BACKSTAGE IN WASHINGTON

By GILMORE N. NUNN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—There was a little excitement out on the hill—that is, excitement for the visitors in the senate gallery.

The senators themselves it was just a little amusement, and an opportunity to completely rest their minds from legislative matters...

The fireworks started when Robinson (Ind.) took the floor to severely criticize Roosevelt's congressional speech, his budget program, etc. In staid and instant defense, Robinson, of Arkansas, challenged his esteemed compatriot...

Quite naturally the republicans are keeping father quiet until some opening wide enough to drive The Elephant through presents itself.

FLORIDIAN HAS BEEN CENTER OF CRITICISM

NEW WEATHER CHIEF FOR NATION IS ALSO NAMED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated General Blanton Winship, former judge advocate general of the army, as governor of Puerto Rico, succeeding Robert H. Gore of Florida, who resigned this morning.

A new weather man for the nation likewise was selected, Mr. Roosevelt naming Willis R. Gregg as chief to succeed Dr. Charles F. Marvin.

General Winship is a veteran in insular affairs, having served in Cuban and the Philippines as adviser to the ranking American officials in these islands.

'World's Worst Hick' Will Run For $10 a Day

DIMMITT, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—The rubber medal for frank political announcements probably will go to W. W. (Hick) Halcomb, Dimmitt newspaper man, who will make the race for state representative from the 120th district.

"The legislature of Texas... is one of the best shows on earth," Halcomb's announcement was followed by a chorus of "Hick" from the board were re-elected. Fred Hoskins of Spearman was elected third vice-president.

French 'Pained' Because of Bond Purchase Bill

PARIS, Jan. 12 (AP)—The United States senate's vote to prohibit American loans to bond-defeating nations made "a painful impression" on French government circles today.

Officials were represented as hopeful that the house of representatives would vote against the bill as it did against the liquor-ration bill which the senate first passed then reconsidered.

BILL LEVYING LIQUOR TAXES TAKES EFFECT

DEMOCRATIC STANDBY CANNOT DENT WALL OF OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Up against a tough proposition even in their own party ranks but expressing confidence, democratic advocates of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada today argued determinedly in the senate for ratification without perceptibly denting the opposition.

The house proceeded quietly along with the independent offices supply bill after the secure given the administration leaders there yesterday before they put across their stiff rule obviating unwanted amendments.

New liquor taxes took effect today, the president signing the bill levying them late last night. The levy is $2 a gallon.

Chairman Pittman of the foreign relations committee led off for the St. Lawrence pact in the senate, addressing his case to the democratic side of the chamber because of the weight of objection there.

House leaders hoped to send the $566,000,000 independent offices bill to the senate before adjournment today.

They expected no attempt to block passage of the bill despite the slimness of the 5-vote margin by which attachment of economy provisions was approved yesterday.

Without trouble, administration adherents in the house agriculture committee obtained approval for the Jones bill for federal guarantee of the principal of $2,000,000,000 in farm loan bonds.

Number of Girls in Lions Minstrel Much Increased

Latest popular song hits will be interspersed in medley fashion with oldtime favorites in the musical parts of the Lions club's minstrel show and musical revue.

The black-face end men will include some of the favorites of other shows and several new members of the club.

The cast of this year's show will be larger than ever, with twice as many Pampa girls as were used in other productions. The stage setting will be more elaborate and the costumes more expensive.

Excellent progress is being made in rehearsals directed by John Sturtegg. Miss Jackie Jones is accompanist. A lengthy practice was held last night and another will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the city hall.

FORD EXPECTS 75 PER CENT SALES PICKUP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Edsel Ford said in an interview today that business conditions "look very, very good" and that the Ford Motor company expects a "75 per cent pickup over 1933."

"I don't want to make any predictions," the youthful appearing motor magnate said, "but 1934 business, so far as automobiles are concerned, looks so much better we are all very happy about it."

He added that he based his optimism for 1934 partly on the fact that the January schedule for the Ford Motor company is bigger than for any month in 1933.

Asked how the NRA would affect conditions, he said:

"So far as wages are concerned, the NRA is bound to be a stimulant. The automobile industry is on a 40-hour basis and wages have been increased generally up to what our wages have been."

"It is bound to help employment. All those additional workers, not only in the automobile, but other industries, help purchasing power."

It's no disgrace to have the itch, but it is not a compliment to oneself when one does not cure it.

A PERFECT RACE

Germany is at it again. Now she wants to have the most perfect specimens of human flesh on earth. Once she wanted the biggest and most perfect army on earth. Later she wanted to use that army to whip the world.

Perhaps after a few generations of careful, intelligent living under proper conditions, with the body under control, the mind brought to the proper degree of activity and the moral life safely guarded, the feeble minded, the old and infirm, the diseased and generally unfortunate put out of the way, a super race might be built up to tower like giants above the puny folk who let nature take care of the human race without restrictions.

A lot of misery and needless waste of humanity could be prevented if more attention was given to moral training as well as to the mere physical aspect of disease prevention and laws to prohibit the marriage of the physically or mentally unfit. But a nation of giants may not be a nation of perfection because no nation that goes to beef is worth much to the world. The prize fighter may be a man of muscle, but he rarely sizes up beyond the ring and is pretty much an oversized animal whose brain has gone to his fists.

However, a healthy, clean living, clear thinking people, is much desired from every point of view except as an army with which to whip the world.

The centuries old habit of passing disease or feeble minds or criminal instincts on to others is far from wise and the world is fast grasping the idea in order to safeguard the human race.

Clean living is stressed as never before in the history of the world, and disease prevention is being studied as never before because science and medical research are working as never before to find a way to stamp out the ills of the race and bring about cures for those dread diseases that once were thought to be scourges sent by God for the chastisement of the people for their wicked ways. But we yet lack the main thing and that is temperance in all things. People are human wrecks because they do not think enough of themselves to keep from wrecking their own bodies by improper living and thinking.—Higgins News.

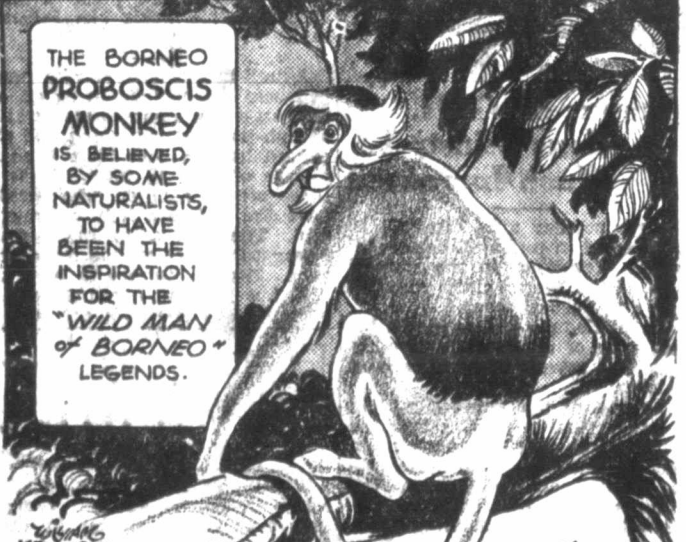

We clipped the above from the Higgins News. To answer the questions, we will say that we do remember the ricks of wood that every good Missouri farmer prepares against those long winter weeks. Fortunately, we left Missouri before we were old enough to split logs. Then we came to the Panhandle in ample time to gather many wagon-loads of prairie coal. When that was gone, we did the daily chore of filling a big box with chunk coal every night. We didn't mind bringing in the coal—it was shaking down the ashes and lighting fires on cold mornings that made us long for prairie furnaces and natural gas. Pampa boys do not enough appreciate a vaporous fuel which bursts into full heat at the touch of a lighted match. . . . But some physicians tell us that coal stove heat is superior to that of the ordinary gas stove.

pen to remember the big pile of chips dry and ready for burning when the wind swept down from the pole and a blue northern made a roaring fire very welcome. . . . Them were days when even mother earned her chunk. Today we live too easily. Turn on the gas or put a chunk of coal in the stove. Everything has to be paid for. And where's the dough? But there is a silver lining. Dad reduces by playing golf, mother drinks orange juice, son smokes cigars, and daughter labors with her lip stick. We still have hopes.

THE BORNEO PROBOCIS MONKEY IS BELIEVED BY SOME NATURALISTS TO HAVE BEEN THE INSPIRATION FOR THE "WILD MAN OF BORNEO" LEGENDS.

BLIZZARDS MAKE LIFE EASIER FOR THE PTARMIGAN OF THE FAR NORTH, BY KEEPING THE FEEDING GROUND SWEET FREE OF SNOW.

THE PROBOCIS monkey is the only member of the monkey family with such a grotesque nasal appendage. Most monkeys have almost nothing more than a pair of nostrils opening straight into the face. The most curious feature of the nose of the proboscis monkey is that it continues to grow throughout the animal's life.

Gowns Shown By U.S. Designer Are Swishy, Flowing

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (AP)—Tea gowns that will set the masculine heart a-whirl are being created in New York. One designer, Jessie Franklin Turner, showed in her spring collection several that are a feast for the lover of beautiful clothes. They are ultra-feminine, swishy and timeless. One, a froth of chiffon, has a three-layer skirt of flesh, chartreuse, and pale pink. It has flowing sleeves, a train, a silver lace bertha with a chartreuse taffeta bow at the front and a belt of magenta velvet.

Another has three chiffon layers throughout—orchid, pale pink, and saffron yellow. The three colors show in narrow folds outlining the neck and in a triple ruffle on the trailing skirt. The gown has a ruffled vest of cream-colored lace. A third tea-gown, one in the real manner, is of dull crepe in East India red. Although one piece, it wraps around, giving a complex line. The sleeves are draped from shoulder to elbow, and then tight to the wrist. Two pearl and gold pins give accent—one worn at the shoulder and one at the back. The gown has a panel train.

Her evening gowns, known for their elegance, are molded to the figure with intricate seaming. One is of opulent chiffon—a dull purple shade with the sheen of gem-metal. With it goes a long coat of Persian brocade lined with pearl satin.

No-Need-To-Fashion.

This designer pays no attention to fashion, except as the economic and social order inevitably affect the mode. She designs as she pleases—cutting, pinning and draping the fabric, with no previous drawing. She creates her own tints in water color, and her dyes then reproduce them. One of her greens is from Botticelli's paintings, and her blue from Lake Maggiore. Some of her hues were taken from wild flowers.

FAMED ITALIAN DETECTIVE WILL FIGHT RACKETEERS

Instructed To Smash Racketeering In New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (AP)—Michael Flacchetti is back on the public payroll as the arch-enemy of criminals. The underworld remembers him as the hard-boiled, two-fisted lieutenant whose design for living as a good policeman was concentrated in one terse sentence: "You gotta treat 'em rough." He did—for 16 years. He was the commuting cop who dashed back and forth across the Atlantic in pursuit of his quarry, who invaded criminal haunts on two continents, who smashed extortion gangs in midwestern cities and Mafia organizations in Italy.

And now he's the knight errant of Manhattan's housewives, one of the watchdogs of their kitchens. The man who once fought the "Black Hand" is after the hand that is cunningly weighed in with the hamburger so that the shopper gets 10 ounces for the price of a pound. Flacchetti, 48 years old, husky and swarthy, has just been appointed a deputy commissioner of markets in charge of eradicating racketeering in public markets. He is just as enthusiastic over the job as he ever was during his years as head of the New York police department's Italian squad. "Name—his job?" Flacchetti snorted today. "Nothing is same if you're after criminals—no matter what kind they are. "The racketeers I'm gonna get are just as low as the type I used to chase." Flacchetti took office after almost 10 years as the head of his own detective agency. Before he retired from the police force in 1924, he, among other things: Apprehended a band of policeman killers in Akron, O., and received a gold medal from the city for his work; Was awarded the Chevalier crown of Italy by King Victor Emmanuel for his activities against "Black Hand" gangs there; Ran down the kidnapers and murderers of five-year-old Giuseppe Varotta in 1921;

Cosmic Rays Are Seen As Key To Future Leisure

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12. (AP)—That the cosmic rays may well become the gent of the future, doing the work of man and bringing dreamed of leisure, is the belief of Dr. Luther Gable, Chicago scientist and lecturer.

Addressing the academy of science at Carnegie Hall last night, Dr. Gable asserted that "already experiments point to a long-lived generation of men who will sit back and push buttons to switch on cosmic ray robots to bid the task be done." More flights into the stratosphere will be necessary, Dr. Gable said, to obtain "basic laws and principles with which this very generation even now is preparing to hitch man's wagon to a star in reality." Out of these findings will come the greater leisure of the future, he asserted. Dr. Gable, who some years ago became known as the inventor of what he called the "radium highball," is a former director of the Detroit Institute of Technology.

Ivan J. Hills of Amarillo was a visitor here today.

Six Navy Ships Finish Flight Across Pacific

HONOLULU, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Pacific-spanning fliers of Uncle Sam's navy are heroes here.

And when Lieut. Com. Kneifer McGinnis and his 29 officers and men are fully rested from their 24-hour record-breaking mass flight from San Francisco to Hawaii, they face rounds of entertainment.

The six planes sliced the waters of Pearl Harbor yesterday. The last one had come to rest at 3:07 p. m. (P. M. T.).

Through darkness, fog and other hazards of overseas flying for 2,400 miles, the squadron came through without a slip in what the navy insisted was merely a "routine movement" and Commander McGinnis described as "just another all night hop."

The civilian population of Honolulu, however, refused to accept such a matter-of-fact view. On the streets and elsewhere conversation indicated the very ease and precision with which the squadron accomplished its task supported the opinion that a regular air route to the mainland had been blazed.

SAYS AMERICA IS SPYING ON KURILE ISLES

CHARGES U. S. POLICY IS TO HOSTILELY ENCIRCLE JAPAN

TOKYO, Jan. 12. (AP)—Japan must prepare and is preparing to defend herself against what appears to be "America's policy of hostilely encircling Japan by every possible means," said a published statement attributed today to Vice Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, commander of the navy's combined fleets.

The statement was made in an interview published in the widely-circulated monthly magazine, Gendai.

Instances of encirclement, the interview cited, were Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's leisurely flight along the Kuriles in the summer of 1931 and Harold Bromley's abortive attempt to fly the Pacific in 1930.

"I may be mistaken, but I think it is possible they are spying on those islands," the admiral was quoted as saying.

"Some time ago, an American lieutenant hopped off from Japan on an alleged transpacific flight attempt and turned back after flying we don't know where. I think the failure was purposeful."

(This reference obviously was the Bromley-Gatty attempt of September 14, 1930.)

"Then Lindbergh stayed in the Kuriles over a week on excuse of bad weather. The length of his stay is grounds for suspicion."

"Today, Americans are surveying the Aleutian islands on a great scale—using cutters, airplanes and the telegraph code."

"I think this means an American policy to surround Japan with every possible means in the event of war before the clash of the main fleets."

The admiral referred to the resumption of Russo-American relations and the Soviet's "perfection of armaments in the Far East, where they have stationed a strong army and a powerful air force."

HIGHEST TEST AND anti-knock at the price of ordinary gasoline

THAT'S OUR STORY and we are sticking to it

The support of motorists like yourself made 1933 the peak year in the history of the Phillips Petroleum Company... proved that experienced drivers appreciate honest high test gasoline at the price of regular.

Deeply grateful for this ever-expanding preference, our pledge to the motoring public is continued with renewed emphasis:—"Highest test and anti-knock at the price of ordinary gasoline."

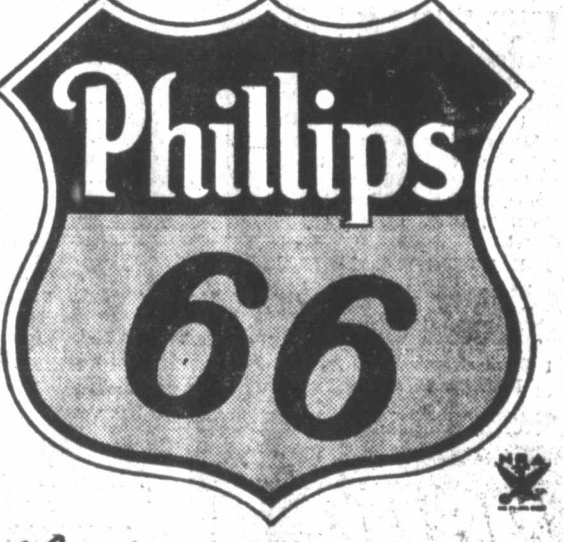

This is the greater value made possible by our position as world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline.

Please consider these facts before you buy your next tankful of gasoline: Phillips 66 at regular price contains tetra-ethyl lead, the anti-knock fluid formerly used only in premium-priced motor fuels. In addition, it is always correctly matched to your weather by the scientific principle of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, pioneered by Phillips. And its high test (gravity) is so high, that without fear of comparison we publish its rating in plain figures, below.

I particularly invite new car owners anxious to protect their motors to Phill-up with Phillips 66. You can confidently expect faster starting on freezing days, and finer performance and more mileage on every day in the year.

CITY OF CANADIAN GRANTED PUBLIC WORKS LOAN TO GIVE 50 MEN WORK FOR 3 MONTHS

Water Department to Be Expanded and Truck Bought

By GILMORE N. NUNN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Public Works Administrator Harold L. Hicks today announced a federal loan of $51,000 to Canadian, Texas, for extension of the town's water-distribution system, installation of a booster pump, and purchase of a new fire truck.

Thirty per cent of the cost of the labor and material on the projects will be paid by the government, and the balance will be a loan secured by a 4 per cent bond.

Work can be started within a month and completed in three months, giving employment to fifty men, it was stated at the administrator's office.

rather dry reading, but because it will probably get little or no attention over the country, I'll quote some of the first page, of the material was in pamphlet form.

"Which Way? The easy spendthrift path of Debts, Deficits, and Greenbacks OR The Hard Road of Rigid Public Economy. The first leads to NATIONAL DISASTER; the other leads to NATIONAL RECOVERY." Nothing subtle about that propaganda, but since this isn't an editorial page, I'll use that as an excuse for not commenting. To really doesn't make much of a stir up here, that stuff.

They Long and the republican party are at least alike in one respect; they both furnish a delightful comic relief to the administration. A Washingtonian was asking one of the newer men in the Press club how long he had been here. The new-comer replied "Long enough for the cops on this beat, to begin to recognize my car, and my out of state license; I've had to quit parking in the safety zones, and get up 15 minutes earlier in the morning in order to the office on time."

The police tags up here have the desired effect of paralyzing you when you see one stuck on the windshield, yet they are the most courteous I've ever seen. At the top of one side of the line of the capital. Right below it is: "Greetings. The Metropolitan Police Department of Washington, D. C. welcomes you to the National Capital. For your information, License Number 666 and 667 is a Traffic Violation To do such and such a thing."

On the reverse side of the tag is a digest of some of the essential traffic regulations of the city.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—The stock market settled down to a quiet job today and leading issues mulled about in an extremely narrow range. Some of the metals, alcohol, and farm equities improved moderately. Much of the activity was furnished by low-priced specialties. The close was irregular. The turnover approximated 1,600,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12 (AP)—The market became less active as the morning advanced but good resistance from trade buying developed after the earlier reactionary tendency. Late in the first hour, prices declined to 10.75 for March, 10.95 for May and 11.05 for July, or 8 to 12 points below the close of yesterday. Subsequently prices rallied with firm stocks and on fair trade buying and advanced 11 to 15 points from the lows with March at 10.87, May at 11.04, and July at 11.20, or 3 points above the previous close.

Near noon the market reacted 3 to 4 points from the top on some realizing.

CAR SALES JUMP
DALLAS, Jan. 12. (AP)—Newer automobiles are carrying Texans about their business and pleasure this year. Figures released today by Dr. J. H. Connell, executive secretary of the Dallas Automotive Trades association, showed that sales of new cars during November of 1933 were almost twice as great as a year ago. The figures were 1,206 against 661.

WHITE WIFE OF NEGRO CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING
Woman Had Promised Husband a Child

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (AP)—Fulfilling a promise to her negro husband that she would present him with a child put Mrs. Margaret Stackhouse, middle-aged white woman, in jail today charged with kidnaping 24-day-old Patricia Luciano. The husband is held on the same charge. Patricia was taken from her East Side home last Tuesday by a woman who represented herself as a nurse from the home relief bureau. She left with Mrs. Luciano a typewritten note telling of an "infants' party" at which Patricia was to receive clothing. She promised to return the baby within an hour. When she did not come back, police were notified. Yesterday Mrs. Stackhouse's husband, a CWA worker, called a negro physician to attend his wife. The physician was told the baby was only three days old. He had read of the Luciano kidnaping, became suspicious of the negro's story, and notified police. The Lucianos identified Patricia by scratches on her body. A blanket found in the Stackhouse apartment was identified by Mrs. Luciano as one in which the baby had been

STAGGER SYSTEM APPROVED
OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 12. (AP)—The creation of 30,000 new civil works jobs in Oklahoma, through the "stagger" system of employment, was authorized today by Carl Giles, state's CWA administrator.

The hobby of Harvey H. Larabee of Jackson, Mich., is building model fire engines. Mrs. Stackhouse at first maintained the baby was her child but when a blood test was made to determine the parentage of the infant, she admitted part of her story was false. She still contends she received the baby from a woman to whom she gave $4. Mrs. Luciano identified the woman as the actual kidnaper, Assistant District Attorney McCarthy said.

PAMPA CAGERS PLAY SANDIES THIS EVENING

HEDLEY'S TEAMS PLAY HERE TOMORROW EVENING

Students of Pampa schools will be admitted free to the basketball games Saturday night if they take an adult to the game with them. The Hedley girls' and boys' teams will be here for games with the Harvesters and Harvesters. The girls' game will be called at 7:15 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students not accompanied by an adult.

Hedley has two of the best teams in this section. The Harvesters have bowed to the Owls twice this season. The girls teams have split their two-game series and will play the "rubber" Saturday night. The "Dumb" Newman of West Texas State Teachers college fame.

Captain Miles Marbaugh may be in the Harvester lineup for part of the game. He was to return from Dallas today. He has been with his brother, Max, for the last week. Little change has been reported in the injured boy's condition the last few days.

The Harvesters play in Amarillo tonight. The Sandies have a western team this season and the local boys are due to meet stiff opposition. Little Everett Woodward will still be in Marbaugh's role. Amarillo will play a return game here a week from tonight.

Coach Ochs Mitchell put his boys through more than eight hours of hard practice this week. They are working more smoothly and hitting the loop more often than at any time this season. Passing has been stressed and fans will see the ball handled better than before when Hedley comes here Saturday night.

McLean Cagers To Play LeFors Clubs Tonight

LEFORS, Jan. 12.—The first high school conference basketball game of the season will be played in LeFors Friday night, when two McLean teams invade LeFors. McLean has strong teams and competition is expected to be keen.

The two LeFors teams will invade White Deer Saturday night for non-conference games. The Pirates and Pirate Lassies have been showing marked improvement the last two weeks and are expected to give teams in this section, some strong competition.

Pampa brings two teams to LeFors for conference play January 20. LeFors will play return games for Pampa February 1.

Hunters report wild turkeys and deer are unusually plentiful this year in forest bordering the coast of Georgia.

PRO FOOTBALL TEAM REALLY PLAYS IN SECRET PRACTICE

Red Grange Is 'Little Fellow' Compared To Rest of Giants Bruisers.

By BRIAN BELL, Associated Press Staff Writer, LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—A mildly inquisitive football fan has discovered just what a good football team does when it holds secret practice. It plays football.

The Chicago Bears, professional champions of all they survey in the football world, were practicing at Wrigley Field for a game in Los Angeles Sunday against some pretty tough boys—a lot of Picketers, Drury, Shipkeys, Rosenbergs, Musicks and others just as good.

The gates were locked in the baseball park but an official of the pro team knew the password and three or four spectators crowded into seating space sufficient for 25,000.

The Bears were warming up in left field and managing to get pretty heated in the process. They were big, so hefty that Bronko Nagurski, scaling a mere 216, seemed about average as football players go and a little fellow when he happened to line up in the huddle between George Musso, 285, and Link Lyman, 256. Red Grange seemed to have shrunk since his last visit and a comment was passed on to George Halas, coach, manager and lead-off man for the Bears.

"Red's a little fellow."

"Yeah, only about 175, smallest player we have. Still the old boy can go and if we can shake him loose he will be hard to stop. He can slip away from the tacklers about as well as he ever could. Legs not so good now, of course, but he's hot stuff for 10 minutes in any game."

By this time there was a whole lot of football being rehearsed. Plays were being run at top speed and after a few formations, fresh men would jump in with a question. "Want to blow?" Two teams worked for two hours and in that time they did some tricks with a football amazing enough to make the four spectators pop-eyed.

The most striking part of the performance was the way the professionals handled the ball and the speed with which they ran the plays. The ball was snapped to Nagurski, perhaps, but likely as not he would toss it to Cliff Battles, who in turn might throw it over to bull Woehring. By this time Bill Hewitt would be over near the right field bleachers. As if to suggest that this thing had gone far enough the left-handed Doehring would cut loose with a 60 to 70 yard pass. Couldn't pass that far. Oh, yes he could and did. He threw two more than 75 yards, one carrying 78 on the other an even 80.

The players' every move refuted the myth that when one plays the game as a business he loses his spirit.

The Colorado beetle or potato bug has made its appearance at Tibury, England, after an absence of 32 years.

O'FARRELL IS NEW MANAGER AT CINCINNATI

VETERAN CATCHER OF CARDINALS WILL ALSO PLAY

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12 (AP)—With a new pilot at the helm, the Cincinnati Reds were prepared today for a mighty heave at the anchor which has held them in the forlorn depths of the National League for three years.

Bob O'Farrell, veteran catcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, is the new player-manager. He has a contract to chart the Redlegs' course for the next two years.

If O'Farrell doesn't succeed where Dan Howley and Donie Bush, the late pilots, failed, even baseball's great minds can be said to have been wrong.

For Larry MacPhail, the dynamic new general manager of the club, says he selected the Cardinal catcher as player-manager upon the recommendation of four men he considers baseball's greatest figures of today—Branch Rickey, Bill Terry, John McGraw, and Rogers Hornsby.

The home town fans are wondering just how the former lawyer and football official put over such a startling deal. He traded some cash and young Glenn Spencer, a pitcher obtained from the Giants just a few weeks ago, for O'Farrell and Pitcher Sylvester Johnson.

MacPhail did not disclose the terms with O'Farrell, but conceded that "not more than $15,000 a year might be a fair guess."

O'Farrell won't be a greathorn in this job. He spent the Cards to within a game and a half of the pennant in 1927. His new boss regards him as "one of the greatest handers of pitchers in baseball."

He has served under some of baseball's best—Bresnahan, McGraw, Hornsby, Evers and Kilfer. He entered baseball in 1915 with Waukegan, Ill., and played later with the Cubs, Giants, and Cards.

Champagne Fed To Royal Babe By Paris Mama

MIAMI BEACH, Jan. 12 (AP)—Champagne as a part of baby's diet is recommended by Princess de Polignac of Paris.

The princess who is vacationing here said her two-year-old daughter, Diane, was baptized in the beverage and it has been a standard item on her diet for many months.

The princess said the two or three teaspoonsful Diane gets at meals were largely responsible for the child's "perfect health."

Princess de Polignac is here with her husband and her brother, Jacques Deput, French newspaper publisher, who is in the United States studying American publishing methods.

Six Convicts Are Shown Clemency By 'Ma' Ferguson

AUSTIN, Jan. 12 (AP)—Six convicts were released from the Texas penitentiary through clemencies of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today.

Harry Gammel, who had been convicted in Travis county for receiving and concealing stolen property, and Horace Davis, Anderson county, transporting liquor, one year, received full pardons. Gammel had been sentenced to two years.

Conditional pardons were given Jose Angel Pena, Starr county, murder, life imprisonment, convicted in September, 1925; Ivy Rankin Bostick, Guadalupe, Terrell, Victoria (Parker) counties, automobile theft and theft, seven years, convicted in July, 1931; Manuel Avila Canales, Kleberg county, criminal assault, six years, convicted in August, 1931, and Tillman Beam, Ochiltree county, theft over $50, three years, convicted in March, 1933.

THE WEATHER AND BRIDGE

CHICAGO (AP)—Apparently the romance of Mrs. Marion Gardner Myers and her husband, Edward, was able to weather a rain storm, in 1931, but in 1932 there was a game of bridge.

She told the court her husband slapped her during the rain storm when she was slow in putting up her side of their automobile top. During the bridge game she said she threw his cards at her. She won a decree.

Unknown Wins

Out of the group of golfing stars in the $2,000 Miami open came a winner who was comparatively unknown—Ralph Stonehouse, above, Indianapolis pro. Stonehouse defeated Willie Dow, 48-year-old Miami Scot, by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff.

WITH THE HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

We hear that Clyde Babe is anxious to come to Pampa to make his home. Babe is the boy who caught for the Claude Padre Hounds baseball team in the Amarillo tournament last year. He was voted the best player and also the most popular player in the tournament. Manager Aaron Ward of the Danciger Roadrunners could do worse than sign the former big league boy. He would prove a wonderful tutor for Jake Leggett, youthful Danciger catcher. Leggett, fit his age and experience, is without a doubt one of the best catchers in this section. Leggett, for his age and experience, under a veteran. He should "go up."

Freddy Brickell of big league fame is working here and will be in the Danciger lineup this summer. Brickell is a Wichita, Kan., boy who broke into the big show with Pittsburgh and later went to Philadelphia. Later, Brickell went to Kansas City and then to Dallas. He is a slugging outfielder who takes his baseball seriously. It is reported that a former big league shortstop will come to Pampa.

There may be psychology in wrestling, after all. If the workings of Coach Hugo Otopalik of Iowa State, who has turned out stellar college grappling teams at Ames, Iowa and as coach of the Olympic champion United States squad, continue to be successful, his system may be used extensively. Coach Otopalik has the following sign painted on the ceiling of the college gymnasium. "If you can read this you're a flop—keep on fighting."

Has moving the goal posts 10 yards behind the goal improved or hindered the game? Yes and no, says Parkie Davis, the sage of Easton, Pa. Mr. Davis has prepared statistics to show that it has hindered the game in the number of field goals or drop kicks attempted but has helped reduce injuries. Here are some yearly statistics from the same schools:

Year	Drop Kicks	Place Kicks	Total
1920	120	38	158
1921	82	32	114
1922	128	30	158

RECOVERY IS SEEN AS AID TO BASEBALL

MINOR LEAGUES WILL HOLD 'EVEN KEEL' WITH MAJOR'S

By W. G. BEAMHAM, (President, National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues)

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 12 (AP)—Baseball, like other forms of sport and amusement, finds itself much healthier in body and spirit at the turn into a new year. The reasons are visible in our various walks of life.

We find railroads being traveled more than they have been in several years; we find the wheels of more factories turning with less interruption; we find our merchants and professional men in an easier state of mind. All of which tend toward a more generous circulation of currency.

The employer is noting a favorable turnover in his business and this is reflected in a betterment of conditions for the employed. When we reach such a state, those enterprises which amuse and entertain the public are to benefit, and I am happy to predict that the minor-leagues of baseball stand to enjoy their share of the return to increased patronage.

We applied the emergency brakes in 1933 in resistance to any further depression. We determined to operate on a conservative budget basis, and the results were very gratifying.

I do not purpose to convey the impression that our enthusiasm should run promiscuously and get the better of our business judgment. We must proceed with caution, even though we are on safer ground. It will require judicious handling of our resources, but we have learned many things during trying times, and with the proper administration of sound business policies, we should be able to indulge in pleasant retrospection at the close of the coming season.

We are assured of several new seasons in our membership for 1934. We hope to add to this number annually until organized baseball is being played in every community.

TEMPLE BACK IN RACE FOR STATE CROWN

COACH SAYS WILDCATS HAVE STRONG CAGE QUINTESS

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Temple high school basketball team won the Texas Interscholastic League championship in 1932. After a year of going unrecruited because the Athens Hornets won the 1933 title, the Temple loopers are back in the race with a strong team. Sam Kinch of the Temple Daily Telegram contributes the following information on the Temple cagesters:

"Although not blessed with veteran players, Coach G. W. 'Red' Forehand has two experienced men and a strong starting five, with several capable reserves.

Captain 'Doc' Wes' Montgomery, forward, and Kl. Aldrich, guard, form the nucleus of the 1934 edition of the Wildcats. Fred Rogers, Jodie Marek, and Bud Bell are experienced men around whom the hopes of the team are built.

"Johnny Hoia and Raymond Emory are the most promising of the reserves, both seeing much service in practice games played so far. Mitchell, Sam Miguel, and Driscoll work into the team with very little loss to team play.

The Temple Wildcats have stacked up impressive scores in practice games. Using reserves in a large part of the game, the team rolled up scores of 52 to 33 against Little River, 69-11 against Pendleton, winners of the recent invitational rural school tournament at Temple, 36 to 28 against Belton, and 28 to 28 and 59 to 25 against Bryan.

"Chances of the Wildcats to enter the state tournament are very good this year, being bettered by the districting of the race. In the district race, Austin seems to have the strongest team, but not powerful enough to win the marathon. In the regional meet, Zavalla, and San Antonio always develop commendable teams. This year they promise to be the hardest hurdles.

"If the Wildcats get through these two tournaments they can enter the state championship event at Austin were no one can predict the eventual outcome so early in the season. Barring injuries, however, the Temple loopers will furnish some team real competition. The Wildcats were ruled ineligible in the state football championship race which prevented one of the strongest teams in the state from competing for the title, but they are back and strictly eligible for the basketball chase which promises plenty of real sunbaths for the grand state finale in March.

Englebert Langenhovel, 73, and Mrs. Martha Langenhovel, 72, of Stockton, Calif., were married recently after being divorced since 1913.

Edgar Gray of Miami was a Pampa visitor this morning.

Denver Golfer Wins $4,000 In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12 (AP)—John Rogers, Denver pro, has won first prize money in the $4,000 San Francisco National match play open golf championship. He received $50 for shooting a sub-par 70 for medal honors in the 18-hole qualifying round.

In today's opening match play test, Rogers pairs off with Cliff Grover, youthful professional from Tacoma, Wash. Because of his long tournament experience the Denver entry was the favorite. Grover shot a 75 in the qualifying round.

Harold "Jug" McSpaden, Kansas City, Kas., professional, whose 71 gave him second low qualifying score, drew Tom Greavy of Albany, N. Y., for his first round opponent. Greavy was four strokes behind McSpaden in the qualifying.

Only Rogers and McSpaden were able to turn in sub-par qualifying rounds over the Lake Merced course where a 72 is perfect. Eleven equalled standard figures. Thirteen tied at 71 for the last nine qualifying positions in the list of 64 and tee off this morning in the playoff to eliminate four.

Liquor Served By Treasury Head At Press Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Secretary Perkins serves ginger ale at press conferences; Attorney General Cummings passes cigars around, but Secretary Morgenthau was the first to serve liquor.

Reporters calling on the treasury secretary yesterday ogled when they saw a negro attendant bring in a tray containing nine bottles of liquor and a supply of glasses. Morgenthau explained, "Liquor now on sale is frequently bad, he said, and he had gathered together a chemist's conception of the various types. Some of it was green moonshine and some aged bottled in bond."

PARENT-TEACHER UNITS PLAN ACTIVITIES OF COMING WEEKS

PICTURE MADE OF GROUP AT WILSON P-TA

TWO SPEAKERS HEARD ON YESTERDAY'S PROGRAM

PICTURES of members who attended a meeting of Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon were taken, with the guests present, at the close of the program. This picture will be one included in the association's publicity record book for the year. Two speakers were heard on the association program. Mrs. J. A. Meek discussed spiritual training for character development of children, and Olin E. Hinkle spoke on thrift.

Personality in Thrift

Mr. Hinkle spoke on thrift in its historical and current economic sense, but especially emphasized its meaning as "adding to self." He mentioned thrift of time, habits, personality, health, reputation, and soul, and stressed the need for taking frequent "personal balance sheets." He stressed that young men could exercise no greater thrift than to spend their money and time in educating themselves in their earlier years. "Teach your children thrift habits of time, of work, of use for leisure, of expansion of personality and soul, and when they grow into maturity they will bless you for your wisdom," he concluded.

Betty Sue Price, pupil in the school, expressed appreciation to the P-T-A. for a slide added to the playground equipment and new chairs for the auditorium. A song by Jean Ward, and three numbers by the kid band were given. An association project at present is a play, "Dr. Jim," to be presented next month. Rehearsals are under way now, with Mrs. Pat Crawford as director.

Kiddies' Matinee Saturday To Be Unusual Treat

The La Nora theater will have a special Kiddies' ten-cent matinee. The show, for all school children, will consist of comedies and short subjects and will feature the most talked-about feature ever made, "The Three Little Pigs," which presents the song hit, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf," that has been taking the country by storm. In addition to "Three Little Pigs," chapter 5 of the "Tarzan of the Apes" serial and the Silly Symphony "The Night Before Christmas" will be shown.

The Saturday morning matinee will have 10 cents admission for all school children. However, for the adults the "Three Little Pigs" will be kept in the pen to appear at the Saturday night preview and Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, in connection with the surprise musical show, "Flying Down to Rio."

Black-Draught For Biliousness

"I have used Black-Draught for years and find it a great relief for headache and constipation and biliousness," writes Mrs. L. B. Crippen, of Pulaski, Ill. "When I get bilious, I feel tired and sluggish; have a bad taste in my mouth, and bloot at my stomach. For these ailments, I take a dose of Black-Draught every other night until relieved."

MERTEN P-TA HAS THRIFT AS TALK SUBJECT

PAMPA MINISTER IS HEARD BY LARGE CROWD

THRIFT was the subject of a program of Merten Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon, when a large crowd was present at the school building.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster was the speaker. He stressed the practice of economy and simplified home life as a means of overcoming the financial depression which has been a handicap to schools of the nation. Three-fourths of the public school teachers are working on inadequate salaries at present, he pointed out.

A sing-song was led by Miss Evelyn Shanklin, and members also enjoyed two readings, "Ain't It Fine Today," Mulloch, and "Wishing," Wilcox, by Clyde E. Riley. Principal J. B. Mullan spoke briefly on work of the school to close the program.

Improvement In Bedrooms Begun By Merten Club

Start of their bedroom improvement work for 1934 marked the first meeting of Merten Home Demonstration club this week. Mrs. J. C. Browning was hostess Wednesday afternoon.

Roll call was answered with each member's preference in bed coverings. Miss Ruby Adams, county agent, demonstrated the construction of several types of bedspreads after she had shown the proper way to make a bed.

A short business session was conducted. Members present were Mesdames A. Smith, J. P. Meers, C. B. Haney, Alva Phillips, C. O. Bridges, W. R. Taylor, A. C. Enloe, and the hostess, Mrs. Mason was a visitor.

Suits Are 'Very Important'; Blue Is Favored Color

By MARY E. PLUMMER

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (AP)—Dark blue for spring suits and street dresses was stressed today at an important spring opening.

This was at the exclusive house of Omar Kiam, which also designs coats and evening gowns.

Other points about the spring mode as this designer interprets it: Suits—Very important. Some have three-quarter swagger coats with raglan sleeves. Many have closely-fitted, hip-length jackets, leather-belted. A few six-button jackets.

Other suit colors—Soft grays and browns; some black; black and white plaids.

Capes—Many waist-length detachable capes matching a dress in fabric and color, worn over dark daytime dresses. They give a suit effect. A few three-quarter plaid tweed capes shown.

Coats—Many of redingote style in dark wool, worn over printed dresses. Sometimes they are lined with the same print as the dress, and sometimes they are reversible.

Plaid Blouses Smart Some plaid fringed blouses are worn with suits. Others are of transparent plaid lined jersey or small prints. Usually they have short sleeves and almost invariably high necks with a scarf effect showing at the top of the jacket.

Daytime frocks are simply made—molded to the figure with small waists, slim crinoline skirts, high necks and long, close-fitting sleeves, sometimes with interest above the elbow and sometimes set in raglan style.

White accent is important. One sees it with dark street dresses in the form of white hat trimming, neck treatment, shoulder flower and gloves.

This designer's evening gowns have a long, molded line, usually a train, a back decolletage dipping to a point at the waistline, and front necklines either high or fairly low and square. Often, they have jeweled shoulder straps or straps of a different color.

EQUIPMENT PURCHASED FOR SCHOOL IS INSPECTED

HOME and school must cooperate with the church to foster spiritual development of the child, without which there is no real character, Mrs. J. A. Meek said in addressing Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon.

Her talk was climaxed by quoting this verse: "Isn't it funny that princes and kings And clowns who caper in saw-dust rings And even just folks like you and me Are builders for eternity? To each is given a kit of tools, A shapeless mass, and a book of rules; And each must make, ere life is done, A stumbling block or a stepping stone."

Mrs. T. B. Rogers was leader of the program, which opened with a prayer by the Rev. A. A. Hyde. A piano solo by Marlene McClements and songs by the high school glee club entertained members.

Plans were made for a chili supper on the evening of February 6, with Mrs. Nix in charge of arrangements.

Members inspected the magazine rack which the association bought for the office recently, and also new utensils bought for the cafeteria.

J. A. McNulty of Spearman spent yesterday with friends in Pampa.

BAND MOTHERS ORGANIZED AT BAKER SCHOOL

CARNIVAL PLANS ARE MADE IN BUSINESS SESSION

ORGANIZATION of a club by mothers of school band members was perfected immediately after the general meeting of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association yesterday, with 25 mothers enrolled. Mrs. Cecil Lunsford was elected president.

Mrs. J. L. Harrison is vice president and Mrs. Henry Cox secretary and treasurer. Plans were made to order uniforms for the band.

Mrs. C. E. Simmons was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Hoyt Allen, who resigned her position as treasurer.

Mrs. Allen was serving her second term in the office. Ill health was the reason for her resignation.

Plans for the annual carnival which the association will sponsor January 25 occupied most of the time yesterday. Amusements for young and old are being planned with Walter Hurst as general chairman. A popularity contest has started in the school, each room choosing a boy and a girl to compete for the title of carnival queen and king.

A vocal solo by Mrs. Hermal Jones was enjoyed as an entertainment feature by the 42 member present.

John Johnson of Groom spent yesterday in Pampa.

Bob Powell of Panhandle was in Pampa this morning.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for January 14.
General Topic: Baptism and Temptation of Jesus.
Scripture Lesson: Matt. 3:13-17. 4:1-11. Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John to be baptized of him.

13. But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?
14. But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he suffereth him.

15. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him:
16. And lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

17. And the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.
18. Jesus said unto him, Again it is written, Thou shalt not make trial of the Lord thy God.

19. Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; and he said unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.
20. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

21. Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.
Golden Text: It behoved him in all things to be made like unto his brethren.—Heb. 2:17.
Time: January-February, A. D. 26.
Place: The wilderness of Judaea. The ford of the Jordan at Aenon.
Parallel Passages: Mark 1:1-13; Luke 3:1-17.

Introduction.
Mark tells how John began to preach fervently to the throngs on the Jordan, and how Jesus came to be baptized of him. The baptism of Jesus was a public declaration of his mission as the Messiah. It was a symbol of his identification with the people he came to save. The temptation of Jesus in the wilderness was a test of his faith and obedience to God. It was a test of his ability to resist the devil's temptations and to remain faithful to God's will. The temptation of Jesus was a test of his ability to resist the devil's temptations and to remain faithful to God's will.

The Baptism of Jesus.
Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John. v. 13. John and Jesus were cousins according to the flesh (see Luke 1:36), since their mothers were kinswomen. John's fame by this time had spread all over Palestine, and our Lord was drawn to hear one with whose reported message he was so thoroughly in sympathy. "One is declaring that the kingdom of God is at hand!" may have been the words excitedly repeated by travellers to the Jordan; and when the news came to Jesus can we doubt that he knew that his long years of training were over, the time for him to begin his work had come?—Mary Stewart.
"To be baptized by him."
The baptism of our Lord was his self-concentration to his life work. It was his dedication to his public ministry. When others were baptized in Jordan it was a symbol of their need of cleansing; but when our Saviour was baptized, he had no sin to be repented of. His baptism was a surrender to vocation.—Rev. George H. Morrison, D. D.
The Father's Testimony.
"This is my beloved son." v. 17. John may have heard the sound and not the words as Paul's companions did on the road to Damascus. But to Jesus how as to Paul later. His voice was articulate and emphatic. "And lo, a voice out of the heavens saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." As reported by both Mark and Luke in identical words the Heavenly Voice was addressed directly to Jesus. "Thou art my beloved son: in thee I am well pleased." (Mark 1:11; Luke 3:22). Thus the divine Trinity was represented at the baptism of Jesus.—The Three Persons of the

Versailles Peace Treaty Signed 14 Years Ago Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—Fourteen years ago today—January 12, 1919—The Versailles peace conference began contemplation of a treaty to end wars which many abroad now contend may be rewritten by force.
Many in this capital recall first hand those first informal meetings in Paris, with President Woodrow Wilson and Col. E. M. House hailed as the men of the hour in Europe and pictures of present-day disorders abroad unthinkable.
The ideal seen by many war-sick peoples there was centered around Wilson's 14 points and his plan for a League of Nations designed to neutralize ancient enemies.

Trinity here immediately appear upon the front page of the New Testament: "The Father speaking, the Spirit descending, and the Son praying" (Student's Commentary).
The Temptation of Jesus.
Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness: to be tempted of the devil. "Here is a clear implication that there is a personal spirit of evil, Satan, the adversary. To deny the personality of Satan is to deny Scripture.

"The temptation occupies a significant position in Jesus' career. It stands like a door between two rooms, the one a dim, small, meagerly furnished chamber; the other a stately, vaulted hall, flooded with light, lined with great pictures and furnished with exquisite care. On the one side of this door is the simple Carpenter of Nazareth, the dutiful son of Mary and Joseph busy with the common duties of a mechanic's day. On the other side of this door is the Teacher, the Christ, the Victim, the light and life of men from whose mystic speech the race would not if it could withdraw."—Rev. T. Calvin McClelland, D. D.

The First Temptation.
"And the tempter came and said unto him." Whether in bodily form and with audible voice or by a suggestion made to Christ's soul, we do not know. It must be remembered that this account could have come from no one but our Lord himself and in the form which he gave it. "If thou art the Son of God." "The devil's masterpiece is always an 'if,' the insinuation of a doubt. "Command that these stones become bread." Our Lord never used his miraculous power for himself, and he always tried to turn men's minds away from their lower desires to the eternal satisfactions, from barley bread to the bread of life.

The Second Temptation.
"Then the devil taketh him into the holy city." To Jerusalem. "And he set him on the pinnacle of the temple." Probably on the roof of one of the temple porches overlooking the deep valley of the Kedron east of Jerusalem, a giddy height of six hundred feet. "And saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down." "Prove your divine nature, not in the solitude of the desert but before the razing, wonder-smitten throngs that fill the temple courts. "For it is written."
"The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose."—Shakespeare, Merchant of Venice. Satan takes his cue from the Saviour, quoting Ps. 91:1, 2. "He shall give his angels charge concerning thee." Christ knew, as he once said, that he had only to ask his Father, and more than "twelve legions of angels" would fly to protect him (Matt. 26:53).

The Third Temptation.
"This third assault Jesus carried with a curt dismissal. "Get thee behind me Satan." v. 10, and a final thrust with the trusty blade of Scripture. He did not parley or temporize. In vehement assertiveness he cried to Satan "Begone!" Under no circumstances would he take the short road, ever if Satan could place in his hands the scepter over the entire human race to the end of time. "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and him only shalt thou serve." He remained unshaken in his loyalty to God as the very bedrock that his place underneath the everlasting hills.

Ready for His Mission.
The wilderness experience was now over. Every test had been successfully met. Every temptation had been effectively withstood. The devil had been driven from his chosen battleground; Satan's covering retreat. Now the way was open for Jesus to enter upon his mission as the Messiah. Straight from the heart of the desert he returns to the banks of the Jordan now to be pointed out by the great Baptist as the Lamb of God. Within two days he wins five or six of his disciples who will become his Apostles and missionaries after he is gone. Thus, he takes up the larger burden of life and enters upon his matchless ministry."

Chapter Four
ABOUT LANGTON
The world remembered with a sense of shock and grief the vanishing of the flyer Langton. A contemporary and friend of the almost equally famous Grahame, Langton had disappeared at some point on his course during that flight that was to have taken him from Valparaiso on a wide arc along the Andes and up through Central America to New York.

That mystery was quite recent in the public mind. It grieved Langton the first frenzied search it was expected to find Langton encamped on some forgotten beach like a modern Caruso. Later, after weeks of systematic and painstaking beachcombing, the legal sense of the word—with no trace of airplane wreckage found, the searchers were forced to subscribe to the popular theory that Langton and his plane had gone down at sea.

It had been demanded that Frank Grahame be recalled from the Orinoco headwaters country to assist in the search, but this was manifestly impossible as Grahame's portable radio set was no longer communicating with civilization.

When finally Grahame emerged from the jungle with the remnants of the Cadwallader party, it was natural that he be asked for his theory as to Langton's disappearance. His theory, however, was not accepted with much credence.

It was a little incredible, the odds certainly were against his being right. For one thing, while there were thousands of miles of coast, any part of which might have been the scene of Langton's crash, Grahame's misty theory localized it as having happened along only a certain few hundred miles of it—the east coast of Yucatan; moreover, he believed that Langton had done down not on the coast or the sea nearby, but in the country west of that particular strip of coast line.

"You see," he told the board of investigation, "Langton had made shorter hops over that route." He put his finger on a large map on the table. "Langton would have swung up the east coast of Nicaragua and Honduras, crossed the Gulf of Honduras and then flown straight over Yucatan toward the Mexican Gulf. It is probable that the storm caught him near Yucatan."

"But," the board objected, "Granting that such might have been the case, he would have been flying into a wind from the north, which according to the laws of hurricanes would bear more toward the east as the storm progressed. That, Grahame, would cause him to drift out into the Caribbean."

"True," replied Grahame. "That is, if we were talking about almost anybody except Langton. Langton was a good flyer, and knew his storms. Seems to me he could have pulled out of most any blow... Another point, while that wind would have shifted toward the east, as you say, nevertheless the hurricane itself would travel on a westward sweep.

"Langton's ground speed was close to two hundred. Just what it actually was or what his course was with the various elements of wind currents buffeting him, is impractical to figure with any accuracy. It was an off-season hurricane too, which may not have acted like a regular one.

"Call it a hunch, gentlemen, but I believe Langton crashed on land within reasonable distance of the east coast of Yucatan."

Grahame's theory received its share of publicity but it was not generally accepted.

His questioners left the subject at that point and asked him about his own deeds. For Grahame was something of a hero himself.

There were few who had not heard of Grahame, F. A. Grahame. The newspapers had made much of his initials when he had returned from Venezuela some months after the Langton mystery. F. A. Force of Arms Grahame they called him.

No while man had penetrated so far, or so forcefully for that matter, the upper reaches of the Orinoco. He found Cadwallader's party, or what had been left of it, and returned as victoriously efficient as he went. The dramatic inferences of his feat had been lost upon Grahame.

He had guided that party of scientists into the country to stay until the rains forced them out. All of them had been capable men and Grahame had left them fully equipped to cope with their few months sojourn in the jungle and to come out as soon as they pleased. But, nearly a year had passed when relatives and sponsors, frantic for news, had asked Grahame to return and find the lost party.

He returned, and got the news—some of it bad, for Cadwallader had died of arrow wounds and three others of the original party were dead similarly. The remaining four needed capable help and got it. Grahame returned to find that the newspapers had dramatized him. They hailed him as the last practical adventurer. Certain inquisitive ones wanted a story because of the quantity of ammuni-

DISILLUSIONED HAWK
MIDLAND, Jan. 12 (AP)—The imperviousness of the blue eagle evidently is more than symbolic. A hawk disputed the right of the new bird to a place of business at Pecon, swooping down with talons extended and striking against a plate glass window. Impact didn't break the glass but did break the hawk's delusions.

The corn crop in North Carolina this year has been estimated at 42,550,000 bushels.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
904 North Frost.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, January 14.

The golden text is: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Cor. 5:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ" (1 Peter 2:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our character is spiritual communion with the one God. Our bread, which cometh down from heaven, is Truth. Our cup is the cross. Our wine the inspiration of Love, the draught our Master drank and commended to his followers" (page 2).

Sunday, 11 a. m.
Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.
Wednesday testimonial meeting, 8 p. m.

The reading room is open Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday from 4 to 6 p. m., and Wednesday evening before and after the services. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use the reading room.

Sunday morning's message will deal with "Paternal or Family Religion."

Monday evening, January 15, at 7:30, an illustrated lecture picturing the missionary activities of the Episcopal church outside of the states will be given in the parish house by Mrs. Habersham, a laywoman of Los Angeles, who has for her own pleasure visited and taken these pictures of the missionary activities as she has seen and studied them for herself. It is sure to be a very interesting and instructive lecture. There will be no admission charge and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.
Newton C. Smith, rector.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Corner Kingsmill and West Streets.

Bible school meeting by departments at 9:45, worship at 11. The pastor will occupy the pulpit at 11 and 7:30, subject for the 11 o'clock hour, "Minorities, or the Law of the Remnant." No greater truth has been spoken than "Majorities rule, but minorities save."

In the evening the subject is "Highways that Gought to be Closed." The sleeping saints of 33 would do well to awake to the over increasing fact, a united, loyal, self-sacrificing Christian consciousness is a greater need in every community than a boom of prosperity. This church desires above everything else to be helpful and render a ministry that is fearless against the foes of the human soul, the family, the youth, and the laws of our land. A welcome is extended.

Mack of 'Black Crows' Fame Is Killed in Wreck

MESA, Ariz., Jan. 12 (AP)—Charles E. Mack, 46, originator of the famous comedy team of Moran and Mack, known as the "Two Black Crows," was fatally injured as an automobile overturned six miles from Mesa last night.

Others in the automobile, who all escaped serious injury, were Mack Sennett, former "bathing beauty" motion picture producer; the comedian's wife and daughter, Mary Jane, and his partner, George Moran.

Mack was crushed under the machine but was still alive when passing motorists helped to free him and bring him to a hospital. He died a short time later.

Moran, who said he had been associated with Mack for 18 years, declared the dying comedian, whose negro dialect phrases were once bywords of the country, kept muttering: "The end is here, pal."

A turtle measuring four and a half feet across was caught in the Withlacoochee river in Georgia.

PANIC BREAKS OUT IN FRENCH ASSEMBLY OVER STAVISKY

PARIS, Jan. 12 (AP)—Premier Camille Chautemps warned the nation today that the royalist riots over the Stavisky scandal held the threat of a Coup d'Etat to establish a "directory."

Thousands of troops were held ready to march on Paris if necessary to stamp out the disorders, which have occurred in a protest against alleged complicity by government officials in the Bayonne pawnshop collapse which cost the French public more than $40,000,000.

The president of the Chamber of Deputies adjourned the body suddenly this afternoon in the midst of a pandemonium which broke out when Deputy Jean Ybarnegary charged that "the police assassinated" Serge Stavisky, founder of the pawnshop to hush the case and protect higher-ups.

Premier Chautemps jumped to his feet, waved his arms, and protested that Stavisky killed himself when secret service operators surrounded him last Monday and pleaded he would make a "personal investigation" of the affair.

The chamber previously had been twice suspended because of the noise in the hall.

When adjournment came, hundreds of deputies continued to yell, slam their desk tops, and rush

EFFECTS OF SILVER POLICY ARE SEEN IN NEWS-REEL AT LANORA

The far-reaching effects of President Roosevelt's announcement that the government will buy all newly mined silver in the United States, are to be seen in the current issue of the Pampa Daily News-Universal Newsreel. Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer, describes this and the other events in the reel at La Nora theater.

Responding to the Chief Executive's announcement, markets boom and an immediate upturn is felt in the pre-producing Western states. The new plan is expected to open new markets in the far East to American merchants, to bring prosperity to many mining centers and result in the employment of thousands of men.

Visible World Is Sample of What's Above A Beyond

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 12 (AP)—The mystery of how large the universe is or whether it is boundless may not be solved soon, but Dr. Edwin Hubble gives a hint of what may lie beyond the range of the 100-inch telescope.

The noted astronomer estimates there are 75,000,000 nebulae, star systems much like the Milky Way, within range of the giant reflector at the Carnegie Institution's Mount Wilson observatory.

"There are as yet no indications of a super system of nebulae analogous to the system of stars," Dr. Hubble explained.

"Hence for the first time the region now observable with existing telescopes may be said possibly to be a fair sample of the universe as a whole."
