Waterspout Floods South Plains Town

LSU Fugitive Believed Seen By Officials

BATON ROUGE, La., June 27 (AP)—High state officials today announced Dr. James Monroe Smith, former state university president sought on an embezzlement charge, was seen passing through St. Francisville, 35 miles northwest of here, early Sunday night following flight from the university camps.

Smith and his wife together with Mrs. Smith's nephew, Emory Adams, and his wife, were seen riding in Smith's automobile. Adams returned here yesterday and surrendered to authorities but refused to make any statement.

Officials today seemed confident Smith would be caught. One official said he believed the educator, who fled on the heels of his resignation, had gone into hiding while he attempted to soften the penalty against him.

It was understood he told former Governor Richard M. Leche he had funds to cover any shortage but that Leche refused to negotiate.

State auditors here and in New Orleans brokerage houses today were busy unscrambling Smith's complicated accounts, in which were reported indications he met financial distress by speculating on a falling wheat market.

O'DONNELL, June 27 (AP)—Accompanied by a hard wind, rain variously estimated at from six to 10 inches, struck O'Donnell late Monday. Downtown streets at high points were flooded, and the "White Flats" comprising territory near the Santa Fe railway tracks were one huge lake.

Reports of livestock losses filtered in this morning with extent of damage unestimated. One cotton warehouse in town was badly damaged. The business section resembled a lake and water was deep enough to float boats.

Highway 87 became impassible when water overflowed the lake and the onrushing waters from the town swept across the railway tracks.

Cars were stalled at many points over town.

Rain fell intermittently during the night and was still falling at mid-morning.

3.42 inches rain was reported at Lamesa with various other sections of the South Plains receiving from one-eighth to three inches.

Business Uptrend In Texas Expected

AUSTIN, June 27 (AP)—Full sharing in the expected upward trend of the national business cycle in the next few months may be anticipated for Texas, Dr. F. A. Buechel, University of Texas economist, said today.

The assistant director of the Bureau of Business Research added the national gain probably would be confined mainly to expansion of consumer goods industries. "If sustained recovery is finally achieved throughout the country, and activity in the capital goods industries gains momentum, and additional impulse will be given to Texas business," he said.

Past experience, however, indicates the rise in indexes of industry and trade in this state will be at a slower rate than in the north or east, Dr. Buechel opined.

The composite index for Texas, based on such factors as employment, pay rolls, miscellaneous freight car loadings, runs of crude oil to stills, department store sales and electric power consumption, was 96 in May, a substantial increase over the April index of 94.3. Factors, except department store sales.

Sale Of Fireworks Not Banned Here

District Judge W. R. Ewing, questioned today concerning the constitutionality of a law forbidding sale of fireworks said he was not sure on the subject, but was of the opinion that any such law would violate the constitution, inasmuch as it might be construed as undue regulation of a man's business.

The Pampa ordinance does not prohibit sale of fireworks, nor forbid their use within the city, provided the fireworks are not discharged on any public street or alley or at a distance of less than 100 feet from any public building or business building.

In Taos, N. M., public notices have been posted warning against the use of fireworks and any kind of fireworks within the village limits. A fine of from $5 to $25 is assessed offenders.

In Lorain, Ohio, it is unlawful to try to sell fireworks or display them for sale within the city's corporation limits. Under the ordinance in that city there is nothing to prevent a person bringing fireworks into the city. The legislation, however, makes it illegal to shoot them within the city limits.

Woman Held Captive At Michigan Prison

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 27 (AP)—A group of convicts seized a woman welfare worker being shown through Indiana State prison today and took her to the office of the prison physician. There they barricaded themselves and threatened death to their captive unless they were given guns and their release.

Wardens fired Dord called all state police in Northern Indiana to the prison. A heavy guard was placed about the walls.

From prison employes it was learned the woman held was Ruth Joiner of Crawfordville, Ind.

Price For Foreign Silver Cut 3 Cents

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The treasury slashed its price for foreign silver today from 45 to 42 cents an ounce.

This action was taken less than 24 hours after the senate voted to discontinue purchases of foreign silver after July 1.

The treasury's foreign silver price had been 45 cents per ounce since March, 1938, and had been 45 cents per ounce for two years prior to that cut.

Road Dedication Brings Biggest Banquet Crowd

Formal dedication last Friday of the Pampa-Borger highway is history now, but the memory of that huge banquet crowd in the Pampa High school gym Friday night will linger for a long time. The top photo shows only a portion of the 600 persons who attended. At the upper right of the top photo may be seen the speakers' table with

Judge Robert Lee Bobbitt, member of the Texas Highway commission, in the white suit. Judge Bobbitt and Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer, were honored guests. ## Windsors To Return Home, Claims Paper

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's London Evening Standard, usually well informed about the Duke of Windsor's plans, said today the Duke and Duchess had decided to return to England next October to take up residence here.

The Standard's story said also it was possible the former King Edward VIII and his American-born wife would visit the United States next year.

Lord Beaverbrook's Standard and his morning paper, the Daily Express, long have carried on a campaign for the return of the Duke of Windsor to England, which he last saw immediately after his abdication Dec. 11, 1936, to marry the former Wallis Simpson.

Without giving the source of its information, the Standard said: "The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have decided to return to England."

"They will arrive in October and take up residence here."

"It is probable that they will visit the United States next year."

The Windsors now are living in France.

They planned to visit the United States last year but cancelled their trip after American labor criticized the duke's selection of Charles Beaudaux, who headed an industrial efficiency system, to handle arrangements for the tour.

The play will be given in the Pampa High school auditorium, starting at 8 o'clock, sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis club for the benefit of the club fund for underprivileged children.

All of the boyhood thrills and trials of Tom Sawyer are re-lived again by the audience; Billie Bethune as Becky Thacker is Tom's girl and his Aunt Polly is played by Marguerite Cleghorn.

Claude Gray is Huckleberry Finn, George Pearce is Indian Joe and Billy Russell plays Sid Sawyer. Loy Stockton, who plays the title role, is an experienced young actor. He made 33 dramatic appearances in the past year. For the past two years he has won highly superior ratings in speech art festivals.

Japs Order Vessels Out Of Two Ports

SHANGHAI, June 27 (AP)—The Japanese navy today announced offensive against two more Chinese ports, warned the United States and other powers to remove their vessels and declared the ports would be closed to foreign shipping.

A Thursday noon deadline was given for withdrawal of third-power vessels, after which Japan would not be responsible for their safety. United States and other foreign nationals were urged by the Japanese to leave the two cities, Wenchow and Foochow.

By capturing Wenchow and Foochow Japan would gain the last two important ports under Chinese control.

The Japanese warned neutral vessels to leave the two ports "by noon of June 29," after which the ports will be closed to ships other than Japanese.

The announcement indicated the ports would be mined to keep out foreign vessels.

Stark Hits Union Of Crime, Politics

ALBANY, N. J., June 27 (AP)—Missouri's crime fighting Gov. Lloyd C. Stark declared today the union between crime and politics must be smashed "if the faith of the American people in popular government is to be retained."

The democratic chief executive who gained national prominence by leading the fight which crumbled the powerful Tom Pendergast political machine and put its leader in a federal prison, told 22 chief state executives at the thirty-first annual governors' conference:

"The nation's crime bill represents a severe loss to this country at a time when we are straining every resource to bring about a sound and lasting recovery. . . . It is a symptom of faults in our political structure which must be corrected."

Legion Orders Huge Display Of Fireworks

Biggest In History Will Be Held At Southern Club

A fireworks display, bigger even than that of last year, is to be given by the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion on the grounds north of the Southern club on the night of July 4.

As a sample of what Legionnaires mean by giving this show they will provide children with a thrilling display and the community exhibition will help serve as a safety measure.

This year there will be 11 salutes, 48 bombshells, and 20 set devices.

The free exhibition is specially for the children, and Legionnaires believe that by giving this show they will provide children with a thrilling display and the community exhibition will help serve as a safety measure.

Starting at 9:30 o'clock the display will last one hour and 20 minutes.

Aerial Numbers. Four numbers feature the aerial part of the show; a nine-inch Ceylon ruby bombshell that gives bursts of glowing ruby stars; a nine-inch national color shell, covering sky with red, white, and blue stars; a nine-inch field of Flanders shell, releasing high in the skies a number of blood-red poppies; a nine-inch stars and stripes bombshell, sending forth streams of red, white, and blue stars.

Set Pieces. Among the set pieces for community display will be: ladies delight, a device breaking open and reproducing sparkling golden and diamond effects; Yellowstone geyser, a combination aerial and aerial display, starting with a brilliant bubbling effect and then sending out spouts of fire high in the air. Three of these geyzers are fired simultaneously.

Niagara Falls, a vivid reproduction of the mighty Niagara, 20 x 30 feet long; American flag, colorfully reproduced in vivid colored fires.

Dance On July 3. Preceding the observance of July 4 in Pampa, the local American Legion post will give a dance at the Southern club on the night of July 3, starting at 9:30 o'clock.

Stores Asked to Close. As July 4 is the national holiday, the post is asking all merchants in Pampa to close their business for that day. No program has been planned here for the day, so that Pampans could be given an opportunity to participate in Independence day programs being held at McLean, the Anvil Park rodeo near Canadian, Clarendon, and Borger.

LUFKIN, June 27 (AP)—W. Hayden Perkins, 33-year-old poultry farmer, was held today on a murder charge in connection with the drowning in a shallow box last Thursday of his seven-year-old stepson, Phillip D. Linderman.

Ranger Captain Hardy Purvis, who assisted Sheriff H. C. Billingsley, and others in an investigation, said Perkins had made a signed statement. Purvis said a court order would be sought for exhumation of the body of William L. Linderman, two-year-old brother of Phillips, who died May 25 and that insurance policies had been bought on both boys.

Mrs. Perkins, the Ranger stated, arrived here from Lansing, Mich., and married Perkins April 7.

Mexico Concerned Over Silver Hike

MEXICO CITY, June 27 (AP)—Mexican business men expressed grave concern today over passage by the United States senate of a bill which would stop foreign purchase of silver—one of Mexico's most important products.

Financial commentators here were hopeful, however, final congressional action would not be taken.

The newspaper, Excelsior, declared editorially that a halt in purchases would cut one of Mexico's chief sources of income and added: "We must agree that this action is not at all friendly to our country; it is in complete contrast with the trade of American policies during the last few years, which have attempted to bring the countries of this continent ever closer together."

'Too Thrifty,' Says Man Of Americans

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27 (AP)—Americans have been "too thrifty," in the opinion of President Tully C. Knoles of the College of the Pacific.

"They have now stored up the greatest volume of cash in the world," he told a joint convention session of the merchandising division and controllers' congress of the National Retail Dry Goods association, "a surplus of nearly $14,000,000 in the Federal Reserve banks."

Knoles suggested the stimulation of further domestic trade as one remedy. He commented upon the "deepening gap between the standards of living of the employed and unemployed."

Paris' Summertime Chic Floats On Clouds Of Veiling

PARIS, June 27.—For summer tea-dances, for dining at the World's Fair, for all occasions where to look cool is an essential to chic, Paris has hit upon the idea of using chenille dotted veiling.

Until this season, chenille dotted veiling was reserved for trimming on more or less formal hats. Now, however, in colors and in the ever-popular and a trifle smarter black and navy, it has become a dress fabric.

In his recent collection, Jean Dessès showed a frock in black chenille dotted net (the fine veiling kind), and the dress has a full skirt over a circular-cut underdress of gleaming satin. The bodice is as clean-cut and fitted as if it were made in any other staple fabric, with fascinating center front, high necking and short sleeves, all underlined by crisp white glazed linen in the form of collar and cuffs.

Robert Piguet's dinner ensemble is of white chenille dotted veiling on a black base. Here the skirt shows very slight fullness at the hem, preserving a pencil-like silhouette stressed by the clinging lines of the black crepe sheath.

A sort of Arabian night's princess touch is provided by the tall, fez-like hat of lightweight black felt trimmed with a wide draped length of the veiling that continues in a scarf which winds around the neck. A chunky necklace of wrought gold and semi-precious stones provides a chic finish to the neckline.

CRIMOLINE IS WORN, TOO

Summer evening gowns in crimoline have evolved into wide skirts with cinched waists, which stand away from the feet but preserve the slimmest of waistline and hips. There are so much of a problem to handle as the honest-to-goodness hooped skirt, but newer and therefore smarter. Made of clinging chiffon they are attractively romantic.

Check the Want Ads

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy, toasted cereal—Kellogg's All- Bran—for breakfast. All- Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All- Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

New Personality Arithmetic Will Double Your Charm

Many women could double their charm without acquiring any new tricks at all—just by cutting down on the old ones.

The advice of decorators—to make a room inviting by throwing out half of the furniture cluttering it—can be applied to personality with even more astonishing results.

Let's take Mrs. B. and make her a charming woman without asking her to do anything but throw away a few bad habits that make her personally as cluttered as an overcrowded room.

To begin with, we'll ask her to just talk half as much as she does now. She doesn't need to improve her conversation—just dispense with part of it. Most women would be more of a joy to have around if they talked a great deal less.

Then we'll ask her to give up repeating, every point she makes. Hardly anything is worth saying twice in a row—and certainly no story is improved by going over it a second time.

Then, perhaps, she could be persuaded to give up half of her unnecessary motion, so that when she presumably is sitting still, she actually will be quiet.

If she could cut down on vivaciousness, that would help, too. Half as much smiling, half as much vocal punctuation, her remarks would be just about right.

And she could easily get along with half of the platitudes she now uses. You know the kind of thing she is always saying: "Well you get out of anything exactly what you put into it."

When she does find it necessary to fall back on platitudes, she might stop saying them with such emphasis—as though she is coming through with some new, original thought.

It is seldom what people fail to do that irritates us, it is what they do over and over—and over.

Mrs. Runyon Has Surprise Birthday Dinner For Husband

A surprise dinner was given recently at the Singer shops by Mrs. L. G. Runyon honoring her husband on his birthday.

A patriotic theme was stressed in the decorations. The birthday cake was topped with flags and the six flags of Texas were used in the table arrangement.

Greetings and gifts were presented to the guest of honor after two vocal selections, "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Sing Me to Sleep," were sung.

Attending were Mrs. Gustie Dodson of Dallas, sister of Mr. Runyon, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Perrey of Dalhart, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart of Amarillo, Miss Lue Nichols of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dowell, Mrs. Forte, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Duvall, Miss Ruth Tunnell, Mr. Burns, Mr. Vaughn, and Mrs. Margaret Carney.

Fabrics Have Gone Gay For Season's Summer Styles

PARIS, June 27.—Fabrics for the season's styles are as fresh and gay as the first breath of spring.

Even wools have gone gay in a restrained manner. Soft pinks, blues and greens vie with golden yellows and clear reds in delightful supple wools that are light as thistledown.

These are intended for the more feminine afternoon ensembles or dressmaker styles.

That suits, too, will be fashionable—the suit, by the way, is now more or less accepted as modern woman's most practical outfit—is evidenced by the number of fabrics inspired by men's suitings.

Plain and striped flannels, harsher weaves with more or less fancy chevrons and other stripes have nevertheless something distinctly feminine. This is usually due to the color contrasts which would be altogether too fanciful for the average man.

Manufacturers seem to be of the opinion that despite all efforts to launch navy blue as a staple to replace black, the latter is due for even bigger success.

But the 1939 black will lose all of its sobriety and severity by reason of the maddest and gayest accessory touches. Blouses will supply splashes of color reminiscent of futuristic canvases and then there will be all the unexpected decorative ideas which the couturiers are working on at the moment.

One of the most attractive aspects of spring and summer clothes is seen in the prints. Each year it seems impossible that anything new could be thought up in design and color combinations. But every year the silk manufacturers show us more and better prints than before.

Take dots, for example. Well, this year dots do all sorts of unexpected things. They form triangles, squares, diamonds, stripes, blurred effects. They are massed midway on the fabric or scattered all over the place; they form ordered borders or chevrons; they start as small as confetti and finish up almost as large as a five dollar piece. And there is no end to the varieties of color combinations.

Squares or "paving stones" as they are called here, run dots a very close second as far as variety is concerned. Checks and plaids are still featured but in a much more restrained spirit. Stripes, on the other hand, are shown in every possible manner. Barber's pole stripes, bayadere (which means all vertical stripes) and galons (imitating or reminiscent of vertical braiding) are among the novelties. The galons are often floral patterns, sometimes varying in width with an extra wide one every eight or ten inches, or else they alternate ordinary stripes with a floral one.

Designs vary too, from the tiniest speck of a flower to blossoms as large as the hand, nearly always combined in the same pattern.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HALE
NEA Service Staff Writer

A really smart woman never is a carbon copy. She doesn't try to look or act like anyone except herself. She doesn't copy a movie star's laze unless it happens to be as becoming to her as to the movie star. She doesn't adapt the mannerisms of others. She doesn't change her accent every time she happens to spend more than three weeks in a different section of the country.

In other words, she is a person. And she would rather dramatize the person that she is than try to imitate someone else.

If she is more-than-average in height, you never catch her wearing platform shoes—no matter how much platform soles are touted. If purplish makeup isn't flattering, she skips purplish makeup—regardless of who wears it or who says it is the newest thing.

She is ever mindful of the background against which she lives, as well as of her own coloring, figure and type. If she is a business woman, there are more simple, suitable day dresses than frilly afternoon frocks in her wardrobe. If her home is informally furnished and its surroundings slightly rustic, she buys, for leisure hours, streamlined house coats and smart lounging pajamas rather than trailing chiffon tea gowns or elaborately embroidered robes.

She never over-works the latest slang expression. She knows half a dozen synonyms for such words as "well," "cute," "amusing."

Her political, economic and social views are based on sounder reasons than "My husband thinks" or "John says."

She can figure things out for herself. And she does.

Buenos Aires lays claim to being the eighth largest in the world, with a population of 3,500,000 for the 669 square kilometers of "Greater Buenos Aires."

Wall Street Debates 5-Day Summer Week

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—Saturday holidays during July and August for upwards of 40,000 brokerage house employees were in doubt today as members of the New York Stock exchange debated a five day week for the vacation period, and possible lengthening of trading hours thru Fridays.

Governors of the exchange have been sounding out members preliminary to making a decision tomorrow afternoon. Most New York City banks have decided to adopt the short week for the next two months.

Informal polls of sentiment among exchange members were said to have disclosed a division of opinion. Leading the opposition, informed members said, are the big commission houses with numerous branches throughout the country which fear they would lose business.

On the other hand, it was pointed out, the exchange membership is faced with a growing trend toward a five day week, in finance as well as other sectors of business.

As a compromise, brokers discussed longer trading sessions while the market is open. It was suggested another hour could be added to the session.

Born in Kane, Ill., in 1857, where he spent his early life, Mr. Gardner after living in Kansas a year, came to Texas where he lived the remainder of his life.

He made his home for a time at Media, Alvarado, and Dallas, and in 1894 came to Higgins where he has since resided.

Engaged in the mercantile business here until about 10 years ago, Mr. Gardner has enjoyed good health until he was stricken about six weeks ago. He died at his home here Thursday.

Survivors include his wife of Higgins; one son, Sam Gardner of Wichita, and one sister, Clara, of Kane, Ill.

Canadian received an inch of precipitation and a like amount fell along the Santa Fe line between Dumas and Boise City, Okla.

Dalhart received about a half inch of rainfall, while Texline got a shower. The rain extended south from Dalhart to Duncan, which is about eight miles north of Chaning.

Hedley, southeast on the Fort Worth & Denver, got a downpour, while good showers fell at Memphis and Gilles. On the Denver's South Plains line, a light rain was reported from Dimmitt to Hart, while Petersburg, Lockney, Sterley, Quitaua and Turkey also were reported to have received a good fall.

TULSA, Okla., June 27 (AP)—The daily average crude oil production of the United States increased 12,983 barrels to 3,463,656 in the week ended June 24, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Final Ballot On Relief Act Delayed

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Unexpected controversies over the $1,735,000,000 relief bill developed in the Senate appropriations committee today to check temporarily that measure's scheduled swift movement to the Senate floor.

Several committee members said they still were hopeful, however, the bill might be sent to the Senate during the day since the WPA and other relief agencies would be without funds unless it was ready for President Roosevelt's signature by Friday midnight.

A subcommittee previously struck down the House-approved measure a proviso that a three-man board replace the present single administrator and a section earmarking $125,000,000 of the WPA's $1,477,000,000 for PWA.

The President's congressional leaders, although hard-pressed at every turn by Republican and anti-administration Democrats, hoped to Highway Retrospection: Now that the excitement and confusion of the dedication program of the long needed Pampa-Borger highway is over and Pampa, Borger and other Panhandle folk are back at their jobs, the highway officials in this section who have been conversant with highway affairs for years feel that the dedication was a big success in every way, with one exception.

In the early part of 1935 Gov. James Allred appointed the Hon. Harry Hines, of Wichita Falls, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission. Soon afterwards a delegation from Pampa, Borger and Dumas contacted him and pointed out the need of the Pampa-Borger-Dumas road.

In 1937, after considerable work on the part of Chairman Hines to get the road placed on the Federal Aid system and funds set up for its construction, he made a personal trip to the Panhandle and was the speaker at the annual luncheon of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, March 9.

In all these years highway officials of Pampa have recognized in Mr. Hines an ardent friend who has ever been on the job for the Pampa-Borger-Dumas road as well as for a number of other important highway connections in this part of Texas.

It was therefore with keen regret that local officials learned that the serious illness of Mrs. Hines in Dallas would prevent Commissioner Hines from attending. Friends of Mr. Hines learned today that Mrs. Hines is still seriously ill, but are hoping that she may have a speedy recovery.

Friends of Commissioner Hines missed his presence here last Friday night, but they knew that while he was in Dallas watching with anxiety the condition of Mrs. Hines, that his heart was present at the High School Gymnasium with his Panhandle friends, rejoicing with them over the success of a job well done—a job which he started and kept moving until final completion, June 23.

"I am not among those who fear the people. They, and not the rich, are our dependence for continued freedom. And to preserve their independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our election between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts, as that we must tax in our meat and in our drink, in our necessities and our comforts, in our labors and our amusements, for our callings and our creeds, as the people of England are, our people, like them, must come to labor 16 hours in the 24, give the earnings of 15 of these to the government for their debts and daily expenses; and the 16th being insufficient to afford us bread, we must live, as they now do, on oatmeal and potatoes; have no time to think, no means of calling the mismanagers to account; but be glad to obtain subsistence by hiring ourselves to rivet their chains on the necks of our fellow-sufferers. Our land-holders, too, like theirs, retaining indeed the title and stewardship of estates called theirs, but held really in trust for the treasury, must wander, like theirs, in foreign countries, and be contented with penury, obscurity, exile, and the glory of the nation. This example reads to us the salutary lesson, that private fortunes are destroyed by public as well as by private governments. A departure from principle in one instance becomes a precedent for a second; that second for a third; and so on, till the bulk of society is reduced to mere automatons of misery, to have no sensibilities left but for sinning and suffering. . . . And the fore horse of this frightful team is public debt. Taxation follows that, and in its train wretchedness and oppression."

Of course, our New Deal theorists, who are in office and are benefiting for the moment by this extravagance, will contend that things are different now. Of course we have more wealth but the appetites of those in control for power and luxury are exactly the same now as they were when Jefferson wrote this.

It is astounding how church people can claim to be interested in working for the welfare of mankind can go along with the present administration's policies that are bound to bring about the exact condition described by Thomas Jefferson, if continued.

"ONLY MORE POWER AND SELF-CONCEITED": As we see the great shows put on by the political educators, with more than a million youths turned out as graduates, the parents of these youths should read what Franklin said, when he was 16, writing under an assumed name in his brother's newspaper.

He is referring to colleges, when he said: "I reflected in my mind on the extreme folly of those parents who, blind to their children's dullness and insensible of the solidity of their skulls, because they think their purses can afford it will needs send them to the Temple of Learning, where, for want of a suitable genius, they learn little more than how to carry themselves handsomely and enter a room genteelly (which might as well be acquired at a dancing-school), and from whence they return, after abundance of trouble and charge, as great blockheads as ever, only more proud and self-conceited."

It is amazing how the public educators have kidded the public that education was free and not a burden to his labor. They have succeeded in making the public believe this that they have added frill after frill and not only wasted the time of the boy or girl, but miseducated them as to what Democracy, Christianity and Liberty are. Most public educators are great showmen.

There can be no prescription old enough to supersede the Law of Nature and the grant of God Almighty, who has given to all men a natural right to be free, and they have it ordinarily in their power to make themselves so, if they please. —James Q"

Behind The News Of The Day

NEA Service Staff Correspondent: CLEVELAND, June 24—An organized effort to make effective in organized labor circles the labor and social principles of the Papal Encyclicals and of the Catholic Church will result from the deliberations of the Catholic Social Action Congress, just closed here.

The Association of Catholic Trade Unionists (ACTU), formed quietly in 1937, and now grown to 2,000 members in 20 cities, is planning expansion to every community in which there are large organized labor groups.

Carrying out the dictum of Pope Pius XI that labor organizations must be paralleled by Catholic organizations for religious and moral training of union members to make Christian principles count in the labor movement, the ACTU will gather prospective leaders in labor groups and schools, and train them in the philosophy and practice of labor principles of the Encyclicals.

Defense Training: The Rev. Sebastian Erbacher of Duns Scotus College in Detroit, chaplain of ACTU's chapter there, puts it this way: "Our task is to gather prospective leaders in labor, ground them in sound principles, train them to facility in defending these principles, and in applying them to their workday lives. They may thus go back to their unions prepared to make their Christian and American convictions count in formulating the policy and controlling the action of their unions."

The president of the ACTU is Ed Squitieri, youthful member of the Utilities Workers' Union in New York. The organization was formed in February of 1937 when Squitieri and a group of 10 friends in various labor organizations were discussing various experiences in their organizations. They reviewed cases of discharge for union activity, of injustices, of union

Dictatorship in Radio

The Federal Communications Commission marches with a dictator's flag. It dictates. It has usurped the power to censor international broadcasts. It has no such power. The exercise of arbitrary power is the essence of dictatorship.

The commission has issued an edict as follows: "A licensee of an international broadcast station shall render only an international broadcast service which will reflect the culture of his country and which will promote international good will, understanding and cooperation."

If Stalin deliberately starves a million peasants to break the back of their resistance to his bloody Utopia, no American can tell the world what he thinks about it. If in Japan, China, Spain, or anywhere in this mad world assassination, torture, or confiscation is perpetrated by government officials, no American shall appeal to the conscience of mankind.

No "Only" such broadcasts as "promote international good will" are permitted. Good will is desirable. But it must be deserved. Americans must not be disfranchised to protest wrong, here or abroad.

Possibly one exception will be permitted in the discussion of atrocities—Hitler. Secretary Ickes may still be allowed to speak his mind on Hitler, even though he promotes International III will. But apparently no one is to discuss the repudiation of British or French war debts. Nor Communism in Russia or Mexico.

Why if this star chamber of the air had been sitting in 1776, Patrick Henry could not have spoken into the mike his words of deathless fame—"Caesar had his Brutus, Charles I his Cromwell, and George III may profit by their example."

Such a speech would not "promote international good will." By the eternal, it was not intended to! When during the Civil War, France saw her empire in Mexico in direct violation of the Monroe Doctrine, and England outfitted privateers to sink our ships and drown our sailors, no American could have gotten in front of an international mike and told them where to get off.

No. Nothing but firebrand chaps and street hooligans. I sat in on the writing of the Act which created the Federal Communications Commission. It can be told in the most positive terms that every member of our legislative policies rammed through by small but skillful and voracious Communist minorities. And they decided that these things were matters of organization and training. They formed the first chapter of the ACTU, and after consultation with several priests, secured the Rev. John P. Monaghan as their chaplain. George R. Donahue of the International Longshoremen's Association became executive secretary. Victor Lo Pinto of the Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians, is vice president.

Soon after the first Catholic school for trade unionists, offering training in labor philosophy and tactics had been established at Fordham University, Ed Scully, a young lawyer on the staff of Patrick Attorney Tom Dewey, founded the Catholic Labor Defense League to handle legal problems of labor's rights that might endanger ACTU principles. And the ACTU began to expand.

PAMPA'S DELEGATES TO the Kiwanis International convention in Boston are somewhere in the Midwest en route to the high plains. . . . Four from here attended the convention last week—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gordon, President W. B. Weathered, and C. E. McGrew. . . . Mr. Weathered and Mr. McGrew drove through, while the Gordons went by boat, taking their car with them for the return trip by motor. . . . Information received here yesterday said that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon and Mr. Weathered left Boston yesterday for the home-bound trip and that Mr. McGrew is staying over in the East to return sometime in July.

Since Sports Editor Harry Hoare left on his three-week vacation last week, we've been developing some mighty good sports writers down here at The News. . . . Cecil Barnett and Hel Waggoner of the composing room, have been collaborating with the skipper of this space on expert baseball coverage, and Courthouse Reporter Brownie Emerson has been doubling in pole and golf. . . . You never know just what a versatile staff you really have until somebody goes off on vacation and somebody else steps in to fill up the gap. . . . On top of that, City Editor Archer Fullingim has been battling for the sportiest of all sports, rassing.

THAT'S ONE THING we all are mighty proud of here at The News—the flexibility of the folk in the various departments and the willingness of employees to step from one branch to another to help out in emergencies. . . . A finer bunch of boys and girls, you'll never find anywhere. . . . To show appreciation for this fine cooperation on the part of everybody, The News will break a tradition of long standing next Tuesday and suspend publication on July Fourth so that members of The News family may enjoy a full holiday. . . . It will be the first time in four years that The News has missed a regular publication day.

There seems to be a bit of news in that little ad, announcing that Pampa is to have its first beauty salon, designed solely for men. . . . Mrs. Katherine Martin, of the Orchid Beauty Salon, in the Combs-Worley bldg., is the first to announce a "gentleman's entrance" where mere man may go, unmolested and undisturbed by members of the fair sex, to have himself all prettied up. . . . Ah, this modern age.

THE HEAVY RAINS of last week have clouded the crystal ball a bit, but after an unusually long session with it, last night, one finds that it is highly probable that Tony Galento will upset the applecart tomorrow night when he fights Joe Louis in their heavyweight brawl at the Yankee stadium in New York. . . . The faithful old crystal, which is right 11 times out of 20—and you can't deny that—reveals an unguarded Louis jaw being cracked by a Galento left-hook in the early rounds. . . . It's almost treason to put a thing like that in writing, but I prefer to go along with the ball in this instance.

The boys in the backroom here at The News have a lot of fun with me and my sessions with the crystal ball. . . . However, 14 out of 15 canvassed yesterday are laying their dough on the line with the predictions and are prospering accordingly. . . . There's always one rebel in every group. . . . You'll remember that the last prediction made here was that the Pampa Oilers would whip Clovis last Friday night. . . . That's the game that the rain broke up as a "no contest" when Clovis was leading by a comfortable margin in the fourth. . . . Well, they played that particular game off in the first of a double-header Sunday afternoon, and Pampa won it, 10-5, making the prediction still good.

HOW DID I get mixed up with the crystal ball? Well, it was some 15 years ago in the East when I met up with a vaudeville performer, known as the Great Maharajah. . . . We became friends, and he taught me how to use the ball. . . . The very first thing I tried with it, was to solve a murder case, and the clue that came out of the ball turned the trick—believe it or not. . . . I never have lost faith in it, although I know there are no supernatural powers of any kind connected with it. . . . To me, the crystal ball is just like a rabbit's foot to somebody else. . . . On top of that it's a lot of fun and a grand hobby.

An ice bag helps to control the pain. A hot-water bottle increases the congestion. It is best to call a doctor to find out what is wrong.

Third, postpone a general distribution of the news as well as the collection of a layette for several months. Fourth, take guidance as to conduct to the doctor who is selected to take charge of the case.

Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Newark, Chicago, San Francisco, Cleveland, Washington, and 10 other cities. As a result of the Cleveland deliberations, the rapid expansion of the movement is planned. All leaders deny any purpose to form by means of the ACTU "cliques" within already-established unions, or any effort to control them politically. "We will, however," insists Squitieri, "fight in a positive manner for Christian principles within the unions, and against any racketeer tendencies which oppose the interests of the rank and file. We oppose violent tactics, and all 'Marxian line' activities. We favor conciliation when that is possible, but once we determine that a strike is just, we support it." The newest Catholic labor move supplements the work of the Catholic Radical Alliance, which gained prominence in Pittsburgh by active support of the steel organizing drive, when in several instances priests appeared on the picket lines. It is possible that the two organizations may be consolidated later.

Bailey Gets 2 Homers As Oilers Win 14-2

Second Game On Schedule For Tonight

That collection they've been taking up down at Big Spring to present to the town's West Texas baseball team when and if it came home on top of the heap at the end of the league's first-half play, was knocked into a cocked hat last night when the Pampa Oilers unmercifully whacked the Barons down, 14-2, at Roadrunner Park.

It was another one of those games replete with the old homerun thrills—five of them being chalked up for the night. Fortunately, four of them were on the Pampa side of the ledger with Bob Bailey, the Oilers' professor of first base technique, most impressively smacking out two of them.

Incidentally, a lot of folk are wondering just what the possibilities are for Pampa to finish in first place

Turn To Page 6 For Additional Sports

In this first-half of play which comes to an end next Saturday night.

Well, they're pretty slim. However, as things stand today it is not impossible—although highly improbable.

The best Pampa could do would be to end up in a tie with first place. This tie would be with the Lubbock Hubbers and the only way that could happen would be for Pampa to win all five of its remaining games, Lubbock would have to lose all five of its games and Lamesa would have to lose four of its remaining games.

Pampa and Big Spring will play the second of their three-game series at Roadrunner park at 8:30 o'clock tonight. The series ends with Wednesday night's game, after which Pampa will move into Clovis for three games before returning here to open the new second-half season with a doubleheader against Amarillo next Sunday.

Big Spring scored no runs in any inning except the sixth last night, when it got two and no more. Pampa's pitcher, Dilbeck, a south-paw, pitched his first full game at home and the fans fell in love with him. He let the Springers down with only seven hits, while the Oilers were collecting twice that many off Soden.

Nell and Hobson also collected home runs for Pampa last night, and Stacey shot one over the center field wall scoring Walton ahead of him. Walton got on after being hit by a pitched ball.

The Oilers scored two runs in the first, two in the second, one in the

NEW YORK, June 27.—It's natural to turn your head to the side on each stroke, take a deep breath through the mouth and then exhale through the nose when the face is in the water.

It was pointed out to me that I wasted energy and interrupted my speed when I turned my head for air with each stroke of the arm.

I trained myself to turn my head never bringing my head too high above the water, and to inhale enough air in one breath to last for four strokes.

By eliminating excess head motion and exhaling slowly at all times, I bettered my form and speed.

I use a large gliding racing dive which carries me five to eight yards before I start my stroke.

The advantage thus obtained was the difference between myself and the nearest competitor at the end of the race.

Tony's Wife Sees Kayo In Third Round

By JIM HACKETT

ORANGE, N. J., June 27. (AP)—Tony's wife, Mary Galento, who's just as grave as her prizefighting husband is clownish and who, incidentally, is the real boss of the Galento family, has tomorrow night's title bout with Joe Louis all figured out:

"Tony can't and won't lose this fight. He'll knock Mr. Louis out in the third round."

That's all. There are no ifs, ands or buts about it. The third round. A knockout.

"Then," said white-aproned Mrs. Galento, a plump housewife in a dark dress, "we're going to start building our home on it right after the fight."

"Tony's a home-husband and he likes chickens. We'll raise chickens and we'll have a flower garden. There'll be an annuity for Junior (14-months-old Galento heir), and Tony won't fight anymore."

Mrs. Galento, who, unlike her heavyweight champion husband, shies from appearing in the public prints, will be on hand in the Yankee Stadium tomorrow night to see "Tony do it." She hasn't missed any of his fights in two years. She never worries about him when he's in the ring.

"Tony," he can take care of himself," she says.

Mr. and Mrs. Galento have talked the whole thing out, and have planned it so Tony will come out of his corner in a rush, right glove over his face and with the lethal left poised midway between his waist and the floor.

From that point on it's all up to Tony, but, says his wife of four years, "we're not thinking of losing; that's how sure we are. I've bet $100 on Tony to win at 8 to 1."

Junior Oilers Lose 12 To 12 In Ninth Frame

Pampa's Junior Oilers were nosed out, 12 to 12, in a baseball game with a Berger team at Berger Sunday afternoon, after leading in scores up to the ninth inning.

The locals used three pitchers in the game: Hatcher, who started, but was wild, and was relieved by Mullings, catcher. Mullings fanned the Berger batters one by one, but weakened in the eighth, and Heiskell, shortstop, finished the game.

The Junior Oilers made some good hits all through the game, Isbell, center fielder, and Winchester, second baseman, did a good job of fielding, stopping balls that should have been hits.

Lineup the Junior Oilers: Isbell, cf; Stone, rf; S. Cox, 3b; Heiskell, ss; Mullings, c; Maynard, lf; Modrell, 2b; Terrel, 1b; Hatcher, p; substitutions, Winchester, 2b; Kerbow, rf.

Under the rules of the Shaughnessy playoff, No. 1 team plays No. 4 team, No. 2 team plays No. 3 team, and the winners of these two fight it out for the championship.

The first round of play consists of a three-out-of-five series between teams 1 and 4 and between teams 2 and 3, and then the championship series consists of the best four-out-of-seven games.

In that event, the first three teams would step down one position and assume second, third and fourth places, respectively, in the standings for the second-half, and No. 4 team in the second-half standings would be eliminated from the final playoff.

The first round of play consists of a three-out-of-five series between teams 1 and 4 and between teams 2 and 3, and then the championship series consists of the best four-out-of-seven games.

Harold Miller, business manager of the Pampa Oilers, said today that he received a telegram from league officials yesterday stating that the All-Star North-South game of the West Texas-New Mexico league will be played on July 25.

All-Star players will be picked from the teams in the North and South sections of the league and will be pitted against one another in a game to be played on that date in the city that shows the best attendance record for the season one week prior to the date of the game.

The Pampa Oilers will start off their second-half season play with a doubleheader against the Amarillo Gold Sox at Roadrunner park next Sunday. Approval of this opening schedule was received yesterday afternoon from league moguls at Dallas. Of course, the Oilers have no hope of finishing on top at the end of first-half play, unless some kind of a miracle happens in which all other teams lose all games from here on out—and that isn't likely. Right now, Lubbock looks like the best bet. However, Lamesa and Big Spring both have a mathematical chance of finishing first.

Cisco Kid Of Athletics Stuns Champions 3 to 2

By BILL WHITE, Associated Press Sports Writer.

There ain't been such sweet revenge in these parts since the McCoy's rolled rocks down on the Hatfield's cabin as Henry H. (He's Some) Phippen enjoyed last night in Philadelphia.

The Cisco (Tex.) kid, a mere 180-pound strapping, tip by way of Sacramento, hurled the sixth place Athletics to a stunning 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees in Monday's feature offering—a night game that drew 32,974 to Gibbs Park as he held the champions to four hits.

The revenge was sweeter'n a Texas coo-ed to Henry because it was only last May 26 when the perspiring Phippen lost his major league debut—to these self same New Yorkers in Yankee stadium, and he lost it 1-0 on another four-hit performance when Tommy Henrich homered in the sixth.

It was the Yankees' first time under the lights and was a heart-breaker for Bump Hadley to lose. He hurled four-hit ball, too, matching Phippen in that department, but he erred when he walked Sam Chapman, filling the bases in the eighth to get to Duke University's latest gift to the A's—because Eric (The Red) Tipton scored a long sacrifice fly that scored Dee Mills with the all-important run.

At Washington, the veteran Lefty Grove held the Senators to seven hits while his Red Sox mates collected 10 off the combined hurling of Joe Haynes and Walter Master-son, to win 3-0.

At Cleveland the Detroit Tigers teed off on three Indian pitchers and won, not only a victory by 11-2, but also possession of third place in the pennant chase. They gave veteran Tommy Bridges his tenth triumph of the year via an 11-hit job. Three of the Tigers' 15 hits came from Earl Whitehill in his first showing against his old mates.

St. Louis and Chicago were not scheduled.

The National league took a holiday.

Parker Making Bid For Davis Squad

CHICAGO, June 27 (AP)—The bid which Frankie Parker is making for a place on the Davis cup tennis squad had championship backing today.

The Pasadena, Calif., net star won the National clay courts singles tennis crown yesterday at the Suburban River Forest club, then paired with Gene Mako of Los Angeles to take the doubles championship.

Parker, once rated No. 2 nationally and ranked No. 8 last year, defeated Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Pa., 6-3, 6-0, 5-7, 6-1. It was his fourth tourney champion this season.

Parker and Mako downed Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., and John Doeg of Newark, N. J., 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

In the tourist season there is an average of 15,000 Americans in Mexico City.

Houston Loses Despite Coupla Circuit Clouts

Two home runs with men on get the Houston Buffs to win Monday night but Beaumont, cellar club of the Texas league, beat them out 8 to 7. The San Antonio Missions increased their lead over the second-place Buffs as Emil Bidilli limited the Shreveport Sports to three hits. The Padres' two runs were unearned and the Sports went scoreless.

Haddock Loses Despite Biting

Every time Dale Haddock got a decisive hold on Sully Hayamaoka last night the Jap grazed the bullet in the ju-jitsu manner and broke the hold. In retaliation, Haddock bit the Jap several times but not enough to make the Jap stop flogging his nerves. The Jap won the last two falls after Haddock won the first one with a head scissor.

TIGERS DOWN INDIANS, 11-3. CLEVELAND, June 27 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers passed Cleveland and pulled into third place yesterday when Tommy Bridges struck in a 2-1 victory over the Indians for his tenth victory of the season. Bridges has lost but once. Detroit's Earl Averill celebrated his first appearance against his old teammates with three hits in four official trips, plus a walk.

Red Horses Lose To Fritch 10-3

Not even the brand of Doc Howard's pitching that mowed down 13 Texoma Gassers in the baseball game played at Pritch Sunday was sufficient to insure victory, and the Magnolia Flying Red Horses lost, 10 to 3. Errors of Doc Howard's teammates, coupled with the Texoma Gassers getting the hits when needed, brought about the local team's defeat.

POMPTON LAKES, N. Win, lose or draw tomorrow night, Galieno has been promised a summer fight in London by Brig-Gen. Critchley, the British promoter. A bet has been made ($5 to $10) that some time during the proceedings, Louis will hit the deck. It doesn't matter if he is knocked down, elbows down, butted down or kicked down—just so he hits the deck. . . .

Only 5 County Boys May Enroll in CCC

Only five Gray county boys will be permitted to enroll in the Civilian Conservation Corps in the July enlistment, in contrast to the dozen accepted from this county in previous enlistments. Mrs. Willie Barnes, Gray county case worker, said she had not been informed why the quota had been cut. It was her opinion that the reduced quota might be attributed to the re-enlistment of CCC members, who are permitted to re-enlist if they serve as much as four months of their six-month period, and then wait another six months before joining the corps again.

today—the apprehension of a blind man for driving an automobile. Policeman Vern Roberson and Leo Mauschbaugh vouched for this story: Harold Swords, 36, a blind man receiving a state blind pension, who lives on the outskirts of East Peoria, startled neighbors when they saw him driving a car near his home. Roberson and Mauschbaugh reported they found Swords driving an ancient jalopy down a quarter-mile stretch of little used gravel road running from his home to a brick yard. "I feel my way along," he said. "I like to run down to the brick yards to chin with the boys." The astonished policemen hustled him down to the station. They said he had no auto license and, of

West Elated Over Silver Price Hike
DENVER, June 27. (AP)—Through the western mining country, where it's better taste to carry silver cartwheels than paper dollars, there was general agreement today a 77.57 cents an ounce price for silver would provide jobs for thousands.

Senator Alva B. Adams (D., Colo.), who helped put through yesterday a Senate amendment to the monetary bill to raise the price from 64.84 cents to 77.57 cents, predicted 100,000 to 200,000 jobs would result from the higher price. "More men will go into the mines. There will be fewer on relief, and there will be more production."

Both Adams and Robert S. Palmer, secretary of the Colorado Mining association, pointed out many mines that have been closed, some since silver lost its place beside gold as a monetary base, might again become profitable with the higher price. Palmer made it plain mining men were "still quite concerned whether the increase, having passed the Senate, will be adopted by the House and approved by the President."

Junior Cowboys Will Get Prizes

STAMFORD, June 27.—Junior cowboys under 13 years of age will have their own contest at the Texas Cowboy Reunion and the winner will receive a saddle presented by the Reunion. This will be the third year the junior contests have been held. The judging will be based upon the riding togs and equipment and riding ability of the boy and the conformation, appearance, equipment and performance of the horse. Riding ability of the boy and performance of the horses are the most important points, each counting 30 per cent of the total points.

Preliminary judging will take place at the Grammar School grounds on East Moran street, Monday, July 3, at 10 a. m., and will be completed in time to enter the grand parade which starts from that point. Final judging will be in the rodeo arena at the Reunion grounds Wednesday at 11:15 a. m. Three prizes will be given. The saddle will be first prize; a belt presented by Alford Oil Company of Dallas will be second prize, and aluminum spurs given by the Texas Cowboy Reunion will be third prize. Every boy who appears in the contest will receive one free pass to the rodeo including grandstand seat. Entries for the contest will be received until 10 a. m. July 3. Entry fee is $2. Judges for the contest will be Knox Pittard of Anson, Sid McChure of Abilene and E. H. McClure of Dallas. Dr. Dallas Southard is chairman of the Junior Cowboy Contest committee.

Jeffers And Wife Unconscious Says Defense Counsel

LOS ANGELES, June 27. (AP)—Defense Attorney Lorrin Andrews set out today to prove Evangelist Joseph Jeffers and his wife, Zella, were "absolutely unconscious" March 9, the night they are accused of immoral exhibitions. Andrews told the jury he would show that Vincent Higgins, district attorney's investigator, posing as Vincent Casey, film writer, induced the Jeffers to drink liquor in which he had put a powder, telling them it would "remove the alcoholic content."

they met Higgins." Andrews declared. "Then they took this drink and they don't remember anything that happened until they awoke in jail. "I expect to show you that marijuana has an effect which would fit all the circumstances here." The first defense witness, Alex Brady, a pharmacist, testified marijuana could be compounded in powder form. He said it was a "hypnotic" and under its influence individuals might continue to act physically without consciousness of their deeds. The state, closing its case, read a purported statement from Mrs. Jeffers in which she said a man and two women had held nude orgies in their apartment and Jeffers had urged her to bring wealthy men there "for the purpose of shaking them down." Andrews said this statement, in which she also admitted the four moral felonies charged against her, had been made while she was still under the effects of the mysterious powder. Marguerite Morgan, prosecution witness, was drunk, Andrews declared, and could not have seen the exhibitions she described because she had "passed out."
