SENATE MAY NOT VOTE CAR BILL

Twinkles

Spring hats, say the fashion notes, will be "off the face." And, out here at least, probably off the head also.

While paying your poll tax, auto tax, dog tax, city tax, county tax, state tax, income tax, and the rest, don't forget to pay your wife's (gold) tax before midnight tonight.

If (note the IF) winter comes, spring cannot be far behind—at least not more than a year as our Panhandle weather runs.

With ice crumbling about him, Admiral Byrd seems to be having his own private depression. We hope he doesn't touch bottom.

MANY A COULD-BE-NEIGHBOR WANTS THAT ROAD NORTH.

Brevitorials

Musing of the moment: There is a liberal education within the reach of every one. There are bits of worthwhile knowledge and inspiration in contact with ones friends, newspapers, magazines, books, and radio. Education is not something, in which you can receive a diploma, unless you call death a diploma. Unless you are marooned on a desert island without a radio your opportunities to obtain an education are numerous. Opportunity to wreat a satisfactory material living from modern conditions is not so easy, with or without learning. Among the little pleasures which we often anticipate but seldom have is that of cracking and eating all the pecans we can hold with a few nigger-toes thrown in for variety. There is not the same satisfaction in buying the googlies already cracked and picked. Fashion may some day force us into a derby hat but we hope we will be able to take a quick trip into the dark woods until the style dictators have had their laugh and changed the vogue.

Today's column is written from a horizontal position. It is an unusual position for us and all the more extraordinary because we are taking some of our own advice. We are resting in bed to head off a bad cold which threatened to finish its work under a bigger and more scientific name. It was no ordinary cold. Several times we thought we had it whipped. First it grabbed us by the throat, but we applied our favorite remedies and soon chased it out of there. So it just hopped up into our sinuses, which registered immediate protest. We changed our battle tactics and were about ready to announce a victory. Then we had to make some dusty automobile trips and the Big Bad Cold came back at us with many a puff and a sneeze. This time he did not confine his attacks to any particular region but proceeded to open a barrage on all fronts. He registered direct hits on our constitution and the reverberations shook our "by-laws" until the pulse beat went up and the temperature warmed to the battle.

All of it was a more than ample warning that the human system had plenty to do, without calling upon it to spend its time in over-heated offices, pounding a typewriter, practicing minstrel songs, and attending two or three committee meetings every night, which amounts to all work and no play in terms of animal existence. Whereupon, we surrendered to the inevitable and devoted our entire time to fighting the Big Bad Cold.

President Expected To Devalue Dollar And Create Fund Today

AIDES CALLED IN TO HELP IN FORMING PLAN

BIG NAVY MEN WATCH REACTIONS IN JAPAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Armed at last with the power he sought, President Roosevelt left congress today to the simmering appropriations and St. Lawrence treaty disputes while he set about to devalue the dollar formally.

His monetary lieutenants were beckoned into a conference, considered important enough to defer the usual Wednesday morning meeting with the press until late afternoon.

Capital hill anticipated nothing out of the ordinary, a dollar of at least 40 per cent less than the present gold content being now accepted as a matter of course.

The senate still was plodding on waterway pact with Canada and the house pecked into the latest of the supply bills that it will pass without trouble in a day or so.

Plans for the state, justice, commerce and labor departments—a four-in-one device for speed—and totaled $90,667,000.

This was almost $14,000,000 under current appropriations, all except $2,600,000 of which savings was expected to be due to prohibition repeal.

The very vocal big navy men in both branches felt they had something to crow about in the easy passage by the house yesterday of authority for 102 new ships and 1,141 airplanes. They began tuning up for a senate encore, interested in Japanese dispatches about the naval outlook here.

CWA School To Offer Spanish And Shorthand

New classes in Spanish and shorthand will be opened in the CWA school this evening; one in chemistry is in prospect; and all present classes are still open for enrollment.

Supt. R. B. Fisher, director, said today.

Also opening this evening is a class in industrial physics, sponsored by some Gray county oil companies and stressing physics as applied to the oil industry. It will be taught by P. V. Edwards, and will meet in room 207 at the high school from 7:30 to 9:30.

This class is not one of the CWA courses, but Fisher invited interested persons to apply for enrollment. The shorthand class will also not be a CWA course, since none of the regular teachers is qualified to give this subject. A competent teacher has offered, however, to teach the class, for a small fee from each student.

Those who wish to enroll for shorthand or Spanish are asked to do so at the high school this evening at 7. Meeting time will be set at the convenience of the students. Persons interested in chemistry are also requested to indicate their desire for the course.

Additional teachers are possible here if the enrollment continues to increase, Fisher said. At present five teachers are engaged. Other subjects may be added when demand justifies a class.

ELLIOTT IN CALIFORNIA

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Jan. 31 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt carved a huge cake lighted with 52 candles as he and 165 socially prominent men and women did honor to his father, president, at a birthday party.

J. C. Willis of McLean underwent a major operation at Pampa hospital this morning.

I HEARD—

V. E. Fatheree and O. L. Boyington discussed the opening of an office for the purchase of gold and bills. They decided to offer $2.75 for $5 gold pieces and $3.50 for five dollar bills. With the dollar at 60 cents they figure they would be paying a good premium. No customers have been found.

Balloon Crew Killed While Landing Craft Gets Millions

Bag Breaks Away From Gondola As It Hits The Ground; Three Killed.

Burden of her new $3,200,000 fortune sits lightly on golden-haired, blue-eyed Mildred Yount, 13-year-old daughter of M. F. Yount, Beaumont, Tex., oil man, she inherited his millions, but her mind is on her school work and she is interested especially in sports.

MOSCOW, Jan. 31 (AP)—All three members of the crew of the Soviet stratosphere balloon "Osoaviakhim" were killed between 3:30 p. m. and 5:00 p. m. yesterday, several hundred kilometers southeast of Moscow, near the village of Potiskyevost.

The disaster was announced officially today by the Soviet aviation authorities after 24 hours of unconfirmed reports and rumors while a search went on for the fliers who yesterday reported they had reached an altitude of 67,885 feet.

The official announcement said the crew was killed while attempting to land the great balloon.

The balloon bag broke away from the gondola as it hit the ground in a hard landing. The force of the concussion killed the three occupants and the scientific instruments aboard.

Following the crash the bag tore loose from the gondola and disappeared into the clouds.

The unconfirmed story of tragedy said the sudden wind had wrenched the gondola from the balloon from its huge bag and that the men had dropped from an undetermined height to the ground, killing them instantly.

Eyewitnesses reported hearing two explosions when the gondola hit the ground, adding the balloon must have landed with terrific force.

The bodies of all three men were found in the shattered gondola. One of the bodies was described in the official announcement as mutilated beyond recognition.

A special commission was dispatched from the capital to investigate the disaster.

Immediately upon receiving the announcement, the communist congress rose in a silent tribute to the flight victims and passed a resolution that they be buried in Red Square, the burial place of the nation's heroes.

TODAY IS LAST CHANCE TO BUY VOTE PRIVILEGE

Penalties To Be Paid By Taxpayers After Today

TODAY is the last day to pay school, county, and state taxes without penalty.

It is positively the last day in which to pay poll taxes, on which any extension is forbidden by the state constitution. Without payment of the poll tax, there can be no voting, even in the city election.

The county tax collector's office will remain open tonight until 11 p. m., or until midnight if any persons remain unserved at 11 p. m. Poll taxes were in great demand this morning, and indications were that the total issued would be near normal for the county. Other taxes were being paid more slowly. Demand for automobile licenses has dropped greatly since the legislature failed to show possibility of extending the time for payment.

The business office of the school district in the courthouse will remain open until 9 p. m., or longer if anyone is waiting in line at that hour.

Predicted congestion was in evidence today as many persons waited their turn. A split payment plan for paying of city taxes relieved the situation at the city hall, where the tax collector's office will observe regular closing hours.

Woman Is Badly Burned by Blast

Dr. R. A. Webb was called this afternoon to treat the serious injuries of a Mrs. Holsback at her home on a Phillips lease south of Pampa.

Gasoline in a clothes washer exploded, blowing out all windows, shaking loose the walls of the small house; and seriously burning Mrs. Holsback on the face, arms, and legs. The woman was to be moved to Worley hospital.

The house did not burn.

HEARING CIVIL SUIT

A personal injuries suit of Rose Teter against the National Biscuit company et al, growing out of an automobile accident, was being heard in 31st district court today.

The plaintiff's attorney is W. M. Lewright. The defendant is represented by the Amarillo law firm of Madden, Adkins, Pipkin, and Koffer.

FRANCE WOULD MAINTAIN HER OWN SECURITY

PLAN WOULD ABOLISH ANY CHEMICAL WARFARE

ROME, Jan. 31 (AP)—Italy came out in favor of the rearmament of Germany as the only practical solution of the armaments questions, in an official memorandum issued today.

This rearmament, under the Italian plan, would be based on status quo for other powers on the principal aspects of their armaments.

The following limitations, however, would be applied:

1. Abolition of chemical warfare.
2. Prohibition of bombardment of civil populations.
3. Limitation at present levels of military expense, not bound by treaties in force.
4. Limitation to its present size of terrestrial equipment of these powers.

"Public opinion of the world is convinced that the capital and practical quest on is no longer to impede German rearmament," the memorandum said, "but to avoid that this should be effected outside the sphere of regulation and control."

Agreement of conventions for achievement of the four points could be reached quickly, the memorandum holds, and could be made to remain in force until 1940.

Italy contends France would have ample security under such arrangements, even in the face of Germany's rearmament, particularly in view of the fact she would not be called upon to reduce her present armaments.

Kansas Bank Is Robbed By Four Men of $10,000

INDEPENDENCE, Kan., Jan. 13 (AP)—The Independence State bank was robbed of between $10,000 and $11,000 this morning by four masked men who escaped in a small Ford V-8 sedan which they abandoned on a country road about six miles northeast of here.

Officers who found the car believe the robbers had another machine waiting for them and changed as soon as they were clear of town.

Five bank employes, taken as hostages, were released on highway 75, north of Independence.

TWO PAY FINES

Fines for drunkenness and disturbing the peace, one each, were paid in Justice W. S. Baxter's court today. The arrests were made by the sheriff's department last night.

Circus Drama Will Be Given Tomorrow Eve

Final Rehearsal of Russian Tragedy To Be Held This Evening in Costume.

DONNING the spangles and motley of circus stars and clowns, players in "He Who Gets Slapped" will conduct their final rehearsal of the Little Theater play tonight in full costume.

The play will open tomorrow evening at city hall auditorium, and will be repeated Friday evening. Actors under direction of Mrs. Earl Powell know their lines and business after weeks of rehearsal, and will become familiar with the authentic circus properties and costumes in tonight's practice.

A Chicago costume house is furnishing suits for the clowns: HE, Reg Farless; Jackson, Wayne Hutchins; Polly and Tilly, George Alspaugh and Bert Hobson; lights for the bareback riders, Consuelo, Miss Louella Wade, and Bezano, Ralph Morrison; and for the lion tamer, Zinida, Mrs. G. L. Greene.

Misses Irene Irvine and Dorothy Jane Adams, trapeze artists, and Charles Barrett, strong man, will also wear colorful costumes.

The single setting is the office of the circus manager, Briquet. Offstage sounds in some scenes indicate that a performance is in progress in the adjoining auditorium. Music directed by Roy Waltraubsen will be heard, and the director will make a brief appearance on the stage.

The four-act play brings the avenging Count Manciai, John Ketter, foster-father of Consuelo; the Bean, who seeks to buy the young lecherous Baron Rogny, Neal; and an anonymous gentleman, played by H. F. Beatty, into the lives of the circus performers, precipitating a tragedy.

Although the drama has four acts, it is the length of an ordinary play, and is also shortened by the brief intervals between acts.

'Panther Woman'

No, Mrs. C. I. Greene, above, doesn't look like "Pampa's panther woman" here but she is called that by members of the cast of "He Who Gets Slapped," circus tragedy which will be presented at the city auditorium tomorrow and Friday nights, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. Here Mrs. Greene looks gentle enough, but when she slips into the role of Zinida, the lion tamer, her eyes flash green sparks; she glides across the stage in the manner of her "cats"; one becomes aware of feline atmosphere. Her characterization is one of the most unusual ever seen here, either on stage or screen. Mrs. Greene was an experienced actress before she came to Pampa. It will be her first appearance in a Little Theater play here.

LITTLE HOPE IS HELD OUT FOR MEASURE

BARE QUORUM PRESENT WHEN SESSION COMMENCES

AUSTIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Legislation to postpone the time limit for paying automobile registration fees until March 31 seemed likely to fall today because the senate has only a bare quorum of 21 members present and at least four of those were opposed to any extension.

For the bill to become effective immediately, should the governor sign it, it would be necessary for it to have been approved by a two-thirds majority vote in each house. The lower branch yesterday gave it more than enough votes to make it effective at once should the senate approve it by at least 21 affirmative votes.

The legislature must approve it and the governor sign it before midnight tomorrow if it is to obtain. The existing law fixes the deadline for motor vehicle registration payments at midnight on February 1.

It was possible some of the absent senators would come in and sufficient strength could be mustered to put the legislation over; but sponsors of the bill held out little hope for that.

Action by the senate on the delay bill was postponed until an afternoon session pending a committee report on the house bill.

An attempt to muster a quorum of the senate state affairs committee to consider the pending motor-vehicle bills failed and no date was set for a meeting of the committee. Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston said "lack of interest, lack of attendance, and lack of time, for the meeting" caused postponement.

Young Preacher Killed Enroute To University

SWEETWATER, Jan. 31 (AP)—Accidental death today nipped in the bud a young man's desire to become a minister.

Erlis Robinson, 22, left his Plainview home for Abilene and Simsbury university yesterday to continue his ministerial studies. Attached to his light car was a trailer carrying two cows which he hoped would provide the necessary funds for his education. The milk, he thought, would sell well.

The trailer became disconnected northwest of Roscoe on state highway No. 7 last night and Robinson started to repair it. As he worked, another automobile struck the trailer from the rear and Robinson was crushed between the trailer and his car.

Dr. J. W. Young of Roscoe rushed the youth to a sanitarium here for medical attention but he died in a short time.

Drivers of the second automobile said the trailer had no tail light and that they were blinded by the lights of another machine moving in the opposite direction. Judge I. W. Brashear in justice court began inquest proceedings. The men were asked to make statements.

Robinson was identified by his name in a new Bible found in his car and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Robinson, were notified. They arrived here today and the body was sent to Plainview for burial.

Robinson graduated from Wayland college at Plainview shortly after Thanksgiving and had been working in cotton fields and at odd jobs supplementing the benevolence of small, rural congregations for whom he preached.

Over 175 Couples At Pla-Mor Observe Birthday

More than 175 couples enjoyed the music furnished by Ned Bradley and his Texas Tech Orchestra from Lubbock. The president's radio address was enthusiastically received. Dancing was from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m.

Julian Barrett, general chairman of local arrangements, wishes to thank everyone who made the dance a success. He declared it better and bigger than anticipated. Hundreds of telegraphic birthday greetings were sent to the president by Pampanas.

ADAMIRAL CLAIMS JAPANESE NAVY WILL BE SUPERIOR TO AMERICA'S

TOKYO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Admiral Mineo Osumi, minister of navy, today to the house of representatives (today that Japan's strength in cruisers, destroyers and submarines will be slightly superior to that of the United States at the end of 1936.

The admiral's statement was presented in writing in response to persistent questions by representatives on the relative sea power of Japan and America.

A member of the house of peers declared that if navy men had their way relations between the two nations would be ruptured.

The suggestion of the possibility of a rupture was made by Kenkichi Yoshizawa, former foreign minister, during question time in the house of peers.

He told his audience that if the Japanese and American navies were to declare the program with which their respective governments enter the naval conference scheduled for 1935, "a rupture would be inevitable leading, if the pessimists' view is accepted, to intensified naval competition—even if war is averted."

Rotary Club Is Host To Farmers

The Rotary club was host to many farmers of this community today when members brought guests and provided an entertaining program. Music was furnished by Bob Sanford, of Amarillo, who played an accordion, harmonica, and piano, providing several numbers on each.

UNCLE SAM WORKS THRU CITIES

There are obvious reasons why the federal government has found it easier to deal with cities than with states. Cities are more quickly lined up in any program. Their governing bodies are unified. Their powers are well defined and it is not expensive to convene the officials. But cities, in becoming partners of the government, are accepting entangling alliances.

Consider a few of the straws that go sliding down the winds of change.

A large middlewestern city is about to get all its streets repaired with the help of the CWA. The city treasury is empty and the streets have pretty well gone to pieces, now Uncle Sam's men and Uncle Sam's money are to put them right again.

Congress is about to be asked to extend vast sums of money to local school boards so that teachers may be paid and children educated. School funds have run out in city after city. Somebody has to help, and no one can do it but Washington.

New York's new mayor struggles valiantly to get the metropolitan house in order, and relies on federal funds and state legislation to do it. His city has tumbled into the pit which it dug for itself, unless both Washington and Albany extend help, it won't get out.

Now these are just a few samples. You could fill a column with similar ones without difficulty. And the whole thing indicates that a strange and unexpected change is coming upon the face of the waters.

Is independent local government as we always have had it ceasing to exist? Are our cities becoming dependencies of the central government? Are we eventually to find the city hall a mere branch office of a national administration?

Foreign observers remarked years ago that municipal government was the weak link in the chain of American democracy. The strains of recent years have snapped that link. Can it ever be repaired?

The chances are that it can, if we get wise to ourselves. We must realize that municipal politics of the traditional kind is too expensive a luxury to be maintained any longer.

Such cities as Cincinnati and Milwaukee have found out how to ride the storm with their independence unimpaired. The rest of us can do the same, if we try hard enough.

But if we keep on drifting, putting up complacently with machine politics, special privileges, and incompetence in office, the present trend will carry us on inexorably.

CONFESSION TO CRIMES MADE BY DILLINGER

ARIZONA-TAMED BAD MAN IS IN JAIL IN INDIANA

CROWN POINT, Ind., Jan. 31 (AP)—John Dillinger, the swash-buckling Indiana bad man tamed by Arizona peace officers, was behind steel bars in the county jail here today, apparently resigned to his fate—a fate which the state hopes will be his execution for killing a policeman.

ing to robberies totaling over $250,000. He denied, however, he had slain Policeman O'Malley.

"Dillinger," said the prosecutor, "is convinced he's going to burn so he's talking. He admitted bank robberies at Racine, Wis., St. Mary's, O., and Greencastle, Ind., and said that it was his boys who liberated him from the Lima, O. jail.

It was during the Lima jail delivery that Sheriff Jess Barber was shot to death.

All fight out of him, Dillinger talked agreeably with newspaper men and told them he had learned in St. Louis before he went to Arizona, that John Hamilton, one of his henchmen, had been slain, but the authorities discounted the story. Hamilton, one of the Indiana conf-

Victims who made a sensational escape from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City last fall, is wanted in Chicago for slaying a policeman, and officials said they believed that Dillinger was attempting to "cover up" for his pal.

Dillinger's airplane trip from the southwest was uneventful. He arrived in Chicago last night, chained to his seat in the plane. Almost immediately he was surrounded by a large detail of heavily armed officers, and hustled into an automobile, which was one of about 20 filled with representatives of the law, for the trip to Crown Point.

WALTER HARTY TO MEET SPITZ, JUMP CHAMPION

Holder of World's Record Coming East

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A tall lean westerner has come to town to discover whether or not George Spitz really is the king of high jumpers indoors.

He is Walter Harty, 23-year-old senior at Fresno State Teachers college in California and holder of the world's high jump record outdoors. He will meet Spitz, New York University ace and indoor record-holder, in what may turn out to be one of the most sensational high-jumping duels in years at the Millrose A. A. games Saturday.

Marty shattered Harold Osborn's nine-year-old outdoor record last year, clearing six feet, 8 5/8 inches, but he has never performed indoors and doesn't know just what sort of luck he will have with Spitz, whose indoor standard is six feet, 8 1/2 inches.

"I have never jumped indoors,"

RECEIPTS OF OVER 6,000 BIRTHDAY BALLS EXCEED MILLION

OVER MILLION PERSONS GIVE TO FOUNDATION

'HAPPIEST BIRTHDAY' IS PRESIDENT'S REACTION

By The Associated Press.

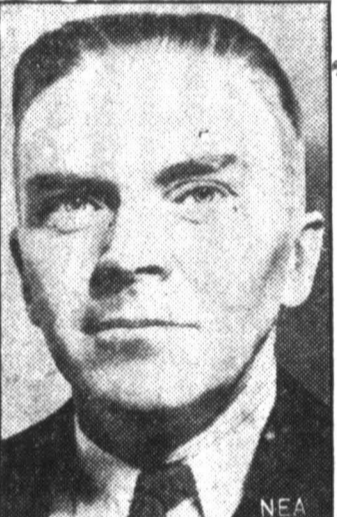

AMERICA danced into the dawn today to give the president "the happiest birthday I have ever known."
After the ball was over—the 6,000 or more balls that were held in every state and territory of the union—a fund that may reach two million dollars was held forth to the president for the benefit of sufferers from infantile paralysis.
Figures that are official will not be available for several days, for the committee in New York which directed the amazing party honoring the anniversary of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's birth asked the thousands of local committees not to spend money in telegraphing dollar and attendance statistics to it.
A canvass by the Associated Press indicated today, however, that when final figures are available they will show that more than a million persons participated in the celebration and that receipts exceeded $1,000,000.
Democracy keyed the night. Swells in tail coats and lumberjacks in flannel shirts, lovely ladies with jewels about their necks, and Indian squaws who wear babies on their backs—white man, negro, Eskimo—all creeds, all colors, all classes—danced at this birthday party which had 48 states and Alaska for its floor.
For the Cripples.
There were those at Warm Springs, Ga.—Franklin Delano Roosevelt's "other home"—who danced though their legs are manacled by the cruel cuff of infantile paralysis, which the national birthday party proposed to alleviate.
Dance with the elegance of the negroes or the violent energy of the men and women of the wide open spaces. There was an old-fashioned square dance, and they "danced" in wheel chairs.
It was for these victims of infantile paralysis, and for additional hundreds similarly unfortunate who now may have a chance at the benefits afforded at Warm Springs, that President Roosevelt was happiest.

'Glorious'

"Glorious" was the exclamation of the Marchesa Elenora Spinola of Paris, above, gazing on California for the first time that she could remember, as she left her native state when she was a baby. And California said "glorious," too, when it looked admiringly at the Marchesa.

Goes To Trial

A tragic echo of the prohibition era resounds through federal court in Denver in the trial of Henry Dierks, above, former federal dry agent, charged with slaying Melford Smith, 19, in a scuffle over four ounces of wine in a 1931 raid. The state charged murder against Dierks, who is defended by U. S. attorneys.

Court Child

The law intervened in an effort to save Raymond Velle, 4, above, when his parents, Eau Claire, Wis., Salvation Army workers, refused to allow an operation for bone infection removal, declaring the lad could be healed only by prayer. The court ordered surgery after doctors had pleaded vainly with the parents.

Mrs. Lela Olney underwent a major operation at Pampa hospital Tuesday.

DODGERS SIGN McMANUS FOR 1934 SEASON

END OF JOE STRIPP'S CONNECTION WITH CLUB FORESEEN

By HERBERT W. BARKER. Associated Press Staff Writer. NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers signed Marty McManus to a 1934 contract today and baseball sharps immediately forecast the end of Joe Stripp's connection with the club.
It all may be a trifle premature but the strenuous efforts Manager Max Carey made to get McManus, a pitcher who played for the Boston Red Sox during the winter, coupled with a reported coolness between Carey and Stripp lent color to the belief that Joe was on the trading block.
Carey has been dickering with McManus for some time on a player and not a coaching basis. The former Red Sox leader, one of baseball's most aggressive figures, is 33 years old but is convinced he can earn a full-time berth with the Dodgers.
Marty has played every infield position during his 14-year major league career with the Browns, Tigers and Red Sox but is most at home at second or third base.
Not only has Stripp been at odds with Carey but likewise has been reported dissatisfied with the terms the Dodgers offered him for the coming season. The club plans to top about $75,000 off the payroll and a few members of the hapless Dodgers ensemble of 1933 have escaped a slash.
Although there has been no official basis for the reports so far, rumor most frequently has connected Stripp with a trip to Boston and a place with the Braves. The latest deal, perhaps attributable mostly to the imagination of those who have predicted it, would have Stripp and Sas Leslie going to the Braves in exchange for shortstop Bill Urbanski, pitcher Huck Betts and first baseman Baxter Jordan.
Stripp, who will be 31 on Feb. 3, batted offy 271 last season compared with a previous five-year major league batting average of .298. He ranked third among regular third basemen in fielding. He broke into the big time with Cincinnati in 1928 and has been Brooklyn's regular third-sacker for two years.

OIL INDUSTRY WAITING FOR MARKET PACT

BREAK FOR BETTER IS COMING SOON, IS NEW FEELING

By WILLIAM VOIGT, Jr. Associated Press Staff Writer. TULSA, Okla., Jan. 31. (AP)—Virtually all the petroleum industry moved at half speed this week, awaiting the outcome of Washington conferences on the marketing agreement.
There was a growing feeling, however, that a break for the better was coming soon, and there was a lot of quiet preparation throughout the midcontinent for an era of considerable activity.
The conferees will meet again February 6 to try to whip into acceptable shape a substitute for the marketing pact that roused such a storm of protest last week.
It has become almost traditional that oil leaders cannot agree on any given project affecting the entire industry without lengthy discussion and arbitration, and the feeling in this area is that, while it will take time, some constructive plan will come from their deliberations eventually.
Failure of these leaders to make visible progress last week has not weakened the refinery market. There was little buying, but the group 3 (Oklahoma) tank car price held steady over a range of 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents a gallon for the low third grade.
Marketiers pointed out that if there was any pronounced pessimism because of no immediate agreement in the capital, the refinery market already would have reacted sharply.
Despite the lack of official announcement emanating from the conference rooms, there is little doubt in this area that the age-old war between the majors and the independents again is being waged.
The argument over margins for the trackside merchant inevitably blazed anew, as well as the debate over margins between the refining group, small but vociferous, that makes the majority of the low grade gasoline, and the more complicated gasoline whose chief gasoline output is the higher octane product.

The small fellow argued that with a maximum margin of 4.5 cents of the third grade and with existing retail differentials between the low and middle octane motor fuels, he stood to net back a smaller profit than the big fellows to whom third grade gasoline is just a necessary nuisance.
Most of the distress gasoline disappeared from East Texas during the week of Washington discussions. There was reported as much as 500 tank cars available at cut prices a week ago.
Whether the new threat of Secretary Ickes, the oil administrator, through extended prosecuting powers of regional authorities, was responsible for the slowing down of "hot oil" operation could not be ascertained.
But the Texas petroleum council is reported ready to release information on which it contends approximately 100 charges of code violation may be pressed, and it is the current belief that the big federal squeeze is almost ready to begin in earnest after much watchful waiting.

CHICAGO—As the police told it Benjamin Sullivan, 36, put his panhandling on a high plane. Given soup in a restaurant, free of charge, he expressed his displeasure, and upon being ejected, promptly hurled a brick through the plate glass window. At another restaurant he was given soup, but demanded chicken and was arrested just as he was about to pick up another brick.

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

BLOND GODDESS—JAN 30 . . . shot out and gripped the stranger by the throat and wrist. Still holding to the wrist, he snapped on his flashlight. "It is I—Juan!" The whisper was hoarse and agitated. "Turn out your light, for the love of God!" Grahame snapped the switch and dropped the light to the hammock. His free hand traveled over Juan. The boy's sheath knife was in its case.

"What is it?" he asked. He released the wrist he held.

"Ortega and Pedro. They stopped the launch at the mouth of the lagoon and are coming back over the trail to kill you. Don Raul says you are an American spy. They left me at the launch, but I know a shorter way, and ran here to warn you."

"Why didn't you enter boldly?" "They may have gotten here before me, and would have killed me, too," replied the boy simply. Frank suppressed a chuckle.

Two figures loomed in the square made by the doorway, but about five yards distant, from it.

Grahame threw himself from the hammock as two guns spat flame. He heard the thud of the bullets hitting the cases, then his own gun began to jump in his hand.

Above the crashes he heard one of the men cry out, then both melted from his gun sights. He jumped to the doorway. The two were fleeing toward the clearing's edge. He sighted on the back of the larger of the fleeing men, then lowered his gun.

He shrugged his shoulders and turned to the boy standing beside him.

"How are you, Juan?" he asked, throwing an arm over the lad's shoulders.

"I am all right." He drew a deep breath. "But very frightened, señor."

Frank grinned. "Well, so was I. But I suspect not half so much as you two friends."

He looked at the boy appraisingly, who gazed back at him with candid eyes. Despite the young fellow's assurance that he had been afraid, there was no trace of timidity in that straightforward look.

Frank said, "How old are you, Juan?"

"Sixteen, señor."

"Do you know the jungle back there?" He waved his arm in a direction away from the coast. "Have you ever been in there?"

"A little, señor. To shoot deer, or to trap the wild turkey."
