BREVITORIES

Musings of the moment: The unhappy lot of the farmer has not been altogether a problem of marketing. The consumer has had a lot to do with it. Styles in hogs have changed about as much as the consumer's appetite, which is notoriously erratic. . . . Neither the range type of hog nor the round-shouldered pig is in style. There is a happy medium and unless the farmer has that type of animal he is not likely to get the top market price. Which is really no fault of the market. . . . America's favorite delicacy, it is found by a magazine, is the ordinary variety of apple pie. President Woodrow Wilson thought the same. We will agree if you will make it plump and juicy, well seasoned, and encased in the kind of crust that melts in your mouth. And serve it cold with hot coffee under the spreading branches of a big tree just after sundown on an early fall day. Otherwise, you may serve us a Pike's Peak squash pie garnished with shredded coconut and well frozen. A thin dry apple pie with a soggy crust is perhaps the world's worst, and it does violence to a great American art. . . . Don't forget that the Lions club and Little Theater are preparing enjoyable, first rate home talent entertainment for you this month.

Labor has its troubles—troubles which mean worry for jobless men and loss of trade for business men. . . . CONSIDER THE HIRE MAN. But you can't blame all employers for this condition. Business men, no less than their employees, have been caught in a maelstrom of economic forces with which they were helpless to cope. . . . The average hired man has had a cash income of only $186 for his own labor. A similar example could be given in most lines of business. . . . In times of depression it often pays to be an employe.

Uncle Sam does many things ranging from the sublime to the absurd in helping the farmer—employe. He employs architects to design hog houses that are more elegant than the farmer's own at a time when hog prices do not justify

TWINKLES

After hearing Will Rogers try to sing "The Last Roundup" which he said had cowboy words and a negro spiritual tune, we have a little better appreciation of crooners.

In Cuba they run from the presidency. We need a little more of that spirit in our gubernatorial races.

The gold standard is important, but the real crisis will arrive when Americans go off the smile standard.

The West Foster grouch was so friendly this morning that we fear he is going to announce for some office.

The ultimate in demands will be here when the veterans of the CCG and the CWA start campaigning for adjusted compensation.

GOVERNORS IN LAUDATIONS OF YOUNGER MEN

LOCAL AWARD IS GIVEN O. E. HINKLE FOR YEAR 1933

THE Junior chamber of commerce is the young men's challenge to the status quo of America," said Governor Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota in a broadcast keynote address last night received by a group of 75 Pampans at the local Jaycees' annual banquet. He commended "the vicious economic system dictated by the avaricious profit motive" which has resulted in nationwide unemployment and suffering. Governor Olson has been a pioneer in the Junior chamber of commerce movement, which last night celebrated its fifteenth birthday. Congratulatory telegrams were received from the governors of Ohio, Tennessee, Nebraska, Oregon, Illinois, Wisconsin, New York, California, and Florida at national headquarters in St. Paul, where the broadcast originated.

National President Leslie B. Farrington spoke of "young men aroused and seeking freedom of expression." He congratulated the young men who in many cities last night received the official "Distinguished Service Awards." Locally, this award, a gold key, was presented by Mayor W. A. Bratton to Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of The News. With the award went praise for unselfish service to the community and skilled interpreting of the trends of this trying period. The recipient was chosen by a committee of business men who were beyond the Junior chamber age limit of 18 to 35 years.

Second Term as Treasurer Asked By D. R. Henry

D. R. Henry, now serving his first term as Gray county treasurer, authorizes the announcement of his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the voters in the democratic primary of July 28. Mr. Henry further states that he has given his full time to the duties of the office and has kept the records of the office in a businesslike manner. He feels that the experience has had during this term will better enable him to attend to the office in another term, and he promises that if elected he will give his entire time to the office. On this basis, he is asking the voters' support for re-election.

NEW ANGLE ON STATES RIGHTS

Local communities of the nation, including Pampa, have been impressed by the fact that Uncle Sam has proved helpful, where states have failed. This may have far-reaching effect upon the future status of states in the national scheme of things.

Prof. Charles E. Merriam, head of the Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago, suggests that such change now may be starting in relation of city governments to governments of state and nation.

Writing in the current issue of Public Management, Prof. Merriam points out that the city is coming into a closer relationship these days with Washington than with its own state capital. The city's importance as a political unit has increased in the depression years, and Washington's sway over internal affairs likewise has increased.

This, as he remarks, is largely because the chief problems afflicting cities lately have been national problems, which require national action for their solution.

At the same time, state governments have been slow to give the cities the relief that they might. Metropolitan districts cannot form unified governments, to eliminate expensive waste and lost motion, without state consent.

This consent seldom is forthcoming. There is rural jealousy of urban domination, there is intricate trading for petty favors, there is frequently undue consideration in the statehouse for special vested interests.

"The state," remarks Prof. Merriam, "neither will grant autonomy to the cities nor will it assume the burden of administrative supervision over them. The state neither will rule nor permit anyone else to rule over metropolitan regions."

There are innumerable fields in which city activities could tie in neatly with a federal pattern—in education, in health, in public works, in public welfare services, in handling of interests of business and labor.

Do we stand today on the verge of a great shift which vastly will diminish importance of the state government and strengthen ties between city hall and national capital? It is quite possible, and it might be a very good thing for everyone concerned.

far distant future and result in acute shortage of some products. And this could easily be true if the needs of all of the people could be met through an equitable distribution of work opportunities.

(Continued from page 1) cosmopolitan city in the nation. Regardless of its gorgeous homes, buildings, parks, etc., and notwithstanding the fact that it is supposedly "the model city," being followed by the president, and congress instead of a mayor and city commission, Washington has its slums, its dives, its laundries, and most everything of contrast that goes to make the modern city what it is today.

Because the first building the average visitor sees when in Washington is the main station, and because its design and size affords a fitting portal to the great city, I'll give a brief paragraph to it today.

The building itself, which was constructed by the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads, the District of Columbia and the United States, is constructed of white Vermont granite. The architect, Daniel H. Burnham, evidently got his inspiration from the triumphal arches of Rome; as a result the building is monumental in character, with magnificent proportions whose dimensions exceed those of the capital. The length is 760 feet, the width 343 feet. The passenger concourse excites attention as one looks to the right and the left down the long vistas of its 760 feet. It is the largest single room in the world, with a floor space on which might be found room for an army of fifty thousand men. The main waiting room is 220 feet by 130 feet; the two end windows of this room are each 75 feet in diameter, and the five windows in the semi-circle are each 30 feet in diameter. In the east end is the state waiting room for the president and high officials of the United States and the diplomatic corps.

For those of you who are contemplating a big dance, or "something," two interesting suggestions might come from here. On Shrove Tuesday, the Arts club here will hold their annual Bal Boheme, and will carry out everything in the circus motif. The Junior League is staging a brilliant Valentine event at the Mayflower, and have designated it as the "Something New" dance—everyone who attends must have "something new" in the ensemble, thereby providing hundreds of men and women with work which otherwise would not be done.

And for a third suggestion, you might follow New York's example of having a Butler's ball, at which the season's debts were entertained by New York's butlers! Someone said, "Huh! Lots of fun for some butlers!" — And someone replied, "Yes. And quite a monotonous repetition for many others!" That's neither here nor there, though, is it?

TO THE LADIES: (This isn't a toast, but merely the repeating of a question, and the answer which I later obtained, that was asked by a lady the other night. Since it is typically feminine, I felt those ladies who read this column: if any do would be interested. Here 'tis.)

Q. Have any of the gowns which grace the "President's Wives" in the National Museum collection ever been changed, and are the gowns merely replicas of those worn by the First Ladies, or did they actually belong to them?

A. Mr. Belote, of the Smithsonian Institute furnished some information on that not long ago, and revealed that only in two cases have the gowns shown in the group been replaced. A dress which Martha Washington wore was given to the museum in 1912, and withdrawn by its owner in 1924, then in 1925 another dress was lent, but was withdrawn in 1926. The dress which graced the figure of Mrs. Washington from 1912 to 1924 was returned to the museum in 1929 for permanent preservation.

In 1927 a dress worn by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge was presented to the museum, then in 1930 another dress worn by her was substituted, and has been on exhibition ever since. (It is rumored that the second dress was a little longer than any Mrs. Coolidge had, hence was substituted. Present styles brand her as the unfortunate woman who has to favor posterity with a visualization of the "short skirt" era.)

IN EACH OF THE ABOVE MENTIONED CASES, THE DRESS WAS AN ORIGINAL AND NOT A REPLICA.

PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL, JANUARY 23, 1934 No. 17

100 STUDENTS EXPECTED TO TRY OUT FOR ONE-ACT PLAY CONTEST; THREE PLAYS ALREADY SELECTED

DID YOU KNOW-

Pampa High is still popular with post-graduates?
 Longfellow was cracked?—Miss Cariker's bookend of him.
 The senior rings have not yet arrived?
 Bob Smellage from Junior high is taking Miss Houssels' place in the commercial department and that he will also have charge of the boys' glee club the fifth hour? (The co-eds are all wishing they were tenors and basses.)
 Two male quartets will render musical selections for the assembly program tomorrow?
 The faculty up here are getting too efficient? The idea of having full hour regular classes on the very first day of the new semester?
 The music room in the red building has been completely re-decorated and is worth taking a peep at? (Mrs. Wallraabenstein deserves a good deal of the credit.)
 Red is still Miss May's favorite color?
 Sue Dodson, our club editor, is out of school because of illness?

NOTABLE NOTINGS OF PHS

By The Nimble Nilwits
 Oh, I could go for a football guy list to me, girls, and I'll tell you why.
 A man that's clad in a sweater neat causes my heart to skip a beat.
 A guy that wears the green and gold.
 Whether he's shy, or whether he's bold,
 Holds my heart in the palm of his hand.
 But, somehow, I can't understand, why he won't let me wear his sweater.
 That gorgeous thing with the big green letter.
 He says he worked too hard for same.
 To give it to any dizzy dame.
 Now, I think that's very unkind.
 About football players I've changed my mind.
 —Anna Mae Flesher.

We accept Mr. Fisher's apology for his tardiness in chapel—we do it ourselves sometimes.
 Dan the Duncie thinks a buttress is a female goat.
 Mr. Alexander: "What is the formula for water?"
 Billie Boyington: "H L J K L M N O."
 Mrs. Alexander: "Nonsense!"
 Billie: "You said yesterday it was H to O."
 We are told by a certain brilliant freshman that steel wool is the essence from a hydraulic ram.
 Snooty saw an eraser come whizzing down the hall, barely miss two seniors, and completely ruin the dignified expression on the face of one of our language teachers.
 Herbert Reynolds has nominated himself a committee of one to bring a ray of sunshine into the lives of the girls in the bookkeeping class.
 Miss Cariker says she's sadly overworked. And eating her own cooking, too, poor thing!
 Craspin, Gladioli says that all work and no play makes Jack and plenty of it.
 We suggest window shades between Miss McParlin's room and Mr. Smellage's to keep the attention of the feminine members of the bookkeeping class on their ledgers.
 Roscoe Pinnell steadily maintains that he has no pulse.
 We heard a group of proud young men telling everybody in the hall Monday morning how they were sophomores. Congratulations.
 Have you seen C. A. Clark's skinned lip? Shiny, he says.
 We saw Mr. Fox shaking a mean leg on roller skates the other day.
 We hear Alice Butts is engaged to a sweet little boy in Skellytown.
 Iris Gillis would like to gently wring the neck of the worm who swiped her Spanish books.
 Jess Patton has about the cutest we've seen in the way of rings.
 The warm days certainly make it hard on the football players.

Several Casts Will Be Chosen For Dramas

Work on the one-act play contest was started this week, and at least one hundred students are expected to try out for parts, according to Ben Guill, director.
 Several casts each will be selected for three plays, "Dregs," "Smoke-screen" and "Neighbors," and it is possible that another play will be added.
 Students of all classifications, from freshman to senior, are urged to try out for a part, whether they have had experience or not. The final cast chosen will represent the school in the Interscholastic League contest and in various speech arts tournaments this spring. Everyone interested should see Mr. Guill in Room 303 at once.

P. H. S. SPORTS

Our basketball teams have a busy week ahead of them. The boys and girls will both go to Borger this evening and to McLean Thursday. The Harvesters have a tournament at Canadian on their schedule Friday, while the Harvesters will be at home for a game with Lubbock. Saturday they play Plainview.
 The Harvesters are clicking with mid-season form already. During the early part of last week the Harvesters took a set up from Borger, overcoming them 45 to 18. Even though they came out way in the lead, they were quite erratic in their passing and many fouls were called. Friday they defeated Amarillo 25 to 15, revenging an earlier loss.
 Saturday both the Harvesters and the Harvestettes won their first contest game of the season at LeFors. The boys' score was 29 to 21 and the girls' was 22 to 16.
 Incidentally the Harvestettes have played 13 games so far winning 6, losing 6, and tying one.
 The tennis players are taking advantage of the fine weather by practicing every day.
 The most popular sport of P. H. S. at present is roller skating.

Museum Visited By 24,000 Since Spring Opening

CANYON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State Teachers college, points to the building of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum on the campus as the greatest educational achievement of the Panhandle in 1933.
 "I knew that the museum would be an educational factor of great importance to this region," Dr. Hill said, "but I did not realize how widely it would be used. Its influence has extended over the entire state and its successful completion has contributed to a rapidly growing interest in the preservation of historical data and other materials which will be of increasing importance in the future."
 The museum was opened for its first season last week. It has since that time attracted a total of 24,000 visitors, according to the museum director, Dr. Hill.
 The museum is located in the old building of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society, which was built in 1908. It is a two-story building with a large auditorium on the second floor. The museum is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily, except on Sundays and holidays.

British Holding Naval Conference At Chinese Base

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlement, Jan. 23 (AP)—A naval conference to determine Great Britain's policy in the Far East was called aboard the cruiser Kent today in an atmosphere charged with speculation as a result of Japan's naval building moves and a United States recommendation to build 120 new warships.
 The Kent is the flagship of Vice-Admiral Sir Frederic Charles Dreyer, commander-in-chief of the British China station. Seven British men-of-war brought the naval dignitaries together.
 Although the agenda was secret, it was understood to comprise a 4-point program. Singapore's future as a naval center, progress of naval base construction work in Singapore, the Far Eastern situation and matters of general policy in connection with the local base.

Man Slays His Mother-in-Law And Shoots Wife

GOOSE CREEK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Marital troubles were blamed today for a shooting in which Carl Dobbins allegedly killed his mother-in-law and critically wounded his estranged wife and another woman.
 Dobbins, resident of Baytown, was in the Harris county jail, charged with murder and assault with intent to murder.
 A fusillade of shots fired from an automatic pistol brought death to Mrs. Herman Enderlit. Bullets penetrated her chest and abdomen.
 Her daughter, Mrs. Carl Dobbins, was struck in the abdomen, chest and an arm. She was in a critical condition.
 The other victim was Mrs. Oscar Hazel wood, 50, at whose home the shooting took place late yesterday. With a critical wound in the left side, she is fighting for her life.
 Leon Lusk, investigator for the district attorney's office, said Dobbins made a statement in which he admitted the shooting.
 Dobbins, according to the statement, said he was separated from his wife about January, when she returned to her parents' home in Cedar Bayou.
 "Monday she sent me word to meet her in Goose Creek," the statement quoted Dobbins as saying. "I met her and we talked about a divorce and later visited a lawyer's office. Then she got into her father's car and left."
 Investigation revealed that Dobbins followed her in a taxicab and attempted to force his way into the Hazelwood home here. Dobbins, officers said, admitted firing three shots through the door with an automatic pistol and was still shooting when he entered the house.

6,000 Pennies Stolen

SALT FORK, Okla.—Six thousand pennies were taken early today from the Bank of Salt Fork by burglars who burned a hole through the main door of the vault and escaped in a motor car. The burglars also rifled several safety deposit boxes, but O. E. Brewer, president of the bank, said only notes and mortgages of no value to the bank-breakers were missing.

Observers Have Confidence Young Man Will Surmount Obstacles

BY R. W. BARRY
 AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—Reports indicate the selection of Jack Chevigny, late of Notre Dame, to be coach of the University of Texas met with general approval. Chevigny, suave young fellow with an unusual personality, came to Texas to teach the boys at St. Edward's university to play football. He did his job well and won for that institution, a branch of the South Bend university, a championship in its conference.
 When Clyde Littlefield resigned as head coach at the university there was an immediate demand in Austin for Chevigny. The Austin people had had contact with him. That interest was spread to many parts of the state. Beauford Jester of Corsicana, president of the board of regents, was enthusiastic over the selection. He gave notice that the regents would expect all loyal university ex-students and every one else interested in Longhorn success to stay behind Chevigny.
 The young coach goes into the work handicapped, the experts say, but they expect him to find means of smoothing out many of the rough places. He has a reputation of having a knack of surmounting obstacles.
 Interest in selection of a university coach thoroughly overshadowed everything in Austin, even politics, while the matter was pending. It was a chief topic of conversation in the capitol corridors, unusually dull—politically—just now.
 "Who'll be the university coach?" "When'll the legislature be brought back into special session?" and "Who'll be the next governor?" have been the stock-in-trade interrogations since before the Christmas holidays. Now, one of the questions has been eliminated. The remaining two are as unanswerable as ever.
 Whirligigs: State Senator John Hornsby of Austin, who always welcomes visitors to "your friendly capital city," has been getting some fan mail lately. . . he is being petitioned to become a candidate for lieutenant governor of Texas. . . he may make the race. . . others who have announced include State Senators Walter Woodul of Houston and Joe Moore of Greenville, former State Senator B. F. Berkeley of Alpine and State Representative Bob Johnson of Palestine.

Shields Whips George Lott In Straight Sets

MONTREAL, Jan. 22 (AP)—Frank Shields struck a blow for the defense Saturday in the controversial raring in United States tennis circles as to whether George Lott's proposed 1933 ranking is too low. Shields defeated the Chicagoan in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0, 9-7, to regain the Canadian national indoor tennis championship.
 Lott, who was recommended for No. 10 rating in the American list, has been carrying on a campaign of revenge. He defeated two higher ranked stars on clay at Miami recently, but he was no match for the tall New Yorker who has American's undisputed No. 1 amateur player last year.
 With one of the most deadly services in tennis working almost perfectly and his angled drives finding the corners and the backline, Shields' quick command of the match throughout.
 It was not until the final set that Lott began to find the answer to Shields' game but he could do no better than hold him over for 14 games, from where Frank ran out the match. The Chicagoan attempted to rush the net during the first two sets but Shields frequently passed him or forced Lott into errors with shots that were too hard to handle.

Inhalator Saves Life of Fighter In Heart Attack

The life of Jester McWhorter, better known as Old Kid Granite, was saved early yesterday by the use of the inhalator from the fire department. The well known boxer suffered a heart attack at his home here and it was necessary to use the inhalator for 15 minutes before he revived.
 Granite's condition was much improved this morning. He was taken to Pampa hospital in a G. C. Malone ambulance following artificial respiration and use of the inhalator.
 The valuable equipment was given the Pampa fire department by the Cabot company some time ago. It has been used several times and more than one life has been saved. Every member of the fire department has been instructed in the use of the inhalator, which is one of the most modern obtainable.

Dr. Wynekoop Brought to Court

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Jan. 23 (AP)—W. J. Walsh, minister of agriculture and mines in the Newfoundland cabinet, was arrested today, charged with larceny in connection with the disappearance of part of the government's huge collection of foreign stamps.
 He was freed on $4,000 bail.
 The charge contended Walsh had appropriated from the closed Newfoundland museum three bound volumes of unused stamps valued at between $5,000 and $6,000. They formed part of the government's $120,000 collection, about half of which has disappeared.
 Government investigators have been probing the mystery of the missing stamps since their disappearance disclosed a few weeks ago. They say the thefts have been spread over a period extending from 1920, when the museum was closed. Baker school carnival, January 25.

DINNER-BRIDGE PARTY HONORS VIRGINIA ROSE

Miss Cook Is Hostess Complimenting Bride-Elect

A recent courtesy to Miss Virginia Rose, whose marriage to Eustie Turner is to be solemnized Wednesday, was the dinner-bridge and lingerie shower given by Miss Mary Ellen Cook Saturday evening.

A shower of tiny hearts, hung from the chandelier on white ribbons, and red and white carnations, were banked around the base of the basket. The names, "Virginia and Eustie," were spelled in red letters in front of the flower bank.

Baskets of red and white flowers centered the bridge tables, where dinner was served before the games started. High score award went to Miss Dorothy Doucette, and second high to Mrs. Julian Barrett. The honoree was presented a corsage of red and white carnations.

Guests were Misses Rose, Virginia Faulkner, Margaret Buckler, Frances Finley, Louise Walsted, Doucette; Mmes. Arthur Swanson, Tom Rose, Don Conley, C. C. Cook, and Barrett.

SALE OF TICKETS TO START BY LITTLE THEATER MEMBERS FOR 'HE WHO GETS SLAPPED'

REHEARSALS ON TWO PLAYS HELD AFTER MEETING

TICKET sales for the Little Theater's play of February 1 and 2, "He Who Gets Slapped" will be started this week in Pampa and surrounding towns, Mrs. Ruba McConnell, business manager, announced at a business meeting yesterday evening.

Practice on this drama and also on "The Cat and the Canary," scheduled for March, followed the brief business meeting at the city hall club rooms.

Mrs. Earl Powell, director, and the cast are spending several evenings each week in practice on "He Who Gets Slapped." The play, one of the most popular works of the Russian dramatist Leonid Andreyev, will introduce several new actors to Little Theater enthusiasts here.

Crown in Title Role.
All the story revolves about the French gentleman who, embittered and cynical, joins a Parisian circus as a clown and is known only as He. This role is taken by Reg Farless, young newcomer to Pampa who has been a member of the Dallas Little Theater and has had experience in school productions.

Other new faces, as well as favorites of other Little Theater plays, will be seen in this four-act drama set in the dingy and busy office of a continental circus manager.

Enjoying the demonstration were Mrs. Ralph Turcott and Mrs. Simpson, visitors, and Mmes. Tignor, Lewis, Ira Spearman, W. O. Sparrman, Norman Walberg, Minnie Jackson, Shackleton; Misses Donnie Lee Stroup, Beryl and Margaret Tignor, and the hostess.

The Capelet-Yoke Takes to Contrast

Of course your youngest wants covered shoulders, but she doesn't want to be bothered with sleeves! Neither do you, when time is precious—and you're looking for clothes you can make in a hurry. Both you and she will like the idea of the capelet yoke, the trick of this charming little frock.

The yoke has capelet shoulders, buttons in back, and is cut with attractive points in button to the frock in front. To accent it, use a contrasting fabric—white on a butterfly yellow linen frock, for example. Pleats, front and back, give plenty of freedom for action. There are matching panties, too, finished with a yoke in front, and elastic in back. See how little material this outfit takes! Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards 36-inch material, 3/4 yard 36-inch contrasting for yoke. For other children's designs, see the Winter Fashion Book.

Pattern No. 5430 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years.

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

SYNOPSIS: Frank Grahame, the player, and his pal Spin Winslow, a flake, just have rescued Myrtle Kent, the movie star, from a gang which had abducted her and were taking her into Mexico. They are convinced that the abductors were led by a man named Ortega, who had been in Hollywood ostensibly to arrange with the producer Myberg for a picture to be taken in Mexico. But Frank can't determine Ortega's motive, and in addition is puzzled because as he drove the abductors away from the car in which he found Janice, he saw again the man with the villainous profile whom he had seen peering into the window of Myberg's office a short while before. Frank is developing more than a casual interest in Janice.

Chapter 12 THE RETURN
Frank glanced about him. The driver—the man he had struck with his gun—was gone. The other two men were not in view. The nondescript car looked oddly desolate with its gaping doors.
He frowned, considering. His impulse was to follow one of the men. He realized that the capture of one or all of them would effectively stop the peculiar and mysterious persecution of Janice Kent. That they were serious about their business he did not doubt.
Rudely he put his hand to his side where his assailant's bullet had ed, meltingly, of surrender. Frank kissed her. Her lips against his were cool and detached—a curious aloofness that caused Frank, in a brief flash, to think of the figures of the Virgin he'd seen in remote niches of lost churches found in forgotten jungles.

"Did he imagine it?—or did for a fleeting instant her lips tremble against his? Abruptly she was out of his arms and her hand on the door-knob. Frank half raised his arms.
"Please..." she said. "I'm very tired." Was it fright he saw in her eyes?—no—but it was an odd timidity. "I'm sorry." She seemed to say that to herself. "Frank, forget that, will you, please." Her breasts rose and fell with quick, short breaths, but the alarm had gone from her eyes.
"I love you, Janice," said Frank. The words were husky in his throat. Janice put up her arms in a gesture of half protest. Suddenly she laughed, a little trill that ran through half an octave. The sound seemed to charge a clock of restraint between them. Frank's arms dropped to his side. The girl's slender figure took on a new poise. She said hurriedly:
"We mustn't be silly. You must go now. You—Oh, how mournful you look!" Her laugh broke on a half note.
"Swiftly she drifted against Frank. She shook his arms in a small gesture of good-humored protest. She stood on tip-toe. Lightly her lips brushed his—a fleeting feather of fragrance, then she was gone.
But she was not gone from Frank's mind. He stood, staring at the door and rapidly running back through the strange trail of events that had brought them to this spot.
"There were so many chances that they might never have met. Suppose, for one, that he had not madly decided to follow her car that day in Hollywood. Or suppose that he had not telephoned her house this very evening.
He half raised his hand to touch his lips. Then he turned and walked back to the hotel. He was in a glow of anticipation, bemused and yet clear upon one point. His regard for Janice.

Indictments In Triple Slaying Are Dismissed

PORT WORTH, Jan. 23 (AP)—After dismissing "murder" indictments against O. D. Stevens and M. T. Howard, District Judge George Hoesy today continued the trial of W. D. May, charged in connection with the Handley triple slaying last summer.
It was the second victory for the defense. The case set for trial today was for the slaying of Jack Sturdivant.
The continuance was granted on grounds that three witnesses were absent. They were Mexicans supposed to have been working on the May farm near Handley when the slaying was alleged to have taken place.
The defense filed a motion for severance and asked that Howard be tried first. Judge Hoesy granted the motion and upon recommendation of District Attorney Jesse Martin, dismissed the indictment against Howard.
The defense then filed another motion for severance and asked that the motion be granted and that the indictment against Stevens, alleged leader of the gang likewise be dismissed.

PEACE SEEMS TO BE TENOR OF NEW DIET

By GLENN BABE
Associated Press Foreign Staff
—TOKYO, Jan. 23 (AP)—An anti-militarist tenor marked the first interpretation in Japan's imperial diet today when members of the cabinet completed their statements of policy and declared questioning in order.
It was a spirit in tune with the plea for peace and "understanding" voiced by Foreign Minister Koki Hirota upon whom greatest attention was focused as the diet was reconvened.
Count Yoshinori Futaara opened by criticizing the government for permitting publication of inflammatory articles and predictions of war, without specifically mentioning a recent magazine interview with Vice Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu or a fictional account of a Japanese-American war recently widely publicized in the United States.
There was a chorus of guarded ministerial agreement.
"The so-called national spirit fostered by such incitations is not the true spirit of Nippon, in which an international outlook is inherent," Count Futaara declared.
"I quite agree," said Premier Makoto Saito.
Groundwork for this anti-militarist expression was laid earlier in the pronouncement of Minister Hirota on the empire's delicate relations with Soviet Russia and China and improving contacts between Japan and the United States.
"No question exists between Japan and the United States," Hirota told the diet, "that is intrinsically difficult of solution. I am confident that the United States will not fail to appraise correctly Japan's position in East Asia."
Hirota was hopeful of an early settlement of Russo-Japanese differences, although he bitterly assailed what he called Russia's "unwarranted criticisms."
Commenting on the reconvening of parliament with former War Minister Araki out of the cabinet, the newspaper Asahi pictured leaders of the anti-militarist elements in parliament as like lions robbed of their prey.
They had planned to bitterly interrogate Araki concerning his huge defense estimates and the state of military discipline as exemplified in the assassination of the late

Model Bedroom Is Begun by H. D. Club Woman. With Closet
"My clothes closet is my most treasured Christmas present," said Mrs. Leo Paris as she outlined plans as bedroom demonstrator for Lakeland Home Demonstration club at a recent meeting.
"Probably one reason is that I waited so long for a closet big enough to care for the many things that need to be stored," she continued.
The closet is built of sheetrock and is 4 by 4 by 11 feet. To the left of the door are five shelves 1 by 2 feet, for storing folded articles. There is a long rod for coat hangers for the clothing of adults in the family, and a lower one for the children.
Space for storing a trunk, and room for shoe racks, pattern and laundry boxes is provided. This large dust-proof closet cost $10.

Insull Told By Greek Premier He Must Leave

ATHENS, Jan. 23 (AP)—Premier Panayotis Tsaldaris said today Samuel Insull, Sr., former Chicago utilities operator, must leave Greece, no matter what the council of state may decide on his appeal for permission to remain here.
"The general secretary of the council of state said it had postponed indefinitely the calling of a secret session to consider Insull's plea."
Meanwhile rumors circulated that Insull, who must leave Greece within the month, is trying to persuade Italy to permit him to fly to the island of Rhodes for refuge from the United States authorities who seek to return him to Chicago for embezzlement trial.
Insull, it was said, would like to go to the Aegean island in the event his efforts to remain in Greece failed.
A strong probability prevails that the supreme state council has decided to reject Insull's appeal from

Jones Urges Sum For Technicians At Helium Plant

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Representative Jones (D-Tex.), today urged the house appropriations committee to provide a fixed sum of not less than $30,000 a year for payment of salaries of technicians at the government helium plant at Amarillo.
Jones said the general operating expenses of the plant would be met under present plans by whatever income the plant derived from sale of helium to the navy, but that it was imperative to make specific provision for the technicians and experimental workers.

Told Her Daughter To Take CARDUI

"I took Cardui for a week, run-down condition," writes Mrs. John Dehne, of New Madrid, Mo. "My back ached, also my sides. I did not feel good, so did not feel like doing my work, and there is a lot to do on a farm. I read about Cardui and decided to take it. Cardui helped me. It is the best tonic I have found. I told my daughter to take it, too, and it helped her." Ask at the drug store for Cardui. Used by women for over 50 years.

REGAL--PARIS FIGHT ON THURSDAY NIGHT IS SLATED TO BE A 'NATURAL'

INDIAN CHIEF IS FAVORITE FIGHTER HERE

MEXICAN COMING TO MAKE BACK BY WINNING BOUT

The Chief Paris-Pete Regal bout at the Pla-Mor auditorium Thursday night should be a "natural." The boys don't think much of each other and they are different types of fighters in every respect. Regal fights in a crouch and waits until he can swing a left from the floor. Paris fights more erectly and throws leather from all angles.

The Indian holds a decision over Regal, but that was a year ago. Since then the wild-swinging Borgerite has been improving. A Mexican there is more natural fighter than an Indian. There are many Mexican fighters in or near the top of the list, but few Indians ever get that far. The Mexican fights for the love of it, while an Indian does not have that desire, statistics show.

Paris made a big hit with Pampa fans when he outboxed the well-known Allen Whitlow here recently and won a popular decision over the Arizona flash. He can hit, he is fast, and he can take about as much as any 135-pounder in the game today. Regal is even tougher than the Indian. He has a powerful left. He loves to fight and, although unpopular, it cannot be said that he doesn't fight every minute he is in the ring.

Promoter B. W. Kelly has signed young Kid Granite for the semi-final. The "kid" is en route to Dallas from a successful tour thru the northern states. He met some tough boys and won most of his bouts. Granite will meet Kid Karr of Anadarko, Okla., one of the best little fellows in the southwest. Grubb proved to be too heavy for Granite. Good preliminaries will open the show. Earl Madden of Spearman,

CARL HUBBELL'S CAGERS TO PLAY MARTIN'S THIS EVENING

Hurler Not Worried About New Ball Which Will Be Used Next Season.

By The Associated Press
The Meeker, Okla., basketball team, managed by Carl Hubbell, pitching hero of the championship game, tackled another one directed by Pepper Martin, St. Louis Cardinal third baseman, at Oklahoma City tonight and both Carl and Pepper are anxious to win.

Hubbell doesn't play but suits up and takes practice shots before each game, with another unique delivery, a left-handed "hook" shot. His team has played games in Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas with varying success. One game, in Hutchinson, brought charges of professionalism against "his boys," but Hubbell pointed out he didn't play in any games with them, just coached and arranged games.

He will forsake the court Feb. 1 for a week to journey to New York to receive the "most valuable player's award" of the baseball writers' association at a banquet February 4.

Before leaving for spring training in California about March 1, Hubbell plans to show University of Oklahoma baseball pitchers how he throws his famous "screw-ball," to keep a promise he made last winter.

As to the new ball, Hubbell says: "We didn't get to use it enough during the world's series for me to be able to say just what we'll be able to do with it over a season's span, but I don't think it will make a great deal of difference." He said he did notice that his screw-ball broke just a bit more sharply, although its curve was not so great as with the national league ball.

The big difference is in bunting," he said. "After using the slower ball all season, it was hard

New Chevrolet Will Be Shown Here Tomorrow

The 1934 Chevrolet will be on display in Pampa tomorrow. The doors at the Culberson-Smalling Chevrolet company on Ballard St., will be open to the public at 8 o'clock. The new creation by Chevrolet will be formally displayed here for 10 days.

Complete with all new devices, Chevrolet this year has outdone itself. Pampans who drove to Oklahoma City last week to view the new car are loud in their praise of the new car. It is equipped with "knee action" fully enclosed from dust and water, and all late conveniences.

Two car loads of the new cars and trucks were to arrive in Pampa late this afternoon.

The Culberson-Smalling show room will remain open every night for the next 10 days so that everyone can be accommodated.

CLINGMAN IS AGAIN VICTOR ON LOCAL MAT

Excitement reigned at the Pla-Mor auditorium last night as Sailor Otis Clingman came back strong to win the two falls from Dick Kanthe, Detroit strong man, and the semi-final was stopped by the referee. Pat Garrison was suspended by Commissioner Frank Hunt, who was booed loudly by the crowd.

The semi-final fell in 14 minutes when Kanthe got a perfect full Nelson that nearly tore Clingman in two. The ex-gob came back strongly and tricked Kanthe into a drop toe-hold in 12 minutes to even the falls. The exciting evening was climaxed by Clingman's taking a whip wrist-lock on Kanthe, and throwing him to the mat with terrific force before smothering him. The time was 15 minutes.

Charlie Heard, San Antonio wrestler, and Lobo Brown of Amarillo opened the card with a fast 20-minute draw. Nearly every hold known in the wrestling game was applied and broken during the wild melee. Brown worked hard for drop toe-holds but the wily Heard evaded them. The match was lightning fast from the opening gong.

Rob Roy, former Goodnight boy, started to work on Pat Garrison, local mauler, in good style but the Pampan returned the compliment and went one stronger by getting rough and tough and drawing a suspension. Speed marked the first few minutes of the affair and holds meant as they were broken nearly as soon as applied. Then "somebody did something" and the fireworks started.

Referee Cazzed of Amarillo permitted slugging, hair pulling, etc., to the delight of the crowd until Commissioner Hunt stepped into the ring and ordered the maulers to stay within the state rules or "get out." Before the commissioner had cleared out of the ring, Garrison collected a hand-full of Roy's hair and started to work. Referee Cazzed then stopped the match and awarded it to Roy. The crowd started the razzing exercises.

Commissioner Hunt was within his rights in stopping the match. He warned the wrestlers before the show that rules must be obeyed or the bouts would be stopped. The commissioner said this morning that he would continue to enforce the rules until they were changed, by popular demand, or until he was no longer commissioner.

The rules read—"Any hold, grip, lock or trip is allowed except as herein below prohibited: Strangle-hold, scratching, gouging, hitting, striking, pulling hair, using knuckles, butting, cutting off breath by shutting nose and mouth at the same time."

-JUNIOR

The Junior organization seeks to supplement and not supplant the senior civic bodies. Members of the Pampa B. C. D. were special guests last night. President J. E. Cunningham of the senior group made a congratulatory speech, pointing out that the Jaycees filled a place in local affairs which otherwise would likely be neglected. He also praised the judgment and work of the older men, who are supporting the younger group loyally.

Osborne Is Toastmaster
Clarence Kennedy, new president of the Jaycees, opened the banquet, then gave way to John Osborne, toastmaster. Entertainment was provided by the high school girls' quartet, composed of Misses Erdine Benton, Maurice Pierce, Marjorie Entoe, and Hester Lester; and Miss Lorene McClintock, pianist.

Speeches were made by H. L. Polley, President Kennedy, and Travis Lively. Jim Collins, on behalf of Pampa business men, presented films of football games to Principal L. L. Sone, for use in coaching the Harvesters.

Last night's banquet at the Schneider hotel was arranged by W. T. Fraser, immediate past president of the local chamber and national counselor. President Kennedy appointed a committee composed of Dave Finklestein, A. J. Johnson, and Bob Knox to assist in holding the Birthday ball for the Warm Spring Foundation here January 30.

Sees Greater Era
In his talk, Mr. Lively declared that this is a young country. He pointed to Jess Wynne, who was present, noting that Mr. Wynne was the Panhandle's first hardware merchant. He predicted a new and greater phase of human experience in which distribution, not mass production, will be the key to progress.

Special guests included Philip R. Pond, president of Rotary; Fred Thompson, president of Kiwanis;

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—The stock market was subjected to group movements today and prices, generally, pointed upward in rather quiet trading. Much of the activity was accounted for by professional operations. Profit-taking flurries also continued. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 2,300,000 shares.
