'ANIMOSITY' IS ISSUE IN OCKER TRIAL

COLONEL ACTUATED BY ILL WILL, CLAIMS DEFENSE

SAN ANTONIO, March 3 (AP)—Major William C. Ocker, noted inventor of air safety devices and veteran air corps pilot today is accused of uttering improper remarks concerning his commander, Lieut. Col. H. B. Clagett.

Charges that Col. Clagett's attitude toward Major Ocker was actuated by animosity and ill will, were made in the opening defense statement. Major Ocker's counsel said they expected to prove the ill will dated back to 1924 when Major Ocker was a captain at Bolling Field under Col. Clagett.

The derogatory statements attributed to Major Ocker were made to Major Clyde C. Johnston, Kelly Field chief flight surgeon, when Major Ocker appeared for a medical examination to determine if he should be returned to flying status. Major Johnston alleged Major Ocker accused Major Johnston and Col. Clagett of "collusion" to keep his pilot's status from being restored because of non-existent physical disabilities.

Testimony that he made an exhaustive physical examination last September of Major Ocker and found him qualified under army regulations to fly was given by Captain H. E. Schneider, flight surgeon under Major Johnston. Captain Schneider said he made the examination unwillingly and only after he had been ordered to do so directly by Major Johnston. Capt. Schneider said he was reluctant to make the examination because he did not want to become involved in a controversy of Major Ocker's flying status.

Captain Schneider testified he did not find a defect mentioned by Major Johnston in the examination of Major Ocker made in January, 1933. Captain Schneider said he changed several items in his report after consultation with Major Johnston. The charges reduced Major Ocker's physical rating, the defense contended.

Defense counsel asserted Col. Clagett became unfriendly toward Major Ocker when high ranking army officers repeatedly asked that Major Ocker be assigned to them as pilot.

The defense also asserted Col. Clagett tried to block efforts of Major Ocker to have the war department pass on his inventions. Major Ocker is credited with being a pioneer in "blind flying."

Terrier 'Dognaped' for Ransom

First "dognaping" case in dogdom's high society was that of "Kid Boots Ace," held for $500 ransom after his "abduction" from a crowded Chicago hotel lobby. He is pictured with Miss Gertrude Koenig, just before he was stolen, after winning the grand prize of the Western Boston Terrier club show. "He isn't worth a nickel, but I wouldn't take $10,000 for him," said Louis Rudzinsky, his owner, of Winthrop, Mass.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT OF COOKSON HILLS, FORD BRADSHAW, IS SLAIN IN ATTEMPT TO ELUDE CAPTURE

Held Roadhouse in a State of Terror For 3 Hours

FORD SMITH, Ark., March 3 (AP)—Ford Bradshaw, wild-shooting smart aleck who fancied himself as the outlaw of the notorious Cookson Hills, died today in a stream of lead at the back door of a little Oklahoma roadhouse.

"Don't do it—don't do it," were the hoodlum's last words as he fell mortally wounded, after he had established the roadhouse at Arkoma, Okla., just over the state line five miles southeast of here.

"He thought he was a bad man, but he was just another chump," said Bill Harper, proprietor of the roadhouse, who shot Bradshaw. "He who shot the bad man as Bradshaw scuffled with Bob Harper, brother of Bill Harper."

Thus ended the criminal career of Bradshaw, sought for killings and bank robberies, who for months had terrorized the country-side by shooting up eastern Oklahoma country towns and who reputedly had been a confederate of the notorious Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, Texas fugitives.

Two weeks ago, hundreds of Oklahoma national guardsmen and peace officers sought him in the Cookson Hills, but found nothing of him.

Bradshaw was slain early this morning after officers from Fort Smith had arrived at the Harper establishment in answer to a "riot" call. With a woman companion, Mary Jane Fields, he had held customers and employees of the place in a state of terror for three hours, roaring of badness.

Bradshaw, officers said, first became "real men" last night after he had lost more than $100 in a gambling game at the roadhouse. He wrecked several slot machines, and ordered the woman to get his bullet proof vest from their car putting it on inside the roadhouse.

He then forced customers to take drinks with him, threatened to kill several patrons and took complete charge. Mrs. Harper and a customer managed to escape and called police, surrounded the place.

Manager of NEWS Returns to City

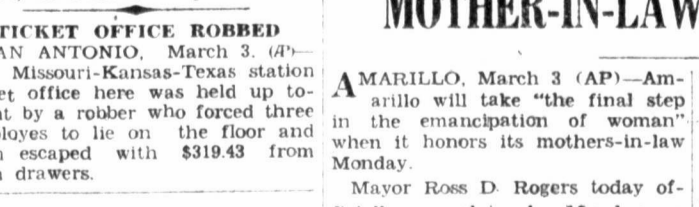

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore N. Nunn and little daughter returned to Pampa Friday evening from Washington, D. C., where Mr. Nunn for two months was associated with Bascom N. Timmons, capital writer in "covering" congress for a number of newspapers. They were snowbound several days in Kentucky on route. The temperature went 18 degrees below zero.

Mr. Nunn also wrote a column of comment for a number of Panhandle papers.

Mr. and Mrs. Nunn will go to Amarillo today to visit relatives for a few days. They will be at the home of Mrs. Nunn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Townsend. They will return soon to Pampa, where Mr. Nunn is general manager of the Pampa Daily News.

Mrs. Clint C. Small of Amarillo, Wallace Neal of Amarillo, and Mrs. Ed Berger and daughter of Berger were here yesterday to attend the funeral for Ben H. Stover.

Hiram Johnson Comes To Democratic Defense LIFE SENTENCE GIVEN DR. SARAH RUTH DEAN

WOMAN WEEPS WILDLY AFTER JURY VERDICT

DOCTOR WILL REMAIN FREE ON ORIGINAL CHARGE BOND

GREENWOOD, Miss., March 3 (AP)—A jury today returned a guilty verdict against Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean and sentenced her to spend the rest of her natural life at hard labor in the state penitentiary for the murder of her admirer, Dr. John Preston Kennedy.

The verdict, representing a rejection of the woman physician's sworn testimony that she did not poison Kennedy with a whisky highball, came after 12 hours and 52 minutes of deliberation.

The trial lasted five weeks.

As the defendant strove to keep the stoic calm she had maintained almost throughout the lengthy trial and groped her way to a waiting room to sob out of control of the crowded courtroom, her attorneys quickly entered a motion for a new trial.

Preliminary arguments on the new trial motion were heard during the afternoon, when presiding Judge S. P. Davis granted defense attorneys 90 days to prepare detailed briefs, tentatively setting a further hearing for June 2, at Indianola, Miss.

Over strenuous state objections, the court decreed that Dr. Dean should remain free on her $10,000 indictment bond, pending action on the motion. Her attorneys told the court she was ill, suffering from a chronic stomach ailment.

In a prepared statement handed out tonight, Dr. Dean thanked her attorneys "for their untiring efforts in my behalf throughout this persecution." She then went into retirement at the home of relatives here.

In sharp contrast to the quick intake of breath which marked the reception by Dr. Dean, her relatives and attorneys, of the verdict, members of the Kennedy family which had employed special prosecutors to lead the district attorney in pressing the poison charge against the 36-year old baby specialist, expressed pleasure at the jury's finding.

The jury took three ballots, the first last night being nine to three for conviction, the next this morning standing 11 to one and the last unanimous for conviction without capital punishment. Having agreed on guilt and rejected a death verdict, the jury had no choice but to prescribe life imprisonment.

REPUBLICANS HURL ATTACK AT ROOSEVELT

CALIFORNIAN ASSAILS GOP ASSAULT AS A 'SORRY POLICY'

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The first anniversary of the Roosevelt regime was the signal today for a sharp republican congressional attack on the party in power and a counter-assault by a republican independent.

Opening its campaign to reduce the overwhelming democratic majorities in the house and senate, the joint congressional republican campaign committee issued a statement declaring the administration ends its first year "with many platform pledges untried and practically abandoned, with policies unshaped and conflicting, with its monetary program bewilderingly uncertain—a situation baffling enough to prove a hindrance to a return to prosperity."

Although the committee contended frank criticism could not be construed as "mere partisanship," Senator Hiram Johnson, California republican independent who supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency and is up for reelection this fall with promise of democratic aid, issued a statement characterizing as a "sorry policy" the attack upon the administration last night by Chairman Sanders of the republican national committee.

Johnson said he and other independent who bolted the party to assist in the election of Mr. Roosevelt were pleased when "some authority" withdrew from publication a democratic national committee statement lauding the administration record, and added "what a sorry" it was some republican official did not do likewise with the Sanders' "partisan" criticism.

USES WOODEN GUN TO FLEE FROM PRISON

LOCK GUARDS IN CELL AND LEAVES IN CAR OF SHERIFF

CROWN POINT, Ind., March 3 (AP)—John Dillinger, sworn "cop killer" and notorious desperado, made good his boast today that he would escape and jail.

He walked out of the Lake county jail, known as "escape proof," cowering guards with a wooden pistol that he had whittled out in his cell in a delivery unmatched for cold daring and sardonic cunning.

Tonight he was at liberty, somewhere in the Chicago countryside, with a veritable army of law officials in pursuit, and on his trail grim lipped Mrs. Lillian Holley, woman sheriff of Lake county, from whose custody he escaped.

"If I ever see John Dillinger, I'll shoot him through the head with my own pistol," Mrs. Holley said. "John the Dillinger" was the way fellow prisoners referred to Dillinger, held for trial March 12, on a charge of murdering William Patrick O'Malley, 35, in a holdup of the First National bank of East Chicago. Dillinger was charged with killing O'Malley with a machine gun. Seventeen witnesses had identified him and the state asserted he was certain to go to the electric chair.

Dillinger's apparently harmless pastime of whittling a wooden pistol of much amusement on the part of guards and fellow prisoners, Little did they suspect that the outlaw would effect a jail delivery by means of his "hobby."

After he had disarmed Guard Ernest Blank with the wooden pistol, the outlaw held it aloft, laughed derisively and said: "Ha, ha, ha, I did it with a wooden pistol."

Subsequently, armed with a revolver taken from Blank with an avenging hatred, he locked up all available guards, after disarming them, confiscated two Thompson machine guns from the warden's office, commandeered an automobile and sped away with Blank and Edwin Saager, garage attendant, whom he took along as hostages. He released them later at Peotone, Ill., 25 miles south of Joliet.

When he left the jail, five iron doors were locked behind him. With him was Herbert Youngblood, negro held for a Gary murder, who aided him in the escape.

"Today's escape was Dillinger's second break from behind bars, and he engineered the delivery of ten convicts from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City last summer. In his own previous escape, Dillinger broke from jail at Lima, with the aid of companions from the outside, the sheriff being killed in the delivery. Dillinger earlier had engineered the Michigan City prison break of ten convicts. Some of these helped him escape and he took them with him as recruits to a gang which terrorized the midwest for weeks, robbing banks and obtaining loot running in 'o' hundreds of thousands of dollars. During that time he and two of his gang, Harry Pierpont and John Hamilton, were among the most widely hunted criminals in America.

Hamilton is still at large. Dillinger and three members of his band, Russell Clark, Pierpont, and John Mackley, together with Mary Kinder, sweetheart of Pierpont, were captured in Tucson, Ariz., a few weeks ago. "Hick cops," Dillinger said disdainfully, after he was taken into custody.

All this time, guards detailed outside the prison, went about their duties in ignorance of what was going on. For more than a half hour, no one was able to gain entrance to the jail, due to Dillinger's

Prison Manager Not To Run For Texas Governor

HUNTSVILLE, March 3 (AP)—Lee Simmons, general manager of the Texas prison system, announced today that he would not be a candidate for governor, preferring from a standpoint of "service to my state" to continue his present position.

"After considering this question seriously from the standpoint of service to my state," he said in a statement, "I feel, for the present at least, that I should continue in my present position, provided, of course, only so long as my services are satisfactory to the prison board."

Simmons said he made his decision after receiving a large number of requests that he become a gubernatorial candidate.

NEW PROGRAM OF WORK WILL REPLACE CWA

Highway Building To Be Continued In This Territory

SETTING up of a substitute for CWA in the drought area of the Panhandle will mean a continuation of highway work in Gray county. Plans for the new set-up will be received this week.

The state highway department also expects to receive part of an anticipated new federal road appropriation.

It was learned by George Briggs, B. C. D. manager in Amarillo Friday that a new 8-month highway program is being drafted. While the list of proposed projects is not complete, it is known that the Pampa-Borger road is one which is in line for work.

Highway construction is expected to take place where the roads are most needed and where there are roads to be finished across dirt gaps. It is possible that camps may be set up at some locations somewhat distant from the residence of men recently or now on CWA lists.

Although the size of the new appropriation for drought-stricken counties is not yet known, it is believed that most of those recently taken from CWA rolls can be restored under the substitute plan. CWA as a national policy is rapidly being dropped. Substitute plans will be drafted for communities which are hardest hit. Workers in other localities are expected to find jobs on farms, in factories, and in construction projects.

Youth Given 99 Years in Murder

CLEBURNE, March 3 (AP)—Convicted for the slaying of Thomas Gullett, Hill county youth and his neighbor, H. L. Cobb, 33, was sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary by a jury today after two hours' deliberation.

"I am not guilty," was Cobb's only comment on the verdict.

His attorneys announced they would file a motion for a new trial and would appeal the case should it be denied.

The state at the trial, which lasted all week, built up a circumstantial evidence case and attempted to show that Gullett, with money in his pocket, had planned to make a trip west with Cobb, that prints of automobile tires near the barn corresponded with the make of tires on the car Cobb drove and that Cobb was seen in the immediate vicinity late the night of Jan. 19.

AMARILLO AND HOWE TO OBSERVE MOTHER-IN-LAW DAY ON MONDAY

AMARILLO, March 3 (AP)—Amarillo will take "the final step in the emancipation of woman" when it honors its mothers-in-law Monday.

Mayor Ross D. Rogers today officially proclaimed Monday as mothers-in-law day when he declared the city should abhor "the custom, for time immemorial, to cast reflection upon those wonderful women of all races known as mothers-in-law," and decreed that they be placed "on the pedestal of affection and respect they so richly deserve."

"I earnestly call upon our citizenship to show all mothers-in-law that may assemble here that we recognize them as a most important element in our citizenship, and to receive on the part of all of us that henceforth we will do our utmost to bring about the respect for those noble women that they deserve, and to do our part towards the complete elimination of the unfair custom of casting reflections on the mother-in-law by way of jokes and witicism," the proclamation read.

Gene Howe, Amarillo columnist, who originated the idea, described it as "the final step."

"In recent years we have corrected every erroneous impression about women, except that mothers-in-law are home-breakers," he said.

"For every home broken up by a mother-in-law, a hundred are kept intact. I pity the young couple who starts out without a mother-in-law to direct their course."

An all-day program, including a big parade, contests, and a show is being arranged for the observance.

Boy Scout Work To Be Financed Here This Week

Steps to finance the Boy Scout movement here as it deserves on the basis of excellent progress in the last two years will be taken this week through planning of the canvassing.

Meanwhile voluntary contributions continue to be made at the council headquarters in the city hall. The total last night was slightly below $500.

The council now has 1,011 Scouts in 46 troops of the 14 county area, and ranks among the most progressive in the ninth region.

John Shannon, chairman of the scoutmasters round table, announced yesterday that an important session of scoutmasters and their assistants will be held next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the city hall. The subject for the gathering will be "Troop Troubles." Every scoutmaster is urged to "take his troubles to the meeting" and have the advantage of advice of other scoutmasters.

ROOSEVELT POINTS TO PLAN FOR ERADICATING ILLNESSES OF U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt on the first anniversary of his presidency today pointed the nation to a permanent plan for the eradication of "many other illnesses of the body-politic."

Speaking at exercises of the American university here, Mr. Roosevelt cited as the "salient" features of the last year the "amazing and universal increase and the intelligent interest which the people of the United States are taking in the whole subject of government."

He welcomed the cooperation of the educational world in joining with businessmen and professional elements in going ahead.

NEW OIL POOLS MUST BE GIVEN ICKES' ASSENT

Developing of Areas To Be Regulated By Secretary

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Three basic principles were laid down by Secretary Ickes, the oil administrator, tonight as controlling factors in considering plans for development of new oil pools.

Under the oil code a section designed to encourage exploration, but guard against exploitation, provides that the secretary must approve plans for developing new areas.

Some 200 plans, so far being submitted, are being studied by technical experts and geologists preparatory to reports to Ickes on them.

"Three basic principles will control in considering these plans," the secretary said in a statement.

Number one will be that all production shall be in conformity with allotments made pursuant to the code by a duly authorized federal or state agency. Number two will be that production of oil and gas from the pool shall at all times be without waste, and number three will be that production shall be in conformity with allotments made pursuant to the code by a duly authorized federal or state agency.

Number two will be that production of oil and gas from the pool shall at all times be without waste, and number three will be that production shall be limited to such amount as can be put to beneficial use."

FRENCH SILENT

PARIS, March 3 (AP)—The first anniversary of President Roosevelt's administration passed with almost complete silence in the press, though the newspapers have been filled almost constantly for months with stories of his plans and hopes. France is still fascinated with the American "experiment" though Mr. Roosevelt's monetary policy continues to be under heavy fire, particularly from the orthodox economists.

"We need a trained personnel in government," he said. "We need disinterested, as well as broad gauged public officials. This part of our problem we have not yet solved, but it can be solved and it can be accomplished without the creation of a national bureaucracy which would dominate the national life of our governmental system."

"In the broader problem of government, of all kinds, local and state and federal and international," said the president, "we in this country today are thinking not merely in terms of the moment, but in terms that apply to the rest of our lives and to the lives of our children."

DO GOOD TO ALL MEN: Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.—Galatians 6:9, 10.

WASTE is contrary to good economics. Waste is contrary to the spirit of NRA. Waste is deplorable when it results in overproduction and prices fall and labor does not receive its due. Waste is . . . waste.

Accumulated gas waste to date in the Panhandle field is variously placed up to more than two trillion feet. Although this may be a debatable estimate, such a total would supply all the power needs of Texas for 70 years based upon current consumption figures. Of course, waste is a relative term, and waste of gas must be compared with the cost of conserving it in some instances. But assuming that any economic waste is bad, we have not even begun to approach many of the problems involved. Glaring market inequities have resulted in damage to holdings of many lease and land owners. Waste has, in a number of instances, been the by-product of steps taken to prevent damage to marketless and helpless gas owners. Granting that market opportunities should be equitable and that no gas land should be drained without remuneration to the owner, we must acknowledge that remedies can be very costly if not provided with interests of Texas as a whole considered.

Only those with vested interests and who have strategic individual positions can look with anything but alarm upon the vast waste which is taking place in the Panhandle field. Future citizens of this territory will undoubtedly look with condemnation upon the shortsighted policies of this period and upon the constitutional limitations which have prevented an equitable solution of the market problem while at the same time saving the gas for the people.

But it is necessary to view somewhat skeptically attempts to prevent waste. The reason is that individualism can never solve the varied problems involved. A cooperative spirit hitherto almost unknown in the approaches to the market problem must be evidenced before there can be any appreciable progress toward conservation of the fuel and removal of the marketing evils. Gas as a natural resource should be a great and lasting asset, not only for the land owners involved but for the people of Texas as a whole. It is most unfortunate that Texas cannot, or has not, prevented the exploitation of this resource by interests which return little revenue to the state and has not been able to prevent huge and continued wastage. If the remarks of 1950 could be heard now, we would have a better viewpoint with which to approach the problem.

RUSSIAN Soviets who sneered about Americans starving in the midst of plenty don't know much about the American SRC. Do you? The Surplus Relief corporation is a non-profit making federal concern with the two-way relief program which helps farmers by buying up surpluses of food and prevents starvation by distributing this food to families unable to buy it. Since last October, the SRC has given away millions of pounds of pork, butter, cheese, beef, wheat, and other foods. The value of this food was 50 million dollars. Processing of much of it furnished employment for needy families. Although critics of the president are shouting socialism and calling it a re-distribution of wealth, Mr. Roosevelt is merely making good his promise that this country would no longer see millions of people inadequately clothed and fed and suffering all the unfortunate consequences of malnutrition and exposure while surpluses of the commodities they need are begging for a market.

WORLD CHEERS ROOSEVELT ON YEAR'S LABOR

AMERICA PAST CRISIS OBSERVES LONDON NEWSPAPER

(Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Press.)

European leaders cheered President Roosevelt Saturday on the completion of his first year in office. They generally reviewed his titanic problems sympathetically, praised his energetic efforts, and viewed the future hopefully.

Lessons for the whole world, in economics and social reform, were derived by these statesmen, economists, and students, from the way the American executive tackled his task.

Some expressed doubt or ignorance about the scope of the American monetary plans, among them "orthodox" French economists who said the American dollar is still in the laboratory.

To ascertain the reaction abroad to the American program, the Associated Press asked old world leaders for their opinions.

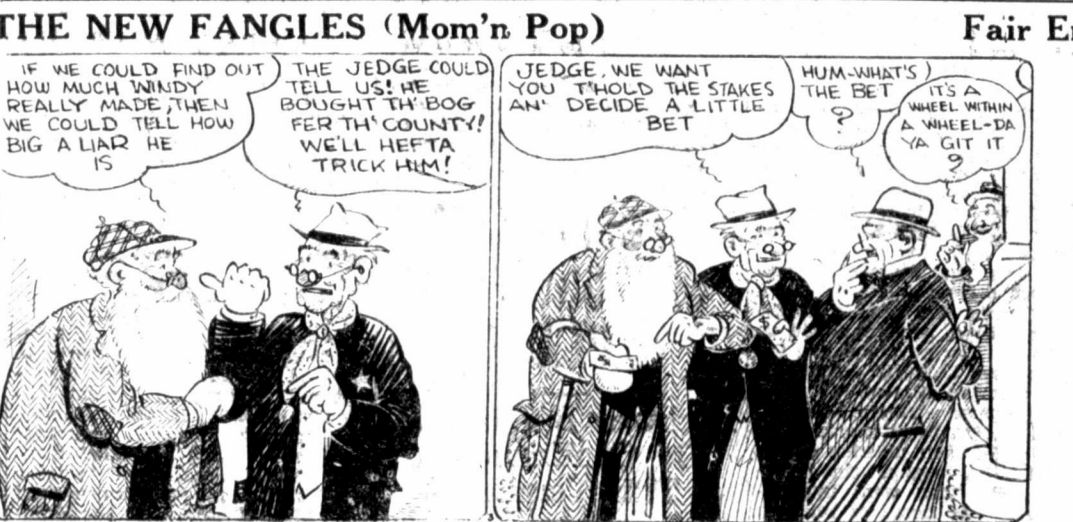

The answer follows:

Germany believes generally as does the Hamburger Fremdenblatt that "his great service is that through courage to act he has inspired the American people to new hopes of their economic future."

In France more favorable comment has replaced the questioning attitude first accorded Mr. Roosevelt's monetary policies, the man in the street thinks "a Roosevelt would do the country good" and the consensus seems to be that "really it is a new America—young, ardent, vibrant."

Great Britain was keenly interested in the president's new messages on tariff and disarmament—indicative of the unflinching regard given his statements.

"America is definitely past her crisis," said one London newspaper. The director of the Swedish budget, Professor Gunnar Myrdal, said: "His policies are the most grandiose effort in the history of man to prevent a catastrophe which would endanger society."

TEACHERS ASKED TO TELL YOUTH THAT CAPITALISM IS BANKRUPT

CLEVELAND, O., March 3 (AP)—A declaration that "the rising generation" should be told "the system of private capitalism has been shown to be bankrupt" was placed before the progressive education association conference today.

It was made by Professor George S. Counts of teachers college, Columbia university, a member of the commission of the American Historical association on the teaching of the social sciences.

"The teachers of the country are under obligation," he said, "to tell the rising generation this fact. The new society, in its basic structure, is already here. The only question to be debated pertains to the interests to be considered and served."

"In view of the great tradition of American democracy, there can be only one answer to this question—the new collective economy must be administered in the interests of the great masses who do the work of the country."

The progressive education association began its convention after the national education association's department of superintendence ended its sessions yesterday.

HEARING ON CARBON BLACK PERMIT TO BE HELD HERE MONDAY

SMITH BROTHERS' NEW PLANT PRODUCES RESIDUE GAS THAT WOULD BE USED IN FACTORY

LONE STAR PROTESTS IN WRITING TO COMMISSION

APPLICATION of the Smith Brothers Refining company for permission to erect a carbon black plant to use residue gas from its new refinery in western Wheeler county will be heard here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

J. M. McDonald, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission, Panhandle field, will preside. The hearing will be in the commission office in the Rose building. Smith brothers recently completed construction of a casing-head gasoline plant with a capacity of 100,000,000 cubic feet.

Gas to operate the plant is being supplied from four nearby gas wells. The company plans to erect the carbon plant near the casinghead refinery.

A protest against issuing the permit has been filed with the Texas Railroad commission in Austin by the Lone Star Gas company, large operators in Wheeler county. A copy of the protest was received at the local office yesterday.

It is not known whether representatives of the Lone Star company will attend the hearing.

FIGHTERS SIGNED

DALLAS, March 3. (AP)—Mickey Riley, Dallas promoter, today announced he had signed Eddie Ran and Tracy Cox for a 10-round fight here March 13. Cox formerly held the Texas junior welterweight championship but recently lost it to Tony Herrera. Cox and Ran will weigh in at 145 pounds the day of the fight.

Henry Dunaway was dismissed from Pampa hospital yesterday.

M. H. Brooks of LeFors visited here yesterday afternoon.

Raymond Nice of Skellytown was in Pampa last night.

Interpretation of Oil Code Item Is Received Here

One of the controversies in the oil code of the NRA has been the definition of an executive and who should be exempt from the hour clause because of salary. E. J. Durigan Jr., chairman of the Panhandle district enforcement committee, has received the following translation from Secretary Harold Tokes, oil administrator.

"Interpretation of Article 11, Section 1—It is the intention that the exemption as to hours of work provided for in this section shall apply only to those who exercise real executive or supervisory authority, therefore the exemption granted in this section to persons classified as executives and supervisors shall not apply to any employee receiving less than $35 per week.

"Provided, however, that all persons who furnish their own vehicles working out of bulk plants on a commission basis without minimum guarantees, shall be entitled to the exemption granted in this section regardless of the amount of their compensation.

"These interpretations are hereby approved."

Allowable For West Texas Has Been Increased

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today entered an order increasing the allowable in the West Texas district oil fields from 124,104 barrels daily to 132,382 barrels.

The newest raises brings the allowable production for the entire state to approximately 940,000 barrels daily.

The new field allowables in the West Texas district and North and South Cowden fields in Ector county, are as follows: Andrews, 430; Big Lake, 13,750; Church and Fields, 7,373; North Cowden, 1,100; South Cowden, 600; Ector-Harper, 100; Ector-Harper, 5250; Gulf-McElroy, 4,584; Howard-Glasscock, 17,500; Iron, 54; Leek, 800; Banton-East Howard, 1200; Loving county, 2,240; McCamey, 3,750; Pecos Valley, 300; Phillips-Fryol, 15; Scarborough, 1500; Sealy, 110; Westbrook, 1,211; Wink, 18,200; Yates, 41,500; Skelly-Grayson, 150; Taylor-Link, 800; Toborg, 1,015; North Ward, 3,500; South Ward, 4,800; World, 750.

The commission set a hearing for March 15 of operators in the new Palestine field. Temporary orders were issued governing drilling, those being the same as others that have obtained in the Anderson county field.

LECTURE IN SERIES
"The Mimic God" is the subject of the second of a series of Judge Rutherford's lectures to be given Sunday evening at 7:30 in the commissioners room at the city hall. Following the lecture, there will be the regular Bible study by Jehovah's Witnesses. The public is cordially invited to both of these meetings.

Miss Claudine Haines will leave today for Henderson where she will visit with her mother.

OIL ACTIVITY GROWS QUIET IN LAST WEEK

COMMISSION TESTS ON SEVERAL WELLS BEGUN

The Panhandle oil field quieted during the last week after a month of feverish activity as eastern Gray county, western Wheeler county and the territory east of Shamrock were kept in the front of activities.

The Dyke Oil company's No. 1 Saunders in section 3, block 1, BS&P survey was placed on railroad commission test Friday after being shot with 220 quarts of nitro between 2830 and 2943 feet. The test made 185 barrels the first 16 hours on test. The rig was pulled in while cleaning out early in the week.

Magnolia Petroleum company's 1 Reynolds in section 135, block 3, is being cleaned out with the hole bottomed at 3,255 feet. The test is making about 25 barrels a day thru the dirt.

A railroad commission test was started yesterday on the Southern Petroleum company's No. 3 Baird in section 127, block 3 but no report of production has been received. The hole is bottomed at 3,257 feet.

Skelly Oil company completed its No. 25 West Schaffer in Carbon county last week for a total production of 200 barrels a day. The well is in section 87, block 4, I&GN survey where the same company's No. 24 well appears good for more than 400 barrels. Pay is coming from 3,075 to 3,100 feet.

T. S. Johnson applied for permission yesterday to drill a test in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 56, block 23, Wheeler county.

Jack Dempsey To Referee Borger Fights Thursday

Borger will have another birthday party Thursday. The big celebration will open with a monster parade of progress led by Col Zack Miller and his Indians from the famous 101 ranch in Oklahoma. An elaborate array of beautiful floats depicting the early days of the Panhandle, the coming of the cowboys, the farmers, discovery of oil, boom days, martial law, etc., will be staged.

Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, will referee two 10-round bouts at Alamo park Thursday night. Chief Eugene Parra, Oklahoma City, and Pug Grubbs, Borger, will meet in one match and Eddie Murdoch of Los Angeles will meet Frankie Bates of Seattle in the second big fight.

The celebration is being sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tennis Fans To Talk Building Courts In City

Tennis enthusiasts of Pampa and surrounding territory met at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the Pampa Daily News office to discuss the construction of tennis courts for the club, organized a few months ago. Officers believe the time has come to present to the city that the base will have time to settle before topping is placed.

Dr. R. A. Webb, president of the club, will preside. Several committee reports will be heard and then the meeting will be opened for discussion. The meeting will be open to every tennis player in this vicinity and Dr. Webb urges everyone to come prepared to express his or her opinion.

The club plans to erect four good courts. A location has been chosen, but it will have to be approved by the membership.

Harvesters Won 22 Game Games And Lost Seven

The Harvester basketball team had a successful season even though it didn't retain the district championship won last year in Canyon. The Harvesters played 29 official games, winning 22 and losing seven.

J. R. Green, big forward, set a record for future Harvesters to shoot at when he looped 318 points in the 29 games. Captain Miles Marbaugh followed Green with a total of 197 points in 25 games.

Rosecoe Fimmel had looped 82 points before he was ruled ineligible by iskill scored 76 points for fourth high. Everett Woodward accounted for 60 points and Bill Dunaway for 53 points. Substitutes accounted for the rest of the 840 points by the team. The opposition scored 654 points on the Harvesters.

Hedley proved the stumbling block of the season. The Owls and Harvesters met seven times during the year with Hedley taking five of the seven games. Plainview kept the Harvesters from tying Amarillo for the Class A district championship. Amarillo and Pampa divided their two-game series and the Plainview series was also tied. The Harvesters downed Lubbock and Borger in straight games.

The Harvesters won the county championship with two wins over McLean and the same number over LeFors. They drew a bye in the bi-county play-off but lost to Hedley for sectional honors. Hedley then won the district championship in a tournament here but lost two straight games in the regional tournament in Canyon.

GASTON IS IN WAY OF OTIS' TITLE CHANGE

BY BEATING OHIO MAN CLINGMAN HOPES TO MEET KALLIO

Sailor Otis Clingman will return to the local mat tomorrow night when he meets Ken Gaston of Toledo, in the main event. Gaston will be making his first appearance in Pampa but he is not known to local fans.

The Ohio mauler lost a nip-and-tuck affair to Yaqui Joe, Sonora Indian, two weeks before he had become used to this altitude and climate. Gaston has been working hard since his last bout and now says he is ready to go places with all comers.

The battling sailor is No. 1 contender for a crack at the middleweight crown. He has defeated all comers in an elimination tournament being conducted in this section of the Panhandle. Gaston is the last stumbling block up to date. Other contenders may come along, but at present, Gaston is the only one in sight. Yaqui Joe, Joe Kopecky, Sailor Moran, Doc Mueller, and a few more were among the number to fall before Clingman's march for a chance at Gus Kallio, title holder.

The semi-final, one fall or 30-minute time limit affair, should be another main event. Lou Kodrick of Cincinnati, strongest little man in the game, will meet Charlie Heard, San Antonio flash. The maulers are about the same size but Kodrick has about twice the strength of the Santone flash. What Heard lacks in strength should be overcome by knowledge and speed.

Andy Gump and Joe Bauer will open the show with a one fall or 20-minute time limit affair. Word has been received that Andy Gump has challenged Barber Kelly to a match next Monday night.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 3.—Financial markets apparently did not have the courage of their convictions today and most of them failed to follow through on yesterday's revival.

Stocks started out as though they would duplicate their late flourish of the preceding session, but the bullish span was brief. After the first few minutes traders started taking profits and prices muddled about in a narrow and irregular range to the close. The turnover in stocks amounted to only 798,820 shares. The smallest Saturday aggregate since Jan. 13, last. Most of the leaders backed and filled diffidently. While the close was steady, the average for 30 selected issues was unchanged at 87.9.

were under pressure, while cows were on a firm to 25 higher basis. County demand for stockers and feeders was narrow at steady to 25 lower values. Aggregate receipts at eleven markets were estimated at 166,700 as compared with 180,109 last week and 191,955 the corresponding period a year ago.

Prices on hogs fluctuated considerably throughout the week, some points being 10-30 higher than last Saturday and others showing declines of 15-35. St. Louis had a late top of 5.00. Total offerings were 118,000 under last week and slightly heavier than a year ago.

CHICAGO GRAINS
CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—Mill buying of wheat futures both here and at Minneapolis helped grain prices to average a little higher today. Wheat in Chicago closed firm at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4 higher, corn 1/4 up, oats unchanged to 1/4 advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents. Corn and oats showed independent strength owing largely to announcement that permits to use imported molasses instead of domestic cereal to manufacture alcohol would not be renewed. This was expected to provide a demand for 45,800,000 bushels of grain annually.

Provisions were firm, aided by indications of better export demand.

NATION IS IN BETTER STATE THAN IN 1933

PRESIDENT IS UNMOVED BY HULLBALOO ABOUT HIM

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—The first year of the new deal ends tomorrow with much of its program buried in controversy but with the nation in a better economic condition than upon that dismal day on which Franklin D. Roosevelt took office.

While the political opposition on capitol hill reiterates its charges of dictatorship and both industry and labor berate the national recovery administration, the president proceeds with his plans, undisturbed by the hullabaloo that surrounds them.

The individual items of the chief executive's program have, roughly, fallen into one of two categories: Temporary measures designed to expedite business recovery, and projects of a permanent nature intended to bring about lasting changes in the fundamentals of the country's economic system.

In the first category are listed the public works and civil works administrations, federal purchases of agricultural surpluses for relief purposes, the emergency conservation corps, federal refinancing of home and farm mortgages, reconstruction corporation loans to banks and railroads.

On the side of reconstruction are the farm act, the Tennessee valley authority, the devalued dollar, the securities law intended to protect the dollar against rapacious financiers, the president's request for governmental control of the stock and commodity exchanges.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, March 3. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Livestock trade at mid-western markets this week was featured by a general price advance of 15-25 on the better grades of fed steers and yearlings, with some centers reporting upticks of 50 on strong weight steers. Lower grades of steers were unevenly steady to 25 higher. Chicago had a top of 7.50 on yearling and realized 7.00 on 1600 pound steers, both prices being the highest for such weights since August. Short fed heifer yearlings

Lincoln National Life Is Stronger Than Ever Now

"While a shadow may appear to be hanging over the life insurance industry because of the recent failure of three Illinois companies, the situation is by no means as serious as some people believe," states C. B. Rittenberry, general agent for the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, who with J. E. Rogers, special agent, has an advertisement in The NEWS today.

Mr. Rittenberry pointed out that there are more than 300 life insurance companies in the country and there have been very few failures. In 1932, he added, policy-holders and beneficiaries were paid $3,100,000,000 by these companies—a record of which they are proud.

Lincoln National Life, he said, has written $7,000,000 in policies in Amarillo and Pampa, and has paid over $500,000 in death claims in these cities in the last five years. The company has paid over $57,000,000 to living policy holders and beneficiaries in the last four years. But in spite of this heavy demand, Lincoln National Life has increased its assets more than $44,000,000 since 1929, Mr. Rittenberry said.

He quoted the United States Investor magazine, as follows:

"It goes without saying that such a remarkable performance, with $825,000,000 in life insurance in force, could not have been recorded if the management of Lincoln National Life had not been thoroughly schooled in the task of operating a life insurance company in conservative yet aggressive manner. That is why the company during each of the years since the beginning of the depression in 1929 has bettered its position and stood ready to meet its every obligation. In short, strict adherence to the fundamental principles of sound life insurance company management has placed Lincoln National Life in a position where it can invite the closest scrutiny on the part of both policy-holders and stockholders."

The PEOPLES COLUMN

I never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Gilmore Nunn until I met him in the columns of the Pampa Daily News. I feel like I am now pretty well acquainted with him.

For the last two months I have been reading his red hot reports from our great national capitol, and the word "finis" appearing in his last column before coming home, means much to the many readers of the Pampa Daily News in that the space can hardly be filled with anything so interesting as was his splendid correspondence, direct from Washington. If for one want to add a word of commendation and say, "Well done, good and faithful correspondent. Your work has been highly appreciated."

Verree Teasdale Seen In "Fashions of 1934"

Warner Bros. were so pleased with the acting of Verree Teasdale, the pretty girl with thetrich plumes, that they awarded her a long term contract. In "Fashions of 1934," which opens today at La Nora theater, she sings the song-hit of the picture, "Spin a Little Web of Dreams."

Wheat Growers in No Need of Extra Time for Signing

Although the wheat allotment plan has been re-opened to admit farmers who have expressed a desire to participate in the national movement, Gray county is not much interested in the news, according to Ralph Thomas, county agent.

The reason is that this county was almost unanimous in signing contracts before the deadline a few weeks ago.

Growers of this area are of course interested in the re-opening of the contract period as it affects the national acreage and prospective crops. The wheat growing sections as a whole did not respond to the plan as fully as expected during the first period.

Willard Caces, employe of the Phillips company, received treatment at Pampa hospital Friday for a broken elbow and was sent to the company hospital at Borger.

ACTION FAST AND THRILLING IN REX DRAMA

GIRL PRISONER OUT ON PAROLE HAS HARD DECISION

Packed with the exciting drama and the fast-moving action that has made Frederick Nebel's novel, "Sleepers East," one of the year's best sellers, Fox Film's screen version of the book opens at the Rex theater today. The audience was literally enthralled, for Fox has done a splendid job with the novel in keeping all the fast action, all the romance, thrills and drama that make for fine screen fare.

Out on parole for a crime she did not commit, a young woman unavoidably becomes the sole eyewitness to a murder committed by the mayor's drunken son. The mayor's henchmen, seeking to win the forthcoming election, pin the crime on the city's leading public menace. In the meantime the young lady, fearing arrest, flees to her home town where she meets her childhood sweetheart. Not wishing him to learn of her past, she leaves immediately for a distant city. The murder trial by this time nears its closing stage. The defending attorney, however, learns the truth of the murder and postpones the trial to go in search of the girl. He finds her and starts eastward. On board the train she is confronted with two opposing situations. One side endeavors to make her testify, while the other tries desperately to seal her lips. The outcome of this tense battle brings the film to a burning dramatic climax.

FASHIONS FOR '34 ARE SEEN IN NEW FILM

LAVISH COMEDY HAS ROMANTIC PLOT AS THEME

FAN dancers, stars, and gorgeous gowns are the attractions La Nora theater offers in "Fashions of 1934," the First National picture opening today. This picture, said to be among the most lavish ever produced, stars William Powell and Bette Davis.

The story is a hilarious comedy-romance based on a tale by Harry Collins and Warren Duff. It revolves about a high pressure promoter who corners the Paris and New York fashion markets. William Powell plays the role of the personable promoter whose ambitious, although unscrupulous, schemes keep him one step ahead of trouble.

Bunny Berkeley has directed the spectacle number of "Fashions of 1934," which has received applause every time it has been viewed. Fan dancers provide the color and beauty in this daring dance.

Two hundred girls take part in the fan dance number which rejuvenates the fad for ostrich feathers. Four hundred fans, each containing fifteen plumes, are used for the dance. Careful rehearsing, to avoid any question of censorship, was necessary in preparing the dance, over eight weeks being used for rehearsals alone.

In addition to the fan dance, a mammoth style show with the latest creations of the modistes' art will be seen in the picture, which is, however, primarily a comedy romance and not a musical. Bette Davis heads the supporting cast.

M. E. CHURCH WILL OBSERVE 'HOMECOMING'

'ALUMNI' INVITED BACK TO 'ALMA MATER' TODAY

"Alumni" of the First Methodist church, including "blacksliders" and members in both good and bad standing, will—so the Rev. Gaston Foote, pastor, hopes—look back to their "alma mater" today when the church will celebrate "Homecoming Day" in both the Sunday school and in the two church services.

Today, Rev. Foote, announced, will mark the beginning of a month in which the church plans to pay off an $18,000 church mortgage. "About three years ago," the pastor said, "it was announced that there had been secured sufficient pledges to pay the church out of debt; and there was great rejoicing and a victory dinner was held celebrating the occasion. The pledges were secured to pay it out in full, but when collection was attempted the depression was on and many could not pay. All told there was $18,000 still due when the smoke cleared away. The church cannot go forward in the way she should until the debt is paid. The deadline is Easter."

The sermon subject this morning at 10:55 a. m. will be "The Pride of Possession," and in the evening at 7:27 p. m. the pastor will preach on "Where Do We Go From Here?"

which contains such talented players as Frank McHugh, Verree Teasdale, Reginald Owen, Henry O'Neill, Hugh Herbert, Philip Reed, Gordon Westcott and Dorothy Burgess.

Grid Prospects Of '34 To Play Exes This Week

Coach Odus Mitchell put his Harvester prospects through an hour of hard scrimmaging Friday afternoon. Every boy out for practice was used during the stiff workout which followed an hour of passing, punting, running interference and tackling.

Weird combinations marked the scrimmage and Coach Mitchell and Argus Fox got a good look at the material on hand. Several former Gorillas showed up well enough to make lettersmen from last year mighty nervous. Scrimmages are to become more numerous this week.

The Harvesters may meet the "Exes" of Coach C. O. Busby Friday or Saturday afternoon in a lengthy scrimmage session. The Harvesters believe that tough scrimmage sessions will bring out good points better and quicker than practice sessions.

The boys didn't even know how they are getting along. One lineup will start practice one day and an entirely different bunch will get the call another time. No bet is being overlooked. Boys are being used in different positions and already one or two have showed that they might do better at a new position.

Coaches Mitchell and Busby will get together early this week to arrange time and place for the scrimmage.

Pampans To Box At Lubbock On Monday Night

Three Pampa boxers will appear on Pomoter Mary Fedler's boxing card in Lubbock tomorrow night. Jack Dempsey will be the referee.

Mickel Dunivan, local middleweight, will tangle with Jack Thompson of Dalhart. Thompson is one of the best in his class and should give the Pampa boy a good battle. Dempsey himself recommended Dunivan for the main event.

Joe Vernon, another Pampa middleweight, will tangle with Harry Guthrie, heavyweight and light heavyweight champion of Texas Tech for two years. Vernon will be giving weight but it is expected that his professional knowledge will overcome the weight advantage.

The third Pampa boy will be Kid Stamper, local welterweight. Stamper hadn't learned last night who his opponent would be. The local boxers will leave this morning for Lubbock.

How to Request Emergency Loan Will Be Told

Farmers seeking loans from the $40,000,000 emergency crop loan fund will be directed in the near future where to apply in their respective communities, states Wm. I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit administration. Rules and regulations covering such loans will soon be announced. Application forms are being prepared.

It is required by the law that borrowers, as a condition to receiving an emergency loan, must furnish proof of cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The nature of proof of cooperation will be similar to that recently announced as applicable to other borrowers who apply for loans under the Farm Credit administration.

Each applicant must obtain clearance through or furnish a certificate of cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The production control associations will make available lists of those who have signed acreage control contracts. Farmers who are on this list, if otherwise eligible to borrow, will be able to obtain loans.

County councils of the production control associations will certify to representatives of the Farm Credit Administration the names of any farmers who, while not signing acreage control contracts, are cooperating by not increasing their production contrary to the acreage control program.

Where county councils have not been set up, Farm Credit Administration representatives will be instructed to make no loans to farmers who are planning to increase production.

For the time being, according to Governor Myers, the various regional emergency crop loan offices will handle the applications for loans from the $40,000,000 fund, and these offices will be under the direct direction of the Emergency Crop Loan division, which is placed under the supervision of the production credit commissioner, S. M. Garwood, and the governor.

C. C. Hogan is field supervisor in this area.

Community Work of To Elect Officers At Meet Thursday

A community which has a strong Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary is safer in an emergency and surer to make progress, said Mrs. S. A. Burns of the local Auxiliary unit today, urging city-wide support of the Auxiliary's campaign for 1934 members.

She described the work of the Auxiliary during the past year for the communities in which its 8,000 units are located, telling how the Auxiliary has lived up to its slogan, "Every unit a community asset."

"Much of the Auxiliary's community service work during the past year has been of an emergency nature," she said. "In communities struck by earthquake, flood and storm disasters, the Auxiliary has taken a leading part in relief work. It has also given leadership and cooperation in unemployment relief activities everywhere."

A total of 3,481 community projects have been brought to a successful conclusion by the Auxiliary units during the year, with a total of $849,424.32 spent in community service, and reports are yet to be received from approximately 2,500 units.

Typical Auxiliary community projects throughout the country are: establishing free public libraries, sponsoring Boy and Girl Scout Reserve groups, holding community canning bees, sponsoring classes in home economics, giving free concerts and entertainments; sewing and distributing supplies for the Red Cross; promoting tree planting and community beautification projects; holding free surgical, medical, dental, pre and post-natal, baby, small pox and diphtheria prevention, and orthopedic clinics; establishing play grounds and community gardens, and supplying noon meals to undernourished school children.

Lynn Boyd Escapes Injury in Accident

Lynn Boyd miraculously escaped serious injury late Friday afternoon when his car was struck by a gravel truck near Childress. Mr. Boyd received a collar bone fracture and severe bruises. He was brought to Pampa following the accident, and last night was resting well.

Mr. Boyd was en route to Dallas when the accident occurred. He said the gravel truck drove out of a side road, striking his car on the side. The car turned over several times and was badly damaged.

The local Girl Scouts now number 103. Other captains present were Miss Madge Rusk, Mrs. C. C. Wilson, and Mrs. Clarence Coffin.

TORNADOES PLASTER A 37 TO 21 DEFEAT ON SANDIES

The fight for the high school basketball championship of Texas narrowed down Saturday night to eight teams which won their regional play-off tournaments.

By virtue of their regional victories, these teams gained the right to fight out for the title in the impending state tournament.

Surviving teams were Lamesa, Denton, Brownwood, Athens, Jefferson Davis of Houston, Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio, Harlingen and Austin of Al Paso.

In region No. 1, Lamesa eliminated Amarillo by the decisive score of 37 to 21. They clashed at Canyon. Brownwood won the championship of region No. 2 and qualified for the state tournament by defeating the Colorado Wolves in a bitterly-contested game, 28 to 26.

Denton high school sailed through to an easy victory over McKinney, 34 to 15, to take honors in region No. 3.

Athens, famed for its classy high school case teams, won the championship of region No. 4 by taking Emory to a trimming, 31 to 15. The game was played at Jacksonville.

At Huntsville, the strong Jefferson Davis high team from Houston defeated Huntsville in the region No. 5 final, 26 to 16.

Thomas Jefferson high of San Antonio overwhelmed Temple, 31 to 19, to win the title of region No. 6, at San Marcos.

Harlingen high school won the right to represent region No. 7 in the state tournament by handing Taft high a close 18 to 16 whipping at Kingsville.

A round-robin tournament for the championship of region No. 8, at Alpine, was won by Austin high of El Paso, 44 to 12. The losing team in that contest was Big Lake.

Large Audience Hears Soprano

Songs by Helen Pouts Cahoon pleased an audience that filled the women's club room of the city hall last evening, when she appeared under the auspices of the Junior Treble Clef music club.

She sang a group of folk songs from old England, Italy, Germany and Norway, to open the program, then gave the Shadow Dance aria from "Dinorah," and closed with a group of lively modern tunes.

Most popular with her hearers were the Norwegian echo song, with an unusual vocal effect of mountain echoes, and two nursery jingles set to gay music. Responding to an encore, she sang the familiar "Last Rose of Summer" to bring enthusiastic applause.

SCOUT NEWS

TROOP NO. 18
By Elzey Vanderburg

Troop No. 18 met Friday night with 22 regular Scouts, two leaders, and 6 visitors present.

Second Class first aid was studied by patrols, also compass points. A contest followed on first aid between patrols, the Rattlesnake patrol getting high points for the most number of correct answers without help.

Several projects assigned for last week were on hand. This project was that each boy make an advancement stick. This was made by taking a 2"x16"x3/4" board and beginning at the top, placing the Scout's initials, next the letter "R" for recruit, and so on down the stick, the last emblem carved on the stick being his present rank. The project assignment for next week is that each patrol have its patrol flag on display in the Scout hall on staffs.

The Rattlesnake patrol under Laverne Courson is planning an overnight hike for next week. Harold Butrum and Fay Savage both turned in their second class test cards complete.

The Bear patrol was supposed to have its dad's present last night, but due to some of the boys forgetting there was only one present, W. A. McAnally. Next week, the Rattlesnakes are supposed to have their dad's at the troop meeting.

Melvin Turner was presented his second class badge. John Mackie with his life badge. Both these boys are making real Scouts. John Mackie is the present patrol leader of the Wolves, while Melvin, who is a comparatively new Scout, belongs in the up and going Bear patrol.

The following boys will soon be tenderfoot Scouts; J. A. Jackson, Ormand Green, Jack Green, and Jack Atkinson, all of the Bear patrol.

2 CAGE GAMES TO BE PLAYED FRIDAY NIGHT

FACULTIES TO CLASH; PROSPECTS TO PLAY CABOT SHOPS

The basketball season will close Friday night when two of the most interesting games of the season will be played at the high school gymnasium. The first game will be called at 7 o'clock and will see the Harvester prospects of next season meeting the Cabot Shops team.

The Faculty team of Pampa and Borger schools will be in the closing game. The same two teams will meet in Borger Tuesday night. Proceeds from the games will be used in buying sweaters for the high school basketball teams of the two schools. Admission to the games will be 20 cents for students and 35 cents for adults.

Harvesters returning next season include J. R. Green, Bill Dunaway, Everett Woodward, Edward Scott, Tom Rose Jr., Mayse Nash, Robert McAnally, and Hazel Mackie. Although Coach Odus Mitchell has not announced his starting line-up for Friday night, Woodward and Rose will probably get the call as forwards with Green at center and Dunaway and Scott guards.

The game between the faculties will bring together some of the stars of former years. Several large colleges of the southwest will be represented. Four former West Texas State Teachers college stars produced by the late Sam Burton will be on the Pampa starting line-up. The Pampans have a strong reserve force.

Borger also has a strong array of stars headed by Coach Acker, former T. C. U. star and Knowles, assistant basketball coach.

WILSONS CELEBRATE

In celebration of their sixty-seventh wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wilson, thirty-one year residents of Gray county, were honored at a gathering of pioneer settlers at their home in LeFors Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, affectionately known as Uncle Pomp and Aunt Alice, were married in 1867 at Fayetteville, Ark. Mr. Wilson, a native Texan, was the first white settler in Grayson county, and has lived in Texas all his life. Mrs. Wilson was born in Indiana, but moved with her parents to Texas while she was a child.

Married in Fayetteville

It was while returning from Kansas, where he had taken a herd of cattle from Texas, that Mr. Wilson was married in Fayetteville. He and his bride came to Grayson county, where they lived for 13 years. They then moved to Glen Rose, in Somerville county, where Mr. Wilson engaged in farming and cattle raising. In 1884 the couple returned to Grayson county and in 1903 came to Gray county and bought a farm near Abilene.

Their union were born seven children, five girls and two boys. Still living are Mrs. R. D. Kinkead, Johnson City, Tenn.; Mrs. Mattie Paxton, Miss Miriam Wilson, Joe Wilson, and Mrs. E. Wilson, of LeFors. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have 17 grandchildren, 11 great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

Mr. Wilson, at the age of 88, still keeps two saddlehorses, and rides daily with an ease and grace unexcelled by many young men.

Guests for the anniversary celebration Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Short, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Langham, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bachus, Mrs. Clara Small, Mrs. O. P. Seidensie, Mrs. M. Thomas, Dr. Harkens, Mrs. Mattie Paxton, and members of the family.

Shoulders Slope in Spring Mode

Sloping shoulders—mark of the newest frocks—distinguish this early spring dress designed by Missy Rouff. A frivolous hip peplum and a gently lowered neckline are further style items of interest. Shoulders generally cling to the skin, supplanting the squared style.

MODELS MEET IN REHEARSAL THIS MORNING

WILL ENACT GUESTS AT HOUSE PARTY IN REVUE

DRESSED for house party sports and entertainments, models at the annual spring style show of the Business and Professional Women's club next week will appear in a garden setting on La Nora stage, displaying the newest arrivals in Pampa clothing shops.

For the first showing, they will enact house party guests preparing for various sports, wearing latest models of active and spectator sports clothing. The second scene will be an outdoor tea with correct afternoon dress shown, and the final scene, specially lighted, will show the guests ready for evening amusements.

Sight, Sound Aids

An elevated stage and a loud-speaker system for announcement will make the display more effective for the audience. In addition to the style revue, an entertaining musical program has been arranged. One number will be a classical style dance presented under Kathryn Vincent's direction.

VALUABLE FREE RECREATION IS AVAILABLE IN CITIES, HOMES

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

There is one phase of recreation which I feel should attract the interest of a great many parents in the cities, and that is the advantages offered by city parks and playgrounds for children. These open spaces in the big cities are, regrettably enough, often much neglected and yet they are perhaps one of the most important things we have for the good of our city children.

Quite as important as the park or playground is the trained supervisor. A small amount of direction by the supervisor will keep playground activities moving smoothly instead of becoming disorganized and frequently resulting in one group interfering with another. Playgrounds and playground instructors should always be considered as part of our educational system, for through them the character of the children may be moulded, and they certainly can contribute much to the safety of the city streets are always in danger, and constitute an ever present hazard to the motorist. Busy children are not apt to form into destructive gangs, destroy property and end up in the courts.

I think we are apt to forget some of the free recreational facilities our big cities afford. The museums are filled with all kinds of interesting and educational things for both young and old, and the zoos are fascinating places for watching the habits of animals and learning more about

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

Chapter 47
REUNION IN YUCATAN
 If voices may exist without visible, corporeal authorship, then these voices were undoubtedly disembodied.

This ethereal dialogue was in Spanish. One voice was smoothly cadenced, soft with the accent of one using his native tongue. The other ghost voice was harsher—undoubtedly masculine also—it spoke abruptly, extravagantly, accented like a foreigner's, and laden with bookish polysyllables.

The abrupt voice said, "Miracles my young friend, are out of fashion. True, perhaps the Virgin did appear to the poor peon at Guadalupe. But that was nearly four hundred years ago. Today—as it did then—it takes two to make a miracle. One to perform it, and at least one, certainly, to believe it."

The voice coughed complacently, and continued, "That's sound philosophy. While it is not original with me, it might well have been. I have written clever things.

"No, miracles are unfashionable. The wisdom of the public is a terrible thing. Could I perform a miracle—and I do not say that I cannot—what would be the result? The public would put its tongue in its cheek, it would slyly pull down the corner of its eye and say that publicity men should be confined to asylums!" The voice ended upon a note of grievance.

The softer voice chuckled. "You seem hurt, senior, that people no longer are so stupid."

"But they are!" exclaimed the other voice with emphasis. "I have matters to write about—marvelous matters—that should astound the world. But will I ever be permitted to write about them as only I can write about them? No! Certainly not! I shall be told that they are too extraordinary. Nobody would believe me!"

A gust of wind, a sound like a spattering cascade of rain obliterated the voices for a moment. The blackness was split with a flare of lightning vividly sustained.

The figure of a man stirred in a corner of the dark enclosure. He seemed half buried in swaths of palm leaves. His clothing, a mass of wet rags, clung to his powerful frame. His hair was black and damp, beard-stubble served but to accentuate the strength of his jaws and chin. He pushed himself to his hands and knees.

Down found them staring soberly at the heaped ashes and coals of their fire. They had exhausted every possibility that involved the three of them returning to the canoe-valley. They realized that they could do nothing by themselves; they must get outside help somehow. Juan told them that during the rainy season the jungle was almost impassable to travel afoot.

At that comment Frank stared thoughtfully through the doorway that was just beginning to show a patch of lighted sky.

During the following two days Greene kept up a continual rapid fire chatter. The little man, Frank realized, was on the verge of a breakdown. The hardships he had gone through were unaccustomed ones.

Moreover he could see that the plight of his employer and the fate of the motion picture party was constantly on his mind and his inane chatter was more to keep his mind from the subject than for personal amusement.

On the morning of the third day, Frank, sitting out at the end of a sandy promontory that jutted into the sea heard the sound of a motor. Visibility was bad. Suddenly, in the north he saw the outline of a plane against the mist. His shout brought his two companions running toward him. The three danced and waved upon the sands.

"He's got to see us!" screamed Greene. "It's the mail plane to Cozumel! There won't be another for days!"

The plane droned on. The three castaways caught up palm fronds and waved them. Greene raised his ragged packet about his head. The airship kept to its course.

Long after the ship disappeared into the southern mist they waved and shouted mechanically. Finally exhausted, they sat upon the sand and stared at each other miserably. They were too discouraged to hunt for the conch shell-fish that were exposed at low tide, and which had provided them with scanty nourishment. Once, miles at sea, a white steamer passed north bound. They stared at it hungrily.

It was late in the afternoon when Frank lifted his head. There was an unbelievable look in his eyes. Suddenly Juan imitated him. Greene scrambled to his feet.

"It's the plane! Hear it? It's—"

The plane—it looked like the one that had passed in the morning—was returning. It was flying lower and closer inshore. Suddenly it dropped and zoomed. Banking in toward them the engine gave a series of staccato roars—as if it was signalling acknowledgement to the three wild men who danced upon the beach.

It swooped away back toward the south; then banking again it headed upward toward them. Waves spurted beneath its pontoons. With spinning propellers it drifted to a stop a few yards out from the beach.

Frank was already in the water swimming toward the craft. He hauled himself up over the pontoons. The helmeted pilot observed him quizzically.

"You three guys have been on my conscience all afternoon. But I was carrying mail. What's on your mind? Say... you speak English?"

Frank, gasping for breath, strove to answer. The pilot called out in a louder tone, "You hablo English, Hombre? What's the matter?"

Greene splashing toward them called, "Keep your shirt on, mister. Sure he speaks English. I invented it, and taught him how. That's Frank Grahame a little out of breath."

The pilot's jaw dropped. "Grahame... my God! Why... the whole United States is looking for you and—Where've you been, man?"

Tomorrow, there is action in Yucatan.

Education-Grams

BY MRS. J. A. HILL
 Seventh District Chm. of Education, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs

Good character and the ability to project itself into all phases of public life is the greatest need of the world today; therefore, character building is the most important task of our schools.

"When we spend tax funds for things which build up children's health and character, we are spending wisely."—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"We reap what we sow. Today we are inclined to neglect matters spiritual, and character building efforts, and to emphasize relief only. Cutting budgets dealing with this service is shortsighted and socially criminal. One dollar out today will cost one thousand dollars twenty years hence."—Judge Goldstein.

"Push at every point to strive for intelligent education that the individual may have the will to do right."—Dr. Clara B. Burdette.

"If we do not pay for the schools, we will pay for the jails."—Judge Florence Allen.

foreign countries and current events on the screen, to get the stories of our well known books dramatized and sometimes to learn very important moral lessons through the medium of the moving picture scenario. There are some films which I would like to see removed from the theatres, but of course this cannot happen until individual men have been educated to a point where it will be unprofitable to show inferior and harmful pictures. We should blame ourselves and not the picture producers when we find that we are sitting through a bad picture.

The legitimate theatre is one of the arts which should never be allowed to suffer, even if the movie is cheaper and easier to attend, for no movie can give the same thrill that a great actor or actress acting in a good play can give. The actual contact with a great personality and the interpretation of great characters means an understanding and appreciation which no audience should miss. There is in the dramatic literature of the past too much that is rich to allow it to fade out of the knowledge of this generation or those to come.

Concerts and operas will always be a joy to music lovers and they should be educated from the time when they are very young. My husband was taken to Beirut at the age of nine and, to this day, Wagner is real music to him because he has been familiar with it all his life.

Many older people are to blame for the fact that children have no appreciation of music and no place to hear it. Even if you are unable to produce music you can learn to appreciate it and enjoy it and unless you do you have lost a great deal of the enjoyment of life. The radio, properly used, is a great source of recreation in the home and can bring us not only music but speeches, lectures and information on an untold number of subjects.

I sometimes think we are coming to a time in this country when we will realize that our government must give some recognition to the arts in order to help in our education.

Because of two hurricanes last fall, northeastern counties of North Carolina failed to produce a profitable soybean crop this season for the first time in years.
