiously, and set to work, entrusting the task to the Farm Security Administration. But the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act, with which it equipped FSA to do the job, didn't go far enough.

Under the first year of that act, FSA was able to put just 1800 landless farmers on farms of their own. This year it hopes to raise that number to 7000. It figures the maximum number it can handle under the act at 12,000 a year.

Meanwhile, it estimates that the number of tenant farmers and share-croppers is increasing at 40,000 a year—which leaves FSA much in the position of the cat that tried to get out of a well by jumping up two feet and sliding back three on each leap.

AMENDMENT HOLDS PROMISE. Now, at last, there is a fair chance that a real, two-handed effort will be made.

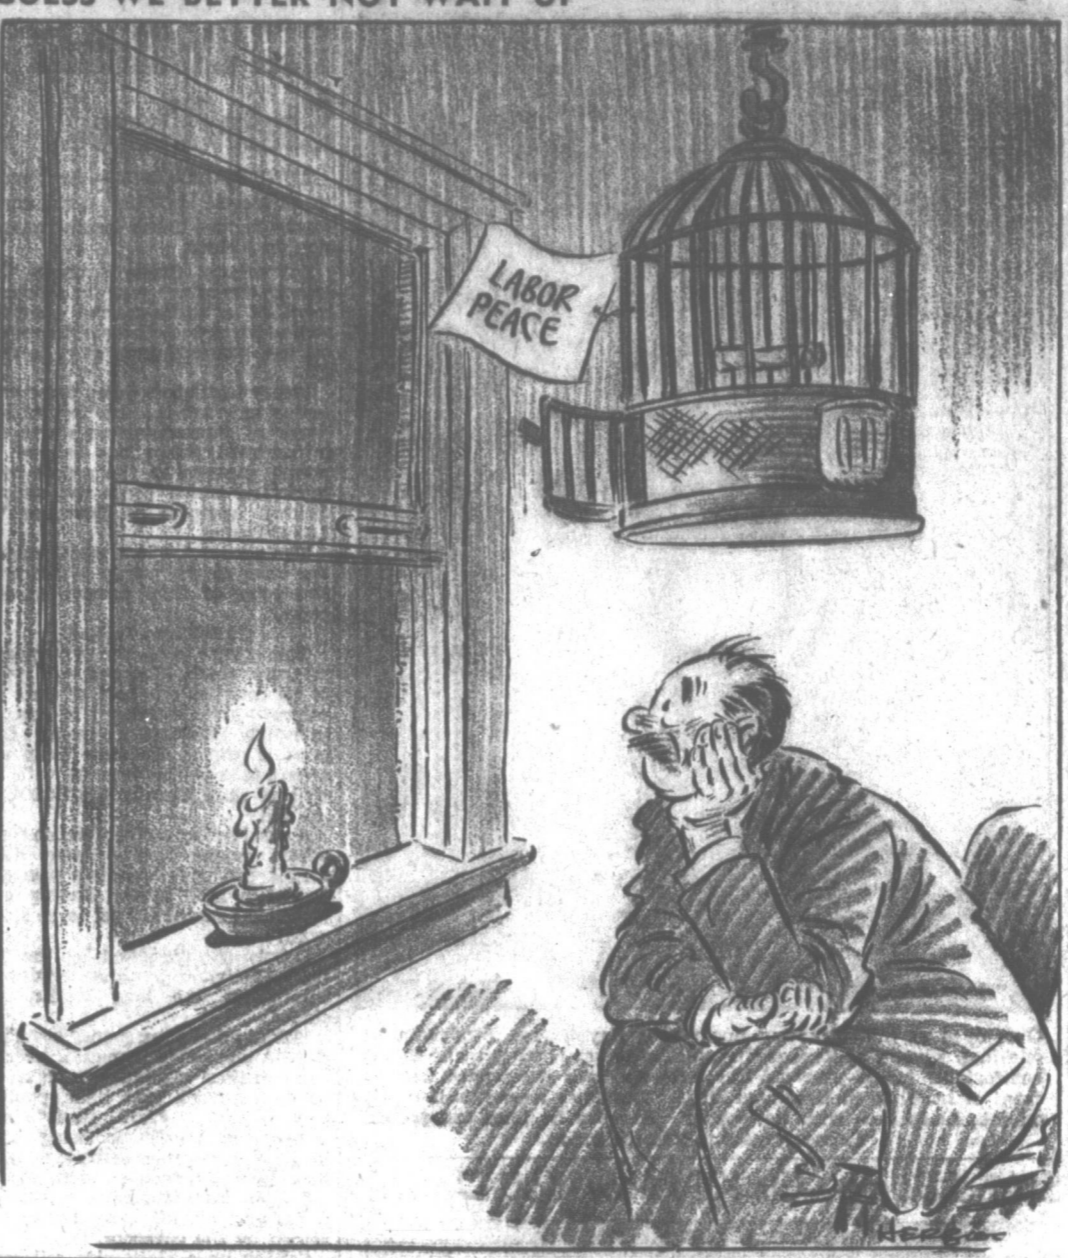

Pending before a Senate subcommittee is the Lee amendment to the Bankhead-Jones Act, which, in effect, would apply FSA mortgage-insurance principles to the farm-purchase program to the extent of $350,000,000.

Fifty-two senators have signed the bill as co-authors, rendering Senate approval virtually certain. Prospects in the House, though less bright, are still encouraging.

Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma, originator of the bill, believes that ultimately it would get something like two-thirds of the nation's tenant and share-crop farmers back on land of their own. That is a large order, as he remarks, 42 per cent of American farms today are tenant farms, with the percentage far higher in some states.

In Mississippi, for instance, it is 69 per cent; in

GUESS WE BETTER NOT WAIT UP

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 21.—A fight that begins on horseback and rages around a garden and through five rooms of a house is being staged by members of the star-spangled, feminine cast of "The Women."

The slaps and hair-pulling and skin-kicking are, I can assure you, genuine. And they are not performed by doubles. When male combatants are in a fistie scene, the atmosphere usually is pretty grim.

It happens in Reno and begins with the discovery that Paulette Goddard, there for a divorce, is going to marry the man whom another of the women is divorcing. There's a hot exchange of words before Rosalind Russell yanks Miss Goddard (who looks very unmy in the white shorts and red sweater) off her horse.

Then the slapping match begins and it's clear from the start that the cutie in ringside costume has the advantage. They wreck a table set for luncheon, and Miss Russell retreats into the house. They go from room to room, followed by Joan Fontaine, Norma Shearer and Mary Boland, who try to intervene and suffer for it.

It finally ends in a flurry of skin-kicking and biting, after which the disheveled Miss Russell limps to get some iodine, grumbling that she'll probably develop hydrophobia.

This sequence is the last to be filmed, so that black eyes and sprains can't delay production. Also, possibly, so that any real enemies growing out of the battle wouldn't spoil the company's morale. But there have been none of those; in fact, the whole picture has gone off without the flares of temperament and jealousies that Hollywood expected.

Punned Norma Shearer: "After I have a fight with Rosalind, we'll be bitter friends from then on."

Semi-Windup Bickford Vs. Burns. There's very little taking in movie fights except that most of the hay-maker blows and spectacular falls are taken by stunt men.

In "Our Leading Citizen," Bob Burns and Charles Bickford put on such a realistic brawl that at the end, when Bickford downed Burns and was proceeding to a more artistic bit of mayhem, an excited extra jumped in from the sidelines and began punching the red-headed actor. It spoiled the take.

I mentioned the Jackie Cooper-Freddie Bartholomew match in "Bright Victory," and on the same lot George Raft and Victor Jory—a couple of lads who really can handle themselves—battered each other all over the set of "I Stole a Million."

Alabama, 64; in Senator Lee's own Oklahoma it is 61. Even in Iowa and Nebraska it is slightly higher than 49.

Under the existing law, the secretary of agriculture is authorized to make direct loans to tenants and share-croppers to buy farms. The Lee bill would authorize the insurance of mortgages up to $350,000,000 in three years. The tenant would make his own deal, and if both he and his deal were okayed by an FSA county committee—the government would simply guarantee his mortgage. He could get up to 40 years to pay, and the paper would bear 3 per cent interest.

CHANCE FOR FARM YOUTH

Actually, says Senator Lee, this $350,000,000 wouldn't be a direct outlay by the government. Most of the mortgages, he believes, would prove good. He is especially enthusiastic about the prospect of enabling ambitious farm youngsters to establish themselves on their own farms.

Five former Harvesters stand good chances to play in regular positions on the Rice varsity football team next fall. They are Bill Haner, Moose Hartman, J. P. Mathews, Stokes and R. Green.

He has already played outstanding football on the varsity, and J. P. was the brightest star on the freshman team last season. J. P., who is roustabouting for a major oil company operating in this field this summer, believes that Rice will win the conference title, and he really believes it, too.

The Moose was shifted from tackle to guard last fall, and showed aptitude for the new position. Coaches were delighted with the way Hartman blocked in spring training. He has great power ahead, and is fast and agile enough to swing out of the line and really lead the interference. He makes it tough on any end or line backer he is assigned to block. If all goes well, the 1939 Rice forward will likely will be the strongest line Coach Lou Hertenberger has fashioned at Rice, and Hartman may well be its outstanding performer.

The fellow has plenty of competitive spirit. A cartoon showing a giant-advancing on a little fellow accompanied the story, with the scared midget yelling "Wow! Man or Moose?" All of which makes Pampan's extremely proud of their athletes at Rice. They are putting Pampa on the map as it never has been done in the Southwest conference.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

In 1938, according to statistics especially assembled by the American Medical Association, there were 18 deaths due to celebration of Fourth of July with fireworks and other explosives, and seven additional deaths indirectly due to the same cause.

Two main causes of death were burns suffered by little girls when their flimsy dresses caught on fire from sparklers or firecrackers, and the mutilations of boys and men resulting from experiments with home-made explosives.

Eight little girls were burned to death last year, three of them in South Bend, Ind. Five boys and men died as a result of stuffing lead pipes with firecrackers and gunpowder.

Only two cases of lockjaw were reported in 1938, and one in 1937, resulting from fireworks, so that this is not as great a menace as it was in a previous generation, but lockjaw still is a threat after every injury. Lockjaw antitoxin should be administered by the doctor when he treats the wound.

In 1938, nearly three times as many people lost the sight of one or both eyes or suffered destruction of vision as did in 1937. In 1938 there were twice as many amputations of a limb as in 1937. In 1938 the total number of injuries from Fourth of July fireworks was 7,933 as compared with 7,205 in 1937.

These figures do not take into consideration the injuries treated in hospitals which failed to report or injuries treated by doctors in their offices, so that probably the number is far greater.

There are now in American schools for the blind nearly 500 children who lost their eyesight from Fourth of July accidents. We pay too great a price for our celebration.

Fortunately more and more states are passing stringent state laws to control this hazard. The real burden and responsibility rests on the parents who must see to it that their children are protected.

IT'S A GRAND thing to have friends. Take for instance the other day somebody got downright angry at me and said I wasn't fit to eat with the hogs. Well, a friend of mine overheard the remark and immediately came to my defense. He told this fellow in no uncertain terms that I WAS fit to eat with the hogs.

Got to talking with Mayor Ed Carr and City Manager W. T. Williamson yesterday and conversation finally drifted around to this splendid paving program the city has under way. Mayor Carr mentioned that it could not have been possible without the fine cooperation of citizens who are anxious to see Pampa go forward and progress in tune with the city's growth in other directions.

WHEN YOU STOP to consider that this paving program, when completed by fall, will exactly double the city's number of paved streets—that's really an accomplishment. Much credit is due to City Manager Williamson who knows the inner-workings of Pampa and just how to go about getting projects approved. And, if you'll keep an eye on this city manager you'll find, too, that he doesn't recommend anything that isn't a worth-while project.

Recommended to all parents: Reading of the open letter on safety to be found on Page One of this issue. Another thing, parents should counsel with their offspring about the dangers of climbing through houses under construction. A fall is such an easy thing, and death could come so suddenly.

ONE HEARS THAT the Fiesta deficit may go even deeper than two grand. It's too bad. It was a swell show, but the weather was just too hot for a second day rodeo to pay off. Recommended for next year's Fiesta. A one-day rodeo, with something new and different for the second day. However, it's none of my business.

Things are going to hum at McLean on July Fourth. If the announcement of the big, free barbecue pack the town that day, I'll miss my guess. And, even if you don't go for the barbecue there'll be plenty of other things to hold your interest, including a polo game, street parade, rodeo, jalopy race, and fireworks. The upcoming McLean Chamber of Commerce is planning the big day. And, they're prepared to entertain 26,000 guests.

THEN, OF COURSE, there's another excellent choice for your Independence Day holiday. July 3, 4, and 5 are the dates of the Anvil Park Rodeo at Canadian. Everybody in the Panhandle "makes" that on one of the three days. This year's Canadian show is to be bigger than ever and some of the nation's No. 1 cowhands will be pulling leather there this summer.

Not that we wish to take the fun out of life for small boys and girls, but the action taken yesterday by city officials in announcing that the state law forbidding the use of fireworks within the city limits, is one of the best safety moves ever taken in Pampa. It will be a violation to ignite a firecracker anywhere in the city. Violators will be arrested.

THE MAIN THING about the enforcement of this law is that it should eliminate practically all of the danger of mangled fingers and lost sight—the hazards that go with the dangerous practice of shooting off fireworks under the guise of fun. Each year the nation's firecracker toll is growing less and less, and that's because cities everywhere are putting on the same kind of a ban that Pampa is going to put on this Fourth of July.

Any attempt to "bootleg" firecrackers within the city limits will be dealt with even more severely, police say.

If you recall, it was stated here yesterday that Pampa would not

Erupting Star Described At Milwaukee

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)

MILWAUKEE, June 21—Discovery of a new celestial mystery, a star which appears to be having a volcanic eruption, was described to the American Association for the Advancement of Science here today.

It looks at present, in photographs, much like an automobile headlight seen side-on in a dark night. A huge, fan-shaped beam of light is spreading outward from one side of the star. The light has much the same shape as a comet's tail.

This tail, or eruption, was discovered at Yerkes Observatory early this year, and reported today by Dr. John Tjauw. Spectroscopes have identified the light as probably a reflected glow. The general opinion is that the eruption is gas.

The star has been named 1-1939 Orionis, from the fact it is near the constellation Orion. It lies in a black patch in the Milky Way. It is not visible without aid of a small telescope.

There is a complete photographic record of an explosion which brought the tail to light. In the past four years the star has multiplied in brightness 3,600 times. Before that it was merely a pin point, visible only in the greatest telescopes.

Although no one had paid any attention to it, the regular mapping of the heavens by photography which has been going on for many years, had included this star and enabled astronomers to know that the present flare-up is some sort of star eruption.

Why the gas should rush out from one side only, as from a volcano, is not known, but electrical forces are believed to account for the fan-shape.

Neutrality Bill Opponents Doubt It Will Be Passed

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Opponents of the administration's neutrality bill expressed doubt today it would reach the Senate floor before adjournment, despite President Roosevelt's request Congress act on it.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) predicted that after the House votes on the measure next week congressional leaders might decide to postpone Senate consideration until next session.

Senator Nye (R-ND) said he did not believe efforts to revise the present law would be carried to the length of keeping Congress in session until late August, in the face of probable extensive details.

The prospect of a long session figured largely in Capitol Hill speculation after Mr. Roosevelt told reporters yesterday it was perfectly true he did not wish Congress to adjourn before voting on neutrality legislation.

The Bloom measure, embodying suggestions made by Secretary of State Hull, would repeal the automatic arms embargo of the present law and give the President authority to fix wartime combat zones from which American shipping and travelers would be barred.

Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday he thought this measure would increase American influence for world peace.

British, French Visit Molotov

MOSCOW, June 21 (AP)—Armed with new instructions from their governments, the British and French ambassadors visited Premier-Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov this afternoon to continue negotiations for a mutual assistance accord.

The ambassadors, Sir William Seeds and Paul Emile Naggiar, were accompanied by William Stranz, special envoy of the British foreign office.

The interview was arranged at request of the British and French embassies.

Neither side has admitted that the Far East has as yet entered into the discussions.

A Soviet communique published this morning specifically denied Moscow was insisting on a guarantee of the Russian Far Eastern border.

The opinion held by some diplomats here is that the only vital issue now outstanding is whether Moscow wants to sign a pact now or prefers to wait and see what happens at Tientsin, where British and Japanese are in dispute, and in the free City of Danzig, which Germany wants.

The new instructions from London and Paris, informants here said, contained a compromise over guarantees to Soviet Russia's three Baltic neighbors, an issue which has been considered the main obstacle to an agreement.

Two Santa Fe Vets To Retire July 1

"Rounding out approximately 100 years of outstanding railroad service two grand division officers of Santa Fe lines today announced intention of retiring from active duty July 1st.

They are Frank A. Lehman, general manager of the eastern lines with headquarters at Topeka, and J. R. Hitchcock, general manager of the Santa Fe coast lines with headquarters in Los Angeles. Lehman has more than 50 years to his credit and Hitchcock nearly a half century of service.

Both are well known in the southwest where they have been actively identified with the development of railway transportation. Hitchcock succeeded Lehman as general manager of the Santa Fe western lines and the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co. with headquarters in Amarillo. Lehman started his career at the age of 17. After serving in various capacities he joined the vice presidents staff in 1900 and was made superintendent of transportation in 1907. He was appointed assistant to the vice president in 1914, temporarily became acting superintendent at Newton. In 1921 he was made general manager at Amarillo and in 1927 became general manager of the eastern lines. During activity as general manager of the western lines he supervised handling of congested oil movements in the boom days of the Panhandle which included opening of the Borger field.

Jury In Casada Case Discharged

Jury business in 31st district court for the fourth week of the May term was closed Tuesday when the jury in the case of State of Texas vs. L. E. Casada, charged with drunken driving, was unable to reach a verdict, standing 8 to 4, and was discharged.

After deliberating over a 24-hour period, the jury reported it was "hung" at 5:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Casada was represented in the case by John F. Studer, with District Attorney Clifford Braly representing the state.

The jury was composed of R. H. Barron, D. R. Henry, Bill Harwell, I. C. Decker, A. H. McPeep, G. M. Wallin, Lee Atwood, M. L. Johnson, P. B. Edwards, D. L. Hudson, Carl Baer, and R. W. Tucker.

'Expert's' Son Turns Out To Be A Daughter

NEWARK, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Sidney A. Fortel's son turned out to be a girl but the 35-year-old self-taught sex-predetermination said today it just goes to show that sometimes figures do lie.

"I must have made a miscalculation," he said after he had gotten over the surprise of becoming the father of a six-pound, 12-ounce girl yesterday afternoon.

"But as wrong as I am, I'm right. And we're going to have another baby and there'll be no mistake."

The Fortel offspring arrived two days after the deadline Fortel set for the arrival of a "son."

Buckling to the task of determining the exact reason for the flopping of his predetermination, Fortel announced he was definitely not giving up and was going to study harder than ever to prove he had not wasted 20 years studying sex-predetermination for nothing.

Aft. Fortel, 25, and her daughter were reported doing well at the hospital. At first Mrs. Fortel expressed disappointment because her husband's formula had not worked out but was quickly lost in maternal pride for her new daughter.

Fortel was bitten by the sex-predetermination bug when a young man because he was the only boy in a family of eight children.

"I wanted to know why," he said. "so I studied the subject in all the medical books for 20 years."

Ambassador Will Talk With Cardenas

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, the Mexican ambassador, left by automobile today for Lower California to confer with President Lazaro Cardenas.

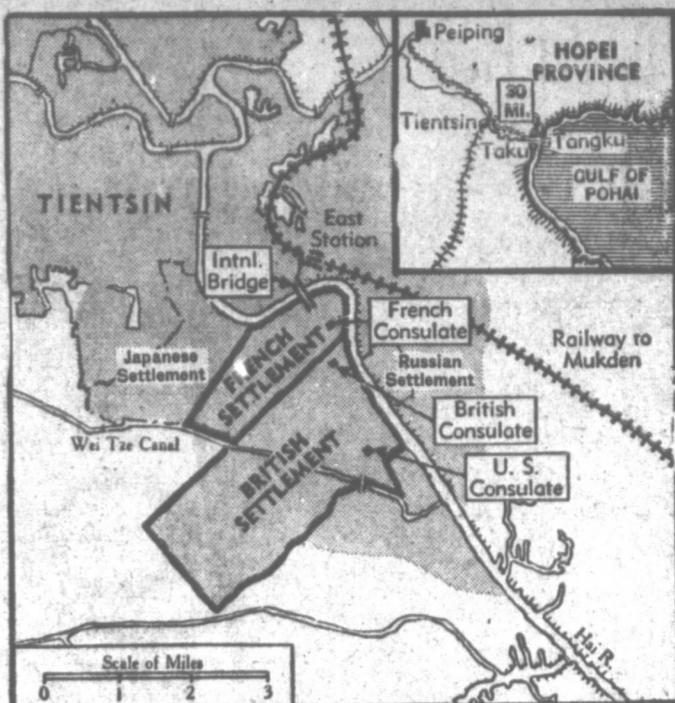

It was believed he would meet the chief executive probably at Mexicali, and that among other matters they would discuss the situation involving American oil companies whose properties were expropriated fifteen months ago.

Castillo Najera was expected to proceed to Lower California by way of Dallas, Texas.

Visiting the state department yesterday, Castillo Najera indicated he expected to remain in Mexico about 10 days. He recently conferred with Donald Richberg, representative of major United States oil companies, who has been awaiting Cardenas' reply regarding a proposed formula for solution of the oil controversy.

Son Charged In Death Of Father

KERMIT, June 21 (AP)—District Attorney William H. Kerr today prepared murder charges against Hollis Scarborough, 41, son of 71-year-old W. F. Scarborough, wealthy Texas and New Mexico ranchman and oil man who died last night of bullet wounds.

The elder Scarborough was shot at his ranch home near here Monday and the son waived examining trial on a charge of assault to murder and was jailed yesterday in default of $25,000 bond set by J. B. Salmon, justice of the peace.

No motive has been announced. Scarborough owned ranches in Winkler, Loving, and Andrews counties, Texas, and Lea county, New Mexico. He lived at Midland, Tex., and maintained homes at his ranch near here and at Rudisaco, N. M.

Big Spring Shove Oilers To Fourth Place

Lamesa Game Called In 3rd Due To Sand

Big-hearted Grover Seitz, manager of the Pampa Oilers, made the supreme sacrifice down at Lamesa last night.

With the score a 0-0 tie in the third inning, and with the bases loaded with Pampa players—Rover Boy Grover asked that the game be called off.

The request came because of one of the worst dust storms in Lamesa this year.

The dust, riding in front of a high, swirling wind made playing impossible, and Mr. Seitz indicated fear that the three men on base at the time might not be able to find their way home.

So, with Lamesa and Pampa scheduled to do it all over again tomorrow afternoon the two teams will engage in two games on the same date—another being scheduled for tomorrow night.

Abilene Wins Again

Eisewhere in the league last night there were two upsets. The lowly Abilene Apaches, riding just one game and a half ahead of the last place Midland team, took a doubleheader from Clovis, winning the first game 4-2 and the second 3-1.

The Amarillo Gold Sox broke into the win column by their 4 to 1 defeat of Midland.

When Big Spring stepped out last night and won 6 to 4 from the league-leading Lubbock Hubbers, the Big Springers advanced to third place in the standings, shoving Pampa back into fourth place, just three games ahead of Amarillo in fifth place.

Results of the last two days' games have narrowed the lead of the Lubbock team. Only one and a half games separate Lubbock and second-place Lamesa, and while Pampa is in fourth place, just three games ahead of Amarillo in fifth place.

Hole-In-One May Be Luck, Admits Gonder

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 21 (AP)—Harry Gonder, Michigan City golfer who contended "anyone can make a hole-in-one if given enough time," blazed away 1,817 times today and yesterday on a short hole of the Beverly Shores Country club course in disproving his own argument.

"Maybe it's luck, after all," Gonder admitted ruefully when he gave up at 1:40 a. m. (CST) because of a blistered left hand and a galloping case of exhaustion accumulated since 9:15 a. m. (CST) Tuesday.

Galento Yells Confident Predictions To Writers

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Tony Galento, the fat challenger, either is honestly confident of beating Joe Louis a week from tonight, or he will go into the ring behind an amazing "front," as any condemned man ever summoned.

Surrounded by predictions Louis will half-kill him inside two rounds, Tony enters his final bit of training still roaring drunk on self-esteem and mouthing his disdain of the champion. Some think it's a pose, but I believe the guy's on the level.

Galento shows no signs of "nerves." He's still clowning before his adoring New Jersey public, but behind the scenes he's getting mean and irritable as a bear with a nose, but I believe the guy's on the level.

Galento shows no signs of "nerves." He's still clowning before his adoring New Jersey public, but behind the scenes he's getting mean and irritable as a bear with a nose, but I believe the guy's on the level.

This Lick Tony's

As though to back up his manager's words, Tony then proceeded to punch the stuffing out of three sparring partners.

Tony featured the wallop that is his one, desperate hope of smacking the champion down—a 230-pound left hook to the body, followed as quickly as Tony's reflexes permit by the same thundershot left to the head.

Well, I'll tell you: if Louis should by the barest chance go careless and let Galento land this double sockeroo, there will be some excitement in Yankee Stadium next Wednesday evening. It's a lick that wouldn't do a mule any good.

Everybody is wondering if Galento will alter his offensive style and try to keep his vulnerable spots protected as he walks into the champion's explosive fists. That, say the experts, is the one way he might get in close enough to work on Louis.

If Tony harbors any such plans he is keeping them a dark secret. Yesterday he waddled serenely in as always, his head held jauntily high, as he aimed his roundhouse wallops at his woody spar mates.

Before the workout Tony put it in writing that, in the event of victory next week, he must give Louis a return blow in September.

"I've got to lick Louis twice," was the way Tony put it.

Marble And Austin Seeded Number One

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 21 (AP)—United States Champion Alice Marble of San Francisco and Great Britain's Bunny Austin were seeded number one today in the all-England Lawn Tennis club singles championships starting today.

Austin, runner-up to Don Budge in the final last year, was given top place over Bobby Riggs because of his later defeat by Don McNeill of Oklahoma City in the final of the French championships last week.

United States players also were seeded first in two of three doubles championships. Sarah Pauline Falyan of Brooklyn, Mass., and Miss Marble were rated number one in the women's doubles and Elwood Cooke and Mrs. Fabyan were chosen over Miss Marble and Riggs for top position in the mixed doubles.

Frankie Parker Favorite To Win Singles Crown

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—Doubles teams squared away for their first test of title competition in the National Clay Court tennis championships today, while Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Calif., was more strongly entrenched than ever in the role of favorite to take the singles crown.

Parker yesterday won second and third round matches without being pressed. He downed Carl Becker of Chicago, 6-1, 6-2, then defeated Marvin Wachman, Northwestern University star, 6-4, 6-2.

As the result of the day's play, Parker had the top seeded position all to himself. Ladislav Hecht of Czechoslovakia, who had shared the top spot with Parker, was eliminated by Bill Hoops of Berkeley, Calif., 6-2, 5-7, 6-1.

Walters Wins 10th Game As Yanks Go On Spree

By BILL WHITE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe it was just a coincidence, but the day Buckey Walters of the Cincinnati Reds became the first National League pitcher this season to win 10 games, the New York Yankees went on one of their most lucrative batting sprees.

That deserves more than passing mention since along about October 4, if you're watching the first game of the World Series you probably will see Walters and the Yankees hook up in a clash that may be as stirring an opener as ever produced.

Bucky, the string bean righthander, won No. 10 with a smart 4-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

That elbowing not only put him in a class by himself, but moved the Reds up 6 1/2 games in front of the second-place St. Louis Cardinals whose clash with the Phillies yesterday was rained out.

The Dodgers, by their loss and the Chicago Cubs' 3-1 win over the Boston Bees, plummeted into the second division and the Cubs usurped the fourth place spot. Claude Passeau was the big noise in the Cubs win, hurling a five-hitter.

The Giants-Pirates and the Phillies-Cards games were postponed by wet grounds and rain.

Coffey Favored To Win West Texas Golf Tournament

PORT WORTH, June 21 (AP)—Cotton-topped Billy Bob Coffey, a bantamweight on speaking terms with every inch of River Crest's 18 holes, tees off tomorrow in the qualifying round of the West Texas Golf association's fifteenth annual tournament, the standout favorite.

Sore thumb favorites in a field of 325 golfers don't come often, but Billy Bob wields a peculiar advantage over the field.

Two many plainmen are accustomed to the vastly different West Texas courses, where cushioned turf is scarce and sand greens far outnumber the grass greens. Coffey knows his River Crest having won the club's annual invitational tournament there only last week with a shower of sub-par golf.

Tall, Joe Bihl, of Lubbock, who won the event last year at Lubbock, will be back to contest Coffey's challenge, as will Mansion Allen, 1938 runner-up. But several Fort Worth entries, including Norman Rowland, runner-up to Coffey last week; Derland Lehman, Jimmy Walkup, Ruck Berry, Iverson Martin, runner-up for the state title in 1938, and others, are expected to prove most troublesome.

Morris Norton, the Wichita Falls reedhead who won the tournament in 1936 and 1937 and who plays grass greens tournaments throughout the year, was an entry.

Former champions expected to tee off in the field, one of the largest in the history of Texas golf, included Budley Raines of Stamford, N. C., Bussey of Lubbock and Jimmy Phillips of Ranger.

Palestine Beats Tyler In Tenth

(By The Associated Press)

Tyler scored twice in a 9th-inning rally last night to tie with Palestine but Jack Calvey's single tallied George Bradley in the tenth and gave the Pals a 5-to-4 victory in an East Texas league game.

Jacksonville snapped the Marshall Tigers' winning streak at 7 games when the Jack stopped a ninth-inning rally and won, 9 to 8.

Longview's Cannibals bobbled seven times and booted in four runs as Kilgore won the series opener, 6 to 3.

Henderson combined eight hits with fancy base running to beat exarkana, 5 to 1.

Today's schedule: Kilgore at Longview, Tyler at Palestine. (Only games scheduled.)

Durant Injured In Midget Auto Race

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—Louis Durant, Los Angeles midget automobile driver, was in a hospital today with serious injuries suffered last night in the class A feature race of the midget board track championships held in Soldier Field.

The accident occurred on the thirty-seventh lap of the scheduled 50-lap race, won by Sam Hanks of Alhambra, Calif., in 9:21. Officials stopped the race at the end of 40 laps because of the oil and water on the track occasioned by Durant's accident.

Unpleasant to Walters kept the Chicago White Sox strictly in the Yankees "cousin" class. The 13-3 win was the seventh over the Sox.

The Boston Red Sox, with Joe Vismak having a perfect day at the plate, blew down the Browns, 8-1, to ruin Harry Kimberlin's major league pitching debut. Apparently that 14-inning victory over the Senators the day before was too much for the Browns. It was definitely too much for the Senators who repeated the loss, this time by 4-3 in 12 innings to the Cleveland Indians.

In the league's only night game, Tommy Bridges shut out Athletics and the Tigers coasted to a 5-0 victory.

Missions Now Lead League

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas League's fight for the leadership today found the San Antonio Missions one jump ahead after they took a twin victory from the Oklahoma City Indians last night.

A three-way tie for first place was broken Monday night when Houston took the lead and Dallas and Shreveport dropped to a third place tie, with the Missions jumping from fourth to second.

Last night Dallas staged a four-run uprising in the first inning to swamp Houston, 7 to 2, and tie Houston for second.

El Slijber's homer in the seventh with two aboard gave the Missions their second game, 4 to 1, after they obliterated the Indians in the opener, 7 to 2.

Shreveport lost to Fort Worth, 3 to 2, and Beaumont and Tulsa split a double bill, the Exporters taking the first, 4 to 3, and Tulsa the nightcap, 6 to 5.

Coast Conference Sets Training Date

MOUNT HOOD, Ore., June 21 (AP)—The Pacific Coast conference voted at its annual meeting at Timberline Lodge here yesterday to start football practice on Thursday, Sept. 7, giving teams a little more than two weeks to drill for early games.

There was no mention of the Edward N. Atherton survey on conference athletic conditions, although the delegates admitted spending most of Monday night thumbing through the report. Atherton, a former federal investigator, was hired by the conference to ferret out facts on athletic pay-tips and practices at the 10 schools.

Sweating Persons Run From Sprinkler

MACON, Ga., June 21 (AP)—While customers in a department store were talking about the heat—96 degrees yesterday—a mechanical gadget did something about it.

The automatic sprinkler system, fire protective device, set itself off. Among things soaked: pianos on the top floor, military on the second, cosmetics on the first.

But those same persons who had been complaining of the heat ran out of the store—into the broiling sun.

Dizzy Dean Accuses Mates Of Not Trying Hard Enough

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—The 1938 tallpin of the Chicago Cubs, now battling to stick in the first division, is kicking up almost as much general excitement in their home ballpark as did their stirring charge to the National league pennant last September.

Ever since the Cubs started a skid which sent them into fifth place a wave of "What's wrong with the team?" comment has swept the town. Then yesterday, just after a published "open letter" by Owner P. K. Wrigley anent his club's showing, loquacious Dizzy Dean came up with one of his well-known pop offs.

Diz, speaking before the Chicago Association of Commerce, accused his mates of "not trying hard enough." Winner of three games and loser of none this season, the $185,000 pitcher said "The reason we're down here we are today is because the players aren't pushin' hard enough. Only two-thirds of us are doing our best. The rest of us ain't. Just let me pitch more often and everything will be okay. I'm getting tired of pitching only on Sundays."

"O, what the hell," snapped Manager Gabby Hartnett when he learned of Dean's diagnosis. "Let him talk. I'm not going to comment. It's none of my business what he says. It's his story, not mine."

Obviously, Gabby wasn't feeling so good about the whole thing, even though his team had just defeated Boston to move from fifth to fourth place in the standings. He hasn't been feeling too cheerful for some time, what with reports floating around that he'll lose his managerial job any day now if the Cubs don't show some signs of cutting down the nine and one-half game deficit between the Cubs and the league-leading Cincinnati Reds.

Then, too, Gabby has been taking a lot of criticism for the winter's six-player trade with the New York Giants, Dick Bartell, the shortstop who came to the Cubs along with a salary of some $20,000, has been flailing and hitting poorly as compared to the defensive play of Bill Jurgens, the shortstop who went from Chicago to New York in the deal.

In his "open letter" to a Chicago sports editor, Wrigley said "It is always a little disconcerting to me to have it so forcibly brought home from time to time that the winning team, which belongs to everyone, is so exclusively mine when it is losing."

Lou Unwilling To Reveal Ailments

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—The Yankees are due to learn what's wrong with Lou Gehrig and they may also tell the public about the findings of the medicos who examined Lou at Mayo Clinic during the past week.

Gehrig returned from Rochester, Minn., by airplane last night, carrying the physician's report of his condition. He said he would turn it over to Ed Barrow, the club president, today and let Barrow make any necessary announcements.

The big first baseman voluntarily ended his record consecutive game playing streak this spring when he failed to get into condition, was perfectly willing to discuss anything about the examination except the findings.

Jersey Betting Becomes Legal

NEWARK, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Parimutuel betting on horse races became legal today in New Jersey. Backed by Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, state democratic leader, the proposal to exempt use of pari-mutuel machines from a 42-year-old constitutional gambling ban carried by a majority in excess of 15,000.

The election was the climax of a bitter campaign in which Hague and the Rev. D. Lester H. Clee, Newark Presbyterian clergyman who led the opposition, renewed a feud dating from the 1937 gubernatorial election which Clee, the republican candidate, lost in a democratic avalanche in Hague's Hudson stronghold.

Hague commented thusly on his pari-mutuel victory: "It is evident, from the results that this state wants the church to remain out of politics."

Clee, who marshalled church leaders to his side, said the new "disappointed" but "not discouraged" by the result.

"We will continue to fight," he said, "for the principles of decent government and for the welfare of New Jersey."

Four games are scheduled to be played Thursday by teams in the softball league sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to Jack Back.

Daniger is to play the Jaycees team, Young Fellows vs. Skelly, Johnson Hardware vs. Phillips, and Gulf vs. Lefora. Cities Service and Royal each drew a bye for the games tomorrow.

All games are to be played in the afternoon, but the location has not been determined. Mr. Back said, Work is now being done on a diamond at Recreation park, and as soon as this is completed, the schedule can be made more definite.

Rain caused cancelling of games scheduled for Tuesday, Mr. Back said.

SERIAL STORY

BRIDE ON A BUDGET

BY JANET DORAN

Yesterday, Bart Jones... Iris... everything that wasn't already being claimed by rightful owners...

CHAPTER XII

This rode down to the hospital in Dr. Fitcher's coupe, right behind the ambulance. It would do no good, as the doctor pointed out...

"Business troubles?" he had asked Iris, in the little living room, after examining Bart. After telling her bluntly her husband had pneumonia...

"Yes," she said faintly. "Well, you look like a sensible young lady. You go right down to your job and hold things together..."

"It was cold and blustery and there was a raw, after-rain bite to the fall wind, but Iris walked all the way from the hospital to the office..."

"That was what Bart worried about, Iris, you see. Budget payments are fine if everything runs smooth. If nobody is sick, and everyone keeps working..."

"During the days that followed, the serene order of Iris' former existence vanished forever. To begin with, she went to the hospital morning, noon and night..."

"For those five days she lived in an awful nightmare of unreality. With worry, growing headache, every time she stopped working long enough to remember Bart..."

"There was the shop. The speed with which creators pounced upon the little shop, attaching...

ing the greater part of her wardrobe. Through all the trouble and confusion of those days Iris even missed her friends...

There was young Howard Lang, attorney at law, and boyhood friend of Bart's, and finally, there was no more shop, and peace...

Seated at the little table Bart had enamored for Iris, the first week of their marriage, Iris sipped a cup of hot tea, and nibbled buttered toast and a boiled egg...

"The amount she received was so much less than she had expected, Iris was tempted not to let the clothes go. She did really need them..."

"Darling," she whispered shakily, "I'm so glad I can see you." "Stand by honey," Bart tried to grin and decided it was too much work...

"Wife," he said. Dimly, Iris understood. Dimly she realized that her days of being a bride, a foolish, spendthrift, extravagant bride were past...

"The End"

COMING into the hospital, that morning to see Bart, Iris was met by a smiling nurse. "Good news for you this morning, Mrs. Whittaker. You're to see that big husband of yours for a little while..."

Inside the quiet, dim room that was much too cold for comfort, Iris stood by the high white iron bed and felt her eyes blurring...

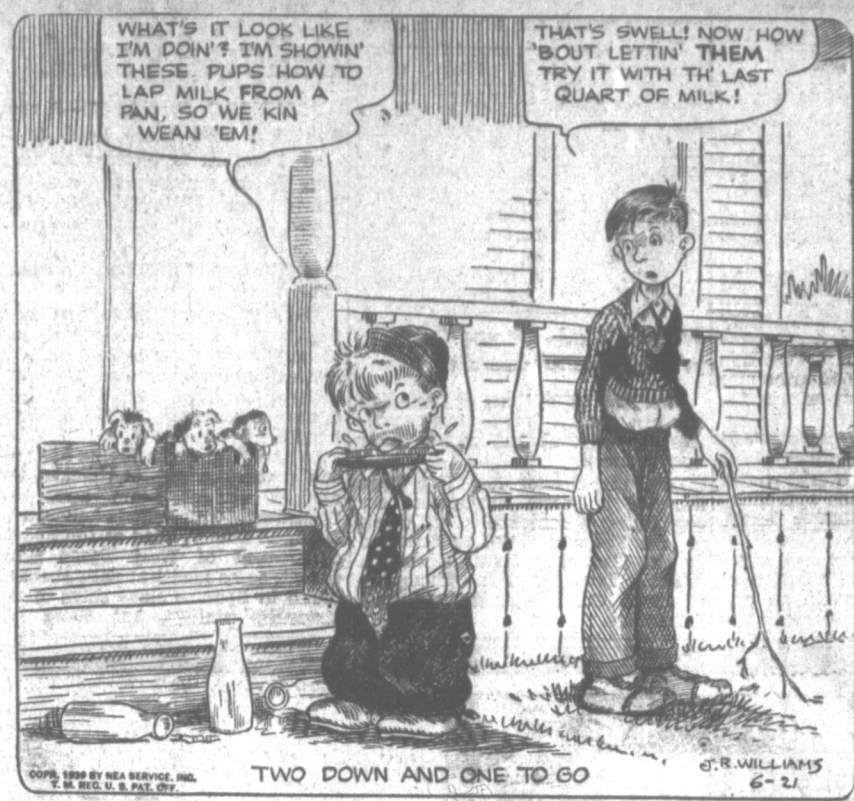

"Of course, darling," Iris said steadily, "there aren't any more bills now, Bart. And when you're home again, you'll be surprised at how I can run that budget book. I'm getting all practiced up now..."

"Wife," he said. Dimly, Iris understood. Dimly she realized that her days of being a bride, a foolish, spendthrift, extravagant bride were past...

Settlement Of Oil Controversy Soon Predicted

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP) — Ramon Beteta, Mexican foreign undersecretary, conferred for an hour and a quarter with Secretary Hull and Undersecretary Welles today and said afterward he was confident Mexico and American oil companies could settle their dispute over expropriation of oil properties.

"I see no reason why this problem should not be settled," Beteta told reporters. He is leaving tonight for San Antonio, Texas, and Lower California.

"The issue is very complicated, of course. The fundamental points for the oil companies are to get the value of their properties and to get their profits both on their present investments and on the investments they might make in the future."

"The fundamental point for the government is to protect the national interest. It is not easy to reconcile these two fundamental viewpoints, but I am returning to Mexico optimistic that some way will be found to get around them and reach a settlement."

Asked where an agreement could be reached on the basis of a reported solution whereby Mexico would get 35 per cent of the properties or their production and the oil companies would get 65 per cent, Beteta replied:

"The city of Amarillo, Texas, is building a 'rabbit-proof' fence around its new municipal golf course to prevent plains jackrabbits from nibbling the greens."
