

CHAMPION TIGER HOLDS TIGER MILLS NUMBER ONE ACCORDING TO REFEREE

Champion Tiger Mills, who won the title last night, was the victor in the first fall between the two teams. Mills was an unflinching fighter, and he displayed a great deal of courage and endurance. He was not only a good wrestler, but a good boxer as well. He was able to hold his own against the best of the Pampa area, and he was able to win the title by a narrow margin. Mills was a true champion, and he was deserving of the title. He was a great fighter, and he was a great winner. He was a true champion, and he was deserving of the title.

CHICAGO, May 2.—(A.P.)—Bullish aspects of unofficial monthly crop reports helped to steady wheat values early today, and so also did unexpected firmness of Liverpool quotations.

TEXAS CLUBS SEE-SAW FOR FIRST PLACES

The annual see-saw in the percentage columns of the Texas league was working overtime today, with Fort Worth climbing into the top division, Wichita Falls dropping back to fifth place and Beaumont regaining the leadership from Shreveport.

Fort Worth played a notable game yesterday to finally climb from the cellar division. Jimmy Walkup pitched a shut-out game giving the Cubs a 4 to 0 victory over San Antonio, latest contender for the bottom position. Smith for the Indians allowed only eight hits, but two of these were triples and were converted. They meet again today at Fort Worth.

Wichita Falls, losing again to Houston on the Spudder field, let in fourteen runs while piling up only five, and thereby lost their hold only to take the short end of the 2 to 7 score. The game was played before an estimated crowd of 12,500, as compared to the Steer's recent average daily attendance of around 500. The 12,500 came because Dreyfus threw the gates open for the day in celebration of his acquisition of the Steers, now in seventh place.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Murrell and son of Athens are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Schumacher.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnston left yesterday for Tulsa.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ill-healths: listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Baker Parent-Teacher Group Ends Year With Installation Service for New Officers

The final session of the Baker Parent-Teacher association was held yesterday afternoon at Baker school, featuring the installation of next year's officers and interesting addresses by school officials and visiting P-T-A. workers.

Mrs. F. G. Browne was in charge of the installation of officers. Using the impressive P-T-A. ritual, she inducted the following staff to office: President, Mrs. J. H. Blythe, re-elected; first vice-president, Mrs. E. L. Jones; third vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Murphy; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Roy Kilgore; treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Cox; recording secretary, Mrs. J. W. Crowder; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. V. Cottrell.

Mrs. Blythe presided during the business session and the program. "America" was sung as the opening number. An interesting report on the activities of the primary department was given by Mrs. J. L. Lester, department supervisor.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, seventh vice-president of the eighth district Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, gave a comprehensive review of the progress and growth of both the school system of the city and the P-T-A. movement since her arrival in Pampa twelve years ago to make her home. She cited as a worthy objective for the future a concerted effort on the part of the associations to keep every child of school age in school.

Mrs. V. E. Patherer, president of the City Council of Parent-Teacher associations, discussed the seven-fold objective of the P-T-A., urging that particular attention be given in the future to the third aim, namely, worthy home membership.

R. B. Fisher, superintendent of the Pampa Independent School district, presented the financial problems of the schools, and explained the impossibility of carrying to realization many of the school board's ambitions at the present time because of a lack of available funds.

Mrs. Blythe expressed her regrets and those of the Baker association at the loss of Mrs. F. G. Browne, who will be affiliated with other organizations with the beginning of next year. She paid warm tribute to the retiring officer, who was a charter member of the Baker P-T-A., and who served the body one year as chairman of finance and two years as publicity chairman.

Announcement was made of a program to be given by the mothers in compliment to the teachers of Baker school. "Henpeck Holler," a three act comedy, was scheduled for next

Murder Backstairs

From the moment Detective Dundee lifts the body of Doris Matthews, murdered lady's maid...

But not until Mrs. Berkeley, Dick Berkeley, Eugene Arnold, (Doris's fiance) Seymour Crosby...

While police, satisfied that Johnson is the murderer, are seeking their man, Dundee asks a chemical analysis of Glig-Berkeley's handkerchief...

Dick Berkeley had written in pencil upon the torn back of an envelope: "Dundee—the note began—"your trusty has broken parole..."

He had done all he could, Dundee argued with himself. It would have been foolish to conduct the search personally...

"Hello!" she greeted him blithely. "I've been lonesome. The reporters have just left, the last of 'em, I mean..."

"But Glig was not deceived. She leaned over and stared into his eyes for a moment, then cried reproachfully: "Why didn't you keep an eye on him, for heaven's sake?"

Dundee drew a sharp breath. Stopping the car abruptly, he drew Dick's note of apology from his pocket and passed it to the girl.

"You think that's what the note meant—that he had been asked off to get drunk?" Dundee asked, as casually as he could.

learning somehow—probably in the same way that Glig had—of his mother's strange vice...

Dick Berkeley had stolen perfume from his mother at least twice. Last night Dick had seen his mother receive a gift of at least five ounces of perfume from Seymour Crosby.

Dad blames himself for that. The liquor was served at his own table, because Abble insisted on the dinner being "correct"...

And she was. The summons to the library telephone came just as the young detective was about to enter the drawing room at the dinner hour.

"Hello! Dundee? . . . Captain Strawn. We've got that fine young friend of yours. Yeah. Drunk. More than a little drunk. What had I better do with him?"

But the skillful half-lies with which Dundee quieted George Berkeley's suspicions as to his son's absence were told for Glig's sake, not for Dick Berkeley's.

As soon as possible after the serving of coffee in the drawing room Dundee made his escape. It lay heavy upon his conscience that he had not yet finished transcribing the thick sheet of notes...

After typing steadily for an hour and a half he had finished his task, with the exception of making a summary of his discovery leading up to the conclusion, clinched by Glig's reluctant admissions...

"No use, Dick!" Dundee's voice was like a whiplash. "And I don't doubt that you can't stand the thought of perfume—now!"

Compromise Is Reached in Suit Involving Title

Title to 1,000 acres of land owned by Mrs. M. J. Purvis was "forever quieted" against any and all claims advanced by her son, J. A. Purvis, in a settlement reached yesterday afternoon in 114th district court. In addition to a clear title to the land which Mr. Purvis claimed to hold in a pleading filed last week, Purvis was given a judgment of $50.

Before the judgment was entered by the court, the judge had listened to testimony for three days and was discharged. The settlement was made just before the case was ready to go to the jury.

In the compromise settlement, it was adjudged that the plaintiff, Mrs. Purvis, and the defendant, her son, had entered into a written written agricultural lease for seven years, obligating the defendant to pay Mrs. Purvis as rental one-third of all crops. The lease will expire Nov. 2, 1936, and the plaintiff agreed not to issue a writ of possession in her favor until after the expiration of the lease. In her petition to the court, Mrs. Purvis asked judgment of $4,000 for rentals which she alleged were never paid. The defense introduced testimony attempting to prove that he had made proper rentals and bought farming equipment and improved the place.

The defendant further agreed to "take nothing by reason of any and all matters pleaded by him wherein he seeks any character of relief and that he have no right, title or interest in any of the lands in controversy."

A temporary injunction issued by the 31st district court to prevent the sale of wheat was ordered discontinued as all matters affected by it had been adjusted and settled.

In the trial, the defendant claimed that in a verbal agreement between himself and his mother, she had promised him half of the land. The 1,000 acres includes the east half of section 132, block 3; sections 141 and 152 in block B-2.

Attorneys for Mrs. Purvis were W. H. Adkins, Pipkin and Keating, while the defendant was represented by Cook, Smith, and Teed.

Mrs. F. M. Roche is visiting here.

Mrs. W. H. Davis has returned from Wichita Falls, where she was called several days ago by the illness of her aunt.

Mrs. T. F. Smalling was a visitor in Amarillo Tuesday.

Sweden doubled its exports of iron ore in 1929 over the previous year. It was under 1927, the record year.

French Aviator on Long Flight

PERPIGNAN, France, May 2. (AP)—Jean Mermoz, French aviator, took off from here at 5:07 a. m. for St. Louis, Senegal, West African coast, on the first lap of a projected trans-Atlantic flight.

From there he will take off as quickly as possible in an attempt to reach Natal, Brazil. His ship is a hydro-airplane carrying four passengers and crew, M. Durat, manager of the airport here as navigator, wireless operator Darby, M. Gimle, mechanic, and M. Gubay. The plane is the same with which Mermoz recently created a record for duration and distance for such a craft, covering 4,375 kilometers in 39 hours and 25 minutes. The distance from Senegal to Natal is 3,100 kilometers.

Rousing Western First Zane Grey Talkie Screened

At last Zane Grey's thrilling characters step from the pages of his popular novels onto the screen—and talk. Paramount has made the long-awaited entertainment treat a reality and Grey's wonder tale of outlawry on the Western frontier, "The Light of Western Stars," will show at the Crescent theatre, starting Saturday.

"The Light of Western Stars" is like a page torn from the gripping life story of the West. It pictures, in scene and dialog, the last desperate stand of landed lawlessness on the American frontier. Otto Brower, maker of two great silent westerns, "Sunset Pass" and "Avantasia," and himself a product of the cattle ranges and plain country, directed this picture.

"The Light of Western Stars" brings Richard Arlen forward in his second Western role. Again, as in "The Virginian," he is at greatest advantage in this action-drama of the outdoors. And Mary Brian, the leading lady of "The Virginian," seen recently opposite Arlen in "Burning Up," is the sweetest. This first Zane Grey thriller to be filmed with dialogue has an unusually strong supporting cast, including Harry Green, funny man of "Close Harmony" and "Kibbit-zer"; Fred Kohler, seen opposite George Bancroft in many of that star's great hits; Regis Toomey of "Alibi" and "Street of Chance" fame, and many others. Arlen plays the part of Dick Bailey, battling man of the West, who seeks to capture the heart of Mary Brian with cave-man tactics and meets with a romantic stampede. Then he changes his tactics, with more success. The story is filled with adventure and danger, and spectacular scenes, familiar in the West a few years ago, are delightfully filmed. Each minute detail is authentically correct. "The Light of Western Stars" is not only a rousing entertainment, it is an important record of defiant spirit of the American pioneers.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

Topic: Promotion In The Kingdom. Lesson: Matt. 20:17-28. And as Jesus was going to Jerusalem, He took the twelve disciples apart, and on the way He said unto them, "We go up to Jerusalem and the Son of Man shall be delivered up to the chief priests and scribes, and they shall condemn Him to death. And they shall deliver Him unto the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify, and the third day He shall be raised up. Then came to Him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, worshipping Him, and asking a certain thing of Him. And He said unto her, What wisest thing do you wish to ask of Me? And she said unto Him, Command that these my two sons may sit one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, in thy kingdom. And Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto Him, We are able. He saith unto them, My cup indeed ye shall drink; but to sit on My right hand, and on My left hand, is not Mine to give, but it is for them for whom it hath been prepared of My Father. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren. But Jesus called them unto Him, and said, Ye know that the Son of Man is Lord of the Gentiles, and they shall exercise authority over them. But it is not to be among you; who would become great, shall be your minister; and who would be first, shall be your servant. The Son of Man came to minister unto, but to give His life a ransom for many.—Matt. 20:28.

Time—March, A. D. 30, two or three weeks before the crucifixion. Place—Perea, on the way to Jerusalem. INTRODUCTION "The Son of God goes to war. A kingly crown to gain; His blood-red banner streams afar Who follows in His train? Who best can drink His cup of woe? Triumphant over pain; Who patient bears His cross below? He follows in His train." —Heber "Earthly thrones are built with steps up to them; the remarkable thing about the thrones of the eternal kingdom is that the steps are all down to them. We must descend if we would reign, stoop if we would rise."—F. B. Meyer. JESUS FORETELLS DEATH Mark mentioned the interesting fact that on the way, Jesus being in advance—He is always "on before"—"they were amazed"; and "afraid." Was there something about Jesus' bearing, or some glory of countenance, now that He set His face toward Jerusalem, that had not been there before? Like adds that He told them that "all things that are written through the prophets shall be accomplished," and mark that "they understood none of these things, etc." Jesus' prophecy is remarkable for its detailed character (ver. 18, 19). "This was the third time, as far as we know, that He had alluded plainly to His passion (cp. Matt. 16:21 and 17:22). Yet it is evident from such references as Luke 12:50 that the catastrophe was often in His thought. He speaks "here as a voyager to whom the sound of the cataract is no longer a distant murmur" (Ross). When we read those words of His, "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem!" we should never forget that He already clearly saw the cross standing on "the place of the skull." "We hear it said sometimes that it was wonderful that Jesus, having undertaken the world's salvation, did not draw back at the sight of the cross. Would it not have been more wonderful if, being Jesus, He had drawn back?"

(Phillips Brooks.) THE SUFFERING SERVANT Four times, as recorded by Matthew, our Lord solemnly predicted that He would suffer a violent, agonizing, and shameful death. If Matthew recorded so many predictions, it is probable that the Savior gave utterance to the prophecy very often, seeking to prepare His disciples for the awful event, and disclose to them the real nature of His kingdom, turning their minds, if possible, from just such ideas of worldly preferment and material triumph as are implied in Salome's request (verse 21). Christ's crucifixion and glorious resurrection are the most wonderful illustration in all history of the Christian principle that "the last shall be first and the first last," and therefore Jesus' announcement of His coming death is most appropriately placed here. GOING UP TO JERUSALEM "And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem." He was leaving Perea, the country east of the Jordan, and was journeying to the Holy-City for the last time. "He took the twelve disciples apart." The great teacher and miracle-worker was always surrounded by a jostling, clamorous crowd, and Christ needed to withdraw with His disciples if he would have a quiet talk with them. "And on the way he said unto them." The prediction He intended to make was poorly understood even by the disciples; it would be wholly misunderstood by the common crowd. "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem." "Behold" indicates the solemn and important nature of the announcement. "And the Son of Man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes." That is, the Sanhedrin, the highest court of the Jews, consisting of seventy senators plus a presiding officer, the high priest. The Sanhedrin (often called the Council) was made up of chief priests (those who had been high priests and the head of the courses into which the priests were divided), with representatives of the scribes or lawyers, who copied and expounded the law, and also of the elders or heads of families. "And they shall condemn Him to death." They could not put Him to death without the consent of the Roman authorities, for those rulers reserved to themselves the right of capital punishment. CRUCIFIXION FORETOLD "And shall deliver Him unto the Gentiles." That is, the Roman authorities. "To mock, and to scourge, and to crucify." This is the most particular prophecy of the horrors that were to attend the Saviour's death. "And the third day He shall be raised up." "Our blessed Master added a word which overpowered the bitterness of the death-draught. Here was the bright lining of the black cloud. This poured a flood of light on what else had been a sevenfold midnight."—C. H. Spurgeon. THE AMBITIOUS APOSTLES "Then came to Him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons." Her name was Salome, and her sons were the two apostles, James and John. From their fiery impetuosity they were called by Christ Bonapartes or "Sons of Thunder." James afterwards was the first of the apostles to suffer martyrdom, and John became the bishop of Ephesus, wrote the fourth Gospel, three epistles, and the Revelations, and died at the great age of nearly one hundred. "And asking a certain thing of Him." Mark tells us that John and James made the request for themselves, and says nothing about Salome. Probably all three combined to present the petition. "She saith unto Him, Command that these my two sons may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, in thy kingdom." Only a short time before this, our Lord had promised all the Twelve that when he ascended His throne of glory they should sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel (Matt. 19:28). Now James and John sought to obtain for themselves the most honorable thrones. They felt that they had a right to this promotion because Christ had distinguished them (with Peter) above the others by admitting them to the inner circle, and, besides, their mother was seemingly the sister of Mary the mother of Jesus, so that they were cousins of Christ. YE KNOW NOT "But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask." Christ turns to James and John, recognizing their ambition as the real source of the request. Their prayers were like many of ours, akin to the baby's crying for the fire, which would only burn his hands if he got it. "Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink?" That is, "Can you endure the fate that is in store for Me?" "Jesus might well have answered them as at first, "Ye know not what ye say." "He saith unto them, My cup indeed ye shall drink." Neither of the brothers was crucified, James was beheaded with a sword in the reign of Herod Agrippa, I, and John died a natural death after suffering many persecutions. Both of them shared the trials of Christ. "But to sit on My right hand, and on My left hand, is not Mine to give." That is, such an honor was not to be handed out arbitrarily, and as a personal favor, but was to be given to those whose lives—and spirits should prove them worthy of it. AN UNCHRISTIAN SPIRIT "Not so shall it be among you." The principle of Christianity is the very opposite of worldly self-seeking. Christians do not seek greatness for themselves but to make others great. They do not ask for their own prosperity, power, and happiness, but for the joy of the world. Ordinary ambition is like the Dead Sea, always taking in, never giving out, and so stagnant, heavy, and lifeless. Christian ambition is like a great, clear, life-giving river, ever flowing outward, blessing wherever it goes. "But whosoever would become great among you shall be your minister." His followers are to be great, but they are to be great servants, great helpers, great restorers' great comforters, great guides, great teachers; great aids in the advancement of human welfare; in short they are to be great as He is great. THE SON OF MAN "Even as the Son of Man." Christ as representative man, standing in our stead, living our life and bearing our sins. "Came not to be ministered unto." As He might well have been, for the crowds wanted to make Him a king, and His powers of miracle-working could win for Him unbounded wealth and limitless sway but He would have none of it. "But to minister." Literally, "to be a deacon, or a servant." "And to give His life a ransom for many." Christ gave His life; He laid it down of Himself; He offered Himself as a living sacrifice. He came as a ransom, to do for us what we could never do for ourselves. We were bound; He came to set us free. We release. We were slaves, and He were captives, and He bought our

HERE'S PROOF

THIS is to certify that I was diagnosed as having cancer of the stomach by three up-to-the-minute physicians, before I was brought to a chiropractic office by Uncle Frank and Aunt Mary Cope. I was hardly able to sit up at that time, and had lost 47 pounds. I had a radiomic analysis which verified the diagnosis of the other doctors.

With the Copes' aid I purchased a card of Radiomic Vibrations which being Armistic Day, 1929. Today—March 15, 1930—I have gained 32 pounds, can work hard every day, and feel good all the time. I was too sore to be adjusted for the first few weeks, so I just took the Radiomic alone for the first three weeks. I was diagnosed today—and I can do a man's work and feel good all the time.

I can highly recommend the Radiomic and Chiropractic.
