

EXPLOSION FATAL TO PAMPA MAN

"That's gold in these here prairies."

Pampa fact: Altitude, 3,234 feet above sea level.

The News will this year as usual print a picture of the first load of new wheat marketed at a local elevator. The Graflex camera is always loaded, and grain buyers are asked to call The News as soon as the load arrives so that the picture of the wheat and the farmer may be taken. Do not forget.

Circumstantial evidence does not always convict. The office supply department of this newspaper, which has safes for sale, is probably not implicated in the knob knocking and safe stealing episodes of late.

The local public is awaiting the action of the park board in spending some of the $20,000 voted in the bond election several months ago. While some of this money cannot be spent now, on account of the advanced growing season, it will be possible to make a start. The tract south of the Cook-Adams addition, which was given to the city for a park, is unsightly but could and should be developed. It will revert to the owners unless used. It should not be allowed to grow up in weeds. The rain water course is now a liability, but it can be landscaped into a pretty little parkway.

It is suspected that an elongated reporter of this city may have had something to do with the visit yesterday of Ray Williams, Enid, Okla., human beanpole. Williams is 7 feet 6 inches tall and can say "Hello, little fellow" even to the reporter.

George Briggs is another of the B. C. D. secretaries who would abolish "free" convention entertainment. The day of the free meals, free balls, free shows, and tickets to "everything" is rather definitely of the past in many cities.

The reason is easy to find. This is a convention age. Fifteen of 10,000 and above often have from a dozen to three dozen conventions per year. Cost of entertaining these "free" amounts to a small fortune and seriously handicaps a Chamber of Commerce in its financial program. The gifts mean relatively little to the delegates, but they put an unnecessary burden upon the citizens.

A "whoopie" convention costs much but means little. A host city, while appreciating the meetings and profiting from them, has done its duty toward an organization if it handles registrations, assists in finding lodging for delegates, furnishes free rides over its area, and generally assists the officers of the body. The registration fee at a convention should cover the cost of major banquets and other expenses.

It should not be left to host cities to take the initiative in abolishing the "free" entertainment; the organizations themselves should take the lead. Some or indeed many, are already doing so. A session that has to be bought with extravagance is not worth the purchase.

TWINKLES
Optimism: Without blare of trumpets and high pressure methods, all development of Gray county is leading the Panhandle. We need not envy New Hobbs.

S. M. U. knows where the young generation is going—it is going to be without two or three pages of flimsy pictures in its yearbook.

Bobby Jones plays against parrot opponents. Most of us put our nose out of mind. What would be your definition for a Pampa citizenship "par"?

It may be mixing metaphors, but we advise the women of Pampa to get on the dahlias band wagon right away. Entries keep coming in for The News contest, and an interesting flower show next fall is indicated.

JUDGE IVY DUNCAN WILL NOT RUN AGAIN

LOCAL BURGLARIES CONTINUE

SUPPLY FIRM AGAIN LOSER DURING NIGHT

Statement Issued to Unknown Thieves by Manager

ODEN HOME IS ALSO ENTERED

Officers Patrolling Streets to Stop "Epidemic"

Burglary of a business house and the apartment of M. D. Oden last night raised the total number of robberies committed since last Saturday morning to nine. Every officer of the police department assisted in patrolling the streets last night, but efforts to locate any of the burglars who have been operating promiscuously here proved futile.

Mr. Oden lost $27.50, a valuable Masonic emblem, and his trousers when his bedroom was entered sometime last night while he slept. The burglar entered the front door, crept up the stairs, opened the door, and departed without being heard.

The Atlas Supply company was robbed for the fifth time last night. However, this time only $5 in stamps was taken. Entrance was gained by breaking a glass on the front door and unlocking the door from the inside. An employee sleeping at the rear failed to awaken while the place was being robbed.

Roy S. Bourland, manager of the supply house, stated this morning that he wanted to serve notice on all the burglars that positively no money is ever kept at the place, either in the office or elsewhere. "Each night we take all our money to the bank, and it's absolutely useless for the burglars to keep on breaking into our place," he declared.

"If the burglars just must break into some place, I want to advise them right now that it'll be futile to break into our store any more. I'd suggest that they pick out some place where money is kept—if it's money they want!"

Mr. Bourland stated this morning that none of the merchandise stolen when the Atlas Supply company was robbed four times previously had ever been recovered.

The wave of burglaries which began last Friday morning is the most persistent that has ever swept over this city, it was said this morning. The burglars are not only elusive, but work very rapidly and noiselessly, police said this morning. All householders and store owners were urged to place valuables where they would be safe from the hands of the pilferers.

As for the police, they are frantically working day and night in an effort to apprehend the robbers, despairingly wondering "who will be next." County officers are also patrolling the streets at night, and several deputies and policemen are acting as nightwatchmen. The outlying portions of the city are also under the observation of officers. Persons on the streets after midnight are stopped and questioned.

NINE ARRESTS ARE MADE BY U. S. MARSHALL

Armed with warrants for the arrest of a score of local residents on charges of violating the federal prohibition laws, United States Marshal Harper of Amarillo spent yesterday afternoon in Pampa and arrested six men and three women. He failed to find others scheduled to be arrested.

Mr. Harper's instructions to the nine men and women were that certain persons among them must report to federal court in Amarillo today while others will be required to be present tomorrow for arraignment. None was taken in charge by the officer.

Those arrested were Louise Baker, a Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Helen Watkins, Roy Robbins, R. E. Wade, Mrs. Irene Mathis, Jess Fletcher, "Whitey" Burks, and W. Triplett.

Mr. Harper will return later to serve the remaining warrants, it is understood.

County Attorney John F. Studer, serving his third term, today asked The News to say that the was withdrawing from the campaign for re-election.

His statement follows: To the citizens of Gray county, Texas: "After giving much thought to the matters involved in the position of county attorney of Gray county, Texas, and the oncoming campaign to select an incumbent for the office, I have come to the conclusion that it would not be wise for me to continue in the office. I have served Gray county during the feverish development period when many difficulties presented themselves in readjusting the affairs of the county to the rapid increase of population and wealth of the county.

"I consider that I have devoted as much time as I should to the public cause, furthermore, I have always believed in the rotation of office. Acting in this belief I have decided that it is wise for me to withdraw from the race and give the people a chance to confer the honor and emoluments of the office upon some other member of the bar, realizing that there are many others who could represent the county as well as I could do and possibly better.

"I consider that my tenure in office has in some respects prevented my devoting myself to the other branches of the law than those which specifically pertain to the interests of the county and I feel that the time has come when I should prepare myself for a broader scope of legal experience. After January 1st I will engage in the general practice of civil and criminal law.

"In doing this I appreciate very much the wishes of my friends who would desire to see me continue and also the encouragement I have had from many people who have offered to give me their support and who have promised to perpetuate me in this office.

"Thanking the citizens of Gray county who have given me their hearty cooperation in the affairs of this office and with deep appreciation for the friendships I have formed, I hereby announce my withdrawal from the race of county attorney of Gray county, Texas."

Justice Cary Is Entering Race for Judge of County

On learning that Ivy E. Duncan would not run for re-election as county judge, Justice of the Peace C. E. Cary today announced his candidacy for that office.

At the same time, Mr. Cary withdrew his name for re-election as justice of the peace.

He stated that the office of county judge had long interested him, but that he had not intended to make the race should Judge Duncan aspire for a second term.

Mr. Cary said he wished to stress his appreciation for the cooperation and good will of the public shown him as justice of the peace. He asserted that he had a deep interest in the affairs of the county, and that if elected he would stand for a progressive administration, tempered by good business judgment.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom E. Rose have as their guests the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Hodges and children of Okemah, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Murrell of Amarillo. Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Murrell are sisters of Mrs. Rose.

DEMANDS OF HIS BUSINESS ARE GROWING

Lawyer Will Return to Practice of Profession

ADMINISTRATION IS NOTEWORTHY

Important Projects Completed in His Tenure

In an announcement which came even as a surprise to his closest associates, Judge Ivy E. Duncan stated that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the office of county judge.

"I feel as if I will be unable to take from my law practice and my other private business the time the duties of the county judge's office requires, and I will therefore not be a candidate to succeed myself to this office," Judge Duncan said in a short statement.

"I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to the people of Pampa and vicinity for the cooperation they have given me in my efforts to discharge the duties of this office."

"I also wish to state that the finances of the county are in good shape and on a sound basis," he concluded.

Judge Duncan was elected to the office in 1928. His first term will end Jan. 1, 1931. Since he assumed office in 1929, the Gray county courthouse has been erected. The commissioners court has completed several paving projects during his administration.

However, the employment of a county auditor to keep the finances of the county in order is considered by many to be the most important act of the present court. In knowing all the time the condition of the county finances, the court was able to effect economies hitherto impossible. In the last report of the auditor, there was no deficit in any of the funds.

The present condition of county finances is due partly to the greatly increased valuation in the last two years. Last year, the total valuation was about $18,000,000, while this year it will be $27,000,000, or more. There was a corresponding increase in the valuation in 1929 over that of the previous year.

Candidates for county offices have until June 14 to file their candidacies.

ANOTHER POSSE NEAR SHERMAN IS SEEKING NEGRO ALLEGED TO HAVE SCARED FARM CHILDREN

SHERMAN, June 5. (P)—The Sherman Democrat was informed today that civilian posses and officers were searching for a negro who had approached a group of children at a farm house near Bells this morning.

A girl about 15 years old was reported to have been in the group. She reported that the children ran and barricaded themselves in the house. The negro tried to gain entrance she said, but was unsuccessful.

The children were playing at the house, four miles north of Bells, which is 18 miles east of Sherman, in this county. From detailed descriptions given, officers believed the negro was a tramp.

Dynamite Building
LOTHAIR, Ky., June 5. (P)—Four buildings were dynamited here today to check a fire which destroyed 20 houses and the storage plant of the Standard Oil company and caused damage estimated at $100,000. Approximately 100 persons were left homeless.

The fire, attributed to sparks from a smokesack, spread rapidly, and the intense heat melted the safety valves of the tanks and released oil which spread out in a blaze. The plant contained eight large tanks, and it was estimated that 60,000 gallons of gasoline, 20,000 gallons of kerosene, and 40,000 gallons of engine oil were consumed.

Mob Member Is Charged After He Boasts He Fatally Shot Negro

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 5. (P)—A murder warrant was prepared this afternoon for Jud Brown, 33, after a coroner's jury investigating the death of Henry Argo, alleged negro attacker, met his death at the hands of a mob last Saturday, had named Brown as the slayer. Brown had been arrested earlier today. Another arrest in connection with the rioting is expected as federal authorities are looking for John Lee, Chickasha, who faces a federal charge of destruction of property in connection with the burning of a National Guard truck during the riot. L. L. WIEGMAN SUCCEUMBS TO DEEP BURNS

Mrs. Wiegman Also Is Badly Hurt But Will Live

FUMES IGNITE IN BATH ROOM

Young Man Formerly Was Resident of Claude

Leonard L. Wiegman, 25, is dead, and his wife is in a serious condition at McKean & Connor hospital as a result of burns suffered in an explosion of gasoline fumes in the bathroom of their home at 448 North Starkweather last night.

The couple was rushed to the hospital in two Malone ambulances shortly after the accident occurred. The man died this morning at 10:30 o'clock. The condition of Mrs. Wiegman was not critical, doctors said this morning.

The explosion took place when Mr. Wiegman turned on a hot water heater and the flame from it ignited gasoline fumes which had come from a can of gasoline. The gasoline never did explode, but it was burning when removed from the room by a neighbor. The young people had prepared for bed and had gone into the bath room.

Mr. Wiegman was the proprietor of a battery shop on South Cuyler. He had lived here for two years. His wife is an employee at Montgomery Ward and company. He was a member of a prominent family of Claude, and is survived by the following relatives, all of whom are here today: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiegman, his parents, Roy Wiegman, L. D. Wiegman, and Floyd Wiegman, his brothers, and a sister, Miss Christel Wiegman. All live at Claude. Mr. Wiegman was preceded in death by a brother who died here two years ago.

G. C. Malone funeral home has charge of funeral arrangements. Funeral services will be held at Claude, although no definite time has been set. The body will be taken overland tomorrow morning.

Mr. Wiegman had many friends at Claude, Pampa and other towns in the Panhandle. He formerly attended West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon.

Mrs. Wiegman does not yet know of her husband's death and hospital attendants will keep the information from her until her condition grows better. It is feared knowledge of her husband's death would have an injurious effect on her condition.

The explosion did very little damage to the bathroom, and there was no danger of fire.

Cannon Refuses to Testify Further

WASHINGTON, June 5. (P)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., walked out on the senate lobby committee today and his questioners decided to take no legal steps for the present to bring him back.

The committee will not meet again until next Wednesday, and meantime it expects neither to issue a subpoena nor begin contempt proceedings to punish the Southern Methodist leader for his refusal to testify about his Anti-Smith campaign activities in 1928.

As he withdrew, unexcused, and followed by applause, hisses and laughter, Cannon flung back at the committee another challenge of its authority. He had appeared voluntarily, he said, had answered all the questions he considered proper, and was through unless the senators chose to formally subpoena him.

Chairman Caraway, who agrees with Cannon that he should not be questioned about his leadership in the Anti-Smith campaign, will return to Washington Tuesday. On the following day the full committee expects to make its decision. After the adjournment, Senator Walsh of Montana, the acting chairman, told newspaper men that he regarded Cannon as "in plain contempt of the senate."

Mrs. J. Powell Wehring has returned from Colorado City, where she visited friends and relatives. Mrs. D. McIntosh of White Deer is a visitor in Pampa today.

CLINT SMALL FOR GOVERNOR

(Star-Telegram)

Feeling that the paramount political need of Texas at the present time is to cast off its shoulders the sharped burden of personal and political animosities which have made of the government at Austin a bedlam of indecision and cross purposes, The Star-Telegram believes that that need is best served in the forthcoming campaign by the candidacy of State Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington.

This belief is supported not only by the fact that Mr. Small is not allied with any of the factions which have made impossible the direct and straightforward conduct of the State's governmental affairs, but by the further fact that Mr. Small has displayed in the formulation of his platform and in his various public statements a sane and enlightened attitude toward the States' problems and a highly satisfactory degree of straight thinking which has enabled him to put those problems relatively in their proper place.

We do not hear Mr. Small advancing sectional or other prejudices as the basis upon which the people are asked to exercise their franchise, as one candidate for Governor is doing. We do not see him raising a smoke screen of personalities to conceal his own incapacities, as another candidate is doing. We do not see him making the demagogic appeal to regional prejudices which exist mainly because politicians have kept them stirred up, as another candidate is doing. We do not see him standing upon such fallacies as that the state government can be supported without taxation that will bear upon every citizen, as one candidate is doing. We do not see him appealing for "vindication," asking a public vote to deny the righteousness of the punishment which was accorded for maladministration of public office, as another candidate is doing. We do not see him even putting himself forward as an anointed peacemaker whose elevation to office would magically dispel all strife and forthwith bring about that "harmony" which is only imaginary on earth, existing only in heaven.

On the contrary, we do see him putting forward a sober, logical and constructive program of public policies and public administration, having in mind the political and economic advancement of the State, the conservation of the rights of the people which include the right to earn and enjoy the comforts of life. That these ends may be accomplished, Senator Small does not trot out ancient and dishonored shibboleths, he does not fall into the demagogic practice of toadying to the group which is thought to have the most votes. He sets up the thesis that Texans are one people, whether their homes are in great cities, small cities, towns or upon the farm, and that whatever betters the conditions of one must be something that betters the condition of all.

This paragraph from Senator Small's announcement illustrates the point and gives the keynote of Senator Small's candidacy:

"I am prompted by the conviction that the people demand, and should have, relief from partisan strife and that in lieu thereof they shall be given a careful business administration. If I should be elected Governor, it will be my aim and ambition to adjourn politics in Texas and to inaugurate a constructive era devoted to building and developing Texas institutions. By thoughtful application of strong business politics it will be possible for the State to make substantial progress without additional cost of government. State government should so function as to make Texas an inviting field for new and diversified industries. To accomplish this end, taxes must not be increased, but the tax dollar must be judiciously expended and made to yield greater dividend. The most practical way to aid agriculture in all its branches is to make Texas an industrial State."

This is an admirably straightforward declaration of the principle of communality of interest previously referred to. Texas suffers now from one-sided development. Agriculture suffers from the fundamental trouble of having too many producers and too few consumers. The remedy, which is greater industrial development, works a two-fold benefit to agriculture. It increases the number of consumers and the diversity of their demand for agricultural products, and at the same time, by natural expansion, takes over a greater proportion of the tax burden.

Until we have a great many more factories in Texas and a great many more businesses of all sorts, it is criminal folly to talk of increasing the taxes on industry. Such an increase would have the effect of retarding the development of the state by keeping out outside capital that is so badly needed, crippling the growth of industry and business now in the state and laying a penalty thereby upon all classes an all tax-payers. Texas, above all states, needs to encourage industry and development, not retard them.

Best of all, Mr. Small's candidacy offers not only words and promises but a personal record which is in perfect accord with the position he takes. When Mr.

Small speaks of a "business administration," he is not a politician who knows no business and could not possibly deliver if elected. Mr. Small has been a builder among builders. In that region where a premium is put upon constructive ability in private and public business, West Texas, Mr. Smith has been recognized for leadership in civic, business, and political fields. His connection with measures and issues in the State senate has invariably been such as were dictated by constructive considerations. His name is attached to measures of great and lasting importance. He has the undivided support of that portion of the state where he is best known.

He is the one man in the race whose election will discourage and throttle instead of encourage and promote the factionalism and turmoil which in recent years have marked the state government and made of officeholders generally either mere time servers or self-servers while the public interest suffered.

REDS GETTING FINE HITTING BUT NO WINS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dan Howley, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is one of the leading experimenters of the National League as well as one of its leading traders, and he has prospects of good results if he can mold the material he now has into a co-ordinated baseball team.

The Reds, as they are now, seem to have everything but the ability to make their hits count. They got plenty of blows, 84 of them in their last seven games, and frequently have good pitching to go with them, but still they lose the close decisions and games in which they have the best of the hitting.

Howley put Pat Crawford in the lineup yesterday and made Bob Meusel lead off. The result was good enough to produce 14 solid hits but not a victory. Their opponents, the New York Giants, got 12 blows, but six of them came in succession from the first six batsmen in the opening inning and started the Giants off to a 6-1 lead and an 8 to 5 victory. Pete Donohue continued the act that the former Reds who now wear Giant uniforms have been staging by pitching a fair game and contributing a home run to his first victory for New York.

The hit totals made by the Reds and Giants, big as they were appeared small when the Chicago Cubs got into action and they trounced the Boston Braves, 18 to 20. The Cubs hit 20 times for 34 bases, getting six doubles, a triple and two homers, and gave Harry Siebold and his two successors a bad time of it.

The Cubs finished only two games behind Brooklyn as the Robins led the league away a game in the Pittsburgh Pirates by a 12 to 6 score. The Robins made eight errors, most of them on bad throws, and nearly every bobble meant a Pittsburgh run. The Pirates made five errors on their own part but not at such costly points in the game. This result left the Pirates only a game behind the St. Louis Cardinals, who lost the day's only mound duel in the National League to Philadelphia, 2 to 1. Bengie gave the Cards only four hits.

The American league produced

A vitriolic and scathing arraignment of wrestling as it has been practiced in Pampa during the last six months, and a promise that he will give a better demonstration of the art of creating lump ears than has been seen here this year were made today by Oscar Dotson, the Pampa blacksmith who will grapple with Tiger Mills in the main go tonight at the Pla-Mor.

"These sissy co-gobs and drug store sheiks that people have been paying good money to see!" flamed Oscar indignantly. "All they do is get into the ring, pull carnival stuff and whisper into each other's ear when they think it's time to quit!

"Wrestling, they call it! Bah! I'd call it 'restling, minus the 'I'. That butter-brained Tiger Mills is a punk piece of beef to practice on but I reckon he'll have to do. He won't get a chance to rest tonight."

Dan Goffino assured fans when he arrived today that his match tonight with Rob Roy is going to be a fast one. "Rob is the fastest man in this section besides Cal Farley," he said. "I don't think Rob will get rough with me, if he does I'll be so fast he won't make any headway."

Rob was enigmatical for one time today. However, it's a safe bet that he will get rough, since he has never wrestled in any other manner here.

The prelims will be a 10-minute contest between Kelly the Barber and Jelly Alexander.

four tight battles, three of them going ten innings. The leading Philadelphia Athletics beat out the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 3, in the only nine-inning contest.

Washington scored three runs in the tenth to beat out the Detroit Tigers, 11 to 8, after Detroit had scored six runs in the last three regular innings to gain a tie.

The Yankees dropped an 8 to 7 decision to the Chicago White Sox as Johnny Kerr followed the example set for him a few innings earlier by Babe Ruth and won the game with a home run after two were out in the tenth inning. The Babe had tied the count in the seventh with his eighteenth homer of the year. Ed Morris of the Boston Red Sox proved better in the long run than Willis Hudlin of Cleveland and gave Boston a 5 to 4 victory in another ten-inning duel.

C. F. Mackey of Oklahoma City, of the record department of the Victor Talking Machine company, was a visitor here Wednesday.

Tires are SO cheap now

TIRE prices today are at the lowest point in the history of the rubber business.

The difference in price between the best standard tire and one that you can't be sure of, is, if anything, hardly enough to count.

That removes the last excuse a sensible man can have for not buying as excellent a tire as the Goodyear All-Weather Tread Balloon.

It is the standard of quality of the world; it outsells any other tire in the world; it is the basis of

why not have the BEST the eloquent fact that "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

You want the biggest possible money's worth in safety, traction, dependability and mileage when you buy a tire—you can get it now at no premium in the standard Goodyear All-Weather.

Your size is waiting for you at a price you can afford to pay—no farther away than the nearest Goodyear Dealer!

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than of all the tires sold in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

Officers of the Woman's Council of the First Christian church, which recently was organized through the merging of the Women's Missionary society, the Ladies' Aid society, and the Young Matrons' society, were installed yesterday afternoon in a simple but impressive ceremony marking the beginning of the enlarged and unified program of the new body.

The installation of the officers and a business session to perfect the organization of the council took place at the home of Mrs. W. A. Bratton on Mary Ellen street, with all members of the merging societies and women of the Christian church invited to attend. Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, and Mrs. H. L. Ledrick were co-hostesses.

Hymns, prayers, and Scripture readings comprised the devotional preceding the installation of officers. Mrs. Martin read to each of the new officers a passage from the Bible which applied to the duties of her particular office.

Mrs. Marbaugh, after assuming the duties of the presidency, spoke to the large group of women who were present, asking the full cooperation of all members of the council for the executive board. She presided during the organization of six divisions of the council, each of which would hold a monthly session in addition to the general meeting at the church.

The divisions, formed alphabetically, rather than by zoning, were as follows:

Charity was the theme of the lesson studied by Circles 2 and 3, and the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, the inspiration. Mrs. Will Benton was in charge of the program and the devotionals. Plans were made during a short business discussion for sending a delegate to the district convention of the W. M. U.

Those attending the meeting at Mrs. Ayres' home were as follows: Mrs. Della Brown, Mrs. E. F. Brake, Mrs. C. L. McKinney, Mrs. Jim Richardson, Mrs. Ernest Fletcher, Mrs. John B. Ayres, Mrs. P. A. Circles 1 and 4 of the Women's Missionary union of the First Baptist church met jointly yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Brown, and at the same time Circles 2 and 3 convened together at Mrs. J. H. Ayres' home. Fourteen members attended each of the meetings.

Mrs. W. W. Weant conducted the devotional opening the program at Mrs. Brown's home. She read the thirteenth chapter of Chronicles as the Scripture, after which Mrs. T. B. Solomon led in a discussion of the seventeenth and eighteenth chapters of St. Matthew.

SCHMELING IS NOT WORRYING OVER MATCH

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
ENDICOTT, N. Y., June 5. (AP)—Max Sigfrid Adolph Otto Schmeling is an engaging young man without a complex, inhibition or sign of unruly temperament to his lengthy name.

As he sits in the living room of his well guarded cottage, playing over and over again German phonograph records, he doesn't even talk a good fight. Yet, one week from tomorrow night in the Yankee stadium, this 24-year-old Teuton who has scaled the heavyweight heights in two short years will battle Jack Sharkey for the highest prize fistiana has to offer. He will fight the best he knows how, calmly, carefully, evenly but at a terrific pace, and if his best is not enough—well, he is still 24 years old and life even in a fistie sense still leads long before him. Max may lose to a better man. He frankly admits that may happen, but he doesn't think that man is Sharkey.

Colored an Indian brown by the sun in his outdoor workouts, the young German is a picture of superb condition as he lolls in his easy chair, happy to talk of fights in his halting English liberally sprinkled with German phrases when the subjects get complicated and thoughts come too fast. His high cheek bones, shaggy black eye brows, deep color, and animation leave an indelible impression of Jack Dempsey when the old mauler weighed 187 pounds and was eager to tear the world apart with his iron fists.

"I hope I beat Sharkey," he said with a smile and a wave of both hands. "I do not know. No one know. If I get my chance, I win. If not I lose."

To Schmeling, almost a fatalist in his attitude toward the coming contest for ringdom's highest stakes, this statement covers the entire situation, by "chance" which he pronounces "shenks." Schmeling means the opening or situation that will give him the upper hand and pave the way to victory. The break may come his way—or they may go to Sharkey.

"If Sharkey wins, I congratulate him. The same way I would congratulate myself if I win. But why should I lose?" he asked. "Sharkey is a good boxer, yes? He hits, punches good with left hand, no; well, maybe it make him discouraged if he can't hit me with his best punch. That is important. "I do not know how I fight Sharkey. In my training camp I have 20 sparring partners. I fight them all. They have different styles. No matter what style Sharkey fights, I am ready for him."

"Sharkey is a good boxer, yes? They say I can't hit a good boxer with my right hand. They say he will defend against my right all the time with his left and I never hit him. That is foolishness. "He must punch at me sometime, no? When he punch at me he moves his hands, yes? When he does that he leaves an opening, right waly? Then I can punch. Then I will hurt Sharkey. Maybe my shenks come then."

"Only have I seen Sharkey box in a gymnasium and then he—what you call it—clown around with his sparring partners. Even so I know he is a good fighter. But maybe I am a better fighter. Who knows? By this time the open tempered, unexcitable German was on his feet, waving his hands, showing how he would move his head to evade a left and counter with the famous right hand that knocked out Johnny Risko and battered Paulino Uzcudun into helplessness. "There is another thing, Sharkey, he say, 'how will Schmeling feel fighting a man like me who has met everyone and kicked the men I have?' I tell you. "I will feel better about it than Sharkey. He is the American fighting before his own countrymen to keep the title in his country. He is getting old. He has missed two shenks to fight for the championship. Maybe he will not get another. "But me it is different. I am the foreigner, the under-dog. I am 24 years old. If I lose I fight again some other time for the championship. I have nothing to worry about. He has everything. Maybe that does not bother him, no?"

B. F. Tepe, Canadian, general manager of the White House Lumber company, transacted business in Pampa Tuesday.

SPUDDERS TO LEAD LEAGUE FIRST HALF

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Any baseball unit that can come to life when its lead is threatened and win 13 out of its next 15 games, mostly against its toughest opposition, usually can pick up the marbles.

That, through yesterday, was what the Wichita Falls Spudders had done, and the odds today that they would be leading the Texas league parade on June 24, the day when the season probably will be split, were about any figure you cared to mention. Chances of heading Carl Williams' slugers off were more than remote.

By slaughtering the Beaumont Exporters in a double bill yesterday, 6 to 4, and 14 to 1, the leaders stretched their advantage over the field to five full games.

Homers played a vital part in the Spudders' victories. The first-bout was won in the eighth when Bettencourt and Fuller each slapped one out of the lot with a man on base. There were four more circuit wallops in the nightcap, one each by Storti, urns, Levey and Bettencourt.

The Buffs, who started their present hegira with high hopes, received another jolt when the Dallas Steers made it two straight, 6 to 5, in a 10-inning tussle. It marked the first time in over a month that the Mavs were on the long end two days in a row. Claude Robertson, veteran Steer maskman, tied the count in the last of the ninth with a freak homer that bounded over the left field fence, scoring a runner ahead of him. Selph's boot of Gene Moore's hard grounder let the winning run across in the extra frame.

Art Phelan's Shreveport nine lost an opportunity by the Houston for the runner-up berth when San Antonio took the second game of their series, 5 to 2. Jim Chaplin pitched another fine game for the Indians, allowing only eight hits, one of them a homer by Perry, while the tribe knocked Tiny Owens from the hill in the fifth.

Joe Bonowitz slugged the Panthers to their second straight over Waco, 10 to 7. His homer with two on base and his single with the sacks loaded accounted for six runs off Beckler and Thurman, two Cub unfortunates.

Lil Stoner, who previously had won three starts for the Cats, was driven from the slab in the sixth.

TEXAS OIL BRIEFS

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—The Mook-Texas No. 11 Minnie Sibley, ten miles east of Eastland and near the village of Staff, yesterday made from 700 to 1,000 barrels a day from the top of the Ranger lime. The pay was reached at 3,420-21 feet. Drilling had not been completed.

A. P. Nicholson and others No. 1 Stimmert, located in block 20 W. L. Herring survey, abstract 168, in the extreme southeast part of Archer county has been completed at an estimated production of 80 barrels, extending the Prideaux field several miles to the northwest.

LOVE'S NAME TO BE ON BALLOTS

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—The Supreme Court's order to the state Democratic executive committee to place the name of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas on the party primary ballots as a candidate for governor was final today. The court overruled the committee's motion for a rehearing yesterday.

The court had previously held that the committee exceeded its lawful authority on February 1 in Austin when it passed resolutions barring as candidates for state offices persons who failed to vote for the Democratic presidential electors in 1928. Love had acknowledged that he did not vote for former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, the party's nominee for president, and was upheld by the Supreme Court in his contention that the pledge to support nominees of the party required of participants in the 1928 election was not binding in conscience.

The committee will meet in Austin next Monday when it will certify the names of candidates for state offices to the county chairman and select a site for the state convention to be held September 9.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECTS CANNOT BE IDENTIFIED

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—Three men brought to Dallas last night as suspects in the robbery of the Grand Avenue State bank, which was robbed of $11,023 Saturday, will be released to Fort Worth officers.

Officials of the bank failed to identify them but Dallas detectives said that money found in their possession at the time of their arrest at Fort Worth yesterday was taken from rival rum runners at Fort Worth. The serial numbers of the bills did not tally with those taken from the Dallas bank.

Natalie Converse tries to conquer her jealousy over her husband, Alan. But they quarrel over Bernadine Lamont, a popular night club hostess, when the latter asks Alan to look after her son, Bobby, whose father had saved Alan's life during the war. Alan tries to explain that the doctor had given Bernadine only a short time to live, but Natalie's rebuffs cause him to seek understanding and sympathy from his secretary, Philippa West, who is waiting for the opportunity.

Philippa manages to widen the breach between Alan and Natalie by showing her a letter from Bernadine in which she mentions toys he has given Bobby. Then she changes an order for orchids and when Natalie goes to a bridge party and hears another woman boast that Alan had sent her orchids, all her old anger is aroused. She refuses to believe Alan's denials. Angered, Alan takes Philippa out again and wonders if he could love the girl when she coyly refuses his kisses. On returning home he finds Natalie packing to leave. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation. After she leaves, the house seems desolate to Alan and he seeks consolation with Philippa. She flaunts her victory to the office force, but conceals the fact that at times he is entirely indifferent to her.

Meanwhile Natalie regrets her hasty action. She hasn't told her family and when her young sister asks to go back to New York with her, promises to take her. But she does not write Alan, hoping that he will beg her to return. Her silence, however, merely spurs him on in his affair with Philippa.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXI When Alan went to Philippa and asked her if she would go to dinner and the theater with him, she did not let the little incident of the day before, that had troubled him, interfere with her acceptance.

It was not that she had failed to recall it—how she went into his office, and found him sitting with his head bowed on his arms, and how she followed a sudden impulse to comfort him.

She was certain that for a moment, Alan had been on the verge of taking her in his arms. Then he seemed to heed some inner admonition that prompted him to draw back. For he suddenly became abrupt with her, almost rude.

Philippa smarted under his treatment, but she was smart enough to wait until the hour was hers before attempting to make him pay for it.

She remembered very clearly, as she told him in a quiet voice, that she would be glad to go, that she owed him something for the day before. But, of course, if he surrendered—she smiled faintly up at him—that would wipe out all debts.

To give him a fair chance she was as pleasant as she knew how to be when they met again. Alan had waited outside her home in a taxicab. She did not keep him waiting long.

They had an excellent dinner and were fortunate enough to get good seats for a Broadway hit. But they danced on an over-crowded floor in a second-rate supper club, and Alan didn't like it. Particularly the people at the table next to theirs. One of the men there was too frankly interested in Philippa.

"We better dress next time and go to a decent place," he remarked crossly.

"But Alan"—it was Alan now—"how can you when you live up in Hillsire, unless you want to do a lot of commuting?"

"A lot of commuting?" Alan repeated and they both laughed.

"Think this is going to happen often?" Alan asked.

Philippa merely smiled.

"Well, if it does, we've got to dress," Alan declared.

"What was the matter with The Rosebank?"

"It's all right, but I think I'd like to see you dolled up, Philippa."

Philippa was not entirely pleased with his remark—he might be finding fault with her appearance—but she saw manna in it that she could not gather.

"I could never afford it," she said firmly. "Why, Alan, don't you know that an evening gown won't stand more than two or three parties in some of these clubs? At least, that's what I've heard. Some of them pass out at the first wearing, they say."

"I'll take care of that," Alan said quickly. "Don't make a fuss about it, please, Philippa," he added quickly as he saw opposition growing in her countenance. "You're giving your time to me—it's only would have been a shock to him to say: 'I don't love her any more.' But every consideration he gave the future was predicated upon the fact that he was falling in love with Philippa. And Alan was not a "two woman" man.

He began to visualize his secretary in his home. There was no great thrill in creating the mental picture; neither was it displeasing to him. Well, perhaps... Usually he gave it up, with an offhand platitude of some comforting nature, such as: "Love isn't necessary to a happy marriage, anyway; it's got to be based on something sound... like respect and... tolerance."

And certainly he respected Philippa. She was clever. All that was doubtful about her she managed to color with an air of honesty that Alan little suspected was only a pose. She took clothes from him, and Alan believed it was because she had to have them to go out with him, and that she accepted his invitations only out of the kindness of her heart. Simply to cheer a friend over a rough era. She was a regular girl.

One day he woke up to the fact that he was serious concerning her. He had stopped writing to Natalie—the short notes that hurt her almost as much as complete silence would have done. He was with Philippa most of the time, and always telling himself that she would make a wonderful wife.

She knew what was going on in his mind. He was constantly referring to marriage, moralizing on it and revealing his belief in everyone's right to happiness. It was plain to her that he was seeking to convince himself that they could find happiness together. The amount of love he had for her scarcely concerned Philippa. She was interested primarily in helping him decide to take a chance on marriage first and love afterward.

She had a plan ready. And she felt the time was now ripe to put it into effect.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lancaster were to leave Coleman 90 days after the announcement that they had accepted the call to Pampa.

Passenger Killed in Plane Crash

BOSTON, June 5. (AP)—One passenger was injured dangerously and eleven others suffered minor injuries and immersion today when a tri-motored Colonial Air Transport plane fell into the waters of the municipal airport. Failure of the right motor was given by one of the passengers, a French aviator, as the cause of the accident.

The big plane was taking off from the airport on a regular New York run and while attempting to gain altitude suddenly came down in the water off the flying field. Coast Guard craft and the police boat were rushed to the scene.

Coast Guard boats were assisted by privately owned craft in rescuing the twelve passengers and two pilots of the plane, several of whom were removed through a hole in the side of the cabin.

SALINA, Kans., June 5. (AP)—Local officers wearing bullet proof vests and armed with sawedoff shotguns were guarding roads leading into Salina today following receipt of word from Manhattan authorities that a man bearing resemblance to Jake Fleagle, alleged bank robber killer, for whom a nationwide hunt has been carried on, stopped at a garage there this morning. No trace of the man had been seen by officers here.

Garbage Law to Be Enforced Rigidly

The city ordinance requiring all citizens to place their garbage in metal containers before it is hauled away by the city will be strictly enforced this summer, according to George Latus, city fire marshal.

This rule applies especially to householders of the city. Much trash and garbage is being allowed to remain exposed, thereby creating unsanitary conditions and dangerous fire hazards, Mr. Latus said. Most fires in recent months have started in trash piles, and danger is likely to increase if this condition continues to exist, he said.

The back yards and alleys of the city are far from being sanitary at present and it is time to clean them up. Spread of disease will be largely prevented and fire hazards will be eliminated if all garbage and trash is placed in metal containers. Mr. Latus urges that householders and others purchase these metal containers at once.

BEWARE OF GASOLENE WEIGHTED WITH GUM

Gum in gasolene is a thief of power. It makes your engine labor—it makes your valves fight to get free—it robs your motor of valuable compression. Don't put this extra burden on your motor by thoughtless purchases of gasolene. Insist on Koolmotor Gasolene, the original high test, anti-knock green gas. Harmful gum has been removed from this powerful, clean burning gas. The mini-gum process, descriptive of the extra care and extra refining used to produce this superior motor fuel, has reduced the gum content in Koolmotor Gasolene to a harmless minimum. Koolmotor Gasolene vaporizes quickly, burns freely, leaves no sticky, gummy deposit behind. It is full of power, full of speed, ready to go when you are. Keep your motor clean—give it a chance to do its best—relieve it of the burden of gum-stuck valves. Keep your tank full of Koolmotor—the gasolene that's free from harmful gum.

Methodist Circles Convene Wednesday For Study Programs

Circles 1 and 2 of the Methodist Women's Missionary society, meeting yesterday afternoon in homes of members, had lessons from "Spiritual Adventures," preceded by Scripture studies and devotionals. Large groups attended the meetings.

Members of Circle 1 met in the home of Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, where Mrs. J. G. Stroupe conducted both the worship service and the program. She presented a passage from St. Mark in interesting narrative form, after which she led in the study of the fifth and sixth chapters from "Spiritual Adventures." Topics were given by Mrs. E. F. Caughey and Mrs. L. N. Maddux. Sentence prayers followed the round table discussion and closed the program.

Mrs. J. Arrington was a visitor, and the members present, in addition to those already named, were: Mrs. Horace McBee, Mrs. J. E. Ward, Mrs. W. Purviance, Mrs. Chris Baez, Mrs. Wm. Castleberry, and Mrs. M. Hartsell.

Mrs. C. T. Nicholson was the leader of Circle 2 at its meeting in Mrs. Joe Hodge's home. The theme of the lesson she taught was "Love." Sub-topics were presented by Mrs. T. L. Certain and Mrs. S. A. Hurst. Mrs. J. G. Burgess gave the opening prayer.

Mission study occupied the meeting periods of Circles 3 and 4, which also held their meetings in the homes of members. The Town and the Country, a topic dealing with the religious, educational, and recreational problems which the church must solve differently in the two environments, was taken up in an interesting discussion by members of Circle 3, with Mrs. Lee Harrah leading. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Campbell, attended by Mrs. Joe Shelton, Mrs. Lee Gray, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, and the leader.

Mrs. George Walstad was hostess to members of Circle 4, who studied the same lesson as Circle 3. Mrs. Albert Wood was in charge. Other members present were: Mrs. A. A. Smith, Mrs. Roy Tinsley, Mrs. C. E. Ward, Mrs. Lewis Robinson, and Mrs. Porter Beck. Mrs. Dodd of Ohio was a visitor.

Blankenship to Hurl Tomorrow in Magnolia Game

Local baseball fans will have an opportunity to see the right arm of Homer Blankenship function in a game between the baseball clubs of Magnolia Petroleum company and Phillips Petroleum company tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock on the Magnolia diamond at the east end of Kingsmill avenue.

Blankenship was a top-notch pitcher of the Texas league and was sold to Pittsburg in 1929, but he injured his arm and retired for a season. Connoisseurs of tricky, fast hurling say that Blankenship is rapidly regaining his old form.

Phillips will also have on the mound, a former Texas league pitcher—a man who played with Shreveport.

The Magnolias will meet the Jemco's of Jones-Everett Machine company Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Magnolia diamond.

Although the Magnolias lost a close game 5 to 4 Sunday to the Coltexo Gasoliers, they by no means concede that the Coltexans have the best team. The Magnolias and Gulf Guns have not yet played.

So sure are the Magnolias of their strength, that they are considering filing application to play in the Amarillo baseball tournament late this summer.

Band Practice Postponed Today

The first rehearsal of the high school band under the direction of R. E. "Pop" Frazier has been postponed from this evening, because of the absence of a large number of the members from the city. Announcement of the new meeting date will be made later, Mr. Frazier says.

Interest in the summer band work is growing steadily, the director says, with an average of three students enrolling every day. While Mr. Frazier is employed by the school board to direct the bands, he conducts classes on all band and orchestra instruments, excepting the violin, and these are open to anyone outside the school who wishes to take lessons. Mr. Frazier is to be found at the music cottage or the principal's office of the high school between 9 and 4 o'clock every day.

RANGER CAPTAIN GETS HIS GIRL

FORT WORTH, June 5. (AP)—Ranger Captain Tom Hickman, who many times has prided himself on "getting his man," today had his girl, who was Miss Tiny Knight of Fort Worth before they were married yesterday at the bride's home.

The couple left immediately after the wedding for Mineral Wells and on June 8 will leave for a three-months European tour.
