THREE CONVICTS ARE SHOT BY GUARDS IN BOLD ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE FROM TEXAS PRISON

Twinkles

Having determined that President Roosevelt won't try to force war debt payments, Europe seems quite ready to applaud his domestic acts.

Considering how pleasant warm this winter has been, we don't want anybody howling about a cold blustery spring.

The Lord loves a cheerful giver, and the West Foster grouse says the Lord probably also likes folk who "can take it."

Old time young folk may have been little angels, but when the oldsters reach their second childhoods we note that they do not lack ideas.

Mr. Roosevelt is a he-man. Most of the men we know are pleading lack of authority rather than begging for more.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment. Better as a qualification for voting than $1.75 would be the requirement that every Texas resident read a history of this state and register before going to the polls. A citizenship which cares nothing about the past is not likely to be very proud of its present nor thoughtful of its future.

Price-cutting as a sales promotion plan was hit hard when the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that the lowest minimum price for milk at 9 cents. If folks won't pay that much for all of it offered, sales will be limited to those firms which do have outlets.

TIME leads a certain charm to studies long abandoned. On Justice Todd's desk we found a new Texas history. Here are first paragraphs of the first two chapters.

When Columbus discovered the New World he claimed it all for Spain. Spanish explorers found the Indians had no more right to lands they occupied than did the wild beasts that roamed the forests. Each European nation claimed such parts of America as were first seen by its own explorers.

NEW THEATER TO BE OPENED IN THIS CITY

Paramount-Public Has Made 5-Year Lease on Old Post-Office Building

Signing of a contract which will give Pampa a fourth theater was announced today.

It will be a Paramount-Public theater, a unit of one of the largest amusement concerns. Paramount First National and Warner Bros. pictures will be shown.

The theater will occupy the present post-office building owned by J. N. Duncan and Judge Ivy Duncan. The lease is to take effect 45 days after the building is vacated. Completion of the new postoffice building will require several more months, it is believed.

The contract was signed by Sol J. Davidson of Oklahoma City, lease man for Paramount-Public theaters. He went from here to Lubbock on a similar mission. His firm will remodel the theater building at its own expense. The lease runs for 5 years, with a 5-year extension option.

The firm has more than 300 theaters, including 10 in Oklahoma City. It operates only in cities it believes to be stable and with good futures.

Jurors Return $19,050 Verdict For Ewell Ayer

Judgment of $19,050 for the plaintiff, Ewell J. Ayer, was found by a 31st district jury late yesterday in the damage suit against Cooke & Brandt et al. contractors. This included $2000 for hospital bills and $7500 doctor's bills.

The jury took the case more than 24 hours earlier. The verdict found for the plaintiff on questions of negligence, independent contractor, and whether Ed Foran, driver of the truck which struck Ayer, was within the scope of employment with the contractors.

Appeal will be taken. It is understood.

FORT WORTH, March 7 (AP)—Leo (Dutch) Meyer, member of the Texas Christian university coaching staff for more than a decade, was named head football and basketball coach of the purple teams this afternoon. At the same time, Raymond (Bear) Wolf was elected athletic director and varsity baseball coach and was re-named line instructor. The selection of a freshman coach was delayed until a later date.

WARSAW, Poland, March 7 (AP)—Germany and Poland ended their tariff war today with a mutual trade treaty.

DIVORCES ASKED

Divorce petitions have been filed as follows in 31st district court: James B. Johnson vs. Hazel Johnson, Lennie Baker vs. J. E. Baker.

BORGER VETERANS HERE LAST NIGHT BOOSTING BIG "PARTY"

Hutchinson county American Legion post. In the party last night were Gordon Burch and Bob Lindsey, past commanders of the post; Arthur Huey, county tax collector and chaplain of the post; and Jimmie Ward.

In inviting Pampans to the birthday party, the Borger men expressed their appreciation for the help of Pampans in organizing the Borger Junior chamber of commerce, which will have the parade Thursday as its first project. Boys of '26 are journeying back to Borger for the big event and to see Jack Dempsey, the old Manassa mauler, referee boxing bouts. Tickets for the fights are on sale in Pampa at the Court-house cafe.

Other attractions will be Col. Zack Miller and his Indians in their stomp dance, fireworks display, and the Pageant of Progress ball and parade. The parade, depicting the boom, early Panhandle history, and oil, will be especially good, it was promised.

Tennis Meeting Set for Tonight

Men and women and boys and girls who play tennis are invited to a meeting in the Pampa Daily NEWS building at 8 o'clock tonight, when plans for construction of a number of tennis courts will be discussed. Dr. R. A. Webb will preside.

Committees appointed by Dr. Webb at a meeting last fall will make reports and the meeting will be opened to discussion. It will take the assistance and work of all players to make the project a success and Dr. Webb is anxious that everyone interested be present.

CITIZENS ARE RELUCTANT TO GIVE FACTS

UNWILLING WITNESSES INCLUDE SOME CRITICS

INDIFFERENCE on the part of the general public," says the report of Gray county grand jury filed yesterday "in assisting the officers," is to be blamed for a condition which members of the jury said hindered them much in their work during the term of the 31st district court ending next Saturday. The report added that "we find our officers are diligent and need the assistance of the citizens of this county in enforcing the law."

Asked by THE NEWS what the grand jury meant by the "indifference" of the public, District Attorney Louis M. Goodrich said that the grand jury had been disturbed by finding that citizens were slow to make complaints about known violations of law, were often unwilling witnesses before the grand jury, and even if willing to sign original complaints were very reluctant to appear as prosecuting witnesses. He said it was often necessary to issue formal subpoenas to obtain the presence before the grand jury of citizens who had been free spoken in their disapproval "of conditions."

Too Much Hearsay.

The same reluctance to participate in enforcement of law was noted among those summoned for duty as petit jurors. In some instances the grand jury, Mr. Goodrich said, was requested to make certain investigations but every person examined without first-hand information on which to base an indictment. He pointed out that general beliefs were almost useless unless critics had knowledge of a specific law violation.

It was noted that officers received frequent anonymous "tips" but were seldom able to persuade any one to vouch for the facts alleged to be true. Peace officers, prosecutors, and the grand jury must have public support, the district attorney said, if the laws of the state are to be enforced. The grand jury took the attitude that the people will get the kind of law enforcement they desire enough to help secure and that they, and not the officers, are fundamentally to be blamed for violations which the grand jury members did not doubt existed. The full report of the grand jury follows:

To the Honorable Judge W. R. Ewing:

Now come the grand jury and makes their final report, and asks that upon approval of the same that we be finally discharged.

We have been in session 15 days and have returned 14 true bills of indictment, all of which were felony cases.

We heartily subscribed to the instruction you gave us when we were convened and assure you that we have tried to follow them in our deliberations.

We have spent quite a bit of our time deliberating upon the few indictments, but in doing so we were trying to analyze each matter that has been presented to us, and in our opinion we find that it has been a little hard to obtain all of the facts, due in lots of instances to an indifference on the part of the general public in assisting the officers. We find that our officers are diligent and need the assistance of the citizens of this county in enforcing the law.

Respectfully submitted this 6th day of March, A. D. 1934.

FARRIS ODEN, Foreman.

After this week Judge W. R. Ewing and District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich will go to Roberts county for a two-weeks court term, then to Lipscomb county for a two weeks term before going to Wheeler county for a seven weeks term.

SCOUT DRIVE ORGANIZED TO WORK BRISKLY

Canvassers Are Named for Annual Campaign That Will Start Tomorrow.

Scouting a movement for and by boys and one that answers many of the problems of juvenile delinquency and recreation, will be placed before Pampans tomorrow with the request that they give it financial backing.

Jack Cunningham, finance campaign chairman, has appointed the following to start canvassing: John I. Bradley, industrial plants; Philip R. Bond, NEWS area on and adjacent to West Foster avenue; Fred Cullum, Mitchell's store block all around.

Clarence Kennedy, D-Luxe cleaners block all around.

Frank Hill, courthouse.

Guy E. McTaggart, Texas Furniture store block all around.

L. L. Some, high school.

J. A. Meek, B. M. Baker school.

A. A. Patrick, Sam Houston school.

Mrs. Annie Daniels, Woodrow Wilson school.

R. A. Sibly, Junior high school.

Miss Josephine Thomas, Horace Mann school.

Most of these workers called at Scout headquarters in the city hall this morning for instructions and supplies. They have been asked to complete their work by March 13 or earlier if possible.

A good start has already been made. The Kiwanis club set the pace with a $50 gift, doubling that of last year.

Chairman Smith Of Commission in Pampa Tuesday

State legislation, including oil bills on Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's desk, would supplement and bolster federal legislation and will tend to preserve state's rights, Chairman Len A. Smith, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, told THE NEWS yesterday while visiting the local office of the oil and gas division.

Still brisk despite his advancing years, Chairman Smith was greeting old friends and meeting many other citizens. He is, "as always," he said, out for re-election. His platform will be announced at Henderson on his birthday, March 13.

PERFECT STENOGRAPHER

SPRING rain pelted at the office windows of the Bevins Construction company. It sloshed on the big B, ran in a trickling stream through C-o-n and C-o-m, sheeted the sill, then shot eighteen stories to the asphalt pavement.

Judith Lane looked at the window even as her fingers beat a ratatata-ratatata-ratatata-ing on her typewriter. She should have known better than to wear a brand new suit on a morning when the wind was bound to blow up a storm . . . she'd have to call a taxi . . . ratatata-ratatata-ratatata . . . and her hat . . . maybe she could buy a magazine big enough to cover it while she dashed from lobby to curb . . . ratatata . . . such a duck of a hat, delft blue and perky . . . so few hats these days looked good on her boyishly cut black hair . . . ratatata . . . color made her eyes look almost blue instead of grey . . . ting!

With quick fingers she whisked the sheet from the roller, slid it across the desk to her employer, Tom Bevins, switched on his desk light with one hand and with the other reached for the telephone which whirred impatiently.

"Bevins Construction company, Miss Lane, speaking. Oh yes, Jackson, I'll tell him. You'd better park the car and meet him in the lobby." "Jackson's here with your car, Mr. Tom."

The big head with its shock of iron gray hair turned with reluctance—"Tell him to go back home.

TEN PER CENT DECREASE IN CODE WORKING HOURS WILL BE REQUESTED BY JOHNSON

YOUR BOYS

(AN EDITORIAL)

CONSIDER the Boy Scout. There isn't much for a boy to do these days—no kidding to cut, no cows to milk, no coal to bring in, and in this section there are no skunks to trap, and few trees to climb.

Boys don't just naturally go around tying knots, learning signaling, studying the meaning and proper display of the American flag, considering courtesy, patriotism, and bravery. First aid isn't talked on the street corners. Hundreds of useful accomplishments would be unknown to Pampa boys were it not for Scouting.

Scouting is championed by men in every walk of life. The roustabout's son and the scion of wealth meet on a common ground in Scouting. President Roosevelt is the No. 1 Scout of America and he is a veteran of nearly two decades in the movement. Scouting begins before the "teen" age and never ends as long as a man is interested in boys.

Shall Scouting die in Pampa and in Adobe Walls county? Your cash contribution or pledge will be the answer. For the good of Pampa boyhood, make your answer this week.

CLAIM OCKER HAD RIGHT TO MAKE CHARGE

LIEUTENANT COLONEL AND MAJOR TESTIFY FOR DEFENDANT

QAN ANTONIO, March 7 (AP)—Lieut. Col. B. B. Warriner, medical officer at Fort Clark, testified today at the military trial of Major William C. Ocker, that it was the duty of a patient to state a belief of "collusion" as a part of the record of a physical examination if he believed such collusion existed.

Major Ocker, retired air pilot and inventor, is being tried for allegedly accusing his commanding officer, Lieut. Col. H. B. Clavel, commander of Kelly Field and Major Clyde C. Johnston, chief flight surgeon at Kelly Field, with "collusion" to keep Major Ocker from a pilot's status because of physical deficiencies.

The statement was made by Col. Warriner in response to a question by Brig. Gen. Charles R. Howland, president of the court.

Major R. K. Simpson, in charge of the eye clinic at Randolph Field, testified today at the military trial of Major William C. Ocker, veteran army pilot and inventor, that he had examined Major Ocker carefully and found no evidence of senility manifested in his eyes.

Major Simpson repeated testimony given by another Randolph Field surgeon concerning a visit made to Randolph Field by Capt. H. E. Schneider, junior flight surgeon at Kelly Field, in which he quoted Capt. Schneider as saying he had been directed to disqualify Major Ocker physically.

"He (Capt. Schneider) said he had been directed to find him (Major Ocker) disqualified physically," Major Simpson said. He said he had examined Major Ocker thoroughly and had found no defects covered by waivers by the war department. We advised him to stand by his findings. He seemed perplexed as to whether he should stand by his guns, as he expressed it."

Tom Kirby Will Seek Office He Held 6 Years

Thos. O. Kirby today authorized THE NEWS to announce his candidacy for the office of commissioner of the county of Gray county, subject to the action of the democratic primary July 28, 1934.

Mr. Kirby bases his candidacy on his knowledge of conditions in his precinct and his past experience as commissioner of the precinct. Mr. Kirby served six years in that capacity from 1926 to 1932. During his time in office, the new Gray county courthouse was erected.

The candidate resides 3 miles northwest of Jertico. He has been a resident of Gray county for 28 years.

Mrs. Joe Shelton of Skellytown was a shopper in the city yesterday.

FISHER SAYS EDUCATION TO BE FITTED TO NEEDS OF NEW ORDER

SUPT. R. B. FISHER, back from attending a meeting of the National Educational association in Cleveland, Ohio, said today that the many educators in session expressed the general opinion that the school curriculums must, and will, be fitted to conform to the present needs of American people.

New trends in governmental procedure, taxation and control of commodity supplies must be taught as conditions arise if the student on leaving school is not to discover that his theories are hopelessly out dated. At the same time, because nearly every trade and profession now has a surplus of talent, schools will undoubtedly have to raise the standards and to lengthen the period of study incident to graduation. Speakers repeatedly stressed that education had too much

CWA Personnel In County Cut To 443 Workers

The promised CWA substitute program for drought stricken counties of the Panhandle remained more or less a mystery today, although Mrs. W. H. Davis, CWA administrator, received a telegram regarding personnel 14 per cent, to 443 men for the county.

The Texas administrator, Adam R. Johnson, made no mention of the new federal plans for this territory. Sanitation and CWA school projects are not affected by the ruling.

The Pampa-McLean road is only well begun. The Pampa sector is about 26.7 completed and the McLean sector 19.3 per cent completed, while no work has been done in the center of the county.

Notice of amendments to the compensation act of September 7, 1916, as it applies to civil works employees, has been received by the local CWA office. Included in the amendments is the ruling that any legal or other service given in respect of a claim for compensation received will be considered valid unless approved by the U. S. Employees' Compensation commission.

This ruling further prohibits the solicitation of such business on behalf of a lawyer, the act of any person who makes it a business to solicit employment for a lawyer or for himself in respect of any compensation claim or award, acceptance of any fee or other gratuity for legal or other services rendered, unless approved by the commission, and provides that violations of these provisions, will, upon conviction, subject the offender to fine or imprisonment or both.

SEVERAL FIRMS WILL BE UNABLE TO COMPLY

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—NRA code authorities will be asked by the administration tonight to cut code working hours ten per cent for all industries that can stand it, with exemptions for those unable to comply.

This was made known today by Hugh S. Johnson, in addressing the assembly of NRA leaders at work on labor problems and explaining plans for his evening address.

George Sloan, head of the cotton textile code authority, had said that unquestionably some industries could take a further hour shortening, but that he considered it would be a grave mistake to make a flat rule as he understood was advocated by Johnson, because it would raise false hopes in the breasts of "every American working man in every home."

Johnson replied that with him it was a choice of methods between the general rule and taking up each one of the 600 codes individually—"an impossible method."

"But," he went on, "I have said nothing the president has said or I have said will lead anyone to the idea that industry is to be placed in a preservation bed of ukase or fiat or to say that hours shall be so and so by administrative order. I hope you get any such idea out of your minds because nobody ever dreamed of doing it."

It was said today at the White House a number of telegrams, almost unanimously favorable, had been received in response to the president's address on Monday, in which he asked for shorter hours and higher pay for workers.

PRUNING AT TOP, ALSO, LOGICAL

Germany has attracted much attention with her race improvement program of sterilization. Mental defectives of the lower strata of her society will be "treated."

Not all scientific theories work out in practice. The late Charles Goodnight crossed cattle and buffaloes to get an interesting hybrid, but no practical breed.

There is more or less of a parallel between the theory that the ordinary man has not the intelligence to govern himself properly and the theory that society must, in self-protection, deny to those at the very bottom of the heap the right to reproduce their kind.

Both rest on a basic distrust of the mass of mankind, in that both assume that society as a whole will be much better off if it puts all its affairs uncomplainingly into the hands of a chosen few at the top.

An intelligent comment on this attitude was made not long ago by Dr. W. D. Tait, professor of psychology at McGill university, Montreal. Dr. Tait remarked that society's worst ills come from the things that are done—not by the mental defectives, but by those who are smarter than their fellows.

And he shyly suggests that, if we are to sterilize anyone, it will might be the smart boys rather than the congenital dullbells.

"Child labor, sweatshops, religious, political and racial persecution, stock manipulation, bank delinquencies, graft at the expense of the country, intrigues of high-grade murder, war and its horrors, are not caused by the morons, but by the intelligent," he asserts.

"In my opinion, the greatest menace to civilization really is the man who is just a little bit smarter than the rest."

Now here is a thought worth pondering. Whatever one may say about the weaknesses which democracy has displayed in these troublous post-war years, the outstanding fact is simply that leadership itself which has failed.

The ills from which the world suffers today didn't arise because the great mass of people had been blind and stupid. They grew because the leaders muffed their opportunities, failed in vision, and listened too attentively to the claims of self-interest.

BALLOON FLIGHT GAVE NEW IDEA OF ATOMIC CONTENTS OF SPACE

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A new idea of the contents of space left its traces in the cosmic ray instruments taken 11½ miles into the stratosphere by the Settle-Fordney flight last summer.

The first announcement of these records was made here today before the American Physical society by Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago. His instruments were of a new type.

They showed the presence of flying particles, of sub-atomic size which may be older than the earth itself—perhaps of the original creation. They added evidence for the belief that such particles are driving ceaselessly throughout all space.

They filled in some of the jigsaw bits in a scientific conception that seemingly empty space is filled with tremendous, deathless energies, each flying particle carrying charges of millions of volts. All of them were cosmic rays, but they included the discovery of some new varieties. There were indications that these new ones may be fragments of helium, or of the light metals lithium and beryllium, and similar chemical elements.

These flight records were taken by an automatic cosmic ray meter developed by Dr. Compton and Dr. R. J. Stephenson. It was made of steel, surrounded by a four inch shield of fine lead shot. This heavy shield eliminated some uncertain factors in previous high altitude cosmic ray records. In addition Dr. Compton used a different mathematical method of interpreting the ray meter figures.

This showed two distinct kinds of radiation comprising the high-flying mist. The first was composed of either protons, which are the nuclei of hydrogen atoms, or of positrons, the latter a particle about the weight of an electron.

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

Both the protons and positrons are electrically positively charged. The Chicago tests indicate that these positive particles, compose most, if not all, of the cosmic radiation which reaches earth's surface. They are the rays which penetrate many inches, and incidentally go through 1,000 feet of water, deep into the earth, and incidentally go through man and his tallest buildings like bullets through butter.

The other part of the rays appears seldom or never to get completely through the earth's atmosphere. It is made of something which either has no electrical charge, or only a small charge compared with its mass. These things lacking electrical charge could be neutrons, one of the recent ultimate particles of matter.

HIGH COST OF TAXES

SOMERSET, Pa.—Mike Tresak is out of jail and the county of Somerset is $36.87 richer. They jailed Tresak 41 days ago for failure to pay $9.71 in taxes.

Yesterday two of Tresak's friends called at the jail. "Mike would like to go home now," they told the warden. "Mike will go home when he pays his bill," the warden said, estimating board at 50 cents a day, plus the taxes and the costs, a grand total of $36.87 for a $9.71 tax bill.

Bruce Lewin, 72-year-old Australian, claims to have walked more than 61,000 miles in the last 11 years, wearing out 60 pairs of shoes.

PAMPA TEACHERS HAND BORGER'S FACULTY 34-32 LACING IN CAGE BATTLE

SECOND GAME TO BE PLAYED HERE DELAYED

MITCHELL AND MONROE STAR FOR LOCAL PEDAGOGS

Playing a brand of basket ball that rivaled professional perfection, the Pampa Faculty basketball team last night nosed out the Borger Faculty, 34 to 32, in Borger. The two teams were to meet here Friday night but the game will be postponed until next week because Borger will be unable to come here Friday.

Coach Odu Mitchell and Arjus Fox have been working less than two weeks with their charges and haven't decided how the material rates. Although the mentors refuse to put out a starting lineup, the wise birds who have been watching workouts see a Captain Monroe Owens and Fred Mumford at ends. J. R. Green and Carl Smith at Jackies, Bill Haner and Charlie Welton at guards, Leon Noblett, center, Lloyd Hamilton, quarters-back, Bill Dunaway and Robert McAnally at Halves, and Hazel Mackie, fullback.

Several changes could be made in the lineup. There are two or three lettermen from last year not listed in the "doped" starting lineup and any number of former Gorillas could get the call nearly as easily as the above starters.

A hard scrimmage marked the practice yesterday afternoon. The boys have learned many plays and will try them on the "Exes." The plays this season appear much different and more complicated than former formations.

Bill Haner is giving Bill Dunaway a hard run for punting honors. Dunaway is the more finished "kicker" but Haner has terrific power in his leg and foot and he gets nice distance although the ball wobbles or goes end over end. Haner is showing promise. Red Fanning, Gorilla last year, is also doing some promising punting.

Coach Busby can field two strong teams of "Exes." One team will be players of several years ago and the other team will be from classes of the last two years.

Railbirds believe the 1934 Harvesters are due to learn a lot about football Friday afternoon.

Harvester prospects will get their first initiation under fire Friday afternoon when they scrimmage the "Exes" of Coach C. O. Busby. The scrimmage will be held at the Sam Houston playground where a temporary field will be marked off.

Miss Eleanor Talley left Pampa hospital for her home in Miami today, after treatment for a gunshot wound accidentally inflicted in the shoulder Sunday evening.

AFTER 90 DAYS, ENDURANCE CONTESTS WILL BE UNLAWFUL

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—The Texas government has walked in with a 90-day notice for walkathons to start walking-out.

Walkathons are referred to by their promoters as sporting events. However, they resemble more an endurance burlesque—a ridicule of the traditional belief that humans must have a required amount of sleep each 24 hours.

Promoters in large Texas cities have reaped young fortunes from spectators who paid to see what it was all about. What they saw was a publicity stunt—a row of contestants dragging semi-conscious bodies over the floor, striving to survive and win a promised money reward at the end of the journey of drowsiness.

FIVE REASONS WHY WILDCATS SHOULD BUST MEDLEY RECORD

A. C. C. Sprint Relay Team Is in Fiel dAgain This Year To Win New Titles.

BY PREXY ANDERSON, Sports Editor, Abilene Morning News

The wing-footed Wildcats of Abilene Christian college, who have been in earnest training since December, soon will open defense of their honors on the sprints and a campaign for additional laurels.

Coach J. Eddie Weems will speak right up with the information that he expects his boys this spring to nail among other record items the national mark for the sprint medley relay.

For the information of those not familiar with the event, the sprint medley race consists of an opening leg of 440 yards, a brace of 220's and a closing 880. Prof. Weems' A. C. C. boys managed to head the national collegiate honor roll for 1933, by negotiating the race at the Drake relays in 3 minutes 29.8 seconds. The same afternoon at the Penn relays the Princeton university quartet of medley sprinters, including Bill Bonthron—you've seen his name in the headlines—were getting a blue ribbon for getting over the same mileage in 3:30.9.

The national record, a matter of 3 minutes, 27.6 seconds, is now the property of an Ohio state team which functioned in 1931, so it behooves the Christians to clip 2.4 seconds from their best previous time. The details of how and why this can be done may be reasoned this way:

In the first place, the 1933 team is back to the man—Howard Green (440), Harry Wart (220), Ardie Nowell (220), and John Simmons (880).

In the second place, Darrold (Dog) Wilson, swifter than either Ward or Nowell, pulled a leg muscle the afternoon before the race at Des Moines last spring, making it necessary for Nowell to take his place on the team. If it doesn't develop that Dog's injury has slowed him down for keeps, he'll add to the speed of the outfit.

In the third place, the Wildcats' performance at Drake was on a soaked track. A downpour preceded the meet by only a few minutes, and the medley contest opened the program.

In the fourth place, without fear of successful contradiction, Green and Simmons are hereby proclaimed at 440 and 880 yards the swiftest young men the southwest has turned out to date. Green last spring twice defeated Alex Cox of the University of Texas. Southwest conference record holder for the quarter mile, and was clocked at his 440 section of the Drake race in 48 seconds flat. At Chicago last June, Simmons ran third in the national col-

Tonight will be another bargain night at the Pla-Mor auditorium when the management has arranged for a big dance and plenty of entertainment. Ralph Emerson will provide the music.

Regular admission, for dancing all evening, will be 75 cents. To the first fifteen paid admissions, provided they are paid before 9:30, free tickets to the dance next Wednesday night will be given.

Emerson and his entertainers have earned quite a reputation for good music in Pampa and this territory and the crowd tonight is expected to be an appreciative one. Get your group together and you will enjoy an evening of good dance music and entertainment.

Remember that to secure the free tickets for next Wednesday night, you must be one of the first fifteen to pay tonight and that you must be there before 9:30. (Adv.)

TRAINING WITH THE MAJOR LEAGUES

By The Associated Press.

SARASOTA, Fla.—"No swimming" is the only spring training rule in the Boston Red Sox camp. After waiting for two days for Manager "Bucky" Harris to outline his rules and regulations, the players had to ask him about his views on this and that.

"Most of you are veterans," "Bucky" said, "and know just what you can do and not do. The only thing I forbid is swimming. You may get a severe sunburn out of it. As for the rest of the usual rules, it's up to you to make your own."

AVALON, Calif.—Between invalids and a holdout, Manager Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs, had only 22 men today from which to pick a pair of teams.

Infielder Billy Herman is the holdout, while Lynn Nelson, another pitcher, was out of action with an abscess in his ear. Bill James and Woody English, infielders, are suffering with eye trouble.

FORT MYER, Fla.—If the Philadelphia Athletics fail to make a good showing against the New York Giants in their opening exhibition game Friday, it won't be because Manager Connie Mack didn't work them hard enough.

The American league club's regulation 9-inning game yesterday, with the veterans clinching a 6 to 3 victory in the eighth.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—The young man from Azusa—a little town in California—is holding the spotlight in early competition for pitching berths on Philadelphia's National league team. Curtis Davis, by name, he attracted the most attention among thirteen hurriers yesterday.

Commenting on the entire battery group, Manager Jimmy Wilson said: "That was the best opening day workout I have ever watched. Some of the new men look like good prospects."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Now that Ed Brandt, the Boston Braves' star left-hander is in camp, Manager Bill McKee's only worry centers about the whereabouts of Ray Kuhn, the right-hander purchased from the Giants.

Starr's trunk arrived here several days ago but the hurler, believed to be mooring from his Nowata, Okla., home, has yet to claim it.

PASADENA, Calif.—At the rate Henry (Zeke) Bonura is making himself at home at first base for the Chicago White Sox, it looks as though the Philadelphia club devote his time to directing the club.

Ponessa was expected to be a playing pilot, but the 210-pound recruit from Dallas has shown so much stuff that he probably will stay on the job.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Business Manager Bob Quinn has three Brooklyn Dodger holdouts to placate but he's worried only about two of them.

He adopted a "take it or leave it" attitude with Hack Wilson but is a bit concerned over A Lopez, the clever Cuban catcher, and the veteran right-handed pitcher, Ray Benge.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Until further notice, Tony Lazzari is the New York Yankees' new third baseman. Manager Joe McCarthy has decided to put Tony at third and Lou Gehrig at first while he finds out whether Don Heffner will do at second and Bob Rolfe at short.

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—She's 21 but Sonia Henie is almost ready to retire from competitive sport.

"For five years I have been saying I will retire," says the slender Norwegian girl who has been queen of the world's figure skaters for eight years. "Now soon I think I will. I am tired of training all the time."

Here for a series of exhibitions, Sonia said she had no intention of turning professional and hoped she wouldn't have to compete in the Olympics at Berlin in 1936.

"But they will say you must, Sonia," he like to skate so much," she complained.

She left last night for Toronto for exhibitions there Friday and Saturday.

Need for Roads Told by Duncan

"Highways are the 'arions' of a city and a good highway system how can a city expect to flourish?" Judge Ivy E. Duncan asked in an address to the Junior chamber of commerce yesterday. Judge Duncan traced the growth of Pampa from a small village to the present city and the part highways played in the city development.

A. J. Johnson gave a charge to new members. He told of the work of the organization and urged the new members to swing into action. Russell Kennedy and H. C. Berry were introduced as new members. Jimmie King and his guitar provided entertainment. The program was in charge of Harry E. Hoare, chairman of the highway committee.

Directors met briefly after the luncheon and voted to assist the other city clubs in a child recreational program.

Junior Duenkel, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Duenkel underwent an operation last night. He was reported doing well this morning.

FATHER SLAYS TWO CHILDREN THEN HIMSELF

STABS DAUGHTER AND SON TO MUSIC OF RADIO

OIL CITY, Pa., March 7 (AP)—A boy and a girl are dead of knife wounds inflicted by their father who then ended his own life with a charge from the double-barreled shotgun while the radio blared away in the living room of their home.

The father, Axel G. Anderson, 53, a machinist, was found lifeless in the family garage yesterday beside the gun and a fishing pole with which he pulled the trigger.

The son, Paul, 15-year-old high school student who had been excused from classes in compliance with a note written by the father, lay under a table in the kitchen of the home.

Nearby, alongside a pile of potatoes she had been peeling, was the daughter, Mildred, 19. She and her brother had been stabbed through the heart with a four-inch hunting knife.

The tragedy was discovered by another son, Harry, 23, on his return from work.

Officers could not find any explanation for what Deputy Coroner J. R. Sharp termed a double slaying and suicide, but an investigation last night disclosed, they said, that Anderson apparently had carefully planned everything.

On Monday night he went to the office of a justice of the peace and turned the title of his automobile over to his son, Harry.

Unemployed for some time and despondent, Anderson recently got a job with the oil well supply company and was supposed to have gone to work yesterday.

Instead, he arose early and went to a downtown barbershop where he obtained a haircut and shave. Then he wrote the "excuse" that enabled him to leave school at 2 p. m. The bodies were found at 4 p. m. An orchestra was playing loudly over the family radio. A piece of meat was cooking on the stove.

Cast of One-Act Play Praised by Amarillo Club

Pampa high school students won acclaim through presentation of a one-act play, "Smokescreen," for the Amarillo Lions club yesterday. The program, given under direction of President Clyde Fatheree of the Pampa club, also included a short talk by Olin E. Hinkle of the local group.

The play cast was composed of Miss Inogene Hollenbeck, Harold Bray, and Vernell Stevens. Sue Dodson, student director; Leon Robinson, stage manager; and Ben Guill, teacher of public speaking, accompanied the cast. The play, based on a gangster theme, held the attention of the Lions throughout and each player won commendation.

Others present from Pampa were George Briggs, Miss Jackie Jones, club pianist, and A. M. Teede.

Mrs. Ora Christopher of Skellytown was a shopper here yesterday.

make it informal. Dear . . . ah, dear Morton: I spoke to you some time ago about the Rio Diablo project.

"In case you've forgotten (strike that out). To refresh your memory, about ten years ago, a fly-by-night realty company conceived the idea of damming the Rio Diablo, a temperamental stream in south-west Texas, north and east of the Rio Grande, a particularly desolate region.

"The idea of the dam was all right, I have no doubt but what irrigation and controlled water supply will turn it into one of the leading citrus fruit sections of the world. However, after they talked a lot of poor suckers (strike that out) homeseekers into investing their money in the land; had built a railroad spur into the country to carry these poor . . . ah, homeseekers there, they decamped.

"When the affair (put in another word for affair, Judy) came to my notice I made a quick trip down there. I found about a hundred of these homeseekers still there because they didn't have any place else to go. They had sold their old homes to invest in this desert land and were there grubbing a mere existence out of the soil. The spur had been abandoned and their condition was pitiable.

"I decided, after my survey, that I would build that dam, out of my own capital, if necessary, and with this end in view will leave here June first with my engineers to make a complete survey of the project.

"I am going to want legal protection every step of the way, for it is possible that the original promoters, finding they may make some more money out of that country, will try to horn in (you'll have to find some other word for horn in, Judy).

"I am going to want someone from your office, either you or one of your partners, to accompany me on this trip for the purpose of searching titles, etc. My secretary, Miss Lane, will be available for any stenographic work in connection with the project both here and in the field, and will be familiar with all details pertaining to the expedition, should you call at the office during my temporary absence.

"I will appreciate your immediate attention to this matter and wish to know at your earliest convenience, which one of you (better make that which member of your firm) will accompany the expedition."

Judith snapped the band on her book—"Mr. Tom, you must go on home!" she entreated.

"Not 'til I sign that letter," he countered stubbornly.

With resignation the girl turned to the typewriter and sent her fingers flying over the keys. Rata-rata-rata-rata-rata!

The margin bell echoed the final period, and again a letter whisked across the polished surface of the desk and again the telephone whirled.

"Bevins Construction company, Miss Lane, speaking?"

"Really?" drawled a feminine voice. "Miss Lane, this is Miss Sanford of the Houston Tribune. Will you have dinner with me this evening?"

Judith's lips, which had curved into a smile at the sound of Miss Sanford's voice, framed a quick answer. . . . "Delighted."

"Wait a minute," warned the other, "there's a joker in this invitation. The dinner is on the Tribune. I'm to interview a perfect stenographer."

"I'll enjoy that," returned Judith quickly. She'd been with Miss Sanford on other assignments. "Who is she?"

"You," answered Miss Lane and before Judith could protest, "meet me in the lobby of the Rice at six thirty."

Judith turned from the telephone with such an expression of bewilderment that Bevins, looking up from the letter he had just signed, laughed.

"What's wrong, Judy?"

"Nothing in particular," she faltered, "only Miss Sanford said she was going to interview a perfect stenographer this evening and that I was—" she paused. Tom Bevins, "Big Tom," as his men affectionately called him had flushed to the roots of his hair.

"I let you in for that," he confessed. "A discussion of stenographers came up at the Engineers luncheon today. Kline of the Amalgamated said there was no such thing as a perfect stenographer, because such a person would have to have the brains of an Einstein, the patience of a Job and the endurance of a Robot."

"Judith," there was small-boy defiance in his voice, "I not only admitted you possessed these qualifications, I bragged about it. Carlson of the Tribune sat across the table from us and he must have listened in."

"And to think you're noted, internationally, for your accuracy," chided Judith. "What would happen if you exaggerated on a bride specification like that? I should ask for a raise, on the strength of what you've said, but you're already giving me more than I'm worth, so please, Big Tom, do go on home before Mrs. Bevins gets after me."

"Oh all right," he arose, walked slowly to his locker, pulled a cloth over his hair at a defiant angle and ambled out, slamming the door behind him.

The moon-faced clock on the tower of the Tribune leered at Judith. Big Tom would be late and Mrs. Bevins would nag at him. Poor, Big Tom.

It would be a relief to get him into the field again where he could relax. Mrs. Bevins didn't seem to realize that a man couldn't work at white heat all day, then dine and play cards all night. Of course the memory of Miss Lane's voice. She admitted being forty-two; Big Tom was past sixty.

Not that this was any of her business, Judith reminded Judith. She was only his stenographer . . . perfect stenographer, flinned the memory of Miss Lane's voice. She laughed. To think that in this city of three hundred thousand, with its usual ratio of stenographers, she should have been called the perfect one.

Five years ago she would have classified a stenographer as some sort of an unskilled business domestic. She was in college then, intent upon fitting herself to become a civil engineer and her father's partner. She had all of the practical education necessary, having traveled with him since her mother's death, when she was twelve, but had wanted to perfect her technical training.

She had foregone the pleasure of a South American trip for this purpose, and one year before her course was completed, Miss Lane succumbed to a slow tropical fever which had been robbing him of both life and savings.

Tom Bevins was in Austin when the dean broke the news to Judith. When he learned of the passing of his friend and early partner, he hurried to the girl and after her grief had subsided helped her readjust her life. He admired her independent attitude, and when she refused financial help, suggested she use the meager life insurance as tuition at a business college where she could be speedily supplied with stenographic training which would enable her to care for herself.

Equipped with a diploma and determination, she progressed to position to position until Miss Lane's secretary married, and she was called to take her place.

Easter Music Is Being Rehearsed By Many Groups

Rehearsal of Easter music is keeping many Pampa musical organizations busy now.

In addition to the church groups, the Philharmonic choir is engaged in practices of music for use in coming months. Each Monday evening the choir, composed of singers from many churches and school groups, meets at the First Methodist church.

The choir is working on "From Olivet to Calvary," for Easter, and "Trial by Jury," a Gilbert-Sullivan composition in which a breach of promise suit is dramatized and sung in a courtroom scene.

WAR DEBTS TO BE DISCUSSED BY ROOSEVELT

CONGRESS WILL LIKELY ADJOURN ABOUT MID-MAY

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt is understood to be ready to bring about adjournment of the 73rd congress at the earliest possible moment and by mid-May at the latest.

Only one more message will be sent to Capitol Hill, that one relating to war debts negotiations. It is described in usually reliable quarters as more in the nature of a report than a proposal for new legislation.

There is every indication that the president is willing to sacrifice some "pet" measures no before congress in the hope of pressing the existing program to conclusion.

Congressional attention is being directed to the necessary appropriation bills to keep the government in funds next year; the loop-hole plugging income and general tax measure and the reciprocal tariff bill upon which house hearings open tomorrow.

Mr. Roosevelt is confident, however, that the bill to coordinate all communications under a single commission will be passed before the adjournment deadline.

Major scraps impend over the tariff veterans benefits, the St. Lawrence seamy treaty ratification, and possibly the stock market control bill, but Mr. Roosevelt appears unworried that the congressional session will be unduly extended.

Today the senate, after swamping opposition to the basic commodity bill, was required to take it up again to dispose of a motion to reconsider. The bill, which provides that the navy be built up to treaty limits, passed yesterday, 65 to 18.

The senate planned to turn later to a bill to make available a basic commodity under the agricultural adjustment act, while the house continued debate on the $280,000,000 army supply bill.

WAR DEBTS TO BE DISCUSSED BY ROOSEVELT

CONGRESS WILL LIKELY ADJOURN ABOUT MID-MAY

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt is understood to be ready to bring about adjournment of the 73rd congress at the earliest possible moment and by mid-May at the latest.

Only one more message will be sent to Capitol Hill, that one relating to war debts negotiations. It is described in usually reliable quarters as more in the nature of a report than a proposal for new legislation.

There is every indication that the president is willing to sacrifice some "pet" measures no before congress in the hope of pressing the existing program to conclusion.

Congressional attention is being directed to the necessary appropriation bills to keep the government in funds next year; the loop-hole plugging income and general tax measure and the reciprocal tariff bill upon which house hearings open tomorrow.

Mr. Roosevelt is confident, however, that the bill to coordinate all communications under a single commission will be passed before the adjournment deadline.

Major scraps impend over the tariff veterans benefits, the St. Lawrence seamy treaty ratification, and possibly the stock market control bill, but Mr. Roosevelt appears unworried that the congressional session will be unduly extended.

Today the senate, after swamping opposition to the basic commodity bill, was required to take it up again to dispose of a motion to reconsider. The bill, which provides that the navy be built up to treaty limits, passed yesterday, 65 to 18.

The senate planned to turn later to a bill to make available a basic commodity under the agricultural adjustment act, while the house continued debate on the $280,000,000 army supply bill.

WORN-OUT LANDS IN EAST TO BE PLANTED IN TREES AND TURNED BACK TO GAME BIRDS, ANIMALS

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of plans of the government to use land to be bought and retired from agricultural production.)

BY STEPHEN McDONOUGH, Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—In attacking the problem of land use the government faces difficulties which have been accumulating for more than 100 years, for land abandonment began in the east when western lands were thrown open to settlement.

At least six considerations must be kept in mind as the program is mapped out. First of all, the impoverished condition of thousands of farm families must be improved.

After that comes the necessity of eliminating farm surpluses permanently, which will involve purchasing some productive as well as submarginal land, controlling floods; renewing the nation's timber supply; restoring wild game life and providing natural parks and nature-study areas.

To date the department of agriculture, subsistence homestead division of the interior department, and federal surplus relief corporation have been at work on separate plans and ideas. And to the question "what do you intend to do with this land?" the answer until recently has been: "We don't know."

However, with selection of areas in which $25,000,000 now available will be spent, the necessity for a program is apparent.

They have set up the requirements for a coordinated land program. These are: Bettering the living conditions of the people on areas bought; guaranteeing more efficient use of schools and churches; assuring the people of steady, even though small, income; provision of constructive work in small industries which have a ready market, and self-supporting and self-liquidating use of the land vacated.

Some of the ideas "may sound radical," says L. C. Gray, land economist of the department of agriculture, "but the radicalism of yesterday has become the liberalism of today and may appear as the conservatism of tomorrow."

Certain areas will be used primarily as parks and sanctuaries for birds and mammals of agriculture, and the largest number of tracts acquired, will be run on a paying basis. Their chief crops will be timber and game birds and animals.

The two would be produced together under the only comprehensive plan thus far suggested—a study made by President Roosevelt's committee on wild life restoration and chiefly by J. N. Darling of Des Moines, Iowa, a member of the committee.

JURORS GIVE DR. WYNEKOOP 25-YEAR TERM

VERDICT TANTAMOUNT TO DEATH FOR WOMAN

CHICAGO, March 7 (AP)—Only a higher court, or death itself, can save Dr. Alice Wynekoop from the penitentiary now.

A jury convicted her last night for slaying her daughter-in-law, Rheta, in the "operating table" murder that horrified the nation. It fixed her sentence at 25 years imprisonment in the penitentiary. Only two ballots were taken.

The murder drama that began when Rheta's body was found, a bullet in the back, on Dr. Wynekoop's operating table last November 21, kept its interest in rushing crescendo to the last.

With the jury in its place, ready to report its verdict, Judge Harry B. Miller summoned the jail physician to stand by the 62-year-old woman, and be ready to administer strong heart stimulants, lest the shock of the verdict strike her dead.

She did not need his ministrations. She heard the verdict as she sat in her wheel chair without sign of a quiver. She turned to two of her children, Walker and Dr. Catherine Wynekoop, and said: "Go home, now children, and sleep. Your mother is not guilty. No, no. Not guilty."

At a moment she was over and this paradox of a woman, with a keen, strong mind in a frail body, was being wheeled from the courtroom, back to the infirmary cot at the county jail. There she will await the result of her attorneys' efforts to win a new trial.

Arguments for a new trial have been set for March 24. If they are denied, an appeal to the state supreme court is planned.

The verdict was regarded by many as tantamount to a death penalty for Dr. Wynekoop, who had collapsed time and time again during the fourteen day ordeal of this—her second trial. She suffered a complete collapse from heart disease during her first hearing last January. There was a likelihood, some physicians said, that she would die of natural causes before she goes to prison—if she taken.

The first of two ballots taken by the jury last night was reported to have been 11 to one for conviction. Two jurors were reported to have voted on the first ballot for the extreme penalty—death in the electric chair—which Prosecutor Charles S. Dougherty indirectly demanded in his closing arguments.

PAUL RUNYAN IS NEW JONES HAGEN STATES

1933 CHAMPS FAVORED TO WIN FOUR-BALL TOURNAMENT

By ALAN GOULD
MIAMI, Fla., March 7 (AP)—The most sensational golfing pair that the winter golfing wars have ever seen, consisting of diminutive Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., and Willow Horton Smith of Chicago, today faced an opportunity to shatter a long-standing precedent, on top of their record-breaking exploits this week in the international four-ball tournament at the Miami Country club.

No team has ever won the event twice since it was established as an annual fixture in 1926. Smith and Runyan won the 1933 tournament and they were favored to repeat in the 36-hole final against Denary Shute of Philadelphia, the British open champion, and his Castilian partner, Alesphosa of Akron, Ohio.

Tommy Armour, the silver Scot, so far has been the only double winner but he turned the trick with different partners. He won with Bobby Cruikshank in 1927, and paired with Ed Dudley to top the field in 1932.

The prospective putting duel between Shute and Runyan attracted the chief interest of golf ballbirds. Runyan in particular has been going great guns in Florida and the professionals already are boosting the former Arkansas boy to lead the forthcoming battle with Bobby Jones in the Augusta open at the end of March.

Walter Hagen, the old warrior who was blasted out of the tournament yesterday along with Tom Creasy of Albany, N. Y., by the Smith-Runyan combination by the lopsided score of 10 and 9, volunteered the statement that the heavyweight Runyan is the "new Jones" of American golf.

Shute, who combined with Espinosa to eliminate Willy Cox and Bill Melhorn, 5 and 4, in the other semi-final, has been on a scoring spree most of the week.

Santa Cruz, Calif., beach bathers were surprised to see a deer swimming several hundred yards off shore followed by a flock of seagulls. Local naturalists said deer frequently takes to salt water to rid themselves of ticks and fleas.

Memphis Man Is Killed in Peru

LIMA, Peru, March 7 (AP)—Details of an accident which cost the lives of two American oil engineers last Thursday at Negritos oil field were received here today.

The Americans killed were James Laner Stauff, 35, born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and Alfred Rice Farmer, 29, of Memphis, Texas.

They were working in the area called "Mile No. 6", where there is an oil pressure estimated at 850 pounds to the square inch.

They were assisted by two drillers named Slaughter and Sexton, making a preliminary survey before they started drilling.

Stauff ordered the crew to retire as a pressure valve blew up but he and Farmer were fatally injured by the blast. Slaughter and Sexton escaped by a narrow margin.

Stauff was an expert wireless operator and owner of private station Aaib. He is survived by his widow and two sons. Farmer's widow left by Pan-American Airways plane for Texas Saturday, two days after her husband's death.

The bodies of both men will be returned to the United States by a steamer calling in at Talara March 10.

City dwellers purchase more poultry and eggs from Iowa than from any other state. During 1932 the state marketed at four principal markets 54,000,000 pounds of dressed poultry and 66,000,000 dozen eggs.

CRASH OF AIR LINER FATAL TO FOUR MEN

PETERSBURGH, Ill., March 7 (AP)—A blinding blizzard that glazed its wings with ice was blamed today for the crash of a St. Louis-Chicago airliner which cost four lives last night.

The dead: Hugh Station, 26, aviation editor of the Chicago Tribune; G. H. Waetjen, 18, East 41st Street, New York; Walter Hallgren, veteran transport pilot who had flown nearly a million miles; W. N. Bell of Chicago and Columbus, O., an employee of the Jeffrey Manufacturing company.

The plane, an American Airways craft bound for Chicago, plunged down through swirling snow and smashed into a deep drift on a farm near here.

Apparently all four victims died instantly. Hallgren, calm to the last, cut his switch when he saw a crash inevitable, thereby preventing fire.

Company officials in Chicago said it was obvious that Hallgren attempted to land the craft safely but that darkness prevented it.

Orva Allig, on whose farm the plane fell, and R. D. Knoles, another farmer, witnessed the crash. Both dashed to the scene to find the victims dead.

Allig said he heard the plane roaring over his farmhouse at a low altitude.

"I was afraid at first, he said, 'that it was going to hit the house. I grabbed a lantern and dashed outdoors. It seemed to be about 500 feet high, trying to get higher. I thought he was going to make it when suddenly I heard the motor stop, and then there was a terrific crash."

"I rushed back into the house, got a flashlight, had someone call neighbors, and then plowed through the snow to the wreck, about an eighth of a mile away. Everything there was no answer. I shouted. There was no answer."

"I played the flashlight over the wreckage. I saw the legs of one of the men sticking out. I lifted them and they were limp. I knew he was dead."

All five varieties of sugar cane which in 1925 accounted for almost all cane syrup production now are regarded by the department of agriculture as inferior.

PERSONAL JUSTICE

JACKSON, Miss.—A bill paying the way for the father of a high school girl to spring the trap when three Memphis, Tenn., negroes are hanged March 16 for assaulting the girl has been reported favorably by the county affairs committee of the Mississippi senate.

The bill authorizes the "sheriff of any county in which a sentence of death is to be executed in a capital case to appoint a resident citizen of the state of Mississippi to execute said sentence."

Committee members said the bill was intended especially to permit the father of the high school girl to spring the trap at Hernando, Mississippi, next week.

Rainfall in Houston, Texas, in January, 1934, totaled 9.94 inches, the heaviest January precipitation in 43 years.

Whose Fault?

The Boy or Girl Who Refuses to Eat

"What have I ever done to deserve a child who refuses to eat, and is just skin and bones?" The mother who asks that question might be surprised to learn that she alone is to blame. She knows a lack of appetite is the sign of a clogged system, but does the wrong thing to remedy the condition. A violent cathartic that upsets the stomach pulls down a child like a spell of sickness. It often forms the laxative habit. A more sensible way of regulating children is explained in the column to the right.

It's a lucky girl whose mother knows how to regulate her children's bowels without some strong, evicting cathartic that upsets the system and ruins their appetite! Whichever sluggishness coats the little tongue, makes the whites of the eyes a bilious yellow, or a child is headachy and fretful, just try pure California Syrup of Figs. The senna in this fruit laxative is so agreeable to take, so natural in action! Get real California Syrup of Figs at any drug store. The bottle should say "California".

Burn Weeds and Grass, Says Gold

Burning gasoline caused no damage at the Hampton and Campbell garage at 12:50 o'clock this morning. The fire department answered a call but let the fire burn itself out. The gasoline was being used to clean a part of a motor and in some unknown manner caught fire. Chief Clyde Gold is preparing his spring warning about burning weeds and trash. He urges citizens not to attempt to light fires on windy days and to use care that no buildings are located near where trash is being burned. Pampa had a wonderful fire record last year and the chief hopes to make a better record this year.

Stanton's Death Penalty Affirmed

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed a death sentence against Ed Stanton, convicted of the slaying of John Moseley, sheriff of Wheeler county at the time of the homicide. Glenn Hunsucker and Bernice Inman had been jointly indicted with Stanton, but Hunsucker was later killed in New Mexico when officers sought to arrest the trio. Moseley was shot to death at Tulsa January 23, 1933, while attempting to arrest Stanton, Hunsucker and the woman. He had been chasing them in an automobile. After the shooting the three forced a filling station operator to give them gasoline, robbed him and cut the telephone wires and fled. Ed Mills of White Deer transacted business here yesterday.

'3-Ring' Event To Be Held at Church Tonight

Frankly solicitous invitations to attend the "food-faith-and-fun" program at the First Methodist church this evening were addressed to members and friends of the church today. They were asked to bring a covered dish for the luncheon which will be served at 6:45 p. m.—if it is convenient to do so; if not, "come anyway," said Rev. Gaston Foote, pastor. "My attitude toward this is the same as it is toward collections," he said. "If you have four bits put in the plate, if you can spare a dollar put it in, if you're hungry take out some."
The "three-ring" program will include recreation, singing, discussion of question box queries, and discussion of the life and letters of Paul by Rev. Foote. A class is conducted for young people by Mrs. Foote.

Fusionists And Kansas City Boss In Run-Off Vote

KANSAS CITY, March 7. (AP)—Kansas City's "Little Tammany" will fight it out, as its namesake did in New York, with a fusionist movement for control of the city government in a run-off election March 27.
Tickets of the T. J. Pendergast democratic organization and the fusionists, embracing both republican and democrats, were nominated yesterday in the primary election. A "straight" republican slate was hopelessly defeated.
The Pendergast ticket led the fusionist by approximately 40,000 in a record-breaking primary vote.
The balloting was marked by complaints of irregularity and violence made to Governor Guy B. Park by fusionist leaders.
Joseph Fennelly, president of the National Youth Movement, sponsor of the non-partisan ticket, said "hundreds" of affidavits charging violation of election laws and roughness had been filed at his headquarters.
Both camps prepared for an intensive three-weeks' campaign. Seeking to end an 8-year Pendergast organization rule, the fusionists charge the present administration with "graft, corruption, and inefficiency" and with domination by a "boss."
With only one of the 460 precincts unreported, Mayor Bryce B. Smith, Pendergast candidate for re-election, received 13,430 votes to 64,002 for Dr. A. Ross Hill, former president of the University of Missouri and fusionist candidate. Clark E. Jacoby, republican, received 4,329.

Missouri River Flood Maroons Fifty Persons

ATCHISON, Kan., March 7. (AP)—A swollen and rampant Missouri river, inundating 10,000 acres of bottom farm lands, had marooned 50 persons this morning and five were missing, as farmers, in increasing numbers, abandoned the low lands on the Kansas-Missouri border.
The crisis had not passed. Flood waters, sweeping down from the Dakotas, were piling up behind a 25-foot ice jam. Rescuers risked their lives in small boats as they attempted, mid flooding mice, to reach houses in which people might have sought refuge on upper floors.
While the occupants were downtown, a thief stole the lower half of a window from a Sherman, Tex., residence.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—The stock market suffered a sharp sell-off late today after moving dully in the early proceedings. The reaction followed word from Washington that General Johnson planned to curtail N. R. A. code working hours through an executive order. Leading equities lost 1 to 3 or more points. The close was heavy. Transfers approximated 1,800,000 shares.

NEW REVOLT RUMORS FLY OUT OF CUBA

Palace Guarded—Attack Is Planned By Communists And Army, Reports Say.
HAVANA, March 7. (AP)—Machine guns were placed hastily atop the palace roof today and the guard was redoubled as new rumors of 20-volt revolution.
Part of the army and communists, the rumors ran, planned to join followers of former President Ramon Grau San Martin in an attack on the palace.
Soldiers and police guards were doubled throughout the city. Automobiles loaded with sailors and soldiers moved through the streets. Autoists and pedestrians were searched.
Seven men were arrested during the night in suburban Marianao. All were charged with conspiring against the government of President Carlos Mendiesta.
It was 2 o'clock this morning before the weary Mendiesta cabinet, which sat up most of Monday night, ended a session in which stringent measures to meet growing unrest, taken by the President late yesterday, were approved.
Facing perhaps the most critical situation since he came to power, President Mendiesta assumed wide powers by suspending ten of the most important personal guarantees in the provisional constitution. He also signed the law of national defense, which an aide said would "divide and break up communist activities." In addition, the president ordered the immediate deportation of all alien agitators.
Among other things, under the suspension of personal guarantees, the government may jail enemies of the regime ten days without filing charges.
Trams and buses operated normally in Havana today, but soldiers stood guard to prevent possible attacks. Carmen and her drivers refused to strike in support of dock workers.
Soldiers took over the operation of all trains and street cars between Camaguey and Santa Clara.

General Denies Charge He Made About Woodring

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Testimony he previously had given that Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war, had changed specifications for airplanes was denied today before the house military committee by Major General Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the army air corps.
A few minutes earlier, Woodring himself testified he had not changed specification for $7,500,000 worth of planes.
Summoned by the committee, Foulois said the only change made by the assistant secretary in the $7,500,000 deal had been "as to procedure only."
"You didn't tell the appropriations committee the change was as to procedure only?" Rogers asked.
"That was what I meant."
"The only thing that had in mind was the change ordered by the secretary from negotiation to competition?"
"Yes, sir. I could very readily have explained the whole thing, but I did not do it at that time."

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE CLASS GOES THROUGH PLANT OF NEWS

Two large groups' sections of a high school class in vocational guidance, went through the plant of the Pampa Daily News yesterday to study the work of the many employees, in the accounting, circulating, advertising, editorial, mechanical, press, and job printing departments of the newspaper.
The trip was arranged by R. W. Castleberry, teacher of the class. Members of The NEWS staff explained the work of various employees and Mr. Castleberry, former newspaper man, supplemented their remarks.
The teacher said that similar visits were being made to other industrial plants, to offices of professional men, and to public buildings in order that the students might get a mental picture of the world into which they will pass after leaving school. Attempts are being made to enable the students to develop a keen interest in some trade or profession early in life in order that it may motivate and intensify their studying even if they should later change their minds about their vocations.
The students were keenly interested in, and somewhat surprised by, the large size of The NEWS plant, and were especially eager to watch the automatic typesetters, the Linotypes, the Monotype machine which casts larger type, and the huge press which prints the newspaper.

Four Men Held In Robbery of Mesquite Bank

DALLAS, March 7. (AP)—Four men accused by officers of the $1,569 noonday holdup of the First National bank of Mesquite, near Dallas, were in three separate jails in Dallas today. The men were held a youth here for questioning. Investigators said the youth, fifth person involved, had $556 in his possession when arrested and that they were considering the possibility it might have been part of the Mesquite bank loot.

New York Mayor Plans To Wipe Out Tenements

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—HUMAN misery ... fifth ... quick death in flames ...
This ancient trumvirate of the lower East Side slums faces sudden curbing as the result of a campaign by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia to wipe out 67,000 tenements where he says human life is housed at a discount.
The first of numerous vacate orders were tacked to squalid doors today by Tenement Commissioner Langdon W. Post. Thousands of others are to follow as soon as the city perfects machinery for moving and re-housing occupants.
Twenty-seven people have fallen victims to tenement fires since January 1, eleven of them in the last ten days.
Aroused to fighting mood, Mayor LaGuardia ordered tenement owners to "fix up or shut up."
Tenement owners, fearful of being unable to meet the financial cost of restoration, threatened to "dump in his lap" 67,000 tenements and leave 650,000 families homeless in the streets. The answer was the posting of vacate orders. "We're ready," LaGuardia said.

Ten Texas A. & M. Students Ousted in Hazing Scrape

COLLEGE STATION, March 7. (AP)—Ten sophomore students of Texas A. & M. college were no longer students today, after President T. O. Walton announced they had been summarily dismissed for hazing freshmen.
The students, all members of the same military unit, were given a formal hearing yesterday before the discipline committee and the investigation disclosed that the hazing occurred last week.
President Walton, who declined to reveal the names of the students, commented that "it is a matter of regret on the part of college officials to have to take drastic action represented by dismissal of the students."
"With the support upper classmen have been giving the authorities," he said, "the practice of hazing is only an isolated effort on the part of a few students to reinstate the practice. Hazing is a practice which no compromise is possible under the policy of the college and students caught in such practice know they can expect only dismissal from the institution."

PAMPA TOPIC OF OUR CITY

Average weights are not parallel. Ideal weights change with public opinion. Mother Nature's averages, according to insurance companies' statistics, are astonishingly constant. Styles and nature are too often in conflict. For example, insurance company statistics show that women under 3 should not keep themselves too slender. Maybe Mad West will do a lot of good after all. But women over 30, at a time when they are less likely to be sensitive, should exercise more care in preventing excess poundage. At least one out of every five persons varies widely from average weights. On the average, persons add about one pound per year until they are 40. From that point their weight goes up or down more rapidly. Actually, a great many change their habits in aging in such a way as to cause a harmful change in their weight.

Figures on Tuberculosis Mortality Show a Surprising Relation with Being Underweight

BEYOND the middle point of life the whole picture changes. Then being underweight becomes desirable and indicates a longer life expectancy. The mortality rate increases rapidly with surplus weight in those past middle life, or your health's sake, and if you wish to live long enough to look back upon, and understand your depression, adjust yourself while you are under 30, but after you are over 35 watch your weight and don't eat too much. The average weight attained at the age of 35 appears to be the most healthful according to the insurance companies' records. We know of no better authority than the averages taken from Mother Nature's own laboratories.
