JAPANESE ARE 'DEVILS' RULER SAID IN 1908

'HE HATES WHITE MAN WORSE THAN WHITE HATES DEVIL'

EDITOR'S NOTE.—The Kaiser gave an indiscreet interview to an American newspaper man in 1908. The German foreign office, according to the story, blue penciled much of the dynamite. The expurgated version was announced for publication in the December 1908 Century magazine.

BOSTON, April 20 (AP)—What the Kaiser said to William Bayard Hale, journalist, that night back in 1908—an international mystery for a quarter of a century—was revealed today.

The famous "lost interview," though thought to be indirectly presented in the May issue of the Atlantic monthly magazine by William Harlan Hale, son of the man to whom Emperor William II of Germany spoke freely, and as his country thought, indiscreetly.

The inevitable world crisis was a clash between Japan and occidental nations: east and west must meet, and the west must conquer.

War was necessary. War was Christian. The Bible was full of fighting. The greatest soldiers were Christians.

Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the United States, was his hero—the dominating, militaristic leader he hoped he himself was.

The course of history was largely determined, not by the clashing of social forces and economic trends, but by the deeds of great men and personalities.

Thus the Kaiser spoke. It was one evening in July, 1908, that he consented to the interview by Hale, close friend of Theodore Roosevelt.

The meeting was on the imperial yacht, Hohenzollern, at anchor in the Fjord of Bergen.

In the Atlantic monthly, Hale writes that the emperor voiced "the most amazingly indiscreet statements ever uttered by the head of a great nation."

The Hale interview was to appear in the Century magazine December, 1908. The German foreign office gave it a thorough editorial scouring, removing most of the dynamite.

Then, it was decided that the interview should be suppressed. It was just before publication. The German cruiser Bremen came to New York, loaded the crates aboard and in mid-Atlantic tossed them overboard.

The crates declined to sink and the Bremen lowered boats and took them aboard again. Eight imperial German officers, according to the story, stripped and went down into the engine room, from which enlisted men temporarily were barred.

PLANS SHAPED AS CENTENNIAL WORKERS MEET

Progress Is Made By Finance, Program Committees

SATISFACTORY progress toward consummation of Pampa's Centennial Celebration and Pioneer Roundup on May 31 and June 1 was accomplished last night at a meeting of committees.

A financial policy that would involve selling of tickets to the various attractions with prizes as a possible reward, was tentatively decided upon by the finance committee, headed by E. M. Conley.

The pie supper will conclude a musical and novelty program in which a liars' contest will be a feature. Pampa civic clubs will have official "liars" present to participate.

Bidding on pies will automatically stop at $1. or below. Intercommunity relations committees of the Junior chamber and the B. C. D. are sponsoring the trip.

It was reported from the oil field at noon that the road to Merten school, beyond the paving, was good.

Retail Sales Are Best in 3 Years

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—The maintenance of steady consumer demand thus far this year, said the weekly Dun & Bradstreet Trade Review today, has had an increasingly stabilizing effect on all basic trades, and merchants generally are taking the most cheerful attitude regarding the future that has been in evidence in three or four years.

"With spring temperatures yet to appear," asserted the review, "it now seems certain that the peak of the season's buying will not be reached until the latter part of May, with much of it to be carried over into June.

"Retail sales in nearly all lines are reported at the best for any spring season in three years, with gains averaging from 20 to 40 per cent over the totals of last April."

Plans for about 30 floats have been completed by Bob Watson, chairman of the floats committee. They are being distributed today to various clubs and organized groups of the town. Among the themes to be featured in the floats include the following: Texas Under Six Flags, Coronado's Dream of the Seven Seas.

DALLAS, April 20 (AP)—A fantastic story of a young communist who confessed to dynamiting a portion of the Southern Pacific railroad tracks Monday night near Hutchins in order that he could return to Dallas, board a southbound passenger train and die in a train wreck was investigated here today by rail road special agents and the district attorney's office.

'VULTURES' IN NEWS OFFICES ARE ASSAILED

SOME MANUFACTURERS 'SKATING CLOSE TO LINE'

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson told newspaper editors today that no charges of NRA code violation brought against large manufacturers had developed a case that would stand up in the courts.

Addressing the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, he said their help would speed accomplishment of NRA objectives. Johnson said frequent reports in the "opposition" press asked why some drastic action was not taken against some conspicuous firm alleged to be violating an NRA code.

"On reference to the federal trade commission, or to our legal department, or to the attorney general, we haven't any case against a large manufacturer that would stand up in the courts," Johnson said.

"Some are skating pretty close to the line," Johnson told the editors that "if you help, the objective of NRA will be more quickly achieved."

"But if you hang around like vultures and swoop down on every mistake, it will take longer," he added.

Pie Supper Will Draw Pampans to Merten Tonight

Voliva Ired

Declaring he had been too benevolent to Zion City, Ill., where he has ruled for 20 years, Wilbur Glenn Voliva, leading exponent of the flat world theory, closed his parochial schools when his public school board candidates were voted down, throwing a burden of 1300 pupils on the overcrowded public schools.

BRITAIN WANTS U. S. TO ACT IN JAP SITUATION

English Feel Japan Was Not Aiming At Them

LONDON, April 20 (AP)—Authoritative sources said today that Great Britain would expect the United States to take the responsibility for initiating any retaliation or protest against Japan's announced intention to participate in China's foreign relations.

This will be the attitude for the British government, it was said, at least until it is known whether Japan has any specific grievance against Great Britain which would take an official form.

Any American proposals for united action by other powers to counteract the Japanese policy in the far east, would be given consideration by Great Britain, it was stated, but it was added that she was not inclined to make the first move herself.

The impression was given here by responsible sources that the British government was hesitant to consider the Japanese manifesto as directed against Great Britain in view of the cordial relations hitherto prevailing between Tokyo and London.

It was conceded, however, that Great Britain must take partial responsibility for the league activities in China specifically attacked in the Japanese declaration.

Phillips Employe Announces Golf Hole-in-One Feat

J. W. Logan yesterday afternoon joined the Hole-in-One fraternity when he dropped the little white ball into the cup on the No. 6 hole of the Gray Hills golf course, three miles west of LePore.

Both Mr. Logan and Mr. Rankin are with the Phillips Petroleum company's Pampa plant. They were playing their second round when Mr. Logan made his great shot.

The hole is 150 yards long, par three. Mr. Logan, using a number four iron, dropped the ball on the edge of the green and it rolled straight into the cup. The hole is across a water hazard.

Although Mr. Logan has been playing golf for five years, it marked the third time he had played the Gray Hills course. Mr. Logan learned his golf on the Canyon course while attending West Texas State Teachers college.

Red Dynamites Texas R. R.

Authorities said they were more inclined to believe the dynamiting was motivated by robbers who wanted to look the train of mail. The dynamite, 22 years old, was arrested near Miller's Switch a short distance from Hutchins by Bob Atwell, special Texas ranger and city marshal of Hutchins.

COMPANIES BID AS LOW AS 19 CENTS A MILE

MART ACT HAS 'TEETH' IN IT, DECLARES PECORA

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Spectators whistled in surprise when Postmaster General Farley ripped open the envelope and read the bids today for carrying air mail on the 21 routes the government intends to place in private hands for at least the next three months.

Some of the companies bid as low as 19 cents an airplane mile in offering to fly the mails. The maximum range stipulated in the specifications was from 41 to 45 cents per airplane mile.

The small room where the bids were opened was jammed with post-office and justice department officials and aviation men.

Meantime, while the senate was getting ready to debate the airmail bill, which would provide for a congressional commission to study the whole aviation situation, Senator Black (D., Ala.) announced that officers of the International Mercantile Marine corporation would be summoned soon for questioning by his investigating committee.

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The revised stock market control bill was approved by the senate banking committee today. It calls for a two-year investigation of Wall Street practices and weeks of conflict over provisions of the measure.

The bill was reported to the senate in a form which Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, said was plenty of "teeth" to prevent repetition of the practices he and his predecessors uncovered during the long inquiry into market operations.

The vote by which the bill was finally approved was in line with the sharply divided committee sentiment which has resulted in half a dozen revisions.

With President Roosevelt's support, early consideration of the bill in the senate was assured.

Palmer Apple Orchard Pretty Sight in Bloom

It may be Japanese cherry blossom time in Washington, D. C., but it's apple blossom time in Gray county.

Close-clustered white blossoms have opened in profusion among bright green leaves, and the bright red buds add much to the picture.

Yesterday a NEWS representative walked for nearly an hour in the sweet-scented apple orchard at the L. L. Palmer place north of Alamored. Ten acres of apple trees in bloom is a gorgeous sight and one many persons would not believe existed in this county.

But raising apples is not all fun, as Mrs. Palmer pointed out. The trees must be sprayed every two weeks from now until September, and that is no easy job, even with a power sprayer. Motorists drive for many miles every year to take most of the apples at the farm.

3 DIE IN CHAIR FOR CRIMES IN CHICAGO PRISON

Depression Is Blamed By Youth For His Sentence

CHICAGO, April 20 (AP)—Three convicted slayers paid for their crimes with their lives at dawn today.

Within 26 minutes the three, who followed each other in the electric chair at the Cook county jail, were dead.

They were John Sheek, 21-year-old slayer of Policeman John G. Sevic, who last July 24 shot his way out of a crowded courtroom; George Dale, 29, who on August 4 shot and killed Gustave Hoeh, an 81-year-old haberdasher; and Joseph Francis, 35, negro, who slew Joseph Harter, a milk wagon driver, on September 18, when the latter tried to run away from him.

Sheek, who had lost his spirit completely, was the first to appear in the death chamber.

Dale appeared to be the most cheerful of the three. He said: "There's nothing to it. I'll take it like a man. I know I did wrong."

Sheek penned a note earlier in the evening addressed to "To whom it may concern."

"Never during the trial," it read, "was it thought advisable to portray to the jury and the court the past circumstances of John Sheek as a mere boy who was lured and tempted into the life of crime because of his intense devotion for his parents and his home that they were about to be deprived of as victims of a nation-wide economic depression."

INJURED MAN HURT IN CRASH OF AMBULANCE

$90,000 DAMAGE DONE TO CENTRAL GRAIN COMPANY PLANT

AMARILLO, April 20 (AP)—A dust explosion followed by fire destroyed the Central Grain and Elevator company's plant here shortly before noon today and injured three men seriously.

The loss of the plant and stored grain was estimated at $90,000. Two visitors to the plant, C. E. Mathews and N. G. Shoaf, both of Amarillo had just entered the elevator to see Manley Gottshall, company employe who was alone in the storage compartment. Two minutes after the men had entered the place there was a terrific explosion followed by a series of smaller blasts. Flames immediately shot from the top of the elevator which had been sheared away.

All three men were burned and suffered from shock. Shoaf received in addition a deep scalp wound when the ambulance in which he was being taken to a hospital crashed with a truck on a downtown street.

John A. Winters and Lester Stone, officials of the elevator company were in the office when the explosion occurred. The office is about 200 feet from the elevator proper.

Rain in Pampa Totals .6 Inch

Rainfall in Pampa last night was three-fifths of an inch, added to what had fallen earlier in the week, left the soil in a very moist condition to a considerable depth in field.

The precipitation was "spotted" and did not extend far east of here except in showers. It was heavy south, especially in Collingsworth county. No report had been received this afternoon from the upper plains.

Santa Fe officials reported that train service over the G. & O. W. line to Clinton, Okla., suspended by the recent washouts, was resumed today.

Brick Moved For Cullum Building

Brick is being unloaded at the southeast corner of the intersection of Cuyler and Francis for the new home of Cullum & Son, Dodge and Plymouth dealers.

LOYALTY OF CAT VS. DOG

Maybe Albert Payson Terhune had a weak moment, as a lover of dogs, when he admitted the other day that cats are really smarter than dogs. As we get it, the cat is smartest because he is most selfish in looking after his own interests.

"You, maybe, have had a cat for years and have treated it like a king," says Mr. Terhune. "I come along. I have a warmer kitchen and more milk and liver. Your cat will gladly come to my kitchen and desert you. To find a cat with loyalty would be like finding one with five ears."

Few people who have owned cats will be inclined to quarrel much with this assertion; indeed, the odd thing about it is that it is precisely this ungrudging selfishness which makes the cat a nice pet.

For if the dog flatters the ego by plunging into the most uncritical and selfless loyalty, the cat does it in a more subtle way by means of a haughty condescension.

A dog goes about the house humbly, looking gratefully at you for permitting him to stay there. A cat goes proudly, regally, looking through you or past you and quietly letting you understand that it is a rare privilege to provide the daily ration of milk and chopped liver.

Even when it submits to being petted—or, for that matter, even when it comes over and demands petting—it does so with an air that lets you know that it is strictly an impersonal matter, and that it is not committing itself in any way by accepting such a favor from you.

And all this, for some reason, is rather agreeable. The unmitigated snootiness of the cat is actually flattering. In a world where most people, in one way or another, have to put up with a good deal to keep the daily bread in the pantry, it is somehow cheering to find one pensioner who neither scrapes nor cajoles.

"It," says Mr. Terhune, "I could sponge like a cat, please God, I'd do it. The only thing a cat will ever do is something for herself."

What Became of Old-Fashioned Train Robbers?

RUSK, April 20 (AP)—Judging from the following report in an old newspaper of the robbery of the I. & G. N. passenger train the night of July 6, 1903, the technique of bandits and bandit hunters has undergone material change.

"A robber climbed over the tender from the blind baggage," the account states, "and ordered Engineer Bill Janders to stop the train. Janders wanted to know 'what for?' And the robber put a bullet hole in his jumper."

The train was stopped and the engineer and fireman forced to go with the robber to the express car where several more bandits had gathered. Messenger Joe Farmer was ordered to open the safe and a small amount of money was secured.

Engineer Janders had in the meantime escaped unnoticed and warned the passengers. The robbers escaped without a fight and

WOMAN SPY HELD

PARIS, April 20 (AP)—Mme. Ujadina Ulfert, described by French police as a German woman spy, was arrested today on a charge of gathering French aviation, navy, and army secrets. The woman, who is 45 years old, was charged specifically with obtaining the plans of France's latest model submarine, the Surcouf, by cultivating the friendship of several engineers whom she met in cafes.

PHYSICIAN SAYS NORMAL BLOOD PRESSURE HAS BECOME A MYTH

CHICAGO, April 20 (AP)—There is no such thing as "normal" blood pressure at any period of life, and what is normal for one man may indicate disease in another, the American College of Physicians was told today.

Every individual has his own blood pressure "picture" which is a key to his own condition but does not fit into any general scheme for people as a whole, said Dr. Clarence L. Andrews of Atlantic City, N. J. A dozen men all may have blood pressures that differ considerably, yet all be normal as far as each individual is concerned.

however, there are four main blood pressure types, Dr. Andrews said, which are:

Stable—Those whose blood pressure shows practically no change from early life to old age.

Hereditary—Those who inherit a predisposition to either high or low blood pressure or whose system can not adapt itself to strenuous living. A quiet life benefits them greatly.

Unbalanced—Due to heart weakness after a severe illness, or nerve strain after "burning the candle at both ends," benefited by proper care.

PIGMIES LIVED IN OLD MEXICO SAYS TEACHER

ADVANCED RACE LIVED IN PREHISTORIC TIMES

BY C. L. LEE, Associated Press Foreign Service Writer.

DURANGO, Mexico, April 20 (AP)—What he claims is definite evidence that an advanced race of pigmies lived in the state of Durango in prehistoric times has been found by Prof. Everardo Gamiz, a Durango school teacher, near the town of Mezquital, 15 miles south of this capital.

Most important of the findings is a mummy approximately 20 inches high and with the complete bone and dental structures of a full grown adult. The fact that the clothing was perfectly preserved and even appeared to have been woven by machine has led some scientists to believe that the body was that of a child who died in comparatively recent times. Gamiz thinks that his other discoveries prove that the mummy was an adult member of a tiny race.

In a cave 5 miles from Mezquital, Gamiz found four tiny houses with walls 2 1/2 yards long and 1 1/2 yards wide, and which were probably about 2 yards high. They were constructed of adobe treated to make it durable and had floors of the same material. Some of the walls were covered with a kind of blue paint.

Inside the cave, in which the mummy also was discovered under what he described as the accumulations of at least five centuries, Gamiz uncovered various household utensils. The articles included a pot, a tray, a stone similar to those still used by the Indians in this vicinity for grinding corn, a wooden knife and a wooden instrument used for grinding chile. In addition he found a piece of cloth woven from the fibre of the maguey plant and apparently soaked with human blood, and a stone crudely carved to resemble the head of a snake.

Another stone with a hole in the center much like those known to have been used by other races in draining blood for human sacrifice, was also uncovered, but Gamiz said that can be removed and wrung dry.

he was uncertain as to its exact use and that it might have served for a purpose in arrow shooting.

Continuing his explorations in the vicinity of the town of Arma Grande, the professor found in a cave located at a considerable distance up the side of a mountain vestiges of 10 small houses, similar to those in the other cave, and arranged in two small groups forming squares. Nearby, at the base of a waterfall, were the remains of numerous other houses of two small towers which apparently were used as altars for the idols of the pigmies.

What were evidently two other small settlements, one consisting of 14 houses and the other of 16, were located not far away. Some of these had doors in the roofs and crudely made wooden ladders leaning against the wall, which were used by the pigmies in entering and leaving the buildings, which Gamiz believes might have served as jails. The entire settlement was located along the sides of a rough ravine.

From his findings Gamiz draws the hypothesis that the pigmies lived in families and that each family occupied one house. The groups of houses were occupied, he believes, by members of the same tribe or by families of the same religious belief. As individuals the pigmies were not cave dwellers but the tribes were, he believes, and they built homes in the caves as protection against attacks by Indians and wild beasts.

In addition he thinks that the pigmies were well advanced in architecture and ceramics, that they were an agricultural race and made their clothes with cloth manufactured from fibres of the maguey plant. They possessed a regular social organization and indulged in idol worship, he says.

Gamiz hesitates to estimate how long ago the race lived. The fact that there are no traditions about the existence of the pigmies would seem to indicate that they lived in the remote past. This is offset, however, by the well-preserved state of the clothing and other articles found in the caves, but this preservation may be due to the lack of humidity.

FOREIGN DIPLOMATS ARE SHOCKED BY NEW POLICY OF JAPAN

NEW MESSAGE IS DEFIANT TO WHITE NATIONS

JAPANESE BEWILDERED BY HOSTILE VIEW OF WORLD

BY GLENN BABB, (Copyright, 1934. By The Associated Press.)

TOKYO, April 20 (AP)—The world as represented by foreign diplomats in Tokyo seemed dazed today to Japan's "re-statement of policy" toward China and what the diplomats regarded as her audacity in issuing it.

The representatives of other powers, still wondering at the exact meaning of the declaration, labelled it variously a "white-hands-off-China" statement and an "Asiatic Monroe doctrine."

Japanese officialdom appeared bewildered by the world's hostile reception of Tokyo's declaration which, in part, holds Japan is solely responsible for maintaining the peace of east Asia.

There is almost unanimous concurrence among the diplomats on two points:

First, that Tokyo's statements constitute the most startling and most ambitious declarations of policy the Orient has witnessed since Japan's 21 demands to China in 1915; and Second, that how far Japanese doctrines menace world peace will depend entirely on how Tokyo interprets and applies them.

On the latter point, authorities do not believe Japan intends to attempt to expel Maj. Gen. Hans von Seeckt, German chief military advisor to the Chinese nationalist government.

Nor, in the same connection, do well-informed persons believe Japanese attempts may be expected to expel the American aviators now in China or to hold up shipping carrying American airplanes to China.

Rather, it is believed Japan desires to post a warning to the world to read against interference in Japan's determination to dominate China's destiny, when in the "re-statement" she says she objects to other nations supplying China with military airplanes and instructors.

In a new statement, a foreign office spokesman attempted to somewhat allay the fears of Washington and London that Japan plans to flout the nine-power and other treaties, but the note of defiance to white nations still is dominant.

After saying Japan "does not desire to interfere with China's independence, or intrude upon existing treaties," the new pronouncement adds:

"Japan shares responsibility for maintenance of the peace in East Asia only with Asiatic powers, particularly China."

"The time has passed when other powers or the League of Nations can prosecute their policies for the exploitation of China."

The town got its name from Brady creek on the banks of which it is located, but Brady creek got its name through a mistake and the error was perpetuated in the town's name.

The man who made the mistake did not have the slightest idea that three-quarters of a century later it would be commemorated in brick buildings and paved streets. Neither was he a prominent person. His only contribution to Texas history was the naming of Brady creek and he did that through miscalculation.

His name was Peter Brady, a member of the John J. Giddings surveying party in 1847. When the party reconnoitered this Indian-inhabited wilderness, Brady insisted the creek was the Concho river which runs about 50 miles to the northwest. His fellow engineers believed that it was not and proved it when they found the Concho river. Brady had argued so much about the identity of this unknown stream that they nicknamed it Brady's creek. The name stuck.

The survey was made under a treaty with 20 Indian chiefs whose tribes inhabited this territory at that time. It was made for the "Adelsverein" or Fredericksburg, a German immigration company which had purchased the settlement rights to this section from Fisher and Miller to whom they had been granted by President Sam Houston in 1843.

The treaty with the Indians was made at a colorful inter-tribe council meeting on the banks of the San Saba river, 11 miles south of Brady, March 1 or 2, 1847.

San Antonio Views Battle of Flowers

SAN ANTONIO, April 20 (AP)—Climaxing the forty-third annual celebration of the Fiesta de San Jacinto, the battle of flowers parade will wind its serpentine course along the downtown streets of the city late today under cloudless skies.

Brilliantly costumed queens, princesses and school children, gaily decorated floats, and men and women of fraternal and patriotic organizations marching to stirring martial airs, will parade before the eyes of thousands of spectators crowding the line of march and jamming roofs and offices of buildings.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR BRIDE OF THE PAST WEEK

Mrs. Dale Followell Is Honored With Pretty Party

Honoring Mrs. Dale Followell, who was Miss Dorothy Jane Adams until her marriage last Sunday, Misses Bertie Moss and Neva Burgan and Mrs. Roy Gibson entertained at the home of Mrs. Chisum last evening.

Decorations, all in pink and white, centered at the dining table where a pink lead wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and wreathed with fern and baby breath formed the centerpiece.

Pink candles in silver holders lighted the room. A cluster of white bells hung from the chandelier, with white streamers to the corners of the table.

Guests registered in a flower-decorated book, and each wrote her favorite recipe for the bride in another attractive hand-made book. After a reading by Arlene Saunders and a toast to the bride by Bonnie Lee Rose, little Nicky Fraser drove in a little truck, bedecked with pink and white ruffles and with a cupid mounted on the hood.

It was loaded with gifts for the bride. These were inspected, then a pink and white ice course was served with pink sweet peas as plate favors.

Guests registered were the honoree and Misses: J. V. Kidwell, E. F. Adams, Jake Stiles, E. L. Webb, H. L. Foley, Roy Bourland, Glen Pollock, Earl Fales, Guy Saunders, D. D. McCormick, Misses Willie Isbell, Ann Clayton, Viola Haggard, Pearl Oriswell, Millie Holt, Byrdene Elkins, Vondell Kees, Oletha Jones, Helen Murphy.

MUSIC WEEK IS EXPANDED THIS SEASON

OBSERVANCE WILL BE EXTENDED OVER OTHER DAYS

MUSIC WEEK observance this year will carry over the bounds of the nationally designated week, May 6-12, and extend into adjoining weeks, announcement of a partial program indicates.

High spots will be school programs, the annual vesper service by church choirs, concert by the high school Girls' Glee club and the Philharmonic choir, the annual Treble Clef club program, and recitals.

The program is being arranged by a committee from the Treble Clef club, sponsor of music week observance. Dates were assigned as they were requested by participating organizations.

Events Scheduled Now. At present, the program is announced as follows by Alex Schneider, member of the committee: Pre-music week program by high school students at high school gym, May 5; vesper service at Methodist church by Treble Clef club and all church choirs, May 6; recital by Pampa conservatory, May 7; Philharmonic choir program, May 8; recital by Carr school of music, May 10; program by Junior Treble Clef club, May 11; opera by high school Girls' Glee club, at the city hall, May 12.

Another preliminary to music week has been announced by the Pampa school system, which will present younger pupils in recital the last week in April.

This year each organization is sponsoring its own program, choosing its own place and hour and selling tickets. No season tickets will be offered as in previous years. Other events are being planned for the week, including ward school programs, but dates are yet to be announced.

Brownwood Asks WTCC Convention

SAN ANGELO, April 20.—Brownwood will be a contender for the 1936 convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce according to advice received at convention headquarters here Wednesday, and will have a large delegation in San Angelo to present their claims.

Brownwood asked for the convention at Big Spring last year, but was defeated by San Angelo, and has been considered a bidder for the 1935 meet until the directors of the Brownwood chamber decided not to ask for the next convention but to lay claims now for the 1936 convention.

Port Bludworth, president of the Brownwood chamber of commerce has been nominated director in the regional chamber to succeed Chester Harrison and he will head the delegation at San Angelo.

New Super-Giant Stars Discovered

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—Discovery of new super-giant stars 60,000 times as hot as the sun, and that the famous and mysterious cosmic rays are storming earth in "armies" of as many as 500,000 at once was described today to the American Philosophical Society.

Fifty of the super-giant stars, any of which would dwarf our sun, have been found by Miss Annie J. Cannon, noted Harvard astronomer, in the large Cloud of Magellan, the nearest of the millions of "galaxies" or star systems outside the earth's own galaxy. It is just out there in the sky a short distance as astronomers reckon, a matter of 5,000,000,000,000 miles.

The cosmic ray armies were described by Dr. W. F. G. Swann of Bartol Research Foundation of Swarthmore, Pa., in telling of new findings about the rays, which are the most penetrating rays known and are constantly shooting through the bodies of every living thing.

Pampans Attend Amarillo Banquet

Jack Cunningham, president of the Pampa B. C. D., George Briggs, manager, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore N. Nunn attended the annual banquet of the Amarillo chamber of commerce last night.

H. D. CLUB HAS NINE VISITORS FOR PROGRAM

News of Community Reported From Groom

GROOM, April 20.—There are seven divisions in the care of clothing, said Miss Ruby M. Adams, Gray county home demonstration agent, to 20 women at a Bluebonnet club meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Paul Davis.

They are brushing, airing, hanging, protecting, mending, cleaning, and pressing. Each must be carefully observed to keep clothing looking and wearing well.

Miss Adams demonstrated cleaning by adding two tablespoons of a dry cleaning compound to naphtha, which makes a compound that will remove dirt, protect the hands, and minimize danger of explosions.

Since naphtha will not remove starch or sugar, spots were first removed with soap and water, and the garment dried. Then it was dipped in the naphtha bath and hung on the line for about 35 minutes to dry. If necessary the garment may be rinsed in naphtha with the cleaning compound omitted. Cleaning should be done outdoors away from open fires.

Present were nine visitors, Misses: Joe Fortenberry, Edwin Nelson, W. Z. Borron, Jack McClelland, Walter Ollinger, J. S. Tidwell, Misses Pauline Tidwell, Dolores Britten, and Reta Ruth Davis.

Members attending were Misses: P. F. Britten, Harry Britten, John Clark, E. E. Clark, Gus Davis, Dwight Davis, Paul Davis, T. H. Foe, C. D. Hill, F. C. Knight, Willard McAdams, Mill Williams, and Miss Adams. Nine children of members were also present.

Bilious Attacks

For bilious attacks due to constipation, thousands of men and women take Theodore's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief.

CHILDREN ARE HONOR GUESTS FOR REVIVAL

LARGE CROWD HEARS SERMON LAST NIGHT

LAST night a large crowd filled the auditorium of First Christian church. The band from Woodrow Wilson school played before the church services. The band plays exceedingly well and the audience enjoyed the music very much.

Intermediate and junior departments of the Bible school were guests of honor.

Members filled the chorus space with extra chairs in front and others had to sit down in front. The boys and girls sang several special numbers. John Vawter Mullen recited the books of the Old Testament. Pat Patterson read "The Tapestry." The special solo of the evening was by Howard Zimmerman, entitled "Ivory Palaces."

The minister, John S. Mullen, brought the message of the evening. He told the great crowd present that God checks up on us sometimes, and sees how we spend our time, money, and influence.

"Willie God give men the right to decide, man cannot do as he pleases for there must be an accounting. If not always willful sinning but the lack of definite things that hurts. Some fail to acknowledge Jesus Christ," said he, and in conclusion the question was asked "How long will we resist to acknowledge Christ's ownership of our time, of our money, and of our influence?"

The men again tonight will have charge of the services. They will fill the chorus and furnish the special music, was the announcement. Plans are being made to have over 90 in the Bible school on Sunday morning.—Reported.

Ramous Story Is Dramatized For Chapel Program

Alice in Wonderland was presented by junior high school pupils in a chapel program Wednesday morning. A large crowd under direction of Miss Doris Strader appearing in the dramatic version of the famous story.

Joyce Turner had the role of Alice, Anna Beth Barrett and Robert Bowerman were the king and queen of hearts, Madge Lawrence the Duchess, Leonard Dull the cook, Marion Miller the dormouse, James Hollar the Cheshire cat, Donald Cole the mock turtle.

Cody Goddard played the famous white rabbit, Paul Furlong the gryphon, Odell Prior the executioner, Stanley Cannon the March hare, Bobbie Sullivan the hatter.

Mildred Davis was the fairy queen and other fairies were Dorothy Nell Dean, Marjorie Holman, Albert Latus, Billie Lee Kriz, Lois Daugherty, Frances Workman, Irene Post, Ruth Wilson.

Ladies of the court were played by Anna Bell Ailam, Altham Mae Dunron, Velma Kelley, Betty Jo Fillery, Wanda Mullin, Dorothy Anna Melton, Mabel Clev, Cassie Leigh, Chas. Ehrer, Lorrana Vanderlinde, Leila Mae Bell, Faye Conley, Pauline McKay, Helen Hill, Doris Jackson, Leta Meeks, Beatrice Barelay, Marjorie O'Rear, Marie Barber, Letha Mae Rush.

Gentlemen of the court were W. H. Francis, Jack Croust, Thomas Smith, Donovan Kirkpatrick, A. L. Burden, Guards were Carroll Montgomery, Douglas Stark, Randall Graham, Lee Barnes, Bobby Goodman.

Pages were Buford Pindergrass, Raiford Allen, Charles Lightfoot, W. D. Chamption, Billie Davis, Joe Nelson.

Billie Davis played a violin solo after the second act. Principal R. A. Seely made announcements to conclude the chapel.

Bob Cooper has been quite ill this week.

CHEWING LAXATIVE CLEANSSES BETTER

You can't get the laxative ingredients from a pill without chewing—many chewing distributes the laxative uniformly throughout the intestines and supplies precious saliva juice that is needed.

Clogged, dry waste matter becomes soft. Out it goes—leaving the walls of intestines cleansed of poisons matter. Delicious Peen-a-mint is the chewing laxative that enlists the aid of nature.

It is a thorough cleansing laxative that acts promptly—naturally—and is free from all discomfort. Peen-a-mint has the laxative effect. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Peen-a-mint for constipation. 10c and 25c at druggists everywhere.

Sunday dinner guests in the R. L. Lewis home at Groom were Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Borron, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Davis, Dean Borron, Reta Ruth Davis, and LaVerne Cramer.

Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, Tuesday morning helped Mrs. Mill Williams, Bluebonnet farm food supply demonstration, check her pantry. She met with the Schaffer 4-H club girls at the home of Dick Schaffer, and had lunch with Ruth Davis.

This district had a splendid rain Tuesday afternoon.

Returned home Monday.

Banish Body Odor This New Odorless Way

Leaves No M. S. (Medicine Smell)

It isn't the smell of a soap that gets you clean—it's the lather. Ordinary toilet soaps don't lather freely enough in this hard water. They form a sticky soap-scum that works into the pores and dams up stale perspiration. Strong-smelling soaps—no matter how much they lather—can't keep a secret. Kirk's Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, lathers abundantly, even in hard, cold water. It goes deep into the pores, mixes with the stale perspiration curds and sets them free. In a twinkling your body is as fresh and clean-smelling as a woodland breeze!

"Makes Marvelous Lather in Our Hard Water"—says Pampa, Texas, citizen. Pampa water is hardest in the state.

Try Kirk's Coco-Castile today. It's odorless. And half again larger than average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

FOOD is the most entertaining subject. If you know the history of food and food preparation, you know a great deal about the growth of civilization.

IF you could solve the problems of food and food prices, other world economic ills would seem trivial. Food, shelter, and clothing are basic human requirements.

GOVERNMENT seeks first to give a square deal to producers of food. The processing taxes are imposed to boost farm prices at the expense of food buyers.

HOW LOBBYISTS WORK IS TOLD BY NUNN IN TALK TO LIONS

Lobbying in the national capital is not the easy job that many persons imagine it. Gilmore N. Nunn told the Lions club at yesterday's luncheon. Mr. Nunn "covered" the new deal congress 60 days for The NEWS and other papers early this year.

He told how lobbyists must entertain expensively, make contacts for their clients, and have working agreements with senators and representatives.

He also spoke interestingly of the White House conferences.

Pupils of Horace Mann school entertained with music and dancing and announced their benefit program to be presented in the city auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings.

R. J. Hagan was program chairman. Earl Roff was a visitor.

GIRLS' QUARTET ENTERTAINS KIWANIS CLUB WITH NUMBERS

Harry Kelley and his girls' quartet entertained the Kiwanis club at a luncheon at the Pampa Hotel last night.

The girls' quartet consisted of Misses Hester Lester, Marjorie Enlow, Margaret Pierce, and Erdine Benton.

Miss Lester also sang a solo. Dr. H. H. Hicks told of the plans for the A. A. U. W. basketball tournament and asked that Kiwanians select their team at once.

M. P. Downs gave a report on plans that are being made for observance of Golden Rule week in May. He gave a detailed report of the preparations already made by the Dallas club.

Guy E. McTaggart was in charge of the program.

Visitors today included Kiwanians H. L. Riggs, H. M. Mace, and Herman Clutter of Amarillo, E. Grover, and H. Yates.

KAISER

Theodore Roosevelt was supposed to have had a copy of the interview, but it has not been located.

During the world war, Hale was urged to use the article as anti-German propaganda, but declined.

In the Atlantic monthly article, the original interview, before expurgation, is used. W. W. Hale found it after his father's death in 1924.

With the assertion that the world's greatest warriors had been Christians, the Kaiser turned to the Japanese.

"The trouble with them," he said, "is that they don't want any religion. They are constitutionally incapable of religion. They are utterly without sentiment—practical, cold, un sympathetic."

The Asiatic situation was the emperor's chief theme.

"Everybody knows what must come to pass between Asia and the west, the yellow race and the white," he said. "We are unworthy of our fathers if we are negligent of the sacred duty of preserving the civilization which they have achieved for us and the religion which God has given us."

He thought the Japanese had been over-estimated as fighters; they were too small in stature.

"We know this much about him (the Japanese)," the Kaiser declared. "He hates the white man worse than the white man hates the devil. The Japanese are devils, that's a simple fact. They are devils!"

It was fifteen years earlier that the Kaiser had painted his picture "the yellow peril."

Consolidation of the east constituted the chief threat to occidental security, he said, adding that it was the particular duty of the white races to prevent Japan from "swallowing China."

China's territory, integrity and the "open door" principle guaranteed by several nations meant nothing, he contended, since Japan was signatory to all such treaties.

The Kaiser said a new treaty among white nations was necessary to preserve China's integrity, and Great Britain should not be a party to it.

"England is a traitor to the white man's cause," he asserted. "If that alliance of theirs with Japan is persisted in, I don't see how the British empire can be saved from dismemberment."

"When self-interest comes in at the door, sentimental patriotism flies out of the window."

(The Anglo-Japanese alliance was terminated some years ago.)

Australia and New Zealand had invited the American fleet to visit their shores as a warning to the United States "a friend who understands the white man's duty better than the mother country seems to understand it," continued the emperor.

Gunman Killed, School Boy Is Believed Dying

LINCOLN, April 20 (AP)—One gunman was killed, another was wounded and a 14-year-old school boy was near death today as the result of a gunfight between police and gunmen on Lincoln's principal street.

After a 10-mile chase, the gunman's automobile overturned near Prairie Home, east of here, killing one of the men and injuring the others. The two survivors were arrested.

The school boy, Lucren Marshall, was struck in the abdomen by a stray bullet. Physicians held little hope for his recovery.

The wounded gunman told police he was Walter Dean, 28, of Beaver City, Okla., a farmer. The other said he was Sam Rivitt, 29, of Galveston, Texas.

"As far as I know that man may be 'Pretty Boy Floyd,'" Dean said when pressed for the name of the dead man.

Clint Small Opens Campaign at Mexia

MEXIA, April 20 (AP)—Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo came here today to formally open his campaign for the democratic nomination for governor.

He will speak tonight in the city auditorium. The state legislator said he "will propose an entirely new system of taxation and fiscal administration for the state, involving an immediate reduction of the ad valorem tax and a new method of combating organized criminal terrorism," as his principal issues.

Roosevelt Takes Stand on Silver

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—It was made known today at the White House that President Roosevelt feels the answer to the silver re-coinization problem lies in the formula presented at the London economic conference whereby all nations would fix definite reserves up to 25 per cent.

This would bring for the first time in history a fixed ratio through the world between gold and silver. It was proposed at London that the nations establish silver reserves to 25 per cent of their gold supply.

As a result of this informal exposition of the president's attitude it was believed Mr. Roosevelt would stand pat against any mandatory legislation at this session regarding silver.

As explained at the White House, Mr. Roosevelt feels it is impossible for one nation to get anywhere in rehabilitating silver without the cooperation of all countries.

Gold Mine Will Open In Texas

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—Texas' first commercial gold mine is planned by the Deep Creek Mining company of Uvalde.

While gold has been a by-product of a silver mine in Presidio county for many years, the proposed mine will be the only one in Texas in which gold is sought exclusively, according to the bureau of economic geology of the University of Texas.

The corporation chartered yesterday was capitalized for $60,000, including a valuation of $30,000 on a 3,200 acre lease in the heavy survey number 169 in Uvalde county. Affidavits of experienced gold miners, attached to incorporation papers, estimated the yield from a half section in which a shaft has been sunk at from $200,000 to $250,000. Several assays of ore samples indicated a substantial gold yield, the affidavits showed.

THREE MILLION NEW BLUE EAGLE CARDS WILL BE DISPLAYED

YOUR GROCER HAS THIS SUNNY WAY TO BETTER HEALTH

Check Common Constipation with a Delicious Cereal

Food has a lot to do with how you feel and how you look. For instance, you need plenty of "bulk" with your meals to avoid the risk of common constipation.

This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. Laboratory tests show the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is safe and effective. In fact, it is much like that found in leafy vegetables.

Within the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

In addition, ALL-BRAN provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonsfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

'CODE' TO BE ONLY WORD ON NRA'S EMBLEM

PLACARDS DUE TO BE UP BY FIRST OF MAY

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—A new blue eagle will stretch its wings by May 1.

Three million cards and as many explanatory letters were ready today for dispatch to prospective applicants for the new NRA emblem, which will identify holders by code and a registration number.

A more prosaic lettering—"code"—will replace the now familiar motto: "We do our part."

Compliance pledges will not be required of persons or firms displaying the new insignia. This, it was understood, is by reason of an official belief that many employers might refuse to apply for the eagles if asked to give promises that appear to them to take away some of their constitutional rights.

Establishments not yet under code may display the old blue eagle under an extension ordered yesterday for the president reemployment agreement.

APPOINTMENT WAS REFUSED BY FREMMING

UNION PRESIDENT SAYS LABOR BODY IS NOT REPRESENTED

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Secretary Ickes charges that Harvey C. Fremming, president of the International Association of Oil Field Gas Well and Refinery Workers of America, deliberately attempted to distort present conditions and hide completely facts, when he wrote a letter to the president on April 16 complaining that labor was not represented in the oil administration.

Fremming's letter said, in part, that "not one labor man can be found on any of the so-called regional committees, the planning and coordinating committee which is the code authority under the code of fair competition nor under the petroleum administrative board."

The secretary of the interior declared that when a labor advisory board was established, in compliance with a recommendation of the planning and coordinating committee representing the industry under the code, there were three labor representatives and three representing the industry named to it. Ickes said Fremming was one of those appointed as a labor representative.

"The board held its first meeting late in November (1933)," Ickes explained. "Fremming prevented any work from being done by the point-blank declaration that unless the labor union which he represented, or the American federation of labor, with which Fremming's union is affiliated, should be given control of the labor membership, he would not serve on that board."

"Apparently Fremming felt that labor could not be represented unless the representatives were hand-picked by Fremming, whose organization contained a relatively small percentage of the total employees in the oil industry. I did not then and do not now feel that Mr. Fremming, or persons he designates, are the only persons qualified to speak for the employees in the petroleum industry."

After Fremming's refusal to serve as a member of the original labor policy board, Ickes said, because of the necessity for a labor advisory board, he reorganized the board with the present membership of three impartial public representatives familiar with the problems of labor and of the industry.

"It appears to me that Fremming, in asserting that labor is not represented in the oil administration, is not only in error but is deliberately ignoring the fact that he is not refused to serve, he himself would have been a member of the petroleum labor policy board which he now wants abolished," Ickes concluded.

Barmaids Lose Jobs to Halt Saloon Brawls

SAN ANTONIO, April 20. (AP)—Local bar owners studied handbills today—gentle reminders from Sheriff Albert Hauser that women no longer would be permitted to rake foaming suds off a stein of beer in public emporiums.

Sheriff Hauser is attempting to get at the root of trouble in the recent current crime wave. He believes that pretty barmaids have had a whole lot to do with it.

"Some of these beer dealers put good looking women behind the bars to solicit trade, some of the patrons get too much, and that starts trouble," Sheriff Hauser contends. "Maybe the complete elimination of barmaids will stop some of the fighting after midnight."

Phillips 66

World's Largest Producer of Natural HIGH TEST Gasoline

GRAVITY 62.0° TO 66.5°

YOU naturally expect Phillips 66 to be higher test than other motor fuels, when you know that Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline.

Just look at the gravity (or high test) figures, at the right. They prove that your expectation is 100 per cent correct.

Then ask yourself why Phillips publishes these figures month after month, while others do not? Obviously the reason is that Phillips figures are higher, that Phillips welcomes any and all comparisons based on fact.

We especially invite experienced drivers to test Phillips 66 in their cars. Even to pep-less motors, one trial tankful will break the good news that Spring is here.

For tired engines, this greater gasoline is a real Spring tonic... scientifically matched to the weather by the Phillips pioneer principle of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY. Every gallon is high test, and every high test particle puts new snap and power back of each inch of piston travel. Lively up acceleration. Adds mileage, too!

Since you don't have to pay a penny extra for it, how can you possibly lose by trying a tankful? PHILLIPS with PHILLIPS the very next time you see the Orange and Black 66 shield.

ANOTHER CLUE IS REJECTED IN LINDY 'SNATCH'

None of Money Spent For Belt Buckle, Says Detective

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The gold belt buckle found on William Lardner, 37, inmate of Leavenworth prison, was rejected today as a clue to the Lindbergh kidnaping.

Police Lieutenant James Flinn, who has been connected from the start with the kidnap investigation and the search for the ransom money, said:

"None of the money went for any belt buckle."

The buckle was purchased in Switzerland, and the police lieutenant said that none of the $50,000, tossed over a cemetery wall by "Jafsie," has turned up in Europe.

Lardner, a former resident of Boston, is serving a three-year sentence for attempting to pass a counterfeit $100 bill at the Boston, Mass. airport.

En route to Leavenworth, Lardner tried to bribe his guard to permit him to make a call to members of Roger Touhy's gang in Chicago. The prisoner produced a gold belt buckle, saying "they'll only take this away from me here, so you'd better have it. I bought it in Switzerland and it cost $30."

Underworld Is Described in Reel On World Events

Startling revelations of the extent of the underworld's organization throughout the United States, now the object of a concerted drive by the Federal Government, under the direction of President Roosevelt, are to be seen in the current issue of the Pampa Daily NEWS-Universal newswire.

Graham McNamee, the screen's talking reporter, describes this and the other important events in the reel at La Nora theater.

As the department of justice prepares to attack the kidnaper, murderer, robber, and extortionist in twenty-five cities, sensational disclosures show that gangland has more men under arms than the Army and Navy combined. Congress meanwhile, considers important legislation, designed to strike death blow to the criminals of the nation.

Other important news reported by McNamee include scenes of 45,000 Red Army soldiers marching across Red Square in Moscow, U. S. S. R., during a mighty military review; a new four-motored flying boat, the largest in the U. S., making its first test flight at Bridgeport, Conn.; Martin Insull, brother of the famous fugitive Samuel Insull, arriving in Chicago, to await trial on criminal charges growing out of the collapse of Mid-West Utilities; a huge oil well—the deepest in the world—being "brought in" at Binger, Okla.; Ann Morrow Lindbergh receiving a gold medal from the National Geographic Society in Washington; strikers clashing with the police during a huge strike at Camden, N. J., and views throughout the country as the U. S. celebrates the Easter-tide with solemn services and colorful ceremonies.

Of the 1541 motion picture theaters in Czechoslovakia approximately 500 are wired for sound reproduction.

Records of Lardner's arrests showed he was in or near New York at the time Dr. John F. (Jafse) Condon, Bronx educator, passed $50,000 of Col. Lindbergh's money to the purported kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby.

Marshal Murphy said yesterday a photograph of Lardner will be sent by mail to Dr. Condon, who had said he could identify the purported interviewer.

Post Story Is Used in Picture at Rex Theater

"Keep 'Em Rolling," which runs today and Saturday at the Rex is from the Saturday Evening Post story "Rodney" with Walter Huston and Frances Dee, is the first film about the intimate life of a soldier in the regular army.

Concerning Benny Walsh, who has made a soldiering a business, "Keep 'Em Rolling" depicts his devotion to a horse, Rodney, and a woman's part in keeping them both happy at the end of their careers. Rodney, a hard-to-handle artillery horse, comes to the post where Benny is attached. He takes the animal in hand, and soon the two are fast friends.

Man and horse go to battle, are wounded and return to the post happy. They attract the efficient eye of Colonel James Parker who orders them discharged from the army on account of age. Here a girl's love for the colonel clashes with army ethics when she intervenes on Benny's behalf.

"Keep 'Em Rolling" was filmed on location at Fort Myer, Virginia.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: "ALL FOR THE KINGDOM."
Scripture Lesson: Matt. 19:16-30.

16. And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

17. And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? There is none good but one, that is, God; but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18. He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder. Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness.

19. Honour thy father and thy mother: and, thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20. The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21. Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell what thou hast, and give it to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow me.

22. But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24. And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25. When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26. But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.

27. Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee: what shall we have therefore?

28. And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

29. And everyone that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30. But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first. Golden Text: It is more blessed to give than to receive.—Acts 20:35.

Time: March, A. D. 30, in the closing three months of Christ's ministry.
Place: Perea, the part of Palestine east of the Jordan.
Parallel Passages: Mark 10:2-31; Luke 18:15-30.
Introduction: I beg the indulgence of the public for a few words personal, suggested by the recurrence of this special Sunday School lesson.

I distinctly remember teaching this lesson to my Sunday school class in Eminence, Kentucky, more than sixty years ago. I was then a teacher in the Eminence Baptist Seminary and also a teacher in the Eminence Baptist Sunday School. I had begun teaching in Sunday school five or six years before that time and have continued to do so through all the years since then, a total period of more than sixty-six years. I wish hereby to express publicly my sincere gratitude to the kind Providence that has spared my life and has graciously granted me this blessed privilege for so many years.

This well known incident in regard to the rich young ruler and his all important question as to how to obtain eternal life has been a special favorite of the International Lesson committee. It is found in each of the three gospels—Matthew, Mark and Luke. It has been used by the committee in almost every series of lessons prepared by them. A new series of lessons covering the entire Bible has been selected by this committee every six or seven years for the Uniform Sunday School lessons, now called the International Sunday School lessons, began to be used. This important change in Sunday School Bible study was made only a little more than sixty years ago, and a few years after I began to teach in Sunday school.

This lesson, so emphasized by the lesson committee, and so frequently used by the Sunday school world, is of supreme importance, and should receive our most careful and thoughtful consideration.

Christ's Perea Ministry
With chapter 19 of Matthew, all of which is included in our lesson, we begin Christ's great Perea ministry. Our Lord and his disciples, toward the close of Christ's earthly life, left Galilee and went to a part of Palestine where they had done little preaching hitherto, to Perea, the portion of the country east of Jordan. There, as in Galilee, they would be in the domain of Herod Antipas, the murderer of John the Baptist, but they would be comparatively free from the machinations of the scribes and Pharisees from Jerusalem, and they would be planting the gospel in new soil.

The Rich Young Ruler.
"And behold," Matthew thus indicates his feeling that an important scene is coming. "One came to him." He came (Mark 10:17) as Christ was leaving the house where he had blessed the little children. He came running (Mark), showing his eagerness; for Christ was leaving the village for the last time, as it proved—and he was not to have another chance at him. The runner illustrates the zeal we should show in our religious life.

"What good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?" By notice that word "one." Usually it is several of many things that are lacking. But that little "one" may in the eternal judging widen into a gulf to separate the soul from God. "A miss is as good as a mile." "Almost—but, lost!" Wealth, honor, a blameless life, deep sincerity and earnestness, but he himself knew that that wasn't enough: "What lack I yet?" "A ladder that falls by a foot of reaching to the height is useless."

"The Last Shall Be First" v. 30.
"But many shall be last that are first; and first that are last." "In these deep words there lies a message of hope to all who feel themselves last, the dependent, all who think themselves overmatched in the warfare of life, and outrun in the race of life. Christ's little ones, the nameless, fameless saints, the humble believers, who live their sweet, helpful, loving lives, may take courage that however overlooked by the world, they are regarded in heaven, however misunderstood by men, they are understood by God. What he asks from all, the high and the low, the first and the last, is a sincere heart in which burns the pure flame of love. Whatever be our scale of earthly precedence, though it be reckoned last in our purblind judgment, that is first—so far first that it has no second."—Prof. Hugh Black.

Principals in Ocker Trial To Be Transferred

SAN ANTONIO, April 20 (AP)—Three principals in the recent court martial trial of Major William C. Ocker, blind diving pioneer, were under orders today to transfer to widely separated stations.

Major Ocker, who was expatriated of making improper remarks about his superior officer, recently was ordered to Brooks field from his present station at Kelly field. He will transfer as soon as he recovers from an illness.

Teddy Major Clyde C. Johnston, senior flight surgeon at Kelly field, and star witness for the prosecution, was ordered to sail for Porto Rico on June 21.

The third figure is Major Eugene G. Reinartz, Randolph field, medical officer, who was military defense counsel, and who is ordered to transfer to Chanute field, Illinois.

"eternal life" the young man meant endless joy, endless purity and power and satisfaction and peace. He could not possibly have asked for anything higher. He could not possibly have asked for anything better able to give it to him. "The youth fancied that eternal life was something to be obtained by his own merits. 'What good thing shall I do, that I may have it?' He never for a moment dreamed that it was the free, gracious gift of God, obtained by faith, and by faith alone."

—Rev. W. Morrow. His was the characteristic mistake of the Pharisees of his day and of their modern representatives.

A Promising Inquirer
He had more qualifications for Jesus' discipleship than most people. Notice:
1. He really wanted, longed for, eternal life. Jesus calls such people "blessed"; who hunger and thirst for righteousness of that sort.
2. He had the spirit of humility. Rich, influential ruler that he was, he got down on his knees before Jesus right there in the dusty road.

4. He was teachable; willing to be taught; wanted to know; didn't think he knew it all.
5. Last, and most significant of all, he was lovable in Jesus' estimation. "Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest; go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, take up the cross, and follow me."—Mark 10:21.

RECORD NUMBER EXPECTED TO START IN KENTUCKY'S DERBY

Largest Fields Go To Post When There Are No Great Favorites.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 20 (AP)—About this time every year, turf followers peruse the list of eligibles, listen to the excited chatter of trainers and handlers, and decide that a record field is certain to go to the post in the Kentucky Derby.

For trainers are notoriously optimistic as to the chances of their charges, but their predictions are to be taken with the grain of salt so necessary to have handy when foot-calls coaches, the worst prophets in the sports business, begin making forecasts.

Approximately 505 nominees for the sixteenth Kentucky Derby May 5 are in training at Churchill Downs, and the trainers of more than half of these hopefuls, most of them the darkest sort of dark horses, will tell you that so-and-so is a certain starter, and will be entered to win.

This takes no account of the Derby nominees training in the east and west which may be shipped here for the mile-and-a-quarter test. Just now there are more than 40 horses classed as "certain starters" by their handlers. But Derby eligibles have a habit of dropping by the wayside in bunches during the last two weeks before the Derby.

The record number of starters in the Derby was 27, in 1928, when Reigh Count was victor. Perhaps that many will start this year. At any rate, chances are good for a large field, if not for a record-breaking one.

The largest fields go to the post when there are no outstanding favorites for the blue ribbon event. This condition resulted in a field of 20 for the 1932 Derby, when Top Flight, the heavy future book favorite, did not start. There is no standout favorite this year.

Now the trainers are thinking, "If Alec Gordon believes he can win the Derby with Sir Thomas, a horse that never won a race, I don't see why my horse hasn't a chance." If they stick to this attitude until Derby day, there will be a jam at the starting gate.

C. Hill entered Pampa hospital last night for medical attention.

Dr. James Will Speak at WTCC May Convention

SAN ANGELO, April 20 (AP)—Dr. Hernan G. James, president of the University of South Dakota, organizer of the League of Texas Municipalities and a former professor of political science at the University of Texas, will be one of the principal speakers at the West Texas chamber of commerce convention, here on the second day of the convention, May 15.

Dr. James is one of the outstanding educators and lecturers of the middle west, is the son of Dr. Edmund James, for years president of the University of Illinois. He is one of the youngest presidents of a state university in the nation. He is going to try to answer the question of "where are we going from here?"

SHAMROCK BOY HONORED
COLLEGE STATION, April 20 (AP)—William W. BULWINKLE IS SUSPENDED FOR TELLING TRUTH

'Demagogues' Say He Shouldn't Have Apologized

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The "Demagogues Club," a fun-making organization carried on by several humor-loving house democrats, is doing a rushing business.

The latest victim is Chairman Bulwinkle (D., N. C.) of the Wirt investigating committee. He was suspended as a member for "telling the truth."

The "club" has been in existence for generations, its headquarters in the democratic cloakroom just off the floor of the house. It used to be a pretty secret affair until Representative Huddleston (D., Ala.) a couple of years ago lifted the lid by saying he was a "charter member."

In a speech on the floor he described members of that "secret organization" as criticizing pending bills in the cloakroom and rushing out on the floor to vote for them for fear of what constituents might do.

This session, the "club" has gone to work. Its leaders include Representative Dies, Johnson, and Cross of Texas, and Bulwinkle.

It has tried and convicted of "demagoguery" and others, Speaker Rainey, Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the democratic leader, and Chairman Doughton of the house ways and means committee.

A week or so ago the members caught Byrns off guard and convicted him of "demagoguery" because of a newspaper story in which he was quoted recently as saying that "Wall Street" was trying to defeat him for re-election. With the conviction went a membership in the club.

When Bulwinkle retracted and apologized for a statement that Dr. William A. Wirt had been jailed during the war for "pro-German" activity, the "club" immediately halted him before the bar.

Unsuspecting, he rushed in from his office. He was quickly tried for "demagoguery" because of a newspaper story in which he was quoted recently as saying that "Wall Street" was trying to defeat him for re-election. With the conviction went a membership in the club.

When Bulwinkle retracted and apologized for a statement that Dr. William A. Wirt had been jailed during the war for "pro-German" activity, the "club" immediately halted him before the bar.

Bleeding Crucifix Miracle Announced

Blood flowed from the crucifix shown here, in a miraculous manifestation, as an orphan girl knelt in prayer before it, according to announcement by the Oblate Fathers of St. Joseph, whose mother house is in Asti, Italy, where the crucifix is enshrined. This picture was taken by the canon of the diocese of Asti and permission given to publish it and announce the miracle. A diocesan tribunal, after long watching, decided that no trickery was involved. At the right is the sanctuary of the Oblate Fathers in Asti.

WHITE COLLAR WORKERS STILL IN 'PARADE OF HOPELESSNESS'

PITTSBURGH, April 20 (AP)—A call to arms for the long-suffering "white collar" workers, the millions of middle class men who are flanked on one side by capital and the other by labor, was sounded today by Eugene A. Holland, Pittsburgh insurance man.

Announcing the formation of the White Collar League of America, a non-profit, incorporated organization designed "to work in the interests and for the welfare of that great group of United States citizens commonly known as the 'white collar class,'" Holland said the idea was born from watching a "two-year parade of hopelessness."

"For two years I watched a steady stream of white collar men, straining their last resources by cashing in on their life insurance. It was disgraceful."

"There are 15,000,000 potential members in the white collar class. Many have drained all their resources but you don't find them in the bread lines; their middle class pride prevents them from making any appeal."

Holland, president of the organization, described the league as follows:

"This is no racket. It is a straight, clean-cut proposition. The wheel that squeaks gets the most grease. That's why so much publicity has been given to the capitalist, the laborer and the farmer. The long-suffering and silent white collar class must be protected."

The league proposes orderly action for relief and a fight against "additional burdens by using the power of mass protest."

GIRAFFES AND BRONCHITIS
 PHILADELPHIA — Miss Mary Curran, regional director of the public works art project, decided to paint a picture herself in addition to supervising the work of 100 Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware artists and sculptors.

She painted a group of giraffes and sent it to Jefferson hospital in response to a request — then discovered the picture was intended for the bronchial clinic. A frantic call for the picture back before the doctors saw it.

Chromosomes Aid In Back-Tracking Life's Evolution

BY F. B. COLTON,
 Associated Press Science Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, April 20 (AP)—A new way to turn time backward, reversing the process of evolution to learn how it has created species in the past, was outlined today by the American Philosophical Society.

"The chromosomes," microscopic bodies that exist in all living cells and control heredity, are used to reverse the evolutionary clock by Prof. E. Cleland of Goucher college, Baltimore.

Prof. Cleland explained that the chromosomes mirror the past by the way in which they arrange themselves when the reproductive cells are formed. New cells always have their full quota of chromosomes, but when they form themselves into chains, like links of sausage, it is a sign the parents were only distant cousins, if related at all.

"This correlation between genetical relationship and chromosome behavior makes it relatively easy to determine the degree of relationship existing between species," he explained.

His experiments so far in back-tracking evolution have been with a plant, the evening primrose, because it lends itself especially well to such studies, and plant generations are shorter than human ones.

Home Mortgage Scheme Brewing

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The farm credit administration reported today that interest rates on farm mortgages in Texas that have been refinanced through the federal land bank have been reduced from a maximum of 9 per cent to a maximum of 5 per cent.

An analysis of more than half the loans closed in Texas by the land bank and land bank commissioners from June 1, 1933, through March 31, 1934, the administration said, shows that interest charges which formerly ran from 5 to 9 per cent now carry a maximum interest rate of 5 per cent with a large proportion on a 4 1/2 per cent basis.

The analysis dealt only with interest rates paid on first and second mortgages and upon short-term commercial bank loans. The total of loans closed during the June-March period was approximately $67,400,000.

The average rate paid by farmers on mortgage debts refinanced with land bank loans in Texas was 6.3 per cent, while the average paid on short-term, commercial bank loans was 8 per cent. Corresponding figures for mortgage and short-term debts refinanced with commissioner's loans were 6.9 per cent and 8.8 per cent.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
 901 North Frost Street.
 "Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 22.
 The golden text is: "We also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement" (Romans 5: 11).
 Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world; again, I leave the world, and go to the Father" (John 16:28).
 The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christ was the Spirit which Jesus implied in his own statements: 'I am the way, the truth, and the life; 'I and my Father are one.' This Christ, or divinity of the man Jesus, was his divine nature, the godliness which animated him. Divinity, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man" (page 20).

MEN FOR MULES
 LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 20 (AP)—An investigation of the substitution of convicts for mules to pull cotton planters at Tucker prison farm was planned both by Governor Fretwell and the state penal board chairman today to determine whether the men are being mistreated in any way.

Mrs. Charles Lewis, who is in Worley hospital for treatment, is improving.

CHANGES HIS MIND
 CHICAGO — When 8-year-old Warren Dawes got up Monday morning he was ambitious to become a taxi-cab driver, but when he went to bed he had changed his mind. Here's why:
 A taxi-driver left his machine standing, with the engine running. Warren climbed in and began pulling gadgets to see what would happen. Almost everything did. Traffic was demoralized.
 The boy driver forced to the curb a car in which Joseph Bradley and family were riding. Then he tangled fenders with another car killing his engine. Dazed and cut he was finally rescued.

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Judith Dale is building the Rio Diablo dam according to Big Tom Bevins' plans, and with the $ million dollars he left her for the purpose. She has overworked herself after difficulty, but the greatest of all is the suit brought for Mrs. Bevins and her daughter by Morton Lampere, who hopes to break Big Tom's will. She just has disposed of the Scoggins family whose hope for suit on their farm had died in her way.

Scenario Bride

Jane Hinton, above, Philadelphia socialite and rising playright, is a bride, all because another scenarioist read her plays, saw her photo in a newspaper and demanded an introduction. She was married in Hollywood to Howard Smith, who writes for the films and is prominent in polo circles.

Chapter 40
HURRIED SUMMONS
Judith stood in the doorway and watched the Scoggins family go down the hill. She shivered a little in the slightly chill air, and turned back to find Delphy regarding her with awe.

"Told you, didn't I, that it were Big Tom who threw that lightning!" And then as an afterthought, "This here mail come in while the Scoggins man was a talking, they brought it in the back door."

Judith undressed and had her chocolate and massage. Then, Delphy satisfied, she slid under the covers, the mail in her lap.

A letter from Cila, filled with rambling gossip—one from Cunard at Washington saying he was en route home—a letter from Mrs. Cunard asking her to be her guest, during the trial, and then a letter from Judge Morgan.

Judith read this last, then sat up and called, "Delphy, want to go to Houston with me tomorrow?"

"What you say?"

"I've got to leave for Houston on the morning train, don't you want to come along? I'll have to stay there about a month."

Delphy came in, her voluminous white cotton night dress half covered with a skimpy, hand-me-down kimono of Mrs. Dale, senior.

"Will you bring me back when you come?" she asked dubiously.

"Of course," answered Judith, then added, "providing I come back."

"I sure like to go then," agreed Delphy.

Judith was back in Houston. The peck of the Bayou City, after the months she had spent on the plains, was gradually relieving the tension of the journey. Mrs. Cunard had met her at the station, installed her in a guest room, and put Delphy in a room in the servants' quarters.

"Lige sent your trunks over this morning," she said, "so Delphy can unpack for you. I have to go to a luncheon and a board meeting of my pet charity. I would have made arrangements for you to go with me, but I thought you'd rather rest."

"Justin is due to arrive at 6:30, so we'll plan to have dinner at 7:30, and if there is anything you want in the meantime, Delphy can arrange with Jenny-Rose."

Leaves, trees, Judith sat up and looked on a velvety lawn below. The blessed coolness and restfulness of green things growing. She leaned back again and slept.

Delphy appeared at one o'clock with a lunch tray, the morning newspapers and a wordy explanation of her absence due to the yard man being Lige's new wife's step-mother's uncle by marriage, and if Miss Judy wasn't needin' her that night he'd drive Delphy out to meet the bride, Rosa Williams-Grant.

"Go, by all means," said Judith, and turned to the newspapers. She glanced little things from society columns, important among them being that Mrs. J. Anthony Dale would remain in New York until the holidays, as she was making an intensive study of the science of bridge, with the intention of conducting a lecture course later.

Judith felt relieved. Norman's mother was staying out of town during the embarrassing hours of the will contest.

Cila's newspaper carried a feature story which Judith read with low chuckles, then laid aside to telephone her friend.

driveaway to meet her.

"Mornin', Miz Dale, how you-all this mornin'?" Delphy was in high fettle. Judith looked at her suspiciously.

"Delphy," she said, starting up directly into the dark eyes, "is Mister Norman at Hillendale?"

"I didn't seed him there," she answered truthfully, "and nobody did say he were there."

"Who's staying out there besides the DeMaos, Lige and Rosa?"

"Ain't knowin' there's anybody. Jackson," she called to her new friend, "you-all hear Lige say if any guests were at their house?"

"None aint nobody there but the new gartner."

"Oh," Judith's tone fell with a flat note which Delphy was quick to recognize.

Tomorrow, Judith has a surprise.

COURT RECORD
AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—Proceedings today in the court of criminal appeals:

Affirmed: Jess Wiley, Cass; E. H. Oklahoma Woman To Be Sterilized

NORMAN, Okla., April 20 (AP)—A 23-year-old woman described by Dr. J. W. Griffin, superintendent of the Central State hospital for the insane here, as "an imbecile since birth" was ordered by the state board of affairs today to undergo a sterilization operation in the first move for enforcement of Oklahoma's sterilization law. The young woman agreed to the operation if it is approved by her mother, officials said, adding that her parents' consent already had been obtained. Fifteen other mental cases are to be considered at the initial hearing under the amended law, which provides for the sterilization of certain insane persons and habitual criminals. The initial operation will be performed within 30 days by Dr. Carl T. Stein, hospital surgeon. OPERATION FOLLOWS BEATING LOS ANGELES, April 20 (AP)—Mrs. Richard Bennett underwent a plastic surgery treatment a few hours after withdrawal of her battery complaint against her actor-husband, it was learned today.

Murray Assails Brain Trusters

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20 (AP)—Governor Murray today called the brain trust a "clearing house for dreamers." "These men," he wrote in his personal newspaper, the Blue Valley

Farmer, through which he expounds most of his views, "seem to be basing everything upon deduction and reason. Beginning with some book, they seem to be practical enough to know that all wholesome administration of government, the laws, and even the form of government must needs depend upon the character, the intelligence, the hopes, and ambition and experience of the people to be governed. "You can not experiment, like experimenting in chemistry and mechanics." NRA SHAKUP IMMINENT WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—A long predicted shake-up in state branches of the home owners loan corporation has been brought to a climax by orders that criminal charges be placed against an unnamed group in both high and low places.

Deliberately she turned away. Must she think every man she saw was her husband? She looked back, the straw hat had been removed. Dark curls were revealed. Without looking again towards Hillendale, she backed into the road and went rushing along to the highway. The house was astr. laughter came from the kitchen, singing from the garage. Judith caught a glimpse of Mrs. Cunard's slivery white head beyond a hedge which protected the rose garden. Delphy, talking to her daughter-in-law's stepmother's uncle by marriage, caught sight of her mistress and came trundling across the paved
