Press Is Given Gentle Reprimand This Morning

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, today rejected the proposed written constitution by a vote of 188 for to 205 against.

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—The reprimand order by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, for newspapers which gave "unfair display" to complaints filed against bishop of the church was delivered to newspapermen today by the committee named to write it.

The statement follows: "It is the sense of this general conference that we fully appreciate the services the press renders to the church, and we are anxious to cooperate with the newspapers in every way possible."

"But we regret that some newspapers have so reported routine matters touching upon the work of the conference and some members of the episcopacy as to make the wrong impression on the public mind regarding the conference's attitude toward episcopacy and other issues."

The committee had not yet considered the records of the other two bishops named.

The conference, without a dissenting vote, adopted today one of the resolutions of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., asking congress to expedite consideration of law enforcement measures recommended by President Hoover.

HEAVY ROLES IN "13TH CHAIR" TONIGHT

Murder occurs before your very eyes in a locked room, and yet you are unable to tell who committed it.

Such is the climax dramatically approached in "The thirteenth Chair," to be presented tonight at Central auditorium by a high school cast under the direction of Miss VeLora Reed.

The unraveling of the mystery, which begins with the "murder" of Lee and ends in a drawing room, where twelve acquaintances of the dead man gather to seek the identity of the murderer through a scene, is marked by complications and filled with baffling surprises.

Dorothy Doucette has the character lead as Rosalie LaGrange, the medium. Lefors Doucette is Donahue, the Inspector. Eileen Pengra as Helen O'Neil, and Tom Braly, as Will Crosby have the other heavy roles.

Wichita Falls Fireman Is Killed in Car Accident

WICHITA FALLS, May 13. (AP)—Clifford Hindman, 20, junior college football star, was killed instantly and James M. Childers and J. S. Davis were injured today when a fire truck on which they were hurrying to save a burning automobile overturned. All were firemen.

MOISTURE IS WELCOMED IN PAMPA AREA

Twister Is Felt at Prairie Camp Monday

BORGER HARD HIT BY STORM

Roofs Riddled and Car Bodies Given Dents

A miniature twister touched the Empire camp west of Pampa yesterday afternoon, demolishing the derrick of a water well and scattering chicken coops, but doing no great damage.

Rapidly moving clouds, heavy with rain and with some bearing the greenish tinge traditionally associated with hail, encircled Pampa about 5 p. m. yesterday. Suddenly the wind veered to the eastward, and large hail stones began crashing upon the pavement.

The precipitation was widespread but not uniform. There was little rain and no hail at Miami, according to persons who talked to residents there this morning.

C. B. Akers, manager of Griffith theatres here, today learned that roofs of both the Rex and Rig theatres at Borger were badly damaged by the hail there.

Damage to wheat was light, according to many reports received by The News. In some instances the hail stones were too scattering to do any harm, and in a number of cases farmers said their wheat could stand thinning.

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—Hail storms and torrential rains, doing great damage to crops, have accompanied devastating winds in parts of the Southwest.

Eight counties of Northwestern Oklahoma were swept by hail storms last night. Leaves were stripped from trees, livestock injured, and homes damaged.

ENGLEDOW WILL MAKE RACE, HE SAYS

District Attorney C. G. Engledow filed his candidacy for the office he now occupies with Siler Faulkner, county democratic chairman, this morning.

Mr. Engledow was appointed district attorney a month ago by Governor Moody shortly after Clifford Braly was appointed judge of the 114th district court.

He moved to Pampa last winter from Shamrock and formed a law partnership with W. M. Lewright. Mr. Engledow has been school teacher, business man, and editor. He was reared at Pittsburgh, Texas.

Jury Finally Is Completed in Cox Murder Trial

The last one of 12 jurors selected to try the case of Gilbert Cox charged with murder was accepted just before noon today after two venires comprising 100 men had been exhausted.

The first venire of 75 men was exhausted yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when only 8 jurors had been accepted. Another venire of 30 men was summoned this morning. Both state and defense each used their allotted 15 challenges.

TYPEWRITTEN NOTICES ARE FOUND TODAY

Contractor Urged to Discharge All Blacks

MORE GUARDS ARE ON DUTY

Martial Law May Be Lifted by End of Week

SHERMAN, May 13. (AP)—Type-written warnings advising negroes that unless they left Sherman within 24 hours their homes would be destroyed were found by National Guardsmen tacked on several residences in an outlying negro section today.

Another warning was found at the business place of a Sherman contractor who employed a number of negroes. It advised the contractor that he must discharge his negro workers within 36 hours.

Colonel L. S. Davidson, provost marshal, advised the negroes and the contractor to disregard the warnings and reiterated his statement that the lives and property of negroes would be protected.

He said guards in the negro section had been strengthened and the troops had been ordered to shoot anyone they caught attempting incendiarism.

State Rangers continued their round-up of suspected members of last Friday's mob, three arrests before noon bringing the total to 33.

SHERMAN, May 13. (AP)—Pleased with results of the first day of military investigation into the riots which resulted in the death of a negro who attacked a white woman and the burning of the Grayson county courthouse, Colonel L. S. Davidson announced that 30 witnesses had been called for today's continuance of the investigation.

The city has been under martial law since Saturday night.

Ten witnesses yesterday willingly answered questions, the colonel said, and the entire city of Sherman was cooperating. The immediate purpose of the investigation is to determine the mob's members.

Sherman was quiet last night and heavy rains assisted the troopers in

OUR GROWING INDUSTRIAL PAYROLL

Those who are always harping on the necessity for dinner pails should note with satisfaction the growing number of refineries and other industrial plants. Payrolls support the present Pampa far more than many people realize.

Let's give the oil industries the credit that it's due. No industry spends money more lavishly in a community, and none develops large payrolls more quickly. Many of the staff members of oil industries are well paid executives or technicians, who mean more to the city than the same number of workmen who earn small wages in other industries of the South.

The best bet of any oil territory is the industrial development based on that oil and gas resource. Other industries are harder to obtain, especially far from the markets in which they must sell their goods. In striving for industries, let us not fail to recognize those that already mean so much to the city.

With liquor on the black list because of "jake paralysis," maybe more folks will take up the much advertised tonics. They might even form a few Argonjola clubs in honor of the medicines which allegedly are curing so many ills. Personally, however, we will stick to "greens" and golf as our spring conditioners.

Much of the writer's time in the last few days has been given to denying reports of bad storms and the like. Many of the rumors are attributed to Amarillo radio stations. We wish the radio announcers would speak more distinctly when giving names and places, and that they would not misconstrue headlines. We want to know when there are storms, and we do not mind answering the telephone, but we dislike for our readers to suffer unnecessary anxiety. Sometimes relatives of local people are in the area reported devastated, and rumors cause not a more uneasiness.

There are times when detouring becomes a pleasure. The grading of highway 33 to the Carson county line is a project long awaited and therefore very welcome. It is to be hoped that the concrete may be poured before the snow flies and King Winter closes in sufficiently to prevent further work.

The idea of having a Gray county agricultural council appeals to us as an unusually good one. Gray's soil is very dissimilar, and the problems are not uniform. Talking over the various suggestions will enhance the interest in each of them. It appears to The News, moreover, that a soil survey would be of much value.

The Texas electorate is said to have a sullen attitude toward the coming gubernatorial race. They could hardly have otherwise when it is remembered that there are now fifteen candidates in the race and others in the offing. The best thing for West Texans to do is to talk and boost for Clint Small and take some pot-shots at his leading rivals.

IT'S UP TO INDUSTRY

B. C. Forbes, editor of Forbes Magazine, is about as far from being a radical critic of big business as any American you could name. He lifts his voice, not to condemn big business but to praise it.

Consequently, Mr. Forbes' recent caustic criticism of American industry for its failure to take steps to remedy the unemployment situation comes with unusual force. It is worth listening to.

"Industry," says Mr. Forbes, "hasn't one organization, representing its best brains, devoting itself seriously, systematically, scientifically, to handling the whole subject of employment and unemployment."

"There is no co-ordinated machinery for co-operating with the workless to find work. Industry feels perfectly free to dismiss breadwinners by the hundred and by the thousand without giving a thought as to how these breadwinners may succeed or fail in earning bread for themselves and their families."

"This far-reaching evil cannot be airily dismissed with the superficial remark, 'Panics always cause unemployment. There will soon be work for all.'"

"The disturbing truth is that our economic revolution had released an abnormal number of workers even during our period of greatest prosperity. It is a commentary upon how this whole problem has been neglected that neither government nor industry has taken the pains even to keep track of the extent of unemployment from month to month, from season to season."

All of this is rather caustic. But there is a good deal of sober sense in it; and the fact that it comes from Mr. Forbes, and not from some established foe of "the interests" makes it all the more impressive. Mr. Forbes follows it with this warning:

"If industry itself confesses its indifference or its inability to wrestle with the problem of unemployment, including the older workers, depend upon it that the politicians will step in."

In other words—the more earnestly an industrialist believes that the government should keep its hands off of the world of business, the more earnestly he should try to co-operate with his fellows to solve this pressing problem.

Industry would be well advised to take Mr. Forbes' words to heart.—N. E. A.

Oil Production Remains Steady

TULSA, Okla., May 13. (AP)—Production of heavy crude made up a 644-barrel deficit in light crude to register a total increase of 8,411 barrels in the estimated daily average production of oil in the United States for the week ending May 10, according to the current report of the Oil and Gas Journal.

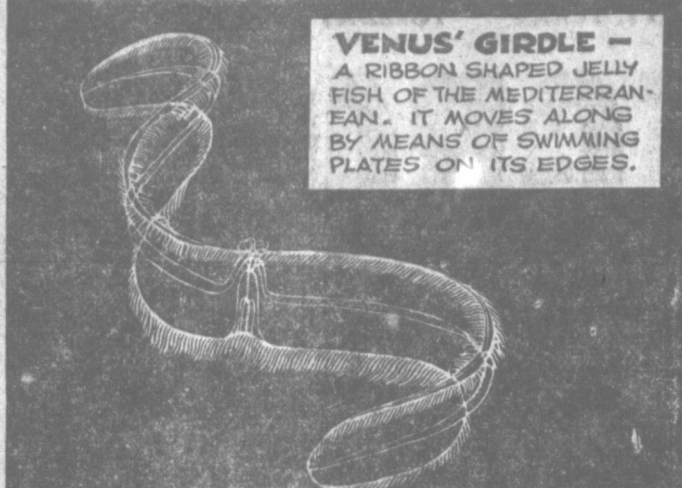

The grand total production for the week was 2,597,441 compared to 2,589,039 for the week ending May 3. The heavy crude advance registered particularly in the Gulf Coast and Southwest Texas areas was 9,055 barrels.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS

A year marked by achievement and success for the Parent-Teacher associations of the city was brought to a close, and the foundations were laid for an even more active and effective program for the year to come with the final meetings and installation of officers of the several organizations, last week-end, and the appointment yesterday afternoon of the service committees of the City Council of Parents and Teachers.

Officers of all organizations except the newly organized Junior High School P-T. A. were installed, in order that they might organize their work for next year during the vacation months, and in most cases, chairmen of the standing committees were appointed. The new association, with its membership incomplete, postponed the installation of officers and the formation of committees until fall.

A closer adherence to the program prescribed by the state and national organizations is indicated in plans

Committees of the City Council of Parents and Teachers are as follows: Health, home service, public welfare, life membership and endowment fund, education, and extension, each representing a definite phase of the P-T. A. program. After the September and October meetings, which of necessity will be given over to preliminary business and organization, the monthly meetings will be devoted to special programs, with the chairman and her fellow members presenting their branch of the service in full.

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, Council president, and the members of her staff, who were installed a few weeks ago by Mrs. J. M. Crane, president of the Eighth district, have named the following committees from the delegates elected by the six associations: Health, Mrs. George H. Wallace, Miss Isla Pool; home service, Mrs. J. F. Curtis, Mrs. J. L. Stroup; public welfare, Mrs. G. C. Malone, Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan; life member-

GIANTS LOOK STRONGEST AFTER MEETING MAIN RIVALS

FIRST PLACE HOLD FIRMER THAN BEFORE

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants have tangled for the first time this season with their chief rivals, Chicago and Pittsburgh, and the honors must go to John McGraw's fence-busters beyond dispute.

On the crest of a terrific hitting streak, the Giants rode rough-shod over both the Pirates and the Cubs, taking three games out of four from each of the two formidable western clubs. The net result was to give the Giants a firm grasp on the league leadership.

During their last eight games with the Pirates and Cubs as opponents, McGraw's sluggers have pounded out 121 hits, including an even dozen home runs, and scored 78 runs. The average per game was 9 2-3 runs and 15-1-8 hits.

It remained for the final game of the series with the Cubs to provide most of the fireworks. The Giants won 14 to 12. Nine home runs were hit, three by the Giants and six by the Cubs. This game within one of the record set by the Cardinals and Phillies in 1923 and the Cubs' total lacked but one of the best major league mark for one team. The Cubs equalled the record made by Pittsburgh in 1894 when they pounded out four homers in the seventh inning.

Beating Brooklyn, 6 to 2, Pittsburgh not only broke a four-game losing streak but created a triple tie for third place with the Robins and Cincinnati Reds as their companions. Ervin Brame gave up only six hits while the Pirates collected 11 off Dudley and Morrison.

The Reds nosed out Philadelphia, 6 to 6, for their ninth victory in their last 12 games. The Phils tied the score in the eighth on Klein's double and Whitney's single but the Reds came back in their half of the same frame to score the winning run on Sukeforth's triple and Allen's sacrifice fly.

George Pipras turned in the best pitching performance in the American league when he allowed the Tigers only three hits and hurled the Yankees to a 7-0 win. Lou Gehrig hit his sixth homer of the year in the sixth.

The Boston Red Sox five-game winning streak was halted by St. Louis, 3 to 2 in 10 innings. Lisensbee gave the Browns only four hits in the first nine innings but was reached for a single, double, and a sacrifice fly in the tenth.

The Athletics maintained a half-game lead over Washington for first place by trouncing Cleveland, 13 to 7.

Bob Burke allowed only five hits at Washington trounced Chicago, 13 to 2.

The marriage was performed by George J. Trauth, justice of the peace of Gretna, who went back through his records of the past seven years and located the certificate. Each gave their age as 23 years. Cagle gave his address at 543 St. Ann street, New Orleans, and his bride's address as Baton Rouge.

Rooster Rawls who is due to meet Otis Clingman in a finish match at the Pita-Mor Thursday night is reputed to be master of a thousand holds.

His manager, Al Hoff, declares that his charge wrestles cleanly and fairly. In fact, Rawls refuses to tussle with a grappler who has a reputation for being unnecessarily rough. Clingman says that Rawls is the fastest matman in Ohio.

The 15-minute match will see Tommy Thomas of LeFors and Red Michaels of Pampa in action.

WEATHER IS KING IN TEXAS BALL PARKS

By The Associated Press

The weather man batted 1,000 against the first division teams of the Texas League yesterday keeping all of them inactive while the second division crew peppered away at each other in games which didn't affect the main flar race.

Shreveport's athletes at Houston, and the Wichita Falls Spudders at Beaumont rested while it rained.

The hard working second division group included a hard fought, eleven-inning struggle in which the league trailing San Antonio Indians defeated the Fort Worth Kitchens, and the Waco Cubs took a healthy, 11 to 6 walkoff at the Dallas Steers.

The Fort Worth-San Antonio game was the day's ace in the deck for excitement. Red Farrell's timely single in the eleventh scoring Harvey Ballew with the winning Indian run. The score was 6 to 5. The Indians extended their winning streak to two games through the win, and four their batting eyes to the tune of 19 bingles.

Fort Worth tried out four pitchers, but the last didn't have any better luck than the first, for he was Walkup and was credited with the defeat. Malcky and Smith divided the hurling job for the Indians, and Smith got credit for the win after shutting out the Cats for the last five frames.

At Waco, the Cubs got away to a fast start on the Dallas Steers, scoring four runs in the first stanza. They never were headed.

Girl, Crack Revolver Shot At 13, Beats Experts With Unerring Aim

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Revolvers instead of dolls and roller skates are the play-things of 13-year-old Arlayne Brown of St. Louis.

This brown-haired school girl has become such an accurate shot that she has beaten pistol experts and has a large collection of medals.

Arlayne has only been practicing with revolvers about a year and a half, but her eye was good from the start and her marksmanship has improved consistently. She has taken part in state and national contests and has always been among the leaders.

Many a seasoned policeman has left the range chagrined after being beaten in target shooting by her.

At Camp Perry, Ohio, last fall Arlayne, shooting in the pistol souvenir match, scored 89 out of a possible 100 at 50 yards, exceeding expert qualifications by four points and winning a medal.

In the National Rifle association individual pistol match she totaled 235 out of a possible 300 under difficult conditions.

Shooting in the Ohio state revolver matches the girl placed fourth with a score of 263 out of a possible 300. She competed against 75 experts from the army and police departments.

When Arlayne's father, Clyde E. Brown, placed a revolver in her hand the first time, the girl had a characteristic fear of firearms. It wasn't long, however, before that was overcome.

A range has been built in the basement of the Brown home, where father and daughter practice even usually, with the girl slightly together. Their scores are about in the lead.

A crack pistol shot at 13 is Arlayne Brown of St. Louis, shown with medals she has won.

AGGIES TAKE TRACK TITLE IN SOUTHWEST

COLLEGE STATION, May 13. (AP)—The crown for excellence in track and field work in the Southwest conference for 1930 today rested on the brow of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Fighting opposing athletes of other conference schools and rains for four days, the Aggies finally captured the conference title yesterday with 51 2-3 points. Texas was second with 32 2-3. The others in order were: Rice 31 1-2; Baylor 21 1-2; Arkansas 10. T. C. U. 10; and S. M. U. 8.

Willis of Rice was high point man with 10 points. Second place found five men tied as follows: Cy Leland, T. C. U.; Claude Brucey, Rice; Harlan and Slocum of A. and M., and Hammond of S. M. U.

As usual in conference meets this season, Brucey and Leland were the centers of attraction. Leland set a new mark in the 220 for the conference at 20.9, and Brucey set a new record in the 100 at 9.7.

The pole vault also saw a new record set, Steler of A. and M. clearing the bar at 13 feet, 1-2 inch.

TAR CHEWING DOES DAMAGE TO STREETS

VENTURA, Cal., May 13. (AP)—Childhood's joyful tar chewing has caused considerable damage to Ventura city streets, the city dads have issued an edict against it, and the motorcycle police have been called out to enforce it.

The trouble began when a small boy picked up a piece of tar from the street. He chewed it, and decided it strengthened and cleaned his teeth, thus eliminating the toil and trouble attendant upon daily brushing.

Playmates were told the pleasing information. Raids on the pride of the street department became common, water seeped through cracks in highways and disintegration began.

Emanuel Wins Over Maloney

LOS ANGELES, May 13. (AP)—San Francisco's battling barrister, Armand Emanuel, today held a 10-round decision over Jim Maloney, Boston heavyweight, a late rally here last night resulting in the victory.

The victor was outweighed 30 pounds, entering the ring at 167 pounds. Several months ago, Maloney won a decision from Emanuel at Boston. The West Coast fighter had protested that the first meeting was won by a low knockout blow.

Merchant Murdered

RICHMOND, Va., May 13. (AP)—Harry Rubin, 45, Richmond leather merchant, was found shot to death in his home here shortly before midnight last night. Police said it obviously was a case of murder.

Now - We Have 100 Shares Paying $50.00 a Month

SOME years ago an average young man making an average salary bought 5 shares of Cities Service Preferred stock on the installment plan. He was soon able to pay for the stock in full and bought 7 shares more.

Later he received a small legacy and bought 10 shares, then 12 shares. Every year he added to his growing investment. The increasing total of the monthly dividends and monthly compounding under the Cities Service Reinvestment Plan helped the growth of his investment.

Now he owns altogether 100 shares which are bringing him a monthly check for $50.00—$600.00 a year. He is still a young man—with the foundation of his financial independence well established.

He could not possibly have bought the hundred shares all at one time. Thousands of people are following the Cities Service thrift and investment program.

YOU can do it. Further information will be given, at our local office, without obligation to you.

(Continued from page 1.) thought of building here—it was fresh air for the children. He paused, and Natalie awaited his next words with a bit of dread. She knew what was coming. It was a topic that never lay dormant between them.

"Well, where are the children?" he demanded. Natalie summoned her courage. "Don't," she evaded, "try to change the subject by switching to children."

"You won't answer that, will you?" Alan pressed on unpleasantly. Natalie's head went up in proud silence. She had never told him why she had refused her desire for motherhood. Not to have children was a decision she had made by herself, and would keep to herself.

"No, you won't answer it," Alan said. Natalie maintained her silence. Alan's reproach against their childless state was the most effective weapon available to him when they were in verbal conflict. He did not use the weapon only as a means of having the last word. He was sincere in his reproach. He wanted children.

"Alan, you aren't going!" She escaped being dramatic only by the utmost control of her voice—the voice that could be as silvery sweet as the notes of a rare violin. "Now, Natalie, for heaven's sake, don't begin that stuff," Alan retorted, more worried than he cared to have her know.

"But Alan..." "Please," he groaned. "I know what you're going to say. I know it by heart. The Lord knows I've heard it often enough."

"Natalie was quick with an answer. 'You haven't heard what I have to say about Bernadine Lamont!' she cried. Alan sank back in his chair, but down his desert fork he had taken up again, after answering Bernadine's telephone call, and assumed a resigned attitude.

"Let's have it," he said. "All the women around here are talking about her," Natalie began, a bit subdued by Alan's manner. He nodded. "What of it?"

"That's right—fall back on generalities," Alan sneered. "But don't be stupid. What good would it do for Bernadine to reform—if you want the word? If she couldn't make a living, would any of you who criticize her help her? You bet you wouldn't. And you wouldn't forget that she'd been under the ban either."

"Natalie was only fired the more by his defense of the outlawed woman who had invaded the sacred precincts of Hillsboro. 'It isn't up to the rest of the world to pay anyone to be respectable,' she asserted with a touch of smugness. 'Anyway, I should think she has money enough to retire.'

"You've been reading press agent bunk," Alan scoffed. "Bernadine's not much better off than I am." "Still she's able to speculate in the market," Natalie pointed out. "At least," she added insinuatingly, "I hope that her interest in you is purely professional."

Alan smiled resignedly. "I almost wish I could give you something to be jealous over, but there's nothing other than business friendship between me and Bernadine. I don't know why I bother to tell you about it, but Bernadine came to me when she began to get tips from Wall Street men, and asked me to act as her broker."

"Oh, then you didn't know her before she... became successful?" Natalie inquired. "No, I didn't," Alan told her. He did not speak the rest of his thoughts. Natalie's passion of jealousy was not a thing into which he cared to delve. He knew, without confession, on her part, that she had jumped to the conclusion that he had helped Bernadine before she became known the country over for her success with night club patrons.

"Jack had told Bernadine about me," he continued, "but she didn't look me up until she saw my name somewhere, and paid me a professional visit." "To tell you all about her hard struggle to take care of herself and support her son," Natalie interjected sarcastically.

"In time that came," Alan admitted. "On one of your visits to her home, I suppose," Natalie thrust at him. Alan smiled. "I have never paid a visit to her either in her home or anywhere else."

"Natalie stood erect. 'Yet she dares to call you here and ask you to leave me and come to her!' she cried. Alan shrugged. 'She probably didn't give you a thought,' he replied a bit wearily. 'Furthermore, Natalie, Bernadine is a valued client. If she had need of me tonight, I am sure it is important. I need her business.'

"Alan had had enough. 'This is getting us nowhere, as usual,' he said caustically, looked at his watch, and turned again to go. Natalie did not try to stop him. She stood still as a statue, while Alan disappeared from her sight. But when the slam of the front door echoed back through the high-ceilinged hall, she dropped into her chair and struggled to restrain the tears.

"Okay," Gladys invited. "We've a few people here—I didn't want a stranger. Natalie walked over, but the destination of her mind was not the Tudor house of the Wynnes. It was the stone, brick and timber structure that Bernadine Lamont had purchased, so greatly to the consternation of her neighbors.

"What could be happening there? What had the Lamont woman wanted of Alan? She knew too little of Bernadine and the interior of her house to follow Alan there in thought. She could not see the worried expression on the face of the maid who admitted him. She could not see Alan's own expression grow grave at the choked words the maid spoke to him as she took his things and unthinkingly tossed them upon a chair. Nor see him mount the stairs two at a time in his sudden haste.

Hidden from her peering was the figure lying on a daybed in the upstairs sunroom. A room Bernadine loved and used more than any other part of the house. She rarely saw the sun, she explained. And then, Bobby played there when he was not outdoors.

He was not there now. Bernadine had sent him to bed early. He was supposed to go to bed early every night, but it puzzled him when he was compelled to do it. Bernadine had felt guilty over her indulgence, but how could she send him to bed before it was time for her to go to the club? She couldn't. Bobby was her life. Then she had heard someone say that sleep is sleep—and it was rather nice to have Bobby remain quiet an hour or two longer in the morning—for when he awoke he ran in to waken her. He might go away again after they'd had a nice morning tussle, but sleep would not easily come back to Bernadine that day.

And she needed sleep. That was one of the things her doctor was forever telling her. Just as though her own quivering nerves were not always impressing the same fact upon her.

The doctor was there now. He hadn't gone since he came an hour ago, and Bernadine had sent Bobby to bed. He greeted Alan in a low-pitched voice. But he had heard about Alan. Bernadine had been telling him why she had sent for Alan Converse alone of all her friends.

"Alan went quickly to her side. 'What is it?' he asked, his voice a trifle husky. (To Be Continued)

Complex Suit Is Being Heard Described as the most complicated suit ever filed in Gray county, the case in which the International Supply company is suing George W. Bibb and others for damages in connection with the drilling of a well on land owned by E. Bass Clay, was brought to trial yesterday.

Trinity River Is On Rampage PORT WORTH, May 13. (AP)—Monday night's rain, measuring four inches, sent Trinity river and Lake Worth on a rapid rise and flooded several sections of the city.

At 9:30 o'clock today, Trinity river measured 26.5 feet and was rising. The danger line is 30 feet and normal 6.5 feet. Police closed the Purvis road bridge between Arlington Heights and the north side and the bridge between Riverside and the Port Worth-Dallas pike. Many cars were reported stalled in this vicinity.

A severe hail and windstorm struck southern sections of the city at 9:30 p. m. Monday stripping fruit trees of fruit and ruining gardens.

Fear of "Jake Paralysis" Causes Fewer Arrests Not a single arrest on charges of intoxication was made during the last week-end by city officers, it was stated at police headquarters this morning. This is the first time this has happened in over a year.

Officers say that fear of "Jake" paralysis has stopped drinking to a large extent. Following declarations by physicians that "Jake-leg" can be acquired by drinking bootleg whiskey and so called high-grade and prescription liquor, a wave of teetotalism swept over Pampa, it was said.

Since the first case of "beer-head" was reported here last Friday, sale of beer has declined 90 per cent, it is rumored. There are 10 cases of "beer-head" in Berger, it is reported. The head of a sufferer of this disease swells twice its natural size. The scalp is stretched almost to bursting in the case of the patient here.

The poison alcohol that is in "Jake" is declared to be in all intoxicants containing government alcohol. The paralysis menace now lurks in all such alcoholic stimulants and anyone who drinks them is likely to contract paralysis. Bootleg liquor is said to be responsible for fully half of the 100 cases of "Jake" paralysis here.

Tomorrow morning Jack Rogers, Pita-Mor manager will begin selling tickets to a benefit ball at the Pita-Mor Friday night, the proceeds of which will be used to care for the poverty-stricken paralysis victims. The money will be turned over to Ensign King of the Salvation Army, who approves the raising of a special fund. Mr. King says the charity organizations of the town are unable to care for all the victims.

Percy Bone of Shamrock was a visitor here today. Miss Iva Myrtle Hargrove visited in Amarillo, Berger, Spearman, Perryton and Guyman, Okla., over the week-end. She was accompanied by her niece, Wesley Hargrove.

Council of Clubs to Support Plan for Dean of Girls for Pampa

Eight women's clubs which comprise the Council of Clubs will be asked to consider a concerted movement toward promoting the plan for a dean of girls in the local high school, according to the decision of the council at its session yesterday afternoon. Six federated clubs, the local branch of the American Association of University Women, and the Business and Professional Women's club will be asked to join in urging the addition of the dean, probably in a petition to the board of trustees.

"A dean of girls in every high school where girls attend" is one of the recognized primary objectives of the present administration of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. It was urged at the recent district convention of this city, and was subject of an address by Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women of West Texas State Teachers college. Consideration of this objective in its local application will be given at the next meetings of the several clubs, according to the plan of the Council of Clubs.

The financial report on the April convention of the Seventh district of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in this city was given the council by Mrs. C. M. Bryson, treasurer. Of the $727.96 collected for holding the convention, a total of $609.04 was expended. The remainder was placed in the treasury for future common projects of the clubs.

Mrs. Tom E. Rose, president of the council, read letters from Mrs. J. T. Whitmore, president of the Seventh district; Mrs. Wayne Borren, district program chairman; and other district officers, expressing appreciation for Pampa's hospitality and praising the convention arrangements as the best in the history of the district.

Mrs. Rose was given a rising vote of thanks for her work as local chairman for the convention and her excellent management. Club representatives present were: Mrs. Hugh Isbell, Mrs. George Walstad, Mrs. Grace Higgins, Mrs. S. A. Hurs, Mrs. C. M. Bryson, and Mrs. Rose.

Russell Explains Ability to Drive Tho Blindfolded

That it is possible to drive through local traffic without violating traffic regulations and even the semblance of an accident will be demonstrated by Billy Russell when he drives a new Chevrolet through Pampa with eyes covered.

This unique demonstration will start from the Pampa Drug company promptly at 4 p. m. where a disinterested witness will tie a temporary bandage on Mr. Russell which will completely cover his head. With no evident concern whatsoever Russell will drive to several local stores where he will further complicate his demonstration by going shopping.

Billy Russell has accomplished his demonstrations in many large cities of the west and prides himself on the fact that he has never had an accident, although he carries insurance. He has amazed newspapermen, magicians and the general public alike who have turned out for his demonstrations, skeptically looking for a catch somewhere. Russell states that his demonstrations are accomplished by "seeing" through a developed secondary sight or sixth sense. "If you lose a hand," states Russell, "nature will partially make up the loss by providing a stronger grip in the other, in losing eyesight nature will also provide a substitute by developing the sixth sense faculty enabling one to be sensitive to surrounding conditions. Keep my eyes sealed for long periods of time has developed in me an abnormal means of seeing."

Large crowds are expected to witness the youth's demonstration and much local interest is aroused. Further particulars regarding his unique "traffic trek" will be announced in tomorrow's edition of the Daily News.

Revival Goes Well Despite Weather

In spite of the threatening weather, the Church of Christ enjoyed another good service last evening. The lesson was a further study of unselfishness.

If the weather is unsettled, make a special effort to come this evening. By doing this you can let the world see your faith in the Son of God and cause sinners to come to know Him in the forgiveness of their sins. Why not use your influence for good? You cannot be the servant that God would have you to be and neglect to be useful in His service. Remember that the night cometh when man's work is ended, and may it not be a fearful time for us.

"The Blessed" is the subject for this evening. Be sure to hear this sermon. It will be presented in the love of the Savior, and prove helpful to the hearer and doer. The reader has a special invitation. Come.

Marathon Ends as Planned—Cole Is Sleeping Now

For the second time in his life, Jimmie Cole played a piano continuously for 50 hours. The marathon ended at 10 o'clock last night at the Pia-Mor. Three years ago he played 50 hours for Jack C. Rogers, Pia-Mor promoter, at San Angelo.

Cole finished in a grand manner last night. During the last hour of his marathon he played music for the dance which was in progress.

Today his young wife watches over him as he sleeps. She is careful not to let him sleep in one position too long. Jimmie did not try to break his record; he was ready to stagger off the floor last night when 10 o'clock came. Despite the countless cups of coffee he drank during the 50 hours, he went to sleep at once.

Hundreds of people watched him throughout Sunday, Sunday night

Jimmie said that he improvised a composition yesterday which he intends to put on paper under the title, "The Marathon Player." "It sounds a little bit like a funeral march except that it exudes exhaustion and devitalized nerves. It is played at white heat and is frenzied. Listening to it one gets the impression that the whole world is completely devastated but still must keep on spinning."
