Brevitorials

A month ago, this column predicted March would come in with rain or snow. Well!

If Roosevelt forms a social-democratic party, where will that leave the socialists as the party grows even more liberal?

First aid training pays. If you must have an accident pray that graduates of first aid training will be somewhere close about.

Paint, seeds, shrubs, Mother Nature, elbow grease, and plenty of water can make a much prettier Pampa in coming months.

Boys won't always be boys—sometimes they try to act like criminal grown-ups. Boy Scouts will be boys and good ones at that if encouraged in the program of Scouting fun and learning.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: Youngsters who gather in the barber shops are making puzzled remarks about "the law." Scores of known laws are being flouted everywhere. Officers, prosecuting attorneys, grand juries, judges, petit juries testify to the "difficulty of enforcing the law." Yet we find no sentiment for a continuation of the situation among the young folk. They recognize the hypocrisy, the deceit, the lack of consistency in the conditions. Public opinion is quickly disgusted with disorder and confusion. Note the way Primo Carnera is regarded as a puny, drab champion of the ring, albeit a ponderous one. . . . Antonym for today: Politeness—Impertinence, prudence—checkiness, brazenness, bluntness, malapertness, petulance, effrontery, gall, intrusiveness.

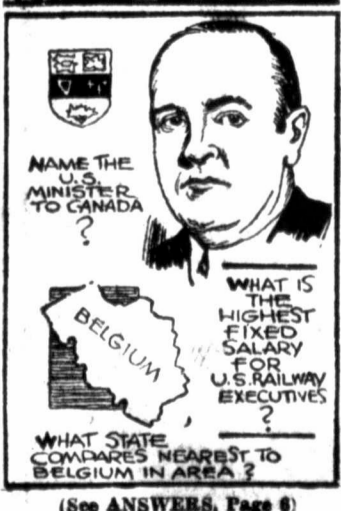

NOT all religious leaders are humanitarians. Many of them, in hitting hard at sin socially, get somewhat rough with sinners. This is not a prevalent philosophy, however, since the Christian point of view is the sacredness of every human life and the attendant restoration of the erring. But we have it from the Right Reverend Frederick P. Reese, Episcopal bishop of Georgia, that the multiplication of juvenile courts, reformatories and prohibition systems, have not carried us far from the idea that prisoners—or most of them—should be punished rather than reformed. And the public mind is still confused on the purpose of laws, courts, and jails.

REV. Reese writes that while shocking brutalities have been revealed in every section, the south has yet to abolish the chain gang and the "sweat box" in several states and shameful treatment of negro prisoners in most states where the negroes reside. He pointed out that most prisons are inhuman, many of them are fire traps, and nearly all of them overcrowded. The Georgia bishop, after a lengthy investigation, charges that southern states are relatively backward in their treatment of criminals. He says that in the north most of the prisoners live in idleness but are better housed than those imprisoned in the south. Prisons located in milder climates have more out-door work projects. Unfortunately, however, the chain gang made famous by books and movies still exists in a few states. Members of road gangs are caged and chained like wild animals. They work long hours in unpalatable recreation which is wholly inadequate. Health, naturally, is undermined, nerves become raw, but if a prisoner tries to escape he is hunted down with hounds and either shot or unmercifully beaten.

WE feel it our duty as spiritual shepherds of our Southland, writes Bishop Reese, "to protest against these evils. We appeal to

PLAN MAY BE BROAD ENOUGH TO OVERCOME OPPOSITION OF PERKINS, JOHNSON, HOPKINS

INDUSTRIALISTS ARE ALREADY PLEDGING COOPERATION

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—In line with the administration goal for re-employment of at least 1,000,000 more men in private industry, the house labor committee today voted unanimously for a flat 30-hour week for NRA industries subject to modification by a government board in case of labor shortage or "other emergencies."

This was done while criticism—and some praise—of NRA was being received at five separate meetings of code authorities brought here in an effort to improve the recovery administration.

Before one of the meetings letters written by Representative Fulmer (D., S. D.) were read, advising South Carolina saw mill operators to work on a "common sense basis" regardless of their NRA code. Fulmer told reporters he stood by the letters.

Although Secretary Perkins, NRA Administrator Hugh Johnson, and CWA Administrator Harry Hopkins opposed an arbitrary 30-hour week in industry, the committee was hopeful the legislation as drafted was sufficiently broad to meet their objections.

Chairman Connery said he would seek immediate house consideration. The NRA codes review rang with charges of non-observance and opposition to further cuts in labor hours—but a will to cooperate with the administration was evident.

Amid scenes paralleling congressional speechmaking, members of the code authorities spoke their minds.

Whether the NRA goal of putting a still more to work by cutting code hours could be reached remained a question, but it appeared certain that at least a part of the goal would be attained. Some industrialists were known to be phrasing pledges of cooperation.

Others, at one or another of the five simultaneous meetings, objected strenuously to what they called "another bill."

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—A report filed with the federal trade commission shows that two large companies in the Van Sweringens railroad group have defaulted on loans by J. P. Morgan and company and a group of New York bankers.

There was no indication, however, that Morgan & company or any of its associates had ever called for payment of the loans or taken any steps to foreclose on them.

The loans, totaling $40,119,932, were made to the Cleveland Terminal & Holding company which constructed a great union station at Cleveland, Ohio, and the Vaness company, a Van Sweringens holding corporation. Most of the securities for both loans was stock in the Allegheny corporation, principal Van Sweringens holding company.

In accordance with the federal securities act, the bankers' trust company filed an application with the commission for permission to issue certificates of deposit to holders of St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad company River and Gulf division 4 per cent bonds which were defaulted on May 1, 1933 throwing the entire Missouri Pacific system into trusteeship for reorganization. The bank is acting as depository for the bondholders protective committee.

Morgan Now Has Van Sweringens 'On The Spot'

Caged, "Terror" Thinks Up Clever Escape

John Dillinger, the nation's most dangerous outlaw, bank robber, and killer, who staged a daring escape from Lake county jail in

Crown Point, Ind., is shown here in three poses, taken while he was a prisoner there. Presenting a despairing picture in the left center poses, the view at the right gives a striking character study of him as the cunning, ruthless desperado who spread terror across many states.

Police Kill Amarillo Man

Youth Identified as Hijacker Is Shot to Death in Gun Fight With Officers.

AMARILLO, March 6 (AP)—George Louis Patton, 24, identified as a hijacker, was shot and killed in a gun fight with police early today. Patton, before running aul of police, shot and seriously wounded R. M. Brown, 45, a truck driver, after Brown said he refused to drive Patton out of town following the hijacking of two couples in different parts of the city. The robbery victims identified him in a hospital before his death.

After shooting Brown, Patton climbed into a taxicab, parked at the curb while the driver was collecting a fare, and sped away.

A police scout car picked up his trail.

A wild chase of several minutes through the city ended when Patton's stolen car plunged into a ditch while trying to take a corner. Captain W. D. McNeills and Patrolman S. D. Moore pulled up behind him to be met with gunfire. Patton fell as the officers fired simultaneously. He died in a hospital 30 minutes later.

Brown said he climbed into his truck cab and told him to drive out of town. Brown complained that he didn't have enough gas, and when Patton pushed his request with a gun, Brown jumped from the cab and ran. Patton shot him low in the back. Attending physicians said he probably would recover.

The robbery victims were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shores, and Elbe Reed and a girl companion, Pearl Strange. Both couples said Patton and another man robbed them. Patton was alone when he took Tom Robertson's taxi.

Patton was under grand jury indictment for assault with intent to kill, growing out of a recent hotel brawl.

Lon Smith To Run For Re-Election

AMARILLO, March 6 (AP)—Lon A. Smith, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, announced here today that he would be a candidate for re-election. He will seek his second full term.

The voters know that I have never quit running," the veteran office holder checked, "but I want to make my formal announcement from Amarillo."

Smith said he would make the opening address of his campaign at a party to be held in his honor at Henderson, his home town, on his birthday, March 13.

SCOUTING—A SUCCESS—WILL HAVE DRIVE FOR FUNDS SOON

ALTHOUGH sometimes, through the sacrifices of Executive C. A. Clark, it has appeared that the Boy Scout movement of Adobe Walls could not operate without funds, the time has come, officials stress, when financial support of the council is absolutely necessary.

They cite that Scouting is a success in Pampa and surrounding communities. Boys are advancing steadily in rank. They are well trained, courteous, law-abiding—the kind of boys Scouting makes.

Scouting is a success in the Adobe Walls council. Registrations have passed the 1,000 mark in 46 troops. Interest was never greater.

Scouting is a success in the Boy Scouts of America recently announced an increase of 27,226 in 1933. There are 552 councils with a total membership of 904,240. The depression hasn't whipped Scouting.

Cash and pledges for the support of Scouting will be sought next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday through a campaign directed by Jack Cunningham. It was announced today. More details will be given tomorrow.

HUNDREDS OF TEXANS FLOCK TO HEARINGS

FERGUSON STATES 'MA' IS IN UNENVIABLE POSITION

AUSTIN, March 6 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was told today that there are 1,500 wells overproducing in east Texas, and that there never has been proration of production there.

Hundreds of operators, and land and royalty owners from all parts of Texas, a majority from the great area of east Texas, came here to urge her to sign a bill passed by the special session of the legislature, which would place refineries under regulation of the state railroad commission, conservator of natural resources. It was meant to stop the flow of "hot" oil.

The crowd filled the house of representatives and the governor with her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, by her side, sat in the speaker's chair. She told the crowd she wanted to "hear everything."

At the outset of the hearing, Carl Estes of Tyler, who presided, read a telegram from F. W. Fischer of Tyler, representing a number of refineries, in which he requested the governor to approve the bill.

Mr. Ferguson told the meeting that the governor was in an "unenviable position."

"It is somewhat common for one to think there is just one side to every question," he said. "If you do not agree with them they think something is wrong, something is crooked, something is corrupt."

He exhibited a stack of petitions and telegrams, urging approval as well as a veto of the refinery bill. One petition he said contained 1,500 names of laboring persons in east Texas who wanted the bill vetoed. He said there were 1,000 telegrams urging approval of the bill as those who favor the bill are somewhat confused as to what it provides," he said. "Those opposed seem to know why they are against it and there is little confusion on that side of the house."

He said Elbert Hooper, first assistant attorney general, had expressed the "outspoken viewpoint" that the bill could be made effective and that it would provide the missing link necessary to bring about strict enforcement of proration.

"Of course, the governor will give a great deal of deference to the attorney general's opinion and the wishes of the railroad commission, which wants the bill signed," Mr. Ferguson said.

He read the bill to the meeting, because he wanted every one to understand its provisions, he said.

"Personally, I do not believe it is as good a bill as could have been written, so I want you to understand it and know on what you are voting," he said.

PRINCE TO WED HIS COMMONER THURSDAY NOON

LONDON, March 6 (AP)—Prince Stigvard of Sweden and Erka Patzek—the blonde young German screen star he refused to give up despite the pleas of the Swedish royal family—will be married Thursday, it was indicated today when the prince filed notice of intent at the Caxton hall registry office.

The prince appeared somewhat embarrassed when he jumped out of a taxi at the registry office and found a considerable crowd gathered to watch the proceedings.

He walked quickly up the office steps, accompanied by George Gordon, his legal adviser, and hurried into the registrar's room where he gave his name, age, residence, and all the other details which the law requires to know about himself and his fiancée.

Gordon soon reappeared to quiet the curiosity of the crowd. He announced that, while the prince did not wish to speak to the spectators himself, he, Gordon, was able to inform them that the wedding was definitely scheduled for noon, Tuesday.

V. F. W. To Meet Tonight To Plan Next Installation

Preparations for entertaining the degree team of the Amarillo Veterans of Foreign War will be made by the Pampa organization tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the police court room at the city hall.

Howard Neath, commander, will preside.

The Amarillo team will initiate a large group into the Pampa organization.

HITCHCOCK BANK Robbed of $300

GALVESTON, March 6 (AP)—Masked and dressed in coveralls, a young white man coolly held up the cashier of the Citizens State bank of Hitchcock, eluded a pursuer in a speeding coupe and escaped with $300 in cash today.

The man entered the bank and covered M. T. Booking, cashier, with a pistol. He ordered Booking to gather up all the cash, come outside into the teller's cage and slip the money in his pockets.

The man then ordered Booking to walk in the vault and locked him inside. Booking was able to release himself immediately and raised the alarm. A Mr. Rayburn of Wyoming, who had come to the bank to visit Booking, chased the bandit in an automobile but lost the trail at Dickinson, where the man escaped on a road leading to Houston.

Booking described the robber as being about 25 years old, five feet ten inches in height and weighing about 135 pounds. He wore coveralls and lace boots.

GAS RATE REDUCTION PLAINVIEW, MARCH 6

PLAINVIEW, March 6 (AP)—R. P. Hinchey, vice president, and other officials of the West Texas Gas company announced last night that a gas rate adjustment in all towns the company served was contemplated.

Mrs. Emory Noblett was called to Durham, Okla., today to be with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Potter, who is quite ill.

NEW SERIAL ABOUT TEXAS TO BEGIN TOMORROW IN THE NEWS

A NEW serial story will be started by THE NEWS tomorrow. It's about Texas.

Jeanne Bowman, California newspaper woman, is the author. She was born in Tacoma, Wash., and when less than a year old sailed to San Francisco on her father's lumber schooner. After schooling, she worked on papers in California and Texas at Houston, Port Worth, and San Antonio. She has written a story of a modern girl.

"The last will and testament of Tom Bevin's"—Judith dimly heard the words by which her former employer made her the heiress to five million dollars, gave her control of his far-flung enterprises and threw

Lost Outlaw

Sheriff Lillian Holley of Lake county, Ind., who scorned the idea that John Dillinger, notorious outlaw, could escape from her jail, is shown here. In his flight, the bandit imprisoned all guards in cells. Then, with a machine gun taken from the jail office, he cowed garage attendants and forced one of them to drive him to freedom in the sheriff's car.

POSTOFFICE IS TO BE WORTHY OF OUR UNCLE

ALTHOUGH little work is visible from the exterior, activity at the Pampa federal building is brisk inside the walls.

In half a dozen rooms, workmen are mixing large vats of plaster. Rough plastering is nearly complete, and skilled craftsmen are working with plaster that is snow white. Much of the interior will be in this finish.

Some interior brick and the work is under way, but it will be finished soon. Floors are yet to be placed, wood-work done, partitions built, the roof finished, and the usual multitudinous finishing touches remain. Several months will pass before Uncle Sam is ready to accept the well-constructed building.

Inside, the building seems huge despite its many sections. Entering by the arched doorways, visitors at the opening will walk into a massive, attractive lobby which would do justice to a metropolitan city bank. Behind the box-covered partition will be another huge space for the postoffice employes. Fixtures worthy of the building will be installed. Gone will be the box combinations. It will be an era of keys—and lost keys, perhaps.

Exteriorly, the building is much more attractive than the architect's drawing indicated. In appearance, convenience, and equipment it will be a building worthy of the government—a pride to and for Pampa.

I SAW—

The fenders, running board, etc., of Chris Martin's car, with Chris inside, loaded down with high school girls and boys, as the car slowly made its way to the school.

E. M. Conley softly whistling the Old Spinning Wheel last night, while Baby Face Clingman slipped a pin-wheel hold on Gaston for a fall.

Two announcements that made my heart jump: (1) the incomparable Garbo will be at the LaNora Sunday, and (2) "Smoky" the horse made famous by Will James in the book by that name will be at the Rex next week.

BUT NO INCREASE IN SAFETY

Year by year, automobile bodies are made safer, the parts stronger. But speed is being stepped up, and danger with it. Driving is not becoming any more efficient. The 1933 record is "bad."

Look at the figures. In 1927 there were 23,200,000 autos in use in the United States. In 1933 the number was 23,800,000—an increase of only 2.6 per cent. In 1927 auto accidents killed 25,538 people; in 1933 they killed 29,900—which is rise of 17 per cent.

These figures can mean only one thing: That we actually are driving with less care today than we were six years ago. Far from learning how to handle these new machines, we are getting worse. Fatalities are increasing at a faster rate than auto registrations.

This belief is borne out when the factors involved in the accidents are examined. It is revealed, for instance, that nearly 38 per cent of the 29,900 people killed in 1933 died in accidents in which drivers were exceeding the speed limit.

Eighteen per cent of the deaths came when drivers went off the road. Thirteen per cent were caused by vehicles being on the wrong side of the road; an equal percentage came from some driver's failure to give the right of way to a vehicle entitled to it.

Those figures are utterly damning. They prove, as clearly as any black and white tabulation could prove, that our auto death toll is going up because of criminal carelessness and selfishness on the part of the drivers.

Number of car in use is only slightly higher than it was six years ago. The cars themselves are far safer; they are sturdier, their brakes are better, they stick to the road better, they are easier to keep under control. It is the human element and it alone, which has failed.

What are we going to do? It would be horribly expensive to increase the number of city and rural traffic police five-fold. It would be a dreadful nuisance to require, by law, the installation of automatic governors limiting car speeds to 35 miles an hour, or some such figure.

But it begins to look as if we shan't make our highways even reasonably safe until we put through some such drastic and costly safeguards. We must find some way of protecting ourselves from our own foolishness.

Restoration Of Hapsburg Ruler Is Still Talked

VIENNA, March 6 (AP)—The fact that the new Austrian constitution will vastly increase the authority of the federal president was interpreted by some today as indicating preparations are being made for the eventual enthronement of a monarch.

Within a week, the world will have an opportunity to examine this constitution. Based upon the papal encyclical "quadro gesimo anno," the constitution will be charted for an authoritarian corporate state. The question of restoration of the monarchy was commented upon by Baron von Wiesner, spokesman for the legitimists in Vienna. Denying emphatically that England, as rumored here, had warned the Archduke Otto, claimant to the Austrian throne, to remain in Belgium, Baron von Wiesner said that no Hapsburg had received any warning.

He declared that the reticent attitude of the powers towards the Hapsburg question was due only to the extraordinary tension of the present situation. On the other hand, Vice Chancellor Mil Fey told newspaper correspondents this is no time to discuss a Hapsburg restoration. In Belgium, the semi-official newspaper, Vreme, front-paged a sharp warning that a Hapsburg restoration means "war against all peace-treaty states." The newspaper added that no post-war scheme has been "so morbid, so immoral or so insane" as the idea of restoring the Hapsburgs.

Lady Benefited By Cardui

The supreme court of Missouri must decide whether the Jackson county court possesses authority to fix a budget for the county.

"I was weak, discouraged, wasn't able to do anything for about seven months," writes Mrs. Sallie Bryson, of Kennedale, Texas. "An old lady friend suggested I give Cardui a trial. After I had taken half a bottle of Cardui, I was better and stronger. By the time I had taken three bottles, I was up, able to do my work and have gained in weight. Sometimes in the spring, if I feel nervous or a little run-down, I take a couple of bottles of Cardui and get all right. I feel I owe my good health to the use of Cardui." # MEETING IS CALLED TO FORM CITY RECREATION COMMITTEE

CLUB LEADERS INITIATE MOVE LAST EVENING

PERMANENT PROGRAM OF PLAY TO BE ADOPTED

A PERMANENT recreation committee to function throughout the year, supervising a play program for the city, will be formed by representatives of men's and women's clubs Monday evening, it was decided when presidents and other members of the organizations met last evening.

The session was called by a committee headed by Mrs. Earl O'Keefe, named from the Council of Women's clubs last week. Mrs. O'Keefe presided, directing a general discussion of recreational needs, problems, and possible solutions.

Many groups represented. Parent-Teacher associations, the women's club council, Lions, Rotary, and Kiwanis clubs, American Legion, Board of City Development, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Camp Fire Girls were represented, and also present were City Manager Stone, Mayor Bratton, city commissioners, Mrs. W. H. Davis of the welfare board, Supt. Fisher of city schools, and C. T. Hunkapillar, school board president.

Recreation plans of other cities were outlined, to be considered more fully by the permanent committee. Suggestions were heard for employing a paid supervisor of recreation, and providing two or more playgrounds in the city.

Each organization represented at the meeting was asked to have a representative present Monday at the Board of City Development office, when permanent officers will be elected and definite plans made.

Miss Eleanor Talley of Miami received treatment at Pampa hospital yesterday evening for a gunshot wound in the shoulder, accidentally inflicted.

Mrs. O. P. Edwards of White Deer shopped in the city yesterday afternoon.

GRAY COUNTY PLACES SECOND WHILE MANY INDIVIDUALS WIN PRIZES IN CANNED MEAT SHOW

Rickard, third, and Mrs. Jesse Crowder, fourth, on canned pork products; Mrs. Charles Carpenter of McLean, third, and Mrs. Fred C. Each of these women will receive a cash prize, while the county prize will go to the home demonstration council. Mrs. King assisted Miss Ruby Adams, county agent, in arranging the display in Amarillo.

CALL OFF DOGS—THE CENSUS TAKER STARTS IMPORTANT TASK

The dogs this year are even more numerous and noisier than last, although their bite is not as ferocious as their growl, says Mrs. J. H. Blythe and she ought to know because she's the census enumerator of the Pampa Independent school district.

She began visiting the homes of Pampa children last week to obtain necessary, absolutely necessary data about their ages and birthdays. Parents might find it convenient to look up their children's birth dates if they don't already know. Also, if housewives, their progeny, and the head of the house as for that matter, are asked to take a good look at Mrs. Blythe before they decide she is "tryin' to sell somethin'" and slam the door in her face, because Mrs. Blythe is bound to take the

P-TA Council to Meet March 17th

The spring meeting of county Parent-Teacher council will be on March 17, instead of on March 10 as originally scheduled. It was announced today by Mrs. W. B. Murphy, chairman.

It will be at LePors, where Parent-Teacher association members are preparing to entertain visitors from over the county. A program is being arranged and will be announced several days before the meeting.

Bob Fuller visited in Panhandle last night.

K. H. Gaebel of Kingsmill transacted business here yesterday.

Also, if householders are specially considerate they might call off the dogs when they see Mrs. Blythe's red Chevrolet (1932) pull up at the front yard.

It is expected that the number of pupils in this district will be larger than last year, however, every child will have to be enumerated, it is believed. For each pupil enumerated by Mrs. Blythe, the state will pay from $10 to $16, depending upon the apportionment set each year by the state. It is obvious why no children of school age should be overlooked by the census taker—for school economy alone. In addition, the biggest census taker the better the commercial advantages the town will enjoy.
