

TEXAS SELLS RELIEF BOND ISSUE

Snow Blizzard Whistles Over Staked Plains

By The Associated Press
The March lion belatedly emulated Saturday's Saturday, whistling across Texas with a chill blast that must have chased any venturesome snakes back to warmer climes, to wait for the real arrival of spring. Sudden temperature drops throughout north and west Texas followed the appearance of a sand storm and cold, strong wind.

ROAD BUILDING DELAY BLAMED ON COMMISSION

Emergency Program Analyzed By Connally

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Responsibility for delay in beginning construction on an $8,900,000 emergency roads program in Texas was laid upon the state highway commission today by the federal relief administration at a conference with Senator Connally, democrat of that state.

Connally had been informed by Mayor Ross Rogers of Amarillo that despite the fact the government had made an allocation for the program last September, no word had been put under way.

Connally said he was told that although the public works and relief administrations had agreed to pay the entire cost, it had not been possible to begin operations because the Texas highway department had not approved the projects.

Older residents of Borger, in the Panhandle, could not recall such a storm as that which whipped the "staked plains", the wind whipping pebbles against the windshields of automobiles and making traffic hazardous. The temperature at Electrica dropped to 31 at nightfall.

Lubbock reported a sandstorm had been blowing since Friday afternoon and a temperature of 18 at 6 p. m. Saturday. San Angelo reported the dust storm struck there late Saturday, preceding a "norther" which dropped the temperature from 44 to 46 degrees in six hours. A killing frost was forecast for Saturday night. From a morning high of 67, the mercury dropped to 34 at 6 p. m. at Abilene, and the sand storm had lasted there all day.

FEAR Work to Begin Tomorrow

Weather permitting, Gray county FERA projects transferred from the extinct CWA will be continued Monday.

The wage scale will not be determined until the local committee obtains approval of the state administrator. A ruling on truck hire also is expected by Monday.

Work tickets are being issued as rapidly as budgets can be made up for the families involved.

Pampan Jailed At Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 17 (AP)—Harris L. Dillard, 28, of Amarillo and Pampa, Texas, and John Foster, 42, of Clovis, N. M., were arrested here today and held for federal officers pending an investigation of alleged attempts to alter United States currency.

The arrests followed three days of investigation by Albuquerque police following a tip from a Beilan, N. M., man who alleged the men approached him and demonstrated a pretended scheme for printing counterfeit bills by use of phonograph

PILOT MAKING TEST FLIGHT, DIES IN FALL

BURNS TO DEATH AS PLANE BURSTS INTO FLAME

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 17 (AP)—L. H. G. Richardson of Cheyenne, former pilot and airmail pilot, making a test flight in connection with the army mail service, was killed when his plane fell 1,000 feet here this afternoon.

The plane plunged to the ground near the Fort Francis E. Warren reservation and burst into flames. Soldiers from the post ran to the spot, but the flames kept them from reaching Richardson.

Richardson was piloting an P-38-E model, single-motored bi-plane. It was the same type of ship in which Lieut. Frank L. Howard and Arthur R. Kerwin, Jr., crashed to their deaths at the edge of Cheyenne on March 9.

The impact and flames reduced the plane to a metal skeleton.

The music will include many solos and quartet arrangement in addition to the choruses. The cantata is based on scenes of the Saviour's last few days on earth. It represents the sorrows and triumphs of that time in music that ranges from deepest sorrow to a dramatic quality of emotional worship. The raging of the hostile crowds is clearly depicted.

Among the soloists will be R. B. Fisher, Robert Smellage, Mrs. Ed Bissett, Emmitt Smith, Howard

COMPANY BUYS 4 MILLIONS IN 'BREAD BONDS'

MANY FIRMS COMPETE TO ACQUIRE SOME OF ISSUE

AUSTIN, March 17 (AP)—Texas sold her $4,000,000 state unemployment relief bond issue for par, accrued interest and a premium of $11,255 today.

There was brisk bidding for the securities, in contrast to situations that obtained heretofore when the state wisely offered its credit with which to obtain money to feed and clothe the destitute, but found no willing investors. It finally did dispose of an issue of $2,750,000, however, through Texas banks and insurance companies.

The bid of Donald O'Neil and company of Dallas, finally was accepted by the Texas bond commission, after considerable deliberation whether it was better than the offer of the First National Securities company of Dallas.

The Securities company offered par, accrued interest and a premium of $12,000, $745 more than the O'Neil proposal, but O'Neil stipulated delivery in Dallas and the Securities company designated New York. It was ascertained it would cost the state about $2,000 to deliver the bonds in New York, compared with a nominal expense to get them to Dallas. That was the deciding factor.

Attorney General James V. Allred, chairman of the bond selling commission, explained the Securities company had offered to alter its bid to effect delivery at Dallas, Texas, but the other bidders would sell from time to time, and we do not want to permit any jockeying or horse swapping," he explained.

"Any way, we want to be fair and square. However, the advertisements for bids did not stipulate the delivery point."

In addition to the bidders who offered to take the entire issue, there were 17 others who sought to purchase an aggregate of $1,872,000 of the bonds, in lots ranging from $500 to $10,000.

G. M. Dunne of Wichita, Kan., offered to take $1,000,000; the Southwestern Life Insurance company of Dallas $250,000; and A. A. Allen, president of the American National Bank of Terrell, Amicoche Life Insurance company, Waco and the Fort Worth National bank $100,000 each.

Philip Wolfe Is In Running for Representative

Philip Wolfe, local attorney, has authorized THE NEWS to announce his candidacy for state representative from the 122nd legislative district, which comprises the counties of Gray, Wheeler, Donley and Colingsworth. The incumbent is John Puryear of Wellington.

Mr. Wolfe, a native Texan, was born 51 years ago in Van Zandt county, failed in other bids as the "free state of Van Zandt." He attended the public schools of that county, and received his law degree from Columbia university at Lebanon, Tenn., alma mater of many a prominent lawyer. "Judge" Wolfe, as he is familiarly known, has lived in Pampa several years, taking an active part in civic and church affairs. He is superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school.

Mr. Wolfe said that he believes the first full moon after the first four counties in this district is no boy's job, and that a mature, settled man should be elected to the office. He expects to meet, converse and shake the hand of every voter in the district during his campaign. He said he will tell the voters his stand on public issues from the platform. Mr. Wolfe declared he will wage a determined campaign for the office. He believes the time has come when it is necessary that Gray county be represented in the lower house of the legislature at Austin.

A CURE FOR WORRY: Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ.—Philippians 4:6, 7.

RELIEF policies such as the state and federal governments have found it necessary to adopt were certainly not contemplated by the writers of the Texas and United States constitutions. Therefore those who are beginning a campaign for a restoration of constitutional government are by inference opposed to bond issues for relief. Actually, of course, this is not necessarily true and many of those who are campaigning for a return to "old time principles" are at the same time clamoring for what is essentially new. The state constitution forbade the issuance of bonds by the state government for any purpose. A few years ago when some educators proposed a bond issue for providing college buildings, there was a great outcry. Yet today the economic opportunities of thousands in Texas are so poor that relief bonds are being voted with but little complaint.

POINTING out that in 1928 American exports provided employment for 2,400,000 families, the Texas Weekly comments that "the collapse of this once thriving trade has been followed by what President Roosevelt described in his message as 'heart-breaking adjustments'." Even this high figure, however, does not give an adequate idea of the total effect of this collapse. For it fails to take into account the effect upon whole industries of the loss of the foreign outlet for part of their product. For example, it is correct to say that the export market employs nearly 60 per cent of the cotton farmers of the country. But it affects, for good or ill, every cotton farmer. For the condition of the export market, the degree of foreign demand, determines the price at which every pound of cotton is sold, whether in the foreign or the domestic market. And what is true of cotton is true of a considerable number of other commodities including many manufactured products.

It may be surprising to many to know that consumption of American products by Americans has declined but little during the last decade and indeed has greatly increased in many lines. Drastic reductions in crop acreage are made necessary by loss of our foreign markets rather than by decline of our domestic consumption. We can regain our foreign markets only if we are willing to buy some of the things that other nations produce in return for things we sell abroad. Our tariff walls have been raised so high that we have attempted to manufacture everything we can conceivably use. But there are products which can be better produced by cheap labor abroad than by American labor under either sweat shop conditions or behind tariff walls which make prices so high the domestic sales are few. If we are unwilling to buy, we must also be willing to abandon many of our best foreign markets. And we are by expediency and opportunity an exporting an agricultural nation.

THE doctrine of state's rights as we know it in America is difficult for many Europeans to understand. When the German government recently abolished the autonomy of the states within the Reich, it did what France and England did centuries ago. Until that occurred the German empire with its independent states resembled the United States system more closely than any other European country. Now America is about the only country left to represent a federated union. (The Soviet Union is governed from Moscow as completely as France is from Paris.) Germany was originally formed out of a large number of little kingdoms, each eager to obtain advantages and to follow individual policies. Dictator Hitler intends that Berlin shall be the head and soul of Germany as London is of the British Empire. No less than Hitler did Bismarck hope to weld Germany into a national and racial unit, but Bismarck could not deprive of powers the now extinct dynasties which had furnished him with troops.

IN America as in every nation, there are groups which are opposed to the existing government and which believe that their goals can never be reached without a complete overturn of the governmental and economic systems in use. The communist groups in America and elsewhere, whether independent of Moscow or with support of the Communist International, are saying and will continue to say that "There is now no way out of the crisis of capitalism other than the overthrow of the exploiting class by the proletariat, the confiscation of the banks, of the factories, the mines, transportation, and the stocks of goods of the capitalists." The greatest danger to capitalism and to democracy is not in such unbelievers as it is in those who, claiming to be good Americans, engage in graft, crookedness in high offices, cut-throat competition, and a "rugged individualism" which is inimical to the welfare of the masses which make up America. Not those who speak evil but those in positions of trust, power, and influence who do evil to American institutions are the enemies to be feared most. Freedom of speech can do little harm in a nation where employment and fruits of labor are shared more or less equitably among those willing to work.

NEW STATE PARK MAY BE BUILT IN QUAKING BOGS AT GONZALES

GONZALES, March 17. (AP)—Five hundred acres of quaking bogs and dense growths of wild ferns dotted with palms, live oaks and mud geysers situated at Ottine, near Gonzales, will probably be designated soon as a new state park and the location for a CCC camp. Options on the land and the money with which to purchase it have been asked by the state park board. Claud Holley, secretary of Gonzales chamber of commerce, said it was planned to have both the money and land options placed in escrow in a local bank. Approximately $3,000 with which to purchase land for the park site has been subscribed by Gonzales county citizens and interested Luling business men. An additional $1,500 is to be raised by public subscription in Gonzales. Congressman J. J. Mansfield and Richard M. Kleberg have been working on the Gonzales county park project for several months. Correspondence received from Washington indicated favorable consideration by federal authorities for establishing a civilian conservation corps camp at the park site. Should the camp be established in the swamps at Ottine, the CCC workers would occupy one of the historic spots of early Texas. In 1840 the Comanche Indians crossed the quaking bogs on a bridge formed of members of their own tribe. After the battle of Plum Creek, which took place some 20 miles north of Ottine, the Comanches were put to flight by a band of Texans and Indian allies under command of General Ed Burleson. In their flight, south the Indians were forced to cross the swamp lands near Ottine. Comanches leading the flight rushed into the swamps. Their

JOE BAILEY, JR., TO URGE BONUS PAYMENT IN HIS CAMPAIGN

TOM CONNALLY HAS FOLLOWED THE PRESIDENT

TERRELL IN DELEMMA IN VIEW OF HIS INSURGENCY

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—The most politically significant statement Joseph W. Bailey, Jr. has made in his campaign against Tom Connally for the junior United States senatorship from Texas came the other day.

As the shadows of an imminent house vote on the bonus issue fell across the floor Bailey gave newsmen a typewritten sheet saying personal commitments, the democratic party's platform and the president's leadership impelled him to vote "no" on the question.

He added that the end of his present term in the house would free him from the obligation and he would be able to discuss the bonus fully on the stump in Texas. He told reporters that in the approaching campaign he would urge payment.

Connally, a world war veteran as is Bailey, steadfastly has followed Mr. Roosevelt's lead on the bonus. Inspection of the matter leads many to believe Bailey may set up a voters' rallying cry this summer directed to those who want the bonus now.

The Connally-Bailey race, incidentally, had caused much speculation at Washington as to whether the administration would take part. Finally, Postmaster General James A. Farley issued a statement that he would not help or hinder any democratic primary candidate. Texas candidates were not specified but the statements were accepted as all inclusive.

Bailey, in a statement given out soon afterward, said he had asked Farley for an expression because of "rumors" in Texas that the Connally candidacy found the most favorable ground. Connally declined to comment.

Belief prevails in some congressional quarters that Vice President John N. Garner, an old associate of Connally's in the house, may be relied upon by the senator for any aid not incompatible with his office.

The faint tones of the Tocsin preliminary to the congressional campaign in Texas recalls the dilemma of George B. Terrell, one of Texas' three representatives at large who this time must run from one district or enter other fields.

Terrell, a political veteran nearing 70, has more than once stood a slight and solitary figure against administration measures in the house.

His voice had been heard in opposition once or twice before the highly important civil works bill came up. Many speculated whether Terrell's insurgency would hold against the president's recovery program. It did. The respected Texas senator again to record a clear "nay" against the proposal.

'DINNER AT EIGHT' OPENING HERE TODAY OFFEN CALLED GREATEST FILM EVER MADE

CAST INCLUDES MANY OF BEST STARS IN MOVIES

Described after its sensational opening at the Astor theater in New York City as the greatest piece of motion-picture entertainment of all times with a cast, the like of which in drawn names and acting ability has never been assembled before to be photographed by a camera, "Dinner at Eight," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization of the Broadway play hit, will be shown at the La Nora theater starting today for 3 days.

It is almost unbelievable that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was able to gather together for this one picture such outstanding film names as Marie Dressler, John Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Jean Harlow, Lionel Barrymore, Lee Tracy, Edmund Lowe, Billie Burke, Madge Evans, Jean Hersholt, Karen Morley, Louise Closser Hale, Phillips Holmes and May Robson, together with a supporting cast of eleven players.

Each has a meaty role. The remarkable part of the picture is that its episodic narrative offers each of the celebrities in the cast a meaty role. Just as there are enough stars in "Dinner at Eight" to equip more than a dozen film vehicles, so its story has enough plots and sub-plots to furnish any number of separate cinema narratives, but the picture is so cleverly contrived that it interweaves the various tales into one magnificent climax in which the majority of characters are brought together.

One phase of the picture deals with Lionel Barrymore, who is worried over the collapse of his shipbuilding concern. His wife, Billie Burke, bithely arranges a dinner for a pair of visiting British aristocrats. It is into this aspect of the story that Marie Dressler is introduced as a retired trouper of the "gay nineties" and an old flame of Lionel. Also concerned is Lionel's daughter, Madge Evans, who is in love with John Barrymore, a "has been" movie star.

Falls at "Come Back" The tragedy of this movie star who tries desperately to make a "come back" presents a new angle. His intrigues with his agent, Lee Tracy, to appear affluent before Jean Hersholt, a theatrical producer, and the tragedy which results when she fails to get a coveted part in Broadway showpiece, involves Miss Dressler and Miss Evans.

Then is presented the domestic picture of Wallace Beery, the hard-boiled business racketeer who is responsible for the upheaval in Lionel Barrymore's shipbuilding interests. Beery is married to the fishy Jean Harlow, who carries on an affair with Edmund Lowe behind her husband's back and whose social ambitions bring her into contact with the other principals at this all star dinner.

TABLETTON'S OPINION Bob Tabletton, vice president of the Dallas Steers, doesn't think Zeke is the greatest baseball player in the world but he believes Bonaura will be a better player in the major league than he was in the Texas league because he shares Zeke's opinion as to daytime baseball.

LOCAL STREETS ARE NAMED FOR PAMPA WOMEN

First Names Used In Honoring City Residents

(This is the second of a series of articles on the derivation of Pampa's street names.)

The original townsite of Pampa comprised the area within the confines of the present business district. It was called the original townsite. Then the "west end" and the "east end" were opened. The town now has over 60 additions, and many of the streets in those sub-divisions were named for the developers, their kin, or their friends.

Albert street was named for Albert Perry Doucette, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Doucette. Barnes was named for Miss Caludine Barnes, formerly postmistress here. Other names were derived as follows: Barrett, E. E. Barrett; Campbell, Bob Campbell; Clark, Charlie Clark; Joe Smith's father-in-law; Crowl, top of the hill; Davis, brother of Miss Mabel Davis; Doyle, man of that name used to be cashier in the bank here; Fields, developer of the Haggard addition; Fisher, developer of Park Hill addition; Ford, the automobile; Gwendolyn, M. K. Brown's sister; Hazel, Hazel Holland, daughter of A. A. Holland of White Deer.

Henry, for John Henry, old-timer; Naida, Earl Talley's daughter; Nelson, used to be postmaster at Pampa.

Miller, original owner of Miller addition; Powell, J. P. Weltrung; Price, Owner of W. D. Price ranch; Rose, first name of the woman whose husband built the addition; Ruth, Mrs. Ruth Reynolds; Tignor, Charlie Tignor; Wilcox, H. Wilcox oil and gas company; Zimmers, one of the developers of the Talley addition.

Until recently there were two Talley streets.

ONE SMOKE STORIES, by Mary Austin; (Houghton, Mifflin, Boston).

The business of interpreting the American Indian to his dispossessors is being handled very competently indeed by Mary Austin, whose short pieces particularly have penetrated numerous editorial sanctuaries where stories of the same sort by lesser known writers might have been turned down.

"SAN FRANCISCO" by Charles Caldwell Dobbs has been published by Houghton, Mifflin, Boston.

Anent the recent lynchings in California and the harking back of certain people to the traditions of the Vigilantes, it is interesting to note what Charles Caldwell Dobbs has to say in his current best-seller, "San Francisco." In the course of his portrait of that famous city, he maintains that the law has always been regarded there with thorough independence in truly American fashion.

"WHITE WISDOM" is, as he remarked, a curiously apt expression of the ternally troublesome difference between Red and White. Many of the stories seem, to a white man, like the most economical smokes; each man rephrasing experience in short pieces timed to end with the last of the cigar.

Mrs. Austin's pieces do not quite follow the pattern. Some of them, such as "White Wisdom," are so long that the most economical smoker would have difficulty keeping the others' cigar lit throughout; some, such as "Wolf People," could be told two or three times in the space of one, even a corn-husk specimen.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS WINS IN OWN DIVISION

ABILENE CHRISTIAN IS VICTOR IN COLLEGE SECTION

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. FORT WORTH, March 17. (AP)—The University of Texas, a thinly clad runner with the clinders with remarkable speed today to win in the twelfth annual Southwestern Exposition track and field meet with 54 points.

The University of Oklahoma finished second with 43 points, Texas A. & M. third with 37 points, Texas Christian fourth with six points, and Rice institute fifth with five points.

Bitterly cold weather and a strong wind failed to hamper approximately 650 athletes who braved it throughout the day and closed the annual event by breaking 23 records and tying two.

From out of the mass of new records the most sterling performance of the day was that of Reeves of Schreiner Institute who smashed the 100 yard dash record of 9.9 in the junior college division with a starting 9.6.

The list of new records established today follows: University Divisions 220-yard dash—Waller, Texas U., 21 flat; old record 21.5. 440-yard run—Cox, Texas U., 50.3; old record 50.6.

NEW STANDARD BASEBALL TO MEAN SPECTACULAR BATTING

Fans Looking Forward to a Home Run Duel Between Foxx and Gehrig

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor. ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17. (AP)—Summed up more or less in a nutshell, the chief developments of the 1934 major league spring training to date include the evidence of increased public interest, the somewhat marked decline of the left handed pitching species and a growing conviction among the players that the new standard baseball is a bit livelier than advertised.

The first and last of these items go hand-in-hand, for it is already apparent there is going to be more slugging with the spryer ball this year than with the major league magnets feel more spectacular batting will mean bigger crowds.

This will test a favorite theory of the magnates, that the fans at large are more interested in a home run duel between Jimmy Foxx and Lou Gehrig or a pitcher's race between Carl Hubbell and Dizzy Dean or Lefty Grove and Vernon Goslin.

Gehrig, freed this year from any sub-conscious worry about keeping up his "iron man" record, figures to overshadow Ruth in supplying power to the Yankee attack but the Babe remains the game's most magnetic figure. The tourist trade beseeches him upon every public appearance.

Thousands of people spend thousands of dollars going over to Oberammergau, Bavaria, to see The Passion Play in a language they do not understand. You can now see this gorgeous spectacle and greatest tutor of religion and ancient history that the world has ever known.

There is not an attraction before the world today, in the way of an entertainment, so realistic, so impressive, soul-stirring, heart-reaching, and uplifting as is this wonderful creation by moving picture-forging.

The program will include music by the championship American Legion band and other musical entertainment, and talks by Edward A. Hayes, national commander, Mrs. Wm. H. Blesser, Auxiliary president, S. R. Heller, head of the 40 and 8, and other well known Legionnaires.

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—The two-year reign of Gregory S. Mangin as United States indoor tennis champion was broken today by Lester R. Stoefen, of Los Angeles, who smothered the defending champion, 6-1, 6-6, 6-4, before 2,000 spectators.

Mangin won the first game of the first set on service and then he was subjected to the humiliation of losing nine straight games. Stoefen's catapulting delivery came at Mangin with so much dazzling speed that the Newarker was almost blown off the court.

Paired with George M. Lott, Jr., Chicago Davis Cup doubles veteran, Stoefen won his second national title, overthrowing Berkeley Bell and Frank J. Bowden, New Yorkers, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, in the doubles final.

Scrimmage Against College Stars To Be Held During Easter Period.

The weather delayed the scheduled scrimmage between the Harvesters and "Exes" yesterday afternoon, but Coach Odus Mitchell of the high school team said he would have the scrimmage some time afternoon this week.

Changes made in the lineup during the last week appear to be "safe than sorry" and not take any chances of getting hurt or taking cold. They may have to play in such weather this fall, but they can wait until that time to experiment.

The Harvesters will go through two weeks more hard practice before turning their suits in for a second bunch of boys to wear. A late spring period of training may be called before school closes for the summer vacation.

LABOR DEFERS RAILROADS; AUTO WORKERS FIRM ON STRIKE

MEDIATION IS PROPOSED BY HUGH JOHNSON

CONTINUANCE OF WAGE CUT REJECTED BY RAIL EMPLOYEES

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Responsibility for deciding whether the workers of the automobile industry—an estimated hundred thousand of them—shall go on strike next week was described by the American Federation of Labor tonight as resting with the manufacturers.

Awaiting the results of a meeting of employers' representatives in New York Monday, William Green, president of the federation, issued a statement asserting the trouble which threatens the industry is "directly traceable to the attempt of the manufacturers to impose company unions upon their workers."

Meanwhile, the potentialities of another major industrial conflict arose in the pointed and blunt rejection of representatives of railroad labor of a proposal that the prevailing ten per cent wage cut be continued for six months beyond its scheduled expiration date next June 30.

Green said of the automobile controversy: "We shall do all we can to avert the strike because we do not wish to see the president's recovery program hindered or halted by an industrial disturbance of such far reaching proportions."

The American Federation of labor will await with increasing interest the decision of the automobile chamber of commerce, a self-constituted organization of automobile manufacturers, as to whether or not there shall be peace or industrial strife and struggle in the automobile industry."

The workers ask, he said, that they be permitted to elect their own representatives for collective bargaining by secret ballot and the reinstatement of all workers who have been "discharged, dismissed and discriminated against" because of membership in a federation union.

Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, has proposed the establishment of a mediation committee for the industry as a compromise plan for solution of the controversy. The manufacturers' spokesmen who conferred with Johnson declined to make any promises to the NRA chief until the New York conferences had been held.

BERLIN, March 17 (AP)—The door for an international arms agreement was left wide open in a note Germany gave the French ambassador March 13 and made public today.

"Germany still believes that all prerequisites exist for an accord and that it only needs determination to attain it," the communication said.

Judith Lane by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Judith Lane, Big Tom Bevins' "perfect stenographer," has agreed to marry Norman Dale, junior partner of the Houston law firm that handles legal business for the Bevins' engineering and construction concern.

Chapter 10 BEVINS' PLAN Norman left her at the street door and Judith ascended to the floor of the Bevins Building on which Big Tom kept his private suite. She opened the door with her own key, then stood for a moment.

"Thank you for coming, Judy," he said. "Turn on the desk light, will you please, there . . . he sighted queerly as the yellow glow revealed the desk with its pile of neatly stacked papers. Judith looked at it in surprise, she looked at him.

"Mister Bevins . . . you're ill," she cried. "No, Judy, I was ill this morning. All right now. Judy come here, come close . . . that's a girl." He searched her face with an intense gaze, much as Delphy had searched it an hour before, and like the old colored woman, he nodded satisfied.

"I've a record of the deeds filed in Rio Mar here, and I have a few new deeds, taking care of the upper dam, I want you to check that map and I believe you understand each other pretty thoroughly, don't you?" Judith looked at him in surprise.

"I may do things in the future which you see a little queer to you, but knowing me I believe you'll see below the surface to the motive. Now to business. "Get that surveyors plat of the Rio Diablo basin, will you . . . then the dotted lines beyond."

"What . . . what do you mean?" "This. After I left you last night I got the wires busy. By dawn I knew Lampere was trying to double-cross me. When our reports of the annual water footage which might be expected in the Rio Diablo basin came in, Lampere discovered that what he had thought an old fool's hobby, could be made a veritable roid mine.

"It is thought that by purchasing a salient piece of land, a piece necessary for my building of the dam, he could force me to exploit the project, charge the poor landholders exorbitant rates, and then irrigate with that surplus water."

"Having failed to obtain land around the lower dam, Lampere had a wily engineer by the name of Manhausen, go over the copy of a blue print, obtained from the original real estate people there, and he discovered that they might switch the course of the Rio Diablo.

Again Cambridge Oarsmen Defeat Oxonian Octet

LONDON, Mar. 17 (AP)—A mighty Cambridge eight-oared crew, rowing with a power and rhythm which miserable conditions of winds, water and weather could not hamper, today swept to a record breaking triumph over Oxford on the Thames.

While half of London lined the banks and cheered, the light blue crew roared the four and one-quarter miles from Putney to Mortlake brewery in the record time of 18 minutes 3 seconds to better the 23 year old mark of Oxford by 26 seconds and defeat the dark blues by four and one-half lengths for the 11th straight time.

It was the 86th renewal of the race, inaugurated in 1829 and the 45th victory for Cambridge against Oxford. The 1877 race was a dead heat.

Much progress in Scouting in the northernmost portion of the Adobe Hills council was reported by Executive C. A. Clark Friday evening on his return from a trip to Guymon and Hooker, Okla., and Spearman, Texas.

A court of honor in which five-year rank was attained by a number of Scouts was held at Hooker Monday evening. Refreshments were served at the close. Mr. Clark spoke to the Lions of Spearman Tuesday and in the evening directed a court of honor before a P.-T. A.-Boy Scout group.

Before returning here, Mr. Clark went to Roosevelt for a 1-day school in leadership training for executives, then accompanied James P. Piche of Dallas, regional executive, and L. L. McDonald of New York, national regional director of camping, on a mountain trip to inspect camp sites.

The executive said that financial campaigns would be held soon in the towns visited. Pampa's Scout drive, not yet complete, will be reorganized this week and pushed to a conclusion.

Porter Burned In Gas Blast

C. E. Porter was burned about the neck and hands Friday night when escaping gasoline from a burning car exploded, igniting his clothing. Mr. Porter was returning from a meeting in LeFors when he came upon the burning car in a ditch.

Believing someone was under the car, Mr. Porter and three other men lifted the burning car, only to find that a robe and cushions were what they believed a man. As the men were lifting the car, the gasoline exploded. Mr. Porter was the only one close to the escaping gasoline.

He was brought to Pampa and given treatment. The owner of the car had not been learned last night, nor the cause of the fire discovered.

SOUTHWESTERN CATTLE RAISERS WILL CONVENE MARCH 20, 21, 22

UVALDE, March 17 (AP)—At his approach of the annual meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association in San Antonio, March 20, 21, and 22, cattlemen of Texas face a much brighter outlook than prevailed at the time of the 1933 annual meeting in Fort Worth.

At the time of last year's meeting cattle were lower in price than at any time within the memory of some of the older cattlemen. This year an entirely different atmosphere prevails. Millions are back at work throughout the country, credit is easier and prices of cattle are showing an advance, with further relief in this direction promised in bills pending before congress to make cattle a basic commodity.

This was a comparison drawn by Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, who is closing his second year as president of the organization. While the cattlemen of the country may not be as "well on their feet" as they should like to be, "there is reason for optimism and we should celebrate the first year of the 'new deal' at our annual meeting," Briscoe said.

In announcing the program prepared for the forthcoming three-day session, Briscoe stated that the principal item would be a complete explanation of the bills now pending before congress to make cattle a basic commodity, as well as those phases of government credit agencies affecting the cattlemen. Harry Peoria of Washington, who is in charge of the cattle division of the agricultural adjustment administration, will lead the discussion to follow.

The first day of the meeting, according to a tentative program announced by Briscoe, will be featured by an address by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. Addresses of welcome will be made by Mayor C. K. Quinn of San Antonio, Judge Perry S. Robertson, president of the San Antonio chamber of commerce, and Col. Ike T. Pryor of San Antonio, past president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association and the American National Livestock association. Coke Stevenson of Junction, speaker of the Texas house of representatives, will make the response. Briscoe also will make his annual report on the first day.

DE MOLAY TO MEET Members of the newly organized De Molay council are called by the chairman, Dr. W. A. Seydler, to meet in his office, 203 Combs-Worley building, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.
