There's this comfort in the Paris pawnshop scandal: If the pawnshops are so important, the French must not be so rich after all, having such a need for cash-of-the-moment.

Texas Tech professors are off to study the Yaqui Indians. It would be more news if the Yaquis would journey up here to study us Texans. But they would be wasting their time; they don't have our civilization to contend with.

So Almee is married now only to her work. Getting old, we guess. But she still packs 'em in where she speaks.

What's the matter with us? Are we going down in history as the only city where Jack Dempsey didn't referee a fight?

You can't tell which way some of these new cars are going, but old ones with the same trouble are more dangerous.

The Philharmonic choir is rehearsing a court trial to be done in music. Maybe that's the key to our much needed enforcement of law in this country.

As an "In" Jim Ferguson finds that most big state problems have two sides. As an "Out" he never could see but one.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: You can praise Pampa schools and Pampa students and feel that you are on safe ground. They are smart youngsters. Their activities—bands, orchestras, plays, art, vocational work, etc.—mark them as bright, hard-working, builders of ability. Student programs will be frequent from now until the end of the term. Determine now to hear many of these entertainments. Stomach trouble is becoming so common that nearly every other man you meet talks about diet—not to retain his youthful figure but to retain his health. Armies travel on their stomachs no more than do business men. . . . Maybe we kidded Anarillo Lions a bit too hard the other day, but we assume they can take it as well as give it. . . . Antonyms for healthy: S. Kish, morbid, down, malady, pathologic.

OBSERVERS of the present congress, including our own Gilmore N. Nunn, noted that a remarkable thing about congress was its lack of remarkableness. Just as the previous congress had been well content to let Mr. Roosevelt worry over the depression crisis, so has the present one been unwilling to risk the wrath of the people in an election year by providing stiff opposition to administration measures. Few lawmakers have objected to their rubber-stamp status and republican outbursts have been pitiful in regard both to wording and reaction. There are many Americans who have quarrels with NRA and other initials, but they are content to take their differences to the president and not to the Republican National Committee. Meanwhile, the republicans lack leadership, need a general program, and seem unable to agree upon any line of attack. All of which is proof that Mr. Roosevelt continues to be America's No.

FAILING MOTORS AND SNOW STORM ARE BLAMED

WHITESBORO, March 9 (AP)—Four young men, heavily armed, robbed the Whitesboro National bank of about $13,000 today and fled toward the Red river bottoms after releasing three officials they took along as hostages several miles north of Whitesboro.

They escaped in a sedan and were seen a short time later at Sadler, a small town 17 miles northwest of Whitesboro. J. Ben Davis, sheriff, said the men apparently were in two automobiles at that time.

Entering the bank about 9:30, an hour and a half after the opening, one man guarded the front door with a pistol, two more took up posts at a rear door and the leader, described as red-headed and freckle-faced, walked up to the cage where W. L. Estes, cashier, was counting his money.

The man laid a pistol over the edge of the counter and announced: "This is a holdup." Ignoring Francis Bass and Leona Cunningham, stenographers, and P. J. Canady, a customer, the men then ordered Estes, Sears Anderson, an assistant cashier, and L. D. Price, a vice president, into an automobile parked one door west of the bank and sped north.

The robbers released Price and Anderson a half-mile away but took Estes two miles farther. As they released him, the four men dumped a gallon bucket of tacks in the road and continued their dash north.

Jimmie Marshall returned yesterday from a business trip to Sayre, Okla.

Merten Carnival Set For Tonight

Civic club members of Pampa are extended a special invitation to the indoor carnival to be sponsored by Merten Parent-Teacher association this evening at Merten school.

Games, a program, and refreshment booths will be opened at 7:00. Women are asked to bring supplies, candy, and popcorn will be on sale in the booths.

Proceeds of the entertainment will pay for auditorium chairs.

JAPAN SEEKS MEASURES TO FIGHT TARIFF

REPUBLICAN ADVOCATES F. D. R. BE GIVEN TARIFF CONTROL

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—With the days drawing imperceptibly toward the March 14 vote on the St. Lawrence treaty with Canada, its advocates returned to the wars again today in the senate.

Chairman Pittman of the foreign relations committee presented an army engineer's report that the giant waterway would do no harm to the Mississippi inland waterway system. Opponents of his cause showed no sign of being convinced, however.

Quick adjournment of the house blocked a prospective republican attack on army flying of the mail.

"Another army flier has just been killed," said Representative Edith Norse Rogers, seeking consideration of a resolution for discontinuance of this army task.

Speaker Rainey would not recognize her and soon thereafter majority leader Byrns obtained adjournment.

Byrns expressed the view to reporters that the "house in its present mood" would be unable to agree upon a compromise on veterans' compensation acceptable to the president.

He and Rainey agreed, nevertheless, that the house would not override a veto.

A republican—and chairman of the tariff commission at that—went Roosevelt follower in congress, one letter in advocating that the tariff be given even more tariff changing power than he asked.

Before the house ways and means committee, Robert Lincoln O'Brien, a Hoover appointee to head the tariff commission, advocated letting the executive put articles off and on the free list, a point not embraced in the bill through which the administration wants to maneuver a foreign trade revival.

TOKYO, March 9 (AP)—The government of Japan, confronted with the prospect that several European governments may restrict imports of Japanese goods, sought weapons today with which to fight the anticipated trade wars.

The cabinet introduced in the imperial diet a "trade protection act" which would enable the government by executive order to raise and lower tariffs and limit or prohibit imports and exports.

LATE NEWS

ATHENS, March 9 (AP)—Physicians who examined Samuel Insull, Sr., reported to the ministry of the interior today that the former Chicago utilities operator, wanted on charges of embezzlement, could travel if precautions were taken to guard his health.

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today vetoed a bill (H. B. 95) that would give towns and cities of from 500 to 2,000 population authority to fix rates for utility companies and otherwise regulate them.

Tried as Killer

Heavily manacled, Harry Pierpont, Dillinger gang member, branded trigger man in the slaying of Jess Sarber in the Dillinger jail delivery last October, is shown here on trial for the murder in Lima, O. Confering with him is his attorney, Jessie Levy, of Indianapolis. Pierpont boasted to newspaper men, "I'll be out before the trial is over."

GOVERNOR HAS DOUBTS ABOUT LAW'S WORTH

RAIL BODY AND ALLRED TOLD TO ENFORCE NEW ACT

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today approved a bill, passed by the special session of the legislature, placing refineries under supervision of the Texas Railroad commission, enforcer of proration of oil production in Texas.

She also signed bills increasing the production tax from one-tenth to one-eighth of a cent per barrel, proceeds to be used in defraying expenses incident to enforcing conservation laws, and making proration violations a felony punishable by imprisonment.

In approving the bills the governor said she did so "not unmindful of the force of the reasons urged for the veto of these bills."

"I share the view of many people who are informed about matters pertaining to the oil industry that there is a serious doubt as to whether the passage of these bills will accomplish the result desired to bring about a stricter and more effective enforcement of our proration laws," she wrote.

"If the powers conferred by the legislation are not vigorously exerted we may expect a continuation of the hot oil conditions in East Texas."

"But in view of the fact that the railroad commission and the attorney general have insisted upon the passage of these bills and have urged the contention that their passage is necessary to complete an effective procedure against violations of our proration laws by what is known as hot oil producers, and as the railroad commission and attorney general are by law given the power to enforce these laws and it is made their duty to enforce them, I have decided to waive all doubts in the premises. Let us indulge the hope that with the new powers thus conferred, the oil business will yet be stabilized for the benefit of the state and the industry as a whole."

OIL MEN of the Panhandle, including both independents and major groups, have thrown their influence against the veto of the "hot oil" bill being demanded by independent refiners of East Texas.

Joined by commercial organizations, Panhandle oil men have sent telegrams urging the governor to sign the measure. The bill would subject refineries to inspections by employees of the railroad commission to determine whether oil were being run in violation of railroad commission orders. The commission is urging approval of the bill.

It is generally believed here that the bill is necessary to prevent runoff of "hot oil" to bolster federal oil statutes, and make possible enforcement of the oil code of fair competition.

Members of the Panhandle enforcement committee of the oil code today urged that East Texas "radicals" who opposed every step toward stabilization of the industry were behind the demand for a gubernatorial veto.

One independent oil man said that no labor group was justified in trying to retain employment with refineries that sought to disobey all rules of proration, fair competition, and the oil code.

Fear that veto of the bill would weaken proration, break the price of oil, and result in more unemployment in the Panhandle field was mentioned.

Mrs. Hank Brining of LeFors was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

R. C. Sturgeon returned last night from a business trip to Childress.

PRESIDENT HAS LONG BEEN IN SCOUT WORK

Local Campaign Chairman Is Urging Similar Loyalty To Movement Here.

President Roosevelt, who recently issued a national "Call to Service" to the Boy Scouts of America by radio from the White House has a record of thirteen years of active connection with the Boy Scout organization.

This fact was pointed out today by Jack Cunningham, chairman of the finance campaign for the movement now under way here.

"If the president, busy as he has been all his adult life, believes in Scouting strongly enough to give much time to it through 13 years, certainly no business man or other citizen ought to have any doubts about its value," Mr. Cunningham said.

"We need men with time to lead the boys, but right now the very life of Scouting in this section depends upon voluntary contributions to its support."

After his war-time service as assistant secretary of the navy had ended, Franklin D. Roosevelt returned to New York to embark upon a business career. The Boy Scouts of Greater New York needed a new and vigorous leader and they went to Mr. Roosevelt. He finally agreed to accept the chairmanship of the Greater New York Committee on Scouting, organized to reorganize and rehabilitate the organization so that thousands of city boys might have troops and camps and meeting places.

Once enlisted, he worked tirelessly and by the end of two years had more than a hundred of New York's prominent business and professional men aligned with him. To make their work more effective, they organized as the Boy Scout Foundation of Greater New York in 1922.

With Mr. Roosevelt as its first president, a post he has since continued to hold. They paid off $50,000 in debts within a year. The Foundation then assumed the responsibility of financing Boy Scout work throughout Greater New York.

From his earliest days as head of the Foundation, Mr. Roosevelt had a vision that the Scouts of New York City should have a great camping space as their own property. The Scouts had used Camp Mountain park.

Five years ago, the dream became a reality. President Roosevelt gathered about him a large group of men for an intensive campaign. Within a few months they raised a large sum and the vision became an actuality in the purchase of 10,600 acres of woodland in Sullivan county, N. Y.

TACKS ARE SCATTERED IN ROAD TO HALT PURSUIT

DAYTONA BEACH, March 9 (AP)—Private Ernest B. Bell was killed near here today in the crash of an army bomber mail plane within a few minutes after it had taken off from the local airport headed south.

Lieut. W. M. Reid, pilot, and Floyd Marshall, a private, were injured. The motors failed and the plane fell in a heavily wooded section two miles south of this city.

Since the army took over the mail flights, seven other army pilots have been killed. The seventh fatality came near Chardon, Ohio, this morning when Lieut. Otto Wienecke, flying from Newark, N. J., to Cleveland, crashed in the midst of a snowstorm.

Private Bell's skull was crushed. Marshall suffered a broken arm and bruises and was rushed to the hospital. Lieut. Reid was the least seriously hurt of the two injured. He refused to go to the hospital for an examination until he had made a report of the accident to authorities in Jacksonville and Miami.

The plane, a twin-motored craft, took off from here at 8:45 a. m., bearing mail for Miami. It was the regular army airmail plane on the route. It had not had time to gain altitude after rising from the local airport when its motors failed and it crashed into the woods just south of the Daytona-DeLand road. Private Bell was the plane's mechanic, Private Marshall its navigator, and Lieut. Reid its pilot.

Four bags of mail carried in the plane were saved and turned over to the local postmaster to be sent to Miami by train.

OUR FRIENDS ARE YOURS

OUR FRIENDS are your friends. Our friends want to know about you; we want you to know about them.

The Pampa Daily NEWS is proud of the friends it has in all the neighboring counties. Its circulation growth within a radius of 65 miles has been nothing short of phenomenal during "the depression." In building up a great family of subscribers in this territory, THE NEWS is building intercommunity friendships of benefit to all concerned.

Seven years ago THE NEWS became a daily publication. Tomorrow will be its seventh birthday. On March 10, 1927, THE NEWS circulated chiefly in Gray county. It began the task of daily printing news of Pampa and Gray county in order to weld the people into movements for the common good. Then it looked beyond.

Today THE NEWS alone serves the Northeastern Panhandle adequately on each day of publication. Distant subscribers to THE NEWS can take pride in Pampa achievements, just as Pampa is proud of the people in this territory.

For the coming seven years, THE NEWS pledges all its resources to Pampa, Gray county, and this territory, to the end that all the residents shall know and like each other and that mutual projects shall always have a champion. THE NEWS believes that the Northwestern Panhandle has problems and interests peculiarly its own, and this newspaper is and will increasingly be the voice of this part of Texas.

In this endeavor, for THE NEWS, for Pampa, for Gray county, and for the whole territory, there can be no direction but FORWARD. Let's go!

Custer Battle on the Washita River

(Editor's note: The NEWS has frequently carried authentic accounts of frontier conditions and Indian battles. Here is another one. If you are interested in such lore we suggest that you clip and file this one, which is written by a Pampa resident.)

By T. J. ELDRIDGE

THE YEAR 1868 was a memorable one in Indian warfare along the frontier settlement of the plains country of the west and northwest. General Sheridan was making Fort Wallace his headquarters, and with all the force at his command he could not prevent the Indians from making raids on the settlements along the fringe of civilization. The few settlers that missed being being tortured and murdered fled to the nearest government post for protection and food.

It became plainly evident that the Indians of the numerous tribes were united, that they were making a desperate effort to defeat and drive out the settlers. A report came to the fort that 9 persons were killed in the immediate vicinity of Denver, and that the country around was in a state of siege. The Indians growing more arrogant and fierce in their attacks on the whites. At Pawnee Fork, a number of persons were murdered, scalped, and burned.

Winter was approaching and the wary Indians slipped away from the northwest, and the soldiers' activity against them, moved over into the Indian Territory, and made their rendezvous on the Washita river, near where the little town of Cheyenne, Okla., now stands. When these wandering tribes had gathered into their winter quarters on the Washita, there were 8,000 or more of them. Arapahoes, Kiawahas, So-manches, and Apaches. They were led by old Black Kettle, and a number of others of the fiercest chiefs of the day. They located in the hunters' paradise, and the turkey were plentiful the buffalo was still in evidence, and small game abounded everywhere.

There was plenty of timber along the beautiful Washita river, so that fuel was easily obtained for the long strings of camps that extended up and down the river valley for 100 miles. Up to this time, the Indians had not been disturbed in winter, but when they ran away from their atrocious barbarity, General Sheridan promptly decided upon a winter campaign against them. He very quietly called in the widely scattered troops from all over the plains and mountain country, moved his headquarters to Fort Supply, then Indian Territory, then sent out his most reliable scouts to spy on Black Kettle and his associates on the Washita.

Doubtless the Indians believed that they were immune from attack in their snug winter quarters. They had gathered there from north, south, east and west, intending, it was said, to make a concerted attack on the whites in the spring. The seventh United States cavalry, consisting of about 800 men, well

COTTON CONTROL BILL IS EXPECTED TO PASS ON SATURDAY

HEIMWEHR MAY GAIN MAJORITY IN GOVERNMENT

Prince May Become More Important Than Dollfuss

VIENNA, March 9. (AP)—Reports in usually well-informed circles today that Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, leader of the fascist Heimwehr, is about to be named minister without portfolio, aroused intense interest.

Richard Steidle, commissar of propaganda, will become minister of propaganda, according to these reports.

The special significance of such a move would be that the Heimwehr (home guard) thus would be given a clear majority in the Dollfuss-Fey-Starhemberg government.

A minister without portfolio, impartial observers were quick to point out, might conceivably become more important than Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

In this connection, special interest attaches to a speech by Prince Schoenburg-Hartenstein, undersecretary for defense, to the officers at the Linz garrison.

"We of the army still have much to do," he told the military leaders. "Above all we must support our leader, Dollfuss, in his policies. Dollfuss is our leader. It is high time for us all to show our colors. We recognize no other leader."

Heimwehrmen swear allegiance to prince Starhemberg, while the armed organizations of the fatherland front acclaim Dollfuss as their commander-in-chief. Vice-Chancellor Emil Fey is a leader in the Heimwehr.

PRODUCTION IS LIMITED TO 10 MILLION BALES

COULD FORCE FARMERS TO HELP STABILIZE LINT PRICES

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—Debate on legislation involving a new principle—the Bankhead-Bulkley cotton control bill—was pushed in the house today with a vote on passage due tomorrow.

Supported by the administration, a large percentage of cotton growers and textile manufacturers, the measure is expected by its advocates to pass despite certain republican opposition.

The bill limits cotton production in the season beginning August 1 to 10,000,000 bales; provides authority for the secretary of agriculture to restrict production next year, and for the president by proclamation to continue it for a third year if necessary to bring about stabilization of prices.

Representative Bankhead (D., Ala.) co-authored with his brother, Senator Bankhead (D., Ala.), explained that the objects of the bill are:

"To reduce to normal size, the abnormally excessive cropover of cotton.

"To give effective application of the trade law of supply and demand so as to stabilize the price of cotton.

"To restore and maintain the price under the law to the place where it belongs in the price level of general commodities, and thereby reasonably assure to cotton producers a fair exchange price for the chief agricultural commodity of the cotton belt."

Chairman Jones (D., Tex.) of the agriculture committee said, however, in recommending its passage that the bill was designed to make effective cooperation with the voluntary acreage reduction program under the farm adjustment act by "preventing those who do not cooperate from destroying the cotton adjustment program."

The measure levies a tax of 50 percent of the value of cotton produced by farmers in excess of their quotas when the surplus moves into interstate commerce.

DRAFT EVADER WANTING F. D. R. TO PARDON HIM

Writes President A Letter From Germany

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—Greyer Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft evader, exiled since he escaped from military authorities in 1920, has appealed to President Roosevelt for a pardon.

His letter to the president, recently made known, was referred to the department of justice, as are all such requests.

Dated at Weinsberg, Germany, the letter said:

"I write this letter in the fond hope that your Christian spirit and your great sense of justice will overcome all doubts as to wisdom of granting me a pardon for offenses against the draft law and the military."

"In spite of the fact that I have been deprived of my citizenship all these years, I still feel myself an American and could never swear allegiance to any other country. I always preferred being a man with a country rather than become

Cutting Hours Is Not Likely For Some Time

The NRA faces an extended siege of negotiation before its goal of slashed working hours can be attained.

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—The NRA moved today to have the law on persons accused of breaking its rules. At the beginning of a week-end lull in other NRA activities, aides of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson seized the opportunity for a quick expansion of a central code compliance staff.

This augmented personnel plans to expedite cases for prosecution. It is in line with Johnson's announcement that President Roosevelt wants a more stern enforcement of Blue Eagle rules.

Club Prepares To Grow Asparagus

Members of Sunshine club at Skellytown made an asparagus bed under the leadership of Miss Bessie Lee Sikes, home demonstration agent of Carson county, Tuesday in a meeting with Mrs. E. Hatchell.

The bed was 4 by 6 feet in size and about 2 1/2 feet deep, and throwing such articles as tin cans in the bottom for drainage, dirt and fertilizer were put into about three inches from the surface. In rows 2 feet apart furrows were made about six inches wide.

Plants were placed 18 inches apart in the furrows and covered with two inches of soil. As the shoots begin to grow, Miss Sikes said, dirt must be pulled gradually around them until they are covered to a depth of nine inches.

Asparagus, continued the demonstrator, is well adapted to Texas climate as it withstands heat and drought well. Year-old plants of the Mary or Martha Washington varieties are best as they are rust-resistant.

Refreshments were served to Miss Sikes and Mmes. Willis Puckett, Hefner, J. C. Simms, Gus Shofner, J. R. Stansel, Lily Stafford, O. L. Satterfield, M. L. Roberts, E. Now, I. C. Looman, J. C. Kennedy, E. F. Hutto, F. S. Genet, H. Campbell, W. S. Boyd, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be on March 20 at the Methodist church.

MISS COOK IS HONORED WITH BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Conley and Mrs. Turner Entertain At Rose Home

Honoring Miss Mary Ellen Cook, bride-elect of Willard Webb, Mrs. Don M. Conley and Mrs. E. L. Turner entertained at the home of Mrs. T. E. Rose Wednesday afternoon with a shower and bridge.

White was stressed in the party setting. The dining table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Tall white tapers burned in candelabra at either end, and a shower of lilies of the valley hung from the chandelier.

Miss Cook cut and served the cake. Mrs. Conley poured coffee, and Mrs. Turner assisted in serving the ice cream arranged in individual molds of tiny slippers.

Mrs. Turner presented Miss Cook with a white umbrella from which hung cards telling in verse of the gifts hidden around the room.

Guests were Miss Cook; Mmes. Arthur Swanson, Gilmore Nunn, A. B. Goldston, W. J. Smith, Arthur Teed, Clyde Falther, Clarence Barrett, D. D. Cochran, E. H. Danosa; Misses Virginia Faulkner, Margaret Buckler, Louise Walstead, Frances Finley, Dorothy Doucette, Jackie Jones, and the hostesses.

BPW Banquet Is Open For Guests

The annual public relations banquet of the Business and Professional Women's club, to be given Tuesday evening as a feature of business women's week, will be open to Pampans who wish to attend.

Reservations must be made tomorrow with Mrs. Alex Schneider, public relations chairman. The club is inviting heads of other civic clubs and other citizens as special guests, but anyone interested is welcome to make reservations.

On the eve of the special week, members of the Pampa club have been invited to attend a luncheon sponsored by the Amarillo club tomorrow at Amarillo hotel. It will be one event of a regional conference of international relations clubs, convening at West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, with representatives from West Texas and New Mexico colleges.

Church Plans To Be District Host

Plans for entertaining more than 150 young people from Christian churches of Northwest Texas are being made by the First Christian church, which will be host to a World Fellowship meeting on March 23 and 24.

The program has been arranged, and will include Ray D. Six, missionary to China; Myron Hopper, new national superintendent of young people's work; R. C. Snodgrass of Amarillo; Charles M. Ross, regional secretary of religious education, and Mrs. Bessie Hart, director of the world fellowship meetings, as speakers.

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—A suggestion that "during the emergency all corporations earnings which are reinvested in capital goods shall be exempt from federal taxation" was advanced today at the NRA durable goods code authority meeting.

New Hardwater Soap Ends Body Odor Leaves No M.S.

Scientific tests have made clear at last why body odor—after one bathes with ordinary soaps—soon boils up again. The sticky, sluggish lathers cannot work into the pores, and so cannot remove the embedded stale perspiration. Instead they clog the pores with curds.

The new and positive way to beat body odor is deep-pore cleansing. One soap will do that, Kirk's Castile, made by America's largest soap makers. In the hardest water, it breaks instantly into a searching lather. It cleans deep into the pores, actually removes the embedded perspiration—then rinses out completely and in a flash. Thus it ends body odor at its source—the only effective way.

This 100% pure vegetable oil soap is odorless—leaves no offensive M.S. (medicine smell)—is stimulating to the skin. Available everywhere in a big generous cote, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is now selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

LOVELY SPRING FROCKS ARE SHOWN IN GARDEN SCENE AT ANNUAL B. P. W. STYLE REVUE

PARADING through a grassy walled garden scene, models last evening displayed latest fashion arrivals in Pampa to a large crowd at La Nora theater in opening the Business and Professional Women's club's fifth annual style show.

Clever dance numbers directed by Miss Kathryn Vincent, the distinctively arranged fashion parade with piano accompaniment by Miss Jackie Jones, and a screen comedy of more than usual merit made an entertaining evening for the crowd.

The showing will be repeated this evening, beginning at 8:30. Shows showing men's and women's spring wear were Murree's Inc., L. T. Hill's, Levine's, J. C. Penney Co., Donk's, Violet Shoppe, Jarrett's, Carter's, and Kees and Thomas.

The flower-decked stage, set with garden furniture and lighted with Chinese lanterns, was a lovely background for the showing. Sports clothes were shown first, then afternoon wear.

Evening dress was shown in the final scene, depicting a wedding party. The models entered in couples, lining each side of the stage. Miss Alene Gregory as the bride took the center position. Her two charming little train bearers were Lila Louise Hill and Martha Lou McCullough.

On Honeymoon

Miss Louise Pearce, pictured above as she appeared four years ago when chosen Pampa high school beauty, was married Wednesday afternoon to Aurba Bowers, Hemphill county ranch owner. The couple will live at the ranch after returning from a honeymoon trip.

THE MARRIAGE of Miss Louise Pearce, former Pampa high school beauty contest winner, and Aurba Bowers, wealthy Hemphill county ranchman, on Wednesday afternoon was announced today.

The couple left immediately on a honeymoon trip to western points but will return probably next weekend. They will live at Mr. Bowers' ranch home.

Only members of the bride's family, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Pearce and two sons, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Mumford witnessed the ring ceremony impressively performed by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church. The wedding was at the Pearce home on East Foster avenue. Miss Pearce was attractively dressed in a going-away suit in a grey ensemble.

The couple left following a lunch for the group.

Mrs. Cordell Is La Femme Club Hostess

Mrs. I. P. Cordell was hostess to La Femme bridge club at her home Thursday afternoon. High score was won by Mrs. Neil McCracken.

Lovely decorations and refreshments were in the spring colors of green and white. Individual cakes and tea were served to Mmes. W. H. Dennis, C. S. Alexander, McCracken, and the hostess.

Mrs. Alexander will entertain the club next week.

Shower Is Given Mrs. Ed Burch at Home of Isbells

Mrs. Ed Burch, who was Miss Mary Catherine Stokes before her marriage at Clovis Saturday, was honored with a shower yesterday by Mrs. Hugh Isbell and Miss Willie Isbell at their home.

A spring color note of pink and green was used in decorations of hearts and shamrocks. Irish stories and games were enjoyed before the gifts were presented.

Shamrock salad, chicken sandwiches, pink heart shaped cookies, and coffee were served.

Those who brought or sent gifts were Misses Rowena Wasson, Anna Mae Cotcher, Christine Dickinson, Catherine Vaught, Grace Kite, Helen Jo Daugherty, Lorraine Noel, Fae Stokes, Angela Strnad, McFarlin, Mmes. B. A. Sumner, John Hessey, Norman, T. W. Jamison, and Glen Sheehan.

Mr. and Mrs. Burch, both graduates of Pampa high school, are well known in Pampa and will make their home here. The bride's parents reside at Prisma, but she has attended school here several terms. Mr. Burch is employed in the oil fields near Pampa.

Mrs. Pat Crawford and Mrs. H. H. Heiskell are in Amarillo today attending events of the cattlemen's convention.

CLASS LUNCHEONS AND ENJOYS AN IRISH PROGRAM

Friendship Group Has 70 Present Yesterday

A luncheon table appointed in green was the meeting place for 70 members of the Wesley Friendship class in the Methodist church dining room yesterday. An Irish program and a business session were conducted.

Green candles held in Irish potatoes that rested on huge paper shamrocks lighted the table. Green streamers decorated the table, and napkins were also green.

After the invocation by Mrs. W. Purviance, Mrs. Gaston Poole led group singing of Irish songs, with Mrs. Irvin Cole at the piano. Mrs. Raymond Harrah told of the origin of St. Patrick's day. Mrs. Jack Goldston gave a humorous reading, and Mrs. Poole an Irish reading.

Mrs. B. G. Harris was elected chairman of the class finance committee after the resignation of Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald. Members planned to entertain the junior department on March 30 with an Easter egg hunt.

Reports showed that class members made 136 visits to the sick, sent 37 letters and 12 garments, made 92 telephone calls and sent 40 letters on class business last month.

The benediction was given by Mrs. John B. Hessey.

WILL ROGERS, CECIL SMITH DISCUSS AILMENTS OF POLO

Texas Star Believes Tommy Hitchcock Is Greatest Player in the World.

BY BRIAN BELL, Associated Press Staff Writer. LOS ANGELES, March 9. (AP)—If Tommy Hitchcock is not the best polo player in the world, Cecil Smith is all wrong.

The 10-goal Texan says the 10-goal South Carolinian and New Yorker is the best player he has seen.

"Day in and day out, I never watched Tommy's equal and I do not expect to," said Smith.

The player who has been rated 10 goals for a dozen years comes up in every discussion of polo and it was when a score of players were swapping stories after a practice session at the Riviera Country club.

Smith and his Texas colleagues, Rube Williams, Tom Meather, and J. B. Gilmore were there. So were Will Rogers, Leslie Howard, Walt Disney, Jack Holt, and others from the motion picture colony.

Jack Holt, a star umpire as well as a movie star, and Rogers became involved in a discussion of fouls.

"Too many fouls," said Will. "Riding up the field, hitting the ball with nobody trying to stop you and riding back again. That's no action."

"Players make the fouls—not the umpires," was Jack's rejoinder. But Will had a comeback. "I'd say it's about 50-50," he said.

"If a team has a player who can knock in the free shots it will have a good chance to beat a better team right along," Will said.

"I don't expect Cecil to agree, but it's not fair to have so much depending on foul shots."

But Smith did agree.

"I think you're right. It must be a good idea to do as they do in basket ball and have the man fouled try for the goal."

CLINGMAN TO WRESTLE HILL MONDAY NIGHT

LUMBERMAN TO MEET BENNY WILSON IN SEMI-FINAL

The all-star wrestling card of the year will be staged at the Pampa auditorium Monday night, when some of the greatest wrestlers in the country will be seen.

The main event will bring Sailor Olin Clingman, local favorite, to the mat with Don Hill of movie fame. Rod Fenton, the Canadian lumberjack, will meet Benny Wilson, the Texas bronco buster, in the semi-final. The big card will be opened with Lobo Brown, Amarillo bad man, tangling with Joe Bauer, German terror.

Hill has been seen on the Pampa screen on many occasions. He is a tough grappler as well as a movie actor. Hill has a record and it isn't a movie record either. The Hollywood star started as an amateur in 1913. His first professional honor came when he won the Pacific championship in the middleweight division. He won the Pacific and Atlantic fleet championships from Tex Luder and then stepped out of his class to win the light-heavyweight championship of California.

Sailor Olin Clingman is the baby-faced mauler that holds sway over most rivals while waiting for a crack at the middleweight championship. Gus Kallio, champion, is abroad but is expected back next month. It is expected that Clingman will get a chance at Kallio soon after the latter's return.

Out of the frozen north comes "Lightning" Rod Fenton, Canadian lumberjack, musher, hockey star, and wrestler. He is another baby-faced mauler with an imposing record. He gave Sailor Olin Clingman the biggest scare of his life in Amarillo last night. Fenton can wrestle cleanly or he can get rough. It all depends on the "other guy."

Little is known here about Benny Wilson, who will be Fenton's opponent. It is expected that Clingman, who took to wrestling a number of years ago. He is reported to be tough. Most of his wrestling has been done in the east and north.

The opening bout should also be a wild and woolly affair.

WILLIAMS IS CHOSEN DAVIS CUP CAPTAIN

DEMANDS OF CRITICS ARE FINALLY GRANTED

NEW YORK, March 9. (AP)—The United States Lawn Tennis association took a step today that critics of its Davis cup policies have been urging for years. It named R. Norris (Dick) Williams, 2nd, of Philadelphia, former Davis cup player and captain of the team from 1921 through 1925, as leader of America's international tennis squad for 1934.

The announcement was made by President Walter Merrill Hill along with that of the cup selection committee, a sub-division of the larger cup organization announced Tuesday. It has the responsibility of gathering and training the team which will try to wrest the famous trophy from England.

Holcombe Ward, chairman of the larger cup committee, also heads the selection group with Hill, Williams, Dwight F. Davis, donor of the trophy, John Hope Doeg, Jones W. Mersereau, Walter L. Pale and Bernon S. Prentice, the team captain in 1932.

A criticism of America's Davis cup teams of recent years has been that the control of the squad was placed in the hands of men who have never played in international matches themselves and who thus failed to handle the youngsters under them properly.

Williams brings both experience and a knowledge of present players to his task. He was on the team from 1913 through 1927, during which time American tennis reached its peak and was a competitor no later than last fall in the national championships, winning through the third round. No other tennis leader with the exception of William T. Tilden, 2nd., can match that record and Tilden, as a professional, is outside the U. S. L. T. A. fold.

Houston Horse Meet Opens For 20-Day Program

HOUSTON, March 9. (AP)—The "sport of kings" returned to Texas today as Epsom Downs opened its 20-day spring meet with a seven race charity program.

The Lone Star state had no horse races until last year, when the legislature let down the bar on pari-mutuel betting. The spring season will last for about a month and a half, with the meet at Arlington Downs, mid-way between Dallas and Fort Worth, starting March 29 and continuing through April 21.

Epsom Downs was built last fall and a 28-day meet was held between Thanksgiving and New Year's day. Betting through the pari-mutuel windows exceeded $3,000,000 and attendance was estimated at 150,000 or more.

Followers of racing were anxious to see whether this great interest would continue, with the sport no longer a novelty to Texans.

Tennis Match Attendance Is Growing Daily

ST. LOUIS, March 9. (AP)—The touring Franco-American tennis professionals are hiring customers to the box office at an even merrier clip rate than the All-American troupe, Bill O'Brien, manager of both tours, disclosed today.

O'Brien beamed as he announced that gate receipts for the first half of the Franco-American tour totaled $75,723, about three-fourths of the amount collected for the entire tour of Big Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines, Vincent Richards and Bruce Barnes.

"And," Bill declared, "we ought to get at least $50,000 more from the matches here, in Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Baltimore and Philadelphia."

The division of the proceeds, O'Brien said, is 20 per cent for himself, 40 per cent for the Americans and an equal amount for the Frenchmen. Of the Americans' share, Tilden receives five-eighths and Vines three-eighths. How Henri Cochet and Martin Pia divide their 40 per cent O'Brien said that he did not know.

Opening a two-night stand here tonight, Tilden will meet Pia and Vines will oppose Cochet, followed by a Franco-American doubles match.

LAND OF SHEBA CAPITAL FOUND BY FRENCHMEN

Lost City's Towers Still Standing, Pair Claim

PARIS, March 9. (AP)—Capt. Cornillon Molinier and Andre Malraux telegraphed from French Somaliland last night that they had found the lost capital of the Queen of Sheba.

They reported their discovery to the newspaper intransigent that they discovered the legendary city by airplane and had photographed it. Its towers and temples are still standing, they said.

It is located, they reported, at the northern edge of the great sandy desert of Arabia called Rubat-el-Khali, and also called Roubat-el-Khali and Roubah Kale. The point indicated is a thousand miles southeast from Jerusalem and 90 miles northeast from French Somaliland.

Their message, telegraphed from D'bouti, French Somaliland on the coast of East Africa read in part: "We discovered the legendary city of the Queen of Sheba. Twenty towers or temples still stand. It is at the northern edge of Roubat-el-Khali. We took photographs of intransigent."

If the two explorers are correct in their belief they have ended a search conducted by scientists for centuries, locating a city which is described in the nineteenth chapter of Joshua as under the jurisdiction of Simeon with the words:

"And the second lot came forth to Simeon, even for the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families; and their inheritance was within the inheritance of the children of Judah.

"And they had in their inheritance Ber-Sheba, and Sheba, and Mol-A-Dah."

In these days the land of Sheba was one of the wealthiest of the world—the world that civilization knew.

The wealth of the region is hinted at in II Chronicles, chapter IX, in the description of one of history's most famous visits.

"And when the Queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon she came to prove Solomon with hard questions at Jerusalem, with a very great company, and camels that bare spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones; and when she was come to Solomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart."

Malraux, an author, was the 1933 winner of the Goncourt literary prize. He is an archaeologist and a veteran explorer.

Before his departure, Feb. 22, he told friends that if his plane was forced down on the desert at Roubat-el-Khali, death from hunger and thirst was inevitable.

The land of Sheba no longer is a land of plenty.

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Cila Sanford is interviewing Judith Lane, Tom Bevin's secretary, as the "Perfect Stenographer." But Judith is even more interested in the fact that Norman Dale, Junior partner of the law firm that handles Bevin's business, has driven her to the hotel. Norman asks for another appointment. Judith tells him that she and Bevin are leaving soon for the Rio Diablo dam in West Texas, one of her employer's big engineering projects.

Chapter Three THE INTERVIEW

Cila's quick laugh caused several others to look at the two girls—"you would remind me I was supposed to be working, instead of enjoying myself. Wait until I finish this salad and I'll begin on you."

"There... now this is the idea. Someone at the Engineers' luncheon, today, said that the average stenographer thinks that all she needs to hold down a job is a Hollywood face and a Babbles figure."

"Fellow named Kline said if his office ornament worked half as hard on the typewriter as she did on her face, both her face and his letters would look better. He said there couldn't be a perfect stenographer because—"

"Yes, I know the rest," interrupted Judith. "Big Tom confessed his part also. I'm willing to admit I haven't the brains of an Einstein, the patience of Job nor the endurance of a Robot, but I must have considerable talent as an actress to make him think so." She laughed at the expression of Cila's face and added, "What else would you like to know?"

"How can a girl become a perfect stenographer?"

"By following a simple, seven-worded rule."

"What is it?"

"Find an employer like Big Tom Bevin."

Cila was delighted with the answer. "Anything you'd like me to say?" she asked. "I know nearly every detail of your checkered career. I know how you wanted to become an engineer and why you took up stenography. I know how you took a shabby three-room attic that looked like a turret with an underslung jaw and made it look like an up-to-date pent house."

"Think I'll use that picture Cal took of your place last August, and then a close-up he took when he was testing out his new studio light."

"Cila" interposed Judith eagerly, "why not have your staff artist sketch a figure of a Robot with Einstein hair sitting under a gourd vine, that's what Job sat under wasn't it? I'd much rather you wouldn't use my picture."

Judith's wish was granted. Next morning with Big Tom chuckling, they read Cila's story and clipped the cartoon from the newspaper to be framed, then they turned to business.

"Notify the expedition personnel to meet us at the Turning Basin, Pier 24, June 1st at six a. m. Better buy yourself a new pith helmet; it's going to be hotter than Hades. How about the cook's wife, will she go along? Fine. That will protect your reputation from the biddies catch that telephone, Judy."

"Bevin's Construction Company— Oh good morning Mr. Dale. Mr. Bevin? Yes, indeed... I'm fine."

She handed the telephone to her employer then turned to her typewriter—"ratatata ratatata" went Judith's heart—

"That was Norman Dale, Judy," interrupted Bevin, "he phoned to say he'd make the trip to Rio Diablo with us, representing his firm, you know."

"Norman Dale telephoned to say he was making the trip to Rio Diablo with us."

Three months nearly four had passed since Tom Bevin had looked across his desk to where his stenographer sat typing, and relayed the telephone message.

Judith, a sun bronzed girl in khaki shirt and breeches, high boots and broad brimmed campaign hat, thought of that moment many times as the red gold days which followed winged along.

The trip was worse than Big Tom had anticipated. The Rio Diablo valley had been held for two years in the tenacious grip of an unrelenting sun. The Devil River had dwindled in size until it wound through its rock ribbed channel like a red hot wire. The plains capped up like a copper brazer, bound by a far circle of red-gold hills.

The native families were starving and the expedition, sharing rations brought in by occasional mule trains from the Gulf coast, grew bronzed and taciturn. And as though the heat had burned the dross of artificial living from each, Judith watched a new Norman Dale emerge.

She sat on the hillside now, watching him in the valley below. The fearful drought was about to be broken, by a storm which might equal the drought in its intensity.

Fear hung over the natives like a visible cloud, their cattle were lowing uneasily, the pack mules were fretful, even the expedition men, moving with swift efficiency as they made ready to carry every movable thing to the one high spot within reach before the storm struck, seemed oppressed.

Through it all Dale's voice could be heard, calm, cheerful.

"Miss Lane," a small hand tugged at her sleeve. "You've been sitting there and a thinkin' and you haven't told the rest of the story. Y'said the prince and Cinderella were married and then you stopped— what comes after?"

"I'm sorry," Judith's voice softened as she looked down into the circle of eager faces peering up at her. "The prince and Cinderella were married and lived happily ever after."

"Ever after?" piped the small one who had snuggled close as the black puffs of clouds spread over them.

"Ever after" repeated Judith firmly and smiled at the tall figure below, who had started plodding uphill behind a pack train carrying household goods.

Last night, when a white moon had turned the valley to old gold, she had promised to spend her everafter with him.

She had wanted to work at his side now, but Big Tom had pointed out the necessity of keeping up the native children's morale and she had kept their eyes from the approaching danger by keeping them focused on herself as she told them stories.

"Pop says this storm's goin' to be a hum-dinger and we'll be lucky if any of us gets out alive," offered a tousled haired boy on the outskirts of the circle.

"You've lived here through other storms haven't you, Tommy?" inquired Judith, calmly.

(Copyright, 1934, by Jeanne Bowman)

Tomorrow, the storm breaks.

"For five years I suffered terribly with headache and backache and was so nervous I would have to go to bed. I took different medicines but with no results until a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking four bottles I am a different woman. I only wish I had started on it when I first had my troubles."—Mrs. H. B. Lusby, 202 N. 34th St., Louisville, Kentucky.

"Mother gave me the Compound when I was 13. Took it at childbirth and at the Change. It has been wonderful."—Mrs. John W. Applegate, 215 Walnut Street, Ashbury Park, N. J.

"Before my baby was born I was run-down and nervous. My mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ease my nerves and prepare me for childbirth. After only a few bottles I was up and doing my work cheerfully. Childbirth was very easy, thanks to your medicine."—Mrs. John Ellis, 6308 So. Campbell Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

THE world war fast slips into history although effects are very much with us. Fifteen years ago Theodore Roosevelt conceived the idea of a great veterans' organization and started it with a dinner in Paris. The Legion on March 15 will celebrate its 15th birthday with a nation-wide celebration. As a gift to the organization every post will attempt to add fifteen members. Each post which attains this birthday quota will be presented a photograph of the Paris caucus, properly certified by the department adjutant. Many posts will have banquets at which big birthday cakes will be cut.

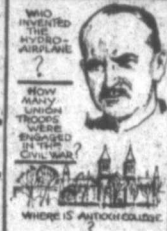

THE drought area of the Panhandle is in a position which should make very apparent the importance of the oil industry, but we doubt if Texas as a whole properly appreciates the meaning of oil to general business conditions in this state. In 1933, Texas furnished 44.6 per cent of the recorded production of the nation. Texas produced more oil than the combined output of Oklahoma and California. This Texas leadership in oil shows the importance of having a national oil plan adapted to Texas needs. Oil is a tremendous asset in current business. If, and when, Texas is without oil and gas resources and is obliged to depend upon fields elsewhere, the whole economic setup of this state will have to be changed.

IT is beyond our conception of the code of fair competition of the petroleum industry for the federal administration to permit California to ship huge quantities of oil from the Pacific coast to the Atlantic seaboard. It is claimed that for the first eight months of 1933, California daily shipped to the east, an average of 46,000 barrels of oil and its derivatives by way of the Panama canal and for the last five months has been shipping 81,000 barrels daily. The shipping distance is more than 5,000 miles while the Texas Gulf coast is less than 2,000 miles from the same market. The freight rate from California to the Atlantic coast is 35 cents per barrel while the rate from Texas ports is about 19 cents. It is obvious that California producers must be greatly underselling Texas producers which is certainly not fair competition.

California's pure food law prohibits the manufacture or sale of candy with liquor flavorings, says State Director Dr. G. S. Porter.

Livestock tests have proved calves can be weaned from milk at 50 to 60 days of age without handicapping growth.

WHEN THE THERMOMETER DROPS

HERE'S PROOF Phillips 66 is

HIGH TEST

Gravity 63.5° to 68°

DON'T FORGET PHILLIPS 66 MOTOR OIL ABSOLUTELY OUR FINEST QUALITY 25¢ A QUART

Your motor needs high test gasoline for quick starting in freezing weather. You know that.

You also know that Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline.

Is it any wonder then, that in every ad we tell you exactly how high the test of Phillips 66 is! Not with high-sounding, meaningless claims. But with plain figures . . . which are definite proof of honest high test . . . which guarantee more value for the money . . . which insure real action for every cent you spend to fill the tank.

Phill-up with Phillips and feel the difference. Your motor starts with split-second speed. Soon it purrs along as smoothly as on a rainy night in June. You use less choke and go more miles to the gallon. You get less vibration and more power, less noise and more speed.

These high test benefits of Phillips 66 are always preserved and protected by CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. Whether the mercury is down at zero or up in the nineties, every gallon of this greater gasoline is scientifically matched to your weather. Thus despite variations in temperature, you get consistently high performance from your motor. Stop for a trial tankful at any Orange and Black 66 shield.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—Stocks showed little inclination to continue the advance today and prices generally held to a rather narrow range. Economic news was still optimistic, but most traders were undecided as to the immediate price trend. While the metals and a few specialties pushed, up the leaders were inactive. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 1,300,000 shares.

--SCOUTS

The Ten Mile River Scout camps, as they are known, with the beautiful lakes and stretches of woodland are the largest boys' encampment in the world. President Roosevelt likes to visit the camps when opportunity offers. Pressure of his duties as Governor of New York and latterly as President of the United States has prevented frequent trips. One day last summer, however, while at his summer home at Hyde Park, N. Y., he expressed a desire to visit the camp. The visit was quickly arranged.

The appointed day turned out to be one of the stormiest days in 1933, but Mr. Roosevelt was driven the one hundred miles from his home, across the Hudson river and into the Catskill mountains to the camp. He was given a great welcome by the 2,800 Scouts at camp and they in turn were warmly greeted by their President. His last words to the boys were: "I had a great time and hope to come back again next year to see all of you."

trained scouts and plainsmen, made ready for the attack, and General George A. Custer was chosen to lead them. General Custer understood that the Indians outnumbered his men ten to one, so he determined on a surprise move. In one of the worst snow storms in the history of the country, the little band of brave men started. Major Elliott was leading the vanguard and General Custer brought up the main body of troops. It was understood that the Indians were all on the Washita, so some confusion was created when a scout came in and reported that he had discovered a large bunch of Indian ponies grazing over in the Canadian valley. This matter was discussed in camp, and it was decided this must be a band from the northwest, making their way to Black Kettle's camp on the Washita. They had been caught in the storm and delayed, and had taken refuge on the north side of the river under the bank in a bend.

High School Boys Heard by Lions

That boys can sing and sing well was demonstrated before Pampa Lions yesterday by high school students.

Quartet and trio numbers were sung in various combinations by Darwood Fanning, Fred Mason, LaVerne Courson, Norman Carr, and Mickey Ledrick. Bob Smelage, director of the boys' glee club, also sang "Wagon-wheels" and "Sylvia." Miss Josephine Lane was the accompanist.

The remainder of the program time was used for "cross-examining" members of the club.

Tom Darty was introduced as a new member of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walker were Berger visitors yesterday. Reece Hardin is ill with influenza.

"Smartest Information on the Market"

Mr. Julian N. Barrett, Care Barrett & Company, Pampa, Texas.

Dear Mr. Barrett:

Today I saw one of your circulars on the market, sent to one of our customers and I think it has some of the smartest information on the market I have seen. I think I will be able to get you quite a few subscribers to your service and have circulated it around rather generally.

Please keep them coming to me for I like to get your ideas.

Very truly yours,

The above unsolicited letter is from the manager of one of the largest brokerage offices in the South, a man who has access to services costing as much as a thousand dollars a year. You may see it along with many others in our files. The circular referred to is our regular market letter, sent without charge to any one in this trade territory, upon request.

In line with the policies adopted by members of the New York Stock Exchange and other reputable brokers throughout the country, we do not solicit business, either by telephone or high pressure salesmen. Likewise our letters contain no solicitation of business.

REPUTATION

A Reward and a Responsibility!

It isn't hard, when business is good, to build a reputation for quality and fair dealing. Anyone can live in a house of bricks when bricks are not dear. But the temptation to let down "temporarily" under stress is a big one — though it's then the buyer needs protection.

Furr Food Stores have always believed that Pampa people stay loyal to those who remember, in a crisis, that protecting one's good name is a public obligation — a responsibility that must not be taken lightly.

Purely as a matter of sound business we have always acted on this theory. We have reason today, more than ever before, to believe it a practical, workable theory.

Our policy of not cutting quality has continued unbroken throughout this depression, and, as long as our name is our own, it will remain our policy to offer you only the finest merchandise the market affords and at the very lowest price possible.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for March 11.

General Topic: Parables of the Kingdom.

Scripture Lesson: Matt. 13:31-33, 44-52.

31. Another parable set before them, saying: The kingdom of heaven is like unto grain of mustard seed, which a man sowed in his field.

32. Which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is sown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33. Another parable spake he unto them: The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

34. The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

35. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking goodly pearls.

36. Having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

37. Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea and gathered of every kind.

38. Which, when it was filled they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away.

39. So shall it be in the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the righteous.

40. And cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

41. Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea.

42. And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, who bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

Golden Text: Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end.—Isa. 9:7.

Time: Autumn, A. D. 28, in the second year of Christ's ministry.

Place: By the Sea of Galilee.

Theme: The Parable of the Net.

Again the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net." Christ used a net meaning not a casting net, thrown by the hand, but a dragnet or seine, a long net with floats on the upper edge and sinkers on the lower edge, which was swept through the water by a boat and the two brought together, enclosing a multitude of fishes. The large operations of the kingdom of heaven are here pictured. "That was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind." The church is a mixed company; therefore the world thrusts out its up and points a derisive finger. Yet what else could be looked for, since the net gathers of every kind? The word of invitation is addressed to all sorts and conditions of men: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden." God is no respecter of persons; Christ came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. It is not without significance that there was a traitor in the apostolic circle.—Rev. David James Burrell, D. D.

The Final Judgment.

"So it shall be in the end of the world." v. 49. Men are accountable to God. Their accountability may not be apparent while the good and bad are intermingled in this life but day of final account is sure to come. See the picture of the dragnet: "When it was filled, they drew up on the beach, and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away."

43. So shall it be in the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the righteous.

44. And cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

45. Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea.

46. And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, who bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

Golden Text: Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end.—Isa. 9:7.

Time: Autumn, A. D. 28, in the second year of Christ's ministry.

Place: By the Sea of Galilee.

Theme: The Parable of the Net.

The Parable of the Householder.

Who bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old. "Things new and old—both have a special attraction of their own. It must indeed be a dull mind which finds no attraction in things old. An old banner torn with shock and shell—what an interest it has! So also is the real winning power in things new. The morning of life, the approach of the coming day, the approach of the unexpected, the promise of the future—who does not know the magical attraction of things new?"—Bishop A. F. W. Ingram. "There were things in the Old Testament—many of its best things—which the lawyer, as such, never saw into which the scribe never brought out."

—Rev. T. Rhonda Williams. "New occasions teach new duties; Time makes ancient good uncouth; They must upward still, and onward, who would abreast of Truth." Parables Passages: Mark 4:1-24; Luke 8:4-18.

Introduction.

Jesus' statement that his parables were intended to be obscure to some of his hearers (v. 11, 13) is well clarified by Matthew Henry: "A parable is a shell that keeps good fruit from the slothful. . . . A parable, like the pillar of cloud and fire, turns a dark side toward Egyptians, which confounds them, but a bright side toward Israelites, which comforts them." Notice that Jesus' parables never fail to adorn the lessons they convey, even when they carry hard truth they still are beautiful from a literary point of view. One may say that the parables of Jesus are poems of this divine, Master poet.

The parable of the Mustard Seed is found also in Mark 4:30-32 and Luke 13:18, 19; the parable of the Leaven in Luke 13:20, 21. Matthew 13:36-52 has no parallel.

A Chapter of Parables.

This glorious thirteenth chapter of Matthew is chiefly occupied with eight parables, of which we are to study the last six, because these for the most part are found only in Matthew the first, the parable of the sower, is found also in Mark and Luke, and is usually studied in our course with one of these Gospels. It is essentially a parable of four different kinds of soil, representing four different ways of receiving divine truth,—in a heart trodden hard by worldliness, in a heart too shallow for the truth to find a lasting footing, in a heart preoccupied by evil, or in a heart ready and eager to take it in and cherish it, causing it to grow and increase.

The Parable of the Tares.

vs. 24-30, 34-43.

Tares are darnel, a kind of weed which grows among the wheat, which in its earlier stages of growth can not be distinguished from it, but is easily distinguished later, and must be toilsomely pulled out by hand and burned in the oven, as its seeds are poisonous. Christ pictures an enemy of a farmer sowing in a field of wheat, who sows the darnel seed over his field by night, and the disastrous consequences, representing the evil work of the devil, who sows the seed of base thought and actions in the hearts of men; seed which later grows up, so that the plants must be painfully eradicated.

The Growth of the Kingdom.

vs. 31-33.

The first of these two little parables has to do with the growth in its external aspect; the second in its inner working. Mustard seed is commonly used in the East as a symbol of minuteness. The plant sometimes grows to a height of ten feet; becoming, if not an actual tree, treelike. Linnets and other small birds are very fond of its seed. They "lodge" in it for the purpose of eating the seed, not to build their nests.

"Three measures of meal" would be fully a bushel; a large amount, therefore, contrasted with the tiny bit of yeast employed. "It has been said that this parable should give for our Lord the title 'the Divine Optimist.' The gospel was 'hid' at first in the mighty Roman empire; after a time the world awoke to the fact that that empire had silently become Christianized."

The Preciousness of the Kingdom.

vs. 44, 45.

Here again we have two parables to illustrate the same truth. In the parable of the Pearl Merchant we are taken back into an age when wealth was largely in the form of jewels and such precious objects. Cleopatra had two pearls valued each at $400,000. In both parables there is a reflection of the glad surprise that breaks upon many a man when he first gets a revelation of the redeeming mercy of God in our Saviour Jesus Christ.

Notice that in the first of these parables a man stumbled upon his joy; the man of the second discovered his by unremitting quest. We do not all find Christ in the same way. But "the kingdom of God is the ultimate blessing whose glory makes all other riches of nothing in the exchange."

SATISFIED CUSTOMER

PITTSBURGH—Howard Burket, 34, was discharged from the Homeopathic hospital several days ago after a lengthy stay because of a broken leg.

Yesterday police were summoned on an accident call. They found Burket's car smashed against a tree and Burket on the running board with a broken leg—the same one that had been fractured before.

"Where shall we take you?" asked the officers.

"Homeopathic hospital," promptly replied Burket.

ANYTHING IN A NAME? WILDWOOD, N. J.—Don't like the weather, huh? Well, be careful what you say about it around the Wildwood Crest grammar school.

The principal is Mrs. Brooksbald. The music teacher is Frank Sunshine. And the janitor is William Showers.

Employees of the store presented a night watchman with a large leather medal bearing a grotesque caricature of himself armed with a pistol and followed by his dog.

The dog, whose barking had summoned the watchman when intruders tried to open a door, got a ham bone.
