Exercise 'Big Lift' Moves Through Second Day of Ocean Hopping

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY
FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Exercise "Big Lift" passed the half-way mark today with West Germany expressing skepticism about its effectiveness and aims.

While thousands of 2nd Armored Division troops continued to stream into Germany from Texas bases today, anxiety persisted here and elsewhere in Europe that the air mobility demonstration was a forerunner of a reduction of U.S. forces on the continent.

The huge aerial troop movement was more than half over at noon today, the Army estimated.

In Bonn, the government has asked for official clarification of U.S. intentions about future troop deployments.

Concern was spurred by statements of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric about how Big Lift illustrates U.S. ability to project military power overseas in a hurry.

In Big Lift, the 14,500-man 2nd Armored Division, plus about 3,000 support troops, is being flown into West Germany in three days. Extensive maneuvers will follow.

Success of the operation, it is commonly supposed, could point the way to methods whereby the United States could husband more of its forces at home and rapidly deploy them wherever trouble develops about the globe.

At Fort Hood, Tex., marshaling area for the exercise, and at Rhein-Main Air Base, main landing point in Germany, U.S. Army and Air Force generals have seemed puzzled, if not dazed, by the persistence and forcefulness of foreign correspondents' questions about troop reductions.

Usually, the officers have retreated behind the line that those were political questions—that they were simply showing in Big Lift how fast they could "reinforce" U.S. and Allied forces abroad.

The criticisms have taken these main lines:

—Big Lift is the prelude to American withdrawal of forces on an as yet unspecified scale that would permit President Charles de Gaulle of France to say "I told you so" to those who opposed his determined efforts to create national nuclear forces.

—Even with the speed of transoceanic air mobility being illustrated in Big Lift, American troops might arrive too late on the outbreak of a big war in Central Europe. They might find no bases to land on.

—If the troops are to be kept in the United States and flown here in vast numbers every time there is international tension, such an act would have the effect of raising tensions rather than easing them.

Some American answers have been that it is premature to see a connection between Big Lift and troop reductions, that air mobility is for "reinforcement" rather than substitution for overseas forces, and that there is usually a slow build up of tensions that enables troops to be moved into trouble areas.

Tito Charges New York Police Protection Lax

NEW YORK (UPI) — City authorities planned no extra protection today for President Tito despite Yugoslav complaints that police had allegedly failed to "undertake adequate security measures."

The Yugoslav claim was issued in connection with the cancellation by President Tito of a reception originally scheduled for Thursday for 1,100 guests at the Waldorf Astoria.

The complaint was rejected angrily by Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy who branded it "sheer, unadulterated nonsense."

Murphy said that no action was being taken to augment the detail assigned to Tito. According to the commissioner, Tito's party has received additional protection in New York City because of its "controversial" nature.

The Yugoslav entourage has been met by demonstrations, fistcuffs and picketing ever since its arrival here Sunday for a five-day visit to New York.

Two nights ago, two Yugoslav refugees managed to get by security forces and made their way close to Tito's hotel suite before being intercepted by State Department guards.

President Kennedy apparently was upset by these developments and asked U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson to check and report back to him on whether Tito was receiving adequate protection.

That same night anti-Tito demonstrators tangled with three Tito aides, including his personal bodyguard, Major General Milan Zeelj, outside the hotel. According to police Zeelj pulled a knife but authorities intervened before anyone was injured.

The latest melee occurred Tuesday night when three anti-Titoists attacked hotel employees who at sunset were folding the Yugoslav flag which had been flying over the hotel.

They tried to grab the banner and when police stepped in they spat on it. The men were held for questioning.

Senate-House Parley Due on Military Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate-House conference loomed today to resolve the differences between the two versions of a $1.7 billion bill to authorize military construction projects inside and outside the United States.

The measure, which includes for the first time the cost of family housing for servicemen, was approved by Senate Tuesday on a voice vote. It totaled about $125 million less than the Pentagon had asked, but was $52 million more than the House approved.

The House, however, did not consider some $21 million worth of requests which were later sent to the Senate.

One of the differences in the two bills centered on the House's refusal to vote $2.2 million for a "Pulse" nuclear reaction at the Army's Aberdeen, Md., proving ground. The Senate approved the funds on the recommendation of its armed services committee.

The big bill authorized a wide variety of construction for operational and training bases and support facilities. The Army would get authorizations totaling about $200 million, the Navy $211 million and the Air Force $488 million.

The total authorization for housing was set at $720 million in the Senate, with additional authorizations included for National Guard and reserve units.

Court Rules Out Reserve Tax On Natural Gas

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Third Court of Civil Appeals today upheld a district court ruling that Texas' "dedicated reserve tax" on natural gas is unconstitutional.

The appeals court ruled that the state's attempt to tax pipelines under the dedicated reserves act of 1961 violated the interstate commerce clause of the U. S. constitution. The case involved Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

Patman Predicts Nixon Will Run

HONOLULU (UPI)—A Republican ticket of Richard Nixon and Milton Eisenhower in 1964 was predicted Tuesday by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex.

Here for the convention of the National League of Insured Savings Associations, Patman said the Nixon-Eisenhower presidential ticket is one of the few ways the Republicans can avoid a serious party split over Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Milton Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, is with Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

Christmas Clubbers Get $17,000 in Yule Savings

The 150 members in the two Christmas Clubs in Pampa have saved about $17,000 this year for Christmas purchases, savings and investments, vacations, year-end bills and other expenditures.

They are part of the 14 million Christmas Club members in the United States who will receive checks totaling $1,699,430,000 when the clubs are paid in November by some 9,300 banks and savings institutions.

Both the First National Bank and the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. have similar plans where depositors may save from a $1 to $10 a week for 50 weeks, and can save as much as $500.

Rainfall Gives Boost to Wheat

AUSTIN (UPI)—Next year's wheat prospects got a boost from week end rain on the High Plains and scattered sections of the Low Plains, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

Dry soil conditions intensified over the rest of the state and wheat planting moved slowly in the Low Plains. Cotton continued to mature with warm weather and moisture.

The rain only temporarily delayed the sorghum harvest, which for the entire state was 86 per cent completed.

Wheat planting was 79 per cent completed, compared with 88 per cent a year ago.

Oat planting also lagged as farmers waited for rain. In Southwest Texas, irrigated oats planted for winter pasture were making good progress.

Hurricane Watch Is Ordered Off Florida

MIAMI (UPI)—Florida's East Coast from Cape Canaveral to Fort Lauderdale was placed on a hurricane watch today for Maverick storm Ginny which showed no signs of turning its 75 mile an hour winds away from the mainland.

"There is a possibility that hurricane conditions may affect a portion of this coastal area (watch area) within 24 hours," the weather bureau warned in an 11 a.m. advisory.

Persons in the watch area were urged to keep posted on weather reports "consider precautions and safeguards and be ready for quick action if hurricane warnings are issued later today," the advisory said.

The hurricane was centered about 155 miles east of the nation's big missile center at Cape Canaveral. It was moving toward the southwest at 8 m.p.h.

Cape Canaveral began battering down for a big blow.

Emergency crews at the $1 billion launching center lashed down giant rockets standing on their launch pads and other equipment that could be tossed about by high winds.

Wind increase due "Hurricane Ginny is expected to continue toward the southwest at the same or slightly slower rate this afternoon and

Pampa Bands Get Top Honors Again

Competing against 50 junior and senior high bands, all three secondary school bands in Pampa won Division I ratings in the Panhandle Region II University Interscholastic League contest in the West Texas State University stadium at Canyon yesterday.

In the twirler division, Pampa high twirlers, Donna Rath, Donna Conner, Twilla Pruess and Lamoyne Clark, rated Division I in the quartet group. Three twirlers, Miss Rath, Miss Pruess and Miss Clark rated Division I in the solo group and Miss Conner received a Division II rating.

The Pampa High band was classed in 4-A with Amarillo, Caprock, Palo Duro, Tascosa and Borger.

Pampa Junior High was classed in 2C with Stanton Junior High, Stephen F. Austin Junior High, Borger and Perryton Junior High.

Robert E. Lee Junior High was in class 3C with junior highs from Amarillo, Dumas and Borger.

Area bands winning ratings were class A. Panhandle, I, Lefors, III and McLean, I.

In class 2A White Deer and Stinnett received division II ratings.

Lord Home Now Just 'Commoner'

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Lord Home formally gave up one of the oldest titles in the nation to run for Parliament as a commoner.

If he wins a Nov. 7 special election as expected he will direct his new government in person from the House of Commons where peers are barred.

His election in the "safe" conservative constituency of Kinross and West Perthshire was virtually assured.

Goldwater Holds Favorite Spot In Voting Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Highly placed Republicans now class Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona as the favorite to win crucial presidential primary contests in New Hampshire and California.

In both states, Goldwater is expected to collide with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. The New Hampshire primary March 10 is the nation's first. California will close out the presidential primary season June 2, six weeks before the GOP National Convention.

New Hampshire is regarded as a critical test for Rockefeller, who needs to make a good showing there to stay alive as a candidate for the presidential nomination.

But while Goldwater is rated the favorite, uncommitted Republicans believe that the small state is territory well adapted to the intensive campaign the New Yorker is expected to conduct.

Neither Announced Candidates

Although neither Goldwater nor Rockefeller is an announced candidate, both are viewed as active contenders for the nomination. An early announcement is expected from Rockefeller. Goldwater presumably passed the point of no return when he set up a committee headed by former Sen. William F. Knowland to advise him whether to enter the California primary.

An adverse recommendation is deemed inconceivable.

Other Republican wheels have enlisted in the Rockefeller campaign, but none has the stature of Knowland, former Republican leader of the U.S. Senate.

Mystery of Who Dumped Auto Into Pool Is Solved

Police have solved the mystery of who dumped the ancient automobile into the Coronado Inn swimming pool a month ago.

The car, an old model and not in running condition, was hauled from its parking place on the north side of the Coronado Apartments, 1001 N. Sumner, and shoved into the pool on the night of September 21.

Police said the auto was dragged to the pool with a winch from the Bourland & Leverich

Incident Called 'Most Serious' Yet With Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today investigated the "most serious" incident yet involving Cuba and an American vessel — the strafing attack by a lone plane on an unarmed ship flying the Liberian flag 13 miles off the coast of Cuba.

The State Department denounced the incident as an unprovoked attack on a vessel operating in international waters. The ship, identified as the U.S.-owned ore-carrier SS J. Louis, was strafed by a single plane for 61 minutes shortly after midnight Tuesday — the first anniversary of the Cuban missile crisis.

The State Department said that the attack plane was presumed to be Cuban and that the investigation would determine whether a protest should be made. A spokesman termed the incident the "most serious so far" of three similar shooting scrapes involving U.S. ships in Caribbean waters.

Two Previous Attacks

On Feb. 20 four Cuban MIG jet fighters fired on a 67-foot shrimp boat, the Ala, about 80 miles southeast of Key West, Fla. On March 28, two Jets fired on the merchant ship Floridian. Neither vessel was hit, and in the case of the Floridian the Castro government apologized and said its pilots had been in error.

No casualties were reported about the 669-foot J. Louis, but the ship's captain, Gerhard Krause, radioed that the superstructure and hull were damaged and that a resulting fire took two hours to bring under control.

Krause radioed the owners: "Under heavy airplane gun-fire attack with 16 passes counted causing damage to superstructure, hull above waterline quarters. Fire under fo'c'sle. After two hours fire fighting now

Civil Right Showdown Is Abruptly Postponed

By ARNOLD SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration forces, apparently facing defeat in an effort to keep President Kennedy's civil rights bill from being toughened, today abruptly postponed a showdown in the House Judiciary Committee.

Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., cancelled a meeting at which the committee was to vote on a civil rights bill far stronger than the President and many of his congressional supporters believe can be passed. Celler said the meeting would be held Thursday.

A bipartisan group supporting the strong measure apparently caught the administration napping Tuesday when it offered a motion to adopt unchanged the strong bill approved last month by a judiciary subcommittee.

Celler, conceding that the move "took everybody by surprise," said committee members "who are trying to get a bill that can be passed felt time was required to realign our forces."

Leaders of the group backing a strong bill at first appeared angry about the postponement. But they said later that they still expected to win.

"It will have no effect on the outcome," said Rep. Robert Costeumer, D-Wis.

The militants appeared somewhat troubled, however, by reports that the White House was telephoning members of their group in an effort to win votes for a more moderate bill. The administration believes the strong bill would alienate needed moderate and conservative Republican and Democratic votes on the House floor.

The militants said they had 12 Democratic and seven Republican votes in the 35-member committee, or one more than a majority. But their count was believed to include some wavering members.

Four wise rules for investing and how to use them

If you think the key to sensible investing is in the hands of "experts" only, here's an agreeable surprise. Anybody can quickly learn four basic rules for what never to do—and what always to do—when acquiring stock. Here they are:

Never get in over your head with money you can't afford to invest.

Always manage your money with an eye on both today and tomorrow. Living expenses have first call on your income. Then come provision for emergencies. These cared for, you may be ready to consider investing.

Never be careless in choosing your broker.

Always look for a broker in whose experience or training you feel you can have confidence. If you select a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange, for example, you will have the help of a firm subject to Exchange regulations. And of a broker (Registered Representative) who had to meet Exchange qualifications to become a broker in a Member Firm.

Don't expect all Member Firms to be alike. Or brokers to be infallible. Do expect your Member Firm broker to place his firm's knowledge and experience at your service.

Never acquire stock merely on a hunch or a tip.

Always look deeper for facts. Your Member Firm broker often has at his elbow information on the company's financial position, its earnings. The dividends it pays. Facts like these can be important in helping you make your own careful judgment.

Never ignore the risks of investing.

Always plan your investments with cool care. The wise investor chooses stocks he thinks will fit his needs and circumstances. And he doesn't overlook the relative safety of principal and income that good bonds usually provide. He remembers that prices go down as well as up, that a company may not continue to pay dividends or interest.

But he believes his country is growing, and he intends to grow with it—through sensible investment in good stock.

Send the coupon—or drop in at a local Member Firm—for a free copy of "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS," which describes the Monthly Investment Plan through which you can acquire stock with as little as $40 every three months.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I'd bet you've never heard of before. I want to take belly dancing lessons and I can't find any school that teaches it. I looked in the Yellow Pages under DANCING, BELLY and EGYPTIAN without success. I don't want to become a professional belly dancer. I just want to learn for my own satisfaction. Can you help me?

DEAR LORRAINE: Place an ad in the classified section of your newspaper. I understand the results they get are right on the button.

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old son bought himself a second-hand car with money he saved from working during the summer. A neighbor on our block told us that our son tears around at high speeds and is generally a reckless driver. Our son has never had a ticket (that we know about), but it is difficult to discount the report of an adult neighbor who would have nothing to gain by making up such a story. When we asked our son about this, he said he has never driven recklessly, and they must have confused him with somebody else. If he were your son, what would you do?

TRYING TO BE FAIR

DEAR TRYING: Nothing, for the moment. If your son is a reckless driver, you will hear about it again, from the local police or another witness. Or you'll see it with your own eyes. There is a possibility that your neighbor is mistaken. When parents let their teenagers know that their word is as good as an adult's, and they ARE trusted, it does more good than ten trips to the woodshed.

Following the dinner, parents will have an opportunity to visit with teachers in the classrooms and view work done by children. The dinner is sponsored by the PTA with proceeds being used for PTA expenses throughout the school year.

Range Official Files Reports On Conservation

In a weekly Gray County conservation report, Van C. Mills, range conservationist, reported the high point for an irrigation well was located for Jack Barnett and J. W. Hermesmeier on a farm they operate northeast of Groom and a dam was staked for John G. Haynes of McLean.
According to the report, ranchers in the Gray County soil conservation district are planning to check the weaning weights of their calves to figure the pounds of beef produced per acre.
Mills reports better range management will increase the pounds of beef produced per acre.
"At the Woodward Experiment Station, the weaning weight of calves was increased by reducing stocking rates," Mills said. "Weaning weight of calves on heavily stocked pastures was 404 pounds and weaning weight of calves on moderately stocked pastures was 481 pounds per head."

According to Mills, proper range use, brush control, good distribution of grazing and deferred grazing are major range conservation practices that can increase pounds of beef per acre.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller quit the Republican presidential nomination contest four years ago when the chill and bad breaks to which he was subjected were not much worse than they are today.

Rockefeller was contesting Richard M. Nixon for the nomination when he decided to quit. He bowed out with a statement implying that the Republican National Convention already had been rigged for Nixon. This invited a chorus of Democratic complaints that the Republican nominating convention was fixed.

Anyway you sliced it, Rockefeller's implication of a fix was in some degree damaging to the Republican party and a great many practical politicians resented then and remember now that Rocky said what he said.

So, the lasting damage of that statement of four years ago proves now to have been to Rockefeller's political future. If he quit once he might quit again. That is a thought which tends just now to discourage local politicians from endorsing him.

Want To Be Sure

When and if the governor announces he is a candidate for the 1964 nomination and, in effect, puts up bond to stay in the race, some local polls are likely to leap for his bandwagon. But they will want to be sure that Rocky is in the contest to stay.

Among Rockefeller's bad breaks was an ill-considered 1962 campaign promise not to raise taxes if he were re-elected governor of New York. On that promise, he probably will not make good, and that is bad. There is trouble in the New York State Liquor Authority. And, of course, the governor's domestic arrangements seem to weigh heavily against him.

Rockefeller's receptions on his frequent movements around the United States have varied from chill to warm but never match the enthusiastic whoopias with which Sen. Barry Goldwater generally is greeted.

True or not, there has been recently published reports that Meade Alcorn, Connecticut, and Leonard W. Hall, New York, both former chairmen of the Republican National Committee had refused to become national campaign managers for Rockefeller.

Shell Oil Plans Huge Waterflood Project in Texas

HOUSTON (UPI) — Shell Oil Co. has announced plans for a multi-million-dollar waterflood project in Ector and Andrews counties, Tex., designed to boost oil production by 70 per cent on those areas.

The firm and Shell Pipe Line Corp. said operations will begin next April on a 130-mile brackish-water pipeline to furnish up to 600,000 barrels of water daily for 45 waterflood units in the two West Texas counties.

Company officials said the projects would assure Ector County of an additional 40 years of oil production.

Shell's Midland area personnel worked for 19 months perfecting plans for the waterflood project, the company said.

"For some time, operators in the Ector County fields had been aware of the need for a dependable and economical supply of large quantities of water for use in secondary recovery projects," Shell said.

Mere repetition lends substance to the Nixon story. Don't bet against it.

World Fair Heliport-Cafe Opened Six Months Early

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the major 1964 New York World's Fair buildings, a heliport-restaurant, opened six months early Tuesday night with a gala society ball followed by a day of inauguration ceremonies.

The port authority heliport and "Top of the Fair" restaurant received a rousing sendoff from 700 patrons of the Travelers Aid Society. It is the first completed fair building and will be open from now on for visitors who wish to watch the progress of the fair's construction.

Rising like a flying saucer on legs 120 feet above the fair ground, the glamorous exhibition rendezvous was a distinct hit with first-nighters. Circular picture windows provided the revelers with a panoramic view of fair buildings under construction and the distant skyscrapers of Manhattan.

Starting this morning, visitors can make the helicopter trip from Manhattan to the fair heliport in six minutes, the public

Viet Nam Troops Lose U.S. Funds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — The United States has informed President Ngo Dinh Diem's government that the 2,000 Vietnamese special forces troops, used in the crackdown on the Buddhists, will be cut off from their $3 million annual U.S. allowance until they return to combat.

Reliable sources said U.S. officials told special forces commander Col. Le Quang Tung that his units, originally trained to fight the Communists, will receive no pay or supplies from the United States as long as they remain around Saigon as security troops for the regime.

The action was expected to anger Diem and his brother and political adviser, Ngo Dinh Nhu, who is believed to run the special forces through Tung.

Pupils Make Life-Size 'Paper Doll' Replicas

By PHIL DUNCAN
Mrs. G. M. Walls, a teacher at Lamar Elementary School, began a project with her students one year ago which has made her second-graders realize their capacity to do for themselves.

Mrs. Walls, who has taught at Lamar for eight years, began last year having the students color life-size "paper dolls" on heavy wrapping paper.

The children, Mrs. Walls explained, do the entire project by themselves, and can work on it only after they complete their regular school work.

According to Mrs. Walls, she traced an outline of each pupil while they lay prone on the white paper. Mrs. Billy Daniels, a classroom mother, aided the project by drawing the children's faces to an amazing likeness.

The children then took over completely from this point, coloring their clothes exactly as

They were wearing at the time they were traced.

All of the children take great pride in their "work of art," even to the point of making and painting fingernails on the life-size reproductions, according to Mrs. Walls.

"This project not only coincides with the scheduled art, but it shows the children how big they really are and how they are really capable of doing for themselves," Mrs. Walls said.

The "life-size paperdolls" will be shown to the parents for the first time at the PTA Family Visitation Night which will be held at Lamar Elementary School tomorrow evening.

Pirates-Rockets Key District Tilt

LEFORS (Spl) — A key game that will go a long way toward determining the winner of district 2-A takes place Friday night at Wellington and Lefors coach Dannie Goode says the win will go to "the kids who give the most effort."

Before the season started, Goode's Buccaneers and the McLean Tigers were picked as district co-favorites. Goode and Tiger coach Derral Davis both insisted firmly that Wellington was the team to beat, and Goode has not changed his opinion at all. "Look at their record and look at their size. They've got four boys in the backfield who can move. They ran up 58 points twice this season and they're averaging 33 points a game, even though they were shut out once. I felt then and I still feel that Wellington is the team to beat and Friday night's game could well determine the district champion. . . the team that loses might be out of the race."

The Skyrockets either win big or lose big, with victories like 58-22 over Paduca, 58-0 over Price College, 42-0 over Hollis and 32-0 in last week's district opener over Memphis, and losses to Tulsa by 19-0 and Shamrock by 20-8, both AA clubs.

The Rockets stick mostly to a ground attack, with two speed-boys and two power runners in the backfield. Scoring star is Bobby Hudson, a 183-pound half-back with good speed as well, ringing up four touchdowns in one game, three on long runs, and three more in two other tilts, including a trio against Memphis.

Glen Thomas, 177, is the full-back, getting the short yardage and the up-the-middle scores. Danny Martin, 141, is a scab-back left half, who also scores on long gainers, and quarterback Wayne Barton is an all-around threat who scores touchdowns, runs conversions, passes, kicks extra points and field goals too.

Bulwarking a hefty line is 195-pound tackle Jennings Wells and 197-pound guard Skippy Duncan. Physically the Pirates are talented and healthy, despite last week's 52-30 slugfest with Canadian. Goode preferred not to discuss the game despite the win, exploding "When a team scores 30 points on you, there ain't no defense at all! The trouble was, we were playing Wellington the first half and Canadian the second half. I hope we've learned our lesson. . . just take them one at a time."

Offensively the entire team won praise from the Doleful One on their outstanding play, with Phil Woodring and Lightning Coleman the leaders. "These two teams are pretty evenly matched," warned Goode. "Whether we win it or Wellington wins it depends on which team can give the fullest effort."

Yogi Berra Will Be New Yank Manager

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sound thinking Yogi Berra, faced with a choice of two managerial jobs will prove once again he's nobody's dummy when he officially signs to manage the New York Yankees Thursday for $50,000.

The squat, 36-year-old Yogi thus will turn his back on a decidedly less tempting opportunity to manage the Baltimore Orioles.

His signing at an appropriately elaborate press conference also will complete a high echelon reshuffling by the Yankees which began Tuesday when 44-year-old Ralph Houk succeeded 61-year-old Roy Hamey as general manager.

Yogi Was Ready

The naming of Berra as the Yankees' new manager may come as something of a surprise to the general baseball public but it certainly won't bowl over Yogi.

Like Houk, Berra was fully aware all last year that he would step up the Yankee ladder at this time.

When the Boston Red Sox showed interest in Yogi as a manager before they hired Johnny Pesky a year ago, the Yanks advised Berra to "sit tight."

Shockers Tangle With Monterey For League Lead

The game that may decide the District 3-AAAA B team championship will be played tomorrow at 4 p.m. in Lubbock when the undefeated Monterey Lancers host the only other unbeaten team in the loop, the Pampa Shockers.

The Lancers, with a 44-6 routing of previously unbeaten Caprock, took their fifth straight win last week. Pampa, with a 36-8 slaughter of Plainview, made their district record three wins, no losses and one tie.

Monterey's closest call was a 14-8 squeaker over the Palo Duro Chicos when Jack Buffington scored the winning TD in the last minutes of the ball game. Against two common foes, the Lancers took a 46-0 win over Plainview and against Borger, slipped to a 15-12 win. The Shockers had downed Borger earlier this season, 12-6.

Quarterback Rodney McLeod is the big threat for the Lancers. Against Caprock, he ran six and 56 yards for touchdowns, passed 46 yards for a third touchdown, ran over one two-point conversion and passed for a fourth. Buffington, a scabback, is the right halfback, with two big full-backs, Robert Walker and Hoss Lawler, alternating; as do two left halfbacks, Craig Hughes and Bill Hunter.

Shocker skipper Don Myers will have all his troops back to the battle, several injured in the rugged Lubbock game having returned and the Shockers having escaped unscathed against the Red Dogs. Outstanding lineman Wayne Hill will be back. Bronc Epperson is expected to be completely recovered and Lewis "Mighty" Meers will suit up and may see action if his knee holds up.

"We got to play everybody last week," said the cheerful little Boss Shocker, "and we got off pretty healthy. I was real pleased with the game. I think we carried out our assignments in the first half as well as we have all season.

"This is going to be a tough one and the kids know it. I think we have the right attitude. We'll be ready for 'em."

Hunting Safety Classes Open

Students are still needed to complete this year's classes in Hunting Safety, taught by the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Association.

The Pampa rifers are teaching the course, free of charge, to children from 10 years up and adults also. The course is sponsored by the National Rifle Association.

Eight have signed up so far, reported instructors Paul Edwards and Pat Oler, and about 20 more are needed to start the first class. Information can be obtained by calling MO 4-7240 or MO 5-2701.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International

Southwest Conference football teams came through weekend games relatively unscathed in injury-wise and most coaches pronounced their squads in good shape for upcoming contests.

Texas Longhorn coach Darrell Royal announced yesterday that two injured members of his team would be ready to go against Rice Saturday.

They were guard Olin Underwood, injured in the Oklahoma game, and halfback Anthony King, who has been slowed down for the past two weeks with a shoulder injury.

Royal put the Steers through a two-hour, no-contact signal and defensive drill.

Neely Promotes One

The Rice Owls had an hour-long scrimmage and coach Jess Neely promoted reserve quarterback Benny Hollingsworth to the first string because of his play last weekend against Southern Methodist.

Neely said Walter McReynolds, who Hollingsworth replaced, would still see "plenty of action" against the Longhorns.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles was unhappy with his team's practice session at Fayetteville. He said the Razorbacks were "falling back" instead of progressing. The Porkers meet Tulsa this Saturday.

Broyles said the team was hurt by having to adjust their defense from passing to running games against Baylor, Texas and now Tulsa, which likes to fill the air with footballs.

Four Major Tilts In Class A' Play

By United Press International

The Goldthwaite Eagles can virtually assure themselves of a spot in the Texas schoolboy football Class A playoffs this week, but they'll need a spot of help.

The Eagles are among four teams which already have staked undisputed district leadership although the season still has four weekends to go, but they are the only ones that far along toward a playoff spot.

Goldthwaite, one of the state's ranking teams and undefeated and untied through its first seven games, can build its District 9-A record to 4-0 by defeating oft-beaten Bangs this week. That would leave only Early and Marble Falls to play and both already have lost one or more district games.

Marble Falls plays Burnet and if the latter team wins, Goldthwaite would need only one more victory to clinch the berth since it already has beaten its two toughest challengers — Copperas Cove and Burnet.

District favorites will emerge from three other games this week — Wellington vs. Lefors in 2-A, Ferris vs. Midlothian in 14-A and Frisco vs. Pilot Point in 15-A.

In addition, five other games will narrow three-way leadership ties down to the two top contenders.

In 1-A, Sunray and Stratford meet to decide which challenges Sanford-Fritch for the crown; in 5-A it'll be Seagraves at Sunday to determine a rival for Plains; in 7-A it will be Cantulito at Maria to settle a foe for Fabens; in 24-A, Weimar and Smithville meet to find a challenger for Bastrop, and in 30-A Medina Valley plays Dilley with the winner to contest Somerset for the title.

Tascosa vs. Sandies Major 3-4A Contest

LUBBOCK (Spl) — Both district races are beginning to take shape in 2-AAAA and 3-AAAA with trophy contenders falling by the wayside in each conference.

Lubbock, a 3-AAAA contender, and Midland of 2-AAAA, ranked in the top 10 in Class AAAA, fell by surprising scores Friday night.

Both contests were expected to be close, but San Angelo wiped out Midland, 44-0, and Borger slapped down Lubbock, 39-7. It was the second district loss for Midland and Lubbock, which were all but eliminated from their respective district races.

Biggest foe remaining for San Angelo is Odessa, only other undefeated team in district play with the Bobcats. Both teams stand at 2-0.

Standing between Borger and the district championship is undefeated Amarillo Tascosa, open last week, with a 5-0 mark.

In other 3-AAAA games: Monterey reduced the number of winless teams in the district to one, by steam rolling over Pampa 28-6; Palo Duro gave Plainview a start on another losing streak, 35-0; and Amarillo had to scratch for a 6-0 win over Amarillo Caprock, which is 0-6 for the season.

In 2-AAA-A action: Big Spring got on the winning trail again, downing Lee, 24-0; Odessa clamped down on Cooper, 12-0; and Permian burst a bubble started by Abilene, beating the Eagles, 25-7. A week ago, Abilene upset highly ranked Midland, 14-3.

The losers in both districts had difficulty in scoring, as none scored more than one touchdown. Only one loser in 2-AAAA scratched.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

Visit the U.S.A. and Canada: New York has more Russians than Kiev, more Germans than Stuttgart and more Jews than the entire nation of Israel. New York has the largest Italian population in the world as well as being the number one Irish metropolis. What probably surprises Frenchmen is the fact that Montreal is the city with the second largest number of French in the world.

What is an entree? Probably not what you think it is, say French chefs. Americans misuse this word so its true meaning is obscured. It's not the main course of a meal, but the course, usually fish or fowl, that precedes the main dish.

Country Editor Speaking: "Have you ever noticed the number of persons who can't read traffic signs?"

JFK says he doesn't believe school teachers should spank pupils. Francis Keppel, his Commissioner of Education, disagrees. Some of our teacher friends tell us they wouldn't dare chastise an errant pupil for fear of litigation by parents, or retaliation by the pupils with switchblades or other weapons. What's happening in our schools? . . . The Pennsylvania Turnpike, the 327-mile road linking Philadelphia with the Ohio border, was built for $221 million, less than a million a mile. . . . Looking forward to the day when our domestic oil supply may run out the government is trying to make synthetic oil from coal.

Memorandum: Remember when "swing music" was first introduced by Benny Goodman, Larry Clinton, Glenn Miller, Sammy Kaye, Harry James and other "name" bands? It swept the nation in the late '30's. This can't be a publicity stunt: Boccaccio's "Decameron," a classic for 600 years, was banned in Sardinia recently as "pornographic literature." . . . You get some idea of what's happening in the aircraft industry when you consider that 35 years ago U.S. production totaled 1857 planes, costing about $12 million. For that money today you can buy two and one-half DC-8 jets. . . . We love the alphon of the Marquis of Aylesbury who turned down a bid to drill for oil on his property since he didn't want them cutting his trees. Nature boy!

A news item tells us India will need 18 million tons of steel annually within four years to maintain its development schedule. But Nehru's not worrying. He can always get it from us. . . . Reading some real-estate ads leads us to believe the adjective "Colonial" means anything built before 1910. . . . JFK doesn't have to convince the average guy it would be nice to get a tax cut. . . . Learned and religious people drink coffee when it was first used as a beverage. Nowadays people drink it religiously and one of the first things we learn is the time for the coffee break.

Today's Smile: No doubt you heard about the fellow who always played checkers with his dog. One day a passerby saw them playing and said: "That's a smart dog you've got there." The fellow replied: "Oh, he's not so smart. We just played three games and I beat him twice."

Freedom Necessary
He approaches the subject by explaining what a businessman must do if he wants to market a new product. He shows how the consumer's desires must be satisfied in order for the prospective business to be a success. He points out that it makes no difference what the politician or businessman believe people want or should have; the people will decide for themselves through the purchases they make. . . . Through 10 brief chapters, the author explains such basic factors as: how wages and prices are determined, what inflation is and how it is caused, how capital is accumulated to create jobs, and how international trade works. Most important, he shows how government throws the free market off balance when it enters the picture. . . . "Essentials of Economics" is certainly not as easy to read as a 25-cent novel. But the interested reader—by careful attention and by re-reading certain passages—can follow Balive with an ease unduplicated in other books on the subject. This one volume can unravel the mysteries created by our modern breed of problem solvers who have created a tremendous economic complexities for the sole purpose of being able to solve them.

Between the Bookends
Politicians love to preach about our present struggle "between those who believe man is a sovereign being and those who believe the state should run man's life for him." We are, according to the story, involved in a fight between a free society and a controlled one. . . . Strangely, however, it is almost impossible to find a good book today that describes the workings of a free economy. There are a multitude of volumes that justify government intervention into man's economic life; and most any economics professor or "expert" will at least promote a "mixed" economy—in which capitalism and communism are interbred to a certain extent. . . . Government Role Today, too, our government is involved in the most minute economic decisions of its citizens. So—despite the way the struggle is described—we appear to be advocating the state's supremacy, instead of man's economic sovereignty. . . . We are happy to announce, therefore, that an unusually good book on economics has just been published. It is undoubtedly one of the best ever written describing the free economy. . . . Its title is "Essentials of Economics." Written by a Spaniard, Faustine Balive, and originally published in Mexico in 1956, it has just been translated into English. It is available from the Van Nostrand Co., 120 Alexander St., Princeton, N.J.; $4.00.

Editor: A cool fall breeze was twirling elm leaves around the worn, whittled benches at the south end of Spatanga. Two of the town's lifetime debaters were arguing about the responsibility of the government. Cantankerous old Jed Peters waved a callused finger in old Zeb's face and said, "Zeb, ye keep a talkin' about what the government owes ye and what hits their duty to do fer ye, don't ye reckon mabe ye have a little responsibility to give a mite,stead of talkin'?"

Zeb answered, "Well, the government oughten to tax little fellers like me, they ought to take them rich fellers' money." Jed's face turned purple. He exploded, "Zeb, if I was to stick a gun in old banker Boliver Money's ribs and take his money and give it to the pore folks over in Shantytown, would I be doing right or wrong?" Old Zeb shot back, "Why, Jed ye know dern well that would be robbery, that hain't like a law passed by government men elected by a majority of the people."

Jed leaped to his feet and asked, "Zeb, does the majority accepting a thing, or voting for it make it right?" "Well, now, Jed Peters I don't see how anything could be more fair than doing what the majority wants to do."

Jed did not say a word for a moment, but got up and walked around scuffling his feet in the leaves. Placing himself directly in front of Zeb Boggs, he said, "Well now, Zeb, ye got more chickens than anybody else in Spatanga, suppose our city government was to take ninety percent of yore chickens and give them to them whut has none?" Zeb burned old Jed's face with a withering stare. "Why, Jed, that's the most fool thing to say I ever heered tell of, I think yore rheumatism has gone to yore feeble brain." Old Jed Harangued right back, "Zeb, whut I suggested the City government do about taken ninety percent of yore chickens is exactly whut our federal government has been doing to the rich man's money unless he could keep most all of it invested in new business or sick it into something like some so-called charity organizations."

The wind twirled the leaves while the argument went on and on, and on. . . . James Waldrop 404 Doucette

FACE EACH OTHER

TIPTON, Ind. (UPI) — The judge told Jerry Miller and Herman Cook to pick on somebody their own size—like each other. Miller, 16, a 240-pounder, and Cook, 17, a 190-pounder, chose to box 10 rounds next Saturday rather than spend the next 26 weekends in jail. Circuit Court Judge Oliver Wheatley gave them the alternative for assaulting Gene Rust, 21, who weighs 120 pounds.

Edson In Washington Great Train Quandary: Merge or Not to Merge

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A more active Kennedy administration role in considering all of the 25 major U.S. railroad merger applications now before the Interstate Commerce Commission has just been indicated by Undersecretary of Commerce for Transportation Clarence D. Martin Jr. . . . Speaking before the Transportation Assn. of America at Port Veda Beach, Fla., Mr. Martin, as chairman of the administration's Interagency Committee on Transport Mergers, maps out the government's new plan to create four competitive rail systems in the northeast. . . . This had been outlined briefly when Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Orrick Jr., in charge of the Department of Justice antitrust division, appeared before an ICC examiner in his final week of hearings on the Pennsylvania-New York Central case to oppose their merger. . . . This action served to keep the case open indefinitely. . . . Mr. Martin's follow-up speech presents arguments that four major railroad systems in the northeastern U.S. will offer the best service to the public, the most competition among the carriers and the greatest stability for all. . . . The four systems would be built around the New York Central with Boston & Maine, the Pennsylvania divested of its Washash holdings, the Chesapeake & Ohio merged with Baltimore & Ohio, and finally the Norfolk and Western merged with Nickel Plate, Washash, New York, New Haven and Hartford. . . . Inclusion of the New Haven—now in receivership—came as a complete surprise to railroad management. It is justified on the grounds that New Haven has good connections at M a y brook Junction, N.Y., with Erie-Lackawanna, which would also have to be included in this system, not NYC. . . . The theory is that if the Pennsylvania merger were approved there would be only three systems in the east. Penn-Central would dominate the other two. If they could not compete, all would have to be merged into one system, which would create a transportation monopoly. . . . With four systems in operation, if any of them could not make a go of it, there could be mergers into two systems, which would still provide competition. . . . The desire to create a fourth strong system is believed to have influenced the administration's decision to approve the B&O-C&O merger. This was a complete reversal of the administration's position last March. Department of Justice was then considering court action to block ICC approval. . . . Mr. Martin declared that the four-system plan effect on employment was fully considered. But Railway Labor Executives Assn. chairman G. E. Leighty backs the government's disapproval of the Penn-Central merger while condemning its new approval of the B&O-C&O and other mergers. . . . Railway labor is backing bills in Congress to ban all mergers. But since the death of Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., a principal sponsor, passage is uncertain. . . . To railway management, the Interagency Committee under Mr. Martin is a group of young, eager-beaver boys with no experience in transportation. . . . Other members are Asst. Atty. Gen. Orrick, Asst. Labor Sec. James J. Reynolds, Dr. John P. Lewis of the Council of Economic Advisers and E. Barrett Prettyman Jr., of the White House staff. Its technical experts are Commerce Department career transportation men. . . . But this committee is going to be of increasing importance in Washington. Its creation was first announced in President Kennedy's transportation message to Congress. Since the legislation he asked for is bogged down, it is apparent that more emphasis will be put on administrative action. . . . To railroad management, the saving grace in this situation is that the Interstate Commerce Commission doesn't have to pay any attention to Interagency Committee recommendations. If ICC turns them down, the administration would have to take its case to court in opposition to the established agency which now has legal authority to make the decisions.

Sealed bids will be received by the Secretary of Public Works and Buildings until 11:30 a.m. on Oct. 23, 1963. The bids should be addressed to the Chief Engineer, P. O. Box 1000, Pampa, Texas 79066. The Nation's Press WHO WILL REFUSE

We need new recognition of the power which lies within us. We need to know that the life of God is within us in far greater measure than we now believe. We turn despairingly to the state, which is the vainest of hopes, because we do not believe enough in either God or man. Let us lift up our hearts. For which one of us is it that will refuse His help in a case of real human need? You? I? Or is the finger to be pointed again at that nebulous scapegoat "someone else"? . . . I write as a minister, and I want to attest that through an experience of thirty years I have never seen a church member fail to respond to an authentic case of human need. And from those who could and did help when I have described such a case, I have invariably received expressions of gratitude that the opportunity was presented. . . . It is that faith which we need restored today. . . . Russell J. Clinchy, Charity: Biblical and Political

No true nightingale is found in America, though the American Thrush is a close relative. Both male and female nightingales are of drab coloration, reddish-brown above, and greyish-white below. Irrigation Well Doubles the Crop

G. M. Walls of Pampa expects to get more than twice the yield off his ensilage crop since he completed his irrigation well in August.
Walls sowed his ensilage crop in July and watered it twice after the well was completed in August. According to Walls, the crop will yield 15 tons per acre as compared to dry land yields of six tons per acre.
According to Arneal Scott, work unit conservationist, the ensilage has grown about nine feet high which is about two feet more than the height for dry land ensilage that has received an average amount of rain fall during the growing season.
The 650-foot irrigation well produces about 600 gallons per minute and is located on Walls' farm 12 miles east of Pampa.
According to Scott, most irrigation wells on the high plains, including those in Gray County are from 350 to 650 feet deep.

Russian Wheat Crop Failure Hikes U.S. Price

DALLAS (UPI) — Russia's wheat crop failure is causing increased flour prices on the U. S. grocery market, Texas millers said today.
Texas flour mills said they are increasing flour prices 40 cents per one hundred pounds—a two cent hike on a five pound bag at the grocery.
The price hike has resulted from Russia's failure to meet past quotas to other countries. The U. S. has had to step in to fill the gap, and the price of wheat is going up. The price increase has particularly resulted from the U. S. decision to sell surplus wheat to Russia.
The U. S., Russia and Canada have been the leading exporting countries.
Canada and Australia have committed their wheat crop 10 to 12 months in advance. The U. S. is taking up the slack in the market, the millers said.
Texas millers said wheat prices have risen from 10 to 15 cents a bushel since Sept. 1.

Woods works in the education and information office and is responsible for ordering training courses for the enlisted men at the Alaska station.
An ex-marine, Woods entered the Navy in 1954, but earned the Purple Heart during his Marine service. He is the son of Mrs. Beatrice Woods of Coalgate, Okla., and has made Pampa his home.

The Lighter Side

Mme Nhu Effects Newsmen The Same Way Mt. Everest Effects Mountain Climbers

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the past fortnight virtually every newsman with access to the public print has had a go at South Viet Nam's Madame Nhu. There is something about this incredible and controversial lady that is journalistically challenging. She has the same effect on newsmen that Mt. Everest has on mountain climbers.
Not being an expert on Asian affairs, I wouldn't attempt to weigh the impact of her U. S. visit on relations between her country and America.
There is, however, one facet of her career that I am more than qualified to appraise. I refer to her action in banning dancing in Viet Nam.
If Madame Nhu feels that some unkind things have been written about her, she might like to know that on this issue at least there is one American newsman who is with her 100 per cent.

Being one of the most dedicated non-dancers in the Western Hemisphere, I regard her anti-dancing edict as a boon to humanity.
"My country is the only country in the world where we never danced," Madame Nhu explained when asked about the ban. "When we meet, we enjoy ourselves."
Bravo! Well said! There are few things on earth more deleterious to enjoyment than dancing.

Imagine a land that is free of the gavot, the minuet, the reel, the jig, the hornpipe, the cakewalk, the quadrille, the waltz, the polka, the mazurka, the schottische, the two-step and the fox-trot, not to mention the highland fling, the rumba, the samba, the bossa nova and the twist.
Imagine a land where a man can take his wife out to dinner without first surreptitiously checking to make certain the joint doesn't have a dance floor.
Imagine being able to go home from a party without having your companion of the evening berate you for making her feel like a wallflower.
Imagine never again being informed that you have insulted the hostess by not asking her to dance.

I'll tell you, chums, if Madame Nhu's policy were universally adopted it would eliminate the singlemost sedulous source of marital friction. Possibly she deserved some of the criticism sent her way, but any woman who takes a stand against terpsichorean torture can't be all bad.
