Judge Brady Weeps as Slain Girl's Words Recalled

ATTORNEY IS SCATHING IN OPENING TALK

Says Miss Highsmith Was Swept Off Feet

HE CALLS HER COUNTRY GIRL

Issues in Murder Are Defined by Judge Phippen

DALLAS, May 16. (P)—John W. Brady, on trial here for the stabbing of Miss Lehlia Highsmith in Austin last November, wept openly as Andrew J. Priest in the opening argument quoted some of the first and last words the dead girl was alleged to have said to the defendant during their acquaintanceship.

Speaking for the prosecution, the attorney during a moment of tense silence quoted the girl as saying: "Daddy, I want you to meet a friend of mine—a man who is going to help me." That was when she introduced her father to her supposed benefactor five years ago—and then, on the night of Nov. 9, "please don't kill me—please have mercy."

The attorney pictured the slain girl as a country maid who had been swept off her feet by a man who eventually rewarded her by sinking a knife into her bosom.

After his argument Judge Charles Phippen recessed court for lunch. The court's charge defined murder with malice, a condition showing a heart regardless of social duty and fatally bent on mischief, and charged that should the jury find the defendant guilty of murder with malice it shall find him guilty and assess his punishment at death or life imprisonment or any term of years no less than two. If convicted of murder without malice, the punishment shall not be less than two nor more than five years in prison.

A state of temporary insanity, induced by the recent and voluntary use of intoxicating liquor, does not excuse or justify the offense, the court's charge directed, but may be considered only in the mitigation of the penalty to be imposed. The charge stipulated that any such temporary insanity must have been of such nature as rendered the defendant unable to distinguish between right and wrong at the time of the alleged offense.

In defining the defense of insanity (not temporary insanity) Judge Phippen charged that no person in this state can be held accountable for or punished for an offense committed while he was insane. The defense, however, must prove such condition of insanity with a preponderance of evidence.

Judge Phippen charged on the law of suspended sentence, pointing out that the jury may, if it so chooses, suspend the defendant's sentence provided the penalty assessed is five years or less.

Tickets Placed on Sale for Benefit "Jake" Dance

Approximately 800 tickets to the dance which will be given next Friday night at the Pla-Mor under the auspices of the Elks lodge for benefit of "jake" paralysis victims were placed on sale today at hotels, drug stores, the American Legion, Elks hall and other places today by Jack Rodgers, manager of the Pla-Mor.

The money derived from the dance will be used to care for poverty stricken victims of "jake" paralysis in Pampa. A "jake" paralysis specialist in Pampa today declared that cure of the affliction depended on the diet. He said that to obtain a speedy cure the patients should be sent to Hot Springs, Ark., for baths and water and then to restrict their diet to fruits and vegetables, especially Concord grapes.

This diet, he said, would result in rebuilding the cells of the body. It is the purpose of the Elks to provide a proper diet for the victims and to send them to Hot Springs. Mr. Rogers said he has arranged to obtain free baths for the patients there.

WALKER CUP IS WON AGAIN BY U. S. A.

SANDWICH, Eng., May 16. (P)—The American Walker Cup team today retained the trophy they have won five times before by defeating the British team of star amateur golfers, 10 points to 2. Seven of eight singles matches were won today and three of four foursomes in yesterday's play.

With three points won in the foursomes yesterday, the Americans today had only to win three singles and have another to win the contest outright and insure retaining possession of the cup which never has been surrendered by an American team.

Bobby Jones, George Voigt, and Harrison R. Johnston won their matches today in short order, leaving no doubt as to the outcome since the British could win the five remaining matches and still fail to get the trophy.

When the third straight American victory was reported for the day and the British found they were not win, George Von Elm and Roland MacKenzie were leading in their matches while neither of the two Portland, Ore., players, Dr. O. F. Willing and Don Moe were far enough behind to count them out.

The British won their first point of the day when T. A. Torrance defeated Francis Outmet, seven up and six to play.

Dr. O. F. Willing defeated John Nelson Smith, two up and one to play, giving the Americans nine points.

Richard MacKenzie defeated William Campbell, six up and five to play, giving the Americans five victories in the singles, against one defeat, with two matches out.

Don Moe defeated J. A. Stout, one up, to give the Americans ten points to two for the British.

SWEET TOOTH CAUSES BOY TO BE LEFT BEHIND

NEW YORK, May 16. (P)—Because of an overwhelming desire for a piece of candy, 10-year-old John Sherman of Chicago was stranded in New York today while his mother was en route to France on the Ile de France.

John was already aboard the liner when he decided he had to have another piece of American candy. Leaving his mother in their state-room, he made his way down the gangplank to a candy stand on the pier. He obtained his candy, but in the rush of visitors from the ship he found himself unable to force his way aboard again. Despite his cries, the ship pulled out without him.

Several hours later a patrolman found him weeping at a street crossing a mile from the pier. He was taken to the shelter of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Yates Operators Debate Proration

FORT WORTH, May 16. (P)—Operators in the Yates pool of Pecos county assembled in Fort Worth today to consider extension of present limits of proration. W. A. Mouncrief, chairman of the proration advisory committee, presided at the meeting.

Under the terms of the railroad commission's present proration order in the Yates pool it expires May 18 and it is to consider its extension that the meeting was called. Under the order that expires May 18, the pool has been permitted at output of 110,000 barrels daily.

A consensus of operators' opinions indicates the railroad commission will be asked to extend the allowance to 110,000 barrels daily.

CANNON NOW AWAITS TRIAL BY FELLOWS

RETIREMENT IS RULING TOPIC

Age of 72 Is Voted in Conference at Dallas

DALLAS, May 16. (P)—Retirement of Bishops at the age of 72 was voted by the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, here today. The new law will not become effective until 1934.

The law provides that superintendents shall not remain on the effective list "longer than the general conference nearest his 72nd birthday," to become effective at the close of the general conference of 1934.

The exact interpretation of the clause was in doubt. Some delegates held that while all who had reached the age of 72 in 1934 were automatically super-annuated, those who were within a year or two of that age might serve until the 1938 conference.

Others held that it affected all bishops who would be 72 years old in or before 1936, as being of the retirement age "nearest" the next general conference.

Under this interpretation bishops who would be retired include: Collins Denny, Richmond, Va., present age 76; W. A. Candler, Atlanta, Ga., 73; H. M. Dubose, Nashville, Tenn., 72; and W. F. McMurry, Fayette, Mo., 68.

DALLAS, May 16. (P)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., today's president of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, surrendered his presidency today to Bishop W. J. Beachamp of Atlanta, Ga., "because of certain matters before the conference."

He asked Bishop Beachamp to take chair after making two statements concerning the work of the board of temperance and social welfare, on of which he said was unusually pertinent "because of the statement of Dwight Morrow that he was not in favor of a return of the repeal of the 18th amendment."

When Bishop Cannon took the chair he was greeted by applause that shook the church building, and which was not ended until more than half of the delegates in the church had risen to their feet in tribute to him.

Dearborn, Mich., and Beverly Hills in Lead

Yesterday afternoon the Pampa Daily News through the Associated Press broadcast the claim that Pampa was the fastest growing little city in the nation.

Today the federal census department at Washington took note of this claim and issued a statement that Pampa ranks third in the United States with respect to population increase since 1920, regardless of size of cities considered.

The cities with somewhat greater increases are Dearborn, Mich., and Beverly Hills, Calif. It is not yet known how large are these cities under the new census, but if they are above the 10,000 class Pampa may be able to claim the title of "Fastest Growing City of 10,000 in the United States."

The race for the title is sure to bring much favorable publicity to this city.

More than 3,000 Associated Press newspapers today received the following story:

WASHINGTON, May 16. (P)—The energetic town of Pampa, Texas, by reporting a 959 per cent increase in population, rallied today to the support of Representative Jack Garner's contention, in the Congressional Record, that his state is setting a smart pace, populously speaking.

Garner, the Democratic leader, yesterday argued that the Lone Star state should be divided into five states each entitled to two senators. He said the purpose would be to take the balance of power from the industrial northeast.

Whether or not Texas will ever be divided into a constellation, little Pampa popped out with a 10,453 present showing against just 987 inhabitants in 1920.

The town thus took third rank in percentage increase, and was chalked up as the seventh Texas city of more than 10,000 population to increase by more than 100 per cent.

Pampa's increase percentage was exceeded by Dearborn, Mich., and Beverly Hills, Calif.

POSTMASTER AT AUSTIN BLAMED FOR "OVERWORK"

AUSTIN, May 16. (P)—Lynn Hunter, Austin postmaster for four years and recently reappointed for his second term, today refused to discuss the complaint of employees of the office filed with the post office department, alleging "a state of demoralization" existed.

"There isn't anything I could say about the complaint, and I presume an investigation will clear everything up," he said.

F. D. Cloud, an employee of the postoffice for many years, died suddenly of a heart attack while at work recently, but Hunter said he did not know that Hunter was a contributing cause. He said he did not know if any of the postoffice employees were suffering from "nervous breakdowns," and now under care of physicians.

Gets Award

By Fred's Studio LeFors Doucette, senior of Central high school, has been awarded the American Legion citizenship cup for this year.

LEGION AWARDS LOVING CUP TO CENTRAL SENIOR

LeFors Doucette, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Doucette, last evening was awarded the American Legion citizenship cup in connection with the class night exercises at the Central auditorium.

The presentation was made by Commander Paul Hill after P. E. Boyd, chairman of the Legion Americanization committee, outlined the purpose of the award. Mr. Boyd pointed out that the Legion wished to foster and to reward development of the qualities of scholarship, character, and leadership as essentials of good citizenship.

The youth is a senior, and is planning to study chemical engineering at some university, probably the University of Oklahoma, next year.

The program opened with the Girls' Glee club singing "Our Old High School" (Parks) under the direction of Thomas Fannell. The club sang with finished precision and excellent tone quality, and showed an unusual balancing of high school soprano and alto voices.

"Under Sealed Orders," arranged from "Macbeth" and featuring the three witches who burned school subjects and presented the orders to the members of the graduating class, was a clever change from the usual class prophecies of such occasions.

The audience much enjoyed hearing again the girls' quartet, composed of Audrey Noel, Doris Price, Ruth Wakeman, and Yvonne Thomas. The selection was "The Nightingale" (Kjerulf).

Installation of members of the National Honor Society in an impressive ceremony followed an explanation of the society by Supt. R. B. Fisher. Principal L. L. Sone administered the obligation, and Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, past president of the Parent-Teacher association which sponsored installation of the scholarship chapter, presented the official pins. Delbert Larsh is president of the society, and other members are Vivian Vickers, Eileen Pengra, Violet Schafer, Florence Baer, LeFors Doucette, Florence Ward, Tom Braly, Audrey Noel, LaVelle Meyer, Frances Campbell, Albert Lard, Yvonne Thomas and Dary Meador.

Supt. Fisher said that membership in the society was on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership and service.

President Tom Braly of the senior class presented a beautiful painting, "Sunset," as the gift of the Class of 1930, and Principal Sone accepted it for Central high school. The commencement program will be held at the First Methodist church this evening at 8 o'clock. Members of the senior class will give a short program, in which the Pampa Choral club will sing, preceding the commencement address by Prof. L. F. Shetty, head of the history department of West Texas Teachers' college. Awarding of scholarships and diplomas will conclude the program.

MOVIE HOUSE BURNS EARLY THIS MORNING

Loss Is Estimated at Over $60,000 by Owners

CAUSE STILL IS UNCERTAIN

Fine New Building Is Griffith Bros. Plan

Fire which apparently started near the roof at the rear of the Crescent theatre on North Cuyler street shortly before 2 o'clock this morning virtually destroyed the talking picture house and did damage estimated at $60,000.

A waiter on night duty turned in an alarm at 2:10 a. m., and for several hours volunteer firemen, Chief Alex Schneider, and City Drivers G. A. Latus and Younger Cockrell fought to keep the blaze confined to the one building. In this they were successful, for little damage was done except to the Crescent theatre building owned by H. A. Gilliland and leased by the Griffith Amusement company. Fire and water damage was done to two other tenants, however, the Davis Electric shop and the Crescent Barber shop. Temporarily, the electric company will be located in the Ross building.

The cause of the fire was still undetermined today. While some observers expressed the opinion that the house wiring was probably Plan Fine New Theatre Griffith Amusement company has already begun plans to build a theatre here to replace the Crescent, and the new building will be the pride of the Panhandle, The News was informed this morning.

At 6 a. m. C. B. Akers informed his home office at Oklahoma City of the loss of The Crescent. At 9 a. m., Oklahoma City officials called him and revealed that an architect had been put to work on specifications for a fine new building, and that construction would be expedited in every way possible. They said they planned a structure which would be in keeping with Pampa's remarkable growth and with the city they believe this is destined to become.

blamable, this explanation was discounted by C. B. Akers, manager of the Griffith theatres. Mr. Akers said that the wiring had very recently been replaced, completely fused, and inspected.

Firemen Gain Control The interior of the theatre was ablaze and flames were shooting high in the air when the firemen reached the scene with the new LaFrance truck. This big machine, pumping streams through three hose strings, paid for itself last night, it was declared. Two other strings were run from the older truck. Altogether 2,700 feet of hose was used—almost the entire stock on hand. The fire department personnel was inadequate to handle this much hose, and many spectators volunteered. Trained men and Chief Schneider alternated on nozzles and gained control of the situation. They were aided by a change in wind direction which carried the flames toward the front of the building. The entire block at first

OTHER CITIES BUILDING GOOD AIRPORTS: In advocating a municipal airport on a more permanent scale, The News is only taking cognizance of what is being done in other cities of Texas and the Southwest.

An airport has been established at Marlin and building of runways has begun. The contract for lighting equipment for the San Angelo's municipal airport has been let at a cost of $6,865.

Denton is completing a hangar costing $4,800. A landing field covering 85 acres has been selected at Cleburne. Sweetwater's fine airport is to have an office building nearby.

This recital of airport development shows the trend of the hour in aviation. Pampa must keep in line. There are already more privately owned planes here than at any other city of several times the size in the Southwest.

Frankly, we don't know much about this blindfold-driving business. Driving with both eyes peeled is hard enough. One has to drive for himself and also to help the other fellow, who may do the unexpected in a crisis, that is, nothing.

When the fog becomes so thick here that it blows, the weather is truly "unusual" and Londonesque. Personally, we like our moisture in big drops and those in profusion. We are very fond of Old Sol.

The naval experts seem alarmed because the London limitation pact would change our policy somewhat. Most of us thought there had to be a change if there is to be any progress toward peace.

The church is ultra-conservative; it eliminates the "obey" in the marriage ceremony after the obedience of the wives has become as ancient as the well known dodo.

SPUDDERS AT TOP IN TEXAS LEAGUE NOW

By the Associated Press
The weather man took it on the jaw at last, and all Texas league teams got in a day of baseball after many postponements because of the weather.

Beaumont climbed into third place in the league standing by walloping Shreveport, 4 to 3. McCabe pitched a brilliant game for Waco as the Cubs trimmed Fort Worth, 2 to 0. Pinch hitters lived up to their names in the ninth inning, and Dallas edged a little further away from eighth place by taking a 4 to 3 decision from San Antonio, cellar champs. Wichita Falls was perched on top of the league by virtue of a 4 to 2 win over Houston. This game broke a lead for the league leadership.

The day's slights included the announcement that night baseball probably would be offered to Houston fans by July 1 and another from the same town that Carlisle Littlejohn had been sold to Rochester for $5,000. Rochester and Houston are St. Louis Cardinal farms.

Houston and Wichita Falls, battled at Houston with Caldwell of the Spuds and Brown of the Buffs going the route and holding rather tight in the pinches. The fall-end clubs played championship ball when the Indians failed at Ster hunting. The score was 3 to 1 in favor of the Redskins when the final session started. Three singles served to drive a run each and give the Steers the game.

McCabe's performance in shutting out Waco was the stellar hurling act of the day. He had the game well in hand all the way. In shipping the Shreveporters a notch lower, the Beaumont Exporters took advantage of errors and bases on balls to win. Vaughn for Beaumont allowed nine hits while his two opponents on the slab allowed a total of only seven.

The same teams were scheduled to play in the same towns Friday.

The third round in doubles today found Key and La Caste, Texas, pitted against Hess and Swartz, Rice, and Barnes and Taylor, Texas, matched with Ewell and McDiarmid, T. C. U.

Flyweights Will Battle Tonight

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—Midwest Wolgast of Philadelphia defends his flyweight championship in a 15-round bout with Willie Lamorte of Newark at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Lamorte holds the title so far as New Jersey's boxing solons are concerned. Neither can hope for general recognition as 112-pound king until he defeats Frankie Genaro of New York, the National Boxing association's nominee for the title.

CLINGMAN WINS OVER OHIO WRESTLER AFTER LOSING ONE FALL IN ONLY TWO MINUTES

A victim to a drop double toe-hold and a flying Dutchman in the second and third falls, Rooster Rawls was dangerous competition for Otis Clingman last night although he lost the match. The Rooster's specialty was what he called a flying arm hook, and he made Otis pat the mat frantically two minutes after the first fall started by applying this hold. Otis was pushed faster than he ever was to keep out of the way of this arm hook.

The Rooster patted the mat 25 minutes after it began when Otis slipped a drop double-toe hold on him. The flying Dutchman which ended the match was preceded by a series of head locks and body slams.

The Rooster was just as wary of Otis' head locks as Clingman was of the Ohioan's arm holds. Rawls successfully avoided the head locks until the last fall. He showed an amazing aptitude in slipping out of them. The Rooster was much faster than Otis, but the Pampa was more careful. Rawls was in a fair way to win a second fall several times with toe holds, but each time Clingman somehow managed to break them.

Until the last few minutes of the third fall when Otis began applying his head locks, the wrestlers concentrated on arm and toe holds. Spills applied to both men were ineffectual. Experiments in Sonnenberg butting also did no serious damage. The match was not only fast but clean. The Rooster made a good impression on the crowd when he made Otis pat the mat in two minutes after the fall began. Otis had no time to rest, and throughout the match he was rushed to keep out of the way of that bone-breaking arm hold.

Rob Roy proved to be just as fast and furious as Dan Goffino in the 30-minute affair, though it is doubtful if Goffino was putting out all he had. It was lit for tat throughout the match the way they wrestled. Rob didn't try any of his usual rough stuff.

Glenna Collett Is Defeated by British Girl

FORMBY, England, May 16. (AP)—Diana Fishwick, 19-year-old English girl, today won the British women's golf championship, defeating Glenna Collett, American champion, four up and three to play.

Miss Collett was not the player today that she was as she moved through the championship to the final, nor the player who forced Joyce Wethered to play sensationally to defeat her in the championship last year.

She was five down in the morning, and although she played a better game in the afternoon, she never was able to reduce her young opponent's lead to a point where the American could be considered a contender.

Shima May Be Next Opponent of Otis Clingman

If Iota Shima, Japanese jui-jitsu artist, will come to terms with Otis Clingman, he will be seen in a wrestling match at the Pio-Mor Thursday night, it was said today.

The terms are as follows: The two grapplers will match coins to see whether the first fall shall be wrestled catch-as-catch-can or in the Japanese manner with both wearing kimonos. If the first fall is wrestled a la jui-jitsu, the second would be in catch-as-catch-can style, and vice-versa. If either Shima or Clingman should win the first two falls, of course the match would be over, but if each has one fall the manner of wrestling in the third fall would depend on the length of time it took each man to win his fall. For instance, if Clingman won his fall in a shorter time than Shima, the third fall would be wrestled according to American rules.

Clingman won two falls out of three from Shima here a month ago. Shima easily won from Joe Kopecky under Japanese rules. The chief goal of each wrestler is to choke the other into insensibility with the kimono, or else knock out his opponent by hurling him about the mat.

Gulf Title to Be Decided Here in Game Sunday

The championship of the Gulf baseball clubs of this district will be decided at Gulf Park here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Gulf Guns meet the Stinnett Tigers in a nine-inning game.

Gulf batteries will be Sullivan and Edelen, who have led the Guns to victory twice over the Amarillo Cats and most of the other teams in this section. The Tiger battery staff comprises Watkins and Aldridge.

The Tigers are rated as the best Gulf club in the Berger district.

The Guns are scheduled to play Jones-Everett Jemcos at the Gulf park at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

"Ill" Young Men Taken to Hospital But Only Briefly

Unable to convince citizens on South Cuyler that they were "very, very ill," and should be taken to the hospital, two young men who this morning declared they had about "three sheets in the wind," summoned a G. C. Malone ambulance to come to South Cuyler "as quick as you can get here."

Charles Duenkel nearly set a record getting there with the ambulance. The two young men, obviously intoxicated, insisted on being carried to the hospital in the ambulance. They staggered to the stretchers and were driven to Pampa hospital, closely followed by the police.

However, the young men had time to argue considerably with the nurses in such loud voices that the patients were awakened before the police arrived.

Brunk's Plays to Full House

Playing to another full house, the Brunk's players presented "Jim's Girl" to an appreciative audience last night. Johnny Sullivan, the versatile comedian, played probably his most humorous part last night.

The play tonight will be "The Studio Murder," a thrilling three-act mystery story. Ruppert Murphy and Carl Roberts will again give their blackface transformation act in response to numerous requests for its repetition.

A merchants matinee, "The Home Towners," will be given at 2:45 tomorrow afternoon and a big Toby comedy, with Johnny Sullivan as Toby, will be played at 8:15.

Jerry Barnes, the versatile musician, with his ten-piece orchestra, is playing his third year with the Brunk's show in Pampa. Several new and popular numbers will be given tonight and Saturday.

EAST BETTER THAN WEST—HAVE MARGIN

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Although two rainy days at the finish did some serious damage to the schedule of the 1930 American league series, results of the past two weeks have given ample proof of a clear margin for the eastern clubs over their western rivals. Starting May 1, the American league clubs played 49 games and the East's representatives won 32 of them, winding up with Washington's 4 to 2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians in the only American league game which escaped rainy and cold weather.

The Senators put themselves above the 500 mark for the inter-sectional play by that final victory. They won seven games and lost six. Sad Sam Jones and Sam West, pitcher and outfielder, played the leading roles in winning the game. Jones kept Cleveland's ten hit-scattered so they could do little damage as he outpitched young Willis Hudlin, and West drove in two Senator runs with a home run and a triple.

The Philadelphia Athletics, champions and league leaders, made the best showing of the inter-sectional play. They won eleven games and lost but two, one each to Cleveland and St. Louis. The New York Yankees won eight and lost three. Washington came in third, while the Boston Red Sox, lowest of the eastern clubs, tied with Cleveland, highest of the western, with six victories and as many defeats.

Chicago's White Sox, with but three victories in a dozen inter-sectional games, barely averted another defeat yesterday when rain descended in the middle of their final game with the Athletics although they could not win. After Philadelphia had driven Red Faber from the mound with a six run attack in the second inning, the Sox staged a great comeback against Moe Grove to tie the score in the first half of the fourth just before rain halted proceedings. The score reverted to the fourth inning, and there was no official game.

The National league, with the completion of its first inter-sectional series scheduled for today, also got in only one game yesterday. That one was a wild hitting thriller in which the Boston Braves edged out the Chicago Cubs, 10 to 8.

Amarillo Leaders of B. & P. W. Club Visit Local Group Tuesday

Mrs. Frank Gober, president of the Amarillo Business and Professional Women's club; Mrs. T. L. Gordon of Amarillo, state emblem chairman of the B. & P. W. club; Miss Catherine Metcalf, and Mrs. Westbrook, all members of the Amarillo club, were guests Tuesday evening of the local Business and Professional Women's club, and speakers on an interesting program.

Mrs. Gordon gave a resume of the speech delivered by Miss Kneubul, executive secretary of the national federation of clubs, at the dinner given Monday in her honor at Amarillo, when the local club was represented by the president, Mrs. Grace Higgins, Mrs. E. E. McNutt, Mrs. Artie M. Shepard, Mrs. Ernest Gee, and Miss Alta Lagow. She also discussed the symbolism of the club emblem, and urged the Pampa group to become 100 per cent emblem wearing.

Other program numbers included a vocal solo by Mrs. J. M. Dodson, with accompaniment by Miss Madeline Tarpley; a reading by Mrs. Raymond Harrah; and a piano solo by Mrs. C. C. Boles.

Nomination of local officers for next year was postponed in deference to the visitors. Twenty-five club members enjoyed the occasion.

Mothers' Primary Club Completes Work As Sponsor of School

A successful year's work in providing school advantages for children too young to attend public school under the prevailing law was brought to a close yesterday afternoon by the Mothers' Primary club, sponsor of the private school conducted in the Kindergarten quarters of the First Methodist church.

All plans made upon the organization of the club last October had been carried to completion, and the property and funds remained in the possession of the club. Equipment used in the school was divided between the beginners' department of the Methodist Sunday school and the Lamar public school. A surplus fund of $28.47 was donated to the public library, and placed in the hands of Mrs. B. E. Finley, president of the library association.

The Mothers' Primary club was formed by a group of mothers who wished to place their slightly under age children in school, rather than in kindergarten. Through arrangements with the supervisory department of the primary grades of the public schools, the primary school, teaching only the first grade was given the benefit of supervision throughout the year, and credit for its work. Supt. R. B. Fisher; Mrs. J. L. Iester, primary supervisor; and Miss Iva June Willis, public school music supervisor, assisted. Appreciation for their cooperation was expressed in gifts presented by the club yesterday afternoon.

Miss Mariette Williams of Oklahoma City, an accredited, specially trained primary teacher, was in charge of the school. She taught the work regularly required and taught in the first grade of the public school, preparing her pupils to enter the second grade of the city schools next fall. Business affairs of the tuition school were conducted by the mothers' club at monthly sessions.

Mrs. Frank G. Beaudoin was president of the club; Mrs. J. O. Gillham, vice president; Mrs. I. Baum, secretary; Mrs. G. C. Malone, treasurer; and Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., reporter.

Other members were: Mrs. A. S. Beavers, Mrs. S. A. Burns, Mrs. W. A. Crawford, Mrs. Henry Curry, Mrs. V. L. Dickinson, Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan, Mrs. G. C. Heard, Mrs. C. E. Hutchins, Mrs. E. E. McNutt, Mrs. J. E. Morgan, Mrs. H. G. Myers, Mrs. J. D. Sackett, Mrs. H. B. Taylor, Mrs. L. R. Taylor, Mrs. Erwin Taylor, Mrs. Sam Thomas, Mrs. E. D. Zimmerman, Mrs. H. Lorenzen, Mrs. J. C. Roundtree, and Mrs. Griggs.

FORT WORTH, May 16. (AP)—Voting to continue its $5,000 "dead bank handout" reward, the annual convention of the Texas Bankers' association closed yesterday, after selecting San Angelo as the 1931 convention city and electing officers. John G. McAdams, Winters, was chosen president. Resolutions adopted denounced chain banking and advocated reformation of state and local taxation systems.

Members of the faculty of East Ward school honored by the parent members of the East Ward Parent-Teacher association at a dinner given Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Turman. Open house was held during the evening, and many members of the P. T. A. called to pay their compliments.

Unique place cards bearing snapshots of the guests marked covers at the attractively appointed table and concealed nut cups. A three course dinner was served.

Honorees of the occasion were: Mrs. E. A. Hampton, Mrs. Annie Daniels, Mrs. M. A. Craft, Mrs. E. F. Strickland, Mrs. Catherine Wilkerson, Mrs. J. L. Lester, Miss Nell Crain, Miss Kathleen Beaty, Miss Mildred Stewart, and Miss Iva June Willis. Seated with them were Mrs. J. B. Townsend, president of the Parent-Teacher association, and Mr. and Mrs. Turman.

Games, sketches, and a group of numbers by children were enjoyed during the evening. A poem written by Mrs. H. H. Hetsell in tribute to the teachers was read.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Alan tells her that Bernadine is the widow of a war buddy who had saved his life, and that she is doing the only work she was able to secure in order to support herself and her fatherless boy, Bobby.

After a bitter quarrel in which he taunts her for refusing to bear him children, Alan leaves and Natalie spends a miserable evening trying to fight down her suspicions—never dreaming that even then Alan was listening to a grave-faced doctor tell him that Bernadine's recovery is in doubt.

The actress answers the question in his mind by saying that she has no relative to leave her son with in the event of her death, and asks Alan to take him.

"I hope you were able to be of service to Mrs. Lamont," she said acridly as Alan brushed aside the cup of coffee she offered him.

"Because the Wynnes are coming in for bridge," Natalie explained.

Alan shrugged. He liked bridge, but not the Wynnes. However, they played contract acceptably, and he forgave them much on that account.

"I hope Gladys won't bring that silly poodle to sleep all over the chairs," he grumbled.

Natalie frowned. "As far as I know, I will," he answered, and left the table abruptly.

He was too much annoyed with Natalie to remember, before he left the house, that he had intended telephoning Bernadine's residence to inquire how she was.

It was the same at lunch. He went to his club and talked market. But at home he thought of it again.

Alan was conscious that his entire day had seemed somehow shadowed heavy, but he hadn't sought the reason for it.

One thing he knew when he opened the front door—coming home was nothing to shout hallooing over.

He was at the foot of the stairs when the radio song reminded him of Bernadine.

She assured him that Bernadine was better. "She acts like she's got no more troubles," the girl confided, and Alan could hear the ring of happiness in her voice.

"How's the little boy, Bobby?" he inquired, immeasurably relieved.

"Tell him very soon," Alan said, pleased, and hung up to find Natalie practically at his shoulder.

She lifted her eyebrows and passed on into the living room. But not before Alan had caught an expression in the tightness of her lips that warned him this would be no good time to attempt to interest her in Bobby Lamont's future.

Natalie, coming out of her room after an hour of making her beauty perfect, for Alan's sake, had heard him inquiring about Bernadine.

Slowly and quietly she had slipped down the stairs, ashamed of herself for eavesdropping, yet excusing it on the ground that she was not hiding out of sight to do it, or prying.

But he did not, and the fact further inflamed Natalie. She thought he was too much absorbed with his interest in Bernadine to be aware of anything extraneous.

Alan, dressing upstairs, made a mental note to call Bernadine from his office thereafter.

Before he was ready to go down, he heard Natalie come up and enter her room. It looked to him like the beginning of one of those evenings when he dined alone.

As he expected, the waitress told him Mrs. Converse had a slight headache, and was having a tray in her room to save herself for the bridge.

She did not come down until the Wynnes arrived. Then she was civil to Alan, but as cold as ice.

Alan shrugged. He liked bridge, but not the Wynnes. However, they played contract acceptably, and he forgave them much on that account.

Phillipa West has been with Alan Converse a year.

Alan's private office with demure grace and perfect bob she would not have been so complacent about her.

But Natalie had pigeon-holed her long ago as harmless, and nothing had happened to draw her attention to Phillipa anew.

Also, on occasion, Phillipa had ruffled the perfect bob unbecomingly and deliberately wiped the powder off her nose until it shone.

It was not without effect. Alan gave her a welcoming smile, which had he thought of it at all, he would have fancied was the same kind of smile he'd have used to welcome anything that was well, that was welcome!

She'd been off the day before, and things didn't go well without her. He asked, and she told him that she'd had a splendid time.

"That's fine," he said, and added suddenly: "Miss West, do you know anything about children?"

After that she allowed herself to make other moves in the game she was playing.

And she was getting prettier. Unfailing devotion to the grooming of her person was bringing her the reward of smartness and poise.

Phillipa West had been with him a year—much longer than any other secretary had stayed.

Phillipa was not beautiful. Natalie made no trouble for her. In fact, she encouraged Alan to keep her when in the beginning he had complained her a chance.

And indeed she had. She hadn't been in Alan's employ more than two weeks before she discovered his wife was furiously jealous.

World did not expect to turn the world upside down—but she thought it would help her to avoid irritating a man whose home life was anything but peaceful.

CRESCENT—

appeared endangered.
Water was played on the front, rear, and top of the building for several hours, and firemen were still on duty at daybreak.

Recently Remodeled
The theatre had recently been remodeled and equipped with sound equipment. In the fire-proof protection booth was 11,000 feet of film, including "Officer O'Brien," which was showing. This booth was not greatly damaged, although the heat ruined most of the equipment. Strangely, the film did not burn. The equipment and building were said to be practically worthless. Insurance partly covered both.

A relatively small crowd of on-lookers was attracted by repeated siren alarms and the bright light. Many residents did not awaken, but the wind carried the siren's sound as far as LeFors, and several residents of the Central Gray county town rushed here on noting the light in the sky above this city.
Praise for the fire fighters was heard on all sides, together with the observation that the city must have a larger trained force at once in keeping with recent growth. Had fast work not confined the blaze to the single building, it was pointed out, the flames might have been too strong for the equipment available.

Sidelights on the Fire
The fire alarm was turned in by the night man at the De Luxe cafe at 104 North Cuyler about 2:05 a. m., according to the telephone operator who was on duty. Younger Cockrell, driver of one of the fire trucks, said that when he received the alarm he had been awake for about three minutes. "I suddenly found myself wide awake and of course my mind jumped to the conclusion that the alarm had sounded but I knew it hadn't. I started to light a cigaret when the whistle buzzed. I'll bet I jumped four feet high."

The first one to arrive at the fire after Cockrell, Harley Gibbons and C. L. Comer, all firemen, was Alvin Duenkel. The fifth one to arrive was Ben White, and the sixth fireman to reach the blaze was Harry Hoare, who was sleeping on the second floor of his boarding house at 905 North Frost street. Lodgers at that place said he cleared the steps in one jump, but touched several on the way down.

Firemen said that the closest thing to a casualty that occurred was when a wall collapsed just two seconds after Alvin Duenkel vacated it. "I wouldn't have given 15c for his life," Cockrell said.

The crowd last night was the best behaved in the history of Pampa fires, all the firemen affirmed. "The spectators stayed out in the street where they belonged and didn't get in the way. Whenever you called for a volunteer the others stayed back when they saw one going," George Latus said.

"Blackie" Johnson, one of the fire boys, had good and bad luck last night. During the fire he lost $93 on the roof of one of the adjoining buildings and did not miss it until he started to pay for some food in a cafe, an hour after the fire. He went back to the roof and found all the money.

One of the big La France fire trucks was stationed at the plug at the First Methodist church while the other was at the plug near the Texas garage. Latus had plenty of praise for the new truck this morning. "Did she pump? Boy, that stream of water picked the bricks off that wall by twos!" he said. They had plenty of pressure, he declared.

About 17 firemen fought the flames last night. This was one of the best "turn-outs" during the existence of the department. Cockrell said that when he arrived at the building with the big truck, the rear half of the theatre was burning, and the flames were leaping 30 feet above the building. Smoke was so dense in Cuyler and the alley behind the theater that one couldn't see ten feet ahead he said.

Miss Mabel Davis and Ray Wilson until 10 o'clock this morning believed that it was the Rex theater that had burned.

Brownie Akers, manager of the Rex and Crescent theatres, this morning placed a sign up at the front of the Crescent. "No Admittance here; go to Rex."

Norma Shearer Is Great Star in Rex Picture

In "The Divorcee," which opened yesterday at the Rex theatre, Norma Shearer again conclusively proves that she has few peers on the talking screen. The star, who has a poise and beauty all her own, gives an intensely moving portrait of a woman who in an attempt to meet the standards of a sophisticated society gives herself up to promiscuous living and almost succeeds in losing her husband into the bargain.

Miss Shearer is seen as Jerry Bernard, daughter of a millionaire, who after three years of married life discovers that Ted, her husband has recently carried on a liaison with Janice. Bitterly hurt, she forces herself to accept the explanation of her husband that he still loves her only and that the affair was simply an unimportant phenomenon of the current moral code of modern civilization.

When, however, she subsequently meets her husband at his own game and gives herself to his best friend, Ted looks at things in an entirely different light and deserts her. Utterly disillusioned, Jerry abandons herself to a period of free living. After a notorious existence a climax reveals to her the futility of her actions and in an unexpected manner she contrives to win her husband back again.

The plot carries with it several minor situations, including a pathetic interlude in which the husband of a woman whose beauty has been ruined as the result of an automobile accident is torn between loyalty to his wife and his love for Jerry.

Thaw Tries Again

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—Harry K. Thaw, who on his last visit abroad was refused admittance to England, was aboard the Ile de France today in another attempt to crash that country's gate.

He referred questioners to William Glynnon, a playwright, who said: "Mr. Thaw doesn't have to fear anything on the part of British officials, dom under the new ministry." At the time of his exclusion two years ago it was contended Thaw was a foreigner who committed an act for which he might be extradited.

The wind at Pittsburgh was reported to have been one of the most destructive in the history of the city. Eight houses were blown down, barns were unroofed, and many sheds and small outbuildings destroyed. No one was reported injured. The rainfall was reported, unofficially, to have been 6 1-2 inches.

Paris reported the heaviest rain of the season with damage to crops through washing. The storm extended from Paris to Texarkana, and many automobiles were reported stalled in the vicinity of Bagwell and Clarksville. At Texarkana, the storm was accompanied by a severe electrical storm causing delay in telephone and telegraph service.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic—Jesus Teaching in the Temple. (Temperance Lesson).
Scripture lesson—Matt. 22:15-22, 34-40.

Matt. 22:15. Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare Him in His talk.

16. And they sent to Him their disciples, with the Herodians saying, Teacher, we know Thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for Thou regardest not the person of men.

17. Tell us therefore, What thinkest Thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?

18. But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why make ye trial of Me, ye hypocrites?

19. Show Me the tribute money. And they brought unto Him a denarius.

20. And He saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21. They say unto Him, Caesar's. Then saith He unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

22. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left Him, and went away.

34. But the Pharisees, when they heard that He had put the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together.

35. And on of them, a lawyer, asked Him a question, trying Him:

36. Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?

37. And He said unto Him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38. This is the great and first commandment.

39. And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

40. On these two commandments the whole law hangeth, and the prophets.

Golden text—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Matt. 22:37-39.

Time—Tuesday, April 4, A. D. 30. Place—The temple in Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTION
Our Lord was beset by the proud Pharisees, Sadducees, Herodians, the chief priests and lawyers, who were seeking by their questions in the temple to discredit Him before the people.

Against these hostile critics who as the religious leaders of the people should have been the first to welcome the Messiah, Jesus spoke the parable of the king who made a marriage feast for his son, sending his servants forth with the invitations; but he was mocked with refusals, on slight pretexts, even though the invitation was earnestly repeated, and they even maltreated and killed some of the servants. So the king destroyed those murderers and burned their city, and then filled the wedding hall with guests brought in from the streets. But one of these hastily summoned guests appeared without a wedding garment. The careless guests was thrust out of the banquet hall into the dark.

This parable condemns the Pharisees and all others who even to this day fail to respond to God's invitation and honor His son, Jesus Christ, and also to those who accept the invitation and outwardly join Christ's church, but who come in the wrong spirit, the spirit of pride and of self-will, and so do not really belong there, but will be cast out of the kingdom. For the wedding garment is humble dependence on Christ and trust in His salvation, the one easy condition of entrance to His kingdom and His joy.

Pharisees and Herodians
Ordinarily the Pharisees and the Herodians were opposed to each other, but they were willing to overlook their differences for the time in order to plot the downfall of Jesus. The Pharisees sent some of their disciples to join the Herodians in the plot; perhaps the leading Pharisees stood apart to watch the result in order that they might not be committed to any co-operation with the Herodians later.

Tribute unto Caesar
The trap was very skillfully laid. The questioners approached Jesus with artful flattery. They would disarm suspicion by trying to make Him think that they were seeking light on a difficult problem. "Is it lawful," they asked, "to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?" Representing conflicting opinions about Roman authority, the Pharisees and the Herodians doubtless thought that one or the other party would find in Jesus' answer an occasion for serious charges against Him. If He replied that it was right to pay taxes to the emperor, the Pharisees would use His reply to discredit Him before the great mass of patriotic Jews who resented the Roman taxes. If He replied that it was wrong to pay taxes to the emperor, the Herodians would have grounds on which to accuse Him before the Roman authorities as a seditious.

The Principle
"Render, therefore, unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's."

"Our Lord's reply is one of those great sayings of His which go into the heart of things, clearing up difficulties that had long perplexed many honest and devout Jews and occasioned vain wrangling without end. Under the theocracy, religious duties and civil duties were both duties to the same Divine Ruler, and men had little occasion to distinguish between them. Now, however, that the Jewish civil government was administered by heathen rulers, the distinction between civil and religious duties was of great importance. But the people in general did not perceive that distinction. Jesus holds up the coin, which belongs to Caesar, which they use as furnished by Him, and thus vividly shows that there are duties to the civil ruler which are distinct from duties to God and do not necessarily conflict with them."—Broadus.

Two-Fold Obligation
"Here is the clear recognition of man's two-fold relation to government—human and divine. Here is an equally clear distinction between duties growing out of this two-fold relation. Here is the implicit assertion of the separateness or independence of the two governments to which man stands related." And here, above all, is the unequivocal declaration of the duty and feasibility of absolute and uncompromising loyalty alike to Caesar and to God, to human government and divine."—George B. Eager.

The Great Commandment
After the attack of the Pharisees and the Herodians had been repulsed, the Sadducees tried to ensnare Jesus with a question about the resurrection, but they had no better success. Then the Pharisees made another attempt to entrap Him.

"And one of them, a lawyer, asked Him a question, trying Him: Teacher, which is the great commandment of the law?" Jesus answered the lawyer's question by saying, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the great and first commandment." Then He continued, "And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." The best commentary on this commandment is the parable of the Good Samaritan. "Of course, neighbor-love will not always be occupied with bodily relief, as in the parable. Bodily relief is only a sample method of doing good. The problem that confronts neighbor-love today is infinitely more complex than the problem of the Good Samaritan. But the Good Samaritan's impulse is fundamental to it all, the impulse not to pass by on the other side."

Law and the Prophets
"On these two commandments the whole law hangeth, and the prophets." By the law and the prophets the Jews would understand the entire Old Testament to be meant. Strictly, they divided the Old Testament into three divisions, the Law (the five Books of Moses), the Pentateuch, the Prophets (in which were included certain historical Books), and the Psalms, including the remaining writings, mostly poetical. Christ's answer was a grand simplification of religion, and a stinging rebuke to the endless complexities and minutiae of the religious requirements of the scribes and Pharisees.

Temperance Applications
Love of God is the source of the temperance reform; love of man will follow. "The love of man, if it is to be more than a mere visionary sentiment, must be based on the love of God. Duty must have a stronger sanction than public opinion or social utility. Authority must be seated on a firmer throne than the votes of a majority."—Donald Macleod. The temperance reform will be permanent only as it rests on religion.

"What do we live for, if it be not to make life less difficult to each other?" It is hard enough of itself; we need no make it harder."—Samuel Cox. Prohibition of the (See LESSON, page 9.)

State Control of Liquor Favored by Dwight Morrow

NEWARK, N. J., May 16. (AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, who is seeking the Republican nomination for the United States senate, favors repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and a return to state control of liquor traffic.

In a speech last night he described conditions after 190 years of federal prohibition as deplorable. "It is not fair to assume," he said, "that all resentment against national prohibition is due to a desire for unlimited license to be temperate. The resentment is due to the feeling that an unreasonable control is being imposed."

"States or subdivisions of states whose sympathy is not with the law feel themselves relieved of responsibility for enforcement. They leave to an overburdened federal government, with a wholly inadequate police force, the task of carrying out a great social reform which before 1920 all the communities of the land, in one way or another were, wrestling with."

"I bring you no panacea for this deplorable condition. I cannot, however, stand before my friends and neighbors and ask for their suffrage without having them know my attitude toward this problem."

"First, I believe that the way out of the present difficulty is to recognize clearly the fundamental difference between the nature of the federal government and the state government. I believe this involves a repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and the substitution thereof of an amendment which will restore to the states the power to determine their policy toward the liquor traffic and vest in the federal government power to give all possible protection and assistance to those states that desire complete prohibition against invasion from the states that do not."

Jury Decides Twitty Is Capable of Rational Defense at Trial

Answering "yes" to a question put to them by Judge W. R. Ewing, "has Marcus Twitty mental capacity to make a rational defense to the criminal charge against him?" twelve jurors decided yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock that Twitty is sane and is feigning insanity. The jury deliberated two hours and returned the verdict about 5 o'clock.

On the first ballot the jurors voted seven to five to return a verdict of insanity, but irreconcilables on the jury declared they could not believe that Twitty was insane. After hours of fruitless argument, those who voted for insanity decided that the jury as a whole could not agree and they changed their votes.

Twitty is charged with criminal attack alleged to have been made on his five-year-old niece at LeFors two weeks ago.

The man will go on trial Monday morning. A special venire of 100 men has been summoned.

The only testimony introduced to show that Twitty was not insane was given by Dr. V. E. von Brunow.

"The man is feigning insanity," Dr. Brunow said. "He is good enough to fool a layman but not a medical man. He has a part to play and we don't blame him for playing it. All of his actions are contrary to what an insane man would do under the same circumstances. For instance, he eats well, sleeps well, and an insane man would be bothered about sleeping and would not eat as he does. When he sat down, you could see that he noticed there was a chair there before he flung himself down into it."

Deputy Herman Wachtendorf testified that he thought Twitty had developed into a state of idiosyncrasy. Sheriff Graves also declared that the man was insane. Two prisoners in the county jail, H. H. Davis and E. C. Miller, said they believed he was insane.

During the insanity hearing, Twitty sat slumped in a chair speechless and apparently oblivious to what was transpiring. His long hair shaded his face and his fingers continuously traced lines on his overalls.

The jury largely based their decision on Dr. Brunow's testimony and what they called a "sensible look in Twitty's eyes" when the sheriff forced him to raise his head. The man did not speak during the hearing. He has not said a word in eight days, according to prisoners and officers.

He was visited in his cell by his mother and other relatives and their efforts to elicit a single word from him were fruitless.

His attorney, Curtis Douglass, who was appointed by the court to defend him after Fred Cary refused, declared that Twitty was insane. In his charge to the jury, Judge Ewing said that the only question to be determined is whether Twitty has the mental capacity to make a rational defense. The law provides that no person shall be put upon trial for a criminal offense while in a state of insanity.

STOP CONSTIPATION AT THE START
You May Pay If You Don't
When you realize that about 90% of all sickness begins with constipation, you won't want to take chances. If you have the symptoms—bad breath, coated tongue, always tired—put a stop to them now!
But do it the natural way. Not with pills and drugs, which give but temporary relief and must be taken in increasing doses. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—an appetizing, deliciously flavored cereal.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN sweeps the system clean of wastes and impurities. Its action is natural; the roughage carries with it the poisons which clog your system.
In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in iron. Scientific research shows that nearly all this iron goes into the blood, making it give the rich glow of healthy color.
You'll like ALL-BRAN. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Physicians recommend it. And we guarantee it to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. Two tablespoonsful daily—with every meal, in recurring cases.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers in the red-and-green package. Served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LESSON—

Major traffic does exactly this. It puts a heavy burden on the lives of mothers and fathers and wives everywhere. It renders it much more difficult to do wrong, much easier to do right. It is exactly what love of our neighbor calls for.

The Athenian Oath

It reminds us of the oath that the Athenian youths took when they were admitted to the duties of citizenship.

"We will never bring disgrace to this our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks.

"We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many.

"We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty; that thus, in all these ways, we may transmit this city, not only not less, but greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

If love to God and love to men be absent, all my hopes are vain; Nor tongues, nor gifts, nor fiery zeal.

The work of love can e'er fulfill."
—Isaac Watts
