Adam Johnson To Head State Relief Office

Former City Manager Named Over Galveston Man By Relief Commission.

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Adam R. Johnson, former city manager of Austin, was elected director of state unemployment relief by the Texas relief commission today.

Johnson was elected over J. F. Reed of Galveston, who has been acting director since the resignation of Lawrence Westbrook, who was appointed an assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, federal administrator.

Reed received four votes, but when balloting came later for Johnson, six of the nine members of the commission voted for the former city manager.

Those who voted for Reed on the first ballot were W. A. Brooks, Jr., of Dallas, B. E. Giesecke of Austin, Ed Hutton of Houston and Robert Reed of Kerrville. Those who voted for Johnson were Giesecke, M. N. Christman of Dallas, C. L. Holliday of El Paso, Houston, Harry of San Angelo, Carl Estes of Tyler, and Earle P. Adams of Austin.

Immediately after the voting Reed tendered his resignation and refused appointment as assistant director. C. B. Braun, who had been serving as assistant director, was unanimously chosen for that place.

The Texas house of representatives refused to adopt a resolution proposing adjournment of the special session at noon next Saturday, and proceeded slowly with consideration of amendments to a bill to issue additional bonds for relief of the unemployed and needy.

The sine die adjournment resolution was tabled subject to call and will be brought up again tomorrow by Representative Lon Alsop of Carthage. Alsop asserted the legislature could accomplish its work by that time if it labored diligently.

A move to limit debate on the bond bill was defeated. It was proposed to put a five minute restriction on speeches and suspend the rule allowing extension of speaking time. The motion lacked three votes of the two thirds majority necessary to suspend the rule.

J. C. ESTILACK in Donley County Leader—Speaking of small dailies in small towns, the Pampa Daily News and the Childers Index are both a credit to towns much larger than either. Either publication makes some other dailies coming to our desk look like a joke, and these other papers come from towns twice as large as either Childers or Pampa. There is some good talent behind these two dailies, no mistake about it.

W. W. SIMMONS in White Deer Review—A white woman who lived since infancy among the Indians, adhered to her tribe and declined the alleged benefits of civilization when her real status was made to appear. When all is said and done, one can hardly blame her.

BY OTHER WRITERS
The SHAWNS in Higgins News—A fool said in his head, "I can get away with this and nobody will find it out." But it was only a brief time until all the inhabitants around about knew and were sitting in judgment. It is wise to do right.

R. B. HAYNES in Miami Chief—There was never a time when Miami looked cleaner than it does at present. The CWA workers are responsible for this sanitary condition. All the alleys and streets have been gone over and thoroughly cleaned of rubbish and trash. The home owners will surely take pride in keeping them clean.

T. A. LANDERS in McLean News—The president's bill is now history, and we would like to say that it is a pity that as great a man as our president could not have sanctioned something that everyone of us could have taken part in. It is too bad that thousands of conscientious church members were prevented from entering into the spirit of the occasion, for the country owes consideration and thoughtfulness for the unfortunate cripples, primarily to Christian people.

Either publication makes some other dailies coming to our desk look like a joke, and these other papers come from towns twice as large as either Childers or Pampa. W. W. SIMMONS in White Deer Review—A white woman who lived since infancy among the Indians, adhered to her tribe and declined the alleged benefits of civilization when her real status was made to appear. When all is said and done, one can hardly blame her.

SAM BRASWELL in Clarendon News—If the average country newspaper man desired a sure way of making his troubles multiply—and they are too many now—all he would have to do would be to begin publishing all advance information about the prospective visit of the sork to the community, as do the big city dailies. This is just another instance of how much more wholesome are the local newspapers who strive not for cheap sensations but for the welfare and progress of the home community and its citizenship.

J. M. NOBLE in Canad a Record—Newspapers are sometimes severely criticized by public officials who often contend that modern day papers carry too much crime news. Contrast that criticism with a ruling recently issued to New York City high school pupils. Harold George Campbell, recently picked superintendent of that city's schools, declared that no pupil hereafter must leave the high school of New York who is unable to understand the front page of his newspaper. Apparently Supt. Campbell believes newspapers are necessary reading for a well rounded education. There is no question that he is right.

"Bigger, Better" Lions Minstrel Will Be Offered Tonight

MUCH MELODY AND FUN USED BY LIONS CLUB

SECOND PERFORMANCE TO BE PRESENTED WEDNESDAY

Those Pampans who have not purchased tickets for the Lions minstrel should not remain at home because of this fact, officers of the club said today. Most of the city auditorium is not reserved and general admission tickets will be on sale at the door. There will be good seats for all.

Those Pampans who have not purchased tickets for the Lions minstrel should not remain at home because of this fact, officers of the club said today. Most of the city auditorium is not reserved and general admission tickets will be on sale at the door. There will be good seats for all.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 p. m. on the smartly dressed cast of 35 men and 16 girls, who will present an opening ovation of music with gags, solos, and antics of the black-face and John Ford type, lasting 55 minutes. A shorter second act will include dancing, a male fan dance specialty, a few song hits, and the finale.

Tickets for the show are selling well at Fathered drug store No. 4 West. The reserved seats have been sold, but there are plenty of unreserved seats at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The orchestra for the show are: H. E. Kreiger, violin; Miss Jones, soprano; Willis, trumpet, and Powell, drums.

W. A. Bratton will again be the middle man of the show. Soloists will include Miss Dorothy Dodd, Miss Dorothy Doucette, Harry Kelley, R. B. Fisher, and Jack Dunn. Black-face comedians will be John F. Hinkle, B. W. Rose, Arthur M. Teed, C. P. Callison, J. O. Gillham, Carl H. Schulke, Clarence Kennedy, John Osborne, Ralph Thomas, Ewing Leech, George Briggs, Roger McConnell, Bob Watson, Carson Loftus, and A. M. Martini.

Full of Good Cheer
As usual it will be a "smile" show, with good cheer as its theme. Director Sturgeon wrote most of the words and music for the first part. Most of the solos are late song hits. There are a few old favorites.

Still a mystery even to the cast is the "Lion Varieties" prepared by Dr. H. H. Hicks, H. Otto Studer, and Harry Kelley. A male fan dance will be featured. Between two scenes of Varieties, Miss Joyce Smith and Bill Patton will do a dance number.

The last scene, which will close with the finale, will feature Mr. Sturgeon as a head porter in a skit with a hat-check room as a setting.

F. D. R.'s SECRETARY BLISTERS LINDY FOR SENDING PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO NEWSPAPERS FIRST

Protest Branded As Just Publicity Stunt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The protests of Charles A. Lindbergh and other against the cancellation of air mail contracts were referred today by the White House regular routine to the post office and commerce departments.

Obviously irked by publication of the Lindbergh telegram before it was received by the president, Stephen Early, a secretary to Mr. Roosevelt, said:

"Except when the senders of telegrams or other communications act primarily for publicity purposes the common practice is to allow the president, when he is addressed by them, the courtesy of receiving and reading their communications before they are read by others than the persons addressed."

"In this instance the giving out of a telegram which bears the name of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh by his attorney and legal advisor Col. Henry Breckenridge, would indicate the message obviously was sent for publicity purposes—at least it was."

HOOVER AIDE DARES SOLONS TO PUNISH HIM

AUTHORITY OF SENATE IS CHALLENGED AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—William P. MacCracken today again challenged the senate's authority to try and punish him for contempt.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—William P. MacCracken, former assistant secretary of commerce, was arrested today on a senate warrant charging contempt of that assembly a while after he had paid a $100 fine for holding the District of Columbia court in contempt.

The arresting officers immediately took their prisoner to the senate. The arrest occurred almost on the dot of 1 p. m. at the court office where MacCracken had just paid his fine in preference to 24 hours in jail.

Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue, to the delight of some senators, held the Hoover assistant secretary of commerce for air in contempt, because he had claimed in a writ of habeas corpus that he was held in bodily restraint by the senate sergeant-at-arms, Chesley W. Jurney.

The senate wanted MacCracken by the contempt charge in connection with removals from his records after these had been subpoenaed in the armal contract investigation. But Jurney refused to arrest him when MacCracken showed up at the Jurney apartment Saturday, holding off until the senate was in session.

MacCracken spent the night with the senate office as an "uninvited guest." He insisted he was under arrest. Jurney insisted not.

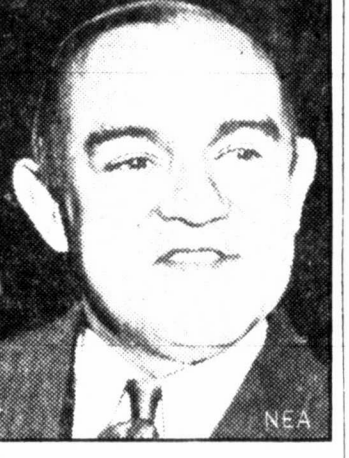

Justice O'Donoghue agreed with Jurney, invalidated the writ he had issued Saturday at a request of counsel for MacCracken, and fined the latter.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The independent offices appropriations bill was favorably reported today by the senate appropriations committee without provision for increase of veterans compensation, but with the understanding it would be offered on the senate floor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Announcement of formation of an $11,000,000 corporation to deal with Russia was made here today by Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—William P. MacCracken confronted the senate on trial for contempt this afternoon, while a justice of the District of Columbia supreme court granted a second writ of habeas corpus for freedom of the accused former assistant secretary of commerce.

In Army Deals

Harry Woodring, assistant secretary of war, is shown telling the House Military Affairs Committee of army business deals now being investigated by a District of Columbia grand jury Woodring told a grand jury as he believed, justified profits made by aviation supply builders. Contracts for sale of surplus army material were also under survey.

The Right Reverend Moses Kiley was made bishop of Trenton, N. J.; the Reverend Francis P. Keough, bishop of Providence, R. I.; the Reverend Robert E. Lucey, bishop of Amarillo; and the Right Reverend William D. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Cardinal Mundelein at Chicago.

BUT RAILROAD BODY'S ORDER IS APPROVED

TEXAS FEDERAL JUDGE SAYS CODE IS NOT CONSTITUTIONAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—A direct appeal to the supreme court of the United States will be made by the federal government against the adverse decision of a three-judge federal court in Texas holding the oil code unconstitutional in a suit for injunction by the Amazon Petroleum company. The case, the first one challenging in a comprehensive manner the constitutionality of the recovery program's set-up, that the petroleum code enacted under the national industrial recovery act was unconstitutional and at the same time a three-judge federal court held that the Texas Railroad commission's order of last November was valid.

Randolph Bryant, federal judge, in the order said that "the regulations of the secretary of the interior have no reasonable or any relation to the will of congress" as expressed in the recovery act.

Judges T. M. Kennerly and J. C. Hutcheson of Houston supported the commission's order but Judge Bryant dissented, stating that the commission "instead of exercising powers they have to prevent waste, they have exercised those powers to effect an unauthorized... end," the keeping of Texas oil production to the minimum arrived at under an agreement of oil producing states.

The three judges, as a single court ruled that they did not have jurisdiction on issues involved in the NRA and agreed to turn the matter over to Judge Bryant, who then handed down his opinion.

Judge Bryant ruled primarily that the Amazon Refining company and the Panama Refining company had not subscribed to the petroleum code "and are not engaged in interstate commerce"—a movement which the petroleum code affected.

"I am not subject to the pains and penalties provided by the act for violation of such code because they are clearly not engaged in any transaction in or effecting interstate or foreign commerce," Judge Bryant held.

"Entertaining as I do the greatest misgiving, if not the absolute certainty of conviction that this provision of the act is invalid by reason of its delegation to the executive of legislative authority, yet conceding it for the purposes of the decision to be valid, it is obvious that the president and his agents in their rules and regulations could exercise no greater authority nor to any greater extent than that which was exercised by congress itself."

"This is limited to the transportation in interstate and foreign commerce of petroleum and the products thereof."

The plaintiffs had sought two reliefs—injunctive relief to restrain enforcement against them of the railroad commission orders limiting their production of oil, and injunctive relief against agents of the federal government, restraining them from enforcing rules promulgated under the NRA and from exacting of and enforcing against them the drastic penalties provided for disobedience.

50 Die In Austrian Battle

Socialists Rise Up Against Dollfuss and Home Guard—Fascist Organization.

VIENNA, Feb. 12 (AP)—The political powder house of Austria blew up today with a socialist general strike and government reprisals which cost upwards of 50 lives as bloody fighting raged in Vienna, Linz, Graz and finally spread to the munitions centers of Steyr, Bruck and Enns.

VIENNA, Feb. 12 (AP)—Socialists rose up against the government of Austria today and at least 17 persons were killed and 50 seriously wounded in first skirmishes of the day.

The government mobilized every available military force to suppress the uprising.

50 Die In Austrian Battle

The government of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss replied to a socialist move with the declaration of martial law in Vienna and Linz. It was ruled that any civilian caught with a weapon should be shot immediately.

Aside from the slaying of the police inspector, no general street fighting was reported in Vienna to 1:35 p. m.

Strife between the government of Chancellor Dollfuss and socialists has been pending for some time as the result of Dollfuss's desires for a united Austrian front and jealousies between political parties.

The socialists traditionally have controlled the government of the City of Vienna while some of Dollfuss's strongest support has come from the fascist Heimwehr or home guard, the military fascist organization.

That battle began when government forces attempted to raid the headquarters, and the socialists tried to beat them off with hand grenades.

The police and soldiers replied with machine guns. They occupied the headquarters.

A detachment of socialists retaliated with a raid on the police station, afterward fortifying themselves on the bank of the river Danube.

It was there that the government artillery was unlimbered in a savage effort to shell the rebels into submission.

Linz was only one spot in a suddenly strife-torn nation.

The socialist party called a nation-wide general strike. One police inspector was killed in a riot in Vienna.

125th Birthday Of Lincoln Is Observed Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—A wreath at the feet of a statue of the great emancipator is President Roosevelt's tribute today to the 125th birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln.

In the pillared white stone memorial that houses probably the most famous of all Lincoln statues—a memorial whitened by fresh snow today—more than 40 patriotic organizations planned to commemorate the day.

Abraham Lincoln's career as a successful politician and lawyer started a hundred years ago with his election to the Illinois house of representatives.

The year 1834 was the turning point in his life. Lincoln students said today as his 125th birthday anniversary was observed in the home town of the civil war president.

He went into politics and decided to study law, definitely taking up the legal profession as something better than his work as store clerk, postmaster and deputy surveyor in the village of New Salem.

Bishop Kiley at present is spiritual director of the North American College at Rome, Italy, and is from the Chicago archdiocese.

Bishop Keough is now assistant chancellor of the Hartford, Conn. diocese.

IT'S UP TO THE BANKS

Jesse Jones spoke pretty plainly to the members of the New York State bankers' association when he told them that they must look after the retail credit needs of the nation or see the government enter this field through the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Until within the last few weeks the bankers have had good reasons for hesitation, but the inauguration of deposit guarantee and the narrowing of the government's monetary policy to a fairly definite field puts the bankers in a position to go ahead again with at least the beginning of a program of normal banking. Certainly, if banks can not go ahead now, there's little prospect of their being able to do so in the near future. That would mean that the government might as well step in and do at once what it would be necessary to do later.

There is much written and said about the complete absorption of the banking function by the government, and such experienced bankers as Frank A. Vanderlip are playing with theories that would have been unthinkable five years ago. The taking over of banking by government would be a long step in the wrong direction. What is needed is close supervision by competent government authority of a reconstructed private banking community, operating as in the past under its own federal reserve system. The bankers have been in a trying position and their natural tendency toward caution and conservatism makes them hesitate, possibly too long after the way for an aggressive banking policy has been cleared for them. They, however, are not so good leaders as the public still gives them credit for being, if they do not see the handwriting on the wall and act to stay complete government absorption of the function they have held so long.—Dallas News.

BALKAN PEACE TREATY SIGNED BY 4 NATIONS

AMERICAN ORCHESTRA TO PLAY FOR BIG BALL

ATHENS, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Balkan non-aggression pact, which it is hoped will change the whole history of this stormy peninsula, was signed formally today by representatives of Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia and Rumania.

The pact was seen as offering an opportunity for economic collaboration by the long non-cooperating 45,000,000 inhabitants of these four countries.

The absence of envoys from Bulgaria and Albania cast a shadow over the ceremony in the historic audience chamber of the Greek Academy, but it was said Bulgaria might accept later.

Signatory nations agreed among other things to guarantee one another's frontiers for five years. Greece was represented by Premier Panagoti Tsaldaris, Rumania by Foreign Minister Nicholas Titulescu.

Jones' Provision In Senate Seed Bill Is Approved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Two provisions in the $400,000 seed loan bill designed materially to aid Texas growers of winter crops and the citrus industry of the lower Rio Grande Valley here passed safely through a major test, as the bill was approved by senate and house conferees.

One, offered by Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo, house agriculture committee chairman, specified crops planted this year, but not harvested until 1935, would be eligible for loans despite the fact that measure as approved by the senate had provided for loans only on this year's harvest.

The other accepted at the request of Representative Milton West

That church had its Boy Scout service yesterday morning. Thirty boys of troops 14 and 15 were present at the Presbyterian church in evening for the service in which they took part with talks.

First Christian church had Scouts from Hopkins and Merten as guests with Pampa boys. A sermon was preached for them, and a men's choir sang special numbers. Every boy attending First Methodist church with his father last night was presented a New Testament.

New Minister Coming. Central Baptist church had no preaching service yesterday, but members are ready to welcome their new minister, the Rev. Vernie Pipes, who will come from Abilene this week and conduct services next Sunday.

Sunday school attendance, decreased by the bad weather, was reported as follows: Central Baptist, 107; Presbyterian, 96; Christian, 337; Methodist, 400; First Baptist, 588; and 147 in training service; Church of Christ, 118, and seven additions to the church.

STYLE, BEAUTY, DECORATING HINTS ADDED TO PROGRAMS FOR HOME MAKERS CONVENTION

Meeting Hours Are At Various Times Of Day

Mrs. Leona Rusk Thrig, well known cooking expert and home economist will be brought to Pampa again by The NEWS February 20, 21, and 22 for a Home makers convention. The time for the "Homemakers Convention" will be as follows: Tuesday, February 20—9 to 11 a. m. Wednesday, February 21—2:30 to 4:30 p. m. Thursday, February 22—7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

All sessions will be held in the auditorium.

This is decidedly one of the most important events of the season. It is to be so planned as to be of exceptional interest to every housewife, mother, bride, woman, and girl of the city and community. The convention planned is to consist of a series of educational discussions.

Mrs. Leona Rusk Thrig, who is a nationally known and recognized authority on the various home-making subjects which are of daily importance to women, is well known to women of the Pampa territory. She returns to Pampa after recently conducting a series of homemakers' conventions in Pueblo, Canon City, and other cities of Colorado. During last season, she conducted conventions in leading cities throughout the southwest.

Mrs. Thrig is an accomplished public speaker and employs interesting platform methods which assure that every lecture will be alive and full of activity from start to finish.

Her variety of technique in this phase of her work ranges from chatty talks to serious discourses, and personal demonstrations.

Every year women have evinced more interest in beauty of face and figure. To meet this demand, Mrs. Thrig has added beauty and style helps for every woman attending her lectures. To the home-maker of today beauty is more important than ever before.

Science has come to the home-makers' aid in a big way. Her knowledge of the proper food makes her stronger, teaches her how to keep a beautiful figure, and lightens her homemaking duties.

Style, too, is important. And Mrs. Thrig's lectures will contain acceptable suggestions for styles that are in keeping with every woman's purse as well as her face and figure.

Styles of home furnishing, equipment and decoration will be taken up and given educational presentation, as well as discussions of health, foods and recipes.

All lectures will be free. All women interested in better home-making methods and ideas are invited to attend.

A New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

SYNOPSIS: Frank Grahame, in the Yucatan jungle on a hunt for Bill Langton, his missing aviator pal, rescues instead Janice Kent, the movie star, and Greene, her press agent. They were held prisoner by the sublevados, at the top of an ancient Mayan pyramid. But almost immediately, the natives capture the party, and severely wound Frank into the bargain. He awakes, a prisoner, with Greene by his side. They explore their cell.

brought it into the wilds, it is true, but certainly not under the "protection" of Ortega. "Hindsight is better than foresight," he quoted grimly to himself as he looked about his cell. The whole debacle had been the result of a girl's slap—and a man's stunned pride. The rapour of the one had gone, but the consequences of the other remained. He wondered again at the fidelity of Jan, the chance that had brought the boy to him, and whether the youth was by now safely out of the territory of the bloodthirsty sublevados. He hoped so fervently, for certainly a boy who had volunteered against his own interest to aid a white man, one who had saved his life, in fact, deserved safety at the least.

Chapter 30
THE MESSAGE
High above them were two windows, one on each adjacent wall. Frank guessed that this was either a corner room, or that the cell opened upon a courtyard. The window-openings were barred, as was the square orifice in the studied door.

He approached the door and studied it. He lifted his fist and struck it. "What are you trying to do?" asked Greene.
"Get somebody here, and tell 'em we want water."
"No good. I tried that while you were 'bye bye.'"
Grahame unlaced a boot. "If at first you don't succeed," he said tugging at the heel, "make some more noise."

He pounded the door with his boot-heel. After a period he heard a voice outside the door ask him in Spanish what he wanted.
"Water!"
The voice spat some reply, and they heard the man's soft footsteps retreating.

Grahame redoubled his pounding. Soon the voice spoke again, and Grahame replied in voluble Spanish.
"What are you telling him?" Greene asked curiously.
"Telling 'im we'll die without food and water, and that he'll catch the devil if he lets us."

The man without seemed to hesitate before replying, then, muttering, shuffled away. Grahame smiled.
"Bet you a dime we get the water."
The minutes sped away. An hour passed. The heat within the loosed room was stifling. While the pain in his head diminished, Grahame doubted if he were capable of any great effort. His right arm and shoulder were worse than useless, he knew.

There seemed scant chance of making a break for freedom from this situation. It would take a miracle to alter their circumstances for the better. He wondered how long they would keep them here, and for what ultimate purpose.
They seemed, these savage people, utterly ruthless about the lives of their male victims. His thoughts instinctively refused to dwell on Janice's fate. He knew too well what might happen to her.

Many of the warriors had white skins, sun-bronzed to be sure, but undoubtedly white. The eyes of some of them were blue, and their hair yellow.
He thought, too, of Hollywood, which by now had assumed the status almost of a heavenly abode to him.
He wondered just why he had walked out of Janice's house that night after she had so curiously refused him. He even wondered whether she had refused him, or whether the slap she had dealt him was rather the result of overstrung nerves.

In any case, it was obvious that his action had been responsible for most of what had come since. For evidently if he had talked it out with Janice that night they might at least have come to some agreement that would have made it possible for him to continue with Myberg.
And had he continued with Myberg he would have been a member of the company that had been sent to Mexico, and thus would have been able to protect Janice at every step. Or at least to try to protect her.

He would certainly never have permitted the company to advance blind into the most dangerous part of Mexico. He might very well have

One more consequence of a girl's sudden action in Hollywood weeks before. That slap had precipitated a train of death-like the string of dominoes when the end one had been pushed over by the casual finger of a child.

It would not seem so utterly tragic Frank decided. If there were anything he could do to right matters. Once again, and with the utmost weariness, he surveyed the "field." There was the window, there was the door. He thought suddenly of the observation of the chicle buyer he had met in New York.

Once a generation ago, Yucatan had been the exile of central Mexican criminals, sent there for their various crimes.
It seemed more than probable that these people, appropriating this ancient city, had established this jungle-hidden community. They would have mingled with the natives they found there.

Also there would have been a scarcity of women.
"Greene," he said suddenly, "if you stand against that wall, under the window, I'd like to use your back for a ladder."
"Obediently the smaller man braced himself against the wall. At the fourth try, Grahame gave it up. Sweat, from the heat and pain, streamed down his face. The room's walls weaved slowly about.

"No use," he gasped. "I'm too heavy for you, and I can't get high enough to drag up with my left arm. Let me stand there and you do the climbing."
"It's going to hurt you," replied Greene doubtfully.
Grahame wiped the perspiration from his eyes.
"You should have been a dentist," he grinned, and placed himself against the wall.

The smaller man put his foot in Grahame's belt, and struggled, so that he had both feet upon Grahame's left shoulder. To Grahame, the pain in his torn back muscles was exquisite.
"It's open country," Greene spoke swiftly. "We could get through this window if we could cut the bars. I can see the base of the great pyramid off to the left about a quarter of a mile. There's a lot of buildings like this one, some larger, some smaller.

"Say . . ." His tone was incredulous. "Here is a funny one. Someone has scratched a lot of words on the sill, I guess you'd call it . . . under the bars here. It says—
"Never mind," muttered Grahame hoarsely. "Can't hold you up much longer."
"Just a minute more," pleaded Greene. "It's dated only a few months ago, December 18th. It's signed . . . it's signed . . . by all that's holy, its signed by Langton, who fell in the ocean last year! Grahame . . ."

The blood left Grahame's head. He felt new strength flowing into him. The pain even, seemed to abate as he heard the little man's voice cry out that there was a message scratched on the stone sill of the barred opening, by Langton.
"What does it say?"
"December 18. Love covering trip until mid-day December 15 will be found in map case on ship. Storm passed and visibility became good about four p. m. Gas almost exhausted, when slighted ruins. Ship undamaged in landing. Taken here by armed natives three days ago. My guard tells me I am to be sacrificed by the ahkin—the high-priest—the central pyramid and thrown into the cenote.

"December 19. Ahkin here today was taken to ship. Am to teach them to fly. They are sending runners for gasoline. For good-behavior they let me take some food from the ship—chocolate bars, chewing gum and pop back here.
"December 20. No use. Guard says tomorrow some festival begins and I am to die. It would not be so bad if these people were ignorant Indians, but some are as white as I am. I will copy a message and put it in a bottle. Perhaps goodbye!
"That's all," said Mr. Cron. He slid down to the floor. "I found this up there." He extended his hand. Within it was a fragment of glass.
"Probably Langton scratched his message with this. Busted a bottle and used the pieces. They said his message was written in blood, and he used another glass splinter for that I guess," Grahame frowned.

PAMPA GIRLS TO PLAY PANHANDLE WEDNESDAY NIGHT FOR DIVISION TITLE

BOYS TO PLAY HEDLEY OWLS ON TOMORROW

FRANK KIMBROUGH TO REFEREE GAME IN HEDLEY

Pampa's high school basketball teams will play crucial games this week. The Harvesters will go to Hedley Tuesday night to meet the Hedley Owls in the first game of a tri-county play-off series. The Harvesters will go to Panhandle Wednesday night for a similar encounter.

Panhandle and Hedley will play return games in the high school gymnasium here Friday night. The Pampa-Panhandle encounter will start at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by the boys' game. Admission to the Pampa games will be 20 cents for students and 35 cents for adults.

If third games are necessary, it will be decided after the Friday night games where the odd encounter will be played. The team that wins two consecutive games will represent this division in a district meet in Pampa, February 23 and 24.

The Hedley Owls won two straight games from the Panhandle Panthers, but it took three games to decide the winner of the girls' division. Panhandle won in a hectic game in Hedley Saturday night after losing by one point Friday night. Referee Bob Fuller of Panhandle was barely escaped being mobbed in Hedley Saturday night. He kept the game a basketball encounter and fouls were numerous. Hedley fans failed to agree with the referee.

Both Pampa teams were to go through a stiff workout this afternoon. The performances of the teams the last week has not been satisfactory, although the Harvesters looked smoother than the Harvesters returned the compliment by downing the Tigers. The McLean girls won a game from LeFors, but the Pirates Lassies came back strong to the McLean.

L'Fors and McLean Play Tuesday Night

McLEAN, Feb. 12.—Two LeFors basket ball teams will appear in the local gymnasium tomorrow night. They should be thrilling encounters. The girls game will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by the game between the Pirates and Tigers.

The teams have had several thrilling encounters this year. McLean boys defeated LeFors but the Pirates returned the compliment by downing the Tigers. The McLean girls won a game from LeFors, but the Pirates Lassies came back strong to the McLean.

HOLDOUTS ARE NUMEROUS IN BIG LEAGUES

JIMMIE FOXX ANGRILY TURNS DOWN HIS CONTRACT

BY HERBERT W. BARKER. Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Major league baseball owners, retrenching for the third successive year, have dashed out another series of salary slashes for 1934 and now are requesting a heavier crop of holdouts.

Babe Ruth, erstwhile champion of the salary-arguers, meekly signed a New York Yankee contract some weeks ago at $35,000, representing a cut of $17,000 and some clubs are resigning a whole lot of holdouts.

The entire Cleveland roster, with the exception of a couple of rookie pitchers, are listed as holdouts. Earl Averill, clouting outfielder, hasn't read his contract yet but baseball critics predict he'll join the rest when he does.

Al Crowder, Earl Whitehill, and Walter Stewart, first-string pitchers, outfielder Heinie Manush, infielders Joe Kuhel and Buddy Myer, and Catcher Luke Sewell head a long list of Washington Senators who have not yet signed and are listed as holdouts. The others include Moe Berg, Cliff Bolton, Bob Boken, Jack Russell, Alex McColl, and Dave Harris.

Hack Wilson, Joe Stripp, Van Mungo, and Al Lopez all have been listed as Brooklyn holdouts and there's a strong suspicion that others of Max Carey's ensemble have looked at the figures the club offered and found them wanting.

The Yankee situation involves plenty of guessing. Definitely it's known only that Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Russ Van Atta have signed and that Vernon Gomez is a holdout, but the club sent out its contracts only a few days ago and their fate remains undetermined. There's no guessing about the slashes the club handed out to some of the regulars on the roster.

There have been rumblings that Pepper Martin is dissatisfied with terms offered by the St. Louis Cardinals but he hasn't been listed officially as a holdout yet. There's been little word one way or another as far as the Browns are concerned.

BURTON ON CAVASS. CANYON, Feb. 12.—Elba Murrif, 19-year-old artist of Brice, has just completed and has on exhibit at the West Texas State Teachers college an oil portrait of the late Sam D. Burton, nationally known basketball coach, for many years mentor of the West Texas Buffaloes.

To pay for their next summer vacations Boy Scouts of Antioch, Calif., were asked to collect 3,000 pounds each of waste paper.

GRID BUSINESS SEEMS TO BE HEREDITARY GAME IN VALLEY

Cow Face Started It—Now Lawrences, Bennetts, Adamsons Have Monopoly.

BY HAL EUSTACE. Sports Editor, Brownsville Herald. One-horse indeed is the Texas hamlet without a "football family" to carry on to triumphant victory the gay colors of dear old common school district No. 6-7-8ths.

No exception to this blanket rule is Harlingen, for as long as man's memory runneth there has been a right sturdy Lawrence fighting the battles of the Cardinal eleven.

When Cabez de Vaca "Cow Face" to you smart boys who took 8-A Spanish first rounded the Texas shoreline he found the natives playing a barbaric, skull-crushing game. Old residents of this section are convinced that what the gentleman of boyvine countenance really saw was a pioneering member of the Lawrence family initiating the coast-to-coast march into the fine points of the flying wedge and sidestepping tandem.

Jimmie Lawrence, Texas Christian university halfback and one of the best leather luggers operating in the southwest conference, is just the baby member of that Harlingen football family of Lawrence. His accounts of big time football—well, as big as it grows in Texas at all—are promptly pooh-poohed by his big brothers, Joe, Bob, "Parmer" and "Doc." They played with the Harlingen Cardinals back yonder when might meant a lit on the gridiron.

"Baby Joe's" crushing gains against the Owls, Steers, Aggies, and Mustangs fade into the concentrated essence of insignificance when his big buds recall the Harlingen-San Benito classics of yore, up to and including the rock fights. Ah, them was the days!

Even as Harlingen has her Lawrences, Brownsville has her Bennetts, and San Benito her Adamsons. The most sought after golf prize in South Texas is the Rex Beach cup which has been an annual fixture here since 1915. The novelists spent several months in the valley while he was writing "Heart of the Sunset." Wm. S. "Bill" West, fresh from his post of Alaska attorney general, was the man who brought the novelty to this section to write of the wild and woolly Texas rangers.

3 MATCHES ON RASSLIN' CARD THIS EVENING

CLINGMAN AND DETTON TO PROVIDE MAIN EVENT

Exponents of the "grunt-and-growl" game will attempt to tear down the Pla-Mor auditorium to-night in a regular weekly "rasslin'" show. Some well known artists will appear before a local audience.

Dorcy Detton, Utah university boy, will be overmatched again this week when he meets Sailor Ous Clingman, former Pampa boy, in the main event. The Mormon, however, should be able to take care of himself. He went three falls with Yaqui Joe, Sonora Indian, last week. It was the Indian's "head" that won the match. Yaqui let the youngster work himself out of wind and then pinned him.

Clingman is faster and headier than ever. He looks like a finished wrestler and is ready for a chance at the crown now adorning the head of Gus Kallio, one of the slipperiest men in the game. It is just about impossible to corner Kallio for a moment. Detton stayed 30 minutes with Clingman here two weeks ago in a wonderful exhibition of wrestling.

Wild and woolly should be the semi-final in which Joe Bauer, comical German, and Pat Garrison, Pampa, had boy, match holds and sock. Bauer made a hit with fans here last week when he clomped himself out of a win. Garrison was suspended his first appearance here but he has not received notice of the suspension direct from Austin and doesn't think he is "out."

Harry Dowler, Andy Gump to you, ladies and gentlemen, will appear in the opening match with Lobo Brown of Amarillo as his opponent. The Pampa boy learned a lot about the wrestling game last summer when he toured Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Nebraska. He is likely to surprise some of his old friends. Brown has been seen here before and is no "hily" when it comes to mat work.

The card will open at 8:15 o'clock.

NO CHANGE IN POLICY OF NET TEAM PLANNED

PRESIDENT IN DEFENSE OF DAVIS CUP PLAYERS

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 12 (AP)—With a sound rebuke to critics of the 1933 Davis cup team and its directors, Walter Merrill, new president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, has indicated there will be no change in policy this year.

In his inaugural address Hall said the manner in which the last campaign was conducted was "above reproach" and the players merited only praise.

He stressed that Davis cup play should be regarded on "as a sport" and said it should not be looked upon as a national calamity when the United States team is beaten.

America's representatives will fare much better on the grass courts of Wimbledon, England, than they have in recent years on the clay courts of Autent, France, Hall predicted.

Holcombe Ward, of New York, was named chairman of the 1934 cup committee and James W. Messersmith of New York was named vice chairman.

Meeting in Pittsburgh for the first time, the tennis moguls awarded the national title tournaments as their first business.

Although the much-discussed subject of a national open tennis tournament was not brought up in early deliberations, President Hall indicated which way the wind will blow by urging that the pro-amateur affair be "given serious consideration."

He said competition involving both professionals and amateurs will help the net sport.

The national men's and veterans' singles championships again were awarded to Forest Hills, September 1 to 8, as were the women's singles and doubles for the week of Aug. 13. The national intercollegiate will be held at the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, June 25 to 30.

PENALTIES CURBING USE OF FORWARD PASS ARE REMOVED

Touchback and Five-Yard Penalties Eliminated By Rules Committee.

BY DILLON GRAHAM. ATLANTA, Feb. 12 (AP)—The value of the forward pass as an offensive weapon in football was increased today by the removal of two penalties which had curbed its use.

The National Football Rules committee, in its annual meeting here, lifted the touchback penalty on the first forward pass thrown over the goal line and eliminated the five-yard forfeiture attendant to a second successive incomplete forward pass.

The first alteration in the rules for 1934 takes away the heavy fine for failure to complete a pass over the goal line and probably will result in many more of these daring scoring plays.

Except on fourth down, such an incomplete pass will result only in the cost of a down and not a touchback and the resultant loss of the ball. The touchback feature has been retained for use in the event of a second incomplete pass over the goal.

Another action of the committee was to re-define the punt, so as to allow one player to hold the ball for another to kick it. The use of two men in the execution of a punt general is only involved in the quick kick. Hereafter, the player holding the ball was required to release it before the kicker had made contact. The change is expected to bring about better and more accurate kicks.

Another step to reduce injuries from the game was taken in prohibiting the use of shoe cleats made of materials liable to chip or fracture.

A further move along these lines was taken in the planning of a safety education campaign among college and prep schools to emphasize the need for greater care of minor injuries and more general utilization of proper equipment.

Texas University Lands Leased For Over $118,150.40

AUSTIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Leases for mineral development of 22 sections of University of Texas lands in Crane and Andrews counties have been awarded to three oil companies by bonuses totaling $118,150.40. An annual rental fee of 50 cents an acre, in addition to the bonus brought $7,040. The university retained a royalty of one-eighth of oil and gas production.

Bids were open for leases on 84 tracts in two blocks in Crane county and one block in Andrews county, to be received February 24. Leases in block 30, Crane county, were awarded for bonuses as follows:

Section three, Magnolia Petroleum company, $3,200; section four, the California company, $10,944; section 15, Magnolia Petroleum company, $6,400; and section 16, Magnolia Petroleum company, $3,200.

Open Net Tournay Definitely 'Out'

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Any plans to hold an open tennis tournament in 1934 are definitely "out," according to Louis J. Carruthers, chairman of the amateur rules committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Returning from the U. S. L. T. A. meeting, at Pittsburgh, Carruthers said yesterday that the executives of the association were unalterably opposed to sanctioning an open tournament.

Little Rock would be too slow to catch Marshall and Luckett of Greenville and that Greenville would have a hard time stopping Bob Johnson, called the stiffest back in the state.
