Governor Dan Moody Announces He Will Enter Gubernatorial Race

GOVERNOR TO START DRIVE HE DECLARES

Formal Statement to Be Made Later at Austin HAS ALREADY DEFINED STAND

Jim Ferguson and Mayfield Are Rapped

AUSTIN, May 9. (AP)—Assurance that Governor Dan Moody would be a candidate for governor in the coming primary election was seen today with his announcement "I am figuring on getting into the race." Formal announcement of his candidacy, however, was not expected to be made for at least two weeks.

The announcement today confirmed rumors that he would run, started as the result of the recent issuance of three statements in which he set out the cardinal principles that would govern his administration. These points were expected to be made the main issues of the campaign.

In his informal announcement today, the governor said he was seriously "flourishing on running." "I don't think," he said, "the prospect of being forced to choose between Ferguson, a political demagogue, and Mayfield, a political quack, is not very inviting to the people of Texas."

Lions Observe Music Week in Their Program

Music week was appropriately observed at Lions club yesterday, with Lion Elbert Thomas in charge of the program.

Enjoyable numbers were given by a trio composed of Mrs. W. A. Branton, Mrs. Elbert Thomas, and C. C. Bates, with Mrs. T. W. Branton as accompanist.

The Lions also were much pleased and impressed by the piano solos of little Miss Juliet Jane Canfield, who is a consistent winner in contests, and is regarded as having extraordinary talent.

The Lions club, cooperating with the club at McLean is taking a census of adult blind persons, and the state organization will use this data in its legislative program. The census committee here is composed of Dr. R. A. Webb, Judge Ivy E. Duncan, George Briggs, and H. Otto Steider.

Visitors yesterday included Lon Blinco, John Bradley, and D. W. Canfield of Pampa, Oscar Studer and E. A. McAdams of Canadian, and Jack Orffitt of Panhandle.

LONDON. (AP)—The correct dress for the modern woman, in the opinion of Ellen Wilkinson, M. P., comes an inch or two below the knees and covers the knees when the wearer is sitting. At a meeting of women workers she said the long skirt was a cloud on the female horizon. By a vote of the meeting ankle lengths were disapproved and knee lengths favored 250 to 1.

METHODIST BISHOPS CHARGED IN CONFERENCE—JOHN MOORE OF DALLAS THOUGHT INVOLVED

DALLAS, May 9. (AP)—Formal charges against Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia, believed to touch on his alleged activities on the stock market and his political actions during the 1928 presidential campaign, were today filed with Dr. F. C. Culver, chairman of the episcopacy committee of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

Classes Ready for Ice Cream Supper

At 8 o'clock this evening in the basement of the First Baptist church the Fideles and Y. M. B. C. classes will give an ice cream supper. The classes have been working all week getting everything in readiness for the supper, and they announce that a good time is in readiness for all who attend.

The program committee has been able to secure some of the best local talent for special numbers tonight. Among those who will appear on the program is Mrs. Ray Chambers, teacher of violin at Central high school. Mr. Jimmie King will also appear on the program. Mr. King sings over KCRS in Amarillo. Mrs. Roy Webb will also appear on the program this evening. There are other numbers which the program committee has arranged.

Real home, made ice cream and cake will be served in generous helpings to every guest. The committee in charge of the serving announces that enough cream will be on hand to serve everyone who attends.

Gulf's Loss in Blaze Heavy

BAYONNE, N. J., May 9. (AP)—Three piers and a portion of the plant of the Gulf Refining company were in ruins today with an estimated loss of $3,000,000 after a fire, fed by 6,000,000 gallons of crude oil and gasoline had raged through the plant for five hours.

The fire which started from an explosion aboard a small motor tanker, destroyed in addition to the piers, a warehouse, a power house, a pumping station and several lock-up buildings and stock houses. The flames were fed from 18 oil storage tanks which exploded one after another as the fire reached them.

Wilkins Wants to Buy Submarine

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Captain Hubert Wilkins, explorer of the top and bottom of the world, may undertake his proposed trip beneath the Arctic ice in an obsolete United States submarine, converted into a "submersible boat."

The bearded explorer, with Simon Lake, submarine inventor and builder, called upon Assistant Secretary Jahnecke of the navy late yesterday to try and purchase such a boat. Whether the navy will seal has yet to be decided.

PHILLIPS TO BUILD GREAT NEW PIPELINE

Hutchinson and Gray to Benefit From Project

GASOLINE TO BE CARRIED EAST

Plant Near Pampa Is Now World's Largest

An announcement by Frank Phillips, president of the Phillips Petroleum company, from the Bartlesville headquarters of his company and received by local officials of the company yesterday stated that Phillips Petroleum company had been chartered for the purpose of building an eight-inch and a 10-inch pipeline to transport Phillips Petroleum products from Gray and Hutchinson counties to Kansas and points east. When completed the lines will traverse a distance of 1,000 miles. It will cost between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000.

The new pipeline company was formed under the laws of Delaware and capitalized at 1,000,000 no par common shares. Either crude oil or gasoline or both may be handled through this line and Phillips Petroleum company already has sufficient production to insure success of the project, Mr. Phillips states.

Phillips Petroleum company is the largest producer of natural gasoline in the world and is one of the major factors in the production of petroleum and petroleum products in the Mid-Continent area. The Big Gray Phillips gasoline plant south of Pampa is now the largest in the world. Phillips major properties in the Panhandle are located in Gray, Hutchinson and Garfield counties, although the casinghead gasoline plants are located in Gray and Hutchinson counties.

The company for a long time has been making deliveries of natural gasoline to be transported by pipeline to the Gulf.

Capone Will Be Arrested on Sight

MIAMI, Fla., May 9. (AP)—Adopting the "Chicago plan," the authorities of Miami have given Scarface Al Capone the choice of leaving or being arrested every time a policeman sees him.

The police picked him up yesterday and held him in jail for "investigation" for two and a half hours before a circuit judge freed him on a writ of habeas corpus. They are going to do it again when he appears in the city, they told Capone, as he returned to his estate on Palm Island without waiting to exchange a receipt for $1,161 in cash and a diamond he valued at $10,000, which police took from him.

It was Capone's third appearance in court since his arrival April 20. He testified when the federal court made permanent an injunction against 20 Florida sheriffs forbidding them from deporting him without a warrant as instructed by Governor Doyle Carlton. Litigation to padlock Capone's home as a nuisance is pending in state courts and he appeared at a preliminary hearing in this case.

Will D. Upshaw Is Humorous Talker

Congressman Will D. Upshaw, who will speak at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, is noted for the anecdotes that creep into his usually serious discourses. He has been called one of the best after-dinner speakers in America. His captivating speeches invariably carry his audience with him.

Despite an accident in early life which made him a cripple, he became a congressman and nationally known prohibition leader. President E. Y. Mulline of the Southern Baptist Seminary has declared that Upshaw is the logical successor to William Jennings Bryan.

Flames Swept Through Nashua, N. H.

Extent of the $5,000,000 blaze which raged unchecked through a wide section of Nashua, N. H., is vividly portrayed in the aerial photo above. In this fire-swept area, pictured here while the conflagration was at its height, nearly 300 buildings were destroyed and 1500 persons were left homeless. Later the flames leaped the river, shown upper left in the picture, and ignited heavy timberlands. A nation-wide appeal has been issued for a million-dollar relief fund for the fire victims.

Magnolia's No. 1 Cubine, section 36, block 25, is ready to shoot at a depth of 2,775 feet. Nine million feet of gas was found at 2,325-35 feet.

Fast Run Made to Local Blaze

Fireman Younger Cottrell made a record drive in one of the fire trucks to the small blaze at 107 Brown street where a gasoline explosion rocked the residence of A. R. Colbert, scorched the arms and face of Mrs. Colbert but did slight damage to the house.

Two minutes after Cottrell drove out of the fire station he arrived at the Colbert place which is a block south of the tracks. Cottrell said he had "a clear road." The blaze was quickly extinguished.

HEAVY PRICE PAID TO GET NEGRO FIEND

Building Fired When Four Onslaughts Fail

GUARDSMEN ON WAY TO SCENE

Sherman Seethes As Rioting Crowd Grows

SHERMAN, May 9. (AP)—At 2:45 p. m., the Grayson county courthouse, refuge of George Hughes, negro, charged with assault, was said to be doomed, having been set afire by a mob intent on lynching him. The negro was reported still in a vault in the structure and all officers and Texas Rangers who had sought to keep him from the hands of the mob were said to have been forced from the building by the flames.

At that hour the courthouse was a mass of flames and hope of saving any part of it was practically abandoned by firemen who had only a few feet of hose intact with which to play water on the flames.

Other nearby structures were threatened. Reports as to the whereabouts of the negro were conflicting. Some officers telling newspaper men he was still in the vault while others said he had been taken from the building.

At 3:05 p. m., the courthouse had been practically destroyed. The flames were threatening structures on the north side of the square and firemen had turned their attention to saving them by keeping them wet.

The blaze was started on the east side of the structure and under the county attorney office where the negro was locked in a vault. Flames were pouring forth from windows on that side of the building.

SHERMAN, May 9. (AP)—Four Texas Rangers and Grayson county peace officers used tear bombs today to drive back and disperse a crowd of hundreds of men intent upon lynching George Hughes, 41, negro, charged with criminally attacking a white woman. At 1:30 p. m., the officers believed danger of mob action was over unless renewed when the negro was moved to another jail later.

The mob started gathering at 10 o'clock this morning, but it was close to noon before leadership was established and a rush was made upon the courthouse. The courthouse doors were broken down under the first crash. At that moment the negro was locked in a vault in the district clerk's office, and the rangers and officers grouped themselves about the vault as a guard.

After the mob had been repelled, Captain Frank Hamer of the Texas ranger force told Judge R. M. Carter that the negro could not be tried in this county without bloodshed. The judge was considering sending the case to another county.

With the courthouse clear of members of the mob, officers and rangers took places at doors and

Speaking of storms, our knowledge of storm cellars in this city is very faulty. We would appreciate the offer of a cellar in case a funnel-shaped cloud arises. Not that we are expecting a tornado, but that preparedness is a good motto and a better practice.

Really, though, we are no longer alarmed by storms. When our parents moved to the Panhandle from Missouri early in this century, they were alarmed by bad clouds because there were no trees to cut off the view. If there is a cloud on the Panhandle horizon, we can see it; in the hilly, wooded Middle West it is otherwise. We estimate that we have been awakened and dragged to storm cellars at least a hundred times, and that so disgusted us with storms in general that we have to see a twister before we will believe it.

The sand to be used on the new city hall has become an issue in municipal affairs. The city must have good sand and have it when needed. We believe this sand is obtainable here, and it is to be hoped that all factors involved may be cleared up and that local people may be benefited through sale and delivery of the product.

Henry Ford recently outran his secretary. Henry learned the art of pedal locomotion walking home before he perfected the model A. Sometimes, when he had a long-way to walk, he ran, and thus achieved the form which enables him even to this day to run a good race.

Gone are the good old days when folks listened a great deal and spoke tersely. Speaking little, they usually had something to say when they opened their mouths. Today we are called upon so often that we do not have time to boil down our ideas. We shudder to think of what would have resulted had some of our modern orators written the Declaration of Independence.

Our offer to eat the dandelions which are menacing Pampa lawns still stands, but we are not going to both dig them and eat them. A friend warns us, however, that the lions have a strong iron content and that if we eat all of them we are sure to rust. We'll take the risk and watch the weather forecasts.

Politicians of this county are lucky in that box suppers are relatively few and the people are not trying to "hook" the office seekers simply because the latter cannot afford to make enemies by refusing to donate to every cause that comes along.

Amarillo's census claims are a source of amusement. Greater Amarillo is given as about 43,000, as we recall, but that takes no account of the "Amarillo oil field", which on the basis of traditional claims would run the population well above 100,000, counting Dalhart. Evidently Uncle Sam's census requirements got in the way when it came to calculation of Greater Amarillo.

Over-worked school ma'ms sometimes think Pampa has an over-production of children, and the school board which pays the bills is inclined to agree. We are quite sure, after watching the performance of the tots in the pageant the other night, that this city can use an indefinite number of such bright youngsters.

CHICAGO, May 9. (AP)—Unexpected strength shown by Liverpool quotations led to early upturns today of wheat values here. In some quarters the Liverpool advance was ascribed to unavailable crops news from Italy and France, as well as to evening up to prepare for a possible surprise in the United States government crop report.

CLINGMAN WINS AGAIN BUT LOSES FIRST FALL—BAILEY IS NO MATCH FOR GOLFINO

A drop toe hold, Otis Clingman's new specialty, made Jack Mitchell put the mat 12 minutes after the second fall began, while a flock of head-locks and body slams finished off with a flying Dutchman proved too much for the Shreveporter and Otis won the third fall and another wrestling match at the Pla-Mor last night.

This happened after Mitchell had picked up Otis by the legs and shoved his neck into his shoulders, knocking out the Pampa wrestler and winning the first fall in 16 minutes. Otis was going good when the catastrophe occurred. He had applied three head-locks and body slams on the big visitor and everybody was thinking that the fall would be Clingman's in a minute or so, but Mitchell had evidently been looking because he suddenly slipped out of a head lock, and when to the floor went the Pampa's head.

Clingman was in some of the tightest places he has ever been seen wrestling in here. At one time Mitchell clamped a double toe hold on him that Otis didn't break, and if it had not been for the ropes above his head he might have been compelled to pat the mat. Tiger Mills, the referee, was loath to break the wrestlers when they got to the ropes if one had a good hold on the other. This indifference brought the wrath of the house down on Tiger's head, especially the fury of the high sheriff of Gray county.

Mitchell proved to be a clean and fair wrestler, but not as fast and wise as Clingman.

Dan Goffino of Milwaukee had outclassed Buck Bailey of Dalhart and won two falls from Bailey in 16 minutes, the first one in 14 minutes and the second in two minutes, and it was apparent that the Hebrew wrestler's half trying. Bailey got very few holds on Dan, and didn't keep those he did get very long. Goffino won the first fall with a body scissor and the second with a short arm-bar. Bailey is an amateur at the game, while Goffino would give Clingman a tough battle. Goffino deserved a better opponent. He is a brilliant, clean, fast wrestler, but he had opportunity to display only a few of his skills last night.

Again Red Michaels won a ten-minute match, except it lasted only two minutes. And again, his opponent, Homer Allen, protested that his shoulders were not on the mat when the referee, Sam Penberg, patted Red on the shoulders.

"PUNCH" HAS BOOSTED CUB PERCENTAGE

BY HUGH S. FULERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took the Chicago Cubs a couple of weeks to get started in the chase for another National league pennant, but once they did get under way, they promptly began to outshine every other team in the league.

The Cubs ended their stand against the western rivals May 3 by beating Pittsburgh to gain a 500 average. Since then they have not lost a game, running their winning streak to seven straight games by beating the Phillies and Brooklyn each three times.

That great necessity for baseball victories, "punch" has brought the winning streak. The Cubs have not been hitting any harder than before, nor have their pitchers been holding down the enemy clouts, but Chicago, frequently out-hit, has been able to make its blows count for runs.

The Cubs did it again yesterday in the only game of the seven in which they have had to call on two pitchers. After seven innings of a close battle between Bob Osborn and Ray Phelps, big Brooklyn rookie moundsman, the Cubs put two men on base and Kiki Cuyler raked the Robins with a home run. Jack Wilson followed with another and Chicago wound up with a 7 to 6 victory.

The Cincinnati Reds did the same thing in a lesser degree and without the benefit of homers to make it three victories in their four-game series with the Boston Braves. Trailing 1 to 0 for seven innings as Eppa Rixey and Bruce Cunningham fought it out on the mound, the Reds followed a walk and a single with two sacrifice flies in the eighth and won out, 2 to 1.

"Wild Bill" Hallahan of the St. Louis Cardinals continued his pursuit of the National league strike-out crown for the year as the Cards topped the Phillies their sixth straight defeat, 6 to 5. He fanned eight, bringing his total to 33, and allowed but four hits.

Bill Shores of the Philadelphia Athletics also pitched a four-hit game against the St. Louis Browns to gain a 7 to 3 victory and avenge Wednesday's defeat which ended the Athletics winning streak.

Jack Russell turned in another of the day's good pitching feats by holding the Chicago White Sox to six scattered hits while Boston touched Al Thomas for 13 blows and

MEL DAVIS ASSURES BOYS OF FINE FOOTBALL CAMP

Pampa's 1930 Harvesters have been assured a well-organized training camp, and the offer likely will be accepted.

"Sad Sam" Jones was as effective as usual on the mound though not particularly brilliant in hurling. The Giants made an 8 to 5 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The New York Giants again produced the day's heaviest hitting although they had to go ten innings to beat out Pittsburgh by a 13 to 10 count and hold their precarious position at the top of the National league. The Giants made a total of 19 hits off five pitchers but lost the early lead they had piled up when Pittsburgh rallied to tie the score in the ninth inning. Three hits and a serious error in the tenth gave New York the victory and a 3-1 decision in the four-game series.

C. J. Anderson, Tulsa, was among yesterday's visitors here.

W. L. Simmons, Amarillo, was in Pampa yesterday.

A. S. Williams of Oklahoma City was a yesterday visitor in Pampa.

Educational Worker of Episcopal Church Speaks to Auxiliary

"An informed mind and an awakened conscience must precede practical procedure," Miss Elizabeth Beecher, field representative of the National Council of the Episcopal church, told the local Woman's auxiliary Wednesday afternoon in a discussion on the educational phase of the church's work.
In her address on "What Is It All About?" Miss Beecher showed her audience how the church is strengthened and its mission to the world advanced through the education of the on-coming generation. She stressed the importance of a educated leadership and urged systematic study of the church, itself, the field it would serve, and of educational methods.
Book reviews, in which each member of the auxiliary would present a synopsis of the contents to the group once or twice a year; the study of church history, as it is presented in many excellent new books, and the application of scientific findings in education procedure to religious instruction were among the means she suggested for strengthening the church and building it.

Miss Beecher came to Pampa on a tour of the North Texas Missionary diocese in which she was visiting all parishes and missions in need of her assistance in organization or program. She is one of the four field workers of the national council of the church and the national organization of the Woman's auxiliary.
She spoke Wednesday morning to officers and teachers of the Sunday school at the home of Supt. and Mrs. R. C. Sowder. She stressed in her talk to that group that worship should be the primary purpose of the Sunday school, not mere attendance at the classes, and suggested that much of the ritual of the regular church service be incorporated in the exercises preceding the lessons.

Play Given by Baker P. T. A. for Faculty Meets with Success

A real, old-fashioned gossip "feast," traditional entertainment of sewing circles, was enjoyed last night by the members of Henpeck Holler's elect, at their "open meeting" at Baker school. Angeline Beal-blossom's useless ear trumpet, Matilda Brown's tough sponge cake, and Violet Lobelia Aster's efforts to "catch a man" were the favorite topics of conversation in a meeting devoted to hearsay.
Incidentally, the occasion was enjoyed by the on-lookers, who were guests at Lamar Parent-Teacher association's last meeting for the year, when patrons of the school honored the Lamar faculty, "Henpeck Holler Gossip," a comedy in one act, was staged by parents of the association as one of the best amateur performances of the year. Hats and gowns ancient vintage accented the humor of the act.
The cast included: Mrs. James O'Brien, Mrs. A. L. Jones, Mrs. F. G. Browne, Mrs. Claude Lard, Mrs. J. W. Crowder, Mrs. W. B. Murphy, Mrs. Roy Kilgore, Mrs. J. H. Hlythe, Mrs. Stanley Atwood, and Cornell Owens. A vocal solo by Mrs. James O'Brien; a reading by Mrs. J. W. Crowder; and a monologue by Mrs. F. G. Browne completed the program enjoyed by a large audience.

Murder Backstairs by ANNE AUSTIN

BEGIN HERE TODAY When Detective Dundee lifts the body of Doris Matthews, lady's maid, from the lake and lays it in the summerhouse, he knows that the heavy perfume flask, murder weapon, is the chief clue.

But not until Mrs. Berkeley, Dick Berkeley, Clorinda, Eugene Arnold (Dor's fiance), Seymour Crosby, and finally Harvey Johnson, missing yale who robbed the house, have all been suspected in turn, does Dundee hit upon the theory that Mrs. Berkeley and not Doris was the intended murder victim.

There is proof Crosby hoped for his future mother-in-law's early death, and abundant suspicion against Crosby in the death of his wife, Phyllis 14 months before when Doris was her trusted maid.

Working first on the theory that Crosby had poisoned the perfume before giving it to Mrs. Berkeley, Dundee learns there are no traces of poison in Gigs' handkerchief.

But Johnson, having been arrested and having proved an iron-clad alibi for the murder, Dundee returns to the theory of a poisoned perfume. He is spurred on by discovering Gigs' task of washing all evening clothes worn Friday night in benzene, and is sure she believes, with him, that one of the household, later, put wood alcohol in the perfume to poison Mrs. Berkeley.

Therefore it seems logical to suppose that the surplus perfume was poured into an amber bottle—and what more logical than a perfume bottle to hold perfume?

"Mrs. Berkeley's would-be murderer probably counted on several days elapsing before the victim drank the Fleur d'Amour, since she had another new bottle of perfume on hand, as the plotter could have seen by glancing at her dressing-table—or could have known already.

"Now why the choice of Fleur d'Amour instead of the new bottle of department store perfume? To incriminate Crosby, provided the would-be murderer was not Crosby safer for the poisoner if the perfume had come from France, rather than from a local department store.

"If my reasoning is correct so far, the would-be poisoner expected to have ample leisure in which to dispose of that incriminating surplus of Fleur d'Amour before Mrs. Berkeley's death.

"Now, after five hours of sleep, to clear his brain of all speculations and conclusions—worthless now, in the light of his new discovery—before he transferred more than a few lines of notes ready for reference. He had been talking steadily for 10 minutes, telling the parrot just how and when Doris Matthews had died.

"Now, my dear Watson," that is the crime which you and I must try to solve," he summed up. "But behind that crime lies another, which did not come off. Our primary problem, therefore, is to find the person who plotted Mrs. Berkeley's death by wood alcohol poisoning, but who was forced, by fear to murder Doris Matthews instead. Is that clear?"

"Perfume!" Cap'n croaked suddenly, proud of the new addition to his vocabulary.

"Exactly!" Dundee grinned. "Someone transferred more than two ounces of deadly wood alcohol from the lighter fountain in Mrs. Berkeley's sitting-room, to the flask of Fleur d'Amour which Seymour Crosby presented to his hostess Friday evening. And was caught in the act by Doris Matthews."

"Perfume!" Cap'n repeated and flapped his wings excitedly.

"Exactly—again!" his master applauded. "Where is the perfume which Mrs. Berkeley's would-be murderer removed from the flask to make way for the wood alcohol? Gigs had wasted about an ounce of the Fleur d'Amour. Mrs. Berkeley knew just how much was left in the bottle, for she took the flask from Gigs herself. Therefore, the would-be murderer had to remove about two and a half ounces of perfume before putting that amount of wood alcohol into the bottle.

PRATT STILL UNDECIDED ON ELIMINATION

By The Associated Press
Toeing the line after the gong sounded at midnight last night as the time limit for cutting teams to the 18-man quota found all reporting "ready" today excepting Waco. Manager Del Pratt was expected to announce his list today. Four hours before midnight, he reported, "of course I'll decide by midnight. But it's a tough problem I haven't worked out."

His team crept up a notch in Shreveport yesterday, topping the Shreveport Sports from the head of the list by an 8 to 7 victory. The Houston Buffs were "king for today," leading the league after trouncing Jake Atz' Steers, 7 to 1 in the final of their two game series. The Cats journeyed to Beaumont for a match with the Shippers. Shreveport had 19 men today, one over the quota, but Westmoreland was signed only yesterday and five days was allowed for a further elimination.

Coltexas Nine Is Beaten by Guns

Gulf's Guns defeated the Coltexas nine yesterday, 8 to 2, after Edelen went to the rescue of the former. Roberts started for the Guns, but was wild, giving two passes and allowing a double that meant two runs. In the remaining six innings of the seven-inning game Edelen allowed only two hits and no more runs. Ross tossed for the Coltexas, striking out five, giving up seven hits and eight runs. Coltexas made 8 errors and the Guns 3.

The line-ups:
Gulf—Morgan, If; Munds 3b, Hickory ss, Sullivan c, Edelen p, Davis 1b, Payne 2b, Pope cf, Roberts rf.
Coltexas—Baldwin ss, Godwin rf, Wright 3b, Flynn c, Blue if, D Ross, 2b, Funk 1b, Newsum cf, Ross p.
The game was exciting enough and decisions made by the referee inspired two scraps and considerable back talk between other members of the teams. The Coltexas and the Guns are rated as top-notch teams of this section and both hope to arrange a nine-inning game to settle the question of supremacy.

Fields to Fight Negro Challenger

DETROIT, May 9. (AP)—Jackie Fields, world's welterweight champion, risks his title against Young Jack Thompson, sharpshooting negro challenger, in a 15-round battle to a referee's decision in the Olympia arena here tonight.

It will be the first time in 29 years that a negro will have an opportunity to win the 147-pound title. It also will be Fields' first defense of the crown which he won in Detroit last July by defeating Joe Dundee on a foul in two rounds. The match will be fought at the championship weight of 147 pounds with the prospect that both Fields and his challenger will be under that figure when they jump on the scales at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Konjola Ended Neuritis and Kidney Trouble

Well Known Waco Photographer Enthusiastic About New Medicine "Proven Wonderful Remedy," He Says

"I suffered for six years with neuritis, kidney trouble and constipation," said Mr. H. O. Brubaker, well known photographer, residing at 623 1-2 Austin avenue, Waco. "My ankles and my limbs above the knees were badly swollen and gave me considerable trouble. It became an effort for me to walk. My kidneys were out of order making night risings necessary and causing me to lose restful sleep. My eye-sight seemed to be falling on account of these conditions."

"Much to my surprise, I began to get immediate results after taking this medicine. The swelling left my ankles and limbs and I became stronger. I can now go about my work without stopping to rest. I have been relieved of constipation and my eyesight has improved since taking this medicine. I have and will continue to recommend Konjola to all who suffer from such ailments as I had. Konjola has proven to me that it is a different and wonderful medicine. It certainly proved its merit in my case."

Konjola was not designed to afford mere temporary relief. Taken systematically, over a period of six to eight weeks, this medicine will amaze sufferers by the results obtained. Konjola is sold in Pampa at City Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

other points of vantage, firing occasionally in the air to frighten back the howling mob.
It was denied that National Guardsmen had been asked for. Intent upon lynching George Hughes, negro, charged with originally attacking a white woman, a mob of several hundred men renewed its attack upon the Grayson county courthouse at noon after it had been dispersed by Texas Rangers and county officers who used tear bombs. The second attempt also failed to gain access to the negro.

The second attack was noisier than the first and in the new rush fire hose previously used with tear bombs to drive back the angry throng was slashed. The renewed rush carried the mob only to the courthouse door.
Frank Hamer, Ranger captain, got this message from Governor Dan Moody:
Hamer told a Denison Herald staff man that he took that to mean that the mob would take the negro unless the officers could repel it by using tear bombs and other less than lethal means.

AUSTIN, May 9. (AP)—Colonel McGee of Dallas has been ordered by the adjutant general's department to Sherman with a unit of 50 men from the Dallas National Guard to assist peace officers and rangers in quelling the disturbance. The order was issued by Governor Moody shortly after a request for aid was received from local officials.

DENISON, May 9. (AP)—A third rush on the Grayson county courthouse at Sherman by a mob intent on lynching George Hughes, 41, negro, charged with criminal assault, failed this afternoon.

In its third attack, the mob sought to dynamite the building, but officers and Texas Rangers managed to extinguish several charges of the explosives after they had been ignited about the structure. The crowd was said to be rapidly growing, being augmented by persons from surrounding towns who had been informed of the excitement. The highway between Sherman and Denison, only a few miles apart, was reported crowded with automobiles hurrying people from this section to the scene.

Radio Program Is Very Popular

The second appearance of Tommy Hammond, blind popcorn vendor of West Foster street, on the weekly radio program over KQRS last night, drew a shower of telegrams and telephone calls at the station in Amarillo. Hammond sang two solos last night, accompanied by Mrs. Tom W. Brabham.

Howard Zimmerman, 14-year-old boy, sang two songs which drew also praise from listeners. Others on the program were Harold White, Bobby Pool, Andy Andrews, Mrs. Ethel Pauley and J. A. King.

An example of the many letters received each week arrived this morning from Miss Leona Depper of South Bend, Ind., who wrote, "I wait for your programs every Thursday."

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for May 11, 1930.

General Topic: Jesus Acclaimed as King.

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 21:1-11.

1. And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples.

2. Saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto Me.

3. And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

4. Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying,

Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, Meek and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

5. And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them.

6. And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and He sat thereon.

7. And the most part of the multitude spread their garments in the way, and others cut branches from the trees, and spread them in the way.

8. And the multitudes that went before Him, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.

9. And when He was come unto Jerusalem all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this?

10. And the multitude said, This is the prophet, Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.

11. And the multitude said, Blessed be the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.—Matt. 21:9.

12. Time: The triumphal entry, Sunday, April 2, A. D. 30, Monday, the cursing of the fig-tree and the cleansing of the temple. Tuesday, Christ's last day of public teaching.

13. Place: Bethany, the Mount of Olives, the temple of Jerusalem.

14. Introduction: Open my eyes, that I may see a glimpse of truth thou hast for me.

"Spirit divine!"—C. H. Scott

It is worth noting that this is the only mention of Jesus riding. In all His journeys through Palestine, at all seasons of the year, He seemed to have walked wherever he went. But the time has come for Him to ride. Thus He was to proclaim His Kingship. But He did not come as a fighting King. The horse was the animal of war, the ass the animal of peace. "How different the triumphal entry of Jesus from that of some rulers! Julius Caesar entered Rome in a car drawn by forty elephants, Mark Anthony in one to which lions were harnessed, and Aurelian was conveyed to the Capitol in a gilded chariot drawn by four stags. And now the King of kings comes to Zion, lowly and sitting on an ass. What a different triumphal entry here! The Roman victors drew their train lines of captives clanking in their chains, and weeping in their bondage. He comes with a free multitude going before and following after, praising Him who bringeth the prisoners out of captivity, and drieth away tears off all faces."

cles reached the village of Bethany, on the eastward slope of Olivet (the Mount of Olives) near the crest of the Mount. There was the home of Christ's dear friends, Mary and Martha, and their brother Lazarus, whom Christ had raised from the dead. He and His disciples were always welcome at that home, and there He stayed Friday evening and all day Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath. "On Saturday evening the Sabbath being over at sunset, a supper was given Him, signified by Mary's lovely gift of the pound of precious ointment with which she anointed the Saviour's feet, one of the most famous and meaningful presents in all history (John 12:1-8). On the next morning, our Sunday, occurred the event now related by Matthew." "And came unto Bethphage, unto the Mount of Olives." Bethany means "house of date" and Bethphage,

Murder Backstairs

by ANNE ALSTIN

You see, my dear Watson, if the wood alcohol causing Mrs. Berkeley's death were traced to perfume she had drunk, it would be much more difficult to find the murderer. We know there was a struggle, that Doris was pushed so violently against the bathroom mirror that the smudged print of her rouged mouth was left—a one of our few clues to what took place.

"Then what happens? Doris succeeds in wresting the flask of poisoned perfume from the would-be murderer, flees with it—not taking time to get her coat or the key to the back door. Her goal is the summerhouse, where she believes she will find her fiancé, Arnold, waiting for her.

"But the poisoner knows Arnold is not there, that he is driving the Benjamin Smith's home. So he pursues Doris. But he does not leave behind him, in Mrs. Berkeley's bathroom, the bottle containing the surplus Fleur d'Amour. And then he does not take it with him when he follows Doris to the summerhouse. If he had he would have cast it into the lake, along with the fragments of the crystal flask. Those fragments have been fitted together, Captain Straw tells me, and they form one complete crystal flask. No other bottle was found on the bottom of the lake.

"Therefore he stopped long enough on his way out of the house in pursuit of Doris, to put the bottle away—most probably in his own room."

change his shoes—and he did!"

He was silent again for so long that Cap'n turned rapidly about on his perch three times, then croaked "Good night? Good night?"

"Good night? Why, I've just begun," Dundee reproached the bird. "Let's see now, where we stand. Noiseless shoes—Bedroom slippers, or tennis shoes? But I've stooped and snopped and sniffed in every clothes closet in the house and I've not caught a single whiff of Fleur d'Amour, except from Clorinda's gold slippers.

"Let's follow the murderer back to the house from the summerhouse, after his ghastly work there had been done. It is almost certain that the perfume spilled upon his shoes when the bottle broke. Of course it splashed upon his clothes, too, but that didn't matter, since Gigi had helpfully anointed every one with perfume earlier in the evening. But perfume on soft shoes—Now, how could he remove it most successfully?—By washing the shoes? Not so good. Perfume is devilish persistent stuff.

"Very earnestly he stared into the parrot's beady eye, then suddenly he smote the table with triumphant fist.

"Tennis shoes—white shoe polish!" he cried. "Easy and quick. Freshly polished tennis shoes would cause no comment—well, that's that unless I've been barking up the wrong tree—Now, let's see what we know about this would-be poisoner.

"First: He knows that Mrs. Berkeley is a perfume addict.

"Second: He knows that Mrs. Berkeley has a lighter fountain filled with wood alcohol in her sitting room.

"Third: He has what seems to him good cause to wish Mrs. Berkeley dead.

"Fourth: He knew Arnold could not meet Doris in the summerhouse therefore he must have been present when Mrs. Berkeley ordered the car.

"Fifth: He was someone to whose appeal for mercy Doris Matthews, a kind-hearted girl, must have turned a deaf ear. Otherwise her murder would not have been necessary."

He was silent again, passing all possible suspects in review, putting them, one by one, to the test of his fifth conclusion. Finally he spoke aloud again, very solemnly:

"So far as we know, Cap'n there were only two people in this house whom Doris could possibly have hated—judging from her letter to her sister and from all the evidence he have in hand. Those two people were Mrs. Berkeley and Seymour Crosby—provided it was Seymour Crosby whom Doris knew or suspected to be responsible, directly or indirectly for Phyllis Crosby's death. Let us say she only suspected, until she saw him plotting the death of another woman. He suspicion would have become a certainty then. She would have shown no mercy. If she had come upon anyone else than her beloved 'Miss Phyllis' killer, preparing to poison a woman she disliked, would she not have been easy to move with protestations of repentance and promises not to repeat the attempt?—I think so. I do not indeed think so, if I am any judge at all of Doris Matthews' character!"

Disconcertingly the parrot chuckled throatily.

"Oh, I shan't go half-cocked, if that's what you mean by your ribald laughter," Dundee retorted. "I'm going to consider every single possibility—But before I forget Doris's murderer returned to his room and polished his tennis shoes, to cover up the perfume. But there was another problem confronting him: What to do with his bottle of Fleur d'Amour?"

He brooded for several minutes, while the parrot dropped sleepily on his perch. What would he do? When at last the answer came he uttered so sharp a cry of triumph that the bird protested with one of the oaths he had learned from his mischievous old mistress, Mrs. Emma Hogarth.

It was nearly one o'clock when Dundee concluded his long monologue to the parrot and covered the long-suffering bird's cage. Weary but triumphant, he unlocked the tower room, descended the steep stairs to the third floor, unlocked that door into the hall when he found that the door was pushing against something soft but unyielding.

"Gigi!" he whispered angrily, and then he saw that she was asleep, a woolly bathrobe wrapped about her gay silk pajamas, her curly brown head sunk upon her knees.

He stooped and gathered her up into his arms. She granted, sighed, then the topaz eyes flew wide.

"I thought you'd never come out here to tell me what a cad I think you are! 'Adeking Daddy' admitting that he came to my room Friday night and that I— I told him—" She hesitated, obviously not sure just how much Dundee knew.

"That you told him you hated your mother and wanted him to divorce her?" Dundee finished the sentence for her, so confidently that she tumbled into the trap.

"I didn't mean it," Gigi whimpered. "It was just so awfully sore at Abbie because she slapped me— I guess he told you what else I said?"

"No, Gigi, but you're going to tell me now," Dundee said gently, holding her small body close against his heart. "And in exchange I'm going to tell you that you're not to worry any more—Your father did not try to poison your mother, then kill poor Doris to keep her from telling."

Dundee paused for a long minute frowning. Then he cried triumphantly:

"Of course, Watson! What an idea! I've been! Shoes! No wonder we couldn't smell Fleur d'Amour when we sniffed at the shoes we knew had been worn Friday night! The poisoner was behind Doris. She fled first, and the poisoner had ample opportunity to observe how silent her flight was—in her rubber-soled, rubber-heeled shoes. Not even when she ran down the uncarpeted backstairs did she make any noise. But in ordinary shoes the poisoner could not hope to be noiseless. He stopped and changed to shoes as silent as the girl's. It would have taken less than a minute and undoubtedly the poisoner knew, either from Doris herself or from deduction, what she meant to do. Doris would not find Arnold in the summerhouse, but she would wait for a short time at least, expecting him to arrive any minute. Oh, yes, the poisoner had time to change his shoes—and he did!"

He was silent again for so long that Cap'n turned rapidly about on his perch three times, then croaked "Good night? Good night?"

"Good night? Why, I've just begun," Dundee reproached the bird. "Let's see now, where we stand. Noiseless shoes—Bedroom slippers, or tennis shoes? But I've stooped and snopped and sniffed in every clothes closet in the house and I've not caught a single whiff of Fleur d'Amour, except from Clorinda's gold slippers.

"HIT THE DECK"

Although the stage version of "Hit the Deck" was admittedly one of Broadway's biggest hits, it only could suggest the immense scope, color and narrative appeal of Radio Pictures' screen version, at the Rex theatre.

For instance, the "Hallelujah" song on the stage was a solo. In the picture it has grown into a negro spiritualist meeting interpreted by a chorus of 100 negro singers and dancers. Four new songs have been added to the original score.

The entire naval base at San Diego, Calif., is used for a background, which, on the stage, was represented by a painted backdrop. The legitimate cast numbered about 100—the screen has utilized approximately a thousand.

One of the largest motion picture sets ever built, a life-size replica of the deck of a battleship and a negro tabernacle, by comparison were only suggested on the stage. As a finishing touch, "Hit the Deck" is partially screened in technicolor.

HELL'S HEROES

One of the most unusual and distinctive pictures ever screened will be seen at the Crescent theatre when the Universal all-talking production, "Hell's Heroes," opens an engagement Saturday.

The picture is based on Peter B. Kyne's famous story "Three Godfathers." Its plot deals with the reactions of three western bad men when they find themselves with a newborn baby on their hands in the midst of the desert.

They had promised the child's mother, before she died, that they would take the baby to the little frontier town of New Jerusalem. A killing trip across the desert awaits them—and they know that at New Jerusalem, if they get there, the noose is waiting also.

This dramatic situation furnishes material for a picture rich in romance, pathos and humor. Many of the scenes were filmed in the Mojave desert, and the realism of the picture is startling in its intensity.

Being ability of the highest order features the production. Charles Bickford, Raymond Hatton and Fred Kohler give amazing characterizations. Fritz Ridgeway and Maria Alba supply the feminine interest in the notable cast, which also includes Joe de la Cruz, Buck Connors and Walter James.

The picture was directed by William Wyler. It is based on Peter B. Kyne's famous story, "Three Godfathers." Tom Reed prepared the story for the screen.

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD

"house of figs." Bethphage was near but outside Jerusalem east of the city.

Two Sent in Advance
Then Jesus sent two disciples. Very likely Peter and John. Bethphage was in front of them as they looked west from Bethany.

The Lord Hath Need
"And if any say aught unto you. As they did; see Mark 11:5. 'Ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.'"

Prophecy Fulfilled
Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet. Matthey quotes both Zech. 9:9 and Isa. 62:11. Matthew beheld in the event a clear fulfillment in a most unexpected way of the utterances of prophecy many centuries before Christ's time; and certainly he was right.

"Tell ye the daughter of Zion." Zion was the hill in Jerusalem where David dwelt, and the kings after him. "The daughter of Zion" was Jerusalem itself, all the people of the Holy City.

Ready Obedience
"And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them." It was a lowly task and the disciples had been thinking about thrones and princely dominions; but they went without murmuring.

er any loss in letting our possessions go when the Lord asks for them. If we give them entirely to him, we always receive manifold in return.

Serving the King
"The Lord does not so much command our services as ask us for our cooperation."—Bishop Leighton Coleman.

"God often needs those whom we, as we think, if we were in His place, could have dispensed with. If we had been on the throne of heaven, we should in our stupid way have hoped to convert the world by gaining the good graces of rulers of men like Tiberius and Nero, of literary men like Seneca or Tacitus, and should have taken small account of the fisherman of Galilee. But with Him it is otherwise. The difference between the strongest and the weakest of beings is as nothing when compared with the distance that parts the strongest from the Almighty Strength of the Creator. No, my brother, the Lord hath need of thee too, though thou wilt not believe it."—Dean H. P. Liddon.

The Shouting Multitudes
"And the multitudes that went before Him, and that followed." Crowds of Galileans, hearing that Jesus was at Bethany, had come out from Jerusalem to see once more the beloved prophet. They were augmented by many who had heard of the raising of Lazarus from the dead, and wished to see the Wonder-Worker. These, meeting Christ's little company, turned back and formed the van of the procession. The rear was made up of pilgrims from Jericho who had learned of the opening of the eyes of Bartimaeus and the other blind man, together with people from Bethany. "Cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David." "Hosanna" is a rendering in Greek letters of the Hebrew which means, "Save, we pray!" The multitude shouted "Salvation! Salvation!" much as a modern English crowd would sing "God save the King." They were shouting more wisely than they realized.

"And when He was come near, He beheld the city, and wept over it." "Past the olive groves, by the vineyards, in the shade of the waving palms, the Messiah rode around the shoulder of the hill of Olivet, and before Him gleamed the city and its temple in the sunlight. As His eyes rested on the glorious spectacle, the shouts of exultation of the fickle multitude could not allay the striving of His heart nor stifle the spring of emotion rising within Him. He stopped (Luke 19:41-44), tears-ran down His cheeks, and He uttered words of sorrow: "If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong to thy peace! Beneath His gaze the city lay in the beauty of its situation, the splendor of its palaces, and the significance of its temple; but it was not the threatened destruction tion of its stately buildings which stirred His heart, nor the tragic ending of its history rich in its interests and associations. It was the eternal destiny of its inhabitants. The words which fell from His lips applicable at the time for the nation, are appropriate for all mankind."—Rev. G. Robinson Lees.

All the city rocked, as with an earthquake. "Doubtless there were some anxious moments for the authorities. It seems evident that the leader of that multitude, if He were so minded, could that night have cleared Jerusalem of the Roman power." "Saying, Who is this?" "They asked, as they leaned out of the lattices and from the roofs, and stood aside in the banners and streets to let them pass."—F. W.
