Vote On Bankhead's Control Plan Is Due Tuesday

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Southern democrats steered the Bankhead compulsory cotton control bill toward passage in the house today despite republican shouts of "regimentation" and "collectivism."

The bill was made a vehicle by Representative McGugin (R., Kan.) for an attack on Rexford Guy Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, and one of the president's professional advisers.

McGugin said "Tugwell's ideas are not American and are not shared by any member of congress."

Solicitors Hold Key to Success Of Scout Drive

With the Boy Scout finance drive about one-third completed, the success of the effort plainly rests with the appointed solicitors, it was pointed out yesterday.

Responses by citizens of this and nearby communities have been excellent insofar as the drive has progressed. Cash and pledges last night totaled $601, of which about $385 was cash, but many of the canvassers had not yet reported.

DEATHS CAUSE PRESIDENT TO CUT AIRMAIL TO MINIMUM

LINDBERGH IN LENGTHY TALK WITH OFFICIAL

SECRETARY DERN TOLD LINDY'S OPINION OF ARMY AIR SERVICE

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—With the declaration that "the ratio of accidents has been far too high during the past three weeks," President Roosevelt today ordered sharp curtailment of the army air mail service.

His command followed the tenth death in 20 days of army flying operations, instituted after the wholesale private contract cancellation order of a month ago.

"This action," the president said, referring to his original order for the army to fly the mail, "was taken on the definite assurance given me that the army air corps could carry the mail."

Because military lessons have been taught us during the past few weeks I request that you consult immediately with the postmaster general and the secretary of commerce in order that additional training may be given to army pilots through cooperation with private companies who later on will fly the mails.

CONTROL OF WATER-BUS-TRUCK ASKED

Transportation Regulation Recommended by Coordinator as Solution.

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Strict regulation of water and motor transportation under the interstate commerce commission was recommended to congress today by Joseph B. Eastman, transportation coordinator.

Eastman pointed out that since 1929 when the transportation act was passed, vast amounts of capital have been poured into motor truck and bus lines and airplane lines as well as waterways.

"The situation," he said, "has been growing more acute and 'not only impairs the financial stability of the national transportation system, but it threatens the wage and working conditions of labor and it creates a demoralization in rates and charges which in the long run is a menace to commerce and industry.'"

Following closely recommendations made by the interstate commerce commission two years ago in reporting to congress its study of the bus and truck problem, Eastman asked to be report a bill for regulation of motor vehicles, one for regulation of steamship and other domestic water carriers and another making minor amendments to the interstate commerce act.

March 17 Last Day to Sign Hog-Corn Contracts

The news that Saturday, March 17, has been made the last sign-up day in Texas for the hog-corn contract has been received by Ralph R. Thomas, county agent for Gray county.

Ten thousand nine hundred and fifty signed contracts were already in the office of the county agents of Texas on February 24, according to incomplete reports from 121 counties.

PLANE FORCED DOWN OTTUMWA, Iowa, March 10

Second Lt. W. A. Collin, flying the air mail from Chicago to Chicago, made a forced landing in a garden patch on the bank of the Des Moines river tonight after losing his way in a fog.

Miss Virginia Mason was released from Worley hospital yesterday afternoon.

A. W. Butler, White Deer, was attending to business in Pampa Saturday.

EXECUTION OF DILLINGER PAL IS MANDATORY

DEFENDANT IS DEFIANT AS HE DENIES KILLING

LIMA, O., March 10 (AP)—Harry J. Pierpont, member of the notorious John Dillinger gang, was found guilty tonight on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of Sheriff Jess Barber. The jury of 10 men and two women failed to recommend mercy for Pierpont and thereby made mandatory a sentence of death in the electric chair.

Pierpont took the witness stand to fight for his life. In clipped, precise sentences Pierpont told of his armed peregrinations around the country, and expressed his admiration for the desperate Dillinger. He denied emphatically that he was in the Allen county jail October 12 when Sheriff Barber was shot to death.

Pierpont's unusual story of a bank robbery on the loose concluded the case of the defense. After a few minutes of rebuttal testimony, state attorneys began their final argument. The case will go to the jury late tonight.

"I never saw Jess Barber in my life," he said, Mrs. Barber the sheriff's widow, who identified Pierpont yesterday as the man who killed her husband, is honestly mistaken, Pierpont said.

Ranch Teacher Has One Pupil

CLARENCE, March 10 (AP)—200,000 school children being sought by the Texas senate investigating committee did not attend the Barfield school.

That much is certain, for Barfield had only one pupil, Ida Mae Weidman, 8, daughter of Rudolph Weidman, a ranchman.

The district's revenue was $570. Of this amount, $520 was paid to Ida Mae's teacher, Miss Zell Rogers. Miss Rogers and her pupil kept regular school, observing noon hour and recesses, and Ida Mae completed two grades. They played dolls and "ante over."

"Closing exercises" were held yesterday when Ida Mae gave two readings for County Superintendent Sloan Baker and Clarence Barfield as trustees.

"We hope to get a new family to move in before next year, and may have several more pupils," Barfield said.

The school is on the famous JA ranch land, 10 miles southwest of Clarence.

PAMPA STREET NAMES FORM DIRECTORY OF OLDTIME RESIDENTS OF CITY

SOME towns name their streets for presidents, some for governors, some for directions, some for trees, flowers, some for place-names such as Market, Main, Wall, Broadway, some for numbers, but all except a few of Pampa's streets are named for people who have been here or have lived here.

Most of the streets in the business district were named for founders of the town, or for those closely associated with the founders. Early Pampa could be called the child of the White Deer Land company, for that organization had more to do with its early history than any other material force. Pampa was named by George Tyng, who from 1887 to 1893 was the company's agent here. The principal streets in the business district were named for men associated with the White Deer Land company.

Origins of Names

A list of some of the streets and the persons for whom they were named: Albert, Albert Foster; Alcock, an attorney in the company's office in New York City, now a famous amateur photographer; Atchinson, the railroad; Baer, Chris Baer; Ballard, an attorney in the New York City office; Banks, Lee Banks; Beryl, Mrs. De Lea Vicars; Brown, Montagu Kingsmill Brown; Browning, Judge James Browning; Brunson, jurist of the early Panhandle; Brunow, Dr. W. E. von Brunow; Buckler, C. P. Buckler; Carr, Ed Carr, Gray county farmer; Christine, Miss Christine Cook, daughter of the late C. C. Cook; Christy, J. G. Christy, developer of the addition of that name; Cook, C. C. Cook; Craven, William Craven, representative of Smith company when it ran cattle here; Crawford, J. T. Crawford, long-time Pampa resident and Civil War veteran.

JIMMY WALKER AND MORGAN'S MAN ACCUSED

TAX EVASION CHARGES ARE FILED AGAINST MONEY CZARS

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Criminal prosecution for alleged tax evasion against Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, and James J. Walker, former mayor of New York City, are to be instituted soon by the justice department.

Attorney General Cummings made this announcement tonight, adding that since proceedings also would be brought against Thomas S. Lamont, member of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan and company, and Thomas L. Sidel, law partner of Newton D. Baker, Woodrow Wilson's secretary of war.

In addition, Mr. Cummings said, have been referred to the federal attorneys at New York, Pittsburgh and Cleveland "with authority for presentation of grand juries under the laws against tax evasion and avoidance."

The cases, Mr. Cummings said, were announced in the department was inquiring into the practices of the Aluminum Company of America, a Mellon-controlled concern which he has characterized as "a one hundred per cent monopoly in the producing field."

Assistant Attorney General Frank J. Wiedeman, head of the newly created tax division of the department, said other cases of a similar nature were pending for trial and still others in course of preparation.

Martin J. Conroy, United States of New York conferred with Cummings this week, and presumably the cases against Lamont and Walker were discussed at that time.

District Attorney Harold S. Dumand of the Western Pennsylvania district will take care of proceedings against Mellon, and Emerich B. Freed of the Northern Ohio district will present the case against Sidel to the grand jury there.

Mellon, for years an outstanding figure in the world of business and finance, became with the return of the republican party to power in 1920, equally prominent in public life.

President Harding appointed him secretary of the treasury and he held that post through the Coolidge administrations and part of the administration of President Hoover.

When his service in that capacity was terminated by Mr. Hoover, he was named ambassador to the court of St. James and represented the United States at London for the remainder of the Hoover term in office. Mellon is one of the wealthiest men in the country. His interests, centering in the Mellon National Bank and Union Trust company of Pittsburgh, trace a course throughout the nation's industrial structure.

The Aluminum Company of America has long been the target of monopoly charges in its field. The Mellon interests also control Gulf oil and have huge holdings in the steel mills and coal mines of Pennsylvania.

In May last year, Representative McFadden (R., Pa.) in a statement placed in the congressional record accused Mellon of "an apparent evasion" of personal income taxes while secretary of the treasury which McFadden said in a single instance involved more than $1,000,000.

I SAW-- In a periodical, a story which necessitates this private note to Bill Dunaway who with our aid was all set to win the National Oratorical contest this year: The contest will not be held because the perpetual subject or orators, The Constitution, what there is left of it, is in such steev, on account of the present situation.

CUSTER'S AUDACITY RESULTS IN VICTORY OVER RED CHIEF

(Editor's note—This is the second and concluding installment of T. J. Eldridge's story of Custer's Battle on the Washita river. With a small band of troops Custer is endeavoring to surprise Black Kettle, Indian chief, in the latter's winter camp near Cheyenne, Okla. The year is 1868.)

The little band of soldiers spent the night somewhere in the Wolf creek valley, north of the present town of Shattuck, Okla. Next day, making their way over to the South Canadian river, at a point not far from where the new bridge crosses that great river, they had intended to cross at this place, but the new of the ponies grazing in the valley some miles above caused them to change their plans.

Major Elliott with his vanguard was sent on up to the great bend in the river to investigate, with instruction to report his finds. He found that quite a band of Indians had been camped under the bluff—the snow was tramped down—but the redskins had left only a few hours before. Their trail was plainly visible in the snow. They had crossed the river, making no attempt to hide their trail, headed south, across the plains for Black Kettle's camp on the Washita.

DAILY NEWS IS CONGRATULATED BY MANY ON 7TH BIRTH DATE

It was a regular birthday reception. Some Pampans took the opportunity to send the daily paper to friends or relatives living elsewhere. Telephone calls to renew subscriptions were frequently made during the day.

Although yesterday was the seventh anniversary of the launching of the daily, the volume number will not change until April, which will mark the beginning of the 28th year of Pampa's original newspaper, THE NEWS.

20 FIREMEN INJURED AS BLAZE SWEEPS SECTION IN BIRMINGHAM

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 10 (AP)—Twenty-four persons were injured and property damage totaling $30,000,000 was caused here early tonight by a fire in the heart of the downtown business district, against which every fireman in the city and suburbs battled and brought under control early tonight.

The estimate of the damage was made by B. O. Hargrove, chief of the Birmingham fire department. The injured included 20 firemen, most of whom were overcome by smoke, and four spectators, struck by fire equipment or ambulances being moved.

An emergency station was opened in the basement of a department store across the street from the fire swept block, where more than 30

State Legion Head Will Visit Here

L. Van Perkins, state American Legion commander, will visit Pampa April 6, he has notified Floyd McConnell, commander of the Kory-Crossman post here. Commander Perkins is secretary of the chamber of commerce at Cameron. He served in the navy during the world war.

The state commander will visit Pampa en route to the 18th district convention to be held in Canadian April 7 and 8. The meeting here will be at 8 o'clock in the Legion hut on West Foster avenue. Other prominent speakers will be on the program.

Recreation Group Will Meet

Permanent Committee Will Be Named at Meeting in City Hall Monday Night.

NOT SO long ago in Pampa there was a little boy eleven years old who saw one of the Tarzan movies. From then on, the trade boy was a "goner"—he simply had to see Tarzan swinging and jumping "from tree to tree, swimming alligator-infested rivers, the boy had to see the pictures or "bust," as he said. So he stole to get the money.

That problem, the recreation problem for Pampa children, will be tackled in earnest by sincere citizens of the town at 7 o'clock tomorrow night in the offices of the B. C. D. in the city hall. In fact, Pampans have been working, studying, praying, planning for weeks for the meeting and its results. They are resolved to provide an answer to this question, asked often by parents: "Where can my boy find the right kind of recreation, so I will know that it is the sort of recreation he should have?"

However, before the interested citizens begin to produce concrete results, they must organize. Officers must be named, a permanent committee appointed. That is the purpose of the meeting tomorrow

WALKING WITH GOD: The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord; and he delighteth in his way. Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.—Psalm 37:23,24.

WHEAT FARMERS want no "splendid isolation" for America. Most of us like biscuits and light-bread, but we cannot hope to consume the bulk of wheat grown in this country. Therefore the condition of the industry abroad is of local interest. Strange names are mentioned in wheat statistics. But wheat grown by a man in another country is nevertheless wheat and edible. The Danube basin area reports a reduction of about 9 per cent in acreage. Italy is reducing about 6 per cent, Germany 2 per cent, while Czechoslovakia and Greece are increasing their acreage 3 and 8 percent respectively. There will be little change in Bulgaria, Spain, France and the eastern European countries. Weather conditions have been less favorable than here in most European countries except Spain and Portugal.

PROPOSALS to permit the board of education of Texas to invest the permanent school fund in securities at their market value rather than at par and accrued interest must be regarded with gravest caution. Issuing bonds for any purpose is a most costly, albeit necessary, manner of financing. To sell bonds for much less than par would impose a double burden upon taxpayers and magnify the glaring inequities of taxation which now obtain. The permanent school fund of Texas, however, is not philanthropic, but a sacred trust. The board of education must be very careful to determine that the bonds are reasonably certain of being paid out in full.

WATCH OUT for syphilis. It is not unmentionable disease. It is communicable and is becoming so prevalent that in one state it claims more lives of children under 15 years than infantile paralysis. Syphilis is erroneously considered a disease spread only by sexual relations. Yet life insurance company physicians have determined that 40 per cent of the persons who acquire syphilitic infections are not guilty of lax morals. The disease is becoming one of the major causes of death along with cancer and tuberculosis. It thrives on secrecy, false modesty, and ignorance.

MEDICAL SCIENCE can control syphilis in nearly every case if it is brought under treatment in early stages. This requires that every physical examination of suspected infections should include a blood test. Syphilis once was a word banned by newspapers as unmentionable. Preachers, if they had occasion to speak of it, would use the broader term of venereal disease. Such outstanding men as Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York, Dr. William Allen White of Emporia, Kan., and Dr. John Brown Jr. of the national Y. M. C. A. are urging that the word syphilis be used until every one understands its meaning and the nature of the disease. Because syphilis is communicable, it is not to be assumed that a person who contracts it has been guilty of illicit relations. Yet it is such a loathsome and dangerous that it is little short of a criminal offense not to take necessary steps to control it. Without frank acknowledgement of the menace of the disease, it is likely to be a national health problem at a time when science, if given a chance, is able to check its spread.

UNCLE SAM having nothing better for CWA workers to do, is making a survey of farm housing conditions. There are rural as well as urban slums. Complete data is being gathered on point, chimneys, roofs, screens, interior walls and ceilings, exterior walls, doors and windows and floors. The survey will include about 300 counties scattered throughout the country. . . The survey will reveal a tremendous need. But what can Uncle Sam do about it? Ah, that's the rub!

General Custer had with him some of the most famous scouts in the country, it was not necessary to get his troops together before crossing the river. The scouts knew every foot of the country and every part of the river, therefore Major Elliott crossed with his men where the Indians crossed, and General Custer crossed farther down. The trail was easily followed, the deep snow being broken by the Indians. The soldiers gained steadily. At 9 o'clock in the evening, Major Elliott halted his little advance guard, and waited for General Custer to come up with the main force. They ate a lunch, then with the scouts leading they moved cautiously forward, not allowed to strike a match to smoke. All conversation was in a whisper. Shortly after midnight the troops' Indian guide held up his hand indicating silence, informing the general that he smelled fire. After going a little farther, he came back and reported "heap much Indians." General Custer crept up, looked over a bluff, and there in the reflected light from the snow he could see the dim outline of Indian tepees, stretched away in the distance as far as his vision in the haze could reach. The attack was to be made at day break hence there was some two hours to wait. The cold was intense. Still, the men did not complain. They were now being placed for action. They were divided into four detachments, two of these were sent around below, thus cutting Black Kettle's particular camp off from the main body of camps below. A third detachment was sent down in the valley, off to the west, Custer, with the fourth detachment remaining in the position in which they came, thus had surrounded Black Kettle's camp.

At the break of day, the bugle sounded the charge, the band played, and the battle was on. It was a desperate fight, and Black Kettle was killed early in the engagement, other chiefs taking his place but they were no match for these experienced soldiers. The battle raged with great fury, the troops plunging back and forth, the Indians fighting back with great desperation using guns, bows and arrows, clubs, and everything they could get their hands on.

Custer could now begin to realize the full strength of the foe that he was against him. Just at that time he looked down the valley a short distance, and there came sweeping up the valley some 3,000 warriors to the rescue of their disorganized, and completely beaten fellow warriors. Custer quickly rallied his men, with the audacity characteristic of the man, he plunged right into their ranks. These brave Indian warriors, led by some of their greatest chiefs, quickly were so badly shattered that they fled down the valley.

Custer now realized the odds were greatly against him, called his men together and made note of his

WALKING WITH GOD: The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord; and he delighteth in his way. Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.—Psalm 37:23,24.

WHEAT FARMERS want no "splendid isolation" for America. Most of us like biscuits and light-bread, but we cannot hope to consume the bulk of wheat grown in this country. Therefore the condition of the industry abroad is of local interest. Strange names are mentioned in wheat statistics. But wheat grown by a man in another country is nevertheless wheat and edible. The Danube basin area reports a reduction of about 9 per cent in acreage. Italy is reducing about 6 per cent, Germany 2 per cent, while Czechoslovakia and Greece are increasing their acreage 3 and 8 percent respectively. There will be little change in Bulgaria, Spain, France and the eastern European countries. Weather conditions have been less favorable than here in most European countries except Spain and Portugal.

PROPOSALS to permit the board of education of Texas to invest the permanent school fund in securities at their market value rather than at par and accrued interest must be regarded with gravest caution. Issuing bonds for any purpose is a most costly, albeit necessary, manner of financing. To sell bonds for much less than par would impose a double burden upon taxpayers and magnify the glaring inequities of taxation which now obtain. The permanent school fund of Texas, however, is not philanthropic, but a sacred trust. The board of education must be very careful to determine that the bonds are reasonably certain of being paid out in full.

WATCH OUT for syphilis. It is not unmentionable disease. It is communicable and is becoming so prevalent that in one state it claims more lives of children under 15 years than infantile paralysis. Syphilis is erroneously considered a disease spread only by sexual relations. Yet life insurance company physicians have determined that 40 per cent of the persons who acquire syphilitic infections are not guilty of lax morals. The disease is becoming one of the major causes of death along with cancer and tuberculosis. It thrives on secrecy, false modesty, and ignorance.

MEDICAL SCIENCE can control syphilis in nearly every case if it is brought under treatment in early stages. This requires that every physical examination of suspected infections should include a blood test. Syphilis once was a word banned by newspapers as unmentionable. Preachers, if they had occasion to speak of it, would use the broader term of venereal disease. Such outstanding men as Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York, Dr. William Allen White of Emporia, Kan., and Dr. John Brown Jr. of the national Y. M. C. A. are urging that the word syphilis be used until every one understands its meaning and the nature of the disease. Because syphilis is communicable, it is not to be assumed that a person who contracts it has been guilty of illicit relations. Yet it is such a loathsome and dangerous that it is little short of a criminal offense not to take necessary steps to control it. Without frank acknowledgement of the menace of the disease, it is likely to be a national health problem at a time when science, if given a chance, is able to check its spread.

UNCLE SAM having nothing better for CWA workers to do, is making a survey of farm housing conditions. There are rural as well as urban slums. Complete data is being gathered on point, chimneys, roofs, screens, interior walls and ceilings, exterior walls, doors and windows and floors. The survey will include about 300 counties scattered throughout the country. . . The survey will reveal a tremendous need. But what can Uncle Sam do about it? Ah, that's the rub!

General Custer had with him some of the most famous scouts in the country, it was not necessary to get his troops together before crossing the river. The scouts knew every foot of the country and every part of the river, therefore Major Elliott crossed with his men where the Indians crossed, and General Custer crossed farther down. The trail was easily followed, the deep snow being broken by the Indians. The soldiers gained steadily. At 9 o'clock in the evening, Major Elliott halted his little advance guard, and waited for General Custer to come up with the main force. They ate a lunch, then with the scouts leading they moved cautiously forward, not allowed to strike a match to smoke. All conversation was in a whisper. Shortly after midnight the troops Indian guide held up his hand indicating silence, informing the general that he smelled fire. After going a little farther, he came back and reported "heep much Indians." General Custer crept up, looked over a bluff, and there in the reflected light from the snow he could see the dim outline of Indian tepees, stretched away in the distance as far as his vision in the haze could reach. The attack was to be made at day break hence there was some two hours to wait. The cold was intense. Still, the men did not complain. They were now being placed for action. They were divided into four detachments, two of these were sent around below, thus cutting Black Kettle's particular camp off from the main body of camp below. A third detachment was sent down in the valley, off to the west, Custer, with the fourth detachment remaining in the position in which they came, thus had surrounded Black Kettle's camp.

At the break of day, the bugle sounded the charge, the band played, and the battle was on. It was a desperate fight, and Black Kettle was killed early in the engagement, other chiefs taking his place but they were no match for these experienced soldiers. The battle raged with great fury, the troops plunging back and forth, the Indians fighting back with great desperation, using guns, bows and arrows, clubs, and everything they could get their hands on.

Custer could now begin to realize the full strength of the foe that was against him. Just at that time he looked down the valley a short distance, and there came sweeping up the valley some 3,000 warriors to the rescue of their disorganized, and completely beaten fellow warriors. Custer quickly rallied his men, with the audacity characteristic of the man, he plunged right into their ranks, these brave Indian warriors, led by some of their greatest chiefs, quickly were so badly shattered that they fled down the valley.

Custer now realized the odds were greatly against him, called his men together and made note of his losses. Major Elliott and eighteen others were missing, and he now realized that while the Indians were in confusion and before they could have time to find out how small his little band really was, he accordingly, feigned an attack, plunged down the valley toward the main camp, the Indians fleeing before him in great confusion, and as the sun sank in the golden west, he suddenly retraced his steps, thus eluding the Indians, and the great battle was over. The date: November 27, 1868.

Mrs. W. G. Lyons of Miami shopped in the city yesterday morning.

Mrs. Harry Price and son, Richard, White Deer, were seeing friends here Saturday.

MUCH NEW OIL PRODUCTION DURING LAST WEEK IN GRAY COUNTY

COMPLETIONS NUMBER FIVE IN THIS AREA

PHILLIPS PRODUCER IS BEST—GOOD FOR 1,000 BARRELS

NEW OIL production in the Gray county field totaled 2,089 barrels during the last week. There were five completions. Some of the new wells were brought in more than a week ago, but were not placed on railroad commission test until last week. Other tests have only estimated production.

An unconfirmed report was circulated here yesterday that 12 new locations had been authorized Friday. Five known locations were made during the past week.

The best producer of the week was the Phillips Petroleum company's No. 5 Fox in section 36, block 3, I & GN survey, which had an estimated production of 1,000 barrels a day. Pay is from the granite wash formation. The well is being placed on railroad commission test.

The Dixon Creek Oil company's No. 9 Anderson in section 139, block 3, I&GN survey is making an estimated 450 barrels a day from the granite wash formation. The well is being placed on railroad commission test Monday.

Skelly Oil company's No. 1 Barrett in section 130, block 3, I&GN survey south of Tampa, is flowing at the rate of 300 barrels a day. It will be placed on test. Pay is in the Dolomite formation.

The Southern Exploration company has two wells in section 174, block 3, I&GN survey west of Pampa. The company's No. 3 McConnell tested 363 barrels a day and the No. 5 McConnell averaged 78 barrels a day. Both tests found pay in the granite wash formation.

The has been built for the Anderson-Bean No. 3 Thompson in section 128, block 3, west of Pampa.

The Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company made a location on the Archer in section 139, block 3. The Empire Oil and Gas company made a location in the same section. The same company authorized two other locations.

You will soon be planning your vacation, which will most certainly include the Carlsbad Caverns.

ABC WASHERS - IRONERS

OIL CONTROL IS TIGHTENED BY NEW LAWS

Information on Refineries Not To Be Open to Private Individuals.

AUSTIN, Mar. 10. (AP)—The Texas railroad commission tonight was prepared to bring operation of refineries under its supervision in a campaign to effect strict proration of oil production.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson had given the commission, conservator of natural resources, three new weapons in its effort to stop the present oil production in violation of its orders. Strict prorationists believed the legislation putting refineries under inspection of the commission would provide an important link in the chain of enforcement steps at stopping the flow of "hot" oil.

A companion bill would add to the commission's funds for enforcement, it having hiked the production tax from one-tenth to one-eighth a cent per barrel.

The third bill defined felony with reference to conservation law violations, making it a penitentiary offense, and fixing responsibility on heads of corporations for infractions of the law.

The refinery bill empowers the railroad commission and makes it its duty, from time to time, to inquire into the production, storage, transportation, refining, reclaiming, treating, marketing or processing of crude oil or natural gas, and the reasonable market or consumer demand therefor, in order to determine whether or not waste exists or is imminent, or whether the conservation laws of Texas or the orders of the railroad commission are being violated.

The law makes it incumbent on the refineries to keep accurate records as to the amount of the products produced by them and the source of the oil used. The commission has the right to require refineries to make and file with the commission sworn statements as to the facts within their knowledge or possession pertaining to the production, storing, transportation, refining, reclaiming, treating, marketing or processing of crude oil.

The commission would be empowered to gauge all storage tanks of refineries. The information furnished by refineries to the railroad commission would not be available for private use.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, March 10. (AP)—Cotton trading continued very dull today and prices moved narrowly, showing a slightly easier trend as traders maintained a waiting attitude on the Bankhead bill. The close was 3 to 4 points net lower.

The opening was easier as Liverpool cables came in lower than here. First trades here were 2 to 4 points down, late months showing the most weakness.

REVIEWS and NEWS OF CURRENT BOOKS

Editor's Note—This section of The NEWS is dedicated to the treatment and furthering of literary efforts in Pampa and the North Plains. All bits of poetry, contemporary comment on books, and other authors, and reviews may be submitted for publication, and will be appreciated. The Literary Editor reserves the privilege to reject or edit.

"WINDOWS ON HENRY STREET," by Lillian D. Daid; (Little, Brown, Boston).

A long illness and longer convalescence is responsible for Lillian D. Wald's "Windows On Henry Street." The book was written at Westport, Conn., in the breathing spell thus afforded.

Miss Wald (if identification is necessary) is the founder of the Henry Street Settlement in New York. She is the woman who is chiefly responsible for the public health nurse movement, and the idea of the United States children's bureau is also hers. She has done everything from sending children to the country for summer vacations to maintaining her pacifist in war time.

But none of her extra-curricular activities have taken Miss Wald's attention from the East Side of New York. She has used it, her book proves, as an experiment station.

But she also has lived with it, sympathized with its problems and loved its people. The picture of the social workers for long popular with certain wags—a hatched-faced individual frowning over bi-focals at straggling and hungry waifs—seems not to fit Miss Wald.

The book is filled with ideas about innumerable subjects. Prohibition is one, philanthropists another, child labor, recreation, education and the arts, the technique of nursing and the economics as well—one could go on indefinitely.

King Albert of Belgium will be known in history as the only sovereign in the World War who took personal command of his troops.

"King Albert of the Great War" (Houghton Mifflin company) is the record of his majesty's military activities and personal experiences set down with his approval by his chief of staff, Lieutenant-General Gaiet. The volume is translated and edited by Major-General Sir Ernest Swinton.

Valentine Williams, the British journalist and mystery story writer, advocates an American Scotland Yard of national scope as the most efficient weapon for reducing crime in the United States, and believes that the foundation has already been laid by the Department of Justice's action in prosecuting kidnapers.

"The Clock Ticks On" with a new thriller, "The Portcullis Room" (Houghton Mifflin company).

How a Novelist Works

Phyllis Bentley, of Yorkshire, made her first appearance on the American lecture platform at the Town Hall in New York.

Her subject was Character from the Novelist's Point of View, and she gave a delightful account of "the difficulties and dangers of the humor and the joys of the novelist in creating his characters."

She spoke of the close observation with which the novelist studies people in order to make his characters true to life. "All the tasks of the fitting name for each character; and of the difficulty of keeping a character consistent throughout the story. She also emphasized the need of having verisimilitude (truth in external details) as well as inward truth—a rule to which Shakespeare rose superior in "Julius Caesar," where anachronistic clocks strike more than once in the course of the play.

Miss Bentley's informal style and delightful undercurrent of humor won her hearers from the first, and the lecture received enthusiastic applause.

Her new novel "A Modern Tragedy" ($2.50) published recently is set in Yorkshire among the mill-folk-owners and workers—whom Miss Bentley has known from childhood.

Important and drastic recommendations are made in report, published by Appleton-Century on market regulation. Entitled "Stock Market Control" this volume is the result of a recent and extensive survey conducted by the Twentieth Century Fund, Inc., with Evans Clark, Alfred L. Bernheim, and a large number of associates and experts responsible for the ultimate findings. It is considered, indeed, the most comprehensive non-political survey of its kind that has ever been attempted.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS IN REVIEW AS COLLEGIANS MEET

CANYON, March 10.—The great tragedy of Austria today is enforced independence under the Versailles treaty," said Ernst Ueberall, graduate of the University of Austria, in speaking to the young students assembled on the campus of the West Texas State Teachers college for their fourth Southwest Regional conference of International Relations clubs.

"The second great tragedy," he continued, "has been the loss of the young people of the war generation." This address on "The Problem of Austria," was the high point of the Friday afternoon session and contributed some of the outstanding thoughts for discussion during the open forum hours.

Three score delegates and visitors from colleges and universities in West Texas and New Mexico have gathered here to hear Mr. Ueberall, and the other two leading speakers of the conference, Dr. David M. Maynard, educator, administrator, world traveler, and Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, division assistant of the division of Intercourse and Education of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The annual banquet which was held at Cousins hall Friday evening with Dr. Maynard giving the principal address on the subject, "Recent Political Trends in China." Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the host college, presided and Herschel Coffee, instructor in the same institution, gave the addresses of welcome.

Delegates from New Mexico university and Texas Technological college, with Dr. C. D. Casey of Sul Ross State Teachers college presiding, had charge of the round-table discussion Friday morning on "The Cuban Situation."

Luncheon was served Friday at the college cafeteria, at which the delegates heard short talks from the three main speakers and held group discussions on pertinent problems.

Dr. Maynard addressed the college students at the assembly hour Saturday morning.

Schools sending delegates were University of New Mexico, Albuquerque 12; New Mexico Normal university, Las Vegas, 3; New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, Las Cruces, 11; New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, 2; Texas Technological College, Lubbock, 8; Weyland Junior college, Plainview, 6; Amarillo college, Amarillo, 4; State Teachers college, Silver City, N. M., and Clarendon Municipal college, were unable to send delegates.

Speaking of China, Dr. Maynard said it would in time be an important nation, but that the people were not yet ready for unity. While condemning the military party of Japan, he said that security followed the Japanese flag and that this fact explained why half a million Chinese had rushed into Manchuria since the "puppet state" was founded under Japanese domination.

He expressed doubt that Japan and Russia would go to war against each other immediately. He said Japan was gaining her points without formal warfare and that Russia was not ready for a showdown.

About 140 persons attended the banquet Friday evening.

DUNCAN IN PLAY

CANYON, Mar. 10.—Al Duncan of Pampa was cast in the senior play at the West Texas State Teachers college to be given soon before a Canyon audience. The name of the play is "The Gossip Sex."

Recently a young woman named Lauren Giffilan was given a luncheon at one of the New York hotels. These are the events leading up to the luncheon.

Miss Giffilan was graduated from Smith college a couple of years ago.

Lauren Giffilan has published Stanley Vestal's "Wagon Path," the true story of the Fighting Sioux told in a Biography of Chief White Bull. Mr. Vestal was greatly surprised one day last month to receive a letter from a friend saying that White Bull was dead. Upon receipt of this news, remote inland hamlet in South Dakota where the chief lived. The reply consisted of an indignant denial from the chief himself, written in the Sioux tongue, and accompanied by a translation which read: "Someone has told you a lie I am still on my feet yet. I even enjoyed dancing all night New Year's Eve! Not a bad record for a man 85 years old!"

Girls' Cage Meet Will Be Held at Plainview Soon

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Grady Shipp, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Plainview, is busy these days. Grady has the job of staging the first annual southwestern girls' A. A. U. basketball tournament at Plainview March 15, 16, and 17. In addition to 24 Texas teams that have announced they would compete, entries are expected from several teams in New Mexico.

The Plainview chamber of commerce will award four loving cups and ten gold and twenty silver basketballs to various winners. Rooms will be furnished to teams traveling more than 40 miles to Plainview and all game receipts, less actual expenses, will be prorated among the visiting teams. Dunmitt, Colorado, and Dublin are three of the strongest teams expected to compete.

The southwestern tournament is the first to be held and will, perhaps become an annual affair on the south plains. Plainview has already demonstrated that it is a splendid basketball city and a successful tournament is expected by Shipp and his associates. The entry list is open to any team.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP)—Silver action in congress today had magical results on the wheat market, shooting prices skyward 2 cents a bushel before speculators could catch their breath.

Texans Are Deaf And Dumb Champs In Cage Tourney

BATON ROUGE, La., March 10. (AP)—A rangy, fast-playing Texas team went home tonight with the first Gulf states deaf school basketball championship after going through six games without a defeat in three days of round robin tournament play.

Mississippi was runner-up with five victories and one defeat. Texas clinched the title during the forenoon by beating Louisiana 32 to 22. Mississippi won over Georgia in its final game 34 to 12.

Scores of other contests of the last day's plays in the 21-game tournament were: Alabama 36, Florida 12, Arkansas 24, Louisiana 15, Mississippi 38, Florida 10; Arkansas 25, Georgia 21.

RATED SUPERIOR

Ford V-8 Design Means Fine Car Performance

IT TAKES eight cylinders to give you eight-cylinder performance. If it's less than eight in cylinders, it's less than an eight in speed, power, smoothness and motoring enjoyment.

The Ford V-type eight-cylinder engine has certain definite engineering advantages that increase this margin of superiority.

The real quality of an automobile is invisible—it is hidden beneath the hood. But performance cannot be concealed—it is a definite, demonstrable fact. The Ford V-8 tells its own story of performance in traffic, on hills—on every road. A half-hour behind the wheel will tell you more about its power, safety and comfort than can be put into any written words.

It is not too much to say that you will find it one of the most satisfying cars you have ever driven. There is an additional feature of the Ford V-8 that is of importance to every motorist.

And that is economy. Millions of miles of constant use have proved to hundreds of thousands of Ford V-8 owners that this is the most economical Ford car ever built. It wouldn't be a Ford if it wasn't an economical car to own and drive.

School Children Will Plant 1,543 Trees This Spring In Garden Club Program

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED FOR NEXT SEASON

MRS. CLAYTON CHOSEN PRESIDENT IN ELECTION

AS OFFICERS were elected for a new year, the Garden club Friday made plans for planting 1,543 trees in Pampa this spring. The tree-planting project, special club work for this year, will be carried out through children in ward schools here.

Each will be given a seedling Chinese elm to plant and tend. Inspections concerning care of the trees will be made by club members, and some award will be made the child who produces the most thriving tree.

Mrs. Tom Clayton was elected president for next season, to succeed Mrs. Clyde Fatheree. Mrs. W. C. Mitchell was chosen vice president. Mrs. Henry recording secretary, Mrs. W. A. Bratton corresponding secretary.

To Support Program. Mrs. Robert Gilchrist will be treasurer. Mrs. J. M. McDonald parliamentarian, Mrs. Howard Buckingham reporter, and Mrs. J. M. Saunders representative to the council of women's clubs.

Support and assistance to the summer recreation program sponsored by the council of women's clubs was voted after Mrs. Earl O'Keefe, council representative, explained the plan outlined at a recent meeting.

Roll call was answered with names of flowers suited to a rock garden, then Mrs. O'Keefe led the program on March gardening. She suggested that this month is the time to prepare beds, and plant phlox, the club flower.

Rock Garden Methods. Mrs. W. Purviance spoke of rock gardens and pools. The rock garden, she said, should be copied from nature, avoiding unnatural waterfalls, avoiding water arrangements, artificial water birds or animals in the pool.

Native rocks are best, she continued, arranged so that no concrete shows. Plants should be in proportion to size of the rocks used. She suggested columbine, sweet william, phlox, pansies, and snapdragons as suitable flowers, which can be planted to secure blooming all season.

Violas, flowers not common in this country, were described by Mrs. Jim White. They can be grown successfully here, she said, and are favorites of gardeners who try them.

Mrs. P. E. Leech, discussing gardening for backyards, said that both vegetables and flowers may be grown there for economy. A grassy plot in the center, with beds around it, is the most effective arrangement, she showed by displaying plans and pictures. Any home, no matter how unpretentious, can have a pretty backyard, she pointed out.

Poppy Day Will Be on May 27th

To America, now going forward in a great drive against the economic enemies which have invaded the country, comes a message from the men who fifteen years ago were giving their lives in defense of the country against an armed enemy. It comes in the form of the little red poppy that all will be asked to wear on Poppy day, May 27.

The poppy is a symbol of remembrance for the World War dead. Poppies glowing on every coat on Poppy day will show that we still remember and honor the supreme sacrifice our war dead made for America. A country which remembers deeds such as theirs cannot be indifferent to present calls for patriotic service. As long as the memory of heroes is kept bright, America can be confident that heroic service will come from its citizens in every hour of need.

The women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will bring the poppies on Poppy day, are carrying out a valuable work for the country. With their memorial flowers they are helping keep alive a memory of men who were willing to die that America might live in freedom and happiness. With the poppy contributions, they are helping carry on for the disabled veterans and fatherless families. With the poppy they are calling to us all to carry on for America in the spirit of those heroic men the flower commemorates.

These officers will be installed in May, to take up their duties with the beginning of next term.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher was the speaker. Her theme was teaching children to think for themselves, and independently, and make their own choices wisely.

Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal, spoke of school problems. A number was given by the rhythm band of Mrs. Humphries' room, a piano solo by Inez Baird, six Handing Fairies, by Helen Champion, Peggy Murphy, Allen Smith, and Ray Sutherland; and a puppet show, Jack and the Bean-Steak, by pupils of Miss Cox's room.

Supt. R. B. Fisher, speaking on The Child's School, continued the series of addresses given in the association this year on Developing Character in the Child. He said that beauty in the schoolroom is dynamically related to the pupil's behavior and spiritual growth.

Beautiful pictures adapted to grades represented in the room should be a part of every school furnishing, he continued. Teachers with a real spirit of helpfulness can also contribute largely to the child's growth.

Talk Answers Questions. In his talk Mr. Fisher answered the common queries, why should school buildings be architecturally beautiful, what influence do teachers have on pupils' character, and what valuable lessons may children learn in addition to facts and figures?

Band numbers directed by Estil Foster opened the program after a devotional led by Mrs. Patrick. The band played March Progress, March Ambition, an exercise, and the school song.

Mrs. Irwin's third grade pupil sang "Three Little Sisters," "Boat Song," and "Dream Garden." A violin solo, "Bluebells of Scotland," was another number.

Child Welfare Report. Mrs. J. W. Garman reported on the child welfare board that was organized recently and told of the summer recreational program planned under sponsorship of the city club council.

Mr. Fisher made a report of the last child welfare board meeting and urged the Parent-Teacher association to give as much of their services as possible in the recreation program.

Mrs. McCollm, who presided at the business meeting, announced that $61 was cleared on the recent chili supper, and expressed appreciation to the finance committee, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Duenkel.

The association voted to contribute $5 to the Boy Scout drive now in progress.

Each teacher announced what her room will present at the school carnival Friday.

Mrs. C. P. Buckler, program chairman, was in charge of the afternoon's entertainment and study.

District Chairman Asks That Poetry Be Used By Clubs

Use of more poetry in club programs is urged in seventh district federated clubs by Mrs. E. L. Robertson of Lubbock, chairman of poetry. She has made several suggestions to bring this about.

Year's courses on poetry that she suggests are a Browning study, with "The Barretts of Wimpole Street"; read at an open meeting; a modern poetry course including Texas poets; and a study of women poets.

One poem, as long or short as desired, might be read at every club program of whatever type, or roll call might be answered with poetical quotations.

She also asks that members of clubs be urged to enter district and state poetry contests, that writing of poems be stressed at an original writers' meeting, and that a chairman of poetry be appointed in each club.

PRISON SYSTEM IS STUDIED BY MRS. ROOSEVELT

Condition of Local Jails Is Basis Of Review

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT.
Many years ago when I was a little girl I used to hear prisons talked about, but they meant very little to me until my first trip abroad when in an old castle I was shown a medieval dungeon. From that time on prisons meant to me a black hole in the ground with a grating over the top. The food and drink were let down to the condemned man through the bars, rats scurried to and fro and dirt and filth were everywhere. Later Dickens made his impression and when the stocks and whipping posts, together with the gallows, reminded me of a feeling that in the old days people rather enjoyed the thought of revenge and felt that prison was a place in which society revenged itself on those human beings who had in some way offended against the law.
Then for a long time I thought little or nothing about prisons until my husband had seen something of New York state and the question of crime and punishment was again forced on my attention. I became very much interested in my own state and because the opportunity was at hand I have seen something of late of what the federal government is doing. I realize that my knowledge is slight and that I can only write on the subject from the layman's point of view but there are a few things which I think it seems to me every parent in every community should be conscious of and therefore in this article and those which will follow, I am going to tell you a little of what I have seen.

There are few of us who will dispute the fact that there are some people who, in order to safeguard society, must be permanently taken out of it, but 90 per cent of the people in prison are going to return to some community to live, therefore while prisons must at times be simply places of incarceration, most of them must also be a place where people are preparing to return to society and be better citizens. If not, before long they will commit a later crime and will again be supporting them in prison.
The first prison that comes to our attention and the nearest to us all is our city or county jail. These city and county jails are on the whole the most unsatisfactory of all our prisons. So far I have seen none where I considered that really modern conditions and treatment was being given to the prisoners. Here frequently, boys brought in for some minor offense, are housed with drunkards and old offenders. While conditions vary in different parts of the country, wherever the old fee system is operating and the sheriff receives a daily fee for his prisoners from which he saves his own salary, it is a place of horror.
The state and federal prisons have entirely different problems and therefore should be set up on different lines.
Every citizen can know about the conditions in the nearest jail and the sooner they do the sooner some

Education-Grams

The world's greatest wealth consists of the threefold health—that of body, mind, and soul—Dirty books are germ harbors; therefore, false economy in school textbooks is criminal.
Dr. Bagley of Columbia University says, "Books discarded fifteen years ago as out-of-date or otherwise unsatisfactory have been brought out of the cellar and placed in the hands of pupils."
"No book can be handled daily by school children over a period of several years and remain decently clean."—Herbert Blair.
"The health service which protects childhood against the ravages of disease has been taken from schools."—Education News Flashes.
Dirty books are as disgusting as the common drinking cup, and yet our children are daily exposed to the hazards of the former.

ATHENS WHIPS LAMESA 28 TO 22 TO WIN FIFTH STATE BASKETBALL TITLE

WEST TEXANS LEAD 13 TO 7 AT FIRST HALF

TORNADO LOOPERS LAG AS BATTLES NEAR END OF GAME

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—The phenomenal playing of Hayden Mallory, flashy guard, inspired the Athens Hornets tonight to trounce the Lamesa Tornados, 28 to 22, and retain their Texas interscholastic league basketball championship.

In winning, the Hornets equaled the record set by Oak Cliff (Dallas) high school in 1928-29 when it won the state title two years in succession. The Hornets also gained the distinction of carrying away the championship five times. They won their first title in 1927.

The Hornets proved their scoring power when they came from behind to take the game after the fast-breaking, sharp-shooting Lamesa Cagers had at one time gained a nine-point lead. Lamesa was leading at the end of the first half, 13 to 7.

Then came the final two periods of play and Athens' sensational drive to victory by the decisive margin of six points. By the end of the third period the Hornets, hitting the basket with deadly accuracy, were ahead, 21 to 18, and still going strong.

The Hornets bewildered Lamesa with their bullet passing, their fast-breaking offense that led to easy pot shots from under the basket, and their close guarding when Lamesa had the ball. With three minutes left to play the Hornets had swept ahead with a lead of eight points. Lamesa trimmed this down by making two points in the last minute before the gun.

Through it all, the playing of Hayden Mallory stood out as the deciding factor in the Hornets' victory. His passing, guarding, dribbling and finally, his shooting of five field goals, were the high points of the game.

Jimmy Britt, all-state forward for Lamesa, flashed about the floor in great style, displaying great ability at ball handling and passing but he was unable to score a field goal. The close guarding of Gaston Johns was responsible for his being held in check.

Lamesa reached the finals by an Jefferson victory over Thomas Jefferson high school of San Antonio, 32 to 22. Athens advanced by virtue of a 17 to 12 win over Denton high.

In the play-off for third and fourth places in the tournament, Thomas Jefferson clinched third by defeating Denton, 35 to 15.

Cecil Smith To Play Polo With Texas Club Today

LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP)—The invading Lone Star polo quartet, up to its full 28-goal strength again for the first time in more than a month, will tackle a 17-goal Riviera quartet here tomorrow in an inter-sectional match on the Riviera country club turf.

Capt. C. T. I. (Pat) Roark, former British international playing to an eight handicap, was expected to be the mainstay of the local team which will attempt to match mallet work and riding skill with Cecil Smith, one of the country's three 10-G players, and Rube Williams, an eight handicap player.

TEXAN STARS IN ENGLAND'S OXFORD MEET

Former University of Texas Grid Ace Wins Pole Vault in Cambridge Games.

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

London, March 10. (AP)—Jack Lovelock, New Zealand Olympian who holds the world record of 4:07.6 for the mile, today helped Oxford defeat Cambridge in the 66th annual inter-varsity track and field meet, but his performance indicated that a knee operation last fall had robbed him of much of his speed.

He ran a dead heat with a teammate, A. B. Leach, to take the mile, but in the slow time of 4:23.3 over a track slightly heavy from a pre-meet shower.

"I think the knee will be all right in time," he said later in his dressing room, "and I could have done a little better today."

A teammate, however, expressed the opinion Lovelock's best running days were behind him and at inspection of his damaged left knee showed the injury to be more serious than is generally known.

With Lovelock falling to better the inter-varsity mile mark of 4:17.8 as had been hoped the crowd gave most of its cheers to three former United States college stars who contributed five first places to the seven Oxford won against four for the Cantabs.

Charles Stauwoud, former Bowdoin star, was the one particular hero as he won the high and low hurdles and the high jump. Pen Hallowell, former Harvard great, with a new meet record of 1:54.1 or the half mile and E. M. Elkins, formerly of the University of Texas, with a victory in the pole vault were the other American point scorers. Elkins, who was a football quarterback at Texas and never vaulted before he came to Oxford, also took a third place in the broad jump and F. A. S. Gentry, formerly of the University of Virginia, was second in the shot put. Only first places counted, however.

C. E. Davis of Amarillo transacted business here yesterday.

BOYS LOOK EITHER COCKY OR GREEN IN FIRST SCRIMMAGE

Harvesters Look Promising But Can They Take It? Observers' Question.

Promising, but with a lot to learn, describes the Harvester prospects in their scrimmage against the "Eves" Friday afternoon at Sam Houston school. Coaches Odus Mitchell and Angus Fox had "sinking feelings" at times during the hard workout.

"Will it be possible to get those boys ready for play next fall?" was the question they asked themselves. The scrimmage showed that some positions will have to be strengthened unless much improvement is noticed during the next week or two. Another scrimmage has been set for next Saturday. At that time Don Salsbury, Wayne Kelley, Lloyd Moore, Don Luncean and a few more former stars will be on hand. The lineup Friday was not strong enough to cope with the Harvesters from a teaching standpoint.

Naturally, Harvesters from last year showed up best during the workout, but many of them will have to fight harder to hold their positions from some of the up and coming ex-Gorillas. The "greenies" are showing much more fight than the older boys and that is what will count in a Harvester team this year. It was lack of fighting ability and an I-don't-care attitude that caused the Harvesters to "take it on the chin" last year in several games.

It is no secret that sometimes last fall when coaches were talking at the half, some of the Harvesters had a grin on their faces. A look at the opposition showed tears or a keen determination to get back on the field and fight to the limit. That attitude is going to have a lot to do with who makes the 1934 Harvesters, "so mull over that," you boys who have a tendency to loaf or t/3 the same lightly," says Coach Mitchell.

The Harvester ball carriers looked good at times Friday and the interference was almost satisfactory at points during the scrimmage. The defense was a little better excepting when Albert Lard went on a rampage and then it looked pitiful. Why Albert Lard is not gracing the lineup of some college team is a mystery. He is a finished performer.

Several changes in the lineup are imminent. Practice sessions have been of the experimental variety but coaches have the boys pretty well in mind and know where they should make the best showing.

The center vacancy is worrying the coaches. Leon Noblett is the only experienced boy from last year. He is willing and a fighter but is erratic. The end position left vacant by Jess Patton is also a source of worry. Only inexperienced boys are available. The rest of the line positions have experienced players.

OUT OF THE MASS GROUP INTO THE CLASS GROUP
... for a few dollars more a month!

The whole ideal of our modern American life is built around the philosophy that tomorrow must always be better than today!

For, purely on the basis of what the car itself provides—Pontiac is, without question, the most logical car in America for anyone to buy.

And, finally, it is one of the two most beautiful cars in America today—absolutely regardless of cost.

Certainly, it's a pleasure to own the new Pontiac. For it is unmistakable that the man who drives a Pontiac has gone out of the mass group into the class group.

And yet—it costs practically nothing to take this step. When bought on time payment, the difference between the cheapest cars and the Pontiac is frequently not more than a few dollars a month.

Come in for a demonstration. Let us show you how easy it is to step up to "Straight Eight" ownership!

SYNOPSIS: Judith Lane and Norman Dale just have become engaged. Now they are at work getting the natives of the Rio Diablo out of the way of an approaching storm and flood. Judith is secretary to Tom Bevins, the engineer and contractor preparing to dam the Rio Diablo. Back in Houston, where Bevins' headquarters are, Norman is junior partner of the law firm which handles the Bevins business. Judith is watching over the children and watching her future husband at the same time.

Chapter FOUR THE STORM

Judith paused and looked up. Dale had stopped to give his pack train a rest—"everything quiet?" he asked. "Maybe you'd better move on to the top of the ship rock. Scoggins says the usual high water line is about here and when she strikes—" he lifted expressive shoulders with a glance at the sound-eyed children.

"We've got everything excepting the houses in a relatively safe place. I'll be with you as soon as every one's left the danger line."

He moved on, Judith's gaze following. She thought of Chas's remark that every woman who said "I'm wanted to take him home for keeps..." she didn't blame them. "Women must be intuitively right."

"Tell us another, Miss Lane, tell us a storm-one this time," begged a saucy girl of twelve. "I've dreamed of storms," she explained. "Flashes of heat lightning showed weird mist rising furiously toward them and then a single jagged stroke of lightning cut across the heavens."

"Quickly Judith improvised a rhyme—"Old Mother Summer is sweeping the sky, like to the swoosh As her rain brushes by Look at their handles all joggled and red."

The storm struck with a crash. Judith hesitated a moment and Tommy manfully took up the theme:

"Eyes down y'innies O' all ye struck dead" Judith didn't have time to remark that the quick pelt of rain had brought those below up in a run and parents were gathering their offspring together and pushing them into the shelter of the queer rock formation which loomed like a ship-shaped light house on the rim of the river basin.

"We want our youngsters with us," they explained apologetically and Judith, following them, sensed the primitive in them as children. Toys, books and household goods were hurried in family units.

Judith found herself in a sheltered nook, the lip of the rock

FINAL CAST IS SELECTED FOR PLAY TOURNEY

Hollenbeck, Stevens, Bray To Present 'Smokescreen'

THE CAST to present "Smokescreen" in the Interscholastic League's one-act play contest here in April was selected yesterday morning by five judges from two groups of players.

The winning cast was as follows: Burns, Harold; Smoke, Vernon; Stevens, Katy; Miss Inogene Hollenbeck.

Each of the three students received seven points, and each of the three in the other cast received eight points each. Judges used the low-point system in grading. No single player received all five first places. The contest was one of the closest ever held here in one-act play competition. Two weeks ago other casts were eliminated.

Cher students competing yesterday were C. A. Clark, Jr., Miss Dorothy Harris and Charles Praze. Ben Guill directed the play.

Judges were Mrs. Holt Barber and Miss Donna Laine of Miami, Mrs. Eust Turner, Paul M. LeBeuf and Archer Fullington.

The plot concerns the procedure with which two able and hard-boiled detectives obtained a murder confession from a slain gangster's tough moll. Burns is a snifter, calculating, harsh detective. Smoke is a "cop" masquerading as a "dope-head." Katy is the sometimes hysterical, sometimes vicious dupe of their plot. Students assisting yesterday were Miss Due Dodson and Leon Robinson.

Hazel Mackie shows promise of becoming a fullback. There is a vacancy at one half, and Mackie is the most spirited of the bunch. There has been talk of sending Lloyd Hamilton to that position and putting Maye Nash at quarterback. That change will probably depend on the showing of contestants for the job.

The boys will be put through the stiffest week of training since the call was issued, between now and the scrimmage Saturday.

BERLIN, March 10. (AP)—Dr. Benno Walter, vice-president of the Jewish Grand Lodge B'Nai B'rith of Germany, was reported in authoritative circles today to be under arrest by the secret police.

A declaration he was said to have made in an address at Muenchen-Gladbach, that the German government would not dare to suppress the lodge because of its foreign connections, was understood to be the motive.

B'Nai B'rith has about five lodges in Germany. Its grand lodge is in Cincinnati and there are chapters in the United States and some European countries.

Federal Liquor And Tax Bodies To Be Combined

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—President Roosevelt's ordered consolidation of federal liquor enforcement and taxing agencies today, and a special message asked immediate congressional approval of his action.

Nearly 900 men would be shifted from the justice department's old prohibition division to the treasury's internal revenue bureau by the plan thereby creating a force of 1,600 to handle the liquor problem.

"The need for such consolidation at this time springs primarily from the repeal of the 18th amendment," Mr. Roosevelt told congress.

The tax and enforcement agencies of the government should be reorganized in harmony with the changes which have occurred in the laws relating to the manufacture, transportation and sale of intoxicating liquors.

"The changes made by this order will permit a more efficient administration of the internal revenue laws as well as the laws carrying out the protective features of the 21st amendment."

President Roosevelt's order automatically would become effective within 60 days unless congress should take adverse action. But the chief executive asked a joint resolution making it "immediately effective..." because of the obvious desirability of accomplishing the proposed changes at the earliest possible moment.

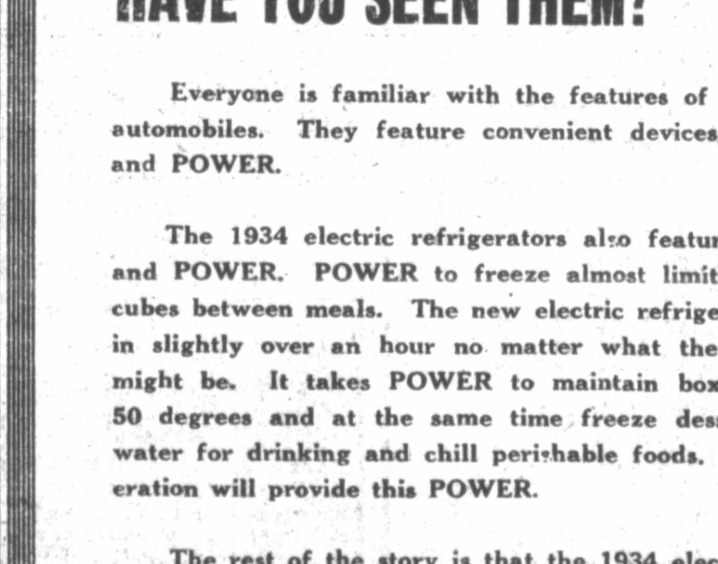

France To Have 6,000 Airplanes In Nine Months

PARIS, March 10. (AP)—A rapid expansion of France's air force was forecast tonight as the finance committee of the chamber of deputies approved a government request for 980,000,000 francs (about $237,000,000) for new aviation equipment in 1934 and 1935.

General Victor Denain, minister for air, spoke in behalf of the project, and told the committee that France will have 6,000 military and civil planes by the end of the present year. At present there are about 5,300 planes in France.

The special air program followed close on the announcement by the government yesterday that it needs a bond issue of three billion francs ($750,000,000) to make France invincible in the air, and on the land and water.

THE NEW ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

HAVE YOU SEEN THEM?

Everyone is familiar with the features of the new 1934 model automobiles. They feature convenient devices, stream lines, speed and POWER.

The 1934 electric refrigerators also feature convenience, grace and POWER. POWER to freeze almost limitless quantities of ice cubes between meals. The new electric refrigerators will freeze ice in slightly over an hour no matter what the outside temperature might be. It takes POWER to maintain box temperatures under 50 degrees and at the same time freeze desserts, ice cubes, cool water for drinking and chill perishable foods. Only electric refrigeration will provide this POWER.

The rest of the story is that the 1934 electric refrigerators will provide this new POWERFUL REFRIGERATION with less electric current consumption than ever before. Prepare for a long, hot summer. Provide yourself with POWERFUL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION.

'SHEBA'S CITY' IS ANOTHER, IS LATEST THEORY

Discovery Might Be City Sought For 2,000 Years

PARIS, March 10. (AP)—A possibility that the "20 towers or temples" two explorers identified as remains of the Queen of Sheba's fabulous capital may be another, even more interesting, city was seen today by an eminent French authority on Arabia.

"Sheba's kingdom and its capital already have been discovered and have been known for many years to have existed in the southern part of Arabia," said Rene Dussaud, curator of Oriental antiquities in the Louvre museum.

"Andre Malraux may have found something else intensely interesting, more interesting than the city of Sheba, about whom many fairy tales and legends have been woven."

Malraux and Capt. Cornignion Moliner, who reported to the French minister that they had flown over the sand-covered vestiges of the great Arabian desert, prepared, meanwhile, to return to the place.

Knowing that death might be the cost of their hazardous adventure but also that their reported discovery was of paramount importance to archaeology, the author and pilot made their plane ready once more at Djibouti, French Somaliland, for another flight to the area, about 1,000 miles southeast of Jerusalem.

But this time they plan to land nearby and explore the mounds and valleys they believe hold the secret of ancient civilization, should anything go wrong in this daring project they know it might cost them their lives—at the hands of fierce tribes in the district, or through thirst and starvation.

If they are successful in their 900-mile trip over the trackless desert they will throw light on a problem scholars have studied 2,000 years.

French archaeologists, meanwhile, awaited further word from them, although some orientologists expressed doubt that Malraux and Moliner had really found the Queen of Sheba's city.
