Governor Asks For Every Available Dollar To Meet Unemployment Ahead

LINDY'S AIRWAYS STOCK GIFTS TO BE INVESTIGATED

SEES 'GRAVE' SITUATION IN NEAR FUTURE

40,000 PERSONS WILL BE DROPPED FROM CWA FEB. 25

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today called for "every dollar" that can be made available from public or private sources to help meet the unemployment situation in Texas. With her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, as spokesman, by whose side she sat, the chief executive warned Texans that the "unemployment" situation, "with new complications which have arisen is imperative and grave."

She showed a telegram from Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, ordering 40,000 persons dropped from the CWA payroll on February 25. The executive said a similar number would be abandoned each week until, on March 24, the entire CWA force will have been dissipated.

Claim Fund Inadequate

Governor Ferguson said the proposed $4,500,000 relief bond issue suggested by the legislature, now in special session at her call to enact emergency legislation, "meeting the situation, would be wholly inadequate to meet existing needs."

The governor said the state relief commission staff had estimated that of those turned out by CWA not more than 10 per cent would be absorbed by private employment. She gave it as her opinion, however, that not more than five per cent would be cared for that way.

She said she wanted "the people of Texas" to be duly informed of the gravity of the situation.

"Cities and towns should begin at once to make preparations to take care of this addition to the ranks of the unemployed created by suspension of CWA activities," the governor said.

She called upon all charitable organizations "to begin to discuss the matter of how to meet the situation that appears unavoidable."

Asks Cooperation

"I also call upon all industrial plants and employers of labor to make preparations, as far as humanly possible, to care for those who are sure to be in need," the governor said. "It now looks like we people of Texas must prepare to take care of our own troubles. Every dollar that can be made available from public or private sources should be put at the immediate disposal of the relief authorities in order that the present program can be carried out. I am taking the public into my confidence with the hope ways and means may be set up to meet the emergency."

Shockley Trial Date: June 18

Preacher's Attorney Lashes Back at Accusers

His bond set at $8,000 pending trial here June 18 under an indictment for the poison murder of his father-in-law, W. T. Huggins, at McLean in 1930, the Rev. Louis H. Shockley went back to jail after arraignment yesterday morning.

His attorneys, Clem Calhoun of Amarillo and Claude Williams of McLean, objected to the size of the bond but said they would try to make it for him. District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich had suggested that the bond be $10,000.

Mr. Calhoun eted that Shockley was a "poor Baptist preacher," and said that he was without property, his wife's property was negligible and that while he had friends they too were poor. The attorney told The NEWS that Mrs. Shockley's share of the estate of her mother and father was "less than $800."

"That's not much of a motive to justify a murder, is it?" he asked.

Direct Hit! Ruin, Death!

Vivid evidence of the horror of Vienna lies in this picture, showing a direct hit by a shell on the Karl Marx Hof, huge municipal apartment building. The gaping hole above the arch is surrounded by smoke of the explosion, while a great crack in the archway appears beneath. The Karl Marx Hof was occupied and defended by socialists, who resisted Dollfus' fascist attempts to expel them. The apartments, among the world's finest and most modern, were turned into a shambles by government artillery.

HITLER TOLD HE MUST 'LAY OFF' AUSTRIA

Britain, Italy and France Warn Independence Will And Must Be Observed.

By The Associated Press
GREAT BRITAIN, Italy, and France told Germany and the rest of the world Saturday that Austrian independence must be observed.

The three powers in a joint declaration, viewed as a help to Austria should she accuse Germany of "meddling" in Austrian affairs before the league of nations said: "The three governments... take a common view as to the necessity of maintaining Austria's independence and integrity in accordance with relevant treaties."

A government official in Berlin said the maintenance of Austrian independence is "a matter of course" and asked "who is threatening Austria's independence?"

"The prerequisite of independence," he added, "is that people shall have a government which they themselves desire."

In Great Britain, three ministers in addresses made plain that Britain must increase her armaments if disarmament negotiations fail.

Other developments in Europe: Warsaw—Polish socialists called a half-hour general strike for Monday in sympathy with Austrian socialists.

That the 1932 Polish-Austrian non-aggression pact has been extended to ten years and the two nations may establish a committee to advance Polish and Russian economic and cultural relations was reported in well-informed circles upon the return of Foreign Minister Joseph Beck from a visit to Moscow.

London—Chancellor Hitler was quoted in a newspaper interview as saying Austrian nazis will become stronger through civil strife than the Austrian government finds its authority increased, and that nothing permanent can be achieved by violence.

SUBSIDY PLAN IS DISCARDED BY PRESIDENT

FIXED PRICE BASIS TO BE USED IN FLYING AIR MAIL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A permanent three-point air mail policy, with the subsidy system discarded and new requirements for the letting of straight rate contracts set up is the objective of congressional leaders.

As outlined today, the plan briefly is this:

A new rate structure with air-mail carriage placed on a definite fixed price basis.

Amendment of the law which prohibits from bidding against all private carriers whose contracts have been cancelled, to apply only to those who have made a satisfactory showing, either to the courts or the postoffice department.

Amendment of the law requiring six months' previous experience in the operation of a regularly scheduled airline.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, whose name entered the air mail situation when he protested to President Roosevelt the universal cancellation of domestic air mail contracts, reappeared in the picture today when members of the senate air mail investigating committee said an inquiry into the foreign line operator, Pan American Airways, would include study of a reported gift of stock option warrants to the flier.

The committee indicated it did not intend to call Lindbergh personally to the stand during its study unless some new need for information arose. As described by a committee member, the options for Pan American were at $15 and $30. The market price now is in the vicinity of $41. A questionnaire from the committee to persons prominent in the aviation industry, sent out several weeks ago, gave the information.

Prisons Yawn

Authorities of four jurisdictions are fighting for the custody of Isaac Costner, above, gunman, trapped in Baltimore with Basil Banghart, notorious outlaw. Both are wanted in Chicago as suspects in the Factor kidnaping, in Baltimore on concealed weapon charges, in North Carolina for a Charlotte robbery, and by a federal government for the same crime.

400 OFFICERS HUNT BANDITS IN OKLAHOMA

SYSTEMATIC SEARCH IS MADE FOR FLOYD AND BARROW

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 17. (AP)—Between 350 and 400 federal, state, county and city officers beat through the brush-covered Cookson Hills area of eastern Oklahoma tonight in a systematic hunt for desperate outlaws who are believed to have hideouts there.

Approximately 300 national guardsmen have been ordered to mobilize at 8 a. m. tomorrow to act as guards for any desperadoes captured. Officers said the guardsmen would not accompany them in the drive.

The peace officers tonight were scattered throughout the section which is about 75 to 100 square miles. About thirty highways leading to and from the wooded hills were blocked by detachments of officers as other squads made raids on possible hide-outs.

Conducting the greatest manhunt in Oklahoma history in hope of apprehending such outlaws as Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd and his followers, Clyde Barrow, notorious desperado, and the officers established four headquarters bases. Working out of these headquarters at Muskogee, Stilwell, Tahlequah and Sallisaw were officers from throughout the state. They converged on the four cities quietly, the first official announcement of the drive coming from Governor Murray at Oklahoma City.

The largest group of peace officers, including some from the far distant Oklahoma Panhandle, was composed of 125 men and met here. The smallest number, 60, made headquarters at Stilwell. Sheriff Stanley Rogers of Oklahoma City, president of the Oklahoma peace officers association, was in charge of the Muskogee group. He left tonight to visit the other three towns to determine if any changes had been made and to learn of any change in the carefully planned arrangements.

Officers said Company I of the 180th infantry of the national guard, Muskogee; Company A of Wagoneer and Company M of Tahlequah would be mobilized tomorrow morning under command of Col. E. L. Head of Muskogee.

Capt. R. F. Jones will be in command of Company A; Capt. Charles Dewel of Company I and Capt. Ben Bliss of Company M. Capt. C. A. Terry of the headquarters company at Muskogee also will be on duty.

It was learned authentically that the Saturday night-Sunday morning drive was timed when banks of the state would be closed.

The drive has been long delayed but recent show-downs between outlaws and officers in eastern Oklahoma resulted in hastening the outlaw hunt.

WOMAN PHYSICIAN ACCUSED OF HAVING AFFAIR; WIDOW REFUSES TO MEET STARE OF DEFENDANT

Mississippi Doctor Is Unperturbed At Accusation

Full House to Enjoy Minstrel in CWA Performance

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Before a courtroom packed with her friends and neighbors of many years, Mrs. Bessie Barry Kennedy testified today in the murder trial of Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean that the woman physician carried on "an affair" with her husband, Dr. John Preston Kennedy, Greenwood surgeon, prior to the Kennedy's divorce in March, 1933.

Dr. Dean, charged with poisoning Kennedy with a whiskey highball last July when the Kennedy's reputedly were making plans to re-marry, appear unperturbed as she listened to the accusation.

Mrs. Kennedy, petite and blonde, gave her testimony in a voice hardly audible to the hushed room, directing her words to the jury, the judge or the counsel table, careful not to let her glance meet Dr. Dean's steady stare.

Double Parking Now Under Ban On City Streets

War will be started on double parking in the downtown section tomorrow. The city commission met in postponed session Friday night and after hearing reports from Chief Manager C. L. Stine and Chief Police John V. Andrews, gave their chief order to "crack down" on double parking.

Delivery trucks will use the alleys to deliver and load or unload products in the future. That is what the alleys were meant for, the commission decided. There will be no double parking on the downtown streets regardless of whether a driver is in the car. The police have been lenient with violators of the ordinance when someone was behind the wheel.

A drive to encourage store owners and clerks to park their cars off the main streets will also be started. Many stores are losing business because employees park their cars in front of the stores, so that prospective customers cannot find parking space.

Mrs. T. C. Addington of Miami shopped in the city yesterday afternoon.

St. Paul Mayor Fumes Over 'Bad' Tag of Cummings

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Mayor A. G. Bainbridge played soldier with his "Mexican army" police department today while Mayor William Mahoney, St. Paul, fumed behind closed doors over Attorney General Cummings' condemnation of the twin cities as breeding centers of crime.

As Mahoney promised, "drastic action" if no reply to his telegram of Friday were received in 24 hours from the attorney general at Washington, Mayor Bainbridge fired one pointed charge after another, and pushed officers hither and yon.

Mayor Mahoney backed up his "drastic action" charge with a telegram to President Roosevelt.

He asked that the president "request" the attorney general to reply to his earlier telegram, in which he demanded that Cummings back up with facts his statements regarding twin cities crime conditions.

"The seriousness of the attorney general's charges against the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, two important cities of the United States, and in effect against the state of Minnesota, and the failure of the attorney general to reply to my telegram," Mayor Mahoney said he wired her president, "impels me to appeal to you as the chief executive."

Prosecutor To Seek a Test of Petroleum Code

DALLAS, Feb. 17. (AP)—La Vergne P. Gunn, special government prosecutor, said today he would seek indictments in Fort Worth Monday against four Dallas filling station operators in order to facilitate a supreme court test of the constitutionality of the marketing division of the petroleum code.

William H. Atwell, federal judge, quashed and dismissed charges of violations of the maximum hour and minimum pay provisions of the anti-dumping agreement against the defendants yesterday on the grounds penalties for violation of such regulations could not be assessed against operators who dealt only in intrastate commerce.

Gunn said he would seek the indictments because an appeal can be rendered except on judgments rendered against indicted defendants.

The cases before Judge Atwell were on theft complaints for which Gunn will seek the true bills on grounds identical with those on which the judge ruled, so that, should the court quash them, the case could be certified to the highest court directly.

He expressed the opinion that validity of the entire NRA program depended on a decision in this case, since the same principles were involved in all codes.

Farley Not Out For Lehman Post

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley today disavowed any desire to become a candidate for governor of the empire state in 1934.

He definitely swept aside reports he might be a candidate against Governor Lehman's attempt to force enactment of Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's economy bill, Farley said.

"If there is any doubt in anyone's mind about where I stand with Governor Lehman, let me say that I am for Lehman."

A broad smile crossing his face, the Postmaster General added: "Governor Lehman has a good record and I predict that he will be re-elected by as great a majority as when he entered the governorship."

KEENE CONVICTED

HUGO, Okla., Feb. 17. (AP)—A district court jury today convicted Malcolm Keene of murder and fixed the penalty at life imprisonment. Keene, of Ivanhoe, Texas, with Rayburn Morris of Sherman, Texas, and "Smoky" Bill of Bonham, Texas, was charged with conspiring to rob John Hammock, "hooch county farmer, while he was making a whiskey purchase."

KING DIES!

LONDON, Feb. 18. (Sunday) (AP)—A British agency dispatch from Brussels via Paris earlier today reported the sudden death of King Albert of Belgium. The king, who was in his 59th year, was reported to have died in a mountain climbing accident. He was a close follower of the sport for years.

To Talk Pampa "Night Life"

Juvenile Delinquencies Will Be Subject of Meeting on Monday Evening.

WHAT Pampa peace officers know of the "night life" of local youngsters will be told Monday evening in the district courtroom at 7 o'clock when the newly appointed county child welfare committee will meet with representatives of many local organizations.

Mrs. Violet Greenhill of Austin, representative of the state child welfare board, will be another speaker and will outline the duties of the county board.

Current juvenile delinquencies provide the group both a topic of conversation and an example of the need for such work. Two boys, one 11 and one 13 years old, are being held in jail on complaints for lack of a better solution, pending disposal of them. A 13-year-old girl is in jail because she is classified as incorrigible. The reformatories are believed to be inadequate institutions for the girl and the younger boy.

The county commissioners have appointed the child welfare board to devise means for properly handling such cases. The board is asking principals and superintendents of schools, policemen, constables, deputies and district attorneys, city health officer, and representatives of the B. C. D., Junior chamber, and many other groups and organizations.

A. G. Post is president of the county board.

Eight vice presidents of the bank were the pallbearers. Scores of friends and business associates joined the widow, a son, Melvin A. Jr., and a daughter, Nancy, in paying their last respects to Traylor at the Fourth Presbyterian church on North Michigan avenue near the Loop.

Dr. William S. Meyer and the Rev. Thomas Anderson officiated at the church services. Burial was in Rosehill cemetery. Crowds of spectators surrounded the church and police were needed to keep traffic moving.

Civic Committee To Give Program

The Junior chamber of commerce program Tuesday noon will be under direction of the Civic committee. Philip R. Pond of that committee will be in charge. An interesting talk will be made and music furnished as part of the program.

Directors will meet tomorrow at 12 o'clock in Martini's Cafe. Much important business is to be transacted and President Clarence Kennedy has called for every director to be present.

Bail Is Denied Clovis Brothers

CLOVIS, N. M., Feb. 17. (AP)—Louis, Bee and Carley Bohanan, charged with first degree murder for the death of Vernon Tate here last Monday, were bound over to district court late today without bail by District Judge Harry L. Patton.

Through more than a dozen witnesses the state brought out details of the shooting on Feb. 12. Tate was struck by five bullets alleged to have been fired by the Bohanans. The shooting was alleged to have been the outgrowth of a 12-year-old feud between the Bohanans and Tates.

THE HIGH CALLING: Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father in heaven is perfect.—Matthew 5:48.

ADD ANOTHER week to the dozens we have already designed for the promotion of something or other. We refer to Financial Independence Week which will be March 19 to 24. It is a peculiar fact that during the depression life insurance companies have paid out more to living policy holders than to beneficiaries. Life insurance has been a saving factor in the lives of many families which otherwise would have been wholly without funds. The amount of insurance in legal reserve life insurance companies in the United States is now more than $100,000,000,000. Assets of these companies total more than $20,000,000,000 invested. Surpluses above the required reserve necessary for taking care of policies as they mature amount to more than $1,000,000,000. These almost uncomprehensible figures illustrate the permanence and stability of the life insurance companies.

Investments of the insurance industry were divided as follows in 1933: Farm mortgages, 7.9 per cent; other mortgages, 24.7 per cent; U. S. Government bonds, 3.4 per cent; state, county, municipal and foreign bonds, 6.5 per cent; railroad securities, 15 per cent; public utility securities, 9.4 per cent; policy loans and premium notes, 17.7 per cent; real estate, 5.8 per cent. The remaining small total of 7-10 of 1 per cent of the securities were in default.

AT FIRST glance readers may be surprised at the intent of a New Jersey statute granting to newspaper men the right to withhold the source of information on which they base stories. This privilege has for many years been championed by newspapers on the theory that publication of certain kinds of information is more important than furnishing of proof of the information itself, by divulging of the source. In other words if, by promising to keep secret the source of information vital to the public, a newspaper can obtain such information and warn the people, it has performed a service of great value.

If it is impossible for the paper to divulge its source of information to a grand jury without breaking a confidence, the grand jury must be content with the "tip" and what other assistance the newspaper can render. That is the meaning of the New Jersey statute and we believe Texas should have a similar one. Newspapers are, of course, still subject to the civil statutes under which they might, if they abused the privileges of the law, be forced to prove their allegations. . . . The source of information given in confidence to a newspaper man should not be divulged by him even under pain of imprisonment. The public interest is better served by this stand than through breaking its word and drying up the source of its important information.

THERE SEEMS to be a regular epidemic of predictions that a Japanese-Russian war is eminent. Many of those who make such statements evidently are expressing their hopes and not necessarily their honest beliefs. Although Russia has grounds for fear that an attack upon her is likely, and Japan, looking into the future, is afraid not to initiate a conflict, there is no good reason why the United States should wish such a war. Even assuming that this nation would not be drawn into the conflict it would, nevertheless, be a loser. Japan is our customer. She is heavily debt-ridden and her people are growing more restless month by month, as well as more bitter towards Uncle Sam whom they do not understand.

It would be dangerous for us to grant Japan much credit, for we have learned a bitter lesson from helping other nations to fight wars on credit. In Russia we have a new customer of great importance. If Russia should be defeated in war it might mean a break down of the Soviet government and repudiation of all debts now current or incurred during the conflict. A victorious Japan would likely be even more antagonistic towards America than the present one. There is no lasting benefit from a war any where upon the face of the earth.

AUSTRIAN SOCIALISTS LINE UP WITH NAZIS TO GET REVENGE

Entire Cast to Give Minstrel Monday Evening

The cast of the Lions minstrel show will give a performance at the club's regular luncheon Thursday.

Director John Sturgeon of the show led in singing a few songs, then he emphasized that the entire cast was to be at the city hall at 7 p. m. Monday to get ready to give a free performance for CWA workers and their families at 8:15 o'clock that evening.

A telegram from Glimmer N. Nunn, now in Washington, was read expressing regret of his inability to be present.

Miss Irene Irvine made a very interesting talk on Alaska and closed it by donning a costume of fur and boots. B. S. Via was program chairman.

DOLLFUSS IN SADDEST DAYS OF HIS LIFE

SAYS BIG APARTMENTS WERE BUILT AS FORTRESSES

BY WADE WERNER
(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press)

VIENNA, Feb. 17.—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss tonight characterized this week of civil war as the saddest of his life and accused socialists of plotting armed attacks against the government "for several years."

"Twenty thousand members of the socialist republican guards participated in this week's events," he maintained, referring to a socialist general strike and subsequent uprising against the government, in which thousands were killed or wounded.

"The government said all who are with us will do the utmost to obtain human working rights for the labor classes of Austria."

As he spoke to foreign correspondents in the chancellery evidence was at hand that many embittered socialists, defeated in the revolt were allying themselves with Nazis to gain revenge against their conquerors.

The five-foot statesman, whose popular description, "the fighting chancellor," gained new meaning with the firm way in which his forces quelled the insurrectionary movement, received the correspondents in a huge room adorned with a picture of Franz Josef, the last Austro-Hungarian monarch.

"Under the pretext of building huge apartment blocks for the working class, the socialists really built fortresses for a long-planned civil war," he charged.

"The smuggling of arms and ammunition into Austria are indications that events of this week were planned for years."

Dr. Julius Deutsch, an Austrian socialist leader who fled to Czechoslovakia, branded a similar allegation as a falsehood, and pointed out that "fortresses are not built with large windows" such as were in the large socialist apartment houses.

The session was a tragic one, with a touch of drama added by the fact that the diminutive but internationally known chancellor spoke to the world press across a pile of explosives powerful enough to blow the chancellery to bits.

To more than one correspondent who had heard and seen the terrific shelling of the Floridsdorf

Buyers Hunting Cattle on West Texas Ranches

ALPINE, Feb. 17 (AP)—Buyers from Fort Worth, California and Kansas City have daily been journeying over the ranches of this section in quest of anything in the cattle line from big steers to feeder cows. Most have made purchases, although the 1933 calf crop has been cleaned up, only a few bunches being left intact.

These include the 1,800 Turney calves on the 62 ranch south of Alpine and several brands around Marfa.

The buyers have combed this section for big steers and fat cows. It is dry and dusty and rain is badly needed, but most ranches have sufficient grass to carry through to summer. None is feeding now.

The Davis mountain country has been practically cleaned out of salable cattle.

Man Kills Himself After Arrest On Swindling Charge

VERNON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Lenoard O. Moore, 32, shot and killed himself Friday after he was served with a felony warrant for arrest on a charge of swindling, from Motley county.

Told that he would be arrested, Moore asked J. D. Linton, sheriff, to accompany him home for a few minutes. The sheriff complied and Moore entered his home, took a pistol from a dresser drawer in an adjoining room and fired a pistol bullet through his heart.

workers' section and wandered, horror-struck through its streets of death, the sight of Dollfuss was as pathetic as the Floridsdorf bombardment itself.

For the little chancellor's face was kindly and cherubic as ever, but in his eyes lay the pain of inner distress.

The chancellor said he observed with pain and regret that "the public mind, especially in England and America takes a stand against the Austrian government."

That socialists were going with the Nazis acquired significance because of several factors: many socialists were known to be armed; their arch-enemies, the fascist heimwehrmen, gained another cabinet place, and the Nazis an ally during this week's bloody civil war, in which government forces and heimwehrmen battled the socialists.

Home-Made Plane Is Flown In City

A new plane was seen over Pampa for the first time Thursday afternoon. It was a home-made Heath monoplane, built by Clifford Jones and Ralph Chisum.

Gus Irwin, local aviator, was at the stick on the first flight and he pronounced the plane one of the best he has ever handled. He "hopped off" three times, flew about 20 miles and made two circuits of the field with "hands off."

On the OIL FIELDS

Deepening of the Warner Oil company's No. 1 Well in section 62, block 25, a mile from the Wheeler county line in central eastern Gray county, has increased production from 400 barrels a day initial production, to 2,700 barrels, or one of the largest producers in the field.

The well was producing from a total depth of 2,430 feet in the granite wash formation. Deepening was started some time ago. On Wednesday the hole was bottomed at 2,470 feet. A heavy oil flow followed the tools out of the hole and Friday the well flowed an average of 115 barrels an hour.

The new pay is also in the granite wash formation.

Deeper pay in that particular pool was found by the Bell Oil and Gas company a few months ago. That company deepened an old test with excellent results. The Skelly Oil company is building a rig for an east offset to the Warner well.

Six other locations were made last week. The Gulf Production company is building a rig on the Rufe Thompson lease in section 126, block 3, west of Pampa. The Empire Oil and Gas company is building a rig for an offset in section 139, block 3, on the Archer lease. Dixon Creek Oil company has a rig up for an offset to the two locations. The Dixon Creek test will be on the Harrah lease in section 139, block 3.

Not only her usual lectures on food preparation, but talks on home furnishing, style, and beauty, and the informal type of entertaining that is a pleasure to guests and hostess alike, will be on the three programs.

WORK ACCOMPLISHED IN THREE YEARS REVIEWED

FOUNDERS DAY was observed by Merten Parent-Teacher association Friday evening with an original candle-lighting pageant, written and directed by Mrs. J. C. Browning, former president.

Proceeding the ceremony a brief history of the association was given by Mrs. C. R. Nelson, its first president and now historian. She pointed out the many improvements added to the school building and playground in its three years of existence.

Tribute was also paid to the memory of the national founders. Their visions were commended as ideals and standards worthy of best efforts of present members.

A table was laid with a cover decorated in oak leaves, and centered with a large cake led with blue and gold. Little girls dressed in white robes lighted and placed the candles.

WORK WITH WOMEN IN JUNGLE REGION OF AFRICA DESCRIBED BY GUEST MISSIONARY AT TEA

Installation-plan wives of the Congo, who are "bought for so much down and so much rest of their lives," were described to a large group of women Friday afternoon by Miss Ruth Musgrave, recently returned from a mission station in the African jungle region.

She spoke at a tea given in her honor by the Women's Council of First Christian church. In addition to council members, many women from other churches were present.

Mission work with women and girls in Africa is comparatively new, Miss Musgrave said. In the past, men and boys were willing to listen to the teachers, but would allow their women no such privileges. Only as men are Christianized are women and children reached.

Girls Attend School. The mission station maintained at Loumba by the Christian church, where she worked, includes a school for girls. There they are trained in housekeeping, hygiene, and the elements of reading and writing. Such schools are not common, Miss Musgrave said, but the demand for them is growing and workers in Africa hope for more funds from home churches to make them possible.

Describing her work in a country where elephants frequently wander into backyard gardens and trample them; where she made trips to remote villages through almost impassable swamps, walking along slippery logs supported by stout native boys; and where she met and talked to former cannibals, Miss Musgrave's appearance gave not hint of her unusual experiences.

Speaker Former Texan. Brown-eyed, with a gay smile and a deep dimple in one cheek, she seems happy to talk to Texans of her work. She is a native of Texas, reared in Waxahachie and educated in Trinity university and Texas Christian university. She has spent most of the past 15 years in the Congo.

Following her talk Friday afternoon, Mrs. Ramon Wilson and Mrs. Mel Davis presided for the visitors. Mrs. J. B. Townsend, council president, conducted the opening devotional, and the speaker was introduced by John S. Mullen, minister.

Miss Musgrave spoke to another audience Friday evening in an open meeting.

ARNO CLUB TO INVITE PUBLIC FOR SHOWING

TEA WILL HONOR MRS. JACKSON, GUEST ARTIST

EVERYONE in Pampa will have an opportunity to see an unusual exhibit of pictures Tuesday afternoon, when the Arno Art club will bring a display of an Amarillo artist's work to the city club rooms.

It will be open to the public from 4:30 to 5:30, and everyone is invited to view the work of Mrs. Amy Mearns Jackson then.

Mrs. Jackson will be a guest of the club at its regular meeting hour, 2:30, when a tea will be given in her honor and members will hear her speak. A number of members of other women's clubs here have been invited to the tea.

Display From Museum. Pictures which Mrs. Jackson will bring here are those which have been on display recently in the Panhandle-Plains Historical museum at Canyon. She was the first person to have a one-man show the museum.

The exhibit is varied in type and theme. It includes etchings which won attention for the painter in Paris. One "Vienna Snowstorm," chosen by Edouard Leon, famous artist of Paris, as one of the four best etchings of his years.

It hung in the International Etchers exhibit in Paris a few years ago. Another etching, of Josephine Townsend Nun mounted on her horse, also hung in this exclusive exhibit.

Water color paintings, many of familiar scenes around Amarillo, are in the display, and the artist also shows pictures, done in a combination of block prints and water colors.

Western atmosphere is portrayed in Mexican and Indian block prints and etchings. An oil painting of Mrs. Jackson's, "Gypsy Slum," was selected as the best work done in the Chicago Art Institute last summer.

The versatile artist also has pen and ink sketches, among her works.

Her etchings are of major interest. One done in color, "Chartre Washerwoman," was considered the most beautiful etching in an exhibit at the Elizabeth Key studio at Austin last year, when outstanding Texas artists contributed to a display to be sent to the Century of Progress.

Historical spots such as Stoke Porges, the churchyard in which Gray's Elegiac Monument stands at the home of John Knox in Edinburgh are pictured as well as familiar Amarillo buildings.

Arno members hope that a large number of visitors will accept their invitation to the public showing of these pictures.

National PTA to View Future of Neglected Child

By MRS. JOHN M. FOX, Wichita Falls, State Publicity Director, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The question of the "forgotten child" will be discussed at the thirty-eighth annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, May 13-19, with the entire program built around the theme—"The Future of the Forgotten Child."

It is a fact that the six million children on public relief rolls constitute these "forgotten" children? Is it an indication that thinking people interested in child welfare need to consider seriously the following types of "forgotten children?"

The child lacking adequate food, clothing, or shelter. The child victim of a broken or an objectionable home. The child being deprived of educational opportunities.

The child absorbed by industry at an early age which dwarfs his development.—(In spite of N. R. A. codes).

The child criminal, a community problem, because society has not tried to deal with wholesome environment.

The child maimed by a preventable accident or who dies from a communicable disease. The handicapped child who lacks a fair start in life.

Appointees as regional advisers and those entering training classes must be teachers on relief rolls.

Parent education groups will be given a series of lessons by the teachers selected by the superintendent. The program is under the relief administration and directed by city, county, and state superintendents of schools. Inquiries should be directed to them.

operated to increase the number of visitors to the parks. The automobile gave this movement its greatest impetus at the start, for people with automobiles enjoyed driving them and they found it possible to get much farther away from home. The depression has contributed and people who perhaps ordinarily would not have gone camping have learned that one can camp in a national or state park far more cheaply than he can stay at a hotel. This may be unfortunate for the hotels but I do not think it will be in the long run for my experience would lead me to believe that all campers occasionally stay at hotels and that the number of travelers is so much increased by the automobile and the camping habit that hotel transient business is bound to increase as well. The change in the working hours for labor, under the codes, will permit a big increase in the enjoyment of these parks. I know of no more pathetic story than that of certain workers in a mill town, not so very far distant from the ocean, who had never had the time or money to visit the sea. When the change came in their hours and wages their first whole holiday was idly spent in wondering what one could do when he could not work. The second holiday was spent taking little excursions to nearby places, but, when the third holiday arrived, some enterprising soul had organized an expedition for an overnight trip to the ocean and practically the whole town went for they had never seen it before!

There is much to be gained in health through the knowledge and use of our park systems, both national and state but there is something to be gained from contact with nature and from camp life which I would like to dwell upon in a future article.

The Tailored Smock Of a Hundred Uses

The tailored smock is a standby of women who do things. Whether it's office work, or art, or just plain house-managing, the smock successfully keeps them looking neat and practical.

This one is particularly well-cut, and has been made smartly in a number of different materials—linen, printed cotton, cretonne and striped shirting. Most women find smocks useful just to slip on over their frock. But some women, who like to look decorative no matter how hard they are working, use them as part of a costume. They wear them over a contrasting slip, for instance, or taking a leaf from the book of an actress noted for her chic, over a slimly-cut pair of contrasting slacks.

HEDLEY TEAM TAKES FINAL GAME TO CAPTURE SECTIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

PAMPANS ARE NOSED OUT IN LAST MINUTES

BISITORS CHALK UP 22 POINTS TO 19 FOR HARVESTERS

Outplayed from the first whistle, the Pampa Harvesters, defending champions, went out of the district picture last night and the Hedley Owls took their place. Hedley defeated the Harvesters 22 to 19 after losing 33 to 22 Friday night.

Referee "Casey" Cobe of Canadian, graduate of Oklahoma A. & M., called a game so close that the ball never got loose. He "killed" the ball whenever it looked like a huddle. Bob Fuller, the other official on the floor, had little to do.

Standing flatfooted under the basket, the tall members of the Harvesters quintet allowed Hedley to send several rebounds into the basket. Evans, star forward who was effectively bottled Friday night, broke loose to score nine points. Green, Harvester forward, topped Evans for high scoring honors with 11 points. Woodward, star of Friday night's game, was throttled but still managed to be the outstanding Harvester on the floor, along with Green.

Captain Miles Marbaugh was unable to get going. He hit the ball to a Hedley player on practically every jump, and his usually good left arm was powerless to guide a ball toward the basket. The Harvesters attempted only one try for a field goal in the first five minutes of play, and only four attempts in the quarters.

Hedley made only three free throws in the opening stanza while the Harvesters went scoreless. The half-time score was 8 to 3 for Hedley. The teams were tied at the third quarter, 14 to 14 but Hedley showed the better condition and staged a nice rally to win.

YAQUI JOE

This smiling face belongs to Yaqui Joe, Sonora Indian, who makes his living wrestling all comers. Yaqui will appear here tomorrow night when he meets Dick Kanthe of Detroit in the main event at the Pla-Mor auditorium.

The district tournament will be played here Friday and Saturday. Boys teams from Hedley, Berger, Allison and Shamrock will participate. The girls division will bring teams from Canadian, Panhandle, Mobease and the winner of the Perryton-Gruver game, to be played Friday.

Green looped four field goals and three free throws. Marbaugh made a field goal and two free throws. Woodward looped a field goal and Dunaway made two free throws. Irving started the game but was replaced by Woodward, only substitute for either team. Heiskell went scoreless.

Following Evans, who made four field goals and a free throw, Armstrong was second high man for Hedley with three field goals and two free throws. Shaw made three points and Gatewood got a rebound for a field goal. Richardson was the other Owl on the floor.

Free throws proved a decisive

WRESTLING TO BE HELD HERE MONDAY NIGHT

GARRISON, YAQUI JOE, KANTHE, BAUER ON CARD

Yaqui Joe, Sonora Indian, recognized as one of the best middleweights in the wrestling game today, will be on the weekly wrestling card this week. He will meet Professor Dick Kanthe, Detroit strong man, in the main event at the Pla-Mor auditorium tomorrow night.

The Indian has been showing a tendency to loaf in the last few times he has appeared in the Panhandle, but that system of wrestling shouldn't work against Kanthe. The Detroit "Sampson" is adept at getting holds, and with his terrific strength deals such misery that the recipient has to battle to get out of the predicament.

Both Kanthe and the Indian have fallen before the march of Sailor Otis Clingman, who is seeking a chance at the title. The mauler gave Clingman busy evenings. It will be a case of a great grappler meeting a good wrestler with almost unbelievable strength, because Kanthe can be put in the class of good grapplers.

The semi-final will be the match fans have been waiting to see. It will bring Pat Garrison of Pampa in the ring with Joe Bauer, German clown. The two boys were matched last week but Garrison's suspension had not been lifted.

The two maulers are the type that don't mind how rough the going gets. They have had their heads shaved, so hair pulling will be taboo. Otherwise, the match should be wild and woolly. They have been making faces at each other for some time but have not been enthusiastic about getting in the ring together.

The card will open at 8:15 o'clock with Charlie Heard, San Antonio flash, meeting Kid Hill, now of Pampa. Hill will outweigh the San Antonio boy but Heard will have the advantage of experience and speed. Hill has been looking good in workouts the last week. He has been training with Garrison and Andy Gump.

Factor in the Harvesters' victory over the Donley-Carson champs Friday night. The Pampans scored on 11 of 16 chances at the goal from the free-throw line, which set some kind of a record. Dunaway made three fouls and they were the only penalties assessed against the Harvesters, whereas Armstrong Hedley forward, and Shaw, Hedley guard, were forced to leave the game in the fourth period on personals. Hedley made good three free throws and missed two.

Owl Subs Numerous

Coach "Dumb" Newman started springing surprises on the Pampans soon after the whistle blew when his Owls made no attempt to maneuver for crisp shots, but started distance shooting which in the main proved futile. He put his star forward, Evans, at center and did not start his other regular forward Gatewood. But with the exception of Evans, no Owl played the entire game. A stream of reserves poured in and off the floor throughout the four periods. Three players entered the game three times each.

The Owl guards concentrated on Green and swarmed all over him for four quarters. Irving was also a marked man, and Coach Mitchell removed him early in the first period and sent in Woodward who scored four field goals. Evans and Marbaugh tied for scoring honors with 13 points each. Woodward sunk his shots under the basket. He emerged triumphant several times in foot races with the Owls. Obviously he was the fastest man on the floor.

Evans Finally Gets Hot

Evans was pretty well smothered until the last quarter when he swished the net four times, looping goals with either hand and from all angles of the court. In the goal zone, he had the constant attention of at least two Pampa guards. Dunaway and Heiskell and Green were assigned to the defense. Dunaway opened the scoring with a field goal and added four more points in the last quarter. Marbaugh broke loose in the second half and looped all his four field goals.

In a conference after the game, between Newman and Mitchell, it was agreed to play the third game here after the Pampa coach stated flatly that he would not permit his team to play on the Hedley court again. The two coaches also agreed to change officials. The game was unusually rough in the last half with tackling and holding noticeable. Monroe was cheered on a number of his decisions where the offenses were glaring. His officiating suited Pampans.

ARKANSAN AND MORTIE DUTRA TIE IN OPEN

FINAL PLAY IN MEET AT GALVESTON TO BE HELD TODAY

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer, GALVESTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—That elusive old fellow, General Par, snickered up his wind-puffed sleeve today when professionals and amateurs in the $2,000 Galveston open failed to tie or break par 36-36-72.

At the conclusion of the first 36 holes, Mortie Dutra, the giant of Detroit professionals, and smooth-looking Julius Ackerbloom of Little Rock were tied for the lead with cards of 145, one over par.

A stiff eastward gale with a chilly bite to it, made the sterling field of golf performers glad to shoot in the middle seventies. A score of 73 today was remarkable when the first round the two low cards were 69.

Ackerbloom, who carded a 37-32-69 the first round, got away to a bad start on today's second round with a bogey five at the first and a bogey four at the third, but the Little Rock sharpshooter challenged the strength of the wind swept course and finished his round with two birdies, 10 pars and six bogey holes for 37-39-76, three over.

Mortie Dutra, like the wind, roared in from nowhere to a headline front position spot. The first round Friday saw him melt together a 37-35-72. Today he played with Horton Smith, and while the large gallery watched Horton make shots and paid little attention to Dutra, it was the Detroit ace who stepped in with one of the lowest rounds of the day, a 37-36-73 that gave him a first place tie.

Dutra's excellent round slipped him past Byron Nelson, the youthful Texas professional, who tied Ackerbloom for the first day lead with 33-36-69.

Nelson today shot 39-38-77 for a 36-hole total of 146, one stroke behind the leaders.

Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., last year's biggest money winner, with 73-73-146; Jimmy Hines of Long Island, N. Y., with 72-74-146; Harry Cooper of Chicago with 70-76-146, and Tom Creavy of Albany, N. Y., former holder of the national P. G. A. championship, with 74-74-146, all tied Nelson for second place. Craig Wood promised to take the lead as a late finisher with a 34, two under par on the back nine, but his 39 on the front was too much of a handicap.

Edison Steele of San Antonio gained undisputed third place with 72-75-147. Horton Smith, the former Joplin ghost now of Oak Park, Ill., and Paul Runyan, of White Plains, N. Y., tied for fourth with cards of 148. Bill Mehlhorn of Louisville, who almost shot himself out of the tournament in the first round with 39-41-80, put on a comeback for one of the lowest rounds, a 36-37-73 and a total of 153, eight strokes behind the leaders.

Willie Maguire Jr. of Houston, with 73-77-150, continues to lead in such crack amateurs as Gus Moreland, Texas champion, and Johnny Dawson, Chicago star. Moreland had a bad front nine today, requiring 41 strokes, but shot even par 36 on the back nine for his 74-77-151. Dawson would have been in the lead eight at the ninth hole that gave him a 42 on the front nine. He shot even par on the back for a 36-hole total of 73-78-151.

Score at half: Pampa 14; Hedley 11.

Pouls—Pampa, Dunaway 3; Hedley, Armstrong 4, Evans 3, Shaw 4. Richardson 1 free throws missed: Pampa, Irving 1, Marbaugh 3, Heiskell 1; Hedley, Evans 1, Armstrong 1; substitutions: Pampa, Woodward for Irving; Hedley, Gatewood g. in twice, Richardson f. in three times. In three times, Tidrow g. in twice Gordon g.

Officials: Munroe (W. T. S. C.), Stocking (Texas).

PANHANDLE'S SEXTET WINS

Pantherettes Beat Pampa's Girls in Extra Period; Score Is 26 to 24.

At the end of the Harvesters-Panhandle game Friday night the score stood, Pampa 24; Panhandle 24. Since the girls' basketball rule states that no game can be decided in extra periods, coaches discussed what to do. To end the stalemate, they decided to flip a coin to decide whether there would be an extra period, or another game.

The extra period won. Both teams were assessed double fouls and the Panhandle forwards sunk the spheroid on each try, and those two points were the margin of victory; Panhandle 26; Pampa 24. Previously, the Pantherettes soundly trounced the local girls at Panhandle. The second game gave the Carson county sextet the sectional title. It was the most exciting cage skirmish seen here this season.

The Harvesters established a 10-point lead in the first period, but the visitors overtook the locals in the second period. From then on, the two teams exchanged the lead several times, with never more than two points separating the score. The Pampa girls lost the game because they were unable to make a single one of 14 free throws. The Pantherettes had 15 chances from the free throw line and swished the net six times.

The Harvesters were handicapped in both games with the Panhandle girls. Last night, Traywick, Shields and Heiskell were sick or were recovering from illness. Traywick played a few minutes in the last quarter. Heiskell was able to play only in the first quarter and Shields did not enter the game.

The lineup and scoring:

Pampa—Neal f. 10; Kentling f. 10; Williams f. 4; Gray g. Heiskell g. Feltnor g. Hunkapillar g. Traywick g.

Panhandle—Young f. 11; Barnes f. 1; Fells 8, Powell g. Warr g. Shepherd f. 1; Upham f. 5; Mullins sg.

The score at the half was Pampa 12; Panhandle 13.

Felts made the most spectacular shots. She, like Evans of Hedley, used either hand and shot from any angle of the scoring zone. She scorched setups and hurled the ball at the goal from the sidelines. "Shik" Kayler of Panhandle and Bob Fuller officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wooley, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Poff attended "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" at Amarillo last night.

Fight Picks Up As 'Alp' Spars With Managers

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Old Father Time finally drove Red Faber out of the pitcher's box today.

The 45-year old pitcher, last of the surviving spit ball hurlers in the American League, announced his retirement from baseball after playing 20 consecutive years with the Chicago White Sox.

During the long baseball trail, especially as the years crept upon him and aging legs creaked under him, Faber retired under fire, but the times were proportionately few in the 669 major league games in which he pitched and he always came back for more, usually to rise to the heights again.

This time, however, there will be no more. He isn't coming back. In a decision surprising to the fans but contemplated by him as long ago as the beginning of last season, Faber decided to "hang up his shoes," to use his own words.

If he has any plans for the future he failed to reveal them. He had hoped for a coaching job when his pitching chores were finished, but so far there apparently is none for him. Like Eppa Rixey, another old timer whose retirement after

Curley Lewis Is Wyoming Champ

J. C. "Curly" Lewis, Pampa boy now stationed at Camp Francis E. Warren near Cheyenne, Wyo., is the recognized middleweight champion of Wyoming.

Lewis will wrestle the main event of a big card in Laramie, Wyo., Tuesday night, according to a newspaper clipping. He was to have wrestled the main event in Leadville, Colo., last night.

The former Pampa boy met Ed Bradley, Laramie's wrestling mechanic, in a wild and woolly bout in Cheyenne last week. They went to a draw in the semi-final to the Charlie Davis-Carl Kopaki championship match. Lewis may be in these parts during the next few months.

"Why doesn't everybody buy the new Pontiac?"

The other day, in the deepest sincerity, an owner said to us—"Why doesn't everybody buy the new Pontiac?"

Do you know what prompted this question?

This owner had simply learned what we have known since we built this car, namely—

- that if everybody were completely familiar with the advantages of owning the new Pontiac, almost everybody would want it.
- Suppose, briefly, that everybody knew such facts as these—
- that Pontiac is really a big car, with a wheelbase of 117 inches, and a Fisher body that is most generously roomy—
- that Pontiac has a big, smooth, powerful straight eight engine—really the equal, in every way, of the very finest power plants—
- that Pontiac has "Knee-Action" wheels as developed by General Motors, which are far different from the independent springing devices offered on other cars in the field—
- that Pontiac has big, smooth, powerful Bendix mechanical brakes—unexcelled by any brakes for safety and ease of action—
- that Pontiac is a product of the General Motors Corporation—the foremost automotive organization in the world—
- that Pontiac is really almost as economical, both to buy and to operate, as any car you can name . . . including even those that are designed primarily for economy—
- that not more than three or four stock cars in America can pass a Pontiac on the road—and these only on miles and miles of straightaway—
- that Pontiac is really the surprise car of the year, with far more specific things to recommend it than any other car at its price—
- and, finally, that Pontiac is one of the two most beautiful cars in the world . . . absolutely regardless of cost!

Yes—if everybody actually knew these things—knew them, that is, as we know them—we believe that just about everybody would want a new Pontiac.

If we're right in this assumption—you want a Pontiac—for you've read the facts here, for yourself.

Are we right?

Then come in. We will be delighted to prove to you the full truth of every single statement made in this message.

WHEELER AND WOOLSEY ARE DIGNIFIED NOW

FORM CORPORATION TO PROMOTE COMEDY BUSINESS

BERT WHEELER and Robert Woolsey can't fight any more and then plan to part. Well, they can, but it would be so complicated with writs and motions for dismissal and writs of habeas corpus and things like that, that only their lawyers could settle matters.

Wheeler and Woolsey aren't those two slapstick comedians now, but have taken on gravitas, dignity, red tape and a corporation, and have become Robert, Inc., as a legal step to strengthen all the ties between them.

Absolutely determined to beat the hoodoo which has wrecked so many comedy teams, the pair devised Robert, Inc., to defeat those contingencies which threaten their co-appearance, such as the one of 18 months ago which nearly parted them forever. According to the charter granted to Robert, Inc., if one of them assumes a you-go-your-way-and-I'll-go-mine-way attitude, the other can call the challenger to court. The loser will then have to say farewell to their joint bank account, their joint real estate holdings and their other joint assets.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey decided on incorporating a laugh-producing business when they scanned the number of acts that were at one time or another near separation. Moran and Mack, Murray and Mack, Kolb and Dill, Weber and Fields—all of them had their badly strained moments. In the case of Wheeler and Woolsey, one of them once wanted to croon and clown on a sponsored radio program. The other protested that the material provided would hurt their team prestige. As the verbal battle grew intense, the sponsor walked out on them and hired himself a dance orchestra and tenor.

On another occasion one of them wanted to make a personal appearance tour; the other didn't. For two months, they haggled and argued and were recompensed only with eyestrain and wheezy vocal chords. It was time to hunt up new partners, when simultaneously they mused: "How much money is I making before we teamed up?" And then Wheeler and Woolsey changed from rivals to cordial buddies.

Social Hour Will Follow Choir Meet

Philharmonic Choir members are requested to be present for the rehearsal Monday evening, when parts will be assigned for the two spring productions of the organization.

The meeting is at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church. A social hour will follow the rehearsal.

Seen in 'Hips, Hips, Hooray'

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are augmented by Ruth Etting in their musical "goofing-around" in "Hips, Hips, Hooray," who warbles some catchy melodies. Thelma Todd and Dorothy Lee assist in the same insane reels of laughter, music, and girls in this RKO-Radio picture now at La Nora theater.

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

SYNOPSIS: Janice Kent, the movie star, her press agent, Horatio Greene, and Frank Grahame, the explorer, are led out of their prison, and to the top of a Mayan pyramid in Yucatan. They are to be sacrificed to a heathen god; as they arrive at the altar Juan, a Mexican boy who has slipped weapons to Frank, tells him he has denounced Ortega, the man who betrayed both Grahame and Janice. The sacrifice knife is poised over Ortega's throat.

Chapter 35
SACRIFICE

The priest descended. Frank heard the thud; he saw the shoulder muscles of the priest working, like those of a dog over a buried bone. There was a sigh from the multitude like a dry wind rustling through a parched forest.

Then the man's arm moved. It was dark with blood that streamed from his clenched fist. Grahame averted his gaze. He saw Juan gazing with fascinated terror. Janice leaned against her guard, her body stiff with horror. Greene stared at him with eyes distended. The little man's lips parted in a grimace.

"God!" he breathed, and gulped. Grahame swore savagely. "Guns out, Greene!" he rasped. His voice was thick with fury. His felt hand fumbled under his bandaging.

Then Greene did an incredible thing. He shook off his guards and stood away from them a pace. His voice rose in a shrill yell that focused the glance of every person on that platform of death upon him.

"The ahkin whirled and stared. After his first bewilderment, Grahame stood, his hand within his bandage, his eyelids narrowed. Greene, of course, had gone mad with shock. Quite mad.

But the voice of the little man was clear with decision; his words were coldly sane.

"Janice!" he cried. "Goodbye! And you, too, Grahame. I'm pulling a Tosti and a Brodie together. If I make a break for you, take it!"

As he talked he shuffled backward toward the priest. His guards seemed frozen.

"I'm taking it on the lam, and you'd better, too. God hate a piker! Camera! Ready! Everybody quiet!"

This is the picture—Damn you!

He spun about, and drove his fist into the priest's throat. Again he struck, but this time fell forward against the other. He dragged him around the altar.

The man clawed and strove to break the little man's hold. But Greene's hold was heroic. He pulled them closer to the edge.

They stood there locked against each other, swaying against the brass sky. The guards seemed paralyzed.

Whereupon a figure broke from among them. Grahame groaned. The show was over. But as the figure lurched toward those others swaying on the brink, he heard it shout in Juan's voice.

"Bravo, amigo!"

He saw the slight form of the boy throw itself against the two. Like a shutter snapped in a camera he saw the image of Greene and the priest flash over, and beyond the brink.

Juan spun on the edge. Slowly, almost as if he were fading backward, he saw the lad topple outward. His teeth flashed in a last smile; he was gone!

A roar surged deafeningly about the pyramid. He pushed his own guards backward and strode toward Janice. One of the men clutched at his wounded arm. He ripped his gun from the bandage and shot him through the body.

He clutched his gun's barrel against the head of one of the girl's guards, and shot the other as he began to lift his gun. The man's rifle fell toward him; and he caught it between his elbow and his side.

"Take it!" he shouted to Janice.

She took the gun and pushed behind him. He went forward, beating at face and heads with the heavy barrel of his automatic. Suddenly they were out of the crowd and leaping down the eastern steps of the pyramid.

Frank gasped advice as they half-jumped, half-fell down the steep descent.

"Run straight ahead. There's an airplane at the end of this straightaway. Can you shoot?"

The girl compressed her lips and nodded.

"Shoot where it hurts," he advised. They were on the level now, and Frank's breath labored in his lungs. He cursed the wound that sapped his strength. Janice, he noted with satisfaction, was running like a whippet, despite the heavy rifle she carried.

An armed native, coming from nowhere, quartered into their path. His rifle was held at his shoulder. He fired and missed. The slug from Grahame's forty-five took the man in the face. The American stooped and dragged the bandolier of cartridge-clips from about the limp shoulder. He tossed the ammunition to Janice.

He essayed a glance over his shoulder. He saw figures streaming down the side shot the pyramid in pursuit. He and the girl had a better start than he had hoped for. It was evident that their margin of lead was desperately slight.

Their footing was good. Flagstones, yards square, paved this central area, and made running easy. The last few yards to the plane seemed interminable.

Grahame scooped up an empty wooden gasoline case, scarcely pausing in his stride. He flung it beside the fuselage.

"Step on that! Can you make it?" he gasped. "Climb in the rear cockpit. Start shooting right away!"

He stumbled to the starting crank and wound the starter. The guards were nearer. As he reached for a strut to haul himself upon the lower wing, he heard the whiplash of a rifle aimed at the cockpit. Start shooting right away!

He stumbled to the starting crank and wound the starter. The guards were nearer. As he reached for a strut to haul himself upon the lower wing, he heard the whiplash of a rifle aimed at the cockpit. Start shooting right away!

He stumbled to the starting crank and wound the starter. The guards were nearer. As he reached for a strut to haul himself upon the lower wing, he heard the whiplash of a rifle aimed at the cockpit. Start shooting right away!

The months of standing in the open, in the rain and blinding sun, had made the plane seem a cocoon. He thanked fortune that the wings were metal, there was no fabric to rot. He prayed that the motor would fire after months of inaction.

After more shots, evenly spaced cracked over his head. Almost he sobbed in admiration for the girl who was coolly shooting from the plane.

As he threw a leg over the cowlings of the cockpit, he flashed a glance at the girl behind him. Behind several feet spreading out fanwise—those in the center were kneeling in preparation for firing.

Into the cockpit he sprawled. He heard distant firing and the whine of bullets overhead. A vicious, metallic ripping told him that the plane was being hit.

Then the rifle from the rear cockpit began to crash again, one-two-three in series of five, as the girl fired and reloaded. She was shooting like a veteran in a rifle pit.

He threw on the switch with his sound left hand and feverishly adjusted the throttle and tested the controls. Although stiff, they worked. As he pulled on the starter he made an inarticulate sound—a prayer.

The motor erupted into a booming roar! For an instant it held the even resonance of its explosions, then spluttered. Practically Grahame juzzed the throttle. It was now or never. He could never survive the salvo of bullets that would greet him if he were forced to wind the starter again.

The motor coughed discordantly, then settled into an even drumming that reverberated above the staccato tattoo of rifle fire.

He had noticed that the wheels were unblocked. He shoved the throttle forward. The motor revved up unevenly but the plane began to slide forward.

gunned the motor and ruddered to correct direction.

He saw figures scattering ahead of him. There was another, a smaller thud, as a wing's edge hit a fleeing native.

Ragged holes appeared in the wings. The great pyramid loomed ahead of him. The tail skid was off the ground. He pulled the stick toward him. She responded, and took the air just as a crash against the pyramid seemed inevitable.

He banked left. The bass roar of the motor echoed against the side of the huge monument. So close was he, that he saw the terror stricken eyes of the populace as they flattened their bodies against the steep sides.

As he leveled above the tree-tops he was conscious that the controls were sluggish. His right arm was worse than useless. He fought the stick backward but with slight reaction. The effort sent the blood to his head.

GROUP RAISES $450,000 IN MARKET COUP

SUM ALLEGEDLY MADE AT EXPENSE OF STOCKHOLDERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—The financial coup scored by officers and directors of American Commercial at Alcohol, allegedly at the expense of their stockholders, would have been impossible, senate investigators said today, if the pending bill to place the stock exchange under strict federal regulation had been in effect.

They pointed out that a half-dozen manipulative practices would be prohibited by the measure, and that under the company and its stockholders could recover the profit that accrued to the corporation's executives.

The senate banking committee will resume its investigation Monday of the spectacular rise and collapse of American Commercial last spring and early summer when it soared from $18 to $89 and then plunged to $40. Three days were devoted to the inquiry this week.

With the exchange control bill written and before congress, Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, is frankly pointing his efforts toward proving that the bill is necessary by bringing out in testimony a series of irregularities in security dealings, which he contends, the stock exchange itself is unable or unwilling to control.

The story of American Commercial Alcohol, as thus far revealed in testimony by Russell Brown, chairman of its board of directors, involved such practices as pool operations, options, deals through dummies and dummy corporations, the creation of a false appearance of activity in the market for shares of the corporation.

The company found it needed $450,000. Brown gave an option to Thomas Bragg, a market operator, for 25,000 shares of American Commercial at $18, a total of $450,000. Two associates of Brown, whom Pecora characterized as dummies—Brown agreeing—gave their notes for $170,000 and $270,000 in exchange for stock in two subsidiary corporations, which Pecora also characterized as dummies.

American Commercial issued 25,000 new shares of stock and exchanged them for the stock in the subsidiaries held by Brown's "dummies." Bragg exercised his option and Brown's associates satisfied it with 25,000 shares which they received in exchange for their stock in the subsidiaries. For the 25,000

Pampa Patrons Will Benefit In Air Mail Change

Radical Changes in Air Mail Schedules After Monday Will Leave Pampa Patrons in a Very Envious Position Compared with Other Cities in this Section, According to Postmaster D. E. Cecil.

Connections made with the air mail at Wichita, Kansas and Kansas City, the pivot for air mail service in all directions, will impair service to any part of the United States very little, and to a number of sections will actually give an earlier delivery than formerly. The arrival time at Dallas and Oklahoma City and connection is better by an hour and to the Pacific northwest a business day better time is made. Certain points in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Louisiana and Arkansas will have little service until the department establishes their feeder lines through these parts.

The last air-mail dispatch via Amarillo will be at 3:55 p. m. Monday and after that date all air mail will be dispatched east, and for the most direct connections, air mail should be in the office by 3:00 p. m. to go forward on Santa Fe train 22, leaving Pampa at 3:23 p. m. Air Mail should not be deposited in the letter box on the west platform at the Santa Fe depot as it will be delayed, but should be deposited in the box on the platform east of the depot after 3 p. m. and before the departure of train 22. At all other times mail at the post office so that clerks can give it the proper dispatch.

Air mail schedules now in use by Pampa patrons are not exactly correct and can be used. New schedules will be issued as soon as additional feeder lines are established and schedules for them are issued by the post office department, which is understood will be done in a few days.

shares Bragg paid them $450,000 with which they paid off their notes to the subsidiary corporations. Then American Commercial borrowed the $450,000.

Meanwhile, the market price of the stock had gone from $20 to $33 and the stock which Bragg bought for $450,000 was worth $825,000. Meanwhile, also, Bragg had been operating a pool in the stock in which Brown and other company officers participated.

AMERICANISM STRESSED

"Every woman who enrolls in the American Legion Auxiliary for 1934 will strengthen the cause of American democracy against the subversive forces seeking its overthrow," Mrs. Al Lawson, Americanism chairman of the Pampa unit of the Auxiliary, told the unit's membership workers.

She urged the quick enrollment of the unit's 1934 members to aid in the defense of American ideals and institutions.

The Auxiliary will continue its program of educational activities designed to counteract the radical propaganda of the American form of government and to strengthen loyalty to American ideals and institutions, explained Mrs. Lawson.

Special efforts will be made to reach the younger generations with this program to counteract the radical propaganda among the youth of the country. Ability of the Auxiliary to carry on and expand this work depends upon the size of its 1934 enrollment, the chairman emphasized to the membership workers.

Santa Clara To Play Frogs In Texas in 1934

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17 (AP)—A home-and-home agreement for football games in 1934 and 1935 has been reached by Texas Christian university and Santa Clara university, it was announced today by L. C. Wright, business manager for T. C. U.

Santa Clara will play in Fort Worth December 8, 1934, while T. C. U. will play in San Francisco, Dec. 7, 1935, he said.

Invasion of the grade A California team will mark the first time in history that a Pacific coast football team has visited Texas.

Signing the contract for the games assured the Frogs of carrying the purple and white into California for the first time and further away from home than it has ever been. It likewise probably launched the Christian, one of the outstanding teams in the southwest for a number of years, on a new policy of play. Heretofore they have confined themselves almost exclusively to games with teams in their own section.

Except for a preliminary game or two which may be arranged for mid-September, the Santa Clara game completes the Christian schedule for '34. It will be the longest and hardest ever undertaken by a T. C. U. team. If, as is expected, a game is carded for September 21, the program will call for 12 contests—six of them with southwest conference rivals, and others with Loyola of New Orleans, Tulsa, Centenary, North Texas Teachers and Santa Clara.

BADGERS CLINCH TITLE

AMARILLO, Feb. 17 (AP)—The Amarillo College Badgers clinched District One honors in the Texas Junior college athletic association basketball race here tonight by defeating Wayland college of Plainview, 52 to 23, for their third conference victory. The Badgers will enter the state tournament at Waco March 2 and 3.

Annual Meeting Of Historical Society Is Set

The annual meeting of the Pampa-Plains Historical society will be April 13 in Canyon. It was decided at a meeting of directors in the office of the White Deer Land company Thursday afternoon. In the absence of Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian, president, W. H. Patrick of Glendon presided.

Plans for the annual meeting were outlined and committees will start work soon. Reports were received from L. F. Sheffey of Canyon, field secretary. The museum is proving more popular than ever anticipated.

Others attending the meeting on Thursday were Tom Russell, Amarillo, Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon, president of West Texas State Teachers college, and T. D. Hobart of Pampa, all directors. M. K. Brown and C. F. Buckler were guests at the meeting.

Pardons, Paroles Given By Governor

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—Governor Miram A. Ferguson today pardoned from the penitentiary Floyd Kelley, serving one year from Hunt county for violation of the liquor law. He was convicted in November, 1933.

She gave conditional pardons to Elbert Wilkes, serving four years from Hopkins county for burglary and theft, convicted in February, 1933, and to Frank Carroll, Kaufman county, theft of automobile, two years, convicted in March, 1933.

A ninety day furlough extension was issued to J. O. Escobar, convicted in Bexar county for murder in June, 1932, and sentenced to 40 years.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the financial assistance and sympathy extended me by CWA workers during the illness and at the death of my wife.
