At least 91 injured

Quake rocks California

CALEXICO, Calif. (AP) — With aftershocks still grumbling, thousands of Imperial Valley residents picked up shattered possessions today after a thundering earthquake injured at least 91 persons.

Police and volunteers patrolled against the threat of looting. Damage from Monday's quake, measuring 6.5 on the Richter scale, was widespread throughout this agricultural valley of 90,000, straddling the U.S.-Mexican border about 100 miles east of San Diego.

Buildings crumbled and roofs collapsed. Automobiles were smashed by falling debris. Highways buckled, including sections of Interstate 8. Twenty rural bridges were damaged. Several fires broke out. Shattered glass was everywhere.

Firefighters stood by as officials worked to drain more than 90,000 gallons of gasoline and aviation fuel at a fuel tank farm near the Imperial Valley Airport. Nearby commercial establishments were evacuated, and authorities said they feared aftershocks could further damage three ruptured tanks, igniting a "mammoth fire."

It was the strongest quake in the 48 contiguous states since the Feb. 9, 1971, Sylmar-San Fernando quake which killed 65 people and also registered 6.5 on the Richter scale.

A six-story, 8-year-old "earthquake-proof" county government building in El Centro shifted and tilted when support pillars cracked and was declared a total loss by state disaster officials.

"Our building, I thought was going about one foot either way. I guess it was something like being on a rollercoaster," a mayor's aide said.

There were no major problems at El Centro's schools. Students had been sent home at noon as part of a disaster drill. The quake hit at 4:16 p.m.

The All-American Canal, which brings water from the nearby Colorado River to this thirsty desert land, apparently suffered major damage, said authorities, who were to make an aerial survey today.

In Brawley, a water tower toppled and several mobile homes were shaken from their supports. Power and telephone lines were down throughout the valley and many gas and water mains were cracked. El Centro Community Hospital was without water for many hours.

Across the border in Mexicali, where some panic was reported, police officer Apulinar Samaran denied a Red Cross report of one fatality, but raised the number of injured in that city to at least 30.

North of the border, "there were no serious injuries," said Alex Smith, administrator at El Centro Community

Hospital. "We had light casualties, bumps and bruises, minor lacerations. The most serious injury was a laceration that did not take stitches."

The quake was felt within a 300-mile radius in California, Arizona, Nevada and Mexico. Tall buildings swayed in Phoenix, Las Vegas, Los Angeles and San Diego.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. cut short an East Coast presidential campaign swing and was to tour the valley this afternoon. Local officials have already declared a state of emergency.

"There was window glass all over the streets. Mannequins were piled up in the windows and chimneys were down," said Dorothy Shook, 55, a store owner in El Centro, one of the hardest hit communities.

Seismologists at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena said the minute-long tremor was centered 10 miles east of here along the Mexican border and probably on the Imperial Fault, an offshoot of the murderous San Andreas Fault which cuts through much of California.

Earthquakes are not uncommon to the Imperial Valley. On May 18, 1940, an earthquake killed nine persons and disrupted water supply to crops, causing considerable losses. During this century, more than seven major quakes have struck the area.

No business

Business activity came to a halt Monday afternoon in Calexico, Calif., after an earthquake struck Southern California. One person was killed in the quake, which measured 6.5 on the Richter scale. See page 6 of today's News for more on the earthquake.

Suit filed against Gray County Clerk

The Grandview-Hopkins Independent School District is filing suit against the Gray County Clerk's office in an effort to determine the validity of the seven-man tax appraisal board resolution it passed earlier this month.

According to the attorney David Holt, who is handling the case, the suit — which he termed "a declaratory judgement to construe Senate Bill 621" — was filed yesterday against County Clerk Wanda Carter. He said the Grandview-Hopkins ISD is the only plaintiff in the suit but, "I expect the other three-fourths entities will join in it."

The three-fourths entities Holt referred to contain the city of McLean and the McLean ISD, the Alanreed School District, the city of Lefors and Lefors ISD, and the Grandview-Hopkins ISD.

These units previously voted on a seven-man district tax appraisal board as provided by Senate Bill 621, Section 6.03, subsection (1), which allows for the governing bodies of three-fourths of the taxing units that are entitled to vote on the appointment of members of a district's board of directors to change the number of members on the board of directors or change the method of selection of board members.

As of last Friday, Wanda Carter had the resolutions of all the smaller taxing entities as well as the resolutions from the City of Pampa and Pampa Independent School District nominating a five-man board as stipulated in S.B. 621, Section 6.03, subsection (1). When asked at that time if she was accepting all the resolutions Carter said, "I am accepting everything that is brought to me."

"I am required to file everything that is brought to me," she said this morning. She said she had talked with the School Tax Assessment Practices Board in Austin Friday morning and was told by Debbie Wheeler of that office the resolutions concerning S.B. 621, Section 6.03, subsection (1) were not timely filed.

An Austin spokesperson from the State Board said this morning it was the "opinion" of the board that resolutions using the three-fourths majority should be submitted before Oct. 1, since the voting process is to begin at this time. The spokesperson said the actual date was not outlined in the statute.

Use them properly, please

The Pampa Sanitation Department is requesting the public's help in using the new refuse containers correctly and efficiently.

In order to clear up the confusion in how to properly use the boxes, the Department has outlined some points to make the system work.

The collection truck has a limit in the amount of weight it can handle. Only household trash, lawn cuttings, and hedge trimmings should be placed inside the containers. Heavy materials such as dirt, grass sod, concrete and building materials should not be placed in the container and should be disposed of by the owner or occupant of the property from which such refuse is generated.

Tree trimmings and brush should be stacked in the alley behind your house for collection and not beside the containers. This type of refuse is collected only on a 60-90 day frequency.

For more information, call the Sanitation Department at 665-1689.

DA Comer waiting for test results on Sunday shooting

District Attorney Harold Comer said this morning that until tests results are returned from Austin, a definite date will not be set for convening the Wheeler County grand jury for investigation into the shooting death Sunday of Neil W. Rogers, Wheeler County Constable.

Comer said Kirven Roper, investigator for his office, flew to Austin this morning to take the guns, both .38 specials, used in the shooting of Rogers and his wife, Ruth, to the Texas Department of Public Safety laboratory for analysis.

"If we can get the test results today, we can take the evidence to the grand jury sometime next week," Comer said. "But we can't do anything until we get the results."

He added that no charges have been filed in the incident, pending arrival of the test results. None are expected before convening of the grand jury, he said.

An autopsy was performed on Rogers Monday in Amarillo by Dr. Jose Diaz-Esquivel and that report should be in Comer's office in the next few days.

In what was reportedly a "domestic argument," Rogers shot his wife and then was shot to death by his wife's brother, Richard Porter. The shooting took place at Porter's ranch, nine miles south of Wheeler, at approximately 4 p.m. Sunday. The Rogers were in the process of getting a divorce, Wheeler County Sheriff Doyle Ramsey said.

Rogers had returned from a trip to Wyoming and had driven to the Porter ranch to see the couple's children. After talking to his wife outside by his pickup, Rogers allegedly shot his wife, Comer said.

It was then that Porter reportedly shot Rogers in what the district attorney said has elements of self-defense involved.

"We can't say definitely that it was self-defense until we get the test results and the autopsy report back," Comer said. "But on the surface, it looks that way right now."

He added that his office is interested in the trajectory of the bullets and the distance from which they were shot.

"We haven't found all of the bullets yet," Comer said. "Two were recovered that we think were fired by Rogers at his wife but the ballistics tests will determine what happened."

He said two bullets were found in Rogers' truck that authorities believe are the bullets that went through Mrs. Rogers. She was shot in her chest and thigh. Porter allegedly "emptied" his gun, firing all six bullets at Rogers, Comer said.

Roper said Porter called the sheriff's department to the scene, where Wheeler County Justice of the Peace Jean Rushing pronounced Rogers dead.

He said Mrs. Rogers was taken to Parkview Hospital in Wheeler by her father, D.H. Porter of Wheeler. She was then transferred to St. Anthony's, where she underwent surgery Sunday night. She was listed in serious condition Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were married in 1967 while he was attending West Texas State University.

Funeral services for Rogers were held at 2:30 today in Wheeler's First United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Robert Dunagan, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Pond Creek, Okla., officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Tom Thompson, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Wellington. Burial was in Wheeler Cemetery under the direction of Wright Funeral Home of Wheeler.

Woolworth's store to close

The F.W. Woolworth Co. has announced it will close its North Cuyler Street store in Pampa December 24.

Regional Vice President R.C. Ladd said, "The company regrets closing the store after so many years of service to the community and the pleasant association it has had with customers here; however, the requirements of efficiency and economic operation make the closing necessary."

"Woolworth has no immediate plans to open a new store here, but the company is continually investigating all areas for future expansion," he added.

Ladd said Pampa personnel would be offered transfers to other Woolworth and Woolco department stores.

TEXAS

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Association of Broadcasters began a three-day meeting Monday with representatives of Texas radio and television stations present from throughout the state.

Monday was devoted to the engineering session while the management session begins Tuesday.

Featured speakers Tuesday include Gov. Bill Clements and Robert Marbut, president of Harte-Hanks Communications.

Speaker Bill Clayton will speak Wednesday. At the Wednesday luncheon the TAB will present its annual Distinguished Texan Award to CBS commentator Walter Cronkite.

Wednesday night the association names its Pioneer Broadcaster in Texas for 1979.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Dr. Charles H. Whiteside, a member of the Kilgore school board, has been elected president of the Texas Association of School Boards for 1979-80.

The association will preside over the four quarterly meetings of the 37-member board of trustees and represent the association at events throughout the state.

Other TASB officers are Dr. Paul K. McCash Jr., Texarkana, president-elect; Floyd Myers, Clear Creek, first vice president; Julianan Cowden, Alvarado, second vice-president, and Oscar Hernandez, San Antonio.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements will address the annual meeting of the Texas Research League on Nov. 9. "Challenge of the Eighties" is the theme of the meeting for the privately financed league.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A proposed set of professional standards will be considered at the annual Texas Conference on Teacher Education, Oct. 28-30.

Director M.M. "Lyn" Gubser of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education in Washington will keynote the opening session.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — At Gov. Bill Clements' request, the Texas Research League has agreed to study the long-term effect of declining oil and gas production on state and local finances.

President Paul Meek of American Petrofina in Dallas has been named chairman of the advisory committee for the study.

VEGA, Texas (AP) — A 28-year-old hitchhiker was attacked by a lion Monday at a processing plant east of this Panhandle town, the Department of Public Safety reported.

Kenneth Eason, of San Diego, Calif., was bitten on the back and head after releasing the animal from its cage with a pair of bolt cutters, the DPS said.

Amarillo hospital authorities said Eason was in serious condition, complicated by the fact he was malnourished and dehydrated.

Mrs. Bill Black, wife of the plant manager of the High Plains Processing Plant, said the lion was being boarded at the plant on Interstate 40 while citizens tried to get enough animals to start a zoo. Schwab says officials shot the animal after the mauling. Mrs. Black said the lion had been de-clawed.

She said the bolt cutters used to release the animal had been kept in a storage area at the plant. The lion's case was visible from the road.

Authorities said they did not know why Eason freed the lion.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas cities shared $22.2 million in rebates from the one percent local sales tax this month, according to a statement Monday from State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office.

The statement said 1979 payments total $364.6 million, which is $34.7 million more than was paid in the first 10 months of last year.

DALLAS (AP) — Two Dallas youths were in serious condition Monday after their clothing caught fire from a burning jar of motor fuel.

Kenneth Geier, 11, and Leo Geier, 10, ran half a block with their clothing ablaze before a neighbor doused the brothers with water from a lawn sprinkler, said Dallas fire investigator C.D. Langran.

"By the time they got to the house, their clothing was almost totally burned away," Langran said.

The brothers were cooking lunch in a hideout at a vacant lot when the fuel ignited, he said. Investigators said that Leo Geier suffered third-degree burns over 85 percent of his body, while the older brother appeared to have similar burns over 35 percent of his body.

The youths were hospitalized in intensive care at the burn unit of Parkland Memorial Hospital.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The State Board of Insurance said Monday it has approved a new type of life insurance with premiums that could be reduced if a company's revenue is increased because of inflation and high interest rates.

The new policies, sometimes called "indeterminate premium" policies, will allow insurance companies to pass on to consumers some of the benefits of the current inflationary economy, the board said.

Currently, ordinary whole life insurance offers consumers a premium which is guaranteed for the life of the policy.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — University of Texas archeologists are rushing work on prehistoric camp sites in Live Oak County before construction work starts in early 1980 on a flood control project.

"These appear to be campsites utilized over several thousand years by Indians camping close to the Frio River," said Dr. David Dibble, director of the Texas Archeological Survey. "We're finding small traces of prehistoric pottery at some sites and this came along relatively late, archeologically speaking, about 1,000 A.D."

The archeological excavations at the Three Rivers Flood Protection Project are supported by a $34,414 grant from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Executive Director Jim Adams of the Governor's Criminal Justice Division has been awarded the National Intelligence Distinguished Service Medal.

CIA Director Stansfield Turner presented the award in Washington Oct. 10 on behalf of the National Foreign Intelligence Community. Adams retired as associate director of the FBI in May.

DALLAS (AP) — A state district judge has ordered a bank to turn over personal banking records of former Dallas School Superintendent Nolan Estes to a grand jury.

Judge John Ovard ruled Monday that grand jurors could subpoena the records as part of its inquiry into the business practices of the Dallas Independent School District.

Merchants' State Bank had argued in a motion filed last week that state law protects the privacy of individual bank records from grand jury subpoenas.

"That statute does not prohibit the grand jury from issuing the subpoenas," Ovard said. "There are some legal exceptions in which the grand jury would not have that right, but this is not one of them."

Bank officials said it would be at least two weeks before the records could be turned over to the grand jury.

Activist pulls for gay rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Texas gay rights activist says she is lobbying the state's congressional delegation to "indicate that we intend to be around."

Kathy Deitsch, of the Texas Gay Task Force from Austin, was among more than 100 gay Texans who remained for visits to Capitol Hill after a national gay rights rally on Sunday.

Most of the meetings with Texas congressmen or their aides were scheduled Monday.

Ms. Deitsch said the visits were planned as a foundation to build support for legislation that would include homosexuals under federal civil rights law.

While she said she expected to find few fast friends among Texas congressmen and senators, she was generally satisfied there would be no arch-foes either.

Rep. Mickey Leland, a Democrat from Houston, is the only one of 24 Texas House members who has agreed to be a co-sponsor for a homosexual civil rights bill. The measure has not been introduced in the Senate.

Leland told a group of a dozen Houston gay men visiting his office that he was supporting the bill "because it's right. You look beyond the sexual preference of people and you deal with your human rights."

A total of 47 congressmen are co-sponsors of the bill. The Texans were lobbying their state delegation as part of a national effort.

Bettie Naylor, a lobbyist in Austin for Human Rights Advocates, said the bill was needed to protect against discrimination in employment, housing and public services.

"These are the reasons so many people remain hidden. That's a hard point to get across," she said.

Ms. Naylor said the visits from constituents might be more effective than the mass march, which congressmen could interpret as including no one from their districts.

Party to honor program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is holding a White House birthday party Friday to honor one of his most popular urban programs and, not incidentally, to remind the recipients that he made it possible.

The event will draw attention to the ace in Carter's presidential poker hand: He has money to hand out.

No other 1980 presidential candidate-in-waiting can put on such a show to point out to politically powerful people what he has done for them. Thus, the reception is in the same tradition that spurred President Gerald R. Ford to hold so many events in the White House garden during the summer of 1976 that Democrats accused him of running a Rose Garden campaign.

Carter, who complained recently that presidential campaigns start earlier each time, is inviting 200 mayors, governors, congressmen and private businessmen to an East Room reception. This urban constituency includes many liberal Democrats, who might be tempted to back Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts against Carter for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Before the tea and cookies, they'll hear Carter and perhaps a mayor and a congressman sing the praises of the Urban Development Action Grant program, signed into law exactly two years and one week earlier.

One White House official, who asked not to be named, described the purpose this way: "This is a Jimmy Carter program. It works very well. He's proud of that and wants everyone to know it."

Chicago mayor favors Carter

President Carter is leading Sen. Edward M. Brooke to the moment in a race for the political Chicago Democratic mayor Jane Byrne.

Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne gave Carter her support for a second term.

Byrne spoke to a claimed audience of 12,000 a few hours after receiving a telegram from Kennedy. Carter's likely rival for the presidential nomination, which said, "just remember that we love you and loved you and Chicago longer."

Byrne said Carter is "the savior of the nation's big cities."

Byrne left the show from her guest from Washington by saying, "I do not think we can afford a national intra-party fight at this critical time. The times call for unity and leadership."

Byrne said she will fight the national political tradition that a president deserves a second term upon reasonable grounds and dedication to the national welfare.

Byrne's statement drew a mixed reaction from the crowd of about 10,000. Mrs. Byrne added that it would be "presumptuous and premature" for her to endorse Carter now. But she quickly added that if she were voting at the moment as a delegate to the Republican National Convention, she would support Carter.

The mayor departed from her prepared text to add, "I hope you are listening."

When it was Carter's turn to speak, the president recited a long list of federal grants and other programs benefiting Chicago.

Byrne made an indirect reference to the 1980 campaign, saying, "I'm not afraid, in fact, I look forward to tough political fights, and with your help we will not lose these fights ahead."

Chicago was the second and final stop on a two-day Carter tour that began in Kansas City, Mo., with an appearance at the National Conference of Catholic Charities.

Before returning to the White House today, the president was heading for suburban Joliet and an hour-long town meeting with citizens at a local high school.

Byrne's telegram to Mrs. Byrne ostensibly was prompted by a telephone call the mayor attended Monday to salute neighborhood groups.

"I admire the leadership you have provided in promoting neighborhood strength," the Massachusetts Democrat wired Mrs. Byrne. "And just remember that I have known you and loved you since Chicago began."

Mrs. Byrne cautioned against inferring too much from the telegram but said she thought it was a nice gesture. "No one can change the fact that I know Teddy. He's like a friend and I think it's very nice of him."

PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER prepares to kiss Chicago mayor Jane Byrne after she introduced him at a fund-raising dinner in her honor Monday night in Chicago.

Houston officials upset over decision

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston police Chief Harry Caldwell and District Attorney John Holmes were reported strongly to a decision by U.S. Atty. Tony Daniels to take the Sept. 26 grand jury hearing of Reggie Lee Jackson to a federal grand jury.

They said he was offended by the apparent attitude of federal authorities who wanted to bring their own charges before his office.

Caldwell said he resented federal officials taking the decision that the rights of people are to be protected by the U.S. government.

Caldwell said the government authority was operating on the grounds local people have better the intelligence nor capability to deal with these problems, and if so, they probably do it in some perverse or twisted fashion.

He said he resented the fact that the Houston Police Commission, which conducted a hearing on Houston police last month, coming here to tell me about human rights.

Jackson, 26, was fatally shot after officers R.W. Robinson and J.C. Valentino stopped a car for questioning on a traffic violation. They said was stopped by Jackson, a woman, and a second man.

Robinson and Valentino said the two men ran and Jackson was shot when he pointed a gun at the officers.

Civilian witnesses have reported they heard a man shout to be Jackson pleading to his life. Caldwell said a police investigation of the case has revealed serious conflicts between the versions given by the witnesses and officers.

Justice said Canales' action marked a change in federal policy.

ATLANTA (AP) — The death from polio of an 11-year-old Ohio boy last year was the first known failure of oral poliovirus vaccine in the United States, the national Center for Disease Control has reported.

The child, who was not identified, died Aug. 23, 1978, of bulbar poliomyelitis caused by a wild poliovirus, the CDC said in its Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report. He had received four doses of the oral vaccine as an infant.

There were nine cases of paralytic poliomyelitis in 1978, the CDC said. All the victims except the Ohio boy survived.

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Seventy Desert Bighorn sheep will be evacuated from the San Andres Mountains next month to try to save them from a scabies epidemic that has claimed about two-thirds of the herd.

John Crenshaw of the Game and Fish Department said Monday the state will apply for military clearance for the rescue on White Sands Missile Range in south-central New Mexico. It will involve about 50 wildlife officers using nets, tranquilizer guns and helicopters.

The ewes were so infested with scab mites, which produce the scabies condition, they could not have survived the winter in the wild, he said. The disease reduces the animals' resistance to infections.

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Final testing of Nevada's gas chamber has begun in preparation for the Oct. 22 execution of confessed killer Jesse W. Bishop, who still says the agony of lengthy appeals and stays would be worse than death.

Nevada State Prison Superintendent Bob Lippold said Monday testing procedures for the gas chamber, which was most recently used in 1961, are confidential. Bishop's family has endorsed his decision not to appeal. If Bishop, 46, is executed, it will be the second execution in the nation this year. John Spenkelnik was electrocuted in Florida last May over protests by death penalty opponents.

GUNNISON, Colo. (AP) — Eight persons died when a single-engine private plane crashed in southwestern Colorado on a flight from Arizona to Longmont, officials said.

The plane disappeared late Sunday night on a flight from Prescott, Ariz. The wreckage was found Monday about 10 miles south of Gunnison. All eight aboard the plane were dead, said Maria Gianaras, a spokeswoman for the Gunnison County Sheriff's Department.

The cause of the crash was not known. The plane was a Cessna 210, which is most frequently designed to carry four or six persons.

WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top General Services Administration officials deny that top-level personnel changes have hampered an investigation of agency corruption.

The new GSA administrator, Rowland G. Freeman III, told a House panel Monday he has pressed ahead with efforts to clean up the building management and supply agency since taking office in July. GSA Inspector General Kurt W. Muellenberg also insisted the investigation had moved ahead despite agency personnel changes. Rep. Robert S. Walker, R-Pa., brought up the issue, quoting a statement by the former GSA chief, Jay Solomon, that those changes had slowed the probe.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter has announced an initial U.S. pledge of $7 million to aid millions of starving, ailing Cambodians.

There is some question whether the money, to be used by international relief organizations for food and medicine, will benefit the needy in war-torn Cambodia. Government authorities have denied giving permission to the Red Cross and the United Nations Children's Fund to carry out relief programs. Carter is asking the Soviet Union and to China to help get the needed supplies to the people. So far, the United States, Britain, the Common Market, Japan and others have pledged about $28 million as part of a $100 million, six-month program of Cambodian aid.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal council studying Social Security wants to roll back scheduled increases in the payroll tax and use income tax receipts to help finance Medicare, the group's chairman says.

Henry Aaron also told a House subcommittee Monday the council supports the present system of taxing a worker and an employer equally to pay for the federal pension and insurance system. The 13-member Advisory Council on Social Security is expected to make a final report to Congress next month. Recommendations from similar councils in the past have been given great weight by the House and Senate during debate on suggested changes in the system.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill says Florida's Democratic caucus, which provided an early test of the relative strengths of President Carter and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, are "nonsense."

O'Neill disputed on Monday claims by Carter supporters that the result of the Saturday voting was a victory for the president, saying, "The whole thing seems to me like a lot of money wasted and a lot of nonsense." He noted the outcome of the Florida vote will have no bearing on the state's actual delegates to the party's nominating convention. O'Neill has said he feels Kennedy, a fellow Massachusetts resident, could win the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination if he becomes a formal candidate.

If you think paperbacks are getting expensive, be glad you're not paying for this 15th century French prayer book! It's part of an art collection valued at $10 million. The book and other collection pieces go on sale today at an art auction in Zurich, Switzerland. As inflation increases, people have been spending vast amounts of money on art and other fine objects. For example, in 1970 a New York book dealer sold an early printed bible for $2½ million. A painting by the Spanish artist Velazquez brought $5½ million the same year. Many believe these and other art works will continue to increase in value, while the dollar loses its buying power.

"Meet my friend, Yasser Arafat"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pamela de Maigret is a Philadelphia heiress who's mined diamonds in the Amazon jungle, searched for sunken Spanish treasure off Florida and once took off to Outer Mongolia on a whim.

She also introduces U.S. congressmen to Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat.

"She's quite a lady," says Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill. — who met Arafat in 1977 and subsequently decided to take up the cause of the Palestinians on the House Mideast subcommittee.

Findley is now known on the Hill as Arafat's best friend in Congress.

Mrs. de Maigret, world traveler and wife of a French count, has introduced several members of Congress to the chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

"I see myself as a bridge," she says.

The first Findley-Arafat meeting was in Damascus. Findley, on a congressional junket, was accompanied by former Reps. Helen Meyner, D-N.J., and the late Leo Ryan, D-Calif. They met with Mrs. de Maigret, who then arranged to have Arafat fly in from his headquarters in Beirut.

Earlier, she had arranged similar meetings for Reps. David Obey, D-Wis., and Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the House Mideast subcommittee.

Only Findley came away determined to support the Palestinian cause. He says his main goal is to get the PLO into the Mideast peace talks.

Hamilton says his memories of his 1977 meeting with the PLO leader are vague.

"I met Arafat in Cairo. She (Mrs. de Maigret) was involved in working out that meeting, but it's a little foggy now. It's hard to remember the details," Hamilton said.

"Since then I've seen her two or three times. She's on the Hill. She's always here with her Palestinian friends, most recently with the mayor of a Palestinian community on the West Bank. I think."

"She brought him to meet me. I wouldn't say she's lobbying; she has never talked to me about a piece of legislation," he continued. "I see her as a woman who wants to help by facilitating contacts between congressmen and the Palestinians."

Mrs. de Maigret speaks cautiously about her ties with the Palestinians. She said she has known Arafat about 10 years and last saw him two months ago. She met him, she said, "through friends."

"Really, I don't think it's any of your business as to how I know people," she said in a telephone interview from her home outside Philadelphia. "My life is entirely private."

She says her goal is not to help the PLO but to help bring peace to the Mideast. "I'm not pro-PLO or pro-Israeli. I'm pro-dialogue."

When asked what the State Department thought about her efforts on behalf of the Palestinians, spokesman Hodding Carter said: "We don't have any comment on the activities of a private citizen in dealing with other private citizens. That's her right."

Who is Pamela de Maigret and why is she serving as an informal bridge between Congress and the PLO?

To start with, she is a woman with the means to do pretty much what she wants. She was born into a California family whose Painter Mill near Pittsburgh was merged at the turn of the century into the American Steel Hoop Co., which in turn became part of U.S. Steel.

"It gave a certain economic base to our family," she says, "a certain financial facility."

By background, she is suited for the role of international intermediary — educated in European schools, a teen-age delegate to United Nations youth groups, a stint at the Sorbonne in Paris.

By profession, she is a geologist with a master's degree from UCLA.

Fresh out of college, she worked briefly as a researcher for Time Inc., and in a Wall Street firm. Then she left for South America to mine gold and diamonds. She staked several claims but recently sold them.

Globetrotting is her way of life. Asked how she ended up in Mongolia, she said: "I found I was expecting a baby... I wanted to get away. I was supposed to deliver a paper in Bulgaria anyway and then there was a chance to go to Russia and that led to Mongolia. Actually, going to Mongolia is like mountain climbing. You go because it's there."

She and her husband, Herve de Maigret, an engineer by profession and a French count by inheritance, have one son. Mrs. de Maigret refuses to reveal her age but Findley guesses she is in her late 30s or early 40s.

Even with her persistent efforts on behalf of the Palestinians, Mrs. de Maigret harbors no illusions about her influence.

"I know people in the State Department," she said. "I often talk with people in the State Department when I think I may have information they don't have."

"But I don't think anybody listens to me," she added, "more than to any other Philadelphia housewife."

Farmers to get plans for portable solar heaters soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department hopes to have plans ready in about three months for farmers to build portable solar heaters that officials say can sharply reduce energy costs for drying grain and other purposes.

Other versions, stationary models, are being tested for home heating as part of a stepped-up effort by USDA to help rural families use other sources of energy.

A portable solar heater was demonstrated Monday, with Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland and Rep. Ed Jones, D-Tenn., showing how easily it could be assembled.

"We're going to ask them to put a few of the pieces together to demonstrate that if they can do it, almost anybody can," said the USDA's Alex P. Mercure.

Bergland grabbed one end and Jones the other, easily lifting each of the shiny metal strips, coated black on one side into place so they could gather the sun's energy.

Others, including a team of women, soon joined in helping put the final touches on the portable solar heating unit parked in front of USDA.

"Women can assemble it, too. It doesn't require a great deal of physical strength," Mercure said.

The solar unit was developed for the Farmers Home Administration of USDA by Douglas Wilke, Glen Head, N.Y., in cooperation with Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Officials said the portable model, which now is headed for display at a High Plains Energy Forum in Dodge City, Kan., Oct. 19-21, was adapted from stationary versions being tested on Farmers Home Administration-financed homes in Fryeburg, Maine; Culpeper, Va.; and Los Lunas, N.M.

Stationary models also are being installed on test homes in Quincy, Ill.; Guthrie, Okla.; and Bismarck, N.D.

After its demonstration in Dodge City, the portable solar heater will undergo final testing near Phoenix, Ariz.

"If we provided this kind of unit to 100,000 homes, we think we would be saving close to 2 million barrels of oil a year," Mercure said.

expected, plans and specifications for manufacture should be available by January.

The USDA holds the patents on the units, but the plans will be made available to manufacturers under a licensing arrangement, he said.

Another option is to make the plans available directly to farmers and others through local Farmers Home offices.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improved prospects for this fall's corn harvest will mean farmers may get less for their grain, according to new projections by the Agriculture Department.

A month ago, when the department estimated the 1979 corn harvest at a record of 7.27 billion bushels, the experts projected corn prices at the farm would average $2.40 to $2.70 a bushel over the entire 1979-80 corn marketing year that began Oct. 1.

Last week, however, USDA increased its harvest estimate to 7.39 billion bushels.

Princess Margaret continues efforts to raise money

HOUSTON (AP) — Princess Margaret made only one brief personal appearance in Houston Monday, but met with civic leaders behind closed doors as she continued her campaign through the United States to raise $4.5 million for improvements of the Royal Opera House of England.

She granted no interviews and only met briefly with the news media at a reception at the British Consul's home in the posh River Oaks section.

News reporters invited to the reception were instructed to bring no tape recorders or notebooks and were told that all statements by the princess would be off the record.

Prior to her appearance at the reception, a 30-minute film was shown depicting the conditions of the Royal Opera House with narration by her brother, Prince Charles.

The princess then posed for pictures and shook hands with all the news reporters, and chatted briefly with most of them.

Her Highness arrived in Houston Monday afternoon for a three-day visit and from here, will go to Los Angeles, San Francisco and Cleveland.

Today, she will visit the Johnson Space Center and on Wednesday plans a tour of the city's famed medical center.

She arrived at a downtown hotel that is owned by British interests, nodded to those outside and then walked briskly to the elevator to her room.

The Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, is in need of major repairs costing at least $16.4 million.

By the end of August 1979 almost $12 million had been contributed to restore and improve the historic site.

The opera house was rebuilt in 1858 after a fire two years before, but in the intervening 120 years hardly any improvements have been made.

Two companies, The Royal Opera and The Royal Ballet, both use the limited space available for dressing and rehearsals.

The workers at the Houston hotel where the princess stayed, spent hours getting the area spotless.

One young man did nothing but pick up every cigarette butt and scrap of paper dropped by departing guests.

A team of three men polished the chrome and cleaned the glasses on the doors through which the princess was to step.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) Should a misunderstanding arise today between you and a close associate, clear the matter up as quickly as possible. Differences should not be permitted to take root.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's important to take your responsibilities seriously today and not allow wishful thinking to cloud your judgment. Do your job and everything else will take care of itself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Someone in your social circle would have you think that doing what you know to be correct could work against you. It's not true. Stick to your principles.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be realistic concerning those you deal with today. Trying to convince yourself that someone has more to offer than he or she does could lay a heavy burden on you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Some necessary things may have to be said today, so don't try to sidestep the issues by pretending you're too busy to go into the matter at this time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Watch your spending today. It could be very easy to sell yourself on the idea you need something you truly don't.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Unless the efforts you expend for others today are made because you really want to, you'll inwardly resent them. Don't be phony to yourself or to them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You may be much too hard on yourself today, and this could actually contribute to the negative role you are envisioning. Be as kind to yourself as you would be to others. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you have to put on airs to feel comfortable with people today, you're with the wrong crowd. Select pals who are your equals.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your chances for achieving what you go after today are very promising. The one fly in the ointment, however, could be a lackadaisical attitude.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Deal only in realities today. Be wary of playing hunches. Your logic is crisp and sharp, but your intuitive perceptions could mislead you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you are managing something where money is involved for another today, be sure to keep accurate records so there won't be any misunderstandings later.

No Nitrosamines in Coors Beer.

Nitrosamines are suspected cancer-causing agents.

There are no detectable nitrosamines in Coors or Coors Light as determined by the United States Food and Drug Administration, using the most sophisticated analytic techniques.

Here's why: Some years ago, as part of a continuing effort to make the best beer possible, we instituted an unconventional malting process. This special process not only creates a better beer, it avoids the possibility of nitrosamines.

Coors has a tradition of bringing innovative methods to the brewing of beer. Always attempting to brew a better, finer, purer beer. Once more, Coors' dedication to brewing excellence has paid off.
