ROOSEVELT WIELDS BIG STICK

Twinkles

Faces in Manhattan are said to reflect the spirit of every nation in the world. But out here faces show great similarity, especially after every dust storm.

Our New York correspondent tells us that Broadway is not broad. But we have been reading that many people have their backs to the wall on Wall Street.

Mrs. Gushaway's daughter, according to Mrs. Gushaway, should be an excellent portrait painter. She gets enough practice on her face. The same would lady knows why her son does not paint the town red. He used all the paint on his flivver.

It is considered proper to cough—if you feel the urge—while reciting the lines in a high brow play. Pretty soon the only "don't" left will be the one that admonishes you to think up no "don't's."

You will know it is politics, and not horse sense, when the orators begin soon to pledge themselves for all that is good for Texas and against everything that is bad for Texas. But don't be mean enough to ask them what is good and what is bad.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment: Pampa needs much painting, but dust storms of the next two months will be vexing to painters. Remember, we wanted you 60 days ago. . . . Nearly everyone we know is going to play golf. But none can begin when invited. We're in the same fix—too busy. . . . National differences cause many types of wars but the author of the song "Goodnight Sweetheart," an Englishman, can thank such difference for the fact that his musical flop was so popular in America that nearly a million copies were sold in five years. Today's antonyms, for slavery; Un-restraint, disengagement, imprisonment, license, manumission, rescue.

THE sales tax is proving so popular that despite its weaknesses it is being tried by many states. On April 1, consumers in Iowa will begin paying a 2 per cent tax on everything they buy at retail. As in other states, the purpose of the Iowa sales tax is to reduce real estate taxes or at least to forestall an increase. The tax is supposed to produce revenue more than 15 million dollars. In addition Iowa has adopted an income tax that will produce about 4 million dollars. Iowa's Governor Herring, pointed out that "every citizen will now pay his own share of the cost of the government which he enjoys."

IT should be kept in mind that the sales tax is not a cure-all by any means. It is no panacea for local extravagance. State taxes are a small portion of the sum required for public purposes. City, county, and school taxes constitute the greatest burden. And these are the ones voted most directly by the taxpayers. There are merits in the sales tax but also many problems of administration. An exorbitant sales tax could prove itself very burdensome, and could contribute vastly to state extravagance.

SOMETHING is badly wrong when it is necessary to add extravagance in order to provide jobs. This is worse than a direct dole if carried to excess. It was proposed in one American city recently to provide jobs by borrowing federal mon-

2 AMERICANS CONFESS ALL IN SPY PLOT

IMMUNITY IS PROMISED BY OFFICIALS IN FRANCE

BY STUART MARONEY, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

PARIS, March 20 (AP)—Magistrate Andre Benon declared today that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz of East Orange, N. J., had disclosed that an international spy gang operated in New York and sent them as agents to France.

Benon said that Switz, a former salesman, had uncovered the gang's operation and the part he and his wife played in its work.

He said they came here on a pay of 5,000 francs—about $355—a month.

The examining magistrate who has quizzed the American couple since their arrest last December indicated the Americans would benefit from their revelation, by referring to article 10 of the new French espionage law which lightens the punishment in cases where "voluntary" information is given.

The judge said 10 inspectors had been working on the case since last June. He said their inquiry has already or will in the future reach the entire world and touch virtually all countries.

Benon said he is now waiting for documents supposed to arrive from Finland which he believes will reveal that the organization for which the Switzes are alleged to have been working apparently was founded in 1920.

The examining magistrate said Switz told him the names of all the members he knew in the organization, and the duties of each.

West Texas: Fair, warmer tonight; Wednesday fair, cooler in the Panhandle.

I HEARD—

A small boy who had been handed a nickel to get an ice cream cone declaring that he would rather have a roll of caps for his cap pistol. The days of the wild west are not over in the realm of boyhood.

Inspected the new postoffice building this morning. It is going to be a "knockout" when completed. Work is progressing slowly and it may be July before it will be occupied.

Hurls Baby to Death in Furnace

Hurling his baby son into a flaming furnace, Howard Gross, 35, left, Akron, O., salesman, calmly informed his wife of the shocking crime, declaring "God told me to do it." The baby, John, 2, right, died six hours later in a hospital. Gross, only a few hours before, had been treated for brain concussion after an auto crash. He is held for sanity hearing. Before charges are filed.

UNDER-PRIVILEGED CHILDREN TO GET 'BREAK' IN KIWANIS CLUB'S MYSTERY PLAY, 'CAT AND CANARY'

Comedy To Be Given On Thursday And Friday Nights

ONLY under-privileged children of the city will profit from the production of "The Cat and the Canary," mystery-comedy which the Kiwanis club will present Thursday and Friday night at 8:15 o'clock. If the La Nora theater is packed on both nights, as present prospects indicate, the poorer children of Pampa will get a break—a big break. The Kiwanis club will use the money where it is needed most.

In addition to financing an under-privileged children program, the Kiwanis club sponsors the junior police and the Girl Scouts.

An added attraction of the show will be "SmokeScreen," high school play which will be entered in the one-act play tournament. The cast was chosen from among seven in recent presentations of the play which tells the story of a gangster's "kept woman" who shot her lover after he abandoned her, and who was tricked into a confession of the murder by a hardboiled detective and a whining, sniveling dope-head.

Final rehearsal of the mystery play will be held tonight in the city auditorium. Members of the cast have known their lines perfectly for a week. Director Ed Damon announced today that he would give his cast a rest until Thursday night. Personnel of the cast was still a mystery today. However, Mr. Damon said, he has a group of capable actors and actresses in the play. Some have appeared in dramatic performances here and some have not. No student tickets will be sold at the window. They must be bought from student representatives.

"The Cat and the Canary" is well-known as a stage and screen success. It is not a tale of horror, but a mystery comedy and there are more laughs than chills in it. The plot deals with a house that has secret passage-ways, panels, hidden closets. Also there is a murder done. The "cat" is a madman who stalks the heiress "the canary." But who is the madman? Who is the killer? Every member of the cast is suspected, what is more they suspect each other of being a murderer.

Mrs. J. M. Thomas of McLean was a shopper in the city Monday.

FERA Employing 250 County Men

Only 250 Gray county men have been given work under the FERA plan. Re-organization has not been completed and as a result the full quota of men cannot be used.

Working hours on a budgetary basis. Some men may work eight hours while others get either 16 or 24 hours of work a week, according to budgeted needs. The maximum is 24 hours. The FERA administrator is paying for truck hire, which also comes under the budgetary system.

The men are working on the Pampa-McLean road and on highway 33 through the city limits. All cases on record must be re-investigated before applicants can be employed.

FIVE CITIZENS HELD CAPTIVE DURING NIGHT

FOUR BANDITS ESCAPE WITH ABOUT $900 IN ROBBERY

ROTAN, March 20 (AP)—While the balance of the town slept, Nathan Kelly, nightwatchman, and four young men lay for more than three hours in a dark alley opposite the First National bank here, captives of a robber armed with a machine gun, while three other marauders looted the bank at their leisure.

Using a torch, the trio burned a hole through the vault door, then burned a way into a small compartment in the safe holding most of the bank's silver. They got between $800 and $900, and escaped after herding Kelly and his fellow captives into the bank and attempting without success to lock them in.

The robbery started at 1 o'clock this morning when Kelly and four young Rotan men were surprised as the quartet played dominoes in the American Legion hall above the city hall. With Kelly were Charles Dowden, Jerry Sheppard, L. E. Wright and Rex Walker. When Dowden and Sheppard—attacked as they came down the stairway—showed bright, they were tied together with a chain, an end looped around the neck of each. The five captives were then herded down the street to the alley. When they complained of cold they were given a blanket and ordered to lie down. The robbery was not completed until 5 a. m.

Mother Queen of Holland Succumbs

THE HAGUE, March 20 (AP)—Dowager Queen Emma, beloved for her charities and honored alike by Holland's rich and poor, died this morning of bronchitis. She was 75 years old.

The queen mother, widow of King William III and mother of Queen Wilhelmina, had suffered from bronchitis for some time, but became gravely ill only a few days ago.

From the first she was attended almost constantly by her daughter, Queen Wilhelmina and granddaughter, Princess Juliana, heir to the throne.

Through Monday care was taken to avoid heavy traffic in the vicinity of the palace. Throngs formed, however, to receive bulletins of Queen Emma's condition.

As the 20-year-old princess of Warendorff and Piedmont she came to Holland in 1879 to share the throne with King William III as his second wife. After the king's death in 1890, she became regent and served in that capacity until her daughter became of age and ascended the throne.

MARRIAGE OF BUDDHIST EMPEROR AND CATHOLIC COMMONER BEGINS

HUE, Annam, French Indo-China, March 20 (AP)—Poets and minstrels sought today to arouse enthusiasm for a love match between Emperor Bao Dai and a lass called Mariette by their verse and song left the people cold.

The reason is that the bride-to-be was reared outside the buddhist faith—She is a Christian.

Discontent became evident yesterday when the slender girl, 18-year-old daughter of a wealthy merchant of Cochinchina, arrived for the beginning of the marriage ceremonies today, leading to the state ceremony March 24.

The young woman, whose real name is Nguyen Huu Hao although she is known as Mariette, was reared in a French convent. She has now discarded her Paris frocks for native costume.

The august buddhist ancestors of the emperor were notified by the burning of Chinese banners on the

RAIL OWNERS MUST SETTLE WAGE DISPUTE

PRESIDENT TELLS MEN THEY CAN'T RETARD RECOVERY

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Leaders of the automobile manufacturing industry, in session here in an attempt to avert a threatened strike in the industry, announced this afternoon that they would go to Washington tonight in response to a request from President Roosevelt.

DETROIT, March 20 (AP)—A telegram from President Roosevelt asking that any strike action in the automobile industry be deferred until Thursday was made public here this afternoon by William Collins, American Federation of Labor representative here.

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt today warned railway employers and workers to settle their wage dispute and suggested a public commission to examine the controversy.

The president took this action shortly after railway employees had demanded a 20 per cent wage increase above what they are now getting, effective July 1.

In a letter to the conferring railway executives and labor officials, the president repeated his proposal for a six months extension of the present wage agreement.

"It is a profound disappointment," said the president, "to learn that no progress toward an agreement has been made at the conference.

"I fear that sight is being lost of the most important factor of all, the good of the country.

"If no agreement is reached, and in default of arbitration, it may be

City Law To Control Signs

Cracks in Street Paving To Be Filled Monday; Pumps May Be Rebuilt at Wells.

CITY commissioners in session last night ordered preparation of a sign ordinance which will permit more rigid control of what in some instances become sidewalk obstructions and unsightly displays.

Looking toward the opening of the municipal swimming pool, the commissioners discussed painting and beautifying of the buildings and grounds.

It was announced that the Stuckey Construction company would begin filling cracks in street paving next Monday.

Possible rebuilding of city water pumps will be considered as soon as Andy Crocker, water superintendent, is sufficiently recovered from an appendicitis operation. Although present pumping facilities have a capacity of about 2,000,000 gallons per day, or the peak load of last summer, the city expects to improve the wells in order to provide a surplus for safety.

He is a very popular person and is loved by all who know him.

Memories of old Bill Mitchell have been aroused by the failure of the army fliers to meet a crisis in the traditional army style. Mitchell, you may recall attacked the inefficiency of the army air service nearly a decade ago. The many deaths of army fliers arouse much apprehension and some embarrassment. Conditions were far from ideal when the army took over the mail, but wartime conditions would be as bad, perhaps worse. The army took over the airmail routes. Several army fliers were killed in the performance of their duty. And the echoes of General Mitchell's charges of long ago roll across the air once more, as American citizens ask themselves uneasily if their army air corps is really all that it ought to be.

It is already apparent that the exact ins and outs of this situation are going to be extremely hard to get at. Bias and partisanship are appearing on both sides of the argument. How much of the army's difficulties may be due to inexperienced, how much to bad weather and how much to sheer rotten luck—these are matters in which we do not yet have enough information to judge correctly. It is equally certain that we need that information very badly.

Pering the last decade the nation has spent large sums on its military aviation services. It has spent enough money to have an air corps equal in equipment and dependability to any in the world. If it has no such service, it would like to know it, and it also would like to know why.

Out of the present airmail mixup there should come a thorough, far-reaching investigation. Not one designed to get the head of this man or that man; not one designed to show some corporation up, or gain political advantage for one faction or another; just a patient and thorough survey of all the facts, so that we may know definitely whether there is anything wrong with our flying corps.

If there isn't anything wrong, the army is entitled to full exoneration from current criticism. If there is something wrong it's high time we found it out.

Simmons Will Hold Contests in School Music

ARLINGTON, March 20.—The sixth annual West Texas high school band contest, under the auspices of the western division of the Texas Band Teachers Association and sponsored by the Simmons University cowboy band, is to be held at the university here on Saturday, April 28, according to Dr. O. Wiley, cowboy band conductor and chairman of the tournament.

High school bands in four classes will compete. Class "A" bands are those which come from high schools of 550 enrollment or more, class "B" those of 250 to 550 enrollment, class "C" those with less than 250, and class "D" those from schools whose bands have been organized only one year, regardless of size. A new class is also being added this year—the junior high school class for those school systems which have elementary bands in addition to their high school bands.

The West Texas voice contest for high school choral clubs, trios, quartets, sextets, and soloists will be held in the main auditorium of Simmons university, beginning on April 18. Prof. Clyde Garrett, head of the voice department, announced this week.

The contest is sponsored by the department of voice at Simmons, for the National Association of Music in America. Its purpose, stated by Garrett, is to promote greater interest and higher standards in choral and solo singing, and to aid in the general culture of this section of the southwest through the branch of the arts.

Members of the competition will be three prominent members of the Texas Music association, names of whom will be announced later.

ROOSEVELT ASKS FOR $700,000,000 TO AID SMALL INDUSTRIES

PATH IS CLEAR FOR CREATING 12 NEW BANKS

SENATE COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER PLAN TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Democratic leaders saw today a reasonably clear path ahead for President Roosevelt's plan to create 12 new banks, dedicated to pouring 700,000,000 more capital into small industries.

A bill to set up the new banking system, with one institution in each federal reserve district, will be considered tomorrow by the senate banking committee. A similar house bill also expects to start work almost immediately.

A need for "immediate relief" for the "medium sized man" in business was stressed by Mr. Roosevelt. Even before this call reached the capital yesterday bills to carry it out were ready for introduction in both chambers.

Submission of the president's plan was expected to toss overboard a proposal by which the reconstruction finance corporation also would make loans direct to industry.

ASIA, AFRICA ARE OBJECTIVES OF ITALY, ASSERTS MUSSOLINI

BY ANDRUE BERDING, Associate Press Foreign Staff.
ROME, March 20 (AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini foresees an era of Italian expansion extending steadily despite all obstacles into Asia and Africa.

The expansion, he said, is a case of natural expansion, the program would give Italy "the primacy of the world" in the twenty-first century.

There was thunderous applause as Mussolini predicted that the program would give Italy "the primacy of the world" in the twenty-first century.

He denied, however, that the expansion would be a "case of territorial conquests."

"It is a case of natural expansion tending toward collaboration between Italy and the people of Africa and of the Near East."

"The historical objectives of Italy are two—Asia and Africa. The south and the east are the cardinal points to awaken the interest and the will of Italians. To the north there is little or nothing for us to do. Neither to the westward, in Europe or beyond the ocean."

He stressed his assertion that it would be only "natural expansion," however, if he warned against attempts to interfere.

"We demand," he said, "that nations which have already arrived in Africa do not block at every step Italian expansion—a demand said to have been aimed particularly at France."

The banks would be empowered to borrow five times the amount of their capital, bringing the total for the system to $700,000,000.

Loans would be made direct to established businesses that were "unable to obtain requisite financial assistance on a reasonable basis from the usual source."

Efforts would be made first, however, to make loans for as long as five years to the business concerned through banks or other financial institutions.

"I have been deeply concerned with the situation in our small industries," Mr. Roosevelt said. "In numerous cases their working capital has been lost or seriously depleted. This condition should be remedied."

Students Hear Of China, India From Traveler

Mrs. Ben Organ made an interesting talk last week to a third year history class on life in China and India. Mrs. Organ has lived several years in India, her husband being connected with the Burma Oil Co., and has also traveled extensively in China.

She told of Honkong, located on a small island just off the mainland of China. She then described Shanghai, settled by Americans, French, British, Italians, and Chinese. The Europeans and Americans have built beautiful hotels and buildings, but in the Chinese quarters the people are very poor and dirty. Due to the immense heat, the Chinese close their shops and sleep during the warmer part of the day. The sleepers sleep in the streets, while their goats sleep in the door way. Many of the poor families live on small boats and eat what food the large ships throw away.

The people of India, she said, are dark skinned, darker than the American Indian but not so dark as the negro. They wear few or no clothes, but they are very fond of jewels. There are a few schools for the high class people, but the lower classes receive no education at all. The road work is done by the women, while the men do the dajny work. Some of the children are married at birth, and more than one half of them are married by the age of ten. The two kinds of religion are Hinduism and Moham-medanism. The Hindus worship the cow, and the Mohammedans worship a god called Buddha. They build a temple everywhere they find one of his foot steps. You must climb as many as 700 or 1000 steps to reach the temples, and you must remove your shoes and stockings before you are allowed to go up. Many diseased beggars fall across your path, but you are rewarded when you see the beautiful temple.

Rescue of Byrd Plane in Little America Planned

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, March 20 (AP)—(Via Mackay Radio)—Rescue expeditions awaited today a break in the weather which would permit them to go to the aid of two Byrd antarctic expedition members isolated after a forced airplane landing in an uncharted ice field.

Pilot William G. Bowlin and wireless operator Clay Bailey, were forced down during a storm Sunday night while returning from a depot where they had deposited supplies 100 miles from their main base.

Rear Admiral Byrd made ready to fly a plane to their relief, and a ground party was prepared to rush to the group, but high winds and drifting snow made a start impossible.

"When the plane left Little America," said Admiral Byrd, "it carried full emergency equipment, including a tent, cooking stove, sleeping bags, and 30 days' rations per man.

"Both men were amply equipped with fur clothing, so I see no reason for concern."

The last radio message from the stranded fliers was at 8 p. m. Sunday, when they reported they had buried the plane in the snow to prevent its being blown away by the high wind.

Although the exact location of the plane was not known, it was believed they were marooned between 8 and 15 miles from the Little America base.

Much Pleased With Cardui

"My first experience with Cardui began when I was just a girl," writes Mrs. Millard Wallis, of Apple Grove, W. Va. "I took it for painful trouble. It gave me great relief. I have taken it at intervals since I was married twelve years ago. Before the birth of my first baby, I was weak and run-down. I was very nervous and did not get the rest I needed at night. I took six bottles of Cardui. I regained my strength and felt fine. I have taken it since as a tonic and to keep from having pains at menstruating time."

JOSEPHINE LANE, PEARL BIBENS CAPTURE FIRST PLACES IN ESSAY CONTEST SPONSORED BY PATRON

Papers Are Entered By Over 100 Students

Josephine Lane, senior, and Pearl Bibens, freshman, have been announced as winners of first places in the recent essay contest on "The Worthy Use of Leisure Time." Second places were given to Jim Bob Johnson, junior, and Mildred Wood-ward, sophomore. These people will be presented cash prizes to morrow morning at assembly.

Nearly a hundred students entered papers in the contest, which was sponsored by Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, who donated the prizes and directed by Miss Fannie May, head of the English department. In order that competition might be fair, there were two divisions: One for freshmen and sophomores and the other for juniors and seniors. Every student who entered the contest will have an extra point added to his English grade this six-weeks.

The four winning essays will be published in the Little Harvester during the next few weeks. Special mention was given by the judges to one other paper, that written by Virginia Roberts, sophomore. Many of the papers, Miss May states, were excellent. All of them were gratifying to those interested in the contest for the views expressed by high school boys and girls on the problem of how to spend leisure time worthily.

Teachers Enjoy Hoover Picnic

Members of the high school faculty and their husbands and wives, the board members and their wives, the principals of all the schools, and Supt. and Mrs. Fisher enjoyed a steak fry last evening near Hoover.

The affair was made possible by the proceeds from the basketball game here between the Berger and Pampa faculty teams.

Ball games and singing around the campfire were the chief forms of diversion.

It would have been too bad, Snoopers says he can tell Jack and Joe Poole, apart, now they're wearing their hats tipped on different sides—but he hasn't been able to learn yet which is left and which is right.

Rosalie O'Grady doesn't seem so happy over Verdell's having won a place in the play cast. The whiskers, you know!

Two red-heads, a sandy one, and a banjo seem to be quite the favorite combination in P. H. S. at present.

Pauline Noel was looking at the pictures of some tall buildings in a book. When she was informed that they were skyscrapers, she exclaimed: "Gosh, I'd like to see a moving picture of them in action!"

Clyde Baird asked Miss McFarlin last week which end of the paper to begin typing on.

Coincidence: The other day Miss Cariker, waxing poetic in class, said, "And you could see the chimneys arising from the smoke." The next day Miss Mary, describing an English landscape, said, "Can't you imagine a little cottage between two great oaks with the chimney coming from the smoke?" Teachers must get spring fever too.

Snoopers hears that Mr. Sene can make about the best thick gravy going. Ask the faculty members who went on the steak fry.

THE COWBOY'S DREAM

A day in May,
A quiet nook,
A singing bird,
A babbling brook.
These things always come to me,
And in my mind 'tis you I see.

Green grasses tall,
Sweet new mowed hay;
To you I call,
I always may.
And when I see you coming near,
My heart goes out to you my dear.

I see you now,
So small and sweet,
To your own loveliness I bow!
I love you more—
My perfect cow!

HAZEL MACKIE 'FINE' AFTER APPENDECTOMY

The postponed scrimmage between the Harvester prospects and the "Exes" will be staged tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock east of the grandstand at Harvester park. The scrimmage was to have been Saturday, but weather made it impossible.
 Hazel Mackie, fallback prospect, will not be in the lineup. He underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday afternoon. Raymond Elkins, halfback prospect, also has suffered an attack of appendicitis. Odell Walker is recovering from an operation.
 Other members of the squad will be ready for the scrimmage. Fred Mumford, end, is still suffering from a shoulder injury but may be able to play part of the time. The changed lineup will probably start the scrimmage. Coach Ochs Mitchell said:
 "The starters will probably be Captain Monroe Owens and Mumford or Stewart, ends; Smith and Powell, tackles; Hamer, Johnson, Noblett or Welton, guards; McAuley, center; Nash, quarterback; Hamilton and Green, halves; Dunaway, full.
 Coach C. O. Busby of the "Exes" reports he will have a strong lineup ready to face the Harvesters. He will have a much stronger team to contest the Harvesters next week when the last scrimmage of the spring training period is held. Several college stars will return to play for the "Exes."
 The final scrimmage will give coaches and fans a good idea of the prospects for next fall. The squad has been training hard for nearly a month and has a good foundation of plays and systems. Most of the period has been devoted to experiments.

TRAINING WITH THE MAJOR LEAGUES

By The Associated Press.
 ROBT MEYERS, Pa., March 20.—The Philadelphia Athletics meet the Brooklyn Dodgers today with hopes of being better than last season with the St. Louis Cardinals, who go 4 to 2 lead, put a couple of men on bases in the fourth and were sent scurrying by a tropical downpour.
 Pitcher Bob Kline, with the cast of his broken arm, is finding that it is stiff but otherwise all right.
 INDIANS
 NEW ORLEANS—A cold wave which caused the Cleveland Indians to miss a workout, the first lost because of the weather in 2 weeks, causes Manager Walter Johnson no regrets.
 The "Big Train" decided a day of rest would do his men good, since they face six exhibition games in the five days beginning tomorrow.
 REDS
 TAMPA, Fla.—A team of Cincinnati Reds recruits, headed by Bobby Wallace, scout, will pull out of the training camp here Thursday and head northward for a series of exhibition games. Their first contest will be with Minneapolis at Montgomery, Ala., on Friday.
 Pitcher Gene Schott and Catcher Jack Crouch departed last night with Manager Ike Boone of the Toronto club of the International League.
 YANKEES
 ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The American league ball is supposed to be just as it was a year ago but Babe Ruth insists it's livelier.
 "Boy, when you hit that new ball it sure takes a ride," the Babe exclaims joyously. But another New York Yankee slinger, Lou Gehrig, thinks it's just because the Babe is connecting solidly.
 DODGERS
 ORLANDO, Fla.—They've got a new manager and some new players but the Brooklyn Dodgers seem to be the same old "cliffhanger" boys.
 They helped contribute to their defeat by the Giants yesterday by goofy base running. Twice they pulled the old Brooklyn stunt of getting two men on the same base, much to their own discomfort.

CONSTRUCTION OF BALL PARK STARTED HERE

A modern baseball plant for Pampa became a reality yesterday afternoon when the corners for the grandstand at Danziger park east of the city will be moved to the new location and used for bleacher seats. A grandstand with a seating capacity of about 1,100 persons will be erected.
 Organization of a "knob hole gang" will be started soon. Children under 16 years of age will be admitted free and a special bleacher section will be erected for them.
 It is planned to have the park dedicated by the middle of April. The grandstand will be played either April 22 or April 29. One of the best teams in the country will be brought here for the opening game.
 There will be plenty of parking space close to the park, which will do up the main part of the city for fans who desire to walk to games. Earl Roff, manager of the Danziger Refining company here, who is taking the lead in erecting the park, said yesterday that the park would be available for location surprises that would not injure the field.
 The home plate will be in the southwest corner of the park.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

ALWAYS SOMETHING TO DO
 By The Irish Farmer
 Hey, Neighbor! Got that row finished? Come over and see how it looks. Don't need to try to do it all in one day. Take it easy and leave some to do tomorrow. Sit down here on this box.
 "Well, I knew if we planned a garden party we would start those showy flukes to tumbling. The best kind of day to make garden is on paper. Yet, it does neighbors good to get together and swap yarns and flowers." Didn't those women from the Garden club have a good time and they couldn't be bothered with the dust on their furniture, when they could go to a party, and talk flower gardens.
 Mr. Meider said they were already planning some things out at the camp. Sure, they have pretty lawns. Drive out to the oil companies' locations this summer and take a good look at their carefully clipped lawns, trees, and bright flower beds growing around them. That's what the children see at play. Those folks know how to live. Sure are fine folks, too. What would Pampa do without them?
 "There goes Bill Rancher. Hey Bill, wait a minute. In a hurry? Don't you go? Your wife told me at the party she wanted to plant some flowers—had wanted to for many years, but she didn't have the heart to bother you about helping her, for you are busy. No chance to grow flowers at the ranch, for there is always a shortage of water on the still days when the cows are thirsty and the wind mill won't pump. She did wish though she could get a few flowers at the town home, so the children could enjoy them while they were in for school.
 I knew it. Whatever the wife and children need or want, you get it for them if it is in your power to do so. No, I don't have a catalog to order from. You can get most anything she wants right here in Pampa from our nurserymen. Didn't know we had a nursery here? Why you better take a look at the fifth floor and come in and get acquainted with your town.
 No, I would not get a whole truck load at once. Might not get all planted the first day, and they might dry out. So much better to plant all your nursery where you can see the plants growing, than to order from a catalog and perhaps get something not worth planting. Your nurseryman will dig and wrap the plants carefully and tell you exactly how to plant them, or he will plant them for you if you wish.
 And your plants will hardly know they have been moved, if you water them good. I don't mean sprinkle the tops, but soak the soil after they are in the ground and half covered. When water has drained away, finish filling the hole with dry soil. Better get a rake and hoe and spade and some garden hose. Good-bye. Hurry back. Get the plants and set this week if you can. Say Bill, when you send the hired hand in with the truck, make one trip do and have him bring in a load of manure from the feed lot. Those nurserymen in the big cities would swap you a new Spigot day after tomorrow. Get the fertilizer. They beg for it and you let it go to waste. Let me know Bill, if I can help you in any way.
 Neighbor, can you beat that? Buy a whole truck load. Never does it from any other nursery. Better follow I ever knew. So busy taking care of his cows and new calves and making money to buy a new car for the wife and kids, that he overlooks some little things that add so much pleasure to the home.
 Here come O. K. and Steady, the boys from the filling station. Hello boys, sure sorry you missed the garden party. Guess you are pretty busy on Saturday. Everyone is except the farmers—we like to take out Saturday.
 So you boys want to plant some flowers at the station? Fine. You have all the water you can waste, but not allowance to buy seeds and plants and garden tools. Let's see where there's a will there's a way. Try this plan, boys. Ask your hardware dealer to let you have tools you need today, and let you pay for them your next payday, at the end of the month. Each day you work in your garden, divide your smokes in half, and save one half for the next day. You won't miss your smokes while you are busy in the garden, you will save enough to pay for the tools in a few weeks. See how that works, boys.
 You want some of those flowers like you saw at the mountain stations last summer, when you went fishing? Those near the doors were sweet peas. Now, I don't too late to plant some to attract the lady tourists. Spade your soil deep and pulverize good, draw out a trench 6 inches deep, drop seed in bottom of trench in straight line, cover seed with two inches of clean dry soil and tamp it down.

YAGUI JOE IS VICTOR OVER DENNY WILSON

About the only action in a slow wrestling card at the Pampa Auditorium last night was furnished during the last fall of the main event when Yagui Joe, famous Sonora Indian, "quit foolin' around" and showed Benny Wilson, Brownwood cowpuncher, some of the finer points of the game.
 The cowboy won the first fall and the second two seem to be the Indian. Wilson really lost the match before it started. He had a conversation with Commissioner Frank Hunt in which the commissioner remarked that wrestling would be the order of the evening. The style was not made for Wilson, who is a tough customer.
 The preliminaries were brief and uninteresting because of the short period the wrestlers were on the mat. Billy Hallas, head boy of the mat, raced from his corner and grabbed Farmer Miller. In two minutes it was all over. Hallas applied a grapevine on one of Miller's legs, reached out and took his face lock and then proceeded to slip a finger into Miller's wind-pipe. The referee was unable to see the finger and Miller had to pat the mat. It is a famous trick of Hallas.
 Bob Rodgers of LeFors, built like a war horse, was big and nothing else. He didn't get a hold on Sweden Larson, who had to win the semifinal twice in seven minutes. Larson had a hard time handling the LeFors giant but managed to get an arm lock which caused something in Rodgers' arm to pop. Larson ran around the ring looking for a doctor. But Rodgers figured he was all right and started wrestling again. Then Larson got a toe hold and the big fellow yielded the mat.
 The main event grunted and growled for two minutes before they went to the mat. Wilson got a reverse headlock and worked in some sly punches. He crawled through the ropes, held to the ropes, and generally slowed matters to almost a standstill. The Indian didn't rush things and Wilson won in 21 minutes with a series of flying headlocks and a body slam.
 The second fall lasted 12 minutes. It was slow compared to most of the main events seen here. The manly tugged and pulled and broke holds with apparent ease. The Indian came out of three headlocks with a drop double toe-hold and Wilson palmed the mat long after the Indian had been pulled away.
 The best wrestling of the night was during the last fall. The Indian showed remarkable speed and a surplus of holds. He shook Wilson, rolled him, and generally made things hum. Yagui won the fall in 9 minutes with a flying body scissor that followed a few headlocks. Don Hill, Hollywood favorite, will probably appear here next week. His opponent is likely to be the up-and-coming Rob Roy of Goodnight, who has been giving the big boys trouble.

Judges of West Texas To Meet In Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, March 20 (AP)—West Texas county governing bodies will discuss their problems at the West Texas county judges and commissioners association semi-annual convention here March 22, 23, and 24.
 Charles Judge, county judge here, will be in charge of the program and entertainment. The convention will open at 5:30 p. m. March 22 with an old-fashioned, West Texas church wagon dinner and will be followed by a dance.
 Among the speakers will be John T. Marrs, county judge of Wichita county, who will discuss "a revision of the present tax laws in Texas"; Phillip Young, county judge of Dawson county, "the relation of the commissioners' court to the civil works administration"; Lee Simmons of Huntville, manager of the Texas prison system; W. R. Ely of Abilene, member of the state highway commission; Edgar Witt of Waco, lieutenant governor of Texas; James V. Alford, attorney general of Texas; Walter C. Woodward of Coleman state senator, and Judge J. E. Hickman, chief justice court of civil appeals, eleventh district, Eastland.

Estes Denies He Has 'Drag' With Rail Commission

By R. W. Barry.
 AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Scores of people who visit the capital every day scan the faces of the legislators whose pictures line the walls of the two legislative chambers. There they are—every member of the house and every senator who has ever served.
 Many who come to the capital have a relative who is a lawmaker at some time. Some go around to "peek out grandfather's picture." Another hunts out the likeness of her son or others search for the picture of a brother.
 It is interesting to study the pictures of members of a legislature of four or five years ago and note how many have dropped out of the active legislative "picture." Changes in politics are swift. Looking at the pictures of senators of five years ago one may count 15 faces that no longer are in that body with its membership of only 31. The picture of Senator Archie Parr of Benavides appears fewer than any other. He is the dean of the legislative contingent. His countenance smiles out from 10 frames.
 Some of the legislators have their pictures in groups of both houses because they served either in the house before going to the senate or vice versa.
 Somebody circulated an erroneous report that the Texas railroad commission planned to employ 40,000 men for work in the East Texas oil field. Of course, it was preposterous but that didn't keep job seekers from writing, telephoning and telegraphing members of the commission.
 They swamped Carl Estes of Tyler, seeking his "influence" with the commission until he was forced to place a notice in his newspaper asking them to cease. He explained, in addition to correcting the report, how far he fell short of having influence with the railroad commission.

 intelligent, wholesome, and constructive use of leisure constitutes a major problem for the future.
 With libraries close at hand, city and county libraries are necessary for one to be able to buy a large number of books to have access to the very best reading material. Books can be one's greatest companions and most intimate friends. Four or five hours can be spent in reading of valuable literature written by great men and women of all ages. Magazines often have good articles which can enrich the life of the reader. No hour, minute, or second is wasted that is spent in good reading.
 No life is complete without physical exercise. During spring and summer many a happy, healthful hour can be spent on a tennis court. There are quite a few tennis courts in our own city to afford places for people to play. There is room for more tennis courts. There are other games without number, inexpensive yet productive of more abundant living. In the fall and winter there are long hikes, bicycle rides, catniping, and ping-pong. Lately have been playing the Columbia Red Birds by rain, they tackle the St. Louis Cardinals today.
 SENATORS
 BILOXI, Miss.—There is considerable strife in the Washington Senators training camp, but all the trouble is about volley ball and not the business for which the players were hired.
 Rivalry between the teams headed by Pitchers Walter Stewart and Al Crowder is so keen that both camps are asking waivers on some of their men and seeking to lure stars from the opposite camp.
 The trouble will be over by tomorrow, however, when baseball games start between the Yantigans and regulars.

Insull Plans To Return to U. S.

ATHENS, March 20 (AP)—Samuel Insull plans to return to the United States after the expiration of his case dies down and live in America peacefully the rest of his life, one of the aged fugitives Greek attorneys told the Associated Press today.
 The lawyer, Mr. Xeros, declared he was in communication both with Insull's ship on the Mediterranean and his London solicitors who are handling the former Chicagoan's affairs.
 Although Insull's destination remained more of a mystery than ever to the public, the attorney said Mrs. Insull and her husband's lawyers were maintaining close touch with Insull by special code.
 "Insull seems happy now in calm weather," the lawyer said.
 "Whenever he is going now, he will make his permanent home if the United States continues to persecute him."
 Mrs. Insull will go to Paris Saturday and thereafter will leave for London within a few days," Xeros added.
 When last heard from, the Malotis was holding a true course toward the Suez Canal. Believed by some to be carrying her famous passenger toward Abyssinia or Syria.
 Mrs. C. M. Carpenter of McLean shopped in the city yesterday afternoon.
 Miss Eunice Holland of Miami shopped in the city yesterday afternoon.

SOONER POSSE KILLS BANDIT IN GUN FIGHT

JENKS, Okla., March 20 (AP)—Officers shot it out in a farm lane near here early today with three men who, they said, may have participated in last week's $21,000 Atchison, Kan., bank robbery, killing one and wounding another. The third escaped and their woman companion was arrested.

Jack Johnson was the man killed. Sprayed with buckshot, Thomas Whitewater, was placed under guard at a Tulsa hospital. Squads of officers were seeking Jake Cook, said by the officers to have fled after the shooting.

The shooting occurred near the home of G. V. Evans, a brother-in-law of Johnson to which the officers had been summoned by reports that the four had terrorized the Evans family all day, drinking, allegedly boasting of a Kansas bank robbery and flashing rolls of money.

They had arrived early in the morning, the Evanses said, brandishing pistols and demanding $200, and attempted to persuade Evans to hide two of them for $500 a week. It was not until 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon that Mrs. Evans managed to slip away and telephone officers from a filling station.

When they arrived in response to the call from Mrs. Evans and another from her daughter, Juanita, Johnson and his friends had gone to Glenpool to get some whisky. The officers awaited their return.

W. H. Brady and son, Ray, of White Deer were Pampa visitors last night.

R. C. Henderson of LeFors transferred business here yesterday afternoon.

Crosby Guards His Small Son From Kidnapers

LOS ANGELES, March 20 (AP)—Bing Crosby, actor and singer, was warned by police today of a reported plot to kidnap him or his nine-year-old son, Gary.

W. Vincent Noyce, 22, informed police that a man he saw making a telephone call in the Pacific electric station aroused his suspicion. He followed the man and said he overheard him engage in conversation with another, with such remarks as these dotting the talk:

"Are you sure Crosby will pay?"

"Sure, he'll pay. He's making $3,000 a week."

"We'll get the money so slick the cops won't even hear about it."

Officers said the singer has long kept a special guard at his Toluca Lake home.

New Silver Bill Up To Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The fate of the new silver reauthorization farm relief bill, approved so triumphantly by the house, was depicted squarely on the White House doorstep today by senate majority leaders.

Should the measure be taken in and given a presidential blessing, administration chiefs said it would be passed by the senate. If left out in the cold, they held it had small chance of passage.

Disparaging republican cries of "dumping" and "fat money," the bill was shoved along by the house yesterday, 287 to 112. Under it silver would be accepted at well above the world price in payment for exported agricultural surpluses. Silver certificates would be issued on the metal thus obtained.

TEXAN 'KIDDED' BY ROOSEVELT

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Jack Black, prominent oil attorney for oil producers, probably will not forget the occasion on which he appeared before the president at Washington to present the views of certain independent operators.

Black, distinguished for his sartorial perfection, was selected as spokesman for the group. Describing the incident, W. E. Lea of Orange related that upon entering the president's office Black bowed and said:

"Mr. President, I am just a poor country boy trying to get along. At this point he was interrupted by the president with a smiling "Oh, yeah?"

Judith Lane

SYNOPSIS: Judith Lane is asking my health for the night before. Judith had asked Judy to carry on in case he died. Judith is beginning a big dam project at Rio Diablo, and has found that Morton Lanper, member of the firm that handles his legal business, is trying to double-cross him. To complicate matters, Judith is engaged to Norman Dale, Lanper's partner. And to complicate them still more, Mathilde Bevin, Tom's daughter, hopes to win Norman in spite of Judy.

Chapter 12 HONEYMOON

The physician laughed. "Bevin is a bull headed old rascal," he admitted; then, with concern, "Are you ill too?" "No, but I'm worried, and what I'd like to ask you shouldn't be discussed over the telephone, only I'm afraid I won't sleep until I receive the answer." "Better ask them; he said he'd worked you pretty hard."

"Doctor Kelly, I'm engaged to be married, and if Big Tom is in a serious condition I feel I should wait. He told me he was liable to die any minute..." "Well, aren't we all? Walk against a traffic light, work overtime in the hot sun, do any one of a number of foolish things and see what happens."

"With proper caution, no more all night vigils and particularly with common sense where his emotions are concerned your friend may live to be a hundred. There is nothing in his present condition to warrant your putting off your wedding. Now go to sleep."

"And so they lived happily ever after," quoted Judith Lane Dale, as she lay on the sand, staring at the blue of a late September sky. "Norm... member how fairy tales always used to stop with the marriage of the mysterious prince to Cinderella! Cilia says they stopped there because fairy tales had to have happy endings, and if they'd gone on any further there wouldn't have been..."

"Judith found her mouth gagged with a rubber cap. 'Don't start preaching Chlamys on your honeymoon,'" admonished Norman. "Aside from being poor taste it disturbs my reading these..."

"He had been going through a handful of mail brought to the beach by Lige from the honeymoon cottage where Delphinium presided and persisted in her efforts to "fatten that skinny chile."

"Here's a note from the contractor, Judy, he says we can move into Hillendale by October 16th, that's three weeks away..." and "Will Mrs. Dale be content with white picket fences? The stones won't be available for two months and Farmer January's cows came in and ate the evergreens Jimson planted and now January wants us to pay the damages."

"To our evergreens?" demanded Judith. "No, his cows." "Dra! January, Norm, our living room drapes are exactly the color of the Gulf out there at the horizon line, aren't they?"

"And here's a note from Mathilde, says Big Tom is feeling fine, they're going on up the coast."

"Judith sat up—"So Tilly writes my man does she? Look here," she showed Norman an envelope across which the name was scribbled in heavy masculine writing. "Your woman gets written to by Slim Sanford."

"Nice chap, I like him," observed Norman, then with a quick laugh, "no need to return the compliment, come on Judy, I'll beat you to the third breaker with a two minute handicap."

Judith came up through the third breaker even with Norman and together they swam beyond the surf to float lazily. "Norman," Judith rolled over and began to tread water, "how's your mother enjoying the cruise?" "Well," observed that young man, "she said they put on a Havana to Miami tournament of contract and she won seventy-five dollars. Need I say more?"

Judith laughed. They swam on until another question came to her mind. "Norm, it certainly was generous of her to give us Lige and Delphy. I feel like I'd always known them."

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

ey to build a $5,000,000 theater and office building. That city already had a great theater which has never paid a dividend. The city already has more office space than it needs. Such public building is being matched in some instances by federal governments on proposal, spending will eventually bring about the needed balance in world business but taking money out of the pockets of harassed tax payers will not do it.

WE think it is scandalous that taxes on motor fuel have become higher than the commodity. In addition to the one cent federal taxes are the gasoline taxes of various states are as follows:

- 2c—Connecticut, District of Columbia, Missouri, Rhode Island.
- 3c—California, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania.
- 4c—Colorado, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.
- 5c—Arizona, Idaho, Kentucky, Louisiana, Montana, Oregon, New Mexico, Virginia, Washington.
- 6c—Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina.
- 7c—Florida, Tennessee.

Gasoline taxes are consistently being increased for no other reason than that they are easy to collect. Every department of government looks covetously upon this source of sales tax revenue. We still hold the opinion that no other there are highways to be built the gasoline tax should be used exclusively for that purpose.

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?

Creosolium may be a better help than you need. It combines seven major helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is made for quick relief, for safety. Mild coughs often yield to lesser helps. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Creosolium for any cough that starts.

The cost is a little more than a single help. But your druggist guarantees it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are danger signals. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way known. (Adv.—E)

City Manager C. L. Shine has had a number of telephone calls from Pampa women who, hearing talk of a possible water shortage, were about to decide to attempt no beautification of their homes this spring. They were plainly worried until Mr. Shine assured them that in his opinion there would be no shortage of water.

necessary for me with due regard to the protection of the general public interest, to appoint a commission to examine thoroughly into the labor controversy, covering all classes of railroad employment, in order that the country may be advised of the merits."

Mr. Roosevelt also gave notice to the railroads that he felt some of the wages being paid employees were below the minimums established in the NRA codes, "if not actually below a subsistence basis."

The president demanded that this situation be immediately corrected. Mr. Roosevelt repeated his belief that this is not the time to fix permanently the railway wage scale. The text of the president's letter, addressed to W. F. Thielhof, chairman of the conference committee of managers, representing the railroads, and A. F. Whitney, chairman of the railway labor executives' association, follows:

"I have been advised of what has transpired at the conferences between the conference committee of managers, representing the railroads, and the railway labor executives' association, representing the employees, which have been held in response to my communication of February 14, 1934.

"In that communication I expressed the hope that the railroads and their employees may be able to agree upon an extension of the present agreement for at least six months, expressing also my conviction that such an extension would be of advantage to those directly concerned."

"It is a profound disappointment to learn that no progress toward an agreement has been made at the conference. I fear that sight is being lost of the most important factor of all, the good of the country.

"If no agreement is reached, and in default of arbitration, it may be necessary for me, with due regard to the protection of the general public interest, to appoint a commission to examine thoroughly into the labor controversy, covering all classes of railroad employment, in order that the country may be advised of the merits.

"For the reasons stated in my communication of February 14, I believe that conditions are not yet ripe for a wise settlement of these issues, and that the active prosecution of the controversy at the present time would have a most disturbing and unfortunate influence. Nor would a postponement be in general unfair to the employees.

"Since I addressed my previous communication to you, however, the fact has been developed that some of the railroad employees are now receiving compensation for their work at rates which are below minimums which have been established in the NRA codes, if not actually below a subsistence basis. This does not apply to any very large fraction of the employees, but nevertheless such a situation does exist.

"To the extent that it exists, it should be corrected, and in this expression of opinion I feel confident that the railroads and the holders of their securities will concur.

"I am informed that the federal coordinator of transportation now has in his possession the detailed facts in regard to this matter. It should be adjusted in connection with an postponement of the major wage issue.

"I shall be glad to extend to you the services of the federal coordinator of transportation to help in composing your present difficulties, if that be desired. For the good of the country I strongly urge that further efforts be made to reach an agreement.

"Very sincerely yours,
"Franklin D. Roosevelt."

They looked into each other's eyes and sang for all the world to hear—

Twenty guests... suppose one or two were late, didn't come... Lige must remember Big Tom was to have only water, no wine, no coffee and afterwards, the orchestra was to begin with the Venetian Suite... Dolores looked so lovely behind her huge harp... she mentioned to Norman, who was struggling with his tie.

"Reminds me," he said, "I'll put up a card table in the den, that's far enough away so the few who have to have their bridge won't be annoyed."

Judith looked into the mirror. Would the time come when she would be like this mother of his? Would marriage and motherhood leave her life so empty she'd want to return to the business world out of sheer boredom?

Norman and Judith spent their first Thanksgiving with the Bevins and as fond as was Judith of Big Tom she began to look upon his family as flies in the amber of her honeymoon.

But Thanksgiving was not as monotonous as Judith had anticipated. Big Tom's delight at having her there made up for Mathilde's insistence upon monopolizing Norman, and when the engineer, so clearly showing the mark of illness, look her into the library to show her a miniature dam he had constructed, she became completely absorbed in the project.

And then time passed and somehow it seemed to her she had always lived there, had always been married to Norman. There was nothing in watching the mantel clock for the hands to point to the hour his car would purr up the driveway and she would meet him at the door, to remind her of the lonely nights in her apartment.

The unity of their life and love was so perfect she made no attempt to analyze it, or fear it too perfect to last.

And then, like the shattering of a fragile prism, came a telephone message in the midst of their Valentine party.
