Pope ends Irish tour; prepares for U.S. visit

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — Pope John Paul II ended a triumphal 212 day pastoral tour of Ireland today and flew to Boston, the first stop on a six-day visit to the United States.

(USPS 781-540)

An Aer Lingus Boeing 747 carrying the papal entourage took off from Shannon Airport in the west of Ireland 19 minutes behind schedule at 1:49 p.m. local time, 8:49 a.m. EDT. He told the Irish in an airport departure statement: "I thank all the people for the warm and loving reception in which they manifested their keen sense of humanity and their lively faith. In a final open-air Mass in nearby Limerick, the pontiff urged Roman Catholics to resist growing pressure for the church to liberalize its stand against abortion and divorce. Only hours before he spoke, terrorists in Northern Ireland refusing to heed the pope's call for peace, raked a British army Land Rover with gunfire, forcing it to crash and slightly injuring two troops.

The pope departed from Shannon Airport, west of Limerick across the River Shannon, where he had helicoptered after celebrating Mass in Limerick. Thousands wept openly as the papal helicopter lifted into a leaden sky, a light drizzle falling over Limerick, the multitude singing "The Rivers of Babylon."

"Pope John Paul will have no respite. America waits," said the commentator for the live coverage on the Irish television broadcast as the helicopter near Shannon Airport.

The Polish pontiff addressed an estimated 400,000 Catholics from Ireland's traditionally conservative southwest who gathered at Limerick race track.

The Mass at Limerick was cut short after communion, a priest announced, because the pope "is very tired" and "has a long journey ahead of him." A flight of pigeons was released to mark the end of the

The pontiff has put in extremely long days during his Irish tour. He has delivered six major speeches and a score of minor addresses while criss-crossing Ireland over a total distance of about 780 miles. Out of the pope's 52 hours in Ireland, abouit 39 hours have been filled with public or semi-public activities, leaving him about 13 hours for

The pope then entered his crowd-touring vehicle, a big yellow compartment carried on the back of a truck. The crowd cheered wildly as the pope walked on the race turf to the simple covered altar. Then the deeply religious country folk sat in the stands with their hands clasped as the pontiff told them:

'Abortion, as the Vatican Council stated, is one of the aborninable crimes. To attack unborn life at any moment from its conception is to undermine the whole moral order which is the true guardian of the well-being of man.

He said of divorce that "the stability and sanctity of marriage are being threatened by new ideas and by the aspirations of some.

"Divorce, for whatever reason it is introduced, inevitably becomes easier and easier to obtain and it gradually comes to be accepted as a normal part of life ...

Pray, pray not to be led into temptation. Now is the time of testing for Ireland, this generation is once more a generation of decision. The very possibility of divorce in the sphere of civil law makes stable and permanent marriages more difficult for everyone." the

"May Ireland always continue to give witness before the modern world to her traditional commitment to the sanctity and the indissolubility of the marriage bond. Civil divorce is not recognized in Ireland, though in a bizarre twist, the church hands out hundreds of annulments every year. Abortion is also illegal in Ireland. But thousands of women go to Britain every vear for abortions.

After today's Mass and a 612-hour flight across the Atlantic, the Roman Catholic pontiff was due in Boston at 3 p.m. EDT. He begins a week's tour of six American cities - Boston, New York. Philadelphia. Des Moines. Chicago and Washington - by celebrating Mass on the Boston Common

Court takes bids; talks on airport

By MELANIE MILLER Of The Pampa News

Acceptance of a bid by the West Texas Equipment Company for a motor grader for Precinct 4 and discussion of work on the Perry – Lefors and McLean airports were the focus of business during the Gray County Commissioners Court meeting this morning.

As of press time, the commissioners had yet to discuss the main item — the 1980 budget. The budget had been discussed several times prior to today's meeting and County Judge Carl Kennedy had expressed hope last week that the budget would reach a vote before the court at this meeting.

Bids for a new motor grader for Precinct 4 were accepted by two companies with the board approving the purchase of a $62,383 Caterpillar 140 G grader from the West Texas Equipment Co.

The tax roll was approved after Jack Back. Gray County tax assessor-collecter, announced a $149.314,000 assessment of the county's value. Ad valorem taxes for the year totalled $1.795,000 and were a combination of the road and bridge taxes and the general fund

Kennedy noted that last year's taxes totalled $1.570,000. less than a three percent increase in total taxation for the county.

Airport business, including the approval of work done at both the Perry-Lefors and McLean airports as well as future work under consideration, was discussed with Gene Barber of Merriman and Barber Consulting Engineers, Inc.

Barber said work just completed at the Perry-Lefors airport involving removal of a large bump in one runway had met the proper specifications, although work took longer than expected. He added that a technical inspection of the work last week revealed that "the riding surface was good on a car basis and very good on a

Total cost for the work was $59.058.70, with Gray County paving

Barber said both runways at Perry-Lefors need to be painted because the Federal Aviation Administration had only agreed to paint the center stripe in the work area. He suggested using leftover funds which total about $14.000.

Representatives of the Gray County Airport Board discussed improvements at the McLean Airport including asphalt emulsion work just completed. They added that the airport needs a seal coat job since it has never been done there.

Vandalism costly to residents

Two Pampa residents are charged in the vandalism of 17 vehicles at the Borger - Pampa football game Friday night.

Arrested were Terry James McCarthy, 17, of 503 Yeager and an unnamed juvenile. McCarthy was charged with criminal mischief, a felony and released on bond.

Another juvenile is presently being sought for questioning in the

According to Detective Bruce Lemery of the Borger Police Department, the vehicles' windows were shot out with a BB gun. An estimated $3,200 worth of damage was done.

The Pampa Police Department reported approximately 10 calls regarding vandalism done to vehicles after Friday night's game. Damage to Pampa vehicles was estimated at around $1,000.

Besides windows being smashed, tire slashing and dents being made in the vehicles was reported. Clay's Barber Shop, located at 416 E. Frederic, had about $150 worth of damage done when someone broke out the side window of their business. Marcum Langen Pontiac, Buick, GMC and Toyota, of 733 Foster reported about $150 damage done when someone put dents into two of their new vehicles.

A van belonging to Joe Looper, of 333 N. Wells, was parked in the 1400 block of Browning when the left rear window, valued at $250, was shot out with a BB gun.

Two Pampa residents reported their tires slashed by an unknown person, with combined damage estimated at $220.

Pampa Police Chief J. J. Ryzman stated that the department had no suspects in the vandalism reports at this time.

Petitioners want better city streets

By DEBORAH BRIDGES Of The Pampa News

A petition is being passed around various places in the city requesting some "badly neglected improvements" to the city streets and street signs.

A portion of the petition reads, "We (the residents of the city of Pampa. Texas) feel that the cost of replacement street signs and street repairs should have been included (in the city's budget) at least in part several years ago, however, since this was not done, we hereby urge the city commissioners to take immediate action to see that these improvements are started in the coming year.

When informed of the petition, Mack Wofford, City Manager agreed. "We are aware that many of our streets are not as they

He went on to say the petition seemed to be "pretty general" and if they were talking about all the signs and all the concrete streets. which are in the worse condition, it would take millions of dollars to repair them. According to Wofford, there are approximately 12 12 miles of concrete streets in Pampa.

Wofford said that in order to pay for a project of "such magnitude." it would take long-term funding such as a bond or federal grant. "However," he commented. "if enough people want it and are willing to pay for it," the city will do whatever necessary to

The best method, according to the City Manager would be to write a letter to him at City Hall, or to one of the members of the Commission, or to appear at the city commission meeting. The City is currently doing something about the streets. Wofford stated. He referred to the annual maintenance program of $165,000 which is used to scal-coat the streets and do street repair work.

As for signs, Wofford says the City is presently looking for a machine to fabricate the signs. This would reduce toture replacement costs, but first the City would have to make the initial investment. Wofford estimates complete replacement of street signs at approximately $25,000.

However, according to him, there is $5,000 in this year's budget to replace street name signs. The City plans to replace as many signs. on the major throroughfares as possible. This includes Hobart, Alcock and Highway 60, through town. He commented that replacing poles that cannot be utilized will take more of the money. The plans for replacing the street signs are set for late December or the first of next year.

For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

Testing your congressman

We've been handed another guide for testing the veracity of your congressman when he comes home (at public expense) to tell you how hard he's fighting inflation.

This one's from the National Association of Business Economists, based on the work of its legislative review committee composed of seven renowned academic and corporate economists.

Not surprisingly, the group gave Congress poor grades on its effort to ward off deficit spending. It found that of those bills and appropriations passed during the 1978 session, far more contributed to inflation than mitigated it. Criteria included the l'egislation's effect on incomes, supplies, prices or wages; whether direct subsidies were involved; and whether it might alter incentives, influence competition or otherwise affect economic

By those measures, 13 bills were found to be significantly inflationary, 149 moderately inflationary, 219 of no inflationary impact. 28 moderately deflationary and only one significantly deflationary. That was the airline deregulation act.

The dirty baker's dozen included:

-Public Law 279. The Emergency Farm Bill, which raises the prices paid to farmers for not planting crops:

-PL 334, which expanded credit to farmers and other rural residents:

-PL 356. a $4 billion military construction bill:

-PL 483, which sharply limited competition from vessels owned or controlled by the Soviet government in shipping between the U.S. and other nations:

-PL 523. the Humphrey-Hawks bill to set a national goal of 4 percent unemployment by 1983:

-PL 588, which increased veterans pensions:

-PL 599, authorizing $54 billion for highways and mass transit: -PL 600, to cut taxes by $19 billion (we have to disagree with the economists here; any kind of tax cut is good, because it lets people keep their money; and the right kind of tax cuts can also spur greater production, which mitigates inflation) -appropriation bills for HUD. Defense, Interior, Labor and HEW (wasn't Joe Califano supposed to have been a tightfisted

Even an informed observer would have difficulty determining what role his congressmen played in the passage of those measures. Final votes are often lopsided, with the crucial tallies having taken place on earlier amendments. And usually, somewhere in the course of a bill's progression through Congress, a member can point to some vote he cast on the side of the taxpayer.

One needn't pin down responsibility for individual votes. however, to grasp the clear over-all message from the business economists: talk of congressional frugality is pure bunk

Hold firm on refusal to aid Chrysler

Whether the Chrysler Corp., losing millions of dollars by the minute, should receive financial aid from the United States government has become a question of wide debate.

It is remarkable that in this nation, the leader among free-enterprise nations. strengous arguments should be put forward for using the perople's credit to give a private corporation loan guarantees of $1.2 billion

Lee lacocca, whiz kid among automobile executives, says the Chrysler's plight is due to the noisy to-do over the gasoline shortage which followed OPEC's hike in: the price of petroleum. Motorists were consumption of gasoline. One economy measure they took, says lacocca, was to buy and drive compacts, instead of heavy cars - which Chrysler specializes in lacocca also complains that government regulation has imposed heavy costs on Chrysler. Undoubtedly it has. But has it not imposed the same costs on Chrysler's competitors?

The trend to consumer less gasoline also has affected the other automobile manufacturers as it has Chrysler. If Chrysler has suffered more than they because it has made more of the kind of cars that burn a lot of gasoline, few will weep salty tears for it. Wasn't lacocca's scared into radically reducing their famed perspicacity equal to foreseeing the motoring public's dread of $1-a-gallon gasoline and the unpopularity of the gas guzzlers that would result?

What evidently happened was that Chrysler, full of lacocca's optimism, went ahead full steam and produced too many automobiles - many of them the very kind the American car buyer turned away from - until an overstock of 80,000 were parked on Chrysler lots.

This summer the company took the desperate measure of offering a generous rebate to anyone who would buy one of its. cars. This was tantamount to a cut in selling. Grateful to see something at last marked down in price, the public bought freely, quickly reducing the inventory to 25,000 vehicles, according to the company's mid-September report.

In short. Chrysler over-produced and had to resort to a fire sale to work off its excess inventory. This was an error in management, not of the over-regulating government, not of the gas-economizing public. It ill behooves the Chrysler management now to ask the government to pay for their error.

But without regard to the error, a subsidy is urged by some because of the dreadful alternative: Chrysler bankruptcy, with thousands of employees. especially in-Detroit, thrown out of work, suppliers of raw materials and parts deprived of sales: and government at both national and local levels denied tax revenues.

To read such pleas, one would think Chrysler Corp. exists just to employ people, to make business for suppliers, to pay taxes and to prosper Detroit. I was under the impression the company exists to build motor vehicles for use by the public.

If Chrysler has been run with a view to employing as many workers as possible. buying as much raw materials and parts as it could and paying maximum taxes, it is surprising it has not come to grief before

The notion that enterprises are carried on to make jobs for wage earners crops up during every recession, when wage earners face the possibility of losing their jobs. When President Carter visited the coal mining region of southeast Ohio recently. the people there clamored for an answer to one question: When are they going to start burning more of our coal?

If Chrysler were to fold, upwards of 250.000 workers would become available to other auto manufacturers and to industry in general in Detroit and elsewhere. Additional auto manufactueres might be organized, making use of the labor and resources no longer used by Chrysler. The identical models now made by Chrysler would no longer be produced, but others would be made and sold probably more cheaply because of greater efficiency. The demise of one firm is not a national Politics also gets into this act. a presidential election being in the offing. The Democratic administration wants to be able to say to Chrysler employees a year from now, 'We saved your jobs. We came to your rescue in time of need." And the Republican contenders would enjoy saying. We favor economy in government, but we stood for aid to Chrysler because without it Detroit would have gone down and the country would have had a worse If aid is given to Chrysler, firm after . firm, city after city, may be expected to line up for similar aid during the next 14 months. The gathering recession is likely to put many a firm and locality in difficulty.

Each will have a convincing case, and having set a precedent. Washington will have little ground to say no. It had better say it now.

Congressmen looking at disaster

WASHINGTON (AP)- Texas congressmen are discussing whether a hearing might be in order to investigate the effectiveness of federal disaster relief to the hard hit Houston

Six Gulf Coast area representatives gathered Thurday to listen to one of the loudest critics of the emergency programs, State Sen. A.R." Babe" Schwartz, D-Galveston.

He complained there was too much of a delay in getting direct aid to individual victims of this year's flooding, and too little aid was available to area governments to cover their losses.

President Carter issued major disaster declarations after coastal floods in April, July and September.

Attending the meeting were Reps. Jack Brooks of Beaumont, Joe Wyatt of Victoria. Ron Paul of Lake Jackson and Bob Eckhardt, Bill Archer and Mickey Leland of Houston.

Secretary of the Interior Cecil D. Andrus is cheering a 'breakthrough" in plans for the San Antonio Missions National Historical Park.

"After months of quiet consultations and discussions, we believe we are now on our way toward an answer to a question of the proper relationship between the federal government and the Archdiocese of San Antonio in restoring and maintaining church properties which also are an invaluable part of our country's cultural and historical heritage." Andrus said in a statement.

The secretary said he would name the park's seven-member advisory commission soon. Carter had blocked the commission's appointment until questions about the separation of church and *state could be resolved.

The tennis prowess of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, becomes public knowledge as a result of Sen. Charles Percy's 60th

When Bentsen arrived for the Illinois Republican's celebration Thursday. Percy admitted to the crowd that the winner of their weekly tennis matches is invariably the senator from Texas.

Bentsen urged a House subcommittee to act quickly on his bill that would let Mennonite immigrants stay in their homes near Seminole, Texas.

The senator wrote to Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman. D-N.Y.. chairman of the House Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees and International Law where the bill is under consideration.

"The individuals covered by this legislation have made extraordinary good faith efforts to comply with American law," Bentsen said. "They have in many cases invested their life savings in their journey to America and have received the strong support of their neighbors in the Seminole area.

The bill passed the Senate earlier this year. A move to deport the Mennonites was suspended pending congressional action.

Rep. Phil Gramm, D-Texas, calls the Carter Administration's decision to stop building up the strategic petroleum reserve

"It clearly demonstrates the degree to which America has lost independence of action due to our massive dependence on OPEC oil. If OPEC, by threatening to reduce oil production, can dictate domestic policy in the United States, our sovereignty as a nation is called into question." the College Station congressman said.

Saudi Arabia threatened to reduce oil production if the U.S. resumed its purchases for the petroleum reserve.

Texans may have say in presidential election

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Right now it seems sure that Texas Democratic leaders will join with Republicans in letting Texas voters have a say who will be the next U.S. president.

Recent reports that Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., is on the threshold of a presidential race apparently will cause Democratic leaders to change previous plans against a presidential poll.

"Yes, sir, it sure looks like we will have a presidential primary," says State Democratic Chairman Billy Goldberg. "It is my feeling that if Kennedy gets in the race, the state committee will order a non-binding primary at its March meeting."

"You bet we want a primary if everything goes as we believe it will," says Billie Carr, National Democratic committee member and a prominent Kennedy booster. "It will really give Kennedy a hand to have a primary.

Texas Republicans already have a presidential preferential poll scheduled May 3, which is the same date the party will choose local and state candidates for the general election. The poll will be binding in that the presidential candidate getting the most votes will get the most delegates to the 1980 national convention to select the presidential nominee.

The Texas Democratic Executive Committee decided in July to choose its national convention delegates by state convention as it has been done in the past, except in 1976 when there was a one-time-only presidential primary. The committee vetoed proposals for a presidential primary tied to delegate selection but postponed a decision on a non-binding primary until March.

"However," Goldberg said, "we think that the sentiment expressed by voters in the presidential primary will be pretty much the same as that shown by delegates at the state convention. I think the convention will follow through with the presidential choices made in the primary."

The 1980 Republican state convention will be held June 21 in Houston, where the party faithful will choose 80 delegates to the Detroit convention according to the outcome of the presidential popularity poll. Each congressional district gets three delegates with eight at-large delegates selected statewide

The state Democratic convention is June 20-21 in San Antonio. where 104 national delegates for New York will be chosen in senatorial district caucuses, plus another 48 chosen at-large. A presidential poll in both primaries May 3 should increase turnouts for both parties. In 1976, Democrats had 4.2 million voting in the presidential primary poll although only 1.52 million voted in the U.S. Senate Texas Republicans had 375,000 voting in their 1976 primary but some GOP leaders are predicting a million-vote turnout in 1980. Strong Texas sentiment for Ronald Reagan, John Connally and George Bush has been expected to attract many conservative Democrats to the GOP primary.

Now, with a probable hot Democratic presidential primary featuring President Jimmy Carter, Kennedy and California Gov. Jerry Brown, the Democrats are reporting renewed interest in

Sustaita returns to witness stand

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Isaac R. Sustaita, 33, returns to the witness stand today to help attorneys defending Cullen Davis bolster their claim the millionaire was framed on murder solicitation Sustaita began his testimony Friday, but the trial recessed for the weekend before he was finished. He said he stopped to change a flat tire in a motel parking lot Aug. 18, 1978, and saw three persons, including two he identified as Davis' ex-wife Priscilla and karate key witness, David McCrory, to frame Davis. The Fort Worth industrialist is on trial accused of masterminding an aborted scheme to have his divorce judge murdered. McCrory. once a friend of Davis, says Davis asked him to hire a "hit man."

Instead, McCrory went to the FBI. Davis was arrested Aug. 20,

In an inverview outside the courtroom, Davis branded McCrory a "pathological liar." He accused prosecutors of grooming McCrory extensively before the witness took the stand and said defense attorneys weren't going to such lengths.

Information one of best weapons shoppers have against prices

Information can be a shopper's best weapon in the battle against Federal income tax. (b) State tax. (c) Social Security. (d) Sales tax. inflation. How well-armed are you?

Here are some of the questions in a recent survey on economics and consumerism conducted by the National Assessment of Educational Progress among 17-year-old high school students. The answers are below, along with the teen-agers' responses. See how you measure up

1. Is is legal: (a) To advertise a $4,000 car at $90 per month without including credit terms? (b) To keep, without obligation, unordered merchandise you get in the mail? (c) For a chain store to charge different prices in different neighborhoods? (d) For supermarkets to raise prices on the day welfare checks are issued?

2. Which of the following statements are true? (a) Advertising may help increase sales and lower prices for a new product. (b) Companies that advertise more always produce better products. (c) Production costs are less than advertising costs for some items.

3. Which is the best buy: (a) A four-ounce bag of potato chips at 22 cents? (b) A six-ounce bag at 28 cents? (c) An eight-ounce bag at 48 cents? (d) A 20-ounce bag at $1?

4. Which is the biggest deduction from the average pay check? (a)

1. Only (a) - advertising the car at $90 a month without giving credit terms' - is illegal Forty-three percent of the 17-year-olds mistakenly thought the practice was legal; 41.1 percent knew it was illegal; 15.4 percent said they didn't know the answer and the rest didn't reply. More than half the youngsters thought it was illegal for supermarkets to raise prices the day welfare checks come out: 30 percent thought different prices in different neighborhoods were illegal; and just under 50 percent thought that they had some obligation if they kept unordered merchandise they got in the mail.

2. Both (a) and (c) are true. A majority of the 17-year-olds got the right answers. But about one in five erroneously said that companies, that advertise more always produce better products.

3. The answer is (b). Only 40 percent of the teen-agers were right. 4. Federal income tax — (a) takes the biggest bite. Just under half the youngsters answered correctly.

Auto makers will be fighting for their lives

WASHINGTON (AP) - The world automobile industry is entering one of its most difficult periods and more companies, like Chrysler. will be fighting for their lives, according to a new study.

Decreased oil supplies, demands for more efficient vehicles and saturated markets are forcing auto makers into a new era that offers some of them little hope for survival, researchers from Worldwatch Institute said in a study released this weekend.

The private, non-profit research group concerned with global issues said, "Demands for more efficient cars are forcing automakers to spend billions of dollars in designing and producing a

"The auto industry, in effect, is having to boost capital expenditures at a time of recession and depressed earnings." the *

This, combined with inflation and an uncertain oil future, means the automobile industry in both industrial and Third World countries is entering perhaps the most difficult period in its history," said authors Lester R. Brown, Christopher Flavin and Colin Norman. Brown said the top 10 companies control 80 percent of world auto production and the remaining firms - numbered in the dozens scramble for the rest.

Gold breaks $400 barrier

LONDON (AP) — Gold broke the $400 barrier in both Zurich and London today, hitting $402.50 an ounce in the Swiss business center and $401.50 in the British capital to establish new records in

Gold reached the $400 level previously in Hong Kong and New York, and the new prices in London and Zurich came as no surprise to some traders who predicted prices will reach $425 by

As it happened, prices had eased in London and Zurich during morning trading in what dealers confidently described as nothing more than temporary corrective dips.

In an hour or two their predictions proved correct, although in Hong Kong the price had retreated on profit-taking to $394.38. Before bullion reached its new London record, the mid-morning price had fallen back to $395.25, down from $396.25 at the opening and from $397.50 late Friday.

In Zurich, the new record came after the morning price had eased to $395.00, down from $396.50 Friday.

Plan may reduce dollars on market

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) - Seeking to reduce the turbulence in world money markets. the International Monetary Fund appears ready to endorse a plan to reduce the amount of dollars in the international financial system

U.S. Treasury Secretary G. William Miller and other finance ministers on the IMF's powerful Interim Committee are expected to approve in principle a plan to establish a so-called substitution account for dollars held by IMF member governments.

The committee meets here today, one day before the 138-nation IMF opens its four-day annual meeting. It is the first time the U.N.-sponsored financial organization is meeting in a Communist country. Details of the substitution account would be worked out over the next several months to be ready for final approval next spring. If all goes well, the account could be in operation as early as mid-1980, IMF officials say.

Under the plan, IMF members could trade in government-held dollars for assets denominated in the special currency of the IMF known as Special Drawing Rights or SDRs. The United States would pay interest on the dollars to the IMF, which would forward the interest to the countries that traded in the Saudi Arabia. West Germany and Japan are the countries holding the largest amounts of dollars and would be most likely to use the IMF sources say it is likely the account would start out with at least $20 billion.

Although $20 billion would absorb only a small fraction of the dollars held by foreign governments, it is hoped the amount would be large enough to help restore order to world currency markets

THE PEOPLE'S PHARMACY

Diet pill euphoria can be hazardous

By Joe Graedon
Q. My doctor recently prescribed Tenuate (diethylpropion) to help me lose weight. Besides curbing my appetitie it has given me a big psychological boost.

I used to be down in the dumps a whole lot of the time but now that I've been taking Tenuate for a few weeks I feel great!

I'd like to keep on taking this drug but my doctor won't renew the prescription. He won't tell me exactly why, either. Can you?

A. Your doctor is doing you a big favor. Tenuate is similar in action to amphetamine. Although it is true that these kinds of drugs can temporarily reduce appetitie and elevate mood, long term use can be dangerous.

The problem with stimulants, or uppers as they are sometimes called, is that after a few weeks the effectiveness begins to wear off. Weight loss tends to diminish and the euphoria may also lessen. Some people start to increase the dose in order to obtain the same benefits as before. Pretty soon this can lead to psychological dependence.

Abuse of these drugs can produce symptoms of mental illness, which are according to the drug company that makes Tenuate, "clinically indistinguishable from schizophrenia."

If the drug is stopped suddenly it can cause "extreme fatigue and mental depression." For these reasons the makers of Tenuate tell doctors that "the least amount feasible should be prescribed or dispensed at one time in order to minimize the possibility of overdosage."

Losing weight is not easy. It usually takes a lot of hard work, patience and ultimately a change in eating patterns in order to achieve lasting results. Since diet pills are only effective for a few weeks at a time anyway, it is highly unlikely that you will benefit from more of the drug than your doctor prescribed to begin with.

Psychological depression requires expert professional help. We suggest that you discuss your problems with your doctor rather than relying on a potentially dangerous drug.

Q. Last month my wife began taking Cuprimine (penicillamine) for her rheumatoid arthritis. Soon after she started on it I noticed that I get a rash on my genitals every time we have intercourse

I am extremely allergic to penicillin.

Once I came down with terrible hives after drinking milk from a cow treated with this antibiotic.

My doctor says that penicillin and penicillamine are completely different drugs. But they still sound alike to me. Is there any possibility that this annoying rash is related to my wife's new drug?

A. Although your doctor is right when he says these are different drugs, it is no accident the names are so similar. The arthritis drug penicillamine was once produced from penicillin and people who are allergic to the antibiotic may also be sensitive to penicillamine.

This is a most unusual way to be exposed to a medication. Even though your contact is minimal, your rash is quite possibly an allergic reaction to your wife's drug.

Q. Every Saturday like clockwork I get a nasty headache. If I play tennis or jog, it gets agonizing.

Lately I've discovered that if I drink a cup of coffee the headache goes away. It sounds strange but could there be a connection?

A. What you are suffering from sounds very much like a caffeine withdrawal

A. What you are suffering from sounds very much like a caffeine withdrawal headache. People who drink four or five cups of coffee every day at work and then cut back on weekends may actually experience the sort of headache your report.

Typically, the withdrawal symptoms start about 18 hours after the last contact with caffeine.

Chemical society sets meeting

Dr. Foil Miller, professor of chemistry and director of spectroscopy lab at the University of Pittsburgh, will be the featured speaker at the Oct. 6 meeting of the American Chemical Society, Panhandle - Plains chapter.

The dinner begins at 6 p.m. at the Sizzling Steak House, 2921 I - 40 West in Amarillo. Dr. Miller's presentation will be given at 7:30 p.m. at Amarillo College, Room 109, Warren Hall, 24th and Washington.

The presentation will include CHEMISTRY AND MAN, a history of man's past achievements and research on current problems during his quest for new knowledge.

His research is based primarily on infrared and Raman spectroscopy. Each summer since 1970 he has presented a special course on infrared spectroscopy, first at MIT and now at Bowdoin College.

The winner of numerous awards and honors. Miller spent six years on the research and teaching staffs of the University of Minnesota and the University of Illinois, and was senior fellow in independent research at Mellon Institute in 1958. He assumed his position at the University of Pittsburgh in 1967.

His Gugenheim Fellowship was for study in Zurich, Switzerland:

he also has been visiting professor at Tohoku University in Sendai, Japan.

All society members are urged to attend the meeting, says Kenneth Ladd, publicity chairman. Any interested individual is invited to hear Dr. Miller's presentation at Amarillo College.

By ROBERT WALLACE, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: Please help me. Last April my mother was married again. I hate to admit it but my stepfather has been making passes at me. The other day, when my mom went shopping, my stepfather came into the bathroom when I was taking a shower and offered to come in with me. I started screaming and yelling and he went away.

He has also come into my room when I am dressing. I don't have the heart to tell my mother because she loves this man very much, but I'm afraid he is going to try something more serious.

— Carol. Michigan City, Ind.

Carol: You must tell Mother what is happening, now. If for any reason she won't believe you, contact your real father and share with him what your stepfather is doing.

Your stepfather is a real louse!

Dr. Wallace: I'm a seventh grade girl who likes this guy who will be in 11th grade. He likes me but is too embarrassed to ask me out because his friends would think that he is "robbing the cradle."

I don't think so because his parents are four years apart and no one accused one of them of robbing the cradle. — Elaine, North Tonawanda, N.Y.

Elaine: When you are 12, four years makes a big difference. When the couples are over 18, age is not that important.

Cataract operation unwise

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My eyes were checked by the ophthamologist and he says I have bilateral cataracts. I was fitted with driving glasses. The cataract is the hard kind. I asked about removal and he said when I wasn't able to get a driver's license, he would talk to me. I see to read, thread a needle and have no headaches. What could be done about my eyes now? Will this affect my near-sight later on? What type of operation will I need?

DEAR READER —
Cataracts are a very common problem. Basically, they are simply opacities that develop in the lens in the eye.

The lens itself is a smallglobular structure of jell-like material and it's quite elastic in youth

The cells of the lens regenerate just like the cells in your skin do. The problem is that old cells are not shed like those on the surface of your skin. Rather the new cells form at the surface of the lens and the old ones move to the center. Eventually these old hard cells are compacted in the middle of the lens. That's why if a person lives long enough, the likelihood is that he will develop some changes in the lens.

in the lens.

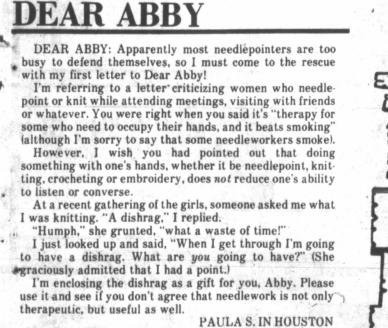

We don't know all the factors related to cataracts but I am sending you The Health Letter number 13-6, Your Cataracts Are Coming. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents in check or coin with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

At the beginning a cataract may involve areas of the lens that don't really interfere much with vision. At this stage the doctor may not feel like subjecting his patient to an operation. As the opacities increase and begin to affect sight, the decision has to be made on the basis of how much the sight is affected and what can be done to correct it without an operation. Some people who do not read and don't thread needles don't really need as accurate eyesight as others. Still another person who needs excellent eyesight in both eyes may require an operation sooner.

the the when the cataract is opaque enough that it won't transmit light and you can't see through it, it's said to be mature. At that point it's usuel, ally necessary to take it out. Despite some claims to the contrary, the only real cure for cataracts is removing them surgically.

These operations are relatively simple today and in many instances the hospital stay is of short duration. The only way to determine when you need a cataract operation is from a competent eye examination.

DEAR PAULA: Thanks for the dishrag. It wiped me out!

DEAR ABBY: I have read your column for years, but this is my first Dear Abby letter. At the bottom of your column you say, "If you need help with your problems, write to ABBY," and could I ever use help with mine!

He is going to sit where you are sitting, and when you are gone, attend to those things which you think are important. You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they are carried out depends on him.

Pirates clinch National League East championship

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Pittsburgh's veterans and Philadelphia's cagiest pitcher sent the Pirates to the National League East Division title and eliminated the youthful Montreal Expos after a marvelous chase on the final day of the regular season.

The Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 on the heroics of 38-year-old Willie Stargell and 36-year-old Bill Robinson Sunday, but needed the three-hit magic of Steve Carlton of the Phillies to finally force Montreal to call it a season.

'Hey, we voted Carlton a full playoff share, didn't we?" kidded Pirate catcher Steve Nicosia after he learned that Carlton and his Philadelphia mates had blanked the Expos 2-0.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) - The New England Patriots, a team Bart Starr says may have the best talent in the National Football League, will showcase their skills on national television for the second time this season tonight.

Perhaps unfortunately for Starr, the Patriots' opposition will be Starr's team, the Green Bay Packers, 1-3 and in their worst physical shape of the season. Criticism of Starr, in his fifth year as Packer coach and general manager, has been building. The club had been expected to challenge for the National Conference Central Division title. The Patriots lost 16-13 in overtime to defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh in ABC's first Monday night NFL telecast this season, and since then have beaten the New York Jets 56-8. Cincinnati 20-14 and San Diego 27-21. The Patriots rank third among the NFL's 28 teams in offense and second on defense. The Packers are 27th and 23rd, respectively, although Starr is hopeful the national exposure will motivate his players to perform at a peak.

Farm commodity prices seen as slightly higher

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farm commodity prices are expected to average slightly higher this year than indicated earlier by Agriculture Department projections.

The statistics mean little to individual farmers, who are more interested in prices they get for what they actually produce. But the government figures do give an indication on how the farm economy changes from one year to the next.

For example, USDA economists now are predicting that the average of all prices - meaning those that farmers get for a long list of crops and livestock products - will be up about 14.3 percent from what they averaged over the entire 12 months of 1978.

A month ago, the experts were forecasting a gain this year of 13.3 percent. By comparison, the price index gained 8.8 percent in 1978 over 1977.

One reason for the slight boost in price prospects is an improved outlook for livestock, including poultry and dairy output.

Prices for livestock and crops will average higher than last year despite large crops and increases in production of hogs and poultry." the USDA's outlook board said.

While livestock prices dipped during the third quarter of 1979, the average prices (for livestock) ... are expected to be nearly 20 percent higher than in 1978, with the crop price index likely to average about 9 percent higher.'

In total gross dollars, cash receipts from the sales of livestock this year are expected to total around $66 billion, compared to $59 billion in 1978. Crop receipts were estimated at $61 billion, up from

Total cash receipts from actual sales are put at $127 billion against $111 billion last year.

The USDA bookkeepers add another dimension to all this by including the "net change in farm inventories" from one year to the next. If a farmer has more wheat stored, for example, the increase in its value is taken into consideration. Thus, when that adjustment is made, according to USDA statisticians, U.S. "gross farm income" this year is estimated at $142 billion, compared to $126 billion in 1978.

Farm production expenses currently are projected at $112 billion, compared to $98.1 billion last year. That would leave farmers, on a national basis, an estimated net income of about $30 billion against $27.9 billion last year, according to the economists.

In its latest analysis, the department's outlook board said the $140 million in farmers' gross income estimate for 1979 is "a new record." It did not point out, however, that the $112 billion in production expenses also is a record.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Just on the basis of this year's record soybean crop alone, the United States is accounting for about 36 percent of the world's total oilseed output, according to recent Agriculture Department reports.

World production of six major oilseeds - soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts, sunflowerseed, rapeseed and flaxseed — is expected to total about 166.4 million metric tons in 1979-80. The department's Foreign Agricultural Service said that would be up about 11.5 percent from 149.2 million metric tons last year.

A metric ton is about 2,205 pounds and is equal to 36.7 bushels of World oilseed production has been dominated by soybeans for many years, and the United States tradit onally is the leading

To illustrate, the agency's report said soybean output on a global basis is expected to be about 93.3 n. Ilion metric tons. Of that amount, U.S. production this fall will account for about 59.2 million metric tons, more than 63 percent of the soybean total.

But other countries, notably Brazil, have gradually made inroads into the U.S. soybean dominance.

Soybean production in 1978-79 by those countries, by comparison, included: Brazil 13.5 million metric tons; China 10.5 million; Argentina 4.5 million; Paraguay 550,000; and "other" countries 5.1 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) - William H. Whyte, an authority on urban policy and conservation, will present the Agriculture Department's annual B.Y. Morrison Lecture in San Francisco

Whyte for the past nine years has directed the Street Life Project, a foundation-supported research group in New York which studies the ways people use small open spaces in cities.

False alarms are a crime

False alarms are a waste, a risk, a crime-and occur much too often to the City's firefighters, policemen, and ambulance drivers. According to a release from the Pampa Fire Department, false alarms endanger the lives of citizens by causing potential accidents in the fire truck's haste to respond to an alarm, as well as risking a fire truck and the life of a fireman.

Tax money is wasted by false alarms. They cause unnecessary wear and tear on a fire vehicle, reducing the lifespan of the Ambulances are affected by false alarms in the same way. Also, when an ambulance is out on a false call, the life of a person in critical need of emergency care may be put in danger.

The police department are not effected quite as severely by false alarms since there is often a patrol vehicle near the scene, a police department spokesperson said. However, turning in a prank call is a crime punishable by a fine and-or a jail sentence, and, the spokesperson said, with proof, the police department would arrest the prankster.

NAZARETH, Texas (AP) - A bumper of an crop and an invitation to receive communion from Pope John Paul II made for a dilemma for farmer Jerome Brockman, a church deacon in this West Texas

Brockman, along with nine other American farmers whose number includes a Southern Baptist, was selected by the National

"To be perfectly honest, I wasn't going to go at first," Brockman said. "I even called some other people I thought might be interested in taking my place. My brother and I have about 500 acres of corn this year, and it looks pretty good. I just didn't think it would be fair to
