Told that a member of his family must have milk of magnesia, a Gray county ranchman replied that he had Jerseys, Holsteins, a goat, and some Herefords, but he didn't know where he could locate a Magnesia cow.

The city commission can easily keep the city in water. Just drill for oil!

Many former republicans will never claim the name again. Many conservative persons have come to think Mr. Roosevelt a socialist. So we look for a re-birth of old-time democracy to give some folks a political name.

Every depression has been followed by unusual business opportunities — and chances to buy worthless stock in countless promotion schemes. Before you leap, seek the advice of someone who has jumped or seen costly jumping in the past.

Some of our friends two years ago tried to look into the future with television stock. They haven't yet sighted any dividends.

Maybe the West Fester grouch is heartless; he's hoping for floods and earthquakes elsewhere to make him appreciate a mere sandstorm.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: The voice of politics is abnormally quiet. And, strangely, more persons are seeking the office of governor than any other, and it's the poorest one of the lot. Some folks suggest the need for a curfew ordinance here. Perhaps to keep Dad and Ma from coming in late and waking the children. . . . The ultimate in federal control will arrive when we gardeners have to curtail our growing of radishes. . . . Today's synonym for collusion: (now the law-makers' favorite word): Fraud, guile, look-alike, trickery, chicanery, juggling, bink, swindle, hoodwink, circumvent, decoy, inveigle, gull.

AUTOMOBILES are being greatly improved. Driving is showing no improvement. It is harder to drive a modern fast car safely than it was to operate a less powerful car more slowly. There are challenging facts in today's column. The law of accident averages may catch up with you "if you don't watch out." We "dare" you to read to the end of this discussion.

DRIVE carefully — the world's prize idiot is probably turning the next corner. Drunken drivers, careless drivers, partially blind drivers, absentminded drivers, and divers other kinds are deadly dangerous. Motorists last year killed 29,000 persons and injured 850,000. Collisions between automobiles last year accounted for nearly 45 per cent of all accidents but these resulted in slightly less than 24 per cent of the fatalities. In 37 per cent of all motor accidents, the vehicles collided with pedestrians and caused 45 per cent of the deaths. Two-thirds of the 756,500 accidents were in some degree due to driving errors. High speed was to blame for a 38 per cent greater tendency to dash off into ditches than in 1932.

WALKING along railway high-ways resulted in 2,250 deaths. More than 1,600 children were killed while playing in streets. In fact, the most dangerous thing that a pedestrian could do was to walk a country road in a small degree traveled. Mothers of small children should be concerned in the fact that more than 41,000 little tots below the age of four were injured last year, mostly by toddling out into streets or darting from behind sed cars.

IT is very noticeable to any one who will investigate, that the current automobile speed is far

GIVE DEMOCRACY A CHANCE

America has set a pace in progress for the world under a democratic form of government. The principle of this government is too sound to demand apology. Despite all of the obvious abuses which have been heaped upon our government there is no obvious reason why we should scrap the system and begin to experiment wildly with something radically different.

There are sufficient principles set out in the American constitution to justify all the steps of the new deal. We are in a position right now to realize that what we need is to scrap some of the barnacles of greed, graft, and selfishness off of democracy in order to give our system the same chance to succeed that it enjoyed under its founders.

We have wasted enough energy, of late, arguing the pros and cons of capitalism, socialism, communism, fascism and heaven knows what other kind of ism, to bridge the Atlantic. It has got us, as far as anyone can, precisely nowhere, and it's about time we turned to something else.

Prof. John J. Mahoney of Boston University hit the nail right on the head in an address the other day before the National Education association in Cleveland.

"I want to insist," he said, "that the way toward a better social order is a road toward a better democracy. Democracy is peculiarly the American way of life, and has been ever since the beginning. We don't need to chase after any new isms. Let's improve what we already have."

What, after all, is a better social order? Isn't it, as Prof. Mahoney asserts, simply an order "in which the people possess an understanding of, and are actuated by, those motives which make for better living together and for better management of our democracy?" And isn't that a goal toward which we can all strive without bothering our heads about isms?

It is perfectly foolish to say that American democracy has failed. We have hardly so far, made a whole-souled attempt to make it work. To let the troubles of the last few years persuade us that we must find our salvation in some ism or other—in socialism, fascism, or what you please—is to take the lazy man's way out.

It is to hunt for some formula which will relieve us of the necessity of working and sweating and thinking our way out of the mess into which we got ourselves.

To work together to improve what we have, to find some way of working and living together which will be the best thing for the greatest number of people, and at the same time developing all this within the framework of our existing institutions—here is a cause worth all our brains and our energy.

If we try it whole-heartedly, and fail, then—and not before then—we can start worrying about the isms.

PANTHER LURES COLT TO DEATH BY LAZILY WAVING LONG TAIL

MIDLAND, Mar. 13 (AP)—Panthers still call the deer's favorite food with patience and cunning. The big cats range the widest mountains between here and the Rio Grande. Their screams are heard at night by many cattlemen who have lived in the mountainous sections for years have never seen one of the animals. John Hill, foreman of an Eagle mountain ranch for 15 years, said Hill has found considerable evidence of their depredations but professes to have seen only three cats and their only companion. Panthers he said seldom travel in country where markets of their passing might be left but keep to rock floes or crags where hunters and dogs would have difficulty in following.

Fred Moore, who makes a business of hunting the cats with his dogs, killed it last year. He said the cat's call like a big horn sheep, of which there are many in the mountains of Southwest Texas, but prefer colts to other food. When ready to kill a panther creeps as near the colt as the sparse screen of vegetation allows stretches out against the ground and sticks its tail up, lazily waves it back and forth to attract the attention of the colt. With the curiosity of its kind, the colt eventually reaches the hiding place of the panther and suddenly is caught in the grasp of a powerful forefoot of the panther which twist over on its back and kills the colt with a single sweep of knife-like rear claws.

Moore told T. D. Mize, Midland man who recently shot a panther 5 feet, 8 inches long, that the cat when hunted seldom move away from dogs more than three times. They eventually leap in great bounds to a high recess where they look down at dogs and huntmen. Moore shot one recently that fell 75 feet, it weighed 216 pounds.

OUT OUR WAY By WILLIAMS

TRAINING WITH THE MAJOR LEAGUES

RED SOX
SARASOTA, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Ever hear of Julius Solters of Pittsburgh? Well, you're likely to before the baseball season is far gone. Julius arrived at the Red Sox training camp just in time to be the sensation of the first full practice session. He tapped a homer over the fence, then denied the left field barrier with a wallop that would have cleared the wall at the Sox's new ball park in Boston.

INDIANS
NEW ORLEANS—Joe Vosmik provided the spark in the Cleveland Indians' first serious batting practice by sending two new baseball's sailing over the distant left field wall of their training grounds. Earl Averil, Glenn Myatt, and Dick Porter managed to hit a few over the right field barrier, but none of their drives were as hefty as Vosmik's.

REDS
TAMPA, Fla.—It seems the Cincinnati Reds may have a southpaw pitcher after all. Manager Bob O'Farrell, who lost his left-handed hurler when the veteran Eppa Rixey retired, is reported to be considering the addition of Joe Shaute, a free agent who formerly played with the Cleveland Indians.

STAINBACK
Stainback, young outfielder, and Amie Galan, rookie infielder, will be in the Chicago Cub lineup when the exhibition season starts Thursday against Los Angeles. Manager Charley Grimm wants to see more of Stainback's speed and plans to station him between Chuck Klein and Babe Herman. Galan will operate at second base.

WHITE SOX
LOS ANGELES—A trio of rookie right-handers, John Pomorski, Otto Nicholas and Dale Mills, were assigned to pitching duty today as the Chicago White Sox resumed their series with Los Angeles, Angels. Three games have been added to the Sox schedule. They will meet Seattle at Santa Barbara March 21, and play the Pasadena Merchants March 31 and April 1.

SENATE WILL KILL 'GREENBACK BONUS' BILL, LEADERS SAY

WILL VOTE ON WATER TREATY ON WEDNESDAY

MAJOR DEFEAT MIGHT BE SUFFERED BY PRESIDENT

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER.

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The democratic leaders expressed confidence today that the $2,500,000,000 "greenback bonus" bill will never reach President Roosevelt's desk.

Although the house passed the measure late yesterday by the slim margin of 295 to 125, the administration officials said the senate will kill it. The president plans to veto the bill if it gets to him.

Backers of the bill, which calls for new currency to pay the ex-soldiers, were firm in their predictions that the senate will approve it. The senate was less worried about the bonus issue today, than about the St. Lawrence treaty, which president Roosevelt favors. Even democratic leaders conceded the president might suffer a major defeat when the ballot is called tomorrow.

Despite its actions of yesterday, the house still has a veterans' problem on its hands. This is the independent offices bill, laden with senate amendments calling for $354,000,000 expenditures for veterans and federal workers.

House democrats voted in caucus to bind their membership to send the measure to a senate-house conference without instructing the conferees. Without instructions it was figured a compromise could be obtained suitable to the White House, which frowns on expenditures of this magnitude.

Immediately after the caucus, however, more than three score democrats excused themselves from being bound thus. They said they had previous commitments. Leaders added this number to about 70 members who were absent from the meeting. Counting possible republican strength, they figured there was an outside chance their plans might still be overthrown.

FORMER RANGER, NOW BLIND, TO RUN FOR CONGRESS IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 13 (AP)—Once a crack Texas ranger, Ernest L. Reno who was blinded as the result of an accident when he was 30 years old, has fought his way to a successful business and now is seeking election as Oklahoma's congressman-at-large.

A pet on the back and words of encouragement from friends led Reno from the streets where he was selling newspapers to the proprietorship of the state capitol cigar stand.

As a candidate for congressman-at-large he will oppose former Governor Henry S. Johnston of Perry, now a state senator, the incumbent, Will Rogers, former Moore school teacher, and State Rep. John Batson of Marietta.

Born in Albany, New York, Feb. 16, 1883, Reno went to Texas as a boy and later joined the Rangers. He soon became widely known for his expert marksmanship and horseback riding.

Selected as one of the five best rangers in the state, he was given a position in the intelligence division of the United States government.

The young man attracted attention of federal officials and was given a position in the intelligence division of the United States government.

When the world war ended he decided to leave public life and enter private business. Returning to the southwest he stopped in Oklahoma City, a rapidly growing town, and purchased a cafe.

Business was good and Reno soon became known as a well-to-do citizen.

Then, one day as he was hastily opening a carton containing bottles, one of the bottles exploded and flying glass destroyed his sight.

Reno spent his savings in a vain attempt to restore his sight.

Without funds but still retaining the courage of the Texas ranger, Reno returned to Oklahoma City and began selling newspapers on the street. Hoping some day to beat back to the business world he saved every penny he could, sometimes missing his meals.

Friends encouraged him. Officials of the state commission for the adult blind arranged for him to open a news stand in the county court house. He soon was saving for a better business. A few years later he was permitted to open a cigar and confection stand in the state capitol.

Governors and janitors have been his friends and patrons. He has become intimately acquainted with business and political leaders from all parts of the state, and knows hundreds of persons by the sound of their voices.

Someone suggested Reno run for congressman-at-large. He announced recently.

After marrying the niece of a state supreme court commissioner several years ago, Reno adopted two children.

"If I've gone a bit ahead of others with a similar affliction it is because of encouragement of friends," Reno explains.

Crop Loan Terms Are Outlined By Dallas Officials

DALLAS, March 13 (AP)—Farmers intending to increase acreage or production in opposition to the agricultural adjustment administration program need not apply for emergency crop loans from the farm credit administration's $40,000,000 fund, Charles W. Sherrill warns.

Sherrill, manager of the Dallas crop production loan office, which serves Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, said a farmer may apply for a loan if he cannot qualify for credit elsewhere, if he has a justifiable need for credit and is cooperating with the production control program of the agricultural administration.

"The maximum amount which will be available to any one farmer this year is $250 and the minimum $25, he said. The interest rate will be 5 1/2 per cent per annum.

Before a farmer can secure a loan, he must first obtain a statement from the county production council that he does not intend to increase his acreage or production in opposition to the control program. If there is no council in his county he must offer satisfactory evidence that he is cooperating with the program.

"Applications for loans of from $25 to $150 may be made directly to the emergency crop loan office at Dallas provided the applicants do not have sufficient security to obtain the loans elsewhere," Sherrill said.

"A farmer applying for a loan of $150 or more must first make application to the production credit association serving his county. Rejection of his application by that other credit is not available and the farmer then may apply to the emergency crop loan office."

Biology and child psychology are increasingly popular subjects in Oklahoma, the state librarian reported.

There are about 11 head of livestock in Montana for each man, woman and child in the state.

PITCHERS ARE WEAKEST MEN IN ATHLETICS

ALTHOUGH, MACK SAYS HURLERS MAY COME THROUGH

(Note—This is the first of a series of stories analyzing at first hand the prospects of major league baseball clubs.)

B ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.

FORT MYERS, March 13 (AP)—The impression that a flock of earnest young athletes named "Joe" are trying to plug the big gaps in the varsity lineup of the Athletics this year is rapidly being dissipated.

Clustered around the tall, spare gray-haired figure of baseball's patriarch, Connie Mack, are a number of hard hitting group of players headed by the great Jimmie Fox and a youthful pitching staff that includes some real possibilities despite a notable lack of big league experience.

For Mack it's another great adventure in reconstruction. The burly figure of the home run king, Fox, in camp for the first time after ending his holdout siege, is the only other real reminder of the last of the tall tutor's championship teams. Conspicuously absent for the first time in a decade are the broad-shouldered, aggressive Mickey Cochran, now the pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, and the pitching "big three," Walberg, Earnshaw, and Grove.

"Grove and Cochran are the men we will miss most," says Mack. "The others were no longer any real help to us. I've got some promising young pitchers but it's impossible to predict how they will come thru. Our catching, too, is uncertain now with Mickey gone but otherwise I think we have a good club."

"We will get some real hitting and we have some fine young players in both the infield and outfield. I think we will be in the race this year because there's a better balance of power among the clubs in the American league than we have had for several seasons. The Senators are very good but teams like the Tigers and Red Sox are so much stronger that it will not be easy for us to stay on top. I would not be surprised to see Cochran's Tigers win the pennant."

For the first time in years, Mack will not even have a rookie south-paw, much less a season's experience to carry on the traditions of Wadell, Plank, Grove and Walberg. So far out on front line experience is concerned, he has only two real holdovers, Merritt (Sugar) Cain, the broad-shouldered Georgian, and Roy Mahaffey. The best prospects otherwise for starting jobs include John Marcum, the pride of Eminence, Ky.; Bill Dietrich, recalled from Montreal; T. (Tim) McKeithan, a former collegian who has shown some promise, and Harry Matuzak, from Oklahoma City.

Joe Casarella, from Jersey City, also has caught Mack's eye. He will give thorough tests to young Al Benton and Vernon Kennedy. The former decathlon star, both from Oklahoma City. Bob Kilne, who came from the Red Sox, broke an elbow ice skating this winter and is not yet available.

The run producing strength of the Athletics will have to work over time to offset the uncertain outlook in the battery department. Thyr's speed and punch in the outfield, consisting of George Johnson, George Cramer and slugging Ed Coleman.

Lou Finney and the veteran Bing Miller are in reserve. Ray Radcliffe, obtained from St. Paul, may need more seasoning.

From the cornerstone of the club's attack, will have Bib Williams at second base, Eric McNair at short and Pinky Higgins at third as his infield mates. Higgins, the last of the holdouts, had not yet reported and George Detore, from Toledo, is filling the gap temporarily. Higgins led the league's third basemen last year and he is needed to rouse out one of the ables and handiest hitting infielders in either league. "Rabbit" Warstler, formerly with the Red Sox, has the utility role.

A court action in San Mateo, Cal., revealed the Burt Burdette, which included the entire San Francisco peninsula in Spanish California days, had dwindled to a single acre.

too great for the present range of night visibility afforded by head lamps. Engineers say that head lamps on most cars are inefficient for any speed above 35 miles per hour.

CONSIDER the enormous amount of energy in the modern motor vehicle. If a man had the energy of a modern size car going 40 miles per hour he would be able to throw a 160-pound shot nearly ten miles. The record for the shot-put is around 53 feet. Engineers tell us that a car going 40 miles per hour is four times as capable of inflicting damage as one at 20 miles. Danger increases rapidly with speed. If you must run into something at 40 miles per hour consider that you might as well drive your car off the Schneider hotel. And if you collide with a stationary object at 50 miles per hour it would be about the same as if you drove off of the Worley building. To drive at 50 miles per hour and collide with another car going the same speed it would be worse than driving with speed off the Herring hotel in Amarillo.

IN the last ten years, automobile accidents have killed 273,100 persons of record and disabled many more that are not recorded. Of this huge total, nearly 125,000 have been killed in the last four years. Accidents are increasing in number and deadliness. Before the ten-year period ended it is indicated that around 315,000 persons will have been killed and 10 million persons injured. Stated differently, the accident death toll will exceed America's record of soldiers killed during all the history of this country and it surpasses the American fatal battle casualties in the world war more than six times. The number of persons injured non-fatally from automobile accidents during the same period will likely exceed by more than 50 times the AEF's record of soldiers wounded non-fatally in action.

Doctors Give Creosote for Chest Colds

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds, and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of colds and coughs, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (Adv-A)

Camp Fire Week Turns Attention To Work of Girls

Attention to the meaning and purpose of the Camp Fire Girls organization is being called this week by programs celebrating its founding in 1912. Pampa Camp Fire Girls are observing national birthday week with daily programs.

Aimed to do for girls what the Boy Scout movement was doing for boys, the Camp Fire organization has spread to more than 250,000 girls in 22 countries. While the name indicates an organization devoted to the outdoors, Camp Fire also emphasizes homecraft, and preparation for business and citizenship.

Law of Service
The theory of the organization is expressed in its law, its watchword, its desire and ideal. From the seven points of the law seek beauty, give service, nurse knowledge, hold on to health, glorify work, and be happy, comes the slogan, Give Service.

The watchword, Wholesome, is formed from letters of the words, work, health, love. Desires of the three Camp Fire ranks express a philosophy of the comradeship of friends, the love of man for God, and the desire to share with others the good and beautiful.

Indian symbolism was chosen in this original American organization. Each member chooses an Indian work expressing her ideals and ambitions, then works out by individual symbol to decorate her personal belongings and ceremonial gown.

Camp Fire offers to all girls, no matter how differently they live, the enthusiasm of doing things together, the pleasure of developing her finest self, and of doing things well when alone. It aims to develop the girl's capacity for friendship and give her friends, to increase her understanding and appreciation of nature, to interest her in work as a means of achieving happiness, and to teach her the meaning and reward of service to others.

OLDHAM NAMED TO HEAD GRAY COUNTY SINGERS

Next Convention To Be At Merten Again

Election of John Oldham of LeFors as president of the Gray county singing convention, and choice of Merten school building as the next meeting place featured Sunday's convention, also held at Merten.

The race for the presidency was a close one in which Mr. Oldham won by a small majority over O. E. Ward of Pampa. M. L. H. Bass of Hopkins, who has been president for almost two years, asked that he be relieved of the office because of the press of other duties.

Another spirited contest was between Merten and LeFors for the next meeting, which will be on April 8.

A large crowd was present. Songs were directed by J. M. Miller, J. B. Millsap, Mr. Ward, and Mr. Bass. Special numbers were by Mr. Oldham, his brother and wife, and J. C. Lapiro of LeFors.

The benediction was by the Rev. Milton Leech of LeFors. Other ministers present at part of the program were the Rev. C. E. Lancaster and the Rev. Mr. Barrett of Pampa.

Classes Work in High School P-TA Membership Race

Students will work this spring to fill the membership list of High School Parent-Teacher association, with entertainments promised as their reward.

To classes which secure the enrollment of 50 per cent of their mothers, the association will be hostess with a picnic or winter treat. The home room which has the greatest per cent of mothers enrolled will be given a theater party.

The aim is to enlist all members possible this year, in response to a request from the state organization to aid in holding Texas' record for the greatest gain in memberships, and also to be ready to start next term's program with a full enlistment of parents.

Kentucky Editor Will Face Solons In Contempt Case

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 13. (AP)—The case of Vance Armentrout, editor charged with contempt because he declined to tell the name of a person who wrote a letter to his paper, will go before the Kentucky house of representatives tonight or tomorrow.

A special committee heard testimony and arguments at a hearing that ended early today. The house, if it finds Armentrout guilty, may impose, under the law, maximum penalties of six months or $1,000 fine or both.

Armentrout, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, has said he promised to keep confidential the name of the person who wrote the letter which was signed "a member of the general assembly." Legislators held that it cast aspersions on members of the house.

Armentrout's attorney, Cary Tabb, contended the main issue is "freedom of the press."

Hopkins P-T. A. To Hold Election in Meeting Thursday

Judith Lane

By JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Judith Lane and her fiancé, Norman Dale, are returning on a trawler from the Rio Grande where Judith's employer, Big Tom Bevins, has completed surveys for a dam that will reclaim the Rio Grande valley and aid its impoverished settlers. Now Judith finds that Norman, who is junior partner in the Houston law firm that handles the legal business of Bevins' big engineering and contracting firm, insists that she give up her position when they are married. Judith agrees to speak to Bevins, and finds that he is not surprised.

Chapter Six ORDEAL FOR JUDY

Tom Bevins went on. "You forget I've known Norman all of his life, lived in the same block with him since the day he was born. He is as generous as can be with things he likes, but he won't share anything he loves with anyone."

"I remember a woolly lamy he had when he was a little like. He loved that thing, wouldn't put it in his play box for fear my daughter Madeline would get it. And of course that was the very thing she wanted... but this isn't getting to work is it, Judy?"

Judy shook her head. She had almost forgotten Big Tom had a daughter. She spent so much of her time away at school, or abroad. She would like to have heard more of Norman's childhood.

"About your leaving me," Bevins went on. "I had supposed you would want to be free as soon as our survey reports were completed, so I made arrangements for young Goodwin to take your place. Of course I'm selfish enough to have wanted you in the field while the dam was under construction, but then I've changed my mind."

"We could wait until it was finished," offered Judith.

"No—no," protested Bevins quickly. "I want to see you married to the boy. I couldn't have wanted a finer lad for my own son—"

She stopped as though startled by an idea, then went on—"sort of feel I'll be doing. I'm a favor seeing his daughter safe... his voice dwindled off and he looked out across the intense blue of the Gulf as though he were seeing far beyond Judith's physical vision.

Judith watched him, grey eyes tender. Next to her father's memory she loved Big Tom. They spent so much time together. Unhappy at home, he would wait until his wife and daughter started one of their innumerable trips, then would visit Judith's apartment, content to mingle with her friends.

She was heartened by the thought that he might use her home, hers and Norman's, as a retreat from his loneliness.

COCOA'S STORY IS SUBJECT OF CLASS LECTURE

Mr. Blackwell, a Hershey representative, gave talks last Tuesday to the home economics classes about cocoa. Mr. Hershey, his factory, his town and school, he left samples and booklets for the students. His story of cocoa and its greatest developer ran somewhat as follows:

In 1510 Cortes found a cocoa tree. He took some of the beans to England, and from there it spread all over the world. It did not do very well, however, because the tree does not grow successfully except in the tropical regions, which are north and south from the equator to 75 degrees. Under favorable conditions, the tree blossoms in the spring with from two to three thousand blossoms which have no scent; these are only about seven mature. As these pods weigh from one to one and a half pounds, they are located on near the trunk of the tree. These pods are cut off the tree and split open. Each pod contains from fifty to forty-five beans. The beans are then taken and put into a large container and left from two to eight days to ferment, depending on the quality of the bean. In ciders days they were put under the sun for this purpose. After this has been done they are scrubbed until all adhering matter is removed. They are then ready for drying. Years ago, and in some countries, yet, the bean is spread out doors on a canvas and left for three days; today, however, the drying is usually done by machinery. They are then ready for shipment. From 125 to 225 pounds are placed in each bag, and the large jute bags are carefully sewed and marked as to the quality of the beans.

After being shipped to the factory, the beans go through a series of machines. First is the roasting machine. This is the hardest machine to operate, for if the beans are roasted too long or for too short a period, they are not good. Men are trained for this position as long as seven years. The rest of the machines the beans go through are easy enough to operate that any person of ordinary intelligence could operate them. After leaving the roaster, they are separated. There are three parts to the bean. First is the eye, which is no good as it is not digestible, and if mixed with cocoa, ruins it. Second is the hull, which is sold for fertilizer, and third is the pod from which we get our forms of cocoa, chocolate, etc.

Foot to Speak At Assembly on Wednesday Morn

Rev. Gaston Foote, pastor of the First Methodist church, will speak to the high school assembly tomorrow morning. Rev. Foote is well known to high school students, having made several encouraging talks at pep rallies in the football season. The band will furnish musical numbers.

DID YOU KNOW?

The high school program for the P-T Friday night in the City Auditorium is going to be well worth attending.

The essay contest sponsored by Mrs. V. E. Fatherson on "The Worthy Use of Leisure Time" has attracted a great deal of interest, and the winners will probably be announced the latter part of the week.

Imogene Hollenbeck, Vernell Stevens and Harold Bray won out in the one-act play finals Saturday.

The seniors have decided Miss May can crowd more into one hour than anyone else they ever saw.

There will be no H-Y meeting this week.

THE LIGHTS WENT OUT

CHICAGO, (AP)—When police answered an emergency call they found Harry Gardner lying on the floor of an apartment building, with Mrs. Wilma Sanborn, 25, standing over him with a "jimmy" in her hand. She said she found him trying to pry the telephone coin box off the wall outside her apartment and that when he pointed the "jimmy" at her, pretending it was a gun, she hit him with it. Gardner, revived by police, said he didn't know anything about a telephone coin box.

All he remembered he said, was that all the lights suddenly went out.

Sound motion pictures have just been introduced into Ethiopia, the first showing, which included an animated American cartoon, taking place in the presence of the emperor and his court.

Latin Contest Winners Named

Harriet Ann Rabb and Helen Marie Jones have been announced the winners in the first and second year Latin essay contest. Harriet Ann's subject was "physicians in Ancient Time" and Helen Marie's was Caesar as an "Early Explorer." It will be remembered that Helen Marie won first place in the Inter-scholastic League Latin essay contest at Amarillo last year.

Second places in the local contest were won by Marie Saums in the first-year group writing on "Ancient and Modern Beauty Culture" and by Katherine Snell in the second year group writing on "Roman Courage and Valor." The contest was sponsored by Miss Cox in connection with the Latin work. The winning essays will be sent away to compete in higher contests.

"DON'T LET ANYBODY TELL YOU THAT RUNNING AN OFFICE DOESN'T TAKE HEALTHY NERVES, TOO, MR. JAFFEE"

Irving Jaffee, Olympic Speed Skating Champion, says: "It takes healthy nerves and plenty of wind to be an Olympic skating champion. I find that Camels, because of their costlier tobaccos, are mild and likable in taste. And, what is even more important to a champion athlete, they never upset the nerves."

John W. Groat, Office Manager, who hails from Detroit, Mich., says: "An Olympic champion speed skater needs healthy nerves—but a man can't handle a tough office job without healthy nerves, either. Many hours of nagging details and the pressure of work all tell on the nerves. I smoke Camels all day long... and I never have to think of nerves. Camels have the finest flavor, too."

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Sooner or later today most of us come face to face with jangled nerves.

If nerves are a problem with you, now is the time to check up on all habits that may affect them—your eating, your sleeping, your recreation. And get a fresh slant on your smoking by trying Camels. Much is heard about tobacco quality, so always remember this:

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

Note the way "edgy" nerves become a thing of the past. You can smoke more than ever, without a sign of "cigarette" aftertaste. You'll be delighted to find that Camel's costlier tobaccos do make a difference—to your taste, and to your nerves!

CLOSE BATTLE BETWEEN BORGER, PAMPA TEACHERS TONIGHT IS FORESEEN

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED FOR 2 CAGE TILTS

1935 HARVESTERS WILL MEET CABOT SHOPS

WHAT? Basketball games.
WHERE? Pampa high school.
WHEN? Tonight at 7 1/2 o'clock.
BETWEEN— Pampa Harvesters prospects and Cabot shops followed by Pampa Faculty and Borger Faculty.
ADMISSION— 20 cents for children and 35 cents for adults.
WHY? To raise money to purchase sweaters for high school teams of the two schools.

LIGHTNING fast basketball will be seen at the gymnasium tonight when Pampa and Borger faculty quintets clash. The teams are composed of former college stars. Practice has knitted them into well-balanced machines.

When the teams met in Borger last Tuesday night, the score was tied at 32 to 32 with 10 seconds to play. Then college training came to the front when the Pampa teachers looped the winning field goal. Odus Mitchell, Harvester coach, was high individual scorer on the floor with 17 points.

Other Pampa teachers likely to see action tonight are Munroe, Denard, Selby, Savage, Herrod, Kelley, McDonald, and Gull. Four of the five starting Pampans are graduates of West Texas State Teachers college.

Borger has a team of youngsters that are not long out of college. A boy by the name of Goode is a star forward, along with J. C. Knowles, former professional, and C. S. Acker, Borger football coach and a former Texas Christian university star. Schulley and McDonnell round out the Borger combination. McDonnell is the big center who jumps against the diminutive Mitchell.

Fans will be wise to be on hand early to see the first game. The Harvesters prospects have been practicing and are looking good. Coach Mitchell has not named a starting lineup but it will probably be Woodward and Rose forwards, Green center, and Dunaway, and Scott guards.

A packed gymnasium saw the first faculty game played in Borger. The game is declared to be one of the best of the season.

All-State Cage Team Selected

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—At the conclusion of the fourteenth annual Texas interscholastic league basketball tournament here Saturday, sports writers and game officials, Ziggy Sears and Dusty Boggs, selected the following all-state team for the Associated Press: Olin Cobb, forward, Athens. Jimmie Britt, forward, Lamesa. George Sturdivant, center, Lamesa. Jude Smith, guard, Lamesa. Hayden Mallory, guard, Athens.

Woman's Billiard Tricks Astound

Miss Ruth McGinnis showed Pampa billiard players why she is women's national professional billiard champion when she gave an exhibition at the Pampa Athletic club yesterday afternoon. More than 100 interested spectators watched the little professional make a billiard ball do tricks that "just aren't in the book."

After running string after string without a miss, the professional gave an exhibition of trick shots that could be classed as amazing. The little white ball is meant to stay on the table and hit the rest of the balls but Miss McGinnis made it hop obstacles, circle balls and generally sit up and do tricks.

A number of other well known professional players will appear at the Pampa Athletic club during the next few months.

STOEFEN'S AIM IS NATIONAL TITLE, DAVIS CUP TEAM BERTH

Californian Expects To Win Outdoor Singles Championship This Year.

BY ROBERT CAVAGNARO, Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—Lester R. Stoeffen, lanky Los Angeles tennis star, is out for big game.

No less than a place on the Davis cup team and the national outdoor singles championship are the goals at which he aims.

"It may sound like shooting at the moon," Stoeffen said today at the seventh regiment armory where he is competing in the U. S. indoor championships, "but it's nothing like that. I'm very keen for tennis this year, keener than I've ever been. My game is improving from day to day."

"I have been practicing all winter."

The 23-year-old player, nationally ranked at No. 3 and holder, with George Lott, of the national doubles title, is one of America's rapidly rising stars. He possesses a tremendous service, a powerful forehand, and has an uncanny knack of slicing shots to the side.

The visiting Frenchmen were arrayed against formidable opposition in today's third round matches. The veteran Jean Borotra, who played poorly yesterday, but managed to skim past Ernest Koslan, an unranked New York university sophomore, found Frank Bowden, seeded eight among the Americans, blocking his way.

Christian Bousiss tackled George M. Lott Jr., Chicago; Paul Feret opposed Dr. Eugene McCalliff, and Andre Merlin, holder of the French indoor title, faced Berkeley Bell who had yet to lose a game in this tournament.

Gregory Mangin, the defending champion, and Frank X. Shields drew comparatively tame opponents in Melvin H. Partridge and William Thompson, respectively. Sidney B. Wood Jr. was matched with Simon Miller.

First round matches in the doubles championship were set for late afternoon service, a powerful fore-

PARRIS, MADDEN AND DUNIVAN TO BOX HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Kenneth Saxton, Reputed To Be Fine Slugger, To Meet Dunivan in Final.

Kenneth Saxton, Oklahoma City boxer, will appear in a Pampa ring Thursday night when he meets Mickey Dunivan, local boy. Saxton is the boy who defeated the champion of Fort El Reno last Tuesday night in a great match.

The Oklahoma City boy comes highly recommended by Chief Parris and Kid Granite. Both say he is a slugger of the "first water" and that the Fishman had better be on his toes or it will be too bad for him. Dunivan is a great defensive boxer with good footwork. He doesn't pack a hard punch but uses a good jab.

The semi-final will see Earl Madden, Spearman boy, meeting Dick Hedgspeth, Perryton slugger, in a six-round battle. Both boys are rugged sluggers with little science. They are tough and can take all kinds of punishment.

Chief Parris, Oklahoma City Indian, will appear in a six round special event with Kid Stamper, local boy. Stamper will outweigh the Indian by 10 pounds but the Oklahoma City boy should be able to outspeed Stamper.

The card will open at 8:15 o'clock with a good six-round preliminary.

OTIS CLINGMAN IS INJURED IN LOSING MATCH

FAVORITE IS MAULED BY HOLLYWOOD MOVIE STAR

Seven whip wrist-locks, a body slam, and a Japanese crab hold not only cost Sailor Otis Clingman the second fall but will keep him from the mat for several weeks.

Don Hill, movie star from Hollywood, was on the business end of the holds that laid Clingman low in the second fall. The sailor came back for the final fall but it lasted only a minute.

The sailor took the first fall in 11 minutes with five Sonnenbergs, "taking off" from the ropes, followed by a drop-toe hold. The Hollywood seik started as the aggressor, and never let up. He had the advantage while the wrestlers were on their feet because of his height. Both used leg holds freely but mixed in a few headlocks and short-arm scissors. Clingman used a rolling split but Hill evened matters with a pin-wheel.

The bout became a nightmare at the five-minute mark when Hill got a leg seissor and Clingman reached for the same hold. Hill, however, had the leverage and Clingman took four minutes to break loose. Unable to stay on his feet, Clingman launched a flying tackle from his knees. This hurt Hill badly and the sailor had enough power left to win the fall.

Hill started the second fall like a whirlwind. He put Clingman in three headlocks and followed with a short-arm seissor and another pin-wheel. Clingman came up with a split and both worked on arms and heads with lightning speed.

Then came the sudden end. Hill drew Clingman off balance and whipped him over his head with a wrist lock. Clingman was hurt badly when he landed across blocks under the mat. Hill gave the sailor a few more "rides" and then pinned him in 17 minutes with a Japanese crab hold.

Attending physicians advised Clingman not to return for the last fall, but the wild sailor tried his best. He was the victim of two more whip wrist locks but had enough power left to try for a drop toe hold which failed. Hill then got another Japanese crab hold and Clingman had to pat the mat. It was 10 minutes before the sailor could be moved to his dressing room.

Bob Penton, Canadian wild man, was unable to appear on the card. Penton, when examined yesterday afternoon, was found to have three cracked ribs and the examiner refused to let him go on the mat.

Pat Garrison, substituting for Hill, was no match for Benny Wilson, Brownwood bronc buster. The going was wild and woolly with Wilson winning in 16 minutes with Japanese crab hold.

Wilson is a finished wrestler, powerful fast and with a knowledge of the game. He put Garrison in so many holds that the local bad boy didn't have time to get rough. Garrison was game and battled Wilson with everything he had. It was rumored that Wilson will meet Hill next week and if that materializes, it should be the battle of the year.

Joe Bauer won the preliminary from Lobo Brown in 16 minutes. The going was rough most of the fall and Bauer won with a slam and another after using a forearm to Brown's jaw a half dozen times.

The largest crowd of the year witnessed the thrilling matches.

First Lady Plied With Wild Lilies

SAN GERMAN, Puerto Rico, March 13. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt set a breathless pace for her companions again today in a tour of the Puerto Rico needlework district.

An 8 a. m. start from San German, where she spent the night; a picnic lunch by a roadside; a considerable pause at Ponce; a 5 o'clock reception at San Juan—These were mere highlights on the day's full program.

The first lady of the United States, heralded by Spanish criers, headed what had the appearance of a triumphal procession through Arecibo and other points yesterday.

Enthusiastic groups hailed her everywhere. A group of ruralites barred a mountain pass until they could reach Mrs. Roosevelt's automobile and present wild lilies.

"Why should they—the poor lambs?" she remarked, when a group of shy but curious children answered a question by saying they had never heard the name "Roosevelt."

Dr. Brinkley May Broadcast on Sea

MIAMI, Fla., March 13. (AP)—Possibility that a floating broadcasting station on the high seas may shortly come into existence was seen here today through the purchase of the 150-foot yacht Shadow by Dr. John R. Brinkley, whose stations at Millford, Kansas, and Villa Acuna, Mexico, have been silenced.

The yacht, one of the most luxurious privately-owned craft in the country, was purchased for an unannounced price from Carl G. Fisher, prominent Florida real estate developer.

It is now in drydock here, undergoing repairs. Dr. Brinkley is said to be in Del Rio, Texas.

Radio station officials here said they had received reports the yacht is to leave shortly for Texas, probably Brownsville, where radio equipment, owned by Dr. Brinkley is to be installed aboard the craft.

Dub Williams of Fort Worth, former Pampian, is transacting business here for a few days.

DR. J. W. HUNT, PRESIDENT OF McMURRY DIES

Methodist Minister Was Well-Known in Panhandle

ABILENE, March 13. (AP)—Funeral services were arranged this afternoon for Dr. J. W. Hunt, founder and president of McMurry college, who died of a heart ailment last night at his Abilene home, at the age of 59.

The varied and colorful career of Dr. Hunt included work as a cowboy on the West Texas plains, as a circuit rider, as a newspaper editor, and as a Methodist pastor and finally as an educator.

He was afflicted with heart trouble for several months and last Saturday he suffered a stroke of apoplexy.

Rites were planned at 4 p. m. today from the St. Paul Methodist church, of which he was once pastor. His body lay in state in the college auditorium from 10 a. m. until the hour of the funeral.

Dr. Hunt was born on the Kaw reservation, Indian Territory, where his father was a government physician. At the age of 5, he came to Estacada in what is now Crosby county, Texas. When he was 17, he went to Denver to learn the printer's trade.

Upon returning to Texas, he worked on a Lubbock county ranch for a time and then entered newspaper work starting at Estacada. Later he edited papers at Lubbock and Plainview. In 1903 he turned to the ministry and became a circuit rider. For two years he traveled through the six counties north of the Canadian river.

He was licensed to preach in 1906, at Plainview, and later served as a pastor at Dumas, Chanung, Snyder, and St. Paul Methodist church here. While pastor here, he founded McMurry college, which opened in 1923.

An ardent prohibitionist, Dr. Hunt was active in the dry fight against repeal of the eighteenth amendment. He was a director of the Texas allied forces for prohibition. He was a Mason and a member of the Abilene Lions club.

which were represented at the meeting. It was understood that all of the organizations represented will act as sponsors for the new body. It was voted to make the mayor, the superintendent of city schools, and the president of the ministerial alliance permanent members of the board. Supt. Fisher was appointed temporary chairman and instructed to call a meeting within the next two weeks. Reports which pledged support were given by the delegates. George Briggs presided.

A nominating committee recommended the election of the vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, after Philip R. Ford, Mrs. Earl O'Keefe, the Rev. John Mullen and Farris Oden said when nominated at different times for the chairmanship that it would be impossible for them to accept the office.

The group did not consider a specific program for adolescents or for children on the border-line of delinquency. However, it was indicated this problem will be studied when a program is planned. Supervised play during the summer months in north and south Pampa was discussed by the speakers. A trained director might be employed to supervise the recreational activities of the city's children, it was said. A preventive rather than a corrective program was emphasized.

Mrs. A. B. Lemox of LeFors was a shopper here this morning.
