ASK GUARANTEE OF FARM BONDS

TRUCE SIGNED IN CHICAGO'S MILK WARFARE

DELIVERIES ARE TO BE RESUMED THIS AFTERNOON

CHICAGO, Jan. 10. (AP)—The Chicago milk blockade was ended today with a truce reached between warring factions in a conference with Mayor Edward J. Kelly. The mayor announced milk deliveries would be resumed this afternoon after five days of violence that had left Chicago almost milkless. Arbitrators were named to assist farmers and dealers in agreeing upon a price to producers. Distributors and producers each will appoint one man to a committee. They, in turn, will select a third man to act as arbitrator and establish a minimum price to be paid farmers. Don N. Geyer, general manager of the pure milk association and representative of the farmers at the conference, announced the producers would end picketing of highways and begin shipping milk immediately.

Thief Takes $35 At Lee Waggoner Filling Station

Entering the office of Lee Waggoner Service station at the corner of Foster and Frost streets yesterday afternoon while the only attendant on duty was at the grease pit for a few minutes, someone opened the cash register and removed $35 in bills and two checks amounting to $15.17. The silver in the till was not touched. The loss was not discovered for some time, and no trace of the thief has been found. The other attendant had left the office briefly. It was apparent that the thief was watching the building and had entered the office when he saw it vacant for the few minutes.

Rogers Denies He Is Candidate For Any Office

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 10. (AP)—With the statement he would "rather be a poor actor than a poor governor," Will Rogers today spiced reports he might become a gubernatorial candidate. Rogers was in Riverside on location with a motion picture company. He was told that his name had been mentioned in connection with a forthcoming political meeting at San Jose. "I'm not a candidate for anything," answered the actor-writer. "I'd rather be a poor actor than a poor governor. After watching these fellows for so many years, I'm satisfied to remain fancy free, to go where I please, when I please." Most important, Rogers is not a registered voter in California.

JUDGE SELLERS OUT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—Senator Connally (D., Tex.) said today President Roosevelt probably would not appoint Judge Grover Sellers to the existing vacancy on the rail mediation board, and that the appointment would go to a personal friend of the president in another state. Connally said he would continue to support Sellers for appointment on the board to fill another vacancy.

THREE GUESSES

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

BREVITIALS
Musings of the moment: Not necessarily high wages, but wages in line with prices of necessities are needed in this country. High wages for favored classes, coupled with general unemployment, cause much misery. Consider the wise farmer on good land. He can grow most of what he needs for home consumption. But he cannot pay high taxes, caused by much public spending at high salary and material costs, unless he has surplus farm products bring high prices. If his farm products bring high prices, the poor jobs persons with little cash are plunged into deepest suffering. Wages, prices, and work opportunities in this country must be equalized of suffering and depression cycles are to be prevented. A salient point is this: Must Uncle Sam adopt a permanent role as equalizer? Double-jointed words for idle moments: Instar, enflower, bepearl, betassel, emblaze. . . . Some times we wonder whether there are poets still in this world, and, if so, whether they are living on CWA.

Whereas Mr. Hoover answered newspaper correspondents' questions—written in advance only if he chose. Mr. Roosevelt takes his questions directly from the hundred or more writers who twice a week attend the press conferences. He is said to talk more frankly with the veteran newspaper men than with most members of his official family. He asks many questions. Sometimes he takes the newsmen into his confidence, as he did with the budget message, and give them a chance to write their releases well in advance of the official announcements. Mr. Hoover grew increasingly bitter toward newspaper men and . . . (Continued on page 2.)

TWINKLES

Before farmers start plowing up anything, they might wait to see whether March winds will do the trick again.

But if the drought isn't about over why is the wheat hanging on so hard and looking so well?

Our guess is that today's "forgotten man" will be well remembered tomorrow when the tax collector makes his rounds. But we fear that all Uncle Sam's income tax collector is going to get out of this columnist is a hearty handshake.

Mussolini is a smart man, but there are a number of Pampans who could advise him not to place muskets in the hands of all the Italian school lads.

Asked to make a talk on "Thrift," we don't know the modern meaning of the word. Plowing up cotton, reducing acreage, working shorter hours, "buying these do not fit Benjamin Franklin's idea of thrift. But if Franklin were living now, he would draft a new definition.

I HEARD—

John Williams and John V. Andrews telling me a team of mules owned by Mr. Williams many years ago, that would haul a load from Pampa to the "river" and return without a driver in the wagon. They said that the team made dozens of round trips without a driver.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS TOMORROW; FIRST ENTRIES ARRIVE TODAY

FIRST entries in the sixth annual Pampa poultry show will arrive late this afternoon from McLean. They will be brought by Dr. A. A. Tampak, vocational instructor. The three-day show will open at noon tomorrow in the Johnson building on West Foster avenue. A strong department of the show will be that set aside for vocational agriculture students and club boys directed by County Agent Ralph Thomas. No entry fee is to be charged the club boys. Prof. J. ONE DAY WILL BE REQUIRED FOR LONG HOP

SIX PLANES ARE DUE TO ARRIVE ABOUT NOON THURSDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10. (AP)—The navy's massed flight to Honolulu longest over water air armada of its kind, began at 2:11 p. m. (P. S. T.) today with the first flying boat taking off at Paradise Cove, San Francisco bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10. (AP)—Six huge navy seaplanes poised for a hop at noon across 2,150 nautical miles of the open Pacific to Honolulu—the longest and most hazardous overwater formation flight ever attempted.

The takeoff was set for 12 o'clock (P. S. T.) by Lieut. Commander Kneller McGinnis, squadron leader, so that his command might take the earliest possible advantage of existing favorable weather conditions. Each plane was loaded with between 700 and 1,000 gallons of gasoline, and after a late inspection each was pronounced ready. McGinnis predicted a landing at Pearl Harbor by noon (P. S. T.) Thursday, or even earlier if there is a tailwind. On the other hand headwinds might delay the arrival until sunset.

Every one of the six officers and 22 men who constitute the crews of the six planes was reported eager for the big adventure. They flew their ships 600 miles from San Diego yesterday.

Ready to aid them in the event of accident en route were six "stand-by" ships strung out along the line of flight between San Francisco and Honolulu. Nearing position 600 miles east of Honolulu was the aircraft tender Wright, with Rear Admiral A. W. Johnson aboard. Three hundred miles near the island was the tender Pelican.

Strung out from San Francisco to the Wright were the minesweeper Sandpiper, destroyer Schenck, mine layer Breeze, and mine sweeper Whippoorwill, each prepared for any emergency that might arise and ready to provide weather information for the aerial squadron.

While navy officials continued to look upon the flight merely as a routine transfer for the men involved it will mean following a skyline that has been successfully flown only five times in history.

In the lead ship, the 10P1, at the takeoff, will be Lieut. Commander McGinnis as pilot-navigator. Indianapolis is his home.

Pilots of the other craft are Lieut. F. A. Davis, Norfolk, Va.; Lieut. T. D. Quinn, Atlanta, Ga.; Lieut. J. Perry, Greenville, S. C.; Lieut. J. K. Averill, Buffalo, N. Y.; and Lieut. H. J. Roberts, St. Louis.

Merchandising and retailing, with all the new developments during the last few years, were discussed at the meeting of the Rotary club today. H. D. Keys told of merchandising bringing out the points which are necessary to consider in making a success of a retail establishment.

They Challenge Pacific In Hawaii Flight Today

Challenging a 2,400-mile expanse of the Pacific for the longest non-stop over-water mass formation flight on record, six huge U. S. naval patrol flying boats, commanded by the officers pictured above, and carrying 30 men, are ready to roar out of San Francisco with Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, as their goal. Their route, patrolled by auxiliary craft, is shown in the diagonal strip, the Hawaiian islands in the map, left; and one of the flying boats, lower right.

Nazis Behead Van Der Lubbe

Dutch Communist In Stupor Since Trial But Was Found Sane Tuesday.

BY JOHN A. BOUMAN, Associated Press Foreign Staff
LEIPZIG, Germany, Jan. 10. (AP)—Marinus Van Der Lubbe, 24-year-old Dutch sterner, was beheaded today for firing the German Reichstag building in Berlin last February.

He had repeatedly confessed setting the fire, but steadfastly refused to divulge any information as to whether he had any accomplices. Van Der Lubbe had been under sentence of death since December 23 when the supreme court convicted him and acquitted four co-defendants.

Steps through which the Dutch government sought to gain a lighter sentence for the young Hollander were unavailing. The guillotine was erected during the night by the official executioner and his attendants in the prison yard of the Leipzig district court.

At 7:25 o'clock this morning, a few strokes of the prison bell announced to the outer world that a man was paying the extreme penalty. Few realized, however, that it was Van Der Lubbe—probably the most talked-of criminal in recent years.

Without showing the least emotion to the outer world that a man had listened as the death sentence again was read by Wilhelm Buenger, presiding judge during the trial. He silently shook his head when asked if he wanted to make a statement.

Werner then said, "I surrender you to the executioner." The latter, Herr Gobler of Madburg, dressed in evening clothes and wearing white gloves, laid his hand on Van Der Lubbe's shoulder.

Meekly, the young man ascended the scaffold where he was tied down. Goebler pressed a button. Van Der Lubbe's head rolled into a basket of sawdust.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—A debate on the war debts broke out in the senate today when Senator Clark (D., Mo.), offered an amendment to the house liquor tax bill to place excise taxes over and above the tariffs on liquors from nations behind in their war debts to this country.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—The senate today adopted an amendment to the liquor tax bill to permit newspapers and periodicals carrying liquor advertisements to circulate in dry states.

PARIS, Jan. 10. (AP)—Great Britain protested to the French government today against the new French import quotas claiming the same "preferential" treatment accorded the United States under the wine-apple deal.

Senators Vote To Tax Liquor Of U. S. Debtors

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—The senate by 40 to 39 today adopted a proposal to place excise taxes on liquors from foreign nations which are behind in their debt payments to the United States.

Administration leaders did not regard the vote, however, as a clear cut or final decision on the debts. They contended that while they were in sympathy with the proposal, it had no place on the liquor tax bill and should have been considered separately.

Staunch advocates of debt payments in full contended the amendment of Senator Clark (D., Mo.), proposing the excise taxes, was inadvisable.

The house has to act on the amendment, as well as on a previous one in which the senate would kill the present law against publications carrying liquor advertisements being mailed into dry states.

LINDY IS GIVEN TAT STOCK FOR 'TAX PURPOSES'

Plan Used So 'Lot of Attention' Would Not Be Excited

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—An official of Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., told senate investigators today 25,000 shares of the company stock were given to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

D. M. Sheaffer, chairman of the air company's executive committee, told of a complicated system used for what he said was "income tax purposes" in transferring the stock to the noted pilot.

He said the stock, valued at $250,000, was given to Lindbergh in return for "services."

Sheaffer read to the committee a letter from C. M. Keyes, then president of T. A. T., to Charles A. Lindbergh May 23, 1928, explaining how stock was being transferred to him.

It follows in part: "Carrying out the memorandum of agreement, I have tied up for your account 25,000 shares of stock T. A. T. at $10 per share and will deliver to you a check of the T. A. T. for $250,000 cash upon your request."

"In order that all the records shall be clear for income tax purposes please consult Colonel Breckinridge (Henry Breckinridge, Lindbergh attorney) and see if he agrees with the full procedure."

HASKELL, Jan. 10. (AP)—State prosecutors struck back vigorously today at the defense contention that Doyle Arnold, on trial for the slaying of his wife, Zelma Arnold, is insane.

ROOSEVELT SAYS GOVERNMENT HAS 'MORAL RESPONSIBILITY' TO UNDERWRITE LOAN ISSUES

U. S. DEBT WILL BE INCREASED BY TWO BILLION DOLLARS, BUT LOANS ARE BACKED BY PROPERTY OF DEFINITE VALUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—President Roosevelt in his first special message to congress today proposed that the government guarantee the principal of the $2,000,000 in bonds for refinancing farm mortgages.

Also, in a conference with Chairman Fahey of the home loan board he agreed that the $2,000,000,000 in home loan bonds should be treated on a basis of substantial equality as the farm mortgage bonds. A recommendation of methods of providing some form of government guarantee is now being prepared, but today's message did not deal with this.

The senate and house were acquainted with the brief message with the president's conviction that the government has the moral responsibility to guarantee these issues. He pointed out that the action recommended would put the bonds on par with treasury securities.

"It is true," he said, "that technically the responsibilities of the government will be increased by the amount of $2,000,000,000, but it seems in every way right that we thus publicly acknowledge what amounts already to a moral obligation."

"In any event, the securities to be offered are backed, not only by the credit of the government, but also by physical property of very definite value."

The democratic leadership of senate and house expressed no doubt that they would be able to get the legislation wanted. Bills to the end sought already were prepared, and action was to be asked without delay.

The administration farm credit measure would set up a corporation with $200,000,000 capital to administer the farm credit bonds.

Governor Movers of the farm credit administration would head the board of the government corporation.

Senate leaders expected to get from the president a second message this afternoon seeking ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty, but final arrangements remained to be made at the White House.

President's Ball Here Managed By Julian Barrett

Plans were going forward today for Pampa's President's Birthday ball to be given January 30 for the benefit of the Warm Springs Foundation.

The foundation is a Roosevelt-sponsored establishment to carry on the national battle against infantile paralysis.

Similar balls will be sponsored all over the country. Mr. Roosevelt will broadcast a special message to the audiences at 11:15 of that night. Julian Barrett has been appointed by Mayor W. A. Bratton to handle the local arrangements. Details will be announced soon.

HOUSE OKAYS LIQUOR BILL FOR CAPITAL

Texas Strenuously Oppose Bill But Are Defeated in Every Voting Test.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—Liberalized by the house through amendments, a bill to legalize liquor in the District of Columbia—passed by the house without a record vote—today was sent to the senate. It may be altered there.

Over protests of prohibitionists including Patman and Blanton, Texas democrats, stringent provisions they sponsored as members of the District of Columbia committee were eliminated.

Put forward as a modal for the states, the measure was liberalized at every turn. Patman's efforts to kill the bill by motion to amend it back to committee failed 90 to 48, and the Texas could not muster enough votes to force a roll call.

Previously the house had rejected 118 to 91 a proposal by Representative Smith (D., Va.) to set up a government dispensary instead of the licensing system as provided for in the bill.

The actual test came on a motion to strike out the enacting clause of the measure after Representative Johnson (D., Okla.), presiding, ruled out of order Smith's proposal as an amendment.

Among the liberalizing amendments adopted were: "To permit liquor to be drunk in the open, in automobiles or at certain public places."

"To permit liquor to be displayed on bars by motion picture theaters in certain areas prevent establishments from handling liquor for sale."

The measure sets up a board of liquor control of three. One must be a woman. They are to be appointed within 15 days of enactment, at which time the measure becomes effective.

Know Any Jokes Suited For Lions Minstrel Show?

Do you know any good, new jokes or gags?

If you do, the general production committee of the Lions club minstrel would like to have them. Any individual who submits a joke used in the minstrel will be awarded a complimentary reserved seat ticket to the performance. In addition, one submitting jokes which receive the greatest applause from the audience will be awarded a prize on each of the two nights of the show. Names of the winners will be announced at the time.

Those having jokes or gags should mail them not later than January 22 to John F. Sturgeon, 304 Combs-Worley building, or to the Joke Editor, Pampa Daily News.

CONFUSION OF IDEAS IN CONFUSED TIMES

Among the minor oddities of these changing times there is the fact that this Democratic administration is apt to see a stirring battle for states' rights carried on by Republicans.

The battle lines have formed already. "Local autonomy and state sovereignty must be restored," is the rallying-cry of the G. O. P. A big Chicago republican paper not long ago devoted a column-long front-page editorial to the task of proving that the Republicans really are the heirs of the Jeffersonian tradition in policies.

And if all of this seems slightly cockeyed, to one who takes his politics in the old-time manner, all that can be said is that these are cockeyed times, and that stranger things than Republican adherence to the doctrines of Thomas Jefferson will yet be seen.

As a matter of fact, this new potter about states' right conceals one of the fundamental problems of the moment.

The trend toward centralization of government has been speeded up enormously during the past few years—not from design, but through the logic of circumstances.

The federal government has had to do an almost infinite number of things that never before were considered the federal government's job—everything from putting men to work in the forests to lending money to railroads, from bolstering up banks to regulating the production of hogs. It has reached out tentacles that touch the life of the ordinary citizen at every point.

At the same time, the structure of local government has been crumbling. Cities have been unable to collect taxes, city services have been given up, policemen and teachers have gone unpaid, municipal bonds have gone into default—and the end is not yet in sight.

So we have, on the one hand, a vast extension of federal activities; and, on the other, a swift and steady shrinkage of local government. And while men prepare to fight for a revival of Jeffersonian principles, city officials go to Washington begging for even more help from the federal treasury.

Where all of this is going to end is one of the most puzzling issues of the day. It may be that the end of the emergency will find most of the traditional set-up re-establishing itself, more or less automatically. Or it may be that we shall have to admit that the old Jeffersonian concept of government no longer is applicable.

financially dispensed with the regular conferences. Mr. Rogovsky's conferences are in reality verbal tilts with keen-minded members of the press. Wiscracks fly back and forth. Activities of members of the governmental family are mentioned critically in a manner truly amazing compared with previous administrations, although of course names are mentioned only by inference in such cases.

There are those who await the verdict of the market place as the best evidence of the pecuniary weight and potency of what is taking place in Washington. In the words of Julian Barrett, local market prognosticator, "The market is wighing in the evidence, giving proper weight to the pecuniary weight of Messrs Morgan and Aldrich, of Professors Sprague and Irving Fisher, dead cats, balloon dollars alphabet soup, 16 to 1, rugged individualism, industrial democracy, conservatives, radicals, moderates, in due time it will emerge with an authoritative opinion, the bloodless verdict of the market place, and I wouldn't trade it for all the other information in the world." Hasty judgment of our president usually proves to be incorrect. He is a great man and if he sees fit to regulate my business for the common good I hope I will have the good grace to accept the sacrifice it may entail.

The power of advertising is seldom given all the credit it deserves. It is the great creator of wants—it is the greatest salesman. Thomas L. Williams had a second hand motorcycle he wished to sell. He inserted a little ad. No result. Most persons would have quit. He inserted another ad. No result. He inserted a third ad. Result: After spending $1.50 for advertising he sold the motorcycle and made a $10 profit on the deal. Williams now makes a mascara eyelash darkener product. He spends hundreds of thousands of dollars in ads—has made thousands of woe-worn conscious of eye-appeal. He is making big profits. There is a legitimate business—not a necessity, perhaps, but something which women, when they get it, greatly desire. Knowing the power of advertising, he is selling his product—as a profit. His customers in turn advertise their charm through eye-appeal.

Federal Building Worker Injured In 18-Foot Fall

R. Lutz, employe of the Stibbard Construction company fell 18 feet to the concrete floor of the new federal building yesterday afternoon. He was taken to Worley hospital, where it was learned he had a broken arm, broken wrist, and fractured knee-cap. The injured man was on a girder when his foot slipped, falling along the platform. He was resting well at the hospital this morning. The building is rapidly rising. The first section of the roof will be completed in a few days. Interior work will be starting soon.

Hobart Injured In Depot Fall

F. D. Hobart was unable to leave yesterday for Albuquerque, N. M., to attend the American National Cattlemen's association convention because of a chest injury received Saturday when he fell on the platform at the Santa Fe depot. Mr. Hobart was walking along the platform with a traveling bag in each hand when he stepped into a hoop used to hang trunks from the window of an engine as it arrived at the station. Mr. Hobart became unbalanced, falling on one of the beams. He was carrying a hat and his head and skinned one knee in the fall. Not knowing he was injured, except for the cuts, Mr. Hobart made plans to attend the convention where he was to be one of the speakers. Yesterday morning his chest bothered him and examination showed that a cartilage had been torn loose. He was ordered to bed.

BCD Chairmen at Work on Programs Of Current Year

Chairmen of B. C. D. committees began selection of their assistants at a meeting of the board last night. The complete list of committee personnel will be announced soon. Entertainment, highway, and intercommunity relations committees of the B. C. D. and Junior chamber of commerce will be among the first to complete their year's programs. Committees of the two organizations will meet together soon to coordinate their work. Early in February, a joint session of boards of the two groups and citizens generally will be held at a banquet. It is likely that an out-of-town speaker will be obtained for that occasion.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10. (AP)—The market continued steady most of the morning, due to fair trade buying and price-fixing by the mills. March traded up to 10.78, May to 10.93 and July to 11.09, or 5 to 6 points up net. The market was a shade easier on realizing by recent buyers, reaching 4 points from the high, with March at 10.74, May at 10.91 and July at 11.05, still one to two points above the previous close.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 10. (AP)—Something akin to buoyancy pervaded the grain markets today, with supply and demand conditions attracting enlarged notice, and buyers much more numerous than sellers. Reports of mills coming to terminal markets for supplies of wheat were a stimulating influence. The trade expected farm serve holdings of wheat to be officially reported this afternoon as around 100,000,000 but less than last year. Wheat closed firm 1 1/2-1 3/4 above yesterday's finish, corn 3/4-1/2 up, oats 1/2-3/4 advanced, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 7 cents.

INSANE WOMAN HELD PRISONER IN SQUALID LOFT TWO YEARS

BLOND GODDESS

New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

SYNOPSIS: Frank Grahame, while waiting to see the great Myberg, movie executive, about a Mexican picture, sees a disturbing shadow on the window of the office. He cuts his appointment, and finds footprints on the lawn outside his office. He watches a Juice Kent, movie star, drive away from the office in her car, and watches a second car follow it. On an impulse he orders a taxi to follow the two cars. The taxi driver loses them, but tells Grahame he believes he knows where they went.

THE FIGHT

Grahame shrugged slightly and relaxed. He took a newspaper from his overcoat pocket and read a line or two here and there. Street lights, flashing by, gave indifferent illumination.

There was a story about Langton who had crashed into a West Indian hurricane some months before. Some new theory, thought Grahame, that the famous flyer had not died in that storm. Poor Bill Langton. Why didn't they let his name alone? He was gone and that was the end of it.

Grahame began to feel impatient. The brief evening rain had passed, leaving the pavements with a treacherous sheen. Grahame stirred forward in his seat. He saw that they were swinging into the hairpin that is the juncture of Laurel and Hollywood boulevards.

The cab lost its footing upon the slick crown. It skidded for a sickening split second. The headlights glare swerved across stucco house-fronts, then flashed upon the lacquered surfaces of two cars at the farther curb.

Grahame dropped the newspaper he held in his lap. He clutched at the door handle. In that brief camera-snap glimpse Grahame saw that there had been an accident. Figures of men had been moving about the cars.

With a sense of shock he realized that one had been a black limousine and the other tan in color. He lifted his hand to rap on the panel. As he did so, the cab's rubber found traction. Brakes squealed. He jerked at the door handle.

He ran back toward the cars. One, he saw was a black and gold-trimmed limousine halfway on the sidewalk and against a hydrant. The tan nose of a nondescript car was against the sleek side of the other like a slug against ebony. A trail, yards behind it, showed where tires had slid over the pavement.

As he approached, Grahame's mind registered two facts. He would have sworn that he'd seen four figures outlined against the tan car—here were but two—a large man who lurched toward a little one.

Grahame's driver had turned his cab so that the headlights glowed upon the scene. The little man—a Japanese in dark uniform and cap—was retreating; the aggressor advanced with chin outthrust, and an arm drawn backward in a gesture unmistakable. A girl—Grahame's eyes widened at her beauty—leaned forward from the rear seat of the black and gold car. Her fingertips were pressed against her mouth.

"Hold on!" called Grahame.

The large man pivoted toward Grahame. Small eyes, set in a face heavy and sullen, blinked in the glare. The man's arm lashed forward. Grahame swerved his head, spoiled the aiming of the blow. He countered with a vicious right as swift and as sure as a falcon's drop. Knuckles slapped against bone. The big man's eyes went blank. He pitched toward Grahame, who stepped sideways to let him fall.

Grahame looked at the girl. Her eyes, he noticed, were blue and wide; her hair was the color of coiled gold.

He felt suddenly bareheaded and embarrassed, and looked for his hat. He found it, spotted and crushed, beneath the figure of the recumbent man. Pushing it into some semblance of its original shape, thoughtfully he surveyed it a moment, and placed it on his head.

He rubbed his right knuckles with the palm of his left hand. He cleared his throat. "Well—he began in a hoarse, husky voice, and the motor-cycles arrived.

The police kicked the stands behind the wheels, and approached. One of them opened a notebook. "Whoopie?" he suggested wearily. "Names, please. How'd happen. Is the man dead?"

Grahame explained. Once, while he talked, he looked toward the black car for confirmation, and saw that although the girl's face was hidden in the shadow, her head nodded briskly. He said nothing of having followed the cars from the studio, but began his statement at some time his headlights had flashed upon the two cars at the curb. "And so," he concluded, "I hit him."

The policeman looked thoughtfully at the slumbering stranger fully at the slumbering stranger back at Grahame, and said, "Uh-huh. What's your name?"

Grahame, F. A. Grahame.

The officer frowned and wet the tip of his pencil.

His companion, who had completed an inspection of the cars, interjected, "This is the guy who just came back from South America."

The book snapped shut. The girl allowed the light to fall upon her face, and leaned forward toward the men.

"Frank Grahame!" she exclaimed. "Oh, I knew you were someone important!"

"Hullo, Miss Kent," said the officer.

Grahame looked quickly at the girl. Of course he recognized her now. Janice Kent. Really, she was much more beautiful than his pictures showed her. He was conscious at once of two unreal thoughts: that photography was an inadequate art, and that hereafter there would be real satisfaction to write on official documents, "permanent residence: Hollywood."

He observed that the police had lifted the half-conscious man to the sidewalk and were shoving the tan car away from the black one.

"It's only your paintwork damaged," said the officer of the note-book to the Japanese. "Better take Miss Kent home now. We'll take care of him. He's the driver of the tan car who was leaning against the lamp-post surveying the scene with stupid eyes."

"Grahame... report at the precinct station... tomorrow will do. Send your driver down, too, Miss Kent."

"Would you mind seeing me home, Mr. Grahame?" asked the girl softly.

The man from the cab took the girl. Grahame extended his hand and walked toward his car. Grahame got in beside the girl. A few minutes later the car purrrred smoothly toward Beverly Hills.

The girl pressed her gloved fingers against Grahame's coat sleeve. "Thank you... very much," she said.

Tomorrow, Grahame finds a strange reticence in Janice Kent's behavior.

HOUSEKEEPER AND HUSBAND HELD IN JAIL

WOMAN WASTED AWAY TO 50 POUNDS, POLICE SAY

RIDGEFIELD PARK, N. J., Jan. 10. (AP)—Detectives strove today to piece together the strange story surrounding the imprisonment of a naked madwoman in a dirty, unheated, closet-like room over a stable on the old Barnes estate.

The woman, Mrs. Sophie Cerardi, 42, pronounced insane by a county physician, is receiving medical attention at the county hospital, Bergen Pines.

The two other characters of the strange tale, the two alleged jailers, Joseph Cerardi, 34, the woman's husband, and his housekeeper, Miss Mary Griffin, 35, were held under arrest in county jail on charges of false imprisonment, and authorities said there was a possibility of a second charge of abusing an insane person.

Much police interest centered on the husband, former middleweight pugilist, who they said was questioned in the Lindbergh kidnaping case after the body of the murdered Lindbergh baby was found near a shack where Cerardi stayed occasionally at Hopewell.

Sister Refused Entrance

Cerardi, also known as Gerardi, rented the 4-room apartment above the stable almost two years ago. Neighbors told police they saw his wife arrive with him and she was then apparently in good health. When police found her last night she had wasted away to 50 pounds.

When Cerardi was arrested last night, police said he acknowledged keeping his wife locked up, but denied mistreating her. He said he had taken her from a state institution where she had been committed as mentally unbalanced and was keeping her with him "for her own benefit."

Police entered the case at the request of Mrs. Cerardi's sister, Mrs. Loretta Regenstruf, of the Bronx, who complained that Cerardi had repeatedly refused to allow her to see her sister, and allegedly threatened "to bump her off" if she told anyone he kept her sister locked up.

Wife's Life Insured

Prosecutor Lieutenant Nathan Allyn said Mrs. Regenstruf had also informed him that Cerardi had insured his wife's life for $10,000. Allyn said this information would be investigated today to determine if it had any bearing on the case.

When police went to the barn, which is at the end of a winding lane behind a tall hedgerow, the housekeeper first refused them admission, relenting when they threatened to break down the door. They then prevailed upon her to surrender the key to the room in which Mrs. Cerardi was locked.

The door was opened, officers later reported, as they found Mrs. Cerardi huddled naked on the bed, gibbering wildly. Both windows in the cubicle had been boarded up, and the bed was the only article of furniture in the room. A soiled blanket was thrown across the bare, dirty mattress.

The woman was taken to a hospital and police waited several hours before Cerardi entered the apartment and was arrested, together with the housekeeper. They were questioned and committed to county jail. There Cerardi, who is known generally as Joseph, said his real first name was Carmell, and gave his occupation as a bootblack.

Speaks Seven Languages

Cerardi was Mrs. Cerardi's second husband, Police said. She was divorced from a New York lawyer named Joseph Moran, by whom she had one son, Charles, now 22. Charles lived with Cerardi in the flat over the stable police learned. The Cerardis married about eight years ago.

Police said they had learned Mrs. Cerardi had been mentally unbalanced before she came to the old stable and had received hospital treatment. One detective expressed the opinion that her mental condition might be traceable to the squalid conditions under which she had been living.

Mrs. Cerardi was described to police as a woman of intellectual attainments who could speak seven languages. When officers opened the door of her prison, she used four languages in her incoherent replies to their questioning.

"THIS IS THE YEAR"

HOUSTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Eduardo S. radella of Milan, prominent Italian cotton merchant, predicted white here on a business visit that "this year we will get out of the depression."

their needs. Once a professional knife-thrower stopped for two days while Bryant made heavy dirks to meet the showman's specifications.

The bulk of his business comes from hotels and butcher shops and from ranchers who, according to Bryant, are the most particular of all about their knives. He sometimes barters with the cattlemen, exchanging knives for baskets of horns which he uses for handles.

Bryant believes that a tempering compound, which he makes himself, shares with his craftsmanship in his success. He explained that a year's supply of the compound costs no more than $1.50 but he alone knows its contents.

When Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo returned to Washington recently he took one of Bryant's hunting knives to President Roosevelt, a gift of the maker. Its blades were rings of red, white and blue.

Pampa Veterans Seek Payments of Compensation

Attention of members of the Pampa Veterans of Foreign wars was called to an article by Congressman Ernest Lundeen of Minnesota by Howard A. Neath, commander, at a recent meeting of the local post.

In the article, Lundeen contended that "there is plenty of money in the country" for payment of adjusted service certificates. He based his argument on over-subscribing of federal treasury issues and foreign debt cancellations.

Lundeen was quoted further as follows:

"No one can vision George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, or any of our great leaders of the past taking economy while engaging in an orgy of public expenditure, throwing billions of money here, there, and everywhere, and at the same time stepping into the modest homes of the rank and file of our service men, cutting away the thin line of protection which stands between hundreds of thousands of our veterans, and the shadow of the poorhouse."

UNWELCOME GUESTS

GOLDFIELD, Colo., Jan. 10 (AP)—A family came to this little town, couldn't find a house and moved into the city hall. Goldfield has no acting city officials. In a petition to El Paso county authorities asking aid, 50 citizens asserted there was no one in authority to evict the tenants and that Goldfield's safety was jeopardized as the dwellers blocked the goers so that fire fighting apparatus cannot be reached.

Mrs. H. L. Ellsworth of Skellytown was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

Hitler Newspaper Warns Catholics In Church Fight

BERLIN, Jan. 10 (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's newspaper, the Volkischer Beobachter, sharply warned the Catholic clergy today against opposing the government.

The warning was issued at about the same time that Munich police took in protective custody a priest, Father Hartl, whose testimony resulted in the conviction of a colleague in a political trial.

It was explained that anonymous threats from "extremist Catholics" made it necessary to hold the priest. He was the chief witness against Father Joseph Rosenberg, head of the Frising seminary, who was sentenced January 2 to eight months in jail for utterances regarding the German Reichstag building fire.

During the night, the Rev. Joseph Steidle was arrested at Traunstein in Bavaria, for delivering an anti-Nazi sermon.

Mdivanis To Be Re-united in 2 Weeks in Japan

SEATTLE, Jan. 10. (AP)—"Honey-mooning" across the Pacific on separate ships, Prince Alexis, youngest of the "Marrying Mdivanis" and his heiress bride, the former Barbara Hutton, will be reunited in Japan a fortnight hence.

Far from the "troublesome demands of American law, the young Prince and Barbara will meet at Yokohama. There in the peace and quiet of the Orient, Alexis says, they'll spend "six months or more."

"I'm planning to sail this afternoon," he said, referring to the outgoing voyage of the Japanese liner Hikawa Maru at 4 p. m. "Barbara will go through with our original plans, leaving San Francisco tomorrow, on the Tatsuta Maru."

Married in his last days on the American continent by a Los Angeles process server, whom the Prince avoided by leaving his special railroad car at Reno three nights ago, and zig-zagging into the Pacific northwest, the Prince spent Tuesday evening reading Spanish language novels.

Asked if a reference to the "delicate condition" of his wife meant that he expected an heir, the Prince blushed.

"Oh, No. I don't mean that," he said, apparently much embarrassed. "I mean only that she is in the best of health."

Japanese Present Four Alibis For Crowning Pu-Yi

TOKYO, Jan. 9. (AP)—The Japanese government let it be known today that it considers the forthcoming enthronement of Henry Pu-Yi as emperor of Manchukuo a pledge to the world that Japan does not intend to annex the state it created out of Manchuria two years ago.

A foreign office spokesman said the government has four reasons for favoring the coronation.

These reasons, he said, were:

1. The Manchurian people wish Pu-Yi's enthronement.
2. The establishment of Pu-Yi as King will define the territorial limits of Manchukuo, express its sovereignty, and assure the Chinese that extension of its territory is not contemplated.
3. The coronation will lead to the restoration of peace and good government in Manchukuo.
4. Establishment of the monarchy "will be a pledge to the world that Japan has no intention of annexing Manchukuo."

Insull Refuses To Reveal Plans

ATHENS, Jan. 10 (AP)—Samuel Insull today refused to make known his plans for the future, pending a decision by the council of state on his appeal from the government's decision that he must leave Greece by January 31.

In regard to the discussed possibility of Insull fleeing to Turkey in his attempts to evade extradition to the United States, authoritative opinion here is that Turkish-American relations regarding the extradition of subjects, which are based on a pre-war convention, would have doubtful force should Insull reach Turkey.

American legation authorities here believe neighboring countries will deny Insull a visa.

FOUR FEDERATED CLUBS ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT SEASON

MRS. THUT IS ELECTED FROM EL PROGRESSO

SUPPORT OF THE CHILD WELFARE BOARD IS VOTED

EL PROGRESSO club members elected Mrs. Charles Thut, vice president, to head the organization next season. She will follow Mrs. W. Purviance in the office. The election was held yesterday when Mrs. W. M. Craven was hostess in the city club room.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar was chosen vice president, Mrs. W. R. Ewing secretary, Mrs. Craven treasurer, Mrs. John K. Sweet reporter, and Mrs. J. M. McDonald representative to the club council.

Mrs. Purviance reported on a recent meeting of the council, when formation of a child welfare board in the county was discussed. The club voted to support the council in sponsoring the movement.

Aims for the new year were also outlined by Mrs. Purviance. The program was directed by Mrs. Hunkapillar, who reviewed the book, "Marie Antoinette," by Stefan Zweig. Mrs. George Walstad presented the historical background, and Mrs. McDonald the life of the author.

NATIONAL STUDY COURSE WILL BE LAUNCHED SOON, SPONSORED BY PARENT-TEACHER COUNCIL

Sued by Uncle

Record Book Is To Be Kept By The Council

A national correspondence course for local Parent-Teacher units will be sponsored by the Pampa Council of Parents and Teachers. It was decided at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

Anyone interested may join this study group, which will be started soon. The definite date is yet to be announced. One of the following courses will be taken up:

Leadership courses: Organization and work of a local P.-T. A. for leaders and potential leaders. B. Local P.-T. A. committee work and its relation to state and national committees. C. Parliamentary procedure, its value and use to P.-T. A. leaders and members.

Each course consists of 10 lessons, and is based on the national handbook.

County Delegates to the county council next year as follows: Mrs. H. G. Myers, Sam Houston; Mrs. J. D. Lysons, Horace Mann; Mrs. S. C. Evans, Woodrow Wilson; Mrs. O. E. Palmer, high school; Mrs. Roy Hosh, Baker; Mrs. J. C. Brown, Merten; Mrs. J. M. Daugherty, Hoover; Mrs. John Hesse, Junior high.

Publicity record books were on display; publicity directors from various associations were present to discuss their work for this year, and plans were made to compile the first city council record book with Mrs. O. E. Palmer in charge.

Books on display: "The Duke of Westminster," one of England's wealthiest peers, is bringing against his pretty niece, Lady Sibell Lyon, above, and the London magazine for which she writes. A Socialist, Lady Sibell criticized her uncle for spending money lavishly in France.

JUNIOR STUDY CLUB CHOOSES MRS. BOURLAND

CLINIC COMMITTEES FOR THE MONTH ARE NAMED

MRS. BOY BOURLAND, vice president of the Junior Twentieth Century club, was chosen president for next year to succeed Miss Margaret Buckler, when the club met yesterday with Mrs. Julian Barrett.

Mrs. R. F. Dirksen will be vice president, Mrs. M. G. Oyster recording secretary, Mrs. Roy Wight corresponding secretary, Miss Ruth Ann Mitchell, treasurer, Mrs. Dick Walker parliamentary, and Miss Miss Virginia Faulkner reporter. They will take office next fall.

Cooperation with the council of clubs in efforts to organize a child welfare board in the county was voted by the club. Committees to serve at the child clinic which the club is conducting in cooperation with the Red Cross were named for the next month. Mrs. Dick Walker will be in charge in February.

Mrs. Frank Perry was leader of the program on fiction. She had chosen "As the Earth Turns," by Gladys Carroll, as the book for discussion, and presented an interesting review of the story and a brief sketch of the author's life.

George J. Kurtz of Groom transacted business here this morning.

Asks For Title

A divorce decree that would make her a princess again is sought by Mrs. Bertha Smith, above, great-granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant, suing Bruce Smith, son of a Louisville, Ky., manufacturer. She charges cruelty and asks restoration of her maiden name, Princess Bertha Cantauzeine. The Smiths' marriage in 1925 was a dazzling social event in Washington.

MRS. LEWIS IS 20TH CENTURY CULTURE HEAD

ART PROGRAM PLANNED FOR THIS YEAR

MRS. MARVIN LEWIS was elected president of the Twentieth Century Culture Club for next season; when the annual election was conducted yesterday afternoon. She is at present serving as vice president under Mrs. Carl Boston.

Mrs. E. M. Conley was named vice president, Mrs. Ralph Dunbar secretary, Miss Mabel Davis treasurer, Mrs. Ben Ferris, parliamentary, Mrs. K. L. Dunn reporter, and Mrs. Clyde Gold representative to the club council.

These women will take office at the close of this club season next spring, and begin their term in the fall.

Plans for promoting interest in art in the public schools were outlined in the business session. Mrs. O. H. Booth, member of the club who was recently appointed chairman of public school art for seventh district federated clubs, is offering a prize to the grade school sending the best art collection this year.

She is asking each club in the district to cooperate with the schools in this project. The prize collection must include six pieces, including pencil sketch, charcoal, pen and ink, water color, oil painting, and poster. The collection winning the $5 award will be displayed at the district convention in Amarillo in April.

The club voted to "adopt" Sam Houston school for its special interest in art work. Mrs. L. L. McCole, Mrs. Booth, and Mrs. R. S. Lawrence form the committee to represent the club. Art teachers of the city will be asked to cooperate.

Favors Wearer Board. Mrs. Ferris, council representative, reported on the last meeting and the club voted to cooperate with the council in a plan to secure a county child welfare board.

Mrs. Booth was hostess to the club and the parliamentary program. She discussed methods of electing officers, using Shattuck's manual of parliamentary rules.

A dessert course was served to close the meeting. Only Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Davis, and Mrs. McCole were absent. Mrs. J. E. Cunningham was elected as a new member, replacing Mrs. Ernest Medkief, who is leaving Pampa.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Lewis, with Mrs. Cunningham as leader at the program series on Texas is resumed.

PROGRAMS FOR PTA MEETINGS ARE ANNOUNCED

Speakers and Music Scheduled 'On Each

Programs and speakers for three Parent-Teacher associations have been announced for Thursday afternoon. Merten, Woodrow Wilson, and Horace Mann associations will have programs, each at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster is scheduled to speak at Merten with Thrift as his topic. Numbers by Woodrow Wilson band members, and readings by Clyde E. Riley will be entertainment features.

Two speakers are scheduled at Woodrow Wilson. Mrs. J. A. Meek will discuss "Character Development Through Spiritual Life," and Olin E. Hinkle will speak on Thrift.

Band numbers and a song by Jean Ward will be given. Betty Sue Price will express the thanks of the school for recent contributions of the association.

Mrs. Meek will repeat her talk at Horace Mann school. Mrs. T. B. Rogers is leader of the program there. The invocation will be given by the Rev. A. A. Hyde.

The high school glee club will entertain, and a piano solo by Marcine McClements will also be heard. A short business session will follow the program.

NEW GROUP TO DIRECT 20TH CENTURY CLUB

MRS. R. E. FISHER IS TO BE PRESIDENT NEXT YEAR

MRS. R. E. FISHER is to be president of the Twentieth Century club in 1934-35, as the result of an election held yesterday. Mrs. W. R. Campbell is holder of that office now.

Mrs. Edwin S. Vicars will succeed Mrs. Fisher as vice president; Mrs. John Sturgeon will be secretary. Mrs. Paul Kasinhe treasurer, Mrs. Otto student reporter, Mrs. A. H. Doucette parliamentary, and Mrs. Clifford Braly representative to the club council.

The election was conducted at the home of Mrs. Fisher yesterday afternoon. Mrs. B. C. Low was received as a new member.

Mrs. F. M. Culberson was leader of a program on safety. Roll call was answered with general safety morals. Mrs. Culberson spoke on safeguards in the home, Mrs. A. W. Sawyer on public safety, and Mrs. Lee Harrah on fire prevention.

New officers of the club will assume their posts next fall.

C. E. Herndon of Panhandle was in Pampa last night.

Pampa to Join In President's Birthday Ball

Dancers of Nation Will Aid Fund for Cripples

Dancers here will join in the president's birthday ball which will be observed over the nation on Jan. 30, 52nd birthday of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The birthday ball is planned to benefit the Warm Springs, Ga. foundation for crippled children, in which the president is interested. Dances will be given in hundreds of American cities, proceeds going to this foundation.

A radio broadcast will feature a short talk by the president, and dance music from the capital. Part of the dancing will be to this music.

Mayer W. A. Bratton has appointed Julian Barrett to superintend arrangements for the ball in Pampa, and expects to have definite arrangements made within a few days.

Mrs. Tracy Cary Acts As Hostess To Child League

A Study of Habits Proved Interesting to Members of the Pampa Circle

A study of habits proved interesting to members of the Pampa circle, Child Conservation League, when they met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Tracy Cary.

Mrs. M. B. Lafferty read a paper on Awakening of the Senses, and Mrs. A. L. Patrick discussed the notes. A round table discussion followed Mrs. C. P. Callison's paper on Does Fear of Punishment Prevent Bad Habits?

Mrs. J. T. Morrow gave a reading, Better Than Slaying a Dragon, by Schiller. Mrs. Owen Johnson presented a paper, Faith, and Mrs. C. C. Cockerill gave the notes. Mrs. Cary had as her topic, Opening the Mind of the Child, with notes by Mrs. Callison.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Morrow.

Members present, in addition to those on program, were Mmes. Clyde Oswald, I. H. Goodman, R. D. Norris, Weldon Wilson, Earle Scheig.

CHURCH OFFICERS CHOSEN AND REPORTS OF PROGRESS HEARD AT SUPPER AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

After enjoying an old-time "chuck wagon" feed, 350 members and friends of the First Christian church heard reports of substantial progress in all parts of the church's work.

After enjoying an old-time "chuck wagon" feed, 350 members and friends of the First Christian church heard reports of substantial progress in all parts of the church's work at the annual meeting of the congregation Tuesday night.

By ballot the elders and deacons of the church for the year 1934 were selected. Sunday morning, January 7th, four men who have been elders in the church for many years, H. E. Lovett, H. L. Ledrick, H. L. Lippold, C. M. Masters, were elected to elders in this church for life. At the Tuesday night meeting, Charles L. Thomas, Roy McMillen, Charles W. Stowell and Paul Hill were elected to be the other elders.

Deacons elected were W. G. Kinzer, Ramon Wilson, Ivy Duncan, C. E. Hutchins, J. L. Lester, J. B. Townsend, W. B. Frost, Hugh Isbell, Mel Davis, Chris Martin, E. A. Records, and C. E. Hutchins. This year the number of officers was cut from 44 to 20 for the sake of efficiency.

W. G. Kinzer, Lee Ledrick, Charles Thomas, J. G. Galtz, Sun Thomas, Ivy Duncan, Paul Hill and Chris Martin got the "feed" ready last night and served it. Home made pies were provided by the ladies of the church.

Program and Reports. Charles Frost sang two solos and Miss Dorothy Meers played two violin numbers. Mrs. John Mullen entertained the smaller children with story telling while the others were hearing the reports.

221 new members were added to the church during 1933, 109 of these came during the Vawter meeting last summer and 112 came at the Sunday services. 82 members were lost by removal, perversion or death, making the net gain 139.

The Sunday school had increased its average attendance from 256 in 1932 to 362 in 1933, a gain of 106.

Members present for the social were Mrs. R. E. Fisher, Mrs. John Cunningham, Mrs. Wilfred Stuckler, Mrs. R. E. Koerner, Miss Hermine Stover, Miss Fannie May, and Mrs. O'Keefe.

ISTANBUL, Jan. 10 (AP)—High Turkish government officials in Istanbul, discussing today the possibility that Samuel Insull might attempt to seek a refuge in Turkey, said that if he sought to enter this country without a passport he would be refused admittance and sent back by the same route by which he came.

ELEVEN-PIECE BAND TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

A dance orchestra which has played for dances in hundreds of halls in the middlewest, and south will furnish the music for a dance at the Ple-Mor tonight when Ralph Emerson plays a return engagement here. This popular band has been brought back at the request of many who enjoyed the music at a previous dance.

The eleven members of the band are known as artists in every way and provide much entertainment during the evening. This is the best orchestra now playing in this part of the country.

A large crowd is expected tonight and plans are being made to care for all. Admission will be 25 cents with a charge of 5 cents per dance. Come, you will enjoy every minute. (Adv.)

FIFTH AVENUE FASHIONS

Dotted Swiss Goes to Youthful Parties

Inexpensive materials make just as pretty party frocks for the junior as more costly fabrics—and often they're in much better taste. What could be more charmingly appropriate for a child's party, or for dancing class than this simple little frock in Allice blue dotted swiss with double collar and crisp under-the-chin bow of sheer white organdy? Yet it costs so little to make!

The dainty frock sketched requires very little material for the little sleeveless bodice and flared skirt. Choose your colors carefully—they provide half the charm. Pastel pinks, blues or yellows are lovely. If it's to be a graduation frock, this would be perfect in white. Size 12 requires 2 3/4 yards 36-inch material, 1 1/2 yard 36-inch contrasting. See the new Winter Fashion Book for other Easy-to-Make models for girls and juniors.

Pattern No. 5428 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 years.

AMATEUR ATHLETIC TEAMS TO COMPETE ABROAD THIS YEAR

Americans To Begin Preparing for Olympic Games in 1936

BY AVERY BRUNDAGE, President, Amateur Athletic Union; President, American Olympic Association.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Amateur athletics give prospect of booming in the United States in 1934.

This is because the year marks the beginning of preparations for the Olympic games of 1936 to be held in Germany. Also because American teams have been invited to compete in various nations this year.

Friendly international relations prevailing in amateur sport and the respect for American methods and competitors existing abroad is demonstrated by the fact that the A. A. U. has, at this time, invitations to send a track team to Japan, an ice hockey team to England, a track team to Sweden, and a swimming team to Japan. In addition, it is expected the winners of the 1933 A. A. U. women's basketball crown will visit England for the international championships.

Then, too, the Olympic committee, at a meeting in February, will arrange for tryouts for the eleventh olympiad, select coaches and managers and recommend the members of the team to represent the United States.

Despite the unbalanced economic conditions, there was no diminution of interest in amateur athletics in 1933. Over 50,000 registered athletes competed in sanctioned open events and hundreds of thousands participated in novice and closed events under the auspices of the A. A. U. and its allied bodies.

Because of the Century of Progress, Chicago became the sports capital of the country last year. The A. A. U. was called upon to arrange the most ambitious sports program ever attempted. More than 40 national championships were conducted and over 150 separate competitions were held in practically every sport.

KID HOWARD'S TRAINING GYM CLOSES DOORS

BOXING FANS WANT TO WATCH AMATEUR FIGHTING

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—The key in the lock turned and Kid Howard's gymnasium, for 25 years a famous training establishment for heroes of the prize ring, closed its doors today.

Lack of public interest in professional boxing was responsible, Howard, who has seen champions come and go, believes that professional boxing is dying and that it will be supplanted by the amateurs.

"And it will be just too bad," Howard said. "Himself a former featherweight, Howard believes he knows whereof he speaks."

"Boxing is a sport for men and not young boys," he explained. "The result, in my judgment, will be distressing if they allow young boys to engage in the game. The results of early training and abuses in the ring will bring about mental, perhaps physical, injuries if there is not close supervision over their conditioning and their performances in the ring."

In the heyday of ring prosperity, Kid Howard's establishment was the training quarters for Freddie Welsh, Jack Dempsey, Jess Willard, Benny Leonard, Kid Herman, Jimmy Wild, Gene Tunney, Harry Greb, and in fact every outstanding fighter of the gay. While these ring heroes went through their paces, the public was admitted at 25 cents a head. In the last couple of years, however, the gymnasium crowds dwindled and finally fell off until it was no longer profitable for Howard to keep open.

"The sport is dying," he said, "and it will be just too bad." There are not enough good boxers or good attractions left. I can see no future for the sport. There are more clubs and more stadiums in the country with no outstanding boxers to fill them or even come close. Why, in the last two years, with an exception of three or four outstanding contests, no professional bout in Chicago has drawn more than a thousand dollars. Think that over. Meanwhile, the amateurs have drawn anywhere from twenty to forty thousand."

Howard recalled that Dempsey at the height of his career, drew 30,000 spectators to his establishment just to see the former heavyweight champion go through his paces. Big Jess Willard, Sam Langford, Gene Tunney, Benny Leonard, and others were correspondingly as popular, but those good-old days have passed, Howard believes.

So today his training establishment is like a morgue with no talk of the punching bag resounding through the place, no swish of a boxing glove landing on a sparring partner's chin.

At a meeting of the county and local committees at the Sitter Furniture store in McLean, the Gray County Cotton Control association was recently organized and plans for launching the campaign in the county were discussed with County Agent, Ralph Thomas.

It was decided at this meeting that it would not be necessary to hold any more meetings in the county, but to start at once to have producers fill out and sign contracts for 1934-35 cotton reduction.

An office will be maintained at the city secretary's office in McLean, where J. S. Howard and J. R. Phillips will make out contracts, with L. L. Palmer at Eldridge, W. A. Back at Back, and Melvin Roberts at Laketon to make out contracts in their respective farm homes.

Contracts will also be made out at the county agent's office in Pampa. Under the contracts, the government agrees to pay to the farmers who reduce their acreage from 35 per cent to 45 per cent, 3 1/2 cents per pound on the actual average production in the base years of the land taken out of production and rented to the secretary of agriculture. This rental payment will be made in two equal installments, the first to be made between March 1 and April 31, the second to be made between August 1 and September 30. In addition to this, a payment of not less than one cent per pound on the farm allotment, which is 40 per cent of the average production, will be made between December 1 and January 1.

Any producer who is an owner, landlord, cash tenant, or managing share tenant and who operates or controls a cotton farm may enter into the cotton acreage reduction plan. Provided, in either of the two cases above, the reduction shall not be less than two (2) acres, and provided further that, on land planted to cotton for any of the periods specified, the average production shall not be less than one hundred (100) pounds of lint per acre.

In every case it is up to the landlord and tenant to decide the status of the share tenant.

PAMPA GIRLS LOSE GAME TO MIAMI SQUAWS

AMARILLOANS WILL BE HARD TO BEAT ON FRIDAY NIGHT

The Harvestettes lost a slow, rough contest in Miami last night. The final score was 26 to 19 in favor of the Squaws. The Harvestettes were penalized with 15 fouls, while the Miami girls committed 19 fouls.

Daisy Ann Shields was high scorer for the Pampa team, which failed to show its improved passing and dribbling. The team looked good against LeFors Monday afternoon, but the girls were unable to get going against their heavier opponents last night.

The Harvestettes were scheduled to go to Amarillo Friday night with the Harvesters, but the game was cancelled. They will play Hedley here Saturday night in a double-header game. The girls' game will be called at 7:30 o'clock and the boys' contest will follow. Admission will be 25 cents for the public and 15 cents for students.

It will be an improved Harvest aggregation that will face Hedley. Coach Mitchell has been working his boys hard and long. Their handling of the ball has improved and they are hitting the hoop, often. The substitutes are also showing marked improvement; and it should not be long before they are able to be inserted into the game without weakening the attack or defense.

Amarillo is scheduled to be tough. The Sandies have lost only to Athens this year. Coach Lynch has a veteran team, even without the great J. R. Corbett. The team has been functioning smoothly, and the Harvesters without Captain Miles Marbaugh are doing to be in trouble from the first whistle.

Amarillo will play a return game in Pampa Jan. 19. It is expected that Captain Marbaugh will be again on the team and that Elmer Irving, convalescing from pneumonia, will also be ready.

BILL TILDEN FAVORED TO CRUSH VINES

Old Master and Californian To Play Tonight Before Crowd of 16,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines will make his professional tennis debut in Madison Square Garden tonight against Big Bill Tilden with the odds favoring Philadelphia's "old master" at 2 to 1.

Promoters said the advance sale had reached $28,000 with prospects of a sell-out and gross receipts of $36,000. A capacity crowd of 16,000 would set a new record for attendance at any American tennis match, indoors or out, amateur or professional.

Although Tilden is 41 years old, expert opinion all leans heavily in his favor. They concede the 22-year-old Vines a big advantage in stamina and admit the blinding speed of his game, but still pick Tilden to win.

Critics who watched Tilden waltz through to win the American professional indoor title at Philadelphia recently say he never has played more brilliantly.

Vines, on the other hand, will be playing under conditions with which he is comparatively unfamiliar. He has had little experience in indoor play. Nor has the young Californian been nearly so impressive in practice as his rival.

The match, best three-of-five sets, headlines a program which also includes a singles encounter between Vincent Richards and Bruce Barnes and a doubles contest between the Tilden-Barnes and Vines-Richards combinations.

Believe 6 M. E. Missionaries In Danger In China

FOOCHOW, China, Jan. 10 (AP)—Grave fears were held today for the safety of six American Methodist Episcopal missionaries, isolated in the fighting zone of rebellious Fukien province, who have not been heard from for 10 days.

All of the missionaries, whose headquarters are in New York, were caught in the Min river valley fighting area around the town of Kuitien. Since then, communication lines have been severed and all efforts to get in touch with them have been fruitless.

Kuitien is the site of a Methodist Episcopal mission and also a leper station, but Ralph E. Diftendorfer, corresponding secretary with the office in New York, said he was unable to say who the missing six are.

HELIUM PLANT NEAR AMARILLO MENACED BY LACK OF FUNDS

BY GILMORE N. NUNN. WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Representative Marvin Jones said today that he would appear before a subcommittee on appropriations within the next few days to urge a definite allotment in behalf of the government-helium plant at Amarillo. A study of the budget revealed that unless some appropriation is secured under what is known as "Helium Investigation," the plant's operation would be seriously handicapped next year.

If this particular item is not kept in the bureau of mines budget this year, it is feared that even the minimum day operations of the plant will be impaired. If not entirely stopped, the future chances of getting this appropriation would be very slim. The bureau of mines originally had two sources for funds with which to further helium activities. One through which land was bought and buildings were erected, the other for research work. The unexpended reserve funds which came through the first channel will not be available this year, and through the research item, it has been materially reduced each year until this year's budget shows that appropriation whatever along this line. Unless this item is reinstated, or definite amounts are received from funds allocated to the Army and Navy for helium activities, the outlook for the Amarillo plant is not very bright.

Appropriations for helium investigations during the fiscal year ending June, 1932, were $74,760; ending June, 1933, $50,000; for the year ending next June, only $29,000. For actual operation expenses, the plant received none of the Navy's. The entire amount appropriated to the Army and Navy for helium activity under the new budget is but around $110,000, and there is to be no appropriation of unexpended funds from these departments this coming year, consequently unless some is made available through the "Investigation" item for research, it is doubtful whether the plant can continue to operate on a worthwhile basis.

The technical background for this whole helium development has been provided by a highly specialized staff of men paid from the "Helium Investigation" appropriation. At the time the bureau of mines took over this work in Amarillo, in 1925, the average net operating outlay was $34 per thousand cubic feet of helium produced. Now it is costing less than $9 per thousand.

In less than five years, the Amarillo plant has produced nearly one-half of all this non-inflammable gas ever recovered in the world, or around 50,000,000 cubic feet. This has accomplished a saving of at least $1,375,000, besides $150,000 which the government received from the sale of natural gas from which the helium was extracted. The government's investment is approximately $2,000,000, thus the saving is nearly 70 per cent of the investment—at a time when the properties have just begun to really produce. To date the depletion of the government's gas reserves is only about two per cent, insuring a reserve for many years to come.

Unless the helium investigation appropriation is made possible, what with the uncertainties of transfers from the war and navy department, it is not at all unlikely that the bureau of mines will have a $2,000,000 investment on its hands, with no money to care for it, and without even so much as a nucleus of a crew to resume operations at some future time.

CIGARET PRICES UPPED NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—The wholesale price of popular brands of cigarettes was advanced 60 cents a thousand to $6.10 a thousand by leading manufacturers Tuesday. It was understood in the trade that the jump was due to increased costs incident to the NRA code and various processing taxes.

FAMOUS 19TH ROUTE TROOPS TURN REBELS

FIGHTING AGAINST MAN THEY BATTLED FOR AT SHANGHAI

By The Associated Press. The most famous fighting unit in all China—the 19th route army which defended Shanghai from the Japanese in 1932—has turned rebel. The 19th is fighting fiercely in Fukien province against the combined forces of General Chiang Kai-Shek, for whom they battled just as fiercely two years ago.

Originally, the 19th was a Cantonese outfit. It received its name from the fact that it was given a certain territory or "route" to defend. During Japanese hostilities, it was hurled into the main defense task and stood the brunt of the battle of Shanghai.

Now it fights under the same leader, General Tsai Ting-Kai—a slender, nonchalant and youthful man who looks more like a poet than a soldier. This unusual general's hands are slender and his fingers taper. He is mild-mannered and soft-voiced. He is a scholar of the Chinese class.

Yet, with indefatigable spirit and strict training methods, he has made the 19th route army what is generally recognized as the best fighting unit China ever had.

SCOUT NEWS Troop No. 18 The regular monthly meeting of Troop Leaders was held in the Phillips district office the past week with the following patrol leaders present—John Mackie, Wolves; J. L. Jones, S. O. S.; Laverne Courson, Rattlesnakes and Claude Johnson of the Bears, together with their assistants Billy Cotton, Eliza Hufaker and Fay Savage. Scoutmaster John Shannon; S. P. L. Everett, Vanderburg and the Troop Scribe Elzey Venderburg were also present.

It was reported that the fence to be built around our Scout hall has never been finished, and it was decided at this meeting to set more posts, drill holes in them and string old drilling cable for fence, and then whitewash. It was decided to finish this work before the last of February, and also to buy trees and set out around the hall, one for each patrol, in February.

A check up was taken on all patrols to see what was being done toward our Art Booth display next spring. It was found we already have all qualifications on this Merit Badge completed with quite a bit of additional work. The boys have also completed a good many projects for display in a Scoutcraft booth.

Dime You Don't

The name's probably familiar, but maybe you don't recall the face. Well, it's S. S. Kresge, five-and-ten-cent store magnate and dry apostle, who's not often photographed, shown in an informal snapshot at his home in Miami Beach. Kresge is 66.

Equipoise Will Race in Spring

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 10 (AP)—Equipoise, the little giant of the turf, is growing a new hoof in preparation for another assault on the money-winning record of $736,744 held by Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Beau.

The C. V. Whitney handicap champion, winner of $322,970, will return to the racing ways this spring and summer, providing his training does not again injure his foot. Equipoise raced with practically a lame leg for the past two seasons, yet was able to defeat almost every horse that ran against him. Most of his hoof was cut away recently in an effort to clear up the trouble, but it is growing again, and his handlers expect him to be ready for training early in the spring.

It was first planned to retire Equipoise to the stud, but Trainer T. J. Healey says Whitney has decided to give Ekky another chance to eclipse Sun Beau's record. Meanwhile the little chestnut is wallowing in the mud on the Whitney farm, thoroughly enjoying himself.

CUPID'S CUPIDITY? CAMDEN, N. J.—It was quite an inspiration, that second marriage of Harry Adams, Cape May, N. J. Haled into chancery court on charges of being $262 in arrears on his alimony to his first wife, Adams was asked by the master, "If you couldn't afford to pay the support order of your first wife, how could you afford to marry a second time?" "Sure, it was, Judge," was the reply. "I married my bookkeeper. I had to pay her anyhow and I figured I might as well keep it in the family."

The only stipulation to this is that those who play must be registered Scouts of that troop and have at least six months active membership in the troop. They also ask that challenges in Scoutcraft be given them two weeks in advance for acceptance.—Elzey Venderburg, troop scribe.

Texas Officials Want Ohio State Man For Mentor

AUSTIN, Jan. 10. (AP)—Prof. W. M. Metzenthin, chairman of the athletic council at the University of Texas, today was hopeful against what he considered long odds that Sam William, head football coach at Ohio State university, would come to Texas to discuss the position of head grid mentor at the Lone Star school.

Prof. Metzenthin said unequivocally he would cast his vote for William if the Buckeye coach gave the word that the position would be acceptable. A belief that the other members of the athletic council would find William highly acceptable also was expressed by Prof. Metzenthin.

Prof. Metzenthin conferred by long distance telephone with William yesterday. He showed interest in the Texas proposition and was giving it consideration. William will give the council his decision tomorrow, Metzenthin said. He was not enthusiastic about the salary offer.

Marty Karow, former Ohio state star, now is backfield coach at Texas. Several prospects have been extended invitations to come to Austin to meet the athletic council if they think they can sell themselves to the council. The number includes Lake Russell of Mercer and Rabbit Bradshaw, assistant coach at Stanford.

World's Fair Stage Revue Is Now at La Nora

LaNora theatre this afternoon was to present on the stage the Century of Progress revue, which will give two performances tonight and three tomorrow.

Thirty minutes of stage entertainment will be presented by these entertainers. The Century of Progress revue features the sensational uncensored world's fair dance as interpreted by Miss Bobby Young and her famous fans—with Don Pablo's Victor recording "rhumba" band.

The fans that are used by Miss Young in performing her dance are insured for $1,000. Although Miss Young was able to secure insurance on her fans, she was unable to secure health benefit insurance on herself because of her exposure to varying stage temperatures.

The Carlton brothers, Bob and Carl will do a novel number called the "Chain Dance." In this dance, they are chained together and the dance has created unusual comment wherever seen. A real torch singer is to be presented in Miss Louise Kay, a wonderful crooner in Norman Hart, and a real "rhumba" band in Don Pablo and his Victor recording band.

The Century of Progress revue appears in matinee and night performances, Wednesday and Thursday.

Slim Waists and Curves Stressed In Spring Styles

BY MARY E. FLUMMER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—New light on the spring silhouette was cast today by a leading New York dressmaker.

This designer, Nettie Rosenstein, describes it as a "slimming," figure-fitting silhouette with inconspicuous waistline and interest all at the top.

This top interest adds to the appearance of height. It will be a cesser of subtle changes—not startling differences. The waist must be small. In fact, to look her best in the new spring gowns, a woman must have a natural figure—slender, but with curves. No flat chests.

It was this designer who made the first cow-neck in this country, Paris discovered it later. She also was the first to use big sleeves in the summer of 1931.

Suits for Spring. The coming spring will be a great dressmaker suit season, she believes. Dresses with jackets giving a suit effect are in her spring collection. The dresses are light-weight wool with matching gloves; and the jackets, leather belted, are of a contrasting color. One costume is of a loosely woven cotton that looks like tweed.

Her evening gowns have a long, patrician line, and are of sumptuous fabrics, many of them created for her by a French silk house. She molds gowns to the figure by cutting and reselling a trial dress until the lines are perfect.

She likes back skirt treatment—a cascaded, bustle effect that ends in a train. One of her favorite new fabrics is lorganzette—a soft, fleeced organza. One gown is of this fabric in a rosy uelha color. It has cascading skirt frills and an off-the-shoulder line. Several new dresses, one with long, detachable sleeves, are in the spring group.

Child Study Club Has Program On The Modern Home

The Modern Home was the subject for a program of the Child Study club yesterday. The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Horace McBee. Roll call was answered with contrasts in past and present home life.

Mrs. Sherman Roberts urged closer contact between home and church as a means of making the home better. "Homes where parents are contented and the atmosphere is happy are akin to the heavenly home," she said.

Means of making home attractive to the child were discussed by Mrs. Robert Gilchrist. Good rules help to train the child, but good models are infinitely better, she said. A child's success should be measured by juvenile, rather than adult, standards, her talk stressed.

An amusing but thought-provoking article, "Why Be a Parent?" by Elizabeth Cook, was presented by Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Gilchrist, Lee Harrah, John Hesse, A. A. Kelley, J. A. Meek, Frank McAfee, Messrs. Roger McConnell, James Patterson, Roberts, T. G. Shaw, Rufus Thompson, H. R. Thompson, Thomas, Roy Tinsley.

HONK, HONK, THE COPS! PHILADELPHIA—Experience has shown a special police raiding squad that there is nothing like horning one's way into an alleged gambling den. Seeking to enter a suspended establishment over an automobile accessory store, one of the policemen went into the store and asked to be shown some automobile horns. "Twelve were rigged up on a rack outdoors" to hear how they sounded," and the officer blew all twelve at once.

Fidelis Class to Work on Standard

Reports for the past month were heard, and plans were made for publicity in a national Sunday school magazine when the Fidelis class of First Baptist church conducted its business meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Bernice Larsh.

Misses Loma Groom and Margaret Jones were assisting hostesses. Group captains reported 57 visits, 40 phone calls, and 33 cards sent last month. A list of prospective members was read, and members were asked to invite them to join the class and help maintain the standard of excellence that has been held for six months.

Because the class has achieved this standard, it has been asked by the Young People's and Adults' magazine of Nashville, Tenn., to send a story of class activities and a picture of members for publication. The picture will be taken on the first suitable Sunday.

Refreshments were served after the business session to Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, teacher, and Misses Zenobia McFarlin, Edna Ballard, Evelyn McDonald, Ruth Henry, Mildred Overall, Opal Cox, Lois Stallings, Neva Burjan, Josephine Cariker, Flo Perry, and the hostesses.

In the absence of the president, Miss McFarlin presided.

ANOTHER M. E. 'ROUNDUP' DUE THIS EVENING

LUNCHEON, STUDY AND SINGING TO PRECEDE MEETINGS

All of the week's activities will be rolled into one at the Methodist church this evening when the weekly church night gathering will be held.

Supper will be served family style beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the church basement. The choir will practice after the program which will follow the luncheon.

Study of St. Mark's life of Christ will be conducted by the Rev. Gaston Foote. The first discussion of this course was held last week. Mrs. Foote will conduct a department for young people. Singing from motion picture slides is also on the program.

Church officials are expecting over 100 to attend the "round up" this evening. All the stewards of the church, members of the choir, teachers, and church members and friends of the church have been "pointedly" invited to attend the get-together. Rev. Foote said. The stewards will meet after the dinner. Members have been asked to bring a "covered dish," or food prepared for this evening's meal.

STAVES EXPORTED

BEAUMONT, Jan. 10 (AP)—Repeal of the 18th amendment is credited with responsibility for the largest shipment in the past year of oak staves from Beaumont for use in the manufacture of wine containers in foreign countries. The French steamer Mont Everest arrived new year's day at the city docks to load 1,000 tons of the staves for Algiers, Oran and Cete, and possibly French ports.
