'Big Lift' Streaks Across Atlantic to West Germany

Entire Armored Division Moved by Aerial Ferry

By PRESTON MCGRAW
United Press International

FT. HOOD, Tex. (UPI)—Sleek military jetliners and barrel-bellied transports streaked across the Atlantic from Texas to West Germany today in an aerial ferry for 16,000 GI's, including an entire armored division, that was working "like clockwork."

Within six hours after the first jet thundered off a runway at Bergstrom Air Force base at Austin, Tex., the Army, Air Force and Military Air Transport Service, MATS, had started 1,863 troops of the 2nd Armored Division on wheels division on their way to Frankfurt in Exercise "Big Lift." It was the biggest trans-Atlantic aerial armada of troops ever attempted.

The first hitch in the giant air lift developed over Louisiana when a C124 developed propeller trouble and the pilot made a forced landing at England AFB, near Alexandria. None of the 80 soldiers or nine crew members was hurt. A "back-up" plane had the soldiers back in the air for Germany after a 30-minute time loss.

Six C135 jet transports, four C130 prop-driven transports and 18 C124 Globemasters were in the vanguard. Platoons of planes were leaving every hour from four bases in Texas.

Each plane carried an average of 84 persons including 72 soldiers, 9 crewmen and 3 newsmen.

The start of the 72-hour operation "went like clockwork," a spokesman at Ft. Hood command headquarters said.

"We are very well pleased with the way things are going right now. Everything is on schedule," he said.

The 13,000 men of the 2nd Armored (Hell on Wheels) Division from Ft. Hood, Tex. and 3,000 supporting troops from Ft. Sill, Okla., Ft. Benning, Ga., and Ft. Campbell, Ky., began flying out from four Texas air bases at 1:57 a.m. EDT as part of Exercise Big Lift. Planes took off hourly through the night and into the day. Destination: Frankfurt, Germany, 5,600 miles away.

GI's wearing winter uniforms against the chill of October in West Germany despite the summer-like temperatures in central Texas piled aboard planes with duffel bags, rifles and helmets.

An Air Force band tooted a farewell at Bergstrom AFB in Austin as the lead plane, a military version of the 707 Boeing jetliner, thundered off the runway with division commander Edwin H. Burba and Gen. Paul D. Adams of MacDill AFB, Fla., the "strike force" over-all commander.

Taking 73 Hours
The entire operation was to take 73 hours, with planes leaving from Connally AFB at Waco, Tex., Sheppard AFB at Wichita Falls, Tex., and Gray Army Airfield near Ft. Hood.

It seemed like an endless stream and the swiftness and efficiency with which the troops boarded and the planes taxied out to the runways reflected weeks of arduous planning.

The exercise is a test of the U.S. military concept of global combat readiness and was a test of America's ability to hurl troops to foreign trouble spots in time of crisis.

(West German officials in Frankfurt showed concern about the maneuver and wondered whether it meant the United States is planning to reduce the size of forces stationed permanently there.)

Demonstrates U.S. Mobility
Adams said before takeoff that the only aim of "Big Lift" was to demonstrate to friend and foe the ability of the United States to meet any military situation with troops.

He would not comment on German-questions about possible troop reduction.

It was the biggest aerial trans-Atlantic shipment of troops in history.

The 2nd Armored Division will maneuver in Germany with the 3rd Armored Division stationed there, using artillery, tanks and other heavy gear were already on hand there. No heavy equipment was being brought by the armada of some 60

Officials in West Germany Fear Cut in U.S. Forces

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—West German officials expressed concern today that Exercise Big Lift could be the start of new U.S. military strategy that would reduce the size of forces permanently stationed here.

Roswell L. Gilpatrick, deputy secretary of defense, in a speech to United Press International publishers and editors Saturday, said the new versatility demonstrated in the airlift of 16,000 combat troops would enable the United States "to make useful reductions in its heavy overseas military expenditures" and to realign U.S. forces overseas.

A government spokesman in Bonn said West Germany has asked the United States if this means it plans to withdraw any of the six divisions stationed in Germany.

The spokesman said West Germany has received assurances that Big Lift will not mean such a troop reduction. West German officials are continuing their talks with the United States will not make any decisions detrimental to the North Atlantic alliance.

But West German editorials reflected the concern of the nation that its NATO shield against Communist aggression be maintained at present strength.

Linking troop cuts to the exercise would be "premature," the Sueddeutsche Zeitung of Munich said.

But the airlift was intended to "indicate an alternative to previous Washington policy," it added.

Gilpatrick set up a thumbscrew for Europeans—performance for performance. America is not willing to bear the military load it has borne in Europe if the Europeans themselves do not assume the load they should," it said.

West Germany welcomed the Defense Department decision to increase U.S. tactical nuclear power in Europe with deployment of better missiles and atomic artillery.

Court Edict Is Attacked By Governor

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally today lashed out at a "Republican dominated federal court" for ruling Texas congressional districting laws unconstitutional and said the state "will resist their actions by every legal means."

Connally left no doubt he felt the 2-1 decision by a federal court in Houston Saturday was based on partisan reasons when he time and again referred to the "Republican majority" of the court.

"There is far more danger to the people of Texas, in my opinion, when two Republican federal judges take it upon themselves to substitute their judgment and wisdom for that of our 181 elected representatives," Connally told a news conference.

He branded the ruling "just one more example of a court attempting to make laws, rather than interpret them."

Connally said he had no intention of calling a special session to comply with the federal court order. He said the state would ask for a stay "so we can appeal this court order and oppose it with every available legal weapon."

The governor pointed out at the beginning of an eight-page statement that two of the federal judges who heard the case in Houston were named by a Republican president (Eisenhower).

Law Throw Out
The court threw out the present law which sets boundaries for the state's 23 congressional districts and ordered all 23 congressmen to run at large until the legislature writes a new law.

"The Republican judges' opinion orders our legislature to divide the state into districts based entirely on population and nothing else," Connally said.

"This principle has never been announced by any federal court. Moreover, the U. S. Supreme Court up to now has never held that federal courts have power to interfere with congressional districts created by state legislatures."

He noted that the Supreme Court now is considering six cases involving state congressional and legislative districting.

The state, Connally said, tried to get the federal court to wait until the Supreme Court rules on the Georgia congressional case scheduled for argument before the high court on Nov. 12.

"Instead, these Republican judges held that all Texas congressmen must run at large next year—an order not even asked for by the suing Republicans," Connally said.

Four Pampans to Take Part in Dedication

PANHANDLE (SpI)—Pampa will have four representatives at the dedication of the state's first official historical tree marker and the regional meeting of the County Historical Survey Committees. Gov. John Connally will dedicate the tree marker with an address on the Carson County Court House lawn at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Three members of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee who plan to attend are Tracy Cary, Joe Shelton and Mrs. Katie Vincent. Paul Crossman will represent the Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking at the regional meeting which begins at 1:30 p.m. in the War Memorial Building will be Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo and John Ben Shepperd of Odessa. Also in attendance will be Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa and State Representative W. S. Heatley.

County judges, historians and members of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, sponsors of the regional meeting, and County Historical Committees will hear Shepperd, president of the T.S.H.S.C. and its progress in its achievements.

Senator Hazelwood will explain the new historical preservation laws which originated in the Senate of this past session.

County Judge Clarence Williams of Carson County, Mayor C. H. Bell of Panhandle and Mr. Sam Privitt of Childress, member of the T.S.H.S.C. will participate on the program.

Every County Historical Survey Committee will make a report on the work of the committee in carrying out the preservation of history in the county and what the committee is doing to work in the statewide programs. Cary will give the Gray County report.

Following the meeting, the group will assemble on the courthouse lawn for the dedication of a marker to the first tree on the high plains of Texas. The marker is part of the T.S.H.S.C. program of official historical markers made available to local County Historical Committees.

This tree marker is sponsored by the Carson County Historical Survey Committee.

George Seibels, chairman of the council's Public Safety Committee, has given no indications today will be. But informed observers expected the committee would recommend refusal to hire the Negroes.

King told an estimated 2,000 Negroes at a rally Monday night that Negroes from other parts of the country will come to join in the demonstrations if Negro police are not hired.

Deadline Falls For Ultimatum

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Today was deadline-day for the Negro ultimatum demanding that the city council hire 25 Negro policemen or face possible mass demonstrations.

The Public Safety Committee was expected to reject the demand and integrationist leader Martin Luther King Jr., warned that such action could mean a march on Birmingham by "hundreds and thousands" of demonstrators from all over the nation.

Today "will be a crucial day for the city," said the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, one of the city's top integration leaders. "It will be a crucial day for all of us."

Birmingham policemen have come out strongly against the hiring of Negroes. They have warned the council it would result in demoralization of the police force.

George Seibels, chairman of the council's Public Safety Committee, has given no indications today will be. But informed observers expected the committee would recommend refusal to hire the Negroes.

King told an estimated 2,000 Negroes at a rally Monday night that Negroes from other parts of the country will come to join in the demonstrations if Negro police are not hired.

City Traffic Commission Likes Judge's Plan for Teen Violators

The City Traffic Commission voted unanimously at its regular meeting yesterday to commend Corporation Court Judge John W. Warner on his method of enforcing traffic laws among teen-age children in Pampa.

A resolution drawn up at the meeting read as follows:

"Be it resolved by the Traffic Commission of the City of Pampa, Tex. that:

"The unanimous thanks of the traffic commission members be extended to Corporation Court

Judge John W. Warner for his understanding and fair administration of justice among teenage traffic violators in his corporation court, and

"The city commission of the city of Pampa be informed of the traffic commission's pleasure, and gratitude, in the action taken by Judge Warner in this matter."

Jack Miller, Chairman
In other business the commission voted unanimously on two recommendations to be presented to the city commission: (1) pertaining to lining at the intersection of Hobart and 21st. Ave. and (2) concerning traffic control at the Cuyler St. underpass.

THREATENS DESTROYER

Hurricane Ginny, with winds up to 80 miles per hour, was hanging off the North Carolina Banks and for a time threatened a disabled destroyer escort with 10 men aboard. The ship, the USS Fogg, was towed to safety last night. The weather bureau said the highest winds of 80 miles per hour were near the storm's center and hurricane force winds extended about 60 miles in all directions causing high tides along North Carolina beaches. Earlier the ship was being battered by the high winds and 40 to 50-foot seas. Two ships and two airplanes aided in the rescue of the Fogg. (NEA Telephoto)

Hurricane Ginny Drifts Sluggishly Along Coastline

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C. — (UPI) — Hurricane Ginny drifted sluggishly off the North Carolina coast today battering a disabled Navy ship with its 80-mile-per-hour winds and causing beach erosion as far north as New Jersey.

"Ginny appears to be drifting very slowly towards the south or southwest," the Washington Weather Bureau said in an 8 a.m. EST advisory which placed the storm about 165 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras.

This was roughly the same position the hurricane, seventh of the season, had held since Sunday night when it sprang up as a menace to the eastern coast of the United States.

A turn to the north was indicated for tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

The storm's center was about 15 miles southwest of its location at 11 a.m. EST.

"Rough seas and heavy pounding surf will cause erosion to continue along the outer beaches of North Carolina to New Jersey," the Weather Bureau said.

Two rescue vessels reached the decommissioned Navy destroyer escort Fogg, heaving on 40-foot swells, at about 9 o'clock Monday night to end a two-day air-sea search for the drifting vessel and its 10-man caretaker crew.

Rogers Discusses Radio Editorials

DALLAS (UPI)—U.S. Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa yesterday told the Texas Association of Broadcasters (TAB) they face three dangers in the future—editorializing, the issue of Federal Communications Commission license fees and fixing the frequency of commercials.

Rogers, a Democrat, spoke at the annual broadcasters' luncheon on the final day of a two-day TAB meeting.

He said the main question concerning editorializing is, who shall have the right to make editorial decisions.

Rogers said he thought most broadcast editors jumped to the conclusion that Congress was advocating the prohibition of editorializing. "Some of them have editorialized against Congress," he said.

But he said the objective of Congress was not to prohibit editorial comment, but "to clear the air of confusion about the rights and responsibilities in opinion broadcasting."

Editorializing has recently drawn the attention of a congressional subcommittee.

Rogers said many stations feel "they are taking calculated risks by editorializing."

"There is absolutely no need for this kind of confusion," he said. "Your principle responsibility in expressing opinions on the air is to be certain you provide ample opportunity for broadcasting opinions dissenting from your own."

Ralph Houk Now General Manager

NEW YORK (UPI)—General Manager Roy Hamey of the New York Yankees retired today and was succeeded in that position by Ralph Houk under a four-year contract.

Club President Dan Topping, who made the announcement, said that the Yankees' new field manager to succeed Houk would be named Thursday at noon. There was speculation that Yogi Berra, long-time catcher and during the past season a coach for the Yankees, would be appointed field manager.

Council to Consider City Retirement Plan

City Commissioners decided in today's weekly commission meeting to place on the next meeting agenda consideration of a retirement policy for all city employees.

The commission also agreed to authorize City Manager Harold Schmitzer to sign a two-year office rent contract with the Texas Railroad Commission and granted Patrick's Cafe the contract to furnish meals to city prisoners at 50 cents per meal.

Commissioners approved paying a Continental Oil Company invoice for $935.38.

After discussion of topics on the agenda, Commissioner L. P. Fort suggested in view of the increasing cost in long distance telephone bills, a better record should be kept of all calls.

He suggested authorizing a form to be attached to all monthly telephone bills requesting to whom and where calls were made, the reason for the call and its result.

Commissioners agreed to Fort's suggestion and City Manager Schmitzer said forms will be printed for distribution to all city offices.

Commissioners authorized Schmitzer to advertise for bids on paving the west half of the 1200-block and the east half of the 1300-block of Decatur Ave. and the 1700-block of N. Sumner from the north property line of Decatur to the south property line of 18th Ave. Bids will be opened in the Nov. 12 commission meeting.

City Manager Schmitzer read a resolution of the City Traffic Commission commending Corporation Court Judge John Warner on his method of enforcing traffic laws among Pampa teenagers. Judge Warner has started a teenage traffic court with 1,000 word themes as the penalty.

Rogers said he thought most broadcast editors jumped to the conclusion that Congress was advocating the prohibition of editorializing. "Some of them have editorialized against Congress," he said.

But he said the objective of Congress was not to prohibit editorial comment, but "to clear the air of confusion about the rights and responsibilities in opinion broadcasting."

Dear Abby....
Dear Deer, Your Place Is At Home!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR DEER: My wife and I are having an argument and have agreed to let you settle it. I made plans to go deer hunting from December 13th through December 22nd. My wife is expecting her second baby on December 14th, and she wants me to be home to take her to the hospital. Our first baby came two weeks late, and I have a hunch this one will, too. My wife says she has a hunch this one will be on-time. If I am needed, I can get back home in 12 hours. I can't change the date of the trip because I am going with two other men and all the plans are set. Don't you think I should plan to go?

DEER HUNTER: Tell your friends to go without you. A deer in the cradle is worth two on the fender.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine has two different colored eyes. One is brown and the other is blue. I once knew a bull dog with the same thing. Does it mean anything? Is this common in either animals or humans? How does something like this happen?

CURIOS: Having two different colored eyes occurs only occasionally in man and beast — and in birds, too. (Not fish — their eyes are colorless.) It's a freak of nature, indicating that a little chromosome went a little wild.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and my husband is 26. We have three lovely children who mean the world to us. Yesterday while my husband was sleeping, I went into his wallet to get some snapshots of our children to show a neighbor. I came across a picture of a young, pretty girl, and written on the front was, "To Wally with love from Birdie." On the back in my husband's handwriting, was a phone number, so I called her up. She said she didn't know any "Wally" and she hung up on me. When I asked my husband about it, he admitted he had been seeing her at a bar every Friday night for a few months, but that was all there was to it. He swore he loved me and said if I forgave him, he'd never see her again. What should I do? I am all broken up.

ALL BROKEN UP: DEAR BROKEN: Double your efforts to be everything a man wants in a wife. Nagging, re-primand and coolness will only give him good reason to turn his attentions elsewhere again. Tell him you forgive him and then really forgive him, and put it out of your mind.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F. AND H.: You could live on a lot less if you had a little more to live for.

Cotton Doing Good In Gray County

Cotton in Gray County and 17 other Panhandle counties continued to be of good quality, according to a weekly report by K. E. Voekel of the U. S. Department of Agriculture cotton classing office in Memphis, Tex. According to Foster Whaley, Gray County agent, cotton in Gray County has been average or better, because of the good weather conditions. White grades of cotton increased to 47 per cent compared to 44 per cent the previous week, according to the USDA report. About 51 per cent of the cotton graded was light spotted and less than two per cent fell in the spotted category. The predominant grade for the week was Strict Middling White with 23 per cent. About three per cent of the samples classed were reduced in grade because of bark. According to the USDA, the good quality of cotton classed may be caused from good harvesting practices and good ginning. As reported last week, the fiber strength of cotton classed was high. The staple length of cotton classed was slightly shorter than last week with 94 per cent stapling less than an inch compared with 90 per cent of the previous week. About six per cent stapled an inch and longer against 10 per cent the previous week. The predominant staple length was 15-16 inch with 54 per cent. Less than one per cent of the cotton classed was designated as waste. The cotton market was a little more active this week with light spotted grades, uncompressed and mixed lots in warehouses sold from five to 50 points above, while white grades sold from 10-60 points below the CCC loan rates. According to the USDA report, cottonseed price at gin rates was $53 per ton.

Kennedy Seeking More Millions
For Nuclear Labs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has asked Congress for an additional $5.9 million to expand nuclear weapons laboratories—to carry out his pledge to step up underground testing and to be prepared to resume atmospheric tests if necessary. These were two of the assurances given by Kennedy to the Senate last month after some senators asked that the White House spell out safeguards it planned to maintain in event of a Soviet break of the partial nuclear test ban treaty. The treaty prohibits all but underground testing, and some senators had asked for the assurances, recalling that the United States was caught off guard when the Russians broke an earlier moratorium on tests with a series of explosions.

Texas Doctor Battles to the End To Stay Out of Mental Hospital

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI)—When he sensed, several weeks ago, that they were coming for him again, Dr. Amedeo Carmignani began to prepare for war.

The 41-year-old eye specialist, who had not treated patients in some time, stocked up at war surplus stores—with a pistol, a carbine, and a combat helmet bearing the painted red and white cross of the Medical Corps on its front.

The last time they had called him crazy was in December, 1953, when policemen came to take him to a mental hospital for tests. Futilely, he had resisted with his fists.

This time it would be different.

Neighbors Complain

Wednesday neighbors complained that Dr. Carmignani was firing a shotgun in his backyard. The physician's parents signed papers for his commitment to a psychiatric ward, and Thursday a sheriff's deputy came to Carmignani's house. A priest came with the deputy, to persuade the doctor, but Carmignani threw the priest out of his house and shouted to the deputy: "Come and get me."

Barricading the house, the doctor donned his helmet and waited at a window, holding a loaded army carbine. He also had the shotgun and a pistol.

The deputy called for help. Within minutes, police and sheriff's deputies had surrounded the house, lobbing tear gas pellets while Carmignani sniped at them from windows.

The doctor held out for two hours.

Chief Gets Warning

Then Police Chief William Burns, 62, sprinted onto the back porch, holding his service revolver, and flattened himself against the wall. Carmignani appeared at the back door, and those in the watching crowd screamed warnings to the chief.

Suddenly the chief whirled, kicked down the door, and shouted for the doctor to surrender.

He was less than five feet from Carmignani.

Both men began to fire.

The chief was not hit, but Carmignani was struck in the chest.

The priest tipped back the helmet with the red Cross insignia on it and administered last rites, and the doctor died, lying on the ground.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Last April, with one eye on the British voter and the other on Britain's dawdling economy Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government cut taxes and launched an impressive program to stimulate industry.

From an economic standpoint, the program has lived up to the hopes of its planners.

Last week Britain's industrial production index hit a new high, and UPI's London financial editor, Harry Hobbs, reported Britain "still in the process of steady expansion."

Heavy Communist purchases of grain have sent freight rates skyrocketing, and long-depressed shipping firms now are earning fat profits.

Shipbuilding has come to life under the stimulus of government credit for new tonnage.

Eases Credit

The Bank of England has eased credit restrictions to permit close to a billion dollars in fresh money to be made available to industrial and individual borrowers.

The stock market, which had hesitated as Conservative party leaders squabbled over the selection of a man to fill the prime minister's post left vacant by the ailing Macmillan, resumed its advance and closed out the week at a new high for the year.

Exports were continuing their steady rise.

A further sign of economic health was the fact the government permitted several million pounds sterling to leave the country for investment in a new nylon plant in West Germany.

This was a direct reversal of previous policy, which had limited British industrial investment to the sterling area unless it could be shown profits would start coming back within 18 months.

Throughout the country, unemployment which had been a cause of mounting concern only six months ago, was declining steadily.

All of this was good news for Britain, and under other circumstances the Conservatives logically might well expect some rewards from the voters.

Trials Baset Party

But the trials which have beset the Conservatives for many months, including a string of losses in by-elections for seats in parliament, continue to plague them.

President Charles de Gaulle's brusque veto of British membership in the European Common Market dealt a heavy blow to the Macmillan government's prestige. The Profumo sex scandal and the attendant overtones of potential danger to national security further undermined confidence.

Macmillan's illness and the ensuing scramble for power within the party created a picture of disunity which bodes further ill for attempts to convince British voters that the Conservatives should remain in power.

The reaction to the selection of tall, gaunt, 60-year-old Lord Home to become Macmillan's successor had a familiar ring.

Even among Conservatives it was that he was a nonentity, a pleasant fellow who could not stand up to the hurly burly of the prime minister's job, a man of no popular appeal. The same reaction had greeted his appointment as foreign minister in 1960.

In that post, Lord Home fooled all but his admirers, who included Macmillan. As a negotiator with the Russians he proved tough and able. As a member of the British cabinet he has gained increasing respect.

But if that job was tough, it was nothing compared to the one he has now.

Hearings on Tax Cut Bill Enter Sixth Day

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee enters its sixth day of public hearings on President Kennedy's $11 billion tax cut bill today — with a backlog of witnesses greater than when it started.

A staff aide said 170 persons have now requested time to testify on the measure—30 more than when the committee began public sessions last Tuesday. The committee heard one witness Monday, Joe Barlow, a tax expert for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Barlow told the committee the bill passed by the House Sept. 25 was "most essential."

He explained, however, that when all structural changes in the bill are taken into account, the lowest income taxpayers actually get a 39 per cent tax reduction, compared with 13 per cent for persons with incomes of more than $50,000 a year.

Barlow said tax cuts as a means of stimulating the economy were much more preferable to the Chamber of Commerce than "relying on the public pump" of massive government aid programs. He said the cut was urgently needed to spur the economy and provide a buffer against future business recessions.

Other congressional news: Civil Rights: The 35-member House Judiciary Committee meets today to begin voting on the stepped-up version of President Kennedy's civil rights bill approved last month by a subcommittee. It was the second time the committee was supposed to begin nailing down provisions of the controversial bill. On the first occasion last week committee leaders abruptly cancelled the meeting and went into a series of private strategy huddles.

College Aid: A big new federal aid to colleges bill goes to a House-Senate Conference Committee today for reconciliation of differing provisions. The Senate approved a $1.9 billion construction aid bill Monday; the House last month overwhelmingly passed a $1.2 billion bill. Despite the different price tags, the House and Senate bills authorize exactly the same level of aid, about $400 million a year. The Senate's authorization would run for five years; the House approved a three-year program.

Police Recover Two Stolen Cars

Police received reports today of the theft of $60 worth of produce, a stolen gum machine and announced the recovery of two stolen cars.

M. A. Waddle, Adams Hotel, told police someone had stolen $60 worth of produce from his truck while it was parked at the corner of Kentucky and Hobart Sts. Saturday and Sunday nights.

Miss Carmaline Nolte, 725 N. Nelson, reported the theft of a gum machine from the 24 hour laundry, 708 E. Frederic.

A car belonging to Phil Duncan, 300 S. Cuyler, was reported stolen at 12:40 a.m. today while it was parked on the Ideal Parking Lot, on W. Francis. Three girls ages 12, 14 and 15 admitted to police they had taken the car and left it at Reed's Service Station, 914 E. Frederic.

"The girls were stopped by Lieut. Bill Robinson in the 700 block of E. Frederic. They were in a car stolen from Aubrey McCord, 700 E. Campbell," Chief Conner said. "The girls are in custody at the police station today."

Junior College Plans Prepared

The Junior College committee of the Chamber of Commerce will meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the C of C office to plan the presentation of its junior college program. The programs will be presented to all civic clubs and organizations in Pampa, according to E. L. Henderson, committee chairman.

According to Aubrey Steele, president of the chamber, the committee is a fact finding group and will present its information to see if the organized groups in Pampa are interested in helping to establish a junior college in Pampa.

Spur Field Day Will Feature 'Cow Cafeteria'

Paul T. Marion's "Cow Cafeteria," will be the special feature at the Rolling Plains Experiment Station's annual fall field day at Spur, Tex., Friday, according to County Agent, Foster Whaley.

Marion is superintendent of the Spur Substation and directs all beef cattle research activities at Spur. The Cow Cafeteria project features a feedlot breeding herd that has never been fed on pasture, but is fed in the lot by an automatic feeding machine.

"Visitors will see these cows and their fourth calf crop at weaning time," Whaley said. "This project was started because ranch land has been bid up so high, the experiment station was trying to find a cheaper way to raise a 450 pound calf."

The 450 area ranchmen attending from 60 High Plains, Rolling Plains and South Plains will hear reports on brush control research, water conservation practices and cow and calf operations on native pastures.

Schools Close as Drought Continues

By United Press International
A crop-crippling, fire-sparking drought across the East forced schools to close today and threatened many communities with water shortages.

Turbulent weather raged around the stricken area.

Hurricane Ginny fumed off the Carolina coast and a Pacific storm spewed 74 mile an hour winds and more than an inch of rain at the Northwest.

A tornado struck in Minnesota Monday and scattered light showers drifted across the Midwest.

Here is how the drought situation shaped up:
Nearly 2,000 students started half-day classes today in Tussey Mountain schools near Saxton, Pa., in an effort by city authorities to conserve water. All schools cafeterias were ordered shut down.

A bottling firm and a laundromat agreed to close down two days a week in Saxton because of dwindling water supplies.

Youngsters at Bakerton, Pa., returned to class today for the first time in a week, but were asked to carry boiled water until new wells are tested for purity.

The West Virginia state health director ordered the town of Harper's Ferry to post signs that its water supply is potentially unsafe. The city's well supply is low and water is being pumped from a nearby creek.

The drought has sent West Virginia's crop losses for the year soaring to more than $76 million.

In Illinois, state sanitary engineers worked today with city authorities at Macomb, Beecher City and Albion in an effort to meet problems arising from drought-caused water deficiencies.

Fires continued to flare across the kindling dry forests and fields of the Midwest and East.

Forty new fires broke out in West Virginia Monday and 41 of the state's 152 current blazes were still spreading. Fifteen persons were arrested for misdemeanor in refusing to fight forest and brush fires.

Johnson Elected President of T O T Kiwanis

Foster Whaley, county agent, and Arnell Scott, work conservationist with the Gray County Soil Conservation unit, were guest speakers at the regular meeting of the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club, held yesterday evening at the Coronado Inn.

The two speakers showed slides of farms and ranches in the Pampa area, depicting improvements being made in soil conservation.

Whaley said that Gray County has a total of more than $50 million yearly agriculture income.

The new officers for the coming year were announced at the regular meeting. H. J. Johnson was elected president, Paul Musgrave, 1st. vice-president; Duane Copeland, 2nd. vice-president; Bill Price, secretary; Harry Gordon, treasurer and the two-year directors are Gene Gates, Phil McCarty and Bill Tom Chitwood.

Visitors from the downtown Kiwanis club attending the meeting were J. W. Brooks, Dr. T. J. Worrall, Carlton Nance, Les Hart, Joe Gordon and Aubrey Jones.

Books Challenged As Sowing Seeds In Student Minds

By DAVID ANDERSON
 United Press International
 AUSTIN (UPI)—Two persons have protested economics and world geography textbooks on grounds they would "sow the seeds of socialism in students' minds."

Five economic books and one world geography text under consideration for adoption for use in Texas public, high schools were challenged at hearings before the state textbook committee.

Mrs. Joan Slay of Fort Worth, secretary of the Tarrant County Parents Committee, said only 2 to 5 per cent of the material in the books was "dangerous."

"But you wouldn't give your child even just a little poison, would you?" she asked.

Raps United Nations
 She objected to "picturing the United Nations as the only way to keep peace. Communism has expanded more since the establishment of the United Nations than ever before."

Maury Brown, representative of McGraw-Hill Book Publishing Co., answered, "communism has grown since the beginning of Christianity, too."

Mrs. Slay said she thinks textbooks "should be free of anything controversial."

Roger K. Harlan of Dallas, who said he represented only himself and his grandchildren, said "the schools would be better off without any economics books than with these."

'Publishers Careful'
 "The publishers seem to be very careful not to question any government policy," Harlan said.

"Maybe they're thinking of the federal government taking over education and think they'll be selling these books to the government pretty soon. So they don't want to make the government mad."

The committee is scheduled to make its recommendations to the state board of education Thursday.

Injury-Stricken WD Bucks Defy Mighty Rattlers

WHITE DEER (Sp) — Crippled, battered, but snarling defiance, the White Deer Bucks stand at bay this Friday night when they visit the undefeated Stunnett Rattlers.

Injuries, illness and examination trouble have decimated the ranks of the Bucks time and again. Latest blow last week was the loss of Dan Simmons, leading ground-gainer in the first two games of the season, and on the verge of recovering from a leg injury, with a fractured skull.

But White Deer fans, "you ain't heard nothing yet!" In last Friday's game, the Bucks lost their second-leading runner and their best lineman in one fell swoop.

Big Eddie Kleibrink, 205-pound tackle, had been converted to fullback in a move to give Little Roy Armstrong a little running help. The move had worked to perfection as Kleibrink had rambled for close to 100 yards in each of the last two games. So Kleibrink injured his knee, will definitely be out this weekend and may be out longer still.

Lineman Wes Schultz, one of the top men in the forward wall and fresh from being named Most Spirited Buck, joined the crippled list with a broken ankle and is through for the season. Coach Colie Huffman admitted "about all we have for offense right now is Armstrong and a prayer, and I ain't sure about the prayer!"

Huffman, however, denied that the Bucks were down and said "we're gonna beat 'em! All these kids can step in and take over... they've been doing it all season... just like Larry Simmons, who made Most Spirited Buck as he took over for Clemens... we'll find another one to step in this week. We feel like we have as good a chance as anybody else to snap that win streak!"

The Pampa Harvesters and the Plainview Bulldogs will each have the same goal Saturday night at Plainview... to win their second game of the season. For the Harvesters, it will be a chance to salvage some remnants of a disappointing season... for Plainview a chance to get their first District 3-AAAA win since 1960... the last win coming over these same Pampa Harvesters.

Heart of the Bulldog straight-T offense is Tom Sawyer. An all-around athlete, first team in baseball and basketball, Sawyer is used in two different positions to take advantage of his running and throwing ability.

The 160-pound Sawyer generally starts the game at right halfback, to take advantage of his running ability, while Harold Scroggins is the starting quarterback. However, when the Bulldog running attack goes awry, Sawyer moves to the man-under slot and starts throwing passes with great success. Although not rated among the loop's top passers as he throws less than full-time quarterbacks, he completed four for 66 yards, a touchdown and a conversion against Palo Duro last week. Sawyer will also throw from the halfback spot on occasion, warns coach Norman Phillips in his scouting report.

Fullback Joe Don Ford, an 180-pound line-smasher, is the second-best ground-gainer on the Dog squad, and is also one of Sawyer's pet passing targets. Halfback Jerry Wright, 155, is the speedster of the crew.

"Sawyer is a fine, talented boy and a good, all-around athlete," warns Phillips. "Those other two running backs can move out too. Wright went 63 yards against Palo Duro and Ford is fast for a big man. One slip and you're in trouble."

Ralph Houk Wins Manager of Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Houk, probably the major league's No. 1 exponent of the power of positive thinking, was selected as the American League's manager of the year today by the United Press International.

The cigar-smoking, 45-year-old manager of the New York Yankees was named by a committee of 24 baseball experts representing every city in the majors.

For winning his third straight American League pennant despite injuries to sluggers Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, Houk was named by 16 of the experts. Charlie Dressen, who took over the Detroit Tigers in mid-season and led them to a fifth-place finish, received five votes and Al Lopez, manager of the second place Chicago White Sox, received three.

The Yankees were overwhelming pre-season favorites to win the AL flag almost as easily as they did. But it is doubtful whether the experts would have rated them so highly had they known both Mantle and Maris would suffer so many injuries.

Boxing Show Coming Up

Four fight clubs will participate in this Thursday night's amateur boxing program at the Optimist Boys Club. Bee's Boxing Club of Amarillo, formerly the Canyon AC, will be the main opponents for the Pampa fighters, but Skellytown will again be represented in peewee and high school bouts, and Berger will provide high school and possibly open fighters as well.

The main event will be a three-rounder between champion Johnny Ironmonger and David McCoy of Amarillo.

The fights are scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Sporting Sidelines

by JEFF COHANE

THIS DEPARTMENT has been besieged by queries concerning the Joe Don Looney-Bud Wilkinson hassle. Being quite a few miles from the scene and having no underground pipeline to the minds of Messrs. Wilkinson, Looney or the OU football team, I cannot say who was right... whether it is true that Looney hit a coach, whether the team or Bud himself gave Joe Don his walking papers, etc. I do have two opinions. One is that, regardless of who was right or wrong, Bud could have picked a better time to give Looney the axe... either before the Texas game or at least a week after so it would not look, as it does now, as if he might be a scapegoat for the loss to the Longhorns.

The other opinion, I got via a phone call from a local fan, dismissed it, and then started to think about it again when Bill Hart of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal also proposed it. To wit: Looney, who is in his senior year of football after having attended respectively Texas, TCU, Cameron JC and now in his second year in OU, still needs "about two more years to graduate." This adds up to roughly six years of college. I had always understood it took a B average in Soonerville. Pressed for an answer to this question, Sooner fan John "Stringbean" Shipman admitted there was something fishy about the whole deal. "By accepting his first junior college transfer, Wilkinson made his first big mistake. You can bet Joe Don will also be the last JC transfer in OU."

ANOTHER OPINION I will give free, gratis, is that whoever is responsible for the Baltimore fight mess should be tarred, feathered and hung by the neck. To put a 153-pound fighter in against a 203-pounder is sheer butchery. When, on top of it, the little guy is just a part-time fighter, while the big guy is an old, experienced pro, it is literally murder in the first degree. Unfortunately, just as in the whole crooked, rotten fight game, it will probably be hushed up and forgotten. Just this once, it would be nice if someone were made an example of. Instead of threatening to close out boxing, etc., (that's just like Prohibition, both were tried and both failed) why don't they prosecute for murder the promoter, managers, weighers-in or whoever was responsible for this killing? A good hanging would do more to clear boxing than all the raised fingers in the world.

GETTING BACK to the local scene, all we can say about last Friday night is that the Plainsmen apparently wanted the game worse than the Harvesters did. Around the area... Sobbin' Jack York finally got his win, there better be no more crying out of Groom for a while! Worst part of it was that the win was over my "hometown" Miami Warriors. The Warriors don't have a great team this year and everyone is taking advantage of it. Two weeks ago, Dunc Porter and Daryl Snelgroves told me in bloodcurdling detail just how bad they were going to beat Miami this week. Here it is my "Homecoming" week and I'm afraid I'm going to have to watch Wheeler do it... still think the Mustangs are one of the best teams around.

Pleased with the way the Canadian Wildcats put up a ferocious battle before going down before the Lefors Pirates. The Cats led, 30-18, in the second half before Lefors' weight and depth finally got to them. Nomination for area coach of the year should go to Dwain Currie for the tremendous job he has done with these youngsters.

THIS DEPARTMENT'S proposal for an All Top O' Texas football team has met with hearty commendation. All coaches in the area seemed in favor of it, and now several other area newspapers are proposing to aid in the idea. Thought was that while several large-city newspapers name all-area teams, they literally cover too great an area and cannot see all the players involved. Between myself, staff photographer Phyll Duncan and Stringbean Shipman, we see all our area boys at least twice a season, plus the reports of such valued correspondents as Keith Geisler of Lefors and Rich Ulrich of White Deer. With every one of our Class B to AA teams playing each other, we get a pretty good idea of the boys deserving to be on an All-Top O' Texas football team.

The Ol' Swami had a good week, but unfortunately, so did Otis Holladay, as each ended with 16 right, three wrong and all hands tied on A&M - TCU. Brown Smith, Eural Ramsey and Ray Howard each goofed to drop further back. The Swami again went through all high school games unblemished, but came a cropper with Colorado, Georgia Tech and (ouch!) Houston... if Eural can get off Tech, I think I'm going to get off the Cougars. Otis slipped on the Clarendon banana peel. SMU and everyone joined me on Georgia Tech. The other trio would pick Lubbock. Eural went for Shamrock (old Irish tie and all that), and all hands except Otis fell for Colorado, with Brown adding UCLA and Lawton and Howard Texas Tech and Clarendon.

Current standings have Otis with 84 won, 28 lost for a quite respectable .750 percentage; the Ol' Swami five games behind with 79-33 for .705, Brown and Ray and Eural each 76-36 for .679.

ONLY HUMAN Department — John Hale and certain disreputable associates down at Lee Junior High have been giving us quite a hard time because the Lee Rebels were inadvertently called the Lee Reapers. We are sorry for the error, but if those characters don't cease their constant heckling, the Lee football team will soon be known as the Durn Yankees! A kinda puzzling letter.

Dear Mr. Cohane,
It is hard for me to figure out how "Gary Parrish" could score a touchdown in each of the last three Junior High games he played in. The 7th grade team has played three games and SCORED ONLY ONE (1) touchdown in the entire season... that was in the last game against Dumas! Explain it to me!

Mrs. Joe Donaldson
I regret that a joking exaggeration should receive such a reception. When I said that Gary scored all those TDs, it was merely a spoof at his brother Frank over the mixup in names. I am sorry that what was intended as a light piece of humor should have offended anyone so.

PAMPA EIGHTH-grade coach John Boswell reported this one in a breathing space at the Friday night game, so haven't had a chance to get all the details. However, it seems that one of Paul's players suffered an injury in practice and Paul rushed him to the doctor. At just about the same time, the player's brother, also a junior high griddler, also suffered an injury in practice and wound up at the same clinic. Paul says things got kinda hectic when he tried to book the boy in and was told that he had already done so a few minutes before.

Longhorns Keep First-Place Spot

NEW YORK (UPI) — Texas, Wisconsin and Pittsburgh, all narrowly escaping defeat last weekend, remained one- or two-three today in the major college football ratings by United Press International's 35-man board of coaches.

Texas lost ground but retained its No. 1 ranking, stretching its undefeated string to five this season with a 17-13 win over Arkansas. Wisconsin, No. 2, and Pitt, No. 3, both unbeaten, won by the margin of a field goal, and moved closer to the Longhorns in the ratings.

Illinois and Alabama vaulted from an eighth-place tie last week to fourth and fifth respectively this week. Mississippi moved up one position to sixth and Oklahoma slipped to seventh from fifth.

Unbeaten Auburn, leading the Southeastern Conference with three wins, made the biggest advance, jumping into eighth place from 16th the week before. Northwestern climbed a notch to ninth and Southern California returned to the ratings after a week's absence in the No. 10 spot, on the strength of its 32-3 trouncing of Ohio State.

Georgia Tech, No. 6 last week, Penn State, No. 12 and the Air Force, No. 17, fell completely out of the ratings after losing efforts.

Wisconsin and Pittsburgh increased their point totals in the ratings this week, based on votes from first to 10th place with points awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. Texas compiled 331 points, with 29 first-place votes; the Badgers totaled 293 with five No. 1 ballots; and the Panthers gathered 235 points. Alabama was the only other team to receive a first-place vote.

Navy continued to lead the "second 10" followed by Syracuse, Oregon, Duke, Louisiana State and Missouri and Notre Dame tied for 16th. Nebraska ranked 18th, Mississippi State 19th and neighboring Iowa and Iowa State tied for 20th.

Mississippi State and Duke have only a tie to mar their records, and the rest of the "second 10" have lost once, except for twice-beaten Notre Dame and Iowa State.

Pairings of top 20 teams this weekend will feature Pittsburgh at Navy and Missouri at Iowa State.

AA Play This Week 'Lull Before Storm'

By United Press International
This week will mark the "lull before the storm" almost throughout the Class AA Texas schoolboy football ranks, although there will be a handful of games which could have major bearing on district races.

A week from now there will be a dozen or more "show-down" games with district leads at stake. But, this week there isn't a one.

Wichita Falls Hirschi, the undisputed leader in 5-AA, plays once-tied Iowa Park and a victory by the latter could throw that race wide open again with twice-tied Olney back in contention.

In 10-AA, Mansfield plays Burleson, one of two teams with a chance of taking the title. The other challenger is Azle, which doesn't meet Mansfield until Nov. 15.

In 22-AA, favored Livingston plays Cleveland, one of two clubs with a chance at the crown. The other one, Woodville, meets Livingston Nov. 8.

In 31-AA where San Diego, Freer and Hebronville are unbeaten, Freer plays San Diego this week.

In 12-AA, high-scoring Lake Highlands faces Duncanville, the first of two possibly tough hurdles it must clear to gain the title. The other foe, Lancaster, comes up next week.

Invested Profits Work For Gain of Everyone

Abraham Lincoln once observed that a man could not hope to own a home of his own if he continually tried to destroy a system which made home ownership possible for others.

Men cannot hope to have larger wages if they constantly do their best to reduce the wages of others. Nor can they expect to make profits for themselves if they object to a system which makes profit possible.

It is in the area of profit that so much misunderstanding arises.

Some seem to feel that profits are an unearned increment accruing only to "greedy capitalists." Possibly some even go so far as to echo the sentiments of Karl Marx who said: "A dollar of profit is an unpaid wage."

Back of all these erroneous suppositions is a belief, fostered by the socialist mentality, that there is a fixed amount of wealth in the world and, therefore, that the gain of one becomes automatically the loss of all.

The amount of wealth in the world has enormously increased from the 16th to the 20th century. Actually, the amount of real wealth in the world is increasing constantly in times of peace.

If it were true that there was a constant or static amount of wealth in the world, then the assumption would be true. This would mean, without question, that if one man obtained a little more than another, he would have obtained it to the detriment of the second man.

What of the idea, then, that the gain of one is the loss of another? The idea is false and cannot be sustained. And this fact ought to be a matter of common knowledge. But it isn't.

But this supposition is wholly false. Wealth in the world is not static. And the way to prove this for yourself is to examine the sum total of wealth available in the world in some prior time and then compare that with the wealth available today.

In the free market the gain of one is the gain of all. And what is really important is the recognition that a man of substantial wealth is not only not injuring anyone, he is assisting everyone. For his wealth must be invested if he is to obtain maximum benefits from it.

Take, for instance, the sum total of wealth in the world in the time of Henry VIII. Henry lived in a palace, commanded a great army, was able to collect large taxes from his people, and lived as a king had to live at that time. His palace, though large, had few comforts as we recognize them today.

A Realistic Alternative to the UN

Seen often these days is an advertisement depicting the mushroom cloud of an H-Bomb. The caption reads: "This is one alternative to the United Nations."

These people cry: "But the UN is all we have. What alternative is there?" One alternative would be to adopt a program to extend the prosperous and peaceful capitalist system to the whole world.

Overlook the fact that the world has been at war almost continually since the UN was created. Directly or financially, we have been involved in much of that war.

We should allow our great business geniuses the freedom to spread capitalism's abundant secrets to all nations that want it—but on a voluntary basis, not by the forced "peace corps" or "foreign aid" way.

Our foreign policy should have two prime objectives: (1) the elimination of communism (the chief threat to peace) by sustaining all U.S. government aid to it and (2) the spreading of capitalism throughout the world.

The abundance created by the great private enterprise system is the only sure deterrent to war ever devised.

Today, we find the UN's biggest guns aimed at South Africa and Portugal — two countries that have made no threatening gestures toward other nations.

The first big step on the road to peace will be passage of Congressman Ull's bill—H.R. 427—to get the U.S. out of the UN.

The American Way

COMMUNIST USE OF CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

By Tom Anderson
Publisher, Farm and Ranch Magazine

Here is the communist plan for America after their termites and the American fellow-borers have taken us over, from within:

The churches of America will remain free to continue their service, but their special tax and other privileges will be liquidated. Their buildings will revert to the state, religious schools will be abolished and organized religious training for minors prohibited.

The Methodist Federation for Social Action's "Social Questions Bulletin," in its February, 1959 issue, describes Russia and China as making great advances, with full employment, while we have 4 million jobless in comparison.

Although such is not "official policy," many of the leaders and theologians most prominent in the National Council of Churches have suggested or argued such things as:

1. The Bible is a mythology.
2. Jesus was the illegitimate son of a German soldier.
3. Jesus was not God, nor ever became Divine.

Reliable committee sources report that the estimate blunts warns the platform will be large enough to house several cosmogons or nuclear weapons—depending on how the Soviets plan to use their deadly space vehicle.

U.S. Intelligence experts stress that the Soviet space platform launching is definitely a forerunner to a Russian moon shot. The latter is expected to take place in 1967—the 50th anniversary of the U.S.S.R.—and three full years before the target date for the U.S. moon landing.

A worldwide propaganda buildup for this Russian space spectacular is about to get underway, according to U.S. intelligence sources.

The terrain of Idaho is marked by startling diversity. Almost all physical features typical of the United States, except seacoast, can be found somewhere in the state.

Academician Anatoly A. Blagonravov, chairman of the Commission on Exploration and Utilization of Outer Space of the Academy of Sciences of the U.S.S.R., recently revealed the military use of these platforms to a group of U. S. scientists and officials.

Allen-Scott Report

Russians Expected to Launch Space Platform This Year—Of Major Military Significance As Well As Moon Shot Base

WASHINGTON — Russia is secretly preparing to fire a new space shot that will shake the world.

This jarring event, which could lead to tipping the balance of military power from the U.S. to Russia, will be the orbiting of a huge space platform.

The launching of this first space platform is scheduled to take place before the end of 1963 — probably in December.

That's the jolting intelligence estimate the House Aeronautics & Space Committee has received from administration authorities.

Reliable committee sources report that the estimate blunts warns the platform will be large enough to house several cosmogons or nuclear weapons—depending on how the Soviets plan to use their deadly space vehicle.

U.S. Intelligence experts stress that the Soviet space platform launching is definitely a forerunner to a Russian moon shot. The latter is expected to take place in 1967—the 50th anniversary of the U.S.S.R.—and three full years before the target date for the U.S. moon landing.

The editor, a leading advocate of U.S. — Russian cooperation in communications and weather, is planning an article plugging for more U.S. — Soviet space cooperation—including the joint moon program advocated by President Kennedy.

Academician Anatoly A. Blagonravov, chairman of the Commission on Exploration and Utilization of Outer Space of the Academy of Sciences of the U.S.S.R., recently revealed the military use of these platforms to a group of U. S. scientists and officials.

Drug Addiction Problem

Through Eyes of a Doctor
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Narcotics is a subject that concerns all of us because of its close relationship to juvenile delinquency. It is also a subject about which there is still a great deal of confusion and emotional charged difference of opinion.

Before there can be an addict there must be a susceptible person, availability of an addiction-producing drug, and an environment that favors addiction.

The chief drug of addiction is heroin. Environmental factors include overcrowding in sub-standard dwellings in large cities, and gangs in which addiction is accepted as a way of life.

Drug addiction is a truly deplorable illness. In a well-meaning attempt to protect the potential addict the Harrison Narcotic Act was passed in 1914. This law has unfortunately had the opposite effect.

When, however, we make it hard for the addict to get his daily supply, he will suffer the extreme tortures of withdrawal.

Many addicts, in order to insure their own supply, become dope peddlers and induce other susceptible persons to become addicts. Thus a bad situation not only perpetuates itself but spreads.

Since the number of victims of this vicious system cannot be known accurately, estimates of the number in the United States range from 60,000 to one million.

One of the first steps that must be taken is to amend the laws in such a way as to place treatment back in the hands of legitimate doctors.

TRUTH FORUM
German Chancellor
Learns Job Fast

By ED DELANEY

FRANKFURT AM MAIN—Some say of Ludwig Erhard, the incoming chancellor of the German Federal Republic, that although an expert in economics, he is not an astute politician. In the past he has not shown a keen knowledge of politics, an announcement of his, as this is written, indicates that he is learning fast. He plans to lower the income tax, particularly of those in the lower and middle income brackets.

As reported previously he is perhaps the best informed economist on the European continent and is credited with having been largely responsible for the miraculous industrial recovery of West Germany. Therefore he is presumed to know its economic position and apparently foresees a continuation of West Germany's stability.

But apparently the communists have not captured the minds of all their uniformed personnel. Since Aug. 13, 1961, when the Wall of Shame was built through the heart of Berlin, a total of about 1,400 members of the "Vopos" (Peoples Police) and Soviet zone army, have fled over the demarcation line into West Germany. Many of them crossed over in their uniforms and many with their weapons.

This might be impressed on that segment of our people in the United States who urge recognition and closer co-operation with that Russian colony which, for the present, surrounds Berlin. More on that in another stanza.

Most of the addicts who make drug addiction the serious problem it is are young men between the ages of 16 and 30.

By making it a criminal offense for physicians to treat addicts by giving them maintenance doses of drugs it had the effect of causing doctors to stop treating addicts.

When, however, we make it hard for the addict to get his daily supply, he will suffer the extreme tortures of withdrawal.

Many addicts, in order to insure their own supply, become dope peddlers and induce other susceptible persons to become addicts. Thus a bad situation not only perpetuates itself but spreads.

Since the number of victims of this vicious system cannot be known accurately, estimates of the number in the United States range from 60,000 to one million.

One of the first steps that must be taken is to amend the laws in such a way as to place treatment back in the hands of legitimate doctors.

It is stated, although post-war Germany is divided into two parts, the Federal Republic and the so-called German Democratic Republic, the misnomer of the Soviet occupied part, the claims for reparations are never presented - not even any part of them, for payment by the half of Germany that is occupied by the Soviet. By some inexplicable kind of apportionment in the matter of reparations, the vast area and industries presently in the hands of the communists—which was all part of pre-war Germany, is absolved of guilt for the crimes of the old German Reich. Only the capitalist, American and British allied part of Germany in the West, must bear the burden of reparations. Moreover a large number of the former military or SS officers and helpers of the Nazi regime are now helping to train the communist "Volks" army in goose - stepping which was characteristic of the old Nazi days.

But apparently the communists have not captured the minds of all their uniformed personnel. Since Aug. 13, 1961, when the Wall of Shame was built through the heart of Berlin, a total of about 1,400 members of the "Vopos" (Peoples Police) and Soviet zone army, have fled over the demarcation line into West Germany. Many of them crossed over in their uniforms and many with their weapons.

This might be impressed on that segment of our people in the United States who urge recognition and closer co-operation with that Russian colony which, for the present, surrounds Berlin. More on that in another stanza.
